CORNING COMMUNITY COLLEGE
REFERENCE PR3580 B3 1966
Baker, Arthur Ernest. A concordance to t
3 0366 0003478

A CONCORDANCE TO THE POETICAL AND DRAMATIC WORKS OF ALFRED LORD TENNYSON including the Poems contained in the 'Life of Alfred, Lord Tennyson' & the 'Suppressed Poems' 1830–1868

Arthur E. Baker

...ecent resurgence of
...rest in Tennyson studies, there ...been a renewed demand for the ...dard concordance originally
...piled by A. E. Baker and long
...f print. The work is divided
...five alphabetical sequences
...prising Poems, Plays, Poems
...ted in the Memoir, Suppressed
...ns and Addenda.
...he Tennyson Concordance is
...ssential tool in Tennyson
...larship and criticism, and
...new edition will be particularly
...omed by scholars and libraries
...have had to pay very high
...es for copies of the original
...on.

SUNY VIRGINIA COMMUNITY COLLEGE DUPL.
REFERENCE PR...
Baker, Arthur Ernest... ...ance to t 3 0366 00034782 ...

FOR REFERENCE
Do Not Take From This Room

A TENNYSON CONCORDANCE

A CONCORDANCE

TO THE

POETICAL AND DRAMATIC WORKS

OF

ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON

INCLUDING THE POEMS CONTAINED IN THE "LIFE OF ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON," AND THE "SUPPRESSED POEMS," 1830-1868.

By ARTHUR E. BAKER, F.R.Hist.S., F.L.A.

SECRETARY AND LIBRARIAN, TAUNTON.
AUTHOR OF
"A BRIEF ACCOUNT OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY MOVEMENT IN TAUNTON," ETC.

Barnes & Noble, Inc.
NEW YORK

First published 1914 reissued
in the United States of America 1966

Printed in Great Britain

TO THE MEMORY

OF

MY MOTHER,

MY FIRST AND BEST TEACHER,

THIS BOOK IS

AFFECTIONATELY DEDICATED.

"Until the day break, and the shadows flee away."

21101

PREFATORY NOTE

Origin of the Work.

It may, perhaps, not be out of place to say a word or two as to how I came to undertake the compilation of this work. Some years ago, when occupying the position of Deputy-Librarian in a public library in the North of England, I received numerous enquiries from readers at that institution for a Concordance to the Works of Tennyson. Realising that here was a distinct desideratum in the library of the student of English Literature, I there and then decided to undertake the compilation of such a Work. Taking from one of the Book-presses a copy of the poet's Works, and opening it, my eyes fell on the following quotation :—

> "Make knowledge circle with the winds ;
> But let her herald, Reverence, fly
> Before her to whatever sky > Bear seed of men and growth of minds."
> —Love thou thy land.

I jotted down the lines under their respective key-words, and thus the work was commenced.

Shortly afterwards it happened that I removed to my present position in the South of England ; consequently the matter was for some time "shelved" ; but at the end of 1907 I returned to the subject, and after about eight years of what has been to me a labour of love, I present my humble labour to the public, with a sincere hope that students, and lovers of Tennyson, and others, will find it of interest and utility.

Contents.

The volume consists of Verbal Indexes to the Poetical and Dramatic Works of the author comprised in the Complete Edition, published by Messrs Macmillan & Co., to the Poems contained in the Life of Lord Tennyson by his son, and published by the same publishers ; also to the Suppressed Poems, edited by J. C. Thomson, and published by Messrs Sands & Co.

Arrangement.

The Concordance has been arranged in strict alphabetical sequence ; the different senses or grammatical functions of a word are frequently distinguished under separate headings ; the dialect words are paraphrased ; all proper names are included, and occasionally some indication has been added of their identity.

Line-references.

Line-references are given, thereby greatly facilitating the finding of a quotation or reference, particularly in the larger poems.

As each one has to number the lines for himself in all but school editions of Tennyson's Works, I must explain the method, or rather methods, of numbering for the purpose of this Concordance.

Method of numbering Lines.

In the Poems the lines have been numbered without regard to the typographical peculiarities of the standard edition, which has two columns to a page. The following lines, here reprinted as they stand in that edition, were numbered 1-6, thus :—

1 THESE to His Memory—since he held them dear,
2 Perchance as finding there unconsciously
3 Some image of himself—I dedicate,
4 I dedicate, I consecrate with tears—
5 These Idylls.
6 And indeed He seems to me
—Idylls of the King. Dedication.

That is to say, a line broken into two by the printer was counted as one; a line broken by the poet was counted as two.

In the Dramatic Works, another and merely mechanical system was adopted. There every line of print as it occurs in Macmillan's one-volume edition of the Complete Works was numbered separately, even if only containing a single word. Thus :—

1 Cranmer. To Strasburg, Antwerp,
2 Frankfort, Zurich, Worms,
3 Geneva, Basle—our Bishops from their 4 sees
5 Or fled, they say, or flying—Poinet, 6 Barlow,
—Queen Mary, Act i., Scene ii.

Metrically, of course, there are only three lines here, not six. A method of numbering that is not to be avoided in the prose portions of the plays has intentionally been extended also to the blank verse in order to facilitate rapid reference to copies of the text in which the lines are not already numbered. On receiving a reference, say to line 560 of The Falcon, a reader using Macmillan's standard edition in one volume can quickly reckon out the page and even the column in which the quotation appears, by remembering that the column contains approximately fifty lines of print. Had the lines been numbered metrically he would have had to count from the beginning of the piece. Only the lines of the text proper, not the stage-directions, have been numbered.

Cross-references.

Cross-references are supplied in the case of compounds and dialect forms—e.g., Life (See also After-life, Loife).

Duplicate Titles and Headings of Poems.

In the Collected Works, two poems appear bearing the same title—viz., To the Queen. The one which appears on page 474, immediately preceding the Lover's Tale, has been described as To the Queen ii, in contradistinction to the one which appears on page 1. Then there are a few poems with no distinct titles, but simply headed thus : To ——, Song, Sonnet, etc. To avoid confusion, these are referred to in the Concordance by the first two or three words of each poem.

Omitted Words.

No quotations are furnished for the following words. A few quotations, however, may be found under those marked with an asterisk (Poetical Works) or dagger (Dramatic Works) but they are there to illustrate some especial use, and by no means represent every occurrence of the word:—

A About Above
Adown †After Again Against Ago
Ah
Albeit †All Almost
*Along Aloof Already Also Although Alway Always Am Among An
And †Any Are Around Art
As At Athwart Atwain
Atween Away
*Ay Back Be Because Been *Before Behind Being Below
Beneath Beside Between Betwixt Beyond Both

But
By Can Cannot Canst †Could Couldst
Did Didst
*Do Does Done
Dost
Doth Down †Downward Each E'er
*Either Else
Ere Even †Ever *Every For Forth From 'Gainst Had Hadst Has Hast Have Having He Hence
Henceforth Her Here Herself Him Himself His
*How Howe'er
However Howsoe'er
*I

†If In
*Indeed Into Is It Its Itself
Lest Let May May'st Me
*Mid Might Might'st
†Mine More Most Must My Myself Near Nearly *Need Ne'er
†Neither *Never
*No
*None Nor Not Nothing †Now
O O'er
Of Off Oft Often Oh
On Once
*†Only *Onward Or Our Ours

Ourself Out Over Perchance
*Round
*Scarce Scarcely Seldom Shall Shalt
She Should Shouldst
Since
So
*†Some *†Something Soon
Still (adv.)
*†Such Than That The Thee Their Theirs Them
*Then Thence There Therefore These They Thine
†This Tho' Those Thou Though Thro' Through Thus Thy Thyself
Till 'Tis
To Together

Too
'Twas
'Twere
'Twill
*Under Until Unto Up Upon Us
*†Very *†Was Wast
We *†Well Were Wert
What Whate'er
Whatsoever *†When Whence Whene'er Where Whereat Whether Which Whicheve
While Who Whom †Whose Why
*Will Wilt With Within Without Would Wouldst
Ye
Yea
Yes
Yet
You Your Yours Yourself

It was originally intended, in order to curtail the heavy expenditure entailed in publication, to omit various adjectives and other words; but as enquiries were made regarding their omission, it was decided later to insert these words as far as it was possible. As, however, the letters A-D (Poetical Works only) had already been printed, it was impossible to make these entries, consequently many ordinary adjectives under the above letters are omitted.

Poems in Duplicate.

The following poems in the Life occur also in the Collected Works, or in the Suppressed Poems, and are, of course, treated only once:—

As when a man that sails in a balloon. (See Suppressed Poems under Dream of Fair Women.)

Check every outflash, every ruder sally. (See Suppressed Poems.)

Farewell, Macready, since to-night we part. (See Collected Works under To W. C. Macready.)

First drink a health, this solemn night. (See Suppressed Poems under Hands all Round.) A few readings peculiar to the Life are, however, recorded in their place.

God bless our Prince and Bride! (See Suppressed Poems.)

Grave mother of majestic works. (See Collected Works under Of old sat Freedom.)

Helen's Tower, here I stand. (See Collected Works, under Helen's Tower.) The sole variant is duly recorded, however.

Here often when a child I lay reclined. (See Suppressed Poems under Mablethorpe.) Important variants in the Life are recorded.

Me my own Fate to lasting sorrow doometh. (See Suppressed Poems.)

Rise, Britons, rise, if manhood be not dead. (See Suppressed Poems under Britons, guard your own.) Important variants in the Life are recorded.

Row us out from Desenzano, to your Sirmione row! (See Collected Works under Frater Ave Atque Vale.)

The North wind fall'n in the new-starréd night. (See Suppressed Poems under The Hesperides.)

Therefore your Halls, your ancient Colleges. (See Suppressed Poems under Cambridge.) The significant variants are all recorded.

Thy prayer was "Light — more Light — while time shall last!" (See Collected Works under Epitaph on Caxton.)

The poem Lover's Tale appears in the Collected Works and also in the Suppressed Poems. The portion common to both versions have not been indexed twice; they have been neglected in making the Concordance to the Suppressed Poems.

Alphabetizing and Checking.

The volume contains approximately 150,000 quotations and references; and as each quotation or reference was written on a separate slip, which was then placed in its alphabetical order, and afterwards classified according to the sense or grammatical function of the key-word, it can better be imagined than described what an immense amount of labour and time was thus bestowed upon the work.

Appreciation.

In this respect my acknowledgments are due, and are hereby tendered, to Miss Beatrice Hewlett (the hon. librarian of the Crewe Green Parish Library, Cheshire), and to my two sisters, Miss Mary E. Baker and Miss Miriam Maud Mary Baker, for their valuable assistance in this portion of the work. At the same time, I beg to tender my hearty thanks to those who have from time to time written me encouraging letters, which have greatly assisted me in my arduous task, and in this respect I would specially mention Mr Lionel R. M. Strachan, English Lecturer in Heidelberg University, for the great interest he has invariably evinced in the compilation of the work—particularly for his valuable help in the checking of the proofs—and for his readiness at all times to render assistance.

A. E. B.

TAUNTON,
1914.

CORRIGENDA

Page 132 Dawn (verb) Tiresias 206 read Dawn (s).
„ 252 Gave (See also Gied, Giv) read Gave (See also Gev, Gied, Giv).
„ 256 Gev (give) read Gev (gave).
„ 258 Give (See also Gev, Gie) read Give (See also Gie).
„ 334 Hope (verb) Supp. Confessions 31 read Hope (s).
„ 832 Alight (lighted) read Alight.
„ 832 Alighted. See Lighted—delete.

CONTENTS

PAGE

SHORT TITLES AND ABBREVIATIONS xv

CONCORDANCE TO THE POETICAL WORKS OF ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON . . 1

CONCORDANCE TO THE DRAMATIC WORKS OF ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON . . 829

CONCORDANCE TO THE POEMS CONTAINED IN THE "LIFE OF ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON," BY HIS SON 1137

CONCORDANCE TO THE "SUPPRESSED POEMS," 1830-1868 1165

ADDENDA 1209

LIST OF SHORT TITLES AND ABBREVIATIONS

Achilles over the T.	Achilles over the Trench.
(adj.)	adjective.
(adv.)	adverb.
A gate and a field	A gate and a field half ploughed.
Akbar's D., Hymn	Akbar's Dream. Hymn.
Akbar's D., Inscrip.	Akbar's Dream. Inscription.
Along this glimmering	Along this glimmering gallery.
Arabian Nights	Recollections of the Arabian Nights.
Are those the far-famed	Are those the far-famed Victor Hours?
A spirit haunts	A spirit haunts the year's last hours.
A surface man	A surface man of many theories.
Batt. of Brunanburh	Battle of Brunanburh.
Beauty, Good, etc.	Beauty, Good, and Knowledge are three sisters.
Because she bore	Because she bore the iron name.
Blow ye the trumpet	Blow ye the trumpet, gather from afar.
Bold Havelock	Bold Havelock march'd.
Bright is the moon	Bright is the moon on the deep.
Britons, guard	Britons, guard your own.
By an Evolution.	By an Evolutionist.
Check every outflash	Check every outflash, every ruder sally.
Church-warden, etc.	Church-warden and the Curate.
Com. of Arthur	Coming of Arthur.
Come not, when, etc.	Come not, when I am dead.
(compar.)	comparative.
Could I outwear	Could I outwear my present state of woe.
D. of F. Women	Dream of Fair Women.
D. of the Duke of C.	Death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale.
D. of the O. Year	Death of the Old Year.
Day-Dm., Pro.	Day-Dream, Prologue.
,, Sleep. P.	,, Sleeping Palace.
,, Sleep. B.	,, Sleeping Beauty.
,, Depart.	,, Departure.
,, Ep.	,, Epilogue.
Ded. of Idylls	Idylls of the King. Dedication.
Ded. Poem Prin. Alice	Dedicatory Poem to the Princess Alice.
Deep glens I found	Deep glens I found, and sunless gulfs.
Def. of Lucknow	Defence of Lucknow.
Demeter and P.	Demeter and Persephone.
De Prof., Two G.	De Profundis: The Two Greetings.
,, Human C.	,, The Human Cry.
Early-wise	Early-wise, and pure, and true.
England and Amer.	England and America.
Epit. on Caxton	Epitaph on Caxton.
Epit. on Gordon	Epitaph on General Gordon.
Epit. on Stratford	Epitaph on Lord Stratford de Redcliffe.
Every day, etc.	Every day hath its night.
Faded ev'ry violet	Faded ev'ry violet, all the roses.
Far off in the dun	Far off in the dun, dark occident.
First drink a health	First drink a health, this solemn night.
Flow. in cran. wall	Flower in the crannied wall.
Frater Ave, etc.	Frater Ave atque Vale.
Frenchman, etc.	Frenchman, a hand is thine!
From shape to shape	From shape to shape at first within the womb
Full light aloft	Full light aloft doth the laverock spring.
G. of Swainston	In the Garden at Swainston.
Gardener's D.	Gardener's Daughter.
Gareth and L.	Gareth and Lynette.
Geraint and E.	Geraint and Enid.
God and the Univ.	God and the Universe.
God bless our Prince	God bless our Prince and Bride.
Gone into Darkness	Gone into darkness that full light.
He was too good	He was too good and kind and sweet.
Hear you the sound	Hear you the sound of wheels?
Heavy Brigade	Charge of the Heavy Brigade at Balaclava.
Here, I that stood	Here, I that stood in On beside the flow.
Here often when a child	Here often when a child I lay reclined.
High. Pantheism	Higher Pantheism.
Hither, when all	Hither, when all the deep, unsounded skies
Hold thou, my friend	Hold thou, my friend, no lesser life in scorn.
Home they brought him	Home they brought him slain with spears.
How glad am I	How glad am I to walk.
How is it that men	How is it that men have so little grace?
How strange it is	How strange it is, O God, to wake.
I keep no more	I keep no more a lone distress.
I, loving Freedom	I, loving Freedom for herself.
In Mem., Pro.	In Memoriam, Prologue.
,, Con.	,, Conclusion.
,, W. G. Ward	,, William George Ward.
I met in all	I met in all the close green ways.
(interj.)	interjection.
In the Child. Hosp.	In the Children's Hospital.
(intrans.)	intransitive.
June Bracken, etc.	June Bracken and Heather.
L. C. V. de Vere	Lady Clara Vere de Vere.
L. of Burleigh	Lord of Burleigh.
L. of Shalott	Lady of Shalott.
Lancelot and E.	Lancelot and Elaine.
Leonine Eleg.	Leonine Elegiacs.
Life of the Life	Life of the Life within my blood.
Light Brigade	Charge of the Light Brigade.
Lit. Squabbles	Literary Squabbles.
Little Aubrey	Little Aubrey in the West!
Locksley H., Sixty	Locksley Hall, Sixty Years after.
Long as the heart	Long as the heart beats life within the breast.
Lotos-Eaters, C. S.	Lotos-Eaters. Choric Song.
Love, Pride, etc.	Love, Pride, and Forgetfulness.
Mariana in the S.	Mariana in the South.
Marr. of Geraint	Marriage of Geraint.
May Queen, N. Y.'s E.	May Queen, New Year's Eve.
Con.	,, Conclusion.
M. d'Arthur	Morte d'Arthur.

M. d'Arthur, Ep. . . Morte d'Arthur, Epilogue.
Me my own fate . . Me my own fate to lasting sorrow doometh.
Merlin and the G. . . Merlin and the Gleam.
Merlin and V. . . Merlin and Vivien.
Methought I saw . . Methought I saw a face whose every line.
Miller's D. . . . Miller's Daughter.
Move eastward . . . Move eastward, happy earth, and leave.
My life is full . . . My life is full of weary days.

N. Farmer, N. S. . . Northern Farmer, New Style.
" O. S. . . " Old Style.
New Timon . . . The New Timon and the Poets.
North. Cobbler . . Northern Cobbler.
Not a whisper . . . Not a whisper stirs the gloom.
Not such were those . . Not such were those whom Freedom claims.
Not to Silence . . Not to Silence would I build.

Ode on Well. . . . Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington.
Ode Inter. Exhib. . . Ode sung at the Opening of the International Exhibition.
O God, make this age . O God, make this age great that we may be.
Oh, Beauty . . . Oh, beauty, passing beauty.
O leave not thou . . O leave not thou thy son forlorn.
Of old sat Freedom . . Of old sat Freedom on the heights.
Old ghosts . . . Old ghosts whose day was done ere mine began On Jub. Q. Victoria . On the Jubilee of Queen Victoria.
On One who effec. E. M. . On One who affected an Effeminate Manner.
One was the Tishbite . One was the Tishbite, whom the raven fed.
Open. I. and C. Exhib. . Opening of the Indian and Colonial Exhibition by the Queen.
Oriana . . . . Ballad of Oriana.
O sad No more! . . O sad No more! O sweet No more!

Pallid thunderstricken . The pallid thunderstricken sigh for gain.
(part.) . . . . participle.
Pass. of Arthur . . Passing of Arthur.
Pelleas and E. . . Pelleas and Ettarre.
Poets and their B. . . Poets and their Bibliographies.
Popular, Popular . . Popular, Popular, Unpopular!
Pref. Poem. Broth. S. . Prefatory Poem to my Brother's Sonnets.
(prep.) . . . . preposition.
Prin. Beatrice . . . To H.R.H. Princess Beatrice.
Princess, Pro. . . . Princess, Prologue.
" Con. . . . " Conclusion.
Pro. to Gen. Hamley . Prologue to General Hamley.
Prog. of Spring . . Progress of Spring.
Prom. of May . . . Promise of May.
(pron.) . . . . pronoun.

Remember you . . . Remember you the clear moonlight?
Remembering him . . Remembering him who waits thee far away.
Rise, Britons, rise . . Rise, Britons, rise, if manhood be not dead.
Romney's R. . . . Romney's Remorse.
Roses on the T. . . Roses on the Terrace.

(s). . . . . substantive.
St. S. Stylites . . . St. Simeon Stylites.
Shall the hag . . . Shall the hag Evil die.
Sir J. Franklin . . Sir John Franklin.
Sir J. Oldcastle . . Sir John Oldcastle, Lord Cobham.
Sir L. and Q. G. . . Sir Launcelot and Queen Guinevere.
Sisters (E. and E.) . . Sisters (Evelyn and Edith).
Speak to me . . . Speak to me from the stormy sky!
Spec. of Iliad . . . Specimen of a Translation of the Iliad in Blank Verse.
Spinster's S's . . . Spinster's Sweet-Arts.
Spurge with fairy . . Spurge with fairy crescent set.
Steersman . . . Steersman, be not precipitate in thine act.
Sugg. by Reading . . Suggested by reading an article in a newspaper.
Supp. Confessions . . Supposed Confessions of a Second-rate Sensitive Mind.

Take, Lady . . . Take, Lady, what your loyal nurses give.
That is his portrait . That is his portrait, painted by himself.
That the voice . . . That the voice of a satisfied people may keep.
The child was sitting . The child was sitting on the bank.
The form, the form . . The form, the form alone is eloquent.
The lamps were bright . The lamps were bright and gay.
The lintwhite . . . The lintwhite and the throstlecock.
The night, etc. . . . The night with sudden odour reel'd.
The noblest men . . The noblest men methinks are bred.
The winds, etc. . . The winds, as at their hour of birth.
There are three things . There are three things that fill my heart with sighs.
Therefore your Halls . Therefore your Halls, your ancient Colleges.
They say, etc. . . . They say some foreign powers have laid their heads together.
They wrought, etc. . . They wrought a work which time reveres.
Third of Feb. . . . Third of February, 1852.
Thou may'st remember . Thou may'st remember that I said.
Though night . . . Though Night hath climbed.
Thy soul is like . . Thy soul is like a landskip, friend.
'Tis not alone . . . 'Tis not alone the warbling woods.
To a Lady Sleep. . . To a Lady Sleeping.
To A. Tennyson . . To Alfred Tennyson, My Grandson.
To C. North . . . To Christopher North.
To F. D. Maurice . . To the Rev. F. D. Maurice.
To J. M. K. . . . Sonnet To J. M. K.
To One who ran down Eng. To One who ran down the English.
To Prof. Jebb . . . To Professor Jebb.
To Marq. of Dufferin . To the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava.
To Master of B. . . To the Master of Balliol.
To Prin. F. of H. . . To the Princess Frederica of Hanover on her Marriage.
To thee with whom . . To thee with whom my true affections dwell.
To W. H. Brookfield . To the Rev. W. H. Brookfield.
Townsmen, etc. . . Townsmen, or of the hamlet, young or old.
(trans.) . . . . transitive.
Trans. of Homer . . On Translations of Homer.

V. of Cauteretz . . In the Valley of Cauteretz.
V. of Maeldune . . Voyage of Maeldune.
Vicar of this . . . Vicar of this pleasant spot.
Voice and the P. . . Voice and the Peak.
Voice spake, etc. . . A Voice spake out of the Skies.

W. to Alexandra . . A Welcome to Alexandra.
W. to Marie Alex. . . A Welcome to Her Royal Highness Marie Alexandrovna, Duchess of Edinburgh.
Walk. to the Mail . . Walking to the Mail.
Wan Sculptor . . . Wan sculptor, weepest thou.
We lost you . . . We lost you for how long a time.
Well, as to Fame . . Well, as to Fame, who strides the earth.
What rustles . . . What rustles hither in the dark?
What time I wasted . What time I wasted youthful hours.
Wherever evil . . . Wherever evil customs thicken.
While I live . . . While I live, the owls!
Why suffers . . . Why suffers human life so soon eclipse?
Will Water . . . Will Waterproof's Lyrical Monologue.
Window. At the W. . Window. At the Window.
" Marr. Morn . . " Marriage Morning.
Woman of noble . . Woman of noble form and noble mind!

Yon huddled cloud . . Yon huddled cloud his motion shifts.
You ask me, why, . . You ask me, why, tho' ill at ease.
You might have won . . You might have won the Poet's name.
Young is the grief . . Young is the grief I entertain.
Youth, lapsing . . Youth, lapsing thro' fair solitudes.

A CONCORDANCE TO THE POETICAL WORKS

OF

ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON.

A mouthing out his hollow oes and aes, The Epic 50
Aäge (age) owd a as 'appy as iver I can, Owd Roä 3
'Aäir (hair) an' cryin' and teärin' 'er 'a North. Cobbler 34
Aäle (ale) Says that I moänt 'a naw moor a: N. Farmer, O. S., 3
Git ma my a, (repeat) ,, 4, 36, 68
I've 'ed my point o' a ivry noight ,, 7 an' doesn bring ma the a? ,, 65 an' droonk wi' the farmer's a, Village Wife 77
An' the taäble staäin'd wi' 'is a, Spinster's S's. 99 tha mun nobbut hev' one glass of a. Owd Roä 20
'Aäpoth (half-pennyworth) Joänes, as 'ant not a 'a o' sense, N. Farmer, O. S., 49
Aäste (haste) thaw summun said it in 'a: ,, 27
Abaddon A and Asmodeus caught at me. St. S. Stylites 172
Abase A those eyes that ever loved Princess ii 427
Abash'd so forlorn As I am!' half a him; Enoch Arden 288
Enid, all a she knew not why, Marr. of Geraint 765 man of thine to-day A us both, Balin and Balan 71
A Lavaine, whose instant reverence, Lancelot and E. 418 beauty of her flesh a the boy, Pelleas and E. 78
Abate A the stride, which speaks of man Princess ii 429
Abbess Our simple-seeming A and her nuns, Guinevere 309 till in time their A died. ,, 692
Was chosen A, there, an A, lived For three brief years, and there, an A, past ,, 696
Abbey 'Come out,' he said, 'To the A: Princess, Pro., 51
But we went back to the A, ,, Con., 106 fellow hath broken from some A, Gareth and L. 456
The helmet in an a far away Holy Grail 6
Abbey-ruin Carved stones of the A-r Princess, Pro., 14
Abbey-wall I see the moulder'd A-w's, Talking Oak 3 Abbot An a on an ambling pad, L. of Shalott ii 20
Abdiel Titan angels, Gabriel, A, Milton 5
A-beälin' (bellowing) An' thou was a-b likewise, Owd Roä 89
Abeär (bear) for I couldn a to see it. N. Farmer, O. S., 64
An' I can't a 'em, I can't, Church-warden, etc., 13
Abeat Eats scarce enow to keep his pulse a; Balin and Balan 105
A-begging I never came a-b for myself, Dora 141
Abeyance Those winters of a all worn out, Princess iv 440
Abhor I hate, a, spit, sicken at him; Lucretius 199
Abhorr'd they fell and made the glen a: Lancelot and E. 42
Abhorrent A of a calculation crost, Enoch Arden 473 Abide 'Trust me, in bliss I shall a Palace of Art 18
Tho' much is taken, much a's; Ulysses 65
In whose least act a's the nameless charm Princess v 70 you failing, I a What end soever: ,, 405 hate me not, but a your lot, Spiteful Letter 11
A: thy wealth is gather'd in, In Mem. lii 15
A a little longer here, ,, lviii 11
Dare I bid her a by her word? Maud I xvi 25 but a Without, among the cattle Gareth and L. 273
A: take counsel; for this lad ,, 730 shalt a her judgment on it; Marr. of Geraint 584
'I will a the coming of my lord, Geraint and E. 131 thou art man, and canst a a truth, Balin and Balan 501 Yet better if the King a, Last Tournament 109 Abide (continued) the wife Whom he knows false, a Guinevere 515 which thou wilt a, if thou be wise, Ancient Sage 35
Wretch you must a it . . . Forlorn 52
Abidest a lame and poor, Calling thyself Two Voices 197 Abiding A with me till I sail To seek thee In Mem. cxxv 13
Able-bodied Grew plump and a-b; The Goose 18
Abler A quarter-sessions chairman, a none; Princess, Con., 90 Abode at the farm a William and Dora. Dora 1 those four a Within one house ,, 169 Wherein the younger Charles a Talking Oak 297 she a his coming, and said to him Geraint and E. 139 stately Queen a For many a week, Guinevere 146 mightiest of my knights, a with me, ,, 430
Clave to him, and a in his own land. ,, 440
Time and Grief a too long with Life, Lover's Tale i 107
Abodest While thou a in the bud. Two Voices 158
Abolish Caught at the hilt, as to a him: Marr. of Geraint 210
Abominable The A, that uninvited came Œnone 224 shapes of lust, unspeakable, A, Lucretius 158 and shatter it, hold it a, Boädicea 65
Abreast One walk'd a with me, Lover's Tale ii 86
Abruptly broke the sentence in his heart A, Geraint and E. 42 Absence she mourn'd his a as his grave, Enoch Arden 247 in his a full of light and joy, Lover's Tale i 425
Absolution find A sort of a in the sound Sea Dreams 61
Absolution-seller a-s's, monkeries Sir John Oldcastle 93
Absorb in its onward current it a's Isabel 31
Absorbing A all the incense of sweet thoughts Lover's Tale i 469
Abstraction They do so that affect a Princess ii 359
A-buried I'll hev 'im a-b wi'mma North. Cobbler 106
Abû Said (Sufee Poet) him A S—a sun but dimly seen Akbar's Dream 94 Abuse (s) 'lest from the a of war, Princess v 126 bore without a The grand old name In Mem. cxi 21
Perchance from some a of Will Epilogue 24 Abuse (verb) wayward grief a The genial hour In Mem. cv 9 my Leonard, use and not a your day, Locksley H., Sixty, 265 Abused God's great gift of speech a A Dirge 44
Abysm fell into the a Of forms outworn, Lover's Tale i 796 weigh'd him down into the a— Columbus 137 into the a, The A of all A's, Ancient Sage 39 downward too into the a. Locksley H., Sixty, 146 Abyss and the waste wide Of that a, Two Voices 120 to sound the a Of science, Princess ii 176 lighten thro' The secular a to come, In Mem. lxxvi 6 O, from the distance of the a ,, xciii 11 upheaven from the a By fire, to sink into the a again; Pass. of Arthur 82 bubble bursts above the a Of Darkness, Romney's R. 52
Acacia Was lispt about the a's, Princess vii 251
The slender a would not shake Maud I xxii 45 Academe The softer Adams of your A, Princess ii 197 this your A, Whichever side be Victor, ,, 230
A-callin' a-c ma 'hugly' mayhap to my faäce Spinster's S's. 91
kep a-c' o' Roä till 'e waggled 'is taäil Owd Roä 105
Acanthus-wreath many a wov'n a-w divine! Lotos-Eaters, C. S., 97

Accent an a very low In blandishment, Isabel 19
She replies, in a's fainter, L. of Burleigh 5
With nearing chair and lower'd a) Aylmer's Field 267 Accept God a him, Christ receive him. Ode on Well. 281 do a my madness, and would die Maud I xviii 44 to a this cloth of gold, Gareth and L. 398 that I a thee aught the more ,, 766 a thee aught the more, Scullion, ,, 839 a this old imperfect tale, To the Queen ii 36 dark lord a and love the Sun, Demeter and P. 137 Acceptance Blithe would her brother's a be. Maud I x 27 Access closed her a to the wealthier farms, Aylmer's Field 503 down the lane of a to the King, Gareth and L. 661 Acclaim tumult of their a is roll'd Dying Swan 33
And follow'd with a's, Will Water. 138 let a people's voice In full a, Ode on Well. 143
Is wrought with tumult of a. In Mem. lxxv 20
Accompanied and oft a By Averill: Aylmer's Field 137
Accompanying brethren slowly with bent brows A, Lancelot and E. 1139
Accomplice The a of your madness unforgiven, Princess vi 276 Accomplish 'Which did a their desire, Two Voices 217
A thou my manhood and thyself; Princess vii 365
A that blind model in the seed, Prog. of Spring 114
Accomplish'd (See also All-accomplish'd, Full-accomplished)
Who, thro' their own desire a, Aylmer's Field 776
I have a what I came to do. Columbus 65
My mission be a!' Akbar's Dream 199 Accomplishment win all eyes with all a: The form, the form 4
Miss the full flower of this a.' Gareth and L. 1297 Accord (s) when both were brought to full a, Last Tournament 722 Faith and Work were bells of full a, In Mem. W. G. Ward 2 Accord (verb) I a it easily as a grace.' Gareth and L. 975
Accorded Prince A with his wonted courtesy, Lancelot and E. 638
According That mind and soul, a well, In Mem., Pro., 27 would work a as he will'd. Holy Grail 784 lady's love, A to her promise, Pelleas and E. 162
A to the Highest in the Highest. Ancient Sage 90 for my sake, A to my word?' Romney's R. 130 To pray, to do a to the prayer, Akbar's Dream 8 Account (s) dodged me with a long and loose a. Sea Dreams 149 a hard friend in his loose a's, ,, 162 of the crowd you took no more a Lancelot and E. 105 Account (verb) Eat and be glad, for I a you mine' Geraint and E. 647 whatsoever he a's Of all his treasures Lover's Tale iv 233 Accounted Is thy white blamelessness a blame!' Merlin and V. 799 Accoutrement Among piled arms and rough a's, Princess v 55
Accrue Delight a hundredfold a, In Mem. cxvii 8 Accurate your fine epithet Is a too, Merlin and V. 533
Accurst-Accursed Thro' you, my life will be accurst.' The Letters 36
Accursed, who from the wrongs Gareth and L. 347
Accursed, who strikes nor lets the hand ,, 435
Accursèd were she!' (repeat) Kapiolani 21, 24
Accusation Like bitter a ev'n to death, Love and Duty 81 people's talk And a of uxoriousness Marr. of Geraint 83 breathe but a vast and vague, Merlin and V. 701
Accuse sent for Blanche to a her Princess iv 239
A her of the least immodesty: Geraint and E. 111
Accused You never once a me, Happy 69
Achæan nor join'd The A's— Achilles over the T. 16
Ache (s) (See also Finger-ache, Haäche)
In coughs, a's, stitches, St. S. Stylites 13
And ills and a's, and teethings, Holy Grail 554
Ache (verb) would not let your little finger a Godiva 22
The sight that throbs and a's Lover's Tale i 33 a's in the grasp of an idiot power, Despair 43
Achievable if our end were less a Princess iii 283 Achieve Gone! He will a his greatness Tiresias 168 spoken true Of all we shall a, Mechanophilus 26 Achieved sword and golden circlet were a. Pelleas and E. 170 a, The loneliest ways are safe Last Tournament 101 Achieving some have striven, A calm, Two Voices 209
Achilles see the great A, whom we knew. Ulysses 64
Then rose A dear to Zeus; Achilles over the T. 2
Acknowledge in my heart of hearts I did a nobler. Lancelot and E. 1211

A-cleänin' as we was a-c the floor, Spinster's S's. 49
Aconite Their rich ambrosia tasted a. Demeter and P. 105 Acorn An a in her breast. Talking Oak 228 nor yet Thine a in the land. ,, 260
,, 287
Acorn-ball wear Alternate leaf and a-b Last Tournament 23
Acquiescing the Queen But coldly a, Last Tournament 23
A-crawin' (crowing) cocks kep a-c an' crawin' Owd Roä 106 Acre (See also Five-acre, Haäcre) dinner To the men of many a's, Maud I xx 32
Acreage No coarse and blockish God of a Aylmer's Field 651
A-creeäpin (creeping) wur a-c about my waäist; Spinster's S's. 26
Acrimony flow'd in shallower acrimonies: Aylmer's Field 563
A-cryin' then I seed 'er a-c, I did. Owd Roä 80 Act (s) A saying, hard to shape in a; Love thou thy land 49 swift mind, In a to throw: M. d'Arthur 61
king demand An a unprofitable, ,, 96
In a to render thanks. Gardener's D. 162 which I clothed in a, Princess i 195 a tiger-cat In a to spring ,, ii 451
by single a Of immolation ,, iii 284
And all creation in one a at once, ,, 325
One a a phantom of succession: ,, 329 makes Such head from a to a, ,, iv 452 least a abides the nameless charm ,, v 70 creatures native unto gracious a, ,, vii 27
How much of a at human hands In Mem. lxxxv 38 bold in heart and a and word was he, Com. of Arthur 176 graced the lowliest a in doing it. Gareth and L. 490 dream she could be guilty of foul a, Marr. of Geraint 120 hearts who see but a's of wrong: ,, 438
So splendid in his a's and his attire, ,, 620
Balin grasped, but while in a to hurl, Balin and Balan 368
FROM noiseful arms, and a's of prowess Holy Grail 1 one last a of knighthood shalt thou see. Pass. of Arthur 163 the swift mind, In a to throw: ,, 229
king demand An a unprofitable, ,, 264 beautiful in Past of a or place, Lover's Tale i 135 with her highest a the placid face ,, 216 power on thine own a and on the world. De Prof. Two G. 56
A first, this Earth, a stage The Play 1 may show In some fifth A ,, 4 Act (verb) up and a, nor shrink For fear Princess iii 265
For who can always a? In Mem. cxi 9 be born and think, And a and love, ,, Con., 127
Not he, not yet! and time to a— The Flight 73
Acted weaker grows thro' a crime, Will 12
If more and a on, what follows? Princess ii 229 after madness a question ask'd: Geraint and E. 813 thro' the journey home, A her best, Pelleas and E. 203 Acting (See also Over-acting) A the law we live by without fear; Œnone 148 Action 'Which in all a is the end of all; ,, 122 until endurance grow Sinew'd with a, ,, 165 enough of a, and of motion we, Lotos-Eaters, C. S., 105
I myself must mix with a, Locksley Hall 98
A life in civic a warm, In Mem. cxiii 9 shape His a like the greater ape, ,, cxx 11 unfathom'd woe Reflex of a. Lover's Tale i 747 mould it into a pure as theirs. Tiresias 129
Acton (Sir Roger) See Roger Acton
Actor let the dying a mouth his last Locksley H., Sixty, 152
Adair (Ellen) See Ellen Adair
A-dallackt (overdrest) An' hallus a-d an' dizen'd out, Village Wife 37 Adam The gardener A and his wife L. C. V. de Vere 51 when A first embraced his Eve Day-Dm., L'Envoi 41
The softer A's of your Academe, Princess ii 197
there be Two A's, two mankinds, Columbus 54 Adam's wine I a' nowt but A w: North. Cobbler 5 an' a beslings-puddin' an' A w; ,, 112
Add a A crimson to the quaint Macaw, Day-Dm., Pro., 15 Nor a and alter, many times, Will Water. 15 a my diamonds to her pearls; Lancelot and E. 1224 months will a themselves and make Guinevere 625 Added set the words, and a names I knew. Audley Court 61
'Swear' a Enoch sternly 'on the book.' Enoch Arden 842

Added (continued) Put on more calm and a suppliantly : Princess vi 215
Had surely a praise to praise. In Mem. xxxi 8 faith, I fain had a—Knight, Gareth and L. 1162 weight is a only grain by grain, Marr. of Geraint 526
Then Balan a to their Order Balin and Balan 91 a, of her wit, A border fantasy Lancelot and E. 10 a plain Sir Torre, 'Yea, since I cannot ,, 198
'A fair large diamond, a plain Sir Torre, ,, 230
a wound to wound, And ridd'n away ,, 567
Were a mouths that gaped, ,, 1249 a to the griefs the great must bear, Guinevere 205
each other They should have a), Lover's Tale i 263
Your viceregal days Have a fulness To Marq. of Dufferin 11
Adder I thought it was an a's fold, Lover's Tale i 691 harm an a thro' the lust for harm, Ancient Sage 271 Addition Balin, 'the Savage'—that a Balin and Balan 53
Addle (earn) Mun be a guvness, lad, or summut, and a her bread : N. Farmer, N. S., 26
Address Began to a us, and was moving on Princess ii 184
Address'd-Adrest faces toward us and address'd Their motion : ,, iv 551 now address'd to speech—Who spoke few words ,, Con., 93 suddenly adrest the hoary Earl : Marr. of Geraint 402 address'd More to the inward than the outward Lover's Tale i 720
Adeline Faintly smiling A, Adeline 2
Shadowy, dreaming A? (repeat) Adeline 10, 39
Spiritual A? (repeat) ,, 22, 64
Who talketh with thee, A? ,, 24
Thou faint smiler, A? ,, 48
Than your twin-sister, A Margaret 48
Adieu uttered it, And bade a for ever Love and Duty 83
What more? we took our last a, The Daisy 85
'A, a,' for evermore. In Mem. lvii 16
For tho' my lips may breathe a, ,, cxxiii 11
Adit yourself and yours shall have Free a; Princess vi 302
Adjust a My vapid vegetable loves Talking Oak 182
Admiral Chains for the A of the Ocean ! Columbus 19
Chains ! we are A's of the Ocean, ,, 28
Ocean—of the Indies—A's we— ,, 31
Admire a Joints of cunning workmanship Vision of Sin 185 not to desire or a, if a man Maud I iv 41 Admired which when now a By Edith Aylmer's Field 231 Admiring sat beside the couch, A him, Marr. of Geraint 80
the two Were turning and a it, ,, 637
Admission beat a in a thousand years, Princess iii 155
Admit Nor other thought her mind a's In Mem. xxxii 2
The time a's not flowers or leaves ,, cvii 5
Ado why make we such a? May Queen, Con., 56
Adoration Meet a to my household gods, Ulysses 42 shaken voice, And flutter'd a, Merlin and V. 158 Adore How many measured words a Eleanore 45
To stand apart, and to a, ,, 79 on the meadow grass, and a, Maud I v 26
Strong in the power that all men a, ,, x 14
Adored was a; He, loved for her Aylmer's Field 178
A her, as the stateliest and the best Marr. of Geraint 20
Call'd on the Power a by the Christian, Kapiolani 32
Adoring A That who made, and makes, Akbar's Dream 123
Kneel a Him the Timeless ,, D. Hymn 8
Adorn brought to a her with, The jewels, Last Tournament 715
Adorn'd her I loved, a with fading flowers. Lover's Tale iii 40
A-dressin' an' jessmine a-d it greeän, Spinster's S's. 105
A-drooping locks a-d twined Round thy neck Adeline 57
Adulation golden eloquence And amorous a, Lancelot and E. 650
Adulterer My knights are all a's like his own, Last Tournament 84
'A, Go back to thine adulteress and die !' Death of Œnone 47
Adulteress Go back to thine a and die !' ,, 48
Adultery mother of the foul adulteries Aylmer's Field 376 adulteries, Wife-murders,— Romney's R. 133 Advance (s) But these are the days of a, Maud I i 25
Advance (verb) 'The years with change a: Two Voices 52
How gain in life, as life a's To F. D. Maurice 39
Let all my genial spirits a In Mem., Con., 77
'A and take, as fairest of the fair, Marr. of Geraint 553

Advance (verb) (continued) 'A and take thy prize The diamond'; Lancelot and E. 503 wreaths of all that would a, To Victor Hugo 5 Advanced Something far a in State, Ode on Well. 275 a The monster, and then paused, Gareth and L. 1384 who a, Each growling like a dog, Geraint and E. 558 the King himself A to greet them, ,, 879 Advancing up and down A nor retreating. Sisters (E. and E.) 179 Advantage He took a of his strength to be Princess ii 152
Forebore his own a, (repeat) Guinevere 331, 333
Advent Wink at our a: help my prince Princess iii 160 dividing clove An a to the throne : ,, iv 284 Expecting still his a home ; In Mem. vi 21 Adventure battle, bold a, dungeon, wreck, Aylmer's Field 98 mad for strange a, dash'd away Balin and Balan 289 then, with small a met, Sir Bors Holy Grail 660 Bound upon solitary a, saw Pelleas and E. 275 Adversary robbers mock at a barbarous a. Boädicea 18 hearing her tumultuous adversaries ,, 78 Advice he wouldn't take my a. Grandmother 4 Adviser Horace, you the wise A Poets and their B. 6
A-dying For the old year lies a-d. D. of the O. Year 5
Æakidês So rang the clear voice of Æ; Achilles over the T. 21 cry of Æ Was heard among the Trojans, ,, 22
Ægis Pallas flung Her fringed œ, ,, 4
Æolian Æ harp that wakes No certain air, Two Voices 436 Scarce living in the Æ harmony, Lover's Tale i 477
Æon the great Æ sinks in blood, In Mem. cxxvii 16
Whirl'd for a million æ's De Prof. Two G. 3
Many an Æ moulded earth before her highest, Locksley H., Sixty, 205
Many an Æ too may pass 206
Shall not œ after œ pass and touch ,, Making of Man 4
Æonian Draw down Æ hills, and sow In Mem. xxxv 11
Æ music measuring out The steps ,, xcv 41
Æ Evolution, swift or slow, The Ring 44
Aërially And less a blue, Margaret 51 a murmur heard a, Boädicea 24
Ætna as Æ does The Giant of Mythology Lover's Tale iv 17 and Æ kept her winter snow Demeter and P. 115 Afear'd (afraid) But Squire wur a o' 'is son, Village Wife 63 allus a of a man's gittin' ower fond, Spinster's S's. 27
I wasn't a, or I thinks leästwaäys as I wasn't a; Owd Roä 86 Affair For I never whisper'd a private a Maud II v 47 kinsman travelling on his own a Merlin and V. 717 Affect They do so that a abstraction Princess ii 359 Affection The still a of the heart Miller's D. 225 he spoke, Part banter, part a Princess, Pro., 167 old and strange a of the house. ,, i 13 cared not for the a of the house ; ,, 26 like a flash the weird a came : ,, v 477 wing'd a's clipt with crime : ,, vii 316
My old a of the tomb, (repeat) In Mem. lxxxv 75, 77
With what divine a's bold ,, xciv 2
A, and the light of victory, Gareth and L. 331 a mood Of over-strain'd a, Merlin and V. 522
'Stabb'd through the heart's a's ,, 868 with full a said, 'Lancelot, Lancelot and E. 1355 if A Living slew Love, Lover's Tale ii 30 Affiance when I dwelt upon your old a, Princess iii 139 in whom I have Most joy and most a, Lancelot and E. 1357 Affianced a years ago To the Lady Ida : Princess ii 215
A, Sir? love-whispers may not ,, 221 with Melissa Florian, I With mine a. ,, iii 356 Affirm A's your Psyche thieved her theories, ,, 92
Affirm'd she a not, or denied : ,, iv 234
Affirming A each his own philosophy— Lucretius 216
A that his father left him gold, Marr. of Geraint 451
A that as long as either lived, Lover's Tale iv 277
Affluence (See also Heart-Affluence) You, that wanton in a, On Jub. Q. Victoria 28
Affright nothing there her maiden grace a! Maud I xviii 71 like a man in a mortal a; V. of Maeldune 74 Affrighted Round a Lisbon drew Ode on Well. 103
Affronted A with his fulsome innocence? Pelleas and E. 266
Afire (on fire) the house is a,' she said. Owd Roä 68

Afire (continued) 'But the stairs is a,' she said ; Ovod Roä 80
A-flyin' wool of a thistle a-f an' seeädin' Spinster's S's. 79 Afraid See Afear'd, Half-afraid.
Afric On capes of A as on cliffs of Kent, W. to Marie Alex. 17
African Indian, Australasian, A, On Jub. Q. Victoria 61
After-age Thro' a-a's in the love of Truth, Akbar's Dream 101
After-beauty that a-b makes Such head Princess iv 451
After-days It grows to guerdon a-d : Love thou thy land 27
After-dinner It seems in a-d talk Miller's D. 31
'Twas but an a-d's nap. Day-Dm., Revival 24
After-fulness from the a-f of my heart, Lover's Tale i 146
After-hands whence a-h May move the world, Princess iii 263
After-heat It might have drawn from a-h.' In Mem. lxxxi 12
After-life my dead face would vex her a-l. Enoch Arden 891
she will pass me by in a-l Princess v 91
After-love A-l's of maids and men Windsor, No Answer 25
Aftermath a sweep Of meadow smooth from a Audley Court 14
After-morn Which left my a-m content. In Mem. ciii 4
That man can have no a-m, Epilogue 73
Afternoon In the a they came unto a land Lotos-Eaters 3
In which it seemed always a. ,, 4
Bright was that a, Sunny but chill ; Enoch Arden 669 Half-sickening of his pension'd a, Aylmer's Field 461
'That a the Princess rode Princess iii 169 all That a a sound arose ,, vi 379 in the all-golden a A guest, In Mem. lxxxix 25
But in the falling a return'd Geraint and E. 591
It made the laughter of an a Merlin and V. 163
Here in the never-ended a, Last Tournament 584
For brief repast or a repose Guinevere 395 and yester a I dream'd,— Akbar's Dream 169 Aftertime I am sung or told In a, M. d'Arthur 35
relic of my lord Should be to a, ,, 99
some old man speak in the a ,, 107
a, And that full voice which circles Princess ii 44 sole men we shall prize in the a, ,, v 412
I am sung or told In a, Pass. of Arthur 203
relic of my lord Should be to a, ,, 267
some old man speak in the a ,, 275
After-years a-y Will learn the secret of our Arthur's birth.' Com. of Arthur 158
Agape A rabbit mouth that is ever a— Maud I x 31 ye seem a to roar ! Gareth and L. 1306 Agaric learned names of a, moss and fern, Edwin Morris 17 as one That smells a foul-flesh'd a Gareth and L. 747 Agate Turkis and a and almondine The Merman 32 bottom a's seen to wave and float Princess ii 327
Agavè One tall A above the lake. The Daisy 84
A-gawin' (going) I beänt a-g to breäk my rule. N. Farmer, O. S., 4
A-gawinin' (staring) an' foälk stood a-g' in, North. Cobbler 81
Age (See also Aäge, After-age, Mother-age) There hath he lain for a's and will lie. The Kraken 11
'I know that a to a succeeds, Two Voices 205 makes me talk too much in a. Miller's D. 194
And the great a's onward roll. To J. S. 72
Now the most blessed memory of mine a. Gardener's D. 279 thrifty too beyond her a. Dora 16 until he grows Of a to help us.' ,, 127 old sore breaks out from a to a Walk. to the Mail 79
Of different a's, like twin-sisters Edwin Morris 32 suffer'd long For a's and for a's !' St. S. Stylites 100 float about the threshold of an a, Golden Year 16 an a, when every hour Must sweat ,, 68
Old a hath yet his honour Ulysses 50 Immortal a beside immortal youth, Tithonus 22 thro' the a's one increasing purpose Locksley Hall 137
I the heir of all the a's, ,, 178
As all were order'd, a's since. Day-Dm., Sleep. P., 54
'Tis vain ! in such a brassy a Amphion 65 found My spirits in the golden a. To E. L. 12 tonsured head in middle a forlorn, The Brook 200 when this Aylmer came of a— Aylmer's Field 407 huge cathedral fronts of every a, Sea Dreams 218 palsy, death-in-life, And wretched a— Lucretius 155 every clime and a Jumbled together ; Princess, Pro., 16
Age (continued) 'The climax of his a ! Princess, Pro., ii 50 Amazon As emblematic of a nobler a ; Princess ii 127 some a's had been lost ; ,, 153 second-sight of some Astræan a, ,, 443 reasons drawn from a and state, ,, v 357 you got a friend of your own a, ,, vi 251
To such a name for a's long, Ode on Well. 76
For many and many an a proclaim ,, 226 tho' the Giant A's heave the hill ,, 259 at your a, Annie, I could have wept (repeat) Grandmother 20, 100
And a is a time of peace, ,, 97
I hear the roll of the a's. Spiteful Letter 8
Milton, a name to resound for a's ; Milton 4 to-morrow, And that's an a away.' Windsor, When 14 left for human deeds In endless a ? In Mem. lxxiii 12 take the print Of the golden a— Maud I i 30 many a million of a's have gone ,, iv 35
Wretchedest a, since Time began, ,, II v 21
His a hath slowly droopt, Gareth and L. 79 sadder a begins To war against ill uses ,, 1129 suffering thus he made Minutes an a : Geraint and E. 115 flatter his own wish in a for love, Merlin and V. 185 Who paced it, a's back : ,, 553 more fitly yours, not thrice your a : Lancelot and E. 953 Built by old kings, a after a, Holy Grail 340
I found Only one man of an exceeding a. ,, 431
In the white winter of his a, Pass. of Arthur 4 weight as if of a upon my limbs, Lover's Tale i 125 she, my love, is of an a with me ,, 196 poisons of his heart In his old a.' ,, 357 the fool this A that doubts of all— Sisters (E. and E.) 141 in that flight of a's which are God's Columbus 202 but thine a, by a as winter-white Tiresias 19
And oldest a in shadow from the night, ,, 104 and the human heart, and the A. Despair 40
For these are the new dark a's, ,, 88
And cap our a with snow ? ' Ancient Sage 98
The poet whom his A would quote ,, 146 well might fool a dotard's a. Locksley H., Sixty, 10
Some thro' a and slow diseases, ,, 46
A's after, while in Asia, ,, 81 an a of noblest English names, ,, 83
When was a so cramm'd with menace ? ,, 108
Bring the old dark a's back without the faith, ,, 137 well, it scarce becomes mine a— ,, 151 Gone at eighty, mine own a, ,, 281 tho', in this lean a forlorn, Epilogue 71
Light among the vanish'd a's ; To Virgil 25
May we find, as a's run, Open. I. and C. Exhib. 11 darkness Dawns into the Jubilee of the A's. On Jub. Q. Victoria 71 the morning when you came of a The Ring 77 girls of equal a, but one was fair, ,, 160
My ring too when she comes of a, ,, 289
For A will chink the face, Happy 46 gloom of A And suffering cloud Romney's R. 64
And over the flight of the A's ! Parnassus 3
What hast thou done for me, grim Old A, By an Evolution. 9
I have climb'd to the snows of A, ,, 17 all but deaf thro' a and weariness, St. Telemachus 41 and ere the crowning A of a's, Making of Man 3
When I make for an A of gold, The Dreamer 7
Helter-skelter runs the a ; Poets and Critics 2
Agent (See also Agint) Thro' many a's making strong, Love thou thy land 39
Aghast (See also Half-Aghast) all that mark'd him were a. Gareth and L. 1399 not a word !' and Enid was a ; Geraint and E. 18 men and women staring and a, ,, 804 a the maiden rose, White as her veil, Guinevere 362
Agincourt 'this,' he said, 'was Hugh's at A ; Princess, Pro., 25
Agint (Agent) Yer Honour's own a, he says to me Tomorrow 63
Agitated people around the royal chariot a, Boädicea 73
Aglaïa a double April old, A slept. Princess ii 111 my sweet A, my one child : ,, v 101
Came Psyche, sorrowing for A. ,, vi 29
A-glare all the Hells a-g in either eye, Akbar's Dream 115

Aglow 'My Rose' set all your face a, Roses on the T. 3
Agned-Cathregonion And up in A-C too, Lancelot and E. 300
Agoän (gone) whoy, Doctor's abeän an' a: N. Färmer, O. S., 2 Agony ancient melody Of an inward a, Claribel 7 one voice an a Of lamentation, M. d'Arthur 200 kill'd with some luxurious a, Vision of Sin 43 modest bosom prest In a, Aylmer's Field 417 as cried Christ ere His a ,, 793 wail of women and children, multitudinous agonies. Boädicea 26
Roman slaughter, multitudinous agonies. ,, 84
With agonies, with energies, In Mem. xxiii 18
Travail, and throes and agonies of the life, Com. of Arthur 76 into wastes and solitudes For a, Lancelot and E. 253 up the side, sweating with a, ,, 494 Brain-feverous in his heat and a, ,, 854 one voice, an a Of lamentation, Pass. of Arthur 368
All joy, to whom my a was a joy. Lover's Tale i 656 and in his a conceives A shameful sense ,, 793 these in my a Did I make bare ,, ii 47
my dull a, Ideally to her transferr'd, ,, 136 Dead of some inward a—is it so? To W. H. Brookfield 10
Twisted hard in mortal a Locksley H., Sixty, 98
A-grawin' (growing) hes now be a-g sa howd, Village Wife 107 Agreed a That much allowance must be made Aylmer's Field 409 so it was a when first they came; Princess iii 36
A to, this, the day fled on ,, 176 his wish, whereto the Queen a Lancelot and E. 1169 then they were a upon a night Guinevere 96
he sent, an' the father a; First Quarrel 18
An' Molly an' me was a, Spinster's S's. 49
Agrin His visage all a as at a wake, Princess v 521
Agrippina and the Roman brows Of A ,, ii 85
Agypt (Egypt) Thim ould blind nagers in A, Tomorrow 69
A-hawking We ride a-h with Sir Lancelot Merlin and V. 95
Ahead he rode on a, as he waved his blade Heavy Brigade 9 Aid (s) knew not whither he should turn for a. Com. of Arthur 40 for lack of gentle maiden's a. Lancelot and E. 765
He needs no a who doth his lady's will.' Pelleas and E. 281 following thy true counsel, by thine a, Akbar's Dream 154 Aid (verb) Us, who stand now, when we should a the right— Poland 13
O Lord, A all this foolish people; St. S. Stylites 223 a me, give me strength Not to tell her, Enoch Arden 785 a me Heaven when at mine uttermost, Marr. of Geraint 502 Aiding serve them both in a her— Princess vii 268 Aidless to leave thee thus, A, alone, M. d'Arthur 41 to leave thee thus, A, alone, Pass. of Arthur 209 Aidoneus car Of dark A rising rapt thee Demeter and P. 39
Ail mother thought, What a's the boy? Miller's D. 93
What a's us, who are sound, Walk. to the Mail 105
Ail'd What a her then, that ere she enter'd, Enoch Arden 518 told his gentle wife What a him, Geraint and E. 504 Aileth What a thee? whom waitest thou Adeline 45 Ailing 'Anything a,' I ask'd her, 'with baby?' The Wreck 61 only—you Were always a. The Ring 311
Ailment Yours has been a slighter a, Locksley H., Sixty, 17
Aim (s) Embrace our a's: work out your freedom. Princess ii 89
For fear our solid a be dissipated ,, iii 266 works Without a conscience or an a. In Mem. xxxiv 8 so I wake to the higher a's Maud III vi 38 he kept his mind on one sole a, Merlin and V. 626 a's Were sharpen'd by strong hate Guinevere 19
Because all other Hope had lower a; Lover's Tale i 455
Ready! take a at their leaders— Def. of Lucknow 42
Look to your butts, and take good a's! Riflemen form! 16
Aim (verb) one would a an arrow fair, In Mem. lxxxvii 25
Aim'd fairy arrows a All at one mark, Aylmer's Field 94
Nay, but she a not at glory, Wages 4
A at the helm, his lance err'd; Geraint and E. 157 better a are your flank fusillades— Def. of Lucknow 57 Aiming near storm, and a at his head, Aylmer's Field 727
In a at an all but hopeless mark The Ring 346
Aimless three days, a about the land, Pelleas and E. 391
Air (atmosphere) Till the a And the ground Nothing will Die 27
Or breathe into the hollow a, Supp. Confessions 58
Air (atmosphere) (continued) fires and fluid range Of lawless a's, Supp. Confessions 148
The living a's of middle night Arabian Nights 69 a is damp, and hush'd, and close, A spirit haunts 13
Life in dead stones, or spirit in a; A Character 9
Wide, wild, and open to the a, Dying Swan 2
Or when little a's arise, Adeline 33
With melodious a's lovelorn, ,, 55 reveal'd themselves to English a, Eleänore 2 a Sleepeth over all the heaven, ,, 38
Like softened a's that blowing steal, Two Voices 406
The very a about the door Miller's D. 103 earth and a seem only burning fire.' Œnone 268 the summer a's blow cool May Queen, N. Y's. E. 27 the languid a did swoon, Lotos-Eaters 5 Falls, and floats adown the a. ,, C. S., 31 warm a's lull us, blowing lowly) ,, 89 was no motion in the dumb dead a, D. of F. Women 65 round them sea and a are dark Love thou thy land 63 made the a Of Life delicious, Gardener's D. 69 murmur broke the stillness of that a ,, 147 Felt earth as a beneath me, ,, 212
A soft a fans the cloud apart; Tithonus 32 deep a listen'd round her as she rode, Godiva 54
I yearn to breathe the a's of heaven Sir Galahad 63
Are touch'd, are turn'd to finest a. ,, 72
And clouds are highest up in a, Lady Clare 2
All the a was torn in sunder, The Captain 43
Like Fancy made of golden a, The Voyage 66 green From draughts of balmy a. Sir L. and Q. G. 9 black yew gloom'd the stagnant a, The Letters 2 sweet half-English Neilgherry a The Brook 17 breath Of tender a made tremble ,, 202 at a touch of light, an a of heaven, Aylmer's Field 5 rush of the a in the prone swing, ,, 86 to flush his blood with a, ,, 459 Drank the large a, and saw, Sea Dreams 34 towering o'er him in serenest a, Lucretius 178 flushing the guiltless a, Spout ,, 239 soul flies out and dies in the a.' ,, 274 sweet as English a could make her, Princess, Pro., 155 each light a On our mail'd heads: ,, v 244
'for this wild wreath of a, ,, 318 went The enamour'd a sighing ,, vi 79 with a tender foot, light as on a, ,, 88 shake To the same sweet a, ,, vii 69
Naked, a double light in a and wave, ,, 167 like a broken purpose waste in a: ,, 214
In that fine a I tremble, ,, 354
Thro' the long-tormented a Heaven Ode on Well. 128
Flash'd as they turn'd in a Light Brigade 28 Clash, ye bells, in the merry March a! W. to Alexandra 18 diviner a Breathe thro' the world W. to Marie Alex. 43
And snowy dells in a golden a. The Daisy 68 bird in a, and fishes turn'd The Victim 19 cloud in my heart, and a storm in the a! Window, Gone 6 no ruder a perplex Thy sliding keel, In Mem. ix 9 Calm and deep peace in this wide a, ,, xi 13
And circle moaning in the a: ,, xii 15
Was as the whisper of an a ,, xvii 3
As light as carrier-birds in a; ,, xxv 6 seem to have reach'd a purer a, ,, xxxiii 2
Sweet after showers, ambrosial a, ,, lxxxvi 1
And shook to all the liberal a ,, lxxxix 7 drink the cooler a, and mark ,, 15
The memory like a cloudless a, ,, xciv 11
With summer spice the humming a; ,, ci 8 the stirring a The life re-orient ,, cxvi 5 Thy voice is on the rolling a; ,, cxxx 1 ruin'd woodlands drove thro' the a. Maud I i 12 essences turn'd the live a sick ,, xiii 11 fed With honey'd rain and delicate a, ,, xviii 21 Melody on branch, and melody in mid a. Gareth and L. 183 solid turrets topsy-turvy in a: ,, 255 under one long lane of cloudless a Balin and Balan 461

Air (atmosphere) (continued) their foreheads felt the cooling a, Balin and Balan 589 for God's love, a little a! Lancelot and E. 505 a that smites his forehead is not a Holy Grail 914 choice from a, land, stream, and sea, Pelleas and E. 149 my rose, that sweeten'd all mine a— ,, 403 started thro' mid a Bearing an eagle's nest: Last Tournament 14 stump Pitch-blacken'd sawing the a, ,, 67 heather-scented a, Pulsing full man; ,, 691 spouting from a cliff Fails in mid a, Guinevere 609 could not breathe in that fine a ,, 645 outward circling a wherewith I breathe, Lover's Tale i 167 seem'd a gossamer filament up in a, ,, 413 moon, Half-melted into thin blue a, ,, 421 flowing odour of the spacious a, ,, 478 to all that draw the wholesome a, ,, 500
the gentlest a's of Heaven Should kiss ,, 738
A morning a, sweet after rain, ,, iii 3 Bore her free-faced to the free a's ,, iv 38 veil, that seemed no more than gilded a, ,, 290 and horrible fowls of the a, Rizpah 39
'O diviner A.' (repeat) Sisters (E. and E.) 4
Breathe, diviner A! ,, 13
but as welcome as free a's of heaven ,, 197 God's free a, and hope of better things. Sir J. Oldcastle 10 jewell'd throne thro' the fragrant a, V. of Maeldune 59 where the water is clearer than a: ,, 77 all that suffers on land or in a or the deep, Despair 45
Yon summit half-a-league in a— Ancient Sage 11
And now one breath of cooler a ,, 117 side by side in God's free light and a, The Flight 81
The woods with living a's Early Spring 19 Light a's from where the deep, ,, 21 there In haunts of jungle-poison'd a To Marq. of Dufferin 31 pierce the glad and songful a, Demeter and P. 45
we will feed her with our mountain a, The Ring 319 up the tower—an icy a Fled by me.— ,, 445 marvel how in English a My yucca, To Ulysses 20 her bare To breaths of balmier a; Prog. of Spring 13
Air (strain of music) Æolian harp that wakes No certain a, Two Voices 437 With the a of the trumpet round him, Princess v 162 slightest a of song shall breathe In Mem. xlix 7
She is singing an a that is known to me, Maud I v 3 while I past he was humming an a, ,, xiii 17 playest that a with Queen Isolt, Last Tournament 263 hum An a the nuns had taught her; Guinevere 163 play That a which pleased her first. Lover's Tale i 21 amid eddies of melodious a's, ,, 450
'A and Words,' Said Hubert, The Ring 24 Air (manner) I KNOW her by her angry a, Kate 1
A cold a pass'd between us, The Ring 380
'Air (hair) was stroäkin ma down wi' the 'a, Spinster's S's. 19
An' 'is 'a coom'd off i' my 'ands Owd Roä 100
Air'd into the world, And a him there: Aylmer's Field 468
Airing A a snowy hand and signet gem, Princess i 121
Airm (arm) blacksmith 'e strips me the thick ov 'is a, North. Cobbler 85
Airth But a was at pace nixt mornin', Tomorrow 25 Aisle 'Dark porch,' I said, 'and silent a, The Letters 47 but in the middle a Reel'd, Aylmer's Field 818 ambrosial a's of lofty lime Princess, Pro., 87 giant a's, Rich in model and design; Ode Inter. Exhib. 12 sombre, old, colonnaded a's. The Daisy 56 often I and Amy in the mouldering a have stood, Locksley H., Sixty, 31
Ajalon like Joshua's moon in A! Locksley Hall 180
Ajar THEY have left the doors a; Sisters (E. and E.) 1
A-joompin' (jumping) An' hallus a-j' about ma Spinster's S's. 89
Akbar (Mogul Emperor) ask'd his Chronicler Of A turning slowly toward him, A said Akbar's Dream 2 ,, 4
Akin (See also Half-akin) Maud to him is nothing a: Maud I xiii 38 lawful and lawless war Are scarcely even a. ,, II v 95 swallow and the swift are near a, Com. of Arthur 313
Akrokeraunian The vast A walls, To E. L. 4
A-laäid (lying) fun 'um theer a-l on 'is faäce N. Farmer, O. S., 33 Alarm when fresh from war's a's, D. of F. Women 149 Alarm (continued) I shook her breast with vague a's— The Letters 38 our sallies, their lying a's, Def. of Lucknow 75
a's Sounding 'To arms! to arms!' Prog. of Spring 103 Alas with many a vain 'A!' Doubt and Prayer 2
Albert 'And with him A came on his. Talking Oak 105
Albert (Prince Consort) Hereafter, thro' all times, A the Good. Ded. of Idylls 43
Albion laborious, Patient children of A On Jub. Q. Victoria 59
Alcestis The true A of the time. Romney's R. 91
Alchemise a old hates into the gold Of Love, Akbar's Dream 163
Alcor Red-pulsing up thro' Alioth and A, Last Tournament 480
Alder blowing over meadowy holms And a's, Edwin Morris 96
Came wet-shod a from the wave, Amphion 41
But here will sigh thine a tree, A Farewell 9
Balin's horse Was fast beside an a, Balin and Balan 29
Ale (See also Aäle) mellow'd all his heart with a, The Brook 155
A mockery to the yeomen over a, Aylmer's Field 497
A-leaning Weak Truth a-l on her crutch, Clear-headed friend 18
Ale-house Jack on his a-h bench Maud I iv 9
Alexandra SEA-KING'S daughter from over the sea, A! W. to Alexandra 2 Danes in our welcome of thee, A! ,, 5 all Dane in our welcome of thee, A! ,, 34 Alexandrovna (See also Marie, Marie Alexandrovna) Prince his own imperial Flower, A. W. to Marie Alex. 5 sultry palms of India known, A. ,, 15 gives its throne a wife, A! ,, 25 thy young lover hand in hand A! ,, 35 and change the hearts of men, A? ,, 45
Alfred—A! ,, 50
Alfred (King of England) Truth-teller was our England's A named; Ode on Well. 188
Alfred (Duke of Edinburgh, 1844-1900) A— Alexandrovna! W. to Marie Alex. 50
Alice My own sweet A, we must die. Miller's D. 18
Pray, A, pray, my darling wife, ,, 23
But, A, what an hour was that, ,, 57
Sweet A, if I told her all?' ,, 120
Go fetch your A here,' she said: ,, 143
But, A, you were ill at ease; ,, 146 foolish song I gave you, A, on the day ,, 162 none so fair as little A May Queen 7
In there came old A the nurse, Lady Clare 13 said A the nurse, (repeat) Lady Clare 17, 23, 33, 41, 45 Alien I am but an a and a Genovese. Columbus 243
Alif The A of Thine alphabet of Love.' Akbar's Dream 31
A-liggin' (lying) wheere thou was a-l, my lad, Owd Roä 87
Alighted (See also Lighted) To Francis just a from the boat, Audley Court 7 Alioth Red-pulsing up thro' A and Alcor, Last Tournament 480 Alive That thou, if thou wert yet a, Supp. Confessions 100 Joying to feel herself a, Palace of Art 178 pass away before, and yet a I am; May Queen, Con., 1 palace-front A with fluttering scarfs Princess v 509 not always certain if they be a Grandmother 84 there's none of them left a; ,, 85 strive To keep so sweet a thing a:' In Mem. xxxv 7 Dark bulks that tumble half a, ,, lxx 11 at fifty Should Nature keep me a, Maud I vi 32 with beatings in it, as if a, Holy Grail 113 marvel among us that one should be left a, Def. of Lucknow 78
And doom'd to burn a. Sir J. Oldcastle 183
But we old friends are still a, To E. Fitzgerald 42
The love that keeps this heart a The Flight 35 the dead are not dead but a. Vastness 36
'All (hall) sin fust a coom'd to the 'A; N. Farmer, O. S., 55 walks down fro' the 'A to see, North. Cobbler 91 Alla both, to worship A, but the prayers, Akbar's Dream 9 are faint And pale in A's eyes ,, 11
A be my guide! ,, 16
'Mine is the one fruit A made for man.' ,, 40 pulse of A beats Thro' all His world. ,, 41
Yet 'A,' says their sacred book, 'is Love,' ,, 73
Yea, A here on earth, who caught ,, 84 was not A call'd In old Irân ,, 86

Alla (continued) Who all but lost himself in A, Akbar's Dream 93
One A! one Kalifa! ,, 167
'All praise to A by whatever hands ,, 198
All-accomplish'd modest, kindly, a-a, wise Ded. of Idylls 18
All-amorous Brushing his instep, bow'd the a-a Earl Geraint and E. 360
Allan With Farmer A at the farm Dora 1 a day When A call'd his son, ,, 10 bells were ringing, A call'd His niece ,, 41 said A, 'did I not Forbid you, Dora?' ,, 91
A said, 'I see it is a trick ,, 95 seal, that hung From A's watch, ,, 136
A set him down, and Mary said: ,, 139
All-arm'd A-a I ride, whate'er betide, Sir Galahad 83
All-assuming The a-a months and years In Mem. lxxxv 67
All-comprehensive express A-c tenderness, ,, 47 Allegiance from all neighbour crowns Alliance and a, Œnone 125 my rose, there my a due. Sir J. Oldcastle 59
One full voice of a, On Jub. Q. Victoria 22 Allegory I send you here a sort of a, To—— With Pal. of Art 1 the third fool of their a.' Gareth and L. 1085 four fools have suck'd their a ,, 1199
Allen (Francis) See Francis, Francis Allen
All-enduring like the a-e camel, Lover's Tale i 136 Alley From the long a's latticed shade Arabian Nights 112 plaited a's of the trailing rose, Ode to Memory 106 a's falling down to twilight grots, ,, 107 every hollow cave and a lone Lotos-Eaters, C. S., 103
And a's, faded places, Amphion 86 firefly-like in copse And linden a: Princess i 209 as she rode The woodland a's, Balin and Balan 439
There among the glooming a's Locksley H., Sixty, 219
All-fragrant slip at once a-f into one. Princess vii 70
All-generating a-g powers and genial heat Of Nature, Lucretius 97
All-golden in the a-g afternoon A guest, In Mem. lxxxix 25
All-graceful A-g head, so richly curl'd, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 38
All-heal with a bunch of a-h in her hand, Vastness 12 Alliance from all neighbour crowns A Œnone 125 longs For this a: Sisters (E. and E.) 29
Allied However she came to be so a. Maud I xiii 36
Allies backward reel'd the Trojans and a; Achilles over the T. 31
All-in-all Is like another, a i a.' Two Voices 36 with that mood or this, Is a-i-a to all: Will Water. 108 Philip was her children's a-i-a; Enoch Arden 348 her good Philip was her a-i-a, ,, 525 take them a-i-a, Were we ourselves Princess v 200
'trust me not at all or a i a' (repeat) Merlin and V. 384, 398, 449
Love Were not his own imperial a-i-a. Sisters (E. and E.) 227
Out of His whole World-self and a-i-a— De Prof. Two G. 49
What England is, and what her a-i-a, The Fleet 2 fleet of England is her a-i-a; ,, 13 been till now each other's a-i-a. The Ring 53
Within us, as without, that A-i-a, Akbar's Dream 146
All-kindled A-k by a still and sacred fire, Enoch Arden 71
Allot The sphere thy fate a's: Will Water. 218 Allotted (part.) quit the post A by the Gods: Lucretius 149 show'd an empty tent a her, Geraint and E. 885 Allow one of less desert a's This laurel To the Queen 6 fly no more: I a thee for an hour. Gareth and L. 892
A me for mine hour, and thou wilt find ,, 902 our true King Will then a your pretext, Lancelot and E. 153 answer for a noble knight? A him! ,, 202
Will well a my pretext, ,, 586
Allowance much a must be made for men. Aylmer's Field 410
Made more and more a for his talk; Sea Dreams 75
To make a for us all. In Mem. li 16
Allow'd leave To see the hunt, a it easily. Marr. of Geraint 155 loyal worship is a Of all men: Lancelot and E. 110 Lightly, her suit a, she slipt away, ,, 778 Scorn was a as part of his defect, Guinevere 43 thro' his cowardice a Her station, ,, 516 Allowing (See also Half-allowing) A it, the Prince and Enid rode, Marr. of Geraint 43
Alloy Bright metal all without a Rosalind 21
All-perfect A-p, finish'd to the finger nail. Edwin Morris 22
All-puissant noble breast and a-p arms, Marr. of Geraint 86

All-seeing or of older use A-s Hyperion— Lucretius 126
All-shamed I rode a-s, hating the life Geraint and E. 852
All-silent Sigh fully, or a-s gaze upon him Merlin and V. 182
All-subtilising A-s intellect: In Mem. lxxxv 48
All-too-full a-t-f in bud For puritanic stays: Talking Oak 59
Allure beacon-blaze a's The bird of passage, Enoch Arden 728 Allured A him, as the beacon-blaze allures ,, 728 a The glance of Gareth Gareth and L. 1315 the sweet name A him first, Last Tournament 399
Allusion phrases of the hearth, And far a, Princess ii 316
Ally (Alfred) Golden-Hair'd A whose name is one To A. Tennyson 1
Ally (s) True we have got—such a faithful a Riflemen form! 24
Ally (verb) á Your fortunes, justlier balanced, Princess ii 65 Almesbury sat There in the holy house at A Guinevere 2
she to A Fled all night long ,, 127 when she came to A she spake ,, 138
As even here they talk at A ,, 208 saw One lying in the dust at A, Pass. of Arthur 77
Almighty (See also Amoighty) O God A, blessed Saviour, Thou Enoch Arden 782
Sir Aylmer-Aylmer, that a man, Aylmer's Field 13
Almond-blossom The sunlit a-b shakes— To the Queen 16
Almondine Turkis and agate and a: The Merman 32
Alms set himself, Scorning an a, to work Enoch Arden 812 free of a her hand—The hand that Aylmer's Field 697 life of prayer, Praise, fast and a; Holy Grail 5
She gave herself, to fast and a. ,, 77 cripple, one that held a hand for a— Pelleas and E. 542 fling free a into the beggar's bowl, Ancient Sage 260
From the golden á of Blessing Locksley H., Sixty, 87
Almsdeed wear out in a and in prayer Guinevere 687
Aloän (alone) an' if Sally be left a, North. Cobbler 105 Hallus a wi' 'is booöks, Village Wife 27 one night I wur sittin' a, Ovd Roä 29 Aloe Of olive, a, maize and vine. The Daisy 4
Alone (See also Aloän) moon cometh, And looketh down a. Claribel 14
While I do pray to Thee a, Supp. Confessions 12
A and warming his five wits, (repeat) The Owl, I. 6, 13
My friend, with you to live a, Ode to Memory 119
Death, walking all a beneath a yew, Love and Death 5
A I wander to and fro, Oriana 8
A merman bold, Sitting a, Singing a The Merman 3 mermaid fair, Singing a, The Mermaid 3 Springing a With a shrill inner sound, ,, 19
For sure thou art not all a. Adeline 25 broad river rushing down a, Mine be the strength 2
'Ah,' she sang, 'to be all a, (repeat) Mariana in the S. 11, 23
'but I wake a, I sleep forgotten, ,, 35
She thought, 'My spirit is here a, ,, 47
'Sweet Mother, let me not here a ,, 59
So be á for evermore.' ,, 68
Is this the end to be left a, ,, 71
'But thou shalt be a no more.' ,, 76
And day and night I am left a ,, 83
When I shall cease to be all a, ,, 95
And you and I were all a. Miller's D. 136 Came up from reedy Simois all a. Œnone 52 from that time to this I am a, ,, 193
And I shall be a until I die. ,, 194
I will not die a, (repeat) Œnone 246, 257 some one pacing there a, Palace of Art 66
Nor these a, but every landscape fair, ,, 89
Nor these a: but every legend ,, 125 prolong Her low preamble all a, ,, 174
Flash'd thro' her as she sat a, ,, 214
And all a in crime: ,, 272
But I shall lie a, mother, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 20 why should we toil a, Lotos-Eaters, C. S., 15
Let us a. Time driveth onward ,, 43
Let us á. What is it that will last? ,, 45
Let us a. What pleasure can we have 48
'Not so, nor once a; D. of F. Women 203
That standeth there a, D. of the O. Year 50 Falls off, and love is left a. To J. S. 16 leave thee thus, Aidless, a, M. d'Arthur 41

Alone (continued) For not a this pillar-punishment, Not this a — St. S. Stylites 60
I might be more a with thee, — ,, 85
In which we sat together and a, — Love and Duty 60 both with those That loved me, and a; — Ulysses 9
About the hall, among his dogs, a, — Godiva 17
She lying on her couch a, — Day-Dm., Sleep. B., 2
Ah, let the rusty theme a! — Will Water. 177 fell Sun-stricken, and that other lived a — Enoch Arden 570 who speaks with Him, seem all a, — ,, 620
'A,' I said, 'from earlier than I know, — Princess vii 311
When ill and weary, a and cold, — The Daisy 96
A, a, to where he sits, — In Mem. xxiii 3
When I contemplate all a — ,, lxxxiv 1 light Went out, and I was all a, — ,, xcv 20 Which not a had guided me, — ,, cxiii 3
she will let me a. — Maud I i 74
For am I not, am I not, here a — ,, vi 65
I am here at the gate a; — ,, xxii 4
When will the dancers leave her a? — ,, 21
That thou art left for ever a: — ,, II iii 4 a And all the world asleep, — Com. of Arthur 118 sought The King a, and found, and told — Gareth and L. 541 and they were left a. — Geraint and E. 244 endured Strange chances here a;' — ,, 810
I was all a upon the flood, — Lancelot and E. 1046 shaped, it seems, By God for thee a, — ,, 1367 leave me all a with Mark and hell. — Last Tournament 536 leave thee thus, Aidless, a, — Pass. of Arthur 209 didst sit a in the inner house, — Lover's Tale i 112
To me a, Push'd from his chair — ,, 117
Our general mother meant for me a, — ,, 245
They tell me we would not be a,— — ,, 252 many weary moons I lived a—A, — ,, ii 2 day waned; A I sat with her: — ,, 140
I will be all a with all I love, — ,, iv 47 Found, as it seem'd, a skeleton a, — ,, 139 dark eyes! and not her eyes a, — ,, 166
I am all a in the world, — First Quarrel 8 go, go, you may leave me a— — Rizpah 79
I was there a: The phantom — Sisters (E. and E.) 113
I lying here bedridden and a, — Columbus 164 when I left my darling a.' — The Wreck 97 a on that lonely shore— — Despair 33
I am left a on the land, she is all a — ,, 63
Nor canst not prove that thou art body a, — Ancient Sage 59
Nor canst thou prove that thou art spirit a, — ,, 60 when I Sat all a, revolving — ,, 230 but we were left a: — The Flight 77 sitting on the wreck a. — Locksley H., Sixty, 16 Thou a, my boy, of Amy's kin — ,, 56 wearying to be left a, — ,, 57 first dark hour of his last sleep a. — ,, 238 gazing from this height a, — Pro. to Gen. Hamley 9 he dash'd up a Thro' the great gray slope — Heavy Brigade 16
Or Might must rule a; — Epilogue 29
And he sung not a of an old sun set, — Dead Prophet 41
To forage for herself a; — Open. I. and C. Exhib. 29
I parted from her, and I went a. — The Ring 437 would he live and die a? — Happy 5 but I wept a, and sigh'd — ,, 69
Listen! we three were a in the dell — Bandit's Death 19 of that Power which a is great, — God and the Univ. 5
Along six tall men haling a seventh a, — Gareth and L. 811
Alongside if t'one stick a t'uther — Church-warden, etc., 10
A-loving When I was a-l you all along — First Quarrel 65
Alphabet The Alif of Thine a of Love.' — Akbar's Dream 31
Alphabet-of-heaven-in-man A-o-h-i-m Made vocal— — ,, 136
Alpine In gazing up an A height, — Two Voices 362 an A harebell hung with tears — Princess vii 115 Alps Sun-smitten A before me lay. — The Daisy 62
Alraschid See Haroun Alraschid
Altar (See also Isle-altar, Mountain-altars) Leads her to the village a, — L. of Burleigh 11
And saw the a cold and bare. — The Letters 4 Altar (continued) 'Cold a, Heaven and earth shall meet — The Letters 7 fire, That burn'd as on an a. — Enoch Arden 72 at the a the poor bride Gives her harsh groom — Princess v 377
The Priest in horror about his a — The Victim 7
Burnt and broke the grove and a — Boädicea 2 sacred a blossom'd white with May, — Com. of Arthur 461 Beheld before a golden a lie — Balin and Balan 410 from the a glancing back upon her, — Sisters (E. and E.) 210 to pray Before that a—so I think; — ,, 239
There, brooding by the central a, — Ancient Sage 33 Tower and a trembling . . . — Forlorn 34 fire from off a pure Pierian a, — Parnassus 17 Altar-cloth Fair gleams the snowy a-c, — Sir Galahad 33 as thine a-c From that best blood — Gareth and L. 599 Altar-fashion'd smooth rock Before it, a-f, — Tiresias 147
Altar-fire As mounts the heavenward a-f, — In Mem. xli 3
Altar-flame made my life a perfumed a-f; — Maud I xviii 24
Altar-shrine before The stateliest of her a-s's, — Com. of Arthur 455 Altar-stairs Upon the great world's a-s — In Mem. lv 15
Altar-stone To the a-s she sprang alone, — The Victim 67
Alter Sequel of guerdon could not a me — Œnone 153
Nor add and a, many times, — Will Water. 15 Persuasion, no, nor death could a her: — Aylmer's Field 418 as the fiery Sirius a's hue, — Princess v 262 Alter'd For I was a, and began — Miller's D. 94 tho' you have grown You scarce have a: — Princess ii 306
Alum chalk and a and plaster are sold — Maud I i 39
Amaracus Violet, a, and asphodel, — Œnone 97 Amaranth propt on beds of a and moly, — Lotos-Eaters, C. S., 88 in heaven With Milton's a. — Romney's R. 111 Amaryllis A milky-bell'd a blew. — The Daisy 16
A-maying Had been, their wont, a-m — Guinevere 23
Amaze (See also Half-amaze) In much a he stared On eyes — The Brook 205
Up went the hush'd a of hand and eye. — Princess iii 138
Suddenly honest, answer'd in a, — Geraint and E. 410 sister's vision, fill'd me with a; — Holy Grail 140
And some of us, all in a, — Heavy Brigade 35 a Our brief humanities; — Epilogue 56 set the mother waking in a — Demeter and P. 57 Amazed (See also Half-amazed, Part-amazed) A and melted all who listen'd — Enoch Arden 649
Averill solaced as he might, a: — Aylmer's Field 343 half a half frighted all his flock: — ,, 631
A he fled away Thro' the dark land, — Princess v 48
'A am I to hear Your Highness: — ,, vi 324 a They glared upon the women, — ,, 360 brake on him, till, a, He knew not — Com. of Arthur 39 those who went with Gareth were a, — Gareth and L. 197 and all hearers were a. — ,, 655 Enid ask'd, a, 'If Enid errs, — Marr. of Geraint 131 the armourer turning all a — ,, 283 plover's human whistle a Her heart, — Geraint and E. 49 when he found all empty, was a; — ,, 216
A am I, Beholding how ye butt — ,, 676
He much a us; after, when we sought — Balin and Balan 115
A were these; 'Lo there' she cried— — ,, 465 more a Than if seven men had set — Lancelot and E. 350 the Queen a, 'Was he not with you? — ,, 572
He a, 'Torre and Elaine! why here? — ,, 795
So that the angels were a, — Holy Grail 451 ye look a, Not knowing they were lost — Last Tournament 41 babble about his end A me; — ,, 671
I sware, Being a: but this went by— — ,, 674 dead world's winter dawn A him, — Pass. of Arthur 443 nor lights nor feast Dazed or a, — Lover's Tale iv 311 mask that I saw so a me, — The Wreck 117
I stood there, naked, a — Despair 77 still in her cave, A, — Death of Œnone 70 Amazement stood Stock-still for sheer a. — Will Water. 136 all the guests in mute a rose— — Lover's Tale iv 305 which made the a more, — ,, 334 Amazing See Maäzin'
Amazon Glanced at the legendary A — Princess ii 126
Ambassador My father sent a's with furs — ,, i 42

Ambassador (continued) Sir Lancelot went a, at first, Merlin and V. 774
A, to lead her to his lord Guinevere 383
Ambassadress 'are you a'es From him to me? Princess iii 203
Amber (adj.) lights, rose, a, emerald, blue, Palace of Art 169
Purple or a, dangled a hundred fathoms V. of Maeldune 56
Like the tender a round, Margaret 19 and the a eves When thou and I, Camilla, Lover's Tale i 52 Ran a towards the west, and nigh the sea ,, 432
Amber (s) fans Of sandal, a, ancient rosaries, Princess, Pro., 19 Ambition No madness of a, avarice, none: Lucretius 212 lawless perch Of wing'd a's, Ded. of Idylls 23 Down with a, avarice, pride, Maud I x 47
Ambrosia Hebes are they to hand a, Princess iii 113
Their rich a tasted aconite. Demeter and P. 105 Ambrosial oak-tree sigheth, Thick-leaved, a, Claribel 5 her deep hair A, golden Œnone 178
Sweet after showers, a air, In Mem. lxxxvi 1
Ambrosially fruit of pure Hesperian gold, That smelt a, Œnone 67
Ambrosius fellow-monk among the rest, A, Holy Grail 9 monk A question'd Percivale: ,, 17
Then spake the monk A, asking him, ,, 203
I told him all thyself hast heard, A, ,, 737
Ambuscade In every wavering brake an a. Geraint and E. 51
Ambush (See also Lilac-ambush) Lances in a set; D. of F. Women 28
Ambush'd meanings a under all they saw, Tiresias 5
Ambushing poisonous counsels, wayside a's— Gareth and L. 432
Amen yet I take it with A. Lancelot and E. 1223
A! Nay, I can burn, Sir J. Oldcastle 172
Amend might a it by the grace of Heaven, Geraint and E. 53
Amends Can thy love, Thy beauty, make a, Tithonus 24
She made me divine a Maud I vi 13
Well, we will make a.' Gareth and L. 300
A hereafter by some gaudy-day, Marr. of Geraint 818 Courteous—a for gauntness— Merlin and V. 104 our a for all we might have done— Columbus 34
Amethyst chrysoprase, Jacynth, and a— ,, 86
Amid gap they had made—Four a thousands! Heavy Brigade 24
Golden branch a the shadows, To Virgil 27
Why not bask a the senses By an Evolution. 6 bracken a the gloom of the heather. June Bracken, etc., 9
Amiss There's somewhat in this world a Miller's D. 19
Kind to Maud? that were not a. Maud I xix 82 pray you check me if I ask a— Guinevere 324
Amity idioted By the rough a of the other, Aylmer's Field 591
Ammon my race Hew'd A, hip and thigh, D. of F. Women 238
Ammonian A Oasis in the waste. Alexander 8
Ammonite Huge A's, and the first bones of Time; Princess, Pro., 15
Amo 'Io t'a'—and these diamonds— The Ring 70
This very ring Io t'a? ,, 134
This ring 'Io t'a' to his best beloved, ,, 210 cried 'I see him, Io t'a, Io t'a.' ,, 223 call thro' this 'Io t'a' to the heart Of Miriam; ,, 234
'Io t'a, all is well then.' Muriel fled. ,, 271
You love me still 'Io t'a.'— ,, 291
'Io t'a, Io t'a'! flung herself ,, 397 even that 'Io t'a,' those three sweet Italian words, ,, 406 Amoighty (Almighty) 'The a's a taäkin o' you to 'issén, (repeat) N. Farmer, O. S., 10, 26 Amorous (See also All-amorous, Human-amorous) with argent-lidded eyes A, Arabian Nights 136
Of temper a, as the first of May, Princess i 2
High nature a of the good, In Mem. cix 9
Amorously kiss Thy taper fingers a, Madeline 44 shall we dandle it a? Boädicea 33
A-mountin' we 'eärd 'im a-m oop 'igher an' 'igher, North. Cobbler 47
Amourist your modern a is of easier, earthlier make. Locksley H., Sixty, 18
Amphion In days of old A, Amphion 10
Amuck Ran a Malayan a against the times, Aylmer's Field 463 Amulet What a drew her down ,, 507 kept it as a sacred a About me,— The Ring 442 Amurath (Turkish Emperor) Or A of the East? Sir J. Oldcastle 97
Amy I said, 'My cousin A, speak, Locksley Hall 23
O my A, mine no more! ,, 39
A's arms about my neck— Locksley H., Sixty, 13

Amy (continued) A loved me, A fail'd me, A was a timid child; Locksley H., Sixty, 19 often I and A in the mouldering aisle have stood, ,, 31 Lies my A dead in child-birth, ,, 36
Here to-day was A with me, ,, 53 of A's kin and mine art left to me. ,, 56 our latest meeting—A—sixty years ago— ,, 177
Amygdaloid trap and tuff, A and trachyte, Princess iii 363
Ana Ere days, that deal in a, Will Water. 199 Anadem Lit light in wreaths and a's, Palace of Art 186
A-naggin' Moother 'ed beän a-n about the gell Ovd Roä 69
Anakim I felt the thews of A, In Mem. ciii 31
Analyse and a Our double nature, Supp. Confessions 174
Anarch wearied of Autocrats, A's, and Slaves, The Dreamer 10
Anathema Thunder 'A,' friend, at you; To F. D. Maurice 8
Anatolian Ghost Crag-cloister; A G; To Ulysses 43
Anatomic not found among them all One a.' Princess iii 307
Ancestor those fixt eyes of painted a's Aylmer's Field 832
Anchor (s) with silver a left afloat, Arabian Nights 93
there was no a, none, To hold by.' The Epic 20
Nor a dropt at eve or morn; The Voyage 82
A's of rusty fluke, and boats Enoch Arden 18 Cast all your cares on God; that a holds. ,, 222 lay At a in the flood below; In Mem. ciii 20 my love Waver'd at a with me, Lover's Tale i 65
Anchor (verb) Why not yet A thy frailty there, Supp. Confessions 124
To a by one gloomy thought; Two Voices 459
Anchor'd Tho' a to the bottom, such is he.' Princess iv 257
A tawny pirate a in his port, Merlin and V. 558
Half-swallow'd in it, a with a chain; Holy Grail 803 Anchorite a Would haunt the desolated fane, St. Telemachus 12
Ancients (s) For we are A's of the earth, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 19
Ancle See Ankle
'And (hand) an' thy muther coom to 'a, N. Farmer, N. S., 21
But I puts it inter 'er 'a's North. Cobbler 72 an' poonch'd my 'a wi' the hawl, ,, 78
Fur I couldn't 'owd 'a's off gin, ,, 84
An' 'e spanks 'is 'a into mine, ,, 92 new Squire's coom'd wi' 'is taäil in 'is 'a, (repeat) Village Wife 14, 121
'e 'ed hallus a booök i' 'is 'a, ,, 26 an' our Nelly she gied me 'er 'a, ,, 111
An' that squeedg'd m t'a i' the shed, Spinster's S's. 39
Or sits wi' their 'a's afoor 'em, ,, 86
An' 'is 'air coom'd off i' my 'a's Ovd Roä 100
Anemone (See also 'Enemies) burn'd The red a. D. of F. Women 72
Crocus, a, violet, To F. D. Maurice 44 among the gardens, auriculas, a's, City Child 4
'Ang'd (hanged) Noäks wur 'a for it oop at 'soize— N. Farmer, O. S., 36
Angel (adj.) So sweet a face, such a grace, Beggar Maid 13
With books, with flowers, with A offices, Princess vii 26 a dearer being, all dipt In A instincts, ,, 321 Rings to the roar of an a onset— ,, Milton 8
And be found of a eyes Helen's Tower 11
The toll of funeral in an A ear D. of the Duke of C. 10
Angel (s) (See also Earth-Angel, Hangel)
When a's spake to men aloud, Supp. Confessions 25 once by man and a's to be seen, The Kraken 14
Like that strange a which of old, Clear-headed friend 24 thyself a little lower 'Than a's. Two Voices 199 temper'd with the tears Of a's To—— With Pal. of Art 19 slept St. Cecily; An a look'd at her. Palace of Art 100 a's rising and descending met ,, 143
March-morning I heard the a's call; May Queen, Con., 25 saw An a stand and watch me, St. S. Stylites 35
Is that the a there That holds ,, 203
Three a's bear the holy Grail: Sir Galahad 42
And, stricken by an a's hand, ,, 69 been as God's good a in our house. Enoch Arden 423 Fair as the A that said 'Hail!' Aylmer's Field 681 himself Were that great A; Sea Dreams 27 devil in man, there is an a too, ,, 278
His a broke his heart. ,, 280
'lest some classic A speak In scorn Princess iii 70
the woman's A guards you, ,, v 410
No A, but a dearer being, ,, vii 320

Angel (s) (continued) Whose Titan a's, Gabriel, Abdiel, Milton 5
My guardian a will speak out In Mem. xliv 15
I found an a of the night; ,, lxix 14
An a watching an urn Wept Maud I viii 3 ship and sail and a's blowing on it: Balin and Balan 365 a's of our Lord's report. Merlin and V. 16
I pray him, send a sudden A down Lancelot and E. 1424
So that the a's were amazed, Holy Grail 451 a's, awful shapes, and wings and eyes. ,, 848
I, and Arthur and the a's hear, Last Tournament 350
we are not a's here Nor shall be: ,, 698 face, Which then was as an a's, Guinevere 596
I to her became Her guardian and her a, Lover's Tale i 393 Come like an a to a damned soul, ,, 673 like the waft of an A's wing; In the Child. Hosp. 38 Till you find the deathless A Locksley H., Sixty, 278 mountain-walls Young a's pass. Early Spring 12 hear a death-bed A whisper 'Hope.' Romney's R. 148 Angelo The bar of Michael A. In Mem. lxxxvii 40
Anger (s) Delicious spites and darling a's, Madeline 6
Then wax'd her a stronger. The Goose 30 as with a kind of a in him, Enoch Arden 392 his a reddens in the heavens; Princess iv 386 their ravening eagle rose In a, Ode on Well. 120 troubled, as if with a or pain: Grandmother 65 all their a in miraculous utterances, Boädicea 23 an a, not by blood to be satiated. ,, 52
The bitter springs of a and fear; Maud I x 49
Till I with as fierce an a spoke, ,, II i 17 vassals of wine and a and lust, ,, 43 strength of a thro' mine arms, Gareth and L. 948
And when his a tare him, ,, 1340 ruth began to work Against his a Geraint and E. 102 or hot, God's curse, with a— ,, 661 beast, whose a was his lord. Balin and Balan 488
As some wild turn of a, Merlin and V. 521 turn of a born Of your misfaith; ,, 531 Vivien, frowning in true a, ,, 691 breaths of a puff'd Her fairy nostril ,, 848 his a slowly died Within him, ,, 891 too faint and sick am I For a: Lancelot and E. 1087 first her a, leaving Pelleas, Pelleas and E. 289 storm of a brake From Guinevere, Guinevere 361 as a falls aside And withers Lover's Tale i 9 so fluster'd with a were they V. of Maeldune 25 and in a we sail'd away. ,, 54 great God, Arês, burns in a still Tiresias 11 climbing from the bath In a; ,, 41
And a's of the Gods for evil done ,, 62 and quench The red God's a, ,, 158
And who, when his a was kindled, The Wreck 17 moment's a of bees in their hive?— Vastness 35 sound of a like a distant storm. The Ring 119 wild horse, a, plunged To fling me, Akbar's Dream 118 Rolling her a Thro' blasted valley Kapiolani 11
Anger (verb) A's thee most, or a's thee at all? Lucretius 75
Anger-charm'd Sat a-c from sorrow, Aylmer's Field 728
Anger'd (adj.) (See also Half-anger'd) The flush of a shame O'erflows Madeline 32
Those dragon eyes of a Eleanor D. of F. Women 255
Gareth spake A, 'Old Master, Gareth and L. 280 Sick? or for any matter a at me?' Balin and Balan 276 most of these were mute, some a, Last Tournament 210
I was jealous, a, vain, Happy 66
Anger'd (verb) jealousies Which a her. Who a James? The Brook 100
'So Merlin riddling a me; Com. of Arthur 412
a saying that a her. Last Tournament 628
But he a me all the more, First Quarrel 64 an' he a me more and more. ,, 66
Eh! how I a Arundel asking me Sir J. Oldcastle 135
Angerly Again thou blushest a; Madeline 45
Angle (corner) We rub each other's a's down, In Mem. lxxxix 40
Angle (race of people) Saxon and A from Over the broad billow Batt. of Brunanburh 118

Angled But a in the higher pool. Miller's D. 64 a with them for her pupil's love: Princess iii 93
Angling left That a to the mother. The Ring 356
Angrier I never ate with a appetite Geraint and E. 233
Angry Hungry for honour, a for his king. Princess v 314
Hortensia pleading: a was her face. ,, vii 132
—it makes me a now. Grandmother 44 makes me a yet to speak of it— Lover's Tale iv 135
Anguisant (King of Erin) With A of Erin, Morganore, Com. of Arthur 115 Anguish Life, a, death, immortal love, Arabian Nights 73
'Thine a will not let thee sleep, Two Voices 49
'Or that this a fleeting hence, ,, 235 down in hell Suffer endless a, Lotos-Eaters, C. S., 124 Beauty and a walking hand in hand D. of F. Women 15
She loveth her own a deep To J. S. 42
Shall I heed them in their a? Boädicea 9
My deeper a also falls, In Mem. xix 15
My a hangs like shame. Maud II iv 74 in her a found The casement: Guinevere 586 Sweat, writhings, a, labouring Pass. of Arthur 115 in the sudden a of her heart Lover's Tale i 702 became A intolerable. ,, ii 138
Life with its a, and horrors, and errors— Despair 48
Animal (adj.) With a heat and dire insanity? Lucretius 163
Animal (s) The single pure and perfect a, Princess vii 306
Animalism Hetairai, curious in their art, Hired a's, Lucretius 53
Ankle-Ancle From head to ancle fine, Talking Oak 224
One praised her ancles, one her eyes, Beggar Maid 11
At last I hook'd my ankle in a vine, Princess iv 268 Behind his ankle twined her hollow feet Merlin and V. 240
Ankle-bells To make her smile, her golden a-b. ,, 579 Ankle-bones feet unmortised from their a-b ,, 552
Ankle-deep And brushing a-d in flowers, In Mem. lxxxix 49
Ankle-wing as it were with Mercury's a-w, Lucretius 201
Anlaf (Danish King) Sparing not any of Those that with A, Batt. of Brunanburh 46
Earls of the army of A Fell ,, 53 nor had A With armies so broken ,, 81
Annal-book Merlin did In one great a-b, Com. of Arthur 158
Annals Holding the folded a of my youth; Gardener's D. 244 Told him, with other a of the port, Enoch Arden 702 with a day Blanch'd in our a, Princess vi 63
Read the wide world's a, you, Locksley H., Sixty, 104 glorious a of army and fleet, Vastness 7
Anne is gone, you say, little A? Grandmother 1
I had not wept, little A, not since ,, 63
Annie (See also Annie Lee, Hannie) While A still was mistress; Enoch Arden 26 and make a home For A: ,, 48 a home For A, neat and nestlike, ,, 59
Enoch and A, sitting hand-in-hand, ,, 69 set A forth in trade With all that seamen ,, 138 moving homeward came on A pale, ,, 149 to break his purposes To A, ,, 156
A fought against his will: ,, 158
Bought A goods and stores, ,, 169
A seem'd to hear Her own death-scaffold ,, 174 would work for A to the last, ,, 180
A's fears, Save, as his A's, ,, 183
'A, this voyage by the grace of God ,, 190
A, come, cheer up before I go.' ,, 200
A, the ship I sail in passes here ,, 214
'A, my girl, cheer up, be comforted, ,, 218
When A would have raised him ,, 232
A from her baby's forehead clipt ,, 235 same week when A buried it, ,, 271 but A, seated with her grief, ,, 280
'A, I came to ask a favour of you.' ,, 285
A, now—Have we not known each other ,, 305
A—for I am rich and well-to-do. ,, 311
A with her brows against the wall ,, 314
ask'd 'Then you will let me, A?' ,, 323 for A's sake, Fearing the lazy gossip ,, 334

Annie (continued) Philip did not fathom A's mind: Enoch Arden 344
one evening A's children long'd To go ,, 362
And A would go with them; ,, 364
For was not A with them? ,, 371
'Listen, A, How merry they are ,, 388
Tired, A?' for she did not speak ,, 390
And A said 'I thought not of it: ,, 395
'A, there is a thing upon my mind, ,, 399
O A, It is beyond all hope, ,, 402 answer'd A; tenderly she spoke: ,, 422
'A, as I have waited all my life ,, 435 fearing night and chill for A, ,, 443
At A's door he paused and gave ,, 447
'A, when I spoke to you, ,, 448
A weeping answer'd 'I am bound.' ,, 451
'Take your own time, A, take ,, 466
A could have wept for pity of him; ,, 467 chanced That A could not sleep, ,, 490 never merrily beat A's heart. ,, 513
The babes, their babble, A, ,, 606 home Where A lived and loved him, ,, 685
His gazing in on A, his resolve, ,, 863 tell my daughter A, whom I saw ,, 882
For, A, you see, her father was not the man Grandmother 5
I cannot cry for him, A: ,, 15
Why do you look at me, A? ,, 17 at your age, A, I could have wept (repeat) ,, 20, 100
I mean your grandfather, A: ,, 23
But soiling another, A, ,, 36 Shadow and shine is life, little A, ,, 60 children, A, they're all about me yet. ,, 76 my A who left me at two, ,, 77 my own little A, an A like you: ,, 78 in this Book, little A, the message ,, 96
Get me my glasses, A: ,, 106 Hall but Miss A, the heldest, Village Wife 8 but Miss A she said it wur draäins, ,, 11
Hoänly Miss A were saw stuck oop, ,, 59
An' es for Miss A es call'd me afoor ,, 105 taäke it kindly ov owd Miss A ,, 109
O A, what shall I do?' In the Child. Hosp. 47
A consider'd. 'If I,' said the wise little A, ,, 48
That was a puzzle for A. ,, 55
Annie Lee (See also Annie) A L, The prettiest little damsel Enoch Arden 11
A later but a loftier A L, ,, 748
Annihilate eagle's beak and talon a us? Boädicea 11
Announced A the coming doom, and fulminated Sea Dreams 22
Annulet And into many a listless a, Geraint and E. 258
Answer (s) Our thought gave a each to each, Sonnet To—— 10
The sullen a slid betwixt: Two Voices 226
There must be a to his doubt, ,, 309
I spoke, but a came there none: ,, 425
To which my soul made a readily: Palace of Art 17
Not rendering true a, M. d'Arthur 74 some sweet a, tho' no a came, Gardener's D. 159 let me have an a to my wish; Dora 30 before thine a given Departest, Tithonus 44 an a peal'd from that high land, Vision of Sin 221 Rejoicing at that a to his prayer. Enoch Arden 127 such a voluble a promising all, ,, 903
And Leolin's horror-stricken a, Aylmer's Field 318 hush'd itself at last Hopeless of a: ,, 543 therewithal an a vague as wind: Princess i 45
In this report, this a of a king, ,, 70
Her a was 'Leave me to deal with that.' ,, iii 149 a which, half-muffled in his beard, ,, v 234 oozed All o'er with honey'd a ,, 242
I lagg'd in a loth to render up ,, 299 shall have her a by the word.' ,, 327
Last, Ida's a, in a royal hand, ,, 371 what a should I give? ,, vii 6
The noblest a unto such Is perfect Lit. Squabbles 19 it seem'd that an a came. The Victim 24

Answer (s) (continued) Bark an a, Britain's raven! Boädicea 13 doubts and a's here proposed, In Mem. xlviii 3
What hope of a, or redress? ,, lvi 27
But Death returns an a sweet: ,, lxxxi 9
A faithful a from the breast, ,, lxxxv 14 win An a from my lips, ,, ciii 50
Make a, Maud my bliss, Maud I xviii 57 old Seer made a playing on him Gareth and L. 252 said your say; Mine a was my deed. ,, 1175 being still rebuked, would a still ,, 1249
Made a sharply that she should not Marr. of Geraint 196
So moving without a to her rest ,, 530
He made a wrathful a: 'Did I wish Geraint and E. 76
he flung a wrathful a back: ,, 146
Made a, either eyelid wet Merlin and V. 379
Is that an a for a noble knight? Lancelot and E. 201 Full simple was her a, 'What know I? ,, 671 all their a's were as one: Holy Grail 284
And when his a chafed them, ,, 673
Percivale made a not a word. Pelleas and E. 534
Well then, what a?' Last Tournament 713 voice about his feet Sent up an a ,, 761 when she drew No a, by and by Guinevere 162 a mournful a made the Queen: ,, 341
Not rendering true a, Pass. of Arthur 242
Had made a silent a: Lover's Tale iv 96 to that passionate a of full heart Sisters (E. and E.) 259 an a came Not from the nurse— The Wreck 143 all the night an a shrill'd, Demeter and P. 61
Answer (verb) And a's to his mother's calls Supp. Confessions 159
I shall know Thy voice, and a My life is full 10
Or a should one press his hands? Two Voices 245
He a's not, nor understands. ,, 246
'But thou canst a not again. ,, 310
Or thou wilt a but in vain. ,, 312
O will she a if I call? Miller's D. 118
you dare to a thus! Dora 26
To that man My work shall a, Love and Duty 29
He will a to the purpose, Locksley Hall 55 Scarce a to my whistle; Amphion 68 in gentle murmur, When they a L. of Burleigh 50 could a him, If question'd, Enoch Arden 653 to a, Madam, all those hard things Princess ii 345 Madam, you should a, we would ask) ,, 353 told me she would a us to-day, ,, iii 166 a, echoes, dying, dying, dying. (repeat) ,, iv 6, 12 a, echoes, a, dying, dying, dying. ,, iv 18
(A, O a) We give you his life.' The Victim 15
'O wife, what use to a now? ,, 55
A each other in the mist. In Mem. xxviii 4
Love would a with a sigh, ,, xxxv 13 whatever is ask'd her, a's 'Death.' Maud I i 4 wilt thou not a this? ,, xviii 59 musing 'Shall I a yea or nay?' Com. of Arthur 426 but a scorn with scorn. Gareth and L. 953 it shall a for me. Listen to it. Merlin and V. 386
But shall it? a, darling, a, no. ,, 397
To a that which came: Holy Grail 12
he had Scarce any voice to a, ,, 434
Doth question'd memory a not, Lover's Tale i 277
if my neighbour whistle a's him— ,, iv 161 Highlanders a with conquering cheers, Def. of Lucknow 99
Who then will have to a, Columbus 213
'give it to me,' but he would not a me— Bandit's Death 27
Answer'd To which he a scoffingly; Two Voices 37 in that time and place she a me, Gardener's D. 231
But William a short; Dora 22
William a madly; bit his lips, ,, 33
he a me; And well his words Edwin Morris 24 plagiarised a heart, And a Talking Oak 20 in mimic cadence a James— Golden Year 53
She a to my call, Will Water. 106
A all queries touching those at home Aylmer's Field 465
Echo a in her sleep From hollow fields: Princess, Pro., 66 a sharply that I talk'd astray. ,, iii 140

Answer'd (continued) I a nothing, doubtful in myself Princess iii 272 when have I a thee? ,, vii 4 Gods have a; We give them the wife!' The Victim 78
Doubt not ye the Gods have a, Boädicea 22
The 'wilt thou' a, and again In Mem. Con., 54 and a me In riddling triplets Com. of Arthur 401 Gareth a them With laughter, Gareth and L. 208
Sir Gareth a, laughingly, ,, 1007 thou hast ever a courteously, ,, 1167 reviled, hast a graciously, ,, 1269
A Sir Gareth graciously to one ,, 1414 ask'd it of him, Who a as before; Marr. of Geraint 205 a with such craft as women use, Geraint and E. 352 not dead!' she a in all haste. ,, 542 Enid a, harder to be moved ,, 694 truest eyes that ever a Heaven, ,, 842
I am a, and henceforth Merlin and V. 879 ever well and readily a he: Lancelot and E. 269 Lancelot spoke And a him at full, ,, 286 in her heart she a it and said, ,, 786 he a not, Or short and coldly, ,, 886 whom she a with all calm. ,, 997
He a with his eyes upon the ground, ,, 1352
Lancelot a nothing, but he went, ,, 1387 a not, but, sharply turning, Holy Grail 739 she a, and she laugh'd, Pelleas and E. 132 Gawain a kindly tho' in scorn, ,, 333 a them Even before high God. ,, 462 he a not, 'Or hast thou other griefs? ,, 598 was a softly by the King Guinevere 44
I should have a his farewell. ,, 615
To all their queries a not a word, Lover's Tale iv 333
Julian, sitting by her, a all: ,, 340
he a her wail with a song— The Dreamer 16 Answering a under crescent brows; Princess ii 428 a now my random stroke In Mem. xxxix 2 a not one word, she led the way. Geraint and E. 495 to the court of Arthur a yea. Com. of Arthur 446
Ant one whose foot is bitten by an a, Pelleas and E. 184
What is it all but a trouble of a's Vastness 4
Antagonism in the teeth of clench'd a's Princess iv 465
And toppling over all a Marr. of Geraint 491
And, toppling over all a, Geraint and E. 834 Anthem a sung, is charm'd and tied D. of F. Women 193 sound of the sorrowing a roll'd Ode on Well. 60
Anther With a's and with dust: Talking Oak 184
Antibabylonianism And loud-lung'd A's Sea Dreams 252
Antichrist He leans on A; or that his mind, Sir J. Oldcastle 74
That mock-meek mouth of utter A, ,, 170
Antiquity A front of timber-crost a, Enoch Arden 692
Anton (a knight) This is the son of A, not the King.' Com. of Arthur 74
Arthur born of Gorloïs, Others of A? ,, 171
And gave him to Sir A, ,, 222 else the child of A, and no king, ,, 233 Antony (Mark) See Mark Antony
Anvil silver hammers falling On silver a's, Princess i 217 iron-clanging a bang'd With hammers; ,, v 504 Anything He never meant us a t but good. Enoch Arden 887 Behold, we know not a; In Mem. liv 13 can see elsewhere, a so fair. Marr. of Geraint 499
Henceforth in all the world at a, Geraint and E. 649
Apartment died Of fright in far a's. Princess vi 371 Ape (s) In bed like monstrous a's St. S. Stylites 174
And let the a and tiger die. In Mem. cxviii 28
His action like the greater a, ,, cxx 11 moods of tiger, or of a? Making of Man 2 Ape (verb) should a Those monstrous males Princess iii 309 as far As I could a their treble, ,, iv 92
Aphroditè Herè comes to-day, Pallas and A, Œnone 86
Idalian A beautiful, ,, 174
Apocalyptic as if he held The A millstone, Sea Dreams 26
Apollo strange song I heard A sing, Tithonus 62 another of our Gods, the Sun, A, Lucretius 125
Apology But ended with a so sweet, Geraint and E. 394
No less than one divine a. Lover's Tale iv 169

Apostle shrive myself No, not to an A.' Sir J. Oldcastle 147
Apothegm My curse upon the Master's a, Romney's R. 37
Appal A me from the quest.' Gareth and L. 1331
Appall'd cliff-side, a them, and they said, Lancelot and E. 1253
In our most need, a them, Columbus 71
Apparel in her hand A suit of bright a, Marr. of Geraint 678 store of rich a, sumptuous fare, ,, 709 a as might well beseem His princess, ,, 758 clothed her in a like the day. Geraint and E. 948 Appeal (s) She the a Brook'd not, Princess vi 139
'Thou makest thine a to me: In Mem. lvi 5 tho' it spake and made a ,, xcii 4 she lifted up A face of sad a, Merlin and V. 284 Appeal (verb) a Once more to France or England; Columbus 57 Appeal'd a To one that stood beside. D. of F. Women 99
And with a larger faith a Talking Oak 15
Appealing A to the bolts of Heaven; Princess iv 372 Appear Shadows of the world a. L. of Shalott ii 12 made a Still-lighted in a secret shrine, Mariana in the S. 17 Falling had let a the brand of John— Aylmer's Field 509 things a the work of mighty Gods. Lucretius 102
Thy marble bright in dark a's, In Mem. lxvii 5
Which makes a the songs I made ,, Con., 21 Shall I a, O Queen, at Camelot, Lancelot and E. 142 beauties of the work a The darkest faults: Sisters (E. and E.) 105 and now the morn a's, The Flight 18
Miriam your Mother might a to me. The Ring 137
Appear'd The very graves a to smile, The Letters 45 now that shadow of mischance a Enoch Arden 128 blew and blew, but none a: Princess v 336 the work To both a so costly, Marr. of Geraint 638 a, low-built but strong; Balin and Balan 333 never yet Had heaven a so blue, Holy Grail 365 Appearing A ere the times were ripe, In Mem. Con., 139 dark in the golden grove A, Last Tournament 380
Appeased holy Gods, they must be a, The Victim 47
Appertain all That a's to noble maintenance. Marr. of Geraint 712 Appetite I never ate with angrier a Geraint and E. 233
Applauded mildly, that all hearts A, ,, 958 Applause (See also Self-applause) might reap the a of Great, Princess iii 262 the Trojans roar'd a; Spec. of Iliad 1 Shall he for whose a I strove, In Mem. li 5
To laughter and his comrades to a. Geraint and E. 296 Apple full-juiced a, waxing over-mellow, Lotos-Eaters, C. S., 33 swung an a of the purest gold, Marr. of Geraint 170 a's by the brook Fallen, and on the lawns. Holy Grail 384 and ate The goodly a's, ,, 388
The warm white a of her throat, Last Tournament 717 peak of the mountain was a's, V. of Maeldune 63
Apple-arbiter beardless a-a Decided fairest. Lucretius 91
Apple-blossom Fresh a-b, blushing for a boon. The Brook 90 cheek of a-b, Hawk-eyes; Gareth and L. 589
Apple-cheek'd a bevy of Eroses a-c, The Islet 11
Apple-tree and o'er the brook Were a-t's, Holy Grail 384
Appliances With half a night's a, Lover's Tale iv 93
Application And liberal a's lie In Art Day-Dm., Moral 13
Appraised A his weight, and fondled Enoch Arden 154
A the Lycian custom, Princess ii 128
Apprehend And thro' thick veils to a Two Voices 296
Approach (s) less achievable By slow a'es, Princess iii 284
Preserve a broad a of fame, Ode on Well. 78 Approach (verb) and let him presently A, St. S. Stylites 216 a To save the life despair'd of, Enoch Arden 830
A and fear not; Princess vii 353 Morning-Star, a, Arm me,' Gareth and L. 924
'A and arm me!' ,, 1112
Approach'd a Melissa, tinged with wan Princess iii 24
A between them toward the King, Gareth and L. 441 as the great knight A them: Lancelot and E. 180
A him, and with full affection said, ,, 1355
Approaching A, press'd you heart to heart. Miller's D. 160
A thro' the darkness, call'd; Lancelot and E. 1000
Approve And wishes me to a him, Maud I xix 71 Approved She wore the colours I a. The Letters 16

Approved (continued) A him, bowing at their own deserts — The Brook 128 and all the knights A him, — Balin and Balan 210
Approven he by miracle was a King: — Guinevere 296 Approvingly often talk'd of him A, — Aylmer's Field 474
'Appy (happy) as 'a as 'art could think, — North. Cobbler 15
I loovs tha to maäke thysen 'a, — Spinster's S's. 57
maäke 'is owd aäge as 'a as iver I can, — Owd Roä 3
A-preächin' Fur they've bin a-p mea down, — Church-warden, etc., 53
Apricot blanching a like snow in snow. — Prog. of Spring 30 April (adj.) When A nights began to blow, — Miller's D. 106
A hopes, the fools of chance; — Vision of Sin 164
And breathes in A autumns. — The Brook 196 clad her like an A daffodilly — Princess ii 324
Can trouble live with A days, — In Mem. lxxxviii 7 Thro' all the years of A blood; — cix 12 and my regret Becomes an A violet, — ,, cxv 19
For all an A morning, till the ear — Lancelot and E. 897 gustful A morn That puff'd — Holy Grail 14
Green prelude, A promise, glad new-year — Lover's Tale i 281
April (s) ('Twas A then), I came and sat — Miller's D. 59
And A's crescent glimmer'd cold, — ,, 107 balmier than half-opening buds Of A, — Tithonus 60
May or A, he forgot, The last of A — The Brook 151
Her maiden babe, a double A old, — Princess ii 110
To rain an A of ovation round Their statues, — ,, vi 66
From A on to A went, — In Mem. xxii 7
Make A of her tender eyes; — ,, xl 8
That keenlier in sweet A wakes, — ,, cxvi 2
(For then was latter A) — Com. of Arthur 451 in A suddenly Breaks from a coppice — Marr. of Geraint 338
With A and the swallow. — The Ring 60 Apt supple, sinew-corded, a at arms; — Princess v 535 a at arms and big of bone — Marr. of Geraint 489
A-raägin' (raging) fire was a-r an' raävin' — Owd Roä 110
Arab delicate A arch of her feet — Maud I xvi 15
Arâbi (Leader of Egyptian Revolt, 1882) And Wolseley overthrew A, — Pro. to Gen. Hamley 31
Arabian nodding together In some A night? — Maud I vii 12
I know not, your A sands; — To Ulysses 35 plunge old Merlin in the A sea: — Gareth and L. 211 Arac (Prince) Not ev'n her brother A, — Princess i 153 rumour of Prince A hard at hand. — ,, v 112 speak with A: A's word is thrice — ,, 226 midmost and the highest Was A: — ,, 257
The genial giant, A, roll'd himself — ,, 274 but we will send to her,' Said A, — ,, 325
whereas I know Your prowess, A, — ,, 404 Down From those two bulks at A's side, — ,, 499
From A's arm, as from a giant's flail, — ,, 500 but A rode him down: — ,, 532
A, satiate with his victory. — ,, vii 90
Arbaces A, and Phenomenon, and the rest, — The Brook 162
Arbiter See Apple-arbiter
Arbitrate to-morrow, a the field; — Last Tournament 104
Arbitration Before his throne of a — ,, 162
Arbour They read in a's clipt and cut, — Amphion 85
Arbutus there? yon a Totters; — Lucretius 184
Arc thro' a little a Of heaven, — To J. S. 26 Bear had wheel'd Thro' a great a — Princess iv 213 sine and a, spheroïd and azimuth, — ,, vi 256 Run out your measured a's, — In Mem. cv 27 bridge of single a Took at a leap; — Gareth and L. 908 Arcady To many a flute of A. — In Mem. xxiii 24
Arch (s) (See also Innocent-arch, Portal-arch) Thro' little crystal a's low — Arabian Nights 49 shadow'd grots of a's interlaced, — Palace of Art 51
Many an a high up did lift, — ,, 142 round and round, and whirl'd in an a, — M. d'Arthur 138 to three a's of a bridge Crown'd — Gardener's D. 43 Yet all experience is an a wherethro' Gleams — Ulysses 19
we past an a, Whereon a woman-statue — Princess i 209 Or under a's of the marble bridge — ,, ii 458 bloom profuse and cedar a's Charm, — Milton 11
the delicate Arab a of her feet — Maud I xvi 15
Arch (s) (continued) round and round, and whirl'd in an a, — Pass. of Arthur 306 Straining his eyes beneath an a of hand, — ,, 464 thro' the a Down those loud waters, — Lover's Tale i 58
Arch (verb) fires that a this dusky dot— — Epilogue 52
Archbishop A, Bishop, Priors, Canons, — Sir J. Oldcastle 159 Arched See High-arched Arching (See also Slow-arching) now a leaves her bare To breaths — Prog. of Spring 12
Architect You, the Patriot A, — On Jub. Q. Victoria 42
Archives of crimeful record all My mortal a. — St. S. Stylites 159 Archway Gleam thro' the Gothic a in the wall. — Godiva 64 so thou pass Beneath this a, — Gareth and L. 268 a shatter'd a plumed with fern; — Marr. of Geraint 316
While I shelter'd in this a — Locksley H., Sixty, 259
Arctic would dare Hell-heat or A cold, — Ancient Sage 116
Arden (surname) (See also Enoch, Enoch Arden) 'You A, you! nay,—sure he was a foot Higher — Enoch Arden 854
Eh, let me fetch 'em, A,' — ,, 871
Arden (forest) face again, My Rosalind in this A— — Sisters (E. and E.) 119
'Are (hare) An' 'e niver not shot one 'a, — Village Wife 42 Arês great God, A, burns in anger still — Tiresias 11 hail of A crash Along the sounding walls. — ,, 96 yesternight, To me, the great God A, — ,, 111 Argent The polish'd a of her breast — D. of F. Women 158
To yonder a round; — St. Agnes' Eve 16
Argent-lidded Serene with a-l eyes Amorous, — Arabian Nights 135
Argive On A heights divinely sang, — In Mem. xxiii 22
Argosy argosies of magic sails, — Locksley Hall 121 Arguing A boundless forbearance: — Aylmer's Field 317 seem As a love of knowledge and of power; — Princess ii 57 Argument Half-buried in some weightier a, — Lucretius 9
A-rilin' thowt she was nobbut a-r ma then. — Owd Roä 74
Arimathæan Joseph See Joseph
A-ringing we heard them a-r the bell, — First Quarrel 21
Arise Scarce outward signs of joy a, — Supp. Confessions 49
Come forth, I charge thee, a, — Ode to Memory 46
I feel the tears of blood a — Oriana 77
Or when little airs a, — Adeline 33
Many suns a and set. — Miller's D. 205
A, and let us wander forth, — ,, 239
I will a and slay thee with my hands.' — M. d'Arthur 132 yearning for thy yoke, a, — Tithonus 40 mighty wind a's, roaring seaward, — Locksley Hall 194 Expecting when a fountain should a: — Vision of Sin 8
The thoughts that a in me. — Break, break, etc. 4 pillars of the hearth A to thee; — Princess vii 217
'A, and get thee forth and seek — In Mem. lxxxv 79
A and fly The reeling Faun, — ,, cxviii 25
Morning a's stormy and pale, — Maud I vi 1
And ah for a man to a in me, — ,, x 67
A, my God, and strike, for we hold — ,, II i 45 war would a in defence of the right, — Maud III vi 19 saw the dreary phantom a and fly — ,, 36 saying, 'A, and help us thou! — Com. of Arthur 44
A And quickly pass to Arthur's hall, — Gareth and L. 983 these from all his life a, and cry, — ,, 1131 Until my lord a and look upon me?' — Geraint and E. 650
Till yonder man upon the bier a, — ,, 657 my dear lord a and bid me do it, — ,, 665
Until himself a a living man, — ,, 706
And by the great Queen's name, a — Balin and Balan 482
A, go forth and conquer as of old.' — Pass. of Arthur 64
I will a and slay thee with my hands.' — ,, 300
A in open prospect—heath and hill, — Lover's Tale i 397
A, my own true sister, come forth! — The Flight 96
Arisen (See also Half-arisen) mountains have a since With cities — Merlin and V. 675 Arising at Bible meetings, o'er the rest A, — Sea Dreams 195 from the floor, Tusklike, a, — Balin and Balan 316 horse, A wearily at a fallen oak, — ,, 425 goblet with a priceless wine A, — Lover's Tale iv 228 Ilion falling, Rome a, — To Virgil 3
Aristocrat what care I, A, democrat, autocrat— — Maud I x 65

Ark sought'st to wreck my mortal a, Two Voices 389
I leave this mortal a behind, In Mem. xii 6
Rich a's with priceless bones Balin and Balan 110
Arm (s) (See also Airm, Hairm) enormous polypi
Winnow with giant a's The Kraken 10
And with a sweeping of the a, A Character 16
Of wrath her right a whirl'd, The Poet 54
Sweet faces, rounded a's, Sea Fairies 3 Fold thine a's, turn to thy rest. A Dirge 3 right a debased The throne of Persia, Alexander 1
A glowing a, a gleaming neck, Miller's D. 78
When, a in a, we went along, ,, 163
Round my true heart thine a's entwine ,, 216
The kiss, The woven a's, seem ,, 232 Puts forth an a, and creeps Œnone 4 when I look'd, Paris had raised his a, ,, 189 that my a's Were wound about thee, ,, 202 Sat smiling, babe in a. Palace of Art 96 my a was lifted to hew down D. of F. Women 45 humid a's festooning tree to tree, ,, 70 mailed Bacchus leapt into my a's, ,, 151 kneeling, with one a about her king, ,, 270
He held a goose upon his a, The Goose 5
He took the goose upon his a, ,, 41 an a Rose up from out the bosom M. d'Arthur 29
rose an a Clothed in white samite, ,, 143
behold an a, Clothed in white samite, ,, 158
with pain, reclining on his a, ,, 168
One a aloft—Gown'd in pure white, Gardener's D. 125 in the circle of his a's Enwound us both ; ,, 216 thrust him in the hollows of his a, Dora 132
To Francis, with a basket on his a, Audley Court 6 Sleep, Ellen, folded in thy sister's a, ,, 63 sleeping, haply dream her a is mine. ,, 64
'Sleep, Ellen, folded in Emilia's a ; ,, 65 in my weak, lean a's I lift the cross, St. S. Stylites 118 leg and a with love-knots gay, Talking Oak 65
She sank her head upon her a ,, 207 close and dark my a's I spread, ,, 225
I wither slowly in thine a's, Tithonus 6
Roll'd in one another's a's, Locksley Hall 58
Glows forth each softly-shadow'd a Day-Dm. Sleep. B. 13
AND on her lover's a she leant, Depart. 1
Mute with folded a's they waited— The Captain 39
HER a's across her breast she laid Beggar Maid 1
We rush'd into each other's a's. The Letters 40 laid the feeble infant in his a's ; Enoch Arden 152 strong a's about his drooping wife, ,, 228 babe, who rear'd his creasy a's, ,, 751 he rose, he spread his a's abroad ,, 912 grovelike, each huge a a tree, Aylmer's Field 510 a's stretch'd as to grasp a flyer : ,, 588 sideways up he swung his a's, Sea Dreams 24 waved my a to warn them off ; ,, 132 raised your a, you tumbled down ,, 141 soft a, which, like the pliant bough ,, 290 roll thy tender a's Round him, Lucretius 82 her a lifted, eyes on fire— Princess, Pro., 41 long a's and hands Reach'd out, ,, i 28 lapt In the a's of leisure, ,, ii 168 holding out her lily a's Took both his hands, ,, 303 Herself and Lady Psyche the two a's ; ,, iii 35 then Oaring one a, and bearing in my left ,, iv 183 drew My burthen from mine a's ; ,, 192
A Niobëan daughter, one a out, ,, 371
She stretch'd her a's and call'd ,, 496
From Arac's a, as from a giant's flail, ,, v 500
Ida stood With Psyche's babe in a : ,, vi 31 on every side A thousand a's ,, 37 glittering axe was broken in their a's, ,, 51 a's were shatter'd to the shoulder blade. ,, 52 and with the babe yet in her a's, ,, 74 reach its fatling innocent a's ,, 138 in your own a's To hold your own, ,, 177 breast that fed or a that dandled you, ,, 181

Arm (s) (continued) from mine a's she rose Glowing Princess vii 159 and Jenny hung on his a, Grandmother 42 he turn'd and clasp't me in his a's, ,, 55
So dear a life your a's enfold The Daisy 93
She cast her a's about the child. The Victim 32
He stay'd his a's upon his knee : ,, 54
And moves his doubtful a's, and feels In Mem. xiii 3
When Science reaches forth her a's ,, xxi 18
Laid their dark a's about the field. (repeat) In Mem. xv 16, 52
They mix in one another's a's In Mem. cii 23
That watch'd her on her nurse's a, ,, Con. 46
To find the a's of my true love Maud II iv 3
So well thine a hath wrought for me to-day.' Com. of Arthur 127 a's Stretch'd under all the cornice Gareth and L. 218 with a kindly hand on Gareth's a ,, 578 bears a skeleton figured on his a's, ,, 640 lifted either a, 'Fie on thee, King ! ,, 657
His a's, the rosy raiment, and the star. ,, 938
Sun Heaved up a ponderous a ,, 1045 writhed his wiry a's Around him, ,, 1150 Lifted an a. and softly whisper'd, ,, 1361 a's on which the standing muscle sloped, Marr. of Geraint 76
'O noble breast and all-puissant a's, ,, 86
Not to be folded more in these dear a's, ,, 99
Clasp't the gray walls with hairy-fibred a's, ,, 323
Down by the length of lance and a Geraint and E. 463 and she cast her a's About him, ,, 761
His a half rose to strike again, but fell : Balin and Balan 223
If a of flesh could lay him.' ,, 299 either lock'd in either's a. ,, 632 woven paces and with waving a's, Merlin and V. 207 curved an a about his neck, ,, 241 made her lithe a round his neck Tighten, ,, 614 gentle wizard cast a shielding a. ,, 908 rose, Her a's upon her breast across, ,, 910 sloping down to make A's for his chair, Lancelot and E. 438 battle-writhen a's and mighty hands ,, 812 innocently extending her white a's, ,, 932 armlet for the roundest a on earth, ,, 1183 an a to which the Queen's Is haggard, ,, 1226 Caught from his mother's a's— ,, 1405 often in her a's She bare me, ,, 1410 milky a Red-rent with hooks of bramble, Holy Grail 210 she rose Opening her a's to meet me, ,, 395 Open'd his a's to embrace me as he came, ,, 417 every moment glanced His silver a's ,, 493 Hold her a wealthy bride within thine a's, ,, 621 in her white a's Received, Last Tournament 23
Why ye not wear on a, or neck, or zone ,, 36
Right a of Arthur in the battlefield, ,, 202 wert lying in thy new leman's a's.' ,, 625
For feel this a of mine— ,, 690 milkwhite a's and shadowy hair Guinevere 416 while yet Sir Lancelot, my right a ,, 429
Then she stretch'd out her a's and cried ,, 606 an a Rose up from out the bosom Pass. of Arthur 197
rose an a Clothed in white samite, ,, 311
behold an a, Clothed in white samite, ,, 326
with pain, reclining on his a, ,, 336 on one a The flaxen ringlets of our infancies Lover's Tale i 233
Bent o'er me, and my neck his a upstay'd. ,, 990
Love's a's were wreath'd about the neck of Hope, ,, 815
I wound my a's About her : ,, ii 200 softly put his a about her neck ,, iv 71
Holding his golden burthen in his a's, ,, 89
To greet us, her young hero in her a's ! ,, 171 bearing high in a's the mightly babe, ,, 295 bearing on one a the noble babe, ,, 370 sisters closed in another's a's, Sisters (E. and E.) 155
'Emmie, you put out your a's, In the Child. Hosp. 56
It's the little girl with her a's lying out ,, 58 little a's lying out on the counterpane ; ,, 70
I spread mine a's, God's work, I said, Sir J. Oldcastle 136
As I lean'd away from his a's— The Wreck 102

Arm (s) (continued) 'Woman'—he grasp at my a— The Wreck 120
Ah, clasp me in your a's, sister, The Flight 5
O would I were in Edwin's a's— ,, 45
I feel'd thy a es I stood Spinster's S's. 26
Amy's a's about my neck— Locksley H., Sixty, 13
'Mother!' and I was folded in thine a's. Demeter and P. 22 here, my child, tho' folded in thine a's, ,, 40
And dying rose, and rear'd her a's, The Ring 222 happy had I died within thine a's, Death of Œnone 31 and Rome was a babe in a's, The Dawn 9
'O what an a,' said the king. The Tourney 12
Arm (verb) to a in proof, and guard about Supp. Confessions 65 Morning-star, approach, A me,' Gareth and L. 925
'Approach and a me!' ,, 1112 Arm-chair Her father left his good a-c, Talking Oak 103 small goodman Shrinks in his a-c Princess v 454
When asleep in this a-c? Maud I vii 4
So I sits i' my oän a-c Spinster's S's. 9 Arm'd (See also All-arm'd, Full-arm'd, Plump-armed) one that a Her own fair head, Princess, Pro., 32 Sleep must lie down a, for the villainous Maud I i 41 fair, strong, a—But to be won by force— Gareth and L. 104 who alway rideth a in black, ,, 636
These a him in blue arms, and gave ,, 931 damsel came, And a him in old arms, ,, 1115 wholly a, behind a rock In shadow, Geraint and E. 57 horsemen waiting, wholly a, ,, 121
And each of them is wholly a, ,, 143 issuing a he found the host and cried, ,, 407
he a himself and went, Balin and Balan 22
There two stood a, and kept the door; Lancelot and E. 1247 and we ride, A as ye see, Pelleas and E. 65 knights A for a day of glory before the King. Last Tournament 55 a by day and night Against the Turk; Montenegro 3 Armlet a for the roundest arm on earth, Lancelot and E. 1183 a for an arm to which the Queen's ,, 1226
Armour And as he rode his a rung, L. of Shalott iii 17
This mortal a that I wear, Sir Galahad 70
His own forefathers' arms and a hung. Princess, Pro., 24
Your very a hallow'd, and your statues ,, v 413
When a clash'd or jingled, ,, vi 363 he had ask'd For horse and a: Gareth and L. 474 so ye cleave His a off him, ,, 1095 hew'd great pieces of his a off him, ,, 1142 youth who scour'd His master's a; Marr. of Geraint 258 slay him and will have his horse And a, Geraint and E. 63 and possess your horse And a, ,, 75 three gay suits of a which they wore, ,, 95 bound the suits Of a on their horses, ,, 97
Their three gay suits of a, each from each, ,, 181 heap'd The pieces of his a in one place, ,, 374 glimmer'd on his a in the room. ,, 386
'Take Five horses and their a's;' ,, 409
palfrey heart enough To bear his a? ,, 490
Bled underneath his a secretly, ,, 502
A light of a by him flash, Balin and Balan 326 moved Among us in white a, Galahad. Holy Grail 135 one that on me moved In golden a ,, 410 horse In golden a jewell'd everywhere: ,, 412
In silver a suddenly Galahad shone ,, 458
In silver-shining a starry-clear; ,, 511
Wherefore now thy horse And a: Pelleas and E. 355
Behold his horse and a. ,, 373
he that hath His horse and a: ,, 378
In blood-red a sallying, Last Tournament 443
And all her golden a on the grass, Tiresias 45
Armour'd And a all in forest green, Last Tournament 170
Armourer riding further past an a's, Who, Marr. of Geraint 266
Whereat the a turning all amazed 283
Armoury from Jehovah's gorgeous armouries, ,, Milton 6
Arms (weapons) a, or power of brain, or birth To the Queen 3
Those men thine a withstood, England and Amer. 7 one might show it at a joust of a, M. d'Arthur 102 broke a close with force and a: Edwin Morris 131
His own forefathers' a and armour hung. Princess, Pro., 24

Arms (weapons) (continued) clash'd in a, By glimmering lanes Princess, Pro., v 5 piled a and rough accoutrements, ,, 55 horses yell'd; they clash'd their a; ,, 250 two armies and the noise Of a; ,, 346 none to trust Since our a fail'd— ,, 427 supple, sinew-corded, apt at a; ,, 535 whose a Champion'd our cause and won it ,, vi 61
Roll of cannon and clash of a, Ode on Well. 116
Arthur yet had done no deed of a, Com. of Arthur 46 many of these in richer a than he, ,, 52 Closed in her castle from the sound of a. Gareth and L. 163 his a Clash'd; and the sound was good ,, 311
A for her son, and loosed him from his vow. ,, 530
Gareth ere he parted flash'd in a, ,, 689
Mounted in a, threw up their caps ,, 697
'Bound upon a quest With horse and a— ,, 709 few goodlier than he) Shining in a, ,, 745 These arm'd him in blue a, ,, 931 strength of anger thro' mine a, ,, 948 and take his horse And a, ,, 956 Hath overthrown thy brother, and hath his a.' ,, 1037 damsel came, And arm'd him in old a, ,, 1115
His a are old, he trusts the harden'd skin— ,, 1139 on a nightblack horse, in nightblack a, ,, 1381 a On loan, or else for pledge; Marr. of Geraint 219 a, a, a to fight my enemy? ,, 282
A? truth! I know not: ,, 289 thought to find A in your town, ,, 418
if ye know Where I can light on a, ,, 422 heard me praise Your feats of a, ,, 435 true heart,' replied Geraint, 'but a, ,, 474
'A, indeed, but old And rusty, ,, 477
Who being apt at a and big of bone ,, 489
Yniol's rusted a Were on his princely person, ,, 543 will not fight my way with gilded a, Geraint and E. 21
Three horses and three goodly suits of a, ,, 124
Two sets of three laden with jingling a, ,, 188 take A horse and a for guerdon; ,, 218 one with a to guard his head and yours, ,, 427 paid with horses and with a; ,, 486 loosed the fastenings of his a, ,, 511 grow In use of a and manhood, Lancelot and E. 64 while she watch'd their a far-off Sparkle, ,, 395 earth shake, and a low thunder of a. ,, 460 glittering in enamell'd a the maid ,, 619
From noiseful a, and acts of prowess Holy Grail 1 a Hack'd, and their foreheads grimed ,, 264
Lend me thine horse and a, Pelleas and E. 345 Pelleas lent his horse and all his a, ,, 358 one might show it at a joust of a, Pass. of Arthur 270 Gold, jewels, a, whatever it may be. Lover's Tale iv 235 and shoutings and soundings to a, Def. of Lucknow 76
The warrior hath forgot his a, Ancient Sage 138 alarms Sounding 'To a! to a!' Prog. of Spring 104 clatter of a, and voices, and men passing Bandit's Death 24 Arms (ensigns armorial) His a were carven only; but if twain His a were blazon'd also; Gareth and L. 412 then was painting on it fancied a, Merlin and V. 474 guess'd a hidden meaning in his a, Lancelot and E. 17
quartering your own royal a of Spain, Columbus 115
Arm's-length Paris held the costly fruit Out at a-l, Œnone 136
Army crying there was an a in the land, Princess iv 484 compassed by two armies and the noise ,, v 345
Charging an a, while All the world Light Brigade 30
To preach our poor little a down, Maud I x 38 councils thinn'd, And armies waned, Merlin and V. 573 Earls of the a of Anlaf Fell Batt. of Brunanburh 53 nor had Anlaf With armies so broken ,, 82
Her dauntless a scatter'd, and so small, The Fleet 11 glorious annals of a and fleet, Vastness 7
Arno unfamiliar A, and the dome The Brook 189
Arnon from Aroer On A unto Minneth.' D. of F. Women 239
Aroer from A On Arnon unto Minneth.' ,, 238
Aromat from the blessed land of A— Holy Grail 48

Arose a, and I releas'd The casement, Two Voices 403 a wind a, And overhead the wandering ivy Œnone 98
THE rain had fallen, the Poet a, Poet's Song 1 and a Eager to bring them down, Enoch Arden 871 not to die a listener, I a, The Brook 163 a the labourers' homes, Aylmer's Field 147 footstool from before him, and a; ,, 327 wind a and rush'd upon the South, Princess i 97 a Once more thro' all her height, ,, vi 159
That afternoon a sound a of hoof And chariot, ,, 379 Star after star, a and fell; ,, vii 50 on one side a The women up in wild revolt, ,, 122
Then thorpe and byre a in fire, The Victim 3
Thro' four sweet years a and fell, In Mem., xxii 3
Since our first Sun a and set. ,, xxiv 8
Till at the last a the man; ,, cxviii 12 till I could bear it no more, But a, Maud I iii 10 Nor ever a from below, ,, II ii 36 on the further side A a silk pavilion, Gareth and L. 910 a, and raised Her mother too, Marr. of Geraint 535 in their halls a The cry of children, Geraint and E. 964 damsel bidden a And stood with folded hands Merlin and V. 68 with smiling face a, Lancelot and E. 552 and all the knights a, And staring Holy Grail 192 King a and went To smoke the ,, 213 words of Arthur flying shriek'd, a, Last Tournament 139
She clear'd her sight, she a, Dead Prophet 31 call'd a, and, slowly plunging down St. Telemachus 28 from the ruin a The shriek and curse Akbar's Dream 189 Aroused So sleeping, so a from sleep Day-Dm., L'Envoi 21
A the black republic on his elms, Aylmer's Field 529 a Lancelot, who rushing outward Guinevere 106 Arrange Dispute the claims, a the chances; To F. D. Maurice 31
A the board and brim the glass; In Mem., cvii 16
Arranged a Her garden, sow'd her name Aylmer's Field 87 men and maids A a country dance, Princess, Pro., 84
A the favour, and assumed the Prince. ,, iv 602
Arras (adj.) In Arthur's a hall at Camelot: Merlin and V. 250
Arras (s) hung with a green and blue, Palace of Art 61
Array (s) Singing of men that in battle a, Maud I v 8 Array'd with her own white hands A Marr. of Geraint 17 took them, and a herself therein, ,, 139 took it, and a herself therein. ,, 849 there the Queen a me like the sun: Geraint and E. 701
Arraying morn by morn, a her sweet self Lancelot and E. 906
Arrival will harangue The fresh a's of the week Princess ii 96
Arrive A at last the blessed goal, In Mem. lxxxiv 41 Arrived A and found the sun of sweet content The Brook 168 a, by Dubric the high saint, Com. of Arthur 453
Arriving A all confused among the rest Princess iv 224
A at a time of golden rest, Merlin and V. 142
Arrogance They said with such heretical a Sir J. Oldcastle 15
Arrow viewless a's of his thoughts were headed The Poet 11
The bitter a went aside, Oriana 37
The false, false a went aside, ,, 39
The damned a glanced aside, ,, 41
Within thy heart my a lies, ,, 80 shoot into the dark A's of lightnings. To J. M. K. 14
A random a from the brain. Two Voices 345 look'd a flight of fairy a's aim'd Aylmer's Field 94
Fly twanging headless a's at the hearts, Princess ii 402
When one would aim an a fair, In Mem. lxxxvii 25
Or into silver a's break The sailing ,, ci 15
Before an ever-fancied a, made Geraint and E. 531 a whizz'd to the right, one to the left, Balin and Balan 419 lest an a from the bush Should leave me Last Tournament 535 jingle of bits, Shouts, a's, Tiresias 94 Struck by a poison'd a in the fight, Death of Œnone 26
Arrowing a light from clime to clime, Akbar's D. Hymn 5
Arrowlet blows a globe of after a's, Gareth and L. 1029
Arrow-seed like the a-s's of the field flower, The Poet 19
Arrow-slain With loss of half his people a-s; Merlin and V. 565
Arrow-wounded your a-w fawn Came flying Princess ii 270
Arsenic A, a, sure, would do it, Maud II v 62
Art discovery And newness of thine a so pleased Ode to Memory 88

Art (continued) knowledge of his a Held me D. of F. Women 9 words, tho' cull'd with choicest a, ,, 285
I and he, Brothers in A; Gardener's D. 4
'will you climb the top of A. ,, 169 liberal applications lie In A like Nature, Day-Dm. Moral 14
Her a, her hand, her counsel Aylmer's Field 151
Hetairai, curious in their a, Lucretius 52
At wine, in clubs, of a, of politics; Princess, Pro., 161 in a's of government Elizabeth and others; a's of war The peasant Joan and others; a's of grace Sappho and others ,, ii 161 with inmost terms Of a and science: ,, 447
Two great statues, A And Science, ,, iv 200 Science, A, and Labour have outpour'd Ode Inter. Exhib. 5 shapes and hues of A divine! ,, 22 piece of inmost Horticultural a, Hendecasyllabics 20
And owning but a little a In Mem. xxxvii 14
From a, from nature, from the schools, ,, xlix 1 on mind and a, And labour, ,, lxxxvii 22
The graceful tact, the Christian a; ,, cx 16
That all, as in some piece of a, ,, cxxviii 23 letters, dear to Science, dear to A, Ded. of Idylls 40 served King Uther thro' his magic a; Com. of Arthur 152 Knowing all a's, had touch'd, Gareth and L. 307 knew the range of all their a's, Merlin and V. 167 since ye seem the Master of all A, ,, 468
Or A with poisonous honey stol'n from France, To the Queen ii 56
Heirlooms, and ancient miracles of A, Lover's Tale iv 192 Repell'd by the magnet of A The Wreck 22 with the living hues of A. Locksley H., Sixty, 140
A and Grace are less and less: ,, 245
And here the Singer for his A Epilogue 79
You see your A still shrined in Poets and their B. 11 a nation purer through their a. To W. C. Macready 8 the fault is less In me than A. Romney's R. 9 A! Why should I so disrelish ,, 10 seem'd my lodestar in the Heaven of A, ,, 39
Of ancient A in Paris, or in Rome. ,, 87
This A, that harlot-like ,, 115
I replied 'Nay, Lord, for A,' ,, 131
'Art (heart) as 'appy as 'a could think, North. Cobbler 15
Artemisia (Carian) See Carian Artemisia
Arthur (Epic poem) 'he burnt His epic, his King A, The Epic 28 Arthur (King) Until King A's table, man by man, M. d'Arthur 3 fallen in Lyonnesse about their Lord, King A: ,, 5 spake King A to Sir Bedivere: (repeat) ,, 13, 66 replied King A, faint and pale: ,, 72
'King A's sword, Excalibur, ,, 103
spoke King A, breathing heavily: ,, 113 replied King A, much in wrath: ,, 118
Then spoke King A, drawing thicker breath: ,, 148
answer made King A, breathing hard: ,, 162
as he walk'd, King A panted hard, ,, 176
murmur'd A, 'Place me in the barge,' ,, 204 like that A who, with lance in rest, ,, 222
my Lord A, whither shall I go? ,, 227 slowly answer'd A from the barge: ,, 239 sail with A under looming shores, ,, Ep. 17 King A, like a modern gentleman ,, 22 cried 'A is come again: he cannot die.' ,, 24
For many a petty king ere A came Com. of Arthur 5 man was less and less, till A came. ,, 12 after these King A for a space, ,, 16 for he heard of A newly crown'd, ,, 41
A yet had done no deed of arms, ,, 46
A, looking downward as he past, ,, 55
A, passing thence to battle, ,, 75
When A reach'd a field-of-battle ,, 96 till A by main might, And mightier ,, 109
A call'd to stay the brands ,, 120 in the heart of A joy was lord. ,, 124
A said, 'Man's word is God in man: ,, 133
'Knowest thou aught of A's birth?' ,, 147 learn the secret of our A's birth?' ,, 159
By this King A as by thee to-day, ,, 162

Arthur (King) (continued)
of Anton?
Hold ye this A for King Uther's son?'
Knighted by A at his crowning, like a loyal sister cleaved To A,— before his time Was A born, Brought A forth, and set him in the hall, clamour'd for a king, Had A crown'd;
A were the child of shamefulness,
Ye come from A's court.
and A sat Crown'd on the daïs, from the casement over A, smote Flame-colour, friends Of A, gazing on him,
A row'd across and took it—sad was A's face Taking it, therefore A's sister?' ask'd the King.
when did A chance upon thee first?'
Back to the court of A answering yea.
A charged his warrior whom he loved
A said, 'Behold, thy doom is mine.
A's knighthood sang before the King:—
Rome or Heathen rule in A's realm?
A spake, 'Behold, for these have sworn and A strove with Rome.
A and his knighthood for a space knight of A, working out his will,
A gave him back his territory, both thy brethren are in A's hall,
thou shalt go disguised to A's hall,
A's wars in weird devices done,
three Queens, the friends Of A, Merlin's hand, the Mage at A's court, everywhere At A's ordinance, heard A voice, the voice of A,
Said A, 'Whether would ye?
A, 'Have thy pleasant field again,
A, 'We sit King, to help the wrong'd heard that A of his grace Had made A cried To rend the cloth, (repeat) this was A's custom in his hall;
A mightiest on the battle-field—
'Comfort thyself,' said A,
A mindful of Sir Gareth ask'd, and A glancing at him, Brought without the door King A's gift, most ungentle knight in A's hall.'
A's men are set along the wood;
a stalwart Baron, A's friend.
'I well believe You be of A's Table,' being A's kitchen-knave!—
this morn I stood in A's hall,
A all at once gone mad replies, champion thou hast brought from A's hall?
And quickly pass to A's hall,
'Here is a kitchen-knave from A's hall
'No star of thine, but shot from A's heaven meek withal As any of A's best, knight of A, here lie thrown by whom I know not,
on the day when A knighted him.'
truth if not in A's hall, In A's presence?
A's harp tho' summer-wan, challenge the chief knight Of A's hall?'
Geraint, a knight of A's court,
Weeping for some gay knight in A's hall.'
For A on the Whitsuntide before Cavall, King A's hound of deepest mouth,
That eat in A's hall at Camelot.
Shalt ride to A's court, rising up, he rode to A's court,
A knight of A's court, who laid made a knight of A's Table Round, will not go To A, then will A come to you,' past With A to Caerleon upon Usk.
wherefore A call'd His treasurer,
A laugh'd upon him. 'Old friend,

Com. of Arthur 170
,, 172
,, 175
,, 192
,, 212
,, 229
,, 236
,, 239
,, 249
,, 257
,, 274
,, 278
,, 298
,, 305
,, 317
,, 333
,, 446
,, 447
,, 467
,, 481
,, 485
,, 507
,, 514
,, 515
Gareth and L. 24
,, 78
,, 82
,, 152
,, 225
,, 230
,, 306
,, 308
,, 318
,, 340
,, 343
,, 371
,, 393
,, 400, 417
,, 410
,, 496
,, 601
,, 624
,, 652
,, 677
,, 757
,, 788
,, 818
,, 836
,, 838
,, 855
,, 863
,, 916
,, 984
,, 1036
,, 1100
,, 1169
,, 1233
,, 1240
,, 1254
,, 1314
,, 1417
Marr. of Geraint 1
,, 118
,, 145
,, 186
,, 432
,, 582
,, 591
Geraint and E. 775
,, 793
,, 815
,, 946
Balin and Balan 4
,, 16

Arthur (King) (continued)
On A's heart;
'Fair Sirs,' said A, 'wherefore sit we be mightier men than all In A's court;
'I too,' said A, 'am of A's hall,
A lightly smote the brethren down,
A seeing ask'd 'Tell me your names;
Said A 'Thou hast ever spoken truth;
A's host Proclaim'd him Victor,
Then A, 'Let who goes before me, learn what A meant by courtesy,
A, when Sir Balin sought him,
all the kindly warmth of A's hall (for A's knights Were hated strangers thou from A's hall, and yet So simple!
ye men of A be but babes.'
to thy guest, Me, me of A's Table.
some high lord-prince of A's hall,
if from A's hall, To help the weak.
A the blameless, pure as any maid,
The slights of A and his Table, follow'd, Sir, In A's household?'—
A bound them not to singleness
'This A pure!
If I were A, I would have thy blood.
Perchance, one curl of A's golden beard.
A, him Ye scarce can overpraise,
A in the highest Leaven'd the world,
While all the heathen lay at A's feet, wily Vivien stole from A's court.
A walking all alone, Vext leaving A's court he gain'd the beach;
In A's arras hall at Camelot:
I rose and fled from A's court many-corridor'd complexities Of A's palace:
the royal rose In A's casement
A, blameless King and stainless man?'
jousts, Which A had ordain'd,
A, long before they crown'd him King,
A came, and labouring up the pass,
A, holding then his court Hard
Has A spoken aught?
'A, my lord, A, the faultless King,
I am yours, Not A's, as ye know,
After the King, who eat in A's halls.
'Known am I, and of A's hall, and known, till our good A broke The Pagan you know Of A's glorious wars.'
having been With A in the fight where he sat At A's right, with smiling face arose,
A to the banquet, dark in mood,
'Our true A, when he learns,
A's wars were render'd mystically, of A's palace toward the stream,
In which as A's Queen I move and rule:
For some do hold our A cannot die,
So A bad the meek Sir Percivale
But A spied the letter in her hand,
'My lord liege A, and all ye that hear,
A answer'd, 'O my knight,
A leading, slowly went The marshall'd
Then A spake among them, 'Let her tomb
A, who beheld his cloudy brows,
Alas for A's greatest knight, a man Not after A's heart!
A and his knighthood call'd The Pure,
one of those who eat in A's hall;
Sin against A and the Table Round, when King A made His Table Round, not A's use To hunt by moonlight;'
Said A, when he dubb'd him knight;
Did A take the vow?'
For dear to A was that hall of ours,
Which Merlin built for A long ago!
statue in the mould Of A, made by Merlin, twelve great windows blazon A's wars,

Balin and Balan 22
,, 31
,, 34
,, 37
,, 41
,, 49
,, 73
,, 89
,, 134
,, 158
,, 198
,, 236
,, 351
,, 357
,, 361
,, 380
,, 466
,, 472
,, 479
Merlin and V. 7
,, 20
,, 28
,, 49
,, 53
,, 58
,, 91
,, 140
,, 144
,, 149
,, 152
,, 197
,, 250
,, 297
,, 733
,, 740
,, 779
Lancelot and E. 32
,, 34
,, 47
,, 74
,, 117
,, 121
,, 135
,, 184
,, 188
,, 279
,, 285
,, 287
,, 552
,, 564
,, 585
,, 801
,, 1178
,, 1221
,, 1258
,, 1264
,, 1270
,, 1290
,, 1326
,, 1331
,, 1339
,, 1354
,, 1419
Holy Grail 3 ,, 24
,, 79
,, 89
,, 110
,, 137
,, 204
,, 222
,, 226
,, 239
,, 248

Arthur (King) (continued) A finds the brand Excalibur. Holy Grail 253
'Lo now,' said A, 'have ye seen a cloud'? ,, 286 voice Shrilling along the hall to A, call'd, 'But I, Sir A, saw ,, 289 the great table of our A closed ,, 329
Had Camelot seen the like, since A came; ,, 332
A's wars are render'd mystically, ,, 359
the gate of A's wars.' ,, 539
I remember'd A's warning word, ,, 598 thou shalt be as A in our land.' ,, 606 follow'd—almost A's words— ,, 669 seven clear stars of A's Table Round— ,, 684 Or was there sooth in A's prophecy, ,, 709 there sat A on the daïs-throne, ,, 721 and A turn'd to whom at first He saw not, ,, 751
A kept his best until the last; ,, 763 KING A made new knights to fill Pelleas and E. 1 and A made him knight. ,, 16
I will be thine A when we meet.' ,, 47
A made vast banquets, and strange knights ,, 147
For A, loving his young knight, ,, 159
A had the jousts Down in the flat field ,, 163 our A made Knight of his table; ,, 319
'Gawain am I, Gawain of A's court, ,, 371
he, Gasping, 'Of A's hall am I, ,, 514
Had made mock-knight of A's Table Round, Last Tournament 2
For A and Sir Lancelot riding once ,, 10 brought A maiden babe; which A pitying took, ,, 21
So she, delivering it to A, said, ,, 30
A turn'd to Kay the seneschal, ,, 89
A rose and Lancelot follow'd him, ,, 112 words of A flying shriek'd, arose, ,, 139 Right arm of A in the battlefield, ,, 202
Dagonet, skipping, 'A, the King's; ,, 262 so thou breakest A's music too.' ,, 266 thank the Lord I am King A's fool. ,, 320
call the harp of A up in heaven?' ,, 333
With A's vows on the great lake of fire. ,, 345
I, and A and the angels hear, ,, 350
A with a hundred spears Rode far, ,, 420
'Lo there,' said one of A's youth, ,, 429
But A waved them back. ,, 437
He ended: A knew the voice; ,, 455
A deign'd not use of word or sword, ,, 458 in the heart of A pain was lord. ,, 486 other was the Tristram, A's knight! ,, 634
Had A right to bind them to himself? ,, 684
A make me pure As any maiden child? ,, 692
That night came A home, and while ,, 755 disruption in the Table Round Of A, Guinevere 18 knight of A's noblest dealt in scorn; ,, 40 Which good King A founded, years ago, ,, 221
the bard Sang A's glorious wars, ,, 286
And that was A; and they foster'd him ,, 295 to lead her to his lord A, ,, 384 silk pavilions of King A raised ,, 394 think How sad it were for A, should he live, ,, 496
'Oh A!' there her voice brake suddenly, ,, 607
There came on A sleeping, Pass. of Arthur 30
A woke and call'd, 'Who spake? ,, 45
Then spake King A to Sir Bedivere: (repeat) Pass. of Arthur 65, 136, 181, 234 ever yet had A fought a fight Like this Pass. of Arthur 93 and ev'n on A fell Confusion, ,, 98 while A at one blow, Striking ,, 167 Until King A's Table, man by man, ,, 172 fall'n in Lyonnesse about their lord, King A. ,, 174 replied King A, faint and pale: ,, 240
'King A's sword, Excalibur, ,, 271
spoke King A, breathing heavily: ,, 281
replied King A, much in wrath: ,, 286
Then spoke King A, drawing thicker breath: ,, 316
answer made King A, breathing hard: ,, 330
as he walk'd, King A panted hard, ,, 344
murmur'd A, 'Place me in the barge.' ,, 372

Arthur (King) (continued) like that A who, with lance in rest, Pass. of Arthur 390
my Lord A, whither shall I go? ,, 395
slowly answer'd A from the barge: ,, 407 friends Of A, who should help him ,, 456 city and palace Of A the king; Merlin and the G. 66 on the forehead Of A the blameless ,, 73
A had vanish'd I knew not whither, ,, 77
Arthur (Sir, a local magnate) To show Sir A's deer. The Brook 133
Arthur (A. H. Hallam, 1811-1833) With my lost A's loved remains, In Mem. ix 3
My A, whom I shall not see ,, 17
That holy Death ere A died ,, lxxx 2
My A, found your shadows fair, ,, lxxxix 6
Artificer A and subject, lord and slave, Lover's Tale, ii 103 Artist Well hast thou done, great a Memory, Ode to Memory 80
A more ideal A he than all, (repeat) Gardener's D. 25, 173 wife, an unknown a's orphan child— Sea Dreams 2 golden moods Of sovereign a's; Princess, v. 195 portrait of his friend Drawn by an a, Sisters (E. and E.) 135
What A ever yet Could make pure light Romney's R. 9 wife and children drag an A down! ,, 38
'This model husband, this fine A'! ,, 124 Artist-like A-l, Ever retiring thou dost gaze Ode to Memory 92
'Arty (hearty) glad to seeä tha sa 'a an' well. North. Cobbler 2 Arundel (Archbishop of Canterbury) (See also Caiaphas-Arundel) Against the proud archbishop A— Sir J. Oldcastle 16 this mitred A Dooms our unlicensed preacher ,, 104 how I anger'd A asking me To worship ,, 135
Arviragus there the heathen Prince, A, Holy Grail 61
A-sailing a-s with wind an' tide. First Quarrel 42
Ascalon that was old Sir Ralph's at A: Princess, Pro. 26 Ascend Take wings of fancy, and a, In Mem. lxxvi 1 thy deeds in light, A's to thee; Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 10 Ascended shouts A, and there brake Gareth and L. 801 as Kapiolani a her mountain, Kapiolani 28 Ascending A tired, heavily slept till morn. Enoch Arden 181 with the dawn a lets the day Strike Geraint and E. 692 with slow sad steps A, fill'd Last Tournament 144 Ascension spheroïd and azimuth, And right a, Princess vi 257
Ascent in steepness overcome, And victories of a, Lover's Tale i 387
Ash (tree) (See also Esh) Young a'es pirouetted down Amphion 27
Delaying as the tender a delays Princess, iv 106
Nor hoary knoll of a and haw In Mem. c 9
Ashaämed (ashamed) an' I wur dreädful a; North. Cobbler 40 Ashamed (See also Ashaämed, Half-ashamed, Shaämed) Shall I believe him a to be seen? Maud I. xiii 25
'A boon, Sir King (his voice was all a), Gareth and L. 442
A am I that I should tell it thee. Marr. of Geraint 577
Your hand shakes. I am a. Romney's R. 25
A-shawin' (showing) mun be fools to be hallus a-s your claws, Spinster's S's. 61
Ashbud hair More black than a's in the front of March.' Gardener's D. 28
Ashen-gray seems But an a-g delight. Maud I. vi 22
Ashes And heap their a on the head; Love thou thy land 70
And all I was, in a. Tithonus 23
Who will not let his a rest! You might have won 28
Slipt into a, and was found no more. Aylmer's Field 6
A to a, dust to dust; Ode on Well. 270
And from his a may be made In Mem. xviii 3
And dust and a all that is; ,, xxxiv 4 who knows? we are a and dust. Maud I i 32
I spring Like flame from a.' Gareth and L. 546 champion from the a of his hearth.' ,, 899 who lay Among the a and wedded ,, 904 youth gone out Had left in a: Merlin and V. 246 dead a and all fire again Thrice in a second, Lover's Tale iv 323 but now to silent a fall'n away. Locksley H., Sixty, 41 HAD the fierce a of some fiery peak St. Telemachus 1
Ashore I've ninety men and more that are lying sick a. The Revenge 10
And a day less or more At sea or a, ,, 87
But the blind wave cast me a, Despair 61
Ashy quivering brine With a rains, The Voyage 43
Asia Ages after, while in A, Locksley H., Sixty, 81
A-singein' Fur 'e smell'd like a herse a-s, Owd Roä 110

A-singin' Theer wur a lark a-s 'is best North. Cobbler 46
Ask A the sea At midnight, Supp. Confessions 125
When I a her if she love me, Lilian 3
A's what thou lackest, Two Voices 98 a thou not my name: D. of F. Women 93
You a me, why, tho' ill at ease, You ask me, why, 1
he has a mint of reasons: a. The Epic 33
'Annie, I came to a a favour of you.' Enoch Arden 285
This is the favour that I came to a.' ,, 313 what is it that you a?' ,, 427
O then to a her of my shares, Sea Dreams 115
That Sheba came to a of Solomon.' Princess ii 346 you should answer, we would a) ,, 353
'O a me nothing,' I said: ,, iii 59
a for him Of your great head— ,, vi 313
A me no more: (repeat) Princess vii 1, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11, 15 would but a you to fulfil yourself: Princess vii 146
I a you nothing: only, if a dream, ,, 148
A her to marry me by and by? Window, Letter 6
And a a thousand things of home; In Mem. xiv 12
Let no one a me how it came to pass; Maud I xviii 49
If one should a me whether The habit, ,, xx 17
I will not a thee why ,, II iii 2
Or if I a thee why, ,, 6
Or to a her, 'Take me, sweet, ,, iv 87
Before thou a the King to make thee knight, Gareth and L. 145 and loathe to a thee aught. ,, 356
I scarce can a it thee for hate, ,, 361 or thyself be mad, I a not: ,, 877
'So this damsel a it of me Good— ,, 974
'I charge thee, a not, but obey.' Marr. of Geraint 133
'Then will I a it of himself,' ,, 197
I swear I will not a your meaning in it: Geraint and E. 743
I am silent then, And a no kiss;' Merlin and V. 254 a your boon, for boon I owe you ,, 306 wherefore a; And take this boon ,, 309 will ye never a some other boon? ,, 375
Who feels no heart to a another boon. ,, 382 has tript a little: a thyself. ,, 602 never could undo it: a no more: ,, 686
I a you, is it clamour'd by the child, ,, 771 a me not Hereafter ye shall know me— Lancelot and E. 191 a you not to see the shield he left, ,, 653 should a some goodly gift of him ,, 912
'A me not, for I may not speak of it: Holy Grail 758 yield me sanctuary, nor a Her name Guinevere 141 and they spared To a it. ,, 145 pray you check me if I a amiss— ,, 324
Ye a me, friends, When I began to love. Lover's Tale i 144
Ye know not what ye a. ,, 150
I'a you now, should this first master ,, iv 265 let me a you then, Which voice Sisters (E. and E.) 29
Edith wrote: 'My mother bids me a' ,, 181
Did he believe it? did you a him? The Ring 225 a 'Why left you wife and children? Romney's R. 128
Ask'd (See also Hax'd) for I a him, and he said, Dora 145 once I a him of his early life, Edwin Morris 23
I a him half-sardonically. ,, 59 she knew it not, And would if a deny it. Enoch Arden 44 till I a If James were coming. The Brook 105
To learn the price and what the price he a, ,, 142 a her 'Are you from the farm?' ,, 209 wonder'd at her strength, and a her of it: Sea Dreams 113
And a; but not a word; ,, 116 and a That which I a the woman ,, 146 her we a of that and this, Princess i 231 and when I a her 'how,' ,, iii 29
'Tell us,' Florian a, 'How grew this feud ,, 76 mutual pardon a and given ,, v 46 a but space and fairplay for her scheme; ,, 282 Ay or no, if a to her face? Window, Letter 9 again The 'wilt thou' a, In Mem. Con. 55 whatever is a her, answers 'Death.' Maud I i 4 therefore Arthur's sister?' a the King. Com. of Arthur 317 a him if these things were truth— ,, 398 Ask'd (continued) A me to tilt with him, Gareth and L. 27
he had a For horse and armour: ,, 473
I a for thy chief knight, ,, 658 bound to thee for any favour a!' ,, 977 a it of him, Who answer'd as before; Marr. of Geraint 204 after madness acted question a: Geraint and E. 813 a her not a word, But went apart ,, 880
Arthur seeing a 'Tell me your names; Balin and Balan 49
Balin was bold, and a To bear ,, 199 at feast Sir Galon likewise a ,, 347 a this very boon, Now a again: Merlin and V. 323 died Thrice than have a it once— ,, 919 proof of trust—so often a in vain! ,, 920 they a of court and Table Round, Lancelot and E. 268 when he a 'Is it for Lancelot, ,, 1104 and eyes that a 'What is it?' ,, 1249 a us, knight by knight, if any Had seen it, Holy Grail 283
'O brother,' a Ambrosius,—'for in sooth ,, 540 then he a, 'Where is he? ,, 638 scarce had pray'd or a it for myself— ,, 691 sharply turning, a Of Gawain, ,, 739 Lancelot,' a the King, 'my friend, ,, 764
'Dead, is it so?' she a. 'Ay, ay,' said he, Pelleas and E. 384
'Have ye fought?' She a of Lancelot. ,, 593 a, 'Why skipt ye not, Sir Fool?' Last Tournament 256 she a, I know not what, and a, Lover's Tale i 706 and a If I would see her burial: ,, ii 70 in his fantasy, I never a: ,, iv 13
she rais'd an eye that a 'Where?' ,, 94 then he suddenly a her if she were. ,, 328 once my prattling Edith a him 'why?' Sisters (E. and E.) 58
'Anything ailing,' I a her, 'with baby?' The Wreck 61 a the waves that moan about the world Demeter and P. 64 and I a About my Mother, The Ring 102
'Why weird?' I a him; ,, 197
Had a us to their marriage, ,, 430 paused—and then a Falteringly, Death of Œnone 94 a 'Is earth On fire to the West? St. Telemachus 18 of the nations' a his Chronicler Of Akbar Akbar's Dream 1 her name? what was it? I a her. Charity 35
Askew all his conscience and one eye a'—(repeat) Sea Dreams 180, 184
Asking (See also Haxin') grant mine a with a smile, Tithonus 16 Nor a overmuch and taking less, Enoch Arden 252 a, one Not fit to cope your quest. Gareth and L. 1173 therefore at thine a, thine. Marr. of Geraint 479 not so strange as my long a it, Merlin and V. 312 braved a riotous heart in a for it. Lancelot and E. 359 a him, 'What said the King? Holy Grail 203 a whence Had Arthur right to bind Last Tournament 683
Arundel a me To worship Holy Cross! Sir J. Oldcastle 135
A-sleeäpin' (sleeping) cat wur a-s alongside Roäver, Owd Roä 33 Asleep (See also Deep-asleep, Half-asleep, Warm-asleep) smiling a, Slowly awaken'd, Eleänore 84 but I fall a at morn; May Queen, N. Y's. E. 50 Falling a in a half-dream! Lotos-Eaters, C.S. 56
Since that dear soul hath fall'n a. To J. S. 34
To fall a with all one's friends; Day-Dm., L'Envoi 4
If e'er when faith had fall'n a, In Mem. cxxiv 9
When a in this arm-chair? Maud I vii 4
But come to her waking, find her a, ,, II ii 81 himself alone And all the world a, Com. of Arthur 119
vext his day, but blesses him a— Gareth and L. 1286 half a she made comparison Marr. of Geraint 651 fell a again; And dreamt herself ,, 653
He fell a, and Enid had no heart Geraint and E. 369 not seem as dead, But fast a, Lancelot and E. 1161 when they fall a Into delicious dreams, Lover's Tale i 161
First falls a in swoon, wherefrom awaked, ,, 791
I have done it, while you were a— Rizpah 19
we believed her a again— In the Child. Hosp. 69 ere the dotard fall a? Locksley H., Sixty, 153 fall of water lull'd the noon a. Romney's R. 83
But such a tide as moving seems a, Crossing the Bar 5
A-smilin' An' Squire wur hallus a-s, Village Wife 33
Asmodeus Abaddon and A caught at me. St. S. Stylites 172

Aspasia not for all A's cleverness, Princess ii 344 Aspect Of pensive thought and a pale, Margaret 6
More bounteous a's on me beam, Sir Galahad 21
Under the selfsame a of the stars, Lover's Tale i 199
Aspen (See also Aspen-tree) Willows whiten, a's quiver, L. of Shalott i 10
And here thine a shiver ; A Farewell 10
Aspen-tree in the meadows tremulous a-t's Lancelot and E. 410 showers, And ever-tremulous a-t's, ,, 524 Asphodel Violet, amaracus, and a, Œnone 97 weary limbs at last on beds of a. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 125 Along the silent field of A. Demeter and P. 153 Aspick Showing the a's bite.) D. of F. Women 160
A-squeälin' an' a-s, as if tha was bit, Owd Roä 89 and thou was a-s' thysen, ,, 107 Ass (an animal) whisper'd 'A'es' ears,' among the sedge, Princess ii 113 one of thy long a'es' ears, Last Tournament 273 swine, goats, a'es, rams and geese ,, 321
'Then were swine, goats, a'es, geese ,, 325 Ass (a stupid fellow) Sam, thou's an a for thy paäins : N. Farmer, N.S. 3 we boäth on us thinks tha an a. (repeat) ,, 12, 38 an a as near as mays nowt— ,, 39
Assail To a this gray preëminence of man ! Princess iii 234
Assail'd brother king, Urien, a him : Com. of Arthur 36
They that a, and they that held Lancelot and E. 455
Assassin earls, and caitiff knights, A's, Marr. of Geraint 36 Sanctuary granted To bandit, thief, a— Sir J. Oldcastle 113 Assault Sharp is the fire of a, Def. of Lucknow 57
Ever the mine and a, our sallies, ,, 75
Assay 'I shall a,' said Gareth Gareth and L. 783
A it on some one of the Table Round, Merlin and V. 689
Assaye Against the myriads of A Ode on Well. 99
Assemble plans, And phantom hopes a ; Will Water. 30
Assembled Narrowing in to where they sat a Vision of Sin 16 Assent I gave a : Yet how to bind Princess, Con. 7
Assented Enoch all at once a to it, Enoch Arden 126 Assert a None lordlier than themselves Princess ii 143 a's his claim In that dread sound Ode on Well. 70 Assign'd purpose of God, and the doom a. Maud III vi 59 quest A to her not worthy of it, Lancelot and E. 825 kiss the child That does the task a, ,, 829
Assize See 'Soize
Association A fresh a blow, In Mem. ci 18
Assoil'd And the Holy man he a us, V. of Maeldune 126 Assume law The growing world a, England and Amer. 17 lose the child, a The woman : Princess i 137 Assumed Arranged the favour, and a the Prince. ,, iv 602
A from thence a half-consent ,, vii 82
A that she had thank'd him, Geraint and E. 646
Assuming See All-assuming Assumption heart In its a's up to heaven ; In Mem. lxiii 4 quench'd herself In that a of the bridesmaid— Sisters (E. and E.) 234 Assurance A only breeds resolve.' Two Voices 315 Assure may now a you mine ; Merlin and V. 549 Assured See Half-assured
Assyrian oil'd and curl'd A Bull Smelling of musk Maud I vi 44
A kings would flay Captives Locksley H., Sixty, 79
A-stanning (standing) 'What's i' tha bottle a's theer ?' North. Cobbler 7
A-steppin' yon laädy a-s along the streeät, ,, 107
Astolat (See also Lord of Astolat, Maid of Astolat)
Elaine, the lily maid of A, Lancelot and E. 2
Ran to the Castle of A, ,, 167
And issuing found the Lord of A ,, 173 then the Lord of A : 'Whence comest thou, ,, 180 said the Lord of A, 'Here is Torre's : ,, 195
And came at last, tho' late, to A : ,, 618 came The Lord of A out, to whom the Prince ,, 627 the Lord of A, 'Bide with us, ,, 632
About the maid of A, and her love. ,, 723
'The maid of A loves Sir Lancelot, ,, 725
Sir Lancelot loves the maid of A.' ,, 726
But far away the maid in A, ,, 745
To A returning rode the three. ,, 905
Then spake the lily maid of A : ,, 1085
So that day there was dole in A. ,, 1136
the lily maid of A Lay smiling, ,, 1242
Astolat (continued) I, sometime call'd the maid of A, Lancelot and E. 1273
Astride men and boys a On wyvern, Holy Grail 349
A-stroäkin' (stroking) as I be a-s o' you, Spinster's S's. 19
Astræan second-sight of some A age, Princess ii 443
Astrology brought to understand A sad a, Maud I xviii 36
Astronomy their cosmogonies, their astronomies : Columbus 42
Dead the new a calls her . . . Locksley H., Sixty, 175
A and Geology, terrible Muses ! Parnassus 16
Asunder each as each, Not to be pluck'd a ; Holy Grail 777
They might be pluck'd a. ,, 780 save they could be pluck'd a, ,, 782
To tear the twain a in my heart, ,, 786
As if 'twere drawn a by the rack. Lover's Tale ii 57 shook us a, as if she had struck The Wreck 108
'At (hat) doesn not touch thy 'a to the Squire ; ' North. Cobbler 25 says Parson, and laäys down 'is 'a, ,, 89
A-taäkin' (taking) what a's doing a-t o' meä ? N. Farmer, O.S. 45
A-talkin' Me an' thy muther, Sammy, 'as beän a-t o' thee ; ,, N.S. 9
Atar infuse Rich a in the bosom of the rose, Lover's Tale i 270 Ate A with young lads his portion Gareth and L. 480
Sat down beside him, a and then began. ,, 872 Sir Gareth drank and a, and all his life ,, 1280 let the horses graze, and a themselves. Geraint and E. 211
Geraint A all the mowers' victual ,, 215
I never a with angrier appetite ,, 233 a with tumult in the naked hall, ,, 605
That ever among ladies a in hall, Lancelot and E. 255 drank the brook, and a The goodly apples, Holy Grail 387 our solemn feast—we a and drank, Lover's Tale iv 221
Atheist Authors—essayist, a, Locksley H., Sixty, 139
On whom the women shrieking 'A' Akbar's Dream 91
Atheling (See also Edmund Atheling) Also the brethren, King and A, Batt. of Brunanburh 100
Athelstan (King of England) A King, Lord among Earls, ,, 1
Athene (Pallas) See Pallas, Pallas Athene
Athens when A reign'd and Rome, Freedom 9 Athlete Until she be an a bold, Clear-headed friend 21 an a, strong to break or bind Palace of Art 153 Athos Tomohrit, A, all things fair, To E. L. 5
Atlantic waste A roll'd On her and us Third of Feb. 21
I wish they were a whole A broad.' Princess, Con. 71 same bones back thro' the A sea, Columbus 214 Atmosphere Floating thro' an evening a, Eleänore 100
For love possess'd the a, Miller's D. 91
Cold in that a of Death, In Mem. xx 14
Atom If all be a's, how then should the Gods Lucretius 114
Vanishing, a and void, a and void, ,, 258
Boundless inward, in the a, Locksley H., Sixty, 212
Atomic Being a not be dissoluble, Lucretius 115
Atom-stream I saw the flaring a-s's And torrents ,, 38
Atomy Crowded with driving atomies, Lover's Tale ii 174 Atonement morning shine So rich in a as this Maud I xix 6
Attach phantasm of the form It should a to ? Lover's Tale i 647 Attain A the wise indifference of the wise ; A Dedication 8
Attain'd (See also Half-attained) have a Rest in a happy place Œnone 130 Attempt Vivien should a the blameless King. Merlin and V. 164 Attend each ear was prick'd to a A tempest, Princess vi 280
And in his presence I a To hear In Mem. cxxvi 2
Attendance And make her dance a ; Amphion 62
You come with no a, page or maid, Geraint and E. 322 Attended So she goes by him a, L. of Burleigh 25
Attest A their great commander's claim Ode on Well. 148 Attic And round the a's rumbled, The Goose 46 single sordid a holds the living and the dead. Locksley H., Sixty, 222 Attire She in her poor a was seen : Beggar Maid 10
So splendid in his acts and his a, Marr. of Geraint 620
Attired women who a her head, ,, 62 than Geraint to greet her thus a ; ,, 772 Attorney See 'Turney
Attracted a, won, Married, made one with, Lover's Tale i 133
Attribute all the gentle a's Of his lost child, Aylmer's Field 730
Or, crown'd with a's of woe In Mem. cxviii 18
A-tuggin' Roäver a-t an' teärin' my slieäve. Owd Roä 60

A-tuggin' (continued) a-t an' teïrin' me wuss nor afoor, Owd Roä 66
A-turnin 'be a-t ma hout upo' Christmas Eäve'! ,, 59
A-twizzen'd (twisted) Wi' haäfe o' the chimleys a-t ,, 22
Aubrey (Ellen) See Ellen, Ellen Aubrey
Audacious See Outdacious
Audible Shaped by the a and visible, Moulded the a and visible; Lover's Tale ii 104
Audibly Half inwardly, half a she spoke, Marr. of Geraint 109 Audience at the palace craved A of Guinevere, Lancelot and E. 1163 Audley A feast Humm'd like a hive Audley Court 4
Audley Court Let us picnic there At A C.' ,, 3
Auger hammer and axe, A and saw, Enoch Arden 174
Auger-hole Boring a little a-h in fear, Godiva 68
Aught—what, I would not a of false— Princess v 402
Unfaith in a is want of faith in all. Merlin and V. 389 less than swine, A naked a— Last Tournament 309 Augury how shall Britain light upon auguries happier? Boädicea 45
Now with prosperous auguries On Jub. Q. Victoria 9
Augustine (of Hippo) and besides, The great A wrote Columbus 52
Aunt came Trustees and A's and Uncles. Edwin Morris 121 maiden A Took this fair day for text, Princess, Pro., 107
'Why not now?' the maiden A. ,, 208 the maiden A (A little sense of wrong ,, 218
She fixt a showery glance upon her a, ,, Con. 33
Aurelian (Roman Emperor) the Palmyrene That fought A, ,, ii 84
Aurelius (King of Britain) A lived and fought and died, Com. of Arthur 13
A Emrys would have scourged thee dead, Gareth and L. 375
Auricula among the gardens, a's, anemones, City Child 4
Ausonian stay'd the A king to hear Palace of Art 111
Austerely master took Small notice, or a, Lucretius 8
Australasian the long wash of A seas Far off, The Brook 194
Indian, A, African, On Jub. Q. Victoria 61
Australian black A dying hopes he shall return, Locksley H., Sixty, 70
Author A's—essayist, atheist, ,, 139 Authority A forgets a dying king, M. d'Arthur 121 see that some one with a Be near her Princess vi 236
All people said she had a— ,, 238
And simple words of great a, Com. of Arthur 261
A forgets a dying king, Pass. of Arthur 289
Autocrat Aristocrat, democrat, a— Maud I x 65 wearied of A's, Anarchs, and Slaves, The Dreamer 10
Autumn (adj.) then one low roll Of A thunder, Last Tournament 153
Autumn (s) (See also Fall) A and summer Are gone long ago; Nothing will Die 18
A, in a bower Grape-thicken'd Eleänore 35
Till A brought an hour For Eustace, Gardener's D. 207
That a into a flash'd again, Enoch Arden 456
And breathes in April a's. The Brook 196 parcel-bearded with the traveller's-joy In A, Aylmer's Field 154 A's mock sunshine of the faded woods ,, 610 breadth Of A, dropping fruits of power: Princess vi 55 after A past—if left to pass His a A Dedication 9
And A, with a noise of rooks, In Mem. lxxxv 71
A laying here and there A fiery finger ,, xcix 11 storms Of A swept across the city, Demeter and P. 71 and bless Their garner'd A also, ,, 147 Spring and Summer and A and Winter, Vastness 29 like May-blossoms in mid a— The Ring 255 mist of a gather from your lake, ,, 329
Autumn-changed Then; and then A-c, The Oak 8
Autumn-dripping in a death-dumb a-d gloom, Last Tournament 756
Autumn-fields In looking on the happy A-f, Princess iv 42
Autumn-sheaf Than of the garner'd A-s. Two Voices 114
Autumn-tide High over all the yellowing A-t, Last Tournament 241
Avail (s) 'I count it of no more a, Dame, Geraint and E. 715 Avail (verb) Let this a, just, dreadful, St. S. Stylites 9
Nor branding summer suns a In Mem. ii 11
Avail'd hath this Quest a for thee?' Holy Grail 765
Avalon Lay, dozing in the vale of A, Palace of Art 107
Avanturine Like sparkles in the stone A. Gareth and L. 930 Avarice No madness of ambition, a, Lucretius 212 evil tyrannies, all her pitiless a, Boädicea 80
Down with ambition, a, pride, Maud I x 47
Avarice (continued) the lust, Villainy, violence, a, Columbus 172
Opulent A, lean as Poverty; Vastness 20
Avaunt 'A,' they cried, 'our lady loves Pelleas and E. 369 Ave 'A, A, A,' said, 'Adieu, adieu' In Mem. lvii 15 singin' yer 'A's' an' 'Pathers' Tomorrow 96 Ave atque Vale Came that 'A a V' of the Poet's Frater Ave, etc. 5
Ave Mary But 'A M,' made she moan, And 'A M,' night and morn, Mariana in the S. 9
And 'A M,' was her moan, ,, 21
Avenge Peace! there are those to a us Princess iv 501 felon knight, I a me for my friend.' Gareth and L. 1220
'I will a this insult, noble Queen, Marr. of Geraint 215
God's A on stony hearts Death of Œnone 41
I cried to the Saints to a me. Bandit's Death 14 crying 'I dare her, let Peelè a herself'! Kapiolani 32
Avenged it was a crime Of sense a by sense Vision of Sin 214
Avenging learn his name, A this great insult Marr. of Geraint 425 Avenue (See also Lily-avenue) Down at the far end of an a, Enoch Arden 358
And ever-echoing a's of song. Ode on Well. 79 city glitter'd, Thro' cypress a's, The Daisy 48 flash'd again Down the long a's Gareth and L. 785 thro' the slowly-mellowing a's Last Tournament 360 Entering all the a's of sense Lover's Tale i 630 in yon arching a of old elms, The Ring 172
Aver a That all thy motions gently pass In Mem. xv 9
I, clasping brother-hands, a I could not, In Mem. lxxxv 102
Averill A A at the Rectory Thrice over; Aylmer's Field 37 might not A, bad he will'd it so, ,, 46
Not proven' A said, or laughingly 'Some other race of A's'— ,, 53 his brother, living oft With A, ,, 58
A was a decade and a half His elder, ,, 82
He wasted hours with A; ,, 109 and oft accompanied By A: ,, 138
To let that handsome fellow A walk ,, 269 foam'd away his heart at A's ear: whom A solaced ,, 342
A seeing How low his brother's mood ,, 403
Forbad her first the house of A, ,, 502
A wrote And bad him with good heart ,, 543
A went and gazed upon his death. ,, 599
Long o'er his bent brows linger'd A, ,, 625
Averring A it was clear against all rules Princess i 178 Averse with sick and scornful looks a, D. of F. Women 101
Avilion To the island-valley of A; M. d'Arthur 259
'He passes to the Isle A, Gareth and L. 502
To the island-valley of A; Pass. of Arthur 427
A-waäitin' (waiting) An' she wur a-w fo'mma, North. Cobbler 34
Awaäke (awake) but I wur a, Owd Roä 33 Await Some draught of Lethe might a Two Voices 350 slow-develop'd strength a's Completion Love thou thy land 57 come; for all the vales A thee; Princess vii 216 Yea, let all good things a Him who cares Ode on Well. 198 and happier hours A them. In Mem. Con. 66
A the last and largest sense Ancient Sage 180
Awaiting Beheld her first in field a him, Marr. of Geraint 540 Awake (adj.) (See also Awaäke, Half-awake) All night I lie a, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 50 lying broad a I thought of you and Effie ,, Con. 29 deep-asleep he seem'd, yet all a, Lotos-Eaters 35
That I might kiss those eyes a! Day-Dm. L'Envoi 28 but watch'd a A cypress in the moonlight The Daisy 81
I have walk'd a with Truth. Maud I xix 4 the rose was a all night for your sake, ,, xxii 49
The lilies and roses were all a, ,, 51 shook his drowsy squire a and cried, Marr. of Geraint 125 her mother grasping her To get her well a; ,, 677
Held her a: or if she slept, Guinevere 75
Wherein we nested sleeping or a, Lover's Tale i 231 our palace is a, and morn Has lifted Akbar's Dream 200 Awake (verb) bee Is lily-cradled: I alone a. Œnone 30 strike it, and a her with the gleam; Lancelot and E. 6 may death A them with heaven's music Lover's Tale i 761 and a to a livid light, The Wreck 7
A! the creeping glimmer steals, The Flight 4

Awaked (See also Half-awaked) myself have a, as it seems, Maud III vi 56 falls asleep in swoon, wherefrom a, Lover's Tale i 791 Awaken if the King a from his craze, Gareth and L. 724
Awaken'd (See also Half-awaken'd) Slowly a, grow so full and deep Eleänore 85
Awaking A knew the sword, and turn'd Pelleas and E. 489
A-walkin' murnin' when we was a-w togither, Spinster's S's. 23
Award would seem to a it thine, Œnone 73
Aware After a lingering,—ere she was a,— Enoch Arden 268
Enid was a of three tall knights Geraint and E. 56
she by tact of love was well a Lancelot and E. 984 Awe springs of life, the depths of a, Two Voices 140 shall hold a fretful realm in a, Locksley Hall 129 heart beat thick with passion and with a; Princess iii 190
To feel once more, in placid a, In Mem. cxxii 5 but all in a, For twenty strokes Lancelot and E. 719 he wellnigh kiss'd her feet For loyal a, ,, 1173 tenderness of manner, and chaste a, Pelleas and E. 110 with the excess of sweetness and of a, Lover's Tale ii 155
Awearied For I was much a of the Quest: Holy Grail 744
Aweary She said, 'I am a, a, (repeat) Mariana 11, 23, 35, 47, 59, 71
She wept, 'I am a, a, Mariana 83
And I am all a of my life. Œnone 33
Awed a and promise-bounden she forbore, Enoch Arden 869
Still It a me.' Sea Dreams 205
And my dream a me:—well— ,, 247 eyes A even me at first, thy mother— Demeter and P. 24
Awe-stricken hold A-s breaths at a work divine, Maud I x 17
Awful But all she is and does is a; Princess i 140
Awl See Hawl
Awning ample a's gay Betwixt the pillars, Princess ii 25
A blood-red a waver overhead, St. Telemachus 52 Awoke And last with these the king a, Day-Dm. Revival 17 night-light flickering in my eyes A me.' Sea Dreams 104 desire that a in the heart of the child, Maud I xix 48 Leodogran a, and sent Ulfius, Com. of Arthur 444 these a him, and by great mischance Marr. of Geraint 112 Refused her to him, then his pride a; ,, 448 strongly striking out her limbs a; Geraint and E. 380 every evil deed I ever did, A Holy Grail 374 mantle clung, And pettish cries a, Last Tournament 214 owl-whoop and dorhawk-whirr A me not, Lover's Tale ii 117
Awry wherefore do we grow a From roots Supp. Confessions 77
To woman, superstition all a: Princess ii 137
Stampt into dust—tremulous, all a, Romney's R. 113 Axe (See also Battle-axe) ere the falling a did part Margaret 38 see the woodman lift His a to slay my kin. Talking Oak 236 Nor wielded a disjoint, ,, 262 hammer and a, Auger and saw, Enoch Arden 173
The woodmen with their a's: Princess vi 44 glittering a was broken in their arms, ,, 51 train of dames: by a and eagle sat, ,, vii 128
'Churl, thine a!' he cried, Balin and Balan 295
Axelike That a edge unturnable, Princess ii 203
Axle war Rides on those ringing a's! Tiresias 93
Ay Why? For its a a, a a. Window. Ay. 18
A-year my two 'oonderd a-y to mysen; Spinster's S's. 12 but my two 'oonderd a-y. ,, 22 fro' my oän two 'oonderd a-y. ,, 58
Aylmer (See also Lawrence Aylmer) Sir A A that almighty man, Aylmer's Field 13
A followed A at the Hall ,, 36 like an A in his Aylmerism, ,, 123
Sir A half forgot his lazy smile ,, 197
Sir A past, And neither loved ,, 249 did Sir A know That great pock-pitten ,, 255 had Sir A heard—Nay, but he must— ,, 261 did Sir A (deferentially With nearing chair ,, 266
Sir A A slowly stiffening spoke: ,, 273
They parted, and Sir A A watch'd. ,, 277
Things in an A deem'd impossible, ,, 305
Sir A reddening from the storm within, ,, 322
To shame these mouldy A's in their graves: ,, 396 when this A came of age— ,, 407 Aylmer (continued) and Sir A watch'd them all, Aylmer's Field 552 and with her the race of A, past. ,, 577
Aylmer-Averill There was an A-A marriage once. ,, 49
Aymerism like an Aylmer in his A, ,, 123
A-yowlin' a-y an' yaupin' like mad; Owd Roä 88
An' the dogs was a-y all round, ,, 107
Azimuth sine and arc, spheroïd and a, Princess vi 256
Azores At Flores in the A Sir Richard Greville lay, The Revenge 1
Azrael the black-wing'd A overcame, Akbar's Dream 186 Azure Her eyes a bashful a, and her hair The Brook 71
he stared On eyes a bashful a, ,, 206
Immingled with Heaven's a waveringly, Gareth and L. 936
A, an Eagle rising or, the Sun Merlin and V. 475 Shallow skin of green and a— Locksley H., Sixty, 208 and, men, below the dome of a Akbar's D. Hymn 7 Azure-circled High over all the a-c earth, Lover's Tale i 390

B

Baäcon (bacon) B an' taätes, an' a beslings puddin' North. Cobbler 112
Baäked (baked) fever 'ed b Jinny's 'eäd as bald Village Wife 102
Baäl and honour thy brute B, Aylmer's Field 644 came a Lord in no wise like to B. ,, 647
Babble (s) the b of the stream Fell, Mariana in the S. 51
The babes, their b, Annie, Enoch Arden 606 night goes In b and revel and wine. Maud I xxii 28
But b, merely for b. ,, II v 46
Merlin's mystic b about his end Last Tournament 670 laughter and b and earth's new wine, To A. Tennyson 2
And you liken—boyish b— Locksley H., Sixty, 6
B, b; our old England may go down in b ,, 8
—words, Wild b. Romney's R. 32
Babble (verb) by the poplar tall rivulets b and fall. Leonine Eleg. 4
I b on the pebbles. The Brook 42
Howe'er you b, great deeds cannot die; Princess iii 254 brook shall b down the plain, In Mem. ci 10 Began to scoff and jeer and b of him Marr. of Geraint 58 because ye dream they b of you.' Merlin and V. 690 ye set yourself To b about him, Last Tournament 340 Babbled b for the golden seal, that hung Dora 135
b for you, as babies for the moon, Princess iv 428
Had b 'Uncle' on my knee; In Mem. lxxxiv 13
He moving homeward b to his men, Geraint and E. 362
While thus they b of the King, Lancelot and E. 1260 their tongues may have b of me— The Wreck 41
I myself have often b doubtless Locksley H., Sixty, 7
she said, I b, Mother, Mother— The Ring 115 Babbler garrulously given, A b in the land. Talking Oak 24
she, like many another b, hurt Guinevere 354 mothers with their b's of the dawn, Tiresias 103 Babbling runlets b down the glen. Mariana in the S. 44 his wheat-suburb, b as he went. The Brook 123
My words are like the b's in a dream Of nightmare, when the b's break the dream. Ancient Sage 106 Babby (See also Babe, Baby) An' then the b wur burn, North. Cobbler 16 an' she an' the b beäl'd, ,, 37
An' the b's faäce wurn't wesh'd ,, 42
Thou's rode of 'is back when a b, Owd Roä 5
Babe (See also Babby, Baby) Sat smiling, b in arm. Palace of Art 96
With his first b's first cry, Enoch Arden 85
Nursing the sickly b, her latest-born. ,, 150 Pray'd for a blessing on his wife and b's ,, 188 be comforted, Look to the b's, ,, 219
To give his b's a better bringing-up ,, 299 know his b's were running wild Like colts ,, 304
A gilded dragon, also, for the b's. ,, 540
The b's, their babble, Annie, ,, 606 lived and loved him, and his b's ,, 685 rosy, with his b across his knees; ,, 746 and a ring To tempt the b, ,, 751 mother glancing often toward her b, ,, 754 saw the b Hers, yet not his, ,, 759

Babe (continued) I shall see him, My b in bliss: Enoch Arden 898
The b shall lead the lion. Aylmer's Field 648
the b Too ragged to be fondled ,, 685
One b was theirs, a Margaret, Sea Dreams 3 the b, Their Margaret cradled near ,, 56
Her maiden b, a double April old, Princess ii 110
Father will come to his b in the nest, ,, iii 13 vassals to be beat, nor pretty b's ,, iv 146 my b, my blossom, ah, my child, ,, v 82
My b, my sweet Aglaïa, my one child: ,, 101
With Psyche's b, was Ida watching us, ,, 512
Ida stood With Psyche's b in arm: ,, vi 31 with the b yet in her arms, ,, 74
b that by us, Half-lapt in glowing gauze ,, 133 burst The laces toward her b; ,, 149
Laid the soft b in his hard-mailed hands. ,, 208
Not tho' he built upon the b restored; ,, vii 75
'Here's a leg for a b of a week!' Grandmother 11 for the b had fought for his life. ,, 64 bring her b, and make her boast, In Mem. xl 26
From youth and b and hoary hairs: ,, lxix 10 Mammonite mother kills her b for a burial fee, Maud I i 45 red man's b Leap, beyond the sea. ,, xvii 19 now we poison our b's, poor souls! ,, II v 63 in the flame was borne A naked b, and rode to Merlin's feet, Who stoopt and caught the b, Com. of Arthur 384 naked b, of whom the Prophet spake, Gareth and L. 501 lad and girl—yea, the soft b! ,, 1341 ye men of Arthur be but b's.' Balin and Balan 361
As clean as blood of b's, Merlin and V. 344 his wife And two fair b's, ,, 707 seven-months' b had been a truer gift. ,, 711 broken shed, And in it a dead b; Holy Grail 399 brought A maiden b; which Arthur pitying took, Last Tournament 21
But the sweet body of a maiden b. ,, 48 cursed The dead b and the follies ,, 163
In honour of poor Innocence the b, ,, 292 bearing high in arms the mighty b, Lover's Tale iv 295
And over all her b and her the jewels ,, 298 bearing on one arm the noble b, ,, 370 Whereat the very b began to wail; ,, 375 a truth the b Will suck in with his milk Columbus 37
b in lineament and limb Perfect, De Prof. Two G. 11 and the wail Of a beaten b, The Wreck 123 Saving women and their b's, Locksley H., Sixty, 64 a cotter's b is royal-born by right divine; ,, 125 many a time ranged over when a b. The Ring 151 senseless, worthless, wordless b, ,, 304 all her talk was of the b she loved; ,, 353
She used to shun the wailing b, ,, 358
In your sweet b she finds but you— ,, 365 bending by the cradle of her b. ,, 415 linger, till her own, the b She lean'd to ,, 483 found Paris, a naked b, among the woods Death of Œnone 54
I was lilting a song to the b, Bandit's Death 20 Screams of a b in the red-hot palms The Dawn 2 and Rome was a b in arms, ,, 9
Babe-faced He came with the b-f lord; Maud II i 13 Babel let be Their cancell'd B's: Princess iv 77 clamour grew As of a new-world B, ,, 487 Baby (adj.) Moulded thy b thought. Eleänore 5
Baby (s) in her bosom bore the b, Sleep. Gardener's D. 268
As ruthless as a b with a worm, Walk. to the Mail 108
Then lightly rocking b's cradle Enoch Arden 194 from her b's forehead clipt A tiny curl, ,, 235
His b's death, her growing poverty, ,, 705
What does little b say, Sea Dreams 301
B says, like little birdie, ,, 303
B, sleep a little longer, ,, 305
B too shall fly away. ,, 308 babies roll'd about Like tumbled fruit Princess, Pro., 82 babbled for you, as babies for the moon, ,, iv 428
I knew them all as babies, Grandmother 88

Baby (s) (continued) The b new to earth and sky, In Mem. xlv 1
I cannot bide Sir B. Pelleas and E. 190
I have gather'd my b together— Rizpah 20
My b, the bones that had suck'd me, ,, 53 kill Their babies at the breast Columbus 180
'Anything ailing,' I asked her, 'with b?' The Wreck 61
Baby-germ gamboll'd on the greens A b-g, Talking Oak 78
Baby-girl a b-g, that had never look'd on the light: Despair 71
Babyism In b's, and dear diminutives Aylmer's Field 539 Babylon Shall B be cast into the sea; Sea Dreams 28 and life Pass in the fire of B! Sir J. Oldcastle 124
For B was a child new-born, The Dawn 9
Babylonian The foundress of the B wall, Princess ii 80
Baby-oak magnetise The b-o within. Talking Oak 256
Baby-rose The b-r's in her cheeks; Lilian 17
Baby-sole tender pink five-beaded b-s's, Aylmer's Field 186
Baby-wife nor wail of b-w, Or Indian widow; Akbar's Dream 196
Bacchanal like wild B's Fled onward Lover's Tale iii 25
Bacchante B, what you will; Romney's R. 6
Bacchus mailed B leapt into my arms, D. of F. Women 151 Back wear an undress'd goatskin on my b; St. S. Stylites 116
How she mouths behind my b. Vision of Sin 110
Read rascal in the motions of his b Sea Dreams 167 hear my father's clamour at our b's Princess i 105
Her b against a pillar, her foot ,, iii 180
Them as 'as coäts to their b's an' taäkes N. Farmer, N.S. 46
The daily burden for the b. In Mem. xxv 4 b turn'd, and bow'd above his work, Marr. of Geraint 267 brutes of mountain b That carry kings Merlin and V. 576 long b's of the bushless downs, (repeat) Lancelot and E. 400, 789 Look at the cloäths on 'er b, North. Cobbler 109
Backbiter Face-flatterer and b are the same. Merlin and V. 824
Back'd See Bow-back'd
Bacon (Francis) See Verulam
Bacon See Baäcon
Bad (adj.) O base and b! what comfort? Princess v 78 for she wur a b un, sheä. N. Farmer, O.S. 22 the poor in a loomp is b. ,, N.S. 48
What is she now? My dreams are b. Maud I i 73
And here beneath it is all as b, ,, II v 14 good ye are and b, and like to coins, Holy Grail 25
Ya was niver sa b as that. Church-warden, etc. 26 Bad (s) I fear to slide from b to worse. Two Voices 231 sa o' coorse she be gone to the b! Village Wife 98
I wur gawin' that waäy to the b, Owd Roä 71 Bad-bade (verb) I made a feast: I bad him come; The Sisters 13 and do the thing I bad thee, M. d'Arthur 81 utter'd it, And bade adieu for ever. Love and Duty 83 bade him cry, with sound of trumpet, Godiva 36 bad him with good heart sustain himself— Aylmer's Field 544
He bad you guard the sacred coasts. Ode on Well. 172 my three brethren bad me do it, Gareth and L. 1410
'Fair Sir, they bad me do it. ,, 1417 Thro' which he bad her lead him on, Geraint and E. 29 bad the host Call in what men ,, 285
Prince bad him a loud good-night. ,, 361
In this poor gown he bad me clothe myself, ,, 702
Nor waved his hand, Nor bad farewell, Lancelot and E. 987 who bad a thousand farewells to me, ,, 1056
Lancelot, who coldly went, nor bad me one: ,, 1057
So Arthur bad the meek Sir Percivale ,, 1264
I left her and I bad her no farewell; ,, 1304 when he saw me, rose, and bad me hail, Holy Grail 725 and do the thing I bade thee, Pass. of Arthur 249 bad them to a banquet of farewells. Lover's Tale iv 186 bad his menials bear him from the door, ,, 260
We bad them no farewell, ,, 386 bad them remember my father's death, V. of Maeldune 70 bad his trumpeter sound To the charge, Heavy Brigade 8
I bad her keep, Like a seal'd book, The Ring 122 bad the man engrave 'From Walter' on the ring, ,, 235
Badger live like an old b in his earth, Holy Grail 629
Badon broke the Pagan yet once more on B hill.' Lancelot and E. 280 on the mount Of B I myself beheld ,, 303 Baffle 'Thy glory b's wisdom. Akbar's Dream 28

Baffled Havelock b, or beaten, Def. of Lucknow 91
B her priesthood, Broke the Taboo, Kapiolani 29
Baffling winds variable, Then b, a long course of them ; Enoch Arden 546 blown by b winds, Like the Good Fortune, ,, 628 Bag not plunge His hand into the b : Golden Year 72 with b and sack and basket, Enoch Arden 63 Bagdat By B's shrines of fretted gold, Arabian Nights 7 mooned domes aloof In inmost B, ,, 128 Bagpipe b's, revelling, devil's-dances, Sir J. Oldcastle 149
Bailey-gate storm at the B-g ! storm, Def. of Lucknow 37 Bailiff his b brought A Chartist pike. Walk. to the Mail 70 how he sent the b to the farm The Brook 141 how the b swore that he was mad, ,, 143
He met the b at the Golden Fleece, ,, 146
He found the b riding by the farm, ,, 153
Bairn (See also Barne) 'See your b's before you go ! Enoch Arden 870
But fur thy b's, poor Steevie, Spinster's S's. 82 thou was es fond o' thy b's ,, 83 wi' my b i' 'is mouth to the winder Owd Roä 92 Bait the b's Of gold and beauty, Aylmer's Field 486 Christ the b to trap his dupe and fool ; Sea Dreams 191 hinted love was only wasted b, The Ring 360 Baited so spurn'd, so b two whole days— Sir J. Oldcastle 163
Bake whose brain the sunshine b's ; St. S. Stylites 164
Baked (See also Baäked) Over all the meadow b and bare, Sisters (E. and E.) 8
Baking not earn'd my cake in b of it ? Gareth and L. 575
Bala south-west that blowing B lake Geraint and E. 929
Balan Balin and B sitting statuelike, Balin and Balan 24 on the left Of B B's near a poplartree. ,, 30
Balin and B answer'd 'For the sake ,, 32
Then Balin rose, and B, ,, 43 and my better, this man here, B. ,, 55 fury on myself, Saving for B : ,, 63
Than twenty Balins, B knight. ,, 69
Then B added to their Order ,, 91
Said B 'I' ! So claim'd the quest ,, 137
B warn'd, and went ; Balin remain'd : ,, 153
He took the selfsame track as B, ,, 290 and B lurking there (His quest was unaccomplish'd) ,, 546 shield of B prick'd The hauberk ,, 559 had chanced, and B moan'd again. ,, 604
Balance (equipoise) As the wind-hover hangs in b, Aylmer's Field 321
Balance (verb) who would cast and b at a desk, Audley Court 44
LIKE souls that b joy and pain, Sir L. and Q. G. 1 Balanced (See also Self-balanced) Your fortunes, justlier b, Princess ii 66
Well, she b this a little, ,, iii 165
And b either way by each, Lover's Tale iv 269
Balcony Under tower and b, L. of Shalott iv 37
And lean'd upon the b. Mariana in the S. 88
Bald Jinny's 'eäd as b as one o' them heggs, Village Wife 102
Baldness (See also Earth-baldness) Began to wag their b up and down, Princess v 19
Baldric from his blazon'd b slung L. of Shalott iii 15
Bale dropping down with costly b's ; Locksley Hall 122 tho' they brought but merchants' b's, In Mem. xiii 19
Balin B and Balan sitting statuelike, Balin and Balan 24 on the right of B B's horse Was fast ,, 28
B and Balan answer'd 'For the sake ,, 32
Then B rose, and Balan, ,, 43
B the stillness of a minute broke ,, 51
B, 'the Savage'—that addition thine— ,, 53
Than twenty B's, Balan knight. ,, 69
Thereafter, when Sir B enter'd hall, ,, 80 heretofore with these And B, ,, 93
Embracing B, 'Good my brother, ,, 139
Balan warn'd, and went ; B remain'd : ,, 153
B marvelling oft How far beyond ,, 171
Arthur, when Sir B sought him, said ,, 198
B was bold, and ask'd To bear ,, 199
'No shadow' said Sir B 'O my Queen, ,, 206
B bare the crown, and all the knights ,, 209 chanced, one morning, that Sir B sat ,, 240 Balin (continued) Follow'd the Queen; Sir B heard her Balin and Balan 250 and B started from his bower. ,, 280
B cried 'Him, or the viler devil ,, 299
B answer'd him 'Old fabler, ,, 306
Said B 'For the fairest and the best ,, 339
B said 'The Queen we worship, ,, 348
A goblet on the board by B, ,, 362
This B grasped, but while in act to hurl, ,, 368
Sir B with a fiery 'Ha ! ,, 393
B by the banneret of his helm ,, 398
B drew the shield from off his neck, ,, 429
And B rose, 'Thither no more ! ,, 483
Said B to her 'Is this thy courtesy— ,, 494
Sir B spake not word, But snatch'd ,, 553 B's horse Was wearied to the death, ,, 560
they clash'd, Rolling back upon B, ,, 562
B first woke, and seeing that true face, ,, 590
'O B, B, I that fain had died To save ,, 599
B told him brokenly, and in gasps, ,, 603
'O brother' answer'd B 'woe is me ! ,, 618
B answer'd low 'Goodnight, ,, 627 and slept the sleep With B, ,, 632
Balk'd with a worm I b his fame. D. of F. Women 155
Ball (globe) 'No compound of this earthly b Two Voices 35
Ball (game) Had tost his b and flown his kite, Aylmer's Field 84 Flung b, flew kite, and raced the purple fly, Princess ii 248 others tost a b Above the fountain-jets, ,, 461
Quoit, tennis, b—no games ? ,, iii 215
And we took to playing at b, V. of Maeldune 94
Ball (round object) whereon the gilded b Danced Princess, Pro., 63 like a b The russet-bearded head roll'd Geraint and E. 728
he made me the cowslip b, First Quarrel 13 Ball (orb) To him who grasps a golden b, In Mem. cxi 3 Ball (the sun) The day comes, a dull red b Maud II iv 65
Ball (the heel) Dagonet, turning on the b of his foot, Last Tournament 329
Ball (entertainment of dancing) But I came on him once at a b, The Wreck 47
Ball (plaything) Is to be the b of Time, Vision of Sin 105 Ball (See also Acorn-ball, Blossom-ball, Cannon-ball, Cowslip Ball, Football) Ballad time to time, some b or a song Princess, Pro., 241 something in the b's which they sang, ,, Con. 14 flung A b to the brightening moon : In Mem, lxxxix 28
A passionate b gallant and gay, Maud I v 4
To the b that she sings. Maud II iv 43 carolling as he went A true-love b, Lancelot and E. 705 lay At thy pale feet this b Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 20 Ballad-burthen Like b-b music, kept, The Daisy 77
Ballast we laid them on the b down below ; The Revenge 18
Balliol loved by all the younger gown There at B, To Master of B. 3 Balloon See Fire-balloon
Balm steep our brows in slumber's holy b ; Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 21 desires, like fitful blasts of b Gardener's D. 68 spikenard, and b, and frankincense. St. S. Stylites 211 caress The ringlet's waving b— Talking Oak 178
Beat b upon our eyelids. Princess iii 123
Be thine the b of pity, Merlin and V. 80 Strowing b, or shedding poison Locksley H., Sixty, 274 who breathe the b Of summer-winters To Ulysses 10
'From the South I bring you b, Prog. of Spring 86 whatever herb or b May clear the blood Death of Œnone 35 Balm-cricket The b-c carols clear In the green A Dirge 47
Balm-dew drop B-d's to bathe thy feet ! Talking Oak 268
Balm'd swathed and b it for herself, Lover's Tale i 682
Balmier kisses b than half-opening buds Tithonus 59
B and nobler from her bath of storm, Lucretius 175 Baltic shaker of the B and the Nile, Ode on Well. 137 side of the Black and the B deep, Maud III vi 51
Baluster And leaning there on those b's, Princess iii 119
Balustrade stairs Ran up with golden b, Arabian Nights 118 Bamboo Your cane, your palm, tree-fern, b, To Ulysses 36
Band (bond, strip) bind with b's That island queen Buonaparte 2 Sleep had bound her in his rosy b, Caress'd or chidden 6
A b of pain across my brow ; The Letters 6

Band (bond, strip) (continued) single b of gold about her hair, Princess v 513
No spirit ever brake the b In Mem. xxiii 2 bars Of black and b's of silver, Lover's Tale iv 59 an' twined like a b o' haäy. Owd Roä 22 Band (a company) held debate, a b Of youthful friends, In Mem. lxxxvii 21 in a dream from a b of the blest, Maud III vi 10
if he live, we will have him of our b; Geraint and E. 553 thanks to the Blessed Saints that I came on none of his b; Bandit's Death 40 b will be scatter'd now their gallant captain is dead, ,, 41
Bandage raised the blinding b from his eyes: Princess i 244
Banded (See also Snowy-banded, Yellow-banded) but after, the great lords B, Com. of Arthur 237
Bandied B by the hands of fools. Vision of Sin 106 Bandit redden'd with no b's blood: Aylmer's Field 597 bridge, ford, beset By b's, Gareth and L. 595
I saw three b's by the rock Geraint and E. 72 Struck thro' the bulky b's corselet home, ,, 159
now so long By b's groom'd, ,, 193
Was half a b in my lawless hour, ,, 795
One from the b scatter'd in the field, ,, 818
Scaped thro' a cavern from a b hold, Holy Grail 207
Thieves, b's, leavings of confusion, Last Tournament 95 Sanctuary granted To b, thief, Sir J. Oldcastle 113 tho' I am the B's bride. Bandit's Death 6
But the B had woo'd me in vain, ,, 10
Bandit-haunted past The marches, and by b-h holds, Geraint and E. 30
Bane courtesies of household life, Became her b; Guinevere 87 mockery of my people, and their b.' ,, 526 Bang Let us b's these dogs of Seville, The Revenge 30 good manners b thruf to the tip o' the taäil. Spinster's S's. 66 Bang'd palace b, and buzz'd and clackt, Day-Dm., Revival, 14 iron-clanging anvil b With hammers; Princess v 504 Banished born And b into mystery, De Prof. Two G. 42
Banishment causer of his b and shame, Balin and Balan 221 Bank (See also River-bank, Sea-bank) In cool soft turf upon the b, Arabian Nights 96 wave-worn horns of the echoing b, Dying Swan 39
Shadow forth the b's at will: Eleänore 110
From the b and from the river L. of Shalott, iii 33 broad stream in his b's complaining, ,, iv 3
The little life of b and brier, You might have won 30
With many a curve my b's I fret The Brook 43 maidens glimmeringly group'd In the hollow b. Princess iv 191 shadowing bluff that made the b's, In Mem. ciii 22
Behind a purple-frosty b Of vapour, ,, cvii 3
Full to the b's, close on the promised good Maud I xviii 6 Rough-thicketed were the b's and steep; Gareth and L. 907 star of morn Parts from a b of snow, Marr. of Geraint 735 Tho' happily down on a b of grass, Geraint and E. 507 like a b Of maiden snow mingled Last Tournament 184 leaves Low b's of yellow sand; Lover's Tale i 535 thaw the b's o' the beck be sa high, Village Wife 83 Plunges and heaves at a b Def. of Lucknow 39 slushin' down fro' the b to the beck, Owd Roä 41
Here on this b in some way live the life Akbar's Dream 144
Bankrupt b of all claim On your obedience, Romney's R. 70 Banner (See also Flame-banner) Here droops the b on the tower, Day-Dm., Sleep. P., 13 hedge broke in, the b blew, Day-Dm. Revival 9 unfurl the maiden b of our rights, Princess iv 503 undulated The b: anon to meet us ,, v 254
With b and with music, Ode on Well. 81
March with b and bugle and fife Maud I v 10 hail once more to the b of battle unroll'd! Maud III vi 42
So when the King had set his b broad, Com. of Arthur 101 with black b, and a long black horn Gareth and L. 1366 b's of twelve battles overhead Stir, Balin and Balan 88 deeds Of England, and her b in the East? Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 21 B of England, not for a season, O b Def. of Lucknow 1 topmost roof our b of England blew. (repeat) Def. of Lucknow 6, 30, 45, 60, 94 topmost roof our b in India blew. Def. of Lucknow 72
Banner (continued) on the palace roof the old b of England blew. Def. of Lucknow 106
Thraldom who walks with the b of Freedom, Vastness 10 b's blazoning a Power That is not seen Akbar's Dream 137
Banneret a slender b fluttering. Gareth and L. 913
Balin by the b of his helm Dragg'd Balin and Balan 398 Banquet (See also Marriage-banquet, Mid-banquet) Each baron at the b sleeps, Day-Dm., Sleep. P., 37 beeswing from a binn reserved For b's, Aylmer's Field 406 distant blaze of those dull b's, ,, 489 with this our b's rang; Princess i 132
With b in the distant woods; In Mem. lxxxix 32 flowers or leaves To deck the b. ,, cvii 6 Spice his fair b with the dust of death? Maud I xviii 56 at the b those great Lords from Rome, Com. of Arthur 504
Faint in the low dark hall of b: Balin and Balan 343
(She sat beside the b nearest Mark), Merlin and V. 18 made him leave The b, and concourse Lancelot and E. 562 Arthur to the b, dark in mood, ,, 564 ev'n the knights at b twice or thrice ,, 736 against the floor Beneath the b, ,, 743
While the great b lay along the hall, Holy Grail 180
Then Arthur made vast b's, Pelleas and E. 147 bad them to a b of farewells. Lover's Tale iv 186 cries about the b—'Beautiful! ,, 239
To make their b relish? Ancient Sage 18
Banqueted Let the needy be b, On Jub. Q. Victoria 35 Banquet-hall Into the fair Peleïan b-h, Œnone 225
Banter (s) he spoke, Part b, part affection. Princess, Pro., 167
They hated b, wish'd for something real, ,, Con., 18
Banter (verb) With solemn gibe did Eustace b me. Gardener's D. 168
Banter'd I b him, and swore They said Golden Year 8
With which we b little Lilia first: Princess, Con., 12
Bantling Then let the b scald at home, Princess, v 458
Lo their precious Roman b, Boädicea 31
Baptis (Baptist) Fur I wur a B wonst, Church-warden, etc. 11 tha mun speäk hout to the B'es here i' the town, ,, 51 Bar (barrier) (See also Harbour-bar, Window-bars) Sang looking thro' his prison b's? Margaret 35 salt pool, lock'd in with b's of sand, Palace of Art 249
My spirit beats her mortal b's, Sir Galahad 46
Low breezes fann'd the belfry b's, The Letters 43
Save for the b between us, loving Enoch Arden 880
I linger by my shingly b's; The Brook 180 Baronet yet had laid No b between them: Aylmer's Field 118 nor conscious of a b Between them, ,, 134 squeezed himself betwixt the b's, Princess, Pro., 112
Who breaks his birth's invidious b, In Mem. lxiv 5
Unloved, by many a sandy b, ,, ci 9
Rave over the rocky b, Voice and the P. 6 those that hand the dish across the b. Gareth and L. 155 may there be no moaning of the b, Crossing the Bar 3
When I have crost the b. ,, 16
Bar (band) long night in silver streaks and b's, Lover's Tale, ii 112 b's Of black and bands of silver, ,, iv 58
Bar (iron rod) casting b or stone Was counted best; Gareth and L. 518
Bar (bony ridge) The b of Michael Angelo In Mem. lxxxvii 40
Bar (ray) stream'd thro' many a golden b, Day-Dm., Depart. 15
Bar (tribunal) himself The prisoner at the b, Sea Dreams 176
Bar (body of barristers) year or two before Call'd to the b, Aylmer's Field 59
Bar (division of music) Whistling a random b of Bonny Doon, The Brook 82 Bar (verb) doors that b The secret bridal chambers Gardener's D. 248 block and b Your heart with system Princess iv 462
Thro' the gates that b the distance Faith 6 Barbarian Till that o'ergrown B in the East Poland 7 gray b lower than the Christian child. Locksley Hall 174
'Who ever saw such wild b's? Girls?— Princess iii 42
B's, grosser than your native bears— ,, iv 537
Barbarous These women were too b, ,, ii 298
Barcelona At B—tho' you were not Columbus 8
Bard b has honour'd beech or lime, Talking Oak 291
O little b, is your lot so hard, Spiteful Letter 5 b's of him will sing Hereafter; Com. of Arthur 414

Bard (continued) not then the Riddling of the B's? Gareth and L. 286
Was also B, and knew the starry heavens; Merlin and V. 169 her b, her silver star of eve, Her God, ,, 954 many a b, without offence, Lancelot and E. 111 all the sacred madness of the b, Holy Grail 877 thy Paynim b Had such a mastery Last Tournament 326
'Yea, one, a b; of whom my father said, Guinevere 277
the b Sang Arthur's glorious wars, ,, 285
we chanted the songs of the B's V. of Maeldune 90
B whose fame-lit laurels glance To Victor Hugo 4
B's, that the mighty Muses have raised Parnassus 2
Bare (adj.) plain was grassy, wild and b, Dying Swan 1
God, before whom ever lie b Palace of Art 222 argent of her breast to sight Laid b. D. of F. Women 159
And saw the altar cold and b. The Letters 4 our love and reverence left them b? Aylmer's Field 785 walks were stript as b as brooms, Princess, Pro., 184 strip a hundred hollows b of Spring, ,, vi 65
Flash'd all their sabres b, Light Brigade 27
B of the body, might it last, In Mem. xliii 6 breathing b The round of space, ,, lxxxvi 4 shield was blank and b without a sign Gareth and L. 414 Worn by the feet that now were silent, wound B to the sun, Marr. of Geraint 322 in my agony Did I make b Lover's Tale ii 48 Over all the meadow baked and b, Sisters (E. and E.) 8 strip your own foul passions b; Locksley H., Sixty, 141
His friends had stript him b, Dead Prophet 14
An' haäfé on 'im b as a bublin'. Owd Roä 102 honest Poverty, b to the bone; Vastness 19 now arching leaves her b To breaths Prog. of Spring 12 Bare (to bear) hoofs b on the ridge of spears Princess v 489 and b Straight to the doors: ,, vi 348 first that ever I b was dead Grandmother 59
b The use of virtue out of earth: In Mem. lxxxii 9
This b a maiden shield, a casque; Gareth and L. 680 down upon him b the bandit three. Geraint and E. 84
he, she dreaded most, b down upon him. ,, 156
B victual for the mowers: ,, 202
b her by main violence to the board. ,, 654
Balin b the crown, and all the knights Balin and Balan 209 Trampled ye thus on that which b the Crown?' ,, 602 he that always b in bitter grudge Merlin and V. 6 great and guilty love he b the Queen, Lancelot and E. 245
In battle with the love he b his lord, ,, 246 all together down upon him B, ,, 482 came the hermit out and b him in, ,, 519 often in her arms She b me, ,, 1411 none might see who b it, and it past. Holy Grail 190 his creatures took and b him off, Guinevere 109 Bare (to lay open) Falsehood shall b her plaited brow: Clear-headed friend 11
To b the eternal Heavens again, In Mem. cxxii 4 Bared The rites prepared, the victim b, The Victim 65 tho' it spake and b to view In Mem. xcii 9 b the knotted column of his throat, Marr. of Geraint 74
b her forehead to the blistering sun, Geraint and E. 515 Barefoot For b on the keystone, Gareth and L. 214 Bare-footed B-f came the beggar maid Beggar Maid 3
B-f and bare-headed three fair girls Gareth and L. 926
Bare-grinning Flash'd the b-g skeleton of death! Merlin and V. 847
Bare-headed Some cowled, and some b-h, Princess vi 77
Bare-footed and b-h three fair girls Gareth and L. 926
Bareness To make old b picturesque In Mem. cxxviii 19
Bargain they closed a b, hand in hand. The Brook 156
May rue the b made.' Princess i 74
Barge Slide the heavy b's trail'd L. of Shalott i 20
Then saw they how there hove a dusky b, M. d'Arthur 193
'Place me in the b,' And to the b they came. ,, 204 slowly answered Arthur from the b: ,, 239
b with oar and sail Moved from the brink, ,, 265 and a b Be ready on the river, Lancelot and E. 1122 to that stream whereon the b, ,, 1141 slowly past the b Whereon the lily maid ,, 1241
the b, On to the palace-doorway sliding, ,, 1245 Barge (continued) b that brought her moving down, Lancelot and E. 139 that unhappy child Past in her b: Last Tournament 45
Then saw they how there hove a dusky b, Pass. of Arthur 361
'Place me in the b.' So to the b they came. ,, 372 slowly answer'd Arthur from the b: ,, 407
b with oar and sail Moved from the brink, ,, 433
Barge-laden creeps on, B-l, to three arches Gardener's D. 43
Bark (vessel) (See also Crescent-bark) a b that, blowing forward, bore M. d'Arthur Ep. 21
I find a magic b; Sir Galahad 38 swiftly stream'd ye by the b! The Voyage 50 lading and unlading the tall b's, Enoch Arden 816 this frail b of ours, when sorely tried, Aylmer's Field 715
I sit within a helmless b, In Mem. iv 3 unhappy b That strikes by night ,, xvi 12 spare thee, sacred b; ,, xvii 14
b had plunder'd twenty nameless isles; Merlin and V. 559
Down on a b, and overbears the b, Lancelot and E. 485
Bark (of a tree) silver-green with gnarled b: Mariana 42
And rugged b's begin to bud, My life is full 18
Could slip its b and walk. Talking Oak 188
Bark (verb) B an answer, Britain's raven! b and blacken innumerable, Boädicea 13
Let the fox b, let the wolf yell. Pelleas and E. 472 and the dog couldn't b. V. of Maeldune 18
Barketh B the shepherd-dog cheerly; Leonine Eleg. 5
Barking b for the thrones of kings; Ode on Well. 121
Bark's-bosom Borne in the b-b, Batt. of Brunanburh 49
Barley Long fields of b and of rye, L. of Shalott i 2
In among the bearded b, ,, 29
And raked in golden b. Will Water. 128
Barley-sheaves He rode between the b-s, L. of Shalott iii 2
Barley-spear b-s's Were hollow-husk'd, Demeter and P. 112
Barmaid 'Bitter b, waning fast! Vision of Sin 67
Barn got to the b, fur the b wouldn't burn Owd Roä 103 but the b was as cowd as owt, ,, 111
Barne (bairn) Bessy Marris's b. (repeat) N. Farmer, O.S. 14, 21
Baron (title) Each b at the banquet sleeps, Day-Dm., Sleep. P., 37
The b's swore, with many words, ,, Revival 23 gaunt old B with his beetle brow Princess ii 240 bush-bearded B's heaved and blew, ,, v 21
In doubt if you be of our B's' breed— Third of Feb. 32
Lords and B's of his realm Com. of Arthur 65 B's and the kings prevail'd, ,, 105 fought against him in the B's' war, Gareth and L. 77
A knight of Uther in the B's' war, ,, 353 a stalwart B, Arthur's friend. ,, 818
B saying, 'I well believe ,, 835 the B set Gareth beside her, ,, 851
Setting this knave, Lord B, at my side. ,, 854
His B said 'We go but harken: Balin and Balan 9
Heard from the B that, ten years Lancelot and E. 272
Count, b—whom he smote, he overthrew. ,, 465
Bracelet-bestower and B of B's, Batt. of Brunanburh 4
Baronet hoar hair of the B bristle up Aylmer's Field 42
B yet had laid No bar between them: ,, 117
No little lily-handed B he, Princess, Con. 84
Barr'd All b with long white cloud Palace of Art 83
Every door is b with gold, Locksley Hall 100 door shut, and window b. Godiva 41 home-circle of the poor They b her: Aylmer's Field 505
But now fast b: Princess v 367 and entering b her door, Lancelot and E. 15 ribb'd And b with bloom on bloom. Lover's Tale i 416 Barren But it is wild and b, Amphion 2
The soil, left b, scarce had grown In Mem. liii 7
Barren-beaten He left the b-b thoroughfare, Lancelot and E. 161 Barricade Should pile her b's with dead. In Mem. cxxvii 8 death at our slight b, Def. of Lucknow 15 Barrier trumpet blared At the b Princess v 486 burst All b's in her onward race In Mem. cxiv 14 Back to the b; then the trumpets Lancelot and E. 500 almost burst the b's in their heat, Holy Grail 336 voice that billow'd round the b's Last Tournament 167

Barrier (continued) Russia bursts our Indian b, Locksley H., Sixty, 115
b that divided beast from man Slipt, St. Telemachus 60
Barring out graver than a schoolboy's b o ; Princess Con. 66
Barrow grassy b's of the happier dead. Tithonus 71 behind it a gray down With Danish b's ; Enoch Arden 7 Pass from the Danish b overhead ; ,, 442
Barter not being bred To b, ,, 250
Base (adj.) him that utter'd nothing b ; To the Queen 8 Counts nothing that she meets with b, On a Mourner 4
'Ungenerous, dishonourable, b, Aylmer's Field 292
O b and bad ! what comfort ? Princess v 78 is he not too b ? Maud I iv 36
And myself so languid and b, ,, v 18
And therefore splenetic, personal, b, ,, x 33
Nor know I whether I be very b Marr. of Geraint 468
Not only to keep down the b in man, Guinevere 480 spared the flesh of thousands, the coward and the b, Happy 17
Base (s) (See also Meadow-bases) Wrapt in dense cloud from b to cope. Two Voices 186
The seas that shock thy b ! England and Amer. 15
Upon the hidden b's of the hills.' M. d'Arthur 106 people hum About the column's b, St. S. Stylites 39
The broken b of a black tower, Aylmer's Field 511 a pillar'd porch, the b's lost In laurel : Princess i 230
He has a solid b of temperament : ,, iv 254 roots of earth and b of all ; ,, v 446 fangs Shall move the stony b's of the world. ,, vi 58 roar that breaks the Pharos from his b ,, 339 great the crush was, and each b, ,, 353
It sees itself from thatch to b Requiescat 3 drown The b's of my life in tears. In Mem. xlix 16 a hundred feet Up from the b : Balin and Balan 171 lash'd it at the b with slanting storm ; Merlin and V. 635 at the b we found On either hand, Holy Grail 497 earthquake shivering to your b Split you, Pelleas and E. 465 gathering at the b Re-makes itself, ,, 609 Upon the hidden b's of the hills.' Pass. of Arthur 274 iceberg splits From cope to b— Lover's Tale i 604 wander round the b's of the hills, ,, ii 121 plunge to the b of the mountain walls, V. of Maeldune 14 Baseborn Call him b, and since his ways Com. of Arthur 180 and no king, Or else b.' ,, 234 Based (See also Broad-based, Firm-based) b His feet on juts of slippery crag M. d'Arthur 188
b His feet on juts of slippery crag Pass. of Arthur 356 Basement Modred brought His creatures to the b Guinevere 104
Baseness 'He knows a b in his blood Two Voices 301 equal b lived in sleeker times Princess v 385
Is there no b we would hide ? In Mem. li 3
She finds the b of her lot, ,, lx 6
there is no b in her.' Merlin and V. 127
To leave an equal b ; ,, 830
Puts his own b in him by default Pelleas and E. 81
Basest ALTHO' I be the b of mankind, St. S. Stylites 1
The b, far into that council-hall Lucretius 171
All that is noblest, all that is b, Vastness 32
Bashful reddens, cannot speak, So b, Balin and Balan 520
Bashfulness His b and tenderness at war, Enoch Arden 289
His broken utterances and b, Pelleas and E. 111
Basilisk hornless unicorns, Crack'd b's, Holy Grail 718 Basis All but the b of the soul. Love thou thy land 44
Bask or to b in a summer sky : Wages 9
To you that b below the Line, To Ulysses 5
Why not b amid the senses By an Evolution. 6
Bask'd b and batten'd in the woods. In Mem. xxxv 24 wealthy enough to have b The Wreck 45 Basket To Francis, with a b on his arm, Audley Court 6 holiday, With bag and sack and b, Enoch Arden 63 set down His b, and dismounting Geraint and E. 210 skin Clung but to crate and b, Merlin and V. 625 Basking city Of little Monaco, b, glow'd. The Daisy 8 summer b in the sultry plains Prog. of Spring 77
Bassa by the shore Of Duglas ; that on B ; Lancelot and E. 290

Bassoon (continued) liquid treble of that b, my throat ; Princess ii 426
Bassoon heard The flute, violin, b ; Maud I xxii 14
Basting be for the spit, Larding and b. Gareth and L. 1083 Bastion A looming b fringed with fire. In Mem. xv 20
Bastion'd from the b walls Like threaded spiders, Princess i 107
Bat After the flitting of the b's, Mariana 17 this Mock-Hymen were laid up like winter b's Princess iv 144 b's wheel'd, and owls whoop'd, Princess, Con., 110 b's went round in fragrant skies, In Mem. xcv 9
For the black b, night, has flown, Maud I xxii 2
A home of b's, in every tower an owl. Balin and Balan 336
When the b comes out of his cave, Despair 89
Batchelor Molly Magee wid her b, Danny O'Roon— Tomorrow 10
Bath the b's Of all the western stars, Ulysses 60
His wife a faded beauty of the B's, Aylmer's Field 27
Balmier and nobler from her b of storm, Lucretius 175 dipt in b's of hissing tears, In Mem. cxviii 23 Pallas Athene climbing from the b In anger ; Tiresias 40 fuse themselves to little spicy b's, Prog. of Spring 33
The B's, the Forum gabbled of his death, St. Telemachus 74
Bathe Balm-dews to b thy feet ! Talking Oak 268
Coldly thy rosy shadows b me, Tithonus 66 Soft lustre b's the range of urns Day-Dm., Sleep. P., 9 she b's the Saviour's feet In Mem. xxxvi 11
Bathed (See also New-bathed) lying b In the green gleam Princess i 93
Vivien b your feet before her own ? Merlin and V. 284
So b we were in brilliance. Lover's Tale i 313
So fair in southern sunshine b, Freedom 5
B in that lurid crimson— St. Telemachus 18
Batin' (beating) set me heart b to music wid ivery word ! Tomorrow 34
Batten And b on her poisons ? Lover's Tale i 777
Batten'd bask'd and b in the woods. In Mem. xxxv 24
Battenest Thou b by the greasy gleam Will Water. 221
Battening lie B upon huge seaworms The Kraken 12
Batter some one b's at the dovecote-doors, Princess iv 169
Batter'd (See also Bone-batter'd) flints b with clanging hoofs ; D. of F. Women 21
He b at the doors ; none came : Princess v 337
Cyril, b as he was, Trail'd himself ,, vi 154
And b with the shocks of doom In Mem. cxviii 24 and so left him bruised And b, Pelleas and E. 547 Battering B the gates of heaven St. S. Stylites 7
Battery-smoke Plunged in the b's Light Brigade 32
Battle (s) (See also Field-of-battle, Mahratta-battle) We heard the steeds to b going, Oriana 15
The b deepen'd in its place, ,, 51
The distant b flash'd and rung. Two Voices 126
Peal after peal, the British b broke, Buonaparte 7 all day long the noise of b roll'd M. d'Arthur 1 drunk delight of b with my peers, Ulysses 16 boyish histories Of b, bold adventure, Aylmer's Field 98
That beat to b where he stands Princess iv 578
And gives the b to his hands : ,, 580 prove Your knight, and fight your b, ,, 595 Breathing and sounding beauteous b, ,, v 161 doing b with forgotten ghosts, ,, 480
I and mine have fought Your b : ,, vi 225
From talk of b's loud and vain, Ode on Well. 247
Some ship of b slowly creep, To F. D. Maurice 26 War with a thousand b's, Maud I i 48 months ran on and rumour of b grew, ,, III vi 29 Far into the North, and b, ,, 37 hail once more to the banner of b unroll'd ! ,, 42
Arthur, passing thence to b, felt Com. of Arthur 75 long-lanced b let their horses run. ,, 104 like a painted b the war stood Silenced, ,, 122 in twelve great b's overcame The heathen hordes, ,, 518
Grant me some knight to do the b for me, Gareth and L. 362
King had saved his life In b twice, ,, 494 thou send To do the b with him, ,, 619
To bring thee back to do the b ,, 1294 loving the b as well As he that rides him.' ,, 1301 ride with him to b and stand by, Marr. of Geraint 94

Battle (s) (continued) 'Do b for it then,' no more ; Marr. of Geraint 561
In the great b fighting for the King. ,, 596 soldiers wont to hear His voice in b, Geraint and E. 175
In b, fighting for the blameless King. ,, 970 banners of twelve b's overhead stir, Balin and Balan 88
My father died in b for thy King, Merlin and V. 72 ever-moaning b in the mist, ,, 192 after furious b turfs the slain ,, 657
In b with the love he bare his lord, Lancelot and E. 246 in the four loud b's by the shore Of Duglas ; ,, 289 hast been in b by my side, ,, 1358 twelve great b's of our King. Holy Grail 250 Knights that in twelve great b's ,, 311 with one Who gets a wound in b, Pelleas and E. 529 Fought in her father's b's? wounded Last Tournament 592
Isolt?—I fought his b's, for Isolt ! ,, 604
In open b or the tilting-field (repeat) Guinevere 330, 332
In twelve great b's ruining ,, 432 Far down to that great b in the west, ,, 571 ere he goes to the great B? ,, 652 ere that last weird b in the west, Pass. of Arthur 29 is this b in the west Whereto we move, ,, 66 last, dim, weird b of the west. ,, 94 old ghosts Look in upon the b ; ,, 104
King glanced across the field Of b : ,, 127 held the field of b was the King : ,, 138 all day long the noise of b roll'd ,, 170
The darkness of that b in the West, To the Queen ii 65
In b with the glooms of my dark will, Lover's Tale i 744
God of b's, was ever a b like this The Revenge 62 Floated in conquering b or flapt Def. of Lucknow 2 kings Of Spain than all their b's ! Columbus 23
And we took to playing at b, V. of Maeldune 95
For the passion of b was in us, ,, 96
Till the passion of b was on us, ,, 111
Gaining a lifelong Glory in b, Batt. of Brunanburh 8
That they had the better In perils of b ,, 85 himself Blood-red from b, Tiresias 113 flay Captives whom they caught in b— Locksley H., Sixty, 80 mad for the charge and the b were we, Heavy Brigade 41 Stately purposes, valour in b, Vastness 7 crimson with b's, and hollow with graves, The Dreamer 12 Storm of b and thunder of war ! Riflemen form ! 3 Battle (verb) For them I b till the end, Sir Galahad 15 Battle-axe Bloodily, bloodily fall the b-a, Boädicea 56 fall b upon helm, Fall b, Com. of Arthur 486 Clang b and clash brand ! (repeat) Com. of Arthur 493, 496, 499 crash Of b's on shatter'd helms, Pass. of Arthur 110 Battle-bolt b-b sang from the three-decker Maud I i 50
Battle-club b-c's From the isles of palm : Princess, Pro., 21 Battle-cry battle or flapt to the b-c ! Def. of Lucknow 2 and could raise such a b-c V. of Maeldune 23 Battled (adj.) glow Beneath the b tower. D. of F. Women 220 Battled (verb) Who b for the True, the Just, In Mem. lvi 18
Battle-field Be shot for sixpence in a b-f, Audley Court 41
Descends upon thee in the b-f : Com. of Arthur 129
Arthur mightiest on the b-f— Gareth and L. 496 Right arm of Arthur in the b, Last Tournament 202
A galleried palace, or a b, The Ring 246 Battle-flag and the b-f's were furl'd Locksley Hall 127
Battlement The b overtopt with ivytods, Balin and Balan 335 Battle-plain springs Of Dircê laving yonder b-p, Tiresias 139
Battleshield Hack'd the b, Batt. of Brunanburh 13
Battle-song hear again The chivalrous b-s Maud I x 54 Battle-thunder thine the b-t of God,' Boädicea 44 the b-t broke from them all. The Revenge 49 with her b-t and flame ; ,, 59
Battle-twig (earwig) 'Twur es bad es a b-t 'ere Spinster's S's. 80
Battle-writhen b-w arms and mighty hands Lancelot and E. 812
Baulk (beam) 'eärd the bricks an' the b's Owd Roä 109
Bawl throats of Manchester may b, Third of Feb. 43
Millions of throats would b for civil rights, Princess v 387 shamed to b himself a kitchen-knave. Gareth and L. 717 b's this frontless kitchen-knave, ,, 860
Bawl'd you b the dark side of your faith Despair 39

Bay (arm of the sea) (See also Lover's Bay) spangle dances in bight and b, Sea-Fairies 24 glassy b's among her tallest towers.' Œnone 119 where the b runs up its latest horn. Audley Court 11 farmer's son, who lived across the b, ,, 75 lower down The b was oily calm ; ,, 86
That he sings in his boat on the b ! Break, break, etc. 8
I bubble into eddying b's, The Brook 41
By b's, the peacock's neck in hue ; The Daisy 14
In caves about the dreary b, Sailor Boy 10 long waves that roll in yonder b? Maud I xviii 63 pleasant breast of waters, quiet b, Lover's Tale i 6 borne about the b or safely moor'd ,, 54 growing holier as you near'd the b, ,, 338 into the sympathy Of that small b, ,, i 435 curving round The silver-sheeted b : ,, ii 76 Moved with one spirit round about the b, ,, iii 17 their gloom, the mountains and the B, ,, iv 16
After their marriage lit the lover's B, ,, 28
I with our lover to his native B. ,, 155 and flung them in bight and b, V. of Maeldune 53 that dropt to the brink of his b, The Wreck 73 that b with the colour'd sand— ,, 135 Bay (a tree) the boar hath rosemaries and b. Gareth and L. 1074 that wear a wreath of sweeter b, Poets and their B. 7 Bay (at bay) Where he greatly stood at b, Ode on Well. 106 heard The noble hart at b, Marr. of Geraint 233 Bay (verb) Not less, tho' dogs of Faction b, Love thou thy land 85
Baying chiefly for the b of Cavall, Marr. of Geraint 185
Bay-window from some b-w shake the night ; Princess i 106 lands in your view From this b-w Sisters (E. and E.) 52 Beach rib and fret The broad-imbased b, Supp. Confessions 128
To watch the crisping ripples on the b, Lotos-Eaters, C.S. 61 rounded by the stillness of the b Audley Court 10
Here about the b I wander'd, Locksley Hall 11 on this b a hundred years ago, Enoch Arden 10 here and there, on sandy b'es The Daisy 15
The breaker breaking on the b. In Mem. lxxi 16 the scream of a madden'd b Maud I iii 12 shore-cliff's windy walls to the b, Geraint and E. 164 leaving Arthur's court he gain'd the b ; Merlin and V. 197 tremulously as foam upon the b Guinevere 364 the narrow fringe Of curving b— Lover's Tale i 39
the fig ran up from the b V. of Maeldune 58 Beacon (s) like a b guards thee home. In Mem. xvii 12 prophet's b burn'd in vain, Ancient Sage 142
Beacon (verb) Not in vain the distance b's. Locksley Hall 181
Beacon-blaze b-b allures The bird of passage, Enoch Arden 728
Beacon-star Each with a b-s upon his head, Guinevere 241
Beacon-tower Fixt like a b-t above the waves Princess iv 493
Bead (See also Frost-bead) And number'd b, and shrift, Talking Oak 46
Beaded (See also Black-beaded, Five-beaded) And woolly breasts and b eyes ; In Mem. xcv 12
Beak hawk stood with the down on his b, Poet's Song 11 swoops The vulture, b and talon, Princess v 383 ever-ravening eagle's b and talon Boädicea 11
And all unscarr'd from b or talon, Last Tournament 20
Beaker b brimm'd with noble wine. Day-Dm., Sleep. P., 36
Beäl'd (bellowed) she b 'Ya mun saäve little Dick, Owd Roä 81 an' she an' the babby b, North. Cobbler 37 an' 'e b to ya 'Lad coom hout' Church-warden, etc. 28 Beam (ray) So many minds did gird their orbs with b's The Poet 29
'Or will one b be less intense, Two Voices 40 into two burning rings All b's of Love, D. of F. Women 175 deep-blue gloom with b's divine : ,, 186 the white dawn's creeping b's, ,, 261 fresh b of the springing east ; M. d'Arthur 214 like a lane of b's athwart the sea, Golden Year 50 b's, that thro' the Oriel shine, Day-Dm., Sleep. P., 34 Pure spaces clothed in living b's, Sir Galahad 66
b of Heaven Dawn'd sometime Aylmer's Field 684
Was it the first b of my latest day ? Lucretius 59

Beam (ray) (continued) a b Had slanted forward, Princess ii 138
'Fresh as the first b glittering on a sail, ,, iv 44
b Of the East, that play'd upon them, ,, v 258
A b in darkness: let it grow. In Mem. Pro., 24
A chequer-work of b and shade ,, lxxii 15
Pale with the golden b of an eyelash Maud I iii 3
Like a b of the seventh Heaven, ,, xiv 21 smitten by the dusty sloping b, Marr. of Geraint 262 Stream'd thro' my cell a cold and silver b, Holy Grail 116 down the long b stole the Holy Grail, (repeat) ,, 117, 188
Grail Past, and the b decay'd, ,, 122
A crimson grail within a silver b; ,, 155
b of light seven times more clear than day: ,, 187 Smote by the fresh b of springing east; Pass. of Arthur 382 crown of b's about his brows— Lover's Tale i 672
And solid b of isolated light, ,, ii 173
Beam (timber) (See also Baulk, Rigtree) shape it plank and b for roof Princess vi 46
Beam (verb) More bounteous aspects on me b, Sir Galahad 21
Beam'd Love's white star B thro' Gardener's D. 166
b, Beneath a manelike mass Aylmer's Field 67 ghostly grace B on his fancy, Lancelot and E. 886 Beän 'ere a b an' yonder a peä'; N. Farmer, O.S. 46 Bear (an animal) grosser than your native b's— Princess iv 537 dog, and wolf and boar and b Com. of Arthur 23
Albeit grizzlier than a b, to ride Pelleas and E. 193
Bear (constellation) B had wheel'd Thro' a great arc Princess iv 212 Bear (verb) (See also Abeär, Bore) That b's relation to the mind. Two Voices 177
'His sons grow up that b his name, ,, 256
how canst thou b my weight? Œnone 237
I know you proud to b your name, L. C. V. de Vere 10 whatever sky B seed of men Love thou thy land 20
As we b blossom of the dead; ,, 94
I will not b it longer.' The Goose 32
And b me to the margin; M. d'Arthur 165
Less burthen, by ten-hundred-fold, to b, St. S. Stylites 24
B witness, if I could have found ,, 55 in truth (thou wilt b witness here) ,, 129 that which b's but bitter fruit? Locksley Hall 65 and he b's a laden breast, ,, 143
Three angels b the holy Grail: Sir Galahad 42
Which b's a season'd brain about, Will Water. 85 b me with thee, smoothly borne, Move eastward 9 beseech you by the love you b Him Enoch Arden 307
'Too hard to b! why did they take me ,, 781 boat that b's the hope of life ,, 830 thought to b it with me to my grave; ,, 896 b's about A silent court of justice Sea Dreams 173 jam the doors, and b The keepers down, Lucretius 169 not he, who b's one name with her ,, 235
The king would b him out;' Princess i 182
Earth Should b a double growth ,, ii 180 think I b that heart within my breast, ,, 334 much I b with her: ,, iii 81 hear me, for I b, Tho' man, yet human, ,, iv 424 if thou needs must b the yoke, ,, vi 205 skater on ice that hardly b's him, Hendecasyllabics 6
But help thy foolish ones to b; In Mem. Pro., 31
Help thy vain worlds to b thy light. ,, 32
To b thro' Heaven a tale of woe, ,, xii 2
Come then, pure hands, and b the head ,, xviii 9
I loved the weight I had to b, ,, xxv 7
A life that b's immortal fruit ,, xl 18
To that ideal which he b's? ,, lii 10
She often brings but one to b, ,, lv 12
He b's the burthen of the weeks ,, lxxx 11 growing, till I could b it no more, Maud I iii 9 b's a skeleton figured on his arms, Gareth and L. 640 heart enough To b his armour? Geraint and E. 490
b him hence out of this cruel sun? ,, 544 take him up, and b him to our hall: ,, 552 pray the King To let me b some token Balin and Balan 188 said 'What wilt thou b?' ,, 199 and ask'd To b her own crown-royal ,, 200

Bear (verb) (continued) ladies living gave me this to b.' Balin and Balan 340 best and purest, granted me To b it!' ,, 351 Thee will I b no more,' ,, 432 b's, with all Its stormy crests Lancelot and E. 483
Then will I b it gladly;' ,, 1106
But I myself must b it.' ,, 1108 seize me by the hair and b me far, ,, 1425 see thou, that it may b its flower. Holy Grail 887 cannot b to dream you so forsworn: Pelleas and E. 300 added to the griefs the great must b, Guinevere 205
B with me for the last time ,, 454
And b me to the margin; Pass. of Arthur 333
B witness, that rememberable day, To the Queen ii 3 that perfectness Which I do b within me: Lover's Tale i 89 bade his menials b him from the door, ,, iv 260
How could I b with the sights and the loath-some smells In the Child. Hosp. 25
Him, who should b the sword Of Justice— Sir J. Oldcastle 87
Why should we b with an hour of torture, Despair 81 sorrow that I b is sorrow for his sake. The Flight 64 and I and you will b the pall; Locksley H., Sixty, 281 B witness you, that yesterday To Prof. Jebb 2 younger kindlier Gods to b us down, Demeter and P. 131 creed and race Shall b false witness, Akbar's Dream 98
The flood may b me far, Crossing the Bar 14
Beard b Was tagg'd with icy fringes St. S. Stylites 31
His b a foot before him, and his hair Godiva 18
'By holy rood, a royal b! Day-Dm., Revival 20
My b has grown into my lap.' ,, 22
paw'd his b, and muttered 'catalepsy.' Princess i 20 answer which, half-muffled in his b, ,, v 234 father's face and reverend b ,, vi 103
b That looks as white as utter truth, Gareth and L. 280 Broad-faced with under-fringe of russet b, Geraint and E. 537 took his russet b between his teeth; ,, 713 one curl of Arthur's golden b. Merlin and V. 58 to part The lists of such a b ,, 245 shaggy mantle of his b Across her neck ,, 256 no more sign of reverence than a b. ,, 279
b that clothed his lips with light— Last Tournament 668 and his white b fell to his feet, V. of Maeldune 118 we kiss'd the fringe of his b ,, 125
Beard-blown b-b goat Hang on the shaft, Princess iv 78
Bearded (See also Black-bearded, Bush-bearded, Lichen-Bearded, Long-bearded, Parcel-bearded, Russet-bearded) In among the b barley, L. of Shalott i 29
Some b meteor, trailing light, ,, iii 26 the b grass Is dry and dewless. Miller's D. 245 tho' you were not then So b. Columbus 9
Beardless b apple-arbiter Decided fairest. Lucretius 91
Bearer Save under pall with b's. Aylmer's Field 827
Bearest love thou b The first-born Ode to Memory 91
Bearing (part.) b on My shallop thro' Arabian Nights 35
B a lifelong hunger in his heart. Enoch Arden 79
b hardly more Than his own shadow Aylmer's Field 29 and, as b in myself the shame ,, 355 Oaring one arm, and b in my left Princess iv 183 as underhand, not openly b the sword. Maud I i 28
B all down in thy precipitancy— Gareth and L. 8
b in their common bond of love, Balin and Balan 150 sent him to the Queen B his wish, Lancelot and E. 1169 started thro' mid air B an eagle's nest: Last Tournament 15 b round about him his own day, Lover's Tale i 510
b high in arms the mighty babe, ,, iv 295 b on one arm the noble babe, ,, 370 from our fiery beech Were b off the mast, Pro. to Gen. Hamley 4 Bearing (mien) face nor b, limbs nor voice, Com. of Arthur 71 thro' these Princelike his b shone; Marr. of Geraint 545
And all her b gracious; Holy Grail 394 gazed upon the man Of princely b, Pelleas and E. 306
I dream'd the b of our knights Last Tournament 120
Bearing (bringing forth) b and the training of a child Princess v 465
Bearing (armorial) gateway she discerns With armorial b's L. of Burleigh 43
Bearing (force) To change the b of a word, In Mem. cxxviii 16

Beast (See also Beäst, Man-Beast) but a little more Than b's, Two Voices 197 people here, a b of burden slow, Palace of Art 149 one deep cry Of great wild b's; ,, 283
I a b To take them as I did? Edwin Morris 71 and even b's have stalls, St. S. Stylites 109
Like a b with lower pleasures, like a b Locksley Hall 176
The many-headed b should know.' You might have won 20 like a b hard-ridden, breathing hard. Aylmer's Field 291
there surely lives in man and b Sea Dreams 68
What b has heart to do it? Lucretius 233 b or bird or fish, or opulent flower: ,, 249 biting laws to scare the b's of prey Princess v 393 envy not the b that takes His license In Mem. xxvii 5 Move upward, working out the b, ,, cxviii 27
Like Paul with b's, I fought with Death; ,, cxx 4
Wherein the b was ever more and more, Com. of Arthur 11 wet woods, and many a b therein, ,, 21 none or few to scare or chase the b; ,, 22 between the man and b we die.' ,, 45 slew the b, and fell'd The forest, ,, 59 between the man and b they die. ,, 79 lift her from this land of b's Up to my throne, ,, 80
b and man had had their share of me: ,, 163 b's, and surely would have torn the child ,, 217 Have foughten like wild b's ,, 226 noise of ravage wrought by b and man, Gareth and L. 437 Care not, good b's, so well I care ,, 1308 skins the wild b after slaying him, Geraint and E. 93 first as sullen as a b new-caged, ,, 856
In lieu of this rough b upon my shield, Balin and Balan 196 maws ensepulchre Their brother b, ,, 488 yell, Unearthier than all shriek of bird or b, ,, 545 beauteous b Scared by the noise Merlin and V. 421 weak b seeking to help herself ,, 498 b's themselves would worship; ,, 575 in the lowest b's are slaying men, And in the second men are slaying b's, Holy Grail 234 great b's rose upright like a man, ,, 821 the b's Will tear thee piecemeal.' ,, 824
b—he, she, or I? myself most fool; Pelleas and E. 475
B too, as lacking human wit— ,, 476 made his b that better knew it, swerve ,, 551 what evil b Hath drawn his claws Last Tournament 62 Reel back into the b, and be no more?' ,, 125
And men from b's—Long live the king ,, 358 thro' ever harrying thy wild b's— ,, 635 art grown wild b thyself. ,, 637 like a subtle b Lay couchant Guinevere 10 subtle b, Would track her guilt ,, 59 my realm Reels back into the b, Pass. of Arthur 26
As ignorant and impolitic as a b— Columbus 128
That gray b, the wolf of the weald. Batt. of Brunanburh 110
the multitudinous b, The dragon, Tiresias 15 fierce b found A wiser than herself, ,, 151 curb the b would cast thee in the mire, Ancient Sage 276 Sisters, brothers,—and the b's— Locksley H., Sixty, 102
Have we risen from out the b, then back into the b again? ,, 148 house with all its hateful needs no cleaner than the b, Happy 32 starved the wild b that was linkt By an Evolution. 11
But I hear no yelp of the b, ,, 19 caged b Yell'd, as he yell'd of yore St. Telemachus 45 barrier that divided b from man Slipt, ,, 60 that stare of a b of prey. Charity 10 is prized for it smells of the b, The Dawn 14 Beäst nor a mortal b o' the feäld. North. Cobbler 38
An' I says 'Git awaäy, ya b,' Owd Roä 62
Beastlier B than any phantom of his kind Lucretius 196
Beastlike b as I find myself, Not manlike ,, 231
Beat (s) (See also Heart-beat) nigh to burst with violence of the b, Gareth and L. 763 Beat (verb) (See also Beät) The cloud fleets, The heart b's, Nothing will Die 12
The heart will cease to b; All Things will Die 12
And the blue wave b the shore; ,, 43

Beat (verb) (continued) From winter rains that b his grave. Two Voices 261
My frozen heart began to b, ,, 422
B time to nothing in my head Miller's D. 67
And her heart would b against me, ,, 177
I should know if it b right, ,, 179 dog howl, mother, or the death-watch b, May Queen, Con. 21 wind, that b's the mountain, blows To J. S. 1
'B quicker, for the time Is pleasant, On a Mourner 12
b me down and marr'd and wasted me, Tithonus 19
b the twilight into flakes of fire. ,, 42 heart of existence b for ever like a boy's? Locksley Hall 140 where my life began to b; ,, 154
Music in his heart B's quick Day-Dm. Arrival 27
My spirit b's her mortal bars, Sir Galahad 46
But never merrily b Annie's heart. Enoch Arden 513 b's out his weary life. ,, 730
May b a pathway out to wealth Aylmer's Field 439
Long since her heart had b remorselessly, ,, 799
B breast, tore hair, cried out Lucretius 277
Had b her foes with slaughter Princess, Pro., 34 but convention b's them down: ,, 128
B balm upon our eyelids. ,, iii 123 wave May b admission in a thousand years, ,, 155
My heart b thick with passion ,, 190 vassals to be b, nor pretty babes ,, iv 146
That b to battle where he stands; ,, 578 and they will b my girl ,, v 88 clash'd their arms; the drum B; ,, 251
One pulse that b's true woman, ,, vi 180 greater than all knowledge, b her down. ,, vii 238 faith in womankind B's with his blood, ,, 329
b with rapid unanimous hand, Boädicea 79 dance with death, to b the ground In Mem. i 12 clock B's out the little lives of men. ,, ii 8
'What is it makes me b so low?' ,, iv 8
Hath still'd the life that b from thee. ,, vi 12 my heart was used to b So quickly, ,, vii 3
A flower b with rain and wind, ,, viii 15 darken'd heart that b no more; ,, xix 2 hearts that b from day to day, ,, lviii 6 plays with threads, he b's his chair ,, lxvi 13
My pulses therefore b again In Mem. lxxxv 57
That b's within a lonely place, ,, 110
But seeks to b in time with one ,, 115 crash'd the glass and b the floor; ,, lxxxvii 20
At last he b his music out. ,, xcvi 10 hearts of old have b in tune, ,, xcvii 10
But let no footstep b the floor, ,, cv 17 my heart was used to b So quickly, ,, cxix 1 heart b stronger And thicker, Maud I viii 8
B to the noiseless music of the night! ,, xviii 77
B, happy stars, timing with things below, ,, 81
B with my heart more blest than heart ,, 82
My heart would hear her and b, ,, xxii 69
My dust would hear her and b, ,, 71
Is it gone? my pulses b— ,, II i 36
But the broad light glares and b's, ,, iv 89 the hoofs of the horses b, b, The hoofs of the horses b, B into my scalp and my brain, ,, v 8 heart of a people b with one desire; ,, III vi 49 fierce light which b's upon a throne, Ded. of Idylls 27 and by this will b his foemen down.' Com. of Arthur 309
B thro' the blindless casement Marr. of Geraint 71
Invaded Britain, 'But we b him back, ,, 746
Not b him back, but welcomed him ,, 748
B, till she woke the sleepers, Geraint and E. 404 while the sun yet b a dewy blade, ,, 446
And b the cross to earth, and break Balin and Balan 458
Vivien, tho' ye b me like your dog, ,, 582
Across the iron grating of her cell B, Holy Grail 82 blood b's, and the blossom blows, ,, 671 felt the sun B like a strong knight Pelleas and E. 23
let my lady b me if she will: ,, 335
And b's upon the faces of the dead, Pass. of Arthur 141

Beat (verb) (continued) tho' there b a heart in either eye ; Lover's Tale i 34
Death drew nigh and b the doors of Life ; ,, 111
noons B from the concave sand ; ,, 140 felt the blast B on my heated eyelids : ,, iii 28
Hearts that had b with such a love ,, iv 69
It b—the heart—it b : Faint—but it b : ,, 80
They b me for that, they b me— Rizpah 48 and b Thro' all the homely town Columbus 82 heart alive b's on it night and day— The Flight 35 heart that once had b beside her own. Locksley H., Sixty, 58 when life has ceased to b. Happy 52
'B, little heart—I give you this and this' Romney's R. 1
'B upon mine, little heart ! b, b ! ,, 94
'B upon mine ! you are mine, my sweet ! ,, 95
'B little heart' on this fool brain ,, 155 pulse of Alla b's Thro' all His world. Akbar's Dream 41
b back The menacing poison ,, 164
Harmony Whereto the worlds b time, D. of the Duke of C. 16
Beät (verb) An' it b's ma to knaw wot she died on, Church-warden, etc. 6 Beaten (See also Barren-beaten, Breaker-beaten, Hollow-beaten, Thrice-beaten, Weather-beaten)
B with some great passion at her heart, Princess iv 388
B I had been for a little fault Com. of Arthur 341 seems no bolder than a b hound ; Geraint and E. 61 forward by a way which, b broad, ,, 436
b back, and b back Settles, Merlin and V. 371 took To bitter weeping like a b child, ,, 855
Of every dint a sword had b in it, Lancelot and E. 19 lance had b down the knights, Holy Grail 363
There was I b down by little men ,, 789 a traitor proven, or hound B, Pelleas and E. 440 save for dread of thee had b me, Last Tournament 525 many a heathen sword Had b thin ; Pass. of Arthur 167 Drooping and b by the breeze, Lover's Tale i 700 better ha' b me black an' blue First Quarrel 72 Havelock baffled, or b, Def. of Lucknow 91
thus was I b back, Columbus 55 Beating (See also Batin) When will the heart be aweary of b ? Nothing will Die 6 in joyance is b Full merrily ; All Things will Die 6
Do b hearts of salient springs Adeline 26 music in his ears his b heart did make. Lotos-Eaters 36 heard with b heart The Sweet-Gale Edwin Morris 109 bosom b with a heart renew'd. Tithonus 36
B it in upon his weary brain, Enoch Arden 796
b up thro' all the bitter world, ,, 802 two-cell'd heart b, with one full stroke, Princess vii 307
B from the wasted vines Ode on Well. 109
Rose-red with b's in it, as if alive, Holy Grail 118 own steps, and his own heart B, Pelleas and E. 417 Heart b time to heart, Lover's Tale i 260 found her b the hard Protestant doors. Sisters (E. and E.) 240 warriors b back the swarm Of Turkish Montenegro 10
O the deathwatch b ! Forlorn 24
Beatitude Fulfils him with b. Supp. Confessions 62
Beauteous The reflex of a b form, Miller's D. 77
To find my heart so near the b breast, The form, the form 7 when the b hateful isle Return'd Enoch Arden 617 Breathing and sounding b battle, Princess v 161
In whispers of the b world. In Mem. lxxix 12 Come, b in thine after form, ,, xci 15 the b beast Scared by the noise Merlin and V. 421
Paris, himself as b as a God. Death of Œnone 18
Paris, no longer b as a God, ,, 25
Beautiful spirit-thrilling eyes so keen and b : Ode to Memory 39
And said the earth was b. A Character 12
Her b bold brow, The Poet 38
B Paris, evil-hearted Paris, Œnone 50
Idalian Aphroditè b, ,, 174
How b a thing it was to die For God D. of F. Women 231
Twin-sisters differently b. Edwin Morris 33 ever thus thou growest b In silence, Tithonus 43
'She is more b than day.' Beggar Maid 8 his own children tall and b, Enoch Arden 762

Beautiful (continued) the stars about the moon Look b, Spec. of Iliad 12 made His darkness b with thee. In Mem. lxxiv 12 Perfectly b ; let it be granted her : Maud I ii 4 pride flash'd over her b face. ,, iv 16
Silence, b voice ! ,, v 19
O b creature, what am I ,, xvi 10
Not b now, not even kind ; ,, II v 66
He had not dream'd she was so b. Lancelot and E. 353
Beyond my knowing of them, b, Holy Grail 103
B in the light of holiness. ,, 105
'God make thee good as thou art b,' ,, 136
'Is Guinevere herself so b ?' Pelleas and E. 70
And enter it, and make it b ? Pass. of Arthur 17
Forgetting how to render b Her countenance Lover's Tale i 96
The b in Past of act or place, ,, 135
Of all his treasures the most b, ,, iv 234 cries about the banquet—'B ! ,, 239
That which is thrice as b as these, ,, 248
Of all my treasures the most b, ,, 318 pity, if one so b Prove, ,, 338 both are b : Evelyn is gayer, Sisters (E and E) 35
Both b alike, nor can I tell ,, 276
So b, vast, various, Ancient Sage 84
one was dark, and both were b. The Ring 161 Bountiful, b, apparell'd gay, Prog. of Spring 62
Beautiful-brow'd B-b Œnone, my own soul, Œnone 71 Beautifully So lightly, b built : Palace of Art 294 dress her b and keep her true'— Geraint and E. 40 that beauty should go b : (repeat) ,, 681, 684 Beauty (See also After-beauty) solid form Of constant b. Supp. Confessions 150
He spake of b : that the dull A Character 7
I see thy b gradually unfold, Eleänore 70 Light Hope at B's call would perch Caress'd or chidden 3 they live with B less and less, ,, 9
'But now thy b flows away, Mariana in the S. 67
I loved his b passing well. The Sisters 23 love B only (B seen In all varieties To——With Pal. of Art 6
And Knowledge for its b ; ,, 8
Good only for its b, seeing not That B, Good, and Knowledge, are three sisters ,, 9
B and anguish walking hand in hand D. of F. Women 15
'I had great b : ask thou not my name : ,, 93
B such a mistress of the world. Gardener's D. 58
Her b grew ; till Autumn brought ,, 207 many a group Of beauties, Talking Oak 62 glorious in his b and thy choice, Tithonus 12
Can thy love, Thy b, make amends, ,, 24
Thou wilt renew thy b morn by morn ; ,, 74
Her constant b doth inform Stillness Day-Dm. Sleep. B. 15
His wife a faded b of the Baths, Aylmer's Field 27
Edith, whose pensive b, perfect else, ,, 70 made pleasant the baits Of gold and b, ,, 487 sank down shamed At all that b ; Lucretius 64 murmurs of her b from the South, Princess i 36
All b compass'd in a female form, ,, ii 34 beauties every shade of brown and fair ,, 437 underneath the crag, Full of all b. ,, iii 337 brief the moon of b in the South. ,, iv. 113
Another kind of b in detail ,, 448
We hunt them for the b of their skins ; ,, v 156 became Her former b treble ; ,, vii 25
All of b, all of use, Ode. Inter. Exhib. 23
Willy, my b, my eldest-born, Grandmother 9
So Willy has gone, my b, my eldest-born, ,, 101
She's a b thou thinks— N. Farmer, N. S. 14
—wot's a b ?—the flower as blaws. ,, 15
Maäybe she warn't a b :— ,, 23
His b still with his years increased, The Victim 34 this orb of flame, Fantastic b ; In Mem. xxxiv 6 Who shall rail Against her b ? ,, cxiv 2 of the singular b of Maud ; Maud I i 67 Done but in thought to your b, ,, iii 6
O child, you wrong your b, ,, iv 17 and B fair in her flower ; ,, 25

Beauty (continued) dream of her b with tender dread, Maud I xvi 14
To know her b might half undo it. ,, 19
The b would be the same. ,, II ii 12
Remembering all the b of that star Ded. of Idylls 46 gazed on all earth's b in their Queen, Com. of Arthur 463
To make her b vary day by day, Marr. of Geraint 9
The prize of b for the fairest there. ,, 485 having seen all beauties of our time, ,, 498 won for thee, The prize of b.' ,, 555
Your b is no b to him now: Geraint and E. 330 put your b to this flout and scorn 675 that b should go beautifully: (repeat) ,, 681, 684 thine The wreath of b, thine the crown Merlin and V. 79
Guinevere, The pearl of b: Lancelot and E. 114
Your b is your b, and I sin ,, 1186
b of her flesh abash'd the boy, Pelleas and E. 78
As tho' it were the b of her soul: ,, 79
so did Pelleas lend All the young b ,, 83
And title, 'Queen of B,' in the lists ,, 116 the sight Of her rich b made him ,, 238 cannot brook to see your b marr'd ,, 298 Queen of B and of love, behold This day my Queen of B Last Tournament 208 great Queen My dole of b trebled?' ,, 558
'Her b is her b, and thine thine, ,, 559 her b, grace and power, Wrought Guinevere 143
b such as never woman wore, ,, 549
In giving so much b to the world, Lover's Tale i 212
A b which is death; ,, ii 190 did he know her worth, Her b even? ,, iv 151
Who could desire more b at a feast?' ,, 240
b that is dearest to his heart— ,, 249 veriest beauties of the work appear Sisters (E. and E.) 105
One bloom of youth, health, b, ,, 120
Ineffable b, out of whom, at a glance, Tiresias 55
A b with defect—till That which knows, Ancient Sage 86 Science grows and B dwindles— Locksley H., Sixty, 246 Like worldly beauties in the Cell, The Ring 143 that only doats On outward b, ,, 164
You would not mar the b of your bride Happy 24 give place to the b that endures, ,, 36
b that endures on the Spiritual height, ,, 37
A b came upon your face, ,, 51
My b marred by you? by you! ,, 57 lose it and myself in the higher b, ,, 58 b lured that falcon from his eyry on the fell. ,, 59 never caught one gleam of the b which endures— ,, 60

Became Therefore revenge b me well. The Sisters 5
And well his words b him: Edwin Morris 25
And one b head-waiter. Will Water. 144 crime of sense b The crime of malice, Vision of Sin 215
b Her former beauty treble; Princess vii 24
B no better than a broken shed, Holy Grail 398 Thereon her wrath b a hate; Pelleas and E. 224 courtesies of household life, B her bane; Guinevere 87
'Sir Lancelot, as b a noble knight, ,, 328
I to her b Her guardian and her angel, Lover's Tale i 392
Italian words, b a weariness. The Ring 407
Her Past b her Present, Death of Œnone 14 in the mist at once B a shadow, ,, 50 dream b a deed that woke the world, St. Telemachus 70

Beck (Brook) (See also Howlaby beck, Wrigglesby beck) Within the dark and dimpled b. Miller's D. 80
Thou's coom'd oop by the b; Village Wife 79 thaw the banks o' the b be sa high, ,, 83 fur 'e lost 'is taäil i' the b. ,, 86
An' 'cos o' thy farm by the b, Spinster's S's. 73 Fur I seed the b coomin' down Owd Roä 40 slushin' down fro' the bank to the b, ,, 41
An' ya stood oop naäkt i' the b, Church-warden, etc. 29

Beck (call) move, my friend, At no man's b, Princess iii 227

Beckon Time and Grief did b unto Death, Lover's Tale i 110

Beckon'd She ended here, and b us: Princess ii 182

Beckoning And b unto those they know; In Mem. xiv 8

Become B's dishonour to her race— Two Voices 255
B the master of a larger craft, Enoch Arden 144 it b's no man to nurse despair, Princess iv 464 then wilt thou b A thrall to his enchantments, Gareth and L. 268 B's the sea-cliff pathway broken short, Merlin and V. 882 had the boat B a living creature Holy Grail 519 tilt with a lance B's thee well— Last Tournament 637 well, it scarce b's mine age— Locksley H., Sixty, 151

Bed (See also Bulrush-bed, Death-bed, Moss-bed, River-bed) Upon her b, across her brow. Mariana 56
Thou wilt not turn upon thy b; A Dirge 15
And after supper, on a b, The Sisters 16
I blest him, as he knelt beside my b. May Queen, Con. 16
But sit beside my b, mother, ,, 23 and I listened in my b, ,, 33 propt on b's of amaranth and moly, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 88 limbs at last on b's of asphodel. ,, 125
Like one that feels a nightmare on his b M. d'Arthur 177 so to b: where yet in sleep ,, Ep. 16 farmer vext packs up his b's and chairs, Walk. to the Mail 39 had pack'd the thing among the b's,) ,, 44 to the college tower From her warm b, ,, 90
In b like monstrous apes St. S. Stylites 174
See that sheets are on my b; Vision of Sin 68 Started from b, and struck herself a light, Enoch Arden 494 with yet a b for wandering men. ,, 698 kept the house, his chair, and last his b. ,, 826 then homeward and to b: Sea Dreams 40
In her b at peep of day? ,, 302 then to b, where half in doze Princess i 246 hall glitter'd like a b of flowers. ,, ii 439
Half-naked as if caught at once from b ,, iv 285
I took it for an hour in mine own b ,, v 434 they hover about my b— Grandmother 83 an' a sittin' 'ere o' my b. N. Farmer, O. S. 9 An' 'e maäde the b as e' ligs on ,, N. S. 28 flush'd the b Of silent torrents, The Daisy 33 along the valley, down thy rocky b, V. of Cauteretz 7
When on my b the moonlight falls, In Mem. lxvii 1
From off my b the moonlight dies; ,, 10
And tends upon b and bower, Maud I xiv 4 Hung over her dying b— ,, xix 36
On a b of daffodil sky, ,, xxii 10
Were it earth in an earthy b; ,, 70
By the curtains of my b ,, II iv 54 hurl'd his huge limbs out of b, Marr. of Geraint 124 brook o'er a shingley b Brawling, ,, 248 now get you hence to b:' Lancelot and E. 388
Full lowly by the corners of his b, ,, 826
Then take the little b on which I died ,, 1117 on the black decks laid her in her b, ,, 1147 but creatures of the board and b, Pelleas and E. 267 drier than a fountain b In summer: ,, 507 that feels a nightmare on his b Pass. of Arthur 345 they fasten'd me down on my b. Rizpah 46
I blubber'd awaäy o' the b— North. Cobbler 61 such a lot of b's in the ward!' In the Child. Hosp. 54 you leave 'em outside on the b— ,, 56 women who tended the hospital b, Def. of Lucknow 87
I have hung them by my b, Columbus 200 an' my oän b o' sparrow-grass, Spinster's S's. 104 when Moother 'ed gotten to b, Owd Roä 53 Too laäte, tha mun git tha to b, ,, 117
I am fitter for my b, or for my grave, The Ring 433 leech forsake the dying b for terror of his life? Happy 98
she sat day and night by my b, Charity 33 Brings the Dreams about my b, Silent Voices 2

Bedded With all its casements b, Audley Court 18

Bedivere (A Knight of the Round Table) The bold Sir B uplifted him, M. d'Arthur 6
Sir B, the last of all his knights, ,, 7 spake King Arthur to Sir B: (repeat) ,, 13, 66
To him replied the bold Sir B: ,, 39 answer made the bold Sir B: (repeat) M. d'Arthur 69, 115, 151
Then went Sir B the second time M. d'Arthur 82

Bedivere (continued) Then quickly rose Sir B, and ran, M. d'Arthur 133
Him Sir B Remorsefully regarded ,, 170
Then loudly cried the bold Sir B, ,, 226 stood Sir B Revolving many memories, ,, 269
Ulfius, and Brastias, and B, (repeat) Com. of Arthur 136, 165, 445
B, the first of all his knights Com. of Arthur 174
That story which the bold Sir B, Pass. of Arthur 1
B, Who slowly paced among the slumbering ,, 6 heard the bold Sir B and spake: ,, 50
Then spake King Arthur to Sir B: (repeat) Pass. of Arthur 65, 136, 181, 234
B, for on my heart hath fall'n Pass. of Arthur 143
Then spake the bold Sir B: ,, 147
The bold Sir B uplifted him, ,, 175
To him replied the bold Sir B: ,, 207
answer made the bold Sir B: (repeat) Pass. of Arthur 237, 283, 319
Then went Sir B the second time Pass. of Arthur 250
Then quickly rose Sir B, and ran, ,, 301
Him Sir B Remorsefully regarded ,, 338 loudly cried the bold Sir B: ,, 394
stood Sir B Revolving many memories, ,, 437
Bedmate A b of the snail and eft and snake, Holy Grail 570
Bedridden infancy Or old b palsy,— Aylmer's Field 178
I lying here b and alone, Columbus 164
Bedtime B, Dicky! but waäit till tha 'eärs Owd Roä 18
Bee (See also Beeä) At noon the wild b hummeth Claribel 11
Chaunteth not the brooding b A Dirge 16
Or the yellow-banded b's, Eleänore 22
With the hum of swarming b's ,, 29
'Not less the b would range her cells, Two Voices 70
the golden b Is lily-cradled: Œnone 29
With all her b's behind her: Amphion 36 here by thee will hum the b, A Farewell 11 like the working b in blossom-dust, Enoch Arden 366 Made noise with b's and breeze Princess, Pro., 88 thoughts would swarm as b's about their queen. ,, i 40
And murmuring of innumerable b's.' ,, vii 222 the b's is as fell as owt. N. Farmer, N. S., 40 b's are still'd, and the flies are kill'd, Window, Winter 10
As we shake off the b that buzzes at us; Lancelot and E. 785 b's That made such honey in his realm. Holy Grail 214 Nor thou be rageful, like a handled b, Ancient Sage 269 moment's anger of b's in their hive?— Vastness 35
That trembles not to kisses of the b: Prog. of Spring 4
No louder than a b among the flowers, Romney's R. 82
Beeä (bee) We was busy as b's i' the bloom North. Cobbler 15
Beech Moving in the leavy b. Margaret 61 b and lime Put forth and feel On a Mourner 14 like a purple b among the greens Edwin Morris 84
'I wish'd myself the fair young b Talking Oak 141 bard has honour'd b or lime, ,, 291 Coquetting with young b'es; Amphion 28 seated on a serpent-rooted b, The Brook 135
We paused: the winds were in the b: In Mem. xxx 9 that b will gather brown, ,, ci 3
Whereon a hundred stately b'es grew, Pelleas and E. 26 While squirrels from our fiery b Pro. to Gen. Hamley 3 perpetual pine, nor round the b; Prog. of Spring 32
Beechen-bough lodge of intertwisted b-b's Last Tournament 376
Beef he had not b and brewis enow, Gareth and L. 457
Beelike Than b instinct hiveward, Princess, iv 199
Beer sung their songs an' 'ed 'ed their b, Owd Roä 35
Beeswing richest b from a binn reserved Aylmer's Field 405
Beetle (adj.) gaunt old Baron with his b brow Princess, ii 240
Beetle (s.) At eve the b boometh Claribel 9
Beetling from the b crag to which he clung Aylmer's Field 229
Beeves men brought in whole hogs and quarter b, Geraint and E. 602
Befall Shame might b Melissa, Princess, iii 147
If aught of things that here b Ode on Well. 138
I hold it true, whate'er b; In Mem. xxvii 13
Befit tale for summer as b's the time, Princess, Pro., 210
As b's a solemn fane: Ode on Well. 250
Befool'd being much b and idioted Aylmer's Field 590
Before Or see (in Him is no b) In Mem. xxvi 10
Beg I will b of him to take thee back: Dora 123
I cannot steal or plunder, no nor b: Geraint and E. 487 Began 'When first the world b, Two Voices 16
'Before the little ducts b ,, 325
The sweet church bells b to peal. ,, 408
My frozen heart b to beat, ,, 422 those great bells B to chime. Palace of Art 158 trees b to whisper, and the wind b May Queen, Con., 27
b: 'I govern'd men by change, D. of F. Women 129
At this a hundred bells b to peal, M. d'Arthur, Ep. 29
For when my passion first b, Talking Oak 9 where my life b to beat; Locksley Hall 154
So fares it since the years b, Will Water. 169 prone edge of the wood b To feather (repeat) Enoch Arden 67, 373
B to chafe as at a personal wrong. ,, 474 drooping chestnut-buds b To spread Sir L. and Q. G. 16
And then b to bloat himself, Sea Dreams 154
Till she b to totter, and the child ,, 244
'He b, The rest would follow, Princess, Pro., 200
So I b, And the rest follow'd: ,, 243 but as his brain B to mellow, ,, i 180
when the college lights B to glitter ,, 208
B to address us, and was moving on ,, ii 184
'Are you that Lady Psyche,' I b, ,, 261
b A blind and babbling laughter, ,, vi 136 greatest sailor since our world b. Ode on Well. 86
I b to be tired a little, Grandmother 74
What seem'd my worth since I b; In Mem., Pro., 34
The total world since life b; ,, xliii 12
Whose life in low estate b ,, lxiv 3
A breeze b to tremble o'er ,, xcv 54 wind b to sweep A music ,, ciii 53
In tracts of fluent heat b, ,, cxviii 9
Wretchedest age, since Time b, Maud II v 21
B to move, seethe, twine and curl: Gareth and L. 234
Sat down beside him, ate and then b. ,, 872
B to scoff and jeer and babble Marr. of Geraint 58 that I b To glance behind me Geraint and E. 862
B to break her sports with graver fits, Merlin and V. 180
No sooner gone than suddenly she b: Lancelot and E. 96 plain that then b To darken under Camelot; Holy Grail 217 when the day b to wane, we went. ,, 488 such a blast, my King, b to blow, ,, 795
Then she b to rail so bitterly, Pelleas and E. 250
Autumn thunder, and the jousts b: Last Tournament 153 and both B to struggle for it, ,, 410
B to gall the knighthood, asking ,, 683
b To vex and plague her. Guinevere 67
by and by b to hum An air ,, 162
Ye ask me, friends, When I b to love. Lover's Tale i 145
So know I not when I b to love. ,, 163
B to heave upon that painted sea; ,, ii 192
Four bells instead of one b to ring, ,, iii 20 his own b To pulse with such a vehemence ,, iv 81
At once b to wander and to wail, ,, 99 then b the story of his love ,, 354
Whereat the very babe b to wail; ,, 375
An' the wind b to rise, First Quarrel 89 when the storm on the downs b, Rizpah 71 water b to heave and the weather to moan, The Revenge 113
But at length we b to be weary, V. of Maeldune 91 and there I b to weep, The Wreck 93 cry so desolate, not since the world b, Despair 59
'And since—from when this earth b— Ancient Sage 53
'The years that when my Youth b ,, 155
She b to spake to herself, Tomorrow 54 for since our dying race b, Locksley H., Sixty, 65
Ill To waste this earth b— Epilogue 23
I that loved thee since my day b, To Virgil 38 his fresh life may close as it b, Prog. of Spring 89
And a beggar b to cry 'Food, food Voice spake, etc. 5
Beget Many a chance the years b, Miller's D. 206
Begetters worldly-wise b's, plagued themselves Aylmer's Field 482 Beggar (s) Are there no b's at your gate, L. C. V. de Vere 67
'If I'm a b born,' she said, Lady Clare 37

Beggar (s) (continued) I am a b born,' she said, Lady Clare 71 her, he loved, a b: then he pray'd Enoch Arden 117 tho' she were a b from the hedge, Marr. of Geraint 230 fling free alms into the b's bowl, Ancient Sage 260
And a b began to cry, 'Food, food Voice spake, etc. 5
Beggar'd and I fell B for ever— Lover's Tale i 670 Beggar Maid Bare-footed came the b m Beggar Maid 3
'This b m shall be my queen!' ,, 16
Beggar-Woman silken rag, the b-w's weed: Geraint and E. 680
Begged then they b For Father Philip Enoch Arden 364
At last she b a boon, Princess i 146
Begin fret Of that sharp-headed worm b's Supp. Confessions 186
And rugged barks b to bud, My life is full 18
That to b implies to end; Two Voices 339
When meres b to uncongeal, ,, 407
call me loud when the day b's to break: May Queen 10
O look! the sun b's to rise, May Queen, Con., 49 lights b to twinkle from the rocks: Ulysses 54
B's to move and tremble. Will Water. 32
'Till the graves b to move, And the dead b to dance. Vision of Sin 165
B's the scandal and the cry: You might have won 16
Which made a selfish war b; To F. D. Maurice 30
The noise of life b's again, In Mem. vii 10
From whence clear memory may b, ,, xlv 10 overhead B's the clash and clang ,, Con. 61 sadder age b's To war against Gareth and L. 1129 b's to play That air which pleased her Lover's Tale i 20 an' saw she b's to cry, North. Cobbler 71 Evelyn b's it 'O diviner Air.' Sisters (E. and E.) 4 listen how the birds B to warble The Flight 61
Beginner fair b's of a nobler time, Com. of Arthur 457
Beginning (part.) world's great work is heard B, In Mem. cxxi 11
B to faint in the light that she loves Maud I xxii 9
B at the sequel know no more. Lover's Tale iv 158
And he b languidly— ,, 274
The boat was b to move, First Quarrel 21
Beginning (s) end and the b vex His reason: Two Voices 298 blind b's that have made me man, Lucretius 246 break The low b's of content. In Mem. lxxxiv 48
And be the fair b of a time. Guinevere 466
Begone 'You must b,' said Death, Love and Death 7
B: we will not look upon you more. Princess iv 547
B! my knave!—belike and like Gareth and L. 713 thou b, take counsel, and away, ,, 1002
Begotten (See also Want-begotten) My father hath b me in his wrath. Balin and Balan 283 Beguile To b her melancholy; Maud I xx 3
Beguil'd well, well, well, I may be b ,, vi 89
Begun help me as when life b: Locksley Hall 185 into my heart, and b to darken my eyes. Rizpah 16
My brain had b to reel— In the Child. Hosp. 60
A juster epoch has b. Epilogue 6
The light of days when life b, Pref. Poem Broth. S. 23
Altho' the months have scarce b, To Ulysses 22 this bare dome had not b to gleam To Mary Boyle 41
O weary one, has it b? The Dreamer 26
Beheld b Thy mild deep eyes upraised, Supp. Confessions 73
I b great Here's angry eyes, Œnone 190
Since I b young Laurence dead. L. C. V. de Vere 28 ere a star can wink, b her there. Gardener's D. 122
I b her ere she knew my heart, ,, 276
when the boy b His mother, Dora 137
B the dead flame of the fallen day Enoch Arden 441
b His wife his wife no more, ,, 758
Turning b the Powers of the House Aylmer's Field 287
I b her, when she rose The yesternight, Princess v 175
The Priest b him, And cried The Victim 37
And what I am b again In Mem. cxxiv 21
b The death-white curtain drawn; Maud I xiv 33
I b From eye to eye thro' all their Order Com. of Arthur 269 likewise I b Excalibur ,, 295 when her son B his only way to glory Gareth and L. 159
b Far over heads in that long-vaulted ,, 318
B the long street of a little town Marr. of Geraint 242

Beheld (continued) Geraint B her first in field, Marr. of Geraint 540 Turn'd, and b the four, and all ,, 558
b A little town with towers, Geraint and E. 196
I never yet b a thing so pale. ,, 615
Have I b a lily like yourself. ,, 620 true eyes B the man you loved ,, 847
b Balin and Balan sitting Statuelike, Balin and Balan 23
B before a golden altar lie ,, 410
B the Queen and Lancelot get to horse. Merlin and V. 102
b the King Charge at the head Lancelot and E. 303 Arthur, who b his cloudy brows, ,, 1354
every knight b his fellow's face Holy Grail 191 Another hath b it afar off, ,, 897
b That victor of the Pagan Last Tournament 664
b three spirits mad with joy Guinevere 252
B at noon in some delicious dale ,, 393 glancing up b the holy nuns All round her, ,, 666 some b the faces of old ghosts Pass. of Arthur 103
When I b her weep so ruefully; Lover's Tale i 773
b All round about him that which ,, iv 53 never yet b a thing so strange, ,, 303 when before have Gods or men b The Life Demeter and P. 29
b A blood-red awning waver St. Telemachus 51
Behest Then not to disobey her lord's b, Geraint and E. 450
Behold Where'er they fell, b, Like to The Poet 22
'B, it is the Sabbath morn.' Two Voices 402
B this fruit, whose gleaming rind Œnone 72
Mayst well b them unbeheld, ,, 89 when I look'd again, b an arm, M. d'Arthur 158
B her there, As I beheld her Gardener's D. 275 'Who is this? b thy bride,' Love and Duty 49 some one spake: 'B! it was a crime Vision of Sin 213
In such a shape dost thou b thy God. Aylmer's Field 657 in me b the Prince Your countryman, Princess ii 214
B your father's letter.' ,, iv 468 reverent people b The towering car, Ode on Well. 54
'B the man that loved and lost, In Mem. i 15
B me, for I cannot sleep, ,, vii 6
B a man raised up by Christ! ,, xxxi 13
An inner trouble I b, ,, xli 18
B, we know not anything; ,, liv 13
B their brides in other hands; ,, xc 14
B, I dream a dream of good, ,, cxxix 11
O happy hour, b the bride ,, Con. 69
Arthur said, 'B thy doom is mine. Com. of Arthur 467
'B, for these have sworn To wage my wars, ,, 507 did Enid, keeping watch, b Geraint and E. 118 B me overturn and trample on him. ,, 843
b me come To cleanse this common ,, 894 father, I b him in my dreams Lancelot and E. 763 B it, crying, 'We have still a King.' Holy Grail 245
b a woman at a door Spinning; ,, 391 when they led me into hall, b, ,, 577 looking up, B, the enchanted towers ,, 813
'In happy time b our pilot-star! Pelleas and E. 63
'B me, Lady, A prisoner, ,, 240
B his horse and armour. ,, 373
b This day my Queen of Beauty Last Tournament 208
Till the High God b it from beyond, Pass. of Arthur 16
B, I seem but King among the dead.' ,, 146 when I look'd again, b an arm, ,, 326 in her b Of all my treasures Lover's Tale iv 317 Behind this darkness, I b her still, Tiresias 52 when these b their Lord, Akbar's Dream 142 Beholden But being so b to the Prince, Marr. of Geraint 623 shame the Prince To whom we are b; ,, 727 Beholding B how the years which are not Time's Aylmer's Field 601
B one so bright in dark estate, Marr. of Geraint 786
B how ye butt against my wish, Geraint and E. 677
B it was Edyrn son of Nudd, ,, 781 b her Tho' pale, yet happy, ,, 879
b him so strong, she thought Pelleas and E. 117
Behoof break them more in their b, Princess vi 61
To mask, tho' but in his own b, Maud I vi 48
Being changes should control Our b, Love thou thy land 42

Being (continued) all the current of my b sets to thee.' Locksley Hall 24 and spoils My bliss in b; Lucretius 222
No Angel, but a dearer b, Princess vii 320
Her peaceful b slowly passes by Requiescat 7
And all the wheels of B slow. In Mem. l 4
His b working in mine own, In Mem. lxxxv 43
And strike his b into bounds, ,, Con. 124
b he loved best in all the world, Geraint and E. 103 and he felt his b move In music Balin and Balan 211 glad new-year Of B, which with earliest Lover's Tale i 282 Beknaved Gareth following was again b. Gareth and L. 786
Bel Till the face of B be brighten'd, Boädicea 16
Belabour'd so b him on rib and cheek Princess v 341
Belaud blush to b myself a moment— Hendecasyllabics 18
Beldam Then glided a vulturous B forth, Dead Prophet 25
Beleaguerer Blown by the fierce b's of a town, Achilles over the T. 20
Belfry white owl in the b sits. (repeat) The Owl I. 7, 14
Low breezes fann'd the b bars, The Letters 43
Belied liars b in the hubbub of lies; Maud I iv 51 Belief Think my b would stronger grow! Supp. Confessions 13 but my b In all this matter— Com. of Arthur 183 Beyond mine old b in womanhood, Lancelot and E. 955
I am quicker of b Than you believe me, ,, 1204 and he believed in her b. Holy Grail 165 or that which most Enchains b, Lover's Tale ii 134
Believable that he sinn'd is not b; Merlin and V. 760 Believe (See also Make-believes) Why not b then? Supp. Confessions 123
But I b she wept. Talking Oak 164
I b, if you were fast my wife, Enoch Arden 414
Save Christ as we b him— Aylmer's Field 573 Gods there are, for all men so b. Lucretius 117 there is iron in the blood, And I b it. Princess vi 231 we b him Something far advanced Ode on Well. 274 nor b me Too presumptuous, Hendecasyllabics 15
I heard a voice, 'b no more' In Mem. cxxiv 10 you wrong your beauty, b it, Maud I iv 17
Shall I b him ashamed to be seen? xiii 25
I well b You be of Arthur's Table,' Gareth and L. 835
I do b yourself against yourself, Geraint and E. 744 world will not b a man repents: ,, 900
I well b this damsel, and the one Balin and Balan 612
we b all evil of thy Mark— Merlin and V. 93 and half b her true: ,, 186
I well b that all about this world ,, 541
I well b she tempted them and fail'd, ,, 819
I might b you then, Who knows? ,, 922 noble it is, I well b, the noblest— Lancelot and E. 361
if I could b the things you say ,, 1097
I may not well b that you b.' ,, 1196
I am quicker of belief Than you b me, ,, 1205 with him, to b as he believed. Holy Grail 487
Our Lady says it, and we well b: ,, 604 greatest hardly will b he saw; ,, 896 lie to me: I b. Will ye not lie? Last Tournament 645
I should all as soon b that his, Guinevere 350 to b it—'tis so sweet a thought, Lover's Tale i 275 can well b, for he look'd so coarse In the Child. Hosp. 7
'O soul of little faith, slow to b! Columbus 147 who b These hard memorials ,, 195 speak the truth that no man may b.' Tiresias 50 were used to b everlasting would die: Despair 54
Did he b it? did you ask him? The Ring 225
That no man would b. Mechanophilus 28 Believed The woman cannot be b. The Letters 32
b This filthy marriage-hindering Aylmer's Field 373 when he came again, his flock b— ,, 600 and saw, but scarce b Sea Dreams 34 often she b that I should die: Princess vii 100
I b that in the living world My spirit ,, 157
Queen b that when her son Gareth and L. 158
Not less Geraint b it; Marr. of Geraint 28
I b myself Unconquerable, Geraint and E. 835
He spoke, and Enid easily b, ,, 874 and half b her true, (repeat) Merlin and V. 400, 893

Believed (continued) and he b in her belief. Holy Grail 165
One with him, to believe as he b. ,, 487 in vows when men b the King! Last Tournament 649 every knight B himself a greater ,, 677 we b her asleep again— In the Child. Hosp. 69
And if I b in a God, I would Despair 70 Believing B where we cannot prove; In Mem., Pro., 4 own soul to hers, B her; Pelleas and E. 84
B, 'lo mine helpmate, one to feel Guinevere 485
Only, b I loved Edith, Sisters (E. and E.) 138
b that the girl's Lean fancy, The Ring 335 people b that Peelè the Goddess Kapiolani 8 Bell (See also Ankle-bells, Bindweed-bell, Chapel Bell, Church-bell, Flower-bells, Marriage-bell) Nine times goes the passing b: All Things will Die 35 dropping low their crimson b's Half-closed, Arabian Nights 62 with white b's the clover-hill swells Sea-Fairies 14
The bridle b's rang merrily L. of Shalott iii 13
The foxglove cluster dappled b's.' Two Voices 72
The sweet church b's began to peal. ,, 108 in the towers I placed great b's that swung, Palace of Art 129 those great b's Began to chime. ,, 157 midnight b's cease ringing suddenly, D. of F. Women 247
At this a hundred b's began to peal, M. d'Arthur, Ep., 29 sound of funeral or of marriage b's; Gardener's D. 36 from them clash'd The b's; we listen'd; ,, 221
when the b's were ringing, Allan call'd Dora 41
I do not hear the b's upon my cap, Edwin Morris 56 blow The sound of minster b's. Talking Oak 272 shrill b rings, the censer swings, Sir Galahad 35
There comes a sound of marriage b's. The Letters 48 were wed, and merrily rang the b's, (repeat) Enoch Arden 80, 511 Merrily rang the b's and they were wed ,, 512 heard the pealing of his parish b's; ,, 615 hark the b For dinner, let us go!' Princess ii 432 the chapel b's Call'd us: we left ,, 470 half open'd b of the woods! ,, vi 193 like a b Toll'd by an earthquake ,, 331
Let the b be toll'd: (repeat) Ode on Well. 53, 58
Clash, ye b's, in the merry March air! W. to Alexandra 18 Saäint's daäy—they was ringing the b's. N. Farmer, N. S. 13
'lights and rings the gateway b, In Mem. viii 3
I hear the b struck in the night: ,, x 2
The Christmas b's from hill to hill ,, xxviii 3
Before I heard those b's again: ,, 16
The merry merry b's of Yule. ,, 20
One set slow b will seem to toll ,, lvii 10
A single peal of b's below, ,, civ 5
That these are not the b's I know. ,, 8
Ring out, wild b's, to the wild sky, ,, cvi 1
Ring, happy b's, across the snow: ,, 6
The dead leaf trembles to the b's. ,, Con. 64
Is cap and b's for a fool. Maud I vi 62
Not a b was rung, not a prayer was read; ,, II v 24 she tower'd; her b's, Tone under tone, Merlin and V. 131 ye, that follow but the leader's b' Holy Grail 298 thence at intervals A low b tolling. Lover's Tale ii 83 came on me The hollow tolling of the b, ,, iii 10 by slow degrees the sullen b Toll'd quicker, ,, 13
Four b's instead of one began to ring, ,, 20
Four merry b's, four merry marriage-bells, ,, 21 b's Lapsed into frightful stillness; ,, 29 again the b's Jangled and clang'd: ,, 52 the b's, Those marriage-bells, ,, iv 2 Heard yet once more the tolling b, ,, 29
we heard them a-ringing the b, First Quarrel 21 butted each other with clashing of b's, V. of Maeldune 108 the clash and boom of the b's rang ,, 110
The tolling of his funeral b Tiresias 192 Ring little b's of change Early Spring 41 b's that rang without a hand, The Ring 411 where the loyal b's Clash welcome— ,, 482
Bridal b's with tolling! . . . Forlorn 70
A spike of half-accomplish'd b's— To Ulysses 24 lin-lan-lone of evening b's Far-far-away. Far-far-away 5

Bell (continued) Faith and Work were b's of full accord, In Mem., W. G. Ward 2 many a pendent b and fragrant star, Death of Œnone 13 people ring the b from love to Thee. Akbar's Dream, Inscrip. 4 in praise of Whom The Christian b, Akbar's Dream 149 Twilight and evening b, Crossing the Bar 9

Bell'd See Milky-Bell'd

Bellerophon White Rose, B, the Jilt, The Brook 161

Bellicent (Queen) the Queen of Orkney, B, (repeat) Com. of Arthur 190, 245 last tall son of Lot and B, Gareth and L. 1
Then B bemoan'd herself and said, ,, 72 son Of old King Lot and good Queen B, ,, 1231

Belling Last in a roky hollow, b, heard Last Tournament 502

Bell-like many a deep-hued b-l flower Eleänore 37

Bell-mouth'd whom the b-m glass had wrought, Princess iv 155

Bellow'd (See also Beäl'd) ever overhead B the tempest, Merlin and V. 957

Bellowing (See also A-bealin', Hollower-bellowing) B victory, b doom: Ode on Well. 66
b thro' the darkness on to dawn, Gareth and L. 177 Hell burst up your harlot roofs B, Pelleas and E. 467

Bellringer Friars, b's, Parish-clerks— Sir J. Oldcastle 160

Belong'd booöks, I ha' see'd 'em, b to the Squire, Village Wife 71 an' 'is gells es b to the land; ,, 112 my Fathers b to the church of old, The Wreck 1

Belonging things b to thy peace and ours! Aylmer's Field 740
I knew it—Of and b to me, Lucretius 44

Beloved (See also Much-beloved, Well-beloved) Revered, b—O you that hold To the Queen 1
O this world's curse,—b but hated— Love and Duty 47
For love reflects the thing b; In Mem. lii 2
Maud the b of my mother, Maud I i 72 the liquid note b of men Comes Marr. of Geraint 336 friend, the neighbour, Lionel, the b, Lover's Tale i 653 b for a kindliness Rare in Fable On Jub. Q. Victoria 4
This ring 'Io t'amo' to his best b, The Ring 210

Belt (s) (See also Blossom-belt, Sword-belt) A gleaming crag with b's of pines. Two Voices 189 Unclasp'd the wedded eagles of her b, Godiva 43 glories of the broad b of the world, Enoch Arden 579
A b, it seem'd, of luminous vapour, Sea Dreams 209 ridge Of breaker issued from the b, ,, 212 same as that Living within the b) ,, 216 past into the b and swell'd again ,, 222 Half-lost in b's of hop and breadths of wheat; Princess, Con., 45
From b to b of crimson seas In Mem. lxxxvi 13
By summer b's of wheat and vine ,, xcviii 4 a mighty purse, Hung at his b, Geraint and E. 23 seem a sword beneath a b of three, Merlin and V. 510 faltering sideways downward to her b, ,, 850 crimson in the b a strange device, Holy Grail 154 round thee, maiden, bind my b. ,, 159

Belt (verb) woods that b the gray hill-side, Ode to Memory 55 and from the woods That b it rise Lover's Tale i 536 deeps that b the changeful West, Prog. of Spring 98

Belt (built) an' b long afoor my daäy Owd Roä 21

Belted with puff'd cheek the b hunter blew Palace of Art 63
B his body with her white embrace, Last Tournament 513

Bemoan'd Then Bellicent b herself and said, Gareth and L. 72

Bench Jack on his ale-house b has as many Maud I iv 9
I saw, No b nor table, painting Holy Grail 829
Down on a b, hard-breathing. Pelleas and E. 592

Bench'd stately theatres B crescent-wise. Princess ii 370

Bencher wrinkled b's often talk'd of him Aylmer's Field 473

Bend chafes me that I could not b One will; D. of F. Women 137
How sweet are looks that ladies b Sir Galahad 13 fathers b Above more graves, In Mem. xxviii 15
On me she b's her blissful eyes ,, Con. 29 tyranny now should b or cease, Maud III vi 20
O ay—the winds that b the brier! Last Tournament 731

Bending erect, but b from his height Aylmer's Field 119
b by the cradle of her babe. The Ring 415

Bengal For which, in branding summers of B, The Brook 16

Bent lowly b With melodious airs Adeline 54

Bent (continued) From yon blue heavens above us b L. C. V. de Vere 50
b or broke The lithe reluctant boughs Enoch Arden 380
b as he was To make disproof of scorn, Aylmer's Field 445
Nor b, nor broke, nor shunn'd Princess, Pro., 38 seal was Cupid b above a scroll, ,, i 242
B their broad faces toward us ,, iv 551
Her head a little b; and on her mouth ,, vi 269
The King b low, with hand on brow, The Victim 53 a straight staff b in a pool; High. Pantheism 16 thrice as large as man he b To greet In Mem. ciii 42 either spear B but not brake, Gareth and L. 964 b he seem'd on going the third day, Marr. of Geraint 604
B as he seem'd on going this third day, ,, 625 since her mind was b On hearing, Pelleas and E. 114 round him b the spirits of the hills Guinevere 283 but he B o'er me, and my neck Lover's Tale i 690 so feeble: she b above me, too; ,, 693 the mast b and the ravin wind ,, ii 170
And the pikes were all broken or b, The Revenge 80
Bow'd the spoiler, B the Scotsman, Batt. of Brunanburh 21
The plowman passes, b with pain, Ancient Sage 144

Bequeath'd This ring b you by your mother, The Ring 75

Bereave nothing can b him Of the force Ode on Well. 272

Berg goes, like glittering b's of ice, Princess iv 71

Berkshire weed the white horse on the B hills Geraint and E. 936

Berried about my feet The b briony fold.' Talking Oak 148

Berry With bunch and b and flower Œnone 102 red berries charm the bird, Gareth and L. 85
With ever-scattering berries, and on Last Tournament 173 Married among the red berries, First Quarrel 40 and the branch with berries on it, Columbus 73
And the crimson and scarlet of berries V. of Maeldune 61
But in every b and fruit was the ,, 62
Clomb the mountain, and flung the berries, Kapiolani 6 handle or gather the berries of Peelè! ,, 20
Into the flame-billow dash'd the berries, ,, 33

Beryl sardius, Chrysolite, b, topaz, Columbus 85

Beseech I do b you by the love you bear Enoch Arden 307

Beseem might well b His princess, Marr. of Geraint 758

Beseem'd true answer, as b Thy fëalty, M. d'Arthur 74 true answer, as b Thy fëalty, Pass. of Arthur 242

Besiege so b's her To break her will, Gareth and L. 616

Besieged (See also Strait-Besieged) b Ygerne within Tintagil, Com. of Arthur 198

Besotted A drowning life, b in sweet self, Princess vii 314
So far b that they fail to see Balin and Balan 359

Besought B him, supplicating, if he cared Enoch Arden 163
the knight b him, 'Follow me, Geraint and E. 807
B Lavaine to write as she devised Lancelot and E. 1103
B me to be plain and blunt, ,, 1301

Bess (horse) Black B, Tantivy, Tallyho, The Brook 160

Bess (Christian name) MILK for my sweet-'arts, B! Spinster's S's. 1
Mew! mew!—B wi' the milk! ,, 113
I says 'I'd be good to tha, B, Owd Roä 75

Bessy Marris 'bout B M's barne. N. Farmer, O. S. 14
B M's barne! tha knaws she laäid ,, 21

Best (See also Earthly-best, Heavenly-best) at b A vague suspicion of the breast: Two Voices 335 they say: Kind nature is the b: Walk to the Mail 64
b That ever came from pipe. Will Water. 75
He gave the people of his b: You might have won 25
His worst he kept, his b he gave. ,, 26
You chose the b among us—a strong man: Enoch Arden 293
Their b and brightest, when they dwelt Aylmer's Field 69
so true that second thoughts are b! Sea Dreams 65 Arising, did his holy oily b, ,, 195 sit the b and stateliest of the land? Lucretius 172 who love b have b the grace to know W. to Marie Alex. 28
I could have wept with the b. (repeat) Grandmother 20, 100 fur them as 'as it's the b. N. Farmer, N. S. 44
And do their little b to bite Lit. Squabbles 6
And cancell'd nature's b: In Mem. lxxii 20 Fair words were b for him who fights Gareth and L. 946 as the stateliest and the b Marr. of Geraint 20 my dear child is set forth at her b, ,, 728

Best (continued) arms for guerdon ; choose the b.' Geraint and E. 218 desired the humbling of their b, ,, 637 fairest and the b Of ladies living Balin and Balan 339
I, and all, As fairest, b and purest, ,, 350
I have seen ; but b, B, purest ? ,, 356
From homage to the b and purest, ,, 376 women, worst and b, as Heaven and Hell. Merlin and V. 815 Win shall I not, but do my b to win : Lancelot and E. 221
Young as I am, yet would I do my b.' ,, 222 with meats and vintage of their b ,, 266 Lives for his children, ever at its b ,, 336 when they love their b, Closest ,, 869 she deem'd she look'd her b, ,, 907 having loved God's b And greatest, ,, 1093
'Let love be free ; free love is for the b : ,, 1381
What should be b, if not so pure a love ,, 1383
Arthur kept his b until the last ; Holy Grail 763
'Then,' I said, 'I'm none o' the b.' First Quarrel 61
he would have been one of his b. Rizpah 28 our Lawrence the b of the brave : Def. of Lucknow 11 their marksmen were told of our b, ,, 19 sees the B that glimmers thro' the Worst, Ancient Sage 72 an' I knaws it be all fur the b. Spinster's S's. 52 Is girlish talk at b ; Epilogue 43 rank with the b, Garrick To W. C. Macready 6 so fickle are men—the b ! The Ring 392 and body is foul at b. Happy 28
Phra-Chai, the Shadow of the B, To Ulysses 41
The b in me that sees the worst in me, Romney's R. 44 the Highest is the wisest and the b, Faith 1
Bestial Courteous or b from the moment, Gareth and L. 631 Best-natured 'Which was prettiest, B-n ?' Princess i 234
,, ii 242
Bestrode he b my Grandsire, when he fell, St. S. Stylites 105
Bethink B thee, Lord, while thou and all Bethlehem Not least art thou, thou little B In Judah, Sir J. Oldcastle 24
Bethought Then she b her of a faded silk, Marr. of Geraint 134 and b her of her promise given ,, 602
b her how she used to watch, ,, 647
Betide All-arm'd I ride, whate'er b, Sir Galahad 83
I meet my fate, whatever ills b ! The Flight 95
Betray wouldst b me for the precious hilt ; M. d'Arthur 126
Break lock and seal : b the trust : You might have won 18
They know me not. I should b myself. Enoch Arden 789 and said, 'B me not, but help— Pelleas and E. 360 Simpler than any child, b's itself. Guinevere 371 wouldst b me for the precious hilt ; Pass. of Arthur 294 you knew that he meant to b me— Charity 12
Betray'd 'Thou hast b thy nature and thy name, M. d'Arthur 73
B my secret penance, so that all St. S. Stylites 68 let them know themselves b ; Aylmer's Field 524
b her cause and mine— Princess v 76
'Thou hast b thy nature and thy name, Pass. of Arthur 241
Betraying statesman there, b His party-secret, Maud II v 34
Betrothed (See also Long-betroth'd) her far-off cousin and b, The Brook 75
b To one, a neighbouring Princess : Princess i 32
I spake of why we came, And my b. ,, 120
B us over their wine, Maud I xix 39
Betrothment how the strange b was to end : Princess v 474
Betted they b ; made a hundred friends, Princess, Pro. 163
Better how much b than to own A crown, Ode to Memory 120
Were it not b not to be ?' Two Voices 3
Is boundless b, boundless worse. ,, 27
Surely 'twere b not to be. ,, 48
'Twere b not to breathe or speak, ,, 94
A murmur, 'Be of b cheer.' ,, 429
'Twere b I should cease Although To J. S. 66 are men b than sheep or goats M. d'Arthur 250
Something b than his dog, Locksley Hall 50
B thou wert dead before me, ,, 56
B thou and I were lying, ,, 57 held it b men should perish one by one, ,, 179
B to me the meanest weed Amphion 93

Better (continued) griefs Like his have worse or b, Enoch Arden 741
B not be at all Than not be noble. Princess ii 93
B to clear prime forests, ,, iii 127
Methinks he seems no b than a girl ; ,, 218
You hold the woman is the b man ; ,, iv 410
Almost our maids were b at their homes, ,, v 428
b or worse Than the heart of the citizen Maud I i 23 peace or war ? b, war ! loud war ,, 47 far b to be born To labour Maud I xviii 33 myself have awaked, as it seems, to the b mind ; ,, III vi 56
It is b to fight for the good ,, 57
A worse were b ; yet no worse would I. Gareth and L. 17
But truly foul are b, for they send ,, 947
b were I laid in the dark earth, Marr. of Geraint 97 sigh'd 'Was I not b there with him ?' Balin and Balan 292
b have died Thrice than have ask'd Merlin and V. 918
B the King's waste hearth and Guinevere 524 are men b than sheep or goats Pass. of Arthur 418
b that than his, than he The friend, Lover's Tale i 652
B have sent Our Edith thro' Sisters (E. and E.) 224
B a rotten borough or so Riflemen form ! 17
Go, therefore, thou ! thy b's went Will Water. 185
Thine elders and thy b's. ,, 192
Thy b born unhappily from thee, Aylmer's Field 675 in the distance pealing news Of b, Princess iv 82
My brother and my b, this man here, Balin and Balan 54
By striking at her b, miss'd, Merlin and V. 499
That they had the b In perils of battle Batt. of Brunanburh 84
And then I will let you a b.' By an Evolution. 4 ever cared to b his own kind, Sea Dreams 201 his work, That practice b's ?' Princess iii 299 voice that—you scarce could b that. Sisters (E. and E.) 14
B fifty years of Europe than a cycle Locksley Hall 184 for I love him all the b for it— Enoch Arden 196
B the waste Atlantic roll'd On her Third of Feb. 21
For himself has done much b. Spiteful Letter 4
I loved him b than play ; First Quarrel 12 an' I loved him b than all. ,, 14
I had b ha' put my naked hand in a hornets' nest. ,, 50 you had b ha' beaten me black an' blue ,, 72
Bettering ill for him who, b not with time, Will 10
Beugh (bough) togither like birds on a b ; North. Cobbler 54
Beverley Burnt too, my faithful preacher, B ! Sir J. Oldcastle 80
Bevy a b of Eroses apple-cheek'd, The Islet 11
Bewail Let golden youth b the friend, To Mary Boyle 53
Bewail'd maidens with one mind B their lot ; In Mem. ciii 46
Beware b Lest, where you seek Princess, vi 171
Bewitch'd thaw it wur summat b North. Cobbler 82
Bib their bottles o' pap, an' their mucky b's, Spinster's S's. 87
Bible oft at B meetings, o'er the rest Sea Dreams 194 read me a B verse of the Lord's good will Rizpah 61
But as a Latin B to the crowd ; Sir J. Oldcastle 18
Bicker To b down a valley. The Brook 26
And b's into red and emerald, Princess v 263 men may b with the things they love, Geraint and E. 325 and the points of lances b in it. ,, 449 Bicker'd Flicker'd and b From helmet Merlin and the G. 70 Bid Friends, I was b to speak of such a one Aylmer's Field 677 of him I was not b to speak— ,, 710 lest I should b thee live ; Princess vii 9 Dare I b her abide by her word ? Maud I xvi 25
b him bring Charger and palfrey.' Geraint and E. 400 my dear lord arise and b me do it, ,, 665
And b me cast it. ,, 707
we shall never b again Goodmorrow— Balin and Balan 622
I b the stranger welcome. Merlin and V. 270
She needs must b farewell to sweet Lavaine. Lancelot and E. 341 and b call the ghostly man Hither, ,, 1099 Send ! b him come ; ' but Lionel was away— Lover's Tale iv 101 when he came to b me goodbye. First Quarrel 78
I had b him my last goodbye ; Rizpah 41
Edith wrote : 'My mother b's me ask ' Sisters (E. and E.) 181
Not there to b my boy farewell, To Marq. of Dufferin 42 as 'ull hallus do as 'e's b.' Owd Roä 79
B him farewell for me, and tell him— Romney's R. 147

Bidden I knock'd and, b, enter'd ; Princess iii 130
Rise ! ' and the damsel b rise arose Merlin and V. 68
The foot that loiters, b go,— Last Tournament 117
Bidding b him Disband himself, and scatter Geraint and E. 797
And in my vision b me dream on, Lover's Tale ii 119
Bide 'Were this not well, to b mine hour, Two Voices 76
Will you not b your year as I b mine ?' Enoch Arden 438
Philip answer'd 'I will b my year.' ,, 439 why she should B by this issue : Princess v 326 bound am I to b with thee.' Gareth and L. 805
B ye here the while. Merlin and V. 97
'Go ! I b the while.' ,, 99
To whom the Lord of Astolat, 'B with us, Lancelot and E. 632
if I b, lo ! this wild flower for me !' ,, 644
B,' answer'd he : 'we needs must hear ,, 756
I cannot b Sir Baby. Pelleas and E. 190 yourselves : how can ye b at peace, ,, 265
But never let me b one hour at peace.' ,, 387 thou canst not b, unfrowardly, ,, 597 will draw me into sanctuary, And b my doom.' Guinevere 122
I b no more, I meet my fate, The Flight 95
Bided ever b tryst at village stile, Merlin and V. 378
They heard, they b their time. Bandit's Death 14
Bideford Men of B in Devon, The Revenge 17
Biding leave Thine easeful b here, Gareth and L. 128
Bier (See also Chariot-bier, Litter-bier) This truth came borne with b and pall, In Mem. lxxxv 1 cast him and the b in which he lay Geraint and E. 572
Till yonder man upon the b arise, ,, 657
Wreathed round the b with garlands : Lover's Tale ii 79 those six virgins which upheld the b, ,, 84 and all The vision of the b. ,, iii 11 those that held the b before my face, ,, 16 on the sand Threw down the b ; ,, 33
She from her b, as into fresher life, ,, 42
I stood stole beside the vacant b. ,, 58
I hate the black negation of the b, Ancient Sage 204
Who saw you kneel beside your b, Happy 54
THE bridal garland falls upon the b, D. of the Duke of C. 1
Big being apt at arms and b of bone Marr. of Geraint 489
Cried out with a b voice, 'What, is he dead ?' Geraint and E. 541 as b i' the mouth as a cow, Village Wife 103
Bigger With me, Sir, enter'd in the b boy, Princess ii 404
No b than a glow-worm shone the tent ,, iv 25
Bight the spangle dances in b and bay, Sea-Fairies 24 and flung them in b and bay, V. of Maeldune 53
Bill (beak) With that gold dagger of thy b The Blackbird 11
A golden b ! the silver tongue, ,, 13 Bill (parliamentary measure) I had heard it was this b that past, Walk. to the Mail 67
My lord, and shall we pass the b Day-Dm., Revival 27
Bill (an account) But 'e niver looökt ower a b, Village Wife 51
Bill of Sale (A b o s gleam'd thro' the drizzle) Enoch Arden 688 Billow (See also Flame-billow) to the b the fountain calls : Sea-Fairies 9 a b, blown against, Falls back, Two Voices 316 the wanton b wash'd Them over, Lover's Tale ii 9 the upblown b ran Shoreward ,, 178 flow'd away To those unreal b's : ,, 196 jarring breaker, the deep-sea b, Batt. of Brunanburh 97
Saxon and Angle from Over the broad b ,, 119
Billow'd heard The voice that b round Last Tournament 167
Billowing Blanching and b in a hollow of it, Lucretius 31
Enring'd a b fountain in the midst ; Princess ii 28 and his river b ran, Maud I iv 32
Billy (horse) 'B,' says 'e, 'hev a joomp !'— Village Wife 83
But B fell bakkuds o' Charlie, ,, 85
Billy-rough-un (horse) Fur he ca'd 'is 'erse B-r-u, ,, 84
Bin (See also Corn-bin) In musty b's and chambers, Will Water. 102
Bind cords that b and strain The heart Clear-headed friend 4
We must b And keep you fast, Rosalind 42
We'll b you fast in silken cords, ,, 49
b with bands That island Queen Buonaparte 2 an athlete, strong to break or b Palace of Art 153 Life, that, working strongly, b's— Love thou thy land 34
Bind (continued) rent The woodbine wreaths that b her, Amphion 34 Faster b's a tyrant's power ; Vision of Sin 128 dream That Love could b them closer Aylmer's Field 41 my vow B's me to speak, Princess ii 202 Psyche, wont to b my throbbing brow, ,, 250
b the scatter'd scheme of seven ,, Con. 8 he may read that b's the sheaf, In Mem. xxxvi 13
the frame that b's him in His isolation ,, xlv 11
I took the thorns to b my brows, ,, lxix 7
May b a book, may line a box, ,, lxxvii 6
King Will b thee by such vows, Gareth and L. 270 would b The two together ; Marr. of Geraint 790 what is worthy love Could b him, Lancelot and E. 1379 yet thee She fail'd to b, ,, 1385 round thee, maiden, b my belt. Holy Grail 159
'B him, and bring him in.' Pelleas and E. 232
B him as heretofore, and bring him in : ,, 271 Far less to b, your victor, and thrust him ,, 293
let my lady b me if she will, ,, 334
vow that b's too strictly snaps itself— Last Tournament 657
Had Arthur right to b them to himself ? ,, 684
To b them by inviolable vows, ,, 688
B me to one ? The wide world laughs ,, 695
What ! shall I b him more ? Lover's Tale iv 346
b the maid to love you by the ring ; The Ring 202 Binding b his good horse To a tree, Pelleas and E. 30
Bindweed-bell fragile b-b's and briony rings ; The Brook 203
Bine When burr and b were gather'd ; Aylmer's Field 113 berries that flamed upon b and vine, V. of Maeldune 61
Binn beeswing from a b reserved For banquets, Aylmer's Field 405 Birch (See also Birk) OUR b'es yellowing and from each Pro. to Gen. Hamley 1
Bird (See also Birdie, Wild-bird, Carrier-bird, Sea-bird) voice of the b Shall no more be heard, All Things will Die 24 heart of the garden the merry b chants. Poet's Mind 22
b would sing, nor lamb would bleat, Mariana in the S. 37 Not any song of b or sound of rill ; D. of F. Women 66 singing clearer than the crested b ,, 179 lusty b takes every hour for dawn : M. d'Arthur, Ep. 11
Sang loud, as tho' he were the b of day. Gardener's D. 96
These b's have joyful thoughts. ,, 99
Slides the b o'er lustrous woodland, Locksley Hall 162 every b of Eden burst In carol, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 43 Like long-tail'd b's of Paradise ,, Ep. 7 fly, like a b, from tree to tree ; Edward Gray 30
b that pipes his lone desire You might have won 31
Like the caged b escaping suddenly, Enoch Arden 269 lightning flash of insect and of b, ,, 575 beacon-blaze allures The b of passage, ,, 729
Philip chatter'd more than brook or b ; The Brook 51
'The b's were warm, (repeat) Aylmer's Field 260 Returning, as the b returns, at night, Sea Dreams 43 and every b that sings : ,, 102 b Makes his heart voice amid Lucretius 100
b or fish, or opulent flower : ,, 249 the b, the fish, the shell, the flower, Princess ii 383
As flies the shadow of a b, she fled. ,, iii 96 not see The b of passage flying south ,, 210 earliest pipe of half-awaken'd b's ,, iv 50 wild b's on the light Dash themselves dead. ,, 495 b's that piped their Valentines, ,, v 239 a b, That early woke to feed ,, vii 251
Make music, O b, in the new-budded W. to Alexandra 11
There is but one b with a musical throat, The Islet 27
And b in air, and fishes turn'd The Victim 19
B's love, and b's song Window, Spring 1
B's song and b's love, (repeat) ,, 3, 5
We'll be b's of a feather, ,, 14
Be merry, all b's, to-day, ,, Ay. 1
Like b's the charming serpent draws, In Mem. xxxiv 14
Wild b, whose warble, liquid sweet, ,, lxxxviii 1
Flits by the sea-blue b of March ; ,, xci 4
So loud with voices of the b's, ,, xcix 2 low love-language of the b ,, cii 11 happy b's, that change their sky ,, cxv 15

Bird (continued) I hear a chirp of b's; In Mem. cxix 5
Beginning, and the wakeful b; ,, cxxi 11
B's in the high Hall-garden (repeat) Maud I xvi 1, 25
B's in our wood sang ,, 9
And the b of prey will hover, ,, xx 28
Till a silence fell with the waking b, ,, xxii 17
My b with the shining head, ,, II iv 45 red berries charm the b, Gareth and L 85 b's made Melody on branch, ,, 182
'O b's, that warble to the morning sky, O b's that warble as the day goes by, ,, 1075
'What knowest thou of b's, ,, 1078 and as the sweet voice of a b, Marr. of Geraint 329 Moves him to think what kind of b it is ,, 331
by the b's song ye may learn the nest,' ,, 359
Among the dancing shadows of the b's, ,, 601 all about were b's Of sunny plume ,, 658 we will live like two b's in one nest. Geraint and E. 627 than all shriek of b or beast, Balin and Balan 545 the b Who pounced her quarry Merlin and V. 134 took his brush and blotted out the b, ,, 478 foul b of rapine whose whole prey ,, 728
Then as a little helpless innocent b, Lancelot and E. 894 b's of passage piping up and down, Holy Grail 146 once the shadow of a b Flying, Pelleas and E. 38 Beneath the shadow of some b of prey; ,, 608 head all night, like b's of prey, Last Tournament 138 like wild b's that change Their season Pass. of Arthur 38 sent his soul Into the songs of b's, Lover's Tale i 321
the b That will not hear my call, iv 159 togither like b's on a beugh; North. Cobbler 54
And a pinnace, like a flutter'd b, The Revenge 2 b's make ready for their bridal-time Sisters (E. and E.) 71
Some b's are sick and sullen when they moult. ,, 73 not arter the b's wi' 'is gun, Village Wife 41 a score of wild b's Cried V. of Maeldune 27
And the shouting of these wild b's ,, 33
And we left the dead to the b's ,, 36 flight of b's, the flame of sacrifice, Tiresias 6 b with a warble plaintively sweet The Wreck 81 b's could make This music in the b? Ancient Sage 21 shell must break before the b can fly. ,, 154 listen how the b's Begin to warble The Flight 60 whishper was sweet as the lilt of a b! Tomorrow 33 av the b 'ud come to me call, ,, 45 thy chuckled note, Thou twinkling b, Early Spring 38
The summer b is still, Prof. Poem Broth. S. 18
FAINT as a climate-changing b that flies Demeter and P. 1
I envied human wives, and nested b's, ,, 53 my ravings hush'd The b, ,, 109 b's that circle round the tower The Ring 85 B's and brides must leave the nest. ,, 89 bright b that still is veering there ,, 332
My b's would sing, You heard not. To Mary Boyle 18 scaled the buoyant highway of the b's, Prog. of Spring 80 Sing like a b and be happy, Parnassus 14 waked a b of prey that scream'd and past; Death of Œnone 87
Warble b, and open flower, Akbar's D., Hymn 7
Birdie Sleep, little b, sleep! Sea Dreams 282 Without her 'little b'? well then, ,, 283 sleep, And I will sing you 'b.' ,, 284
What does little b say ,, 293
Let me fly, says little b, ,, 295
B, rest a little longer, ,, 297
Baby says, like little b, ,, 303
Bird's-eye-view b-e-v of all the ungracious past Princess ii 125
Birk Shadows of the silver b A Dirge 5 ere thy maiden b be wholly clad, Prog. of Spring 50 Birth arms, or power of brain, or b To the Queen 3
The old earth Had a b, All Things will Die 38
Her temple and her place of b, Supp. Confessions 53 winds, as at their hour of b, The Winds, etc. 1
At the moment of thy b, Eleanore 15 range of evil between death and b, If I were loved 3 hadst not between death and b Two Voices 169

Birth (continued) From that first nothing ere his b Two Voices 332
Would God renew me from my b Miller's D. 27 slew him with your noble b. L. C. V. de Vere 48 Titanic forces taking b In divers Day-Dm., L'Envoi 17
'He does not love me for my b, Lady Clare 9 marriage, and the b Of Philip's child: Enoch Arden 708 one act at once, The b of light: Princess iii 326
The time draws near the b of Christ: In Mem. xxviii 1
Beyond the second b of Death. ,, xlv 16
Who breaks his b's individous bar, ,, lxiv 5
Evil haunts The b, the bridal; ,, xcviii 14
Memories of bridal, or of b, ,, xcix 15
The time draws near the b of Christ; ,, civ 1 Becoming, when the time has b, ,, cxiii 14 shaping an infant ripe for his b, Maud I iv 34 mine by a right, from b till death. ,, xix 42
By the home that gave me b, ,, II iv 7
'Knowest thou aught of Arthur's b?' Com. of Arthur 147 learn the secret of our Arthur's b.' ,, 159 the cloud that settles round his b Gareth and L. 130 had tended on him from his b, ,, 179 creatures voiceless thro' the fault of b, Geraint and E. 266 that weird legend of his b, Last Tournament 669 mystery From all men, like his b; Guinevere 298 govern a whole life from b to death, Lover's Tale i 76 like each other was the b of each! (repeat) ,, 197, 201 Gives b to a brawling brook, ,, 526
Rose of Lancaster, Red in thy b, Sir J. Oldcastle 53
Have I not been about thee from thy b? Columbus 148 and was noble in b as in worth, V. of Maeldune 3 sweet mother land which gave them b Tiresias 122 Youth and Health, and b and wealth, By an Evolution. 8 how far? from o'er the gates of B, Far-far-away 13
the b of a baseborn child. Charity 28 Birthday Each month, a b-d coming on, Will Water. 93 the night Before my Enid's b, Marr. of Geraint 458 given her on the night Before her b, ,, 633
I send a b line Of greeting; To E. Fitzgerald 45 on your third September b The Ring 130
And sent it on her b. ,, 211
She in wrath Return'd it on her b, ,, 212
And on your Mother's b—all but yours— ,, 248
This b, death-day, and betrothal ring, ,, 276
Your b was her death-day. ,, 301 forgotten it was your b, child— ,, 378
Your fifth September b. ,, 423
Every morning is thy b Akbar's D., Hymn 2 b came of a boy born happily dead. Charity 34
Biscay The B, roughly ridging eastward, Enoch Arden 529
Bishop Archbishop, B, Priors, Canons, Sir J. Oldcastle 159
Ay, an' ya seed the B. Church-warden, etc. 17 an' sits o' the B's throän. ,, 20 an' thou'll be a B yit. ,, 50 Bit (s) or b's of roasting ox Moan Lucretius 131 Nobbut a b on it's left, N. Farmer, O.S. 41 an' a nicetish b o' land. ,, N.S. 22
Vext me a b, till he told me First Quarrel 36
I am going to leave you a b— ,, 80
'tha mun breäk 'im off b by b.' North. Cobbler 88 jingle of b's, Shouts, arrows, Tiresias 93 like a b of yisther-day in a dhrame— Tomorrow 8
Now I'll gie tha a b o' my mind Church-warden, etc. 21
if tha wants to git forrads a b, ,, 49 Bit (verb) b his lips, And broke away. Dora 33 crack'd the helmet thro', and b the bone, Marr. of Geraint 573 clench'd her fingers till they b the palm, Lancelot and E. 611 an' a-squeälin, as if tha was b, Owd Roä 89 Bite (s) Showing the aspick's b.) D. of F. Women 160
An' it wasn't a b but a burn, Owd Roä 90
Bite (verb) b's it for true heart and not for harm, Princess, Pro., 174
And do their little best to b Lit. Squabbles 6
B, frost, b! (repeat) Window, Winter 7, 13
b far into the heart of the house, ,, 11
Biting b laws to scare the beasts of prey Princess v 393
Modred b his thin lips was mute, Gareth and L. 31

Bitten (See also Root-bitten) b the heel of the going year. Window, Winter 6 b into the heart of the earth, ,, 18 one whose foot is b by an ant, Pelleas and E. 184
Scratch'd, b, blinded, marr'd me Last Tournament 526

Bitter (See also Seeming-bitter, Wormwood-bitter) Failing to give the b of the sweet, D. of F. Women 286
O sweet and b in a breath, In Mem. xii 3
My own less b, rather more: vi 6
If I find the world so b ,, Maud I vi 33
Then the world were not so b (repeat) ,, 38, 94 canst abide a truth, Tho' b. Balin and Balan 502 she tempted them and fail'd, Being so b: Merlin and V. 820
b death must be: Love, thou art b; Lancelot and E. 1010

Bitterer Yet b from his readings: Aylmer's Field 553

Bitterly B weeping I turn'd away: (repeat) Edward Gray 6, 34
'B wept I over the stone: ,, 33 long and b meditating, Boädicea 35 spake the Queen and somewhat b, Guinevere 271

Bittern See Butter-bump

Bitterness Sweet in their utmost b, Supp. Confessions 117
Have fretted all to dust and b.' Princess vi 264 wake The old b again, In Mem. lxxxiv 47
By reason of the b and grief Com. of Arthur 210 they were, A b to me!— Last Tournament 41 his spirit From b of death. Lover's Tale i 143

Bivouac Gone the comrades of my b, Locksley H., Sixty, 45

Blabbing physician, b The case of his patient— Maud II v 36
Prophet, curse me the b lip, ,, 57

Black (See also Coal-black, Jet-black) B the garden-bowers and grots Arabian Nights 78
In the yew-wood b as night, Oriana 19 foreground b with stones and slags, Palace of Art 81 that hair More b than ashbuds Gardener's D. 28 in its coarse b's or whites, W. to the Mail 107
The streets were b with smoke In Mem. lxix 3
To b and brown on kindred brows. ,, lxxix 16 who alway rideth arm'd in b, Gareth and L. 636
B, with b banner, and a long b horn ,, 1366 ready on the river, clothed in b. Lancelot and E. 1123 Part b, part whiten'd with the bones Holy Grail 500
B as the harlot's heart— Pelleas and E. 468 Wear b and white, and be a nun Guinevere 677 stoled from head to foot in flowing b; Lover's Tale ii 85 bars Of b and bands of silver, ,, iv 59 better ha' beaten me b an' blue First Quarrel 72
An' yer hair as b as the night, Tomorrow 32
b in white above his bones. Locksley H., Sixty, 44
B with bridal favours mixt! Forlorn 69
B was the night when we crept away Bandit's Death 25
the dumb Hour, clothed in b, Silent Voices 1

Black (Sea) side of the B and the Baltic deep, Maud III v 51

Black-beaded Glancing with b-b eyes, Lilian 15

Black-bearded stern b-b kings with wolfish eyes, D. of F. Women 111

Black Bess (Horse) B B, Tantivy, Tallyho, The Brook 160

Blackbird (See also Merle) O B! sing me something well: The Blackbird 1 while the b on the pippin hung Audley Court 38
The b's have their wills, (repeat) Early Spring 5, 47

Black-blue b-b Irish hair and Irish eyes Last Tournament 404

Blackcap The b warbles, and the turtle purrs, Prog. of Spring 55

Black'd B with thy branding thunder, St. S. Stylites 76

Blacken pierces the liver and b's the blood; The Islet 35 bark and b innumerable, Boädicea 13
B round the Roman carrion, ,, 14 upon a throne, And b's every blot: Ded. of Idylls 28 City children soak and b Locksley H., Sixty, 218
b round The corpse of every man Romney's R. 122

Blacken'd (See also Pitch-blacken'd) So b all her world in secret, Princess vii 42
the walls B about us, ,, Con 110
His countenance b, and his forehead Balin and Balan 391

Blackening b over heath and holt, Locksley Hall 191
And b in the sea-foam sway'd Holy Grail 802
B against the dead-green stripes Pelleas and E. 554

Blackening (continued) b, swallow'd all the land, Guinevere 82
Was b on the slopes of Portugal, Sisters (E. and E.) 62

Blackest lie which is half a truth is ever the b of lies, Grandmother 30
To lie, to lie—in God's own house—the b of all lies! The Flight 52

Black-heart unnetted b-h's ripen dark, The Blackbird 7

Black-hooded Black-stoled, b-h, like a dream M. d'Arthur 197
Black-stoled, b-h, like a dream Pass. of Arthur 365

Blackness In the gross b underneath. Supp. Confessions 187
With b as a solid wall, Palace of Art 274
The b round the tombing sod, On a Mourner 27 dark was Uther too, Wellnigh to b; Com. of Arthur 330 she make My darkness b? Balin and Balan 193

Blackshadow'd there, b nigh the mere Gareth and L. 809

Blacksmith b border-marriage—one they knew— Aylmer's Field 263 b'e strips me the thick ov 'is airm, North. Cobbler 85

Black-stoled B-s, black-hooded, like a dream M. d'Arthur 197
B-s, black-hooded, like a dream Pass. of Arthur 365

Blackthorn never see The blossom on the b, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 8

Blackthorn-blossom b-b fades and falls and leaves the bitter sloe, The Flight 15

Black-wing'd the b-w Azrael overcame, Akbar's Dream 186

Blade (of grass) varying year with b and sheaf Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 1
In bud or b, or bloom, may find, ,, Moral 10
While life was yet in bud and b, Princess i 32 while the sun yet beat a dewy b, Geraint and E. 446 voice clings to each b of grass, Lancelot and E. 107
From buried grain thro' springing b, Demeter and P. 146

Blade (of sword) pure and true as b's of steel. Kate 16
My good b carves the casques of men, Sir Galahad 1
She bore the b of Liberty. The Voyage 72 struck out and shouted; the b glanced, Princess v 540 Geraint's, who heaved his b aloft, Marr. of Geraint 572
b so bright That men are blinded Com. of Arthur 300 but turn the b and ye shall see, ,, 303 these will turn the b.' Gareth and L. 1095 the b flew Splintering in six, Balin and Balan 395 waved his b To the gallant three hundred Heavy Brigade 9 drove the b that had slain my husband Bandit's Death 34

Blade (of dagger) with the b he prick'd his hand, Aylmer's Field 239
'From Edith' was engraven on the b. ,, 598

Blade (shoulder-bone) (See also Shoulder blade) arms were shatter'd to the shoulder b. Princess vi 52

Blain face deform'd by lurid blotch and b— Death of Œnone 72

Blame (s) But he is chill to praise or b. Two Voices 258 Joyful and free from b. D. of F. Women 80 Shall smile away my maiden b ,, 214
The crime of malice, and is equal b.' Vision of Sin 216
Nor yours the b—for who beside Aylmer's Field 735
Which he has worn so pure of b, Ode on Well. 72
I had such reverence for his b, In Mem. li 6 white blamelessness accounted b!' Merlin and V. 799 mine the b that oft I seem as he Last Tournament 115 Received unto himself a part of b, Lover's Tale i 786 lines I read Nor utter'd word of b, Pro. to Gen. Hamley 18

Blame (verb) in truth You must b Love. Miller's D. 192
'I have been to b—to b. Dora 159
I have been to b. Kiss me, my children.' ,, 161 Am I to b for this, St. S. Stylites 124 she had a will; was he to b? Princess i 48 yet I b you not so much for fear; ,, iv 506
'Ida—'sdeath! you b the man; ,, vi 221
'b not thyself too much,' I said, 'nor b ,, vii 255
They are all to b, they are all to b. Sailor Boy 20 knot thou the winds that make In Mem. xlix 10
b not thou thy plaintive song,' ,, lii 5
Nor b I Death, because he bare ,, lxxxii 9
Nor count me all to b if I ,, Con. 85
She did not wish to b him— Maud I xx 5
'Damsel,' he said, 'you be not all to b, Gareth and L. 1171 who should b me then?' Merlin and V. 661
'To b, my lord Sir Lancelot, much to b! Lancelot and E. 97 the girl was the most to b. First Quarrel 26
An' I felt I had been to b; ,, 90
You praise when you should b Epilogue 4

Blame (verb) (continued) the Priest is not to b, Happy 105
Blamed Shall love be b for want of faith? In Mem. li 10
Let love be b for it, not she, nor I: Gareth and L. 299
b herself for telling hearsay tales: Merlin and V. 951
Blameless b is he, centred in the sphere Ulysses 39
Wearing the white flower of a b life. Ded. of Idylls 25
Fearing the mild face of the b King, Geraint and E. 812
Yourself were first the b cause ,, 826
The b King went forth and cast ,, 932 fighting for the b King. ,, 970
Arthur the b, pure as any maid, Balin and Balan 479
Vivien should attempt the b King. Merlin and V. 164
Arthur, b King and stainless man?' ,, 779
And I myself, myself not b, Columbus 185
Blamelessness thy white b accounted blame!' Merlin and V. 799 Blanch breakers boom and b on the precipices, Boadicea 76
b the bones of whom she slew, Tiresias 150 ripple would hardly b into spray The Wreck 137 Blanche Two widows, Lady Psyche, Lady B; Princess i 128 who were tutors. 'Lady B' ,, 232 brought a message here from Lady B.' ,, ii 319
we saw The Lady B's daughter ,, 321 Lady B alone Of faded form ,, 447 sent for B to accuse her face to face; ,, iv 239 Lady B erect Stood up and spake, ,, 290 but B At distance follow'd: ,, vi 82
With kisses, ere the days of Lady B: ,, 114
she had authority—The Lady B: ,, 239
'Ay so?' said B: 'Amazed am I ,, 324
B had gone, but left Her child ,, vii 56
Not tho' B had sworn That after that dark night ,, 72
Blanched (See also Summer-blanched) Upon the b tablets of her heart; Isabel 17
B with his mill, they found; Enoch Arden 367 won it with a day B in our annals, Princess vi 63
How b with darkness must I grow! In Mem. lxi 8 wave, That b upon its side. Lover's Tale i 45 Blanching Or scatter'd b on the grass. Day-Dm., Arrival 12 confluence of watercourses B and Lucretius 31 chanted on the b bones of men?' Princess ii 199
b apricot like snow in snow. Prog. of Spring 30 Bland Shakespeare b and mild; Palace of Art 134 small his voice, But b the smile Princess i 115
And bless thee, for thy lips are b, In Mem. cxix 9 like the bountiful season b, Maud I iv. 3 Blandishment an accent very low In b, Isabel 20
Blank made b of crimeful record St. S. Stylites 158
As b as death in marble; Princess i 177
b And waste it seem'd and vain; ,, vii 42 rain On the bald street breaks the b day. In Mem. vii 12 some but carven, and some b, Gareth and L. 406 shield was b and bare without a sign ,, 414
B, or at least with some device Lancelot and E. 194
God wot, his shield is b enough. ,, 197
he roll'd his eyes Yet b from sleep, ,, 820 one to the west, and counter to it, And b: Holy Grail 255
the world as b as Winter-tide. Last Tournament 221 the goodly view Was now one b, Death of Œnone 4 Blanket When a b wraps the day, Vision of Sin 80
Blankly Had gazed upon her b and gone by: Merlin and V 161
Blare (s) With b of bugle, clamour of men, Ode on Well. 115
Lured by the glare and the b, V. of Maeldune 73
Blare (verb) Warble, O bugle, and trumpet, b! W. to Alexandra 14
To b its own interpretation— Lancelot and E. 943
Blared trumpet b At the barrier Princess v 485
Blaspheme So they b the muse! ,, iv 137
O God, I could b, for he fought Happy 15 Blasphemy troops of devils, mad with b, St. S. Stylites 4 filth, and monstrous blasphemies, Pass. of Arthur 114
B! whose is the fault? Despair 107
B! ay, why not, ,, 109
B! true! I have scared you ,, 111
But the b to my mind lies ,, 112
Blast (s) (See also Trumpet-blast) burst thro' with heated b's D. of F. Women 29 Blast (s) (continued) The b was hard and harder. The Goose 50 a b of sparkles up the flue: M. d' Arthur, Ep. 15 desires, like fitful b's of balm Gardener's D. 68
Cramming all the b before it, Locksley Hall 192 b's would rise and rave and cease, The Voyage 85 like the b of doom, Would shatter Enoch Arden 769 a b of trumpets from the gate, Princess, Pro. 42 the b and bray of the long horn v 252 storm and b Had blown the lake ,, The Daisy 70 To break the b of winter, stand; To F. D. Maurice 22 b's that blow the poplar white, In Mem. lxxii 3 Fiercely flies The b of North and East, ,, cvii 7 and a b, and overhead Thunder, Holy Grail 184 in the b there smote along the hall ,, 186 such a b, my King, began to blow, ,, 795
So loud a b along the shore and sea, ,, 796 could not hear the waters for the b, ,, 797 That turns its back on the salt b, Pelleas and E. 544 felt the b Beat on my heated eyelids: Lover's Tale iii 27
The b and the burning shame Rizpah 18 the b of that underground thunderclap Def. of Lucknow 32 a sudden b blew us out and away V. of Maeldune 10 to put forth and brave the b; Pref. Son. 19th. Cent. 8 with a howl and a hoot of the b The Wreck 91 still'd the b and strown the wave, Freedom 34 Blast (verb) I heard them b The steep slate-quarry, Golden Year 75 like a poisonous wind I pass to b Pelleas and E. 569 Blasted a sunbeam by the b Pine, Princess vii 196
'was b with a curse: D. of F. Women 103 years which are not Time's Had b him— Aylmer's Field 602
B and burnt, and blinded as I was, Holy Grail 844
So—your happy suit was b— Locksley H., Sixty 5
And sent him charr'd and b Happy 84 laurel is b by more than lightning! Parnassus 12
Blasting b the long quiet of my breast Lucretius 162
Blatant O b Magazines, regard me rather— Hendecasyllabics 17
One still strong man in a b land, Maud I x 63
Blaw (blossom) —wot's a beauty?—the flower as b's. N. Farmer, N.S. 15
Blawin' (blowing) wind b hard tother waäy, Owd Roä 104 Blaze (s) (See also Beacon-blaze) The b upon the waters to the east; The b upon his island overhead; The b upon the waters to the west; Enoch Arden 594 distant b of those dull banquets, Aylmer's Field 489 voice amid the b of flowers: Lucretius 101
Sat fifty in the b of burning fire; Spec. of Iliad 20
Her shadow on the b of kings: In Mem. xcviii 19 wayside blossoms open to the b. Balin and Balan 449
The incorporate b of sun and sea. Lover's Tale i 409 vast sun-clusters' gather'd b, Epilogue 54 betwixt the whitening sloe And kingcup b, To Mary Boyle 26
Made by the noonday b without, St. Telemachus 50 Blaze (verb) B upon her window, sun, Window, When 15 the sun b on the turning scythe, Geraint and E. 252
b the crime of Lancelot and the Queen.' Pelleas and E. 570 smouldering scandal break and b Guinevere 91
B by the rushing brook or silent well. ,, 400
B, making all the night a steam ,, 599
Blazed many a fire before them b: Spec. of Iliad 10 b before the towers of Troy, ,, 18 joy that b itself in woodland wealth Balin and Balan 82 thing was b about the court, Merlin and V. 743
B the last diamond of the nameless king. Lancelot and E. 444 heart's sad secret b itself ,, 836 heavens Open'd and b with thunder Holy Grail 508 the heavens open'd and b again ,, 516 in a moment when they b again ,, 523
The sunset b along the wall of Troy. Death of Œnone 77
Blazing See Far-blazing Blazon B your mottos of blessing W. to Alexandra 12 twelve great windows b Arthur's wars, Holy Grail 248 who shall b it? when and how?— ,, 255
Blazon'd from his b baldric slung L. of Shalott iii 15
Sweat on his b chairs; Walk. to the Mail 76
No b statesman he, nor king. You might have won 24

Blazon'd (continued) b lions o'er the imperial tent — Princess v 9
Bright let it be with its b deeds, — Ode on Well. 56
The giant windows' b fires, — The Daisy 58
b fair In diverse raiment — Palace of Art 167
Some b, some but carven, — Gareth and L. 406 if twain His arms were b also ; — ,, 413 all true hearts be b on her tomb — Lancelot and E. 1344 purple b with armorial gold. — Godiva 52 lamps b like Heaven and Earth — Princess i 223 monsters b what they were, — ,, iv 345
The prophet b on the panes ; — In Mem. lxxxvii 8 shield of Gawain b rich and bright, — Gareth and L. 416
All the devices b on the shield — Lancelot and E. 9
Blazoning silken case with braided b's, — ,, 1149 banners b a Power That is not seen — Akbar's Dream 137 Bleach'd wizard brow b on the walls : — Merlin and V. 597 lay till all their bones were b, — Lancelot and E. 43 Bleat b Of the thick-fleeced sheep — Ode to Memory 65 bird would sing, nor lamb would b, — Mariana in the S. 37 motherless b of a lamb in the storm — In the Child. Hosp. 64 Bleating I hear the b of the lamb. — May Queen, Con. 2
Sent out a bitter b for its dam ; — Princess iv 392
Bled when her Satrap b At Issus — Alexander 2
B underneath his armour secretly, — Geraint and E. 502
Bleed strain The heart until it b's, — Clear-headed friend 5
For which her warriors b, — Epilogue 35
Bleedeth my true breast B for both ; — To J. S. 63
Blemish stain or b in a name of note, — Merlin and V. 832
'Small b upon the skin ! — Dead Prophet 66
Blench make thee somewhat b or fail, — In Mem. lxii 2
Blend all their voices b in choric Hallelujah — Making of Man 7
Blent hatred of her weakness, b with shame. — Princess vii 30
Bless But that God b thee, dear— — Miller's D. 235
And b him for the sake of him (repeat) — Dora 70, 94
'God b him !' he said, 'and may he — ,, 149
And b me, mother, ere I go.' — Lady Clare 56
b him, he shall sit upon my knees — Enoch Arden 197
God b you for it, God reward you — ,, 424 softly whisper 'B, God b 'em : — Aylmer's Field 187
And forty blest ones b him, — ,, 372
God b the narrow sea which keeps — Princess, Con. 51
God b the narrow seas ! — ,, 70
O for thy voice to soothe and b ! — In Mem. lvi 26
And b thee, for thy lips are bland, — ,, cxix 9
That which we dare invoke to b ; — ,, cxxiv 1
And cried, 'God b the King, — Gareth and L. 698 vext his day, but b'es him asleep— — ,, 1286 God b you, my own little Nell.' — First Quarrel 22 the Saviour lives but to b. — Rizpah 64 that men May b thee as we b thee, — De Prof. Two G. 17 dream of a shadow, go—God b you. — To W. H. Brookfield 14
He b'es the wife. — To Prin. F. of H. 4
Love your enemy, b your haters, — Locksley H., Sixty 85 and b Their garner'd Autumn also, — Demeter and P. 146 and 'b' Whom ? even 'your persecutors' ! — Akbar's Dream 76 a woman, God b her, kept me from Hell. — Charity 4 Blessed See Blest
Blessedness Or is there b like theirs ? — In Mem. xxxii 16
Blessin' for a b 'ud come wid the green !' — Tomorrow 64 Blessing tell her that I died B her, — Enoch Arden 879 spent in b her and praying for her. — ,, 884 tell my son that I died b him. — ,, 885
b those that look on them. — Princess iii 256
B the wholesome white faces — Def. of Lucknow 101
B his field, or seated in the dusk — Demeter and P. 125
With b's beyond hope or thought, — Miller's D. 237
With b's which no words can find. — ,, 238
O b's on his kindly voice — May Queen, Con. 13
And b's on his whole life long, — ,, 14
O b's on his kindly heart — ,, 15 be tended by My b ! — Love and Duty 88 God's b on the day ! — Lady Clare 8
Pray'd for a b on his wife and babes — Enoch Arden 188 calling down a b on his head — ,, 327
And b's on the falling out — Princess ii 6

Blessing (continued) from Heaven A b on her labours — Princess ii 479
Blazon your mottoes of b and prayer ! — W. to Alexandra 12
My b, like a line of light, — In Mem. xvii 10
We yield all b to the name — ,, xxxvi 3 crown'd with b she doth rise — ,, xl 5
Why do they prate of the b's of Peace ? — Maud I i 21
she was deaf To b or to cursing — Geraint and E. 579 Thy b, stainless King ! — Merlin and V. 54 take withal Thy poet's b, — To the Queen ii 46 hold the hand of b over them, — Lover's Tale i 754 saved by the b of Heaven ! — Def. of Lucknow 104
'Bread—Bread left after the b ?' — Sir J. Oldcastle 154
From the golden alms of B — Locksley H., Sixty 87
Blest-Blessed And forty blest ones bless him, — Aylmer's Field 372 Sammy, I'm blest If it isn't the saäme oop yonder, — N. Farmer, N.S. 43 soul laments, which hath been blest, — D. of F. Women 281 fruit of thine by Love is blest, — Talking Oak 249
Thy name was blest within the narrow door ; — W. to Marie Alex. 38
Marie, shall thy name be blest, — ,, 39
As if the quiet bones were blest — In Mem. xviii 6 what may count itself as blest, — ,, xxvii 9 Thrice blest whose lives are faithful prayers, — ,, xxxii 13
my heart more blest than heart can tell, — Maud I. xviii 82
Blest, but for some dark undercurrent — ,, 83
'Blessed be thou, Sir Gareth ! — Gareth and L. 1258
They might as well have blest her : — Geraint and E. 578 blest be Heaven That brought thee — Holy Grail 616 Blessed are Bors, Lancelot and Percivale, — ,, 874 blessed be the King, who hath forgiven — Guinevere 634 Blest be the voice of the Teacher — Kapiolani 2 fancy made me for a moment blest — The form, the form 6
She desires no isles of the blest, — Wages 8
As she looks among the blest, — Maud II iv 84 in a dream from a band of the blest, — ,, III vi 10 fellowship Would make me wholly blest : — Balin and Balan 148 follow Edwin to those isles, those islands of the Blest ! — The Flight 42
I blest them, and they wander'd on : — Two Voices 424
A thousand times I blest him, — May Queen, Con. 16 bless'd herself, and cursed herself, — The Goose 15 say to Philip that I blest him too ; — Enoch Arden 886 Perceived the waving of his hands that blest. — Guinevere 584 saw not his daughter—he blest her : — To Prin. F. of H. 3
And they blest him in their pain, — The Revenge 20
Blew breeze of a joyful dawn b free — Arabian Nights 1
B his own praises in his eyes, — A Character 22 hunter b His wreathed bugle-horn. — Palace of Art 63 sweet Europa's mantle b unclasp'd, — ,, 117
The glass b in, the fire b out, — The Goose 49
Her cap b off, her gown b up, — ,, 51 full-fed with perfume, b Beyond us, — Gardener's D. 113
The hedge broke in, the banner b, — Day-Dm., Revival 9
A light wind b from the gates of the sun, — Poet's Song 3 from the tiny pitted target b — Aylmer's Field 93 the wind b ; The rain of heaven, — ,, 427 b the swoll'n cheek of a trumpeter, — Princess ii 364 bush-bearded Barons heaved and b, — ,, v 21
he b and b, but none appear'd : — ,, 336 stood four-square to all the winds that b ! — Ode on Well. 39
Last, the Prussian trumpet b ; — ,, 127
A milky-bell'd amaryllis b. — The Daisy 16 all the bugle breezes b Reveillée — In Mem. lxviii 7 Altho' the trumpet b so loud. — ,, xcvi 24 cloth of gold, the trumpets b, — Com. of Arthur 480 other b A hard and deadly note — Gareth and L. 1110 that ye b your boast in vain ?' — ,, 1229 and lights, and once again he b ; — ,, 1371 O'er the four rivers the first roses b, — Geraint and E. 764 and anon The trumpets b ; — Lancelot and E. 454 trumpets b Proclaiming his the prize, — ,, 500 sun Shone, and the wind b, thro' her, — Holy Grail 99
And b my merry maidens all about — ,, 748 to the summit, and the trumpets b. — Pelleas and E. 167 ever the wind b, and yellowing leaf — Last Tournament 154 Far off a solitary trumpet b. — Guinevere 529

Blew (continued) from the North, and b The mist aside, Pass. of Arthur 124 and b Fresh fire into the sun, Lover's Tale i 318 and b Coolness and moisture and all smells ,, iii 4 and b it far Until it hung, ,, 35 ever that evening ended a great gale b, The Revenge 114 topmost roof our banner of England b. (repeat) Def. of Lucknow 6, 30, 45, 60, 94 topmost roof our banner in India b. ,, 72 the old banner of England b. ,, 106 a sudden blast b us out and away V. of Maeldune 10 whirlwind blow these woods, as never b before. The Flight 12
All at once the trumpet b, Happy 75
Bleys (Merlin's master) (so they call him) B, Com. of Arthur 153
B Laid magic by, and sat him down, ,, 155
B, our Merlin's master, as they say, ,, 360 Blight (s) B and famine, plague and earthquake, Lotos-Eaters, C. S., 115
The b of low desires— Aylmer's Field 673
b Of ancient influence and scorn. Princess ii 168
And b and famine on all the lea: The Victim 46 like a b On my fresh hope, Maud I xix 102 b Lives in the dewy touch of pity Lover's Tale i 694
if the blossom can doat on the b, The Wreck 19
Blight (verb) Which would b the plants. Poet's Mind 18 Shall sharpest pathos b us, Love and Duty 85
b thy hope or break thy rest, Faith 2
Blighted 'your pretty bud, So b here, The Ring 317
Blind (sightless) (See also Half-blind, Hoodman-blind)
All night long on darkness b. Adeline 44 this dreamer, deaf and b, Two Voices 175 men, whose reason long was b, ,, 370 parch'd and wither'd, deaf and b, Fatima 6 those, not b, who wait for day, Love thou thy land 15 almost b, And scarce can recognise St. S. Stylites 39 mate is b and captain lame, The Voyage 91 b or lame or sick or sound, ,, 93 for he groped as b, and seem'd Aylmer's Field 821 wept her true eyes b for such a one, Princess iv 134
b with rage she miss'd the plank, ,, 177
I cried myself well-nigh b, Grandmother 37
And shall I take a thing so b, In Mem. iii 13
He would not make his judgment b, ,, xvi 14 not b To the faults of his heart Maud I xix 67
He mark'd not this, but b and deaf Balin and Balan 318 were I stricken b That minute, Lancelot and E. 426 one hath seen, and all the b will see. Holy Grail 313 on the splendour came, flashing me b; ,, 413 thrice as b as any noonday owl, ,, 866
Being too b to have desire to see. ,, 872
Mute, b and motionless as then I lay; Lover's Tale i 607
B, for the day was as the night ,, 610
Almost b With ever-growing cataract, Sisters (E. and E.) 191
'Henceforth be b, for thou hast seen Tiresias 49
Or power as of the Gods gone b Ancient Sage 80 leave him, b of heart and eyes, ,, 113
For wert thou born or b or deaf, ,, 175
no man halt, or deaf or b; Locksley H., Sixty, 163 Fur the dog's stoän-deäf, an' e's b, Owd Roä 2 an' seeäm'd as b as a poop, ,, 101
A barbarous people, B to the magic, Merlin and the G. 26
Blind (screen) (See also Lattice-blind) Sometimes your shadow cross'd the b. Miller's D. 124
Blind (verb) lest the gems Should b my purpose, M. d'Arthur 153
Ere yet they b the stars, Tithonus 39
To b the truth and me: Princess iii 112
He shall not b his soul with clay.' ,, vii 331 good King means to b himself, Merlin and V. 783 b's himself and all the Table Round ,, 784 lest the gems Should b my purpose, Pass. of Arthur 321
b your pretty blue eyes with a kiss! Romney's R. 101 Blinded (See also Half-blinded, Self-blinded) those whom passion hath not b, Ode to Memory 117 blissful tears b my sight Oriana 23 and b With many a deep-hued Eleänore 36 Droops b with his shining eye: Fatima 38

Blinded (continued) I, b with my tears, 'Still strove D. of F. Women 108
Not with b eyesight poring Locksley Hall 172 so bright That men are b by it— Com. of Arthur 301
Blasted and burnt, and b as I was, Holy Grail 844
Scratch'd, bitten, b, marr'd me Last Tournament 526
Too early b by the kiss of death— Romney's R. 103
May leave the windows b, ,, 146
He stumbled in, and sat B; St. Telemachus 49
Blinder Nature made them b motions Locksley Hall 150
'Gawain, and b unto holy things Holy Grail 870
Blind Fate Rail at 'B F' with many Doubt and Prayer 2
Blindfold Drug down the b sense of wrong In Mem. lxxi 7 from what side The b rummage Balin and Balan 416
Blinding Struck up against the b wall. Mariana in the S. 56
Dash'd together in b dew: Vision of Sin 42 his fire is on my face B, Lucretius 145 raised the b bandage from his eyes: Princess i 244 suck the b splendour from the sand, ,, vii 39 all in mail Burnish'd to b, Gareth and L. 1027
Are b desert sand; we scarce can Akbar's Dream 30
Blindless the b casement of the room, Marr. of Geraint 71
Blindly That read his spirit b wise, Two Voices 287
And, while now she wonders b, L. of Burleigh 53
'The stars,' she whispers, 'b run; In Mem. iii 5
And staggers b ere she sink? ,, xvi 14 muffled motions b drown ,, xix 15
b rush'd on all the rout behind. Geraint and E. 466 Blindness That in this b of the frame In Mem. xciii 15 for talk Which lives with b, Sisters (E. and E.) 249 curse Of b and their unbelief, Tiresias 59
Blink those that did not b the terror, Gareth and L. 1402
Blinkt B the white morn, sprays grated, Balin and Balan 385
Bliss Then in madness and in b, Madeline 42
Weak symbols of the settled b, Miller's D. 233 Above the thunder, with undying b Œnone 132
'Trust me, in b I shall abide Palace of Art 18 move Me from my b of life, D. of F. Women 210
I rose up Full of his b, Gardener's D. 211
A man had given all other b, Sir L. and Q. G. 42
I shall see him, My babe in b: Enoch Arden 898 and spoils My b in being; Lucretius 222
A central warmth diffusing b In Mem. lxxxiv 6
I triumph in conclusive b, ,, lxxxv 91
O b, when all in circle drawn ,, lxxxix 21
With gods in unconjectured b, ,, xciii 10
A wither'd violet is her b: ,, xcvii 26
For fuller gain of after b: ,, cxvii 4
Nor have I felt so much of b ,, Con. 5
Make answer, Maud my b, Maud I xviii 57
My dream? do I dream of b? ,, xix 3
Sun, that wakenest all to b or pain, Gareth and L. 1060 thrills of b That strike across the soul Lover's Tale i 363
b stood round me like the light of Heaven,— ,, 495 tell him of the b he had with God— ,, 674 sunder'd With smiles of tranquil b, ,, ii 143
O b, what a Paradise there! V. of Maeldune 78 whose one b Is war, and human sacrifice— Tiresias 111 Twelve times in the year Bring me b, The Ring 6
'Sleep, little blossom, my honey, my b! Romney's R. 99
I had one brief summer of b. Bandit's Death 9
Blissful here are the b downs and dales, Sea-Fairies 22
While b tears blinded my sight Oriana 23
As from some b neighbourhood, Two Voices 430 sleep down from the b skies. Lotos-Eaters, C.S. 7 With b treble ringing clear. Sir L. and Q. G. 22
b palpitations in the blood, Princess iv 28
B bride of a b heir, W. to Alexandra 27 led him thro' the b climes, In Mem. lxxxv 25
On me she bends her b eyes ,, Con. 29
Blister'd B every word with tears, Forlorn 81
Blistering bared her forehead to the b sun, Geraint and E. 515
Blithe New-year b and bold, my friend, D. of the O. Year 35
B would her brother's acceptance be. Maud I x 27
Bloat b himself, and ooze All over Sea Dreams 154

Bloated forehead veins B, and branch'd ; Balin and Balan 392 merry b things Shoulder'd the spigot, Guinevere 267 Block (s) (See also Yule-block) on black b's A breadth of thunder. Princess iii 291 as a b Left in the quarry ; ,, vii 230 (Huge b's, which some old trembling Lover's Tale ii 45
Block (verb) b and bar Your heart with system Princess iv 462
Block'd knew mankind, And b them out ; ,, vi 328
Blockish No coarse and b God of acreage Aylmer's Field 651
Blonde rosy b, and in a college gown, Princess ii 323
Blood And leave us rulers of your b To the Queen 21
Ice with the warm b mixing ; All Things will Die 33
Which mixing with the infant's b, Supp. Confessions 61 till his own b flows About his hoof. ,, 155 was no b upon her maiden robes The Poet 41
I feel the tears of b arise Oriana 77 her sacred b doth drown The fields, Poland 4
A matter to be wept with tears of b ! ,, 14
Till her b was frozen slowly, L. of Shalott iv 30
It was the stirring of the b. Two Voices 159
'He knows a baseness in his b ,, 301
The prudent partner of his b ,, 415 my swift b that went and came Fatima 16
my vigour, wedded to thy b, Œnone 161
She mix'd her ancient b with shame. The Sisters 8 phantasms weeping tears of b, Palace of Art 239
The guilt of b is at your door : L.C.V. de Vere 43
And simple faith than Norman b, ,, 56 ever-shifting currents of the b D. of F. Women 133
That Principles are rain'd in b ; Love thou thy land 80
Who sprang from English b ! England and Amer. 10 his brow Striped with dark b : M. d'Arthur 212 Vex'd with a morbid devil in his b Walk. to the Mail 19
'The slight she-slips of loyal b, Talking Oak 57 felt my b Glow with the glow Tithonus 55 stays the b along the veins. Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 4 grapes with bunches red as b ; ,, 44
Ah, blessed vision ! b of God! Sir Galahad 45
Let Whig and Tory stir their b ; Will Water. 53
To make my b run quicker, ,, 110
And I,' said he, 'the next in b— Lady Clare 84
Burnt in each man's b. The Captain 16
scatter'd B and brains of men. ,, 48
In their b, as they lay dying, ,, 55
'We are men of ruin'd b ; Vision of Sin 99 down thro' all his b Drew in Enoch Arden 659 now there is but one of all my b ,, 892 distant kinship to the gracious b Aylmer's Field 62 to flush his b with air, ,, 459 redden'd with no bandit's b : ,, 597 Runs in a river of b to the sick sea. ,, 768 swept away The men of flesh and b, Sea Dreams 237 Confused the chemic labour of the b, Lucretius 20 thought that all the b by Sylla shed ,, 47 keep him from the lust of b ,, 83 strikes thro' the thick b Of cattle, ,, 98 lust or lusty b or provender : ,, 198 made her b in sight of Collatine ,, 238 none of all our b should know Princess i 8 thoughts enrich the b of the world.' ,, ii 181
b Was sprinkled on your kirtle, ,, 273
That was fawn's b, not brother's, ,, 275 blissful palpitations in the b, ,, iv 28 what mother's b You draw from, Princess v 404
The brethren of our b and cause, ,, vi 71 dabbled with the b Of his own son, ,, 104
'I've heard that there is iron in the b, ,, 230 faith in womankind Beats with his b, ,, vii 329
Mourn for the man of long-enduring b, Ode on Well. 24 Shall lash all Europe into b ; To F. D. Maurice 34 pierces the liver and blackens the b ; The Islet 35
To spill his b and heal the land : The Victim 44 anger, not by b to be satiated. Boädicea 52
Into my heart and my b ! Window, Marr. Morn. 16
I seem to fail from out my b In Mem. ii 15

Blood (continued) Or crush her, like a vice of b, In Mem. iii 15
Moved in the chambers of the b ; ,, xxiii 20
Oh, sacred be the flesh and b ,, xxxiii 11
This use may lie in b and breath, ,, xlv 13
b creeps, and the nerves prick ,, l 2
Defects of doubt, and taints of b ; ,, liv 4
O Sorrow, wilt thou rule my b, ,, lix 5
Delayest the sorrow in my b, In Mem. lxxxiii 14 branches of thy b ; Thy b, my friend, In Mem. lxxxiv 8
My b an even tenor kept, ,, lxxxv 17
Ring out false pride in place and b, ,, cvi 21
Thro' all the years of April b ; ,, cix 12
By b a king, at heart a clown ; ,, cxi 4
Till all my b, a fuller wave, ,, cxxii 12
And the great Æon sinks in b, ,, cxxvii 16
Remade the b and changed the frame, ,, Con. 11 drip with a silent horror of b, Maud I i 3 sweeter b by the other side ; ,, xiii 34 never yet so warmly ran my b ,, xviii 3 household Fury sprinkled with b ,, xix 32 true b spilt had in it a heat ,, 44 soul of the rose went into my b, ,, xxii 33
A cry for a brother's b : ,, II i 34
Am I guilty of b ? ,, ii 73 fear they are not roses, but b ; ,, v 78 sun with smoke and earth with b, Com. of Arthur 37 and clarions shrilling unto b, ,, 103
And mine is living b : Gareth and L. 10
he had glamour enow In his own b, ,, 210 that best b it is a sin to spill.' ,, 600
ev'n Sir Lancelot thro' his warm b ,, 1398 Prince's b spirted upon the scarf, Marr. of Geraint 208 fail'd to draw The quiet night into her b, ,, 532
b Of their strong bodies, flowing, ,, 568 nay ; I do not mean b : Geraint and E. 338 fearing for his hurt and loss of b, ,, 777 nature's prideful sparkle in the b ,, 827 vicious quitch Of b and custom ,, 904
Fill'd all the genial courses of his b ,, 927
Born with the b, not learnable, Balin and Balan 175 starve not thou this fire within thy b, ,, 453
Reputed to be red with sinless b, ,, 557
If I were Arthur, I would have thy b. Merlin and V. 53
As clean as b of babes, ,, 344 for my b Hath earnest in it ,, 556 sin that practice burns into the b, ,, 762 pale b of the wizard at her touch ,, 949 Red as the rising sun with heathen b, Lancelot and E. 308
the b Sprang to her face and fill'd ,, 376
And half his b burst forth, ,, 517
For twenty strokes of the b, ,, 720 far b, which dwelt at Camelot ; ,, 803 when the b ran lustier in him again, ,, 881
Ev'n to the death, as tho' ye were my b, ,, 960
Was rather in the fantasy than the b. ,, 1132 what are they ? flesh and b ? ,, 1256 no further off in b from me Than sister ; Holy Grail 69
White Horse in his own heathen b— ,, 312 my b danced in me, and I knew ,, 366
Our race and b, a remnant ,, 663
b beats, and the blossom blows, ,, 671 slept that night for pleasure in his b, Pelleas and E. 138 have risen against me in their b ,, 461
No b of mine, I trow ; Last Tournament 201 be no rubies, this is frozen b, ,, 413 Showing a shower of b in a field noir, ,, 433 flesh and b Of our old kings : ,, 686 flesh and b perforce would violate : ,, 689 comforted the b With meats and wines, ,, 724 reverencing king's b in a bad man, Guinevere 37
To save his b from scandal, ,, 514 drew Down with his b, till all his heart Pass. of Arthur 97 a brow Striped with dark b : ,, 380 countenance with quick and healthful b— Lover's Tale i 97
And hourly visitation of the b, ,, 206

Blood (continued) stream of life, one stream, one life, one b, Lover's Tale i 239
As mountain streams Our b's ran free: ,, 327
I was as the brother of her b, ,, 559
my b Crept like marsh drains ,, ii 52
I weänt shed a drop on 'is b, North. Cobbler 114
Now reddest with the b of holy men, Sir J. Oldcastle 54 a cross of flesh and b And holier. ,, 137 Blue b of Spain, Columbus 114 blue b and black b of Spain, ,, 116 innocent hospitalities quench'd in b, ,, 176 and the boast of our ancient b, V. of Maeldune 88 red with b the Crescent reels Montenegro 6
All the field with b of the fighters Flow'd, Batt. of Brunanburh 24 wholesome heat the b had lost, To E. Fitzgerald 24 crowd would roar For b, for war, Tiresias 65 Spain in his b and the Jew— The Wreck 15 are both of them turn'd into b, Despair 91
Her b is in your bloom. Ancient Sage 166 evil thought may soil thy children's b; ,, 275 yer Honour's the thrue ould b Tomorrow 5 on that founder of our b. Locksley H., Sixty 32 shriek'd and slaked the light with b. ,, 90
Like drops of b in a dark-gray sea, Heavy Brigade 43
O follow, leaping b, Early Spring 25 Their idol smear'd with b, Freedom 28 crescent moon, and changed it into b. Happy 44 Diffuse thyself at will thro' all my b, Prog. of Spring 24 hopes, which race the restless b, ,, 115 herb or balm May clear the b from poison, Death of Œnone 36 as he yell'd of yore for Christian b. St. Telemachus 46 dust send up a steam of human b, ,, 53 hour Dark with the b of man ,, 80 warms the b of Shiah and Sunnee, Akbar's Dream 107 gentleman, heart, b and bone, Bandit's Death 2
For he reek'd with the b of Piero; ,, 13 a ray red as b Glanced on the strangled face— ,, 31
Rang the stroke, and sprang the b, The Tourney 9
Blood-eagle red 'B-e' of liver and heart; Dead Prophet 71 Blooded See Cold-blooded, Pale-blooded
Bloodier the hands of power Were b, Aylmer's Field 453
Bloodily B flow'd the Tamesa rolling Boädicea 27
B, b fall the battle-axe, ,, 56
Bloodless now, the b point reversed, The Voyage 71
b east began To quicken to the sun, Marr. of Geraint 534 Blood-red dabbled with b-r heath, Maud I i 2 flames The b-r blossom of war ,, III vi 53 the b-r light of dawn Flared Lancelot and E. 1025 but always in the night B-r, and sliding down the blacken'd marsh B-r, and on the naked mountain top B-r, and in the sleeping mere below B-r. Holy Grail 473
In b-r armour sallying, Last Tournament 443 himself B-r from battle, Tiresias 113 Bloodshed hold were all as free From cursed b, Gareth and L. 599 Bloody shovell'd up into some b trench Audley Court 42 see the raw mechanic's b thumbs Walk. to the Mail 75
Where the b conduit runs, Vision of Sin 144 take such b vengeance on you both?— Princess iv 534 Bloom (s) (See also Chestnut-bloom, Milk-bloom, Orange-bloom) inlay Of braided b's unmown, Arabian Nights 29 lovely freight Of overflowing b's, Ode to Memory 17 throng with stately b's the breathing spring The Poet 27 Whence that aery b of thine, Adeline 11 violet eyes. and all her Hebe b, Gardener's D. 137
In bud or blade, or b, may find, Day-Dm., Moral 10 many a slope was rich in b To E. L. 20 fair in our sad world's best b, The Brook 218 scatter'd, each a nest in b. Aylmer's Field 150 cheek and bosom brake the wrathful b Princess iv 383 bud ever breaks into b on the tree, The Islet 32
The chestnut towers in his b; Voice and the P. 18
b profuse and cedar arches Charm, Milton 11 not for thee the glow, the b, In Mem. ii 9
And every spirit's folded b ,, xliii 2
Bloom (s) (continued) Which sicken'd every living b, In Mem. lxxii 7 over brake and b And meadow, ,, lxxxvi 3
And passion pure in snowy b ,, cix 11 azure b of a crescent of sea, Maud I iv 5 wild-wood hyacinth and the b of May. Balin and Balan 271 and her b A rosy dawn kindled Pelleas and E. 71 ribb'd And barr'd with b on b. Lover's Tale i 416
We was busy as beeäs i' the b North. Cobbler 15
Edith—all One b of youth, Sisters (E. and E.) 120
'How far thro' all the b'and brake Ancient Sage 19
wake The b that fades away? ,, 94
Her blood is in your b. ,, 166 lifts her buried life from gloom to b, Demeter and P. 98 rounder cheek had brighten'd into b. The Ring 351 vernal b from every vale and plain To Mary Boyle 9
Bloom (verb) She saw the water-lily b, L. of Shalott iii 39
Lotos b's below the barren peak: Lotos-Eaters, C.S. 100 b's the garden that I love. Gardener's D. 34
That if it can it there may b, In Mem. viii 23 from marge to marge shall b the eternal landscape ,, xlvi 7
Will b to profit, otherwhere. ,, lxxxii 12 hearts are warm'd and faces b, ,, Con. 82 my white heather only b's in heaven Romney's R. 110 B's in the Past, but close to me to-day Roses on the T. 6
Bloomed thro' The low and b foliage, Arabian Nights 13
Blooming The maid-of-honour b fair; Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 28
By Cupid-boys of b hue— ,, Ep. 10 her b mantle torn, Princess vi 145
Blossom (s) (See also Almond-blossom, Apple-blossom, Blackthorn-blossom, Lake-blossom, May-blossom, Orange-blossom) Atween the b's, 'We are free.' The Winds, etc. 8
Bursts into b in his sight. Fatima 35
He prest the b of his lips to mine, Œnone 78
The b on the blackthorn, the leaf May Queen, N. Y's. E. 8
As we bear b of the dead; Love thou thy land 94
b fades, and they that loved Walk. to the Mail 57
The maiden b's of her teens Talking Oak 79 break In full and kindly b. Will Water. 24 as Nature packs Her b or her seedling, Enoch Arden 179
With here a b sailing, The Brook 56
Gather'd the b that rebloom'd, Aylmer's Field 142
Into a land all sun and b, Sea Dreams 101 caught the b of the flying terms, Princess, Pro. 164
Perch'd on the pouted b of her lips: ,, 199
Fruit, b, viand, amber wine, and gold. ,, iv 35 my babe, my b, ah, my child, ,, v 82 lay my little b at my feet, ,, 100 the b wavering fell, ,, vi 80
Scatter the b under her feet! W. to Alexandra 9 Or rosy b in hot ravine, The Daisy 32 they tumble the b, the mad little tits! Window, Ay. 9
The tender b flutter down, In Mem. ci 2 flames The blood-red b of war Maud III vi 53 sun, and rain! and the free b flows: Com. of Arthur 409 near her, like a b vermeil-white, Marr. of Geraint 364 tints the b of the quince Balin and Balan 267 wayside b's open to the blaze. ,, 449 that will strike my b dead. Lancelot and E. 971 blood beats, and the b blows, Holy Grail 671 groves that look'd a paradise Of b, Guinevere 390 little b, O mine, and mine To A. Tennyson 4
Had set the b of her health again, Sisters (E. and E.) 151
And starr'd with a myriad b V. of Maeldune 40
B and b, and promise of b, ,, 51
if the b can doat on the blight, The Wreck 19 tastes the fruit before the b falls, Ancient Sage 75 Jet upward thro' the mid-day b. Demeter and P. 47 hillock, Would break into b; Merlin and the G. 108
'Sleep, little b, my honey, my bliss! Romney's R. 99
From each fair plant the b choicest-grown Akbar's Dream 22 Blossom (verb) A little garden b. Amphion 104 wilderness shall b as the rose. Aylmer's Field 649 buds and b's like the rest. In Mem. cxv 20
And b in purple and red. Maud I xxii 74

Blossom (verb) (continued) where the winter thorn B's at Christmas, Holy Grail 52
b an' spring from the grass, Tomorrow 89
B again on a colder isle. To Prof. Jebb 12
Blossom-ball Made b-b or daisy-chain, Aylmer's Field 87
Blossom-belt Above the garden's glowing b-b's, Princess v 363
Blossom-dust like the working bee in b-d, Enoch Arden 366
Foot-gilt with all the b-d Merlin and V. 282
Blossom'd (adj.) (See also Daisy-blossomed, Heavy-blossom'd) white robe like a b branch Princess iv 179
On the b gable-ends Maud I vi 9
O b portal of the lonely house, Lover's Tale i 280
Blossom'd (verb) branch'd And b in the zenith, Enoch Arden 586
b up From out a common vein Princess ii 313 when the wreath of March has b, To F. D. Maurice 43 Great garlands swung and b; Lover's Tale iv 191
Blossom-flake elmtree's ruddy-hearted b-f To Mary Boyle 3
Blossom-fragrant b-f slipt the heavy dews Princess v 243
Blossoming (See also Many-blossoming) and the happy b shore? Sea-Fairies 8
Blot (s) With b's of it about them, Aylmer's Field 620
'Tis the b upon the brain Maud II iv 60
a throne, And blackens every b: Ded. of Idylls 28 Gareth's eyes had flying b's Gareth and L. 1031 square of text that looks a little b, Merlin and V. 671 Far-off, a b upon the stream, Lancelot and E. 1392
A b in heaven, the Raven, Guinevere 133
Blot (verb) B out the slope of sea Princess vii 38
Blotch face deform'd by lurid b and blain— Death of Œnone 72
Blotted (See also Mist-blotted) took his brush and b out the bird, Merlin and V. 478 Blow (s) (See also Death-blow, Head-blow) O cursed hand! O cursed b! Oriana 82 stood like one that had received a b: Sea Dreams 161 red-hot iron to be shaped with b's. Princess v 209 clench'd his purpose like a b! ,, 306 b's rain'd, as here and everywhere ,, 501
With their own b's they hurt themselves, ,, vi 49
Back to France with countless b's, Ode on Well. 111 knife uprising toward the b The Victim 66 Phantom sound of b's descending, Boädicea 25 breasts the b's of circumstance, In Mem. lxiv 7
But in the present broke the b. ,, lxxxv 56 shocks of Chance—The b's of Death. ,, xcv 43
That must have life for a b. Maud II i 27 red life spilt for a private b— ,, v 93 mightier of his hands with every b, Com. of Arthur 110
Three with good b's he quieted, Gareth and L. 813 mightful hand striking great b's Marr. of Geraint 95 lash'd at each So often and with such b's, ,, 564
Descended, and disjointed it at a b: Balin and Balan 296 Kill'd with a word worse than a life of b's! Merlin and V. 870 each had slain his brother at a b; Lancelot and E. 41 hardly won with bruise and b, ,, 1165 while Arthur at one b, Striking Pass. of Arthur 167 live to fight again and to strike another b.' The Revenge 95
Rode flashing b upon b, Heavy Brigade 32 Blow (verb) (See also Blaw) The stream flows, The wind b's, Nothing will Die 10 make the winds b Round and round, ,, 23
The wind will cease to b; All Things will Die 10 loud the Norland whirlwinds b, Oriana 6 Round thee b, self-pleached deep, A Dirge 29
And tell me if the woodbines b. My life is full 25
Gazing where the lilies b L. of Shalott i 7
That all about the thorn will b Two Voices 59
When April nights began to b, Miller's D. 106 gales, as from deep gardens, b Before him, Fatima 24 the wind b's the foam, and all my heart Œnone 62 by the meadow-trenches b the faint sweet cuckoo-flowers; May Queen 30 from the dry dark wold the summer airs b cool May Queen, N. Y's. E. 27 and all the flowers that b, ,, Con. 7 Lotos b's by every winding creek: Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 101 b's More softly round the open wold, To J. S. 1 Blow (verb) (continued) Nor ever wind b's loudly; M. d'Arthur 261 or then While the gold-lily b's, Edwin Morris 146
I saw Your own Olivia b, Talking Oak 76 light as any wind that b's So fleetly ,, 129
The full south-breeze around thee b ,, 271 winds from all the compass shift and b, Godiva 33 wildweed-flower that simply b's? Day-Dm., Moral 6
B, flute, and stir the stiff-set sprigs, Amphion 63 weed That b's upon its mountain, ,, 94
she makes The violet of a legend b Will Water. 147
It was the time when lilies b, Lady Clare 1
And the wind did b; The Captain 34
To b these sacrifices thro' the world— Aylmer's Field 758 Low, low, breathe and b, Princess iii 3 and b, B him again to me; ,, 6
B, bugle, b, set the wild echoes flying, (repeat) ,, iv 5 17
B, bugle; answer, echoes, dying, (repeat) ,, 6 12
B, let us hear the purple glens replying: ,, 11
A moment, while the trumpets b, ,, 581 let the mournful martial music b; Ode on Well. 17
To Britain, when her flowers begin to b! W. to Marie Alex. 7
Wet west wind how you b, you b! Window, No Answer 14
B then, b, and when I am gone, ,, ,, 17
And make them pipes whereon to b. In Mem. xxi 4
With blasts that b the poplar white, ,, lxxii 3 fan my brows and b The fever from my cheek, ,, lxxxvi 8 from the garden and the wild A fresh association b, ,, ci 18
There in due time the woodbine b's, ,, cv 7
By ashen roots the violets b. ,, cxv 4
And all the breeze of Fancy b's, ,, cxxii 17 woodland lilies, Myriads b together. Maud I xvi 8
lily and rose That b by night, ,, II v 75 and rain! and the free blossom b's: Com. of Arthur 409
'B trumpet, for the world is white with May; ,, 482
B trumpet, the long night hath roll'd away! ,, 483
B thro' the living world— ,, 484
'B trumpet! he will lift us from the dust. ,, 491
B trumpet! live the strength and die the lust! ,, 492
'B, for our Sun is mighty in his May! ,, 497
B, for our Sun is mightier day by day! ,, 498 flower, That b's a globe of after arrowlets, Gareth and L. 1029 flowers that close when day is done, B sweetly: ,, 1068
King gave order to let b His horns Marr. of Geraint 152 we b with breath, or touch with hand, Holy Grail 114 blood beats, and the blossom b's, ,, 671
But such a blast, my King, began to b, ,, 795 clash the shield, and b the horn. Last Tournament 436
I hear the trumpet b: They summon me Guinevere 569 Nor ever wind b's loudly; Pass. of Arthur 429 trust that Heaven Will b the tempest To the Queen ii 47 whirlwind b these woods, as never blew before. The Flight 12 gather the roses whenever they b, Romney's R. 107
Let b the trumpet strongly while I pray, Doubt and Prayer 10
Blower 'O hunter, and O b of the horn, Harper, Last Tournament 542 Blowing (See also Blawin', Equal-blowing, Merrily-blowing, Trumpet-blowings) When will the wind be aweary of b Over the sky? Nothing will Die 3 south winds are b Over the sky. All Things will Die 3 myrrh-thickets b round The stately cedar, Arabian Nights 104
Winds were b, waters flowing, Oriana 14
Aloud the hollow bugle b, ,, 17
B a noise of tongues and deeds, Two Voices 206
Like soften'd airs that b steal, ,, 406 wind is b in turret and tree. (repeat) The Sisters 3, 33 (while warm airs lull us, b lowly) Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 89 a bark that, b forward, bore King Arthur, M. d'Arthur, Ep. 21 wind b over meadowy holms And alders, Edwin Morris 95 and b havenward With silks, and fruits, Golden Year 44
Summer woods, about them b, L. of Burleigh 19
B the ringlet from the braid: Sir L. and Q. G. 39 and b bosks of wilderness, Princess i 111
The horns of Elfland faintly b! ,, iv 10
'Fear not, isle of b woodland, Boädicea 38
No joy the b season gives, In Mem. xxxviii 5
Over glowing ships; Over b seas, Maud I xvii 13

Blowing (continued) south-west that b Bala lake Fills Geraint and E. 929 ship and sail and angels b on it : Balin and Balan 365 he waits below the wall, B his bugle Pelleas and E. 381 Brake with a wet wind b, Last Tournament 137 breezes of May b over an English field, Def. of Lucknow 83
Wild flowers b side by side in God's The Flight 81 Fame b out from her golden trumpet Vastness 21
When the storms are b. Forlorn 6

Blown (See also Beard-blown, Broad-blown, Full-blown) your branching limes have b Since I beheld L. C. V. de Vere 27 petals from b roses on the grass, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 2 round the spicy downs the yellow Lotos-dust is b. ,, 104 Death is b in every wind ;' To J. S. 46 and roughly set His Briton in b seas Ode on Well. 155
The golden news along the steppes is b, W. to Marie Alex. 11
The rooks are b about the skies ; In Mem. xv 4
Be b about the desert dust, ,, lvi 19
Nor harp be touch'd, nor flute be b ; ,, cv 22 far-off sail is b by the breeze Maud I iv 4
And the musk of the rose is b. ,, xxii 6 when the Prince Three times had b— Gareth and L. 1378 the face, as, when a gust hath b, Last Tournament 368 her father left us just before The daffodil was b ? Lover's Tale i 294
The wind had b above me, ,, 622 ghost of Gawain b Along a wandering wind, Pass. of Arthur 31
I am b along a wandering wind, ,, 36
we came to the Isle we were b from, V. of Maeldune 127 thy fame Is b thro' all the Troad, Death of Œnone 37 Like Indian reeds b from his silver tongue, The Poet 13 when a billow, b against, Falls back, Two Voices 316 And trumpets b for wars ; D. of F. Women 20 gale had caught, And b across the walk. Gardener's D. 125
b by baffling winds, Enoch Arden 628
b across her ghostly wall : ,, 661 gale That b about the foliage underneath, Princess iii 121 from inmost south And b to inmost north ; ,, iv 432
B from over every main, Ode Inter. Exhib. 26
Had b the lake beyond his limit, The Daisy 71 after trumpet b, Spake to the lady Marr. of Geraint 551 by strong storm B into shelter at Tintagil, Merlin and V. 10
Her bright hair b about the serious face Lancelot and E. 392 silver horn from o'er the hills B, Holy Grail 110 after trumpet b, her name And title, Pelleas and E. 115 night, a rumour wildly b about Came, Guinevere 153 all their dewy hair b back like flame : ,, 284
B by the fierce beleaguerers of a town, Achilles over the T. 20
B into glittering by the popular breath, Romney's R. 49

Blowzed Huge women b with health, Princess iv 279

Blubber'd I b awaäy o' the bed— North. Cobbler 61

Blue (adj.) (See also Black-blue, Dark-blue, Dead-blue, Deep-blue, Faint-blue, June-blue, Light-blue, Sea-blue, Steel-blue, Warm-blue) And less aërially b, Margaret 51
the lights, rose, amber, emerald, b, Palace of Art 169 and gave a shield B also, Gareth and L. 932 never yet Had heaven appear'd so b, Holy Grail 365 better ha' beaten me black an' b First Quarrel 72 ship stood still, and the skies were b, The Wreck 115
Some far b fell, Early Spring 34

Blue (s) clove The citron-shadows in the b : Arabian Nights 15
Were glistening to the breezy b ; Miller's D. 61 star Shook in the stedfast b. D. of F. Women 56 While yon sun prospers in the b, Blackbird 22 navies grappling in the central b ; Locksley Hall 124
And sweet the vapour-braided b, The Letters 42 B's and reds They talk'd of : b's were Aylmer's Field 251 such a star of morning in their b, ,, 692 years That breathed beneath the Syrian b : In Mem. liii 12
The little speedwell's darling b, ,, lxxxiii 10
And drown'd in yonder living b ,, cxv 7 morning star that smilest in the b, Gareth and L. 999 like a shoaling sea the lovely b Play'd Geraint and E. 688 but under open b Came on the hoarhead woodman Balin and Balan 293

Blue (s) (continued) Venus ere she fell Would often loiter in her balmy b, Lover's Tale i 62 little star Were drunk into the inmost b, ,, 309 from the sky to the b of the sea ; V. of Maeldune 46 sign of aught that lies Behind the green and b ? Ancient Sage 26
b of sky and sea, the green of earth, ,, 41 Green Sussex fading into b Pro. to Gen. Hamley 7 domes the red-plow'd hills With loving b ; Early Spring 4 moon of heaven, Bright in b, The Ring 2
Broaden the glowing isles of vernal b. Prog. of Spring 60
Glows in the b of fifty miles away. Roses on the T. 8 Sing the new year in under the b. The Throstle 5 round me and over me June's high b, June Bracken, etc. 2

Bluebell frail b peereth over Rare broidry A Dirge 37 merry b rings To the mosses underneath ? Adeline 34
Rose-campion, b, kingcup, Last Tournament 234

Blue-eyed A Prince I was, b-e, and fair Princess i 1

Bluff (adj.) B Harry broke into the spence Talking Oak 47

Bluff (s) echo flap And buffet round the hills, from b to b. Golden Year 77 shadowing b that made the banks, In Mem. civ 22

Blunder'd the soldier knew Some one had b : Light Brigade 12

Blunt (adj.) So b in memory, so old at heart, Gardener's D. 53 felt so b and stupid at the heart : Geraint and E. 747 Besought me to be plain and b, Lancelot and E. 1301

Blunt (verb) discourtesy To b or break her passion.' ,, 974
b the curse Of Pallas, hear, Tiresias 154

Blunted being rudely b, glanced and shot Holy Grail 75
Being b in the Present, grew at length Lover's Tale ii 131

Blur but for one black b of earth Demeter and P. 37

Blurr'd (adj. and part.) one was patch'd and b and lustreless Marr. of Geraint 649 light betwixt them burn'd B by the creeping mist, Guinevere 5
And b in colour and form, Dead Prophet 22
B like a landskip in a ruffled pool,— Romney's R. 114

Blurr'd (verb) And b the splendour of the sun ; In Mem. lxxii 8

Blurt they b Their furious formalisms, Akbar's Dream 56

Blush (s) She look'd : but all Suffused with b'es— Gardener's D. 154
The b is fix'd upon her cheek. Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 32 loose A flying charm of b'es o'er this cheek, Princess ii 430
'What pardon, sweet Melissa, for a b ?' ,, iii 66
b and smile, a medicine in themselves ,, vii 62
And the sick man forgot her simple b, Lancelot and E. 864
Quick b'es, the sweet dwelling of her eyes Sisters (E. and E.) 165 the b Of millions of roses that sprang V. of Maeldune 43 Solved in the tender b'es of the peach ; Prog. of Spring 34
That b of fifty years ago, my dear, Roses on the T. 5

Blush (verb) As it were with shame she b'es, L. of Burleigh 63
Said Cyril : 'Pale one, b again : than wear Those lilies, better b our lives away. Princess iii 67
Since I b to belaud myself a moment— Hendecasyllabics 18
Pass and b the news Over glowing ships ; Maud I xvii 11
B it thro' the West ; (repeat) ,, 16 24
B from West to East, B from East to West, ,, 21
You should have seen him b ; Merlin and V. 481
The linnet's bosom b'es at her gaze, Prog. of Spring 17

Blush'd Katie laugh'd, and laughing b, The Brook 214 how pretty Her blushing was, and how she b again, Princess iii 100 suddenly, sweetly, strangely b Maud I viii 6
She neither b nor shook, Lancelot and E. 965
Then b and brake the morning Pelleas and E. 157

Blushest Again thou b angerly ; Madeline 45

Blushing (adj.) On a b mission to me, Maud I xxi 11

Blushing (part.) Fresh apple-blossom, b for a boon. B upon them b, and at once He rose The Brook 90 Merlin and V. 741

Blushing (s) how pretty Her b was, and how she blush'd again, Princess iii 100

Bluster B the winds and tides the self-same way, D. of F. Women 38
'tis well that I should b !— Locksley Hall 63
And b into stormy sobs and say, Lancelot and E. 1067

Blustering b I know not what Of insolence and love, Princess v 396
Sir Kay, the seneschal, would come B upon them, Gareth and L. 514

Boädicea (British Queen) B, standing loftily charioted, (repeat) Boädicea 3, 70

Boän (bone) an' 'e got a brown pot an' a b, Village Wife 48

Boane (bone) when an' wheere to bury his b. Owd Roä 8
Boanerges Our B with his threats of doom, Sea Dreams 251
Boar dog, and wolf and b and bear Came Com. of Arthur 23 wherewithal deck the b's head? Flowers? nay, the b hath rosemaries and bay. Gareth and L. 1073
Board (table) 'This was cast upon the b, Œnone 79 cast the golden fruit upon the b, ,, 226
I pledge her silent at the b; Will Water. 25 cups and silver on the burnish'd b Enoch Arden 742
There at a b by tome and paper sat, Princess ii 32
And on the b the fluttering urn: In Mem. xcv 8
Arrange the b and brim the glass; ,, cvii 16 seating Gareth at another b, Sat down Gareth and L. 871 boil'd the flesh, and spread the b, Marr. of Geraint 391 knife's haft hard against the b, Geraint and E. 600 bare her by main violence to the b, ,, 654
Along the walls and down the b; Balin and Balan 84
A goblet on the b by Balin, ,, 362 all the light that falls upon the b Holy Grail 249 Who spake so low and sadly at our b; ,, 701 left me gazing at a barren b, ,, 893
Are ye but creatures of the b and bed, Pelleas and E. 267
Before the b, there paused and stood, Lover's Tale iv 307
Board (ship) he served a year On b a merchantman, Enoch Arden 53
Am I so like her? so they said on b. The Brook 223
I leap on b: no helmsman steers: Sir Galahad 39
Board (for a game) That pushes us off from the b, Maud I iv 27
Board (floor) Pattering over the b's, (repeat) Grandmother 77, 79 Board (list, register) hastily subscribed, We enter'd on the b's: Princess ii 74
Boarding B's and rafters and doors— Def. of Lucknow 67
Boast (s) To shame the b so often made, Love thou thy land 71
And bring her babe, and make her b, In Mem. xl 26 that ye blew your b in vain?' Gareth and L. 1229 to mar the b Thy brethren of thee make— ,, 1242 Abash'd us both, and brake my b. Balin and Balan 71 and the b of our ancient blood, V. of Maeldune 88 crime, of her eldest-born, her glory, her b, Despair 73 Boast (verb) you know it—I will not b: Princess iv 353 the clipt palm of which they b; The Daisy 26 and b, 'Behold the man that loved and lost, In Mem i 14 heard them b That they would slay you, Geraint and E. 73 b's his life as purer than thine own; Balin and Balan 104 Boasted each of them b he sprang from the oldest race V. of Maeldune 4
Boastful ruled the hour, Tho' seeming b: Aylmer's Field 195 Boat (See also Pleasure-boat) leaping lightly from the b, Arabian Nights 92 Down she came and found a b L. of Shalott iv 6
Francis just alighted from the b, Audley Court 7
B, island, ruins of a castle, built Edwin Morris 6
That he sings in his b on the bay! Break, break, etc. 8
Anchors of rusty fluke, and b's updrawn; Enoch Arden 18
To purchase his own b, and make a home ,, 47
He purchased his own b, and made a home For Annie, ,, 58 sell the b—and yet he loved her well— ,, 134
The horse he drove, the b he sold, ,, 609
b that bears the hope of life approach ,, 830 till as when a b Tacks, Princess ii 185 b's and bridges for the use of men. ,, vi 47
The b is drawn upon the shore; In Mem. cxxi 6
The market b is on the stream, ,, 13
There found a little b, and stept into it; Merlin and V. 198
the b Drave with a sudden wind across ,, 200
He saw two cities in a thousand b's ,, 561
Up the great river in the boatman's b. Lancelot and E. 1038 with exceeding swiftness ran the b, If b it were— Holy Grail 514 or had the b Become a living creature ,, 518 blackening in the sea-foam sway'd a b, ,, 802
I burst the chain, I sprang into the b. ,, 807
And felt the b shock earth, ,, 812
Then from the b I leapt, ,, 819 be yon dark Queens in yon black b, Pass. of Arthur 452
The b was beginning to move, First Quarrel 21 an' go to-night by the b.' ,, 88 Boat (continued) the b went down that night—(repeat) First Quarrel 92 till I saw that a b was nearing us— The Wreck 123 and there in the b I lay With sad eyes ,, 125 his b was on the sand; The Flight 37
And lay on that funereal b, To Marq. of Dufferin 34
Had parted from his comrade in the b, The Ring 303 b's of Dahomey that float upon human blood! The Dawn 5
Boated I b over, ran My craft aground, Edwin Morris 108
They b and they cricketed; Princess, Pro. 160 Boat-head did I turn away The b-h Arabian Nights 25 as the b-h wound along The willowy hills L. of Shalott iv 24
Boatman wrought To make the boatmen fishing-nets, Enoch Arden 815
By the great river in a b's hut. Lancelot and E. 278
Up the great river in a b's boat. ,, 1038
Boatswain China-bound, And wanting yet a b. Enoch Arden 123
Boboli Or walks in B's ducal bowers. The Daisy 44
Bode thither wending there that night they b. Lancelot and E. 412
And Lancelot b a little, till he saw ,, 461
There b the night: but woke with dawn, ,, 846
And b among them yet a little space ,, 921
And there awhile it b; and if a man Holy Grail 54 spake not any word, But b his hour, Last Tournament 386 Bodied Is b forth the second whole. Love thou thy land 66
Bodily were she the prize of b force, Marr. of Geraint 541
Body I wrapt his b in the sheet, The Sisters 34
A b slight and round, and like a pear Walk. to the Mail 53
I was strong and hale of b then; St. S. Stylites 29 touch my b and be heal'd, and live: ,, 79 bodies and the bones of those That strove Day-Dm., Arrival 9
'Here lies the b of Ellen Adair; Edward Gray 27
There lies the b of Ellen Adair! ,, 35
Bore to earth her b, drest In the dress L. of Burleigh 98
He cast his b, and on we swept. The Voyage 80
Like that long-buried b of the king, Aylmer's Field 3 adulteries That saturate soul with b. ,, 377
His b half flung forward in pursuit, ,, 587 as not passing thro' the fire Bodies, but souls— ,, 672 that break B toward death, and palsy, Lucretius 154 unlaced my casque And grovell'd on my b, Princess vi 28 and to dance Its b, and reach ,, 138
There lay the sweet little b Grandmother 62
I look'd at the still little b— ,, 66 this weight of b and limb, High. Pantheism 5 phantom bodies of horses and men; Boädicea 27 and back return To where the b sits, In Mem. xii 19 cheeks drop in; the b bows Man dies: ,, xxxv 3 Bare of the b, might it last, ,, xliii 6 in the ghastly pit long since a b was found, Maud I i 5 sworn to bury All this dead b of hate, ,, xix 97 Hath b enow to hold his foemen down?' Com. of Arthur 253 blood Of their strong bodies, flowing, Marr. of Geraint 569
And let the bodies lie, but bound Geraint and E. 96
And being weak in b said no more; Lancelot and E. 839
'Faith of my b,' he said, 'and art thou not— Pelleas and E. 318
But the sweet b of a maiden babe. Last Tournament 48
Belted his b with her white embrace, ,, 513
A b journeying onward, sick with toil. Lover's Tale i 124 breathless b of her good deeds past. ,, 217 soul and heart and b are all at ease: ,, 556 had the ghastliest That ever lusted for a b, ,, 648
She took the b of my past delight, ,, 681
'b and soul And life and limbs, ,, iv 282 sank his b with honour down into the deep, The Revenge 109
He veils His flesh in bread, b and bread together.' Sir J. Oldcastle 157
'No bread, no bread. God's b!' ,, 159
Thou canst not prove that thou art b alone, Ancient Sage 59 they laid this b they foun' an the grass Tomorrow 73 nurse of ailing b and mind, Locksley H., Sixty 51 lustier b, larger mind? ,, 164 out of his b she drew The red 'Blood-eagle' Dead Prophet 70
You say your b is so foul— Happy 25
Your b is not foul to me, and b is foul at best. ,, 28
If my b come from brutes, (repeat) By an Evolution. 5, 13
Where I sank with the b at times ,, 18

Body (continued) that dark b which had lain Of old Death of Œnone 93 bodies and souls go down in a common wreck, The Dawn 13 Bog (See also Irish Bog) last month they wor diggin' the b, Tomorrow 61 bad scran to the b's whin they swallies the man ,, 66 sorra the b that's in Hiven ,, 67
aisier work av they lived be an Irish b. ,, 72
Boggle (ghost) Theer wur a b in it, N. Farmer, O. S. 30
Bog-wather foun' Dhrownded in black b-w Tomorrow 62
Boil hell beneath Made me b over. St. S. Stylites 171 Boil'd burn'd in fire, or b in oil, ,, 52
b the flesh, and spread the board, Marr. of Geraint 391
Bold (See also Half-bold, Over-bold) so clear and b and free As you, Rosalind 17
Kate loves well the b and fierce ; Kate 29
But none are b enough for Kate ,, 30 wide in soul and b of tongue, Two Voices 124
New-year blithe and b, my friend, D. of the O. Year 35
A man more pure and b and just To J. S. 31 tho' keen and b and soldierly Sear'd Aylmer's Field 192
You are b indeed : Princess iii 250
Among the wise and the b. Ode on Well. 52
If you be fearful, then must we be b. Third of Feb. 19 men are b and strongly say their say ;— W. to Marie Alex. 32
With what divine affections b In Mem. xciv 2 b to dwell On doubts that drive the coward ,, xcv 29
b in heart and act and word was he, Com. of Arthur 176
And wholly b thou art, and meek Gareth and L. 1168
Am I so b, and could I so stand by, Marr. of Geraint 102
B will I be— Balin and Balan 194
Balin was b, and ask'd To bear ,, 199
B was mine answer, 'Had thyself Holy Grail 277
'Art thou so b and hast not seen the Grail?' ,, 279
This heard the b Sir Bedivere and spake : Pass. of Arthur 50 death And silence made him b— Lover's Tale iv 73
Had they been b enough then, Def. of Lucknow 66 still be b Not only to slight praise To Duke of Argyll 3 Bolden'd b by the silence of his King,— Holy Grail 857 Bolder And me this knowledge b made, To J. S. 5 seems no b than a beaten hound ; Geraint and E. 61
Not risen to, she was b. The Ring 361 Boldest drawn of fairest Or b since, Ode to Memory 90 their oldest and their b said, Death of Œnone 100 Boldly for such a face had b died,' D. of F. Women 98
Enoch faced this morning of farewell Brightly and b. Enoch Arden 183
And b ventured on the liberties. Princess i 205
I offer b : we will seat you highest : ,, iii 159
B they rode and well, Light Brigade 23
Boldness Should licensed b gather force, In Mem. cxiii 13
B and royal knighthood of the bird Merlin and V. 134
Bole (See also Elm-tree-boles) stanzas that you made About my 'giant b ;' Talking Oak 136 wind And double in and out the b's, Princess iv 262 a thousand rings of Spring In every b, ,, v 238 glancing thro' the hoary b's, he saw, Pelleas and E. 50
Bolster'd An' the fences all on 'em b oop Owd Roä 32 Bolt (See also Battle-bolt) and if a b of fire Would rive Supp. Confessions 10 b's are hurl'd Far below them in the valleys, Lotos-Eaters, C.S. 111 Appealing to the b's of Heaven ; Princess iv 372
Scarce had she ceased, when out of heaven a b Merlin and V. 934
Pray Heaven, they be not smitten by the b.' Holy Grail 221 slant His b from falling on your head— Happy 81
b of war dashing down upon cities The Dawn 8
Bolted gate Is b, and the master gone. Tiresias 201
Bond (adj.) dwarf'd or godlike, b or free : Princess vii 260 Bond (s) Unmanacled from b's of sense, Two Voices 236 break or bind All force in b's that might endure, Palace of Art 154 Seeing obedience is the b of rule. M. d'Arthur 94
Then broke all b's of courtesy, Aylmer's Field 323
Which breaks all b's of ours ; ,, 425 broke the b which they desired to break, ,, 778 ail her b's Crack'd ; and I saw Lucretius 37 his dearest b is this, Princess vii 277

Bond (s) (continued) Has broke the b of dying use. In Mem. cv 12
Than some strong b which is to be. ,, cxvi 16
Gareth loosed his b's and on free feet Gareth and L. 817 all Their bearing in their common b of love, Balin and Balan 150 purity Beyond the limit of their b, Merlin and V. 27
For such a supersensual sensual b ,, 109 our b Had best be loosed for ever : ,, 341 world howling forced them into b's, ,, 744 yours, Not Arthur's, as ye know, save by the b. Lancelot and E. 135
Not violating the b of like to like.' ,, 241 daughter fled From b's or death, ,, 277
Our b, as not the b of man and wife, ,, 1191
Our b is not the b of man and wife. ,, 1206 needs must break These b's that so defame me : ,, 1421
More bondsman in his heart than in his b's. Pelleas and E. 239 may be ye shall slay him in his b's.' ,, 272 let who will release him from his b's. ,, 294 gazed upon the man Of princely bearing, tho' in b's, ,, 306 sprang Gawain, and loosed him from his b's, ,, 315 bound, save by white b's and warm, ,, 353 brakest thro' the scruple of my b, Last Tournament 568
Seeing obedience is the b of rule. Pass. of Arthur 262
Is but a burthen : loose the b, and go. To the Queen ii 17 it was a b and seal Of friendship, Lover's Tale ii 181 Were these not b's? nay, nay, Sisters (E. and E.) 167 that mystic b betwixt the twins— ,, 256
For I broke the b. The Wreck 59 snap the b that link'd us life to life, Happy 61 since my will Seal'd not the b— Princess v 399
To dissolve the previous seal on a b, Maud I xix 45
Bondslave bound by precontract Your bride, your b! Princess iv 542
Bondsman My will is b to the dark ; In Mem. iv 2
More b in his heart than in his bonds. Pelleas and E. 239 Bone (See also Ankle-bones, Boän, Boane, Breast-bone, Collar-bone, Cross-bones) To feed thy b's with lime, Two Voices 326 green Christmas crams with weary b's. Wan Sculptor 14 lay the mighty b's of ancient men, M. d'Arthur 47 burn a fragrant lamp before my b's, St. S. Stylites 196 bodies and the b's of those That strove Day-Dm., Arrival 9
'You are b's, and what of that? Vision of Sin 175
From the fashion of your b's. ,, 182 his b's long laid within the grave, Lucretius 256 Ammonites, and the first b's of Time ; Princess, Pro. 15 chanted on the blanching b's of men?' ,, ii 199 cut this epitaph above my b's ; ,, 207 stuck out The b's of some vast bulk ,, iii 294
'As these rude b's to us, are we to her ,, 296 and spilt our b's in the flood— ,, iv 532
Echo round his b's for evermore. Ode on Well. 12
Be glad, because his b's are laid by thine! ,, 141
Thy roots are wrapt about the b's. In Mem. ii 4
As if the quiet b's were blest ,, xviii 6
Old warder of these buried b's, ,, xxxix 1 grins on a pile of children's b's, Maud I i 46
And my b's are shaken with pain, ,, II v 5 b's for his o'ergrown whelp to crack ; ,, 55 being apt at arms and big of b Marr. of Geraint 489 crack'd the helmet thro', and bit the b, ,, 573 when his good b Seems to be pluck'd at Geraint and E. 559 and he fears To lose his b, and lays his foot ,, 562 arks with priceless b's of martyrdom, Balin and Balan 110 lay till all their b's were bleach'd, Lancelot and E. 43 part whiten'd with the b's of men, Holy Grail 500 Fool to the midmost marrow of his b's, Pelleas and E. 258
Like a dry b cast to some hungry hound? Last Tournament 196 lay the mighty b's of ancient men, Pass. of Arthur 215
I have number'd the b's, Rizpah 10 but b of my b was left— ,, 51 the b's that had suck'd me, the b's that had laughed ,, 53
Do you think I was scared by the b's? ,, 55 every b seem'd out of its place— In the Child. Hosp. 13 can prayer set a broken b?' ,, 20
'Behold the b's of Christopher Colon'— Columbus 210
'These same chains Bound these same b's ,, 214

Bone (continued) in these spasms that grind B against b. Columbus 221 the white North has thy b's ; Sir J. Franklin 1
There blanch the b's of whom she slew, Tiresias 150 black in white above his b's. Locksley H., Sixty 44 moulder'd nest On its barkless b's, Dead Prophet 19 honest Poverty, bare to the b ; Vastness 19 save breaking my b's on the rack? By an Evolution. 9 gentleman, heart, blood and b, Bandit's Death 2
Bone-batter'd being all b-b on the rock, Yielded ; Gareth and L. 1050
Bonnet Or the frock and gipsy b Maud I xx 19
Bonny Doon Whistling a random bar of B D, The Brook 82 Book (See also Annal-book, Booök, Statute-book)
Take, Madam, this poor b of song ; To the Queen 17 burnt His epic, his King Arthur, some twelve b's'— The Epic 28 these twelve b's of mine Were faint ,, 38 old Sir Robert's pride, His b's— Audley Court 59 faces grow between me and my b ; St. S. Stylites 176 eyesight poring over miserable b's— Locksley Hall 172 prose O'er b's of travell'd seamen, Amphion 82 Nor yet the fear of little b's Will Water. 195
the priest, above his b Leering Vision of Sin 117
And bought them needful b's, Enoch Arden 332
Then desperately seized the holy B, ,, 495 she closed the B and slept : ,, 499 swear upon the b Not to reveal it, ,, 838
'on the b.' And on the b, half-frighted, ,, 842
After his b's, to flush his blood with air, Then to his b's again. Aylmer's Field 459
'Show me the b's !' Sea Dreams 148
'The b's ! the b's !' but he, he could not ,, 150 great B's (see Daniel seven and ten) ,, 152
'O miracle of women,' said the b, Princess, Pro. 35
(I kept the b and had my finger in it) ,, 53 which brought My b to mind : ,, 120 on lattice edges lay Or b or lute ; ,, ii 30
'can he not read—no b's? ,, iii 214 but brooding turn The b of scorn, ,, v 142 rout of saucy boys Brake on us at our b's, ,, 395 to and fro With b's, with flowers, ,, vii 26 was cramm'd with theories out of b's, ,, Con. 35 in this B, little Annie, the message Grandmother 96
Still in the little b you lent me, The Daisy 99
May bind a b, may line a box, In Mem. lxxvii 6
One lesson from one b we learn'd, ,, lxxix 14
Discuss'd the b's to love or hate, ,, lxxxix 34
With festal cheer, With b's and music, ,, cvii 22 in their hand Is Nature like an open b ; ,, Con. 132
She sits by her music and b's Maud I xiv 13 a palm As glitters gilded in thy B of Hours. Gareth and L. 46
Read but one b, and ever reading Merlin and V. 622 and his b came down to me.' ,, 650
'Ye have the b : the charm is written in it : ,, 652
'Thou read the b, my pretty Vivien ! ,, 667 cities on their flanks—thou read the b ! ,, 676
'From our old b's I know That Joseph Holy Grail 59
For so they say, these b's of ours, ,, 65
'for in sooth These ancient b's— ,, 541
Of Geoffrey's b, or him of Malleor's, To the Queen ii 42 gie fur a howry owd b thutty pound an' moor, Village Wife 45
An' 'e'd wrote an owd b, his awn sen, ,, 46
I am written in the Lamb's own B of Life Columbus 88 dipt In some forgotten b of mine To E. Fitzgerald 47
He would open the b's that I prized, The Wreck 21
We had read their know-nothing b's Despair 55 their knowing and know-nothing b's ,, 93 knows not ev'n the b he wrote, Ancient Sage 148 knew no b's and no philosophies, ,, 218 there were b's and dresses—left to me, The Ring 113
I bad her keep, Like a seal'd b, ,, 123 scarce have learnt the title of your b, ,, 126
'The b's, the miniature, the lace are hers, ,, 288 my friend, To prize your various b, To Ulysses 47 thought to myself I would offer this b to you, June Bracken, etc. 4
'Alla,' says their sacred b, 'is Love,' Akbar's Dream 73
Booklearned See Boooklarn'd.
Booklearning See Boooklarnin'.
Bookless Your flight from out your b wilds Princess ii 56
Boom (s) air was torn in sunder, Crashing went the b The Captain 44 clash and b of the bells rang V. of Maeldune 110 Boom (verb) His captain's-ear has heard them b Ode on Well. 65
b and blanch on the precipices, Boadicea 76
Boometh At eve the beetle b Claribel 9
Booming Listens the muffled b indistinct Lover's Tale i 637 Boon (adj.) Fled all the b companions of the Earl, Geraint and E. 477
Boon (s) b from me, From me, Heaven's Queen, Œnone 126
Fresh apple-blossom, blushing for a b. The Brook 90
At last she begg'd a b, Princess i 146 widow crying to the King, 'A b, Sir King ! Gareth and L. 334
No b is here, But justice, ,, 345
'A b, Sir King ! Thine enemy, King, am I. ,, 351
'A b, Sir King ! I am her kinsman, I. ,, 365 came Sir Kay, the seneschal, and cried, 'A b, Sir King ! ,, 368 the wholesome b of gyve and gag.' ,, 370
b, Sir King (his voice was all ashamed), ,, 442 youth and worth a goodlier b ! ,, 449
'A b, Sir King—this quest !' then— ,, 647
'To what request for what strange b,' Merlin and V. 264
B, ay, there was a b, one not so strange— ,, 287 ask your b, for b I owe you thrice, ,, 306 take this b so strange and not so strange.' ,, 310
Whenever I have ask'd this very b, ,, 323
Yield my b, Till which I scarce can yield ,, 351
Why will ye never ask some other b? ,, 375
Who feels no heart to ask another b. ,, 382
Not ever be too curious for a b, ,, 486
Lo, there my b ! What other? ,, 494
To snare her royal fancy with a b Lancelot and E. 71 tale of diamonds for his destined b) ,, 91 Booök (book) 'e 'ed hallus a b i' 'is 'and, Village Wife 26
Hallus aloän wi' 'is b's, ,, 27
An' b's, what's b's? ,, 28
niver knawd nowt but b's, an' b's, ,, 52 why shouldn't thy b's be sowd? ,, 69
I hears es soom o' thy b's mebbe worth ,, 70
Heäps an' heäps o' b's, I ha' see'd 'em, ,, 71 moäst on 'is owd big b's fetch'd ,, 73
Sa 'is taäil wur lost an' 'is b's wur gone ,, 87
B's, es I said afoor, thebbe neyther 'ere nor theer ! ,, 113
Boooklarn'd (booklearned) An' I 'oäps es 'e beänt b : ,, 23
Boooklarnin' (booklearning) an' we häätes b 'ere. ,, 24
Booöt (boot) I could fettle and clump owd b's North. Cobbler 13
And browt me the b's to be cobbled ,, 94
Boor-tree (elder-tree) in wan grave be the dead b-t, Tomorrow 87 Boot (See also Booöt) Leisurely tapping a glossy b, Maud I xiii 19 an' the mud o' 'is b's o' the stairs, Spinster's S's. 99
Boot (in addition) Will pay thee all thy wages, and to b. Gareth and L. 1005
Booth sport and song, in b and tent, In Mem. xcviii 28
Bootless proxy-wedded with a b calf Princess i 34
Booty chance of b from the morning's raid, Geraint and E. 565 Border (adj.) A b fantasy of branch and flower, Lancelot and E. 11 Border (s) Morn broaden'd on the b's of the dark, D. of F. Women 265
From out the b's of the morn, On a Mourner 24 Close on the b's of a territory, Marr. of Geraint 34 on the b of her couch they sat Guinevere 101
There on the b Of boundless Ocean, Merlin and the G. 116
Border'd the yellow down B with palm, Lotos-Eaters 22
Border-marriage land was ringing of it—This blacksmith b-m— Aylmer's Field 263 Border-race such counter-terms, my son, Are b-r's, Ancient Sage 251 Bore (to burrow) hedgehog underneath the plaintain b's, Aylmer's Field 850 Bore (to bear) winds which b Them earthward till they lit ; The Poet 17
The broad stream b her far away, L. of Shalott iv 17
B and forbore, and did not tire, Two Voices 218
That b a lady from a leaguer'd town ; D. of F. Women 47 Branches they b of that enchanted stem, Lotos-Eaters 28
b him to a chapel nigh the field. M. d'Arthur 8
And rising b him thro' the place of tombs. ,, 175

Bore (to bear) (continued) blowing forward, b King Arthur, M. d'Arthur, Ep. 21 in her bosom b the baby, Sleep. Gardener's D. 268
But Dora b them meekly, Dora 36 knowest I b this better at the first, St. S. Stylites 28
Not this alone I b : ,, 61
I b, whereof, O God, thou knowest all. ,, 70 and love her for the love she b ? Locksley Hall 73
she Not less thro' all b up, till, Godiva 62
Right down by smoky Paul's they b, Will Water. 141
Three fair children first she b him, L. of Burleigh 87
B to earth her body, drest In the dress ,, 98
She b the blade of Liberty. The Voyage 72
A light-green tuft of plumes she b Sir L. and Q. G. 26
B him another son, a sickly one : Enoch Arden 109 grieving held his will, and b it thro'. ,, 167 do the thing he will'd, and b it thro'. ,, 295 weight of the dead leaf b it down : ,, 678
And Enoch b his weakness cheerfully. ,, 827
To be the ghost of one who b your name The Brook 219 yet she b it : yet her cheek Aylmer's Field 505 loneliness of grief B down in flood, ,, 633 her own people b along the nave Her pendent hands, ,, 812 motion of the boundless deep B thro' the cave, Sea Dreams 92 motion of the great deep b me on, ,, 111
They b her back into the tent : Princess iv 193
Yet I b up in part from ancient love, ,, 303
Yet I b up in hope she would be known : ,, 320
b down a Prince, And Cyril, one. ,, v 518 me they b up the broad stairs, ,, vi 374
He b but little game in hand ; The Victim 42
And b thee where I could not see In Mem. xxii 17
And thus he b without abuse ,, cxi 21
In either hand he b What dazzled all, Gareth and L. 386
And he that b The star, when mounted, ,, 950 with a costrel b The means of goodly welcome, Marr. of Geraint 386 best by her that b her understood. ,, 511 b Down by the length of lance and arm Geraint and E. 462
b him to the naked hall of Doorm, ,, 570
She b me there, for born from death was I Merlin and V. 44
He b a knight of old repute to the earth, Lancelot and E. 492
he b the prize and could not find The victor, ,, 629
thus they b her swooning to her tower. ,, 968 reverently they b her into hall. ,, 1266
b them down, And broke thro' all, Holy Grail 479
b him to a chapel nigh the field, Pass. of Arthur 176
And rising b him thro' the place of tombs. ,, 343
she that b Camilla close beneath Lover's Tale i 202 converse sweet, In which our voices b least part. ,, 542
A whirlwind caught and b us ; ,, ii 197 so they b her (for in Julian's land ,, iv 36
B her free-faced to the free airs ,, 38
So b her thro' the solitary land ,, 90
Sir Richard b in hand all his sick men The Revenge 15 stately Spanish men to their flagship b him ,, 97
She b a child, whom reverently we call'd Sisters (E. and E.) 268 and the love I b them both— ,, 281
we, who b the Cross Thither, Columbus 191
And so, when I b him a girl, The Wreck 33 Nature who knew not that which she b ! Despair 34 on an earth that b not a flower ; ,, 44 wheat Of Egypt b a grain as sweet To Prof. Jebb 6
As we b down the Gods before us ? Demeter and P. 132 yesterday They b the Cross before you Happy 48
In a while I b him a son, Bandit's Death 15
Borest Ah little rat that b in the dyke Merlin and V. 112
Boring B a little auger-hole in fear, Godiva 68
Born (See also Burn, Devil-born, Eldest-born, Equal-born, First-born, Gentle-born, King-born, Lame-born, Latest-born, New-born, Royal-born, Sickly-born, Spleen-born)
Nothing was b ; Nothing will die ; Nothing will Die 36
All things were b. All Things will Die 47
And Thou and peace to earth were b. Supp. Confessions 26
THE poet in a golden clime was b, The Poet 1

Born (continued) Two children in one hamlet b and bred ; Circumstance 8
Thou wert b, on a summer morn, Eleänore 7
Truth is b Beyond the polar gleam Two Voices 181 features of her child Ere it is b : Œnone 253 never child be b of me, Unblest, ,, 254 which mood was b Scorn of herself ; Palace of Art 230 call me before the day is b. May Queen, N. Y's. E. 49 thousand times I would be b and die. D. of F. Women 204 Was never b into the earth. To J. S. 32
With that fair child betwixt them b. On a Mourner 25
B out of everything I heard and saw, Gardener's D. 66 days went on, there was b a boy To William ; Dora 48 sinful man, conceived and b in sin : St. S. Stylites 122 group Of beauties, that were b In teacup-times of hood Talking Oak 62
'But I was b too late : the fair new forms, Golden Year 15 glimpse of that dark world where I was b. Tithonus 33
And thought and time be b again, Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 50 serving-man As any b of woman. Will Water. 152
I'm a beggar b,' she said, Lady Clare 37
I am a beggar b,' she said, ,, 71
'If you are not the heiress b, (repeat) ,, 83, 85 honour Unto which she was not b. L. of Burleigh 80 Every moment dies a man, Every moment one is b. (repeat) Vision of Sin 98, 122
but when her child was b, Enoch Arden 522
In those far-off seven happy years were b ; ,, 686
B of a village girl, carpenter's son, Aylmer's Field 668
Thy better b unhappily from thee, ,, 675
A CITY clerk, but gently b and bred ; Sea Dreams 1 chiefly you were b for something great, Princess iv 307
Ere you were b to vex us ? ,, vi 248 dead before he was b, (repeat) Grandmother 59, 68 naw, naw, tha was not b then ; N. Farmer, O. S. 29
The linnet b within the cage, In Mem. xxvii 3
The light that shone when Hope was b. ,, xxx 32
In these brief lays, of Sorrow b, ,, xlviii 1
In that dark house where she was b. ,, lx 12
It is the day when he was b, ,, cvii 1
And, b of love, the vague desire ,, cx 19
But I was b to other things. ,, cxx 12 Result in man, be b and think, ,, Con. 126 it seem'd far better to be b To labour Maud I xviii 33
On the day when Maud was b ; ,, xix 40
O Rivulet, b at the Hall, ,, xxi 8
Is a juggle b of the brain ? ,, II ii 42 tickle the maggot b in an empty head, ,, v 38
Some calling Arthur b of Gorloïs, Others of Anton ? Com. of Arthur 170 all before his time Was Arthur b, ,, 212
Or b the son of Gorloïs, after death, Or Uther's son, and b before his time, ,, 240 Else, wherefore b ? ' Gareth and L. 119 saying thou wert basely b. ,, 355
God wot, so thou wert nobly b, ,, 1064
Stript from the three dead wolves of woman b Geraint and E. 94 creatures gently b But into bad hands ,, 191
B with the blood, not learnable, Balin and Balan 175
We two were b together, and we die ,, 629 bore me there, for b from death was I Merlin and V. 44 turn of anger b Of your misfaith ; ,, 531 but b of sickness, could not live : Lancelot and E. 880 sons B to the glory of thy name and fame, ,, 1372
Well is it that no child is b of thee. Guinevere 424 children b of thee are sword and fire, ,, 425
Like the last echo b of a great cry, Pass. of Arthur 459 Life knows not when young Life was b, Lover's Tale i 156 falsehood of all starcraft !) we were b. ,, 200
So were we b, so orphan'd. ,, 218
Because my grief as yet was newly b ,, 613
Back to the mother's house where she was b. ,, iv 91
b Not from believing mind, ,, 104 and that day a boy was b, Heir ,, 128
But the boy was b i' trouble, First Quarrel 2
The boy was b in wedlock, ,, 6
For the lawyer is b but to murder— Rizpah 64

Born (continued) all my doubts were fools B of the fool Sisters (E. and E.) 141 in the second year was b A second— ,, 269 fatal kiss, B of true life and love, Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 3 In Judah, for in thee the Lord was b; Sir J. Oldcastle 25 for in thee the word was b again. ,, 27 slain my father the day before I was b. V. of Maeldune 8 who wailest being b And banish'd into mystery, De Prof. Two G. 41 grief for ever b from griefs to be, Tiresias 80 as if she were basely b! The Wreck 36
B of the brainless Nature who knew not Despair 34
For wert thou b or blind or deaf, Ancient Sage 175 a bitter word, not once since we were b; The Flight 86
She the worldling b of worldlings— Locksley H., Sixty 25 Stronger ever b of weaker, ,, 164 before her highest, man, was b, ,, 205 you my Miriam b within the year; The Ring 285
As we forget our wail at being b. ,, 465
You will live till that is b, Forlorn 63
For on a tropic mountain was I b, Prog. of Spring 67 words! Words only, b of fever, Romney's R. 30 and him, and the day I was b. Charity 24 birthday came of a boy b happily dead. ,, 34
WHERE is one that, b of woman, Making of Man 1

Borne (See also Eagle-borne, Fancy-borne) Adown the Tigris I was b, Arabian Nights 6
From off her shoulder backward b: Palace of Art 118
And many a merry wind was b, Day-Dm., Depart 14
When on my goodly charger b Sir Galahad 49 bear me with thee, smoothly b, Move Eastward 9
Enoch lives: that is b in on me. Enoch Arden 319
I have b it with me all these years. ,, 895 ovation round Their statues, b aloft, Princess vi 67
Now to glorious burial slowly b, Ode on Well. 193
B down by gladness so complete, In Mem. xxxii 10
This truth came b with bier and pall, ,, lxxxv 1
And daughters had she b him,— Com. of Arthur 189 but a son she had not b. ,, 192
Before him at his crowning b, ,, 296 down the wave and in the flame was b A naked babe, ,, 383 wild Limours, B on a black horse, Geraint and E. 458
B by some high lord-prince of Arthur's hall, Balin and Balan 466
Else never had he b her crown, ,, 566
Across the silent seeded meadow-grass B, clash'd: Pelleas and E. 562
b about the bay or safely moor'd Lover's Tale i 54
my name was b Upon her breath. ,, 443
B into alien lands and far away. ,, 802
I, too, was b along and felt the blast ,, iii 27 great love they both had b the dead, ,, iv 181
we had always b a good name— Rizpah 35
You never have b a child— ,, 80 thou wouldst have her flag B on thy coffin— Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 17 great flame-banner b by Teneriffe, Columbus 69
B in the bark's-bosom, Batt. of Brunanburh 49 wail came b in the shriek of a growing wind, The Wreck 87 nurse Who had b my flower on her hireling heart; ,, 143
b in white To burial or to burning, Ancient Sage 207 earth has never b a nobler man. Epit. on Gordon 4 b along by that full stream of men, St. Telemachus 43
I have b Rain, wind, frost, St. S. Stylites 15 think that I have b as much as this— ,, 92 bearing in myself the shame The woman should have b, Aylmer's Field 356
That a calamity hard to be b? Maud I xiii 3 likewise for the high rank she had b, Guinevere 695
b With more than mortal swiftness, Lover's Tale ii 72
The love they both have b me, Sisters (E. and E.) 280 heathen men have b as much as this, Sir J. Oldcastle 185

Born-unborn with their offspring, b-u, Locksley H., Sixty 98

Borough half The neighbouring b with their Institute Princess, Pro. 5 may they see Beyond the b and the shire! Hands all Round 28 Better a rotten b or so Than a rotten fleet Riflemen form! 17

Borrow'd B a glass, but all in vain: Enoch Arden 240
A cap of Tyrol b from the hall, Princess iv 601

Bors (a knight) Sir B, our Lancelot's cousin, sware, Holy Grail 200
The pelican on the casque of our Sir B ,, 635
Once,' Said good Sir B, 'he dash'd across me ,, 640
'Then Sir B had ridden on Softly, ,, 647 to B Beyond the rest: ,, 652
Sir B Rode to the lonest tract of all the realm, ,, 660
Said good Sir B, 'beyond all hopes of mine, ,, 690
Sir B it was Who spake so low ,, 700 Ay, ay, Sir B, who else? ,, 707 for Sir B, on entering, push'd Athwart ,, 752 saying to him, 'Hail, B! if ever loyal man ,, 756 and B, 'Ask me not for I may not speak ,, 757 Blessed are B, Lancelot and Percivale, ,, 874

Bos thundering shores of Bude and B, Guinevere 291

Boscage to thee, green b, work of God, Sir J. Oldcastle 129

Bosk and blowing b's of wilderness, Princess i 111

Boskage Thridding the sombre b of the wood, D. of F. Women 243

Bosom (See also Bark's-bosom) b's prest To little harps of gold; Sea-Fairies 3 woodpecker From the b of a hill. Kate 5
From brow and b slowly down Mariana in the S. 14 rising, from her b drew Old letters, ,, 61 long to fall and rise Upon her balmy b, Miller's D. 183 fingers backward drew From her warm brows and b Œnone 177 an arm Rose up from out the b of the lake, M. d'Arthur 30 in her b bore the baby, Sleep. Gardener's D. 268 and fall about thy neck, And on thy b Love and Duty 42 and b beating with a heart renew'd. Tithonus 36 her b shaken with a sudden storm of sighs— Locksley Hall 27
I will pluck it from my b, ,, 66 moral shut Within the b of the rose? Day-Dm., Moral 8
I will not vex my b: Amphion 102 snowdrop of the year That in my b lies. St. Agnes' Eve 12 charm have power to make New lifeblood warm the b, Will Water. 22 Him, to her meek and modest b prest In agony, Aylmer's Field 416 fondled on her lap, Warm'd at her b? ,, 687 sun their milky b's on the thatch, Princess ii 103 an erring pearl Lost in her b: ,, iv 61 lay me on her b, and her heart Would rock ,, 103 over brow And cheek and b brake the wrathful bloom ,, 383 half The sacred mother's b, panting, ,, vi 148
And hid her b with it; ,, 214
And slips into the b of the lake: ,, vii 187 and slip Into my b and be lost in me.' ,, 189
The b with long sighs labour'd; ,, 225
Slide from the b of the stars. In Mem. xvii 16 sword That rose from out the b of the lake, Com. of Arthur 297 Yniol's heart Danced in his b, Marr. of Geraint 505 his beard Across her neck and b to her knee, Merlin and V. 257 and in her b pain was lord. Last Tournament 239 arm Rose up from out the b of the lake, Pass. of Arthur 198 our baby lips, Kissing one b, Lover's Tale i 238 infuse Rich atar in the b of the rose, ,, 270
Cast the poison from your b, Locksley H., Sixty 241
The linnet's b blushes at her gaze, Prog. of Spring 17

Bosom'd and b the burst of the spray, V. of Maeldune 103

Bosom-friend My b-f and half of life; In Mem. lix 3

Bosom-peak And budded b-p's—who this way Lucretius 191

Bosom-sepulchre Sympathy hew'd out The b-s of Sympathy? Lover's Tale ii 32

Bosom-throne Had nestled in this b-t of Love, ,, i 624

Boss the silver b Of her own halo's The Voyage 31

Boss'd b with lengths Of classic frieze, Princess ii 24
goblet on the board by Balin, b With holy Joseph's legend, Balin and Balan 362

Botanic They read B Treatises, Amphion 77

Bottle 'What's i' tha b a-stanning theer?' North. Cobbler 7 Thou gits naw gin fro' the b theer, ,, 10 yon big black b o' gin. ,, 70
An' 'e points to the b o' gin, ,, 90
Smash the b to smithers, the Divil's in 'im,' ,, 104
And 'a taäen to the b beside, Spinster's S's. 56 their b's o' pap, an' their mucky bibs, ,, 87

Bottom (adj.) As b agates seem to wave and float Princess ii 327

Bottom (s) creation pierce Beyond the b of his eye. A Character 6

Bottom (s) (continued) made a plunge To the b, and dispersed, Enoch Arden 380 fox—where started—kill'd In such a b: Aylmer's Field 254 Tho' anchor'd to the b, such is he.' Princess iv 257 the sand danced at the b of it. Balin and Balan 27
b of the well, Where Truth is hidden. Merlin and V. 47 glances from the b of the pool, The Ring 371

Bough (See also Beechen-bough, Beugh) beneath the dome Of hollow b's. Arabian Nights 42
garlanding the gnarled b's With bunch Œnone 101 Whose thick mysterious b's in the dark morn ,, 213 came To rest beneath thy b's.—(repeat) Talking Oak 36, 156 Olivia came To sport beneath thy b's. ,, 100 till thy b's discern The front of Sumner-place. ,, 247 bent or broke The lithe reluctant b's Enoch Arden 381 one soft arm, which, like the pliant b Sea Dreams 290 grasping down the b's I gain'd the shore. Princess iv 189 and while the holly b's Entwine In Mem. xxix 9
I found a wood with thorny b's: ,, lxix 6
And sow the sky with flying b's, ,, lxxii 24
Unwatch'd, the garden b shall sway, ,, ci 1
Came on the hoarhead woodman at a b Wearily hewing. Balin and Balan 294
He burst his lance against a forest b, ,, 329 canker'd b's without Whined in the wood; ,, 345 and old b's Whined in the wood. ,, 385 made him quickly dive Beneath the b's, ,, 423 and on the b's a shield Showing Last Tournament 432 and the wind among the b's. ,, 489 shot forth B's on each side, Lover's Tale i 230 beechen b's Of our New Forest. Sisters (E. and E.) 112
Look, he stands, Trunk and b, The Oak 14

Bought (See also Bowt) have b A mansion incorruptible. Deserted House 20
B Annie goods and stores, and set Enoch Arden 169 b them needful books, and everyway, ,, 332
b Quaint monsters for the market of those times, ,, 538
We b the farm we tenanted before. The Brook 222
B't what is it he cannot buy? Maud I x 32 sold and sold had b them bread: Marr. of Geraint 641 who b me for his slave: The Flight 19

Boulder found a glen, gray b and black tarn. Lancelot and E. 36

Bound (adj.) (See also China-bound, Seaward-bound) B on a matter he of life and death: Sea Dreams 151
'Was he so b, poor soul?' ,, 169
B for the Hall, I am sure was he: Maud I x 25
B for the Hall, and I think for a bride. ,, 26
'B upon a quest With horse and arms— Gareth and L. 708
B on a foray, rolling eyes of prey, Geraint and E. 538
B upon solitary adventure, Pelleas and E. 275
Whither are you b? For Naples The Ring 57

Bound (limit) make The b's of freedom wider yet To the Queen 32
Transgress his ample b to some new crown:— Poland 8
And mete the b's of hate and love— Two Voices 135
Beyond the utmost b of human thought. Ulysses 32
You that have dared to break our b, Princess iv 539
And music in the b's of law, In Mem. lxxxvii 34
And strike his being into b's, ,, Con. 124 b's of heaven and earth were lost— Com. of Arthur 372 shun to break those b's of courtesy Lancelot and E. 1220
Drew from before Sir Tristram to the b's, Last Tournament 185 Back to the sunset b of Lyonnesse— Pass. of Arthur 81 charged the winds With spiced May-sweets from b to b, Lover's Tale i 318 Nor understandest b nor boundlessness, Ancient Sage 48 and the b's Determining concession; To Duke of Argyll 2 Narrowing the b's of night.' Prog. of Spring 91 all the b's of earth, Far-far-away? Far-far-away 14
I spy nor term nor b. Mechanophilus 20

Bound (spring) but a single b, and with a sweep Geraint and E. 727

Bound (verb) wild winds b within their cell, Mariana 54
Two lives b fast in one Circumstance 5
Sleep had b her in his rosy band, Caress'd or chidden 6
Art thou so b To men, Two Voices 109
Which only to one engine b ,, 347

Bound (verb) (continued) In front they b the sheaves. Palace of Art 78 earth is every way B by gold chains M. d'Arthur 255
'I am b: you have my promise— Enoch Arden 437
I am always b to you, but you are free.' ,, 450
Annie weeping answer'd 'I am b.' ,, 451 she knew that she was b— ,, 462
B in an immemorial intimacy, Aylmer's Field 39 nor by plight or broken ring B, ,, 136 you think me b In some sort, Princess i 158 given us letters, was he b to speak? ,, 181
I b by precontract Your bride, ,, iv 541 each beside his chariot b his own; Spec. of Iliad 3 lost the links that b Thy changes; In Mem. xli 6
Had b us one to the other, Maud I xix 38
B them by so strait vows to his own self, Com. of Arthur 262 vows, as is a shame A man should not be b by, Gareth and L. 271
b my lord to cast him in the mere.' ,, 803
'B am I to right the wrong'd, ,, 804 straitlier b am I to bide with thee.' ,, 805
I b to thee for any favour ask'd!' ,, 977
b the suits Of armour on their horses, Geraint and E. 96
b them on their horses, each on each, ,, 182
B are they To speak no evil. Balin and Balan 145
Arthur b them not to singleness Merlin and V. 28
They b to holy vows of chastity! ,, 695 then he b Her token on his helmet, Lancelot and E. 373 but free love will not be b.' ,, 1379
'Free love, so b, were freëst,' ,, 1380
bright boy-knight, and b it on him, Holy Grail 156
'All men, to one so b by such a vow, ,, 565
Seized him, and b and plunged him into a cell ,, 675 Give ye the slave mine order to be b, Pelleas and E. 270 rose up, and b, and brought him in. ,, 288
Not to be b, save by white bonds ,, 353 and b his horse Hard by the gates. ,, 413
B on her brow, were Gawain and Ettarre. ,, 435 the King hath b And sworn me to this brotherhood; ,, 448 earth is every way B by gold chains Pass. of Arthur 423
So b to me by common love and loss— Lover's Tale iv 345
Harry was b to the Dorsetshire farm First Quarrel 19 only done my duty as a man is b to do: The Revenge 102
I had not b myself by words, Sisters (E. and E.) 137
I was b to her; I could not free myself ,, 160
b Not by the sounded letter of the word, ,, 161 broken chain that b me to my kind. Locksley H., Sixty 52
the laughing shepherd b with flowers; To Virgil 16
b to follow, wherever she go Stark-naked, Dead Prophet 45 for twenty years B by the golden cord The Ring 429

Bound See also Brow-bound, Charm-bound

Boundary Close at the b of the liberties; Princess i 172

Bounded motions b in a shallower brain: Locksley Hall 150 a spirit b and poor; Maud I iv 38
Death's dark war-horse b forward Gareth and L. 1401
Then b forward to the castle walls, Pelleas and E. 363
b forth and vanish'd thro' the night. ,, 487
Seeing it is not b save by love.' Last Tournament 703

Bounden (See also Long-bounden, Promise-bounden) and lying b there In darkness Holy Grail 676 those he overthrew Be b straight, Pelleas and E. 236 but thrust him b out of door. ,, 314
Thus to be b, so to see her face, ,, 326 tho' she hath me b but in spite, ,, 329
Let me be b, I shall see her face; ,, 331

Bounding b forward 'Leave them to the wolves.' Balin and Balan 588

Boundless Feels that the deep is b, Ancient Sage 192
Sent the shadow of Himself, the b, Locksley H., Sixty 211
B inward, in the atom, b outward, ,, 212

Boundlessness Nor understandest bound nor b, Ancient Sage 48

Bounteous Of whom were any b, merciful, Gareth and L. 423

Bounteous Isle And we came to the B I, V. of Maeldune 83
Till we hated the B I and the sunbright hand ,, 92

Bounteously b made, And yet so finely, Aylmer's Field 74

Bountiful Spare not now to be b, On Jub. Q. Victoria 29
B, beautiful, apparell'd gay, Prog. of Spring 62

Bounty God only thro' his b hath thought fit, St. S. Stylites 186
Here he lives in state and b, L. of Burleigh 57
Or Heaven in lavish b moulded, grew. Aylmer's Field 107
Bourg Ye think the rustic cackle of your b Marr. of Geraint 276
They take the rustic murmur of their b ,, 419 Bourn-Bourne and rang Beyond the bourn of sunset; Princess, Con. 100 from out our bourne of Time and Place Crossing the Bar 13
Bovadilla B, one As ignorant and impolitic Columbus 127
Bow (respectful inclination) O the formal mocking b, The Flight 29
Bow (an instrument) spirit ever strung Like a new b, Kate 11
Bow (rainbow) great b will waver in the sun, Palace of Art 43
And every dew-drop paints a b, In Mem. cxxii 18
For there beyond a bridge of treble b, Gareth and L. 1086 Bow (part of a ship) figure-head Stared o'er the ripple feathering from her b's: Enoch Arden 544 huge sea-castles heaving upon the weather b. The Revenge 24
Bow (s) See Foam-bow, Saddle-bow, Torrent-bow
Bow (verb) B myself down, where thou hast knelt, Supp. Confessions 80
B down one thousand and two hundred St. S. Stylites 111 gay domestic B's before him at the door. L. of Burleigh 48 as when a field of corn B's all its ears Princess i 237
She b's, she bathes the Saviour's feet In Mem. xxxii 11 cheeks drop in; the body b's Man dies: ,, xxxv 3 made him flush, and b Lowly, to kiss his hand, Gareth and L. 548
O ay—the winds that b the grass! Last Tournament 735
To thee, dead wood, I b not head nor knees. Sir J. Oldcastle 128
Bow-back'd supporters on a shield, B-b with fear: Princess vi 359
Bow'd Like Thine own mother's when she b Above Thee, Supp. Confessions 23
A group of Houris b to see The dying Islamite, Palace of Art 102 power in his eye That b the will. M. d'Arthur 123
She b upon her hands, Dora 103
She b down her head, ,, 105
She b down And wept in secret; ,, 107
My knees are b in crypt and shrine: Sir Galahad 18
Enoch as a brave God-fearing man B himself down, Enoch Arden 186
Enoch was so brown, so b, So broken— ,, 703
'My God has b me down to what I am; ,, 856
b her state to them, that they might grow Princess ii 166
She b as if to veil a noble tear; ,, iii 289 handmaid on each side B toward her, ,, iv 276
B on her palms and folded up from wrong, ,, 288
She b, she set the child on the earth; ,, vi 120 thine own land has b to Tartar hordes W. to Marie Alex. 23 save Thy sailor,—while thy head is b, In Mem. vi 14
When have I b to her father, Maud I iv 13 not to her brother I b; I b to his lady-sister ,, 14 the budded peaks of the wood are b ,, vi 4 redden'd her cheek When I b to her ,, xix 66
Gareth b himself With all obedience Gareth and L. 487
Low b the tributary Prince, Marr. of Geraint 174 with back turn'd, and b above his work, ,, 267 lifted adoring eyes, B at her side Geraint and E. 305
b the all-amorous Earl, ,, 360 low b the Prince, and felt His work ,, 920
b black knees Of homage, Merlin and V. 577 then b his homage, bluntly saying, Last Tournament 206 he b to kiss the jewell'd throat, ,, 751 and b down upon her hands Silent, Guinevere 158 and b her head nor spake. ,, 310 power in his eye That b the will. Pass. of Arthur 291
B the spoiler, Bent the Scotsman, Batt. of Brunanburh 20 b myself down as a slave to his intellectual throne, The Wreck 66
Edith b her stately head, The Tourney 13
Edith Montfort b her head, ,, 15
Bower (See also Garden-bower, Tree-bower) Creeping thro' blossomy rushes and b's of rose-blowing bushes, Leonine Eleg. 3 day Was sloping toward his western b. Mariana 80 Dwelling amid these yellowing b's: A spirit haunts 2
Youngest Autumn, in a b Grape-thicken'd Eleänore 35
Then to the b they came, Œnone 94 they came to that smooth-swarded b, ,, 95
And I was left alone within the b; ,, 192 honeysuckle round the porch has wov'n its wavy b's, May Queen 29 Bower (continued) Leaving the promise of my bridal b, D. of F. Women 218 bulk Of mellow brickwork on an isle of b's. Edwin Morris 12 Pursue thy loves among the b's Talking Oak 199
Droops the heavy-blossom'd b, Locksley Hall 163
Then fled she to her inmost b, Godiva 42
but even then she gain'd Her b; ,, 77
The peacock in his laurel b, Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 15
From havens hid in fairy b's, The Voyage 54
she moved To meet me, winding under woodbine b's, The Brook 88 from a b of vine and honeysuckle: Aylmer's Field 156 broader-grown the b's Drew the great night Princess vii 48 music, O bird, in the new-budded b's! W. to Alexandra 11 Or walks in Boboli's ducal b's. The Daisy 44 and make her a b All of flowers, Window, At the W. 5 out of her b All of flowers, ,, 12 light Dies off at once from b and hall, In Mem. viii 6
That sweeps with all its autumn b's, ,, xi 10 have clothed their branchy b's With fifty Mays, ,, lxxvi 13
With thy lost friend among the b's, ,, cii 15 glowing like the moon Of Eden on its bridal b: ,, Con. 28
And tends upon bed and b, Maud I xiv 4 out of b and casement shyly glanced Gareth and L. 313 walk of lilies crost it to the b: Balin and Balan 243 long white walk of lilies toward the b. ,, 249 and Balin started from his b. ,, 280
Remembering that dark b at Camelot, ,, 526
'Had ye not held your Lancelot in your b, Pelleas and E. 182 spied not any light in hall or b, ,, 419
In her high b the Queen, Working a tapestry, Last Tournament 128 then slowly to her b Parted, ,, 238
Thro' many a league-long b he rode. ,, 374 saw The great Queen's b was dark,— ,, 758 in thy b's of Camelot or of Usk Guinevere 503 vanish'd from my sight Beneath the b Lover's Tale ii 43 they were swallow'd in the leafy b's, ,, iii 57
All the b's and the flowers, Sisters (E. and E.) 10
Fainting flowers, faded b's, ,, 11
Over all the woodland's flooded b's, ,, 20 piping underneath his beechen b's; To Virgil 14 wealth of tropic b and brake; To Ulysses 37
Bower'd (See also Close-bower'd) garden b close With plaited alleys of the trailing rose, Ode to Memory 105
Bower-eaves Look out below your b-e, Margaret 66
A BOW-SHOT from her b-e, L. of Shalott iii 1
Boweth Earthward he b the heavy stalks A spirit haunts 7
Bowing Approved him, b at their own deserts: The Brook 128 and b o'er the brook A tonsured head ,, 199
She spoke, and b waved Dismissal: Princess ii 99
b over him, Low to her own heart Marr. of Geraint 84
b lowly down before thee, Akbar's D., Hymn 3 Bowl (See also Wassail-bowl) Nor robb'd the farmer of his b of cream: Princess v 223
Nor b of wassail mantle warm; In Mem. cv 18 fling free alms into the beggar's b, Ancient Sage 260
Bowl'd a herd of boys with clamour b Princess, Pro. 81
Bowl-shaped saw, B-s, thro' tops of many thousand pines Gareth and L. 796
Bowman See Master-bowman
Bow-shot A B-s from her bower-eaves, L. of Shalott iii 1
Bow-string His b-s slacken'd, languid Love, Eleänore 117
Bowt (bought) An' 'e b owd money, es wouldn't goä, Village Wife 49
An' 'e b little statues all-naäkt ,, 50
Box (a case) (See also Deal-box) A long green b of mignonette, Miller's D. 83 and the b of mignonette. May Queen, N. Y's. E. 48
May bind a book, may line a b, In Mem. lxxvii 6
Box (compartment) Old b'es, larded with the steam Will Water. 223 Shall call thee from the b'es. ,, 240
Box (boxful) 'e snifft up a b in a daäy, Village Wife 40
Box (a shrub) breath Of the fading edges of b beneath, A spirit haunts 19
Boy (See also Cupid-boys, Orphan-boy) A merry b in sun and shade? Two Voices 321
'A merry b they call'd him then, ,, 322

Boy (continued) To be the long and listless b Late-left Miller's D. 33
My mother thought, What ails the b? ,, 93
'No fair Hebrew b Shall smile away D. of F. Women 213
'You will not, b! you dare to answer thus! Dora 26
there was born a b To William; ,, 48 Mary sat And look'd with tears upon her b, ,, 57 let me take the b, ,, 66
he may see the b, And bless him for the sake ,, 69
Well—for I will take the b; ,, 99
So saying, he took the b that cried aloud ,, 101
the b's cry came to her from the field, ,, 104
Mary saw the b Was not with Dora. ,, 111
Dora said, 'My uncle took the b; ,, 114
now I think, he shall not have the b, ,, 119
I will have my b, and bring him home; ,, 122
b set up betwixt his grandsire's knees, ,, 131 but when the b beheld His mother, ,, 137 now, Sir, let me have my b, ,, 152 and with his b Betwixt his knees, Walk. to the Mail 40 was as a b Destructive, ,, 81
So seems she to the b. Talking Oak 108 Eager-hearted as a b when first he leaves Locksley Hall 112 heart of existence beat for ever like a b's? ,, 140
A something-pottle-bodied b Will' Water. 131 O well for the fisherman's b, Break, break, etc. 5 two years after came a b to be The rosy idol Enoch Arden 89
Now let me put the b and girl to school: ,, 312
Philip put the b and girl to school, ,, 331 the youngest, hardly more than b, ,, 563 like her mother, and the b, my son.' ,, 791
Prattling the primrose fancies of the b, The Brook 19
So much the b foreran; Aylmer's Field 80 b might get a notion into him; ,, 271 girl and b, Sir, know their differences!' ,, 274
Last he said, 'B, mark me! ,, 300
'B, should I find you by my doors ,, 324 twenty b's and girls should marry on it, ,, 371 a herd of b's with clamour bowl'd Princess, Pro. 81 embower the nest, Some b would spy it.' ,, 148 daughter and his housemaid were the b's: ,, i 190
'Wretched b, How saw you not the inscription ,, ii 193
With me, Sir, enter'd in the bigger b, ,, 404
'Poor b,' she said, 'can he not read— ,, iii 214 when a b, you stoop'd to me From all high places, ,, iv 429 more Than growing b's their manhood; ,, 457
As b's that slink From ferule ,, v 37
B, when I hear you prate I almost think ,, 152
B, there's no rose that's half so dear ,, 159 idle b's are cowards to their shame, ,, 309
'B's!' shriek'd the old king, ,, 328 rout of saucy b's Brake on us at our books, ,, 394
B, The bearing and the training of a child ,, 464
The little b's begin to shoot and stab, Con. 61
Among six b's, head under head, ,, 83
Godfather, come and see your b: To F. D. Maurice 2
'O b, tho' thou art young and proud, Sailor Boy 7
We give them the b.' The Victim 40
Cut the Roman b to pieces in his lust Boädicea 66
For they controll'd me when a b; In Mem. xxviii 18
A sober man, among his b's, ,, liii 2
When he was little more than b, ,, lxii 6 and b's of thine Had babbled 'Uncle' on my knee; ,, lxxxiv 12 and b's That crash'd the glass and beat the floor; ,, lxxxvii 19
And like an inconsiderate b, ,, cxxii 14
b Will have plenty: so let it be.' (repeat) Maud I vii 7, 15
Read with a b's delight, ,, 10
To take a wanton dissolute b For a man ,, x 58 so the b, Sweet mother, neither clomb, Gareth and L. 55 ye are yet more b than man.' ,, 98 the b Is noble-natured. ,, 467 the b Was half beyond himself for ecstasy. ,, 523
the might and breath of twenty b's.' ,, 1106 Issued the bright face of a blooming b ,, 1408 fears And horrors only proven a blooming b. ,, 1425
'L,' said he, 'I have eaten all, Geraint and E. 217

Boy (continued) 'I take it as free gift, then,' said the b, Geraint and E. 222
b return'd And told them of a chamber, ,, 260 bone Seems to be pluck'd at by the village b's ,, 560 as a b lame-born beneath a height, Balin and Balan 164 old sun-worship, b, will rise again, ,, 457 Hither, b—and mark me well. ,, 502
'Live on, Sir B,' she cried. ,, 584 men and b's astride On wyvern, lion, Holy Grail 349 beauty of her flesh abash'd the b, Pelleas and E. 78 as the wholesome mothers tell their b's. ,, 197
b Paused not, but overrode him, shouting, ,, 544 on whom the b, Across the silent seeded meadow-grass ,, 560 thronging fancies come To b's and girls Lover's Tale i 555 so love that men and b's may say, ,, 756 that day a b was born, Heir of his face and land, ,, iv 128
Another, if the b were hers: ,, 332
But the b was born i' trouble, First Quarrel 2 the b can hold up his head, ,, 5
The b was born in wedlock, ,, 6
He fought the b's that were rude, ,, 14
I was near my time wi' the b, ,, 82
But say nothing hard of my b, Rizpah 22
I kiss'd my b in the prison, ,, 23 hear that cry of my b that was dead, ,, 45
But I go to-night to my b, ,, 74
For I cared so much for my b that the Lord ,, 75 if my b be gone to the fire! ,, 78 and gain her then: no wavering, b! Sisters (E. and E.) 39 for all that, my b, Some birds are sick ,, 72 boöoks wur gone an' 'is b wur dead, Village Wife 87
Here was a b—I am sure that some of our children In the Child. Hosp. 11
Here was a b in the ward, ,, 13 what! the kingly, kindly b; Sir J. Oldcastle 88 thou comest, darling b; Our own; De Prof. Two G. 10 Down yon dark sea, thou comest, darling b. ,, 34
To younger England in the b my son. To Victor Hugo 14 said to me 'Pity it isn't a b.' The Wreck 34 for oft On me, when b, there came Ancient Sage 217 what had he lost, the b? ,, 227
For the b's wor about her agin Tomorrow 43 a bouncin' b an' a gell. Spinster's S's. 82 Thou alone, my b, of Amy's kin Locksley H., Sixty 56 a shatter'd wheel? a vicious b ,, 215
Not there to bid my b farewell, To Marq. of Dufferin 42 haunt him when a b, Far-far-away? Far-far-away 8 Turn'd him again to b, for up he sprang, St. Telemachus 58 that the b never cried again. Bandit's Death 28 birthday came of a b born happily dead. Charity 34

Boyhood Then, in the b of the year, Sir L. and Q. G. 19
Sweet love on pranks of saucy b: Princess vii 344
One whispers, 'Here thy b sung Long since In Mem. ci 9
Wander'd back to living b while I heard Locksley H., Sixty 3
Eyes that lured a doting b ,, 10
Feed the budding rose of b ,, 143
I was then in early b, ,, 258

Boy-knight saw the bright b-k, and bound it on him, Holy Grail 156

Boy-love this b-l of yours with mine. Locksley H., Sixty 6

Boy-phrase my b-p 'The Passion of the Past.' Ancient Sage 219

Brăain (brain) moor sense i' one o' 'is legs nor in all thy b's. N. Farmer, N.S. 4 'Sottin' thy b's Guzzlin' an' soäkin' North. Cobbler 23

Brace b Of twins may weed her of her folly. Princess v 463 and then against his b Of comrades, Geraint and E. 87

Braced Had b my purpose to declare myself: Sisters (E. and E.) 143

Bracelet With b's of the diamond bright: Day-Dm., Sleep. B. 14

Bracelet-bestower B-b and Baron of Barons, Batt. of Brunanburh 3

Bracken when the b rusted on their crags, Edwin Morris 100 Nowt at all but b an' fuzz, N. Farmer, O. S. 38
Breast-high in that bright line of b stood: Pelleas and E. 56
Among our heath and b. The Ring 318
When I look'd at the b so bright June Bracken, etc. 3
As the green of the b amid the gloom ,, 9

Bracken-rooft Furze-cramm'd, and b-r, Last Tournament 377

Bracket statuette Of my dear Mother on your b here— The Ring 110 Brag (s) Said Gareth, 'Old, and over-bold in b! Gareth and L. 1107 Brag (verb) b to his fellow rakes of his conquest Charity 18
Bragging armies so broken A reason for b Batt. of Brunanburh 83
Brahmin B, and Buddhist, Christian, and Parsee, Akbar's Dream 25
Braid wound Her looser hair in b, Gardener's D. 158 fire-flies tangled in a silver b. Locksley Hall 10 Forth streaming from a b of pearl: Day-Dm., Sleep. B. 6 Blowing the ringlet from the b: Sir L. and Q. G. 39 the b Slipt and uncoil'd itself, Merlin and V. 888 Braided (See also Vapour-braided) b thereupon All the devices blazon'd Lancelot and E. 8 precious crystal into which I b Edwin's hair! The Flight 34 Brain (See also Braäin, Full-brain, Half-brain) arms, or power of b, or birth To the Queen 3
Right to the heart and b, tho' undescried, Isabel 22
From the b of the purple mountain Poet's Mind 29 falling axe did part The burning b from the true heart, Margaret 39
A random arrow from the b. Two Voices 345
From some odd corner of the b. Miller's D. 68
In my dry b my spirit soon, Fatima 26 Devil, large in heart and b, To—With Pal. of Art 5 great thought strikes along the b, D. of F. Women 43 dawn's creeping beams, Stol'n to my b, ,, 262 Drawn from the spirit thro' the b, To J. S. 38 nourish a blind life within the b, M. d'Arthur 251
Simeon, whose b the sunshine bakes; St. S. Stylites 164 Better the narrow b, the stony heart, Love and Duty 15 mist of tears, that weigh'd Upon my b, ,, 44 that his b is overwrought: Locksley Hall 53 blinder motions bounded in a shallower b: ,, 150
On secrets of the b, the stars, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 11
Which bears a season'd b about, Will Water. 85 were scatter'd Blood and b's of men. The Captain 48 Beating it in upon his weary b, Enoch Arden 796 tickling the brute b within the man's Lucretius 21
but as his b Began to mellow, Princess i 179
Besides the b was like the hand, ,, ii 150
Then while I dragg'd my b's for such a song, ,, iv 154 Whose b's are in their hands and in their heels, ,, 518 upon whose hand and heart and b Ode on Well. 239 Perchance, to charm a vacant b, The Daisy 106 dash the b's of the little one out, Boädicea 68
But, for the unquiet heart and b, In Mem. v 5
And marvel what possess'd my b; ,, xiv 16
I make a picture in the b; ,, lxxx 9
As but the canker of the b; ,, xxii 3
Pallas from the b Of Demons? ,, cxiv 12
I think we are not wholly b, ,, cxx 2
And like is darken'd in the b. ,, cxxi 8 would not marvel at either, but keep a temperate b; Maud I iv 40
What was it? a lying trick of the b? ,, II i 37
Is a juggle born of the b? ,, ii 42
'Tis the blot upon the b That will show ,, iv 60
Beat into my scalp and my b, ,, v 10
So dark a forethought roll'd about his b, Merlin and V. 230 may make My scheming b a cinder, ,, 933
Skip to the broken music of my b's Last Tournament 258
'Save for that broken music in thy b's, ,, 267 and clove him thro' the b. ,, 754 nourish a blind life within the b, Pass. of Arthur 419 springing from her fountains in the b, Lover's Tale i 83 clear brow, bulwark of the precious b, ,, 130 Past thro' into his citadel, the b, ,, 631
O'erbore the limits of my b: ,, 689 meaning of the letters shot into My b; ,, ii 9
In my b The spirit seem'd to flag ,, 50 thro' my eyes into my innermost b, ,, 95 Flatter'd the fancy of my fading b; ,, 107 love is of the b, the mind, the soul: ,, iv 156 her b broke With over-acting, Sisters (E. and E.) 235 My b had begun to reel— In the Child. Hosp. 60 brute bullet broke thro' the b Def. of Lucknow 20 For I am emptier than a friar's b's; Sir J. Oldcastle 7 rang into the heart and the b, V. of Maeldune 110

Brain (continued) My b is full of the crash of wrecks, The Wreck 4 for my b was drunk with the water, Despair 65 statesman's b that sway'd the past Ancient Sage 134 Set the feet above the b and swear the b is in the feet. Locksley H., Sixty 136 oust the madness from your b. ,, 241 Works of subtle b and hand, Open. I. and C. Exhib. 7
'Beat little heart' on this fool b of mine. Romney's R. 155
Who was a shadow in the b, Mechanophilus 15
Brain-feverous B-f in his heat and agony, Lancelot and E. 854
Brain-labour And prodigal of all b-l he, Aylmer's Field 447
Brainless Insolent, b, heartless! ,, 368
Brainpan Than if my b were an empty hull, Princess ii 398 Brake (s) Close-matted, bur and b and briar, Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 46 gloom Of evening over b and bloom And meadow, In Mem. lxxxvi 3
And bristles all the b's and thorns ,, cvii 9
In every wavering b an ambuscade. Geraint and E. 51
'How far thro' all the bloom and b Ancient Sage 19 wealth of tropic bower and b; To Ulysses 37 downy drift against the b's, Prog. of Spring 27
Brake (verb) at their feet the crocus b like fire, Œnone 96
B with a blast of trumpets from the gate, Princess, Pro. 42 from my breast the involuntary sigh B, ,, iii 192 over brow And cheek and bosom b the wrathful bloom ,, iv 383 titter, out of which there b On all sides, ,, v 16 a rout of saucy boys B on us at our books, ,, 395 then b out my sire, Lifting his grim head ,, vi 271
For on them b the sudden foe; The Victim 4
Suddenly from him b his wife, ,, 70
No spirit ever b the band That stays him In Mem. xciii 2 fires of Hell b out of thy rising sun, Maud II i 9 b on him, till, amazed, He knew not whither Com. of Arthur 39 they swerved and b Flying, ,, 119 great lords Banded, and so b out in open war.' ,, 237 neither clomb, nor b his neck, But b his very heart in pining for it, Gareth and L. 56
That lookt half-dead, b bright, ,, 685 there b a servingman Flying from out of the black wood, ,, 801 either spear Bent but not b, ,, 964 Clash'd his, and b it utterly to the hilt. ,, 1148 and thrice they b their spears. Marr. of Geraint 562 then b short, and down his enemy roll'd, Geraint and E. 160 Abash'd us both, and b my boast. Thy will?' Balin and Balan 71
I b upon thy rest, And now full loth ,, 499 the storm B on the mountain and I cared not Merlin and V. 503 and the skull B from the nape, Lancelot and E. 50
b a sudden-beaming tenderness Of manners ,, 328 then out she b: 'Going? ,, 925 when the next sun b from underground, ,, 1137
B from the vast oriel-embowering vine ,, 1198
Stoopt, took, b seal, and read it; ,, 1271
'But when the next day b from under ground— Holy Grail 338
Then blush'd and b the morning of the jousts, Pelleas and E. 157 comes again'—there she b short; ,, 295
Reel'd in the smoke, b into flame, and fell. ,, 519
It chanced that both B into hall together, ,, 587 and the Red Knight B in upon me Last Tournament 72
B with a wet wind blowing, ,, 137
B up their sports, then slowly to her bower ,, 238 maid, who brook'd No silence, b it, Guinevere 160 storm of anger b From Guinevere, ,, 361 there her voice b suddenly, ,, 607
b the petty kings, and fought with Rome, Pass. of Arthur 68 wan wave B in among dead faces, ,, 130 while they b them, own'd me King. ,, 158
B the shield-wall, Batt. of Brunanburh 11
Brakest b thro' the scruple of my bond, Last Tournament 568 Bramble arm Red-rent with hooks of b, Holy Grail 211 and b's mixt And overgrowing them, Pelleas and E. 422
Bramble Rose B r's, faint and pale, A Dirge 30
Branch (s) (See also Willow-branches) Like to some b of stars we see L. of Shalott iii 11
B'es they bore of that enchanted stem, Lotos-Eaters 28
With winds upon the b, ,, C. S. 27 curved b'es, fledged with clearest green, D. of F. Women 59

Branch (s) (continued) paused, And dropt the b she held, Gardener's D. 157
Whose topmost b'es can discern The roofs Talking Oak 31
And from thy topmost b discern The roofs ,, 95
From spray, and b, and stem, ,, 190
Stagger'd and shook, holding the b, Enoch Arden 767 whirl'd her white robe like a blossom'd b Princess iv 179 the b'es thereupon Spread out at top, ,, 205 and shook the b'es of the deer ,, Con. 98
That makes the barren b'es loud ; In Mem. xv 13
On all the b'es of thy blood ; ,, lxxxiv 8 lie, while these long b'es sway, Maud I xviii 29 Melody on b, and melody in mid air. Gareth and L. 133 high on a b Hung it, Balin and Balan 432 Tore from the b, and cast on earth, ,, 539 and the rotten b Snapt in the rushing Merlin and V. 957
A border fantasy of b and flower, Lancelot and E. 11 puff'd the swaying b'es into smoke Holy Grail 15 were our mothers' b'es of one stem ? Lover's Tale ii 25 and the b with berries on it, Columbus 73
Golden b amid the shadows, To Virgil 27
Who lops the moulder'd b away. Hands all round 8 gliding thro' the b'es over-bower'd Death of Œnone 6 Branch (verb) But b'es current yet in kindred veins.' Princess ii 245 o'er the friths that b and spread In Mem., Con. 115 a name that b'es o'er the rest, Balin and Balan 182 Branch'd cloisters, b like mighty woods, Palace of Art 26 whisper of huge trees that b And blossom'd in the zenith, Enoch Arden 585 that b itself Fine as ice-ferns Aylmer's Field 221 throve and b from clime to clime, In Mem. cxviii 13 dress All b and flower'd with gold, Marr. of Geraint 631 forehead veins Bloated, and b ; Balin and Balan 392 Branching empires b, both, in lusty life !— W. to Marie Alex. 21 trace On paler heavens the b grace Of leafless elm, To Ulysses 15 Branch-work Beneath b-w of costly sardonyx Palace of Art 95
Brand (a mark) a part Falling had let appear the b of John— Aylmer's Field 509
Brand (a sword) (See also Levin-brand) The b, the buckler, and the spear— Two Voices 129
Thou therefore take my b Excalibur, M. d'Arthur 27
There drew he forth the b Excalibur, ,, 52
'And if indeed I cast the b away, ,, 88
The great b Made lightnings in the splendour ,, 136
So flash'd and fell the b Excalibur : ,, 142
The hard b's shiver on the steel, Sir Galahad 6
And, ringing, springs from b and mail ; ,, 54
—b, mace, and shaft, and shield— Princess v 503
Arthur call'd to stay the b's Com. of Arthur 120
So this great b the king Took, ,, 308
Flash b and lance, fall battleaxe ,, 486
Fall battleaxe, and flash b ! (repeat) ,, 487, 490, 502
Clang battleaxe and clash b ! (repeat) ,, 493, 496, 499
Gareth lash'd so fiercely with his b Gareth and L. 968
Sir Gareth's b Clash'd his, ,, 1147 neither hunting-dress Nor weapon, save a golden-hilted b, Marr. of Geraint 166 Swung from his b a windy buffet out Once, Geraint and E. 90 and tearing out of sheath The b, Balin and Balan 393
Where Arthur finds the b Excalibur. Holy Grail 253
The b Excalibur will be cast away. ,, 257 Shield-breakings, and the clash of b's, Pass. of Arthur 109 b's that once had fought with Rome, ,, 133
There drew he forth the b Excalibur, ,, 220
'And if indeed I cast the b away, ,, 256
The great b Made lightnings in the splendour ,, 304
So flash'd and fell the b Excalibur : ,, 310
Sons of Edward with hammer'd b's. Batt. of Brunanburh 14
Brand (verb) power to burn and b His nothingness into man. Maud I xviii 39
b us, after, of whose fold we be : Merlin and V. 764
Earth and Hell will b your name, Forlorn 51
Brandagoras King B of Latangor, Com. of Arthur 114
Brandish'd caught him by the hilt, and b him (repeat) M. d'Arthur 145, 160 caught him by the hilt, and b him (repeat) Pass. of Arthur 313, 328 Brandishing B in her hand a dart Boadicea 71
Brass crag-platform smooth as burnish'd b I chose. Palace of Art 5
Two handfuls of white dust, shut in an urn of b ! Lotos-Eaters C.S. 68
A flying splendour out of b and steel, Princess vi 365
Among the knightly b'es of the graves, Merlin and V. 752
Brastias (a knight) Ulfius, and B, and Bedivere, (repeat) Com. of Arthur 136, 165, 445
Ulfius and B answer'd, 'Ay.' Com. of Arthur 173
Brat I hevn't naw likin' fur b's ; Spinster's S's. 84 Brave (adj.) B the Captain was : The Captain 5 few his knights, however b they be— Com. of Arthur 252 but all b, all of one mind with him ; ,, 255 Truth-speaking, b, good livers, Gareth and L. 424 till she left Not even Lancelot b, Merlin and V. 805
All b, and many generous, and some chaste. ,, 817
Each was as b in the fight V. of Maeldune 5 being true as he was b ; Locksley H., Sixty 59
Brave (s) our Lawrence the best of the b : Def. of Lucknow 11
Follow'd by the b of other lands, Ode on Well. 194 whatsoe'er He wrought of good or b Epilogue 76
Brave (verb) never : here I b the worst : ' Edwin Morris 118
However we b it out, we men are a little breed. Maud I iv 30
Braved She b a riotous heart in asking for it. Lancelot and E. 359
Bravery Lancelot, the flower of b, ,, 113
Bravest Fought with the b among us, Def. of Lucknow 71
Brawl (s) creature wholly given to b's and wine, Marr. of Geraint 441
Brawl (verb) Cease to wail and b ! Two Voices 199
I care not what the sects may b. Palace of Art 210 left the drunken king To b at Shushan Princess iii 230
b Their rights or wrongs like potherbs ,, v 458 our free press should cease to b, Third of Feb. 3
Is perfect stillness when they b. Lit. Squabbles 20
Brawler 'What fear ye, b's ? Princess iv 498
Brawling brook o'er a shingly bed B, Marr. of Geraint 249
Romans b of their monstrous games ; St. Telemachus 40
Bray loud rung out the bugle's b's, Oriana 48 in the blast and b of the long horn Princess v 252
Brazen-headed O'erthwarted with the b-h spear Œnone 139
Breach One has leapt up on the b, Def. of Lucknow 64
Breach'd b the belting wall of Cambalu, Columbus 108
Bread (See also Breäd) I speak the truth, as I live by b ! Lady Clare 26
Taking her b and theirs : Enoch Arden 111 wine And b from out the houses brought, Spec. of Iliad 6 chalk and alum and plaster are sold to the poor for b, Maud I i 39
Where b and baken meats and good red wine Gareth and L. 1190 in her veil enfolded, manchet b. Marr. of Geraint 389 sold and sold had bought them b : ,, 641 smote itself into the b, and went ; Holy Grail 467
But, b, merely for b. Sir J. Oldcastle 14
'B—B left after the blessing ?' ,, 153 now He veils His flesh in b, body and b ,, 157
'No b, no b. (repeat) ,, 159, 161
Hast thou brought b with thee ? ,, 198
I have not broken b for fifty hours. ,, 199
For holding there was b where b was none—No b. ,, 201
I am not like to die for lack of b. ,, 205
B enough for his need till the labourless day V. of Maeldune 86 dream, now and then, of a hand giving b and wine, The Wreck 114 Master scrimps his haggard sempstress of her daily b, Locksley H., Sixty 221
Breäd Mun be a guvness, lad, or summut, and addle her b : N. Farmer, N. S. 26 Breadth B's of tropic shade and palms in cluster, Locksley Hall 160 left but narrow b to left and right Enoch Arden 674 shattering on black blocks A b of thunder. Princess iii 292 whence they need More b of culture : ,, v 188 a b Of Autumn, dropping fruits of power : ,, vi 54
She mental b, nor fail in childward care, ,, vii 283 tower Half-lost in belts of hop and b's of wheat ; ,, Con. 45 with all thy b and height Of foliage, In Mem. lxxxix 3 highway running by it leaves a b Of sward to left and right, Sisters (E. and E.) 80 from over the b of a street, Def. of Lucknow 23
she with all the b of man, Locksley H., Sixty 48

Break (s) Across a b on the mist-wreathen isle Enoch Arden 632
At b of day the College Portress came : Princess ii 15
I climb'd the roofs at b of day ; The Daisy 61 Break (verb) (See also Breäk) passion fann'd, About thee b's and dances : Madeline 30 breaking heart that will not b, Oriana 64 athlete, strong to b or bind All force Palace of Art 153
'No voice b's thro' the stillness ,, 259
You thought to b a country heart L. C. V. de Vere 3
Nor would I b for your sweet sake ,, 13 call me loud when the day begins to b : May Queen 10 lest a cry Should b his sleep by night, Walk. to the Mail 74 same old sore b's out from age to age ,, 79
Faltering, would b its syllables. Love and Duty 39
He b's the hedge : he enters there : Day-Dm., Arrival 18
But b it. In the name of wife, ,, L'Envoi 53
B up the heavens, O Lord ! St. Agnes' Eve 21 barren commonplaces b In full and kindly blossom. Will Water. 23
B lock and seal : betray the trust : You might have won 18
B, b, b, On thy cold gray stones, Break, break, etc. 1
B, b, b, At the foot of thy crags, ,, 13
But had no heart to b his purposes To Annie, Enoch Arden 155
I think your kindness b's me down ; ,, 318
Help me not to b in upon her peace. ,, 787
Which b's all bonds but ours ; Aylmer's Field 425
Who broke the bond which they desired to b, ,, 778 trifle makes a dream, a trifle b's.' Sea Dreams 144 that b Body toward death, Lucretius 153 which b's As I am breaking now ! ,, 241
In iron gauntlets : b the council up.' Princess i 89 wherefore b her troth ? ,, 95
To b my chain, to shake my mane : ,, ii 424 Kill up with pity, b us with ourselves— ,, iii 258 tho' the rough kex b The starr'd mosaic, ,, iv 77 did I b Your precinct ; ,, 421
On me, me, me, the storm first b's : ,, 499
You that have dared to b our bound, ,, 539 she's yet a colt—Take, b her : ,, v 456 takes, and b's, and cracks, and splits, ,, 527 fear we not To b them more in their behoof, ,, vi 61
Nemesis B from a darken'd future, ,, 175
We b our laws with ease, ,, 323 your Highness b's with ease The law ,, 325 roar that b's the Pharos from his base ,, 339 sorrowing in a pause I dared not b ; ,, vii 249
b the shore, and evermore Make and b, Ode on Well. 260 War, who b's the converse of the wise ; Third of Feb. 8
Tho' all the storm of Europe on us b ; ,, 14
B, happy land, into earlier flowers ! W. to Alexandra 10 everywhere, The blue heaven b, W. to Marie Alex. 43 To b the blast of winter, stand ; To F. D. Maurice 22 the bud ever b's into bloom on the tree, The Islet 32
b the works of the statuary, Boädicea 64 immeasurable heavens B open to their highest, Spec. of Iliad 15 Must I take you and b you, Window, The Answer 3
I must take you, and b you, ,, 5 take—b, b—B—you may b my heart. ,, 7
B, b and all's done. ,, 10
B, thou deep vase of chilling tears, In Mem. iv 11
To evening, but some heart did b. ,, vi 8
On the bald street b's the blank day. ,, vii 12 B's hither over Indian seas, ,, xxvi 14 that my hold on life would b Before I heard ,, xxviii 15
That b's about the dappled pools : ,, xlix 4
Who b's his birth's invidious bar, ,, lxiv 5 and b The low beginnings of content. ,, lxxxiv 47
And b the livelong summer day ,, lxxxix 31 b's The rocket molten into flakes Of crimson ,, xcviii 30 Or into silver arrows b The sailing moon ,, ci 15
the rolling brine That b's the coast. ,, cvii 15
Will let his coltish nature b ,, cxi 7
And every thought b's out a rose. ,, cxxii 20 million emeralds b from the ruby-budded lime Maud I iv 1
Can b her word were it even for me ? ,, xvi 29
B not, O woman's-heart, Ded. of Idylls 44
Break (verb) (continued) B not, for thou art Royal, but endure, Ded. of Idylls 45
'Climb not lest thou b thy neck, Gareth and L. 54
To b him from the intent to which he grew, ,, 140 so besieges her To b her will, and make her wed ,, 617
Running too vehemently to b upon it. Marr. of Geraint 78
Here often they b covert at our feet.' ,, 183
Then will I fight him, and will b his pride, ,, 221 and in April suddenly B's from a coppice ,, 339
That lightly b's a faded flower-sheath, ,, 365 fight and b his pride and have it of him. ,, 416
I will b his pride, and learn his name, ,, 424
In next day's tourney I may b his pride.' ,, 476
b perforce Upon a head so dear in thunder, Geraint and E. 12 as a man upon his tongue May b it, ,, 43 chance That b's upon them perilously, ,, 354 nature's prideful sparkle in the blood B into furious flame ; ,, 828
b Into some madness ev'n before the Queen ?' Balin and Balan 229 and b the King And all his Table.' ,, 458 knight, we b on thy sweet rest, ,, 470 now full loth am I to b thy dream, ,, 500 Began to b her sports with graver fits, Merlin and V. 180 in the slippery sand before it b's ? ,, 293 fled from Arthur's court To b the mood. ,, 298 that wave about to b upon me And sweep me ,, 302 tiny-trumpeting gnat can b our dream When sweetest ; Lancelot and E. 137 crying Christ and him, And b them ; ,, 306 Would he b faith with one I may not name ? ,, 685 discourtesy To blunt or b her passion.' ,, 974
(He meant to b the passion in her) ,, 1079
Would shun to b those bounds of courtesy ,, 1220
To b her passion, some discourtesy ,, 1302
I needs must b These bonds that so defame me : ,, 1420
b thro' all, till one will crown thee king Holy Grail 161
'I never heard his voice But long'd to b away. Pelleas and E. 256 said Tristram, 'I would b thy head. Last Tournament 268 and after the great waters b Whitening ,, 464 make the smouldering scandal b and blaze Guinevere 91 Stands in a wind, ready to b and fly, ,, 365
b the heathen and uphold the Christ, ,, 470
—let my heart B rather— Lover's Tale i 738
Not to b in on what I say by word ,, iv 352
B, diviner light ! Sisters (E. and E.) 23 one of those who would b their jests on the dead, In the Child. Hosp. 8 B thro' the yews and cypress of thy grave, Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 12 would b down and raze The blessed tomb Columbus 98
Years that make And b the vase of clay, Ancient Sage 92
B into 'Thens' and 'Whens' ,, 104 when the babblings b the dream. ,, 107 Scarce feels the senses b away ,, 152 shell must b before the bird can fly. ,, 154
B the State, the Church, the Throne, Locksley H., Sixty 138 thro' this midnight b's the sun Pref. Poem Broth. S. 21 Might b thro' clouded memories Demeter and P. 10
And b's into the crocus-purple hour ,, 50
b The sunless halls of Hades into Heaven ? ,, 135 b's her latest earthy link With me to-day. The Ring 47
Your 'Miriam b's'—is making ,, 50
No pliable idiot I to b my vow ; ,, 402 made one barren effort to b it at the last. Happy 72 groundflame of the crocus b's the mould, Prog. of Spring 1
The mortal hillock, Would b into blossom ; Merlin and the G. 108 blight thy hope or b thy rest, Faith 2 Breäk (verb) fur I beänt a-gawin' to b my rule. N. Farmer, O. S. 4
I weänt b rules fur Doctor, ,, 67
B me a bit o' the esh for his 'eäd, ,, N. S. 41
Tis'n them as 'as munny as b's into 'ouses ,, 45 an' sweär'd as I'd b ivry stick North. Cobbler 35
'tha mun b 'im off bit by bit.' ,, 88 runs out when ya b's the shell. Village Wife 4
Breaker (one who breaks) A b of the bitter news from home, Aylmer's Field 594

Breaker (one who breaks) (continued) Nor those horn-handed b's of the glebe, Princess ii 159 Breaker (wave) long swells of b sweep The nutmeg rocks The Voyage 39 following up And flying the white b, Enoch Arden 21 hard upon the cry of 'b's' came ,, 548 a ridge Of b issued from the belt, Sea Dreams 212
The mellow b murmur'd Ida. Princess iv 436 roaring b's boom and blanch on the precipices, Boädicea 76
The b breaking on the beach. In Mem. lxxi 16
And the fringe Of that great b, Com. of Arthur 387
And steps that met the b ! Holy Grail 816 chafed b's of the outer sea Sank powerless, Lover's Tale i 8 the b's on the shore Sloped into louder surf : ,, iii 14 Javelins over The jarring b, Batt. of Brunanburh 97 came thro' the roar of the b a whisper, Despair 13
The b's lash the shores : Pref. Poem Broth. S. 2
Breaker-beaten For leagues along that b-b coast Enoch Arden 51
Breakest so thou b Arthur's music too.' Last Tournament 266 Breaking (part) (See also Ever-breaking) Just b over land and main ? Two Voices 84 heart is b, and my eyes are dim, Œnone 32
They say his heart is b, mother— May Queen 22
The thunders b at her feet : Of old sat Freedom 2 while on all sides b loose Her household fled The Goose 53 Old elms came b from the vine, Amphion 45
Long lines of cliff b have left a chasm ; Enoch Arden 1
Nor let him be, but often b in, ,, 701 he saw An end, a hope, a light b upon him. Aylmer's Field 480 b that, you made and broke your dream : Sea Dreams 143 which breaks As I am b now ! Lucretius 241 nation weeping, and b on my rest ? Ode on Well. 82
B their mailed fleets and armed towers, Ode Inter. Exhib. 39
Or b into song by fits, In Mem. xxiii 2
The breaker b on the beach. ,, lxxi 16
And b let the splendour fall ,, Con. 119 why come you so cruelly meek, B a slumber Maud I iii 2
B up my dream of delight. ,, xix 2 and b into song Sprang out, Com. of Arthur 320 heard The world's loud whisper b into storm, Marr. of Geraint 27
Then b his command of silence given, Geraint and E. 390
Vivien b in upon him, said : Merlin and V. 600
Outram and Havelock b their way through Def. of Lucknow 96
O young life B with laughter De. Prof. Two G. 18
Who b in upon us yestermorn, Akbar's Dream 114
Breaking (s) (See also Shield-breaking) Until the b of the light, Clear-headed friend 25
Yours came but from the b of a glass, Sea Dreams 248 crave His pardon for thy b of his laws. Gareth and L. 986 Red ruin, and the b up of laws, Guinevere 426 making a new link B an old one ? The Ring 51 save b my bones on the rack ? By an Evolution. 9
Breast (s) Naiad Throbbing in mild unrest holds him beneath in her b. Leonine Eleg. 12
Showering thy gleaned wealth into my open b Ode to Memory 23
Fold thy palms across thy b, A Dirge 2
Take the heart from out my b. Adeline 8
To find my heart so near the beauteous b The form, the form 7
Dominion in the head and b.' Two Voices 21
'His palms are folded on his b : ,, 247
A vague suspicion of the b : ,, 336
fill'd the b with purer breath. Miller's D. 92
I crush'd them on my b, my mouth ; Fatima 12
Over her snow-cold b and angry cheek Œnone 142
His ruddy cheek upon my b, The Sisters 20 hundred winters snow'd upon his b. Palace of Art 139 as I lie upon your b— May Queen, Con. 59 polish'd argent of her b to sight D. of F. Women 158 and my true b Bleedeth for both ; To J. S. 62
So muscular he spread, so broad of b. Gardener's D. 8 wave of such a b As never pencil drew. ,, 139 breathing health and peace upon her b : Audley Court 68
An acorn in her b. Talking Oak 228 crimson comes upon the robin's b ; Locksley Hall 17 press me from the mother's b. ,, 90

Breast (s) (continued) and he bears a laden b, Locksley Hall 143 in its b a thunderbolt. ,, 192 old Earl's daughter died at my b ; Lady Clare 25
Her arms across her b she laid ; Beggar Maid 1
I shook her b with vague alarms— The Letters 38 silent court of justice in his b, Sea Dreams 174 stood out the b's, The b's of Helen, Lucretius 60 blasting the long quiet of my b ,, 162 Beat b, tore hair, cried out upon herself ,, 277 think I bear that heart within my b, Princess ii 334
Rest, rest, on mother's b, ,, iii 11
My secret, seem'd to stir within my b ; ,, 44 from my b the involuntary sigh Brake, ,, 191
I smote him on the b ; ,, iv 164
now her b, Beaten with some great passion ,, 387
Her noble heart was molten in her b ; ,, vi 119
if you loved The b that fed or arm ,, 181
Thy helpless warmth about my barren b ,, 202 something wild within her b, ,, vii 237 Sent from a dewy b a cry for light : ,, 253
Chop the b's from off the mother, Boädicea 68
And dead calm in that noble b In Mem. xi 19
And onward drags a labouring b, ,, xv 18
Be tenants of a single b, ,, xvi 3
Against the circle of the b, ,, xlv 3
A faithful answer from the b, ,, lxxxv 14
That warms another living b. ,, 116
They haunt the silence of the b, ,, xxiv 9
And woolly b's and beaded eyes ; ,, xcv 12
A single murmur in the b, ,, civ 7 and in my b Spring wakens too ; ,, cxv 17
And enter in at b and brow, ,, cxxii 11
A warmth within the b would melt ,, cxxiv 13 opulence jewel-thick Sunn'd itself on his b Maud I xiii 13
Lord of the pulse that is lord of her b, ,, xvi 13 ruddy shield on the Lion's b. ,, III vi 14 o'er her b floated the sacred fish ; Gareth and L. 223
The massive square of his heroic b, Marr. of Geraint 75
'O noble b and all-puissant arms, ,, 86 weep True tears upon his broad and naked b, ,, 111 thro' his manful b darted the pang ,, 121 Sank her sweet head upon her gentle b ; ,, 527 fell'd him, and set foot upon his b, ,, 574
Drave the long spear a cubit thro' his b Geraint and E. 86
Her arms upon her b across, Merlin and V. 910 pleasant b of waters, quiet bay, Lover's Tale i 6 anger falls aside And withers on the b of peaceful love ; ,, 10
Her b as in a shadow-prison, ,, iv 58 her b Hard-heaving, and her eyes upon her feet, ,, 307 her thin hands crost on her b— In the Child. Hosp. 39 kill Their babies at the b Columbus 180
And from her virgin b, and virgin eyes Tiresias 46
ah, fold me to your b ! The Flight 5 pluck from this true b the locket that I wear, ,, 33 well-used to move the public b. To W. C. Macready 3 gave Thy b to ailing infants in the night, Demeter and P. 56 my loving head upon your leprous b. Happy 26 let me lean my head upon your b. Romney's R. 154 blade that had slain my husband thrice thro' his b. Bandit's Death 34 Breast (verb) b's the blows of circumstance, In Mem. lxiv 7
Breast-bone white b-b, and barren ribs of Death, Gareth and L. 1382
Breast-deep all night long b-d in corn, Princess ii 387 Breasted See Full-breasted, Man-breasted, White-breasted.
Breast-high B-h in that bright line Pelleas and E. 56 Breath (See also Morning-breath) Her subtil, warm, and golden b, Supp. Confessions 60
b Of the fading edges of box beneath, A spirit haunts 18
There is frost in your b Poet's Mind 17
the b Of the lilies at sunrise ? Adeline 36
I lose my colour, I lose my b, Eleänore 137
No life that breathes with human b Two Voices 395 fill'd the breast with purer b. Miller's D. 92
As half-asleep his b he drew, The Sisters 28
Long labour unto aged b, Lotos-Eater's, C. S. 85

Breath (continued) Dan Chaucer, the first warbler, whose sweet b — D. of F. Women 5 Drew forth the poison with her balmy b, — ,, 271 but empty b And rumours of a doubt? — M. d'Arthur 99 spoke King Arthur, drawing thicker b: — ,, 148 Clothed with his b, and looking, — ,, 182
my ears could hear Her lightest b; — Edwin Morris 65 but ever at a b She linger'd, — Godiva 44
My b to heaven like vapour goes: — St. Agnes' Eve 3
'Greet her with applausive b, — Vision of Sin 135
While we keep a little b! — ,, 192
The b of heaven came continually — Enoch Arden 535 my latest b Was spent in blessing her — ,, 883 a low b Of tender air made tremble — The Brook 201 ice-ferns on January panes Made by a b. — Aylmer's Field 223 on a sudden rush'd Among us, out of b, — Princess iv 375
b of life; O more than poor men wealth, — ,, 459 body that never had drawn a b. — Grandmother 62
O sweet and bitter in a b, — In Mem. iii 3
And scarce endure to draw the b, — ,, xx 15
And so the Word had b, and wrought — ,, xxxvi 9
This use may lie in blood and b, — ,, xlv 13 spirit does but mean the b I know no more.' — ,, lvi 7 Death's twin-brother, times my b; — ,, lxviii 2 new life that feeds thy b Throughout — In Mem. lxxxvi 10
East and West, without a b, — In Mem. xcv 62
To where he breathed his latest b, — ,, xcviii 5
Who wakenest with thy balmy b — ,, xcix 13
I trust I have not wasted b: — ,, cxx 1
Be quicken'd with a livelier b, — ,, cxxii 13
Awe-stricken b's at a work divine, — Maud I x 17
Prickle my skin and catch my b, — ,, xiv 36
Catch not my b, O clamorous heart, — ,, xvi 31
Not die; but live a life of truest b, — Maud I xviii 53 Seal'd her mine from her first sweet b. — ,, xix 41 mix'd my b With a loyal people shouting — ,, III vi 34 with the might and b of twenty boys.' — Gareth and L. 1106
Sent all his heart and b thro' all the horn. — ,, 1369
Here ceased the kindly mother out of b; — Marr. of Geraint 732 fits of prayer, at every stroke a b. — Geraint and E. 155
Sweet lady, never since I first drew b — ,, 619 and the b Of her sweet tendance — ,, 925 b's of anger puff'd Her fairy nostril — Merlin and V. 848
At last he got his b and answer'd, 'One, — Lancelot and E. 422 whereat she caught her b; — ,, 623 blow with b, or touch with hand, — Holy Grail 114
She felt the King's b wander o'er her neck, — Guinevere 582 but empty b And rumours of a doubt? — Pass. of Arthur 267
spoke King Arthur, drawing thicker b: — ,, 316
Clothed with his b, and looking, — ,, 350
I feel thy b; I come, great Mistress — Lover's Tale i 21
Thy b is of the pinewood; — ,, 23 faints, and hath no pulse, no b— — ,, 268 rose as it were b and steam of gold, — ,, 402 my name was borne Upon her b. — ,, 444
by that name I moved upon her b; — ,, 560 Love drew in her b In that close kiss, — ,, 816 about my brow Her warm b floated — ,, ii 141 at once, soul, life And b and motion, — ,, 195
And parted lips which drank her b, — ,, 204
Took the b from our sails, and we stay'd. — The Revenge 42 but never a murmur, a b— — V. of Maeldune 19 their b met us out on the seas, — ,, 37 thro' life to my latest b; — The Wreck 79 thro' the roar of the breaker a whisper, a b, — Despair 13
And now one b of cooler air — Ancient Sage 117
A b, a whisper—some divine farewell— — ,, 225 to feel his b Upon my cheek— — The Flight 45
b that past With all the cold of winter. — The Ring 32 and felt An icy b play on me, — ,, 131 an icy b, As from the grating of a sepulchre, — ,, 399 leaves her bare To b's of balmier air; — Prog. of Spring 13 Blown into glittering by the popular b, — Romney's R. 49 a b From some fair dawn beyond — Far-far-away 10 open-door'd To every b from heaven, — Akbar's Dream 180

Breathe in her first sleep earth b's stilly: — Leonine Eleg. 7 Or b into the hollow air, — Supp. Confessions 58 odorous wind B's low between the sunset — Eleänore 124
But b it into earth and close it up — Wan Sculptor 12
'Twere better not to b or speak, — Two Voices 94
'To b and loathe, to live and sigh, — ,, 104
No life that b's with human breath — ,, 395
I least should b a thought of pain. — Miller's D. 26 wind b's low with mellower tone: — Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 102 How hard he b's! — D. of the O. Year 37 to sit, to sleep, to wake, to b.' — Edwin Morris 40
I do not b, Not whisper, any murmur — St. S. Stylites 21
When that, which b's within the leaf, — Talking Oak 187
As tho' to b were life. — Ulysses 24
I yearn to b the airs of heaven — Sir Galahad 63
A carefuller in peril, did not b — Enoch Arden 50
And b's in April-autumns. — The Brook 196 love-whispers may not b Within this vestal limit, — Princess ii 221 Low, low, b and blow, — ,, iii 3 let us b for one hour more in Heaven' — ,, 69
'Alas your Highness b's full East,' — ,, 231
Where shall I b? — ,, v 77 that each May b himself, and quick! — ,, 316
b upon my brows; — ,, vii 353
To let the people b? — ,, Con. 104 diviner air B thro' the world and change — W. to Marie Alex. 44
To b thee over lonely seas. — In Mem. xvii 4
That b a thousand tender vows, — ,, xx 2
The slightest air of song shall b — ,, xlix 7
And b's a novel world, the while — ,, lxii 9
And, while we b beneath the sun, — ,, lxxv 14
To b my loss is more than fame, — ,, lxxvii 15 summer's hourly-mellowing change May b, — ,, xci 10
I find no place that does not b Some gracious memory — ,, c 3
Nor landmark b's of other days, — ,, civ 11
Thro' which the spirit b's no more? — ,, cv 20
For tho' my lips may b adieu, — ,, cxxviii 11
Left the still King, and passing forth to b, — Com. of Arthur 369 only b Short fits of prayer, — Geraint and E. 154
'You b but accusation vast and vague, — Merlin and V. 701
No keener hunter after glory b's. — Lancelot and E. 156 there b's not one of you Will deem this prize — ,, 540
'Look, He haunts me—I cannot b— — Pelleas and E. 227 thought I could not b in that fine air — Guinevere 645
B but a little on me, — Lover's Tale i 26 outward circling air wherewith I b, — ,, 167
b with her as if in heaven itself; — ,, 391
Which pass with that which b's them? — ,, 481
B, diviner Air! — Sisters (E. and E.) 13 none could b Within the zone of heat; — Columbus 52 can I b divorced from the Past? — Despair 113
And all that b are one Slight ripple — Ancient Sage 188 who b the balm Of summer-winters — To Ulysses 10

Breathed B low around the rolling earth — The Winds, etc. 3
She b in sleep a lower moan, — Mariana in the S. 45
Rose slowly to a music slowly b, — Œnone 41
B, like the covenant of a God, — Gardener's D. 209
I b In some new planet: — Edwin Morris 114
I b upon her eyes Thro' all the summer — Talking Oak 210 the low wind hardly b for fear. — Godiva 55 on him b Far purelier in his rushings — Aylmer's Field 457 while I b in sight of haven, he, Poor fellow, — The Brook 157
he had b the Proctor's dogs; — Princess, Pro. 113
And look on Spirits b away, — In Mem. xl 2
That b beneath the Syrian blue: — ,, lii 12
Where all things round me b of him. — ,, lxxxv 32
To where he b his latest breath, — ,, xcviii 5
He b the spirit of the song; — ,, cxxv 10 living words of life B in her ear. — ,, Con. 53 Whenever slander b against the King— — Com. of Arthur 177
God hath b a secret thing. — ,, 501 twice they fought, and twice they b, — Marr. of Geraint 567 Queen's fair name was b upon, — Geraint and E. 951
B in a dismal whisper 'It is truth.' — Balin and Balan 527

Breathed (continued) emerald center'd in a sun Of silver rays, that lighten'd as he b ; Lancelot and E. 296
Whereof the chill, to him who b it, Pass. of Arthur 96
Has b a race of mightier mountaineers. Montenegro 14
No sound is b so potent to coerce, Tiresias 120 warm winds had gently b us away from the land— The Wreck 63
Breather those we call the dead Are b's of an ampler day In Mem. cxviii 6
Breathing (See also Hard-breathing) B Light against thy face, Adeline 56
Old letters, b of her worth, Mariana in the S. 62
A hint, a whisper b low, Two Voices 434
B like one that hath a weary dream. Lotos-Eaters 6 spoke King Arthur, b heavily : M. d'Arthur 113 answer made King Arthur, b hard : ,, 162 alighted from the boat, And b of the sea. Audley Court 8
'Sleep, b health and peace upon her breast : ,, 68
Sleep, b love and trust against her lip : ,, 69 her b's are not heard In palace chambers Day-Dm., Sleep. B. 17 warm-blue b's of a hidden hearth Broke Aylmer's Field 155 like a beast hard-ridden, b hard. ,, 291
b down From over her arch'd brows, Princess ii 38
B and sounding beauteous battle, ,, v 161
In Angel instincts, b Paradise, ,, vii 321 Closer is He than b, and nearer than hands High. Pantheism 12
Would b thro' his lips impart In Mem. xviii 15 slowly b bare The round of space, ,, lxxxvi 4
By meadows b of the past, ,, xcix 7
Bright English lily, b a prayer Maud I xix 55 hear him b low and equally. Geraint and E. 372
she glided out Among the heavy b's of the house, ,, 402 Beside the placid b's of the King, Guinevere 69 spoke King Arthur, b heavily : Pass. of Arthur 281
answer made King Arthur, b hard : ,, 330
b on each other, Dreaming together Lover's Tale i 261 and joy In b nearer heaven ; ,, 389
b hard at the approach of Death,— ,, 585
Is b in his sleep, Early Spring 23
changest, b it, the sullen wind, Prog. of Spring 110
Breathing-space ballad or a song To give us b-s.' Princess, Pro. 242
Breathing-while Except when for a b-w at eve, Aylmer's Field 449 Bred (See also Home-bred, Wisdom-bred) Two children in one hamlet born and b ; Circumstance 8 upon the board, And b this change ; Œnone 227 for his sake I b His daughter Dora : Dora 19 not being b To barter, Enoch Arden 249 A CITY clerk, but gently born and b ; Sea Dreams 1 her will B will in me to overcome Princess v 351
From out the doors where I was b, In Mem. civ 2
'e wur burn an' b i' the 'ouse, Spinster's S.'s 69
opiate then B this black mood ? Romney's R. 62
Brede in glowing gauze and golden b, Princess vi 134
Breed (s) looks not like the common b That with the napkin dally ; Will Water. 117
In doubt if you be of our Barons' b— Third of Feb. 32
we men are a little b. Maud I iv 30 Breed (verb) Assurance only b's resolve.' Two Voices 315 graze and wallow, b and sleep ; Palace of Art 202 like b's like, they say : Walk. to the Mail 63 could he understand how money b's, The Brook 6 much loth to b Dispute betwixt myself Princess i 156 in thunderstorms, And b up warriors ! ,, v 440 earth's embrace May b with him, In Mem. lxxxii 4 Breeding Softness b scorn of simple life, To the Queen ii 53
Breeze (See also River-breeze, South-breeze) The b's pause and die, Claribel 2
LOW-FLOWING b's are roaming the broad valley Leonine Eleg. 1
WHEN the b of a joyful dawn blew free Arabian Nights 1 fann'd With b's from our oaken glades, Eleänore 10
Coming in the scented b, ,, 24
Little b's dusk and shiver L. of Shalott i 11
And heard her native b's pass, Mariana in the S. 43
A b thro' all the garden swept, Day-Dm., Revival 6
Warm broke the b against the brow, The Voyage 9
Low b's fann'd the belfry bars, The Letters 43 Breeze (continued) Made noise with bees and b from end to end. Princess, Pro. 88 long b's rapt from inmost south ,, iv 431 roll'd With music in the growing b of Time, ,, vi 56 such a b Compell'd thy canvas, In Mem. xvii 1 all the bugle b's blew Reveillée ,, lxviii 7
And round thee with the b of song ,, lxxv 11
A b began to tremble o'er The large leaves ,, xcv 54
And all the b of Fancy blows, ,, cxxxii 17 tells The joy to every wandering b ; ,, Con. 62 blown by the b of a softer clime, Maud I iv 4 sighing for Lebanon In the long b ,, xviii 16
For a b of morning moves, ,, xxii 7
Drooping and beaten by the b, Lover's Tale i 700 Thoughts of the b's of May blowing Def. of Lucknow 83 sat each on the lap of the b ; V. of Maeldune 38 a balmier b curl'd over a peacefuller sea, The Wreck 133 lark has past from earth to Heaven upon the morning b ! The Flight 62
Flies back in fragrant b's to display Prog. of Spring 64
Brendan (Irish Saint) who had sail'd with St. B of yore, V. of Maeldune 115 Brethren (See also Brother) so that all My b marvell'd greatly. St. S. Stylites 69
And of her b, youths of puissance ; Princess i 37
Not ev'n her brother Arac, nor the twins Her b, ,, 154
The b of our blood and cause, ,, vi 71
To where her wounded b lay ; ,, 90
O let me have him with my b here ,, 123 bite And pinch their b in the throng, Lit. Squabbles 7 grieve Thy b with a fruitless tear ? In Mem. lviii 10 till Doubt and Death, Ill b, ,, lxxxvi 12 both my b are in Arthur's hall, Gareth and L. 82
b, and a fourth And of that four the mightiest, ,, 614 younger b have gone down Before this youth ; ,, 1102 to mar the boast Thy b of thee make— ,, 1243 my three b bad me do it, ,, 1410
Among his burnish'd b of the pool ; Marr. of Geraint 650
B, to right and left the spring, Balin and Balan 25
Arthur lightly smote the b down, ,, 41
Thy chair, a grief to all the b, ,, 78
My b have been all my fellowship ; Lancelot and E. 672 came her b saying, 'Peace to thee, ,, 996 those two b slowly with bent brows Accompanying, ,, 1138
So those two b from the chariot took ,, 1146 friends in testimony, Her b, and her father, ,, 1300
Where all the b are so hard, Holy Grail 618
Also the b, King and Atheling, Batt. of Brunanburh 100 Breton on the B strand ! B, not Briton ; Maud II ii 29 Back from the B coast, ,, 43 touching B sands, they disembark'd, Merlin and V. 202 cried the B, 'Look, her hand is red ! Last Tournament 412
Breviary read but on my b with ease, Holy Grail 545
Brew'd found a witch Who b the philtre Lucretius 16
Brewer gloomy b's soul Went by me, Talking Oak 55
Brewis The kitchen b that was ever supt Gareth and L. 781 Briar (See also Brier) bur and brake and b, Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 46
Bribe a costly b To guerdon silence, Princess i 203 which for b had wink'd at wrong, Geraint and E. 939
Bribed B with large promises the men Marr. of Geraint 453 Brick When we made b's in Egypt. Princess iv 128 mantles all the mouldering b's— Locksley H., Sixty 257 as graw'd hall ower the b ; Owd Roä 26
'eärd the b's an' the baulks ,, 109
Brickwork Tudor-chimnied bulk Of mellow b Edwin Morris 12
Bridal (adj.) Leapt lightly clad in b white— Lover's Tale iii 44 Thy Soldier-brother's b orange-bloom Break Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 11
THE b garland falls upon the bier, D. of the Duke of C. 1
Bridal (s) Then reign the world's great b's, Princess vii 294
Evil haunts The birth, the b ; In Mem. xcviii 14
Memories of b, or of birth, ,, xcix 15
Will clothe her for her b's like the sun.' Marr. of Geraint 231 clothed her for her b's like the sun ; ,, 836
Bridal-gift poor bride Gives her harsh groom for b-g a scourge ; Princess v 378

Bridal music No b m this! But fear not you! The Ring 474
Bridal-time birds make ready for their b-t Sisters (E. and E.) 71 Bride (See also Harlot-bride, Widow-bride) like a b of old In triumph led, Ode to Memory 75
For merry b's are we: Sea-fairies 33 pierced thy heart, my love, my b, Oriana 42
Thy heart, my life, my love, my b, ,, 44 happy bridesmaid makes a happy b.' The Bridesmaid 4 happy bridesmaid, make a happy b.' (repeat) ,, 8 14 down I went to fetch my b: Miller's D. 145 far-renowned b's of ancient song D. of F. Women 17
Hope and Memory, spouse and b, On a Mourner 23
And gain her for my b. Talking Oak 284
'Who is this? behold thy b,' Love and Duty 49
Draw me, thy b, a glittering star, St Agnes' Eve 23
The Bridegroom with his b! ,, 36
Passionless b, divine Tranquillity, Lucretius 266
I myself, my b once seen, Princess i 72
But chafing me on fire to find my b) ,, 166 help my prince to gain His rightful b, ,, iii 161
I bound by precontract Your b, ,, iv 542
To fight in tourney for my b, ,, v 353
the poor b Gives her harsh groom ,, 377
My b, My wife, my life. ,, vii 359
Blissful b of a blissful heir, W. to Alexandra 27
B of the heir of the kings of the sea— ,, 28 mother unto mother, stately b, W. to Marie Alex. 9
Be cheer'd with tidings of the b, In Mem. xl 23
Be sometimes lovely like a b, ,, lix 6
Behold their b's in other hands; ,, xc 14
And I must give away the b; ,, Con. 42
O happy hour, behold the b ,, 69
As drinking health to b and groom ,, 83
Bound for the Hall, and I think for a b. Maud I x 26
My b to be, my evermore delight, ,, xviii 73
He linkt a dead man there to a spectral b; ,, II v 80
Some comfortable b and fair, Gareth and L. 94 tall and marriageable, Ask'd for a b; ,, 103 red-faced b who knew herself so vile, ,, 110 doom'd to be the b of Night and Death; ,, 1396 ere you wed with any, bring your b, Marr. of Geraint 228 mended fortunes and a Prince's b: ,, 718 sweeter than the b of Cassivelaun, ,, 744 promise, that whatever b I brought, ,, 783 did her honour as the Prince's b, ,, 835 found his own dear b propping his head, Geraint and E. 584 stainless b of stainless King— Merlin and V. 81 glowing on him, like a b's On her new lord, ,, 616
he never wrong'd his b. I know the tale. ,, 729
Sees what his fair b is and does, ,, 782 Hold her a wealthy b within thine arms, Holy Grail 621 makest broken music with thy b, Last Tournament 264 Isolt of Britain and his b, ,, 408 twain had fallen out about the b ,, 545 Lionel, the happy, and her, and her, his b! Lover's Tale i 755 cold heart or none—No b for me. Sisters (E. and E.) 202 placed My ring upon the finger of my b. ,, 214 Till that dead bridesmaid, meant to be my b, ,, 264 a heedless and innocent b— The Wreck 13 not Love but Hate that weds a b against her will; The Flight 32 would I were there, the friend, the b, the wife, ,, 43
b who stabb'd her bridegroom on her bridal night— ,, 57 one has come to claim his b, Locksley H., Sixty 263 for evermore The B of Darkness.' Demeter and P. 100
I sang the song, 'are b And bridegroom.' The Ring 25
Birds and b's must leave the nest. ,, 89 not forgiven me yet, his over-jealous b, Happy 6
You would not mar the beauty of your b ,, 24 how it froze you from your b, ,, 71 tho' I am the Bandit's b. Bandit's Death 6 and never a ring for the b. Charity 6 when he promised to make me his b, ,, 11
Bridegroom (See also Groom) For me the Heavenly B waits, St Agnes' Eve 31
The B with his bride! ,, 36
Bridegroom (continued) And learning this, the b will relent. Guinevere 172
'Have we not heard the b is so sweet? ,, 177 bride who stabb'd her b on her bridal night— The Flight 57
I sang the song, 'are bride And b.' The Ring 26 when the b murmur'd, 'With this ring,' ,, 438 Bride-kiss Would that have chill'd her b-k? Last Tournament 590
Bridesmaid B, ere the happy knot was tied, The Bridesmaid 1
A happy b makes a happy bride.' ,, 4
'O happy b, make a happy bride.' (repeat). ,, 8 14
Edith would be b on the day. Sisters (E. and E.) 208 saw The b pale, statuelike, ,, 212
In that assumption of the b— ,, 234
Till that dead b, meant to be my bride, ,, 264
Bridesman Bantering b, reddening priest, Forlorn 33
Bridge (See also Brig, Castle-bridge) Where from the frequent b, Ode to Memory 102
Or from the b I lean'd to hear Miller's D. 49
But Robin leaning on the b beneath the hazel-tree? May Queen 14
Across the brazen b of war— Love thou thy land 76 arches of a b Crown'd with the minster-towers. Gardener's D. 43 half has fall'n and made a b; Walk. to the Mail 32 curves of mountain, b, Boat, island, Edwin Morris 5
I hung with grooms and porters on the b, Godiva 2
By b and ford, by park and pale, Sir Galahad 82
And half a hundred b's. The Brook 30
There is Darnley b, It has more ivy; ,, 36 that old b, which, half in ruins then, ,, 79 naked marriages Flash from the b, Aylmer's Field 766 under arches of the marble b Hung, Princess ii 458 o'er a b of pinewood crossing, ,, iii 335 knell to my desires, Clang'd on the b; ,, iv 175 boats and b's for the use of men. ,, vi 47 all night upon the b of war Spec. of Iliad 9
The cataract flashing from the b, In Mem. lxxi 15 paced the shores, And many a b, ,, lxxxvii 12
b, ford, beset By bandits, Gareth and L. 594 this a b of single arc Took at a leap; ,, 908 when mounted, cried from o'er the b, ,, 951 at fiery speed the two Shock'd on the central b, ,, 963 Beyond his horse's crupper and the b, ,, 966 drave his enemy backward down the b, ,, 969 watch'd thee striking on the b ,, 992
For there beyond a b of treble bow, ,, 1086
Then the third brother shouted o'er the b, ,, 1096
They madly hurl'd together on the b; ,, 1120
hurl'd him headlong o'er the b Down to the river, ,, 1153 victor of the b's and the ford, ,, 1232
b that spann'd a dry ravine: (repeat) Marr. of Geraint 246, 294
Earl Yniol's, o'er the b Yonder.' ,, 291 after went her way across the b, ,, 383
I saw you moving by me on the b, ,, 429
Like him who tries the b he fears may fail, Geraint and E. 303 way, where, link'd with a many a b, Holy Grail 502 Galahad fled along them b by b, ,, 504 every b as quickly as he crost Sprang into fire ,, 505 gain'd her castle, upsprang the b, Pelleas and E. 206
A b is there, that, look'd at from beneath Lover's Tale i 375 on the tremulous b, that from beneath ,, 412 Standin' here be the b, Tomorrow 2 live the life Beyond the b, Akbar's Dream 145
we dipt down under the b Bandit's Death 22 Bridge-broken his nose B-b, one eye out, Last Tournament 59
Bridle The gemmy b glitter'd free, L. of Shalott iii 10
The b bells rang merrily ,, 13
Bridle-hand Down with the b-h drew The foe Heavy Brigade 53 Bridle-rein glimmering moorland rings With jingling b-r's. Sir L. and Q. G. 36 tied the b-r's of all the three Together, (repeat) Geraint and E. 98, 183
And sadly gazing on her b-r's, ,, 494 held His people by the b-r of Truth. Akbar's Dream 85 Brief In endless time is scarce more b Two Voices 113 days were b Whereof the poets talk, Talking Oak 185
'O tell her, b is life but love is long, And b the sun of summer in the North, And b the moon of beauty in the South. Princess iv 111

Brief (continued) B, b is a summer leaf, Spiteful Letter 21
if Thou willest, let my day be b, Doubt and Prayer 13
Brier (See also Briar) whom Gideon school'd with b's. Buonaparte 14
The little life of bank and b, You might have won 30 drench'd with ooze, and torn with b's, Princess v 28
I have heard of thorns and b's. Window, Marr. Morn. 20
Over the thorns and b's, ,, 21 the winds that bend the b ! Last Tournament 731 wild b had driven Its knotted thorns Lover's Tale i 619 rough b tore my bleeding palms ; ,, ii 18
Brig (bridge) An' I'll run oop to the b, N. Farmer, N. S. 55 Brigade Glory to all the three hundred, and all the B ! Heavy Brigade 66
Brigade, Heavy See Heavy Brigade
Brigade, Light See Light Brigade
Bright (adj.) See also Over-bright, Rosy-bright, Summer-bright)
Clear and b it should be ever, Poet's Mind 5
B as light, and clear as wind. ,, 7 met with two so full and b—Such eyes ! Miller's D. 86
I made my dagger sharp and b. The Sisters 26
but none so b as mine ; May Queen 5
Make b our days and light our dreams, Of old sat Freedom 22
B was that afternoon, Sunny but chill ; Enoch Arden 669
B with the sun upon the stream Sea Dreams 97
b and fierce and fickle is the South, Princess iv 97
B let it be with its blazon'd deeds, Ode on Well. 56
Phosphor, b As our pure love, In Mem. ix 10
Thy marble b in dark appears, ,, lxvii 5
The voice was low, the look was b ; ,, lxix 15
And b the friendship of thine eye ; ,, cxix 10
To-day the grave is b for me, ,, Con. 73
b and light as the crest Of a peacock, Maud I xvi 16 soft splendours that you look so b ? ,, xviii 79 dawn of Eden b over earth and sky, ,, II i 8 in a weary world my one thing b ; ,, III vi 17 Geraint with eyes all b replied, Marr. of Geraint 494 strange b and dreadful thing, a court, ,, 616
she knew That all was b ; ,, 658 Beholding one so b in dark estate, ,, 786 keep him b and clean as heretofore, Geraint and E. 937
She with a face, b as for sin forgiven, Lancelot and E. 1102 her look B for all others, Pelleas and E. 177 our eyes met : hers were b, and mine Were dim Lover's Tale i 441 an' I keeäps 'im cleän an' b, North. Cobbler 97 Far from out a sky for ever b, Sisters (E. and E.) 19 an' yer eyes as b as the day ! Tomorrow 32
How b you keep your marriage-ring ! Romney's R. 59 morning that looks so b from afar ! By an Evolution. 10
When I look'd at the bracken so b June Bracken, etc. 3
Bright (s) level lake with diamond-plots Of dark and b. Arabian Nights 86
Remaining betwixt dark and b : Margaret 28
Of this flat lawn with dusk and b ; In Mem. lxxxix 2
B and Dark have sworn that I, Demeter and P. 96
Beyond the darker hour to see the b, Prog. of Spring 88
Brighten cheek brighten'd as the foam-bow b's Œnone 61 stars above them seem to b as they pass ; May Queen 34 Thy sweet eyes b slowly close to mine, Tithonus 38 it b's and darkens down on the plain. Window, On the Hill 2 it b's and darkens and b's like my hope, And it darkens and b's and darkens like my fear, ,, 18
And b like the star that shook In Mem., Con. 31 b's at the clash of 'Yes' and 'No,' Ancient Sage 71 b's thro' the Mother's tender eyes, Prin. Beatrice 4 Brighten'd cheek b as the foam-bow brightens Œnone 61
For so mine own was b : Aylmer's Field 683
Till the face of Bel be b, Boädicea 16
Your pretty sports have b all again. Merlin and V. 305
The rounder cheek had b into bloom. The Ring 351
Brightening (See also Ever-brightening) Like sheet lightning, Ever b Poet's Mind 26
B the skirts of a long cloud, M. d'Arthur 54
Unseen, is b to his bridal morn. Gardener's D. 73

Brightening (continued) Enid listen'd b as she lay : Marr. of Geraint 733
B the skirts of a long cloud, Pass. of Arthur 222
And slowly b Out of the glimmer, Merlin and the G. 88
Brighter broader and b The Gleam flying onward, ,, 95
Brightest Their best and b, when they dwelt on hers, Aylmer's Field 69 Brightly Enoch faced this morning of farewell B Enoch Arden 183 Brightness as babies for the moon, Vague b ; Princess iv 429 false sense in her own self Of my contrasting b, overbore Marr. of Geraint 801 set apart Their motions and their b from the stars, Lover's Tale i 174
The b of a burning thought, ,, 743
Brilliance star The black earth with b rare. Ode to Memory 20
So bathed we were in b. Lover's Tale i 313
Brim (s) By garden porches on the b, Arabian Nights 16
He froth'd his bumpers to the b ; D. of the O. Year 19
New stars all night above the b The Voyage 25
Brim (verb) I b with sorrow drowning song. In Mem. xix 12
Arrange the board and b the glass ; ,, cvii 16
Brimful heart, B of those wild tales, D. of F. Women 12
Brimm'd (See also Broad-brimm'd) B with delirious draughts of warmest life. Eleänore 139
And beaker b with noble wine. Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 36
Brine Lulling the b against the Coptic sands. Buonaparte 8
Fresh-water springs come up through bitter b. If I were loved 8 hear and see the far-off sparkling b, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 98 Gloom'd the low coast and quivering b The Voyage 42
Should gulf him fathom-deep in b ; In Mem. x 18
To darken on the rolling b That breaks ,, cvii 14
Bring b me my love, Rosalind. Leonine Eleg. 14
'B this lamb back into Thy fold, Supp. Confessions 105 Music that b's sweet sleep down Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 7
And in its season b the law ; Love thou thy land 32
Certain, if knowledge b the sword, That knowledge takes ,, 87
For nature b's not back the Mastodon, The Epic 36
Watch what thou seëst, and lightly b me word.' M. d'Arthur 38
Watch what I see, and lightly b thee word.' ,, 44
I bad thee, watch, and lightly b me word.' ,, 81
A word could b the colour to my cheek ; Gardener's D. 196
I will have my boy, and b him home ; Dora 122
b me offerings of fruit and flowers : St. S. Stylites 128 Love himself will b The drooping flower Love and Duty 23 sweet hours that b us all things good, ,, 57 sad hours that b us all things ill, ,, 58
Nay, but Nature b's thee solace ; Locksley Hall 87 my latest rival b's thee rest. ,, 89
B truth that sways the soul of men ? Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 52
And b the fated fairy Prince. ,, 56
'B the dress and put it on her, L. of Burleigh 95
B me spices, b me wine ; Vision of Sin 76
Will b fair weather yet to all of us. Enoch Arden 191
I warrant, man, that we shall b you round.' ,, 841 and arose Eager to b them down, ,, 872 b Their own gray hairs with sorrow to the grave— Aylmer's Field 776
And b her in a whirlwind : Princess i 65 b's our friends up from the underworld. ,, iv 45 an' doesn b ma the aäle ? N. Farmer, O. S. 65
The seasons b the flower again, In Mem. ii 5
And b the firstling to the flock ; ,, 6
So b him : we have idle dreams : ,, x 9
And not the burthen that they b. ,, xiii 20
If one should b me this report, ,, xiv 1
And all was good that Time could b, ,, xxiii 18
They b me sorrow touch'd with joy, ,, xxviii 19
Which b's no more a welcome guest ,, xxix 5
And b her babe, and make her boast, ,, xl 26
She often b's but one to bear, ,, lv 12
I b to life, I b to death : ,, lvi 6
Then b an opiate trebly strong, ,, lxxi 6
In verse that b's myself relief, ,, lxxv 2
B orchis, b the foxglove spire, ,, lxxxiii 9
Demanding, so to b relief ,, lxxxv 6
Ah, take the imperfect gift I b, ,, 117

Bring (continued) B in great logs and let them lie, In Mem. cvii 17
Which every hour his couriers b. ,, cxxvi 4
She may b me a curse. Maud I i 73 how God will b them about ,, iv 44 to ride forth And b the Queen ;— Com. of Arthur 449
b him here, that I may judge the right, Gareth and L. 380
And could not wholly b him under, ,, 1144
To b thee back to do the battle with him. ,, 1294 ere you wed with any, b your bride, Marr. of Geraint 228
Call the host and bid him b Charger and palfrey.' Geraint and E. 400
'Go thou with him and him and b it Balin and Balan 6
I b thee back, When I have ferreted Merlin and V. 54 charged by Valence to b home the child. ,, 718 one dark hour which b's remorse, ,, 763 Joust for it, and win, and b it in an hour, Lancelot and E. 204 let me b your colour back ; ,, 387
b us where he is, and how he fares, ,, 547
'Bind him, and b him in.' Pelleas and E. 232
Bind him as heretofore, and b him in : ,, 271 to flout me, when they b me in, ,, 330 third night hence will b thee news of gold.' ,, 357
Watch what thou seëst, and lightly b me word.' Pass. of Arthur 206
Watch what I see, and lightly b thee word.' ,, 212
I bade thee, watch, and lightly b me word.' ,, 249 b's And shows them whatsoever he accounts Lover's Tale iv 232 b's and sets before him in rich guise ,, 247
To b Camilla down before them all. ,, 285 be none left here to b her back : ,, 367
b on both the yoke Of stronger states, Tiresias 69
God curse him and b him to nought ! Despair 106 morning b's the day I hate and fear ; The Flight 2 which b's our Edwin home. ,, 92
B the old dark ages back without the faith, Locksley H., Sixty 137
Moother 'ed tell'd ma to b tha down, Owd Roä 50
Twelve times in the year B me bliss, The Ring 6
Hubert b's me home With April ,, 59 once more I b you these. Happy 22
'From the South I b you balm, Prog. of Spring 66
The shepherd b's his adder-bitten lamb, Death of Œnone 38
B me my horse—my horse ? Mechanophilus 9
And b or chase the storm, ,, 14
B's the Dreams about my bed, Silent Voices 2
Bringer something more, A b of new things ; Ulysses 28
Bringest Thou b the sailor to his wife, In Mem. x 5
Come quick, thou b all I love. ,, xvii 8 thou b Not peace, a sword, a fire. Sir J. Oldcastle 35
Bringeth poetess singeth, that Hesperus all things b, Leonine Eleg. 13 Bringing And b me down from the Hall Maud I xxi 2 the new sun rose b the new year. Pass. of Arthur 469 Bringing-up give his child a better b-u Enoch Arden 87
To give his babes a better b-u ,, 299
It is but b u : no more than that : Princess, Pro. 129 Brink Betwixt the green b and the running foam, Sea-fairies 2 now shake hands across the b Of that deep grave My life is full 6 barge with oar and sail Moved from the b, M. d'Arthur 266
the woman walk'd upon the b : Sea Dreams 112
Leapt fiery Passion from the b's of death ; Princess vii 156
And voices hail it from the b ; In Mem. cxxi 14
But if a man who stands upon the b Geraint and E. 472 barge with oar and sail Moved from the b, Pass. of Arthur 434 lianas that dropt to the b of his bay, The Wreck 73
Briony about my feet The berried b fold.' Talking Oak 148 fragile bindweed-bells and b rings ; The Brook 203 Briony-vine b-v and ivy-wreath Ran forward Amphion 29
Bristle (s) Figs out of thistles, silk from b's, Last Tournament 356
Bristle (verb) half stands up And b's ; Walk. to the Mail 32
The hoar hair of the Baronet b up Aylmer's Field 42
And b's all the brakes and thorns In Mem. cvii 9
Britain The name of B trebly great— You ask me, why 22
And keeps our B, whole within herself, Princess, Con. 52
Our B cannot salve a tyrant o'er. Third of Feb. 20 welcome Russian flower, a people's pride, To B, W. to Marie Alex. 7 Girt by half the tribes of B, Boädicea 5 call us B's barbarous populaces, ,, 7
Tear the noble heart of B, ,, 12

Britain (continued) Bark an answer, B's raven ! Boädicea 13 shall B light upon auguries happier ? ,, 45
Nor B's one sole God be the millionaire : Maud III vi 22
Chief of the church in B, Com. of Arthur 454 flying over many a windy wave To B, Marr. of Geraint 338 Roman Cæsar first Invaded B, ,, 746 Brought the great faith to B Balin and Balan 103 dread Pendragon, B's Kings of kings, Lancelot and E. 424 Isolt of B and his bride, Last Tournament 408
Isolt of B dash'd Before Isolt ,, 588 for crest the golden dragon clung Of B ; Guinevere 595
The voice of B, or a sinking land, To the Queen ii 24
O banner of B, hast thou Floated Def. of Lucknow 1
Nor thou in B, little Lutterworth, Sir J. Oldcastle 26
Broke into B with Haughty war-workers Batt. of Brunanburh 120
Makes the might of B known ; Open. I. and C. Exhib. 19
B fought her sons of yore— ,, 21
B fail'd ; and never more, ,, 22
B's myriad voices call, ,, 35
One with B, heart and soul ! ,, 38
At times our B cannot rest, To Marq. of Dufferin 1
British Peal after peal, the B battle broke, Buonaparte 7
With a stony B stare. Maud I xiii 22
And curse me the B vermin, the rat ; ,, II v 58
Howiver was B farmers to stan' ageän o' their feeät. Owd Roä 46
Briton set His B in blown seas and storming showers, Ode on Well. 155
Up my B's, on my chariot, Boädicea 69
Breton, not B : here Like a shipwreck'd man Maud II ii 30
Beyond the race of B's and of men. Com. of Arthur 331 B's, hold your own ! (repeat) Open. I. and C. Exhib. 10, 20, 30, 40
Britoness haled the yellow-ringleted B— Boädicea 55
Brittany (See also Breton) From overseas in B return'd, Last Tournament 175
Her daintier namesake down in B— ,, 265
Was it the name of one in B, ,, 396
He seem'd to pace the strand of B ,, 407
Before Isolt of B on the strand, ,, 589
Broach-turner Dish-washer and b-t, loon !— Gareth and L. 770 Broad Grows green and b, and takes no care, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 28 Make b thy shoulders to receive my weight, M. d'Arthur 164 muscular he spread, so b of breast. Gardener's D. 8 Alas, I was so b of girth, Talking Oak 139 rain, That makes thee b and deep ! ,, 280 those that saunter in the b Cries Aylmer's Field 744
I wish they were a whole Atlantic b.' Princess, Con. 71
Make b thy shoulders to receive my weight, Pass. of Arthur 332
Broad-based B-b upon her people's will, To the Queen 35
B-b flights of marble stairs Ran up Arabian Nights 117
Broad-blown b-b comeliness, red and white, Maud I xiii 9
Broad-brimm'd b-b hawker of holy things, ,, x 41
Broadcast shower the fiery grain Of freedom b Princess v 422
Broaden Freedom slowly b's down From precedent You ask me, why 11
To b into boundless day. In Mem. xcv 64
B the glowing isles of vernal blue. Prog. of Spring 60
Broaden'd Morn b on the borders of the dark, D. of F. Women 265
Broadening (See also Ever-broadening) b from her feet, And blackening, Guinevere 81 Broader Sun Grew b toward his death Princess iii 364
B and higher than any in all the lands ! Holy Grail 247
b and brighter The Gleam flying onward, Merlin and the G. 95 Broader-grown b-g the bowers Drew the great night Princess vii 48
Broad-faced B-f with under-fringe of russet beard, Geraint and E. 537
Broad-flung tide in its b-f shipwrecking roar, Maud I iii 11
Broad-limb'd there alone The b-l Gods at random thrown To E. L. 15
Broad-shoulder'd great b-s genial Englishman, Princess, Con. 85
Brocade That stood from out a stiff b Aylmer's Field 204
He found an ancient dame in dim b ; Marr. of Geraint 363
Broceliande And in the wild woods of B, Merlin and V. 2
Ev'n to the wild woods of B. ,, 204
Broider'd (See also Costly-broider'd, Star-broider'd)
'A red sleeve B with pearls,' Lancelot and E. 373 sleeve of scarlet, b with great pearls, ,, 604
Broidering Among her damsels b sat, Merlin and V. 138
Broidery-frame take the b-f, and add A crimson Day-Dm., Pro. 15
Broidry Rare b of the purple clover. A Dirge 38

Brok (broke) an' Charlie 'e b 'is neck, Village Wife 85

Broke (See also Brok) Peal after peal, the British battle b, Buonaparte 7
A nobler yearning never b her rest The Form, the form 2
What time the foeman's line is b, Two Voices 155
From out my sullen heart a power B, ,, 444 thro' w avering lights and shadows b, Lotos-Eaters 12 love the gleams of good that b From either side, Love thou thy land 89 murmur b the stillness of that air Gardener's D. 147 bit his lips, And b away. Dora 34
She b out in praise To God, ,, 112
I b a close with force and arms: Edwin Morris 131 Bluff Harry b into the spence Talking Oak 47 struck his staff against the rocks And b it,— Golden Year 60
The hedge b in, the banner blew, Day-Dm., Revival 9
The linden b her ranks and rent Amphion 33
Warm b the breeze against the brow, The Voyage 9
When you came in my sorrow b me down; Enoch Arden 317 with jubilant cries B from their elders, ,, 378 bent or b The lithe reluctant boughs ,, 380 long-winded tale, and b him short; The Brook 109 tide of youth B with a phosphorescence Aylmer's Field 116
B from a bower of vine and honeysuckle: ,, 156
Then b all bonds of courtesy, ,, 323
B into nature's music when they saw her. ,, 694
Who b the bond which they desired to break, ,, 778 you tumbled down and b The glass Sea Dreams 141 you made and b your dream: ,, 143 on those cliffs B, mixt with awful light, ,, 215 ever when it b The statues, ,, 223 on the crowd B, mixt with awful light ,, 235
His angel b his heart. ,, 280 nor b, nor shunn'd a soldier's death, Princess, Pro. 38 when the council b, I rose and past ,, i 90 dances b and buzz'd in knots of talk; ,, 133 she b out interpreting my thoughts: ,, iii 275
b the letter of it to keep the sense. ,, iv 338 in the furrow b the ploughman's head, ,, v 221 at our disguise B from their lips, ,, 272 cloud that dimm'd her b A genial warmth and light ,, vi 281 courts of twilight b them up Thro' all the ,, Con. 113 even if they b In thunder, silent; Ode on Well. 176
We b them on the land, we drove them Third of Feb. 30
Right thro' the line they b; Light Brigade 33
Burnt and b the grove and altar Boädicea 2
Who b our fair companionship, In Mem. xxii 13 idly b the peace Of hearts that beat ,, lviii 5
But in the present b the blow. ,, lxxxv 56
And strangely on the silence b ,, xcv 25
Has b the bond of dying use. ,, cv 12
And the sunlight b from her lip? Maud I vi 86 million horrible bellowing echoes b ,, II i 24 light laugh B from Lynette, Gareth and L. 837 there he b the sentence in his heart Geraint and E. 41
b the bandit holds and cleansed the land. ,, 944 Balin the stillness of a minute b Balin and Balan 51
but God B the strong lance, Lancelot and E. 26
She b into a little scornful laugh: ,, 120 till our good Arthur b The Pagan ,, 279 when the next day b from underground, ,, 413 heard mass, b fast, and rode away: ,, 415
But sin b out. Ah, Christ, Holy Grail 93 when the sun b next from under ground, ,, 328 bore them down, And b thro' all, ,, 480 fairy-circle wheel'd and b Flying, and link'd again, and wheel'd and b Flying, Guinevere 257 after tempest, when the long wave b ,, 290 wicked one, who b The vast design ,, 669 Gleams of the water-circles as they b, Lover's Tale i 67 light methought b from her dark, dark eyes, ,, 368 bliss, which b in light Like morning ,, ii 143 softly as his mother b it to him— ,, iv 31 all The guests b in upon him ,, 238 the battle-thunder b from them all. The Revenge 49 her brain b With over-acting, Sisters (E. and E.) 235

Broke (continued) mother b her promise to the dead, Sisters (E. and E.) 252 the brute bullet b thro' the brain Def. of Lucknow 20
I have b their cage, no gilded one, Sir J. Oldcastle 3 silent ocean always b on a silent shore, V. of Maeldune 12 and the dwelling b into flame; ,, 32
B into Britain with Haughty war-workers Batt. of Brunanburh 120 funeral bell B on my Pagan Paradise, Tiresias 193
For I b the bond. The Wreck 59 a tone so rough that I b into passionate tears, ,, 122
And we b away from the Christ, Despair 25 heart of the mother, and b it almost; ,, 74
B thro' the mass from below, Heavy Brigade 29 then the tear fell, the voice b. The Ring 367 light of happy marriage b Thro' all Death of Œnone 102
B the Taboo, Dipt to the crater, Kapiolani 30

Broken (See also Bridge-broken, Brokken, Heart-broken) Half shown, are b and withdrawn. Two Voices 306
Each morn my sleep was b thro' Miller's D. 39
Let what is b so remain. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 80 all the man was b with remorse; Dora 165
Oh, his. He was not b. Walk. to the Mail 17
The clouds are b in the sky, Sir Galahad 73
Spars were splinter'd; decks were b: The Captain 49
Mine was b, When that cold vapour Vision of Sin 57
A limb was b when they lifted him; Enoch Arden 107
I seem so foolish and so b down. ,, 316 every day The sunrise b into scarlet shafts ,, 592
Enoch was so brown, so bow'd, So b— ,, 704
My grief and solitude have b me; ,, 857
The tented winter-field was b up Aylmer's Field 110
A creeper when the prop is b, ,, 810
Then the great Hall was wholly b down, ,, 846
Till like three horses that have b fence, Princess ii 386
Your oath is b: we dismiss you: ,, iv 360 glittering axe was b in their arms, ,, vi 51 sanctuary Is violate, our laws b: ,, 60
Her iron will was b in her mind; ,, 118
'Our laws are b: let him enter too.' ,, 317
It will never be b by Maud, Maud I ii 2
This fellow hath b from some Abbey, Gareth and L. 456
Because my means were somewhat b into Marr. of Geraint 455
My pride is b: men have seen my fall.' ,, 578 my pride Is b down, for Enid sees my fall!' ,, 590
each of whom had b on him A lance Geraint and E. 88
From which old fires have b, ,, 822
There was I b down; ,, 851 hast b shell, Art yet half-yolk, Balin and Balan 568 the high purpose b by the worm. Merlin and V. 196 these have b up my melancholy.' ,, 267 false voice made way, b with sobs: ,, 857 Becomes the sea-cliff pathway b short, ,, 882 cried 'They are b, they are b!' Lancelot and E. 310
It can be b easier. ,, 1208 and so fall, So many lances b— Holy Grail 331 lance B, and his Excalibur a straw.' Last Tournament 88 saw the laws that ruled the tournament B, ,, 161 what music have I b, fool?' ,, 261
B with Mark and hate and solitude, ,, 643
Not to be loudly b in upon. Lover's Tale i 687 the Spanish fleet with b sides lay round The Revenge 71
And the pikes were all b or bent, ,, 80
My sleep was b besides with dreams In the Child. Hosp. 65
I have not b bread for fifty hours. Sir J. Oldcastle 199
With armies so b A reason for bragging Batt. of Brunanburh 82
And Hope will have b her heart, Despair 92 that poor link With earth is b, The Ring 476 wait on one so b, so forlorn? Romney's R. 17
We return'd to his cave—the link was b— Bandit's Death 29

Broken-kneed See Brokken-kneëad

Broken-wise Peering askance, and muttering b-w, Merlin and V. 100

Brokken (broken) as if 'e'd 'a b 'is neck, Owd Roä 63

Brokken-kneëad (broken-kneed) an' the mare b-k, Church-warden, etc. 4

Bronze on his right Stood, all of massiest b: Balin and Balan 364

Bronzed on the cheek, And bruised and b, Lancelot and E. 259
Brooch Pull off, pull off, the b of gold, Lady Clare 39
read and earn our prize, A golden b: Princess iii 301 Brood (s) If there were many Lilias in the b, ,, Pro. 146 tell her, Swallow, that thy b is flown: ,, iv 108
He sees his b about thy knee; ,, 582
Because her b is stol'n away. In Mem. xxi 28
O sound to rout the b of cares, ,, lxxxix 17
Her own b lost or dead, Com. of Arthur 28
Heathen, the b by Hengist left; Guinevere 16
Brood (verb) with downcast eyes we muse and b, Sonnet to—— 1
About him b's the twilight dim: Two Voices 263
To muse and b and live again in memory, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 65
That b's above the fallen sun, To J. S. 51 happy birds, that change their sky To build and b; In Mem. cxv 16 nevermore to b On a horror of shatter'd limbs Maud I i 55 sunshine seem'd to b More warmly on the heart Lover's Tale i 327
What use to b? this life of mingled pains To Mary Boyle 49
Brooded stillness of that air Which b round about her: Gardener's D. 148 while she b thus And grew half-guilty Guinevere 407 tender love Of him she b over. Lover's Tale i 617
B one master-passion evermore, ,, ii 60
Broodeth But where the sunbeam b warm, In Mem. xci 14
Brooding ragged rims of thunder b low, Palace of Art 75
Sit b in the ruins of a life, Love and Duty 12 Across my fancy, b warm, Day-Dm., Pro. 10 but b turn The book of scorn, Princess v 141 wordless b's on the wasted cheek— ,, vii 112
But b on the dear one dead, In Mem. xxxvii 17
But over all things b slept ,, lxxviii 7 felt that tempest b round his heart, Geraint and E. 11
There, b by the central altar, Ancient Sage 33
She that in her heart is b Locksley H., Sixty 23 Brook (s) (See also Beck, Mountain-brook, Yabbrook) Past Yabbrook b the livelong night, Clear-headed friend 27
b that loves To purl o'er matted cress Ode to Memory 58 deep b groan'd beneath the mill; Miller's D. 113
I thirsted for the b's, the showers: Fatima 10 long b falling thro' the clov'n ravine Œnone 8
O mountain b's, I am the daughter ,, 37
'The torrent b's of hallow'd Israel D. of F. Women 181 and leap the rainbows of the b's, Locksley Hall 171 HERE, by this b, we parted; The Brook 1 yet the b he loved, ,, 15
'O b,' he says, 'O babbling b,' ,, 20 and the b, why not? replies. ,, 22
Philip's farm where b and river meet. ,, 38
Philip chatter'd more than b or bird; ,, 51
Beyond the b, waist-deep in meadow-sweet. ,, 118 and bowing o'er the b A tonsured head ,, 199 Little about it stirring save a b! Aylmer's Field 32 where the b Vocal, with here and there a silence, ,, 145 part were drown'd within the whirling b: Princess, Pro. 47 Cataract b's to the ocean run, The Islet 17 b's of Eden mazily murmuring, Milton 10
Oh is it the b, or a pool, Window, On the Hill 4
Spring that swells the narrow b's, In Mem. lxxxv 70
The b alone far-off was heard, ,, xcv 7
On yon swoll'n b that bubbles fast ,, xcix 6
The b shall babble down the plain, ,, ci 10 slopes a wild b o'er a little stone, Marr. of Geraint 77 a broad b o'er a shingly bed Brawling, ,, 248
And at the inrunning of a little b Lancelot and E. 1388
By grove, and garden-lawn, and rushing b, Holy Grail 230 saw deep lawns, and then a b, ,, 380 and o'er the b Were apple-trees, and apples by the b Fallen, ,, 383
But even while I drank the b, ,, 387
Stay'd in the wandering warble of a b; Last Tournament 254 Blaze by the rushing b or silent well. Guinevere 400 blue valley and the glistening b's, Lover's Tale i 331
With falling b or blossom'd bush— ,, 405 Gives birth to a brawling b, ,, 526 echoes of the hollow-banked b's ,, 566 the chillness of the sprinkled b Smote ,, 633 black b's Of the midforest heard me— ,, ii 11 Brook (s) (continued) I cast them in the noisy b beneath, Lover's Tale ii 41 moanings in the forest, the loud b, ,, 114 b's glitter'd on in the light without sound, V. of Maeldune 13
I found these cousins often by the b, The Ring 158
b that feeds this lakelet murmur'd 'debt,' ,, 171 following her old pastime of the b, ,, 354 the secret splendour of the b's. Prog. of Spring 21 thunder of the b Sounded 'Œnone'; Death of Œnone 23 Brook (verb) I must b the rod And chastisement Supp. Confessions 107
I would not b my fear Of the other: D. of F. Women 154
We b no further insult but are gone.' Princess vi 342 shall I b to be supplicated? Boadicea 9
I scarce could b the strain and stir In Mem. xv 12
Who cannot b the shadow of any lie.' Gareth and L. 293
I cannot b to gaze upon the dead.' Balin and Balan 586
I cannot b to see your beauty marr'd Pelleas and E. 298 thine eyes not b in forest-paths, Prog. of Spring 31 Brook'd B not the expectant terror of her heart, Enoch Arden 493 but she b no more: Aylmer's Field 798
She b it not; but wrathful, Lucretius 14
She the appeal B not, but clamouring out Princess vi 140 until the little maid, who b No silence, Guinevere 159 Brooking b not the Tarquin in her veins, Lucretius 237 peculiar treasure, b not Exchange or currency: Lover's Tale i 447 Brooks B, for they call'd you so that knew you best, Old B, who loved so well to mouth To W. H. Brookfield 1
Broom walks were stript as bare as b's, Princess, Pro. 184
Gilded with b, or shatter'd into spires, Lover's Tale i 400
Broth wicked b Confused the chemic labour Lucretius 19 Brother (See also Brethren, Soldier-brother, Twin-brother) my b's they: B's in Christ— Supp. Confessions 28 vexed eddies of its wayward b: Isabel 33
Each to each is dearest b; Madeline 21
Oh rest ye, b mariners, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 128
I knew your b: his mute dust I honour To J. S. 29
Who miss the b of your youth? ,, 59
Thy b's and immortal souls. Love thou thy land 8
I and he, B's in Art; Gardener's D. 4
She is my b's daughter: Dora 17
Come, blessed b, come. St. S. Stylites 204
Sun flies forward to his b Sun; Golden Year 23
Men, my b's, men the workers, Locksley Hall 117 b's of the weather stood Stock-still Will Water. 135
Hob-and-nob with b Death! Vision of Sin 194
My dearest b, Edmund, sleeps, The Brook 187
My b James is in the harvest-field: ,, 227
Leolin, his b, living oft With Averill, Aylmer's Field 57 his, a b's love, that hung With wings ,, 138 thro' the bright lawns to his b's ran, ,, 341
'B, for I have loved you more as son Than b, ,, 351
b, where two fight The strongest wins, ,, 364
'O b, I am grieved to learn your grief— ,, 398
How low his b's mood had fallen, ,, 404 Sent to the harrow'd b, praying him ,, 607 shall thy b man, the Lord from Heaven, ,, 667 they see no men, Not ev'n her b Arac, Princess i 153
'My b!' 'Well, my sister.' ,, ii 188
Here lies a b by a sister slain, ,, 208
That was fawn's blood, not b's, ,, 275 be swerved from right to save A prince, a b? ,, 291
I give thee to death My b! ,, 308
Till, one of those two b's, half aside ,, v 302
'O b, you have known the pangs we felt, ,, 374
B's, the woman's Angel guards you, ,, 410
'He saved my life: my b slew him for it.' ,, vi 108 to wait upon him, Like mine own b. ,, 299
Help, father, b, help; ,, 305
'Your b, Lady,—Florian,—ask for him ,, 313
but the Prince Her b came; ,, 345
Did those twin b's, risen again ,, vii 89
My friend, the b of my love; In Mem. ix 16
More than my b's are to me. ,, 20
'Where wert thou, b, those four days?' ,, xxxi 5
Roves from the living b's face, ,, xxxii 7

Brother (continued) 'More than my b's are to me,'— In Mem. lxxix 1
I met her to-day with her b, but not to her b I bow'd: Maud I iv 14 and chuckle, and grin at a b's shame; ,, 29
Her b, from whom I keep aloof, ,, vi 46
Blithe would her b's acceptance be. ,, x 27
All, all upon the b. ,, xiii 43 her b lingers late With a roystering company) ,, xiv 14
Her b is coming back to-night, ,, xix 1 only Maud and the b Hung over her dying bed— ,, 35
This b had laugh'd her down, ,, 60 her b comes, like a blight On my fresh hope, ,, 102 her b ran in his rage to the gate, ,, II i 12
A cry for a b's blood: ,, 34
'O that ye had some b, pretty one, Com. of Arthur 335
my husband's b had my son Thrall'd in his castle, Gareth and L. 357
Our noblest b, and our truest man, ,, 565 second b in their fool's parable— ,, 1004
'What doest thou, b, in my marches here?' ,, 1034 Hath overthrown thy b, and hath his arms.' ,, 1037 the third b shouted o'er the bridge, ,, 1096
My b and my better, this man here, Balin and Balan 54
Embracing Balin, 'Good my b, hear! ,, 139 on his dying b cast himself Dying; ,, 593
'B, I dwelt a day in Pellam's hall: ,, 605
'O b' answer'd Balin 'woe is me! ,, 618 darken thine, Goodnight, true b.' ,, 626
'Goodnight, true b here! goodmorrow there! ,, 628 two b's, one a king, had met And fought Lancelot and E. 39 each had slain his b at a blow; ,, 41 brought the yet-unblazon'd shield, His b's; ,, 380 rosy-kindled with her b's kiss— ,, 393
Sir Modred's b, and the child of Lot, ,, 558
Came on her b with a happy face ,, 791
Full ill then should I quit your b's love, ,, 944
the b's heard, and thought With shuddering, ,, 1021
'Sweet b's, yesternight I seem'd ,, 1034
'Fret not yourself, dear b, nor be wroth, ,, 1074
'O b, I have seen this yew-tree smoke, Holy Grail 18
what drove thee from the Table Round, My b? ,, 29
'Sweet b, I have seen the Holy Grail: ,, 107
b, fast thou too and pray, And tell thy b knights to fast and pray, ,, 125 and himself her b more than I. ,, 142
'Sister or b none had he; ,, 143
b, In our great hall there stood ,, 166
b, had you known our mighty hall, ,, 225
b, had you known our hall within, ,, 246
b, when I told him what had chanced, ,, 271
(B, the King was hard upon his knights) ,, 299
O b, had you known our Camelot, ,, 339
'O b,' ask'd Ambrosius,— ,, 540
O b, saving this Sir Galahad, ,, 561 my b, Why wilt thou shame me to confess ,, 566 was the one, B, and that one only, ,, 579
O me, my b! but one night my vow ,, 607
For, b, so one night, because they roll ,, 685
'And that can I, B, and truly; ,, 712
B, I need not tell thee foolish words,— ,, 855
Art thou the purest, b? Last Tournament 192
b, thou nor I have made the world; ,, 203 is the King thy b fool?' ,, 352
ay, my b fool, the king of fools! ,, 354
A goodly b of the Table Round ,, 431
Slain was the b of my paramour ,, 448
So b, pluck and spare not.' Lover's Tale i 351
'B,' she said, 'let this be call'd ,, 461
I was as the b of her blood, ,, 559 deem'd I wore a b's mind: she call'd me b: ,, 741 Deem that I love thee but as b's do, ,, 767
Praise to our Indian b's, Def. of Lucknow 69
Drove me and my good b's home in chains, Columbus 134
He with his b, Edmund Atheling, Batt. of Brunanburh 5 Christ, our human b and friend, Despair 25
the tears, O b, mine or thine, Ancient Sage 186 Sisters, b's—and the beasts— Locksley H., Sixty 102

Brother (continued) Rip your b's' voices open, Locksley H., Sixty 141 True b, only to be known By those who love Pref. Poem Broth. S. 7 Sons and b's that have sent, Open. I. and C. Exhib. 3 B's, must we part at last? ,, 32
Is b of the Dark one in the lowest, Demeter and P. 95
He, the b of this Darkness, ,, 116
Will my Indian b come? Romney's R. 143
Well spake thy b in his hymn to heaven Akbar's Dream 27
Meanwhile, my b's, work, and wield Mechanophilus 29
Father, and my B, and my God! Doubt and Prayer 8
Brother-brute ever butted his rough b-b For lust Lucretius 197
Brother-hands I, clasping b-h, aver I could not, In Mem. lxxxv 102
Brotherhood And all men work in noble b, Ode Inter. Exhib. 38
To fight the b of Day and Night— Gareth and L. 857 hast thou so defamed Thy b Pelleas and E. 322 hath bound And sworn me to this b;' ,, 449
Unlawful and disloyal b— Sisters (E. and E.) 174
Brother-in-law that mock-sister there—B-i-l ,, 173
Brother-knight Lo! he hath slain some b-k, Balin and Balan 549
Brother-like kiss'd her with all pureness, b-l, Geraint and E. 884
Brother-oak honours that, Thy famous b-o, Talking Oak 296
Brother-sister are you That b-s Psyche, Princess ii 254
Brother-slayer Not from the skeleton of a b-s, Last Tournament 47
Brother-star b-s, why shine ye here so low? Gareth and L. 1097
Brother-worm and its last b-w will have fled Despair 85 Brought (See also Browt, Far-brought) Is not my human pride b low? Supp. Confessions 14 from the outward to the inward b, Eleänore 4
The oriental fairy b, ,, 14
I marvell'd how the mind was b To anchor Two Voices 458 slowly was my mother b To yield consent Miller's D. 137
Although the loss had b us pain, ,, 229 light-foot Iris b it yester-eve, Œnone 83
I won his love, I b him home. The Sisters 14 and b Into the gulfs of sleep. D. of F. Women 51 Where'er I came I b calamity.' ,, 96 then at my request He b it; The Epic 48 every morning b a noble chance, And every chance b out a noble knight. M. d'Arthur 230 till Autumn b an hour For Eustace, Gardener's D. 207
B out a dusky loaf that smelt of home, Audley Court 22 his bailiff b A Chartist pike. Walk. to the Mail 70
b the night In which we sat together Love and Duty 59
all the mothers b Their children, Godiva 14
The pint, you b me, was the best Will Water. 75
Lord Ronald b a lily-white doe Lady Clare 3
lily-white doe Lord Ronald had b ,, 61 then with what she b Buy goods and stores— Enoch Arden 137
b the stinted commerce of those days; ,, 817 letter which he b, and swore besides Aylmer's Field 522
She b strange news. Sea Dreams 267 which he b, and I Dived in a hoard of tales Princess, Pro. 28 which b My book to mind: ,, 119 these b back A present, a great labour ,, i 43
He b it, and himself, a sight to shake ,, 200
She b us Academic silks, ,, ii 16
'I b a message here from Lady Blanche.' ,, 319 from the Queen's decease she b her up. ,, iii 86
—or b her chain'd, a slave, ,, v 139
Home they b her warrior dead: ,, vi 1
B from under every star, Ode Inter. Exhib. 25
And bread from out the houses b, Spec. of Iliad 6
As tho' they b but merchants' bales, In Mem. xiii 19
Such precious relics b by thee; ,, xvii 18
And he that b him back is there. ,, xxxii 4
He b an eye for all he saw; ,, lxxxix 9
she b the harp and flung A ballad ,, 27
And b a summons from the sea: ,, ciii 16
Large elements in order b, ,, cxii 13 and b to understand A sad astrology, Maud I xviii 35
B Arthur forth, and set him in the hall, Com. of Arthur 229
Or b by Merlin, who, they say, ,, 347
B down a momentary brow. Gareth and L. 653 champion thou hast b from Arthur's hall? ,, 916 ere his horse was b, Glorying; ,, 934

Brought (continued) b a helm With but a drying evergreen Gareth and L. 1115 Gareth b him grovelling on his knees, ,, 1124
Enid b sweet cakes to make them cheer, Marr. of Geraint 388 and he b me to a goodly house ; ,, 713 like a madman b her to the court, ,, 725 promise, that whatever bride I b, ,, 783
b a mantle down and wrapt her in it, ,, 824
Prince had b his errant eyes Home Geraint and E. 245
And wine and food were b, ,, 289 as they b upon their forays out ,, 567 men b in whole hogs and quarter beeves, ,, 602 they b report 'we hardly found, Balin and Balan 94 who first B the great faith to Britain ,, 103
b By holy Joseph hither, ,, 112
b report of azure lands and fair, ,, 168 as he That b her hither. ,, 187
To save thy life, have b thee to thy death. ,, 600
miss'd, and b Her own claw back, Merlin and V. 499
He lightly scatter'd theirs and b her off, ,, 564
He b, not found it therefore : ,, 719
I by mere mischance have b, my shield. Lancelot and E. 189 red sleeve Broider'd with pearls,' and b it : ,, 373
Returning b the yet-unblazon'd shield, ,, 379
And b his horse to Lancelot where he lay. ,, 493
the shield was b, and Gawain saw ,, 662 have b thee, now a lonely man Wifeless ,, 1370 saw the barge that b her moving down, ,, 1391 Joseph, journeying B to Glastonbury, Holy Grail 51
b thee here to this poor house of ours ,, 617 they fell from, b us to the hall. ,, 720
Joseph b of old to Glastonbury ?' ,, 735 bounden straight, and so they b him in. Pelleas and E. 236 rose up, and bound, and b him in. ,, 288 Waited, until the third night b a moon ,, 393
b A maiden babe ; which Arthur pitying took, Last Tournament 20
b to adorn her with, The jewels, ,, 715 when both were b to full accord, ,, 722
And hither b by Tristram for his last ,, 747 Modred b His creatures to the basement Guinevere 103 and my tears have b me good : ,, 202 he that b The heathen back among us, Pass. of Arthur 151 every morning b a noble chance, And every chance b out a noble knight. ,, 398 Looking on her that b him to the light : Lover's Tale i 160 the shuddering moonlight b its face ,, 650 rare or fair Was b before the guest : ,, iv 204
He slowly b them back to Lionel. ,, 371 caught and b him in To their charm'd circle, ,, 376
For we b them all aboard, The Revenge 19
On whom I b a strange unhappiness, Sisters (E. and E.) 89
So took her thence, and b her here, ,, 267
He had b his ghastly tools : In the Child. Hosp. 69
Hast thou b bread with thee ? Sir J. Oldcastle 198
b out a broad sky Of dawning over— Columbus 77
Whatever wealth I b from that new world ,, 101
I had b your Prince gold enough ,, 105
I b From Solomon's now-recover'd Ophir ,, 111
This creedless people will be b to Christ ,, 189
That day my nurse had b me the child. The Wreck 59
Dead ! 'Is it he then b so low ?' Dead Prophet 6
Until I b thee hither, Demeter and P. 8
I b you to that chamber on your The Ring 129
I b you, you remember, these roses, Happy 73
b you down A length of staghorn-moss, Romney's R. 78
'hast thou b us down a new Korân Akbar's Dream 116 when I met you first—when he b you !— Charity 9

Brow This laurel greener from the b's To the Queen 7
Among the thorns that girt Thy b, Supp. Confessions 6 when with b's Propt on thy knees, ,, 69
An image with profulgent b's, ,, 145
Upon her bed, across her b. Mariana 56
Falsehood shall bare her plaited b : Clear-headed friend 11
Frowns perfect-sweet along the b Madeline 15 o'er black b's drops down A sudden-curved frown : (repeat) ,, 34, 46

Brow (continued) a b of pearl Tressed with redolent ebony, Arabian Nights 137
Even as a maid, whose stately b Ode to Memory 13
Her beautiful bold b, The Poet 38
With thy soften'd, shadow'd b, Adeline 46 wearing on my swarthy b's The garland Kate 23
His broad clear b in sunlight glow'd ; L. of Shalott iii 28
From b and bosom slowly down Mariana in the S. 14
Look up, the fold is on her b. Two Voices 192 blow Before him, striking on my b. Fatima 25 and the charm of married b's.' Œnone 76 drew From her warm b's and bosom her deep hair ,, 177 steep our b's in slumber's holy balm ; Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 21 Whereto the other with a downward b : D. of F. Women 117 lying dead, my crown about my b's, ,, 162 dropping bitter tears against his b M. d'Arthur 211
But the full day dwelt on her b's, Gardener's D. 136
Love with knit b's went by, ,, 245 whose bald b's in silent hours become St. S. Stylites 165
I waited long ; My b's are ready. ,, 206 glimmer steals From thy pure b's, Tithonus 35
Her sweet face from b to chin : L. of Burleigh 62
Warm broke the breeze against the b, The Voyage 9
A band of pain across my b ; The Letters 6 sleepy light upon their b's and lips— Vision of Sin 9
we know the hue Of that cap upon her b's. ,, 142
And gain'd a laurel for your b You might have won 3
Annie with her b's against the wall Enoch Arden 314 o'er his bent b's linger'd Averill, Aylmer's Field 625 often placed upon the sick man's b ,, 700 breathing down From over her arch'd b's, Princess ii 39 and the Roman b's Of Agrippina. ,, 84 gaunt old baron with his beetle b Sun-shaded ,, 240 Psyche, wont to bind my throbbing b, ,, 250 Star-sisters answering under crescent b's ; ,, 428 lilylike Melissa droop'd her b's ; ,, iv 161
manlike, but his b's Had sprouted, ,, 204
With hooded b's I crept into the hall, ,, 225 made the single jewel on her b Burn ,, 273 till over b And cheek and bosom brake ,, 382 raised the cloak from b's as pale and smooth ,, v 73 veil'd her b's, and prone she sank, ,, 107
she laid A feeling finger on my b's, ,, vi 121
With b to b like night and evening ,, 131 fear not ; breathe upon my b's ; ,, vii 353
King bent low, with hand on b, The Victim 53 gladness even crown'd The purple b's of Olivet. In Mem. xxxi 12
Urania speaks with darken'd b : ,, xxxvii 1
I took the thorns to bind my b's, ,, lxix 7
Lift as thou may'st thy burthen'd b's ,, lxxii 21
So, dearest, now thy b's are cold, ,, lxxiv 5 turn'd To black and brown on kindred b's. ,, lxxix 16 fan my b's and blow The fever from my cheek, ,, lxxxvi 8
Be large and lucid round thy b. ,, xci 8
And enter in at breast and b, ,, cxxii 11
Broad b's and fair, a fluent hair and fine, Gareth and L. 464 a b May-blossom, and a cheek of apple-blossom, ,, 588 Brought down a momentary b. ,, 653
Then seeing cloud upon the mother's b, Marr. of Geraint 777 with droopt b down the long glades he rode ; Balin and Balan 311 drawing down the dim disastrous b ,, 597 a wizard b bleach'd on the walls : Merlin and V. 597 two brethren slowly with bent b's Accompanying, Lancelot and E. 1138 kiss'd her quiet b's, and saying ,, 1150 Arthur, who beheld his cloudy b's, ,, 1354
the circlet of the jousts Bound on her b, Pelleas and E. 435 circlet of the tourney round her b's, ,, 454 under her black b's a swarthy one Laugh'd Last Tournament 216 laid His b's upon the drifted leaf and dream'd. ,, 406 a b Like hillsnow high in heaven, ,, 666 dropping bitter tears against a b Pass. of Arthur 379
To pass my hands across my b's, Lover's Tale i 31 clear b, bulwark of the precious brain, ,, 130 brood More warmly on the heart than on the b. ,, 328

Brow (continued) for her b's And mine made garlands Lover's Tale i 342
Beyond the nearest mountain's bosky b's, ,, 396 knotted thorns thro' my unpaining b's, ,, 620 sprinkled brook Smote on my b's, ,, 634 great crown of beams about his b's— ,, 672 walk'd abreast with me, and veil'd his b, ,, ii 86 and from his b drew back His hand to push ,, 92 about my b Her warm breath floated ,, 140 Upon my fever'd b's that shook and throbb'd ,, iii 7 walk'd behind with one who veil'd his b. ,, 12
Cold were his b's when we kiss'd him— Def. of Lucknow 12 in your raised b's I read Some wonder Columbus 1
Why, what a b was there ! The Wreck 48
The broad white b of the Isle— ,, 135 dreamer stoopt and kiss'd her marble b. Locksley H., Sixty 38 out of the field, And over the b and away. Heavy Brigade 64
Unfurnish'd b's, tempestuous tongues— Freedom 38
But seen upon the silent b when life Happy 52 when I let him kiss my b ; ,, 65 round her b's a woodland culver flits, Prog. of Spring 18 till the heat Smote on her b, Death of Œnone 98
Me they front With sullen b's. Akbar's Dream 52
Brow-beat while the worn-out clerk B-b's his desk below. To J. M. K. 12
Brow-bound eyes, B-b with burning gold. D. of F. Women 128
Brow'd See Beautiful-brow'd, Dark-brow'd, Large-brow'd
Brow-high the hemlock, B-h, did strike my forehead Lover's Tale ii 19
Brown in a silent shade of laurel b Apart Alexander 9
Her streaming curls of deepest b Mariana in the S. 16
B, looking hardly human, strangely clad, Enoch Arden 638
Enoch was so b, so bow'd, ,, 703 beauties every shade of b and fair Princess ii 437 all her autumn tresses falsely b, ,, 449
I watch the twilight falling b To F. D. Maurice 14
To black and b on kindred brows. In Mem. lxxix 16 park and suburb under b Of lustier leaves ; ,, xxviii 24 Unloved, that beech will gather b, ,, ci 3 bracken so bright and the heather so b, June Bracken, etc. 3
Browsed b by deep-udder'd kine, Gardener's D. 46
Browt (brought) I b what tha seëäs stannin' theer, North. Cobbler 70
b me the booöts to be cobbled ,, 94
So I b tha down, an' I says Owd Roä 97
I b 'im down, an' we got to the barn, ,, 103
An' I b Roä round, but Moother ,, 113
Bruise Hard-won and hardly won with b and blow, Lancelot and E. 1165 Bruised cursed and scorn'd, and b with stones : Two Voices 222 that there Lie b and maim'd, Princess vi 72
Had b the herb and crush'd the grape, In Mem. xxxv 23 swordcut on the cheek, And b and bronzed, Lancelot and E. 259 and so left him b And batter'd, Pelleas and E. 546 Nor b the wildbird's egg. Lover's Tale ii 21
b and butted with the shuddering War-thunder Tiresias 99
Brunanburh Slew with the sword-edge There by B, Batt. of Brunanburh 10
Brunelleschi Arno, and the dome Of B ; The Brook 190
Brunette A quick b, well-moulded, Princess ii 106
Brush (pencil) took his b and blotted out the bird, Merlin and V. 478
Brush (tail of fox) ' Peter had the b, My Peter, first : ' Aylmer's Field 254 Brush (verb) to b the dew From thine own lily, Supp. Confessions 84 Brush'd b Thro' the dim meadow toward his Aylmer's Field 530 when, this gad-fly b aside, Princess v 414 and b My fallen forehead in their to and fro, Lover's Tale i 700 Brushing And b ankle-deep in flowers, In Mem. lxxxix 49 with his brandish'd plume B his instep, Geraint and E. 360 Brushwood elm-tree-boles did stoop and lean Upon the dusky b D. of F. Women 58
Brute (See also Brother-brute) Take my b, and lead him in, Vision of Sin 65
Thou madest Life in man and b; In Mem., Pro. 6
No longer half-akin to b, ,, Con. 133 he had not been a Sultan of b's, Maud II v 81 b's of mountain back That carry kings Merlin and V. 576
O great and sane and simple race of b's Pelleas and E. 480
Come from the b, poor souls— Despair 36 Brute (continued) no souls—and to die with the b— Despair 36 and burn the kindlier b's alive. Locksley H., Sixty 96 B's, the b's are not your wrongers— ,, 97 let the house of a b to the soul of a man, By an Evolution. 1
If my body come from b's, (repeat) ,, 5, 13
I, the finer b rejoicing in my hounds, ,, 7 and rule thy Province of the b. ,, 16 these Are like wild b's new-caged— Akbar's Dream 50
The Ghost of the B that is walking The Dawn 23
Brutus (Lucius Junius) See Lucius Junius Brutus
Bubble (s) watch'd Or seem'd to watch the dancing b, Princess iii 24 colour'd b bursts above the abyss Romney's R. 52
Bubble (verb) I b into eddying bays, The Brook 41
On yon swoll'n brook that b's fast In Mem. xxix 6
And yet b's o'er like a city, with gossip, Maud I iv 8
Bubbled at mine ear B the nightingale Princess iv 266
The milk that b in the pail, In Mem. lxxxix 51
oilily b up the mere. Gareth and L. 816 Bubbling See Life-bubbling
Bublin' (young unfledged bird) An' haäfe on 'im bare as a b.' Owd Roä 102 Bucket rope that haled the b's from the well, St. S. Stylites 64 helpt to pass a b from the well To Mary Boyle 39
Buckled B with golden clasps before ; Sir L. and Q. G. 25
Buckler The brand, the b, and the spear— Two Voices 129 Clash the darts and on the b beat Boädicea 79 snatch'd a sudden b from the Squire, Balin and Balan 554 Bud (s) (See also Chestnut-bud, Sea-bud) While thou abodest in the b. Two Voices 158 chestnuts, when their b's Were glistening Miller's D. 60 flowers, and b's and garlands gay, May Queen 11 folded leaf is woo'd from out the b Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 26 Sweet as new b's in Spring. D. of F. Women 272 all-too-full in b For puritanic stays : Talking Oak 59 kisses balmier than half-opening b's Of April, Tithonus 59
In b or blade, or bloom, may find, Day-Dn., Moral 10 burst In carol, every b to flower, ,, L'Envoi 44
While life was yet in b and blade, Princess i 32
' Pretty b ! Lily of the vale ! ,, vi 192
b ever breaks into bloom on the tree, The Islet 32 longs to burst a frozen b And flood In Mem. lxxxiii 15
O when her life was yet in b, ,, Con. 33 flower tell What sort of b it was, Lover's Tale i 152 from within Burst thro' the heated b's, ,, 320
No b, no leaf, no flower, no fruit ,, 725 and all smells of b And foliage from the dark ,, iii 5 spies the summer thro' the winter b, Ancient Sage 74 fleets the shower, And burst the b's, Early Spring 14
' your pretty b, So blighted here, The Ring 316
Thy warmths from b to b Accomplish Prog. of Spring 113
Bud (verb) And rugged barks begin to b, My life is full 18 times, when some new thought can b, Golden Year 27 out of tyranny tyranny b's. Boädicea 83
And b's and blossoms like the rest. In Mem. cxv 20
Budded See New-budded, Ruby-budded
Buddhist Brahmin, and B, Christian, and Parsee, Akbar's Dream 25
Bude the thundering shores of B and Bos, Guinevere 291
Buffet (s) with a stronger b he clove the helm Gareth and L. 1406
Swung from his brand a windy b Geraint and E. 90
Buffet (verb) echo flap And b round the hills, Golden Year 77
Strove to b to land in vain. Princess iv 185
Buffeted See Tempest-buffeted
Bugle (adj.) all the b breezes blew Reveillée In Mem. lxviii 7
Bugle (s) Aloud the hollow b blowing, Oriana 17
Loud, loud rung out the b's brays, ,, 48
A mighty silver b hung, L. of Shalott iii 16
Blow, b, blow, set the wild echoes (repeat) Princess iv 5, 17
Blow, b ; answer, echoes, dying, (repeat) ,, 6, 12 and bray of the long horn And serpent-throated b, ,, v 253
With blare of b, clamour of men, Ode on Well. 115
Warble, O b, and trumpet, blare ! W. to Alexandra 14
March with banner and b and fife Maud I v 10 raised a b hanging from his neck, Pelleas and E. 364 waits below the wall, Blowing his b ,, 381 and on shield A spear, a harp, a b— Last Tournament 174

Bugle (s) (continued) E's and drums in the darkness, Def. of Lucknow 76
Bugle-horn belted hunter blew His wreathed b-h. Palace of Art 64 when you want me, sound upon the b-h. Locksley Hall 2 call me, sounding on the b-h, ,, 145 Build b up all My sorrow with my song, Œnone 39 built When men knew how to b, Edwin Morris 7
I would b Far off from men a college Princess, Pro. 134
She had founded; they must b. ,, ii 145
I, that have lent my life to b up yours, ,, iv 351
b some plan Foursquare to opposition.' ,, v 230
On God and Godlike men we b our trust. Ode on Well. 266 b's the house, or digs the grave, In Mem. xxxvi 14 change their sky To b and brood; ,, cxv 16 Gave him an isle of marsh whereon to b; Holy Grail 62
he groan'd, 'ye b too high.' Pelleas and E. 555
b a wall betwixt my life and love, Lover's Tale i 176 none but Gods could b this house Ancient Sage 83
Builded The house was b of the earth, Deserted House 15 Building like enow They are b still, Gareth and L. 276
Built (See also Belt, Half-built, Low-built, Sand-built, Woman-built) b up everywhere An under-roof Dying Swan 3
I B my soul a lordly pleasure-house, Palace of Art 1
Thereon I b it firm. ,, 9
In this great mansion, that is b for me, ,, 19
'My spacious mansion b for me, ,, 234 palace towers, that are So lightly, beautifully b: ,, 294
b When men knew how to build, Edwin Morris 6
And b herself an everlasting name. Godiva 79
B for pleasure and for state. L. of Burleigh 32
b their castles of dissolving sand Enoch Arden 19
b, and thatch'd with leaves of palm, ,, 559 Rhodope, that b the pyramid, Princess ii 82 vapour streak the crowned towers B to the Sun:' ,, iii 345
'The plan was mine. I b the nest' ,, iv 365 conscious of what temper you are b, ,, 400 Far off from men I b a fold for them: ,, v 390 tho' he b upon the babe restored; ,, vii 75
And towers fall'n as soon as b— In Mem. xxvi 8
Who b him fanes of fruitless prayer, ,, lvi 12
New as his title, b last year, Maud I x 19 city of Enchanters, b By fairy Kings.' Gareth and L. 199 and whether this be b By magic, ,, 247
Fairy Queens have b the city, son; ,, 259
And b it to the music of their harps. ,, 262 seeing the city is b To music, therefore never b at all, ,, 276
And therefore b for ever.' ,, 278
B that new fort to overawe my friends, Marr. of Geraint 460 that low church he b at Glastonbury. Balin and Balan 367 Had b the King his havens, ships, Merlin and V. 168 there he b with wattles from the marsh Holy Grail 63
Which Merlin b for Arthur long ago! ,, 226
Climbs to the mighty hall that Merlin b. ,, 231
B by old kings, age after age, ,, 340 some ancient king Had b a way, ,, 502 saw High up in heaven the hall that Merlin b, Pelleas and E. 553
B for a summer day with Queen Isolt Last Tournament 378
There be some hearts so airily b, that they, Lover's Tale i 803
Timur b his ghastly tower of eighty thousand Locksley H., Sixty 82 Served the poor, and b the cottage, ,, 268 Son's love b me, and I hold Mother's love Helen's Tower 3 b their shepherd-prince a funeral pile; Death of Œnone 63 whose pious hand had b the cross, St. Telemachus 9 Bulbul Died round the b as he sung; Arabian Nights 70
'O B, any rose of Gulistan Shall burst Princess iv 122
Bulge cheek B with the unswallow'd piece, Geraint and E. 631
Bulk Tudor-chimnied b Of mellow brickwork Edwin Morris 11 bones of some vast b that lived and roar'd Princess iii 294 Down From those two b's at Arac's side, ,, v 499 and grown a b Of spanless girth, ,, vi 35 Dark b's that tumble half alive, In Mem. lxx 11 strike him, overbalancing his b, Last Tournament 460
Bulk'd an old-world mammoth b in ice, Princess v 148
Bull grasp'd The mild b's golden horn. Palace of Art 120
Bull (continued) oil'd and curl'd Assyrian B Smelling of musk Maud I vi 44
Kay near him groaning like a wounded b— Gareth and L. 648 whom his shaking vassals call'd the B, Geraint and E. 439 brainless b's, Dead for one heifer!' Balin and Balan 578 like a b gotten loose at a faäir, North. Cobbler 33 and the b couldn't low, and the dog V. of Maeldune 18
Bull (Inn Sign) 'THE B, the Fleece are cramm'd, Audley Court 1
Bull (Edward) See Edward Bull
Bullet (See also Cannon-bullet, Musket-bullet, Rifle-bullet) B's fell like rain; The Captain 46
b struck him that was dressing it The Revenge 67
And caught the laming b. Sisters (E. and E.) 65
the brute b broke thro' the brain Def. of Lucknow 20
B's would sing by our foreheads, and b's would rain ,, 21 Bulrush sword-grass, and the b in the pool. May Queen, N. Y's. E. 28 mid-thigh-deep in b'es and reed, Gareth and L. 810 Bulrush-bed plunged Among the b-b's, and clutch'd the sword, M. d'Arthur 135 plunged Among the b-b's, and clutch'd the sword, Pass. of Arthur 303 Bulwark now they saw their b fallen, Geraint and E. 168 Bummin' (buzzing) b' awaäy loike a buzzard-clock N. Farmer, O. S. 18
Bump'd I b the ice into three several stars, The Epic 12
Bumper He froth'd his b's to the brim; D. of the O. Year 19 Bunch (See also Fruit-bunches, Vine-bunches) With b and berry and flower Œnone 102 grapes with b'es red as blood; Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 44 Craft with a b of all-heal in her hand, Vastness 12
Bundle now hastily caught His b, waved his hand, Enoch Arden 238 Buoy (See also Harbour-buoy) WE left behind the painted b The Voyage 1
The b that rides at sea, and dips Gareth and L. 1146
Buoy'd range Of vapour b the crescent-bark, Day-Dm., Depart. 22
B upon floating tackle and broken Enoch Arden 551 Bur (See also Burr) b and brake and briar, Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 46 like a wall of b's and thorns; Sea Dreams 119 Burden (See also Burthen) people here, a beast of b slow, Palace of Art 149 prepared The daily b for the back. In Mem. xxv 4 Burdock eft and snake, In grass and b, Holy Grail 571
Burgeon space to b out of all Within her— Princess vii 271
Now b's every maze of quick In Mem. cxv 2
Burgher Knight and b, lord and dame, L. of Shalott iv 43
Burial (adj.) Mammonite mother kills her babe for a b fee, Maud I i 45
Burial (s) at a b to hear The creaking cords Supp. Confessions 35
Fresh from the b of her little one, Enoch Arden 281
A summer b deep in hollyhocks; Aylmer's Field 164
That hears his b talk'd of by his friends, Princess vii 152
Now to glorious b slowly borne, Ode on Well. 193
Pray for my soul, and yield me b. Lancelot and E. 1280 place of b Far lovelier than its cradle; Lover's Tale i 529 and ask'd If I would see her b: ,, ii 71
At some precipitance in her b. ,, iv 107 Past thro' his visions to the b; ,, 357 borne in white To b or to burning, Ancient Sage 208
Those that in barbarian b's kill'd the slave, Locksley Hall, Sixty 67
Beyond our b and our buried eyes, The Ring 296 Buried (See also A-buried, Half-buried, Long-buried) I b her like my own sweet child, Lady Clare 27 that same week when Annie b it, Enoch Arden 271
And when they b him the little port ,, 916
Old scandals b now seven decads deep Aylmer's Field 442 Half b in some weightier argument, Lucretius 9 have they not b me deep enough? Maud II v 96 Dead, whom we b; more than one of us Balin and Balan 122 rummage b in the walls Might echo, ,, 416 see that she be b worshipfully.' Lancelot and E. 1329 maiden b, not as one unknown, ,, 1334
I kiss'd 'em, I b 'em all— Rizpah 55
She died and she was b ere we knew. Sisters (E. and E.) 241
So feyther an' son was b togither, Village Wife 90 as God's truer images Are daily b.' Sir J. Oldcastle 141
I will have them b in my grave. Columbus 201 his Riverence b thim both in wan grave Tomorrow 87
There, there! he b you, the Priest; Happy 105

Burleigh See Lord of Burleigh
Burleigh-house B-h by Stamford-town. L. of Burleigh 92
Burlesque Had ever seem'd to wrestle with b, Princess, Con. 16 Burn (stream) Over the pools in the b water-gnats Leonine Eleg. 8 tall firs and our fast-falling b's; Gareth and L. 91
Burn (burnt place) An' it was'nt a bite but a b, Ovod Roä 90 Burn (verb) cricket chirps: the light b's low: D. of the O. Year 40
While the stars b, the moons increase, To J. S. 71
And b a fragrant lamp before my bones, St. S. Stylites 196
And b the threshold of the night, The Voyage 18 but my cheek Began to b and b, Princess iii 46 b's Above the unrisen morrow:' ,, iv 82 made the single jewel on her brow B ,, 274
Wherefore in me b's an anger, Boädicea 52 Burst the gates, and b the palaces, ,, 64 fires b clear, And frost is here Window, Winter 4
And with the thought her colour b's; In Mem. vi 34
And calm that let the tapers b ,, xcv 5
This maple b itself away; ,, ci 4
Cold fires, yet with power to b Maud I xviii 39 beneath there b's A jewell'd harness, Gareth and L. 687
Made her cheek b and either eyelid fall, Marr. of Geraint 775
Made her cheek b and either eyelid fall. Geraint and E. 434 sin that practice b's into the blood, Merlin and V. 762
Made my tears b—is also past— Guinevere 542
Amen! Nay, I can b, so that the Lord Sir J. Oldcastle 173
And doom'd to b alive. ,, 183
So, caught, I b. B? ,, 184
God willing, I will b for Him. ,, 193 for the bright-eyed goddess made it b. Achilles over the T. 29 great God, Arês, b's in anger still Tiresias 11 noonday crag made the hand b; ,, 35
—but how my temples b! The Flight 73 and b the kindlier brutes alive. Locksley H., Sixty 96 fur the barn wouldn't b Ovod Roä 103
What star could b so low? not Ilion yet. Death of Œnone 83
'Who b's upon the pyre?' ,, 95
Burn (born) Cooms of a gentleman b: N. Farmer, N. S. 38
Gentleman b! what's gentleman b? ,, 42
An' then the babby wur b, North. Cobbler 16
For 'e warn't not b to the land, Village Wife 44
'e wur b an' bred i' the 'ouse, Spinster's S's. 69
Burn'd (See also Burnt) B like one burning flame together, L. of Shalott iii 22 green grasses b The red anemone. D. of F. Women 71 Or b in fire, or boil'd in oil, St. S. Stylites 52 that, which in me b, The love, Talking Oak 10 eye, That b upon its object thro' such tears Love and Duty 63
At times the whole sea b, The Voyage 51 sacred fire, That b as on an altar. Enoch Arden 72
But still the foeman spoil'd and b, The Victim 17
Last night, when the sunset b Maud I vi 8 b Full on her knights in many an evil name Pelleas and E. 289 one low light betwixt them b Guinevere 4 great light of heaven B at his lowest Pass. of Arthur 91
And b alive as heretics! Sir J. Oldcastle 48 o'er the great Peleion's head B, Achilles over the T. 29
The prophet's beacon b in vain, Ancient Sage 142 Burning A love still b upward, Isabel 18
All earth and air seem only b fire.' Œnone 268
Larger constellations b, mellow moons Locksley Hall 159
The tapers b fair. Sir Galahad 32 with life-long injuries b unavenged, Geraint and E. 696 On them the smell of b had not past. Sir J. Oldcastle 177 borne in white To burial or to b, Ancient Sage 208
Burnish to scream, to b, and to scour, Princess iv 520
Burnish'd sitting, b without fear The brand, Two Voices 128
That glitter b by the frosty dark; Princess v 261 and all in mail B to blinding, Gareth and L. 1027 Burnt (See also Burn'd) B like a fringe of fire. Palace of Art 48
he b His epic, his King Arthur, The Epic 27
Mere chaff and draff, much better b.' ,, 40
B in each man's blood. The Captain 16 and b, Now chafing at his own great self Aylmer's Field 536 the good Sir Ralph had b them all— Princess, Pro. 236

Burnt (continued) grandsire b Because he cast no shadow, Princess i 6
Nor b the grange, nor buss'd the milking-maid, ,, v 222 other thoughts than Peace B in us, ,, 246
B and broke the grove and altar Boädicea 2 the rest Slew on and b, crying, Com. of Arthur 439
So b he was with passion, Marr. of Geraint 560 smoulder'd wrong that b him all within; Geraint and E. 107 many of those who b the hold, Holy Grail 264 but one night my vow B me within, ,, 608
Blasted and b, and blinded as I was, ,, 844
B as a living fire of emeralds, Pelleas and E. 35 and in it Far cities b, Guinevere 83 took and hang'd, Took, hang'd and b— Sir J. Oldcastle 46
B—good Sir Roger Acton, my dear friend! ,, 79
B too, my faithful preacher, Beverley! ,, 80
B, b! and while this mitred Arundel ,, 104
Not b were they. On them the smell of burning ,, 176 b at midnight, found at morn, Locksley H., Sixty 97
the smoke, The pyre he b in.'— The Ring 340
Burr (See also Bur) When b and bine were gather'd; Aylmer's Field 113
Burrowing I have ferreted out their b's, Merlin and V. 55
Burst (s) Preluded those melodious b's D. of F. Women 6 Caught in a b of unexpected storm, Aylmer's Field 285 more than mortal in the b Of sunrise, Princess, Pro. 40 but given to starts and b's Of revel; ,, i 54 B's of great heart and slips in sensual mire, ,, v 199 after some quick b of sudden wrath, Balin and Balan 216 now the storm, its b of passion spent, Merlin and V. 961 interspaces gush'd in blinding b's The incorporate blaze of sun Lover's Tale i 408 and bosom'd the b of the spray, V. of Maeldune 103 Burst (verb) B's into blossom in his sight. Fatima 35 shrine-doors b thro' heated blasts D. of F. Women 29 all at once the old man b in sobs:— Dora 158 with hoggish whine They b my prayer. St. S. Stylites 178 Or to b all links of habit— Locksley Hall 157 every bird of Eden b In carol, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 43
All heaven b's her starry floors, St. Agnes' Eve 27
Now high on waves that idly b The Voyage 69
b away In search of stream or fount, Enoch Arden 634
B his own wyvern on the seal, Aylmer's Field 516 the great organ almost b his pipes, Princess ii 474 rose of Gulistan Shall b her veil: ,, iv 123 Ready to b and flood the world with foam: ,, 474 clad in iron b the ranks of war, ,, 504 in the saddle, then b out in words. ,, v 275 Descending, b the great bronze valves, ,, vi 75
b The laces toward her babe; ,, 148 made the serf a man, and b his chain— W. to Marie Alex. 3
B the gates, and burn the palaces, Boädicea 64
That longs to b a frozen bud In Mem. lxxxiii 15 fiery-hot to b All barriers ,, cxiv 13
And yearn'd to b the folded gloom, ,, cxxii 3
Ready to b in a colour'd flame; Maud I vi 19 should b and drown with deluging storms ,, II i 42 should make your Enid b Sunlike Marr. of Geraint 788 pavement echoing, b Their drowse; Geraint and E. 271 fringe of coppice round them b A sprangled pursuivant, Balin and Balan 46
b his lance against a forest bough, ,, 329 pearl-necklace of the Queen, That b Merlin and V. 452
And half his blood b forth, Lancelot and E. 517
b away To weep and wail in secret; ,, 1244 almost b the barriers in their heat, Holy Grail 336
I b the chain, I sprang into the boat. ,, 807 Hell b up your harlot roofs Bellowing Pelleas and E. 466 from within B thro' the heated buds, Lover's Tale i 320 Methought a light B from the garland ,, 366
b through the cloud of thought Keen, ,, ii 164
B vein, snap sinew, and crack heart, Sir J. Oldcastle 123 wish yon moaning sea would rise and b the shore, The Flight 11
Russia b's our Indian barrier, Locksley H., Sixty 115
B like a thunderbolt, Crash'd like a hurricane, Heavy Brigade 27 fleets the shower, And b the buds, Early Spring 14

Burst (verb) (continued) Sun B from a swimming fleece Demeter and P. 20 smoke of war's volcano b again Prog. of Spring 97 colour'd bubble b's above the abyss Romney's R. 52
Bursting thistle b Into glossy purples, Ode on Well. 206 Burthen (load) (See also Burden) Less b, by ten-hundred-fold, St. S. Stylites 24
Or seem to lift a b from thy heart Love and Duty 96 vapours weep their b to the ground, Tithonus 2
With the b of an honour L. of Burleigh 79
No b, save my care for you and yours: Enoch Arden 419 breathless b of low-folded heavens Aylmer's Field 612
One b and she would not lighten it? ,, 703 reaching forward drew My b from mine arms; Princess iv 192
We flung the b of the second James. Third of Feb. 28
And not the b that they bring. In Mem. xiii 20
He bears the b of the weeks But turns his b into gain. ,, lxxx 11
Were all a b to her, and in her heart Pelleas and E. 112 now yearn'd to shake The b off his heart Last Tournament 180 friends—your love Is but a b: To the Queen ii 17 careful b of our tender years Trembled Lover's Tale i 222 Holding his golden b in his arms, ,, iv 89
Burthen (refrain) (See also Ballad-Burthen) Again they shriek'd the b—'Him!' Edwin Morris 123
As tho' it were the b of a song, Enoch Arden 797
Again and like a b, 'Him or death.' Lancelot and E. 903 Bury You'll b me, my mother, just beneath May Queen, N. Y's. E. 29
b me beside the gate, And cut this epitaph Princess ii 206
B the Great Duke With an empire's Ode on Well. 1
Let us b the Great Duke To the noise ,, 3
I will b myself in myself, Maud I i 76 have sworn to b All this dead body of hate, ,, xix 96
They cannot even b a man; ,, II v 22 some kind heart will come To b me, b me Deeper, ,, 103 when an' wheere to b his boane. Owd Roä 8
Burying Driving, hurrying, marrying, b, Maud II v 12 Bush (See also Myrrh-bush, Rose-bush) rushes and bowers of rose-blowing b'es, Leonine Eleg. 3 girls all kiss'd Beneath the sacred b The Epic 3
'Hear how the b'es echo! Gardener's D. 98
Holding the b, to fix it back, ,, 127
What?—that the b were leafless? Lucretius 206 in the b beside me chirrupt the nightingale. Grandmother 40
Or underneath the barren b In Mem. xci 3
He dragg'd his eyebrow b'es down, Merlin and V. 807 Above the b'es, gilden-peakt: Pelleas and E. 429 lest an arrow from the b Should leave me Last Tournament 535 With falling brook or blossom'd b— Lover's Tale i 405 sprang without leaf or a thorn from the b; V. of Maeldune 44 sick For shadow—not one b was near— Tiresias 36 from the b we both had set— Happy 102 low b'es dip their twigs in foam, Prog. of Spring 51
Bush-bearded huge b-b Barons heaved and blew, Princess v 21
Bush'd So b about it is with gloom, Balin and Balan 95 Business her b often call'd her from it, Enoch Arden 264
Two in the tangled b of the world, Princess ii 174
Buss B me, thou rough sketch of man, Vision of Sin 189
Buss'd nor b the milking-maid, Princess v 222
Bust show'd the house, Greek, set with b's: ,, Pro. 11
There stood a b of Pallas for a sign, ,, i 222
Busted See Full-busted
Busying B themselves about the flowerage Aylmer's Field 203
Butcher'd or b for all that we knew— Def. of Lucknow 91
Butler Here sits the B with a flask Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 25
The b drank, the steward scrawl'd, ,, Revival 10
Butt (cask) woman like a b, and harsh as crabs. Walk. to the Mail 49 drew, from b's of water on the slope, Princess, Pro. 60 straddling on the b's While the wine Guinevere 268
Butt (target) Look to your b's, and take good aims! Riflemen form! 16
Butt (verb) Beholding how ye b against my wish, Geraint and E. 677
b each other here, like brainless bulls, Balin and Balan 578 cow shall b the 'Lion passant' Locksley H., Sixty 248 Butted b his rough brother-brute For lust Lucretius 197
b each other with clashing of bells, V. of Maeldune 108 bruised and b with the shuddering War-thunder Tiresias 99
Butter B an' heggs—yis—yis. Village Wife 2
B I warrants be prime, ,, 3
But I sarved 'em wi' b an' heggs ,, 114
An' I niver puts saäme i' my b, ,, 119
Butter-bump (bittern) Moäst loike a b-b, for I 'eärd 'um N. Farmer, O. S. 31 Butterfly Hast thou heard the butterflies Adeline 28 flutter'd round her lip Like a golden b; Talking Oak 220 Buttoned See Close-buttoned
Buy B goods and stores—set Annie forth Enoch Arden 138 b strange shares in some Peruvian mine. Sea Dreams 15 Bought? what is it he cannot b? Maud I x 32
Go to the town and b us flesh Marr. of Geraint 372 scarce a coin to b a meal withal, Columbus 169 Buying sold her wares for less Than what she gave in b Enoch Arden 256
Buzz It b'es fiercely round the point; Merlin and V. 432 vermin voices here May B so loud— Lancelot and E. 139 shake off the bee that b'es at us; ,, 785 Buzzard-clock (Cockchafer) bummin' awaäy loike a b-c N. Farmer, O. S. 18
Buzz'd palace bang'd, and b and clackt, Day-Dm., Revival 14 dances broke and b in knots of talk; Princess i 133
b abroad About the maid of Astolat, Lancelot and E. 722 Buzzing (See also Bummin') And b's of the honied hours. In Mem. lxxxix 52
By-and-by I will show it you b-a-b. Bandit's Death 8
Bygones trim our sails, and let old b be, Princess iv 69
'Let b be!' 'B! First Quarrel 67
'B-g ma' be come-agains; ,, 69
By-lane Till the filthy b-l rings to the yell Maud I i 38
Byre (cow-house) Then thorpe and b arose in fire, The Victim 3
Byway where this b joins The turnpike? Walk. to the Mail 4
Byword fatal b of all years to come, Godiva 67

C

Caäke (cake) Doänt maäke thysen sick wi' the c. Owd Roä 34
Cabin all day long till Enoch's last at home, Shaking their pretty c, Enoch Arden 173
And down in the c were we, The Wreck 89 lay like the dead by the dead on the c floor, ,, 112
Call'd from her c an' tould her to come away Tomorrow 20
Cabin'd Be c up in words and syllables, Lover's Tale i 480
Cabinet And moving toward a cedarn c, Marr. of Geraint 136 Cabin-window I see the c-w bright; In Mem. x 3 Cackle With c and with clatter. The Goose 12 rustic c of your bourg The murmur of the world! Marr. of Geraint 276
The c of the unborn about the grave, Merlin and V. 507
Cackled It clack'd and c louder. The Goose 24 Cadence a hand, a foot Lessening in perfect c, Walk. to the Mail 55 in mimic c answer'd James— Golden Year 53 but when the preacher's c flow'd Aylmer's Field 729
In clanging c jangling peal on peal— Lover's Tale iii 22
Cadmean sprang No dragon warriors from C teeth, Lucretius 50
Cadmus Our C, out of whom thou art, Tiresias 13 for I loathe The seed of C— ,, 117 Thou, one of these, the race of C— ,, 134
Caer-Eryri On C-E's highest found the King, Gareth and L. 500
Caerleon Held court at old C upon Usk. Marr. of Geraint 146
When late I left C, our great Queen, ,, 781
And all that week was old C gay, ,, 837 longer time Than at C the full-tided Usk, Geraint and E. 116 they past With Arthur to C upon Usk. ,, 946
Dost thou remember at C once—A year ago— Balin and Balan 503
By the great tower—C upon Usk— ,, 506
Who never sawest C upon Usk— ,, 570 dealt him at Caerlyle; That at C; this at Camelot: Lancelot and E. 23
And at C had he help'd his lord, ,, 297
A minstrel of C by strong storm Merlin and V. 9

Caerleon (continued) as he sat In hall at old C, the high doors Pelleas and E. 3 to find C and the King, had felt the sun ,, 22 to tilt against the knights There at C, ,, 66 but will ye to C? I Go likewise: ,, 106 when they reach'd C, ere they past to lodging, ,, 125
Then at C for a space—her look Bright ,, 176
Caerlyle this dealt him at C; That at Caerleon; Lancelot and E. 22
Cæsar tame and tutor with mine eye That dull cold-blooded C. D. of F. Women 139 Roman legions here again, And C's eagle: Com. of Arthur 35 for whose love the Roman C first Invaded Britain, Marr. of Geraint 745 Rome of C, Rome of Peter, Locksley H., Sixty 88 fallen every purple C's dome— To Virgil 30
Lightning may shrivel the laurel of C, Parnassus 4
Cage (s) Lay silent in the muffled c of life: Princess vii 47
The linnet born within the c, In Mem. xxvii 3
I have broke their c, no gilded one, Sir J. Oldcastle 3
I took it, he made it a c, The Wreck 83 the narrower The c, the more their fury. Akbar's Dream 51 Cage (verb) Ye c a buxom captive here and there. Merlin and V. 542
Caged See New-caged, Newly-caged
Cageling as the c newly-flown returns, ,, 901
Caiaphas-Arundel These Pharisees, this C-A Sir J. Oldcastle 179
Cain lust of gain, in the spirit of C, Maud I i 23
Daughter of the seed of C, Forlorn 39
And set a crueller mark than C's on him, Happy 18
Cairn And cleaves to c and cromlech still; To the Queen ii 41
Cairn'd And the c mountain was a shadow, Merlin and V. 638
Caitiff (adj.) bandit earls, and c knights, Marr. of Geraint 35
I will tell him all their c talk; Geraint and E. 66
Caitiff (s) hand striking great blows At c's Marr. of Geraint 96
I would track this c to his hold, ,, 415
In shadow, waiting for them, c's all; Geraint and E. 58
The c's!' 'Nay,' said Pelleas, but forbear; Pelleas and E. 280
As let these c's on thee work their will?' ,, 323
Cajole and juggle, and lie and c, Charity 29
Cake (See also Caäke) brought sweet c's to make them cheer, Marr. of Geraint 388
'Have I not earn'd my c in baking of it? Gareth and L. 575
Calaber (Quintus) See Quintus Calaber
Calamity Where'er I came I brought c.' D. of F. Women 96
His heart foreshadowing all c, Enoch Arden 683
Nor all C's hughest waves confound, Will 5
That a c hard to be borne? Maud I xiii 3 Calculated mind Mine; worse, cold, c. Romney's R. 152
Calculation Abhorrent of a c crost, Enoch Arden 473
Calendar'd names Are register'd and c for saints. St. S. Stylites 132
Calf (of the leg) proxy-wedded with a bootless c Princess i 34
Calf (young of the cow) See Cauf
Caliphat I came upon the great Pavilion of the C. Arabian Nights 114
Call (s) And answers to his mother's c's Supp. Confessions 159 Hope at Beauty's c would perch and stand, Caress'd or chidden 3
At length I saw a lady within c, D. of F. Women 85 Whistle back the parrot's c, Locksley Hall 171
She answer'd to my c, Will Water. 106
When they answer to his c, L. of Burleigh 50 a stable wench Came running at the c, Princess i 227
A martial song like a trumpet's c! Maud I v 5
But heard the c, and came: Com. of Arthur 47
Then at his c, 'O daughters of the Dawn, Gareth and L. 923 yet I say the bird That will not hear my c, Lover's Tale iv 160 An' Parson as hesn't the c, nor the mooney, Village Wife 91 av the bird 'ud come to me c, Tomorrow 45
we couldn't ha' 'eärd tha c, Owd Roä 49 in his heart he cried, 'The c of God!' St. Telemachus 27 muttering to himself, 'The c of God' ,, 42
And one clear c for me! Crossing the Bar 2
Call (verb) And thro' wild March the throstle c's, To the Queen 14
Yet, my God, Whom c I Idol? Supp. Confessions 180
Day and night to the billow the fountain c's: Sea-Fairies 9
She saw me fight, she heard me c, Oriana 32
We would c aloud in the dreamy dells, The Merman 25
C to each other and whoop and cry ,, 26

Call (verb) (continued) if any came near I would c, and shriek, The Mermaid 38
O will she answer if I c? Miller's D. 118
You must wake and c me early, c me early, (repeat) May Queen 1, 41
If you do not c me loud when the day begins to break; ,, 10
They c me cruel-hearted, but I care not what they say, ,, 19
If you're waking c me early, c me early, (repeat) May Queen, N. Y's. E. 1, 52 c me before the day is born. ,, 49 in the wild March-morning I heard the angels c; May Queen, Con. 25 in the wild March-morning I heard them c my soul. ,, 28
I am that Rosamond, whom men c fair, D. of F. Women 251 for themselves and those who c them friend? M. d'Arthur 253
Or change a word with her he c's his wife, Dora 44
Father!—if you let me c you so— ,, 140
'They c me what they will,' he said: Golden Year 14
as of old, the curlews c, Locksley Hall 3
Hark, my merry comrades c me, ,, 145
Yet say the neighbours when they c, Amphion 5 guest, Shall c thee from the boxes. Will Water. 240
But when he c's, and thou shalt cease ,, 241
What do they c you?' 'Katie.' The Brook 211 the voice that c's Doom upon kings, Aylmer's Field 741 do not c him, love, Before you prove him, Sea Dreams 170
From childly wont and ancient use I c— Lucretius 209
I—would c them masterpieces: Princess i 145
Brutus of my kind? Him you c great: ,, ii 285
Should I not c her wise, who made me wise? ,, 396
c down from Heaven A blessing on her labours ,, 478
She c's her plagiarist; ,, iii 94
'There sinks the nebulous star we c the Sun, ,, iv 19
And c her Ida, tho' I knew her not, And c her sweet, as if in irony, And c her hard and cold which seem'd a truth: ,, vii 96
the children c, and I Thy shepherd pipe, ,, 217 again the people C it but a weed. The Flower 24 c us Britain's barbarous populaces, Boädicea 7 and c To what I feel is Lord of all, In Mem. lv 18
To clap their cheeks, to c them mine. In Mem. lxxxiv 18
c The spirits from their golden day, ,, xciv 5
To whom a thousand memories c, ,, cxi 10
But trust that those we c the dead ,, cxviii 5 you may c it a little too ripe, Maud I ii 9
Whatever they c him, what care I, ,, x 64
Who shall c me ungentle, unfair, ,, xiii 14
Scarcely, now, would I c him a cheat; ,, 29
That heard me softly c, ,, II iv 76
Merlin's master (so they c him) Bleys, Com. of Arthur 153 those who hate him in their hearts, C him baseborn, ,, 180
And there was none to c to but himself. ,, 202
Than make him knight because men c him king. Gareth and L. 420
Look therefore when he c's for this in hall, ,, 583
Proud in their fantasy c themselves the Day, ,, 633
But that I heard thee c thyself a knave,— ,, 1163
O damsel, be you wise To c him shamed, ,, 1260
And tho' I heard him c you fairest fair, Marr. of Geraint 720 his own ear had heard C herself false: Geraint and E. 114
C for the woman of the house,' ,, 263 bad the host C in what men soever were his friends, ,, 286
Yet fear me not: I c mine own self wild, ,, 311
For, c it lovers' quarrels, yet I know ,, 324
C the host and bid him bring Charger and palfrey.' ,, 400 whom her ladies loved to c Enid the Fair, ,, 962
The people c you prophet: let it be: Merlin and V. 317
she will c That three-days-long presageful gloom ,, 319
I c it,—well, I will not c it vice: ,, 368
Know well that Envy c's you Devil's son, ,, 467
And then did Envy c me Devil's son: ,, 497
Master, shall we c him overquick To crop ,, 724
Could c him (were it not for womanhood) ,, 786
Could c him the main cause of all their crime; ,, 788
For fear our people c you lily maid In earnest, Lancelot and E. 386

Call (verb) (continued) 'Me you c great: mine is the firmer seat, Lancelot and E. 446
'Father, you c me wilful, and the fault Is yours ,, 750
Would c her friend and sister, sweet Elaine, ,, 865
I needs must follow death, who c's for me; C and I follow, I follow! let me die.' ,, 1017
I know not what you c the highest; ,, 1080 and bid c the ghostly man Hither, ,, 1099
To this I c my friends in testimony, ,, 1299
Art thou not he whom men c light-of-love?' Pelleas and E. 361
We c the harp of Arthur up in heaven?' Last Tournament 333 strike against the man they c My sister's son— Guinevere 572 how dare I c him mine? The shadow of another ,, 617
Nor shun to c me sister, dwell with you; ,, 676
But c not thou this traitor of my house Pass. of Arthur 155
Both for themselves and those who c them friend? ,, 421
we came To what our people c 'The Hill of Woe.' Lover's Tale i 374
Why should he c me to-night, Rizpah 3 and you, will you c it a theft?— ,, 52 he used but to c in the dark, ,, 83
he c's to me now from the church ,, 84
Good-night. I am going. He c's. ,, 86
An' Doctor 'e c's o' Sunday North. Cobbler 87
Their favourite—which I c 'The Tables Turned.' Sisters (E. and E.) 3
An' 'e c's fur 'is son, Village Wife 62
'but then if I c to the Lord, In the Child. Hosp. 53 if what we c The spirit flash not all at once Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 4 Without a roof that I can c mine own, Columbus 168 the waters—you hear them c! Despair 47
c on that Infinite Love that has served us ,, 95 set The lamps alight, and c For golden music, Ancient Sage 196
My Edwin loved to c us then The Flight 80
What did they c her, yer Honour? Tomorrow 4
I c's 'em arter the fellers Spinster's S's. 4 while I heard the curlews c, Locksley H., Sixty 3 curse your fellow-victim? c him dotard in your rage ,, 9 used to c the very flowers Sisters, brothers— ,, 101
Dead the new astronomy c's her . . . ,, 175
Britain's myriad voices c, Open. I. and C. Exhib. 35
C your poor to regale with you, On Jub. Q. Victoria 30 you used to c me once The lonely maiden-Princess The Ring 64
I Would c thro' this 'Io t'amo' ,, 234
There! I heard Our cuckoo c. To Mary Boyle 6 Down to the haven, C your companions, Merlin and the G. 125
the palm C to the cypress 'I alone am fair'? Akbar's Dream 38 Teacher who c's to them 'Set yourselves free!' Kapiolani 2
C me not so often back, Silent Voices 3
C me rather, silent voices, ,, 7

Call'd We are c—we must go. All Things will Die 20
Old voices c her from without. Mariana 68
'A merry boy they c him then, Two Voices 322 Far-off the torrent c me from the cleft: Œnone 54
Which men c Aulis in those iron years: D. of F. Women 106
And c him by his name, complaining loud, M. d'Arthur 210
C to me from the years to come, Gardener's D. 180 came a day When Allan c his son, and said, Dora 10 bells were ringing, Allan c His niece and said: ,, 41
c him Crichton, for he seem'd All-perfect, Edwin Morris 21 her business often c her from it, Enoch Arden 264 play'd with him And c him, Father Philip. ,, 354
For Father Philip (as they c him) too: ,, 365
'After the Lord has c me she shall know, ,, 810
He c aloud for Miriam Lane and said ,, 836 and c old Philip out To show the farm: The Brook 120
C to the bar, but ever c away Aylmer's Field 59
C all her vital spirits into each ear To listen: ,, 201 the great Sicilian c Calliope to grace his golden verse— Lucretius 93 enter'd an old hostel, c mine host To council, Princess i 173 Above an entry: riding in, we c; ,, 225
the chapel bells C us: we left the walks; ,, ii 471 Girl after girl was c to trial: ,, iv 228
she c For Psyche's child to cast it from the doors; ,, 237

Call'd (continued) stretch'd her arms and c Across the tumult Princess iv 496 pique at what she c The raillery, or grotesque, ,, 587
C him worthy to be loved, ,, vi 6 prest Their hands, and c them dear deliverers, ,, 92 or c On flying Time from all their silver tongues— ,, vii 104
They c me in the public squares In Mem. lxix 11
They c me fool, they c me child: ,, 13 and Arthur c to stay the brands Com. of Arthur 120 and c A hoary man, his chamberlain, ,, 144
And one—they c her Fame; and one,— Gareth and L. 114 they c To Gareth, 'Lord, the gateway is alive.' ,, 234
Sir Gareth c from where he rose, ,, 645
Of any save of him whom I c— ,, 859
Why came ye not, when c? and wherefore now Come ye, not c? ,, 1247
And c her like that maiden in the tale, Marr. of Geraint 742
c For Enid, and when Yniol made report ,, 755 Or hasty judger would have c her guilt, Geraint and E. 433 whom his shaking vassals c the Bull, ,, 439
And c for flesh and wine to feed his spears. ,, 601
They c him the great Prince and man of men. ,, 961 wherefore Arthur c His treasurer, Balin and Balan 4
The people c him Wizard; Merlin and V. 170
And c herself a gilded summer fly ,, 258
So Vivien c herself, But rather seem'd ,, 261
Who c her what he c her— ,, 864
C her to shelter in the hollow oak, ,, 894
Since, if I be what I am grossly c, ,, 915
And c him dear protector in her fright, ,, 946
she c him lord and liege, Her seer, her bard, ,, 953
Lancelot Would, tho' he c his wound a little hurt Lancelot and E. 852
Approaching thro' the darkness, c; ,, 1000
And c her song 'The Song of Love and Death,' ,, 1005 and c The father, and all three in hurry ,, 1023
I, sometime c the maid of Astolat, ,, 1273 Whom Arthur and his knighthood c The Pure, Holy Grail 3 but some C him a son of Lancelot, ,, 144
And Merlin c it 'The Siege perilous,' ,, 172
Shrilling along the hall to Arthur, c, ,, 289
Across the forest c of Dean, to find Caerleon Pelleas and E. 21
And this was c 'The Tournament of Youth:' ,, 158
She c them, saying, 'There he watches yet, ,, 262
he c, 'I strike upon thy side—The cailiffs!' ,, 279 the poor Pelleas whom she c her fool? ,, 474 rider, who c out from the dark field, ,, 575
And when I c upon thy name as one Last Tournament 73
By these in earnest those in mockery c ,, 135
'Isolt Of the white hands' they c her: ,, 398
Who c him the false son of Gorlois: Guinevere 288
he, the King, C me polluted: ,, 620
His hope he c it; but he never mocks, ,, 632
Arthur woke and c, 'Who spake? A dream. Pass. of Arthur 45
And c him by his name, complaining loud, ,, 378
'let this be c henceforth The Hill of Hope;' Lover's Tale i 461
I wore a brother's mind: she c me brother: ,, 741 he c me his own little wife; First Quarrel 10 he c in the dark to me year after year— Rizpah 47 one of those about her knowing me C me to join them; Sisters (E. and E.) 123
She bore a child, whom reverently we c Edith; ,, 268
An' es for Miss Annie es c me afoor Village Wife 105
Our doctor had c in another, In the Child. Hosp. 1
Softly she c from her cot to the next, 46 how many—thirty-nine—C it revellion— Sir J. Oldcastle 47
I changed the name; San Salvador I c it; Columbus 76 Brooks, for they c you so that knew you best, To W. H. Brookfield 1 standing, shouted, and Pallas far away C; Achilles over the T. 18 our trembling fathers c The God's own son. Tiresias 16 and he c to me 'Kiss me!' and there— The Wreck 104
On me, when boy, there came what then I c, Ancient Sage 217
They c her Molly Magee. Tomorrow 4
C from her cabin an' tould her to come ,, 20

Call'd (continued) Thin a slip of a gossoon c, Tomorrow 78
c me es pretty es ony lass i' the Shere ; Spinster's S's. 13 poet c the Bringer home of all good things. Locksley H., Sixty 185 he c ' Left wheel into line ! ' Heavy Brigade 6
They c her ' Reverence ' here upon earth, Dead Prophet 27
Then I c out Roä, Roä, Roä, Owd Roä 91
I raised her, c her ' Muriel, The Ring 449 and c arose, and, slowly plunging down St. Telemachus 28 c ' Forbear In the great name of Him who died for men, ,, 62
Alla c In old Irân the Sun of Love ? Akbar's Dream 86
An' ya c 'im a clown, ya did, Church-Warden, etc. 30
C on the Power adored by the Christian, Kapiolani 32
Callest C thou that thing a leg ? Vision of Sin 89
Callin' o' use to be c 'im Roä, Roä, Roä, Owd Roä 1
Calling (part) (See also A-callin', Callin') Hark ! death is c While I speak All Things will Die 28
C thyself a little lower ' Than angels. Two Voices 198
To hear the dewy echoes c From cave to cave Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 94
Then c down a blessing on his head Enoch Arden 327
And c, here and there, about the wood. ,, 383
Maud, Maud, They were crying and c. Maud I xii 4
Were crying and c to her, Where is Maud, ,, 26
Some c Arthur born of Gorloïs, Others of Anton ? Com. of Arthur 170
c two That still had tended on him Gareth and L. 178 and c ' Damsel, is this he, The champion ,, 915
And chafing his pale hands, and c to him. Geraint and E. 582
And chafing his faint hands, and c to him ; ,, 585
Moaning and c out of other lands, Merlin and V. 962
But he pursued her, c ' Stay a little ! Lancelot and E. 683 the King Look'd up, c aloud, ' Lo, there ! Holy Grail 219 named us each by name, C ' God speed ! ' ,, 352
And c me the greatest of all knights, ,, 595
Then c her three knights, she charged them, Pelleas and E. 219
C me thy white hind, and saying to me Last Tournament 569 rollers on the cliffs Clash'd, c to each other, Lover's Tale i 58
And voices in the distance c to me ,, ii 118 cuckoo of a joyless June Is c out of doors : Pref. Poem Broth. S. 4 cuckoo of a worse July Is c thro' the dark : ,, 12
Are c to each other thro' a dawn The Ring 37 all Stood round it, hush'd, or c on his name. Death of Œnone 66 very well just now to be c me darling and sweet, Charity 7
Calling (s) There came so loud a c of the sea, Enoch Arden 910
Calliope called C to grace his golden verse— Lucretius 94
Calm (adj.) reign the world's great bridals, chaste and c : Princess vii 294
C is the morn without a sound, C as to suit a calmer grief, In Mem. xi 1
if calm at all, If any calm, a c despair : ,, 16
His eye was c, and suddenly she took Merlin and V. 854
' May her life be as blissfully c, The Wreck 139
The night was c, the morn is c, The Flight 10
Calm (s) The summer c of golden charity, Isabel 8
No tranced summer c is thine, Madeline 2
My shallop through the star-strown c, Arabian Nights 36
I cannot hide that some have striven, Achieving c, Two Voices 209
' There is no joy but c ! ' Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 23 lower down The bay was oily c ; Audley Court 86 star of phosphorescence in the c, ,, 87
Then follow'd c's, and then winds variable, Enoch Arden 545
That mock'd him with returning c, Lucretius 25 fain Would follow, center'd in eternal c. ,, 79 to mar Their sacred everlasting c ! ,, 110
Not all so fine, nor so divine a c, ,, 111
Put on more c and added suppliantly : Princess vi 215
C and deep peace on this high wold, In Mem. xi 5
C and still light on yon great plain ,, 9
C and deep peace in this wide air, ,, 13
if c at all, If any c, a calm despair : ,, 15
C on the seas, and silver sleep, ,, 17
And dead c in that noble breast ,, 19
The touch of change in c or storm ; ,, xvi 6
And c that let the tapers burn Unwavering : ,, xcv 5
And tracts of c from tempest made, In Mem. cxii 14
And moulded in colossal c. ,, Con. 16
Long have I sigh'd for a c : Maud I ii 1

Calm (s) (continued) And presently thereafter follow'd c, Com. of Arthur 391 whom she answer'd with all c. Lancelot and E. 997 sway and whirl Of the storm dropt to windless c, Lover's Tale ii 207 Calming C itself to the long-wish'd-for end, Maud I xviii 5
Calpe From C unto Caucasus they sung, The Poet 15
Calumet celts and c's, Claymore and snowshoe, Princess, Pro. 18
Calumny Sweeter tones than c ? A Dirge 17
Calve See Cauve
Cama throne of Indian C slowly sail'd Palace of Art 115
Cambalu breach'd the belting wall of C, Columbus 108
Came (See also Coom'd, Kem) From the dark fen the oxen's low C to her: Mariana 29
In marvel whence that glory c Upon me, Arabian Nights 94
I c upon the great Pavilion of the Caliphat. ,, 113
It would fall to the ground if you c in. Poet's Mind 23
It would shrink to the earth if you c in. ,, 37
But if any c near I would call, The Mermaid 38
Fancy c and at her pillow sat, Caress'd or chidden 5
A moment c the tenderness of tears, The form, the form 9
C two young lovers lately wed ; L. of Shalott ii 34
The sun c dazzling thro' the leaves, ,, iii 3
Down she c and found a boat Beneath a willow ,, iv 6
Out upon the wharfs they c, ,, 42
There c a sound as of the sea ; Mariana in the S. 86
C out clear plates of sapphire mail. Two Voices 12
' Or if thro' lower lives I c— ,, 364
I spoke, but answer c there none : ,, 425
I c and sat Below the chestnuts, Miller's D. 59
That went and c a thousand times. ,, 72
From off the wold I c, and lay ,, 111
From my swift blood that went and c Fatima 16
Hither c at noon Mournful Œnone, Œnone 15
C up from reedy Simois all alone. ,, 52
Went forth to embrace him coming ere he c. ,, 63 river of speech C down upon my heart. ,, 69
Then to the bower they c, Naked they c ,, 94
They c, they cut away my tallest pines, ,, 208 in the dark morn The panther's roar c muffled, ,, 214
The Abominable, that uninvited c ,, 224
On corpses three-months-old at noon she c, Palace of Art 243 Too proud to care from whence I c. L. C. V. de Vere 12
As I c up the valley whom think ye should I see, May Queen 13 Till Charles's Wain c out above the tall white chimney-tops. May Queen, N. Y's. E. 12 To die before the snowdrop c, May Queen, Con. 4
There c a sweeter token when the night ,, 22 up the valley c a swell of music on the wind. ,, 32
And up the valley c again the music ,, 36
once again it c, and close beside the window-bars, ,, 39
In the afternoon they c unto a land Lotos-Eaters 3 mild-eyed melancholy Lotos-eaters c. ,, 27
Where'er I c I brought calamity.' D. of F. Women 95
Strength c to me that equall'd my desire. ,, 230
You c to us so readily, D. of the O. Year 7 mighty voice C rolling on the wind. Of old sat Freedom 8
(for so we held it then), What c of that ?' The Epic 27
C on the shining levels of the lake. M. d'Arthur 51
And to the barge they c. ,, 205
Then c a bark that, blowing forward, ,, Ep. 21
Artist he than all, C, drew your pencil from you, Gardener's D. 26
C voices of the well-contented doves. ,, 89 some sweet answer, tho' no answer c, ,, 159 little words, More musical than ever c ,, 233 while I mused c Memory with sad eyes, ,, 243 farewells—Of that which c between, ,, 252
Then there c a day When Allan call'd his son, Dora 9 then distresses c on him ; ,, 49
Dora c and said : ' I have obey'd my uncle ,, 58 all thro' me This evil c on William at the first. ,, 61 Far off the farmer c into the field ,, 74 when the morrow c, she rose and took The child ,, 80
c and said : ' Where were you yesterday ? ,, 87
the boy's cry c to her from the field, ,, 104
Remembering the day when first she c, ,, 106

Came (continued) they c in: but when the boy beheld His mother, Dora 137
I never c a-begging for myself, ,, 141 all his love c back a hundred-fold; ,, 166
c again together on the king With heated faces; Audley Court 36
C to the hammer here in March— ,, 60
I went and c; Her voice fled Edwin Morris 66 out they c Trustees and Aunts and Uncles. ,, 120
There c a mystic token from the king ,, 132 those that c To touch my body and be heal'd, St. S. Stylites 78
c To rest beneath thy boughs.—(repeat) Talking Oak 35, 155
c To sport beneath thy boughs. ,, 99
'And with him Albert c on his. ,, 105 here she c, and round me play'd, ,, 133
c Like Death betwixt thy dear embrace Love and Duty 47 cheek and forehead c a colour and a light, Locksley Hall 25 from the valleys underneath C little copses climbing. Amphion 32
C wet-shod alder from the wave, C yews, a dismal coterie; ,, 41
Old elms c breaking from the vine, ,, 45
Cruelly c they back to-day: Edward Gray 18 was the best That ever c from pipe. Will Water. 76
For since I c to live and learn, ,, 81
I think he c like Ganymede, ,, 119
C crowing over Thames. ,, 140 thy betters went Long since, and c no more; ,, 186
In there c old Alice the nurse, Lady Clare 13 great in story, Wheresoe'er he c. The Captain 20 Joyful c his speech: ,, 30
And he c to look upon her, L. of Burleigh 93
We c to warmer waves, and deep Across The Voyage 37
Again to colder climes we c, ,, 89
C in a sun-lit fall of rain. Sir L. and Q. G. 4
Bare-footed c the beggar maid Beggar Maid 3
A youth c riding toward a palace-gate. Vision of Sin 2
And from the palace c a child of sin, ,, 5
C floating on for many a month and year, ,, 54 there c a further change: ,, 207 two years after c a boy to be The rosy idol Enoch Arden 89
c a change, as all things human change. ,, 101 hearing his mischance, C, for he knew the man ,, 121
Then moving homeward c on Annie pale, ,, 149 blessing on his wife and babes Whatever c to him: ,, 189 when the last of those last moments c, ,, 217 when the day, that Enoch mention'd, c, ,, 239 Expectant of that news which never c, ,, 258
'Annie, I c to ask a favour of you.' ,, 285
'I c to speak to you of what he wish'd, ,, 291
This is the favour that I c to ask.' ,, 313
When you c in my sorrow broke me down; ,, 317 Scarce could the woman when he c upon her, ,, 345 and no news of Enoch c. ,, 361
I know not when it first c there, ,, 401
c the children laden with their spoil; ,, 445
Then the new mother c about her heart, ,, 524 breath of heaven c continually And sent her ,, 535 upon the cry of 'breakers' c The crash of ruin, ,, 548 sunny and rainy seasons c and went ,, 623 his lonely doom C suddenly to an end. ,, 627
None of these C from his country, ,, 653 and he c upon the place. ,, 681 and c out upon the waste. ,, 777 a langour c Upon him, gentle sickness, ,, 823
There c so loud a calling of the sea, ,, 910
For here I c, twenty years back— The Brook 77 her father c across With some long-winded tale, ,, 108
'Have you not heard?' said Katie, 'we c back. ,, 221
C from a grizzled cripple, whom I saw Sunning himself Aylmer's Field 8
With half a score of swarthy faces c. ,, 191 like a storm he c, And shook the house, ,, 215
The next day c a neighbour. ,, 251
c Her sicklier iteration. ,, 298
—when this Aylmer c of age— ,, 407
C at the moment Leolin's emissary, ,, 518

Came (continued) But passionately restless c and went, Aylmer's Field 546
And c upon him half-arisen from sleep, ,, 584
And when he c again, his flock believed— ,, 600
Then c a Lord in no wise like to Baäl. ,, 647 when the second Christmas c, escaped His keepers, ,, 838 C, with a month's leave given them, Sea Dreams 6 forth they c and paced the shore, ,, 32 when I c To know him more, I lost it, ,, 71
'It c,' she said, 'by working in the mines:' ,, 114
C men and women in dark clusters round, ,, 226
Yours c but from the breaking of a glass, ,, 248 blood by Sylla shed C driving rainlike Lucretius 48 but satiated at length C to the ruins. Princess, Pro. 91
C murmurs of her beauty from the South, ,, i 36
I spake of why we c, And my betroth'd. ,, 119 and a stable wench C running at the call, ,, 227 when we c where lies the child We lost ,, ii 10
At break of day the College Portress c: ,, 15 c to chivalry: When some respect, however slight, ,, 135
(what other way was left) I c.' ,, 217 arrow-wounded fawn C flying while you sat ,, 271 as you c, to slip away To-day, to-morrow, ,, 296 stood, so rapt, we gazing, c a voice, ,, 318
That Sheba c to ask of Solomon.' ,, 346
if you c Among us, debtors for our lives ,, 354
Will wonder why they c: ,, 432 often c Melissa hitting all we saw with shafts ,, 467
C furrowing all the orient into gold. ,, iii 18 so it was agreed when first they c; ,, 36
Then c these dreadful words out one by one, ,, 57 when your sister c she won the heart Of Ida: ,, 87 Hither c Cyril, and yawning 'O hard task,' ,, 123 demanded who we were, And why we c? ,, 136
He ceasing, c a message from the Head. ,, 168
On a sudden my strange seizure c Upon me, ,, 183
we c to where the river sloped To plunge in cataract, ,, 290
For many weary moons before we c, ,, 319
c On flowery levels underneath the crag, ,, 335 all The rosy heights c out above the lawns. ,, 365
How c you here?' I told him: ,, iv 221 as we c, the crowd dividing clove An advent ,, 283
Then c your new friend: ,, 298
What student c but that you planed her path ,, 315
Then c these wolves: they knew her: ,, 321
I c to tell you: found that you had gone, ,, 342
c a little stir About the doors, ,, 373
C all in haste to hinder wrong, ,, 401
C in long breezes rapt from inmost south ,, 431
A man I c to see you: but, indeed, ,, 441
Yet that I c not all unauthorized ,, 467
While I listen'd, c On a sudden the weird seizure and the doubt: ,, 559
This went by As strangely as it c, ,, 569 touch of all mischance but c As night to him ,, 573 morions, washed with morning, as they c. ,, v 264
He batter'd at the doors; none c: ,, 337
C sallying thro' the gates, and caught his hair, ,, 340
With message and defiance, went and c; ,, 370
Then c a postscript dash'd across the rest. ,, 424
And like a flash the weird affection c: ,, 477
c As comes a pillar of electric cloud, ,, 523
Like summer tempest c her tears— ,, vi 15 after him C Psyche, sorrowing for Aglaïa. ,, 29
'Our enemies have fall'n, have fall'n: they c; (repeat) ,, 38, 43 on they c, Their feet in flowers, her loveliest: ,, 77
At distance follow'd: so they c: ,, 83
When first she c, all flush'd you said ,, 250 these men c to woo Your Highness— ,, 328 but the Prince Her brother c, ,, 345 maidens c, they talk'd, They sang, ,, vii 22 down she c, And found fair peace once more ,, 43 with her oft, Melissa c; for Blanche had gone, ,, 56 on a day When Cyril pleaded, Ida c behind ,, 78 with me oft she sat: Then c a change; ,, 92 a touch C round my wrist, and tears upon my hand ,, 138

Came (continued) when she c From barren deeps to conquer all with love; Princess vii 163 when we ceased There c a minute's pause, ,, Con. 4
C thro' the jaws of Death, Light Brigade 46
Remember how we c at last To Como; The Daisy 69
Up there c a flower, The Flower 3 at last it seem'd that an answer c. The Victim 24
And looking back to whence I c, In Mem. xxiii 7
'I murmur'd, as I c along, ,, xxxvii 21
The path we c by, thorn and flower, ,, xlvi 2 c In whispers of the beauteous world. ,, lxxix 11
This truth c borne with bier and pall, ,, lxxxv 1
But if they c who past away, ,, xc 13 c on that which is, and caught The deep pulsations ,, xcv 39 c at length To find a stronger faith his own; ,, xcvi 16
And out of darkness c the hands ,, cxxiv 23 they went and c, Remade the blood ,, Con. 10
if an enemy's fleet c yonder round the hill, Maud I i 49 when the morning c In a cloud, it faded, ,, vi 20
C out of her pitying womanhood, ,, 64
She c to the village church, ,, viii 1
Last week c one to the county town, ,, x 37
However she c to be so allied. ,, xiii 36 snow-limb'd Eve from whom she c. ,, xviii 28
Let no one ask me how it c to pass; ,, 49
And at last, when each c home, ,, xix 61
He c with the babe-faced lord; ,, II i 13 hard mechanic ghost That never c from on high ,, ii 35
C glimmering thro' the laurels At the quiet evenfall, ,, iv 77
Everything c to be known. ,, v 51 for he c not back From the wilderness, ,, 53 know not whether he c in the Hanover ship, ,, 59 man was less and less, till Arthur c. Com. of Arthur 12 wolf and boar and bear C night and day, ,, 24
But heard the call, and c: ,, 47 when they c before him, the King said, ,, 166
c to Cameliard, With Gawain and young Modred, ,, 243
I know not whether of himself he c, ,, 346
Why, Gawain, when he c With Modred hither Gareth and L. 25 c an ancient man, Long-bearded, ,, 240
They c from out a sacred mountain-cleft ,, 260
Then c a widow crying to the King, ,, 333
C yet another widow crying to him, ,, 350
Then c Sir Kay, the seneschal, and cried, ,, 367
Then c in hall the messenger of Mark, ,, 384 suppliant crying c With noise of ravage ,, 436 out of kitchen c The thralls in throng, ,, 694
Out of the smoke he c, and so my lance Hold, ,, 722
'Well that Ye c, or else these caitiff rogues ,, 819 Wherethro' the serpent river coil'd, they c. ,, 906 three fair girls in gilt and rosy raiment c: ,, 927
Then when he c upon her, spake 'Methought, ,, 991
The savour of thy kitchen c upon me ,, 993 damsel c, And arm'd him in old arms, ,, 1114 unhappiness Of one who c to help thee, ,, 1238
Why c ye not, when call'd? ,, 1247 a page Who c and went, and still reported ,, 1338
anon C lights and lights, and once again he blew; ,, 1371
Remembering when first he c on her Marr. of Geraint 140
Before him c a forester of Dean, ,, 148
C quickly flashing thro' the shallow ford ,, 167
And thither c Geraint, and underneath ,, 241
C forward with the helmet yet in hand ,, 285
c again with one, A youth, ,, 385 thither c the twain, and when Geraint Beheld her ,, 539 and errant knights And ladies c, ,, 546
There c a clapping as of phantom hands. ,, 566 and c to loathe His crime of traitor, ,, 593
c A stately queen whose name was Guinevere, ,, 666 therewithal one c and seized on her, ,, 673
C one with this and laid it in my hand, ,, 699
I c among you here so suddenly, ,, 794
Remembering how first he c on her, ,, 842 from the place There c a fair-hair'd youth, Geraint and E. 201 when the fair-hair'd youth c by him, said, ,, 205

Came (continued) c upon him, and he sigh'd; Geraint and E. 249
Crost and c near, lifted adoring eyes, ,, 304
I thought, but that your father c between, ,, 314
Suddenly c, and at his side all pale Dismounting, ,, 510
She rested, and her desolation c Upon her, ,, 518
C riding with a hundred lances up; ,, 539 ere he c, like one that hails a ship, ,, 540 out of her there c a power upon him; ,, 613
Neigh'd with all gladness as they c, ,, 755
C purer pleasure unto mortal kind ,, 765 o'er her meek eyes c a happy mist ,, 769
And you c—But once you c,— ,, 845 thither c The King's own leech to look ,, 922
For whatsoever knight against us c Balin and Balan 35 and c To learn black magic, and to hate his kind ,, 126 the great Queen C with slow steps, ,, 245 under open blue C on the hoarhead woodman at a bough ,, 294 scream of that Wood-devil I c to quell!' ,, 548 a wanton damsel c, And sought for Garlon ,, 609 no quest c, but all was joust and play, Merlin and V. 145 turn'd to tyrants when they c to power) ,, 518
They said a light c from her when she moved: ,, 567 and his book c down to me.' ,, 650
C to her old perch back, and settled there. ,, 903
Her eyes and neck glittering went and c; ,, 960
How c the lily maid by that good shield Of Lancelot, Lancelot and E. 28
Arthur c, and labouring up the pass, ,, 47
Then c an old, dumb, myriad-wrinkled man, ,, 170 across him c a cloud Of melancholy severe, ,, 324 Past inward, as she c from out the tower. ,, 346
Then c on him a sort of sacred fear, ,, 354
Then c the hermit out and bare him in, ,, 519
C round their great Pendragon, saying ,, 528 since the knight C not to us, ,, 544
c at last, tho' late, to Astolat: ,, 618
c The Lord of Astolat out, ,, 626
One old dame C suddenly on the Queen ,, 730
C on her brother with a happy face ,, 791
She c before Sir Lancelot, for she thought ,, 908 Then c her father, saying in low tones, ,, 994
c her brethren saying, 'Peace to thee, ,, 996 the King C girt with knights: ,, 1261
c the fine Gawain and wonder'd at her, And Lancelot later c and mused at her, ,, 1267
To answer that which c: Holy Grail 12
I know That Joseph c of old to Glastonbury, ,, 60
And when she c to speak, behold her eyes ,, 102 touch with hand, Was like that music as it c; ,, 115
'Then c a year of miracle: ,, 166
'Then on a summer night it c to pass, ,, 179
Had Camelot seen the like, since Arthur c; ,, 332 to the Gate of the three Queens we c, ,, 358
C like a driving gloom across my mind. ,, 370
And on the splendour c, flashing me blind; ,, 413
Open'd his arms to embrace me as he c, ,, 417
I saw not whence it c. ,, 515
return'd To whence I c, the gate of Arthur's wars.' ,, 539
C ye on none but phantoms in your quest, ,, 562
And now I c upon her once again, ,, 585
c a night Still as the day was loud; ,, 682
My madness c upon me as of old, ,, 787
I c All in my folly to the naked shore, ,, 792
But if indeed there c a sign from heaven, ,, 873 out of those to whom the vision c ,, 895 and the sunshine c along with him. Pelleas and E. 6
And as he c away, The men who met him ,, 141 strange knights From the four winds c in: ,, 148 out they c, But Pelleas overthrew them ,, 220
Then when he c before Ettarre, ,, 237 from a tiny cave C lightening downward, ,, 426
c the village girls And linger'd talking, ,, 508
Then a long silence c upon the hall, ,, 609
C Tristram, saying, 'Why skip ye so, Last Tournament 9

Came (continued) they c Not from the skeleton of a brother-slayer, Last Tournament 46
Fool, I c late, the heathen wars were o'er, ,, 269
Who knew thee swine enow before I c, ,, 304
That night c Arthur home, ,, 755
In the dead night, grim faces c and went Before her, Guinevere 70 when she c to Almesbury she spake ,, 138 a rumour wildly blown about C, ,, 154 remembering Her thought when first she c, ,, 182 when at last he c to Camelot, ,, 260 there was no man knew from whence he c; ,, 289
There c a day as still as heaven, ,, 292
Lancelot c, Reputed the best knight ,, 381
C to that point where first she saw the King ,, 403 then c silence, then a voice, ,, 419
Then c thy shameful sin with Lancelot; ,, 487
Then c the sin of Tristram and Isolt; ,, 488
Until it c a kingdom's curse with thee— ,, 550
There c on Arthur sleeping, Gawain Pass. of Arthur 30 c A bitter wind, clear from the North, ,, 123
C on the shining levels of the lake. ,, 219
So to the barge they c. ,, 373
therewithal c on him the weird rhyme, ,, 444
Then from the dawn it seem'd there c, ,, 457
There c a glorious morning, such a one Lover's Tale i 299 first we c from out the pines at noon, ,, 310 sounds of joy That c on the sea-wind. ,, 326
Last we c To what our people call ,, 373 yet to both there c The joy of life ,, 385 Hither we c, And sitting down upon the golden moss, ,, 539 then c in The white light of the weary moon ,, 639
Had I not learnt my loss before he c? ,, 665
Could that be more because he c my way? ,, 666
the wind C wooingly with woodbine smells. ,, ii 36
I c upon The rear of a procession, ,, 74
c a broad And solid beam of isolated light, ,, 172
I c one day and sat among the stones ,, iii 1
Then c on me The hollow tolling of the bell, ,, 9 hand she reach'd to those that c behind, ,, 48 Julian c again Back to his mother's house ,, iv 14 wrapping her all over with the cloak He c in, ,, 87
'Here! and how c I here?' ,, 97
An hour or two, Camilla's travail c Upon her, ,, 127
Suddenly c her notice and we past, ,, 154
So sweetly and so modestly she c To greet us, ,, 170
And crossing her own picture as she c, ,, 286
So she c in:—I am long in telling it, ,, 302 some other question'd if she c From foreign lands, ,, 330 he was a child, an' he c to harm; First Quarrel 23 when Harry c home for good. ,, 30
And Harry c home at last, ,, 35
Harry c in, an' I flung him the letter ,, 57
watch'd him, an' when he c in I felt ,, 75
when he c to bid me goodbye. ,, 78
I c into court to the Judge and the lawyers. Rizpah 33 like a flutter'd bird, c flying from far away: The Revenge 2 sailed away from Flores till the Spaniard c in sight, ,, 23
And the rest they c aboard us, ,, 52
For a dozen times they c with their pikes ,, 53 and the stars c out far over the summer sea, ,, 56 their high-built galleons c, Ship after ship, ,, 58
I c on lake Llanberris in the dark, Sisters (E. and E.) 95
Then c the day when I, Flattering myself ,, 139
And the doctor c at his hour, In the Child. Hosp. 68
Why there? they c to hear their preacher. Sir J. Oldcastle 42
And c upon the Mountain of the World, Columbus 26
I have accomplish'd what I c to do. ,, 65
Then c two voices from the Sepulchre, ,, 95 what was mine, c happily to the shore. ,, 141
And we c to the isle in the ocean, V. of Maeldune 9
And we c to the Silent Isle ,, 11
And we c to the Isle of Shouting, ,, 27
And we c to the Isle of Flowers: ,, 37
And we c to the Isle of Fruits: ,, 55
And we c to the Isle of Fire: ,, 71

Came (continued) And we c to the Bounteous Isle, V. of Maeldune 83
And we c in an evil time to the Isle ,, 105
And we c to the Isle of a Saint ,, 115
And we c to the Isle we were blown from, ,, 127
c back That wholesome heat the blood To E. Fitzgerald 23 dreadful light C from her golden hair, Tiresias 44
But I c on him once at a ball, The Wreck 47 wail c borne in the shriek of a growing wind, ,, 87 then c the crash of the mast. ,, 92 an answer c Not from the nurse— ,, 143
O Mother, she c to me there. ,, 148
That you c unwish'd for, uncall'd, Despair 5 there c thro' the roar of the breaker a whisper, ,, 13 Hoped for a dawn and it c, ,, 27 foam in the dusk c playing about our feet. ,, 50
From out his ancient city c a Seer Ancient Sage 2
The Nameless never c Among us, ,, 54 oft On me, when boy, there c what then I call'd, ,, 217
And yet no comfort c to me, The Flight 18
You c, and look'd and loved the view Pro. to Gen. Hamley 5
C that 'Ave atque Vale' of the Poet's hopeless woe, Frater Ave, etc. 5 from all the world the voices c Demeter and P. 66
c On three gray heads beneath a gleaming rift. ,, 82 Given on the morning when you c of age The Ring 77 then a woman c And caught me from my nurse. ,, 117
She c to you, not me. ,, 138
Vext, that you thought my Mother c to me? ,, 140 one silent voice C on the wind, ,, 154
And she that c to part them all too late, ,, 216
one day c And saw you, shook her head, ,, 312
I c, I went, was happier day by day; ,, 348
She always c to meet me carrying you, ,, 352
She c no more to meet me, carrying you, ,, 385
A beauty c upon your face, Happy 51
c, my friend, To prize your various book, To Ulysses 46
You c not, friend; To Mary Boyle 17
There no one c, the turf was fresh, Prog. of Spring 72 so to the land's Last limit I c— Merlin and the G. 110
c of your own will To wait on one so broken, Romney's R. 16 shouted, and the shepherds heard and c. Death of Œnone 56 shape with wings C sweeping by him, St. Telemachus 25 Love and Justice c and dwelt therein; (repeat) Akbar's Dream 181, 194 that I c on none of his band; Bandit's Death 40 would it matter so much if I c on the street? Charity 8
—a widow c to my door: ,, 26 birthday c of a boy born happily dead. ,, 34
Camel c's knelt Unbidden, and the brutes Merlin and V. 575
And like the all-enduring c, driven Lover's Tale i 136
Cameliard LEODOGRAN, the King of C, Com. of Arthur 1
And thus the land of C was waste, ,, 20 came to C, With Gawain and young Modred, ,, 243 Camelot road runs by To many-tower'd C; L. of Shalott i 5 island in the river Flowing down to C. ,, 14 shallop flitteth silken-sail'd Skimming down to C: ,, 23 river winding clearly, Down to tower'd C: ,, 32
A curse is on her if she stay To look down to C. ,, ii 5
she sees the highway near Winding down to C: ,, 14 long-hair'd page in crimson clad, Goes by to tower'd C; ,, 23 with plumes and lights And music, went to C: ,, 32
As he rode down to C: (repeat) L. of Shalott iii 14, 23, 32
She look'd down to C. L. of Shalott iii 41 Heavily the low sky raining Over tower'd C; ,, iv 5
With a glassy countenance Did she look to C. ,, 14
Thro' the noises of the night She floated down to C: ,, 23 her eyes were darken'd wholly, Turn'd to tower'd C. ,, 32 Silent into C. ,, 41 they cross'd themselves for fear, All the knights at C: ,, 50
Walking about the gardens and the halls Of C, M. d'Arthur 21
Shot thro' the lists at C, ,, 224 plain That broaden'd toward the base of C, Gareth and L. 188 then enter'd with his twain C, ,, 303 king, Was ev'n upon his way to C; ,, 392 helping back the dislocated Kay To C, ,, 1214

Camelot (continued) That eat in Arthur's hall at C. Marr. of Geraint 432
Adown the crystal dykes at C Geraint and E. 470 strange knights Who sit near C at a fountain-side, Balin and Balan 11
'Too high this mount of C for me: ,, 226
Remembering that dark bower at C, ,, 526
But Vivien, into C stealing, lodged Merlin and V. 63
In Arthur's arras hall at C: ,, 250 this dealt him at Caerlyle; That at Caerleon; this at C: Lancelot and E. 23 let proclaim a joust At C, ,, 77 Shall I appear, O Queen, at C, ,, 142 go to joust as one unknown At C for the diamond, ,, 191
To ride to C with this noble knight: ,, 220 knew there lived a knight Not far from C, ,, 402 when they reach'd the lists By C in the meadow, ,, 429
'What news from C, lord? ,, 620
To C, and before the city-gates Came on her brother ,, 790
His own far blood, which dwelt at C; ,, 803 helmet in an abbey far away From C, Holy Grail 7 o'er the plain that then began To darken under C: ,, 218
For all the sacred mount of C, ,, 227 never yet Had C seen the like, since Arthur came; ,, 332
O brother had you known our C, ,, 339
Lancelot slowly rode his warhorse back To C, Pelleas and E. 584 mock-knight of Arthur's Table Round, At C, Last Tournament 3 trumpet-blowings ran on all the ways From C, ,, 53
At C, ere the coming of the Queen.' Guinevere 223
And when at last he came to C, ,, 260
And in thy bowers of C or of Usk ,, 503
Walking about the gardens and the halls Of C, Pass. of Arthur 189
Shot thro' the lists at C, ,, 392
Clouds and darkness Closed upon C; Merlin and the G. 76
Camest Come not as thou c of late, Ode to Memory 8
Whilome thou c with the morning mist, (repeat) ,, 12, 21 friend, who c to thy goal So early, In Mem. cxiv 23 but thee, When first thou c— Holy Grail 22 can no more, thou c, O my child, Demeter and P. 4 Camilla thou and I, C, thou and I Were borne Lover's Tale i 53 bore C close beneath her beating heart, ,, 203
What marvel my C told me all? (repeat) ,, 557, 579
C, my C, who was mine No longer in the dearest sense ,, 586
And as for me, C, as for me,— ,, 764
Sometimes I thought C was no more, ,, ii 69
An hour or two, C's travail came Upon her, ,, iv 127
To bring C down before them all. ,, 285
Camp Thro' the courts, the c's, the schools, Vision of Sin 104
And at her head a follower of the c, Princess v 60 a murmur ran Thro' all the c and inward raced ,, 111 Back rode we to my father's c, ,, 331
'See that there be no traitors in your c: ,, 425
King, c and college turn'd to hollow shows; ,, 478
'Follow me, Prince, to the c, Geraint and E. 808 when they reach'd the c the King himself ,, 878 Campanili What slender c grew By bays, The Daisy 13
Campion See Rose-campion
Cámulodúne near the colony C, Boädicea 5
Lo their colony half-defended! lo their colony, C! ,, 17 lo the colony C, (repeat) ,, 31, 53 city, and citadel, London, Verulam, C. ,, 86
Can 'Tis but a steward of the c, Will Water. 149 truth, that flies the flowing c, ,, 171
'Fill the cup, and fill the c: (repeat) Vision of Sin 95, 119, 203
'Fill the c, and fill the cup: (repeat) ,, 131, 167
Cana like him of C in Holy Writ, Holy Grail 762
Canada loyal pines of C murmur thee, W. to Marie Alex. 19
To C whom we love and prize, Hands all Round 19
Canadian C, Indian, Australasian, African, On Jub. Q. Victoria 60 Canal The boat-head down a broad c Arabian Nights 25
the clear c Is rounded to as clear a lake. ,, 45 Cancel Hours That c weal with woe, Ancient Sage 96
Cancell'd Is c in the world of sense?' Two Voices 42
Powers, who wait On noble deeds, c a sense misused; Godiva 72
And c nature's best: In Mem. lxxii 20
At length my trance Was c, ,, xcv 44
Cancer Cured lameness, palsies, c's. St. S. Stylites 82
Candle an' just as c's was lit, North. Cobbler 87
Candle-light and with solemn rites by c-l— Princess v 292
Cane court-Galen poised his gilt-head c, ,, i 19 home in the c's by the purple tide, The Wreck 71
Your c, your palm, tree-fern, bamboo, To Ulysses 36 in the sultry plains About a land of c's; Prog. of Spring 78
Canker (s) As but the c of the brain; In Mem. xcii 3
Canker (verb) No lapse of moons can c Love, ,, xxvi 3
Canker'd See Worm-canker'd
Canning Or stow'd, when classic C died, Will Water. 101
Thou third great C, stand among our best Epit. on Stratford 1
Cannon with knobs and wires and vials fired A c; Princess, Pro. 66
the volleying c thunder his loss; Ode on Well. 62
Roll of c and clash of arms, ,, 116
Your c's moulder on the seaward wall; ,, 173
C to right of them, C to left (repeat) Light Brigade 18, 39
C in front of them Volley'd and thunder'd; ,, 20
C behind them Volley'd and thunder'd; ,, 41 cobweb woven across the c's throat Shall shake Maud III vi 27
Cannonade In the crash of the c's The Revenge 78
Hark c, fusillade! is it true what was told Def. of Lucknow 95
Cannon-ball and death from their c-b's, ,, 14 musket-bullets, and thousand of c-b's— ,, 93
Cannon-bullet Nor the c-b rust on a slothful shore, Maud III vi 26
Cannon-shot C's, musket-shot, volley on volley, Def. of Lucknow 34 Fell like a c, Burst like a thunderbolt, Heavy Brigade 26
Canon Archbishop, Bishop, Priors, C's, Sir J. Oldcastle 160
Canonized See Half-canonized
Canopus and lit Lamps which out-burn'd C. D. of F. Women 146
Canopy in the costly c o'er him set, Lancelot and E. 443 Canter 'ear my 'erse's legs, as they c's awaäy. N. Farmer, N. S. 1 proputty, proputty—c an' c awaäy? ,, 60 Canterbury-bell Roses and lilies and C-b's.' City Child 5
Canvas In the north, her c flowing, The Captain 27
By glimmering lanes and walls of c Princess v 6 such a breeze Compell'd thy c, In Mem. xvii 2 Launch your vessel, And crowd your c, Merlin and the G. 127
Could make pure light live on the c? Romney's R. 10
Canvass Doubtless our narrow world must c it: Aylmer's Field 774
And so last night she fell to c you: Princess iii 40
Canvass'd He c human mysteries, A Character 20
Canzonet A rogue of c's and serenades. Princess iv 135
Cap (s) Nor wreathe thy c with doleful crape, My life is full 14
Her c blew off, her gown blew up, The Goose 51
I do not hear the bells upon my c, Edwin Morris 56
we know the hue Of that c upon her brows. Vision of Sin 142 knightlike in his c instead of casque, Princess iv 600 man's own angry pride Is c and bells for a fool. Maud I vi 62 Mounted in arms, threw up their c's Gareth and L. 697 put on the black c except for the worst Rizpah 65 staghorn-moss, and this you twined About her c. Romney's R. 80 Cap (verb) 'That c's owt, says Sally, North. Cobbler 71
And c our age with snow?' Ancient Sage 98
Capability love for him have drain'd My capabilities of love; In Mem. lxxxv 12 Capable neither c of lies, Nor asking overmuch Enoch Arden 251
Cape (headland) tower, and hill, and c, and isle, Mine be the strength 6
So they past by c's and islands, The Captain 21
We past long lines of Northern c's The Voyage 35
By grassy c's with fuller sound Sir L. and Q. G. 14 lake and lawn, and isles and c's— Vision of Sin 11
Then after a long tumble about the C Enoch Arden 532 fold to fold, of mountain or of c; Princess vii 3
On c's of Afric as on cliffs of Kent, W. to Marie Alex. 17
Or olive-hoary c in ocean; The Daisy 31 would not pass beyond the c That has the poplar on it: Lancelot and E. 1039 round from the cliffs and the c's, V. of Maeldune 55 stood on each of the loftiest c's ,, 100 set me climbing icy c's And glaciers, To E. Fitzgerald 25
From isle and c and continent, Open. I. and C. Exhib. 4
Cape (a covering) with ermine c's And woolly breasts In Mem. xcv. 11
Caper Making a roan horse c and curvet Lancelot and E. 792 Capital North to gain Her c city, The Ring 482

Capitol the pillar'd Parthenon, The glittering C; Freedom 4
Caprera which here The warrior of C set, To Ulysses 26
Captain melting the mighty hearts Of c's and of kings. D. of F. Women 176
The c of my dreams Ruled in the eastern sky. ,, 263 Brave the C was: The Captain 5 harsh and cruel Seem'd the C's mood. ,, 14
Then the C's colour heighten'd, ,, 29 beneath the water Crew and C lie; ,, 68
Now mate is blind, and c lame, The Voyage 91
He got it; for their c after fight, Aylmer's Field 226
Without the c's knowledge: ,, 717
Communing with his c's of the war. Princess i 67 young c's flash'd their glittering teeth, ,, v 20 to meet us lightly pranced Three c's out; ,, 255 every c waits Hungry for honour, ,, 313 Foremost c of his time, Ode on Well. 31 those deep voices our dead c taught The tyrant, ,, 69
To a lord, a c, a padded shape, Maud I x 29
the crew were gentle, the c kind; The Wreck 129 band will be scatter'd now their gallant c is dead, Bandit's Death 41 Captain's-ear His c-e has heard them boom Ode on Well. 65
Captive 'sdeath! and he himself Your c, Princess v 277
The c void of noble rage, In Mem xxvii 2
Ye cage a buxom c here and there. Merlin and V. 542 seized upon my papers, loosed My c's, Columbus 131 void of joy, Lest she be taken c— Tiresias 102 flay C's whom they caught in battle— Locksley H., Sixty 80 Car reverent people behold The towering c, Ode on Well. 55 Fixt by their c's, waited the golden dawn. Spec. of Iliad 22 thro' which the c Of dark Aïdoneus rising Demeter and P. 38
Caracole round the gallery made his horse C; Last Tournament 206
Carádos (King) C, Urien, Cradlemont of Wales, Com. of Arthur 112
Caravel frailer c, With what was mine, Columbus 140
Carbonek the enchanted towers of C, Holy Grail 813 Carcanet Make a c of rays, Adeline 59 a c Of ruby swaying to and fro, Last Tournament 6 c Vext her with plaintive memories of the child: ,, 28
Because the twain had spoil'd her c. ,, 419
Tristram show'd And swung the ruby c. ,, 740
Carcase make the c a skeleton, Boädicea 14
Many a c they left to be carrion, Batt. of Brunanburh 105
Card Insipid as the Queen upon a c; Aylmer's Field 28 Care (s) and the c That yokes with empire, To the Queen 9
He hath no c of life or death; Supp. Confessions 48 sure it is a special c Of God, ,, 63
Thee nor carketh c nor slander; A Dirge 8
And little other c hath she, L. of Shalott ii 8 Grows green and broad, and takes no c, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 28 a low voice, full of c, Murmur'd D. of F. Women 249 took with c, and kneeling on one knee, M. d'Arthur 173
Come, C and Pleasure, Hope and Pain, Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 55
Thy c is, under polish'd tins, Will Water. 227 Cast all your c's on God: Enoch Arden 222 mother cared for it With all a mother's c: ,, 263 no kin, no c, No burthen, save my c for you ,, 418
The common c whom no one cared for, Aylmer's Field 688 Seam'd with the shallow c's of fifty years: ,, 814 takes a lady's finger with all c, Princess, Pro. 173 each by other drest with c Descended ,, iii 19
She had the c of Lady Ida's youth, ,, 85 either she will die from want of c, ,, v 85 out of long frustration of her c, ,, vii 101 mental breadth, nor fail in childward c, ,, 283 Come, when no graver c's employ, To F. D. Maurice 1
Which once she foster'd up with c; In Mem. viii 16
Is this the end of all my c?' ,, xii 14
If any c for what is here Survive ,, xxxviii 9
Her c is not to part and prove; ,, xlviii 5
And falling with my weight of c's ,, lv 14
O sound to rout the brood of c's, ,, lxxxix 17
A song that slights the coming c, ,, xcix 10
Let c's that petty shadows cast, ,, cv 13
Ring out the want, the c, the sin, ,, cvi 17
And if the song were full of c, ,, cxxv 9

Care (s) (continued) Shall I not take c of all that I think, Maud I xv 7
Forgetful of his princedom and its c's. Marr. of Geraint 54
he thought, 'In spite of all my c, ,, 115 Told him that her fine c had saved his life. Lancelot and E. 863 so forgot herself A moment, and her c's: Last Tournament 26 took with c, and kneeling on one knee, Pass. of Arthur 341 offices Of watchful c and trembling tenderness. Lover's Tale i 226
But there from fever and my c of him ,, iv 143
the Lord has look'd into my c, Rizpah 75 lad will need little more of your c.' In the Child. Hosp. 17 days' of fever, and want of c! The Wreck 147 Muriel nursed you with a mother's c; The Ring 349 made you leper in His loving c for both, Happy 91
With politic c, with utter gentleness, Akbar's Dream 128 Care (verb) You c not for another's pains, Rosalind 19 random eyes, That c not whom they kill, ,, 38
Nor c's to lisp in love's delicious creeds; Caress'd or chidden 11
She still will take the praise, and c no more. The form, the form 14
Nor c to sit beside her where she sits— Wan Sculptor 10
I c not what the sects may brawl. Palace of Art 210 Too proud to c from whence I came. L. C. V. de Vere 12 but I c not what they say, May Queen 19
I c not if I go to-day. ,, Con. 43
But if you c indeed to listen, hear Golden Year 20
Like wealthy men who c not how they give. Tithonus 17 be happy! wherefore should I c? Locksley Hall 97
To choose your own you did not c; Day-Dm., L'Envoi 30
And that for which I c to live. ,, 56
I c no longer, being all unblest: Come not, when etc. 8
What c I for any name? Vision of Sin 85
'His head is low, and no man c's for him. Enoch Arden 850
if my children c to see me dead, ,, 888
Would c no more for Leolin's walking Aylmer's Field 124
Slight was his answer 'Well—I c not for it:' ,, 238
I c not for it either;' ,, 248
wherefore need he c Greatly for them, Lucretius 150
'C not thou! Thy duty? What is duty? ,, 280
c not while we hear A trumpet in the distance Princess iv 80 myself, what c I, war or no? ,, v 278
And, right or wrong, I c not: ,, 290 nor c's to walk With Death and Morning ,, vii 203 Him who c's not to be great, Ode on Well. 199 what do I c for Jane, let her speak of you Grandmother 51 shall we c to be pitiful? Boädicea 32
Nor c's to fix itself to form, In Mem. xxxiii 4
I c for nothing, all shall go. ,, lvi 4
I c not in these fading days ,, lxxv 9
Whatever they call him, what c I, Maud I x 64
But now shine on, and what c I, ,, xviii 41
C not thou to reply: ,, II iii 7
C not for shame: thou art not knight but knave.' Gareth and L. 1006
'And c not for the cost; the cost is mine.' Geraint and E. 288
Nor did I c or dare to speak with you, ,, 871
He c's not for me: only here to-day Lancelot and E. 126 nor c's For triumph in our mimic wars, ,, 311
she cried, 'I c not to be wife, ,, 937
I c not howsoever great he be, ,, 1069
And this am I, so that ye c for me Holy Grail 615
C's but to pass into the silent life. ,, 899
And pass and c no more. Pelleas and E. 77 wherefore shouldst thou c to mingle with it, Last Tournament 105 since I c not for thy pearls. ,, 314
C not for her! patient, and prayerful, ,, 607
I the King should greatly c to live; Guinevere 452
Not greatly c to lose; ,, 495
And c not thou for dreams from him, Pass. of Arthur 58
Do you think that I c for my soul if my boy Rizpah 78
I c not for a name—no fault of mine. Sisters (E. and E.) 77
Not es I c's fur to hear ony harm, Village Wife 22
Ah why should we c what they say? In the Child. Hosp. 71 heart of the father will c for his own.' The Wreck 98 Fly—c not. Birds and brides must leave The Ring 89 their music here be mortal need the singer greatly c? Parnassus 18 Cared Which you had hardly c to see. L. C. V. de Vere 32 nor heard of her, nor c to hear. Nor c to hear? Edwin Morris 138

Cared (continued) Nor c for seed or scion! Amphion 12
if he c For her or his dear children, Enoch Arden 163
Yet sicklier, tho' the mother c for it ,, 262
C not to look on any human face, ,, 282 question'd, aught of what he c to know. ,, 654 Held his head high, and c for no man, ,, 848 prov'n or no, What c he? Aylmer's Field 55 Me?—but I c not for it. ,, 244 slowly lost Nor greatly c to lose, her hold on life. ,, 568
The common care whom no one c for, ,, 688
Nor ever c to better his own kind, Sea Dreams 201 c not for the affection of the house; Princess i 26
And some they c not; till a clamour grew ,, iv 486
but she nor c Nor knew it, ,, vi 149
Which little c for fades not yet. In Mem. viii 20
Nor c the serpent at thy side ,, cx 7
Now I thought that she c for me, Maud I xiv 25
Nor c a broken egg-shell for her lord. Geraint and E. 364
Was c as much for as a summer shower: ,, 523 storm Brake on the mountain and I c not for it. Merlin and V. 503 cackle of the unborn about the grave, I c not for it: ,, 508
C not for her, nor anything upon earth.' Holy Grail 612
I c not for the thorns; Pelleas and E. 404 who c Only to use his own, Lover's Tale iv 311
For I c so much for my boy that the Lord Rizpah 75 meller 'e mun be by this, if I c to taäste, North. Cobbler 101
he c not for his own; The Flight 78
Fur I niver c nothink for neither— Spinster's S's. 62
Nor ever c to set you on her knee, The Ring 386
Careful At you, so c of the right, To F. D. Maurice 10
All in quantity, c of my motion, Hendecasyllabics 5
So c of the type she seems, In Mem. lv 7
'So c of the type?' but no. ,, lvi 1
And that which knows, but c for itself, To the Queen ii 57
Carefuller A c in peril, did not breathe Enoch Arden 50
Careless C both of wind and weather, Rosalind 7
To wait for death—mute—c of all ills, If I were loved 10 like Gods together, c of mankind. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 110
And Enoch's comrade, c of himself, Enoch Arden 568
Where c of the household faces near, Aylmer's Field 575 but he that holds The Gods are c, Lucretius 150
O ye Gods, I know you c, ,, 208
Rapt in her song, and c of the snare. Princess i 221
So c of the single life; In Mem. lv 8
Now with slack rein and c of himself, Balin and Balan 309 eats And uses, c of the rest; Merlin and V. 463
Then answer'd Merlin c of her words: ,, 700
Merlin answer'd c of her charge, ,, 754
C of all things else, led on with light Lover's Tale i 77
C of our growing kin, Open I. and C. Exhib. 23
Careless-order'd All round a c-o garden To F. D. Maurice 15
Caress (s) The trance gave way To those c'es, Love and Duty 66
Or for chilling his c'es Maud I xx 12 white hand whose ring'd c Had wander'd Balin and Balan 512 Thy hurt and heart with unguent and c— Last Tournament 595 that no c could win my wife Sisters (E. and E.) 258 at home if I sought for a kindly c, The Wreck 31 Caress (verb) 'Thrice-happy he that may c The ringlet's waving balm— Talking Oak 177 be not wrathful with your maid; C her: Merlin and V. 381 Caress'd C or chidden by the slender hand, Caress'd or chidden 1
Carest c not How roughly men may woo Lucretius 272
Careworn contracting grew C and wan; Enoch Arden 487
Carian Artemisia The C A strong in war, Princess ii 81
Caring not for his own self c but her, Enoch Arden 165
No longer c to embalm In dying songs In Mem., Con. 13
Carketh Thee nor c care nor slander; A Dirge 8
Carnage Leaving his son too Lost in the c, Batt. of Brunanburh 73
Could we dream of wars and c, Locksley H., Sixty 189
Carnation See Rose-carnation
Carnival Love in the sacred halls Held c Princess vii 85
Carol (s) Flow'd forth on a c free and bold; Dying Swan 30
Heard a c, mournful, holy, L. of Shalott iv 28
She, as her c sadder grew, Mariana in the S. 13
Losing her c I stood pensively, D. of F. Women 245 Carol (s) (continued) swan That, fluting a wild c ere her death, M. d'Arthur 267 every bird of Eden burst In c, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 44
The hall with harp and c rang. In Mem. ciii 9 swan That, fluting a wild c ere her death, Pass. of Arthur 435
And lavish c of clear-throated larks Lover's Tale i 283
Carol (verb) merrily, merrily c the gales, Sea-Fairies 23
The balm-cricket c's clear In the green A Dirge 47
if I should c aloud, from aloft All things The Mermaid 52
Or c some old roundelay, Gareth and L. 506
That you should c so madly? The Throstle 8
Caroline Margaret and Mary, there's Kate and C: May Queen 6
Carolleth the grasshopper c clearly; Leonine Eleg. 5
Carolling (See also Down-carolling) and beside The c water set themselves again, Balin and Balan 44 and c as he went A true-love ballad, Lancelot and E. 704 Carouse 'O Soul, make merry and c, Palace of Art 3
Where long and largely we c Will Water. 91
Carp Near that old home, a pool of golden c; Marr. of Geraint 648
Carpenter Cooper he was and c, Enoch Arden 814
Born of a village girl, c's son, Aylmer's Field 668
Carpet c es fresh es a midder o' flowers i' Maäy— Spinster's S's. 45 Carriage as I found when her c past, Maud I ii 3 Carried see me c out from the threshold of the door; May Queen, N. Y's. E. 42
But him she c, him nor lights nor feast Lover's Tale iv 310
Carrier-bird As light as c-b's in air; In Mem. xxv 6 Carrion For whom the c vulture waits To tear his heart You might have won 35
Blacken round the Roman c, Boädicea 14
And deems it c of some woodland thing, Gareth and L. 748 troop of c crows Hung like a cloud Merlin and V. 598
Many a carcase they left to be c, Batt. of Brunanburh 105
Carry the king of them all would c me, The Mermaid 45
Warriors c the warrior's pall, Ode on Well. 6 brutes of mountain back That c kings in castles, Merlin and V. 577
Fur 'e'd fetch an' c like owt, Owd Roä 6
Carrying always came to meet me c you, The Ring 352
She came no more to meet me, c you, ,, 385
Cart See Go-cart
Carve to c out Free space for every human doubt, Two Voices 136 you may c a shrine about my dust, St. S. Stylites 195
My good blade c's the casques of men, Sir Galahad 1 monstrous males that c the living hound, Princess iii 310 c's A portion from the solid present, Merlin and V. 461
Beyond all work of those who c the stone, Tiresias 53
Carved Caucasian mind C out of Nature for itself, Palace of Art 127
A million wrinkles c his skin; ,, 138 for if I c my name Upon the cliffs Audley Court 48 thou, whereon I c her name, (repeat) Talking Oak 33, 97 read the name I c with many vows ,, 154
Wept over her, c in stone; Maud I viii 4
Had c himself a knightly shield of wood, Merlin and V. 473 our Lady's Head, C of one emerald Lancelot and E. 295 her scarlet sleeve, Tho' c and cut, ,, 807 Scribbled or c upon the pitiless stone; Sir J. Oldcastle 5 one c all over with flowers, V. of Maeldune 106
Homer's fame, Tho' c in harder stone— Epilogue 59
Carven (See also Crag-carven) Some blazon'd, some but c, and some blank, Gareth and L. 406
His arms were c only; ,, 412 shield of Lancelot at her feet Be c, Lancelot and E. 1342
And c with strange figures; Holy Grail 169
Carven-work from the c-w behind him crept Lancelot and E. 436
Caryatid great statues, Art And Science, C's, Princess iv 201 Cascinè What drives about the fresh C, The Daisy 43 Case (covering) (See also Wing-case) And warm'd in crystal c's. Amphion 88 fearing rust or soilure fashion'd for it A c of silk, Lancelot and E. 8 entering barr'd her door, Stript off the c, ,, 16 meekly rose the maid, Stript off the c, ,, 979 shield was gone; only the c, Her own poor work, ,, 990
The silken c with braided blazonings, ,, 1149 Case (circumstance) profits it to put An idle c? In Mem. xxxv 18
blabbing The c of his patient— Maud II v 37

Case (circumstance) (continued) it was all but a hopeless c: In the Child. Hosp. 14
And it was but a hopeless c, ,, 16
Casement (See also Chancel-casement) Or at the c seen her stand? L. of Shalott i 25
I arose, and I released The c, Two Voices 404
And all the c darken'd there. Miller's D. 128
And fires your narrow c glass, ,, 243
As one that from a c leans his head, D. of F. Women 246 gardener's lodge, With all its c's bedded, Audley Court 18
Many a night from yonder ivied c, Locksley Hall 7 Flew over roof and c: Will Water. 134 and he clamour'd from a c, 'Run' The Brook 85
The c slowly grows a glimmering square; Princess iv 52
All night has the c jessamine stirr'd Maud I xxii 15 Down from the c over Arthur, smote Flame-colour, Com. of Arthur 274 out of bower and c shyly glanced Eyes Gareth and L. 313 Beat thro' the blindless c of the room, Marr. of Geraint 71 rang Clear thro' the open c of the hall, ,, 328 Push'd thro' an open c down, Balin and Balan 413 royal rose In Arthur's c glimmer'd chastely Merlin and V. 740
Unclasping flung the c back, Lancelot and E. 981 Down in a c sat, A low sea-sunset glorying Last Tournament 507 and in her anguish found The c: Guinevere 587
From that c where the trailer mantles Locksley H., Sixty 257
Close beneath the c crimson with the shield ,, 34
Casement-curtain She drew her c-c by, Mariana 19
Casement-edge That morning, on the c-e Miller's D. 82
Cask when their c's were fill'd they took aboard: Enoch Arden 646
Casket since The key to that weird c, Ancient Sage 254
Casque And loosed the shatter'd c, and chafed his hands, M. d'Arthur 209
My good blade carves the c's of men, Sir Galahad 1 knightlike in his cap instead of c, Princess iv 600
unlaced my c And grovell'd on my body, ,, vi 27
This bare a maiden shield, a c; Gareth and L. 680 jangling, the c Fell, and he started up Geraint and E. 388 dismount and loose their c's Balin and Balan 573 there first she saw the c Of Lancelot on the wall: Lancelot and E. 805 a crown of gold About a c all jewels; Holy Grail 411
I saw The pelican on the c of our Sir Bors ,, 635
I remember now That pelican on the c: ,, 700
That ware their ladies' colours on the c, Last Tournament 184
And loosed the shatter'd c, and chafed his hands, Pass. of Arthur 377
C's were crack'd, and hauberks hack'd The Tourney 7
Cassandra Talk with the wild C, Œnone 263
C, Hebe, Joan, Romney's R. 4
Cassia turning round a c, full in view, Love and Death 4
Cassiopëia had you been Sphered up with C, Princess iv 438
Cássivëlaún (British king) hear it, Spirit of C! Boädicea 20 sweeter then the bride of C, Flur, Marr. of Geraint 744 Cast (mould) take the c Of those dead lineaments Wan Sculptor 1
Not only cunning c's in clay: In Mem. cxx 5
Cast (vomit) Lies the hawk's c, Aylmer's Field 849
Cast (throw) Jephtha vows his child . . . to one c of the dice. The Flight 26
Cast (verb) Low on her knees herself she c, Mariana in the S. 27
'Let me not c in endless shade Two Voices 5
I c me down, nor thought of you, Miller's D. 63
'This was c upon the board, Œnone 79
And c the golden fruit upon the board, ,, 226 those That are c in gentle mould. To J. S. 4 Memory standing near C down her eyes, ,, 54
'And if indeed I c the brand away, M. d'Arthur 88
Dora c her eyes upon the ground, Dora 89 who would c and balance at a desk, Audley Court 44
'Yet, since I first could c a shade, Talking Oak 85
Had c upon its crusty side Will Water. 103 overboard one stormy night He c his body, The Voyage 80
C all your cares on God; Enoch Arden 222
C his strong arms about his drooping wife, ,, 228
'Enoch, poor man, was c away and lost, ,, 713 Repeated muttering 'c away and lost;' ,, 715
she c back upon him A piteous glance, Aylmer's Field 283
But they that c her spirit into flesh, ,, 481
He had c the curtains of their seat aside— ,, 803

Cast (verb) (continued) Shall Babylon be c into the sea; Sea Dreams 28
The mountain there has c his cloudy slough, Lucretius 177 grandsire burnt Because he c no shadow, Princess i 7 entering here, to c and fling The tricks, ,, ii 62 eddied into suns, that wheeling c The planets: ,, 118 Psyche's child to c it from the doors; ,, iv 238 turn'd her face, and c A liquid look on Ida, ,, 368
But a c oop, thot a did, N. Farmer, O. S. 14 in a golden hour I c to earth a seed. The Flower 2
She c her arms about the child. The Victim 32
Or c as rubbish to the void, In Mem. liv 7
And if thou c thine eyes below, ,, lxi 5
Tho' if an eye that's downward c ,, lxii 1
To chances where our lots were c ,, xcii 5
Let cares that petty shadows c, ,, cv 13
I seem to c a careless eye On souls, ,, cxii 7
Uther c upon her eyes of love: Com. of Arthur 193 written in the speech ye speak yourself, 'C me away!" ,, 305 time to c away Is yet far-off.' ,, 307 rend In pieces, and so c it on the hearth. Gareth and L. 401 rend the cloth and c it on the hearth. ,, 418 cloth of roughest web, and c it down, ,, 683 bound my lord to c him in the mere.' ,, 803 rough dog, to whom he c his coat, ,, 1011 but straining ev'n his uttermost C, ,, 1153 saw That Death was c to ground, ,, 1403
Who, moving, c the coverlet aside, Marr. of Geraint 73
At this she c her eyes upon her dress, ,, 609
And c it on the mixen that it die.' ,, 672
she could c aside A splendour dear to women, ,, 807 she c about For that unnoticed failing Geraint and E. 46
c him and the bier in which he lay ,, 572
c his lance aside, And doff'd his helm: ,, 595 this poor gown I will not c aside ,, 705 arise a living man, And bid me c it. ,, 707 and she c her arms About him, ,, 761
c his eyes On each of all whom Uther left ,, 932 Stumbled headlong, and c his face to ground. Balin and Balan 426
And there in gloom c himself all along, ,, 434
Tore from the branch, and c on earth, the shield, ,, 539 on his dying brother c himself Dying; ,, 593
As Love, if Love be perfect, c's out fear, So Hate, if Hate be perfect, c's out fear. Merlin and V. 40
C herself down, knelt to the Queen, ,, 66
Where children c their pins and nails, ,, 430
The gentle wizard c a shielding arm. ,, 908
For if his own knight c him down, Lancelot and E. 313 stay'd; and c his eyes on fair Elaine: ,, 640 Leaf after leaf, and tore, and c them off, ,, 1199
The brand Excalibur will be c away. Holy Grail 257 all but hold, and then—c her aside, ,, 622 binding his good horse To a tree, c himself down; Pelleas and E. 31
c himself down, And gulf'd his griefs ,, 515 but c himself Down on a bench, hard-breathing. ,, 591 a knight c down Before his throne of arbitration Last Tournament 161
Like a dry bone c to some hungry hound? ,, 196
So dame and damsel c the simple white, ,, 232 and c thee back Thine own small saw, ,, 711
And c him as a worm upon the way; Guinevere 35
'And if indeed I c the brand away, Pass. of Arthur 256
Are morning shadows huger than the shapes That c them, To the Queen ii 64
we found The dead man c upon the shore? Lover's Tale i 295
I c them in the noisy brook beneath, ,, ii 41
But c a parting glance at me, ,, iv 4
'He c's me out,' she wept, 'and goes' ,, 103
She shook, and c her eyes down, ,, 329
Yet c her not away so suddenly, ,, 366
'C awaäy on a disolut land wi' a vartical soon!' North. Cobbler 3
And c it to the Moor: Columbus 111
I heard his voice, 'Be not c down. ,, 158
C off, put by, scouted by court and king— ,, 165
C at thy feet one flower that fades To Dante 7
A planet equal to the sun Which c it, To E. Fitzgerald 36

Cast (verb) (continued) To c wise words among the multitude Tiresias 66 when he c a contemptuous glance The Wreck 25
the crew should c me into the deep, ,, 94
But the blind wave c me ashore, Despair 61 curb the beast would c thee in the mire, Ancient Sage 276 Crime and hunger c our maidens Locksley H., Sixty 220
C the poison from your bosom, ,, 241 shadows which that light would c, Epit. on Caxton 3
The roses that you c aside— Happy 22
Which, c in later Grecian mould, To Master of B. 6
And c aside, when old, for newer,— Akbar's Dream 134 vanish'd in the shadow c by Death. D. of the Duke of C. 3 Castalies I led you then to all the C; Princess iv 294
Castanet The starling claps his tiny c's. Prog. of Spring 56
Caste Which stamps the c of Vere de Vere. L. C. V. de Vere 40
I hate the rancour of their c's and creeds, Akbar's Dream 65
Castile The noble and the convict of C, Columbus 117
Castillano Weigh'd nigh four thousand C's ,, 136 Casting (See also Shadow-Casting) by two yards in c bar or stone Was counted best; Gareth and L. 518 unhooded c off The goodly falcon free; Merlin and V. 130 Castle (adj.) She stood upon the c wall, Oriana 28
Atween me and the c wall, ,, 35
The splendour falls on c walls Princess iv 1
Guinevere Stood by the c walls to watch him pass; Com. of Arthur 48
Then from the c gateway by the chasm Descending ,, 370
Then rode Geraint into the c court, Marr of Geraint 312
And while he waited in the c court, ,, 326 met The scorner in the c court, Balin and Balan 387 Moving to meet him in the c court; Lancelot and E. 175
Then bounded forward to the c walls, Pelleas and E. 363
Castle (s) (See also Sea-castle) c, built When men knew how to build, Edwin Morris 6
See the lordly c's stand: L. of Burleigh 18
And built their c's of dissolving sand Enoch Arden 19
The lady of three c's in that land: Princess i 79
Well, Are c's shadows? Three of them? ,, ii 414 Shall those three c's patch my tatter'd coat? ,, 416
dear are those three c's to my wants, ,, 417
To that fair port below the c The Daisy 79
Seeing his gewgaw c shine, Maud I x 18 he that held Tintagil c by the Cornish sea, Com. of Arthur 187 Closed in her c from the sound of arms. Gareth and L. 163 husband's brother had my son Thrall'd in his c, ,, 358
And saddening in her childless c, ,, 528 holds her stay'd In her own c, ,, 616
And on one side a c in decay, Marr. of Geraint 245
And keeps me in this ruinous c here, ,, 462 till the c of a King, the hall Of Pellam, Balin and Balan 331 from the c a cry Sounded across the court, ,, 399 brutes of mountain back That carry kings in c's, Merlin and V. 577 Ran to the C of Astolat, Lancelot and E. 167 and again By c Gurnion, where the glorious King ,, 293
The Princess of that c was the one, Holy Grail 578
A c like a rock upon a rock, ,, 814 when she gain'd her c, upsprang the bridge, Pelleas and E. 206
Catlike thro' his own c steals my Mark, Last Tournament 516
And fly to my strong c overseas: Guinevere 113
Round that strong c where he holds the Queen; ,, 194
Castle-bridge until he stood There on the c-b Pelleas and E. 443
Castle-gate sought for Garlon at the c-g's, Balin and Balan 610 Castle Perilous She lives in C P: Gareth and L. 611 pitch'd Beside the C P on flat field, ,, 1363 Castle-wall her orchard underneath Her c-w's, Holy Grail 594
Castle-well pool or stream, The c-w, belike; Lancelot and E. 215 Casualty Howbeit ourself, foreseeing c, Princess iii 317 Cat (See also Tiger-cat) When c's run home and light is come, The Owl i 1 yelp'd the cur, and yawl'd the c; The Goose 33 like dove and dove were c and dog. Walk. to the Mail 58
Her gay-furr'd c's a painted fantasy, Princess iii 186
the two great c's Close by her, ,, vi 357
Within the hearing of c or mouse, Maud II v 48
I will be deafer than the blue-eyed c, Holy Grail 865

Cat (continued) an' scratted my faäce like a c, North. Cobbler 22 they kep the c an' the dog, Tomorrow 71 a c may looök at a king thou knaws but the c mun be cleän. Spinster's S's. 34 fond o' thy bairns as I be mysen o' my c's, ,, 83 till the Lion look no larger than the C, Till the C thro' that mirage Locksley H., Sixty 112
c wur a-sleeäpin alongside Roäver, Owd Roä 33 to-daäy, when she hurl'd a plaäte at the c Church-warden, etc. 25
Catacomb water falls In vaults and c's, In Mem. lviii 4
Catalepsy paw'd his beard, and mutter'd 'c.' Princess i 20
Catalonian Minorite By him, the C M, Columbus 194
Catapult Your cities into shards with c's, Princess v 138
Hurl'd as a stone from out of a c Gareth and L. 965
Cataract (a fall of water) (See also Sea-cataract)
In c after c to the sea. Œnone 9 snowy peak and snow-white c Foster'd ,, 211 ocean-ridges roaring into c's. Locksley Hall 6 stream of life Dashed downward in a c. Day-Dm., Revival 16 Beyond the darkness and the c, Vision of Sin 49
we came to where the river sloped To plunge in c, Princess iii 291
And the wild c leaps in glory. ,, iv 4 c and the tumult and the kings Were shadows; ,, 564
Set in a c on an island-crag, ,, v 347
C brooks to the ocean run, The Islet 17
The c flashing from the bridge, In Mem. lxxi 15 senseless c, Bearing all down in thy precipitancy— Gareth and L. 7 thro' the crash of the near c hears Geraint and E. 172 the sea Drove like a c, and all the sand Holy Grail 799 and swept in a c off from her sides, The Wreck 90 hollow ridges roaring into c's, Locksley H., Sixty 2
Or c music Of falling torrents, Merlin and the G. 46 Hear my c's Downward thunder To Master of B. 15 in blood-red c's down to the sea! Kapiolani 12
Cataract (a disease of the eye) Almost blind With ever-growing c, Sisters (E. and E.) 192
Catch (s) 'but 'tis eating dry To dance without a c, Last Tournament 250
Catch (verb) Whereof I c the issue, as I hear Dead sounds Œnone 248
C me who can, and make the catcher crown'd— Golden Year 18
C the wild goat by the hair, Locksley Hall 170
C her, goatfoot: nay, Hide, Lucretius 203
To c a dragon in a cherry net, Princess v 169
I would c Her hand in wild delirium, ,, vii 92
c The far-off interest of tears? In Mem. i 7
And c at every mountain head, In Mem. Con. 114
Prickle my skin and c my breath, Maud I xiv 36
C not my breath, O clamorous heart, ,, xvi 31
To c a friend of mine one stormy day; ,, II v 85 for my wont hath ever been To c my thief, Gareth and L. 822
'Overquick art thou To c a loathly plume Merlin and V. 727 cheek did c the colour of her words. Lover's Tale i 569
The hope I c at vanishes and youth The Flight 16
Prophet-eyes may c a glory slowly gaining Making of Man 6
Catcher and make the c crown'd— Golden Year 18
Catching Seem'd c at a rootless thorn, Geraint and E. 378
Cate many a viand left, And many a costly c, Gareth and L. 849
Caterpillar Picks from the colewort a green c, Guinevere 32
Cat-footed C-f thro' the town and half in dread Princess i 104
Cathay Better fifty years of Europe than a cycle of C. Locksley Hall 184 Cathedral sunshine laves The lawn by some c, D. of F. Women 190 gray c towers, Across a hazy glimmer Gardener's D. 218
But huge c fronts of every age, Sea Dreams 218
And in the vast c leave him. Ode on Well. 280
Catherine C, C, in the night, Forlorn 13
Catholic Cross I cling to the C C once more, The Wreck 3
Catholic Faith hope was mine to spread the C f, Columbus 230
Catieuchlanian Hear Icenian, C, hear Coritanian, (repeat) Boädicea 10, 34, 47
Gods have answer'd, C, Trinobant. ,, 22
Shout Icenian, C, shout Coritanian, ,, 57
Catlike C thro' his own castle steals Last Tournament 516
Cato A dwarf-like C cower'd. Princess vii 126
Catspaw Him his c and the Cross his tool, Sea Dreams 190
Cattle strikes thro' the thick blood Of c, Lucretius 99

Cattle (continued) And c died, and deer in wood, The Victim 18
The c huddled on the lea ; In Mem. xv 6 abide Without, among the c of the field. Gareth and L. 274 half of the c went lame, V. of Maeldune 31 drive Innocent c under thatch, Locksley H., Sixty 96 Catullus All composed in a metre of C, Hendecasyllabics 4
Thro' this metrification of C, ,, 10
Sweet C's all-but-island, Frater Ave, etc. 9
C, whose dead songster never dies ; Poets and their B. 8
Caucasian Which the supreme C mind Carved Palace of Art 126
Where our C's let themselves be sold. Aylmer's Field 349
Caucasus From Calpe unto C they sung, The Poet 15
Elburz and all the C have heard ; W. to Marie Alex. 13
Cauf (calf) 'Cushie wur craäzed fur 'er c' Spinster's S's. 115
'thank God that I hevn't naw c o' my oän.' ,, 116
Caught (See also Cotch'd) eddying of her garments c from thee The light Ode to Memory 31
And there a vision c my eye ; Miller's D. 76
C in the frozen palms of Spring. The Blackbird 24
She c the white goose by the leg, The Goose 9
She dropt the goose, and c the pelf, ,, 13 c him by the hilt, and brandish'd him Three times, (repeat) M. d'Arthur 145, 160
the last night's gale had c, Gardener's D. 124
And there he c the younker tickling trout— Walk. to the Mail 33
C in flagrante—what's the Latin word ? ,, 34
Thou wouldst have c me up into thy rest, St. S. Stylites 18
Abaddon and Asmodeus c at me. ,, 172
C up the whole of love and utter'd it, Love and Duty 82
Like truths of Science waiting to be c— Golden Year 17
The page has c her hand in his : Day-Dm., Sleep P. 29
Lady's-head upon the prow C the shrill salt, The Voyage 12
C the sparkles, and in circles, Vision of Sin 30
C each other with wild grimaces, ,, 35 now hastily c His bundle, waved his hand, Enoch Arden 237
C at his hand, and wrung it passionately, ,, 328
C at and ever miss'd it, and they laugh'd ; ,, 752 about the fields you c His weary daylong chirping, The Brook 52 great pock-pitten fellow had been c ? Aylmer's Field 256
C in a burst of unexpected storm, ,, 285
And c the blossom of the flying terms, Princess, Pro. 164 and the flood drew : yet I c her ; ,, iv 182
Right on this we drove and c, ,, 188
And falling on my face was c and known. ,, 270 as if c at once from bed And tumbled ,, 285
On one knee Kneeling, I gave it, which she c, ,, 470
Like tender things that being c feign death, ,, v 108
Were c within the record of her wrongs, ,, 143 Came sallying thro' the gates, and c his hair, ,, 340 not less one glance he c Thro' open doors ,, 342
And reach'd the ship and c the rope, Sailor Boy 3
He c her away with a sudden cry ; The Victim 69
And Fancy light from Fancy c, In Mem. xxiii 14
And c once more the distant shout, ,, lxxxvii 9
c The deep pulsations of the world, ,, xcv 39
C and cuff'd by the gale : Maud I vi 5 and c By that you swore to withstand ? ,, 79
Last year, I c a glimpse of his face, ,, xiii 27
For how often I c her with eyes all wet, ,, xix 23
Who stoopt and c the babe, and cried Com. of Arthur 385
c And stay'd him, 'Climb not lest thou break Gareth and L. 53
The listening rogue hath c the manner of it. ,, 778
C at the hilt, as to abolish him : Marr. of Geraint 210
Yniol c His purple scarf, and held, ,, 376
Edyrn's men had c them in their flight, ,, 642
Her by both hands he c, and sweetly said, ,, 778
he sharply c his lance and shield, Balin and Balan 287
'And passing gentle' c his hand away ,, 371
C in a great old tyrant spider's web, Merlin and V. 259 one of Satan's shepherdesses c And meant to stamp him ,, 758 plunged, and c And set it on his head, Lancelot and E. 54
The heathen c and reft him of his tongue. ,, 273 and him they c and maim'd ; ,, 275 whereat she c her breath ; ,, 623

Caught (continued) Lady of the Lake C from his mother's arms— Lancelot and E. 1405 the holy cup Was c away to Heaven, Holy Grail 58
c his hand, Held it, and there, half-hidden by him, ,, 753
she c the circlet from his lance, Pelleas and E. 173
C his unbroken limbs from the dark field, ,, 585
Then Tristram laughing c the harp, Last Tournament 730 c him by the hilt, and brandish'd him Three times, (repeat) Pass. of Arthur 313, 328 round and round A whirlwind c and bore us ; Lover's Tale ii 197 they turn'd, and c and brought him in ,, iv 376 old Sir Richard c at last, The Revenge 98
And c the laming bullet. Sisters (E. and E.) 65
Had c her hand, her eyelids fell— ,, 148
C in a mill and crush'd— In the Child. Hosp. 14
So, c, I burn, Burn ? heathen men have borne Sir J. Oldcastle 184
I c the wreath that was flung. The Wreck 40 flay Captives whom they c in battle— Locksley H., Sixty 80
And his eloquence c like a flame Dead Prophet 34
And c her chaplet here—and there To Marg. of Dufferin 30 woman came And c me from my nurse. The Ring 118
C by the flower that closes on the fly, ,, 344
Who never c one gleam of the beauty Happy 60 c and held His people by the bridle-rein Akbar's Dream 84
And he c my little one from me : Bandit's Death 22 died of a fever c when a nurse Charity 41 Cause embattail and to wall about thy c To J. M. K. 8 more c to weep have I : My tears, no tears of love, Wan Sculptor 6
Nor in a merely selfish c— Two Voices 147
'In some good c, not in mine own, ,, 148
This woman was the c. D. of F. Women 104 only love were c enough for praise.' Gardener's D. 105 no c ; James had no c : but when I prest the c, The Brook 97 who most have c to sorrow for her— Aylmer's Field 678 such extremes, I told her, well might harm The woman's c. Princess iii 145 Or, falling, protomartyr of our c, Die : ,, iv 505 twice I sought to plead my c, ,, 552 betray'd her c and mine— ,, v 76 and storming in extremes, Stood for her c, ,, 177 why, the c's weigh'd, Fatherly fears— ,, 215 in our noble sister's c ? More, more, for honour : ,, 312
I would not aught of false—Is not our c pure ? ,, 403 you The sole men to be mingled with our c, ,, 411 our side was vanquish'd and my c For ever lost, ,, vi 24 whose arms Champion'd our c and won it ,, 62
The brethren of our blood and c, ,, 71
To dream thy c embraced in mine, ,, 200
She pray'd me not to judge their c from her ,, vii 235 that know The woman's c is man's : ,, 259
With such compelling c to grieve In Mem. xxix 1
Ring out a slowly dying c, ,, cvi 13 can he tell Whether war be a c or a consequence ? Maud I x 45
I cleaved to a c that I felt to be pure Maud III vi 31
We have proved we have hearts in a c, ,, 55 good c is theirs To hate me, Gareth and L. 820
'Sound sleep be thine ! sound c to sleep hast thou. ,, 1282
Am I the c, I the poor c that men Reproach you, Marr. of Geraint 87
I am the c, because I dare not speak ,, 89
'Graver c than yours is mine, To curse ,, 308
you that most had c To fear me, fear no longer, Geraint and E. 824 Yourself were first the blameless c ,, 826
And made her good man jealous with good c. Merlin and V. 605
Some c had kept him sunder'd from his wife : ,, 715
Could call him the main c of all their crime ; ,, 788 now remains But little c for laughter : Lancelot and E. 597 that I gave No c, not willingly, for such a love : ,, 1298 hither had she fled, her c of flight Sir Modred ; Guinevere 9 come my way ! to twit me with the c ! Lover's Tale i 661
So much God's c was fluent in it— Sir J. Oldcastle 17 some less c, some c far less than mine ; ,, 187
For every other c is less than mine. ,, 188
To this great c of Freedom drink, my friends, (repeat) Hands all Round 11, 35
Death for the right c, death for the wrong c, Vastness 8

Causer c of his banishment and shame, Balin and Balan 221 him The c of that scandal, fought and fell ; The Ring 215 Causeway from the c heavily to the swamp Fall, Last Tournament 461
Cauve (calve). Wi' aäf the cows to c N. Farmer, O.S. 52
Cavalier A c from off his saddle-bow, D. of F. Women 46
Cavall (King Arthur's hound) chiefly for the baying of C, Marr. of Geraint 185
Cave (see also Charnel-cave, Temple-cave) And sweet is the colour of cove and c, Sea-Fairies 30
O C's That house the cold crown'd snake ! Œnone 36 within the c Behind yon whispering tuft ,, 87 rock-thwarted under bellowing c's, Palace of Art 71
To hear the dewy echoes calling From c to c Lotos-Eaters, C.S. 95
Thro' every hollow c and alley lone ,, 103
Dry clash'd his harness in the icy c's M. d'Arthur 186
A narrow c ran in beneath the cliff : Enoch Arden 23 a c Of touchwood, met a single flourishing spray. Aylmer's Field 511
All sand and cliff and deep-inrunning c, Sea Dreams 17 Ran in and out the long sea-framing c's, ,, 33 dark c's that run beneath the cliffs. ,, 90 motion of the boundless deep Bore thro' the c, ,, 92
I found Only the landward exit of the c, ,, 96 along the valley, by rock and c and tree, V. of Cauteretz 9
In c's about the dreary bay, Sailor Boy 10 help and shelter to the hermit's c. Gareth and L. 1209
A c, Sir Lancelot, is hard by, ,, 1275 woodman show'd the c From which he sallies, Balin and Balan 131
Look to the c.' ,, 306
As on a dull day in an Ocean c The blind wave Merlin and V. 231
But into some low c to crawl, ,, 884 massive columns, like a shorecliff c, Lancelot and E. 406 shot red fire and shadows thro' the c, ,, 414 across the poplar grove Led to the c's : ,, 805 city to the fields, Thence to the c : ,, 848 rivulet from a tiny c Came lightening downward, Pelleas and E. 425 Dry clash'd his harness in the icy c's Pass. of Arthur 354 the c, Storm, sunset, glows and glories of the moon Lover's Tale ii 109 stately vestibules To c's and shows of Death : ,, 126 Strewn in the entry of the moaning c ; ,, iii 2
Dragon's c Half hid, they tell me, Tiresias 143
When the bat comes out of his c, Despair 89 seem to draw From yon dark c, Ancient Sage 10
I peer'd thro' tomb and c, Demeter and P. 70
ŒNONE sat within the c from out Death of Œnone 1 still in her c, Amazed, and ever seeming stared ,, 69 in his c The man, whose pious hand had built St. Telemachus 8 Reason in the dusky c of Life, Akbar's Dream 121 dragg'd me up there to his c in the mountain, Bandit's Death 11
We return'd to his c—the link was broken— ,, 29 slept Ay, till dawn stole into the c, ,, 31 Cavern shoulder under gloom Of c pillars ; To E. L. 18 a hut, Half hut, half native c, Enoch Arden 560
I long to creep Into some still c deep, Maud II iv 96
And told him of a c hard at hand, Gareth and L. 1189
Scaped thro' a c from a bandit hold, Holy Grail 207
Beneath a low-brow'd c, where the tide Plash'd, Lover's Tale i 55
Is scoop'd a c and a mountain hall, ,, 517
The hollow c's heard me— ,, ii 11
Chiefly I sought the c and the hill ,, 33 old man before A c whence an affluent Ancient Sage 7 Gnome of the c, Griffin and Giant, Merlin and the G. 39
Cavern-chasm mark'd not on his right a c-c Balin and Balan 312
Cavern-mouth c-m, Half overtrailed with a wanton weed, Lover's Tale i 524
All day I sat within the c-m, ,, ii 37
Cavern-shadowing wilderness, And c-s laurels, Lucretius 205
Caw The building rook 'll c May Queen, N. Y's. E. 17 Cease The stream will c to flow ; The wind will c to blow ; The clouds will c to fleet ; The heart will c to beat ; All Things will Die 9 trust and hope till things should c, Supp. Confessions 31
When I shall c to be all alone, Mariana in the S. 95
A wither'd palsy c to shake !' Two Voices 57
C to wail and brawl ! ,, 199
Cease (continued) Not make him sure that he shall c ? Two Voices 282
And the wicked c from troubling, May Queen, Con. 60 fold our wings, And c from wanderings, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 20
In silence ; ripen, fall and c : 52
When midnight bells c ringing suddenly, D. of F. Women 247
'Twere better I should c To J. S. 66 the wise of heart would c To hold his hope Love thou thy land 81 Shall I c here ? Is this enough to say Gardener's D. 236
I will not c to grasp the hope I hold Of saintdom, St. S. Stylites 5
Yet c I not to clamour and to cry, ,, 42
I muse on joy that will not c, Sir Galahad 65 thou shalt c To pace the gritted floor, Will Water. 241
For blasts would rise and rave and c, The Voyage 85
I cannot c to follow you, Princess iv 455
Nor did her father c to press my claim, ,, vii 87
But c to move so near the Heavens, and c ,, 195
That our free press should c to brawl, Third of Feb. 3 hearts that change not, love that cannot c, W. to Marie Alex. 46
the Judge of us all when life shall c ; Grandmother 95
Her quiet dream of life this hour may c. Requiescat 6
They have their day and c to be : In Mem., Pro. 18 jaws Of vacant darkness and to c. ,, xxxiv 16
And those cold crypts where they shall c. ,, lviii 8
That the man I am may c to be ! Maud I x 68 Pass and c to move about ! ,, II iv 59 iron tyranny now should bend or c, ,, III vi 20 c not from your quest until ye find.' Lancelot and E. 548 wherefore c, Sweet father, and bid call ,, 1098
I would that wars should c, Epilogue 11 silver year should c to mourn and sigh— To Mary Boyle 57 Ceased heart of Poland hath not c To quiver, Poland 3
A little c, but recommenced. Two Voices 318
I c, and sat as one forlorn. ,, 400
She c, and Paris held the costly fruit Œnone 135
'Here she c, And Paris ponder'd, ,, 168
But all these things have c to be, May Queen, Con. 48
She c in tears, fallen from hope and trust : D. of F. Women 257
Before he c I turn'd, Gardener's D. 121
He c ; and Miriam Lane Made such a voluble answer Enoch Arden 902
And then the motion of the current c, Sea Dreams 117 cloud That not one moment c to thunder, ,, 125
I c, and all the ladies, each at each, Princess iv 117
Scarce had I c when from a tamarisk near ,, 258
She c : the Princess answer'd coldly, ,, 359
I c ; he said, 'Stubborn, but she may sit ,, v 438
C all on tremble : piteous was the cry : ,, vi 142 when we c There came a minute's pause, ,, Con. 3
We c : a gentler feeling crept Upon us : In Mem. xxxv 17 him who had c to share her heart, Maud I xix 30 sod and shingle c to fly Behind her, Gareth and L. 761
Here c the kindly mother out of breath ; Marr. of Geraint 732
She c ; his evil spirit upon him leapt, Balin and Balan 537
He c, and then—for Vivien sweetly said Merlin and V. 17
She c, and made her lithe arm round his neck ,, 614
Scarce had she c, when out of heaven a bolt ,, 934
He spoke and c : the lily maid Elaine, Lancelot and E. 242
She c : her father promised ; ,, 1130
Then, when he c, in one cold passive hand ,, 1201
'He c ; and Arthur turn'd to whom at first Holy Grail 751 leave this land for ever.' Here he c. Lover's Tale iv 368
But never a moment c the fight The Revenge 57
And when I c to speak, the king, Columbus 14 now thy long day's work hath c, Epit. on Stratford 2
Nor ever c to clamour for the ring ; The Ring 389 when life has c to beat. Happy 52
Ceasing C not, mingled, unrepress'd, Arabian Nights 74
He c, came a message from the Head. Princess iii 168
'So speaking, and here c, Holy Grail 853
Cecily Wound with white roses, slept St. C ; Palace of Art 99
Cedar (See also Cedar-wood) The stately c, tamarisks, Arabian Nights 105
A c spread his dark-green layers of shade. Gardener's D. 116
Beam'd thro' the thicken'd c in the dusk. ,, 166 in halls Of Lebanonian c : Princess ii 352

Cedar (continued) bloom profuse and c arches Charm, Milton 11
Sighing for Lebanon, Dark c, Maud I xviii 18 Cedar-tree A voice by the c t In the meadow ,, v 1 red man dance By his red c-t, ,, xvii 18
Cedar-wood A mile beneath the c-w. Eleänore 8
Cede learn if Ida yet would c our claim, Princess v 333
Çeiling (See also Hall-ceiling) men Walk'd like the fly on c's? Columbus 51
Celandine in varnish'd glory shine Thy stars of c. Prog. of Spring 39
Celebrate To c the golden prime Arabian Nights 131
Celebrated thine the deeds to be c, Boädicea 41
Celibacy Into the suburb—their hard c, Sir J. Oldcastle 107
Celidon gloomy skirts Of C the forest; Lancelot and E. 292 Cell From many a wondrous grot and secret c The Kraken 8
And wild winds bound within their c, Mariana 54
'Not less the bee would range her c's, Two Voices 70
From c's of madness unconfined, ,, 371
Made havock among those tender c's, Lucretius 22
And weave their petty c's and die. In Mem. l 12 track Suggestion to her inmost c. ,, xcv 32
The tiny c is forlorn, Maud II ii 13
Thro' c's of madness, haunts of horror ,, III vi 2 in your frosty c's ye feel the fire! Balin and Balan 446 c's and chambers: all were fair and dry; Lancelot and E. 407
When they gain'd the c wherein he slept, ,, 811
Across the iron grating of her c Beat, Holy Grail 81
Stream'd thro' my c a cold and silver beam, ,, 116
Till all the white walls of my c were dyed ,, 119
I never stray'd beyond the c, ,, 628 bound and plunged him into a c Of great piled stones; ,, 675 such a craziness as needs A c and keeper), Lover's Tale iv 165
They had fasten'd the door of his c. Rizpah 42
Like worldly beauties in the C, The Ring 143
Cellar in the c's merry bloated things Guinevere 267
Celled See Full-celled, Two-cell'd
Celt (race of people) Teuton or C, or whatever we be, W. to Alexandra 32
The blind hysterics of the C; In Mem. cix 16
Celt (stone implement) c's and calumets, Claymore and snowshoe, Princess, Pro. 17
Censer incense free From one c in one shrine, Eleänore 59
The shrill bell rings, the c swings, Sir Galahad 35
A c, either worn with wind and storm; Gareth and L. 222
Censure England's honest c went too far; Third of Feb. 2
It might be safe our c's to withdraw; ,, 11
Cent mellow metres more than c for c; The Brook 5
Center'd See Centred
Centre Earth is dry to the c, Nothing will Die 20
Till toward the c set the starry tides, Princess ii 117 thoughts that wait On you, their c: ,, iv 444 in the c stood The common men with rolling eyes; ,, vi 359 Whose faith has c everywhere, In Mem. xxxiii 3
The c of a world's desire; ,, lxiv 16
In the c stood A statue veil'd, ,, ciii 11
Safe, damsel, as the c of this hall. Gareth and L. 604
To c in this place and time. Lover's Tale i 552 the c and crater of European confusion, Beautiful City 1 Centre-bit c-b's Grind on the wakeful ear Maud I i 41 Centred-Center'd music centred in a doleful song Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 117 centred in the sphere Of common duties, Ulysses 39
Would follow, center'd in eternal calm. Lucretius 79 one emerald center'd in a sun Of silver rays, Lancelot and E. 295 Century When the centuries behind me like a fruitful land Locksley Hall 13
A maiden of our c, yet most meek; The Brook 68 thro' the centuries let a people's voice Ode on Well. 142 Had I lain for a c dead; Maud I xxii 72 years will roll into the centuries, Guinevere 626 speak to the centuries, All the centuries, On Jub. Q. Victoria 48
The c's three strong eights have met To Ulysses 7 Ceremonial Hail the fair C Of this year of her Jubilee. On Jub. Q. Victoria 23 in his heart rejoice At this glad C, ,, 37
Of this great C, ,, 50

Ceremony Long summers back, a kind of c— Princess i 124 in the darkness, at the mystical c, Boädicea 36 suit of fray'd magnificence, Once fit for feasts of c) Marr. of Geraint 297
And there be wedded with all c. ,, 608
They twain were wedded with all c. ,, 839
Chaänge (change) I thowt shall I c my staäte? Spinster's S's. 44
Chaänged (changed) But arter I c my mind, North. Cobbler 105
Chaängin' (changing) all the while I wur c my gown, Spinster's S's. 43
Chace-Chase (See also Sumner-chace) That stand within the chace. Talking Oak 4
And overlook the chace; ,, 94
Look further through the chace, ,, 246
Then crost the common into Darnley chase The Brook 132
Chafe yet it c's me that I could not bend D. of F. Women 137
Began to c as at a personal wrong. Enoch Arden 474
Chafed c his hands, And call'd him by his name, M. d'Arthur 209
And when his answer c them, Holy Grail 673
c his hands, And call'd him by his name, Pass. of Arthur 377
I took And c the freezing hand. The Ring 452
Chaff Mere c and draff, much better burnt.' The Epic 40 will be c For every gust of chance, Princess iv 355
And vacant c well meant for grain. In Mem. vi 4 and grope, And gather dust and c, ,, lv 18
Chaffering C's and chatterings at the market-cross, Holy Grail 558
Chafing c at his own great self defied, Aylmer's Field 537
But c me on fire to find my bride) Princess i 166 and the squire C his shoulder: Geraint and E. 27
c his pale hands, and calling to him. ,, 582
c his faint hands, and calling to him; ,, 585 Chain (s) (See also Daisy-chain, Ruby-chain) to chain with c's, and bind with bands Buonaparte 2 loosed the c, and down she lay; L. of Shalott iv 16 such a c Of knitted purport, Two Voices 167 Bound by gold c's about the feet of God. M. d'Arthur 255
But dallied with his golden c, Day-Dm., Revival 31
Twofooted at the limit of his c, Aylmer's Field 127
To break my c, to shake my mane: Princess ii 424
From growing commerce loose her latest c, Ode Inter. Exhib. 33 made the serf a man, and burst his c— W. to Marie Alex. 3 boat, Half-swallow'd in it, anchor'd with a c; Holy Grail 803
I burst the c, I sprang into the boat. ,, 807 Bound by gold c's about the feet of God. Pass. of Arthur 423 seem'd as tho' a link Of some tight c Lover's Tale i 595 sat as if in c's—to whom he said: ,, iv 362
He workt me the daisy c— First Quarrel 13 but am led by the creak of the c, Rizpah 7
They hang'd him in c's for a show— ,, 35
C's, my good lord: in your raised brows Columbus 1
C's for the Admiral of the Ocean! c's For him who gave a new heaven, ,, 19 c's for him Who push'd his prows ,, 23
C's! we are Admirals of the Ocean, ,, 28
Drove me and my good brothers home in c's, ,, 134
the c's, what do they mean—the c's?' ,, 211
'These same c's Bound these same bones ,, 213 wept with me when I return'd in c's, ,, 231
She that link'd again the broken c Locksley H., Sixty 52 c's of mountain, grains of sand ,, 208
The slave, the scourge, the c; Freedom 12
all the gold from each laburnum c To Mary Boyle 11
Down hill 'Too-quick,' the c. Politics 12
Chain (verb) to c with chains, and bind with bands Buonaparte 2
And c's regret to his decease, In Mem. xxix 3 Chain'd My right leg c into the crag, St. S. Stylites 73 —or brought her c, a slave, Princess v 139 so c and coupled with the curse Of blindness Tiresias 58 dog: it was c, but its horrible yell Bandit's Death 35
Chaining But c fancy now at home To Ulysses 31
Chair (See also Arm-chair, Elbow-chair) If one but speaks or hems or stirs his c, Sonnet To—— 5
In yonder c I see him sit, Miller's D. 9
And the long shadow of the c ,, 126
Two years his c is seen Empty To J. S. 22 farmer vext packs up his beds and c's, Walk. to the Mail 39

Chair (continued) Sweat on his blazon'd c's; Walk. to the Mail 76
And in his c himself uprear'd, Day-Dm., Revival 18
But kept the house, his c, and last his bed. Enoch Arden 826
With nearing c and lower'd accent) Aylmer's Field 267
I cry to vacant c's and widow'd walls, ,, 720
They come and sit by my c, Grandmother 83 spirits sink To see the vacant c, In Mem. xx 19
The c's and thrones of civil power? ,, xxi 16
He plays with threads, he beats his c ,, lxvi 13
Why sits he here in his father's c? Maud I xiii 23
Gareth went, and hovering round her c Ask'd, Gareth and L. 33 pushing could move The c of Idris. Marr. of Geraint 543 in their c's set up a stronger race Geraint and E. 940 Thy c, a grief to all the brethren, Balin and Balan 78 sloping down to make Arms for his c, Lancelot and E. 438
In our great hall there stood a vacant c, Holy Grail 167
Merlin sat In his own c, and so was lost; ,, 176
Galahad would sit down in Merlin's c. ,, 181 now his c desires him here in vain, ,, 901 fill'd his double-dragon'd c. Last Tournament 144
Push'd from his c of regal heritage, Lover's Tale i 118
Led his dear lady to a c of state. ,, iv 321
I mash'd the taäbles an' c's, North. Cobbler 37 an' the mark o' 'is 'eäd o' the c's! Spinster's S's. 100
An' I slep i' my c hup-on-end, Owd Roä 54
An' I slep' i' my c ageän ,, 65
Sa I kep i' my c, fur I thowt she was nobbut ,, 74
she skelpt ma haäfe ower i' the c, ,, 76
Chairman A quarter-sessions c, abler none; Princess, Con. 90
Chaise Within the low-wheel'd c, Talking Oak 110
Chalcedony C, emerald, sardonyx, sardius, Columbus 84
Chalice The c of the grapes of God; In Mem. x 16
C and salver, wines that, Heavens knows when, Lover's Tale iv 193
Chalk all his joints Are full of c? Audley Court 47 Tumbles a billow on c and sand; To F. D. Maurice 24 c and alum and plaster are sold to the poor Maud I i 39
Chalk'd c her face, and wing'd Her transit Princess iv 377
Chalk-hill On the c-h the bearded grass Is dry Miller's D. 245
Chalk-quarry white c-q from the hill Gleam'd ,, 115 Challenge madness made thee c the chief knight Gareth and L. 1416 a jubilant c to Time and to Fate; Vastness 21 Challenging c And overthrowing every knight Balin and Balan 12 Chamber (See also Chaumber) faults were thick as dust In vacant c's, To the Queen 19 thick-moted sunbeam lay Athwart the c's, Mariana 79 door that bar The secret bridal c's of the heart, Gardener's D. 249 breathings are not heard In palace c's far apart. Day-Dm., Sleep B. 18 till he find The quiet c far apart. Arrival 28
In musty bins and c's, ,, Will Water. 102 till the comrade of his c's woke, Aylmer's Field 583
To one deep c shut from sound, Princess vi 376 all The c's emptied of delight: In Mem. viii 8
The field, the c and the street, ,, 11
Moved in the c's of the blood; ,, xxiii 20
About its echoing c's wide, Maud I vi 74
In the c or the street, ,, II iv 83
But hire us some fair c for the night, Geraint and E. 238 the boy return'd And told them of a c, ,, 261
the two remain'd Apart by all the c's width, ,, 265 High in her c up a tower to the east Lancelot and E. 3 cells and c's: all were fair and dry; ,, 407
Past to her c, and there flung herself ,, 609
The lucid c's of the morning star, Lover's Tale i 28
Shut in the secret c's of the rock. ,, 521
Death in our innermost c, Def. of Lucknow 15 read Some wonder at our c ornaments. Columbus 2
That c in the tower. The Ring 94
What c, child? Your nurse is here? ,, 95
You took me to that c in the tower, ,, 111
I brought you to that c ,, 129
Chamber-door (See also Chaumber-door) As lightly as a sick man's c-d, Enoch Arden 776
Chamberlain call'd A hoary man, his c, Com. of Arthur 145
Then spake the hoary c and said, ,, 148
Chamian Apart the C Oracle divine Alexander 10
Champaign river-sunder'd c clothed with corn, Œnone 114 high Above the empurpled c, drank the gale Princess iii 120 shadowing down the c till it strikes On a wood, ,, v 526 Champion My c from the ashes of his hearth.' Gareth and L. 899
c thou hast brought from Arthur's hall? ,, 916 but have ye slain The damsel's c? ,, 1099
Lady Lyonors Had sent her coming c, ,, 1192
Champion'd C our cause and won it Princess vi 62
Chance (s) I shut my life from happier c. Two Voices 54
Many a c the years beget. Miller's D. 206
For that is not a common c To J. S. 47 every morning brought a noble c, And every c brought out a noble knight. M. d'Arthur 230
April hopes, the fools of c; Vision of Sin 164
'Drink to Fortune, drink to C, ,, 191
It is beyond all hope, against all c, Enoch Arden 403
He gave them line: and how by c The Brook 150 rate your c Almost at naked nothing.' Princess i 160
With open eyes, and we must take the c. ,, iii 143 dread His wildness, and the c's of the dark.' ,, iv 244 will be chaff For every gust of c, ,, 356 my flitting c Were caught within the record ,, v 142 she's comely; there's the fairer c: ,, 460 or was it c, She past my way. ,, vi 97 Dispute the claims, arrange the c's; To F. D. Maurice 31
And grasps the skirts of happy c, In Mem. lxiv 6
To c's where our lots were cast ,, xxii 5 steps of Time—the shocks of C— ,, xxv 42
And leaps into the future c, ,, cxiv 7 can a sweeter c ever come to me here? Maud I i 62
if it had not been For a c of travel, ,, ii 8 an often c In those brain-stunning shocks, Gareth and L. 88 some c to mar the boast Thy brethren ,, 1242 good c that we shall hear the hounds: Marr. of Geraint 182
What c is this? how is it I see you Geraint and E. 309
A common c—right well I know it— ,, 331
Guilty or guiltless, to stave off a c ,, 353
Their c of booty from the morning's raid, ,, 565 ye surely have endured Strange c's here alone;' ,, 810
Queen demanded as by c 'Know ye the stranger woman?' Merlin and V. 128
This c of noble deeds will come and go Unchallenged, Holy Grail 318
Our fear of some disastrous c for thee On hill, ,, 727
Ready to spring, waiting a c: Guinevere 12
Some evil c Will make the smouldering scandal ,, 90 c and craft and strength in single fights, Pass. of Arthur 106 every morning brought a noble c, And every c brought out a noble knight. ,, 398 Above the perilous seas of Change and C; Lover's Tale i 806 c's of dividend, consol, and share— The Wreck 30
Like a clown—by c he met me— Locksley H., Sixty 256 Chance (verb) when did Arthur c upon thee first?' Com. of Arthur 338
However that might c! Gareth and L. 458 boast Thy brethren of thee make—which could not c— ,, 1243 Chance-comer You set before c-c's, Will Water. 6
Chanced It c one evening Annie's children Enoch Arden 362
At last one night it c That Annie could not sleep, ,, 489
Now it c that I had been, Princess i 31 and if their c a joust, Gareth and L. 519 then by what thereafter c, ,, 1214
At last, it c that on a summer morn Marr. of Geraint 69
It c the song that Enid sang was one ,, 345 with her mind all full of what had c, Geraint and E. 778
King's own ear Speak what has c; ,, 809
Then c, one morning, that Sir Balin sat Balin and Balan 240
All that had c, and Balan moan'd again. ,, 604
And as it c they are happy, being pure.' Merlin and V. 745
'These jewels, whereupon I c Divinely, Lancelot and E. 58
one morn it c He found her in among the garden yews, ,, 922
I told him what had c, My sister's vision, Holy Grail, 271
And then I c upon a goodly town ,, 573
It c that both Brake into hall together Pelleas and E. 586

Chanced (continued) For thus it c one morn when all the court, Guinevere 21
c that, when half of the short summer night was gone, The Revenge 65 and it c on a day Soon as the blast Def. of Lucknow 31 Chance-gift eating not, Except the spare c-g St. S. Stylites 78 Chancel A broken c with a broken cross, M. d'Arthur 9
I peer'd athwart the c pane The Letters 3
A broken c with a broken cross, Pass. of Arthur 177 and mute below the c stones, Locksley H., Sixty 43 Chancel-casement Upon the c-c, and upon that grave May Queen, N. Y's. E. 21
Chancellor The c, sedate and vain, Day-Dm., Revival 29
C, or what is greatest would he be— Aylmer's Field 397
Chance-met cross-lightnings of four c-m eyes ,, 129 Change (s) Truth may stand forth unmoved of c, Supp. Confessions 144 oxen's low Came to her: without hope of c, Mariana 29
And airy forms of flitting c. Madeline 7 run thro' every c of sharp and flat; Caress'd or Chidden 4
I said, 'The years with c advance: Two Voices 52
'Then comes the check, the c, the fall, ,, 163 upon the board, And bred this c; Œnone 227 fit for every mood And c of my still soul. Palace of Art 60 Full-welling fountain-heads of c, ,, 166 but all hath suffer'd c: Lotos-Eaters, C.S. 71
'I govern'd men by c, and so I sway'd D. of F. Women 130
thro' all c Of liveliest utterance. ,, 167 Lie still, dry dust, secure of c. To J. S. 76
Meet is it c's should control Our being, Love thou thy land 41
So let the c which comes be free ,, 45
Of many c's, aptly join'd, ,, 65
And sick of home went overseas for c. Walk. to the Mail 24
And fear of c at home, that drove him hence. ,, 68
With all the varied c's of the dark, Edwin Morris 36 shrivelling thro' me, and a cloudlike c, St. S. Stylites 199 Changed with thy mystic c, Tithonus 55 spin for ever down the ringing grooves of c. Locksley Hall 182
And, rapt thro' many a rosy c, Day-Dm., Depart 23
The flower and quintessence of c. ,, L'Envoi 24 voice grew faint: there came a further c: Vision of Sin 207 came a c, as all things human change. Enoch Arden 101
So much to look to—such a c— ,, 461 and the c and not the c, Aylmer's Field 831 dismal lyrics, prophesying c Beyond all reason: Princess i 142 woman wed is not as we, But suffers c of frame. ,, v 463
Then came a c: for sometimes I would catch ,, vii 92
Till notice of a c in the dark world ,, 250 the c, This truthful c in thee has kill'd it. ,, 349
I perceived no touch of c, In Mem. xiv 17
The touch of c in calm or storm; ,, xvi 6
Each voice four c's on the wind, ,, xxviii 9
I have lost the links that bound Thy c's; here upon the ground No more partaker of thy c. ,, xli 7
we talk'd Of men and minds, the dust of c, ,, lxxi 10
There cannot come a mellower c, ,, lxxxi 3
For c's wrought on form and face; ,, lxxxii 2
Recalls, in c of light or gloom, ,, lxxxv 74
Or touch'd the c's of the state, ,, lxxxix 35
When summer's hourly-mellowing c May breathe, ,, xci 9 abyss Of tenfold-complicated c, ,, xciii 12
For c of place, like growth of time, ,, cv 11
O earth, what c's hast thou seen! ,, cxxiii 2
His very face with c of heart is changed. Geraint and E. 899 in c of glare and gloom Her eyes and neck Merlin and V. 959 Naked of glory for His mortal c, Holy Grail 448 with living waters in the c Of seasons: Pelleas and E. 511 Above the perilous seas of C and Chance; Lover's Tale i 806
In marvel at that gradual c, I thought ,, iii 19 their bridal-time By c of feather: Sisters (E. and E.) 72 Glance at the wheeling Orb of c, To E. Fitzgerald 3
Over the range and the c of the world The Wreck 70
After all the stormy c's shall we find Locksley H., Sixty 156
Far away beyond her myriad coming c's ,, 231
Ring little bells of c From word to word. Early Spring 41
By c's all too fierce and fast Freedom 22
c of the tide—what is all of it worth? Vastness 30

Change (s) (continued) glimmer of relief In c of place. To Mary Boyle 48
That after many c's may succeed Life, Prog. of Spring 116 Change (verb) (See also Chaänge) All things will c Thro' eternity. Nothing will Die 15
It will c, but it will not fade ,, 31
All things will c. ,, 38
Not swift nor slow to c, but firm: Love thou thy land 31
Or c a word with her he calls his wife, Dora 44
'It cannot be: my uncle's mind will c!' ,, 47 full music seem'd to move and c Edwin Morris 35 iris c's on the burnish'd dove; Locksley Hall 19
She c's with that mood or this, Will Water. 107
'C, reverting to the years, Vision of Sin 159
Then came a change, as all things human c. Enoch Arden 101
If our old halls could c their sex, Princess, Pro. 140 you began to c—I saw it and grieved— ,, iv 298 one that wishes at a dance to c The music— ,, 589
When your skies c again: ,, vi 278
Some patient force to c them when we will, ,, Con. 56 and c the hearts of men, W. to Marie Alex. 44
But hearts that c not, love that cannot cease, ,, 46
Nor c to us, although they c; In Mem. xxx 24
Will c my sweetness more and more, ,, xxxv 15
And every winter c to spring. ,, liv 16
Thy ransom'd reason c replies ,, lxi 2 fly The happy birds, that c their sky ,, cxv 15
To c the bearing of a word, ,, cxxviii 16
the wind will never c again.' Gareth and L. 1140 Let Gareth, an he will, C his for mine, ,, 1300 and the wine will c your will.' Geraint and E. 663
The music in him seem'd to c, Balin and Balan 217
Must our true man c like a leaf at last? Lancelot and E. 686
The twain together well might c the world. Guinevere 301 like wild birds that c Their season in the night Pass. of Arthur 38
Nevertheless, we did not c the name. Lover's Tale i 464
Yet must you c your name: Sisters (E. and E.) 69
To c with her horizon, ,, 226
A wish in you To c our dark Queen-city, To Mary Boyle 65

Changed (See also Chaänged, Autumn-changed, Counter-changed) Till all the crimson c, and past Mariana in the S. 25
'O cruel heart,' she c her tone, ,, 69
You c a wholesome heart to gall. L. C. V. de Vere 44 but ere my flower to fruit C, D. of F. Women 208 thy flute-notes are c to coarse, The Blackbird 18
We all are c by still degrees, Love thou thy land 43 flower of knowledge c to fruit Of wisdom. Love and Duty 24
C with thy mystic change, Tithonus 55
And her spirit c within. L. of Burleigh 64
the rim C every moment as we flew. The Voyage 28 Moved with violence, c in hue, Vision of Sin 34 but that name has twice been c— Enoch Arden 859 my mind is c, for I shall see him, ,, 897 tost on thoughts that c from hue to hue, Princess iv 210
Our mind is c: we take it to ourself.' ,, 362 and her hue c, and she said: ,, vi 107
Walk'd at their will, and everything was c. ,, 384
And one is sad; her note is c, In Mem. xxi 27 crying, How c from where it ran ,, xxiii 9
A grief, then c to something else, ,, lxxvii 11
O grief, can grief be c to less? ,, lxxviii 16
Thy place is c; thou art the same. ,, cxxi 20
Remade the blood and c the frame, ,, Con. 11
Of her whose gentle will has c my fate, Maud I xviii 23 mood is c, for it fell at a time of year ,, III vi 4 Till with a wink his dream was c, Com. of Arthur 441 but the wind hath c: Gareth and L. 994
'Hath not the good wind, damsel, c again?' ,, 1054 being young, he c and came to loathe His crime Marr. of Geraint 593
To fear me, fear no longer, I am c. Geraint and E. 825
But kept myself aloof till I was c; And fear not, cousin; I am c indeed.' ,, 872 have ye seen how nobly c? ,, 897
His very face with change of heart is c. ,, 899 her hue C at his gaze: Balin and Balan 279

Changed (continued) And c itself and echo'd in her heart, Lancelot and E. 782
I doubt not that however c, ,, 1218
I was c to wan And meagre, Holy Grail 571 find thy favour c and love thee not '— Last Tournament 500
Denouncing judgment, but tho' c, Guinevere 421
I c the name; San Salvador I call'd it; Columbus 75
And c her into dust. Ancient Sage 162
We never c a bitter word, The Flight 86
And then had c? so fickle are men— The Ring 392 clove the Moslem crescent moon, and c it into blood. Happy 44
I that heard, and c the prayer ,, 55
A man who never c a word with men, St. Telemachus 10
Changeless thee the c in thine ever-changing skies. Akbar's D., Hymn 4 Changeling Or sorrow such a c be? In Mem. xvi 4 like a fairy c lay the mage; Com. of Arthur 363
But only c out of Fairyland, Gareth and L. 203
Changest Who c not in any gale, In Mem. ii 10
And c, breathing it, the sullen wind, Prog. of Spring 110
Changeth old order c, yielding place to new, M. d'Arthur 240 old order c, yielding place to new; Com. of Arthur 509 old order c, yielding place to new, Pass. of Arthur 408 Changing (See also Chaängin', Ever-changing, Never-changing) In c, chime with never-changing Law. To Duke of Argyll 11
Channel (See also Mid-channel) Tho' every c of the State Should fill You ask me, why 23 the hoary C Tumbles a billow on chalk and sand; To F. D. Maurice 23 brooks Are fashion'd by the c which they keep), Lover's Tale i 567
We seem'd like ships i' the C First Quarrel 42 may The fated c where thy motion lives De Prof. Two G. 19 Chant In the heart of the garden the merry bird c's. Poet's Mind 22
'C me now some wicked stave, Vision of Sin 151
c the history Of that great race, In Mem. ciii 34
From prime to vespers will I c thy praise Pelleas and E. 349 to the c of funeral hymns. Happy 48
Chanted C loudly, c lowly, L. of Shalott iv 29
C from an ill-used race of men that cleave Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 120
And c a melody loud and sweet, Poet's Song 6 c on the blanching bones of men?' Princess ii 199
So they c: how shall Britain light Boädicea 45
So they c in the darkness, ,, 46 whose hymns Are c in the minster, Merlin and V. 766
She c snatches of mysterious hymns Lancelot and E. 1407
Had c on the smoky mountain-tops, Guinevere 282 and c the triumph of Finn, V. of Maeldune 48
And we c the songs of the Bards ,, 90
Chanter C of the Pollio, To Virgil 17 Chanting But mine own phantom c hymns? In Mem. cviii 10 murmur of their temples c me, Me, me, Demeter and P. 72 Chaos C, Cosmos! Cosmos, C! (repeat) Locksley H., Sixty 103, 127
Chapel bore him to a c nigh the field, M. d'Arthur 8
To c: where a heated pulpiteer, Sea Dreams 20
The portal of King Pellam's c Balin and Balan 405
In the white rock a c and a hall Lancelot and E. 405 where the vale Was lowest, found a c, Holy Grail 442 bore him to a c nigh the field, Pass. of Arthur 176
Is it you, that preach'd in the c Despair 1
We have knelt in your know-all c ,, 94
Yonder in that c, slowly sinking Locksley H., Sixty 27 Chapel bell the c b's Call'd us: we left the walks; Princess ii 470
when they toll the C b! Locksley H., Sixty 261 Chapel-door and against the c d Laid lance, Holy Grail 459
I touch'd The c-d's at dawn I know; ,, 536 meet you again tomorra,' says he, 'be the c-d.' Tomorrow 16 this body they foun' an the grass Be the c-d, ,, 74
Chapel-green she stept an the c-g, ,, 27
Chapel-yard in the precincts of the c-y, Merlin and V. 751
Then paced for coolness in the c-y; ,, 757
Chap-fallen The c-f circle spreads: Vision of Sin 172
Chaplet And caught her c here— To Marq. of Dufferin 30
Char Nor ever lightning c thy grain, Talking Oak 277
Character'd laws of marriage c in gold Isabel 16
How dimly c and slight, In Mem. lxi 6
Charade C's and riddles as at Christmas Princess, Pro. 189 Charge (imputation) Redeem'd it from the c of nothingness— M. d'Arthur, Ep. 7
Set up the c ye know, Merlin and V. 703
Merlin answer'd careless of her c, ,, 754
Charge (care) father left him gold, And in my c, Marr. of Geraint 452
And all in c of whom? a girl: Geraint and E. 125 whom Uther left in c Long since, ,, 933 Modred whom he left in c of all, Guinevere 195 Charge (directions) he gave them c about the Queen, ,, 591 thy c Is an abounding pleasure to me. Gareth and L. 981 Charge (attack) surging c's foam'd themselves away; Ode on Well. 126
O the wild c they made! Light Brigade 51
Honour the c they made! ,, 53
Plunged in the last fierce c at Waterloo, Sisters (E. and E.) 64
The crash of the c's, Batt. of Brunanburh 89
THE c of the gallant three hundred, Heavy Brigade 1 bad his trumpeter sound To the c, ,, 9
The trumpet, the gallop, the c, ,, 13
O mad for the c and the battle were we, ,, 41
Glory to each and to all, and the c that they made! ,, 65
Charge (to enjoin) Come forth, I c thee, arise, Ode to Memory 46
I c thee, quickly go again M. d'Arthur 79
I c you now, When you shall see her, Enoch Arden 877
I c thee by my love,' Gareth and L. 55
'I c thee, ask not, but obey.' Marr. of Geraint 133
c the gardeners now To pick the faded creature ,, 670
I c thee ride before, Geraint and E. 14
I c thee, on thy duty as a wife, ,, 16
I c you, Enid, more especially, ,, 414
I count it of small use To c you) ,, 417
I c thee by that crown upon thy shield, Balin and Balan 481
I c you, follow me not.' Lancelot and E. 507
I c you that you get at once to horse. ,, 539
Leave me that, I c thee, my last hope. Guinevere 568
I c thee, quickly go again, Pass. of Arthur 247
I c you never to say that I laid him Rizpah 58
'Never surrender, I c you, Def. of Lucknow 10
Charge (to impute) if he did that wrong you c him with, Sea Dreams 279 Charge (to rush) C for the guns!' he said: Light Brigade 6
I myself beheld the King C at the head Lancelot and E. 304 Charge (to load) See Double-charge Charged (ordered) Then Arthur c his warrior whom he loved Com. of Arthur 447 c by Valence to bring home the child. Merlin and V. 718 calling her three knights, she c them, Pelleas and E. 219 Charged (attacked) c Before the eyes of ladies and of kings. M. d'Arthur 224 down we swept and c and overthrew. Ode on Well. 130
c Before the eyes of ladies and of kings. Pass. of Arthur 392 Charged (filled) C both mine eyes with tears. D. of F. Women 13 and c the winds With spiced May-sweets Lover's Tale i 317 Charged (loaded) It is c and we fire, and they run. Def. of Lucknow 68
Charged (entrusted) so much wealth as God had c her with— Lover's Tale i 213 Charger When on my goodly c borne Sir Galahad 49 on my c's, trample them under us.' Boädicea 69 and take my c, fresh, Gareth and L. 1300
At once Sir Lancelot's c fiercely neigh'd, ,, 1400 cried, 'My c and her palfrey;' Marr. of Geraint 126
His c trampling many a prickly star ,, 313
So Enid took his c to the stall; ,, 382
Call the host and bid him bring C and palfrey.' Geraint and E. 401
Who saw the c's of the two that fell ,, 481
While the great c stood, grieved like a man. ,, 535
See ye take the c too, A noble one.' ,, 555
(His gentle c following him unled) ,, 571 fly, your c is without, ,, 749
When Edyrn rein'd his c at her side, ,, 820 found His c, mounted on him and away. Balin and Balan 418 glad, Knightlike, to find his c yet unlamed, ,, 428 so they overbore Sir Lancelot and his c, and a spear Down-glancing lamed the c, Lancelot and E. 487 from his c down he slid, and sat, ,, 510

Charger (continued) Full-arm'd upon his c all day long Pelleas and E. 216 Charging C an army, while All the world wonder'd: Light Brigade 30 at the midmost c, Prince Geraint Drave Geraint and E. 85
Charier C of sleep, and wine, and exercise, Aylmer's Field 448 Chariot to the lychgate, where his c stood, " 824 a sound arose of hoof And c, Princess vi 380 Up my Britons, on my c, Boädicea 69 her people all around the royal c agitated, " 73 each beside his c bound his own; Spec. of Iliad 3
The double tides of c's flow In Mem. xcviii 23
So those two brethren from the c took Lancelot and E. 1146
The prophet and the c and the steeds, Lover's Tale i 307 horses whirl'd The c's backward, Achilles over the T. 25 died Among their spears and c's. " 33 watch the c whirl About the goal Tiresias 176 Chariot-bier let there be prepared a c-b Lancelot and E. 1121 sad c-b Past like a shadow thro' the field, " 1139 Charioted Far in the East Boädicéa, standing loftily c, Boädicea 3
So the Queen Boädicéa, standing loftily c, " 70 Charioteer the C And starry Gemini hang Maud III vi 6 sheer-astounded were the c's To see the dread, Achilles over the T. 26 Charitable To save the offence of c, Enoch Arden 342
Charity summer calm of golden c, Isabel 8
And thou of God in thy great c) " 40 with shafts of gentle satire, kin to c, Princess ii 469 those fair charities Join'd at her side, " vii 65
A patron of some thirty charities, " Con. 88
Valour and c more and more. To F. D. Maurice 40
When one small touch of C Could lift Lit. Squabbles 13
In reverence and in c. In Mem. cxiv 28
C setting the martyr aflame; Vastness 9
Charlatan Defamed by every c, In Mem. cxi 23
Charles (the Second) Wherein the younger C abode Talking Oak 297
Charles (the First) From our first C by force we wrung our claims. Third of Feb. 26
Charles's Wain Till C W came out above May Queen, N. Y's. E. 12
Charley-Charlie and C ploughing the hill. Grandmother 80
And Harry and C, I hear them too— " 81
And little King C snarling, Maud I xii 30 but 'e leäved it to C 'is son, Village Wife 42
but C 'e cotch'd the pike, " 43
But C 'e sets back 'is ears, " 67
And Squire were at C ageän " 74 Ya wouldn't find C's likes— " 75 Theerabouts C joompt— " 81
thowt it wur C's ghoäst i' the derk, " 82
But Billy fell bakkuds o' C, an' C " 85
Charlock shone far-off as shines A field of c Gareth and L. 388 Charm (s) and the c of married brows.' Œnone 76
A heart that doats on truer c's. L. C. V. de Vere 14 all his life the c did talk About his path, Day-Dm., Arrival 21
A TOUCH, a kiss! the c was snapt Revival 1 c have power to make New lifeblood " Will Water. 21
Each, its own c; and Edith's everywhere; Aylmer's Field 165 loose A flying c of blushes o'er this cheek, Princess ii 430 nameless c That none has else for me?' " v 70 mar their c of stainless maidenhood.' Balin and Balan 268
For that small c of feature mine, pursued— Merlin and V. 76 Merlin once had told her of a c, " 205 see but him who wrought the c Coming and going, " 212 Vivien ever sought to work the c, " 215 make me wish still more to learn this c " 329 c so taught will charm us both to rest. " 332 when I told you first of such a c. " 359
I felt as tho' you knew this cursed c, " 435
I dreamt Of some vast c concluded in that star " 512 Giving you power upon me thro' this c, " 514 try this c on whom ye say ye love.' " 525 this fair c invented by yourself? " 540
I needed then no c to keep them mine " 547 wizard who might teach the King Some c, " 584 the c Of nature in her overbore their own: " 595 they found—his foragers for c's— " 619 save the King, who wrought the c, " 643
'Ye have the book: the c is written in it: " 652

Charm (s) (continued) To dig, pick, open, find and read the c: Merlin and V. 660
And every square of text an awful c, " 673
And in the comment did I find the c. " 683 mutter'd in himself, 'Tell her the c! " 809 told her all the c, and slept. " 966 in one moment, she put forth the c " 967 Wrought as a c upon them, Guinevere 144 haze to magnify The c of Edith— Sisters (E. and E.) 130
O they to be dumb'd by the c!— V. of Maeldune 25
She with all the c of woman, Locksley H., Sixty 48 Take the c 'For ever' from them, " 72
the c of all the Muses often flowering To Virgil 11
I hear a c of song thro' all the land. Prog. of Spring 47
What c in words, a c no words Far-far-away 16 Charm (verb) wish to c Pallas and Juno sitting by: A Character 14 seem'd to c from thence The wrath I nursed Princess v 436 Perchance, to c a vacant brain, The Daisy 106 bloom profuse and cedar arches C, Milton 12 c's Her secret from the latest moon?' In Mem xxi 19 red berries c the bird, Gareth and L. 85 charm so taught will c us both to rest. Merlin and V. 332 then he taught the King to c the Queen " 641 changing market frets or c's Ancient Sage 140
C us, Orator, till the Lion look Locksley H., Sixty 112
Do your best to c the worst, " 147
Charm-bound the eye Was riveted and c-b, Lover's Tale ii 188 Charm'd (See also Anger-charm'd, Love-charm'd) c and tied To where he stands,— D. of F. Women 193
C him thro' every labyrinth Aylmer's Field 479 the king her father c Her wounded soul with words: Princess vi 345
So much the gathering darkness c: " Con. 107 sitting round him, idle hands, C; Gareth and L. 513 golden mist C amid eddies of melodious airs, Lover's Tale i 450 Charming with a phosphorescence c even My Lady; Aylmer's Field 116
Charnel Ev'n in the c's of the dead, Two Voices 215
Charnel-cave When Lazarus left his c-c, In Mem. xxvi 1
Charr'd and c you thro' and thro' within, Pelleas and E. 467 sent him c and blasted to the deathless fire Happy 84
Chart (verb) c's us all in its coarse blacks Walk. to the Mail 107 Chartered craft seaworthy still, Have c this; Pref. Son., 19th Cent. 4
Chartist his bailiff brought A C pike. Walk. to the Mail 71
Chase (s) (See also Chace) and in the c grew wild, Talking Oak 126 Follow, follow the c! Window. On the Hill 11 sleek and shining creatures of the c, Princess v 155
And reason in the c: Com. of Arthur 168
And being ever foremost in the c, Geraint and E. 959
the tide within Red with free c Last Tournament 691 Chase (verb) rose To c the deer at five; Talking Oak 52
'C,' he said: the ship flew forward, The Captain 33
do I c The substance or the shadow? Princess ii 408
To c a creature that was current Merlin and V. 408
And bring or c the storm, Mechanophilus 14
Chased (engraved) hilt, How curiously and strangely c, M. d'Arthur 86 meadow gemlike c In the brown wild, Geraint and E. 198 hilt, How curiously and strangely c, Pass of Arthur 254 Chased (pursued) c away the still-recurring gnat, Caress'd or Chidden 7
So shape c shape as swift as, D. of F. Women 37
'A light wind c her on the wing, Talking Oak 125 but c The wisp that flickers where no foot can tread.' Princess iv 357
'I have seen the cuckoo c by lesser fowl, Com. of Arthur 167
c the flashes of his golden horns Merlin and V. 427
Who might have c and claspt Renown To Marq. of Dufferin 29 and c away That shadow of a likeness Demeter and P. 15
Chasing C itself at its own wild will, Dying Swan 17
C each other merrily. The Merman 20
Chasm (See also Cavern-chasm) 'Heaven opens inward, c's yawn, Two Voices 304 in the icy caves And barren c's, M. d'Arthur 187 lines of cliff breaking have left a c; And in the c are foam and yellow sands; Enoch Arden 1 till drawn thro' either c, " 670 from the gaps and c's of ruin left Sea Dreams 225

Chasm (continued) Thro' one wide c of time and frost Princess, Pro. 93
By every coppice-feather'd c and cleft, ,, iv 23 from the castle gateway by the c Com. of Arthur 370 little elves of c and cleft Made answer, Guinevere 248 clash'd his harness in the icy caves And barren c's, Pass. of Arthur 355
The yawning of an earthquake-cloven c. Lover's Tale i 377
Flies with a shatter'd foam along the c. ,, 383
Clove into perilous c's our walls Def. of Lucknow 55 black passes and foam-churning c's— Sir J. Oldcastle 9 blur of earth Left by that closing c, Demeter and P. 38 of the c between Work and Ideal? Romney's R. 63
Chasm-like With c-l portals open to the sea, Holy Grail 815
Chaste world's great bridals, c and calm: Princess, vii 294
All brave, and many generous, and some c. Merlin and V. 817
Chasten we love the Heaven that c's us. Geraint and E. 789 Chastisement brook the rod And c of human pride; Supp. Confessions 108
May not that earthly c suffice? Aylmer's Field 784 Chastity With the clear-pointed flame of c, Isabel 2
she rode forth, clothed on with c: Godiva 53
she rode back, clothed on with c: ,, 65
They bound to holy vows of c! Merlin and V. 695
To lead sweet lives in purest c, Guinevere 474
Chatelet The last wild thought of C, Margaret 37
Chattel Live c's, mincers of each other's fame, Princess, iv 515
Chatter Would c with the cold, and all my beard St. S. Stylites 31
I c over stony ways, The Brook 39
I c, c, as I flow To join the brimming river, ,, 47 crane,' I said, 'may c of the crane, Princess iii 104 then to hear a dead man c Is enough Maud II v 19
Chatter'd Philip c more than brook or bird; The Brook 51
They c trifles at the door: In Mem. lxix 4
Chatterer Begotten by enchantment—c's they, Holy Grail 145
Chattering (part.) c stony names Of shale and hornblende,' Princess iii 361
Chattering (s) Chafferings and c's at the market-cross, Holy Grail 558
Chaucer (Dan) See Dan Chaucer
Chaumber (chamber) i' my oän blue c to me. Spinster's S's. 80
Thou slep i' the c above us, Owd Roä 49
Roäver was theere i' the c ,, 88
Chaumber door (chamber door) thy c d wouldn't sneck; ,, 64
Chaunt (See also Chant) I would mock thy c anew; The Owl ii 8
And solemn c's resound between. Sir Galahad 36
Chaunteth C not the brooding bee A Dirge 16
Cheap had holden the power and glory of Spain so c The Revenge 106
Cheat (s) Yet, if she were not a c, (repeat) Maud I vi 35, 91
Scarcely, now, would I call him a c; ,, xiii 29
Cheat (verb) love to c yourself with words: Princess vii 334
C and be cheated, and die: Maud I i 32
Cheated (See also Half-cheated) Cheat and be c, and die: ,, 32
Cheating c the sick of a few last gasps, ,, 43
Check (s) 'Then comes the c, the change, Two Voices 163
With motions, c's, and counterchecks. ,, 300
Check (verb) too noble' he said 'to c at pies, Merlin and V. 126 the good nuns would c her gadding tongue Guinevere 313
c me too Nor let me shame my father's memory, ,, 317 pray you c me if I ask amiss— ,, 324
Check'd and c His power to shape: Lucretius 22
Here the King's calm eye Fell on, and c, Gareth and L. 548
there he c himself and paused. Pelleas and E. 527 Cheek (See also Maiden-cheek) The red c paling, The strong limbs failing; All things will Die 31 laughters dimple The baby-roses in her c's; Lilian 17 then the tears run down my c, Oriana 69
That dimples your transparent c, Margaret 15
Tie up the ringlets on your c: ,, 57
And your c, whose brilliant hue Rosalind 39
Leaning his c upon his hand, Eleänore 118
Returning with hot c and kindled eyes. Alexander 14
Tho' one should smite him on the c, Two Voices 251
c Flush'd like the coming of the day; Miller's D. 131
Her c had lost the rose, and round her neck Œnone 18 his c brighten'd as the foam-bow brightens ,, 61 eye Over her snow-cold breast and angry c Kept watch, ,, 142 Cheek (continued) His ruddy c upon my breast. The Sisters 20 with puff'd c the belted hunter blew Palace of Art 63
From c and throat and chin. ,, 140 along the brain, And flushes all the c. D. of F. Women 44 with swarthy c's and bold black eyes, ,, 127
A word could bring the colour to my c; Gardener's D. 196 clapt him on the hands and on the c's, Dora 133 laughter dimpled in his swarthy c; Edwin Morris 61 and pat The girls upon the c, Talking Oak 44
'Then flush'd her c with rosy light, ,, 165
Thy c begins to redden thro' the gloom, Tithonus 37 and thy tears are on my c. ,, 45
Then her c was pale and thinner Locksley Hall 21
On her pallid c and forehead came a colour ,, 25
the barking cur Made her c flame: Godiva 58
While, dreaming on your damask c, Day-Dm., Pro. 3
The blush is fix'd upon her c. Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 32
The colour flies into his c's: ,, Arrival 19
C by jowl, and knee by knee: Vision of Sin 84
Flamed in his c; and eager eyes, Aylmer's Field 66 Cooling her false c with a featherfan, ,, 289 yet her c Kept colour: wondrous! ,, 505
On glassy water drove his c in lines; Princess i 116 when the king Kiss'd her pale c, ,, ii 264 blew the swoll'n c of a trumpeter, ,, 364 flying charm of blushes o'er this c, ,, 430 but my c Began to burn and burn, ,, iii 45 till over brow And c and bosom brake ,, iv 383 my Sire, his rough c wet with tears, ,, v 23
And so belabour'd him on rib and c ,, 341 wan was her c With hollow watch, ,, vi 144
I love not hollow c or faded eye: ,, vii 7 wordless broodings on the wasted c— ,, 112
'The c's drop in; the body bows In Mem. xxxv 3
A touch of shame upon her c: ,, xxxvii 10
Come; let us go: your c's are pale; ,, lvii 5
To clap their c's, to call them mine. ,, lxxxiv 18 fan my brows and blow The fever from my c, ,, lxxxvi 9 beam of an eyelash dead on the c, Maud I iii 3 Roses are her c's, And a rose her mouth (repeat) Maud I xvii 7, 27 but speak Of my mother's faded c ,, xix 19 this was what had redden'd her c ,, 65 and a c of apple-blossom, Hawk-eyes; Gareth and L. 589 Struck at him with his whip, and cut his c. Marr. of Geraint 207
Whom first she kiss'd on either c, ,, 517
Made her c burn and either eyelid fall, ,, 775
Made her c burn and either eyelid fall. Geraint and E. 434 so there lived some colour in your c, ,, 621 spearman let his c Bulge with the unswallow'd piece, ,, 630
However lightly, smote her on the c. ,, 718
White was her c: sharp breaths of anger puff'd Merlin and V. 848 Seam'd with an ancient swordcut on the c, Lancelot and E. 258
c did catch the colour of her words. Lover's Tale i 569 bent above me, too; Wan was her c; ,, 694 c's as bright as when she climb'd the hill. ,, iii 47
As well as the plump c— Sisters (E. and E.) 184 kiss fell chill as a flake of snow on the c: The Wreck 32 to feel his breath Upon my c— The Flight 46
Yet tho' this c be gray, Epilogue 7
Each poor pale c a momentary rose— The Ring 315 rounder c had brighten'd into bloom. ,, 351 her lips Were warm upon my c, ,, 399
From off the rosy c of waking Day. Akbar's Dream 202
Cheek'd See Apple-cheek'd
Cheep c and twitter twenty million loves. Princess iv 101
Cheeping birds that circle round the tower Are c to each other The Ring 86
Cheer (s) flowers would faint at your cruel c. Poet's Mind 15
Died the sound of royal c; L. of Shalott iv 48
Naked I go, and void of c: Two Voices 239
A murmur, 'Be of better c.' ,, 429
Welcome her, thundering c of the street! W. to Alexandra 7
With festal c, With books and music, In Mem. cvii 21
And I make myself such evil c, Maud I xv 2

Cheer (s) (continued) With all good c, He spake and laugh'd, Gareth and L. 301
Enid brought sweet cakes to make them c, Marr. of Geraint 388 cried Geraint for wine and goodly c Geraint and E. 283
lily maid had striven to make him c, Lancelot and E. 327
Yet with good c he spake, Pelleas and E. 240 Highlanders answer with conquering c's, Def. of Lucknow 99 hard rocks, hard life, hard c, or none, Sir J. Oldcastle 6 guest may make True c with honest wine— Pro. to Gen. Hamley 16 men gallopt up with a c and a shout, Heavy Brigade 61 Cheer (verb) Annie, come, c up before I go.' Enoch Arden 200
'Annie, my girl, c up, be comforted, ,, 218
Cheer'd And he c her soul with love. L. of Burleigh 68
But he c me, my good man, Grandmother 69
And we with singing c the way, In Mem. xxii 5
Be c with tidings of the bride, xl 23
he spake and c his Table Round Com. of Arthur 267
Nor ever c you with a kindly smile, The Ring 388 Cheerful It wellnigh made her c; Geraint and E. 443 grew so c that they deem'd her death Lancelot and E. 1131 Cheerfully Enoch bore his weakness c. Enoch Arden 827
Cheerful-minded Be c-m, talk and treat Of all things In Mem. cvii 19
Cheerfulness hold out the lights of c; Lover's Tale i 807
Cheque violates virgin Truth for a coin or a c. The Dawn 15
Chequer-work A c-w of beam and shade In Mem. lxxii 15 Cherish c that which bears but bitter fruit? Locksley Hall 65
The love of all Thy daughters c Thee, Ded. of Idylls 53 grace Thy climbing life, and c my prone year, Gareth and L. 95
Cherish'd fed, and c him, and saved his life. Lover's Tale iv 264
Cherry To catch a dragon in a c net, Princess v 169
Cherub There is no being pure, My c; Merlin and V. 52
Chess our wine and c beneath the planes, Princess vi 246 Chest (part of body) like monstrous apes they crush'd my c: St. S. Stylites 174 Live long, nor feel in head or c Will Water. 237 big voice, big c, big merciless hands! In the Child. Hosp. 4
The tiger spasms tear his c, Ancient Sage 123
Chest (box) She took the little ivory c, The Letters 17
For keep it like a puzzle c in c, With each c lock'd and padlock'd Merlin and V. 654
—a c there, by which you knelt— The Ring 112
There, the c was open—all The sacred relics ,, 446
Chested See Deep-chested
Chestnut (tree) Or those three c's near, that hung Miller's D. 55
I came and sat Below the c's, ,, 60
While those full c's whisper by. ,, 168 in the c shade I found the blue Forget-me-not. ,, 201
Parks with oak and c shady, L. of Burleigh 29
I see the slowly-thickening c towers Prog. of Spring 42
Chestnut (fruit) c, when the shell Divides threefold (repeat) The Brook 72, 207
The c pattering to the ground: In Mem. xi 4
Chestnut-bloom that islet in the c-b Flamed in his cheek; Aylmer's Field 65
Chestnut-bud drooping c-b's began To spread Sir L. and Q. G. 16
Chew'd c The thrice-turn'd cud of wrath, Princess i 65
Chick Sir C, that scarce hast broken shell Balin and Balan 568
Or else Sir C—dismount and loose their casques ,, 573
Chid be friends, like children being c! Princess vi 289
C her, and forbid her to speak To me, Maud I xix 63
Chidden CARESS'D or c by the slender hand, Caress'd or Chidden 1
Chief answer'd Lancelot, the c of knights: (repeat) Lancelot and E. 140, 187 guess thee c of those, After the King, ,, 183 heads of c's and princes fall so fast, Aylmer's Field 763 an Eagle rising or, the Sun In dexter c; Merlin and V. 476 she that seem'd the c among them said, Pelleas and E. 62
Child (See also Bairn, Childer, Children) Fed thee, a c, lying alone, Eleänore 25
A glorious c, dreaming alone, ,, 27
One walk'd between his wife and c, Two Voices 412 features of her c Ere it is born: her c! Œnone 252 never c be born of me, Unblest, ,, 254
You should not fret for me, mother, you have another c, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 36 Child (continued) She'll be a better c to you than ever I have been. May Queen, N. Y's. E. 44 dream of Fatherland, Of c, and wife, Lotos-Eaters 40
With that fair c betwixt them born. On a Mourner 25
Dora took the c, and went her way Dora 71 none of all his men Dare tell him Dora waited with the c; ,, 76
she rose and took The c once more, ,, 81 Whose c is that? What are you doing here? ,, 88 answer'd softly, 'This is William's c!' ,, 90 take the c, And bless him for the sake of him that's gone!' ,, 93 work for William's c, until he grows Of age ,, 126 a-begging for myself, Or William, or this c; ,, 142 three hours he sobb'd o'er William's c ,, 167 cling About the darling c: Talking Oak 128
O, the c too clothes the father Locksley Hall 91 barbarian lower than the Christian c. ,, 174 that c's heart within the man's Begins Will Water. 31
'I speak the truth: you are my c. Lady Clare 24
I buried her like my own sweet c, And put my c in her stead.' ,, 27
'Nay now, my c,' said Alice the nurse, (repeat) ,, 33, 41
Alas, my c, I sinn'd for thee.' ,, 50
C, if it were thine error or thy crime Come not, when, etc. 7 from the palace came a c of sin, Vision of Sin 5
And give his c a better bringing-up Enoch Arden 87 how should the c Remember this?' ,, 233 the third c was sickly-born and grew Yet sicklier, ,, 261 fears were common to her state, Being with c: but when her c was born, Then her new c ,, 522 marriage, and the birth Of Philip's c: ,, 709 darling Katie Willows, his one c! The Brook 67
His only c, his Edith whom he loved Aylmer's Field 23 Nursing a c, and turning to the warmth ,, 185 —who could trust a c? ,, 264
Their c.' 'Our c!' 'Our heiress!' ,, 297 and because I love their c They hate me: ,, 423 and read Writhing a letter from his c, ,, 517
Of such a love as like a chidden c, ,, 541
He seldom crost his c without a sneer; ,, 562 praying him To speak before the people of her c, ,, 608
The poor c of shame The common care ,, 687 all the gentle attributes Of his lost c, ,, 731
Is not our own c on the narrow way, ,, 743
The childless mother went to seek her c; ,, 829 in the narrow gloom By wife and c; ,, 841
His wife, an unknown artist's orphan c— Sea Dreams 2 Virgin Mother standing with her c ,, 242 the c Clung to the mother, and sent out a cry ,, 244
And mine but from the crying of a c.' ,, 249
'C? No!' said he, 'but this tide's roar, ,, 250
Good man, to please the c. ,, 267 voice (You spoke so loud) has roused the c again. ,, 281 flock'd at noon His tenants, wife and c, Princess, Pro. 4 Half c half woman as she was, ,, 101 they must lose the c, assume The woman: ,, i 137 odes About this losing of the c; ,, 141 when we came where lies the c We lost in other years, ,, ii 10
Your language proves you still the c. ,, 58
At her left, a c, In shining draperies, ,, 108 turn'd to go, but Cyril took the c, ,, 362 the c Push'd her flat hand against his face ,, 365 call'd For Psyche's c to cast it from the doors; ,, iv 238 on the purple footcloth, lay The lily-shining c; ,, 287
For this lost lamb (she pointed to the c) ,, 361 and a hope The c of regal compact, ,, 421 live, dear lady, for your c!' ,, v 80 my babe, my blossom, ah, my c, My one sweet c, whom I shall see no more! ,, 82 when they say The c is hers—for every little fault, The c is hers; ,, 87
My babe, my sweet Aglaïa, my one c: ,, 101
Who gave me back my c?' ,, 105
You have spoilt this c; she laughs at you ,, 116
Our chiefest comfort is the little c ,, 430
c shall grow To prize the authentic mother ,, 432

Child (continued) the training of a c Is woman's wisdom.' Princess v 465
Set his c upon her knee— ,, vi 14
'Sweet my c, I live for thee.' ,, 16
Knelt on one knee,—the c on one,— ,, 91
She bow'd, she set the c on the earth ; ,, 120 not yours, but mine : give me the c' ,, 141
The mother, me, the c ; ,, 153 give her the c ! (repeat) Princess v 168, 179, 183 twilight mellowing, dwelt Full on the c ; Princess v 192
Ida spoke not, rapt upon the c. ,, 220
Blanche had gone, but left Her c among us, ,, vii 57 old world of ours is but a c Yet in the go-cart. ,, Con. 77 love not this French God, the c of Hell, Third of Feb. 7
But I wept like a c that day, Grandmother 64 wept like a c for the c that was dead ,, 68
King is happy In c and wife ; The Victim 26
She cast her arms about the c. ,, 32
The c was only eight summers old, ,, 33
'They have taken the c To spill his blood ,, 43
Poor c, that waitest for thy love ! In Mem. vi 28
They call'd me fool, they call me c : ,, lxix 13 find in c and wife An iron welcome ,, xc 7 Familiar to the stranger's c ; ,, ci 20 c would twine A trustful hand, unask'd, in thine, ,, cix 18
Half-grown as yet, a c, and vain— ,, cxiv 9
With wisdom, like the younger c : ,, 20
No, like a c in doubt and fear : ,, cxxiv 17
Then was I as a c that cries, ,, 19
I play'd with the girl when a c ; Maud I i 68
O c, you wrong your beauty, ,, iv 17
I have play'd with her when a c ; ,, vi 87
For then, perhaps, as a c of deceit, ,, xiii 30
Made her only the c of her mother, ,, 40 desire that awoke in the heart of the c, ,, xix 48 one fair daughter, and none other c ; Com. of Arthur 2 split the mother's heart Spitting the c, ,, 39 surely would have torn the c Piecemeal among them, ,, 217
Wherefore Merlin took the c, ,, 221
Or else the c of Anton, and no king, ,, 233
Arthur were the c of shamefulness, ,, 239 dried my tears, being a c with me. ,, 350
So that the c and he were clothed in fire. ,, 390 same c,' he said, 'Is he who reigns ; ,, 392
The shining dragon and the naked c ,, 399 this King thine only c, Guinevere : ,, 413 the good mother holds me still a c ! Gareth and L. 15
'Mother, tho' ye count me still the c, Sweet mother, do ye love the c ?' ,, 34
'Then, mother, an ye love the c,' ,, 37
Hear the c's story.' ,, 39
'An ye hold me yet for c, Hear yet once more the story of the c. ,, 99
all day long hath rated at her c, ,, 1285
'My fair c, What madness made thee challenge ,, 1415 Had married Enid, Yniol's only c, Marr. of Geraint 4 dear c hath often heard me praise ,, 434
O noble host, For this dear c, ,, 497
'See here, my c, how fresh the colours ,, 680
Look on it, c, and tell me if ye know it.' ,, 684 worn My faded suit, as you, my c, ,, 706 my dear c is set forth at her best, ,, 728 your fair c shall wear your costly gift ,, 819 wail ye for him thus ? ye seem a c. Geraint and E. 547 Make knight or churl or c or damsel seem Balin and Balan 162 plumed with green replied, 'Peace, c ! Merlin and V. 90 neither eyes nor tongue—O stupid c ! ,, 251
Your pardon, c. Your pretty sports have brighten'd all again. ,, 304
In you, that are no c, for still I find Your face ,, 366 a mere c Might use it to the harm of anyone, ,, 684
One c they had ; it lived with her : ,, 716 charged by Valence to bring home the c. ,, 718
I ask you, is it clamour'd by the c, ,, 771 bitter weeping like a beaten c, ,, 855 moral c without the craft to rule, Lancelot and E. 146

Child (continued) 'True, my c. Well, I will wear it : Lancelot and E. 370
'Do me this grace, my c, to have my shield ,, 382
Sir Modred's brother, and the c of Lot, ,, 558 the diamond : wit ye well, my c, ,, 771 kiss the c That does the task assign'd, ,, 828
Meeker than any c to a rough nurse, ,, 857
Milder than any mother to a sick c, ,, 858
'O my c, ye seem Light-headed, ,, 1062
Yet, seeing you desire your c to live, ,, 1095 kiss'd me saying, "Thou are fair, my c, ,, 1409
I saw the fiery face as of a c Holy Grail 466 winding wall of rock Heard a c wail. Last Tournament 12 thro' the wind Pierced ever a c's cry : ,, 17 Vext her with plaintive memories of the c : ,, 29 that unhappy c Past in her barge : ,, 44 Queen White-robed in honour of the stainless c, ,, 147 whimpering of the spirit of the c, ,, 418
Arthur make me pure As any maiden c ? ,, 693
'Will the c kill me with her innocent talk ?' Guinevere 214
'Will the c kill me with her foolish prate ?' ,, 225
They found a naked c upon the sands ,, 293
'The simple, fearful c Meant nothing, ,, 369 too-fearful guilt, Simpler than any c, ,, 371
'Liest thou here so low, the c of one I honour'd, ,, 422
Well is it that no c is born of thee. ,, 424 wife and c with wail Pass to new lords ; Pass. of Arthur 44
Or Cowardice, the c of lust for gold, To the Queen ii 54
Which to the imprison'd spirit of the c, Lover's Tale i 204
Had thrust his wife and c and dash'd himself ,, 380 you may hear The moaning of the woman and the c, ,, 520 at last he freed himself From wife and c, ,, iv 380
I was a c, an' he was a c, an' he came First Quarrel 23 told it me all at once, as simple as any c, ,, 58
You'll have her to nurse my c, ,, 70 when he was but a c— Rizpah 25
The wind that 'ill wail like a c ,, 72
You never have borne a c— ,, 80
My father with a c on either knee, A hand upon the head of either c, Sisters (E. and E.) 54
Here's to your happy union with my c ! ,, 68 widow with less guile than many a c. ,, 182 desire that her lost c Should earn ,, 250 here She bore a c, whom reverently we call'd Edith ; ,, 268 gratefullest heart I have found in a c of her years— In the Child. Hosp. 32 the c didn't see I was there. ,, 44
I had sat three nights by the c— ,, 59 and we went to see to the c. ,, 68
I sorrow for that kindly c of Spain Columbus 212
Out of the deep, my c, (repeat) De Prof. Two G. 1, 5, 26, 29
I am roused by the wail of a c, The Wreck 7
The c that I felt I could die for— ,, 36
That day my nurse had brought me the c. ,, 59
I thought of the c for a moment, ,, 84
I shall look on the c again. ,, 124
'O c, I am coming to thee.' ,, 134
I pray'd—'my c'—for I still could pray— ,, 138
Was it well with the c ? ,, 141
Godless Jeptha vows his c . . . The Flight 26 that smiles at her sleepin' c— Tomorrow 26
Amy was a timid c ; Locksley H., Sixty 19 dead the mother, dead the c. ,, 36
Edith but a c of six— ,, 258 wife and his c stood by him in tears, Dead Prophet 57 And warms the c's awakening world Prin. Beatrice 5 from her household orbit draws the c ,, 7 the c Is happy—ev'n in leaving her ! ,, 11 can no more, thou camest, O my c. Demeter and P. 4 Queen of the dead no more—my c ! ,, 18
C, those imperial, disimpassion'd eyes ,, 23 here, my c, tho' folded in thine arms, ,, 40
C, when thou wert gone, I envied human wives, ,, 52 do ye make your moaning for my c ?' ,, 65
the c Of thee, the great Earth-Mother, ,, 96

Child (continued) c, Because I hear your Mother's voice in yours. The Ring 27 for we, my c, Have been till now each other's all-in-all. ,, 52 you the livelong guardian of the c. ,, 54
This ring bequeath'd you by your mother, c. ,, 75
C, I am happier in your happiness ,, 90
What chamber, c? Your nurse is here? ,, 95 but the c Is paler than before. ,, 326 forgotten it was your birthday, c— ,, 378
Kiss me c and go. ,, 489
Mother, dare you kill your c? Forlorn 37
I see the picture yet, Mother and c. Romney's R. 81 a c Had shamed me at it— ,, 111 and he loved to dandle the c, Bandit's Death 15
the birth of a baseborn c. Charity 28
For Babylon was a c new-born, The Dawn 9
Child-birth Lies my Amy dead in c-b, Locksley H., Sixty 36
Dying in c-b of dead sons. Akbar's Dream 12
Childer (children) thebbe all wi' the Lord my c, Village Wife 13 all es one, the c an' me, ,, 55 has now ten c, hansome an' tall, Tomorrow 85
Him an' his c wor keenin' ,, 86
But I niver not wish'd fur c, Spinster's S's. 84
Childhood when the dawn of rosy c past, Enoch Arden 37
Ere c's flaxen ringlet turn'd In Mem. lxxix 15 up from c shape His action like the greater ape, ,, cxx 10
One, that had loved him from his c, Gareth and L. 53
In the Maydews of c, Lover's Tale i 188 pillars which from earth uphold Our c, ,, 221
As was our c, so our infancy, ,, 249
A monument of c and of love; The posey of c; ,, ii 183
Him the Mighty, Who taught me in c, Merlin and the G. 115
Childlike lose the c in the larger mind; Princess vii 284 Child-lover Lord of human tears; C-l; To Victor Hugo 4 Children (See also Child, Childer, Men-children)
May c of our c say, To the Queen 23
And c all seem full of Thee! Supp. Confessions 21
Two c in two neighbour villages Circumstance 1
Two c in one hamlet born and bred; ,, 8
I have been to blame. Kiss me, my c.' Dora 162
Not in our time, nor in our c's time, Golden Year 55 mothers brought Their c, clamouring, Godiva 15
Three fair c first she bore him, L. of Burleigh 87
Three c of three houses, Enoch Arden 11
In this the c play'd at keeping house. ,, 24
With c; first a daughter. ,, 84
To see his c leading evermore Low miserable lives ,, 115
When he was gone—the c—what to do? ,, 132
if he cared For her or his dear c, ,, 164
Her and her c, let her plead in vain; ,, 166 by the love you bear Him and his c ,, 308 yet he sent Gifts by the c, ,, 338
Philip was her c's all-in-all; ,, 348
Annie's c long'd To go with others, ,, 362
But when the c pluck'd at him to go, ,, 369
I fain would prove A father to your c; ,, 411
Up came the c laden with their spoil; ,, 445
And his own c tall and beautiful, ,, 762
Lord of his rights and of his c's love,— ,, 764
My c too! must I not speak to these? ,, 788
But if my c care to see me dead, ,, 888
A childly way with c, and a laugh Ringing Aylmer's Field 181 they talk'd, Poor c, for their comfort: ,, 427 Bodies, but souls—thy c's— ,, 672
Will there be c's laughter in their hall ,, 787
That love to keep us c! Princess, Pro. 133 they had but been, she thought, As c; ,, i 137 baser courses, c of despair.' ,, iii 213 every woman counts her due, Love, c, happiness?' ,, 245
c, would they grew Like field-flowers ,, 251
But c die; and let me tell you, girl, ,, 253
C—that men may pluck them from our hearts, ,, 257
O—c—there is nothing upon earth ,, 259
Whose name is yoked with c's, ,, v 418
Kiss and be friends, like c being chid! ,, vi 289

Children (continued) the c call, and I Thy shepherd pipe, Princess vii 217
Late the little c clung: Ode on Well. 237
But all my c have gone before me, Grandmother 18
But as to the c, Annie, they're all about me yet. ,, 76
Phantom wail of women and c, Boädicea 26
For by the hearth the c sit In Mem. xx 13
Who takes the c on his knee, ,, lxvi 11 Timour-Mammon grins on a pile of c's bones, Maud I i 46 wolf would steal The c and devour, Com. of Arthur 27 and the c, housed In her foul den, ,, 29 at tourney once, When both were c, Gareth and L. 533
And c of the King in cloth of gold Marr. of Geraint 664 all the c in their cloth of gold Ran to her, ,, 668
The cry of c, Enids and Geraints Geraint and E. 965
As c learn, be thou Wiser for falling! Balin and Balan 75
In c a great curiousness be well, Merlin and V. 364
Where c cast their pins and nails, ,, 430
To one at least, who hath not c, ,, 506
Lives for his c, ever at its best And fullest; Lancelot and E. 336
And mirthful sayings, c of the place, Holy Grail 555
Where c sat in white with cups of gold, Last Tournament 142
The c born of thee are sword and fire, Guinevere 425
Who either for his own or c's sake, ,, 513
When Harry an' I were c, First Quarrel 10 dogs of Seville, the c of the devil, The Revenge 30
'We have c, we have wives, ,, 92
God help the wrinkled c that are Christ's Sisters (E. and E.) 183
I am sure that some of our c would die In the Child. Hosp. 11
They are all his c here, ,, 19
we past to this ward where the younger c are laid: ,, 27
'Little c should come to me.' ,, 50
I find that it always can please Our c, the dear Lord Jesus with c about his knees.) ,, 52
Lord of the c had heard her, ,, 72
Women and c among us, God help them, our c Def. of Lucknow 8
'C and wives—if the tigers leap ,, 51
Grief for our perishing c, ,, 89 women and c come out, ,, 100
Their wives and c Spanish concubines, Columbus 175 they play'd with The c of Edward. Batt. of Brunanburh 92 clouds themselves are c of the Sun. Ancient Sage 242 Day and Night are c of the Sun, ,, 245 evil thought may soil thy c's blood; ,, 275
Happy c in a sunbeam sitting Locksley H., Sixty 14
City c soak and blacken soul ,, 218 laborious, Patient c of Albion, On Jub. Q. Victoria 59
Household happiness, gracious c, Vastness 24
Father's fault Visited on the c! The Ring 176
Innocent maidens, Garrulous c, Merlin and the G. 56
That wife and c drag an Artist down! Romney's R. 38
'Why left you wife and c? ,, 129 nurse my c on the milk of Truth, Akbar's Dream 162
Ah, that will our c be, The Dawn 24
Chill But he is c to praise or blame. Two Voices 258
Then fearing night and c for Annie, Enoch Arden 443
Bright was that afternoon, Sunny but c: ,, 670
As wan, as c, as wild as now: In Mem. lxxii 17 and dark the night and c! Guinevere 168 and dark and c the night! ,, 174
Whereof the c, to him who breathed it, Pass. of Arthur 96
'not even death Can c you all at once:' Lover's Tale iv 77
But he sent a c to my heart when I saw him In the Child. Hosp. 2 kiss fell c as a flake of snow on the cheek: The Wreck 32
His winter c's him to the root, Ancient Sage 119
Chill'd heavens Stifled and c at once; Aylmer's Field 613
Would that have c her bride-kiss? Last Tournament 590
He c the popular praises of the King Guinevere 13
The very fountains of her life were c; Sisters (E. and E.) 266 fell from that half-spiritual height C, To E. Fitzgerald 20 Chilling c his caresses By the coldness Maud I xx 12 like a phantom pass C the night: Gareth and L. 1336 Chillness Whose c would make visible Supp. Confessions 59
c of the sprinkled brook Smote on my brows, Lover's Tale I 635

Chime (s) speak for noise Of clocks and c's, Princess i 216 oft we two have heard St. Mary's c's ! To W. H. Brookfield 3 Chime (verb) the blue river c's in its flowing All Things will Die 1 and those great bells Began to c. Palace of Art 158 Set her sad will no less to c with his, Enoch Arden 248 changing, c with never changing Law. To Duke of Argyll 11
Chimera C's, crotchets, Christmas solecisms, Princess, Pro. 203
Chimley (Chimney) haäfe o' the c's a-twizzen'd Ovd Roä 22
Chimney (See also Chimley, Chimney-top) And half the c's tumbled. The Goose 48
And c's muffled in the leafy vine. Audley Court 19
For now her father's c glows In Mem. vi 29 Chimney-top above the tall white c-t's. May Queen, N. Y's. E. 12 Chin smooth'd his c and sleek'd his hair, A Character 11
His double c, his portly size, Miller's D. 2
From cheek and throat and c. Palace of Art 140
Close up his eyes: tie up his c: D. of the O. Year 48
Her sweet face from brow to c: L. of Burleigh 62 reddening in the furrows of his c, Princess vi 228 many-winter'd fleece of throat and c. Merlin and V. 841
China laws Salique And little-footed C, Princess ii 134
China-bound Reporting of his vessel C-b, Enoch Arden 122
Chink (sound) Even in dreams to the c of his pence, Maud I x 43
Chink (crevice) walls Were full of c's and holes; Godiva 60
Found in a c of that old moulder'd floor!' The Ring 280
Chink (verb) For Age will c the face, Happy 46
Chink'd C as you see, and seam'd— Lover's Tale i 131
Chirp (s) (See also Matin-chirp) I hear a c of birds; In Mem. cxix 5 Chirp (verb) The cricket c's: the light burns low: D. of the O. Year 40
Chirping about the fields you caught His weary daylong c, The Brook 53
Chirpt gray cricket c of at our hearth— Merlin and V. 110
Chirr'd not a cricket c: In Mem. xcv 6
Chirrup The sparrow's c on the roof, Mariana 73 titmouse hope to win her With his c at her ear. Maud I xx 30
Chirrupt beside me c the nightingale. Grandmother 40
Chivalry came to c: When some respect, Princess ii 135 urged All the devisings of their c Gareth and L. 1349 Choice wherefore rather I made c To commune Two Voices 460
Teach that sick heart the stronger c, On a Mourner 18
And told him of my c, Talking Oak 18 glorious in his beauty and thy c, Tithonus 12
But you have made the wiser c, You might have won 5
Which weep the comrade of my c, In Mem. xiii 9 your sweetness hardly leaves me a c Maud I v 24 c from air, land, stream, and sea, Pelleas and E. 149 her c did leap forth from his eyes! Lover's Tale i 657
Choicest-grown blossom c-g To wreathe a crown Akbar's Dream 22
Choke Should fill and c with golden sand— You ask me, why 24
'A quinsy c thy cursed note!' The Goose 29 yellow vapours c The great city Maud II iv 63 Chok'd I c. Again they shriek'd the burthen— Edwin Morris 123 Heaven, and Earth, and Time are c. St. S. Stylites 104
Her voice C, and her forehead sank Princess vii 247 hopes are mine,' and saying that, she c, Lancelot and E. 607
His mercy c me. Guinevere 616
C all the syllables, that strove to rise Lover's Tale i 711
Choler old, but full Of force and c, Golden Year 61
Cholera C, scurvy, and fever, Def. of Lucknow 84
Chooch (church) An' I allus comed to 's c N. Farmer, O. S. 17
Choorch (church) voäted wi' Squoire an' c an' staäte, ,, 15
Choose To c your own you did not care; Day-Dm., L'Envoi 30
'Twere hardly worth my while to c In Mem. xxxiv 10 arms for guerdon; c the best.' Geraint and E. 218 of overpraise and overblame We c the last. Merlin and V. 91
Chop (s) His proper c to each. Will Water. 116
Among the c's and steaks! ,, 148
Chop (verb) C the breasts from off the mother, Boädicea 68
Chop-house Head-waiter of the c-h here, Will Water. 209
Chord (See also Master-chord) clear twang of the golden c's Sea-Fairies 38 note From that deep c which Hampden smote England and Amer. 19 and smote on all the c's with might; Locksley Hall 33
Chord (continued) 'Screw not the c too sharply lest it snap.' Aylmer's Field 469
Consonant c's that shiver to one note; Princess iii 90
The deepest measure from the c's: In Mem. xlviii 12
Will flash along the c's and go. ,, lxxxviii 12 speak His music by the framework and the c; Holy Grail 879 Sweeps suddenly all its half-moulder'd c's Lover's Tale i 19 would drop from the c's or the keys, The Wreck 27
Chorus Go' (shrill'd the cotton-spining c); Edwin Morris 122
O YOU c of indolent reviewers, Hendecasyllabics 1
All that c of indolent reviewers, ,, 12 whereupon Their common shout in c, mounting, Balin and Balan 87 Chose crag-platform, smooth as burnish'd brass I c. Palace of Art 6
That sober-suited Freedom c, You ask me, why 6 for your sake, the woman that he c, Dora 63
You c the best among us— Enoch Arden 293
C the green path that show'd the rarer foot, Lancelot and E. 162 Chosen Who madest him thy c, Tithonus 13
Gods,' he said, 'would have c well; The Victim 58
'Had I c to wed, I had been wedded earlier, Lancelot and E. 934
Was c Abbess, there, an Abbess, Guinevere 696 happy to be c Judge of Gods, Death of Œnone 16
Chousin' an' I wur c the wife, North. Cobbler 83
Christ (See also Christ Jesus, Jesus, Lamb) Brothers in C—a world of peace Supp. Confessions 29
C, the Virgin Mother, and the saints; St. S. Stylites 112
So I clutch it. C! 'Tis gone: ,, 207
Save C as we believe him— Aylmer's Field 573 as cried C ere His agony to those that swore ,, 793
Not preaching simple C to simple men, Sea Dreams 21
C the bait to trap his dupe and fool; ,, 191
God accept him, C receive him. Ode on Well. 281
The time draws near the birth of C: In Mem. xxviii 1
Behold a man raised up by C! ,, xxxi 13
The time draws near the birth of C; ,, civ 1
Ring in the C that is to be. ,, cvi 32
Ah C, that it were possible For one short hour Maud II iv 13
As the churches have kill'd their C. ,, v 29
Sware at the shrine of C a deathless love: Com. of Arthur 466
'The King will follow C, and we the King ,, 500
we that fight for our fair father C, ,, 510
Follow the deer? follow the C, the King, Gareth and L. 117 Hath prosper'd in the name of C, Balin and Balan 99
the Roman pierced the side of C. ,, 114 scarce could spy the C for Saints, ,, 409 saintly youth, the spotless lamb of C, Merlin and V. 749 all his legions crying C and him, Lancelot and E. 305
Ah, C, that it would come, Holy Grail 93
C kill me then But I will slice him Pelleas and E. 337
'My churl, for whom C died, Last Tournament 62
Have everywhere about this land of C Guinevere 431
To break the heathen and uphold the C, ,, 470
And so thou lean on our fair father C, ,, 562
God my C—I pass but shall not die.' Pass. of Arthur 28 and shrieks After the C, ,, 111 wrinkled children that are C's Sisters (E. and E.) 183 ears for C in this wild field of Wales— Sir J. Oldcastle 13 and raze The blessed tomb of C; Columbus 99
This creedless people will be brought to C ,, 189
And we broke away from the C, Despair 25
A THOUSAND summers ere the time of C Ancient Sage 1 transfigured, like C on Hermon hill, Happy 38
In that four-hundredth summer after C, St. Telemachus 4 Christian C's with happy countenances— Supp. Confessions 20 barbarian lower than the C child. Locksley Hall 174
she, who kept a tender C hope, Sea Dreams 41
The graceful tact, the C art; In Mem. cx 16
Nor any cry of C heard thereon, Pass. of Arthur 128
C conquerors took and flung the conquered C into flames. Locksley H., Sixty 84
That ever wore a C marriage-ring. Romney's R. 36 at length he touch'd his gaol, The C city. St. Telemachus 35 as he yell'd of yore for C blood. ,, 46 eighty thousand C faces watch Man murder man. ,, 55
Brahmin, and Buddhist, C, and Parsee, Akbar's Dream 25

Christian (continued) I shudder at the C and the stake; Akbar's Dream 72 in praise of Whom The C bell, ,, 149
The C's own a Spiritual Head; ,, 153
Call'd on the Power adored by the C, Kapiolani 32
Christian Church if it be a C C, people ring the bell for love to Thee. Akbar's D. Inscrip. 4 Christ Jesus of Him who died for men, C J!' St. Telemachus 64
Christless C code, That must have life Maud II i 26
Pellam, once A C foe of thine Balin and Balan 97 fury of peoples, and C frolic of kings, The Dawn 7 Christ-like The tenderest C-l creature Charity 32
Christmas (See also Christmas day, Christmas-eve, Christmas-morn) in the pits Which some green C crams with weary bones. Wan Sculptor 14 all the old honour had from C gone, The Epic 7
The cock crows ere the C morn, Sir Galahad 51 lastly there At C; ever welcome at the Hall, Aylmer's Field 114 when the second C came, escaped His keepers, ,, 838
We seven stay'd at C up to read; Princess, Pro. 178 play'd Charades and riddles as at C here, ,, 189 told a tale from mouth to mouth As here at C.' ,, 192
Chimeras, crotchets, C solecisms, ,, 203
The C bells from hill to hill In Mem. xxviii 3 weave The holly round the C hearth; ,, xxx 2 Again at C did we weave The holly round the C hearth; ,, lxxviii 1 where the winter thorn Blossoms at C, Holy Grail 53
Christmas day we were married o' C d, First Quarrel 39
Christmas Eäve Of a C E, an' as cowd as this, Owd Roä 31
goä that night to 'er foölk by cause o' the C E; ,, 52
'be a-turnin' ma hout upo' C E'! ,, 59
Christmas-eve (See also Christmas Eäve) At Francis Allen's on the C-e,— The Epic 1
How dare we keep our C-e; In Mem. xxix 4
And sadly fell our C-e. ,, xxx 4
And calmly fell our C-e: ,, lxxviii 4
And strangely falls our C-e. ,, cv 4
Christmas-morn church-bells ring in the C-m. M. d'Arthur, Ep. 31
Christopher Colon (Columbus) 'Behold the bones of C C'— Columbus 210 Chronicle ran thro' all the coltish c, The Brook 159 dash'd Into the c of a deedful day, Aylmer's Field 196
we keep a c With all about him'— Princess, Pro. 27
So sang the gallant glorious c; ,, 49
The total c's of man, the mind, ,, ii 381
Chronicler ask'd his C Of Akbar 'what has darken'd thee to-night?' Akbar's Dream 2 Chrysalis This dull c Cracks into shining wings, St. S. Stylites 155
Or ruin'd c of one. In Mem. lxxxii 8
But she from out her death-like c, Lover's Tale iii 41
Chrysolite sardius, C, beryl, topaz, Columbus 85
Chrysoprase c, Jacynth, and amethyst— ,, 85
Chuch (church) the c weänt happen a fall. Church-warden, etc. 10 as long as I lives to the owd c now, ,, 15
Chuch-warden (church-warden) I beän c-w mysen i' the parish fur fifteen year. ,, 8
Well—sin ther beä c-w's, ,, 9
An' then I wur chose C-w ,, 38 plaäte fuller o' Soondays nor ony c-w afoor, ,, 40
Chuckle c, and grin at a brother's shame; Maud I iv 29
Chuckled It clutter'd here, it c there; The Goose 25 Church (See also Chooch, Choorch, Christian Church, Chuch) As homeward by the c I drew. The Letters 44 a moulder'd c; and higher A long street Enoch Arden 4 c,—one night, except For greenish glimmerings Aylmer's Field 621 pious variers from the c, To chapel; Sea Dreams 19
And in the dark c like a ghost In Mem. lxvii 15
A single c below the hill ,, civ 3
She came to the village c, Maud I viii 1 fragrant gloom Of foreign c's— ,, xix 54 kill their c, As the c's have kill'd ,, II v 28
Chief of the c in Britain, Com. of Arthur 454 walls Of that low c he built at Glastonbury. Balin and Balan 367
A little lonely c in days of yore, Holy Grail 64

Church (continued) first may be last—I have heard it in c— Rizpah 66
he calls to me now from the c ,, 84
To the deaf c—to be let in— Sisters (E. and E.) 238
Back to the pure and universal c, Sir J. Oldcastle 71
Tether'd to these dead pillars of the C— ,, 121
Authority of the C, Power of the keys!' ,, 161
Sylvester shed the venom of world-wealth Into the c, ,, 167 chiefly to my sorrow by the C, Columbus 56
Holy C, from whom I never swerved ,, 63 my Fathers belong'd to the c of old, The Wreck 1
Christian love among the C's Locksley H., Sixty 86
Break the State, the C, the Throne, ,, 138
Her spirit hovering by the c, The Ring 478
Touch'd at the golden Cross of the c'es, Merlin and the G. 68 all but sure I have—in Kendal c— Romney's R. 19 temple, neither Pagod, Mosque, nor C, Akbar's Dream 178 Church-bell The sweet c-b's began to peal. Two Voices 408 Toll ye the c-b sad and slow, D. of the O. Year 3 clear c-b's ring in the Christmas-morn. M. d'Arthur, Ep. 31 Church-commissioner Now harping on the c-c's, The Epic 15 Church-harpy scare church-harpies from the master's feast; To J. M. K. 3 Churchmen Should all our c foam in spite To F. D. Maurice 9 the c fain would kill their church, Maud II v 28 Church-tower graves grass-green beside a gray c-t, Circumstance 6 morning grows apace, and lights the old c-t, The Flight 93
Churchwarden (See also Chuch-warden) Until the grave c doff'd, The Goose 19
Churchyard wall —in the night by the c w. Rizpah 56
Churl (See also Village-churls) low c, compact of thankless earth, Godiva 66
The c in spirit, up or down In Mem. cxi 1
The c in spirit, howe'er he veil ,, 5
Mark would sully the low state of c: Gareth and L. 427
Then riding close behind an ancient c, Marr. of Geraint 261 transitory word Made knight or c or child Balin and Balan 162 not worthy to be knight; A c, a clown!' ,, 286
'C, thine axe!' he cried, ,, 295 said the c, 'our devil is a truth, ,, 302
'Old fabler, these be fancies of the c, ,, 307
laugh'd the father saying, 'Fie, Sir C, Lancelot and E. 200
A c, to whom indignantly the King, 'My c, Last Tournament 61 sawing the air, said the maim'd c, ,, 67
That doest right by gentle and by c, ,, 74
'Take thou my c, and tend him curiously ,, 90
Cicala At eve a dry c sung, Mariana in the S. 85
Cider flask of c from his father's vats, Audley Court 27
Cinder may make My scheming brain a c, Merlin and V. 933
Circle (s) (See also Eagle-circle, Fairy-circle, Home-circle, Sea-circle, Water-circle) round about the c's of the globes The Poet 43
In the same c we revolve. Two Voices 314
In lazy mood I watch'd the little c's die; Miller's D. 74
The greensward into greener c's, Gardener's D. 134 in the c of his arms Enwound us both; ,, 216
Sun will run his orbit, and the Moon Her c. Love and Duty 23
Thro' all the c of the golden year?' Golden Year 51 music winding trembled, Wov'n in c's: Vision of Sin 18 Caught the sparkles, and in c's, ,, 30 mouldy dens The chap-fallen c spreads: ,, 172 yell'd and round me drove In narrowing c's Lucretius 57 a group of girls In c waited, Princess, Pro. 69
The c rounded under female hands ,, ii 372
Thro' c's of the bounding sky, In Mem. xvii 6
And in a c hand-in-hand Sat silent, ,, xxx 11
Against the c of the breast, ,, xlv 3
With all the c of the wise, ,, lxi 3
In c round the blessed gate, ,, lxxxv 23
O bliss, when all in c drawn About him, ,, lxxxix 21 memory fades From all the c of the hills. ,, ci 24 held All in a gap-mouth'd c his good mates Gareth and L. 511 remnant that were left Paynim amid their c's, Holy Grail 664
The c widens till it lip the marge, Pelleas and E. 94
The phantom c of a moaning sea. Pass. of Arthur 87 shower'd down Rays of a mighty c Lover's Tale i 418

Circle (s) (continued) Scarce housed within the c of this Earth, Lover's Tale i 479 caught and brought him in To their charm'd c, „ iv 377
Whirling their sabres in c's of light! Heavy Brigade 34
Circle (verb) Make knowledge c with the winds; Love thou thy land 17 tho' I c in the grain Five hundred rings Talking Oak 83
We c with the seasons. Will Water. 64 full voice which c's round the grave, Princess ii 45
And c moaning in the air: In Mem. xvi 15
It c's round, and fancy plays, „ Con. 81 birds that c round the tower Are cheeping The Ring 85 Circled (See also Azure-circled, Crimson-circled, Musky-circled, Ruby-circled) C thro' all experiences, pure law, Œnone 166
I prosper, c with thy voice; In Mem. cxxx 15 c with her maids, The Lady Lyonors Gareth and L. 1374 and settling c all the lists. Marr. of Geraint 547 Circlet prize A golden c and a knightly sword, Pelleas and E. 12
Pelleas for his lady won The golden c, „ 14
he will fight for me, And win the c: „ 119
And win me this fine c, Pelleas, „ 128
The sword and golden c were achieved. „ 170 she caught the c from his lance, „ 173 yea and he that won The c! „ 321 their wills are hers For whom I won the c; „ 325 the c of the jousts Bound on her brow, „ 434
The c of the tourney round her brows, „ 454
—on her head A diamond c, Lover's Tale iv 289
Circling past her feet the swallow c flies, Prog. of Spring 44
Circuit The c's of thine orbit round In Mem. lxiii 11 Circumstance strong Against the grief of c Supp. Confessions 92 saw The hollow orb of moving C Palace of Art 255
And breasts the blows of c, In Mem. lxiv 7
This ever-changing world of c, To Duke of Argyll 10
Cirque Within the magic c of memory, Lover's Tale ii 159
Citadel Troas and Ilion's column'd c, Œnone 13
Mast-throng'd beneath her shadowing c „ 118
A moulder'd c on the coast, The Daisy 28
Fell the colony, city, and c, Boädicea 86
Past thro' into his c, the brain, Lover's Tale i 631
Citadel-crown'd Tempest-buffeted, c-c. Will 9
Cited Some c old Lactantius: Columbus 49 Citizen (See also Fellow-citizen) gravest c seems to lose his head, Princess, Con. 59 heart of the c hissing in war Maud I i 24 like a statue, rear'd To some great c, Tiresias 83
Citron-shadow clove The c-s's in the blue: Arabian Nights 15
City (See also Mother-city, Queen-city, Soldier-city) Full of the c's stilly sound, „ 103 a c glorious—A great and distant c— Deserted House 19
Thro' the open gates of the c afar, Dying Swan 34
Below the c's eastern towers: Fatima 9
Or in a clear-wall'd c on the sea, Palace of Art 97
When I and Eustace from the c went Gardener's D. 2 grew The fable of the c where we dwelt. „ 6
News from the humming c comes to it „ 35
O'er the mute c stole with folded wings, „ 186 in the dust and drouth Of c life! Edwin Morris 4 Beyond the lodge the c lies, Talking Oak 5 cities of men And manners, climates, Ulysses 13
I shaped The c's ancient legend into this:— Godiva 4
Mammon made The harlot of the cities: Aylmer's Field 375
A C clerk, but gently born and bred; Sea Dreams 1
There rose a shriek as of a c sack'd; Princess iv 165 we dash'd Your cities into shards with catapults, „ v 138 cross of gold That shines over c and river, Ode on Well. 50 when the long-illumined cities flame, „ 228 Flash, ye cities, in rivers of fire! W. to Alexandra 19 c Of little Monaco, basking, glow'd. The Daisy 7
the c glitter'd, Thro' cypress avenues, „ 47
Yet here to-night in this dark c, „ 95
The c sparkles like a grain of salt. Will 20 they rioted in the c of Cunobeline! Boädicea 60 Fell the colony, c, and citadel, „ 86
And oxen from the c, and goodly sheep Spec. of Iliad 4
City (continued) breathed his latest breath, That C. In Mem. xcviii 6
I come once more: the c sleeps; „ cxix 3 bubbles o'er like a c, with gossip, Maud I iv 8
For a tumult shakes the c, „ II iv 50 vapours choke The great c sounding wide; „ 64 paced a c all on fire With sun and cloth of gold, Com. of Arthur 479
At times the summit of the high c flash'd; Gareth and L. 192 the whole fair c had disappear'd. „ 196
Here is a c of Enchanters, „ 199
'Lord, there is no such c anywhere, „ 206
Out of the c a blast of music peal'd. „ 238
(Your c moved so weirdly in the mist) „ 245
there be any c at all, Or all a vision: „ 249 Fairy Queens have built the c, son; „ 259 hold The King a shadow, and the c real: „ 266 seeing the c is built To music, „ 276 a c of shadowy palaces And stately, „ 303 nay, the King's—Descend into the c:' „ 540 thro' silent faces rode Down the slope c, „ 735 Vivien, into Camelot stealing, lodged Low in the c, Merlin and V. 64 upon far-off cities while they dance— „ 114
He saw two cities in a thousand boats „ 561 heads should moulder on the c gates. „ 594 arisen since With cities on their flanks— „ 676 Past up the still rich c to his kin, Lancelot and E. 802 Far up the dim rich c to her kin; „ 845 thro' the dim rich c to the fields, „ 847 across the fields Far into the rich c, „ 891 crown thee king Far in the spiritual c:' Holy Grail 162 all the dim rich c, roof by roof, „ 228
And on the top, a c wall'd: „ 422
I past Far thro' a ruinous c, „ 429 crown me king Far in the spiritual c; „ 483
I saw the spiritual c and all her spires „ 526 from the star there shot A rose-red sparkle to the c, „ 530
But when ye reach'd The c, „ 708
O, when we reach'd The c, „ 716
And follow'd to the c. Pelleas and E. 586
Down the slope c rode, and sharply turn'd Last Tournament 127
And down the c Dagonet danced away; „ 359 and in it Far cities burnt, Guinevere 83 saw the King Ride toward her from the c, „ 404
As of some lonely c sack'd by night, Pass. of Arthur 43
Sounds, as if some fair c were one voice „ 460 the full c peal'd Thee and thy Prince! To the Queen ii 26
The c deck'd herself To meet me, Columbus 9 when a smoke from a c goes to heaven Achilles over the T. 7 men contend in grievous war From their own c, „ 10
The madness of our cities and their kings. Tiresias 71 from within The c comes a murmur void of joy, „ 101
All day long far-off in the cloud of the c, The Wreck 29
From out his ancient c came a Seer Ancient Sage 2
I am wearied of our c, son, „ 15
But some in yonder c hold, my son, „ 82 night enough is there In yon dark c: „ 253 storms Of Autumn swept across the c, Demeter and P. 71 North to gain Her capital c, The Ring 482 ruin, this little c of sewers, Happy 34
To the c and palace Of Arthur the king; Merlin and the G. 65 passing it glanced upon Hamlet or c, „ 104 BEAUTIFUL c, the centre and crater Beautiful City 1 at length he touch'd his goal, The Christian c. St. Telemachus 35 war dashing down upon cities and blazing farms, The Dawn 8 press of a thousand cities is prized „ 14
Than a rotten fleet and a c in flames! Riflemen, Form! 18
City-gate before the c-g's Came on her brother Lancelot and E. 790
City-gloom Droopt in the giant-factoried c-g, Sea Dreams 5
City-house this pretty house, this c-h of ours? City Child 7
City-roar a shout More joyful than the c-r that hails Premier or king! Princess, Con. 101
Civility But keep a touch of sweet c Geraint and E. 312
Civilisation Or an infant c be ruled with rod Maud I iv 47
Claäy (clay) hoickt my feet wi' a flop fro' the c. Spinster's S's. 30 it wur clatted all ower wi' c. „ 46

Clack'd-Clackt It clack'd and cackled louder. The Goose 24
The palace bang'd, and buzz'd and clackt, Day-Dm., Revival 14
Clad (See also Ivy-clad, Lady-clad, Vine-clad, Winter-clad) Or long-hair'd page in crimson c, L. of Shalott ii 22
She c herself in a russet gown, Lady Clare 57 looking hardly human, strangely c, Enoch Arden 638
c her like an April daffodilly Princess ii 324 Six hundred maidens c in purest white, ,, 472
c in iron burst the ranks of war, ,, iv 504
Mixt with myrtle and c with vine, The Islet 19 three were c like tillers of the soil. Gareth and L. 181 boat Become a living creature c with wings? Holy Grail 519 Leapt lightly c in bridal white— Lover's Tale iii 44 ere thy maiden birk be wholly c, Prog. of Spring 50 Claim (s) A thousand c's to reverence closed To the Queen 27 Smile at the c's of long descent. L. C. V. de Vere 52
she will not: waive your c: Princess v 296
To learn if Ida yet would cede our c, ,, 333 sware to combat for my c till death. ,, 360
With c on c from right to right, ,, 417
Nor did her father cease to press my c, ,, vii 87 asserts his c In that dread sound Ode on Well. 70
Attest their great commander's c ,, 148
From our first Charles by force we wrung our c's. Third of Feb. 26 Dispute the c's, arrange the chances; To F. D. Maurice 31
And each prefers his separate c, In Mem cii 18 crush'd in the clash of jarring c's, Maud III vi 44
Lays c to for the lady at his side, Marr. of Geraint 487
Who had a twofold c upon my heart, Lover's Tale i 210 their c to be thy peers; To Victor Hugo 6
I am bankrupt of all c On your obedience, Romney's R. 70 single star Should shriek its c Akbar's Dream 43 Claim (verb) Of sounder leaf than I can c; You might have won 4 in his walks with Edith, c A distant kinship Aylmer's Field 61 much that Ida c's as right Had ne'er been mooted, Princess v 202
Who but c's her as his due? Maud I xx 11
Came not to us, of us to c the prize, Lancelot and E. 544
Wilt spring to me, and c me thine, Guinevere 565 should this first master c His service, Lover's Tale iv 265
—one has come to c his bride, Locksley H., Sixty 263
I may c it without a lie. Bandit's Death 7
Claim'd So c the quest and rode away, Balin and Balan 138
Muriel c and open'd what I meant For Miriam, The Ring 242 Claiming c each This meed of fairest. Œnone 86 stood once more before her face, C her promise. Enoch Arden 458
Nay, but I am not c your pity: Despair 37
Clamber'd c half way up The counter side; Golden Year 6 narrow street that c toward the mill. Enoch Arden 60
I c o'er at top with pain, Princess iv 208 fall'n from off the crag we c up in play, The Flight 22
Clambering and c on a mast In harbour, Enoch Arden 105 vessel in mid-ocean, her heaved prow C, Lover's Tale ii 170
Clamour (s) And fill'd the house with c. The Goose 36
With peals of genial c sent Will Water. 187 and fill'd the shores With c. Enoch Arden 636 a herd of boys with c bowl'd and stump'd Princess, Pro. 81
To hear my father's c at our backs ,, i 105
A c thicken'd, mixt with inmost terms ,, ii 446 till a c grew As of a new-world Babel, ,, iv 486 trampling the flowers With c: ,, v 248
With blare of bugle, c of men, Ode on Well. 115
But that blind c made me wise; In Mem cxxiv 18
Far-off from the c of liars belied Maud I iv 51
C and rumble, and ringing and clatter, ,, II v 13 or like a c of the rooks At distance, Marr. of Geraint 249
And all the windy c of the daws Geraint and E. 255
Clamour (verb) and to c, mourn, and sob, St. S. Stylites 6
Yet cease I not to c and to cry, 42
Nor ever ceased to c for the ring; Th[illegible]ing 389 every splinter'd fraction of a sect Will c Akbar's Dream 34 Clamour'd 'Dead' c the good woman, Enoch Arden 840 and he c from a casement, 'Run' The Brook 85
'Take Lilia, then, for heroine,' c he, Princess, Pro. 223
Melissa c 'Flee the death;' iv 166
And while the people c for a king Com. of Arthur 235
Clamour'd (continued) I ask you, is it c by the child, Merlin and V. 771 Clamouring c, 'If we pay, we starve!' Godiva 15 c etiquette to death, Unmeasured mirth; Princess v 17 but c out 'Mine—mine—not yours, ,, vi 140
c on, till Ida heard, Look'd up, ,, 150 pulses at the c of her enemy fainted Boadicea 82
the damsel c all the while, Gareth and L. 1134 Clan beyond the passions of the primal c? Locksley H., Sixty 93
Clang (s) overhead Begins the clash and c In Mem., Con. 61
Clang (verb) An eagle c an eagle to the sphere. Princess iii 106 wildswan in among the stars Would c it, ,, iv 435
the wood which grides and c's In Mem. cvii 11
C battleaxe, and clash brand! (repeat) Com. of Arthur 493, 496, 499 ring thy name To every hoof that c's it, Tiresias 138 Clang'd left and right The bare black cliff c round him, M. d'Arthur 188
knell to my desires, C on the bridge; Princess iv 175 left and right The bare black cliff c round him, Pass. of Arthur 356 again the bells Jangled and c: Lover's Tale iii 53
Clanging (See also Iron-Clanging) you hear The windy c of the minster clock; Gardener's D. 38
Clap (s) Dead c's of thunder from within Sea Dreams 55 stammering cracks and c's that follow'd, Merlin and V. 942 Clap (verb) C's her tiny hands above me, Lilian 4 crested bird That c's his wings at dawn. D. of F. Women 180
c their cheeks, to call them mine. In Mem. lxxxiv 18
The starling c's his tiny castanets. Prog. of Spring 56
Clapper Than in a c clapping in a garth, Princess ii 227
Clapping Laughing and c their hands between, The Merman 29
Than in a clapper c in a garth, Princess ii 227 all within was noise Of songs, and c hands, In Mem. lxxxvii 19 from distant walls There came a c as of phantom hands. Marr. of Geraint 566 Clapt and c her hands and cried, 'I marvel Palace of Art 189
c his hand On Everard's shoulder, The Epic 21 c him on the hands and on the cheeks, Dora 133
c his hand in mine and sang— Audley Court 39
And feet that ran, and doors that c, Day-Dm., Revival 3 c her hands and cried for war, Princess iv 590 Lancelot'—and she c her hands— Gareth and L. 1290 mused a little, and then c her hands Merlin and V. 866
Dagonet c his hands and shrill'd, Last Tournament 353
Sa I han't c eyes on 'im yit, Village Wife 123
I c my hands. Happy 83
Clara Vere de Vere (See also Vere de Vere) LADY C V d V, (repeat) L. C. V. de Vere 1, 9, 17, 25, 33, 41
Trust me, C V d V, L. C. V. de Vere 49
I know you, C V d V ,, 57
C, C V d V, ,, 65
Clare To give his cousin, Lady C. Lady Clare 4
And that is well,' said Lady C. ,, 12
'It was my cousin,' said Lady C, ,, 15
And you are not the Lady C.' ,, 20
Said Lady C, 'that ye speak so wild?' ,, 22
She was no longer Lady C: ,, 58
Lady C, you shame your worth! ,, 66 beggar born,' she said, 'And not the Lady C.' ,, 72
And you shall still be Lady C.' ,, 88
Clariance Claudias, and C of Northumberland, Com. of Arthur 113
Claribel Where C low-lieth (repeat) Claribel 1, 8, 21
Clarion shouts, and c's shrilling unto blood, Com. of Arthur 103
Clash (s) I heard the c so clearly. Sea Dreams 136
Roll of cannon and c of arms, Ode on Well. 116 overhead Begins the c and clang In Mem., Con. 61 crush'd in the c of jarring claims, Maud III vi 44 Shield-breakings, and the c of brands, Last. of Arthur 109 long loud c of rapid marriage-bells. Lover's Tale iii 23 by their c, And prelude on the keys, Sisters (E. and E.) 1
And the c and boom of the bells V. of Maeldune 110 reasons had He to be glad of The c of the war-glaive— Batt. of Brunanburh 78 brightens at the c of 'Yes' and 'No,' Ancient Sage 71 struck from out the c of warring wills; Prog. of Spring 95 hear The c of tides that meet in narrow seas.— Akbar's Dream 58 and your fiery c of meteorites? God and the Univ. 3 Clash (verb) Fly on to c together again, Lucretius 41

Clash (verb) (continued) O hard, when love and duty c ! Princess ii 293 but you c them all in one, ,, v 180
C, ye bells, in the merry March air ! W. to Alexandra 18
C the darts and on the buckler Boadicea 79
Clang battleaxe, and c brand ! (repeat) Com. of Arthur 493, 496, 499
C like the coming and retiring wave, Gareth and L. 522 each would c the shield, and blow the horn. Last Tournament 436 at her girdle c The golden keys To Marq. of Dufferin 3 where the loyal bells C welcome— The Ring 483
And I c with an iron Truth, The Dreamer 6
Clash'd Dry c his harness in the icy caves M. d'Arthur 186 from them c The bells ; we listen'd ; Gardener's D. 220 shameless noon Was c and hammer'd Godiva 75 Touch'd, clink'd, and c, and vanish'd, Sea Dreams 135 and one, that c in arms, Princess v 5 they c their arms ; the drum Beat ; ,, 250 he C His iron palms together with a cry ; ,, 353 all silent, save When armour c or jingled, ,, vi 363
C with his fiery few and won ; Ode on Well. 100
As the music c in the hall ; Maud I xxii 34 his arms C ; and the sound was good Gareth and L. 312 Sir Gareth's brand C his, and brake it utterly ,, 1148 thrice They c together, and thrice they brake their spears. Marr. of Geraint 562 they sat, And cup c cup ; Balin and Balan 85 when they c, Rolling back upon Balin, ,, 561
table of our Arthur closed And c Holy Grail 330
And c with Pagan hordes, and bore them down ,, 479 meadow-grass Borne, c : Pelleas and E. 562 Dry c his harness in the icy caves Pass. of Arthur 354 slowly-ridging rollers on the cliffs C, Lover's Tale i 58
Two trains c : then and there he was crush'd Charity 21
Clashing (See also Iron-clashing) there were cries and c's in the nest, Gareth and L. 70
Enid heard the c of his fall, Geraint and E. 509
With all her golden thresholds c, Lover's Tale i 605 butted each other with c of bells, V. of Maeldune 108 Clasp (fastening) Buckled with golden c's before ; Sir L. and Q. G. 25
Clasp (embrace) In glance and smile, and c and kiss, In Mem. lxxxiv 7
Clasp (verb) I'd c it round so close and tight. Miller's D. 180
He c's the crag with crooked hands ; The Eagle 1 but everywhere Some must c Idols. Supp. Confessions 179
c These idols to herself ? Lucretius 164
c it once again, And call her Ida, Princess vii 95
C her window, trail and twine ! Window. At the W. 2
Trail and twine and c and kiss, ,, 4
Let Love c Grief lest both be drown'd, In Mem. i 9
Some landing-place, to c and say, ,, xlvii 15
Thy passion c's a secret joy : ,, lxxxviii 8 and c the hands and murmur, Locksley H., Sixty 192
Ah, c me in your arms, sister, The Flight 5
Clasp'd-Claspt (See also Ivy-claspt) claspt hand-in-hand with thee, If I were loved 9
Die, dying claspt'd in his embrace. Fatima 42
I saw her, who claspt'd in her last trance D. of F. Women 266
Are claspt'd the moral of thy life, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 55
But he claspt'd her like a lover, L. of Burleigh 67
Claspt hands and that petitionary grace The Brook 112 fell on him, Claspt'd, kiss'd him, wail'd : Lucretius 280
That claspt the feet of a Mnemosyne, Princess iv 269 in hands so lately claspt with yours, ,, vi 184
But he turn'd and claspt me in his arms, Grandmother 55
Claspt on her seal, my sweet ! Window. The Answer 2
A hand that can be claspt'd no more— In Mem. vii 5
And hands so often claspt'd in mine, ,, x 19
Of comfort claspt'd in truth reveal'd ; ,, xxxvii 22 land Where first he walk'd when claspt in clay ? ,, xciii 4
He is claspt by a passion-flower. Maud I xiv 8 ivy-stems Claspt the gray walls with hairy-fibred arms, Marr. of Geraint 323 claspt and kiss'd her, and they rode away. ,, 825 flinging round her neck, Claspt it, Last Tournament 750
but I claspt'd her without fear : Lover's Tale ii 202
And claspt her hand in his : ,, iii 52

Clasp'd-Claspt (continued) round him closed and claspt again. Lover's Tale iv 378 she that claspt'd my neck had flown ; Locksley H., Sixty 15
Here we stood and claspt each other, ,, 180
Who might have chased and claspt Renown To Marq. of Dufferin 29
You claspt our infant daughter, Romney's R. 77
Clasping That round me, c each in each, Talking Oak 143
I, c brother-hands, aver I could not, In Mem. lxxxv 102
Claspt See Clasp'd
Class Of Knowledge fusing c with c, Freedom 17
Clat (mess) But wa boäth was i' sich a c Spinster's S's. 33 their mucky bibs, an' the c's an' the clouts, ,, 87 Clatted (soiled) it wur c all ower wi' claäy. ,, 46
Clatter With cackle and with c. The Goose 12
Clamour and rumble, and ringing and c, Maud II v 13 and a c of hail on the glass, In the Child. Hosp. 62
c of arms, and voices, and men passing Bandit's Death 24
Claudias Urien, Cradlemont of Wales, C, Com. of Arthur 113
Claum (climb) I c's an' I mashes the winder hin, Owd Roä 83
Claumb'd (climbed) I c up ageän to the winder, ,, 99
Clause lead my Memmius in a train Of flowery c's the little c 'take not his life : ' Lucretius 120
Princess v 470
Clave loved one only and who c to her—' Ded. of Idylls 11 c Like its own mists to all the mountain side ; Lancelot and E. 37 and all his kith and kin C to him, Guinevere 440
c To Modred, and a remnant stays with me. ,, 442 Claw Nature, red in tooth and c With ravine, In Mem. lvi 15 miss'd, and brought Her own c back, Merlin and V. 500 what evil beast Hath drawn his c's Last Tournament 63 Naäy, but the c's o' tha ! quiet ! Spinster's S's. 36
mun be fools to be hallus a-shawin' your c's, ,, 61
Clay (See also Claäy) grave Was deep, my mother, in the c ? Supp. Confessions 86
They should have trod me into c, Oriana 62
And on my c her darnel grow ; My life is full 22 Doing dishonour to my c.' Two Voices 102 common c ta'en from the common earth To—— With Pal. of Art. 17 growing coarse to sympathize with c. Locksley Hall 46
And the leaf is stamp'd in c. Vision of Sin 82
Rose from the c it work'd in as she past, Aylmer's Field 170
He shall not blind his soul with c.' Princess vii 331 Half-conscious of their dying c, In Mem. lviii 7 land Where first he walk'd when claspt in c ? ,, xciii 4
Not only cunning casts in c : ,, cxx 5 judge all nature from her feet of c, Merlin and V. 835 death, that seems to make us loveless c, Lancelot and E. 1014
From the same c came into light Lover's Tale i 194 make And break the vase of c, Ancient Sage 92 Claymore C and snowshoe, toys in lava, Princess, Pro. 18
Clean (See also Cleän) As c and white as privet when it flowers. Walk. to the Mail 56 whole, and c, and meet for Heaven, St. S. Stylites 213 will never make oneself c. Grandmother 36 make all c, and plant himself afresh. Geraint and E. 905 keep him bright and c as heretofore, ,, 937
As c as blood of babes, as white as milk : Merlin and V. 344
I decreed That even the dog was c, Akbar's Dream 53
Cleän c as a flower fro' 'eäd to feeät : North. Cobbler 44 an' I keeäps 'im c an' bright, ,, 97 but the cat mun be c. Spinster's S's. 34 es c Es a shillin' fresh fro' the mint ,, 75
An' thy farmin' es c es thysen,' ,, 77
Clean-cut There were some for the c-c stone, V. of Maeldune 112
Cleaner house with all its hateful needs no c than the beast, Happy 32
Cleaner-fashion'd fork of thine Is c-f— Merlin and V. 60
Cleaning See A-cleanin'
Cleanse working out his will, To c the world. Gareth and L. 25 c this common sewer of all his realm, Marr. of Geraint 39 c this common sewer of all my realm, Geraint and E. 895
Cleansed broke the bandit holds and c the land. ,, 944
Cleanser saved a life Worth somewhat as the c of this wood. Gareth and L. 828
Cleän-wud (clean-mad) An' I thowt as 'e'd goan c-w, Owd Roä 61 Clear (adj.) (See also Silver-clear, Starry-clear) C, without heat, undying, Isabel 3

Clear (adj.) (continued) With chisell'd features c and sleek. A Character 30
C and bright it should be ever, Poet's Mind 5
Bright as light, and c as wind. ,, 7 so c and bold and free As you, Rosalind 17
C as the twanging of a harp, Kate 8
So healthy, sound, and c and whole, Miller's D. 15
Make Thou my spirit pure and c St. Agnes' Eve 9
O hark, O hear! how thin and c, Princess iv 7 nobbut a curate, an' weänt niver git hissen c, N. Farmer, N. S. 27
I feel so free and so c Maud I xix 98 world Was all so c about him, that he saw Com. of Arthur 98
C as a lark, high o'er me as a lark, Holy Grail 833
Name, surname, all as c as noon, The Ring 237 a faith as c as the heights of the June-blue heaven, June-Bracken, etc. 7 Clear (adv.) came A bitter wind, c from the North, Pass. of Arthur 124
That sings so delicately c, Marr. of Geraint 332 long es she lived she kep 'em all c, Village Wife 53 Clear (verb) Better to c prime forests, Princess iii 127
Will c away the parasitic forms ,, vii 269 balm May c the blood from poison, Death of Œnone 36 Clear-cut But a cold and c-c face, Maud I ii 3
Cold and c-c face, why come you so cruelly meek, ,, iii 1
Clear'd And a whirlwind c the larder: The Goose 52 flash of semi-jealousy c it to her. Aylmer's Field 189 moving everywhere C the dark places Geraint and E. 943
She c her sight, she arose, Dead Prophet 31
Clearer like a light that grows Larger and c, Œnone 109
The fires are all the c, Window. Winter 16 every turn and depth Between is c in my life Lover's Tale i 149 Clearest Yet c of ambitious crime, Ode on Well. 28
Clear-faced Until they found the c-f King, Lancelot and E. 432
Clear-featured that c-f face Was lovely, ,, 1159
Clear-headed C-h friend, whose joyful scorn, Clear-headed friend 1
Clearness 'are like the rest; No certain c, Two Voices 335
The starry c of the free? In Mem. lxxxv 86
The critic c of an eye, ,, cix 3 c of his fame hath gone Beneath the shadow Lover's Tale i 789 no shade of doubt, But utter c, Ancient Sage 236 Clear-pointed fed With the c-p flame of chastity, Isabel 2
Clear-stemm'd c-s platans guard The outlet, Arabian Nights 23
Clear-voiced The c-v mavis dwelleth, Claribel 16
Clear-wall'd Or in a c-w city on the sea, Palace of Art 97
Cleave (to adhere) love thee well and c to thee, Œnone 160
'The man will c unto his right.' Lady Clare 46
C to your contract: Princess iv 409
if I fall, c to the better man.' Geraint and E. 152
To love one maiden only, c to her, Guinevere 475
The shadow of another c's to me, ,, 618 c's to cairn and cromlech still; To the Queen ii 41
The lecher would c to his lusts, Despair 100
C ever to the sunnier side of doubt, Ancient Sage 68
C to one another still? Open. I and C. Exhib. 34
Cleave (to divide) Clear Love would pierce and c, If I were loved 6 ill-used race of men that c the soil, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 120
To c the rift of difference deeper yet; Princess v 301
When mighty Love would c in twain In Mem. xxv 10 master-bowman, he, Would c the mark. ,, lxxxvii 30
To c a creed in sects and cries, ,, cxxviii 15 and so ye c His armour off him, Gareth and L. 1094
May this hard earth c to the Nadir hell Merlin and V. 349 Cleaved (For I c to a cause that I felt Maud III vi 31 ever like a loyal sister c To Arthur, Com. of Arthur 191 some she c to, but they died of her. Gareth and L. 113
So to this king I c: my friend was he, Sir J. Oldcastle 61
Cleaving The fruitful wit C, took root, The Poet 21
Cleft (s) (See also Mountain-cleft) Far-off the torrent call'd me from the c: Œnone 54 thro' mountain c's the dale Was seen Lotos-Eaters 20 every coppice-feather'd chasm and c, Princess iv 23 gather'd trickling dropwise from the c, Merlin and V. 274 little elves of chasm and c Made answer, Guinevere 248 saw The c's and openings in the mountains Lover's Tale i 330 Cleft (verb) He c me thro' the stomacher; Princess ii 407 spire of land that stands apart C from the main, ,, iv 282
Cleft (verb) (continued) Has risen and c the soil, and grown a bulk Princess vi 35
Which c and c again for evermore, Ancient Sage 43
Clelia C, Cornelia, with the Palmyrene Princess ii 83
Clematis O'erflourish'd with the hoary c: Golden Year 63 among the meadows, the clover and the c, City Child 9 Rose, rose and c, (repeat) Window. At the W. 3, 10 and the dark-blue c, clung, V. of Maeldune 39 Clemm'd (clutched) an' c owd Roä by the 'eäd, Owd Roä 99
Clench those, who c their nerves to rush Love and Duty 77
Clench'd (See also Half-clench'd) taunt that c his purpose like a blow! Princess v 306
c her fingers till they bit the palm, Lancelot and E. 611
c His hands, and madden'd with himself Pelleas and E. 459
Muriel c The hand that wore it, The Ring 261
Cleopatra-like C-l as of old To entangle me Maud I vi 27
Clergyman that good man, the c, has told me words of peace, May Queen, Con. 12
Clerk (See also Parish-clerks) worn-out c Browbeats his desk below. To J. M. K. 11 now we left The c behind us, I and he, Edwin Morris 97
That was a God, and is a lawyer's c, ,, 102
A CITY c, but gently born and bred; Sea Dreams 1 mitre-sanction'd harlot draws his c's Into the suburb— Sir J. Oldcastle 106 Cletch (brood of chickens) But Nelly, the last of the c, Village Wife 9
Cleverness not for all Aspasia's c, Princess ii 344
Click merry milkmaids c the latch, The Owl I 8
C with the pick, coming nearer Def. of Lucknow 28
Cliff (See also Sea-cliff, Shore-cliff) light upon the wall Of purple c's, Ode to Memory 54 mountain-shade Sloped downward to her seat from the upper c. Œnone 22 Along the c to fall and pause and fall Lotos-Eaters 9 bare black c clang'd round him, M. d'Arthur 188 Upon the c's that guard my native land, Audley Court 49 girt the region with high c and lawn: Vision of Sin 47 lines of c breaking have left a chasm: Enoch Arden 1
A narrow cave ran in beneath the c: ,, 23 sand and c and deep-inrunning cave, Sea Dreams 17 on sand they walk'd, and now on c, ,, 37 claps of thunder from within the c's ,, 55 enter'd one Of those dark caves that run beneath the c's. ,, 90 on those c's Broke, mixt with awful light ,, 214 those lines of c's were c's no more, ,, 217
we wound About the c's, the copses, Princess iii 360
O sweet and far from c and scar ,, iv 9
A stroke of cruel sunshine on the c, ,, 524
On capes of Afric as on c's of Kent, W. to Marie Alex. 17
And leave the c's, and haste away In Mem. xii 8
From scarped c and quarried stone ,, lvi 2 like a crag that tumbles from the c, Marr. of Geraint 318 Between the steep c and the coming wave; Guinevere 280 as a stream that spouting from a c Fails ,, 608 left and right The bare black c clang'd round him, Pass. of Arthur 356 HERE far away, seen from the topmast c, Lover's Tale i 1 slowly-ridging rollers on the c's Clash'd, ,, 57 the red-passion-flower to the c's, V. of Maeldune 39 all round from the c's and the capes, ,, 55
And c's all robed in lianas that dropt The Wreck 73 blanch into spray At the feet of the c; ,, 138
I climb'd on all the c's of all the seas, Demeter and P. 63
Cliff-side broken rocks On some c-s, Lancelot and E. 1253
Climate manners, c's, councils, governments, Ulysses 14
Climax and he: 'The c of his age! Princess ii 50
Climb (See also Claum) Where he was wont to leap and c, Supp. Confessions 165
'Cry, faint not, c: the summits slope Two Voices 184 could she c Beyond her own material prime? ,, 377
You seem'd to hear them c and fall Palace of Art 70
'will you c the top of Art. Gardener's D. 169 long day wanes: the slow moon c's; Ulysses 55
I leave the plain, I c the height; Sir Galahad, 57 street c's to one tall-tower'd mill; Enoch Arden 5

Climb (continued) stairs That c into the windy halls of heaven: Lucretius 136 but we Set forth to c; Princess iii 354 as one that c's a peak to gaze O'er land and main, ,, vii 35
Be near us when we c or fall: In Mem. li 13
C thy thick noon, disastrous day; ,, lxxii 26
I c the hill: from end to end ,, c 1
I could c and lay my hand upon it, Gareth and L. 50
'C not lest thou break thy neck, ,, 54 felt the knot C in her throat, Lancelot and E. 741 C's to the mighty hall that Merlin built. Holy Grail 231
'There rose a hill that none but man could c, ,, 489 in a dream I seem'd to c For ever: ,, 836
I would not or I could not c— Guinevere 644 clomb Ev'n to the highest he could c, Pass of Arthur 463
C first and reach me down thy hand. Sir J. Oldcastle 204 sister of the sun Would c from out the dark, Tiresias 31
And c the Mount of Blessing, Ancient Sage 280 wounded warrior c's from Troy to thee. Death of Œnone 39
if ever a woman should c to the dwelling Kapiolani 22

Climb'd (See also Claumb'd) They c as quickly, for the rim Changed The Voyage 27 as he c the hill, Just where the prone edge Enoch Arden 66
he had c across the spikes, Princess, Pro. 111
we c The slope to Vivian-place, ,, Con. 39
I c to the top of the garth, Grandmother 38
I c the roofs at break of day; Daisy 61
And thither I c at dawn Maud I xiv 5
I have c nearer out of lonely Hell. ,, xviii 80 sweet son, had risk'd himself and c, Gareth and L. 60
And c upon a fair and even ridge, Marr. of Geraint 239
Guinevere had c The giant tower, ,, 826 on his foot She set her own and c; Geraint and E. 760
For one from out his village lately c Balin and Balan 167
c That eastern tower, and entering barr'd Lancelot and E. 14
Then to her tower she c, ,, 397
I c a thousand steps With pain: Holy Grail 835 came Arthur home, and while he c, Last Tournament 755
C to the high top of the garden-wall Guinevere 25 cheeks as bright as when she c the hill. Lover's Tale iii 47 heard a groaning overhead, and c The moulder'd stairs ,, iv 136
c one step beyond Our village Ancient Sage 206
I c on all the cliffs of all the seas, Demeter and P. 63
I c the hill with Hubert yesterday, The Ring 152
I have c to the snows of Age, By an Evolution. 17
c from the dens in the levels below, The Dawn 17

Climbing In ever c up the c wave? Lotos-Eater's, C. S. 50
And ever c higher; D. of F. Women 32
And c up into my airy home, St. S. Stylites 217 valleys underneath Came little copses c. Amphion 32
A lily-avenue c to the doors; Aylmer's Field 162
Was c up the valley; at whom he shot: ,, 228 then, c, Cyril kept With Psyche, Princess iii 354 turn'd his face And kiss'd her c, Geraint and E. 761 Cried to me c, 'Welcome, Percivale! Holy Grail 425 over all the great wood rioting And c, Lover's Tale i 404 set me c icy capes And glaciers, To E. Fitzgerald 25 Pallas Athene c from the bath In anger; Tiresias 40 Evolution ever c after some ideal good, Locksley H., Sixty 199 saw Him, c toward her with the golden Death of Œnone 15

Climbing (s) Maud with her venturous c's Maud I i 69

Clime The poet in a golden c was born, The Poet 1 thro' mine ears in that unblissful c, D. of F. Women 82 Put forth and feel a gladder c.' On a Mourner 15
—what to me were sun or c? Locksley Hall 177
In divers seasons, divers c's; Day-Dm., L'Envoi 18
O hundred shores of happy c's, The Voyage 49
Again to colder c's we came, ,, 89 on the tables every c and age a Jumbled together; Princess, Pro. 16
For many a time in many a c Ode on Well. 64
And led him through the blissful c's, In Mem. lxxxv 25 who throve and branch'd from c to c, ,, cxviii 13 blown by the breeze of a softer c, Maud I iv 4 prayer of many a race and creed, and c— To the Queen ii 11

Clime (continued) arrowing light from c to c, Akbar's D., Hymn 5

Cling As close as might be would he c Talking Oak 127
They c together in the ghastly sack— Aylmer's Field 764
'My mother c's about my neck, Sailor Boy 17 flower that c's To the turrets and the walls; Maud II iv 33 all night long a cloud c's to the hill, Geraint and E. 691 voice c's to each blade of grass, Lancelot and E. 107 glory c To all high places like a golden cloud Pass. of Arthur 53
I c to the Catholic Cross once more, The Wreck 3 c to Faith beyond the forms of Faith! Ancient Sage 69
Who c's to earth, and once would dare ,, 115
That we might c together, Happy 92

Clinging Not c to some ancient saw; Love thou thy land 29
Unshaken, c to her purpose, Princess v 344 necks Of dragons c to the crazy walls, Holy Grail 347
C to the silent mother! Locksley H., Sixty 99

Clink (s) the tinsel c of compliment. Princess ii 55

Clink (verb) Thou hear'st the village hammer c, In Mem. cxxi 15

Clink'd Touch'd, c, and clash'd and vanish'd, Sea Dreams 135

Clinking Hammering and c, chattering stony names Princess iii 361

Clinkt blade flew Splintering in six, and c upon the stones. Balin and Balan 396

Clip And c your wings, and make you love: Rosalind 45
Tho' fortune c my wings, Will Water. 50

Clipt They read in arbours c and cut, Amphion 85 from her baby's forehead c A tiny curl, and gave it: Enoch Arden 235 many thousand days Were c by horror Aylmer's Field 603 Or keeps his wing'd affections c with crime: Princess vii 316 had c free manhood from the world— Last Tournament 446 a scrap, c out of the 'deaths' in a paper, fell. The Wreck 146

Cloak (s) And the red c's of market girls, L. of Shalott ii 17
Pitiful sight, wrapp'd in a soldier's c, Princess v 56 raised the c from brows as pale and smooth ,, 73
Wrapt in a c, as I saw him, Maud I i 59
Sir Gareth loosed A c that dropt Gareth and L. 682 wrapping her all over with the c He came in, Lover's Tale iv 86

Cloak (verb) wife-worship c's a secret shame? Balin and Balan 360 c's the scar of some repulse with lies; Merlin and V. 818

Cloak'd The Shadow c from head to foot, In Mem. xxiii 4

Cloäths (clothes) Sally she wesh'd foälks' c North. Cobbler 29
Look at the c on 'er back, ,, 109

Cloäthes (clothes) an' a-buyin' new c, Village Wife 37

Clock The slow c ticking, and the sound Mariana 74
The windy clanging of the minster c; Gardener's D. 38
The heavy c's knolling the drowsy hours. ,, 184
There rose a noise of striking c's, Day-Dm., Revival 2 speak for noise Of c's and chimes, Princess i 216 the dark, when c's Throbb'd thunder ,, vii 103
c Beats out the little lives of men. In Mem. ii 7
And hark the c within, Maud I xviii 64 lights the c! the hand points five— The Flight 94

Clock-work little c-w steamer paddling plied Princess, Pro. 71

Clod before the heavy c Weighs on me, Supp. Confessions 184 and the c, Less dull than thou, Gareth and L. 1391

Clog (s) A c of lead was round my feet, The Letters 5
To lighten this great c of thanks, Princess vi 126

Clog (verb) fulsome Pleasure c him, and drown Maud I xvi 4

Cloister (See also Crag-cloister) row Of c's, branch'd like mighty woods, Palace of Art 26 while our c's echo'd frosty feet, Princess, Pro. 183 world-old yew-tree, darkening half The c's, Holy Grail 14
Walk your dim c, and distribute dole Guinevere 683
Sometimes I frequent the Christian c, Akbar's D., Inscrip. 5

Clomb Imprisoning sweets, which, as they c Arabian Nights 40
C to the roofs, and gazed alone for hours Princess vii 32 neither c, nor brake his neck, Gareth and L. 56
And glad was I and c, but found at top Holy Grail 427 turn'd and slowly c The last hard footstep Pass. of Arthur 446
c Ev'n to the highest he could climb, ,, 462
C the mountain, and flung the bierries, Kapiolani 6

Close (an enclosure) I broke a c with force and arms: Edwin Morris 131
I lay Pent in a roofless c of ragged stones; S. St. Stylites 74
Are wither'd in the thorny c, Day-Dm., Arrival 11

Close (an end) sweet c of his delicious toils— Palace of Art 185

Close (an end) (continued) The c, 'Your Letty, only yours;' Edwin Morris 106
Of love that never found his earthly c, Love and Duty 1
Death dawning on him, and the c of all. Enoch Arden 832
At c of day; slept, woke, and went the next, Sea Dreams 18
Then comes the c.' ,, 29 and the bitter c of all, Princess vi 117 drove us, last to quite a solemn c— ,, Con. 17 all, they said, as earnest as the c? ,, 21
Such a war had such a c. Ode on Well. 118
HERE; it is here, the c of the year, Spiteful Letter 1
Here is the golden c of love, Window. Marr. Morn. 3
To such a stern and iron-clashing c, Merlin and V. 419
Perchance, because we see not to the c;— Pass. of Arthur 21
Restrain'd himself quite to the c— Lover's Tale iv 10
Laud me not Before my time, but hear me to the c. ,, 243
My c of earth's experience May prove Tiresias 216 gloom of the evening, Life at a c; Vastness 15 were alone in the dell at the c of the day. Bandit's Death 19

Close (adj. and adv.) order'd all Almost as neat and c Enoch Arden 178 princedom lay C on the borders of a territory, Marr. of Geraint 33
So c are we, dear Mary, To Mary Boyle 59 but c to me to-day As this red rose, Roses on the T. 6
I was c on that hour of dishonour, Charity 28
my hot lips prest C, c to thine Œnone 204
I never can be c with her, Balin and Balan 186
c upon it peal'd A sharp quick thunder.' Holy Grail 695
C beneath the casement crimson Locksley H., Sixty 34 they stood So c together. The Ring 258
Now wraps her c, now arching leaves her bare Prog. of Spring 12

Close (verb) C the door, the shutters c, Deserted House 9 breathe it into earth and c it up Wan Sculptor 12
In love with thee forgets to c His curtains, Adeline 42
C up his eyes: tie up his chin: D. of the O. Year 48
With one wide Will that c's thine. On a Mourner 20
To c the interests of all. Love thou thy land 36
And this be true, till Time shall c, 79
Death c's all: but something ere the end, ,, Ulysses 51 till he heard the ponderous door C, Aylmer's Field 338 to c with Cyril's random wish: Princess iii 101 hearts So gentle, so employ'd, should c in love, ,, vii 67 before his journey c's, He shall find Ode on Well. 205 and the daisy c Her crimson fringes In Mem. lxxii 11
Until we c with all we loved, ,, cxxxi 11
'O dewy flowers that c when day is done, Gareth and L. 1067
To c with her lord's pleasure; Geraint and E. 214
—so that fate and craft and folly c, Merlin and V. 57 Down, down, and c again, and nip me flat, ,, 350 and c the hand Upon it; Lancelot and E. 1114 but he that c's both Is perfect, he is Lancelot— Last Tournament 708
And who shall escape if they c? Heavy Brigade 16
Both the days Now c in one. The Ring 79 closed her eyes, which would not c, ,, 299 Caught by the flower that c's on the fly, ,, 344 his fresh life may c as it began, Prog. of Spring 89

Close-bower'd Sir Balin sat C-b in that garden Balin and Balan 241

Close-button'd turned once more, c-b to the storm; Edwin Morris 136

Closed (See also Half-closed) A thousand claims to reverence c To the Queen 27
I c mine eyelids, lest the gems M. d'Arthur 152 all grace Summ'd up and c in little;— Gardener's D. 13
She turn'd, we c, we kiss'd, Edwin Morris 114
I had hoped that ere this period c St. S. Stylites 17 for the promise that it c: Locksley Hall 14
C in a golden ring. Sir L. and Q. G. 27 she c the Book and slept: Enoch Arden 499 when she c 'Enoch, poor man, was cast away ,, 712
Crept to the gate, and open'd it, and c, ,, 775
Until they c a bargain, hand in hand. The Brook 156
c her access to the wealthier farms, Aylmer's Field 503 fain had she c them now, ,, 805
c by those who mourn a friend in vain, Lucretius 142
And thus our conference c. Princess ii 367 until they c In conflict with the crash ,, 490 darkness c me; and I fell. ,, 542

Closed (continued) My spirit c with Ida's at the lips; Princess vii 158
So c our tale, of which I give you all ,, Con. 1 the gates were c At sunset, ,, 36 few words and pithy, such as a c Welcome, farewell, ,, 94 where warm hands have prest and c, In Mem. xiii 7 such as c Grave doubts and answers ,, xlviii 2 whose dying eyes Were c with wail, ,, xc 6 pulses c their gates with a shock Maud I i 15 gates of Heaven are c, and she is gone. ,, xviii 12 now by this my love has c her sight ,, 67
C in her castle from the sound of arms. Gareth and L 163
But when they c—in a moment— ,, 1222
Dash'd on Geraint, who c with him, Geraint and E. 462 while he spoke C his death-drowsing eyes, Balin and Balan 631
C in the four walls of a hollow tower, (repeat) Merlin and V. 209, 543 and the thicket c Behind her, ,, 973
And c the hand upon it, and she died. Lancelot and E. 1135 great table of our Arthur c And clash'd Holy Grail 329 and then a fawn; and his eyes c. Pelleas and E. 39
Drew back a space, and when they c, ,, 573
'O c about by narrowing nunnery-walls, Guinevere 342
On the waste sand by the waste sea they c. Pass. of Arthur 92
'Sir King, I c mine eyelids, lest the gems ,, 320
Ideal manhood c in real man, To the Queen ii 38 round him c and clasped again. Lover's Tale iv 378
I c my heart to the gloom; The Wreck 38
If utter darkness c the day, Ancient Sage 199
c her eyes, which would not close, The Ring 299 Clouds and darkness C upon Camelot; Merlin and the G. 76 kiss'd his hand, another c his eyes, Death of Œnone 58

Close-latticed C-l to the brooding heat, Mariana in the S. 3

Close-lapt c-l in silken folds, Lover's Tale i 153

Closelier once mine, now thine, is c mine, Merlin and V. 446

Close-matted a wall of green C-m, Day-Dm., Sleep P. 46

Closeness such a c, but apart there grew, Holy Grail 884

Closer C is He than breathing, High. Pantheism 12
But thou art c to this noble prince, Com. of Arthur 314
C on the Sun, perhaps a world Locksley H., Sixty 184

Close-set wore A c-s robe of jasmine Aylmer's Field 158
Betwixt the c-s ivies came a broad Lover's Tale ii 172

Closet not to myself in the c alone, Maud II v 49

Closeted (See also Long-closeted) with that woman c for hours!' Princess iii 56

Closing (part) There—c like an individual life— Love and Duty 79
And c eaves of wearied eyes In Mem. lxvii 11
As c in himself the strength of ten, Gareth and L. 1339
c round him thro' the journey home, Pelleas and E. 202

Closing (s) And at the c of the day L. of Shalott iv 15

Clot Is a c of warmer dust, Vision of Sin 113

Cloth (See also Altar-cloth, Cloth of Gold, Face-cloth) a c of palest gold, Which down he laid Gareth and L. 389 Arthur cried to rend the c, (repeat) ,, 400, 418 we should lap him up in c of lead, ,, 430
c of roughest web, and cast it down, ,, 683 sparkle of a c On fern and foxglove. Sisters (E. and E.) 117
What have I here in the c? Bandit's Death 8

Clothe That c the wold and meet the sky; L. of Shalott i 3
O, the child too c's the father Locksley Hall 91 C's and reclothes the happy plains, Day-Dm., Sleep P. 2 often toil'd to c your little ones; Aylmer's Field 699 lingereth she to c her heart with love, Princess iv 105 tender ash delays To c herself, ,, 107
Will c her for her bridals like the sun.' Marr. of Geraint 231
So c yourself in this, that better fits ,, 717
Herself would c her like the sun in Heaven. ,, 784
In this poor gown he bad me c myself, Geraint and E. 702
'And lo, I c myself with wisdom, Merlin and V. 255 her love did c itself in smiles About his lips! Lover's Tale i 658 earth-baldness c's itself afresh, Demeter and P. 49

Clothed river-sunder'd champaign c with corn, Œnone 114
C in white samite, mystic, wonderful, (repeat) M. d'Arthur 31, 144, 159 ridge to ridge, C with his breath, ,, 182
she rode forth, c on with chastity: Godiva 53

Clothed (continued) she rode back, c on with chastity : Godiva 65
Pure spaces c in living beams, Sir Galahad 66 with thy worst self hast thou c thy God. Aylmer's Field 646 thought flash'd thro' me which I c in act, Princess i 195 these have c their branchy bowers With fifty Mays, In Mem. lxxvi 13
C in white samite, mystic, wonderful. Com. of Arthur 285
So that the child and he were c in fire. ,, 390
And truth or c or naked let it be, ,, 408 see her now, C with my gift, Marr. of Geraint 753
And c her for her bridals like the sun ; ,, 836
And c her in apparel like the day. Geraint and E. 948 barge Be ready on the river, c in black. Lancelot and E. 1123 a love C in so pure a loveliness ? ,, 1384
C in white samite or a luminous cloud. Holy Grail 513 golden beard that c his lips with light— Last Tournament 668
C in white samite, mystic, wonderful, (repeat) Pass. of Arthur 199, 312, 327 ridge to ridge, C with his breath, Pass. of Arthur 350
c with living light, They stood before his throne ,, 454
When he c a naked mind with the wisdom The Wreck 65
But c with The Gleam, Merlin and the G. 94
WHEN the dumb Hour, c in black, Silent Voices 1

Clothes (See also Cloäthes, Cloäths) wholesome food, And wear warm c, St. S. Stylites 109
And c they gave him and free passage Enoch Arden 650
Like coarsest c against the cold : In Mem. v 10
She is not fairer in new c than old. Marr. of Geraint 722

Clothing upbearing parasite, C the stem, Isabel 35

Cloth of Gold With inwrought flowers, a c o g. Arabian Nights 149 city all on fire With sun and c o g, Com. of Arthur 480 pray'd him well to accept this c o g, Gareth and L. 398 seeing he hath sent us c o g, ,, 428 children of the King in c o g Glanced Marr. of Geraint 664 all the children in their c o g Ran to her, ,, 668 all the coverlid was c o g Drawn to her waist, Lancelot and E. 1157

Clotted Or, c into points and hanging loose, M. d'Arthur 219
Or, c into points and hanging loose, Pass. of Arthur 387

Cloud (s) (See also Thunder-cloud) When will the c's be aweary of fleeting ? Nothing will die 5
The c fleets, The heart beats, ,, 11
One after another the white c's are fleeting ; All Things will die 5
The c's will cease to fleet ; ,, 11
Like little c's sun-fringed, Madeline 17 with the evening c, Showering thy gleaned wealth Ode to Memory 22 morn Forth gushes from beneath a low-hung c. ,, 71 while Slowly, as from a c of gold, Eleänore 73
Nor any c would cross the vault, Mariana in the S. 38
Wrapt in dense c from base to cope. Two Voices 186
Embracing c, Ixion-like ; ,, 195
That every c, that spreads above And veileth love, ,, 446
A c that gather'd shape : Œnone 42 one silvery c Had lost his way between ,, 92 o'er him flow'd a golden c, and lean'd ,, 105
As she withdrew into the golden c, ,, 191 narrow moon-lit slips of silver c, ,, 218 death, death, thou ever-floating c, ,, 238
A c of incense of all odour steam'd Palace of Art. 39
All barr'd with long white c the scornful crags, ,, 83 c's are lightly curl'd Round their golden houses, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 112 Hold swollen c's from raining, D. of F. Women 11
'The light white c swam over us. ,, 221
Brightening the skirts of a long c, M. d'Arthur 54 as one large c Drew downward : Gardener's D. 78
The light c smoulders on the summer crag. Edwin Morris 147 sign betwixt the meadow and the c, St. S. Stylites 14
A soft air fans the c apart ; Tithonus 32 looking like a summer moon Half-dipt in c : Godiva 46
The c's are broken in the sky, Sir Galahad 73
And c's are highest up in air, Lady Clare 2 made the wild-swan pause in her c, Poet's Song 7 c Cuts off the fiery highway of the sun, Enoch Arden 129 Sailing along before a gloomy c Sea Dreams 124
Where never creeps a c, or moves a wind, Lucretius 106

Cloud (s) (continued) and molten on the waste Becomes a c : Princess iv 73
As of some fire against a stormy c, ,, 384
Settled a gentle c of melancholy ; ,, 570
As comes a pillar of electric c, ,, v 524 thro' the c that dimm'd her broke A genial warmth ,, vi 281
The c may stoop from heaven and take the shape ,, vii 2 sees a great black c Drag inward from the deeps, ,, 36 C's that are racing above, Window. On the Hill 6
Gone, and a c in my heart, ,, Gone 6
No is trouble and c and storm, ,, No Answer 8
Such c's of nameless trouble cross In Mem. iv 13
dote and pore on yonder c That rises upward ,, xv 16
A rainy c possess'd the earth, ,, xxx 3
With fruitful c and living smoke, ,, xxxix 3
Thro' c's that drench the morning star, ,, lxxii 22
'Can c's of nature stain The starry clearness ,, lxxxv 85
But in the darkness and the c, ,, xcvi 21
We steer'd her toward a crimson c ,, ciii 55
The flying c, the frosty light : ,, cvi 2
Like c's they shape themselves and go. ,, cxviii 8 high in heaven the streaming c, ,, Con. 107 man walks with his head in a c of poisonous flies. Maud I iv 54
In fold upon fold of hueless c, ,, vi 3 when the morning came In a c, it faded, ,, 21 sun look'd out with a smile Betwixt the c and the moor ,, ix 4 till the c that settles round his birth Gareth and L. 130
In counter motion to the c's, ,, 1315 under c that grew To thunder-gloom palling all stars, ,, 1358 Turn thy wild wheel thro' sunshine, storm, and c ; Marr. of Geraint 348 wheel and thou are shadows in the c ; ,, 357 and by and by Slips into golden c, ,, 736 Then seeing c upon the mother's brow, ,, 777 make your Enid burst Sunlike from c— ,, 789 all night long a c clings to the hill, Geraint and E. 691 Hung like a c above the gateway towers.' Merlin and V. 599
Drew the vast eyelid of an inky c, ,, 634 across him came a c Of melancholy severe, Lancelot and E. 324 Dispersed his resolution like a c. ,, 884
All over cover'd with a luminous c, Holy Grail 189
'Lo now,' said Arthur, 'have ye seen a c ? ,, 286 Clothed in white samite or a luminous c. ,, 513
—a smile beneath a c, But heaven had meant it ,, 705 o'er it crost the dimness of a c Floating, Pelleas and E. 37 colours like the c Of sunset and sunrise, ,, 53 upward-rushing storm and c Of shriek and plume, Last Tournament 440 Far over sands marbled with moon and c, ,, 466 they cannot weep behind a c : Guinevere 207 and wail their way From c to c, Pass. of Arthur 40 glory cling To all high places like a golden c For ever : ,, 54
Brightening the skirts of a long c, ,, 222 Streams like a c, man-shaped, To the Queen ii 40 sails, White as white c's, floated from sky to sky. Lover's Tale i 5 Moved from the c of unforgotten things, ,, 48
Stay'd on the c of sorrow ; ,, 255 daylight of your minds But c and smoke, ,, 297 would have flung himself From c to c, ,, 302
Shading his eyes till all the fiery c, ,, 306
Held for a space 'twixt c and wave, ,, 417
Into a clearer zenith, pure of c. ,, 514
Diffused and molten into flaky c. ,, 641 life, burst through the c of thought Keen, ,, ii 164 billow ran Shoreward beneath red c's, ,, 179 a little silver c Over the sounding seas : ,, iii 36
Willy—the moon's in a c— Rizpah 86 melted like a c in the silent summer heaven ; The Revenge 14
San Philip hung above us like a c ,, 43
c that roofs our noon with night, Sisters (E. and E.) 17 days Of doubt and c and storm, Columbus 156 at dawn from the c glitter'd o'er us V. of Maeldune 84 ridges drew the c and brake the storm Montenegro 13 glorious goddess wreath'd a golden c, Achilles over the T. 5

Cloud (s) (continued) All day long far-off in the c of the city, The Wreck 29
c of the mother's shame will enfold her ,, 100 only a c and a smoke who was once a pillar Despair 29 and higher, The c that hides it—higher still, the heavens Whereby the c was moulded, and whereout The c descended. Ancient Sage 12 beacon burn'd in vain, And now is lost in c: ,, 143 past into the Nameless, as a c Melts into Heaven. ,, 233
But still the c's remain;' The c's themselves are children of the Sun. ,, 241
A c between the Nameless and thyself, ,, 278
An' the sun kem out of a c Tomorrow 37
And roll'd them around like a c,— Heavy Brigade 40
One year without a storm, or even a c; The Ring 284
Would Earth tho' hid in c not be follow'd Happy 97
C's and darkness Closed upon Camelot; Merlin and the G. 75
Or does the gloom of Age And suffering c Romney's R. 65 my reign Was redden'd by that c of shame Akbar's Dream 64 methought The c was rifted by a purer gleam ,, 78
Cloud (verb) ever swarm about And c the highest heads, Columbus 120
Clouded So spake he, c with his own conceit, M. d'Arthur 110
(For all my mind is c with a doubt)— ,, 258
Being so c with his grief and love, Holy Grail 656
So spake he, c with his own conceit, Pass. of Arthur 278
(For all my mind is c with a doubt)— 426
c with the grateful incense-fume Tiresias 183 all the Thrones are c by your loss, D. of the Duke of C. 6
Cloudier c on her knight—Linger'd Ettarre: Pelleas and E. 177
Cloudlet From little c's on the grass, In Mem., Con. 94
Cloud-pavilion'd The c-p element, the wood, Lover's Tale ii 108
Cloud-tower C-t's by ghostly masons wrought, In Mem. lxx 5
Cloud-weaver C-w of phantasmal hopes and fears, To Victor Hugo 2
Cloudy made him look so c and so cold; Geraint and E. 48
Clout an' the clats an' the c's, Spinster's S's. 87
Clove (s) nutmeg rocks and isles of c. The Voyage 40
Clove (verb) c The citron-shadows in the blue: Arabian Nights 14 the crowd dividing c An advent to the throne: Princess iv 283 Laid him that c it grovelling on the ground. Gareth and L. 972 with a stronger buffet he c the helm ,, 1406 said Mark, and c him thro' the brain. Last Tournament 754
C into perilous chasms our walls Def. of Lucknow 55
And c the Moslem crescent moon, Happy 44
Cloven (See also Earthquake-cloven, Furrow-cloven)
Was c with the million stars Ode to Memory 35
That not a worm is c in vain; In Mem. liv 9 Till Gareth's shield was c; Gareth and L. 971 earth beneath me yawning c With such a sound Lover's Tale i 602
My heart was c with pain; ,, ii 200
Clover Rare broidry of the purple c. A Dirge 38 among the meadows, the c and the clematis, City Child 9
Clover-hill with white bells the c-h swells Sea-Fairies 14
Clown thou art mated with a c, Locksley Hall 47 knave nor c Shall hold their orgies You might have won 11
Shakespeare's curse on c and knave ,, 27 this is proper to the c, Tho' smock'd, or furr'd and purpled, still the c, Princess iv 246
turnspits for the c, The drunkard's football, ,, 516
Glorifying c and satyr; ,, v 187
By blood a king, at heart a c; In Mem. cxi 4
Not all mismated with a yawning c, Geraint and E. 426 not worthy to be knight; A churl, a c!' Balin and Balan 286
Like a c—by chance he met me— Locksley H., Sixty 256
An' ya call'd 'im a c, ya did, Church-warden, etc. 30
Club (See also Battle-club) talk'd At wine, in c's, of art, Princess, Pro. 161 Clump (mend) I could fettle and c owd booöts North. Cobbler 13
Clung You should have c to Fulvia's waist, D. of F. Women 259
Then they c about The old man's neck, Dora 163 friendly mist of morn C to the lake. Edwin Morris 108
When I c to all the present Locksley Hall 14 evil fancies c Like serpent eggs together, Enoch Arden 479 from the beetling crag to which he c Aylmer's Field 229 sootflake of so many a summer still C to their fancies) Sea Dreams 36 and the child C to the mother, ,, 245 then, a moment after, c About him, Princess ii 312
Clung (continued) about his motion c The shadow of his sister, Princess v 257
Late the little children c: Ode on Well. 237
C to the shield that Lancelot lent him, Gareth and L. 1320 dawn ascending lets the day Strike where it c: Geraint and E. 693 but that other c to him, Fixt in her will, Merlin and V. 187
c about her lissome limbs, ,, 223 curved an arm about his neck, C like a snake; ,, 242 while the skin C but to crate and basket, ,, 625
c to him and hugg'd him close; ,, 945 to his crown the golden dragon c, Lancelot and E. 434 knightly in me twined and c Round that one sin, Holy Grail 774 fell thick rain, plume droopt and mantel c, Last Tournament 213
A voice c sobbing till he question'd it, ,, 759
C to the dead earth, and the land was still. Guinevere 8 for crest the golden dragon c Of Britain; ,, 594 c In utter silence for so long, Sisters (E. and E.) 216 from the ladders to which they had c, Def. of Lucknow 58
C closer to us for a longer term Columbus 197 and the dark-blue clematis, c, V. of Maeldune 39
I c to the sinking form, The Wreck 105
She c to me with such a hard embrace, The Ring 435 Cluster (s) (See also Sun-cluster) Below the starry c's bright, L. of Shalott iii 25 tropic shade and palms in c, Locksley Hall 160 red roofs about a narrow wharf In c; Enoch Arden 4 lithe reluctant boughs to tear away Their tawny c's, ,, 382
Came men and women in dark c's Sea Dreams 226
Cluster (verb) The foxglove c dappled bells.' Two Voices 72
Clustered sunny hair C about his temples Œnone 60
Clutch So I c it. Christ! 'Tis gone: St. S. Stylites 207
And lives to c the golden keys, In Mem. lxiv 10 Clutch'd (See also Clemm'd) c the sword, And strongly wheel'd and threw it. M. d'Arthur 135 stoop'd and c him, fair and good, Will Water. 133
So my mother c The truth at once, Princess iii 60
He, standing still, was c; ,, iv 260 wakening, fiercely c the shield; Gareth and L. 1304
C at the crag, and started thro' mid air Last Tournament 14
c the sword, And strongly wheel'd and threw it. Pass. of Arthur 303
Or c the sacred crown of Prester John, Columbus 110
Clutter'd It c here, it chuckled there; The Goose 25 Coal On the c's I lay, A vessel full of sin: St. S. Stylites 169 left his c all turn'd into gold Maud I x 11 c's of fire you heap upon my head Romney's R. 141
Coal-black flow'd His c-b curls as on he rode, L. of Shalott iii 31
Coämb (comb) raäke out Hell wi' a small-tooth c— Village Wife 76
Coämb'd (combed) theer an' then I c 'im down, Church warden, etc. 32 Coarse sense of touch is something c, Talking Oak 163 growing c to sympathise with clay. Locksley Hall 46 daughter of our meadows, yet not c; The Brook 69 thou, My lord, eat also, tho' the fare is c, Geraint and E. 208
I can well believe, for he look'd so c In the Child. Hosp. 7
Coarseness According to the c of their kind, Princess iv 346
Coast show'd an iron c and angry waves. Palace of Art 69
All round the c the languid air Lotos-Eaters 5 all in shade, Gloom'd the low c The Voyage 42 leagues along that breaker-beaten c Enoch Arden 51
Then moving up the c they landed him, ,, 665 seaward-bound for health they gain'd a c, Sea Dreams 16 she told it, having dream'd Of that same c. ,, 207
He bad you guard the sacred c's. Ode on Well. 172 left the last free race with naked c's! Third of Feb. 40
A moulder'd citadel on the c, The Daisy 28
A lucid veil from c to c, In Mem. lxvii 14 rolling brine That breaks the c. ,, cvii 15 shipwreck'd man on a c Of ancient fable and fear— Maud II ii 31 Back from the Breton c, ,, 43 province with a hundred miles of c, (repeat) Merlin and V. 588, 647 about a stone On the bare c. Guinevere 52
After the sunset, down the c, ,, 238
All down the lonely c of Lyonnesse, ,, 240 mountains ended in a c Of ever-shifting sand, Pass. of Arthur 85 while we roam'd along the dreary c, Lover's Tale iv 145 while I wander'd down the c, Locksley H., Sixty 53

Coast (continued) Phra-bat the step ; your Pontic c ; To Ulysses 42
Coasted See Silver-coasted
Coat (See also Coät) three castles patch my tatter'd c? Princess ii 416 rough dog, to whom he cast his c, Gareth and L. 1011
And such a c art thou, ,, 1013
Coät Them as 'as c's to their backs N. Farmer, N. S. 46
Coat-of-arms Is worth a hundred c's-o-a. L. C. V. de Vere 16
Coax'd kept and c and whistled to— Gareth and L. 14
Coäx'd An' c an' coodled me oop North. Cobbler 80
Cobbled browt me the booöts to be c ,, 94
Cobham Some cried on C, on the good Lord C ; Sir J. Oldcastle 43
Cobra Those c's ever setting up their hoods— Akbar's Dream 166 Cobweb The petty c's we have spun : In Mem. cxxiv 8 the c woven across the cannon's throat Maud III vi 27
I well could wish a c for the gnat, Merlin and V. 370
Seems but a c filament to link Lover's Tale i 376
Cobweb'd See Many-cobweb'd
Cock The c sung out an hour ere light : Mariana 27
the c hath sung beneath the thatch The Owl I 10
At midnight the c was crowing, Oriana 12
Before the red c crows from the farm May Queen, N. Y's. E. 23
I heard just now the crowing c. D. of the O. Year 38 sitting, as I said, The c crew loud ; M. d'Arthur, Ep. 10
And barking dogs, and crowing c's ; Day-Dm., Revival 4
The c crows ere the Christmas morn, Sir Galahad 51
O PLUMP head-waiter at The C, Will Water. 1
The C was of a larger egg ,, 121
Which was the red c shouting to the light, Geraint and E. 384
And the c couldn't crow, V. of Maeldune 18
The c has crow'd already once, The Flight 3 c's kep a-crawin' an' crawin' Owd Roä 106
Cockatrice basilisks, and splinter'd c's, Holy Grail 718
Cockchafer See Buzzard-Clock
Cock-eyed I looök'd c-e at my noëse North. Cobbler 26
Cockney (Look at it) pricking a c ear. Maud I x 22
Coco slender c's drooping crown of plumes, Enoch Arden 574 Cocoon Spins, toiling out his own c. Two Voices 180
we as rich as moths from dusk c's, Princess ii 19
Coco-palm some dark dweller by the c-p Prog. of Spring 68
Code Christless c, That must have life Maud II i 26
Codlin fresh as a c wesh'd i' the dew. North. Cobbler 110
Coerce No sound is breathed so potent to c, Tiresias 120 Coffin (See also Corpse-coffin) in his c the Prince of courtesy lay. G. of Swainston 10 thou wouldst have her flag Borne on thy c— Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 17 That within the c fell, Fell— To Marg. of Dufferin 43 brother come? to find Me or my c? Romney's R. 144 Cognizance Some goodly c of Guinevere, Balin and Balan 195 memory of that c on shield Weighted it down, ,, 224 Stared at the priceless c, ,, 430 one that hath defamed The c she gave me : ,, 485
Cogoletto I stay'd the wheels at C, The Daisy 23
Coil Hard c's of cordage, swarthy fishing-nets, Enoch Arden 17 roots like some black c of carven snakes, Last Tournament 13 Coil'd convolvuluses That c around the stately stems, Enoch Arden 577 long loops Wherethro' the serpent river c, Gareth and L. 906 serpent c about his broken shaft, Demeter and P. 77 Coin Light c, the tinsel clink of compliment. Princess ii 55 Him that made them current c ; In Mem. xxxvi 4 and like to c's, Some true, some light, Holy Grail 25
With scarce a c to buy a meal withal, Columbus 169
All the chosen c of fancy flashing To Virgil 7 violates virgin Truth for a c or a cheque. The Dawn 15 Coinage Ringing like proven golden c true, Aylmer's Field 182 strown With gold and scatter'd c, Geraint and E. 26 Coin'd When he c into English gold some treasure The Wreck 67 man had c himself a curse : Locksley H., Sixty 87 Cold (adj.) (See also Snow-cold, Cowd) All c, and dead, and corpse-like grown? Supp. Confessions 17
And dew is c upon the ground, The Owl I 2
Quiet, dispassionate, and c, A Character 28
Ere the placid lips be c? Adeline 20
Because my memory is so c, Two Voices 341
Is not more c to you than I. L. C. V. de Vere 24 surely now our household hearts are c : Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 72 Cold (adj.) (continued) Night is starry and c, my friend, D. of the O. Year 34
c Are all thy lights, and c my wrinkled feet Tithonus 66
'Shy she was, and I thought her c ; Edward Gray 13
And saw the altar c and bare. The Letters 4 Full c my greeting was and dry ; ,, 13 round him ere he scarce be c, Begins the scandal You might have won 15
LUCILIA, wedded to Lucretius, found Her master c ; Lucretius 2
The loyal warmth of Florian is not c, Princess ii 244 motionlessly pale, C ev'n to her, ,, vi 102
And call her hard and c which seem'd a truth : ,, vii 98
you think I am hard and c ; Grandmother 17
We loved that hall, tho' white and c, The Daisy 37
When ill and weary, alone and c, ,, 96
C in that atmosphere of Death, In Mem. xx 14
A spectral doubt which makes me c, ,, xli 19
So, dearest, now thy brows are c, ,, lxxiv 5
Is c to all that might have been. ,, lxxv 16
He looks so c : she thinks him kind. ,, xcvii 24
And smile as sunny as c, Maud I vi 24 she was kind Only because she was c. ,, xiv 27 made him look so cloudy and so c ; Geraint and E. 48
'Poor men, when yule is c, Holy Grail 613 glanced at him, thought him c, High, self-contain'd, Guinevere 405 till all his heart was c With formless fear ; Pass. of Arthur 97 subject of thy power, be c in her, Lover's Tale i 782 in the hold were most of them stark and c, The Revenge 79
C were his brows when we kiss'd him— Def. of Lucknow 12 of the mind Mine ; worse, c, calculated. Romney's R. 152 Cold (s) (See also Cowd) I fear My wound hath taken c, M. d'Arthur 166 and in thirsts, fevers and c, St. S. Stylites 12
Would chatter with the c, ,, 31
In height and c, the splendour of the hills? Princess vii 194
Like coarsest clothes against the c : In Mem. v. 10
How dwarf'd a growth of c and night, ,, lxi 7 fire of Heav'n has kill'd the barren c, Balin and Balan 440 smitten in mid heaven with mortal c Past from her ; Last Tournament 27 hour of c Falls on the mountain in midsummer snows, ,, 227
I fear My wound hath taken c, Pass. of Arthur 334 the c Without, and warmth within me, To E. Fitzgerald 28 would dare Hell-heat or Arctic c, Ancient Sage 116 thaws the c, and fills the flower Early Spring 45 a breath that past With all the c of winter The Ring 33 Cold-blooded That dull c-b Cæsar. D. of F. Women 139
Coldness The faithless c of the times ; In Mem. cvi 18
By the c of her manners, Maud I xx 13
Cold-white white against the c-w sky, Dying Swan 12
Colewort Picks from the c a green caterpillar, Guinevere 32 Collar A grazing iron c grinds my neck ; St. S. Stylites 117
She cried, 'The c of some Order, which Last Tournament 741 Collar-bone cloak that dropt from c-b to heel, Gareth and L. 682
Collatine made her blood in sight of C Lucretius 238
Colleaguing C with a score of petty kings, Com. of Arthur 67
College 'we knew your gift that way At c : The Epic 25
For I remember'd Everard's c fame ,, 46
I was at school—a c in the South : Walk. to the Mail 83
By night we dragg'd her to the c tower ,, 89
My c friendships glimmer. Will Water. 40
I was there From c, visiting the son,— Princess, Pro. 7 but we, unworthier, told Of c : ,, 111 build Far off from men a c like a man's, ,, 135 swore he long'd at c, only long'd, ,, 158
A talk of c and of ladies' rights, ,, 233
when the c lights Began to glitter ,, i 207
At break of day the C Portress came : ,, ii 15
A rosy blonde, and in a c gown, ,, 323
Her c and her maidens, empty masks, ,, iii 187
King, camp and c turn'd to hollow shows ; ,, v 478
So their fair c turn'd to hospital ; ,, vii 17
'Look there, garden!' said my c friend, ,, Con. 49
And heard once more in c fanes In Mem. lxxxvii 5
College-council Should eighty-thousand c-c's To F. D. Maurice 7

College-time save for c-t's Or Temple-eaten terms, Aylmer's Field 104
Colon (Columbus) See Christopher Colon Colony near the c Cámulodúne, Boädicea 5
Lo their c half-defended ! lo their c, ,, 17
Then a phantom c smoulder'd on the refluent estuary ; ,, 28
Lo the c, there they rioted in the city of Cúnobelíne ! ,, 60 silent c hearing her tumultuous adversaries ,, 78
Fell the c, city and citadel, ,, 86
Colossal Let his great example stand C, Ode on Well. 221
Colosseum Gain'd their huge C. St. Telemachus 45
Colour (See also Flame-colour) sweet is the c of cove and cave, Sea-Fairies 30
I lose my c, I lose my breath, Eleänore 137
A magic web with c's gay. L. of Shalott ii 2
A word could bring the c to my cheek ; Gardener's D. 196 came a c and a light, Locksley Hall 25
The c flies into his cheeks : Day-Dm., Arrival 19
Then the Captain's c heighten'd, The Captain 29 the c flushes Her sweet face from brow to chin : L. of Burleigh 61
She wore the c's I approved. The Letters 16 a rough piece Of early rigid c, Aylmer's Field 281 yet her cheek Kept c : wondrous ! ,, 506 sense of wrong had touched her face With c) Princess, Pro. 220
April daffodilly (Her mother's c) ,, ii 325
In c's gayer than the morning mist, ,, 438 shook the woods, And danced the c, ,, iii 293
'Sir Ralph has got your c's : ,, iv 594
With Psyche's c round his helmet, ,, v 534
But such as gather'd c day by day. ,, vii 118
But distant c, happy hamlet, The Daisy 27
And with the thought her c burns ; In Mem. vi 34
Be all the c of the flower : ,, xliii 8
The c's of the crescent prime ? ,, cxvi 4
Saying in odour and c, 'Ah, be Among the roses Maud I xxi 12
O rainbow with three c's after rain, Gareth and L. 1160 my child, how fresh the c's look, How fast they hold like c's of a shell Marr. of Geraint 680 and play'd upon it, And made it of two c's ; Geraint and E. 292
And so there lived some c in your cheek, ,, 621
In c like the satin-shining palm Merlin and V. 224
With c's of the heart that are not theirs. ,, 822
Took gayer c's, like an opal warm'd. ,, 950
And lichen'd into c with the crags : Lancelot and E. 44
The low sun makes the c : ,, 134
The shape and c of a mind and life, ,, 335 let me bring your c back ; ,, 387 secret blazed itself In the heart's c's ,, 837
But did not love the c ; ,, 840 cell were dyed With rosy c's leaping on the wall ; Holy Grail 120
In c like the fingers of a hand Before a burning taper, ,, 693
Damsels in divers c's like the cloud Pelleas and E. 53
That ware their ladies' c's on the casque, Last Tournament 184
With all the kindlier c's of the field.' ,, 224
And glowing in all c's, the live grass, ,, 233
I yearn'd for warmth and c which I found In Lancelot— Guinevere 647
The c and the sweetness from the rose, Lover's Tale i 172
Her cheek did catch the c of her words. ,, 569 shadowing pencil's naked forms C and life : ,, ii 181
And blurr'd in c and form, Dead Prophet 22 concentrate into form And c all you are, Romney's R. 8 Colour'd See Emerald-colour'd, Leaden-coloured, Vary-coloured Colourless for all his face was white And c, M. d'Arthur 213 for all his face was white And c, Pass. of Arthur 381 Colt 'Then ran she, gamesome as the c, Talking Oak 121 babes were running wild Like c's about the waste. Enoch Arden 305
He pointed out a pasturing c, The Brook 136
Squire had seen the c at grass, ,, 139 the c would fetch its price ; ,, 149 she's yet a c—Take, break her : Princess v 455 Ran like a c, and leapt at all he saw : Com. of Arthur 322 never c would more delight To roll Romney's R. 13 Colt-like c-l whinny and with hoggish whine St. S. Stylites 177
Columbus How young C seem'd to rove, The Daisy 17
Column Six c's, three on either side, Arabian Nights 144
So like a shatter'd c lay the King ; M. d'Arthur 221 people hum About the c's base, St. S. Stylites 39
The watcher on the c till the end ; ,, 163
And in we stream'd Among the c's, Princess ii 435
To left and right, of those tall c's ,, vi 354 bared the knotted c of his throat, Marr. of Geraint 74 massive c's, like a shorecliff cave, Lancelot and E. 406
So like a shatter'd c lay the King ; Pass. of Arthur 389 masses Of thundershaken c's indistinct, Lover's Tale ii 66
From c on to c, as in a wood, ,, iv 189 names, Graven on memorial c's, Tiresias 124 Co-mate one of my c-m's Own'd a rough dog, Gareth and L. 1010 true c-m's regather round the mast ; Pref. Son. 19th Cent. 5
Comb (s) See Coämb, Comb of Pearl, Hornet-comb
Comb (valley) they past a narrow c wherein Gareth and L. 1193
Comb (verb) With a comb of pearl I would c my hair ; The Mermaid 11
I would c my hair till my ringlets ,, 14
Combat (s) And when the tide of c stands, Sir Galahad 10
To prick us on to c 'Like to like ! Princess v 304
Not dare to watch the c, Geraint and E. 154
In c with the follower of Limours, ,, 501 Combat (verb) sware to c for my claim till death. Princess v 360 a knight To c for my sister, Lyonors, Gareth and L. 608
He needs must c might with might, Epilogue 28
Comb'd (See also Coämb'd) as I c I would sing and say, The Mermaid 12
I curl'd and c his comely head, The Sisters 31 Combing C her hair Under the sea, The Mermaid 4 c out her long black hair damp from the river ; Princess iv 276
Comb of Pearl With a c o p, On a throne ? The Mermaid 7
With a c o p I would comb my hair ; ,, 11
Made with her right a c o p Merlin and V. 244
Come (See also Coom, To-come) Spring will c never more. All Things will die 15
Ye will c never more, ,, 48
He will not c,' she said ; Mariana 82
WHEN cats run home and light is c, The Owl i 1
C not as thou camest of late, Ode to Memory 8
C forth, I charge thee, arise, ,, 46
C from the woods that belt the gray hill-side, ,, 55
Dark-brow'd sophist, c not anear ; Poet's Mind 8
Hollow smile and frozen sneer C not here. ,, 11
O hither, c hither and furl your sails, Sea-Fairies 16
C hither to me and to me ; Hither, c hither and frolic and play ; ,, 17
Hither, c hither and see ; ,, 28
O hither, c hither, and be our lords, ,, 32
C away : no more of mirth Is here Deserted House 13
C away : for Life and Thought Here no longer dwell ; ,, 17
How could I rise and c away, Oriana 57
I dare not die and c to thee, ,, 96
Lull'd echoes of laborious day C to you, Margaret 30
C down, c down, and hear me speak : ,, 56
C down, c home, My Rosalind, Rosalind 33
C's out thy deep ambrosial smile. Eleänore 74
Thought seems to c and go In thy large eyes, ,, 96
C only, when the days are still, My life is full 23
Fresh-water springs c up through bitter brine. If I were loved 8
The knights c riding two and two ; L. of Shalott ii 25
'The curse is c upon me,' ,, iii 44 night c's on that knows not morn, Mariana in the S. 94
I saw the dragon-fly C from the wells Two Voices 9
'Then c's the check, the change, the fall, ,, 163
In days that never c again. ,, 324
Herè c's to-day, Pallas and Aphroditè, Œnone 85
Should c most welcome, seeing men, ,, 129 (power of herself Would c uncall'd for) ,, 147 sounds at night c from the inmost hills, ,, 249 her child !—a shudder c's Across me : ,, 253 Lest their shrill happy laughter c to me ,, 258
the stars c forth Talk with the wild Cassandra, ,, 262
I made a feast ; I bad him c ; The Sisters 13
There c's no murmur of reply. Palace of Art 286

Come (continued) shepherd lads on every side 'ill c from far away, May Queen 27
The night-winds c and go, mother, ,, 33
I only wish to live till the snowdrops c again: May Queen, N. Y's. E. 14 and the sun c out on high: ,, ,, 15
And the swallow, 'ill c back again ,, ,, 19
When the flowers c again, mother, ,, ,, 25
And you'll c sometimes and see me ,, ,, 30
If I can I'll c again, mother, ,, ,, 37
Don't let Effie c to see me ,, ,, 43 sweet is the new violet, that c's beneath the skies, ,, Con. 5 if it c three times, I thought, ,, ,, 38 to wait a little while till you and Effie c— ,, ,, 58
we should c like ghosts to trouble joy. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 74
'C here, That I may look on thee.' D. of F. Women 123
C's up to take his own. D. of the O. Year 36
And gently c's the world to those To J. S. 3
Nothing c's to thee new or strange. ,, 74
So let the change which c's be free Love thou thy land 45
The Spirit of the years to c ,, 55 keep a thing, its use will c. The Epic 42 Merlin sware that I should c again M. d'Arthur 23 land, where no one c's, Or hath c, ,, 202
'Arthur is c again: he cannot die.' ,, Ep. 24
'C again, and thrice as fair; ,, 26
'C With all good things, and war shall be no more.' ,, 27
News from the humming city c's to it In sound of funeral Gardener's D. 35
Nor heard us c, nor from her tendance ,, 144
Call'd to me from the years to c, ,, 180 the time Is c to raise the veil. ,, 274 for this orphan, I am c to you: Dora 64
His mother, he cried out to c to her: ,, 138
but now I c For Dora: take her back; ,, 142
I go to-night: I c to-morrow morn. Audley Court 70
And when does this c by? Walk. to the Mail 7 and here it c's With five at top: ,, 112
For that the evil ones c here, St. S. Stylites 98
That here c those that worship me? ,, 125
I do not say But that a time may c— ,, 190
C, blessed brother, c. ,, 204
And down the way you use to c, Talking Oak 115
Spun round in station, but the end had c. Love and Duty 76
O might it c like one that looks content, ,, 93 slow and sure c's up the golden year. Golden Year 31
The fatal byword of all years to c, Godiva 67
C, my friends, 'Tis not too late to seek Ulysses 56 Man c's and tills the field and lies Tithonus 3 there c's A glimpse of that dark world ,, 32 crimson c's upon the robin's breast; Locksley Hall 17 tho' my mortal summers to such length of years should c ,, 67
Slowly c's a hungry people, ,, 135
Knowledge c's, but wisdom lingers, (repeat) ,, 141, 143
Never c's the trader, never floats ,, 161
C's a vapour from the margin, ,, 191
Faint murmurs from the meadows c, Day-Dm., Sleep P. 6
C, Care and Pleasure, Hope and Pain, ,, 55
He c's, scarce knowing what he seeks: ,, Arrival 17
The flashes c and go; St. Agnes' Eve 26
'Love may c, and love may go, Edward Gray 29
Till Ellen Adair c back to me. ,, 32 she c's and dips Her laurel in the wine, Will Water. 17 earth of light and shade C's out a perfect round. ,, 68
To c and go, and c again, ,, 229
'That all c's round so just and fair: Lady Clare 18
Why c you drest like a village maid, ,, 67
'If I c drest like a village maid. ,, 69
When beneath his roof they c. L. of Burleigh 40
C not, when I am dead, Come not, when, etc. 1
There c's a sound of marriage bells. The Letters 48
Here is custom c your way; Vision of Sin 64
Therefore c's it we are wise. ,, 100

Come (continued) day that is dead Will never c back to me. Break, break, etc. 16
'Save them from this, whatever c's to me.' Enoch Arden 118 (Sure that all evil would c out of it) ,, 162 make him merry, when I c home again. ,, 199
C, Annie, c, cheer up before I go.' ,, 200
Look to the babes, and till I c again ,, 219
if he c again, vext will he be To find ,, 301 when Enoch c's again Why then he shall repay me— ,, 309
'C with us Father Philip' ,, 368
If Enoch c's—but Enoch will not c— ,, 431
C out and see.' But she—she put him off— ,, 460 when the dead man c to life beheld His wife ,, 758 let them c, I am their father; but she must not c, For my dead face would vex her after-life. ,, 889
'Whence c you?' and the brook, why not? replies. I c from haunts of coot and hern, The Brook 22 men may c and men may go, (repeat) The Brook 33, 49, 65, 184
Yes, men may c and go; and these are gone, The Brook 186 days That most she loves to talk of, c with me. ,, 226 you will be welcome—O, c in!' ,, 228 Cries 'C up hither,' as a prophet to us? Aylmer's Field 745 link'd their race with times to c— ,, 779
Then c's the close,' Sea Dreams 29 Too ripe, too late! they c too late for use. ,, 67 then c's what c's Hereafter: ,, 177
'His deeds yet live, the worst is yet to c. ,, 314 recollect the dreams that c Just ere the waking: Lucretius 35
'C out,' he said, 'To the Abbey: Princess, Pro. 50
'C, listen! here is proof that you were miss'd: ,, 177
No matter: we will say whatever c's. ,, 239
Should c to fight with shadows and to fall. ,, i 10 what, if these weird seizures c Upon you ,, 82 ye c, The first-fruits of the stranger: ,, ii 43
For Solomon may c to Sheba yet.' ,, 349
C from the dying moon, and blow, ,, iii 6
Father will c to thee soon; (repeat) ,, 10, 12
Father will c to his babe in the nest, ,, 13
Then c's the feebler heiress of your plan, ,, 237
Nor willing men should c among us, ,, 318
Would rather we had never c! ,, iv 243 there are those to avenge us and they c: ,, 501 Thy face across his fancy c's, ,, 579 in the night Had c on Psyche weeping: ,, v 50 c's With the air of the trumpet round him, ,, 161
You did but c as goblins in the night, ,, 220
(our royal word upon it, He c's back safe) ,, 225
As c's a pillar of electric cloud, ,, 524
'C hither, O Psyche,' she cried out, 'embrace me, c, Quick while I melt; ,, vi 284
C to the hollow heart they slander so! ,, 288
C down, O maid, from yonder mountain ,, vii 192
And c, for Love is of the valley, c, For Love is of the valley, c thou down And find him; ,, 198
but c; for all the vales Await thee; ,, 215
When c's another such? never, I think, ,, 244
Then c's the statelier Eden back to men: ,, 293 trust in all things high C's easy to him, ,, 330
the new day c's, the light Dearer for night, ,, 346
I love thee: c, Yield thyself up: ,, 363
But yonder, whiff! there c's a sudden heat, ,, Con. 58
To thee the greatest soldier c's; Ode on Well. 88
C to us, love us and make us your own: W. to Alexandra 30
Jenny, my cousin, had c to the place, Grandmother 25
she c's and goes at her will, ,, 79 Often they c to the door in a pleasant kind of a dream. They c and sit by my chair, ,, 82 neighbours c and laugh and gossip, ,, 91 summun 'ull c ater meä mayhap N. Farmer, O. S. 61
C, when no graver cares employ, Godfather, c and see your boy: To F. D. Maurice 1
(Take it and c) to the Isle of Wight; ,, 12
C, Maurice, c: the lawn as yet Is hoar with rime, ,, 41
Nor pay but one, but c for many, ,, 47
I c to the test, a tiny poem Hendecasyllabics 3

Come (continued) every height c's out, and jutting peak Spec. of Iliad 13 my heart is there before you are c, and gone, Window. On the Hill 14
Take my love, for love will c, Love will c but once a life. ,, No Answer 20
Sun c's, moon c's, Time slips away. ,, When 1 Flash, I am coming, I c, ,, Marr. Morn. 13
And yet we trust it c's from thee, In Mem., Pro. 23
From out waste places c's a cry, ,, iii 7
Or 'here to-morrow will he c.' ,, vi 24
A happy lover who has c ,, viii 1 saying; 'C's he thus, my friend? ,, xii 13
C Time, and teach me, many years, ,, xiii 13 C stepping lightly down the plank, ,, xiv 7 c The man I held as half-divine; ,, 9
C quick, thou bringest all I love. ,, xvii 8
C then, pure hands, and bear the head ,, xviii 9
And c, whatever loves to weep, ,, 11
The praise that c's to constancy.' ,, xxi 12
To thee too c's the golden hour ,, xxxix 6
And hopes and light regrets that c ,, xl 7
The wonders that have c to thee, ,, xli 22
Peace; c away: the song of woe ,, lvii 1
Peace; c away: we do him wrong ,, 3 let us go. C; let us go: your cheeks are pale; ,, 5
With so much hope for years to c, ,, lix 14
The foolish neighbours c and go, ,, lx 13
There c's a glory on the walls: ,, lxvii 4 likeness, hardly seen before, C's out— ,, lxxiv 4
There cannot c a mellower change, ,, lxxxi 3
Ah dear, but c thou back to me: ,, xc 21
But he, the Spirit himself, may c ,, xciii 6
The violet c's, but we are gone. ,, cv 8
With thousand shocks that c and go, ,, cxiii 17
I c once more; the city sleeps; ,, cxix 3
Behind thee c's the greater light: ,, cxxi 12
With faith that c's of self-control, ,, cxxxi 9
And back we c at fall of dew. ,, Con. 100 can a sweeter chance ever c to me here? Maud I i 62
Cold and clear-cut face, why c you so cruelly meek ,, iii 1
C sliding out of her sacred glove, ,, vi 85
Then let c what c may, (repeat) ,, xi 5, 12
One is c to woo her. ,, xii 28
That old man never c's to his place: ,, xiii 24 shook my heart to think she c's once more; ,, xviii 10 her brother c's, like a blight On my fresh hope, ,, xix 102
And then, oh then, c out to me For a minute, ,, xx 44
C out to your own true lover, ,, 46
C into the garden, Maud, (repeat) ,, xxii 1, 3
C hither, the dances are done, ,, 54
But c to her waking, find her asleep, ,, II ii 81
Get thee hence, nor c again, ,, iv 56
The day c's, a dull red ball ,, 65
Has c to pass as foretold; ,, v 44 c's from another stiller world of the dead, ,, 70 he c's to the second corpse in the pit? ,, 88
some kind heart will c To bury me, ,, 102
I c to be grateful at last for a little thing: ,, III vi 3
Ye c from Arthur's court. Com. of Arthur 249 will not die, But pass, again to c; ,, 422
c to see The glories of our King: Gareth and L. 243
King be King at all, or c From Fairyland, ,, 246
Lest he should c to shame thy judging of him.' ,, 469
the seneschal, would c Blustering upon them, ,, 513
Now therefore have I c for Lancelot.' ,, 623
And therefore am I c for Lancelot.' ,, 644
And look who c's behind,' ,, 752
C, therefore, leave thy lady lightly ,, 957
Look, Who c's behind?' ,, 1211 and wherefore now C ye, not call'd? ,, 1248
I but c like you to see the hunt, Marr. of Geraint 179
To find, at some place I shall c at, ,, 219
C's flying over many a windy wave To Britain, ,, 337
Constrain'd us, but a better time has c; ,, 716
By the flat meadow, till she saw them c; ,, 832
Look, Here c's a laggard hanging down his head, Geraint and E. 60

Come (continued) C, we will slay him and will have his horse Geraint and E. 62 said the second, 'yonder c's a knight.' ,, 126
And if he want me, let him c to me. ,, 237
You c with no attendance, page or maid, ,, 322
c with morn, And snatch me from him as by violence; ,, 356
C slipping o'er their shadows on the sand, ,, 471
And now their hour has c; ,, 697
I c the mouthpiece of our King to Doorm ,, 796
'If he will not go To Arthur, then will Arthur c to you,' ,, 815 sometime you would c To these my lists ,, 839 now behold me c To cleanse this common sewer ,, 894 overthrowing ever knight who c's. Balin and Balan 13
My violence, and my villainy, c to shame.' ,, 492
Art yet half-yolk, not even c to down— ,, 569 and now The night has c. ,, 621
'C from the storm,' and having no reply, Merlin and V. 895 to have my shield In keeping till I c.' Lancelot and E. 383 who will c to all I am And overcome it; ,, 448
'Is it Lancelot who hath c Despite the wound ,, 565
This will he send or c for: ,, 635 when the ghostly man had c and gone, ,, 1101
Or c to take the King to Fairyland? ,, 1257
C, for you left me taking no farewell, ,, 1274 phantom of a cup that c's and goes?' Holy Grail 44 thought That now the Holy Grail would c again; But sin broke out. Ah, Christ, that it would c, ,, 92 might it c To me by prayer and fasting?' ,, 95
we know not whence they c; ,, 147 chance of noble deeds will c and go ,, 318 madness has c on us for our sins.' ,, 357
And hither am I c; ,, 468 fail'd from my side, nor c Cover'd, ,, 470 and in the strength of this C victor. ,, 481 and c thou too, For thou shalt see the vision ,, 483 and the vision had not c; ,, 572
C, as they will; and many a time they c, ,, 911
But lately c to his inheritance, Pelleas and E. 18
For out of the waste islands had he c, ,, 86
So that he could not c to speech with her. ,, 205
if he c's again'—there she brake short; ,, 295
C, ye know nothing: here I pledge my troth, ,, 341
Then, when I c within her counsels, ,, 348 they c no more Till the sweet heavens have fill'd it ,, 509 and say his hour is c, Last Tournament 86
C—let us gladden their sad eyes, ,, 222
Tristram, waiting for the quip to c, ,, 260
C, thou art crabb'd and sour: ,, 272 as the water Moab saw C round by the East, ,, 483
C, I am hunger'd and half-anger'd— ,, 719
And out beyond into the dream to c.' ,, 721
Traitor, c out, ye are trapt at last,' Guinevere 106 then she, 'The end is c, And I am shamed ,, 110
For if there ever c a grief to me ,, 200 knowest thou now from whence I c— ,, 433 think not that I c to urge thy crimes, ,, 532
I did not c to curse thee, Guinevere, ,, 533
But hither shall I never c again, ,, 578 Merlin sware that I should c again To rule Pass. of Arthur 191 waste land, where no one c's, Or hath c, ,, 370
He c's again; but—if he c no more— ,, 451
I c, great Mistress of the ear and eye: Lover's Tale i 22
O Love, O Hope! They c, ,, 47
Death gave back, and would no further c. ,, 115 thronging fancies c To boys and girls ,, 554 seas upon my head To c my way! ,, 661 should he not c my way if he would? ,, 667 why should he c my way Robed in those robes ,, 670
C like an angel to a damned soul, ,, 673
C like a careless and a greedy heir ,, 675
C's in upon him in the dead of night, ,, ii 154 thought His dreams had c again. ,, iv 78
Send! bid him c;' but Lionel was away— ,, 101
To c and revel for one hour with him ,, 182
'you are sure it 'll all c right,' First Quarrel 1

Come (continued) I'll c for an hour to-morrow, First Quarrel 46
C, c, little wife, let it rest! ,, 62
I am sure it 'll all c right.' (repeat) ,, 74, 91
'O mother, c out to me!' Rizpah 2
what are you? do you c as a spy? ,, 11
C! Here's to your happy union with my child! Sisters (E. and E.) 67
Pray c and see my mother. ,, 191
'Pray c and see my mother, and farewell.' ,, 196 know they c, They smile upon me, ,, 278 when I saw him c in at the door, In the Child. Hosp. 2 Had? has it c? It has only dawn'd. It will c by and by. ,, 23
'Little children should c to me.' ,, 50 women and children c out, Def. of Lucknow 100
He might be kindlier: happily c the day! Sir J. Oldcastle 23 might have c to learn Our Wiclif's learning: ,, 64 who will c, God willing, to outlearn the filthy friar. ,, 117
He that thirsteth, c and drink! ,, 134
Who c's? A thousand marks are set upon my head. ,, 194 he unchain'd for all the world to c.' Columbus 215
'C to us, O c, c' V. of Maeldune 98 that also has c from Thee; De Prof. Human C. 7 from within The city c's a murmur void of joy, Tiresias 101
C from the brute, poor souls— Despair 36
When the bat c's out of his cave, ,, 89
'And idle gleams will c and go, Ancient Sage 240
C, speak a little comfort! The Flight 17 he c's, and finds me dead. ,, 72 my own true sister, c forth! the world is wide. ,, 96
That matters not: let c what will; ,, 103 an' tould her to c away from the man, Tomorrow 20 whin Dan didn't c to the fore, ,, 43 av the bird 'ud c to me call, ,, 45 for a blessin' 'ud c wid the green!' ,, 64 to-morrow—you, you c so late, Locksley H., Sixty 214 one has c to claim his bride, ,, 263
I that loathed, have c to love him. ,, 280
On you will c the curse of all the land, The Fleet 3 C's at last to the bounteous On Jub. Q. Victoria 10 far-off friendship that he c's no more, Demeter and P. 90
She c's to dress me in my bridal veil. The Ring 98
My ring too when she c's of age, ,, 289
Let her c! And we will feed her with our mountain air, ,, 318
There will c a witness soon Forlorn 25
Dreadful! has it c to this, ,, 43
C back, nor let me know it! Happy 5 wall of solid flesh that c's between your soul ,, 35
May I c a little nearer, ,, 55
'I c with your spring-flowers.' To Mary Boyle 17
C, Spring, for now from all the dripping eaves Prog. of Spring 5
She c's! The loosen'd rivulets run; ,, 9
C, Spring! She c's on waste and wood, ,, 22
C, Spring! She c's, and Earth is glad ,, 48
Will my Indian brother c? Romney's R. 143
If my body c from brutes, (repeat) By an Evolution. 5, 13 ghostly murmur floated, 'C to me, Œnone! Death of Œnone 79
But c, My noble friend, Akbar's Dream 17
Or makes a friend where'er he c, The Wanderer 6
But seldom c's the poet here, Poets and Critics 15 c's a gleam of what is higher. Faith 6

Come-agains By-gones ma' be c-a; First Quarrel 69

Comelier comely, yea, and c than myself. Gareth and L. 610 taller indeed, Rosier and c, thou— Last Tournament 710

Comeliness a broad-blown c, red and white, Maud I xiii 9

Comely 'C, too, by all that's fair,' Princess ii 114 say she's c; there's the fairer chance: ,, v 460
c, yea, and comelier than myself. Gareth and L. 610
Yet, since the face is c— Geraint and E. 551

Comer (See also Chance-comer, New-comer) But spring, a new c, A spring rich Nothing will die 21

Comest Thou c morning or even; Leonine Eleg. 15
Thou c not with shows of flaunting vines Ode to Memory 48
Thou c atween me and the skies, Oriana 75
Thou c, much wept for: In Mem. xvii 1
'Whence c thou, my guest, Lancelot and E. 181

Comest (continued) thou c, darling boy; (repeat) De Prof. Two G. 10, 34

Cometh At midnight the moon c, Claribel 13
she c not morning or even. Leonine Eleg. 15
He c not,' she said; (repeat) Mariana 22, 34, 46, 58
I know He c quickly: Fatima 23 he that c, like an honour'd guest, Ode on Well. 80 and there c a victory now. Boädicea 46

Comfort (s) (See also Coomfut) The c, I have found in thee: Miller's D. 234 dreadful eternity, No c anywhere; Palace of Art 268 Comfort thyself: what c is in me? M. d'Arthur 243
Then follow'd counsel, c, Love and Duty 69
Where is c? in division of the records of the mind? Locksley Hall 69
C! c scorned of devils! ,, 75
'I may see her now, May be some little c;' Enoch Arden 276
Why, that would be her c;' ,, 809 but a voice Of c and an open hand of help, Aylmer's Field 174 they talk'd, Poor children, for their c: ,, 427 what c? none for me!' Princess v 78
Take c: live, dear lady, ,, 80
I think Our chiefest c is the little child ,, 430
Sole c of my dark hour, ,, vi 194
That out of words a c win; In Mem. xx 10
Of c clasp'd in truth reveal'd; ,, xxvii 22
And find his c in thy face; ,, cix 20 take again That c from their converse Geraint and E. 950 saying in low tones, 'Have c,' Lancelot and E. 995
If here be c, and if ours be sin, Last Tournament 575
Comfort thyself: what c is in me? Pass. of Arthur 411
Come, speak a little c! The Flight 17
And yet no c came to me, ,, 18
'Take c you have won the Painter's fame,' Romney's R. 43 groans to see it, finds no c there. ,, 45

Comfort (verb) (See also Coomfut) They c him by night and day; Supp. Confessions 45
But, Effie, you must c her May Queen, Con. 44
'It c's me in this one thought to dwell, D. of F. Women 233
C thyself: what comfort is in me? M. d'Arthur 243
Take, give her this, for it may c her: Enoch Arden 899 said the kindly wife to c him, Sea Dreams 140 Reach out dead hands to c me. In Mem. lxxx 16
C her, c her, all things good, Maud II ii 75
And c her tho' I die. ,, 83
The love of all Thy people c Thee, Ded. of Idylls 54
'C thyself,' said Arthur, 'I nor mine Rest: Gareth and L. 601
Because I saw you sad, to c you. Merlin and V. 441
C your sorrows; for they do not flow Guinevere 188
C thyself: what comfort is in me? Pass. of Arthur 411
C yourself, for the heart of the father The Wreck 98

Comfortable Nor wholly c, I sit, Will Water. 158

Comforted 'Annie, my girl, cheer up, be c, Enoch Arden 218 look up: be c: Sweet is it to have done the thing Princess v 66
'Be c: have I not lost her too, ,, 69
'Be c,' Said Cyril, 'you shall have it:' ,, 105 and c my heart, And dried my tears, Com. of Arthur 349 let me go: be c: Pelleas and E. 355
He answer'd, 'O my soul, be c! Last Tournament 573 after these had c the blood With meats ,, 724
Queen Smiles on me, saying, 'Be thou c! Columbus 188
Let the weary be c, On Jub. Q. Victoria 34
Yet be c; For if this earth be ruled D. of the Duke of C. 7

Comforting An image c the mind, In Mem. lxxxv 51

Comic Too c for the solemn things they are, Princess, Con. 67

Comin' remimbers wan night c down be the sthrame, Tomorrow 7

Coming (See also Comin', Coomin') C in the scented breeze, Eleänore 24 heart Went forth to embrace him c ere he came. Œnone 63
C thro' Heaven, like a light that grows ,, 108 the New-year's c up, mother, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 7
A noise of some one c thro' the lawn, D. of F. Women 178
Each month, a birth-day c on, Will Water. 93
Philip c somewhat closer spoke. Enoch Arden 398
'Ay, ay, I mind him c down the street; ,, 847
His wreck, his lonely life, his c back. ,, 862

Coming (continued) If James were c. 'C every day,' | The Brook 106
Leolin, c after he was gone, Aylmer's Field 234 and c fitfully Like broken music, ,, 476
A crippled lad, and c turn'd to fly, ,, 519 like swallows c out of time Will wonder Princess ii 431
Or at thy c, Princess, everywhere, W. to Marie Alex. 42
she to be c and slandering me, Grandmother 27 Flash, I am c, I come, Window. Marr. Morn. 13 they are c back from abroad ; Maud I i 65
I see my Oread c down, ,, xvi 8
Her brother is c back to-night ,, xix 1
She is c, my dove, my dear ; She is c, my life, my fate ; ,, xxii 61
She is c, my own, my sweet ; ,, 67
But c back he learns it, Geraint and E. 498
And c up close to her, said at last : ,, 670
c up quite close, and in his mood ,, 714
So c to the fountain-side beheld Balin and Balan 23
A STORM was c, but the winds were still, Merlin and V. 1
C and going, and he lay as dead ,, 213
Such trumpet-blowings in it, c down ,, 418
C and going, and she lay as dead, ,, 644
C upon me—O never harp nor horn, Holy Grail 113 and c out of gloom Was dazzled by the sudden light, Pelleas and E. 104 but a sound Of Gawain ever c, and this lay— ,, 396 feet Thro' the long gallery from the outer doors Rang c, Guinevere 414
To guard thee in the wild hour c on, ,, 446 for wasn't he c that day ? First Quarrel 47 it is c—shaking the walls— Rizpah 85 c nearer and nearer again than before— Def. of Lucknow 28
c down on the still-shatter'd walls ,, 92 hands, when I heard him c would drop The Wreck 27
'I am c to thee in thine Ocean-grave.' ,, 132
'O child, I am c to thee.' ,, 134 light of a Sun that was c would scatter Despair 23
But a sun c up in his youth ! Dead Prophet 42
Silver crescent-curve, C soon, The Ring 14 c home—And on your Mother's birthday— ,, 247
c nearer—Muriel had the ring— ,, 259
she sees Her maiden c like a Queen, ,, 480
he was c down the fell— Happy 82
C in the cold time, The Snowdrop 5
'SUMMER is c, summer is c. The Throstle 1 Summer is c, is c, my dear, ,, 15 in c near, Across the downward thunder Death of Œnone 22
Flush'd like the c of the day ; Miller's D. 132
Narrow'd her goings out and c's in ; Aylmer's Field 501 Half-blinded at the c of a light. Com. of Arthur 266 himself Had told her, and their c to the court. (repeat) Marr. of Geraint 144, 846
She look'd on ere the c of Geraint. ,, 614
'I will abide the c of my lord, Geraint and E. 131
And she abode his c, and said to him ,, 139
Would listen for her c and regret Her parting step, Lancelot and E. 866 ere the c of the Queen.' (repeat) Guinevere 223, 233
Before the c of the sinful Queen.' ,, 270
(My friend is long in c.) Sir J. Oldcastle 148 you have dared Somewhat perhaps in c ? Columbus 242 kiss so sad, no, not since the c of man ! Despair 60 Command (s) He, that ever following her c's, Ode on Well. 211 under whose c Is Earth and Earth's, In Mem., Con. 130 Thy life is thine at her c. Gareth and L. 983 gave c that all which once was ours Marr. of Geraint 696 one c I laid upon you, not to speak to me, Geraint and E. 77
Debating his c of silence given, ,, 366
Then breaking his c of silence given, ,, 390
Wroth that the King's c to sally forth Lancelot and E. 560
That only seems half-loyal to c,— Last Tournament 118 lifted up a voice Of shrill c, Death of Œnone 99 Command (verb) 'Will he obey when one c's ? Two Voices 244
Man to c and woman to obey ; Princess v 450
I cannot all c the strings ; In Mem. lxxviii 10 strength of the race to c, to obey, Def. of Lucknow 47 Commander Attest their great c's claim With honour ; Ode on Well. 148
Commeasure C perfect freedom.' Œnone 167 Commenced However then c the dawn : Princess ii 138
c A to-and-fro, so pacing till she paused ,, 301 Comment thoughts in rubric thus For wholesale c,' ,, iii 51 and heard in thought Their lavish c Merlin and V. 151 crost, and cramm'd With c, ,, 678
And none can read the c but myself ; And in the c did I find the charm. ,, 682 like the critic's blurring c make Sisters (E. and E.) 104
Six foot deep of burial mould Will dull their c's ! Romney's R. 126 Commerce Saw the heavens fill with c, Locksley Hall 121 brought the stinted c of those days ; Enoch Arden 817 two crowned twins, C and conquest, Princess v 421
From growing c loose her latest chain, Ode Inter. Exhib. 33
So hold I c with the dead, In Mem. lxxxv 93
No more shall c be all in all, Maud III vi 23 that c with the Queen, I ask you, Merlin and V. 770
Fifty years of ever-broadening C ! On Jub. Q. Victoria 52
Commercing c with himself, He lost the sense Walk. to the Mail 21
Commingled C with the gloom of imminent war, Ded. of Idylls 13 Commission A bought c, a waxen face, Maud I x 30 c one of weight and worth To judge between Columbus 124
Commissioner See Church-commissioner
Common (adj.) and fears were c to her state, Enoch Arden 521
'Loss is c to the race'—And c is the commonplace, In Mem. vi 2
That loss is c would not make My own less bitter, ,, 5
Too c ! Never morning wore To evening, ,, 7
Their c shout in chorus, mounting, Balin and Balan 87 but love's first flash in youth, Most c : Lancelot and E. 950
Common (s) crost the c into Darnley chase The Brook 132
Commonplace barren c's break In full and kindly blossom. Will Water. 23
And common is the c, And vacant chaff In Mem. vi 3
To lift us as it were from c, Sisters (E. and E.) 223 shrunk by usage into commonest c ! Locksley H., Sixty 76 Common-sense Rich in saving c-s, Ode on Well. 32 crown'd Republic's crowning c-s, To the Queen ii 61 Priests Who fear the king's hard c-s Sir J. Oldcastle 66
Commonwealth from it sprang the C, which breaks Lucretius 241
Commune (s) For days of happy c dead ; In Mem. cxvi 14
Held c with herself, Geraint and E. 368
Commune (verb) To c with that barren voice, Two Voices 461
Communed I c with a saintly man, Holy Grail 742
But c only with the little maid, Guinevere 150
And while I c with my truest self, The Ring 181 Communicate We two c no more.' In Mem. lxxxv 84
Communing C with herself : 'All these are mine, Palace of Art 181
C with his captains of the war. Princess i 67
Communion An hour's c with the dead. In Mem. xciv 4 was a very miracle Of fellow-feeling and c. Lover's Tale i 251 Como Remember how we came at last To C ; The Daisy 70 past From C, when the light was gray, ,, 73 Compact (adj.) churl, c of thankless earth, Godiva 66 issued in a court C of lucid marbles, Princess ii 24 Compact (s) He said there was a c ; ,, i 47
there did a c pass Long summers back, ,, 123
Our formal c, yet, not less ,, 165 and a hope The child of regal c, ,, iv 421
'that our c be fulfill'd : ,, v 115
she would not keep Her c.' ,, 324 Companion on her bridal morn before she past From all her old c's, ,, ii 263
Too harsh to your c yestermorn ; ,, iii 199
When wine and free c's kindled him, Geraint and E. 293
Fled all the boon c's of the Earl, ,, 477
Meanwhile the new c's past away Lancelot and E. 399
My boon c, tavern-fellow— Sir J. Oldcastle 90
Kindly landlord, boon c— Locksley H., Sixty 240
Down to the haven, Call your c's, Merlin and the G. 125
Companionless I, the last, go forth c, M. d'Arthur 236
I, the last, go forth c, Pass. of Arthur 404
Companionship Who broke our fair c, In Mem. xxii 13

Company Where sat a c with heated eyes, Vision of Sin 7
The little wife would weep for c, Enoch Arden 34
yes!—but a c forges the wine. Maud I i 36 her brother liagers late With a roystering c) ,, xiv 15 twos and threes, or fuller companies, Marr. of Geraint 57
'Where is that goodly c,' said I, Holy Grail 432 Spread the slow smile thro' all her c. Pelleas and E. 95
'Belike for lack of wiser c; Last Tournament 245
A glorious c, the flower of men, Guinevere 464 in companies Troubled the track of the host Batt. of Brunanburh 39 Comparison And half asleep she made c Marr. of Geraint 651
Compass (s) And in the c of three little words, Gardener's D. 232 winds from all the c shift and blow, Godiva 36
Might lie within their c, Aylmer's Field 485
And his c is but of a single note, The Islet 28 sorrow of my spirit Was of so wide a c Lover's Tale ii 135
The c, like an old friend false Columbus 70
Compass (verb) To c our dear sisters' liberties.' Princess iii 288
To c her with sweet observances, Geraint and E. 39 you should only c her disgrace, The Fleet 17 made him leper to c him with scorn— Happy 16
Compass'd And c by the inviolate sea.' To the Queen 36
With what dull pain C, D. of F. Women 278
Then c round by the blind wall of night Enoch Arden 492
All beauty c in a female form, Princess ii 34
Sat c with professors: ,, 444
Tho' c by two armies and the noise ,, v 345
That, c round with turbulent sound, Will 7
And c by the fires of Hell; In Mem. cxxvii 17
So, c by the power of the King, Com. of Arthur 203
He c her with sweet observances Marr. of Geraint 48
Compassion 'Full of c and mercy—(repeat) Rizpah 62, 63
Compel I c all creatures to my will.' (repeat) Geraint and E. 629, 673
Compell'd such a breeze C thy canvas, In Mem. xvii 2
Compensated For often fineness c size: Princess ii 149
Compensating nor c the want By shrewdness, Enoch Arden 250 Competence Seven happy years of health and c, ,, 82 gracious children, debtless c, golden mean; Vastness 24 Complaining broad stream in his banks c, L. of Shalott iv 3
C, 'Mother, give me grace To help me Mariana in the S. 29 call'd him by his name, c loud, M. d'Arthur 210
call'd him by his name, c loud, Pass. of Arthur 378 Complaint Not whisper, any murmur of c. St. S. Stylites 22
What end is here to my c? In Mem. lxxxi 6
Completer gipsy bonnet Be the neater and c; Maud I xx 20 Completion awaits C in a painful school; Love thou thy land 58
fulfill'd itself, Merged in c? Gardener's D. 239 Complexity many-corridor'd complexities Of Arthur's palace: Merlin and V. 732 Complicated See Tenfold-complicated
Compliment Light coin, the tinsel clink of c. Princess ii 55
Composed All c in a metre of Catullus, Hendecasyllabics 4
Compound 'No c of this earthly ball Two Voices 35
Comprehensive See All-comprehensive Comprest rais'd her head with lips c, The Letters 19
Comrade C's, leave me here a little, Locksley Hall 1
Hark, my merry c's call me, ,, 145
And Enoch's c, careless of himself, Enoch Arden 568
His c's having fought their last below, Aylmer's Field 227 till the c of his chambers woke, ,, 583
Which weep the c of my choice, In Mem. xiii 9
Is c of the lesser faith ,, cxxviii 3 labour him Beyond his c of the hearth, Gareth and L. 485 and then against his brace Of c's, Geraint and E. 88
His craven pair Of c's making slowlier ,, 167
To laughter and his c's to applause. ,, 296
—thy shame, and mine, Thy c— Sir J. Oldcastle 102
And some are wilder c's, sworn to seek Pref. Son. 19th Cent. 12 Gone the c's of my bivouac, Locksley H., Sixty 45 parted from his c in the boat, The Ring 308 Conceal she knows too, And she c's it.' Princess iii 60
And half c the Soul within. In Mem. v 4
Marriage will c it . . . Forlorn 10 Conceal'd it seem'd Better to leave Excalibur c M. d'Arthur 62 it seem'd Better to leave Excalibur c Pass. of Arthur 230 Concealment maiden-meek I pray'd C: Princess iii 135
Conceit (s) (See also Self-conceit) So spake he, clouded with his own c, M. d'Arthur 110
So spake he, clouded with his own c, Pass. of Arthur 278
Conceit (verb) C's himself as God that he can make Last Tournament 355 Conceive and in his agony c's A shameful sense Lover's Tale i 793 Conceived sinful man, c and born in sin: St. S. Stylites 122 Concentrate if I fail To conjure and c Romney's R. 7
Concession and the bounds Determining c; To Duke of Argyll 3
Conciliate so potent to coerce, And to c, Tiresias 121 Concluded At last a solemn grace C, Princess ii 453 dreamt Of some vast charm c in that star Merlin and V. 512 Conclusion To those c's when we saw In Mem. lxxxvii 35 a semi-smile As at a strong c— Lover's Tale iv 282 Concourse banquet, and c of knights and kings. Lancelot and E. 562 Concubine Sent like the twelve-divided c Aylmer's Field 759 wives and children Spanish c's, Columbus 175
Condemn'd prisoner at the bar, ever c: Sea Dreams 176
Condensation cramm'd With comment, densest c, Merlin and V. 678 Condition with sound of trumpet, all The hard c; Godiva 37
Hear my c's: promise (otherwise You perish) Princess ii 295
And these were the c's of the King: Gareth and L. 107 Conditioning ebb and flow c their march, Golden Year 30
Condole See Condowl
Condoned treacheries—wink'd at, and c— Columbus 226
Condowl (condole) frinds 'ud consowl an' c wid her, Tomorrow 47
Conduct (verb) C by paths of growing powers, In Mem. lxxxiv 31 Conduit Where the bloody c runs, Vision of Sin 144
Cone (See also Cypress-cone, Mountain-cones) In masses thick with milky c's. Miller's D. 56 Confederacy between her daughters o'er a wild c. Boädicea 6
Conference And thus our c closed. Princess ii 367 Confess I c with right) you think me bound ,, i 158
As I c it needs must be; In Mem. lix 4
Why wilt thou shame me to c to thee Holy Grail 567
I will find the Priest and c. Bandit's Death 18 Confessed thunders often have c Thy power, To W. C. Macready 2
Confidence In c of unabated strength, Lover's Tale i 511
Confined C on points of faith, ,, ii 150
Conflict c with the crash of shivering points, Princess v 491
Folk and his friends that had Fallen in c. Batt. of Brunanburh 71
Confluence A riotous c of watercourses Lucretius 30
Confound did all c Her sense; Mariana 76
Nor all Calamity's hugest waves c, Will 5
On whom the victor, to c them more, Geraint and E. 169
God the traitor's hope c! (repeat) Hands all Round 10, 22, 34
Confounded (See also Worse-confounded) Shame and wrath his heart c, The Captain 61
Saw them lie c, The Tourney 14 Confuse Nor thou with shadow'd hint c A life In Mem. xxxiii 7 pass on! the sight c's— Parnassus 15
Confused Makes thy memory c: A Dirge 45 Remaining utterly c with fears, Palace of Art 269 wicked broth C the chemic labour of the blood, Lucretius 20
Arriving all c among the rest Princess iv 224
C by brainless mobs and lawless Powers; Ode on Well. 153
C me like the unhappy bark In Mem. xvi 12
Thro' all that crowd c and loud, Maud II iv 71
'C, and illusion, and relation, Gareth and L. 287
Enid look'd, but all c at first, Marr. of Geraint 685
Those twelve sweet moons c his fatherhood.' Merlin and V. 712 Confusion The airy hand c wrought, Palace of Art 226
Is there c in the little isle? Lotos-Eaters, C.S. 79
There is c worse than death, ,, 83
Unsubject to c, Tho' soak'd and saturate, Will Water. 86
Man to command and woman to obey; All else c. Princess v 451
At first with all c: by and by Sweet order lived ,, vii 18
C's of a wasted youth; In Mem., Pro. 42
yet-loved sire would make C worse than death, ,, xc 19
Once for wrong done you by c, Merlin and V. 307
Thieves, bandits, leavings of c, Last Tournament 95
From flat c and brute violences, ,, 124 disloyal life Hath wrought c in the Table Round Guinevere 220 and ev'n on Arthur fell C, Pass. of Arthur 99

Confusion (continued) for on my heart hath fall'n C, Pass. of Arthur 144 centre and crater of European c, Beautiful City 1
Confuted come a witness soon Hard to be c, Forlorn 26
Conjecture (s) make C of the plumage and the form ; Marr. of Geraint 333
Conjecture (verb) C's of the features of her child Œnone 252 count me all to blame if I C of a stiller guest, In Mem., Con. 86
Conjecturing C when and where : this cut is fresh ; Lancelot and E. 21
Conjure if I fail To c and concentrate Romney's R. 7
Conquer From barren deeps to c all Princess vii 164
Is rack'd with pangs that c trust ; In Mem. l 6 you are Lancelot ; your great name, This c's : Lancelot and E. 151 Arise, go forth and c as of old,' Pass. of Arthur 64 lake and mountain c's all the day. Sisters (E. and E.) 100
Love will c at the last. Locksley H., Sixty 280
That only c's men to c peace, Akbar's Dream 15
Conquer'd (See also Woman-conquer'd) A cry above the c years In Mem. cxxxi 7
At last she let herself be c by him, Merlin and V. 900 knowing he was Lancelot ; his great name C : Lancelot and E. 580 Conqueror (See also Woman-conqueror) Christian c's took and flung Locksley H., Sixty 84 Conquest two crowned twins, Commerce and c, Princess v 421 brag to his fellow rakes of his c Charity 18 Conscience A little grain of c made him sour.' Vision of Sin 218
' With all his c and one eye askew '—(repeat) Sea Dreams 180, 184
My c will not count me fleckless ; Princess ii 294
' Who reverenced his c as his king ; Ded. of Idylls 8
To whom a c never wakes ; In Mem. xxvii 8
Without a c or an aim. ,, xxxiv 8
The c as a c at rest : ,, xciv 12
Their c, and their c as their King, Guinevere 469 as is the c of a saint Among his warring senses, ,, 639 Conscious (See also Half-conscious) nor c of a bar Between them, Aylmer's Field 134 Slowly and c of the rageful eye That watch'd him, ,, 336
c of ourselves, Perused the matting ; Princess ii 67
And partly c of my own deserts, ,, iv 305
We, c of what temper you are built, ,, 400 am I c, more Than other Masters, Romney's R. 62 Consecrate I dedicate, I c with tears— Ded. of Idylls 4 be c to lead A new crusade against the Saracen. Columbus 102 Consent (See also Half-consent) To yield c to my desire : Miller's D. 138 his long wooing her, Her slow c, and marriage, Enoch Arden 708
Was handed over by c of all To one who had not spoken, Lover's Tale iv 271
Consequence Were wisdom in the scorn of c.' Œnone 150
And duty duty, clear of c's. Princess iii 152 can he tell Whether war be a cause or a c? Maud I x 45 Conservative That man's the true C Hands all Round 7
Consider 'C well,' the voice replied, Two Voices 241
C, William : take a month to think, Dora 29 c them, and all Their bearing in their common bond Balin and Balan 149 Consider'd Again she c and said : In the Child. Hosp. 55
Considering c everywhere Her secret meaning In Mem. lv 9
Consistent liberal-minded, great, C ; ,, Con. 39
Consol chances of dividend, c, and share— The Wreck 30
Consolable A long, long weeping, not c. Merlin and V. 856
Console See Consowl
Consolidate became C in mind and frame— Two Voices 366
Consort And a gentle c made he, L. of Burleigh 73
Consowl (console) 'ud c an' condowl wid her, Tomorrow 47
Constancy The praise that comes to c.' In Mem. xxi 12 may yours for ever be That old strength and c Open. I. and C. Exhib. 14
Constantinus Also the crafty one, C, Batt. of Brunanburh 63
Constellation Larger c's burning, mellow moons and happy skies, Locksley Hall 159
With c and with continent, Princess i 224 Sphere-music of stars and of c's. Parnassus 8
Constrain'd thro' that young traitor, cruel need C us, Marr. of Geraint 716
Constraining C it with kisses close and warm, Lover's Tale i 468 Consume Me only cruel immortality C's : Tithonus 6 Consumed utterly c with sharp distress, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 13 Contained See Self-contained
Contemplate When I c all alone In Mem. lxxxiv 1
C all this work of Time, ,, cxviii 1 c The torment of the damn'd' Akbar's Dream 48 Contemplating no form of creed, But c all.' Palace of Art 212 but lay C her own unworthiness ; Marr. of Geraint 533
Contemplation And luxury of c : Eleänore 107
Contempt (See also Self-contempt) touch'd on Mahomet With much c, Princess ii 135 Contend C for loving masterdom. In Mem. cii 8 Content (adj.) (See also Ill-content, Well-content) I had been c to perish, Locksley Hall 103 might it come like one that looks c, Love and Duty 93
' I am c ' he answer'd ' to be loved Enoch Arden 428
Which left my after-morn c. In Mem. ciii 4
He rested well c that all was well. Geraint and E. 952
Nor rested thus c, but day by day, Lancelot and E. 13
' Queen, she would not be c Save that I wedded her, ,, 1314 Must be c to sit by little fires. Holy Grail 614
he well had been c Not to have seen, ,, 653
C am I so that I see thy face But once a day : Pelleas and E. 243 that had left her ill c ; The Revenge 51 was I c? Ay—no, not quite ; Sisters (E. and E.) 126 Not findable here—c, and not c, ,, 132 born of worldlings—father, mother—be c Locksley H., Sixty 25
I shall hardly be c Till I be leper Happy 87
He rests c, if his young music wakes To Mary Boyle 63
Content (s) (See also Self-content) breast That once had power to rob it of c. The form, the form 8
With meditative grunts of much c, Walk. to the Mail 87 found the sun of sweet c Re-risen The Brook 168 and break The low beginnings of c. In Mem. lxxxiv 48 nor more c, He told me, lives in any crowd, ,, xcviii 25 Contented (See also Well-contented) leapt into my arms, C there to die ! D. of F. Women 152
Continent With constellation and with c, Princess i 224
Maoris and that Isle of C, W. to Marie Alex. 18
From isle and cape and c, Open. I and C. Exhib. 4 and sow The dust of c's to be ; In Mem. xxxv 12 Continue you saw, As who should say 'C.' Lover's Tale iv 5
Contradiction seem'd to live A c on the tongue, In Mem. cxxv 4
Contract Cleave to your c : Princess iv 409
Contracting Philip's rosy face c grew Enoch Arden 486 Contrast love will go by c, as by likes. Sisters (E. and E.) 42
Contrivance With great c's of Power. Love thou thy land 64
Contrived where the two c their daughter's good— Aylmer's Field 848
Contriving c their dear daughter's good— ,, 781
Control (s) (See also Half-control, Self-control) keep it ours, O God, from brute c ; Ode on Well. 159
O friendship, equal-poised c, In Mem. lxxxv 33
Control (verb) changes should c Our being, Love thou thy land 41
Controll'd For they c me when a boy ; In Mem. xxviii 18
Controlleth C all the soul and sense Of Passion Eleänore 115 Convent (See also Hill-convent) while I lived In the white c down the valley St. S. Stylites 62
Convention but c beats them down : Princess, Pro. 123 Dwell with these, and lose C, ,, ii 86 to-morrow morn We hold a great c : ,, iv 511 Convent-roof Deep on the c-r the snows St. Agnes' Eve 1
Convent-tower shadows of the c-t's Slant down ,, 5
Converse (s) (See also Honey-converse) We may hold c with all forms Ode to Memory 115
War, who breaks the c of the wise ; Third of Feb. 8
But open c is there none, In Mem. xx 17
Thy c drew us with delight, ,, cx 1 rode In c till she made her palfrey halt, Gareth and L. 1360 he suspends his c with a friend, Marr. of Geraint 340 told her all their c in the hall, ,, 520
Edyrn, whom he held In c for a little, Geraint and E. 882 That comfort from their c which he took ,, 950
c sweet and low—low c sweet, Lover's Tale i 541
Am not thyself in c with thyself, Ancient Sage 65

Converse (verb) Hears him lovingly c, L. of Burleigh 26 Convert That was a miracle to c the king. Sir J. Oldcastle 178
Convey'd c them on their way And left them Gareth and L. 889
Convict The noble and the c of Castile, Columbus 117
Convolution saturate, out and out, Thro' every c. Will Water. 88
Convolvulus The lustre of the long c's Enoch Arden 576 with a myriad blossom the long c hung ; V. of Maeldune 40
Cony Or conies from the down, Enoch Arden 340
Coo Deeply the wood-dove c's ; Leonine Eleg. 6
Coodled (cuddled) An' coäx'd an' c me oop North. Cobbler 80
Coo'd it c to the Mother and smiled. The Wreck 60
Cook'd c his spleen, Communing with his captains Princess i 66
Cool (adj.) while she wept, and I strove to be c, Maud II i 15 fair days—not all as c as these, Balin and Balan 273
Is all as c and white as any flower.' Last Tournament 416
Cool (s) as we enter'd in the c. Gardener's D. 114
Cool (verb) 'Drink to lofty hopes that c— Vision of Sin 147 saw it and grieved—to slacken and to c ; Princess iv 299
Cool'd placed upon the sick man's brow C it, Aylmer's Field 701
Or c within the glooming wave ; In Mem. lxxxix 45 ere his cause Be c by fighting, Gareth and L. 703 Cooling C her false cheek with a featherfan, Aylmer's Field 289 Coolness paced for c in the chapel-yard ; Merlin and V. 757 blew C and moisture and all smells of bud Lover's Tale iii 5 Coom (come) But Parson a c's an' a goäs, N. Farmer, O. S. 25 an' thy muther c to 'and, ,, N. S. 21
C's of a gentleman burn : ,, 38
Wrigglesby beck c's out by the 'ill ! ,, 53
C oop, proputty, proputty— ,, 59
WAÄIT till our Sally c's in, North. Cobbler 1 one night I c's 'oäm like a bull ,, 33
'My lass, when I c's to die, ,, 103
C thou 'eer—yon laädy a-steppin' ,, 107 but 'e dosn' not c fro' the shere ; Village Wife 23 sa I knaw'd es 'e'd c to be poor ; ,, 46
C ! c ! feyther,' 'e says, ,, 69
fur they weänt niver c to naw good. ,, 96
When Molly c's in fro' the far-end close Spinster's S's. 2
Rob, c oop 'ere o' my knee. ,, 11
C give hoäver then, weant ye ? ,, 63 let Steevie c oop o' my knee. ,, 67
Dick, when 'e c's to be deäd, Owd Roä 11
'ud c at the fall o' the year, ,, 23
I'll c an' I'll squench the light, ,, 117 an' 'e beal'd to ya 'Lad c hout' Church-warden, etc. 28 Coom'd (came) An' I hallus c to 's chooch N. Farmer, O. S. 17 said whot a owt to 'a said an' I c awaäy. ,, 20 afoor I c to the plaäce. ,, 34 sin fust a c to the 'All ; ,, 55
afoor 'e c to the shere. ,, N.S. 28
'e c to the parish wi' lots o' Varsity debt, ,, 29
An' I c neck-an-crop soomtimes, North. Cobbler 20
An' when we c into Meeätin', ,, 53 fur New Squire c last night. Village Wife 1 new Squire's c wi' 'is taäil in 'is 'and, (repeat) ,, 14, 121 Thou's c oop by the beck ; ,, 79 fur he c last night so laäte— ,, 123
But 'e c thruf the fire wi' my bairn Owd Roä 92
He c like a Hangel o' marcy ,, 93
An' 'is 'air c off i' my 'ands ,, 100 fur a lot on 'em c ta-year— Church-warden, etc. 13
They says 'at he c fra nowt— ,, 17 an' c to the top o' the tree, ,, 38
Coomfut (s) (comfort) But she wur a power o' c, North. Cobbler 79
Fur she hedn't naw c in 'er, Village Wife 12
Coomfut (verb) When I goäs fur to c the poor Spinster's S's. 108 Coomin' (coming) upo' c awaäy Sally gied me a kiss North. Cobbler 56
Fur I seed that Steevie wur c,' Spinster's S's. 40 but, O Lord, upo' c down— ,, 44
'cep' it wur at a dog c in, ,, 60
By a man c in wi' a hiccup ,, 98
Fur I seed the beck c down Owd Roä 40 an' the times 'at was c on ; ,, 44
Coontryside (Countryside) booöts to be cobbled fro' hafe the c. North. Cobbler 94

Cooper C he was and carpenter, Enoch Arden 814
Cöoperant Is toil c to an end. In Mem. cxxviii 24
Coortin (courting) gied tha a raätin that sattled thy c o' me, Spinster's S's. 48
Coostom (custom) Foälks' c flitted awaäy North. Cobbler 28
An' c ageän draw'd in like a wind ,, 93
Coot I come from haunts of c and hern, The Brook 23
Cope c Of the half-attain'd futurity, Ode to Memory 32
Wrapt in dense cloud from base to c. Two Voices 186 one Not fit to c your quest. Gareth and L. 1174 slinks from what he fears To c with, Pelleas and E. 439 sound as when an iceberg splits From c to base— Lover's Tale i 604 the c and crown Of all I hoped and fear'd ?— ,, ii 27
Cophetua came the beggar maid Before the king C. Beggar Maid 4
C sware a royal oath ; ,, 15
Coppice in April suddenly Breaks from a c Marr. of Geraint 339 scour'd into the c's and was lost, Geraint and E. 534 from the fringe of c round them burst Balin and Balan 46
Coppice-feather'd every c-f chasm and cleft, Princess iv 23 Copse danced about the may-pole and in the hazel c, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 11 shadowy pine above the woven c. Lotos-Eaters 18 did we hear the c's ring, Locksley Hall 35
Came little c's climbing. Amphion 32
Then move the trees, the c's nod, Sir Galahad 77
In c and fern Twinkled the innumerable ear The Brook 133 firefly-like in c And linden alley : Princess i 208 we wound About the the cliffs, the c's, ,, iii 360
Here is the c, the fountain and— Sir J. Oldcastle 127 seas leaning on the mangrove c, Prog. of Spring 76
Coptic Lulling the brine against the C sands. Buonaparte 8
Coquette the slight c, she cannot love, The form, the form 12
Coquette-like or half c-l Maiden, Hendecasyllabics 20
Coquetting C with young beeches ; Amphion 28
Cord The creaking c's which wound and eat Supp. Confessions 36
The wounding c's that bind and strain Clear-headed friend 4
We'll bind you fast in silken c's, Rosalind 49
Lower'd softly with a threefold c of love D. of F. Women 211 Bound by the golden c of their first love— The Ring 429 while she stared at those dead c's Death of Œnone 10
A silken c let down from Paradise, Akbar's Dream 139
Cordage coils of c, swarthy fishing-nets, Enoch Arden 17
Corded See Sinew-corded
Cordon draw The c close and closer Aylmer's Field 500 Core Else earth is darkness at the c, In Mem. xxxiv 3
To make a solid c of heat ; ,, cvii 18
Corinna wrought With fair C's triumph ; Princess iii 349
Coritanian hear C, Trinobant ! (repeat) Boädicea 10, 34, 47
Gods have heard it, O Icenian, O C ! Boädicea 21
Shout Icenian, Catieuchlanian, shout C, Trinobant, ,, 57
Corkscrew up the c stair With hand and rope Walk. to the Mail 90
Corn (See also Curn) river-sunder'd champaign clothed with c, Œnone 114 land of hops and poppy-mingled c, Aylmer's Field 31
Ruth among the fields of c, ,, 680 when a field of c Bows all its ears Princess i 236 glutted all night long breast-deep in c, ,, ii 387 Steel and gold, and c and wine, Ode Inter. Exhib. 17 sweating underneath a sack of c, Marr. of Geraint 263 Take him to stall, and give him c, ,, 371 fell Like flaws in Summer laying lusty c : ,, 764 spice and her vintage, her silk and her c ; Vastness 13
A thousand squares of c and meadow, The Ring 149
Corn-bin horse That hears the c-b open, The Epic 45
Cornelia Clelia, C, with the Palmyrene Princess ii 83
Corner 'Sometimes a little c shines, Two Voices 187
From some odd c of the brain. Miller's D. 68 in dark c's of her palace stood Uncertain shapes ; Palace of Art 237 crow shall tread The c's of thine eyes : Will Water. 236 sitting-room With shelf and c for the goods Enoch Arden 171
From distant c's of the street they ran ,, 349 or Ralph Who shines so in the c ; Princess, Pro. 145 my own sad name in c's cried, Maud I vi 72 Found Enid with the c of his eye, Geraint and E. 281
A damsel drooping in a c of it. ,, 611 folded hands and downward eyes Of glancing c, Merlin and V. 70

Corner (continued) Or whisper'd in the c? do ye know it?' Merlin and V. 772 knelt Full lowly by the c's of his bed, Lancelot and E. 826 dragon, griffin, swan, At all the c's, Holy Grail 351 deal-box that was push'd in a c away, First Quarrel 48 Cornice Now watching high on mountain c, The Daisy 19
Stretch'd under all the c and upheld: Gareth and L. 219 Cornish held Tintagil castle by the C sea, Com. of Arthur 187 name of evil savour in the land, The C king. Gareth and L. 386 Mark her lord had past, The C King, Last Tournament 382 sands Of dark Tintagil by the C sea; Guinevere 294
Corn-laws And struck upon the c-l, Audley Court 35
Coronach Prevailing in weakness, the c stole Dying Swan 26 Coronal My c slowly disentwined itself Lover's Tale i 361 dost uphold Thy c of glory like a God, ,, 488
Coroner c doubtless will find it a felo-de-se, Despair 115
Coronet Kind hearts are more than c's, L. C. V. de Vere 55
Corp (corpse) a c lyin' undher groun'. Tomorrow 62
Corpse (See also Corp) On c's three-months-old at noon she came, Palace of Art 243
C's across the threshold; D. of F. Women 25
Step from the c, and let him in D. of the O. Year 49 he comes to the second c in the pit? Maud II v 88
A yet-warm c, and yet unburiable, Gareth and L. 80
My mother on his c in open field; (repeat) Merlin and V. 43, 73 night with its coffinless c to be laid Def. of Lucknow 80
I'd sooner fold an icy c dead of some The Flight 54
She tumbled his helpless c about. Dead Prophet 65
Pain, that has crawl'd from the c of Pleasure, Vastness 17
And found a c and silence, The Ring 217 lies, that blacken round The c of every man Romney's R. 123 Corpse-coffin end but in being our own c-c's at last, Vastness 33
Correspond Not for three years to c with home; Princess ii 70
Corridor Full of long-sounding c's it was, Palace of Art 53
Corridor'd See Many-corridor'd
Corrientes and flowers, From C to Japan, To Ulysses 4
Corrupt Plenty c's the melody That made thee famous once, The Blackbird 15
Lest one good custom should c the world. M. d'Arthur 242
C's the strength of heaven-descended Will 11
Lest one good custom should c the world. Pass. of Arthur 410 Corruption c crept among his knights, Merlin and V. 154
Corselet thro' the bulky bandit's c home, Geraint and E. 159
Cosmogony their cosmogonies, their astronomies: Columbus 42
Cosmopolite That man's the best C Hands all Round 3
Cosmos Chaos, C! C, Chaos! (repeat) Locksley H., Sixty 103, 127
Cossack C and Russian Reel'd Light Brigade 34
Cost (s) care not for the c; the c is mine.' Geraint and E. 288 Cost (verb) story that c me many a tear. Grandmother 22 it c me a world of woe, ,, 23
They still remember what it c them here, The Ring 201
Costliest Black velvet of the c— Aylmer's Field 804 Costly the work To both appear'd so c, Marr. of Geraint 638
'Let her tomb Be c, Lancelot and E. 1340 Costly-broider'd Laid from her limbs the c-b gift, Marr. of Geraint 769 Costly-made half-cut-down, a pasty c-m, Audley Court 23
Costrel youth, that following with a c bore Marr. of Geraint 386
Cot and kiss'd him in his c. Enoch Arden 234
Here is the c of our orphan, In the Child. Hosp. 28
Softly she call'd from her c to the next, ,, 46
Thro' many a palace, many a c, Demeter and P. 55
Cotch'd (caught) but Charlie 'e c the pike, Village Wife 43
Thou'd niver 'a c ony mice Spinster's S's. 55
An' 'e c howd hard o' my hairm, Owd Roä 58
c 'er death o' cowd that night, ,, 114
I c tha wonst i' my garden, Church-warden, etc. 33
Coterie Came yews, a dismal c; Amphion 42
Cottage Or even a lowly c whence we see Ode to Memory 100
'Make me a c in the vale,' she said, Palace of Art 291 Love will make our c pleasant, L. of Burleigh 15
she seems to gaze On that c growing nearer, ,, 35 FAIR is her c in its place, Requiescat 1 Served the poor, and built the c, Locksley H., Sixty 268 sound ran Thro' palace and c door, Dead Prophet 38
Cottager She was the daughter of a c, Walk. to the Mail 59
Cottage-walls robed your c-w with flowers Aylmer's Field 698
Cotter a c's babe is royal-born by right divine; Locksley H., Sixty 125
Cotton (s) Whose ear is cramm'd with his c, Maud I x 42
Cotton (verb) If tha c's down to thy betters, Church-warden, etc. 48
Cotton-spinner We are not c-s's all, Third of Feb. 45
Cotton-spinning Go' (shrill'd the c-s chorus); Edwin Morris 122
Co-twisted New things and old c-t, Gareth and L. 226
Couch Kings have no such c as thine, Dirge 40
She lying on her c alone, Day-Dm., Sleep B. 2
And flung her down upon a c of fire, Aylmer's Field 574 light of healing, glanced about the c, Princess vii 59
Rolling on their purple c'es Boädicea 62
And Enid woke and sat beside the c, Marr. of Geraint 79 which she laid Flat on the c, and spoke exultingly: ,, 679 left her maiden c, and robed herself, ,, 737 wearied out made for the c and slept, Merlin and V. 736 flung herself Down on the great King's c, Lancelot and E. 610
Low on the border of her c they sat Guinevere 101
And the crowded c of incest in the warrens Locksley H., Sixty 224
Couchant c with his eyes upon the throne, Guinevere 11
Couch'd (See also Low-couch'd) tame leopards c beside her throne, Princess ii 33
c behind a Judith, underneath The head ,, iv 226
The wine-flask lying c in moss, In Mem. lxxxix 44
c at ease, The white kine glimmer'd, (repeat) ,, xcv 14, 50 c at night with grimy kitchen-knaves. Gareth and L. 481
They c their spears and prick'd their steeds, Lancelot and E. 479 at her will they c their spears, Three against one: Pelleas and E. 273
Lancelot passing by Spied where he c, Guinevere 31
Cough c's, aches, stitches, ulcerous throes St. S. Stylites 13 Council (See also College-council) 'And statesmen at her c met To the Queen 29 manners, climates, c's, governments, Ulysses 14
In iron gauntlets: break the c up.' Princess i 89
But when the c broke, I rose and past ,, 90 enter'd an old hostel, call'd mine host To c, ,, 174
'everywhere Two heads in c, ,, ii 173 Great in c and great in war, Ode on Well. 30
c's thinn'd, And armies waned, Merlin and V. 572 Council-hall The basest, far into that c-h Lucretius 171
His voice is silent in your c-h Ode on Well. 174
Counsel (advice) silver flow Of subtle-paced c Isabel 21
Then follow'd c, comfort, and the words Love and Duty 69
Her art, her hand, her c all had wrought Aylmer's Field 151
Nor dealing goodly c from a height ,, 172
You prized my c, lived upon my lips: Princess iv 293
In part It was ill c had misled the girl ,, vii 241 to whom He trusted all things, and of him required His c: Com. of Arthur 147 man of plots, Craft, poisonous c's, Gareth and L. 432 Abide: take c: for this lad is great ,, 730 thou begone, take c, and away, ,, 1002 take my c: let me know it at once: Merlin and V. 653 he turn'd Her c up and down within his mind, Lancelot and E. 369
Then, when I come within her c's, Pelleas and E. 348
I would not spurn Good c of good friends, Sir J. Oldcastle 146
My c that the tyranny of all Led backward Tiresias 75
And following thy true c, Akbar's Dream 154 mix the wines of heresy in the cup Of c— ,, 175
Counsel (advocate) a sound Like sleepy c pleading; Amphion 74
A man is likewise c for himself, Sea Dreams 182
Counsel (verb) Speak to me, sister; c me; The Flight 75
Counsell'd but old Merlin c him, Com. of Arthur 306
Counsellor He play'd at c's and kings, In Mem. lxiv 23
My noble friend, my faithful c, Akbar's Dream 18 and bravest soul for c and friend. ,, 69
Count (title) c's and kings Who laid about them Princess, Pro. 30
C, baron—whom he smote, he overthrew. Lancelot and E. 465
C who sought to snap the bond Happy 61
Count (reckoning) 'Heaven heads the c of crimes D. of F. Women 201 Count (verb) I can but c thee perfect gain, Palace of Art 198 or touch Of pension, neither c on praise: Love thou thy land 26 C's nothing that she meets with base, On a Mourner 4 but c not me the herd! Golden Year 13
But I c the gray barbarian lower Locksley Hall 174 Deep as Hell I c his error. The Captain 3

Count (verb) (continued) C the more base idolater of the two; Aylmer's Field 670 conscience will not c me fleckless; Princess ii 294 what every woman c's her due, Love, children, ,, iii 244
Nor, what may c itself as blest, In Mem. xxvii 9
Shall c new things as dear as old: ,, xl 28
I c it crime To mourn for any ,, lxxxv 61
To c their memories half divine; ,, xc 12
Thy likeness, I might c it vain ,, xcii 2
To-day they c as kindred souls; ,, xcix 19
Nor c me all to blame if I ,, Con. 85
'Mother, tho' ye c me still the child, Gareth and L. 34
I c it of small use To charge you) Geraint and E. 416 be he dead, I c you for a fool; ,, 548
'I c it of no more avail, Dame, ,, 715 may c The yet-unbroken strength Holy Grail 325
I should c myself the coward if I left them, The Revenge 11
You c the father of your fortune, Sisters (E. and E.) 28
The gells they c's fur nowt, Village Wife 18
Thy frailty c's most real, Ancient Sage 51
I c them all My friends Epilogue 18
I c you kind, I hold you true; The Wanderer 13

Counted casting bar or stone Was c best; Gareth and L. 519
So died Earl Doorm by him he c dead. Geraint and E. 730
And only queens are to be c so, Lancelot and E. 238

Countenance Christians with happy c's— Supp. Confessions 20
With a glassy c Did she look to Camelot. L. of Shalott iv 13
If I make dark my c, I shut my life Two Voices 53
Then her c all over Pale again as death L. of Burleigh 65 o'er his c No shadow past, nor motion: Enoch Arden 709 Else I withdraw favour and c From you Aylmer's Field 307
She sets her forward c In Mem. cxiv 6
His c blacken'd, and his forehead veins Balin and Balan 391 his face Shone like the c of a priest Pelleas and E. 144 Forgetting how to render beautiful Her c Lover's Tale i 97 to see the settled c Of her I loved, ,, iii 39

Counter rogue would leap from his c Maud I i 51 one to the west, and c to it, And blank: Holy Grail 254
My knights have sworn the c to it— Last Tournament 80
We run more c to the soul thereof ,, 659

Counterchange Witch-elms that c the floor In Mem. lxxxix 1

Counter-changed c The level lake with diamond-plots Arabian Nights 84 half-disfame, And c with darkness? Merlin and V. 466

Countercharm c of space and hollow sky, Maud I xviii 43

Countercheck With motions, checks, and c's. Two Voices 300

Countermarch would fight and march and c, Audley Court 40

Counterpane girl with her arms lying out on the c.' In the Child Hosp. 58 little arms lying out on the c; ,, 70

Counterpressure But c's of the yielded hand Sisters (E. and E.) 163

Counter-scoff fiery-short was Cyril's c-s, Princess v 307

Counter-term such c-t's, my son, Are border-races, Ancient Sage 250

Counter-yell yells and c-y's of feud And faction, To Duke of Argyll 8

Countest See thou, that c reason ripe In Mem. xxxiii 13

Counting C the dewy pebbles, fix'd in thought; M. d'Arthur 84
C the dewy pebbles, fix'd in thought; Pass. of Arthur 252

Country His c's war-song thrill his ears: Two Voices 153
None of these Came from his c, Enoch Arden 653
O Prince, I have no c none; Princess ii 218
If love of c move thee there at all, Ode on Well. 140 neither court nor c, tho' they sought Marr. of Geraint 729
Who loves his native c best. Hands all Round 4

Countryman and in me behold the Prince Your c, Princess ii 215

Country-side (See also Coontryside) tree by tree, The c-s descended; Amphion 52

Countrywoman countrywomen! she did not envy Princess iii 41 gives the manners of your countrywomen?' ,, iv 151
A foreigner, and I your c, ,, 317

County Not a lord in all the c L. of Burleigh 59 that almighty man, The c God— Aylmer's Field 14

County Member not the C M's with the vane: Walk. to the Mail 12

County Town Last week came one to the c t, Maud I x 37

Couple (s) a c, fair As ever painter painted, Aylmer's Field 105 then, the c standing side by side, The Bridesmaid 5

Couple (verb) then let men c at once with wolves. Pelleas and E. 536

Coupled No power—so chain'd and c with the curse Tiresias 58

Courage A c to endure and to obey; Isabel 25
'C!' he said, and pointed toward the land, Lotos-Eaters 1
C, St Simeon! This dull chrysalis St. S. Stylites 155
Till thy drooping c rise, Vision of Sin 152
C, poor heart of stone! Maud II iii 1
C, poor stupid heart of stone.— ,, 5
if dynamite and revolver leave you c to be wise: Locksley H., Sixty 107

Courier Which every hour his c's bring. In Mem. cxxvi 4
By c's gone before; Guinevere 396

Course (s) (See also Water-course) Their c, till thou wert also man: Two Voices 327
You held your c without remorse, L. C. V. de Vere 45 winds variable, Then baffling, a long c of them; Enoch Arden 546
Like the Good Fortune, from her destined c, ,, 629
Or baser c's, children of despair.' Princess iii 213 outran The hearer in its fiery c; In Mem. cix 8
And roll it in another c, ,, cxiii 16
And all the c's of the suns. ,, cxvii 12 move his c, and show That life is not as idle ore, ,, cxviii 19 faith That sees the c of human things. ,, cxxviii 4
Fill'd all the genial c's of his blood Geraint and E. 927
The c of life that seem'd so flowery to me Merlin and V. 880 Paused in their c to hear me, Lover's Tale ii 14 and sway thy c Along the years of haste De Prof. Two G. 20
Three that were next in their fiery c, Heavy Brigade 21

Course (verb) To c and range thro' all the world, Sir J. Oldcastle 120

Coursed we c about The subject most at heart, Gardener's D. 222
C one another more on open ground Marr. of Geraint 522

Court Her c was pure; her life serene; To the Queen 25
Four c's I made, East, West, and South and North, Palace of Art 21 round the cool green c's there ran a row Of cloisters, ,, 25
I earth in earth forget these empty c's, Tithonus 75
'O seek my father's c with me, Day-Dm., Depart. 27 old-world trains, upheld at c By Cupid-boys ,, Ep. 9 in a c he saw A something-pottle-bodied boy Will Water. 130
Thro' the c's, the camps, the schools, Vision of Sin 104
A silent c of justice in his breast, Sea Dreams 174 often, in that silent c of yours— ,, 183
'I have a sister at a foreign c, Princess i 75
I stole from c With Cyril and with Florian, ,, 102
In masque or pageant at my father's c. ,, 198 a c Compact of lucid marbles, ,, ii 23
'We of the c,' said Cyril. 'From the c' ,, 48
we crost the c To Lady Psyche's: ,, 100 rolling thro' the c A long melodious thunder ,, 475 Descended to the c that lay three parts In shadow, ,, iii 20
So saying from the c we paced, ,, 117 there rose A hubbub in the c ,, iv 476 push'd us, down the steps and thro' the c, ,, 555 Deepening the c's of twilight broke them up ,, Con. 113 pleased him, fresh from brawling c's In Mem. lxxxix 11
I keep Within his c on earth, ,, cxxvi 7
Ye come from Arthur's c. Com. of Arthur 249 to the c of Arthur answering yea. ,, 446 Merlin's hand, the Mage at Arthur's c, Gareth and L. 306 then will I to c again, And shame the King ,, 897 brave Geraint, a knight of Arthur's c, Marr. of Geraint 1 Next after her own self, in all the c. ,, 18 himself Had told her, and their coming to the c. (repeat) ,, 144, 846 Held c at old Caerleon upon Usk. ,, 146 with the morning all the c were gone. ,, 156 rode Geraint into the castle c, ,, 312 while he waited in the castle c, ,, 326 the good knight's horse stands in the c; ,, 370 Shalt ride to Arthur's c, and coming there, ,, 582 rising up, he rode to Arthur's c, ,, 591 ride with him this morning to the c, ,, 606 bright and dreadful thing, a c. ,, 616 her own faded self And the gay c, ,, 653 lord and ladies of the high c went In silver tissue ,, 662 like a madman brought her to the c, ,, 725

Court (continued) neither c nor country, though they sought Marr. of Geraint 729
I can scarcely ride with you to c, ,, 749 such a sense might make her long for c ,, 803
In this poor gown I rode with him to c, Geraint and E. 700
A knight of Arthur's c, who laid his lance In rest, ,, 775
Was but to rest awhile within her c; ,, 855 we be mightier men than all In Arthur's c; Balin and Balan 34
c and King And all the kindly warmth ,, 235 stall'd his horse, and strode across the c, ,, 341
He rose, descended, met The scorner in the castle c, ,, 387 from the castle a cry Sounded across the c, ,, 400 the mask of pure Worn by this c, Merlin and V. 36 because that foster'd at thy c I savour ,, 38 narrow c and lubber King, farewell! ,, 119 thro' the peaceful c she crept And whisper'd: ,, 139 wily Vivien stole from Arthur's c. ,, 149 leaving Arthur's c he gained the beach; ,, 197
I rose and fled from Arthur's c ,, 297 the thing was blazed about the c, ,, 743 the c, the king, dark in your light, ,, 875
Arthur, holding then his c Hard on the river Lancelot and E. 74 Moving to meet him in the castle c; ,, 175 great knight, the darling of the c, ,, 261 much they ask'd of c and Table Round, ,, 268
she heard Sir Lancelot cry in the c, ,, 344 Above her, graces of the c, and songs, Sighs, ,, 648
we two May meet at c hereafter: ,, 698 ye will learn the courtesies of the c, ,, 699 Thence to the c he past; ,, 706
So ran the tale like fire about the c, ,, 734
And all the gentle c will welcome me, ,, 1060
I go in state to c, to meet the Queen. ,, 1124
I hear of rumours flying thro' your c. ,, 1190
Nun as she was, the scandal of the C, Holy Grail 78
'Gawain am I, Gawain of Arthur's c, Pelleas and E. 371
Gawain of the c, Sir Gawain— ,, 379
Then he crost the c, And spied not any light ,, 418
Creep with his shadow thro' the c again, ,, 441
My tower is full of harlots, like his c, Last Tournament 81 tongueters of the c she had not heard. ,, 393 QUEEN GUINEVERE had fled the c, Guinevere 1 one morn when all the c, Green-suited, ,, 21
lissome Vivien, of her c The wiliest and the worst; ,, 28
Lured by the crimes and frailties of the c, ,, 136
I came into c to the Judge and the lawyers. Rizpah 33 showing c's and kings a truth Columbus 37
Fonseca my main enemy at their c, ,, 126
Cast off, put by, scouted by c and king— ,, 165
Than any friend of ours at C? ,, 198
You move about the C, I pray you tell King Ferdinand ,, 222
Courted a well-worn pathway c us To one green wicket Gardener's D. 109
Courteous And mighty c in the main— Aylmer's Field 121
Sir, I was c, every phrase well oil'd, Princess iii 133
C or bestial from the moment, Gareth and L. 631
C—amends for gauntness— Merlin and V. 104
Gawain, surnamed The C, fair and strong, Lancelot and E. 555
'Too c truly! ye shall go no more ,, 716 Too c are ye, fair Lord Lancelot. ,, 972 some one thrice as c as thyself— Last Tournament 706
Courtesy To greet the sheriff, needless c! Edwin Morris 133
Then broke all bonds of c, Aylmer's Field 323
With garrulous ease and oily courtesies Princess i 164 in his coffin the Prince of c lay. G. of Swainston 10 men have I known In c like to thee: ,, 12 amends For a c not return'd. Maud I vi 14 stout knaves with foolish courtesies:' Gareth and L. 733 waving to him White hands, and c; ,, 1377
Geraint, from utter c, forbore. Marr. of Geraint 381 Host and Earl, I pray your c; ,, 403
'I pray you of your c, He being as he is, Geraint and E. 641
I see ye scorn my courtesies, ,, 671 such a grace Of tenderest c, ,, 862
To learn what Arthur meant by c, Balin and Balan 158
Courtesy (continued) high-set courtesies are not for me. Balin and Balan 227 Whom all men rate the king of c. ,, 257
'Is this thy c—to mock me, ha? ,, 495 wonted c, C with a touch of traitor in it, Lancelot and E. 638 ye will learn the courtesies of the court, ,, 699
Deeming our c is the truest law, ,, 712 Obedience is the c due to kings.' ,, 718 myself Would shun to break those bounds of c ,, 1220
And loved thy courtesies and thee, ,, 1363 such a c Spake thro' the limbs and in the voice— Holy Grail 22 one Murmuring, 'All c is dead,' Last Tournament 211
King by c, Or King by right— ,, 341
The greater man, the greater c. ,, 633
For c wins woman all as well As valour ,, 707 trustful courtesies of household life, Guinevere 86
And of the two first-famed for c— ,, 323
Had yet that grace of c in him left ,, 436
Yield thee full thanks for thy full c To Victor Hugo 13
Court-favour willing she should keep C-f: Princess vii 58
Court-Galen c-G poised his gilt-head cane, ,, i 19
Court-lady And should some great c-l say, Marr. of Geraint 723 Courtliness He moving up with pliant c, Geraint and E. 278 thought, and amiable words And c, Guinevere 482 Courting See Coortin
Courtly Not her, who is neither c nor kind, Maud I v 27 looking at her, Full c, yet not falsely, Lancelot and E. 236
Courtship Discussing how their c grew, In Mem., Con. 97
Cousin a silent c stole Upon us and departed: Edwin Morris 115
Trust me, c, all the current of my being Locksley Hall 24
Saying, 'Dost thou love me, c?' ,, 30
O my c, shallow-hearted! ,, 39
To give his c, Lady Clare. Lady Clare 4
'It was my c,' said Lady Clare, ,, 15
Her and her far-off c and betrothed, The Brook 75
My lady's c, Half-sickening of his pension'd Aylmer's Field 460
And had a c tumbled on the plain, Princess vi 319
Jenny, my c, had come to the place, Grandmother 25
Had made his goodly c, Tristram, knight, Gareth and L. 394
'O c, slay not him who gave you life.' Geraint and E. 783
'Fair and dear c, you that most had ,, 824 poor c, with your meek blue eyes, ,, 841 fear not, c; I am changed indeed.' ,, 873
My sister, and my c, and my love, Lover's Tale iii 43
c of his and hers—O God, so like!' ,, iv 327
'Take my free gift, my c, for your wife; ,, 363
And Muriel Erne—the two were c's— The Ring 147
I found these c's often by the brook, ,, 158 Cove dimple in the dark of rushy c's, Ode to Memory 60 sweet is the colour of c and cave, Sea-Fairies 30
And shadow'd c's on a sunny shore, Eleänore 18 waves that up a quiet c Rolling slide, ,, 108
And steering, now, from a purple c, The Daisy 20 curl'd Thro' all his eddying c's; In Mem. lxxix 10
The sailing moon in creek and c; ,, ci 16
then the two Dropt to the c, Com. of Arthur 378
Sat by the river in a c, and watch'd Lancelot and E. 1389 Covenant Breathed, like the c of a God, Gardener's D. 209 Coventry I waited for the train at C; Godiva 1 wife to that grim Earl, who ruled In C: ,, 13
Cover (s) I slide by hazel c's; The Brook 171
Cover (verb) Have mercy, mercy! c all my sin. St. S. Stylites 84
C the lions on thy shield, Gareth and L. 585
Cover'd His blue shield-lions c— ,, 1217
All over c with a luminous cloud, Holy Grail 189 fail'd from my side, nor come C, ,, ,, 471
what I saw was veil'd And c; ,, 852
Coverlet Across the purple c, Day-Dm., Sleep. B. 3
Who, moving, cast the c aside, Marr. of Geraint 73
Coverlid The silk star-broider'd c Day-Dm., Sleep. B. 9
And all the c was cloth of gold Lancelot and E. 1157
Covert Rode thro' the c's of the deer, Sir L. and Q. G. 21
Here often they break c at our feet.' Marr. of Geraint 183
Coverture In closest c upsprung, Arabian Nights 68
Cow He praised his ploughs, his c's, his hogs, The Brook 125

Cow (continued) theer warn't not feeäd for a c; N. Farmer, O. S. 37
Wi' aäf the c's to cauve ,, 52 as big i' the mouth as a c, Village Wife 103 wi' her paäils fro' the c. Spinsters S's. 2 peasant c shall butt the 'Lion passant' Locksley H., Sixty 248 an' wa lost wer Haldeny c, Church-warden, etc. 5 an' I doubts they poison'd the c. ,, 16 an' it poison'd the c. ,, 54
Coward The fear of men, a c still. Two Voices 108
Where idle boys are c's to their shame, Princess v 309 dwell On doubts that drive the c back, In Mem. xcv 30 were he not crown'd King, c, and fool.' Merlin and V. 789 a c slinks from what he fears To cope with, Pelleas and E. 438
'Fore God I am no c: The Revenge 4
'I know you are no c; ,, 8
I should count myself the c if I left them, ,, 11 spared the flesh of thousands, the c and the base, Happy 17 Cowardice full of c and guilty shame, Princess iv 348 being thro' his c allow'd Her station, Guinevere 516
Or c, the child of lust for gold, To the Queen II 54
Cowd (cold) sa c!—hev another glass! Straänge an' c fur the time! Village Wife 20
Of a Christmas Eäve, an' as c as this, Owd Roä 31 but the barn was as c as owt, ,, 111 she cotch'd 'er death o' c that night, ,, 114
Cower'd A dwarf-like Cato c. Princess vii 126
Had often truckled and c When he rose Dead Prophet 62
Cowering See Low-cowering
Cowl And turn'd the c's adrift: Talking Oak 48 leaving for the c The helmet in an abbey Holy Grail 5
Cowl'd Some c, and some bare-headed, Princess vi 77
Beside that tower where Percivale was c, Pelleas and E. 501 Cowslip Spring Letters c's on the hill? Adeline 62
To stoop the c to the plains, Rosalind 16 c and the crowfoot are over all the hill, May Queen 38
As c unto oxlip is, Talking Oak 107
The little dells of c, fairy palms, Aylmer's Field 91 what joy can be got from a c out of the field; In the Child. Hosp. 36
Cowslip Ball he made me the c b, First Quarrel 13
Cowslip Wine hev a glass o' c w! Village Wife 5
Craädle (cradle) An' I tummled athurt the c North. Cobbler 35
Nelly wur up fro' the c Village Wife 103 bring tha down, an' thy c an' all; Owd Roä 50 Craäzed (crazed) Warn't I c fur the lasses mysén N. Farmer, N. S. 18
'Cushie wur c fur 'er cauf' Spinster's S's. 115
Crab like a butt, and harsh as c's. Walk. to the Mail 49
Crabb'd Thro' solid opposition c and gnarl'd. Princess iii 126
Come, thou are c and sour: Last Tournament 272 Crack (s) deafen'd with the stammering c's Merlin and V. 942
c of earthquake shivering to your base Pelleas and E. 465 Crack (verb) chrysalis C's into shining wings, St. S. Stylites 156 splinter'd spear-shafts c and fly, Sir Galahad 7 earthquake in one day C's all to pieces,— Lucretius 252 living hearts that c within the fire Princess v 379 and takes, and breaks, and c's, and splits, ,, 527 whelp to c; C them now for yourself, Maud II v 55
Burst vein, snap sinew, and c heart, Sir J. Oldcastle 123 Crack'd The mirror c from side to side; L. of Shalott iii 43 all her bonds C; and I saw the flaring atom-streams Lucretius 38
The forest c, the waters curl'd, In Mem. xv 5
And c the helmet thro', and bit the bone, Marr. of Geraint 573
And once the laces of a helmet c, Last Tournament 164 whin I c his skull for her sake, Tomorrow 41
Casques were c and hauberks hack'd The Tourney 7
Crackle The tempest c's on the leads, Sir Galahad 53
Crackling His hair as it were c into flames, Aylmer's Field 586 heard A c and a rising of the roofs. Holy Grail 183
Cradle (See also Craädle) To deck thy c, Eleänore. Eleänore 21
Then lightly rocking baby's c Enoch Arden 194 sway'd The c, while she sang this baby song. Sea Dreams 292 on my c shone the Northern star. Princess i 4 rock the snowy c till I died. ,, iv 104 Love, Warm in the heart, his c, Lover's Tale i 158 we slept In the same c always, ,, 259 place of burial Far lovelier than its c; ,, 530

Cradle (continued) bending by the c of her babe. The Ring 415 paler then Than ever you were in your c, moan'd, ,, 432
Cradled (See also Lily-cradled) Their Margaret c near them, Sea Dreams 57
Cradle-head half-embraced the basket c-h ,, 289
Cradle-time Familiar up from c-t, so wan, Balin and Balan 591
Cradlemont Urien, C of Wales, Claudias, Com. of Arthur 112 Craft (art, etc.) before we came, This c of healing. Princess iii 320 less from Indian c Than beelike instinct ,, iv 198 Yet Merlin thro' his c, Com. of Arthur 234 man of plots, C, poisonous counsels, Gareth and L. 432 answer'd with such c as women use, Geraint and E. 352
Nor left untold the c herself had used; ,, 393 moral child without the c to rule, Lancelot and E. 146
The c of kindred and the Godless hosts Guinevere 427 chance and c and strength in single fights, Pass. of Arthur 106
c and madness, lust and spite, Locksley H., Sixty 189
Had never served for c or fear, To Marq. of Dufferin 27
C with a bunch of all-heal in her hand, Vastness 12
O the flattery and the c Forlorn 3
Then you that drive, and know your C, Politics 5
Craft (vessel) I boated over, ran My c aground, Edwin Morris 109
At times a carven c would shoot The Voyage 53 Become the master of a larger c, Enoch Arden 144 pushing his black c among them all, Merlin and V. 563 seamen made mock at the mad little c The Revenge 38
Of others their old c seaworthy still, Pref. Son. 19th Cent. 3
Crag (See also Island-crag) And the c that fronts the Even, Eleänore 40
A gleaming c with belts of pines. Two Voices 189 barr'd with long white cloud the scornful c's, Palace of Art 83
All night the splinter'd c's that wall the dell D. of F. Women 187
And the wild water lapping on the c.' M. d'Arthur 71
'I heard the water lapping on the c, ,, 116
based His feet on juts of slippery c ,, 189
when the bracken rusted on their c's, Edwin Morris 100
The light cloud smoulders on the summer c. ,, 147
My right leg chain'd into the c, I lay St. S. Stylites 73 still hearth, among these barren c's, Ulysses 2 swings the trailer from the c; Locksley Hall 162
He clasps the c with crooked hands; The Eagle 1
At the foot of thy c's, O Sea! Break, break, etc. 14 from the beetling c to which he clung Aylmer's Field 229 came On flowery levels underneath the c, Princess iii 336 like a jewel set In the dark c: ,, 359 find the toppling c's of Duty scaled Ode on Well. 215
They tremble, the sustaining c's: In Mem. cxxvii 11 like a c that tumbles from the cliff, And like a c was gay with wilding flowers: Marr. of Geraint 318
And lichen'd into colour with the c's: Lancelot and E. 44
And found a people there among their c's, Holy Grail 662 Clutch'd at the c, and started thro' mid air Last Tournament 14 and c and tree Scaling, Sir Lancelot ,, 17
And the wild water lapping on the c.' Pass. of Arthur 239
'I heard the water lapping on the c, ,, 284
based His feet on juts of slippery c ,, 357 last hard footstep of that iron c; ,, 447 path was perilous, loosely strown with c's: Lover's Tale i 384 issuing from his portals in the c ,, 430 Revenge herself went down by the island c's The Revenge 118 the pine shot along from the c V. of Maeldune 16 down the c's and thro' the vales. Montenegro 8
The noonday c made the hand burn; Tiresias 35
When I had fall'n from off the c we clamber'd The Flight 22
Crag-carven left c-c o'er the streaming Gelt— Gareth and L. 1203
Crag-cloister C-c; Anatolian Ghost; To Ulysses 43
Crag-platform huge c-p, smooth as burnish'd brass Palace of Art 5
Crake (See also Meadow-crake) flood the haunts of hern and c; In Mem. ci 14
Cram green Christmas c's with weary bones. Wan Sculptor 14
'Give, C us with all,' Golden Year 13 c him with the fragments of the grave, Princess iii 311
Well needs it we should c our ears with wool ,, iv 65
Like any pigeon will I c his crop, Gareth and L. 459
Cramm'd (See also Furze-cramm'd) 'The Bull, the Fleece are c, Audley Court 1

Cramm'd (continued) And c a plumper crop ; Will Water. 124
Not like your Princess c with erring pride, Princess iii 102 Titanic shapes, they c The forum, ,, vii 124 she was c with theories out of books, ,, Con. 35 Whose ear is c with his cotton, Maud I x 42 every margin scribbled, crost, and c With comment, Merlin and V. 677
When was age so c with menace? Locksley H., Sixty 108
Cramming C all the blast before it, Locksley Hall 192
Cramp (s) stitches, ulcerous throes and c's, St. S. Stylites 13
Cramp (verb) c its use, if I Should hook it Day-Dm., Moral 15
I will not c my heart, nor take Half-views Will Water. 51
To c the student at his desk, In Mem. cxxviii 18 Cramp'd (See also Iron-cramp'd) for women, up till this C under worse Princess iii 278 weakness or necessity have c Within themselves, Tiresias 87
Crane c,' I said, 'may chatter of the c, Princess iii 104 steaming marshes of the scarlet c's, Prog. of Spring 75
Crannied FLOWER in the c wall, Flow. in Cran. wall 1
Cranny I pluck you out of the crannies, ,, 2
In an ancient mansion's crannies and holes : Maud II v 61
A light was in the crannies, Holy Grail 838
Crape Nor wreathe thy cap with doleful c, My life is full 14
Crash (s) came The c of ruin, and the loss of all Enoch Arden 549
In conflict with the c of shivering points, Princess v 491
There at his right with a sudden c, The Islet 8 thro' the c of the near cataract hears Geraint and E. 172
c Of battleaxes on shatter'd helms, Pass. of Arthur 109 maim'd for life In the c of the cannonades The Revenge 78
The c of the charges, Batt. of Brunanburh 89
My brain is full of the c of wrecks, The Wreck 4 then came the c of the mast. ,, 92
the c was long and loud— Happy 80
Crash (verb) The fortress c'es from on high, In Mem. cxxvi 14
I thought the great tower would c Balin and Balan 515 hail of Arês c Along the sounding walls. Tiresias 96 Crash'd boys That c the glass and beat the floor ; In Mem. lxxxvii 20 and so they c In onset, Balin and Balan 555 the stormy surf C in the shingle : Lover's Tale iii 54 as if she had struck and c on a rock ; The Wreck 108
C like a hurricane, Broke thro' the mass Heavy Brigade 28
Crashing C went the boom, The Captain 44
c with long echoes thro' the land, Aylmer's Field 338
c thro' it, their shot and their shell, Def. of Lucknow 18
Crass (cross) as ye did—over yer C ! Tomorrow 90
An shure, be the C, that's betther nor cuttin' ,, 94
Crasst (crossed) 'niver c over say to the Sassenach whate ; ,, 48
Crate the skin Clung but to c and basket, Merlin and V. 625
Crater the centre and c of European confusion, Beautiful City 1 Broke the Taboo, Dipt to the c, Kapiolani 31
Crathur' (whisky) been takin' a dhrop o' the c Tomorrow 11
Crave household shelter c From winter rains Two Voices 260
I c your pardon, O my friend ; In Mem. lxxxv 100 damsel back To c again Sir Lancelot of the King. Gareth and L 882
See thou c His pardon for thy breaking ,, 985
C pardon for that insult done the Queen, Marr. of Geraint 583 stay'd to c permission of the King, Balin and Balan 288 dazzled by the sudden light, and c Pardon : Pelleas and E. 105 Might I c One favour ? Romney's R. 69
Craved He c a fair permission to depart, Marr. of Geraint 40
Lancelot at the palace c Audience of Guinevere, Lancelot and E. 1162
Craven Silenced for ever—c—a man of plots, Gareth and L. 431
'A c ; how he hangs his head.' Geraint and E. 127
c, weakling, and thrice-beaten hound : Pelleas and E. 291 my c seeks To wreck thee villainously : Last Tournament 548
c shifts, and long crane legs of Mark— ,, 729 Craw (crow) theer's a c to pluck wi' tha, Sam : N. Farmer, N. S. 5
Crawin' (crowing) cocks kep a-crawin' an' c' Owd Roä 106
Crawl Why inch by inch to darkness c ? Two Voices 200
The wrinkled sea beneath him c's ; The Eagle 4
But into some low cave to c, Merlin and V. 884
Crawl'd (See also Scaped) C slowly with low moans to where he lay, Balin and Balan 592
Pain, that has c from the corpse of Pleasure, Vastness 17
But 'e creëapt an' 'e c along, Church-warden, etc. 19
Crawling scorpion c over naked skulls ;— Demeter and P. 78
Crayon Mary, my c's ! if I can, I will. Romney's R. 88
Craze if the King awaken from his c, Gareth and L. 724 Crazed (See also Craäzed, Half-crazed) I saw her (and I thought him c, Lover's Tale iv 163 so c that at last There were some leap'd V. of Maeldune 75 arrogant opulence, fear'd myself turned c, Despair 78
I c myself over their horrible infidel writings ? ,, 87 for War's own sake Is fool, or c, or worse ; Epilogue 31 coals of fire you heap upon my head Have c me. Romney's R. 142
I was all but c With the grief Bandit's Death 38
Craziness such a c as needs A cell and keeper), Lover's Tale iv 164
For such a c as Julian's look'd ,, 168
Crazy when I were so c wi' spite, First Quarrel 73
Never a prophet so c ! The Throstle 10
Creak but am led by the c of the chain, Rizpah 7
Creak'd The doors upon their hinges c ; Mariana 62 Cream fruits and c Served in the weeping elm ; Gardener's D. 194 robb'd the farmer of his bowl of c : Princess v 223 Cream-white Her c-w mule his pastern set : Sir L. and Q. G. 31
Crease (weapon) cursed Malayan c, and battle clubs Princess, Pro. 21
Create Life eminent c's the shade of death ; Love and Death 13
Creation Yet could not all c pierce A Character 5
And all c in one act at once, Princess iii 325 serene C minted in the golden moods ,, v 194
And love C's final law— In Mem. lvi 14
To which the whole c moves. ,, Con. 144
Creature Did never c pass So slightly, Talking Oak 86
But not a c was in sight : ,, 167 happy as God grants To any of his c's. Enoch Arden 417
As hunters round a hunted c draw Aylmer's Field 499 the gentle c shut from all Her charitable use, ,, 565
The c laid his muzzle on your lap, Princess ii 272
Like some wild c newly-caged, ,, 301
So stood that same fair c at the door. ,, 329
The sleek and shining c's of the chase, ,, v 155
The lovely, lordly c floated on ,, vi 89
Like c's native unto gracious act, ,, vii 27
Thy c, whom I found so fair. In Mem., Pro. 38 leave at times to play As with the c of my love ; ,, lix 12
O beautiful c, what am I Maud I xvi 10
A c wholly given to brawls and wine, Marr. of Geraint 441
To pick the faded c from the pool, ,, 671 they themselves, like c's gently born Geraint and E. 191 c's voiceless thro' the fault of birth, ,, 266
I compel all c's to my will.' (repeat) ,, 629, 673
To chase a c that was current then Merlin and V. 408
There sat the lifelong c of the house. Lancelot and E. 1143 or had the boat Become a living c clad with wings ? Holy Grail 519
Are ye but c's of the board and bed, Pelleas and E. 267
His c's to the basement of the tower Guinevere 104 and his c's took and bare him off, ,, 109
Had I but loved thy highest c here ? ,, 656 but the c's had worked their will. Rizpah 50 glorious c Sank to his setting. Batt. of Brunanburh 29
O unhappy c ? Forlorn 44
diseaseful c which in Eden was divine, Happy 33
I worshipt all too well this c of decay, ,, 45 like a c frozen to the heart Beyond all hope Death of Œnone 73 tenderest Christ-like c that ever stept Charity 32 Credible I almost think That idiot legend c. Princess v 153 Credit (s) Hadst thou such c with the soul ? In Mem. lxxi 5
His c thus shall set me free ; ,, lxxx 13
Credit (verb) The world which c's what is done ,, lxxv 15 Credited See Scarce-credited Creditor They set an ancient c to work : Edwin Morris 130 Credulous c Of what they long for, Geraint and E. 875
Credulousness darken, as he cursed his c, Sea Dreams 13
Creeäp (creep) But c along the hedge-bottoms, Church-warden, etc. 50
Creeäpt (crept) But 'e c an' 'e crawl'd along, ,, 19
Creed compare All c's till we have found the one, Supp. Confessions 176
The knots that tangle human c's, Clear-headed friend 3
And other than his form of c, A Character 29 cares to lisp in love's delicious c's : Caress'd or Chidden 11
A dust of systems and of c's. Two Voices 207

Creed (continued) I sit as God holding no form of c, Palace of Art 211
Against the scarlet woman and her c; Sea Dreams 23
Who keeps the keys of all the c's, In Mem. xxiii 5 wrought With human hands the c of c's ,, xxxvi 10 shriek'd against his c— ,, lvi 16
Believe me, than in half the c's. ,, xcvi 12
To cleave a c in sects and cries, ,, cxxviii 15
The prayer of many a race and c, and clime— To the Queen ii 11
drear night-fold of your fatalist c, Despair 21
cramping c's that had madden'd the peoples ,, 24
Despite of very Faith and C, To Mary Boyle 51
I hate the rancour of their castes and c's, Akbar's Dream 65
when c and race Shall bear false witness, ,, 97
Like calming oil on all their stormy c's, ,, 160
Neither mourn if human c's be lower Faith 5
Creedless This c people will be brought to Christ Columbus 189
Creek marish-flowers that throng The desolate c's and pools among, Dying Swan 41
The Lotos blows by every winding c: Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 101
The sailing moon in c and cove; In Mem. ci 16
Creep (See also Creeäp) Wind c; dews fall chilly: Leonine Eleg. 7
These in every shower c A Dirge 33 a languid fire c's Thro' my veins Eleänore 130 c's from pine to pine, And loiters, Œnone 4 And thro' the moss the ivies c, Lotos-Eaters C. S. 9 lost their edges, and did c Roll'd on each other, D. of F. Women 50 C's to the garden water-pipes beneath, ,, 206 c's on, Barge-laden, to three arches of a bridge Gardener's D. 42
The slow-worn c's, and the thin weasel Aylmer's Field 852
Where never c's a cloud, or moves a wind, Lucretius 106
Could dead flesh c, or bits of roasting ox ,, 131
Some ship of battle slowly c, To F. D. Maurice 26
And like a guilty thing I c In Mem. vii 7
When the blood c's, and the nerves prick ,, l 2
Must I too c to the hollow and dash myself Maud I i 54
Felt a horror over me c, ,, xiv 35
Always I long to c Into some still cavern deep, ,, II iv 95
The slow tear c from her closed eyelid Merlin and V. 906
C with his shadow thro' the court again, Pelleas and E. 441 like a new disease, unknown to men, C's, Guinevere 519 down, down! and c thro' the hole! Def. of Lucknow 25 who c from thought to thought, Ancient Sage 103
he—some one— this way c's! The Flight 70 fire of fever c's across the rotted floor, Locksley H., Sixty 223
c down to the river-shore, Charity 15
Creeper as falls A c when the prop is broken, Aylmer's Field 810
With c's crimsoning to the pinnacles, The Ring 82 Creeping (See also A-creeäpin, Forward-creeping, Silent-creeping) C thro' blossomy rushes and bowers Leonine Eleg. 3
And crystal silence c down, Two Voices 86
Upon the tortoise c to the wall; D. of F. Women 27
c on from point to point: Locksley Hall 134 comes a hungry people, as a lion c nigher, ,, 135 Still c with the c hours St. Agnes' Eve 7 Crept (See also Creeäpt) The cluster'd marish-mosses c. Mariana 40 deep inlay Of braided blooms unmown, which c Adown Arabian Nights 29
'From grave to grave the shadow c: Two Voices 274
And out I stept, and up I c: Edwin Morris 111
And down my surface c. Talking Oak 162
C down into the hollows of the wood; Enoch Arden 76
Another hand c too across his trade ,, 110
He c into the shadow: at last he said, ,, 387
c Still downward thinking 'dead ,, 688
C to the gate, and open'd it, ,, 775
With hooded brows I c into the hall, Princess iv 225
As on The Lariano c To that fair port The Daisy 78 a gentler feeling c Upon us: In Mem. xxx 17 till he c from a gutted mine Maud I x 9
My life has c so long on a broken wing ,, III vi 1 thro' the peaceful court she c And whisper'd: Merlin and V. 139 some corruption c among his knights, ,, 154 from the carven-work behind him c Lancelot and E. 436
C to her father, while he mused alone, ,, 748

Crept (continued) all that walk'd, or c, or perch'd, or flew. Last Tournament 367 in the pause she c an inch Nearer, Guinevere 527 my blood C like marsh drains thro' all my languid limbs; Lover's Tale ii 53
the night has c into my heart, Rizpah 16
C to his North again, Hoar-headed hero! Batt. of Brunanburh 64
Black was the night when we c away Bandit's Death 25
Crescent (adj.) (See also De-crescent, In-crescent) many a youth Now c, who will come Lancelot and E. 448
Crescent (s) Hundreds of c's on the roof Arabian Nights 129
And April's c glimmer'd cold, Miller's D. 107 beneath a moon, that, just In c, Audley Court 81
When down the stormy c goes, Sir Galahad 25
As when the sun, a c of eclipse, Vision of Sin 10
A downward c of her minion mouth, Aylmer's Field 533
To which thy c would have grown; In Mem. lxxxiv 4
To yon hard c, as she hangs ,, cvii 10
Half-lost in the liquid azure bloom of a c of sea, Maud I iv 5
With this last moon, this c— De Prof. Two G. 9 red with blood the C reels from fight Montenegro 6
Crescent-bark range Of vapour buoy'd the c-b, Day-Dm., Depart. 22
Crescent-curve Set in a gleaming river's c-c, Princess i 171
Silver c-c, Coming soon, The Ring 13
Crescent-lit while the balmy glooming, c-l, Gardener's D. 263
Crescent-moon And clove the Moslem c-m, Happy 44
Crescent-wise thro' stately theatres Bench'd c-w. Princess ii 370
Cress brook that loves To purl o'er matted c Ode to Memory 59
I loiter round my c's; The Brook 181
Crest She watch'd my c among them all, Oriana 30 lapwing gets himself another c; Locksley Hall 18 and light as the c Of a peacock, Maud I xvi 16
With but a drying evergreen for c, Gareth and L. 1116
The giant tower, from whose high c, they say, Marr. of Geraint 827 stormy c's that smoke against the skies, Lancelot and E. 484
And wearing but a holly-spray for c, Last Tournament 172 while he mutter'd, 'Craven c's! O shame! ,, 187 Fall, as the c of some slow-arching wave, ,, 462
To which for c the golden dragon clung Guinevere 594
c of the tides Plunged on the vessel The Wreck 89
'A warrior's c above the cloud of war'— The Ring 338
Crete Had rest by stony hills of C. On a Mourner 35
Crevice shriek'd, Or from the c peer'd about. Mariana 65 fretful as the wind Pent in a c: Princess iii 81 Crew (s) the seamen Made a gallant c, The Captain 6 beneath the water C and Captain lie; ,, 68
And half the c are sick or dead, The Voyage 92
They sent a c that landing burst away Enoch Arden 634
And ever as he mingled with the c, ,, 643 a c that is neither rude nor rash, The Islet 10 mann'd the Revenge with a swarthier alien c, The Revenge 110 harass'd by the frights Of my first c, Columbus 68 ran into the hearts of my c, V. of Maeldune 33
the c should cast me into the deep, The Wreck 94
the c were gentle, the captain kind; ,, 129 Crew (verb) sitting, as I said, The cock c loud; M. d'Arthur, Ep. 10
Crichton I call'd him C, for he seem'd Edwin Morris 21 Cricket (See also Balm-cricket) The c chirps; the light burns low: D. of the O. Year 40 not a c chirr'd: In Mem. xcv 6
As that gray c chirpt of at our hearth— Merlin and V. 110
Than of the myriad c of the mead, Lancelot and E. 106
And each was as dry as a c, V. of Maeldune 50
Cricketed They boated and they c; Princess, Pro. 160
Cried he took the boy that c aloud Dora 101
when the boy beheld His mother he c out ,, 138 Leolin c out the more upon them— Aylmer's Field 367 mock'd him with returning calm, and c: Lucretius 25 c out upon herself As having fail'd in duty ,, 277
clapt her hands and c for war, Princess iv 590
So thrice they c, I likewise, ,, Con. 104
I c myself well-nigh blind, Grandmother 37
Like those who c Diana great: Lil. Squabbles 16
So thick they died the people c, The Victim 5
And c with joy, 'The Gods have answer'd: ,, 38

Cried (continued) my own sad name in corners c, Maud I vi 72
Arthur c to rend the cloth (repeat) Gareth and L. 400, 417 when mounted, c from o'er the bridge, Gareth and L. 951
Then c the fall'n, 'Take not my life: ,, 973
C out with a big voice, 'What, is he dead?' Geraint and E. 541
Here the huge Earl c out upon her talk, ,, 651 had you c, or knelt, or pray'd to me, ,, 844 more than one of us C out on Garlon, Balin and Balan 123 lost itself in darkness, till she c— ,, 514
I c because ye would not pass Beyond it, Lancelot and E. 1042
So many knights that all the people c, Holy Grail 335
'That so c out upon me?' ,, 433 left alone once more, and c in grief, ,, 437
'Queen of Beauty,' in the lists C— Pelleas and E. 117 his helpless heart Leapt, and he c, ,, 131 from the tower above him c Ettarre, ,, 231
'And oft in dying c upon your name.' ,, 385
And woke again in utter dark, and c, Last Tournament 623
We c when we were parted: Lover's Tale i 253 the bones that had laughed and had c— Rizpah 53
Sir Richard c in his English pride, The Revenge 82
An' I c along wi' the gells, Village Wife 96
Fur, lawks! 'ow I c when they went, ,, 111
Some c on Cobham, on the good Lord Cobham; Sir J. Oldcastle 43 a score of wild birds C from the topmost summit V. of Maeldune 28
Once in an hour they c, ,, 29
An' I could 'a c ammost, Spinster's S's. 47
c the king of sacred song; Locksley H., Sixty 201
And the Muses c with a stormy cry Dead Prophet 2 till I c again: 'O Miriam, if you love me The Ring 262
I c for nurse, and felt a gentle hand ,, 418
I c to the Saints to avenge me. Bandit's Death 14 that the boy never c again. ,, 28
Crime thorough-edged intellect to part Error from c; Isabel 15
And all alone in c: Palace of Art 272
'Heaven heads the count of c's D. of F. Women 201 When single thought is civil c, 'You ask me, why, 19 if it were thine error or thy c Come not, when, etc. 7 it was a c Of sense avenged by sense Vision of Sin 213
'The c of sense became The c of malice, ,, 215 keeps his wing'd affections clipt with c: Princess vii 316
Yet clearest of ambitious c, Ode on Well. 28 to dodge and palter with a public c? Third of Feb. 24
And ever weaker grows thro' acted c, Will 12
Unfetter'd by the sense of c, In Mem. xxvii 7
Day, mark'd as with some hideous c, ,, lxxii 18
I count it c To mourn for any overmuch; ,, lxxxv 61
Perhaps from madness, perhaps from c, Maud I xvi 22 came to loathe His c of traitor, Marr. of Geraint 594 call him the main cause of all their c; Merlin and V. 788 that most impute a c Are pronest to it, ,, 825 all her c, All—all—the wish to prove him ,, 864 blaze the c of Lancelot and the Queen.' Pelleas and E. 570 Lured by the c's and frailties of the court, Guinevere 136 think not that I come to urge thy c's, ,, 532
A shameful sense as of a cleaving c— Lover's Tale i 794 or such c's As holy Paul— Sir J. Oldcastle 109 curbing c's that scandalised the Cross, Columbus 193
But the c, if a c, of her eldest-born, Despair 73
crown'd for a virtue, or hang'd for a c? ,, 76
C and hunger cast our maidens Locksley H., Sixty 220
'Who was witness of the c? Forlorn 7
His c was of the senses: Romney's R. 151 Whose c had half unpeopled Ilion, Death of Œnone 61 his kisses were red with his c, Bandit's Death 13 Crimson (adj.) (See also Silvery-crimson) above, C, a slender banneret fluttering. Gareth and L. 913
c in the belt of strange device, A c grail Holy Grail 154
All pall'd in c samite, ,, 847
We steer'd her toward a c cloud In Mem. ciii 55
c with battles, and hollow with graves, The Dreamer 12
Crimson (s) long-hair'd page in c clad, L. of Shalott ii 22
Till all the c changed, and past Mariana in the S. 25
In the Spring a fuller c comes Locksley Hall 17 add A c to the quaint Macaw, Day-Dm., Pro. 16
Crimson (s) (continued) rocket molten into flakes Of c In Mem. xcviii 32
Sunder the glooming c on the marge, Gareth and L. 1365
In c's and in purples and in gems. Marr. of Geraint 10 the c and scarlet of berries that flamed V. of Maeldune 61
Close beneath the casement c Locksley H., Sixty 34
Was all ablaze with c to the roof, The Ring 250 but—when now Bathed in that lurid c— St. Telemachus 18
Crimson (verb) C's over an inland mere, Eleänore 42 Crimson-circled Before the c-c star In Mem. lxxxix 47
Crimson'd glow that slowly c all Thy presence Tithonus 56
Crimson-hued c-h the stately palmwoods Whisper Milton 15
Crimson-rolling when the c-r eye Glares ruin, Princess iv 494
Crimson-threaded When from c-t lips Silver-treble laughter trilleth: Lilian 23 Cripple a story which in rougher shape Came from a grizzled c, Aylmer's Field 8 he met A c, one that held a hand for alms— Pelleas and E. 542
Crisp To make the sullen surface c. In Mem. xlix 8
Crispeth The babbling runnel c, Claribel 19
Critic No c I—would call them masterpieces: Princess i 145
Musician, painter, sculptor, c, ,, ii 178
And like the c's blurring comment Sisters (E. and E.) 104
And the C's rarer still. Poets and Critics 16
Critic-pen Unboding c-p. Will Water. 42
Croak c thee sister, or the meadow-crake Princess iv 124
When did a frog coarser c upon our Helicon? Trans. of Homer 4
For a raven ever c's, at my side, Maud I vi 57
Once at the c of a Raven who crost it, Merlin and the G. 24
Croak'd A blot in heaven, the Raven, flying high, C, Guinevere 134
Crocodile C's wept tears for thee: A Dirge 22
Crocus at their feet the c brake like fire, Œnone 96
From one hand droop'd a c: Palace of Art 119
C, anemone, violet, To F. D. Maurice 44
And we roll'd upon capes of c V. of Maeldune 47 in this roaring moon of daffodil And c, Pref. Son. 19th Cent. 8 groundflame of the c breaks the mould, Prog. of Spring 1
Croft Thro' c's and pastures wet with dew Two Voices 14 Started a green linnet Out of the c; Minnie and Winnie 18 an' thy windmill oop o' the c, Spinster's S's. 73
Cromlech And cleaves to cairn and c still; To the Queen ii 41
Crone rhymes and scraps of ancient c's, Lover's Tale i 289
Garrulous old c, The Ring 120
Crook C and turn upon itself Locksley H., Sixty 236
Crooked Lame, c, reeling, livid, Death of Œnone 27
Crop (of a bird) And cramm'd a plumper c; Will Water. 124
Like any pigeon will I cram his c, Gareth and L. 459
Crop (verb) call him overquick To c his own sweet rose Merlin and V. 725
Cropt They might have c the myriad flower of May, Balin and Balan 577
Cross (s) (See also Catholic Cross, Crass, Market-Cross)
A broken chancel with a broken c, M. d'Arthur 9
I lift the c, and strive and wrestle St. S. Stylites 118
I smote them with the c; ,, 173
Fly happy with the mission of the C; Golden Year 43
Made Him his catspaw and the C his tool, Sea Dreams 190
They mark'd it with the red c to the fall, Princess vi 41
Under the c of gold That shines Ode on Well. 49 roll'd Thro' the dome of the golden c; ,, 61 the c And those around it and the Crucified, Com. of Arthur 272 like the c her great and goodly arms Stretch'd Gareth and L. 218 Thorns of the crown and shivers of the c, Balin and Balan 111 beat the c to earth, and break the King ,, 458 lone woman, weeping near a c, Stay'd him. Last Tournament 493
A broken chancel with a broken c, Pass. of Arthur 177 the copse, the fountain and—a C! Sir J. Oldcastle 127 how I anger'd Arundel asking me To worship Holy C! ,, 136
I said, a c of flesh and blood And holier. ,, 137
we, who bore the C Thither, were excommunicated Columbus 191 curbing crimes that scandalised the C, ,, 193
He that has nail'd all flesh to the C, Vastness 28
My soldier of the C! it is he and he Happy 12
My warrior of the Holy C and of the conquering sword, ,, 21 yesterday They bore the C before you ,, 48 Touch'd at the golden C of the churches, Merlin and the G. 68 under the C's The dead man's garden, ,, 105 sunset glared against a c St. Telemachus 5

Cross (verb) Nor any cloud would c the vault — Mariana in the S. 38
he was wrong to c his father thus: — Dora 148
Should my Shadow c thy thoughts Too sadly — Love and Duty 88 Should it c thy dreams, O might it come — ,, 92
the lonely seabird c'es With one waft of the wing. — The Captain 71
Not for three years to c the liberties; — Princess ii 71
It c'es here, it c'es there, — Maud II iv 70 never shadow of mistrust can c Between us. — Marr. of Geraint 815 shadow of mistrust should never c — Geraint and E. 248
Your leave, my lord, to c the room, — ,, 298
He shall not c us more; — ,, 342
I forbear you thus: c me no more. — ,, 678
To c our mighty Lancelot in his loves! — Lancelot and E. 688
To c between their happy star and them? — Lover's Tale i 730
Cross-bones carved c-b, the types of Death, — Will Water. 245
Cross'd-Crost (See also Crasst) And they cross'd themselves for fear, — L. of Shalott iv 49
Sometimes your shadow cross'd the blind. — Miller's D. 124
And cross'd the garden to the gardener's lodge, — Audley Court 17 then we crost Between the lakes, and clamber'd — Golden Year 5
And seldom crost her threshold, — Enoch Arden 337 Abhorrent of a calculation crost, — ,, 473 crost By that old bridge which, half in ruins — The Brook 78 where the waters marry—crost, Whistling a random bar — ,, 81
Then crost the common into Darnley chase — ,, 132
He seldom crost his child without a sneer; — Aylmer's Field 562 then we crost To a livelier land; — Princess i 109 back again we crost the court To Lady Psyche's: — ,, ii 100
We cross'd the street and gain'd a petty mound — ,, iv 557
But when we crost the Lombard plain — The Daisy 49
The shade by which my life was crost, — In Mem. lxvi 5 little thumb, That crost the trencher — Marr. of Geraint 396
Crost and came near, lifted adoring eyes, — Geraint and E. 304
A walk of lilies crost it to the bower: — Balin and Balan 243 every margin scribbled, crost, and cramm'd With comment, — Merlin and V. 677 was it earthly passion crost?' — Holy Grail 29 with the bones of men, Not to be crost, — ,, 501 every bridge as quickly as he crost Sprang into fire — ,, 505
crost the dimness of a cloud Floating, — Pelleas and E. 37
Then he crost the court, And spied not any light — ,, 418 her thin hands crost on her breast— — In the Child. Hosp. 39 Wiclif-preacher whom I crost In flying hither? — Sir J. Oldcastle 38
Cross'd! for once he sailed the sea — Locksley H., Sixty 29 at the croak of a Raven who crost it, — Merlin and the G. 24 shadowy fighters crost The disk, — St. Telemachus 23
When I have crost the bar. — Crossing the Bar 16
Crossing (part) And, c, oft we saw the glisten — The Daisy 35
I past him, I was c his lands; — Maud I xiii 6
Rivulet c my ground, — ,, xxi 1
Guinevere was c the great hall Cast herself down, — Merlin and V. 65 c her own picture as she came, — Lover's Tale iv 286
we saw your soldiers c the ridge, — Bandit's Death 21
Crossing (s) Who sweep the c's, wet or dry, — Will Water. 47
Cross-lightnings c-l of four chance-met eyes — Aylmer's Field 129
Cross-pipes carved c-p, and, underneath, — Will Water. 247
Cross-road stake and the c-r, fool, if you will, — Despair 116
Crost See Cross'd
Crotchet Chimeras, c's, Christmas solecisms, — Princess, Pro. 203
Crouch'd with playful tail C fawning in the weed. — Œnone 201
I c on one that rose Twenty by measure; — St. S. Stylites 88
I c upon deck— — The Wreck 120
She c, she tore him part from part, — Dead Prophet 69 heard as we c below, The clatter of arms, — Bandit's Death 23 Crow (s) (See also Craw) Perch'd like a c upon a three-legg'd stool, — Audley Court 45 many-winter'd c that leads — Locksley Hall 68 ere the hateful c shall tread The corners — Will Water. 235 a troop of carrion c's Hung like a cloud — Merlin and V. 598 sober rook And carrion c cry 'Mortgage.' — The Ring 174
Crow (verb) she heard the night-fowl c: — Mariana 26
Before the red cock c's from the farm — May Queen, N. Y's. E. 23
The cock c's ere the Christmas morn, — Sir Galahad 51
And the cock couldn't c, — V. of Maeldune 18 and c's to the sun and the moon, — Despair 90

Crow (verb) continued he c's before his time; — The Flight 3 Crowd (s) I saw c's in columned sanctuaries: — D. of F. Women 22
The c's, the temples, waver'd, — ,, 114
To me, methought, who waited with a c, — M. d'Arthur, Ep. 20
A c of hopes, That sought to sow themselves — Gardener's D. 64
To tear his heart before the c! — You might have won 36 those that held their heads above the c, — The Brook 10
Among the honest shoulders of the c, — Sea Dreams 166 while none mark'd it, on the c Broke, — ,, 234 c's that in an hour Of civic tumult — Lucretius 168 they gave The park, the c, the house; — Princess, Pro. 94 preach'd An universal culture for the c, — ,, 109 as we came, the c dividing clove An advent — ,, iv 283
I know Your faces there in the c— — ,, 510 thereat the c Muttering, dissolved: — ,, 522 the c were swarming now, To take their leave, — ,, Con. 37 civic manhood firm against the c— — ,, 57
For me, the genial day, the happy c, — ,, 75 let the sorrowing c about it grow, — Ode on Well. 16 Till c's at length be sane and crowns be just. — ,, 169 dark c moves, and there are sobs and tears; — ,, 268 c's that stream from yawning doors, — In Mem. lxx 9 more content, He told me, lives in any c, — ,, xcviii 26
To fool the c with glorious lies, — ,, cxxviii 14
Thro' all that c confused and loud, — Maud II iv 71 turn thy wheel above the staring c; — Marr. of Geraint 356 such blows, that all the c Wonder'd, — ,, 564 and in this Are harlots like the c, — Merlin and V. 831
c Will murmur, 'Lo the shameless ones, — Lancelot and E. 99
Then of the c ye took no more account — ,, 105
And by the gateway stirr'd a c; — Holy Grail 424 rough c, Hearing he had a difference with their priests, — ,, 673 no precaution used, among the c, — Guinevere 519
But as a Latin Bible to the c; — Sir J. Oldcastle 18
And then in Latin to the Latin c, — ,, 31 a c Throng'd the waste field about the city gates: — ,, 39
I saw your face that morning in the c. — Columbus 7
the c would roar For blood, for war, — Tiresias 64
the heart of a listening c— — The Wreck 47 dark-muffled Russian c Folded its wings — Heavy Brigade 38
That all the c might stare. — Dead Prophet 16 lawless crown As of the lawless c; — Freedom 32 there past a c With shameless laughter, — St. Telemachus 38 draw The c from wallowing in the mire — Akbar's Dream 141 Crowd (verb) They come, they c upon me all at once— — Lover's Tale i 47 Launch your vessel, And c your canvas, — Merlin and the G. 127 Crowded C with driving atomies, — Lover's Tale ii 174
Crow'd C lustier late and early, — Will Water. 126 maid, That ever c for kisses.' — Princess ii 280
The cock has c already once, — The Flight 3
Crowfoot cowslip and the c are over all the hill, — May Queen 38
Crowing (See also A-crawin', Crawin') At midnight the cock was c, — Oriana 12
Came c over Thames. — Will Water. 140 Crown (diadem, etc.) Revered Isabel, the c and head, — Isabel 10 better than to own A c, a sceptre, — Ode to Memory 121
With a c of gold, On a throne? — The Merman 6 under my starry sea-bud c Low adown — The Mermaid 16 Gliding with equal c's two serpents led — Alexander 6 his ample bound to some new c:— — Poland 8 from his cold c And crystal silence — Two Voices 85 Ilion's column'd citadel, The c of Troas. — Œnone 14 from all neighbour c's Alliance and allegiance, — ,, 124 rolling to and fro The heads and c's of kings; — Palace of Art 152 Last May we made a c of flowers: — May Queen, N. Y's. E. 9 only toil, the roof and c of things? — Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 24 soldier found Me lying dead, my c about my brows, — D. of F. Women 162
And, King-like, wears the c: — Of old sat Freedom 16
Three Queens with c's of gold— — M. d'Arthur 198 those moments when we met, The c of all, — Edwin Morris 70 the angel there That holds a c? — St. S. Stylites 204
'tis here again; the c! the c! — ,, 208
That a sorrow's c of sorrow is — Locksley Hall 76
The mountain stirr'd its bushy c, — Amphion 25
In robe and c the King stept down, — BeggarMaid 5

Crown (diadem, etc.) (continued) doom Of those that wear the Poet's c: You might have won 10 slender coco's drooping c of plumes, Enoch Arden 574
And so she wears her error like a c Princess iii 111 gold That veins the world were pack'd to make your c, ,, iv 543 one that sought but Duty's iron c Ode on Well. 122 crowds at length be sane and c's be just. ,, 169
he wears a truer c Than any wreath ,, 276
It wore a c of light, The Flower 10
And you my wren with a c of gold, Window. Spring 11 flit like the king of the wrens with a c of fire. ,, Ay. 16
I wore them like a civic c: In Mem. lxix 8
The fool that wears a c of thorns: ,, 12
He look'd upon my c and smiled: ,, 16
But ill for him that wears a c, ,, cxxvii 9 has past and leaves The C a lonely splendour. Ded. of Idylls 49
More like are we to reave him of his c Gareth and L. 419
Thorns of the c and shivers of the cross, Balin and Balan 111
'Thou shalt put the c to use. The c is but the shadow of the King, ,, 202
Balin bare the c, and all the knights Approved him, ,, 209
Before another wood, the royal c Sparkled, ,, 462
'Lo there' she cried—'a c— ,, 465
I charge thee by that c upon thy shield, ,, 481
Drove his mail'd heel athwart the royal c, ,, 540
Else never had he borne her c, ,, 566
Trampled ye thus on that which bare the C?' ,, 602 wreath of beauty thine the c of power, Merlin and V. 79 he, that once was king, had on a c Of diamonds, Lancelot and E. 45 from the skull the c Roll'd into light, ,, 50
he had the gems Pluck'd from the c, ,, 57
Since to his c the golden dragon clung, ,, 434 statue in the mould Of Arthur, made by Merlin, with a c, Holy Grail 239 the c And both the wings are made of gold, ,, 241
a c of gold About a casque all jewels; ,, 410
And from the c thereof a carcanet Of ruby Last Tournament 6 high on land, A c of towers. ,, 506 then this c of towers So shook to such a roar ,, 620
Three queens with c's of gold: Pass. of Arthur 366
The loyal to their c Are loyal to their own far sons, To the Queen ii 27 great c of beams about his brows— Lover's Tale i 672 the cope and c Of all I hoped and fear'd? ,, ii 27 clutch'd the sacred c of Prester John, Columbus 110 feed the rebels of the c, ,, 131
A c the Singer hopes may last, Epilogue 38
I should wear my c entire Helen's Tower 9
Thou loather of the lawless c Freedom 31
Wilt neither quit the widow'd C Prin. Beatrice 15
To wreathe a c not only for the king Akbar's Dream 23
The shadow of a c, that o'er him hung, D. of the Duke of C. 2 Crown (five shillings) (See also Half-crown) and he gave the ringers a c. Grandmother 58
Crown (verb) this high dial, which my sorrow c's— St. S. Stylites 95
C thyself, worm, and worship thine own lusts!— Aylmer's Field 650 you fair stars that c a happy day Maud I xviii 30 c thee king Far in the spiritual city:' Holy Grail 161 and one will c me king Far in the spiritual city; ,, 482
However they may c him otherwhere. ,, 902
To c it with herself. Lover's Tale i 63 who c's himself Above the naked poisons ,, 355
It still were right to c with song Epilogue 36
Crown'd (See also Citadel-crown'd, Fire-crown'd, Glory-crown'd) 'The simple senses c his head: Two Voices 277 night divine C dying day with stars, Palace of Art 184
A name for ever!—lying robed and c, D. of F. Women 163
I shall be saved; Yea, c a saint. St. S. Stylites 153 Catch me who can, and make the catcher c— Golden Year 18 reissuing, robed and c, To meet her lord, Godiva 77
Like Heavenly hope she c the sea, The Voyage 70 and true love C after trial; Aylmer's Field 100 two fair images, Both c with stars Sea Dreams 241 C with a flower or two, Lucretius 229 and c with all her flowers. Ode Inter. Exhib. 41
And, c with all the season lent, In Mem. xxii 6 c The purple brows of Olivet. ,, xxxi 11

Crown'd (continued) When c with blessing she doth rise In Mem. xl 5
I see thee sitting c with good, ,, lxxxiv 5
Or, c with attributes of woe ,, cxviii 18 for he heard of Arthur newly c, Com. of Arthur 41 clamour'd for a king, Had Arthur c; ,, 236 Arthur sat C on the daïs, ,, 258 the King stood out in heaven, C. ,, 444
And c with fleshless laughter— Gareth and L. 1383 he c A happy life with a fair death, Geraint and E. 967 had I c With my slain self the heaps Balin and Balan 177 were he not c King, coward, and fool.' Merlin and V. 789
Her godlike head c with spiritual fire, ,, 837
Arthur, long before they c him King, Lancelot and E. 34
Lancelot's azure lions, c with gold, ,, 663 the gilded parapets were c With faces, Pelleas and E. 165 there before the people c herself: ,, 174
c the state pavilion of the King, Guinevere 399 dying thus, C with her highest act Lover's Tale i 216 with my work thus C her clear forehead. ,, 345 where that day I c myself as king, ,, 592
Julian, who himself was c With roses, ,, iv 296
There c with worship— Tiresias 175 whether c for a virtue, or hang'd for a crime? Despair 76
Her shadow c with stars— Ancient Sage 201 songs in praise of death, and c with flowers! ,, 209
C with sunlight—over darkness— Locksley H., Sixty 92
C so long with a diadem Never worn by a worthier, On Jub. Q. Victoria 7
Love for the maiden, c with marriage, Vastness 23 maiden-Princess, c with flowers, The Ring 485 the c ones all disappearing! Parnassus 13 C her knights, and flush'd as red As poppies when she c it. The Tourney 16
Crowning Knighted by Arthur at his c— Com. of Arthur 175
And c's and dethronements: To the Queen ii 45
Crown-farm Sold the c-f's for all but nothing, Columbus 132
Crown-royal bear her own c-r upon shield, Balin and Balan 200
Why wear ye this c-r upon shield?' ,, 338
'Why wear ye that c-r?' ,, 348
Crown-scandalous wear ye still that same c-s?' ,, 390
Crowsfoot Made wet the crafty c round his eye; Sea Dreams 187 Crucified either they were stoned or c, St. S. Stylites 51 the cross And those around it and the C, Com. of Arthur 273 Crucifix Or the maid-mother by a c, Palace of Art 93 Cruel c as a schoolboy ere he grows To Pity— Walk. to the Mail 109
'C, c the words I said! Edward Gray 17 more harsh and c Seem'd the Captain's mood. The Captain 13 no tenderness—Too hard, too c: Princess v 516
O c, there was nothing wild or strange, Merlin and V. 860
Cruel-hearted They call me c-h, but I care not May Queen 19
Crueller C: as not passing thro' the fire Aylmer's Field 671
'O c than was ever told in tale, Merlin and V. 858 which was c? which was worse? Locksley H., Sixty 88
Cruelty Infinite c rather that made everlasting Hell, Despair 96
Cruet gentlemen, That trifle with the c. Will Water. 232 Crumble touch it, it will c into dust.' Holy Grail 439 and they c into dust. Locksley H., Sixty 72
Crumbled Till public wrong be c into dust, Ode on Well. 167
Fell into dust, and c in the dark— Lover's Tale i 95
Crumpled More c than a poppy from the sheath, Princess v 29
the rest Were c inwards. The Ring 454 Crupper Beyond his horse's c and the bridge, Gareth and L. 966 length of lance and arm beyond The c, Geraint and E. 464 Crusade to lead A new c against the Saracen, Columbus 103 lead One last c against the Saracen, ,, 239 Crush (s) great the c was, and each base, Princess vi 353
Crush (verb) Like a rose-leaf I will c thee, Lilian 29
Will c her pretty maiden fancies dead Princess i 88
Or c her, like a vice of blood, In Mem. iii 15 this Order lives to c All wrongers Gareth and L. 625 when I thought he meant To c me, Holy Grail 416 he sail'd the sea to c the Moslem in his pride; Locksley H., Sixty 29 Crush'd (See also Half-crushed) I c them on my breast, my mouth; Fatima 12 sin, that c My spirit flat before thee. St. S. Stylites 25 like monstrous apes they c my chest: ,, 174

Crush'd (continued) Lady Psyche will be c; Princess iii 63 she c The scrolls together, ,, iv 393 record of her wrongs, And c to death: ,, v 144
I found, tho' c to hard and dry, The Daisy 97
Had bruised the herb and c the grape, In Mem. xxxv 23
Mangled, and flatten'd, and c, Maud I i 7 c with a tap Of my finger-nail Maud II ii 21
c in the clash of jarring claims, ,, III vi 44
c The Idolaters, and made the people free? Gareth and L. 136
c the man Inward, and either fell, Balin and Balan 562 her feet unseen C the wild passion out Lancelot and E. 742
Then c the saddle with his thighs, Pelleas and E. 459 Caught in a mill and c— In the Child. Hosp. 14
he was c in a moment and died, Charity 21
Crushing Raw from the prime, and c down his mate; Princess ii 121 Crust one slough and c of sin, St. S. Stylites 2 saw Thee woman through the c of iron moods Princess vii 342
Crusted flower-plots Were thickly c, one and all: Mariana 2
Crutch Weak Truth a-leaning on her c, Clear-headed friend 18
Cry (s) (See also Battle-cry, War-cry) I cry aloud: none hear my cries, Oriana 73 one deep c Of great wild beasts; Palace of Art 282 the deep behind him, and a c Before. M. d'Arthur 184
A c that shiver'd to the tingling stars, ,, 199
the boy's c came to her from the field, Dora 104 lest a c Should break his sleep by night, Walk. to the Mail 73
In one blind c of passion and of pain, Love and Duty 80
Begins the scandal and the c: You might have won 16
In him woke, With his first babe's first c, Enoch Arden 85 Forward she started with a happy c, ,, 151 all the younger ones with jubilant cries Broke ,, 377 hard upon the c of 'breakers' came ,, 548 send abroad a shrill and terrible c, ,, 768 gave A half-incredulous, half-hysterical c. ,, 853 knew he wherefore he had made the c; Aylmer's Field 589
Clung to the mother, and sent out a c Sea Dreams 245
A music harmonizing our wild cries, ,, 255
The plaintive c jarr'd on her ire; Princess iv 393
To lag behind, scared by the c they made, ,, v 94 rose a c As if to greet the king; ,, 248 clash'd His iron palms together with a c; ,, 354
She nor swoon'd, nor utter'd c: ,, vi 2 went up a great c, The Prince is slain. ,, 25 piteous was the c: ,, 142 and out of languor leapt a c; ,, vii 155
Sent from a dewy breast a c for light: ,, 253
Whose crying is a c for gold: The Daisy 94
He heard a fierce mermaiden c, Sailor Boy 6
Greater than I—is that your c? Spiteful Letter 17
He caught her away with a sudden c; The Victim 69
Forgive these wild and wandering cries, In Mem., Pro. 41
From out waste places comes a c, ,, iii 7
And with no language but a c. ,, liv 20
To raise a c that lasts not long, ,, lxxv 10 strange Was love's dumb c defying change ,, xcv 27
The roofs, that heard our earliest c, ,, cii 3
With overthrowings, and with cries, ,, cxiii 19
To cleave a creed in sects and cries, ,, cxxviii 15
A c above the conquer'd years ,, cxxxi 7
A wounded thing with a rancorous c, Maud I x 34
And there rises ever a passionate c ,, II i 5 there rang on a sudden a passionate c, A c for a brother's blood: ,, 33 rings on a sudden a passionate c, ,, iv 47 loyal people shouting a battle c, ,, III vi 35
'Ay,' said the King, 'and hear ye such a c? Com. of Arthur 337 Died but of late, and sent his c to me, ,, 361
there were cries and clashings in the nest, Gareth and L. 70 Gareth crying prick'd against the c; ,, 1221 rose a c That Edyrn's men were on them, Marr. of Geraint 638 Sent forth a sudden sharp and bitter c, Geraint and E. 722
c of children, Enid's and Geraint's ,, 965 from the castle a c Sounded across the court, Balin and Balan 399
Pellam's feeble c 'Stay, stay him! ,, 420
Utter'd a little tender dolorous c. Lancelot and E. 817

Cry (s) (continued) overhead Thunder, and in the thunder was a c. Holy Grail 185
I saw the Holy Grail and heard a c— ,, 291 ye know the cries of all my realm Pass thro' this hall— ,, 315 Such was his c: for having heard the King Pelleas and E. 10 thro' the wind Pierced ever a child's c: Last Tournament 17
She ended, and the c of a great jousts ,, 51 mantle clung, And pettish cries awoke, ,, 214 Nor heard the King for their own cries, ,, 472 cities burnt, and with a c she woke. Guinevere 83
I cry my c in silence, and have done. ,, 201
Then on a sudden a c, 'The King.' ,, 411 but in going mingled with dim cries Pass. of Arthur 41 are these dim cries Thine? ,, 47
Nor any c of Christian heard thereon, ,, 128
King am I, whatsoever be their c: ,, 162 heard the deep behind him, and a c Before. ,, 352
A c that shiver'd to the tingling stars, ,, 367
Like the last echo born of a great c, ,, 459 witness, too, the silent c, To the Queen ii 10 sent my c Thro' the blank night to Him Lover's Tale i 751
I flung myself upon him In tears and cries: ,, ii 90
Cries of the partridge like a rusty key ,, 115 guests broke in upon him with meeting hands And cries ,, iv 239 Rush'd at each other with a c, ,, 373 hear that c of my boy that was dead, Rizpah 45 strangled vanity Utter'd a stifled c— Sisters (E. and E.) 200 there was a phantom c that I heard as I tost about, In the Child. Hosp. 63 and heard their musical c— V. of Maeldune 97 when the brazen c of Æakidês Achilles over the T. 22
Never a c so desolate, Despair 59
Gone the c of 'Forward, Forward,' Locksley H., Sixty 73
Let us hush this c of 'Forward' ,, 78
Cries of unprogressive dotage ,, 153 leave the dog too lame to follow with the c, ,, 226 the Muses cried with a stormy c Dead Prophet 2 O scorner of the party c Freedom 25 mighty was the mother's childless c, A c Demeter and P. 32
he, the God of dreams, who heard my c, ,, 91 lover thro' this ring Had sent his c for her forgiveness, The Ring 233
I myself was madden'd with her c, ,, 405
Nor lend an ear to random cries, Politics 7 from out the long ravine below, She heard a wailing c, Death of Œnone 20 following, as in trance, the silent c. ,, 86 the c from off the mosque, Akbar's Dream 149 on the sudden, and with a c 'Saleem' ,, 184 till the little one utter'd a c. Bandit's Death 26

Cry (verb) I c aloud: none hear my cries, Oriana 73
Call to each other and whoop and c The Merman 26 every smouldering town Cries to Thee, Poland 6 Cries to Thee, 'Lord, how long shall these things be? ,, 9
Than c for strength, remaining weak, Two Voices 95
'C, faint not: either Truth is born ,, 181
'C, faint not, climb: the summits slope ,, 184
We did so laugh and c with you, D. of the O. Year 25
Yet cease I not to clamour and to c, St. S. Stylites 42 for a tender voice will c. Locksley Hall 87
C down the past, not only we, Godiva 7 bade him c, with sound of trumpet, ,, 36
c For that which all deny them— Will Water. 45 let the wind sweep and the plover c; Come not, when, etc. 5
C to the summit, 'Is there any hope? Vision of Sin 220
I c to vacant chairs and widow'd walls, Aylmer's Field 720
Must c to these the last of theirs, ,, 792
I c to thee To kiss thy Mavors, Lucretius 81
Earth Reels, and the herdsmen c; Princess v 529
I cannot c for him, Annie: Grandmother 15
Than if the crowded Orb should c Lit. Squabbles 15
With morning wakes the will, and cries, In Mem. iv 15 thought That cries against my wish for thee. ,, xc 24
C thro' the sense to hearten trust ,, cxvi 7
Then was I as a child that cries, ,, cxxiv 19
I to c out on pride Who have won Maud I xii 17

Cry (verb) (continued) rose cries, 'She is near, she is near;' Maud I xxii 63
I will c to the steps above my head ,, II v 101
A c from out the dawning of my life, Com. of Arthur 333
Who will c shame? Gareth and L. 942 and c, 'Thou hast made us lords, ,, 1131 mother-maidenhood of Heaven, C out upon her. Balin and Balan 522 children cast their pins and nails, and c, Merlin and V. 430
she heard Sir Lancelot c in the court, Lancelot and E. 344
I c my cry in silence, Guinevere 201
'O mother!' I heard him c. Rizpah 42 an' saw she begins to c, North. Cobbler 71
I should c to the dear Lord Jesus to help me, In the Child. Hosp. 49 Before thy light, and c continually—C Sir J. Oldcastle 85 that men C out against thee: Columbus 153
So dark that men c out against the Heavens. Ancient Sage 172 weep my fill once more, and c myself to rest! The Flight 6
Cries to Weakest as to Strongest, Locksley H., Sixty 110
Nay, your pardon, c your 'forward,' ,, 225
Too many a voice may c That man Epilogue 72 Far off a phantom cuckoo cries Pref. Poem Broth. S. 19 sober rook And carrion crow c 'Mortgage.' The Ring 174 Nor even a Sir Joshua, some will c, Romney's R. 47 some c 'Quick' and some c 'Slow,' Politics 9 Shall the rose C to the lotus Akbar's Dream 37
And a beggar began to c 'Food, food Voice spake, etc. 5 Cryin' (part) an' c and teärin' 'er 'aär, North. Cobbler 34 but we hard it c, 'Ochone!' Tomorrow 84 Crying (part) (See also A-cryin', Cryin', Keenin') c to each other And calling, Enoch Arden 382
C with a loud voice 'A sail! ,, 913
And c upon the name of Leolin, Aylmer's Field 576
Some c there was an army in the land, Princess iv 484
An infant c in the night: An infant c for the light: In Mem. liv 18
But, c, knows his father near; ,, cxxiv 20
They were c and calling. Maud I xii 4
Were c and calling to her, ,, 26 many another suppliant c came With noise Gareth and L. 436
Then came a widow c to the King, ,, 333
Came yet another widow c to him, ,, 350
Gareth c prick'd against the cry; ,, 1221 flying back and c out, 'O Merlin, Merlin and V. 943
And all his legions c Christ and him, Lancelot and E. 305
c that his prize is death.' 531 maiden sprang into the hall C on help: Holy Grail 209
c with full voice 'Traitor, come out, Guinevere 105
Whereat the novice c, with clasp'd hands, ,, 311
Two friars c that if Spain should oust Columbus 96
c after voices that have fled! Locksley H., Sixty 251
Crying (s) mine but from the c of a child.' Sea Dreams 249 Whose c is a cry for gold: The Daisy 94 and c's for the light, Pass. of Arthur 116
Or at my c 'Mother?' The Ring 141
Crypt My knees are bow'd in c and shrine: Sir Galahad 18
And fall'n into the dusty c Will Water. 183 those cold c's where they shall cease. In Mem. lviii 8
Crystal And down the streaming c dropt; Princess vii 165
In a shallop of c ivory-beak'd, The Islet 12 Became a c, and he saw them thro' it, Merlin and V. 630
c into which I braided Edwin's hair! The Flight 34
Cube hard-grain'd Muses of the c and square Princess, Pro. 180 Cubit lived upon a pillar, high Six c's, St. S. Stylites 87 numbers forty c's from the soil. ,, 91
Drave the long spear a c thro' his breast Geraint and E. 86
Cuckoo The c told his name to all the hills; Gardener's D. 93
I built the nest,' she said, 'To hatch the c. Princess iv 366
'C! c!' was ever a May so fine? Window. Ay 10
'I have seen the c chased by lesser fowl, Com. of Arthur 167
Than the gray c loves his name, Lover's Tale i 257
The c of a joyless June Is calling out of doors: Pref Poem Broth. S. 3
The c of a worse July Is calling thro' the dark: ,, 11 a phantom c cries From out a phantom hill; ,, 19
There! I heard Our c call. To Mary Boyle 6
A clamorous c stoops to meet her hand; Prog. of Spring 45 Cuckoo-flower As perfume of the c-f? Margaret 8 blow the faint sweet c-f's; May Queen 30

Cud chew'd The thrice-turn'd c of wrath, Princess i 66
Cuddle as good to c an' kiss as a lass as 'ant nowt? N. Farmer, N. S. 24
Cuddled (See also Coodled) An' we c and huddled togither, Owd Roä 112 Cuff'd Caught and c by the gale: Maud I vi 5 Cuirass on his c work our Lady's Head, Lancelot and E. 294 and a spear Prick'd sharply his own c, 489 Cuisses and c dash'd with drops Of onset; ,, M. d'Arthur 215 and c dash'd with drops Of onset; Pass. of Arthur 383
Cull I c from every faith and race Akbar's Dream 68
Cull'd whitest honey in fairy gardens c— Eleänore 26
Because all words, tho' c with choicest art, D. of F. Women 285 but one, by those fair fingers c, Gardener's D. 150
In mine own lady palms I c the spring Merlin and V. 273
Culminate lead The new light up, and c in peace, Princess ii 348
Culmination All starry c drop Balm-dews Talking Oak 267
Cultivation months of toil, And years of c, Amphion 98 Culture An universal c for the crowd, Princess, Pro. 109 whence they need More breadth of c: ,, v 188
Culver round her brows a woodland c flits, Prog. of Spring 18
Cunning-simple So innocent-arch, so c-s, Lilian 13
Cúnobeline rioted in the city of C! Boädicea 60
Cup I drink the c of a costly death, Eleänore 138
I pledge her not in any cheerful c, Wan Sculptor 9
Three fingers round the old silver c— Miller's D. 10 incense of all odour steam'd From out a golden c. Palace of Art 40
That was the last drop in the c of gall. Walk. to the Mail 69
My little oakling from the c, Talking Oak 231
Will haunt the vacant c: Will Water. 172
'Fill the c, and fill the can: (repeat) Vision of Sin 95, 119, 203
'Fill the can, and fill the c: (repeat) ,, 131, 167 c's and silver on the burnish'd board Sparkled Enoch Arden 742
The magic c that fill'd itself anew. Aylmer's Field 143
Only such c's as left us friendly-warm, Lucretius 215
There they drank in c's of emerald, Boädicea 61
The crowning c, the three-times-three, In Mem. Con. 104 they sat, And c clash'd c; Balin and Balan 85 to hurl his c Straight at the speaker, Merlin and V. 30 Except indeed to drink: no c had we: ,, 272 made a pretty c of both my hands ,, 275 phantom of a c that comes and goes?' Holy Grail 44
'The c, the c itself, from which our Lord ,, 46
the holy c Was caught away to Heaven, ,, 57 Lancelot might have seen, The Holy C of healing; ,, 655 hast thou seen the Holy C, ,, 734 children sat in white with c's of gold, Last Tournament 142
And them that round it sat with golden c's ,, 289 white slips Handed her c and piped, ,, 296 the c was gold, the draught was mud.' ,, 298 c's Where nymph and god ran ever round Lover's Tale iv 196 Warm as the crocus c, Early Spring 29 wines of heresy in the c Of counsel— Akbar's Dream 174
Cupid The rentroll C of our rainy isles. Edwin Morris 103
The modish C of the day, Talking Oak 67
The seal was C bent above a scroll, Princess i 242
Cupid-boys By C-b of blooming hue— Day-Dm., Ep. 10
Cur yelp'd the c, and yawl'd the cat; The Goose 33
the barking c Made her cheek flame: Godiva 57
c Pluckt from the c he fights with, Gareth and L. 701 Curate and with Edward Bull The c; Edwin Morris 15 said the fat-faced c Edward Bull, (repeat) ,, 42, 90
'e's nobbut a c, an' weänt niver git hissen clear, N. Farmer, N. S. 27
An' thou'll be 'is C 'ere, Church-warden, etc. 45 Curb 'Wild natures need wise c's. Princess v 173 mine the voice to c The madness Tiresias 70
c the beast would cast thee in the mire, Ancient Sage 276
Curb'd strongly groom'd and straitly c Princess v 456
Curdled half the wolf's-milk c in their veins, ,, vii 130
Cure (curacy) The curate; he was fatter than his c. Edwin Morris 15
Cure (remedy) declined, And trusted any c. Palace of Art 156 Wonderful c's he had done, O yes, In the Child. Hosp. 5 Cured C lameness, palsies, cancers. St. S. Stylites 82
And c some halt and maim'd; ,, 137 could only be c, if c, by the surgeon's knife, Despair 80
Curious Hetairai, c in their art, Lucretius 52

Curious (continued) Too c Vivien, tho' you talk of trust, Merlin and V. 358
Not ever be too c for a boon, " 486
You are c. How should I tell? Despair 3
Curiousness In children a great c be well, Merlin and V. 364 Curl (s) his ridges are not c's And ripples Supp. Confessions 130
In many a dark delicious c, Arabian Nights 139
In a golden c With a comb of pearl, The Mermaid 6 flow'd His coal-black c's as on he rode, L. of Shalott iii 31 fingers drew Her streaming c's of deepest brown Mariana in the S. 16 and the light and lustrous c's— M. d'Arthur 216 dim c's kindle into sunny rings; Tithonus 54
And moves not on the rounded c. Day-Dm., Sleep. B. 8 took him by the c's, and led him in, Vision of Sin 6 from her baby's forehead clipt A tiny c, and gave it: Enoch Arden 236
The hand that play'd the patron with her c's. Princess, Pro. 138
Melissa shook her doubtful c's, " iii 75
From the flaxen c to the gray lock " iv 426 on their c's From the high tree the blossom wavering fell, " vi 79
And down dead-heavy sank her c's, " 147
And winds their c's about his hand: In Mem. lxvi 12 little head, sunning over with c's, Maud I xxii 57 Perchance, one c of Arthur's golden beard. Merlin and V. 58 and the light and lustrous c's— Pass. of Arthur 384
One golden c, his golden gift, The Flight 36 begun to gleam Thro' youthful c's, To Mary Boyle 42
Curl (verb) c round my silver feet silently, The Mermaid 50
May serve to c a maiden's locks, In Mem. lxxvii 7
Began to move, seethe, twine and c: Gareth and L. 234
Curl'd about His dusty forehead drily c, Miller's D. 6
I c and comb'd his comely head, The Sisters 31 on herself her serpent pride had c. Palace of Art 257 the clouds are lightly c Round their golden houses, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 112 Faint shadows, vapours lightly c, Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 5
All-graceful head, so richly c, " L'Envoi 38
The forest crack'd, the waters c, In Mem. xv 5
For us the same cold streamlet c " lxxix 9 a mist Of incense c about her, Com. of Arthur 288 breeze c over a peacefuller sea, The Wreck 133 Curlew all around it, as of old, the c's call, Locksley Hall 3 while I heard the c's call, Locksley H., Sixty 3
Curn (Corn) Till I gied 'em Hinjian c, Village Wife 118
Currency brooking not Exchange or c: Lover's Tale i 448
Current (See also Full-current, Main-current, Sea-current) Till in its onward c it absorbs Isabel 31
From those four jets four c's in one swell Palace of Art 33
The ever-shifting c's of the blood D. of F. Women 133
'all the c of my being sets to thee.' Locksley Hall 24 upward runs The c of my days: Will Water. 36 turn'd The c of his talk to graver things Enoch Arden 203 Fast flow'd the c of her easy tears, " 865 then the motion of the c ceased, Sea Dreams 117 crystal c's of clear morning seas. Princess ii 328
You turn'd your warmer c's all to her, " iv 301 glowing in the broad Deep-dimpled c underneath, Gareth and L. 1089 and driven My c to the fountain whence it sprang, Lover's Tale i 503
But in the onward c of her speech, " 565 Noises of a c narrowing, Locksley H., Sixty 154 alchemise old hates into the gold Of Love, and make it c; Akbar's Dream 164 Curse (s) A c is on her if she stay L. of Shalott ii 4
She knows not what the c may be, " 6
'The c is come upon me,' cried The Lady " iii 44
I said, 'I toil beneath the c, Two Voices 229
'My youth,' she said, 'was blasted with a c: D. of F. Women 103
This is the c of time. To J. S. 17 this world's c,—beloved but hated— Love and Duty 47
My Shakespeare's c on clown and knave You might have won 27
And left their memories a world's c— Aylmer's Field 796
A c in his God-bless-you: Sea Dreams 164
I remember'd that burnt sorcerer's c Princess v 475 when she turn'd, the c Had fallen, In Mem. vi 37
we have made them a c, Maud I i 21
Curse (s) (continued) She may bring me a c. Maud I i 73 the sparrow-hawk, My c, my nephew— Marr. of Geraint 445
God's c, it makes me mad to see you weep. Geraint and E. 616
Thy c, and darken'd all thy day; Balin and Balan 620
'That is love's c; pass on, Lancelot and E. 1353 woman-worshipper? Yea, God's c, and I! Last Tournament 447 Until it came a kingdom's c with thee— Guinevere 550 their c's and their groans. Columbus 68 chain'd and coupled with the c Of blindness and their unbelief, Tiresias 58 blunt the c Of Pallas, hear, " 154 never gloom'd by the c Of a sin, The Wreck 139
If a c meant ought, I would curse you Despair 64 follies, furies, c's, passionate tears, Locksley H., Sixty 39 man had coin'd himself a c: " 87
And 'The C of the Prophet' in Heaven. Dead Prophet 28
On you will come the c of all the land, The Fleet 3 stings him back to the c of the light; Vastness 18
My c upon the Master's apothegm, Romney's R. 37 arose The shriek and c of trampled millions, Akbar's Dream 190
I sent him a desolate wail and a c, Charity 14 Curse (verb) I c not nature, no, nor death; In Mem. lxxiii 7 c me the blabbing lip, And c me Maud II v 57
I c the tongue that all thro' yesterday Gareth and L. 1322
To c this hedgerow thief, Marr. of Geraint 309
I did not come to c thee, Guinevere, Guinevere 533
I would c you for not having let me be. Despair 64 may the Great God c him and bring him " 106
'C him!' c your fellow-victim? Locksley H., Sixty 9
Cursed c and scorn'd, and bruised with stones: Two Voices 222
And bless'd herself, and c herself, The Goose 15
C be the social wants that sin against the strength of youth! C be the social lies that warp us from the living truth! C be the sickly forms that err from honest Nature's rule! C be the gold that gilds Locksley Hall 59 face Would darken, as he c his credulousness, Sea Dreams 13 C me and my flower. The Flower 8
I have c him even to lifeless things) Maud I xix 15 and c the tale, The told-of, and the teller. Balin and Balan 542
c The dead babe and the follies, of the King; Last Tournament 162
'I had sooner be c than kiss'd!'— First Quarrel 83
I, Earth-Goddess, c the Gods of Heaven. Demeter and P. 102
Snarl'd at and c me. Merlin and the G. 28
he sobb'd and he wept, And c himself; Bandit's Death 30
I had c the woman he married, Charity 24
I had c her as woman and wife, " 31
Cursing (part.) I stood With Florian, c Cyril, Princess iv 171
I was c them and my doom, Maud I xix 51
And c their lost time, and the dead man, Geraint and E. 576
Cursing (s) she was deaf To blessing or to c " 579
Curtain (See also Casement-curtain) In the white c, to and fro, She saw Mariana 51 with thee forgets to close His c's, Adeline 43 haunted with a jolly ghost, that shook The c's, Walk. to the Mail 37
He had cast the c's of their seat aside— Aylmer's Field 803
I beheld The death-white c drawn; Maud I xiv 34 the death-white c meant but sleep, " 37
By the c's of my bed " II iv 54 at one end of the hall Two great funereal c's, Lover's Tale iv 214 drama's closing c is the pall! Locksley H., Sixty 62
Curtain-fold from out the silken c-f's Gareth and L. 925
Curtsey made me a mocking c and went. Grandmother 46
Curtseying c her obeisance, let us know The Princess Ida waited: Princess ii 20 Curve (s) (See also Crescent-curve) the rainbow lives in the c of the sand; Sea-Fairies 27 c's of mountain, bridge, Boat, island, Edwin Morris 5
In c's the yellowing river ran, Sir L. and Q. G. 15
With many a c my banks I fret The Brook 43
To left and right thro' meadowy c's, In Mem. c 15
Or the least little delicate aquiline c Maud I ii 10 in kindly c's, with gentlest fall, De Prof., Two G. 23 turn upon itself in many a backward streaming c. Locksley H., Sixty 236

Curve (verb) And out again I c and flow The Brook 182
Curved (See also Sudden-curved) c an arm about his neck, Merlin and V. 241
Curvet Making a roan horse caper and c Lancelot and E. 792 Curving And c a contumelious lip, Maud I xiii 20 a procession, c round The silver-sheeted bay : Lover's Tale ii 75
Cushie 'C wur craäzed fur 'er cauf' Spinster's S's. 115 Cushion On silken c's half reclined ; Eleänore 126
The c's of whose touch may press Talking Oak 179
Tom, lig theere o' the c, Spinster's S's. 94
Custom (habit) one good c should corrupt the world. M. d'Arthur 242
Appraised the Lycian c, Princess ii 128
Disyoke their necks from c, ,, 143
And moved beyond his c, Gama said : ,, vi 229
For this was Arthur's c in his hall ; Gareth and L. 410
And reverencing the c of the house Marr. of Geraint 380 pick the vicious quitch Of blood and c Geraint and E. 904
I rode, Shattering all evil c's Holy Grail 477 one good c should corrupt the world. Pass. of Arthur 410
'There is a c in the Orient, friends— Lover's Tale iv 230
This c—' Pausing here a moment, ,, 236
This c steps yet further when the guest ,, 244
Cutsom (business) See Coostom
Here is c come your way ; Vision of Sin 64
Cut (s) this c is fresh ; That ten years back ; Lancelot and E. 21 Cut (verb) c's atwain The knots that tangle Clear-headed friend 2 they c away my tallest pines, Œnone 208
I was c off from hope in that sad place, D. of F. Women 105
C Prejudice against the grain : Love thou thy land 22 where the hedge-row c's the pathway, stood, Gardener's D. 86 some little cloud C's off the fiery highway Enoch Arden 130
C off the length of highway on before, ,, 673
This hair is his : she c it off and gave it, ,, 894
And c this epitaph above my bones ; Princess ii 207
C the Roman boy to pieces Boädicea 66
What is she, c from love and faith, In Mem, cxiv 11 c off from the mind The bitter springs Maud I x 48 Struck at him with his whip, and c his cheek. Marr. of Geraint 207 es he couldn't c down a tree ! Village Wife 30
'Lad, thou mun c off thy taäil, ,, 64 thou'll 'gree to c off thy taäil ,, 66 to git 'im to c off 'is taäil. ,, 74 an' 'e wouldn't c off the taäil. ,, 78
'Goin' to c the Sassenach whato' Tomorrow 14
c his bit o' turf for the fire ? ,, 65
Cut See also Clean-cut, Clear-cut
Cuttin' betther nor c the Sassenach whate Tomorrow 94
Cutting (See also Cuttin') c eights that day upon the pond, The Epic 10 Cycle (s) Young Nature thro' five c's ran, Two Voices 17
plann'd With c's of the human tale, Palace of Art 146 Better fifty years of Europe than a c of Cathay. Locksley Hall 184 together at her will Thro' all her c's— Lucretius 248
But when their c is o'er, Voice and the P. 26 lead The closing c rich in good. In Mem. cv 28
Cycle (verb) Falls off, but c's always round. Two Voices 348 Cycle-year Will mould him thro' the c-y Epilogue 77
Cygnet the swan's Is tawnier than her c's : Lancelot and E. 1185
Cymbal people rejoice With shawms, and with c's, Dying Swan 32
Cypress With c promenaded, Amphion 38
Nor waves the c in the palace walk ; Princess vii 177 watch'd awake A c in the moonlight shake, The Daisy 82 Made c of her orange flower, In Mem. lxxxiv 15 rise three dark, tall c'es,—Three c'es, Lover's Tale i 536
The mountain, the three c'es, the cave, ,, ii 109 Break thro' the yews and c of thy grave, Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 12 the poplar and c unshaken by storm V. of Maeldune 15 the palm Call to the c 'I alone am fair ?' Akbar's Dream 38
Cypress-cone c-c's That spired above the wood ; Lover's Tale ii 38
Cyril I stood With C and with Florian, Princess i 52
C whisper'd : 'Take me with you too.' ,, 81
I stole from court With C and with Florian, ,, 103
'We of the court' said C. 'From the court ,, ii 48
'Comely, too, by all that's fair,' said C. ,, 115
'Let me die too,' said C, 'having seen ,, 210
Cyril (continued) 'You are that Psyche,' C said, (repeat) Princess ii 256, 278
Said C, 'Madam, he the wisest man ,, 350
C took the child, And held her round ,, 362
Said C : 'Pale one, blush again : ,, iii 67
As if to close with C's random wish : ,, 101
Hither came C, and yawning 'O hard task,' ,, 124 then, climbing, C kept With Psyche, ,, 354
C, with whom the bell-mouth'd glass had wrought ,, iv 155
I stood With Florian, cursing C, ,, 171
And where are Psyche, C ? both are fled : ,, 241 for C, howe'er He deal in frolic, as to-night— ,, 249 Go : C told us all.' ,, v 36
C met us. A little shy at first, ,, 44
To whom remorseful C, 'Yet I pray Take comfort : ,, 79 such as her ! if C spake her true, ,, 168 fiery-short was C's counter-scoff, ,, 307 and bore down a Prince, And C, one. ,, 519
C seeing it, push'd against the Prince, ,, 533
Beside us, C, batter'd as he was, ,, vi 154
When C pleaded, Ida came behind ,, vii 78
Cyrus And what she did to C after fight, ,, v 366
Czar Jack on his ale-house bench has as many lies as a C ; Maud I iv 9

D

Daäle (dale) (See also Howlaby Daäle) an' the d was all of a thaw, Owd Roä 39
Daäy (day) 'e shall stan to my dying d ; North. Cobbler 95
'e snifft up a box in a d, Village Wife 40
I'll tell tha some o' these d's. ,, 58
niver 'a liked tha sa well, as I did that d, Spinster's S.'s 29
I warrant ye soom fine d— ,, 63
Thaw thou was es soäber es d, ,, 75 an' belt long afoor my d Owd Roä 21
Eh ? good d ! good d ! thaw it bean't not mooch of a d, Church-warden, etc. 1
I minds when i' Howlaby beck won d ,, 27
Dabbled all d with the blood Of his own son, Princess vi 104
Its lips in the field above are d with blood-red heath, Maud I i 2
Dabbling d in the fount of fictive tears, The Brook 93
D a shameless hand with shameful jest, Princess iii 314
Daffodil (See also Daffodilly) and found The shining d dead, Maud I iii 14
On a bed of d sky, ,, xxii 10
And the shining d dies, ,, III vi 6 left us just before The d was blown ? Lover's Tale i 294 in this roaring moon of d And crocus, Pref. Son. 19th Cent. 7 Daffodilly That clad her like an April d Princess ii 324 Dagger I made my d sharp and bright. The Sisters 26 and thrust The d thro' her side.' D. of F. Women 260 With that gold d of thy bill The Blackbird 11
A d, in rich sheath with jewels on it Aylmer's Field 220 Tumbled the tawny rascal at his feet, This d with him, ,, 231 left alone he pluck'd her d forth ,, 470 and the d which himself Gave Edith, ,, 596 Shot sidelong d's at us, Princess ii 450 had she found a d there Merlin and V. 851 Sir, do you see this d ? Bandit's Death 5 one day He had left his d behind him. ,, 12 felt I could end myself too with the d— ,, 37
I with this d of his—do you doubt me ? ,, 42
Dagonet D, the fool, whom Gawain in his mood Last Tournament 1
And little D on the morrow morn, ,, 240
D replied, 'Belike for lack of wiser company ; ,, 244 while he twangled little D stood Quiet ,, 252
And little D, skipping, 'Arthur, the King's ; ,, 262 but lean me down, Sir D, ,, 273
D with one foot poised in his hand, ,, 285
And little D mincing with his feet, ,, 311
D, turning on the ball of his foot, ,, 329
D answer'd, 'Ay, and when the land Was freed, ,, 338
D, 'Nay, nor will : I see it and hear. ,, 348

Dagonet (continued) D clapt his hands and shrill'd, Last Tournament 353
And down the city D danced away; „ 359
Dahomey boats of D that float upon human blood! The Dawn 5
Daily D and hourly, more and more. Eleänore 71
Daily-dwindling With d-d profits held the house; Enoch Arden 696
Dainty Are but dainties drest again: Window. No Answer 26
Dainty-woeful thro' the dew Of d-w sympathies. Margaret 53 Dais I hung The royal d round. Palace of Art 132 and Arthur sat Crown'd on the d, Com. of Arthur 258
Daïs-throne like a rising sun High from the d-t— M. d'Arthur 218
And there sat Arthur on the d-t, Holy Grail 721 like a rising sun High from the d-t— Pass. of Arthur 386 Daisy Touch'd by his feet the d slept. Two Voices 276 linger'd there Till every d slept, Gardiner's D. 165
I pluck'd a d, I gave it you. The Daisy 88
Daisies and kingcups and honeysuckle-flowers.' City Child 10
the d close Her crimson fringes In Mem. lxxii 11
And left the daisies rosy. Maud I xii 24
But I and the first d on his grave Lover's Tale i 193
The d will shut to the shadow, The Wreck 38 tiny fist Had grasp't a d from your Mother's grave— The Ring 323 hardly a d as yet, little friend, See, there is hardly a d. The Throstle 11
Daisy Blossomed Wash'd with still rains and d b; Circumstance 7
Daisy-chain Made blossom-ball or d-c, Aylmer's Field 87
He workt me the d c— First Quarrel 13
Dale (See also Daäle) here are the blissful downs and d's, Sea-Fairies 22
And long purples of the d. A Dirge 31
And the rivulet in the flowery d May Queen 39 thro' mountain clefts the d Was seen far inland, Lotos-Eaters 20
She went by d, and she went by down, Lady Clare 59 moon like a rick on fire was rising over the d, Grandmother 39 Till over down and over d In Mem., Con. 110 all in loops and links among the d's Lancelot and E. 166
Beheld at noon in some delicious d Guinevere 393
Dalliance O the d and the wit, D. of F. Women 147
Dallied But d with his golden chain, Day-Dm., Revival 31
Dally That with the napkin d; Will Water. 118
'and meets And dallies with him in the Mouth of Hell.' Balin and Balan 615
For dare we d with the sphere Epilogue 44
Dallying In lieu of idly d with the truth, Lancelot and E. 590
Tristram, ever d with her hand, Last Tournament 626 Dam (obstruction) The sleepy pool above the d, Miller's D. 99
As waits a river level with the d Princess iv 473 Dam (mother) Sent out a bitter bleating for its d; „ 392
Damask-work sloping of the moon-lit sward Was d-w, Arabian Nights 28
Dame Knight and burgher, lord and d, L. of Shalott iv 43
To have a d indoors, that trims us up, Edwin Morris 46 no livelier than the d That whisper'd 'Asses' ears,' Princess ii 112
Like that great d of Lapidoth she sang. „ vi 32
When d's and heroines of the golden year „ 64 behind, A train of d's: „ vii 128 found an ancient d in dim brocade; Marr. of Geraint 363
But that old d, to whom full tenderly „ 508
'Yea, surely,' said the d, 'And gladly „ 690 no more avail, D, to be gentle than ungentle Geraint and E. 716 nor lets Or d or damsel enter at his gates Balin and Balan 107 lived there neither d nor damsel Merlin and V. 606
Sir Valence wedded with an outland d: „ 714
One old d Came suddenly on the Queen Lancelot and E. 729 ever in the reading, lords and d's Wept, „ 1284 when now the lords and d's And people, „ 1346 with her knights and d's was Guinevere. Pelleas and E. 588
D, damsel, each thro' worship of their Queen Last Tournament 146
So d and damsel glitter'd at the feast „ 225
So d and damsel cast the simple white, „ 232
What d or damsel have ye kneel'd to last?' „ 550
Damn (See also Dangtha) One truth will d me with the mindless mob. Romney's R. 120 Damn'd (See also Dang'd) I am d already by the Priest Sir J. Oldcastle 200 ay, why not, being d beyond hope of grace? Despair 109 contemplate The torrent of the d' Akbar's Dream 49
Damosel twelve small d's white as Innocence, Last Tournament 291

Damp (adj.) air is d, and hush'd, and close, A spirit haunts 13 combing out her long black hair D from the river; Princess iv 277 Damp (s) heat, hail, d, and sleet, and snow; St. S. Stylites 16 sometimes Sucking the d's for drink, „ 77
Damsel (See also Damosel) Sometimes a troop of d's glad, L. of Shalott ii 19
The prettiest little d in the port, Enoch Arden 12
Safe, d, as the centre of this hall. Gareth and L. 604
'D, ye know this Order lives to crush All wrongers „ 625
But on the d's forehead shame, „ 656 by this entry fled The d in her wrath, „ 675
Mutter'd the d, 'Wherefore did the King Scorn me? „ 737
'D, the quest is mine. „ 745
'D,' Sir Gareth answer'd gently, „ 772
And when the d spake contemptuously, „ 806 wilt thou yield this d harbourage?' „ 834 placed a peacock in his pride Before the d, „ 851 left The d by the peacock in his pride, „ 870 Whether thou wilt not with thy d back „ 881 and calling, 'D, is this he, „ 915
Said Gareth, 'D, whether knave or knight, „ 943
The d crying, 'Well-stricken, kitchen-knave!' „ 970
'So this d ask it of me Good— „ 974
'D, thy charge Is an abounding pleasure „ 981
Thy shield is mine—farewell; and, d, thou, „ 988
'Fair d, you should worship me the more, „ 1022
'Hath not the good wind, d, changed again?' „ 1054 have ye slain The d's champion?' and the d cried, 'No star of thine, „ 1099
'Old, d, old and hard, Old, with the might and breath „ 1105 grizzled d came, And arm'd him in old arms, „ 1114
the d clamouring all the while, „ 1134
But the d said, 'I lead no longer; „ 1156
'D,' he said, 'you be not all to blame, „ 1171
nor meet To fight for gentle d, he, „ 1177
At any gentle d's waywardness. „ 1179
Then turn'd the noble d smiling at him, „ 1188
The d's headlong error thro' the wood— „ 1215
'Nay, noble d, but that I, the son Of old King Lot „ 1230
O d, be you wise To call him shamed, „ 1259
wherefore, d? tell me all you know. „ 1328 thou thyself, with d and with dwarf, Marr. of Geraint 581 have his horse And armour, and his d shall be ours.' Geraint and E. 63 possess your horse And armour, and your d should be theirs.' „ 75
Friend, let her eat; the d is so faint.' „ 206
While your good d rests, return, „ 224 speak To your good d there who sits apart, „ 299 found A d drooping in a corner of it. „ 611 nor lets Or dame or d enter at his gates Balin and Balan 107
Make knight or churl or child or d seem „ 162
D and lover? hear not what I hear. „ 282
Then to her Squire mutter'd the d 'Fools! „ 564 that twice a wanton d came, „ 609
I well believe this d, and the one „ 612 and the d bidden rise arose And stood Merlin and V. 68 Queen Among her d's broidering sat, „ 138 lived there neither dame nor d then „ 606
And set it in this d's golden hair, Lancelot and E. 205
O d, in the light of your blue eyes; „ 660
And, d, for I deem you know full well „ 689
This will I do, dead d, for your sake, „ 962 rose And pointed to the d, and the doors. „ 1263 had I dreamt the d would have died, „ 1305
Ye loved me, d, surely with a love „ 1394
D's in divers colours like the cloud Pelleas and E. 53
And all the d's talk'd confusedly, „ 57
'O d,' answer'd he, 'I woke from dreams; „ 103 her knights And all her d's too were gracious „ 122
O d, wearing this unsunny face To him who won „ 180
But after, when her d's, and herself, „ 186
She that saw him cried, 'D's— „ 189
This her d's heard, And mindful of her small „ 200
With all her d's, he was stricken mute; „ 251
Up ran a score of d's to the tower; „ 368

Damsel (continued) And down they ran, Her d's, crying to their lady, Pelleas and E. 376
Froz'n by sweet sleep, four of her d's lay: „ 433 Dame, d, each thro' worship of their Queen Last Tournament 146
'Fair d's, each to him who worships each „ 207 dame and d glitter'd at the feast Variously gay: „ 225
So dame and d cast the simple white, „ 232 dame or d have ye kneel'd to last?' „ 550
Damsel-errant A d-e, warbling, as she rode Balin and Balan 438
Youth, we are d's-e, and we ride, Pelleas and E. 64
Dan that had no likin' for D, Tomorrow 19
An' D stood there for a minute, „ 22
whin D didn't come to the fore, „ 43
Dan Chaucer D C, the first warbler, D. of F. Women 5
Danaë lies the Earth all D to the stars, Princess vii 182
Danaïd prove The D of a leaky vase, „ ii 340
Dance (s) (See also Devil's-dances) echoing d Of reboant whirlwinds, Supp. Confessions 96
Yet in the whirling d's as we went, The form, the form 5 star that with the choral starry d Join'd not, Palace of Art 253 Leaving the d and song, D. of F. Women 216 men and maids Arranged a country d, Princess, Pro. 84 d's broke and buzz'd in knots of talk; „ i 133
Like one that wishes at a d to change The music— „ iv 589
In d and song and game and jest? In Mem. xxix 8
And d and song and hoodman-blind. „ lxxviii 12 wheels the circled d, and breaks The rocket „ xcviii 30
No d, no motion, save alone What lightens „ cv 23
And last the d;—till I retire: „ Con. 105
A dinner and then a d For the maids and marriage-makers, Maud I xx 34
She is weary of d and play.' „ xxii 22
Come hither, the d's are done, „ 54 with d And revel and song, made merry over Death, Gareth and L. 1422 Rush'd into d, and like wild Bacchanals Lover's Tale iii 25 whirling rout Led by those two rush'd into d, „ 55
An' the fall of yer foot in the d Tomorrow 36
Dance (verb) About thee breaks and d's: Madeline 30
And the spangle d's in bight and bay, Sea-Fairies 24 but to d and sing, be gaily drest, The form, the form 3 for she says A fire d's before her, Œnone 264
And make her d attendance; Amphion 62
And the dead begin to d. Vision of Sin 166
I make the netted sunbeam d The Brook 176
But fit to flaunt, to dress, to d, to thrum, Princess iv 519 to d Its body, and reach its fatling innocent arms „ vi 137 let the torrent d thee down To find him in the valley; „ vii 209
To d with death, to beat the ground, In Mem. i 12
Now d the lights on lawn and lea, „ cxv 9
Till the red man d By his red cedar-tree, Maud I xvii 17 flickering in a grimly light D on the mere. Gareth and L. 827 Down upon far-off cities while they d— Merlin and V. 114 eating dry To d without a catch, a roundelay To d to.' Last Tournament 250
D to the pibroch!—saved! Def. of Lucknow 103
D in a fountain of flame with her devils, Kapiolani 10
Danced we d about the may-pole and in the hazel copse, May Queen, N'Y's E. 11
Till all the tables d again, The Goose 47
d The greensward into greener circles, Gardener's D. 133
D into light, and died into the shade; „ 203
And madly d our hearts with joy, The Voyage 3 the gilded ball D like a wisp: Princess, Pro. 64
O'er it shook the woods, And d the colour, „ iii 293
For I that d her on my knee, In Mem., Con. 45
Yniol's heart D in his bosom, Marr. of Geraint 505 and the sand d at the bottom of it. Balin and Balan 27
For all my blood d in me, and I knew Holy Grail 366
D like a wither'd leaf before the hail. (repeat) Last Tournament 4, 242
And down the city Dagonet d away; „ 359 as d in 'er pratty blue eye; North. Cobbler 50 Dancer To the d's dancing in tune; Maud I xvii 16
When will the d's leave her alone? „ 21
A wreath of airy d's hand-in-hand Guinevere 261
Dancing Tho' if, in d after Letty Hill, Edwin Morris 55
Dancing (continued) that keeps A thousand pulses d, In Mem. cxxv 16
To the dancers d in tune; Maud I xxii 16 burst in d, and the pearls were spilt; Merlin and V. 452 Till the d will be over; Maud I xx 43
d of Fairies In desolate hollows, Merlin and the G. 41
Dandle shall we d it amorously? Boädicea 33
I bore him a son, and he loved to d the child, Bandit's Death 15
Dandled nor pretty babes To be d, Princess iv 147 breast that fed or arm that d you, „ vi 181
Dandy-despot What if that d-d, he, Maud I vi 42
Dane Saxon and Norman and D are we, But all of us D's in our welcome of thee, W. to Alexandra 3
For Saxon or D or Norman we, „ 31
We are each all D in our welcome of thee, „ 33
Dang'd (damned) an' be d if I iver let goa! Village Wife 68
Danger like of shocks, D's, and deeds, Œnone 164
Her household fled the d, The Goose 54
I take my part Of d on the roaring sea, Sailor Boy 22
I see the d which you cannot see: Geraint and E. 421
Dangled D a length of ribbon and a ring Enoch Arden 750 when my father d the grapes, Maud I i 71
d a hundred fathom of grapes, V. of Maeldune 56
Dangling one with shatter'd fingers d lame, Last Tournament 60
Dangtha (damn you) Woä then, wiltha? d! N. Farmer, N.S. 40
Daniel great Books (see D seven and ten) Sea Dreams 152
Danish behind it a gray down With D barrows; Enoch Arden 7
Pass from the D barrow overhead; „ 442
Danny (See also Danny O'Roon) an' D says 'Troth, an' I been Dhrinkin' Tomorrow 11 for D was not to be foun', „ 28
For the Divil a D was there, „ 30
'Your D,' they says, 'niver crasst over „ 48
Danny O'Roon (See also Danny) Molly Magee wid her batchelor, D O'R— „ 10 meet your paärints agin an' yer D O'R afore God „ 57 young man D O'R wid his ould woman, „ 88 about Molly Magee an' her D O'R, „ 92
Dante there the world-worn D grasp'd his song, Palace of Art 135
Danube The D to the Severn gave In Mem. xix 1
Let her great D rolling fair Enwind her isles, „ xcviii 9 Dare why d Paths in the desert? Supp. Confessions 78
d to kiss Thy taper fingers amorously, Madeline 43
I d not think of thee, Oriana. Oriana 93
I d not die and come to thee, „ 96
'The doubt would rest, I d not solve. Two Voices 313
'You will not, boy! you d to answer thus! Dora 26
none of all his men D tell him Dora waited „ 76
Then not to d to see! Love and Duty 38
'I will speak out, for I d not lie. Lady Clare 38
But I must go: I d not tarry,' Princess iii 95
'D we dream of that,' I ask'd, „ 297
I d All these male thunderbolts: „ iv 499
he that does the thing they d not do, „ v 160
What d's not Ida do that she should prize „ 174
d not ev'n by silence sanction lies. Third of Feb. 10
How d we keep our Christmas-eve; In Mem. xxix 4
Nor d she trust a larger lay, „ xlviii 13
And d we to this fancy give, „ liii 5
By which we d to live or die. „ lxxxv 40
D I say No spirit ever brake the band „ xciii 1
That which we d invoke to bless; „ cxxiv 1
Who can rule and d not lie. Maud I x 66
That I d to look her way; „ xvi 11
D I bid her abide by her word? „ 25
Who d's foreshadow for an only son Ded. of Idylls 29 not once d to look him in the face.' Gareth and L. 782
I am the cause, because I d not speak Marr. of Geraint 89 yet not d to tell him what I think, „ 105
How should I d obey him to his harm? Geraint and E. 136
Not d to watch the combat, „ 154
Nor did I care or d to speak with you, „ 871
'What d the full-fed liars say of me? Merlin and V. 692
And no man there will d to mock at me; Lancelot and E. 1053
What rights are his that d not strike for them? Last Tournament 527 how d I call him mine? Guinevere 617

Dare (continued) They swore that he d not rob the mail, Rizpah 30 names who d For that sweet mother land Tiresias 122 but if thou d—Thou, one of these, „ 133 would d Hell-heat or Arctic cold, Ancient Sage 115
I d without your leave to head Pro. to Gen. Hamley 19
For d we dally with the sphere Epilogue 44
Mother, d you kill your child? Forlorn 37 crying 'I d her, let Peelè avenge herself'! Kapiolani 32 Dared 'He d not tarry,' men will say, Two Voices 101
But when at last I d to speak, Miller's D. 129
I had not d to flow In these words toward you, To J. S. 6 my word was law, and yet you d To slight it. Dora 98
Yet d not stir to do it, Aylmer's Field 806
d To leap the rotten pales of prejudice, Princess ii 141
You that have d to break our bound, „ iv 539 sorrowing in a pause I d not break; „ vii 249
D not to glance at her good mother's face, Marr. of Geraint 766
Nor d to waste a perilous pity on him: Geraint and E. 525
she thought, 'He had not d to do it, „ 720
'They d me to do it,' he said, Rizpah 24
'The farmer d me to do it,' he said; „ 26
But they d not touch us again, The Revenge 72
d her with one little ship and his English few; „ 107 you have d Somewhat perhaps in coming? Columbus 242 and flung the berries, and d the Goddess, Kapiolani 6
Darest Who scarcely d to inquire, In Mem. iv 7
How d thou, if lover, push me even In fancy Last Tournament 638
Daring But now it were too d. Guinevere 654
Not d yet to glance at Lionel. Lover's Tale iv 309
Dark (See also Derk, Dewy-dark) In the d we must lie. All Things will Die 22 drive Thro' utter d a full-sail'd skiff, Supp. Confessions 95
I am void, D, formless, „ 121
When thickest d did trance the sky, Mariana 18
Which upon the d afloat, The Owl ii 3 level lake with diamond-plots Of d and bright. Arabian Nights 86 twisted silvers look'd to shame The hollow-vaulted d, „ 126
Or dimple in the d of rushy coves, Ode to Memory 60 thro' the wreaths of floating d upcurl'd, The Poet 35
All within is d as night: Deserted House 5
Ere the light on d was growing, Oriana 10 Remaining betwixt d and bright: Margaret 28 shoot into the d Arrows of lightnings. To J. M. K. 14
If I make d my countenance, Two Voices 53
'If all be d, vague voice,' I said, „ 265 seem'd all d and red—a tract of sand, Palace of Art 65 moon was setting, and the d was over all; May Queen, Con. 26 brides of ancient song Peopled the hollow d, D. of F. Women 18 Morn broaden'd on the borders of the d, „ 265
The unnetted black-hearts ripen d, The Blackbird 7
Shot on the sudden into d. To J. S. 28
And round them sea and air are d Love thou thy land 63
A length of bright horizon rimm'd the d. Gardener's D. 181 the sun fell, and all the land was d. (repeat) Dora 79, 109 all the varied changes of the d, Edwin Morris 36 Till now the d was worn, Love and Duty 71 spirit deeply dawning in the d of hazel eyes— Locksley Hall 28
'Love, if thy tresses be so d, How d those hidden eyes must be!' Day-Dm., Arrival 31
The twilight died into the d. „ Depart. 24
As these white robes are soil'd and d, St Agnes' Eve 13
I float till all is d. Sir Galahad 40
But o'er the d a glory spreads, „ 55
With wakes of fire we tore the d; The Voyage 52
And d and true and tender is the North. Princess iv 98
I dread His wildness, and the chances of the d.' „ 244
Slipt round and in the d invested you, „ 404
That glitter burnish'd by the frosty d; „ v 261 little seed they laugh'd at in the d, „ vi 34 like night and evening mixt Their d and gray, „ 132
And watches in the dead, the d, „ vii 103
D in its funeral fold. Ode on Well. 57
D is the world to thee: High. Pantheism 7
My will is bondsman to the d; In Mem. iv 2
And all the place is d, and all The chambers „ viii 7

Dark (continued) For all is d where thou art not. In Mem. viii 12 balmy drops in summer d Slide from the bosom „ xvii 15 Thy marble bright in d appears, „ lxvii 5
Immantled in ambrosial d, „ lxxxix 14
A shade falls on us like the d „ Con. 93
For the drift of the Maker is d, Maud I iv 43
Thro' the livelong hours of the d „ vi 17
Then returns the d With no more hope of light. „ ix 15
For d my mother was in eyes and hair, And d in hair and eyes am I; and d Was Gorloïs, yea and d was Uther too, Com. of Arthur 327
And tho' she lay d in the pool, she knew Marr. of Geraint 657
All round her prest the d, Balin and Balan 262
D my doom was here, and d It will be there. „ 623
D in the glass of some presageful mood, Merlin and V. 295
the court, the King, d in your light, „ 875
Arthur to the banquet, d in mood, Lancelot and E. 564
Was I too d a prophet when I said Holy Grail 889 Sprang from the door into the d. Pelleas and E. 603
d in the golden grove Appearing, Last Tournament 379
The night was d; the true star set. Isolt! The name was ruler of the d—Isolt? „ 605
Mark's way to steal behind one in the d— „ 618
That here in utter d I swoon'd away, And woke again in utter d, and cried, „ 622
Out of the d, just as the lips had touch'd, „ 752 look'd and saw The great Queen's bower was d,— „ 758 so late! and d the night and chill! Guinevere 168 so late! and d and chill the night! „ 174 Fell into dust, and crumbled in the d— Lover's Tale i 95 in the d of mine Is traced with flame. „ 297
We past from light to d. „ 516
All thro' the livelong hours of utter d, „ 810 spray wind-driven Far thro' the dizzy d. „ ii 199 Down welter'd thro' the d ever and ever. „ 208 the nightingale's hymn in the d. First Quarrel 34 call'd in the d to me year after year— Rizpah 47
I have been with God in the d— „ 79
he used but to call in the d, „ 83
I came on lake Llanberris in the d, Sisters (E. and E.) 95
D thro' the smoke and the sulphur Def. of Lucknow 33
D with the smoke of human sacrifice, Sir J. Oldcastle 84
Breaking with laughter from the d; De Prof., Two G. 18
I cannot laud this life, it looks so d: To W. H. Brookfield 12 sister of the sun Would climb from out the d, Tiresias 31 till mine grew d For ever, „ 47 in the d of his wonderful eyes. The Wreck 55 thy world Might vanish like thy shadow in the d. Ancient Sage 52
When all is d as night.' „ 170 the world is d with griefs and graves, So d that men cry out against the Heavens. „ 171 an' thin wint into the d. Tomorrow 22
Bright and D have sworn that I, Demeter and P. 96 Voices of the day Are heard across the Voices of the d. The Ring 40 but one was fair, And one was d, „ 161 one betwixt the d and light had seen Her, „ 414
Stark and d in his funeral fire. To Master of B. 20 dead cords that ran D thro' the mist, Death of Œnone 11 festal hour D with the blood of man who murder'd man. St. Telemachus 80
Thro' a dream of the d? The Dreamer 16
D no more with human hatreds Faith 8
Must my day be d by reason, God and the Univ. 2
And after that the d! Crossing the Bar 10
Dark-blue D-b the deep sphere overhead, Arabian Nights 89 Hateful is the d-b sky, Vaulted o'er the d-b sea. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 39 and the d-b clematis, clung, V. of Maeldune 39
Dark-brow'd D-b sophist, come not anear; Poet's Mind 8
Dark-dawning For my d-d youth, Darken'd watching Maud I xix 7
Darken the days d round me, and the years, M. d'Arthur 237
And never more d my doors again.' Dora 32 shores that d with the gathering wolf, Aylmer's Field 767 face Would d, as he cursed his credulousness, Sea Dreams 13 And sorrow d's hamlet and hall. Ode on Well. 7 it brightens and d's down on the plain. Window. On the Hill 2

Darken (continued) d's and brightens like my hope,
And it d's and brightens and d's like my fear, Window. On the Hill 18 drifts that pass To d on the rolling brine In Mem. cvii 14
Not close and d above me Maud I xi 9
Tho' many a light shall d, „ III vi 43
I would not mine again should d thine, Balin and Balan 625
May yon just heaven, that d's o'er me, Merlin and V. 931 flash of youth, would d down To rise hereafter Lancelot and E. 1318 o'er the plain that then began To d under Camelot; Holy Grail 218 deed seem'd to be done in vain, D; „ 275 the days d round me, and the years, Pass. of Arthur 405
And why was I to d their pure love, Lover's Tale i 727 into my heart, and begun to d my eyes. Rizpah 16 as I saw the white sail run, And d, The Flight 40 lost in the gloom of doubts that d the schools; Vastness 11
Storm in the South that d's the day! Rifleмen form! 2
His shadow d's earth: D. of the Duke of C. 13

Darken'd (See also Darken'd, Self-darken'd) And her eyes were d wholly, L. of Shalott iv 31
And all the casement d there. Miller's D. 128 pines That d all the northward of her Hall. Aylmer's Field 415 all the sails were d in the west, Sea Dreams 39
You stood in your own light and d mine. Princess iv 314
And d sanctities with song.' In Mem. xxxvii 24
And life is d in the brain. cxxi 8
D watching a mother decline „ Maud I xix 8
He had d into a frown, „ 62
And d from the high light in his eyes, Marr. of Geraint 100
Till his eye d and his helmet wagg'd; Geraint and E. 505
So when his moods were d, court and King Balin and Balan 235 Thy curse, and d all thy day; „ 620 his face D, as I have seen it more than once, Holy Grail 273
D the common path: Pelleas and E. 550 when the outer lights are d thus, Lover's Tale i 35
Because my own was d? „ 729
And all my life was d, The Flight 39
The landskip d, The melody deaden'd, Merlin and the G. 31
'what has d thee to-night?' Akbar's Dream 2 d with doubts of a Faith that saves, The Dreamer 11

Darkening d thine own To thine own likeness; Aylmer's Field 673 swarms of men D her female field: Princess vii 34 And d the dark graves of men,— In Mem. xxxix 9 shadow of His loss drew like eclipse, D the world. Ded. of Idylls 15 world-old yew-tree, d half The cloisters, Holy Grail 13
D the wreaths of all that would advance, To Victor Hugo 5
And, d in the light, Ancient Sage 151

Darker Your hair is d, and your eyes Margaret 49 made those eyes D than darkest pansies, Gardener's D. 27 lonelier, d, earthlier for my loss. Aylmer's Field 750 loved to make men d than they are, Merlin and V. 876

Dark-eyed She was dark-haired, d-e: Lover's Tale i 74

Dark-green spread his d-g layers of shade. Gardener's D. 116

Dark-hair'd She was d-h, dark-eyed: Lover's Tale i 74

Darkling name Went wandering somewhere d in his mind. Last Tournament 457

Darkness something in the d draws His forehead earthward, Supp. Confessions 167 something which possess'd The d of the world, Arabian Nights 72 and lashes like to rays Of d, „ 137
All night long on d blind. Adeline 44
When in the d over me The four-handed mole My life is full 11
Why inch by inch to d crawl? Two Voices 200
And d in the village yew. „ 273 on her threshold lie Howling in outer d. To ——, With Pal. of Art 16 Gross d of the inner sepulchre D. of F. Women 67
Had wink'd and threaten'd d, M. d'Arthur, Ep. 2
I would I were The pilot of the d Audley Court 72 shake the d from their loosen'd manes, Tithonus 41 were shrivell'd into d in his head, Godiva 70 Beyond the d and the cataract, Vision of Sin 49 as they kiss'd each other In d, Aylmer's Field 431 worshipt their own d in the Highest? „ 643
May Pharaoh's d, folds as dense „ 771 and I was heaved upon it In d: Sea Dreams 93

Darkness (continued) Muses' heads were touch'd Above the d Princess iii 22 d closed me; and I fell. „ v 542
So much the gathering d charm'd: „ Con. 107
There I heard them in the d, Boädicea 36
So they chanted in the d, „ 46
A beam in d: let it grow. In Mem., Pro. 24
Let d keep her raven gloss: „ i 10
Else earth is d at the core, „ xxxiv 3 drop head-foremost in the jaws Of vacant d „ 16
That slope thro' d up to God, „ lv 16
How blanch'd with d must I grow! „ lxi 8
Death has made His d beautiful with thee. „ lxxiv 12 matin songs, that woke The d of our planet, „ lxxvi 10 which makes the d and the light, „ xcvi 19
But in the d and the cloud, „ 21
A treble d, Evil haunts The birth, „ xcviii 13
Ring out the d of the land, „ cvi 31
The Power in d whom we guess; „ cxxiv 4 out of d came the hands That reach thro' nature, „ 23 over whom thy d must have spread Maud I xviii 25 many a d into the light shall leap, „ III vi 46 Swept bellowing thro' the d on to dawn, Gareth and L. 177 would she make My d blackness? Balin and Balan 193 mark'd not on his right a cavern-chasm Yawn over d, „ 313
And lost itself in d, till she cried— „ 514
He walk'd with dreams and d, Merlin and V. 190
And counterchanged with d? „ 466
Approaching thro' the d, call'd; Lancelot and E. 1000
After the day of d, when the dead Holy Grail 49 and lying bounden there In d „ 677
d falling, sought A priory not far off, Pelleas and E. 213 their own d, throng'd into the moon. „ 458
She made her face a d from the King: Guinevere 417
And in the d o'er her fallen head, „ 583 forego The d of that battle in the West, To the Queen ii 65 far on within its inmost halls, The home of d; Lover's Tale i 524 and the d of the grave, The d of the grave and utter night, „ 597
And vex them with my d? „ 732 in the end, Opening on d, „ ii 125
so those fair eyes Shone on my d, „ 158
Seem'd stepping out of d with a smile. „ iv 220
What end but d could ensue from this Sisters (E. and E.) 175 bleat of a lamb in the storm and the d without; In the Child. Hosp. 64 Bugles and drums in the d, Def. of Lucknow 76 he past away From the d of life— To Prin. F. of H. 2 world of sight, that lives Behind this d, Tiresias 52 Stood out before a d, crying, „ 115 not to plunge Thy torch of life in d, „ 159 and the master gone. Gone into d, „ 202 fountain pour'd From d into daylight, Ancient Sage 8
Who knows but that the d is in man? „ 173 and forget The d of the pall.' „ 198
If utter d closed the day, my son— „ 199
Crown'd with sunlight—over d— Locksley H., Sixty 92
Flare from Tel-el-Kebir Thro' d, Pro. to Gen. Hamley 29 and griefs, and deaths, Were utter d— Prin. Beatrice 3 Are there spectres moving in the d? On Jub. Q. Victoria 67 the d Dawns into the Jubilee of the Ages. „ 70 bird that flies All night across the d, Demeter and P. 2 following out A league of labyrinthine d, „ 82 and for evermore The Bride of D.' „ 100
Then He, the brother of this D, „ 116
Clouds and d Closed upon Camelot; Merlin and the G. 75
For out of the d Silent and slowly „ 81 bubble bursts above the abyss Of D, Romney's R. 53

Dark-purple lying in d-p spheres of sea. Locksley Hall 164

Dark-splendid the face before her lived, D-s, Lancelot and E. 338

Darlin' wid a heart and a half, me d, Tomorrow 39

Darling (See also Darlin') The d of my manhood, and, alas! Gardener's D. 278 how pale she had look'd D, to-night! Aylmer's Field 380 Seventy years ago, my d, (repeat) Grandmother 24, 56
'Me, not my d, no!' The Victim 68
Her feet, my d, on the dead; In Mem., Con. 50

Darling (continued) the moon-faced d of all,— Maud I i 72
You are not her d. „ xii 32 and render All homage to his own d, „ xx 49
But shall it? answer, d, answer, no. Merlin and V. 397
Then the great knight, the d of the court, Lancelot and E. 261 our orphan, our d, our meek little maid; In the Child. Hosp. 28 not a mother's heart, when I left my d alone.' The Wreck 97
All very well just now to be calling me d Charity 7
Darnel And on my clay her d grow; My life is full 22
Darnley There is D bridge, It has more ivy; The Brook 36
Then crost the common into D chase „ 132
Dart (s) with their fires Love tipt his keenest d's; D. of F. Women 173
Brandishing in her hand a d Boädicea 71
Madly dash'd the d's together, „ 74 Clash the d's and on the buckler „ 79 dying now Pierced by a poison'd d. Death of Œnone 34
Dart (verb) forward d again, and play About the prow, In Mem. xii 17
Darted thro' his manful breast d the pang Marr. of Geraint 121 Darter (daughter) the Squire an' 'is d's an' me, Village Wife 7 talkt o' my d es died o' the fever at fall: „ 10 ivry d o' Squire's hed her awn ridin-erse „ 35 niver hed none of 'er d's 'ere; „ 54
'Er an' 'er blessed d— „ 60
Then 'e married a great Yerl's d, Church-warden, etc. 20
Dash D them anew together at her will Lucretius 247 birds on the light D themselves dead. Princess iv 496 Waves on a diamond shingle d, The Islet 16
d the brains of the little one out, Boädicea 68 and d myself down and die Maud I i 54 upon all things base, and d them dead, Gareth and L. 23 each at either d from either end— „ 535
To d against mine enemy and to win. „ 1355
D back that ocean with a pier, Mechanophilus 5
Dash'd (rushed) D downward in a cataract. Day-Dm., Revival 16
Again we d into the dawn! The Voyage 24
d Into the chronicle of a deedful day, Aylmer's Field 195 uttering a dry shriek, D on Geraint, Geraint and E. 462
But, mad for strange adventure, d away, Balin and Balan 289
'he d across me—mad, And maddening what he rode; Holy Grail 641 Pelleas overthrew them as they d Against him one by one; Pelleas and E. 221
d up alone Thro' the great gray slope Heavy Brigade 16
Dash'd (flung, hurled) As d about the drunken leaves Amphion 55
D together in blinding dew: Vision of Sin 42 grief Bore down in flood, and d his angry heart Aylmer's Field 633 or into rhythm have d The passion of the prophetess; Princess iv 139 and d Unopen'd at her feet: „ 470 roll The torrents, d to the vale: „ v 350
Then came a postscript d across the rest. „ 424
D on every rocky square Their surging charges Ode on Well. 125
Roll as a ground-swell d on the strand, W. to Alexandra 23
And wildly d on tower and tree In Mem. xv 7
Christless foe of thine as ever d Horse against horse; Balin and Balan 97
He d the pummel at the foremost face, „ 402 with violence The sword was d from out my hand, Holy Grail 826 Isolt of Britain d Before Isolt Last Tournament 588 and d himself Into the dizzy depth below. Lover's Tale i 380 and d herself Dead in her rage: Tiresias 152
And d half dead on barren sands, The Ring 309
Into the flame-billow d the berries, Kapiolani 33
Dash'd (struck) Madly d the darts together, Boädicea 74
He d the rowel into his horse, Pelleas and E. 486 sudden fire from Heaven had d him dead, Happy 83
Dash'd (broke) we d Your cities into shards with catapults, Princess v 137
Dash'd (bespattered) his greaves and cuisses d with drops Of onset; M. d'Arthur 215
And where it d the reddening meadow, Lucretius 49
d with death He reddens what he kisses: Princess v 164
d with wandering isles of night. In Mem. xxiv 4
That life is d with flecks of sin. „ lii 14
Deep tulips d with fiery dew, „ lxxviii 11 his greaves and cuisses d with drops Of onset; Pass. of Arthur 383 Dashing d down on a tall wayside flower, Guinevere 253
Dashing (continued) D the fires and the shadows of dawn V. of Maeldune 99 the bolt of war d down upon cities The Dawn 8
Date but when his d Doubled her own, Aylmer's Field 80
Beyond the common d of death— The Ring 108
Dating d, many a year ago, Has hit on this, To E. Fitzgerald 49 Daughter (See also Darter) His little d, whose sweet face He kiss'd, Two Voices 253
It is the miller's d, Miller's D. 169
I am the d of a River-God, Œnone 38
We were two d's of one race: The Sisters 1
The d of a hundred Earls, L. C. V. de Vere 7
A d of the gods, divinely tall, D. of F. Women 87
The d of the warrior Gileadite, „ 197
Eustace from the city went To see the Gardener's D; Gardener's D. 3
Go and see The Gardener's d: „ 30
Who had not heard Of Rose, the Gardener's d? „ 52
The d's of the year, One after one, „ 200
She is my brother's d: Dora 17 for his sake I bred His d Dora: „ 20 woo'd and wed A labourer's d, Mary Morrison. „ 40
d of a cottager, Out of her sphere, Walk. to the Mail 59 Cry, like the d's of the horseleech, 'Give, Golden Year 12 preaching down a d's heart. Locksley Hall 94
'The old Earl's d died at my breast; Lady Clare 25 With children; first a d. Enoch Arden 84 evermore the d prest upon her To wed the man „ 483 tell my d Annie, whom I saw So like her mother, „ 882
A d of our meadows, yet not coarse; The Brook 69
And how it was the thing his d wish'd, „ 140 sons of men D's of God; Aylmer's Field 45
Averill walk So freely with his d? „ 270
Pale as the Jephtha's d, „ 280
He never yet had set his d forth „ 347
Grossly contriving their dear d's good— „ 781 devising their own d's death! „ 783 where the two contrived their d's good, „ 848 knowledge, so my d held, Was all in all: Princess i 135
His d and his housemaid were the boys: „ 190 turning round we saw The Lady Blanche's d „ ii 321 d's of the plough, stronger than men, „ iv 278
A Niobëan d, one arm out, „ 371
'Fair d, when we sent the Prince your way „ 398
Then those eight mighty d's of the plough „ 550
I would he had our d: „ v 214 vainlier than a hen To her false d's in the pool; „ 329
those eight d's of the plough Came „ 339
Sea-kings' d from over the sea, W. to Alexandra 1
The sea-kings' d as happy as fair, „ 26
Yell'd and shriek'd between her d's, (repeat) Boädicea 6, 72
he loved A d of our house; In Mem., Con. 7 love of all Thy d's cherish Thee, Ded. of Idylls 53
Had one fair d, and none other child; Com. of Arthur 2
Give me thy d Guinevere to wife.' „ 139
Give my one d saving to a king, „ 143
And d's had she borne him,— „ 189
'D of Gorloïs and Ygerne am I;' „ 316
Then at his call, 'O d's of the Dawn, Gareth and L. 923 were she the d of a king, Marr. of Geraint 229
The voice of Enid, Yniol's d, rang Clear „ 327 fair Enid, all in faded silk, Her d. „ 367 after, turn'd her d round, and said, „ 740
I doubted whether d's tenderness, Or easy nature, „ 797 behind them stept the lily maid Elaine, his d: Lancelot and E. 177
But I, my sons, and little d fled „ 276
D, I know not what you call the highest; „ 1080 Isolt, the d of the King? Last Tournament 397
The mother fell about the d's neck, Sister's (E. and E.) 154 told the living d with what love „ 253
England's England-loving d—thou Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 15
He saw not his d—he blest her: To Prin. F. of H. 3 d yield her life, heart, soul to one— The Flight 28 hold the Present fatal d of the Past, Locksley H., Sixty 105
Her maiden d's marriage; Prin. Beatrice 10
True d, whose all-faithful, filial eyes „ 13

Daughter (continued) D of the seed of Cain, Forlorn 39
You clasp't our infant d, Romney's R. 77
David King D call'd the heavens a hide, Columbus 47
Daw And haunted by the wrangling d; In Mem. c 12
And all the windy clamour of the d's Geraint and E. 255
the d's flew out of the Towers V. of Maeldune 109 Dawes (Jocky) See Jocky Dawes
Dawn (s) (See also Summer-dawn) When the breeze of a joyful d blew free, Arabian Nights 1 Thou dewy d of memory. (repeat) Ode to Memory 7, 45, 124 dew-impearled winds of d have kiss'd, " 14 Vast images in glimmering d, Two Voices 305 white-breasted like a star Fronting the d he moved; Œnone 58
The tearful glimmer of the languid d D. of F. Women 74 crested bird That claps his wings at d. " 180
With that sharp sound the white d's creeping beams, " 261
He will not see the d of day. D. of the O. Year 11
A bridal d of thunder-peals, Love thou thy land 51 hull Look'd one black dot against the verge of d, M. d'Arthur 271
The lusty bird takes every hour for d: " Ep. 11 till on to d, when dreams Begin to feel the truth " 18 light of London flaring like a dreary d; Locksley Hall 114
Again we dash'd into the d! The Voyage 24
God made himself an awful rose of d, (repeat) Vision of Sin 50, 224 when the d of rosy childhood past, Enoch Arden 37 Faint as a figure seen in early d " 357 the chill November d's and dewy-glooming downs, " 610 since the mate had seen at early d " 631 follow Such dear familiarities of d? Aylmer's Field 131 as d Aroused the black republic on his elms, " 528
I gave the letter to be sent with d; Princess i 245
However then commenced the d: " ii 138 sad and strange as in dark summer d's " iv 49 at eve and d With Ida, Ida, Ida, rang the woods; " 432
He rose at d and, fired with hope, Sailor Boy 1
Green-rushing from the rosy thrones of d!
(repeat) Voice and the P. 4, 40
Fixt by their cars, waited the golden d. Spec. of Iliad. 22
In that deep d behind the tomb, In Mem. xlvi 6
Thy tablet glimmers to the d. " lxvii 16 Risest thou thus, dim d, " lxxii 1 said 'The d, the d,' and died away; " xcv 61 Risest thou thus, dim d, again, " xcix 1
A light-blue lane of early d, " cxix 7
And thither I climb'd at d And stood Maud I xiv 5
Now and then in the dim-gray d; " 32
They sigh'd for the d and thee. " xxii 52
O d of Eden bright over earth and sky, " II i 8
In the shuddering d, behold, " iv 52
Voice in the rich d of an ampler day— Ded. of Idylls 36 Swept bellowing thro' the darkness on to d, Gareth and L. 177 honour shining like the dewy star Of d, " 330
How once the wandering forester at d, " 498
Will there be d in West and eve in East? " 712
Then at his call, 'O daughters of the D, " 923
In the half-light—thro' the dim d— " 1384
As the gray d stole o'er the dewy world, Geraint and E. 385 with the d ascending lets the day Strike " 692 one fair d, The light-wing'd spirit Balin and Balan 20 thou rememberest well—one summer d— " 505 passing one, at the high peep of d, Merlin and V. 560 the high d piercing the royal rose " 739 woke with d, and past Down thro' the dim rich city Lancelot and E. 846 the blood-red light of d Flared on her face, " 1025
I touch'd The chapel-doors at d I know; Holy Grail 536 her bloom A rosy d kindled in stainless heavens, Pelleas and E. 72 Glanced from the rosy forehead of the d. " 502 Pure on the virgin forehead of the d!' " 505 hull Look'd one black dot against the verge of d, Pass. of Arthur 439 stillness of the dead world's winter d Amazed him, " 442 Then from the d it seem'd there came, " 457 kindled from within As 'twere with d. Lover's Tale i 74 opposite The flush and d of youth, " 189

Dawn (s) (continued) at d from the cloud glitter'd o'er us V. of Maeldune 84 and the sunbright hand of the d, " 102 Dashing the fires and the shadows of d " 99 Waste d of multitudinous-eddying light— De Prof., Two G. 4 mothers with their babblers of the d, Tiresias 103
And we turn'd to the growing d, we had hoped for a d indeed, Despair 22 Hoped for a d and it came, " 27 see The high-heaven d of more than mortal day Ancient Sage 284 light the glimmer of the d? Locksley H., Sixty 229
Sun of d That brightens thro' the Mother's Prin. Beatrice 3 Virgil who would write ten lines, they say, At d, Poets and their B. 3 at d Falls on the threshold of her native land, Demeter and P. 2 the reaper in the gleam of d Will see me " 123 Are calling to each other thro' a d The Ring 37 in the gleam of those mid-summer d's, " 183
In the night, and nigh the d, Forlorn 83
A whisper from his d of life? a breath From some fair d beyond Far-far-away 10
Her husband in the flush of youth and d, Death of Œnone 17 d Struck from him his own shadow on to Rome. St. Telemachus 32 and it laugh'd like a d in May. Bandit's Death 20 slept, Ay, till d stole into the cave, " 31
Red of the D! (repeat) The Dawn 1, 6, 21
D not Day! (repeat) " 11, 16
Dawn (verb) let your blue eyes d Upon me Margaret 67 such a one As d's but once a season. Lover's Tale i 300
Than our poor twilight d on earth— Tiresias 206
That d's behind the grave. Epilogue 78 darkness D's into the Jubilee of the Ages. On Jub. Q. Victoria 71 Dawn'd D sometime thro' the doorway? Aylmer's Field 685 twilight d; and morn by morn the lark Princess vii 45
Had? has it come? It has only d. In the Child. Hosp. 23
One from the Sunrise D on His people, Kapiolani 25
Dawning (part.) (See also Dark-dawning) clear Delight, the infant's d year. Supp. Confessions 67
All the spirit deeply d in the dark Locksley Hall 28
he saw Death d on him, and the close of all. Enoch Arden 832
Dawning (s) thro' that d gleam'd a kindlier hope " 833
A cry from out the d of my life, Com. of Arthur 333
All in a fiery d wild with wind Lancelot and E. 1020 days Of dewy d and the amber eves Lover's Tale i 52 brought out a broad sky Of d over— Columbus 78
Long before the d. Forlorn 54
Day (See also After-days, Birth-day, Christmas Day, Daäy, Death-day, Easterday, Gaudy-day, Judgement Day, Judgment Daäy, Judgment Day, Marriage Day, Mid-day, Middle-day, Nine-days', One-day-seen, To-daäy, To-day, Yisther-day)
As noble till the latest d! To the Queen 22 a world of peace And confidence, d after d; Supp. Confessions 30
They comfort him by night and d; " 45
She only said, 'The d is dreary, Mariana 33
All d within the dreamy house, " 61 the d Was sloping toward his western bower. " 79 Wears all d a fainter tone. The Owl ii 7
Flinging the gloom of yesternight On the white d; Ode to Memory 10 the prime labour of thine early d's: " 94
All d and all night it is ever drawn Poet's Mind 28
D and night to the billow the fountain calls: Sea-Fairies 9
We will sing to you all the d: " 20
It was the middle of the d. Dying Swan 8
Now is done thy long d's work; A Dirge 1
How could I look upon the d? Oriana 59
I would sit and sing the whole of the d; The Merman 9
I would sing to myself the whole of the d; The Mermaid 10
Looking at the set of d, Adeline 17
Lull'd echoes of laborious d Come to you, Margaret 29
And gave you on your natal d. " 42 all d long you sit between Joy and woe, " 63 delight of frolic flight, by d or night, Rosalind 47
My life is full of weary d's, My life is full 1
Come only, when the d's are still, " 23
There she weaves by night and d L. of Shalott ii 1
And at the closing of the d " iv 15
But d increased from heat to heat, Mariana in the S. 39

Day (continued) But sometimes in the falling d — Mariana in the S. 73
From heat to heat the d decreased, — " 78
'The d to night,' she made her moan, 'The d to night, the night to morn, And d and night I am left alone — " 81
Would sweep the tracts of d and night. — Two Voices 69
How grows the d of human power?' — " 78
One hope that warm'd me in the d's — " 122
In d's that never come again. — " 324
Whose troubles number with his d's: — " 330
That we may die the self-same d. — Miller's D. 24
Flush'd like the coming of the d; — " 132 song I gave you, Alice, on the d When, arm in arm, — " 162
For hid in ringlets d and night, — " 173
And all d long to fall and rise — " 182
The d, when in the chestnut shade I found — " 201 wheresoe'er I am by night and d, — Œnone 267
And, while d sank or mounted higher, — Palace of Art. 46
Thro' which the livelong d my soul did pass, — " 55 young night divine Crown'd dying d with stars, — " 184
Of all the glad New-year, mother, the maddest merriest d; — May Queen 3 call me loud when the d begins to break: — " 10 many a bolder lad 'ill woo me any summer d, — " 23 drop of rain the whole of the livelong d, — " 35 To-morrow 'ill be of all the year the maddest merriest d, — " 43 we had a merry d; — May Queen, N. Y's. E. 9
I long to see a flower so before the d I die. — " 16 Good-night, sweet mother: call me before the d is born. — " 49 ere this d is done The voice, that now is speaking, — " Con. 53
All its allotted length of d's, — Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 35 Eating the Lotos d by d, — " 60
All d the wind breathes low with mellower tone: — " 102 eyes of anger'd Eleanor Do hunt me, d and night.' — D. of F. Women 256
He will not see the dawn of d. — D. of the O. Year 11
Make bright our d's and light our dreams, — Of old sat Freedom 22
From those, not blind, who wait for d, — Love thou thy land 15 cutting eights that d upon the pond, — The Epic 10 Looks freshest in the fashion of the d: — " 32
So all d long the noise of battle roll'd — M. d'Arthur 1
the halls Of Camelot, as in the d's that were. — " 21
In those old d's, one summer noon, — " 29
And the d's darken round me, and the years, — " 237
Rise like a fountain for me night and d. — " 249
Begin to feel the truth and stir of d, — " Ep. 19
This morning is the morning of the d — Gardener's D. 1 memory folds For ever in itself the d we went To see her. — " 75 Sang loud, as tho' he were the bird of d. — " 96
But the full d dwelt on her brows, — " 136
I, that whole d, Saw her no more, — " 163
d by d, Like one that never can be wholly known, — " 205 chambers of the heart, Let in the d.' — " 250
May not be dwelt on by the common d. — " 271 came a d When Allan called his son, — Dora 9 d's went on, and there was born a boy To William; — " 48
And d by d he pass'd his father's gate, — " 50 Remembering the d when first she came, — " 106
And either twilight and the d between; — Edwin Morris 37
I spoke her name alone. Thrice-happy d's! — " 68 seems a part of those fresh d's to me; — " 142 leap'd and laugh'd The modish Cupid of the d, — Talking Oak 67
ah! my friend, the d's were brief — " 185
'Tis little more: the d was warm; — " 205
Some happy future d. — " 252 staring eye glazed o'er with sapless d's, — Love and Duty 16 we that d had been Up Snowdon; — Golden Year 3
A tongue-tied Poet in the feverous d's, — " 10
Happy d's Roll onward, leading up the golden year. — " 40
The long d wanes: the slow moon climbs: — Ulysses 55 strength which in old d's Moved earth and heaven; — " 66 a saying learnt, In d's far-off, — Tithonus 48 with what another heart In d's far-off, — " 51 thou shalt lower to his level d by d, — Locksley Hall 45

Day (continued) turn to, lighting upon d's like these? — Locksley Hall 99
When I heard my d's before me, — " 110 island unto island at the gateways of the d. — " 158 we sweep into the younger d: — " 183 Stillness with love, and d with light. — Day-Dm., Sleep. B. 16
That strove in other d's to pass, — " Arrival 10
And deep into the dying d — " Depart. 7 Beyond the night, across the d, — " 31 song was great In d's of old Amphion, — Amphion 10 fountain upward runs The current of my d's: — Will Water. 36 draws me down Into the common d? — " 154 Ere d's, that deal in ana, — " 199
Thy latter d's increased with pence — " 219
God's blessing on the d! — Lady Clare 8
D by d more harsh and cruel — The Captain 13
On a d when they were going O'er the lone expanse, — " 25
Where they twain will spend their d's — L. of Burleigh 36 Down the waste waters d and night, — The Voyage 58
'She is more beautiful than d.' — Beggar Maid 8
When a blanket wraps the d, — Vision of Sin 80 the tender grace of a d that is dead — Break, break, etc. 15
Enoch was host one d, Philip the next, — Enoch Arden 25
And pass his d's in peace among his own. — " 147
Many a sad kiss by d by night renew'd — " 161
So all d long till Enoch's last at home, — " 172 ship I sail in passes here (He named the d) — " 215 the d, that Enoch mention'd, came, — " 239 in d's of difficulty And pressure, — " 254 Beheld the dead flame of the fallen d — " 441 Thro' many a fair sea-circle, d by d, — " 542 or all d long Sat often in the seaward-gazing gorge, — " 588
No sail from d to d, but every d — " 591
There Enoch rested silent many d's. — " 699 the dull November d Was growing duller twilight, — " 721 brought the stinted commerce of those d's; — " 817 meet the d When Enoch had return'd, — " 822
I have not three d's more to live; — " 851 Coming every d,' She answer'd, — The Brook 106 five d's after that He met the bailiff — " 145 if you knew her in her English d's, — " 224 the d's That most she loves to talk of, — " 225 Thinn'd, or would seem to thin her in a d, — Aylmer's Field 76
dash'd Into the chronicle of a deedful d, — " 196 Slept thro' the stately minuet of those d's: — " 207
The next d came a neighbour. — " 251 second d, My lady's Indian kinsman rushing in, — " 592 many thousand d's Were clipt by horror — " 602 Darkly that d rose: — " 609
At close of d; slept, woke, — Sea Dreams 18 birdie say, In her nest at peep of d? — " 294 baby say, In her bed at peep of d? — " 302
Was it the first beam of my latest d? — Lucretius 59
Whether I mean this d to end myself, — " 146 Shatter'd into one earthquake in one d — " 251 all a summer's d Gave his broad lawns — Princess, Pro. 1 Took this fair d for text, — " 108
On a sudden in the midst of men and d, — " i 15 the d's drew nigh that I should wed, — " 41 three d's he feasted us, And on the fourth — " 118
At break of d the College Portress came: — " ii 15
In gentler d's, your arrow-wounded fawn — " 270 then d droopt; the chapel bells Call'd — " 470 the d fled on thro' all Its range of duties — " iii 176 and mould The woman to the fuller d.' — " 332 thinking of the d's that are no more. — " iv 43
So sad, so fresh, the d's that are no more. — " 48
So sad, so strange, the d's that are no more. — " 53
O Death in Life, the d's that are no more.' — " 58 was not thus, O Princess, in old d's: — " 292 yet this d (tho' you should hate me for it) — " 341 won it with a d Blanch'd in our annals, — " vi 62 a d Rose from the distance on her memory, — " 111 With kisses, ere the d's of Lady Blanche: — " 114 while the d, Descending, struck athwart the hall, — " 363 till on a d When Cyril pleaded, — " vii 77

Day (continued) out of memories of her kindlier d's, Princess vii 106
But such as gather'd colour d by d. „ 118 shares with man His nights, his d's, „ 263
the new d comes, the light Dearer for night, „ 346
For me, the genial d, the happy crowd, „ Con. 75 another sun, Warring on a later d, Ode on Well. 102
A d of onsets of despair! „ 124
Peace, it is a d of pain (repeat) „ 235, 238 not been down to the farm for a week and a d; Grandmother 33
But I wept like a child that d, „ 64
I climb'd the roofs at break of d; Daisy 61
And in my head, for half the d; „ 74 passion that lasts but a d; G. of Swainston 9 the d that follow'd the d she was wed, The Islet 4 autumn into seeming-leafless d's— A Dedication 10 stars from the night and the sun from the d! Window. Gone 5 merry for ever and ever, and one d more. „ Ay 4 Sun sets, moon sets, Love, fix a d. „ When 4 wait a little, You shall fix a d.' „ 12
And honour all the d. „ 16
Our little systems have their d; In Mem., Pro. 17
They have their d and cease to be: „ 18
On the bald street breaks the blank d. „ vii 12
And roar from yonder dropping d: „ xv 2
Week after week: the d's go by: „ xvii 7
Is on the waters d and night, „ 11
There twice a d the Severn fills; „ xix 5
And was the d of my delight As pure „ xxiv 1
The very source and fount of D „ 3 the d prepared The daily burden for the back. „ xxv 3
Old sisters of a d gone by, „ xxix 13
Draw forth the cheerful d from night: „ xxx 30
'Where wert thou, brother, those four d's?' „ xxxi 5
A life that leads melodious d's. „ xxxiii 8
As on a maiden in the d When first she wears her orange-flower! „ xl 3
A link among the d's, to knit „ 15
But he forgets the d's before „ xliv 3
The d's have vanish'd, tone and tint, „ 5
D's order'd in a wealthy peace, „ xlvi 11
The twilight of eternal d. „ l 16
Of hearts that beat from d to d, „ lviii 6
She sighs amid her narrow d's, „ lx 10
And tease her till the d draws by: „ 14
His inner d can never die, „ lxvi 15
The d's that grow to something strange, „ lxxi 11
D, when my crown'd estate begun „ lxxii 5
D, mark'd as with some hideous crime, „ 18
Climb thy thick noon, disastrous d: „ 26
I care not in these fading d's „ lxxv 9
Can trouble live with April d's, „ lxxxiii 7
For now the d was drawing on, „ lxxxiv 10
sun by sun the happy d's Descend below „ 27
Whatever way my d's decline, „ lxxxv 41
And break the livelong summer d „ lxxxix 31
And will not yield them for a d. „ xc 16 cast Together in the d's behind, „ xcii 6 call The spirits from their golden d, „ xciv 6
To broaden into boundless d. „ xcv 64
The d's she never can forget „ xcvii 14
D, when I lost the flower of men; „ xcix 4
And each reflects a kindlier d; „ c 18
These two have striven half the d, „ cii 17
Nor landmark breathes of other d's, „ civ 11
It is the d when he was born, A bitter d that early sank „ cvii 1
We keep the d. With festal cheer, „ 21
For d's of happy commune dead; „ cxvi 14
O d's and hours, your work is this, „ cxvii 1
Are breathers of an ampler d „ cxviii 6
And think of early d's and thee, „ cxix 8
In that it is thy marriage d „ Con. 3
Since that dark d a d like this; „ 8
We wish them store of happy d's. „ 84
But these are the d's of advance, Maud I i 25 and slurring the d's gone by, „ 33

Day (continued) riding at set of d Over the dark moor land, Maud I ix 5
I shall have had my d. (repeat). „ xi 7, 14
But this is the d when I must speak, „ xvi 7
O this is the d! „ 9
Go not, happy d, (repeat) „ xvii 1, 3
And you fair stars that crown a happy d „ xviii 30
Among the fragments of the golden d. „ 70
On the d when Maud was born; „ xix 40
Sat with her, read to her, night and d, „ 75
And half to the rising d; „ xxii 24
The d comes, a dull red ball „ II iv 65 paid our tithes in the d's that are gone, „ v 23
To catch a friend of mine one stormy d; „ 85
Voice in the rich dawn of an ampler d— Ded. of Idylls 36 wolf and boar and bear Came night and d, Com. of Arthur 24
And even in high d the morning star. „ 100 lords Of that fierce d were as the lords „ 216 those first d's had golden hours for me, „ 357
Blow, for our Sun is mightier d by d! „ 498
So make thy manhood mightier d by d; Gareth and L. 92 thou shalt serve a twelvemonth and a d.' „ 157 ancient kings who did their d's in stone; „ 305 drink among thy kitchen-knaves A twelvemonth and a d, „ 446 some fine d Undo thee not— „ 476
My deeds will speak: it is but for a d.' „ 577
That same d there past into the hall „ 587 call themselves the D, Morning-Star, „ 633 towers where that d a feast had been Held „ 847
To fight the brotherhood of D and Night— „ 857
D and Night and Death and Hell.' „ 887
O dewy flowers that close when d is done, „ 1067
O birds that warble as the d goes by, „ 1076
As on the d when Arthur knighted him.' „ 1240 all d long hath rated at her child, And vext his d, but blesses him asleep— „ 1285 Seeing he never rides abroad by d; „ 1334 sprang the happier d from underground; „ 1421
To make her beauty vary d by d. Marr. of Geraint 9
And d by d she thought to tell Geraint, „ 65
There on a d, he sitting high in hall, „ 147 milky-white, First seen that d: „ 151
And on the third d will again be here, „ 222
this nephew, fight In next d's tourney „ 476 Danced in his bosom, seeing better d's. „ 505
the third d from the hunting-morn Made „ 597
So bent he seem'd on going the third d, „ 604
Bent as he seem'd on going this third d, „ 625
Yet if he could but tarry a d or two, „ 627 when the fourth part of the d was gone, Geraint and E. 55
In former d's you saw me favourably. „ 315 but overtoil'd By that d's grief and travel, „ 377 dawn ascending lets the d Strike where it clung: „ 692 hardest tyrants in their d of power, „ 695
So past the d's. „ 930
And clothed her in apparel like the d. „ 948 Proclaim'd him Victor, and the d was won. Balin and Balan 90 those fair d's—not all as cool as these, „ 273
The whole d died, but, dying, gleam'd „ 314
'Brother, I dwelt a d in Pellam's hall: „ 605 Thy curse, and darken'd all thy d; „ 620 on a festal d When Guinevere was crossing Merlin and V. 64 on a dull d in an Ocean cave The blind wave „ 231
Had I for three d's seen, ready to fall. „ 296
Sweet were the d's when I was all unknown, „ 501
Well, those were not our d's: „ 612
Nor rested thus content, but d by d, Lancelot and E. 13 Dull d's were those, till our good Arthur „ 279 in the fight which all d long Rang „ 287 when the next d broke from underground, „ 413
If any man that d were left afield, „ 459
But on that d when Lancelot fled the lists, „ 525 our knight, thro' whom we won the d, „ 529 after two d's' tarriance there, return'd. „ 569 so d by d she past In either twilight „ 848 and every d she tended him, „ 850

Day (continued) Alas for me then, my good d's are done.' Lancelot and E. 947
And in those d's she made a little song, " 1004
So that d there was dole in Astolat. " 1136
That d Sir Lancelot at the palace craved " 1162
After the d of darkness, when the dead Holy Grail 49
A little lonely church in d's of yore, " 64
For on a d she sent to speak with me. " 101 beam of light seven times more clear than d: " 187 ride A twelvemonth and a d in quest of it, " 197 early that same d, Scaped thro' a cavern " 206
'But when the next d brake from under ground— " 338 but moving with me night and d, Fainter by d, but always in the night " 471 when the d began to wane, we went. " 488 while I tarried, every d she set A banquet richer than the d before " 588 then came a night Still as the d was loud; " 683 twelvemonth and a d were pleasant to me.' " 750 Seven d's I drove along the dreary deep, " 808
Let visions of the night or of the d Come, " 910 Riding at noon, a d or twain before, Pelleas and E. 20 and slowly Pelleas drew To that dim d, " 30 all d long Sir Pelleas kept the field " 168 but rose With morning every d, " 215 Full-arm'd upon his charger all d long Sat by the walls, " 216
I see thy face But once a d: " 244
Give me three d's to melt her fancy, " 356
So those three d's, aimless about the land, " 391 risen against me in their blood At the last d? " 462
And each foresaw the dolorous d to be: " 606 Arm'd for a d of glory before the King. Last Tournament 55 behold This d my Queen of Beauty is not here.' " 209 wan d Went glooming down in wet and weariness: " 214
Our one white d of Innocence hath past, " 218 new life—the d's of frost are o'er: New life, new love, to suit the newer d: " 278
I have had my d. " 316
I have had my d and my philosophies— " 319 King Was victor wellnigh d by d, " 335 fool,' said Tristram, 'not in open d.' " 347
So on for all that d from lawn to lawn " 373
Built for a summer d with Queen Isolt " 378 Then pressing d by d thro' Lyonesse " 501 he went To-day for three d's hunting,— " 530
There came a d as still as heaven, Guinevere 292 golden d's In which she saw him first, " 380 and every d Beheld at noon in some delicious dale " 392 in the golden d's before thy sin. " 500
The d's will grow to weeks, " 624
The sombre close of that voluptuous d, " 688 that d when the great light of heaven Burn'd Pass. of Arthur 90 when the dolorous d Grew drearier " 122
The voice of d's of old and d's to be. " 135 whiter than the mist that all d long " 137
So all d long the noise of battle roll'd " 170
the halls Of Camelot, as in the d's that were. " 189
In those old d's, one summer noon, " 197
the d's darken round me, and the years, " 405 Rise like a fountain for me night and d. " 417
the three whereat we gazed On that high d, " 454 Bear witness, that rememberable d, To the Queen ii 3 make it wholly thine on sunny d's. Lover's Tale i 14
d's Of dewy dawning and the amber eves " 51 when d hung From his mid-dome in Heaven's " 65 all her flowers, And length of d's, " 105 with the growths Of vigorous early d's, " 133
Before he saw my d my father died, " 191
I said to her, 'A d for Gods to stoop,' " 304 for that d Love, rising, shook his wings, " 316 d which did enwomb that happy hour, Thou art blessed in the years, divinest d! " 485
Then had he stemm'd my d with night, " 502 Yet bearing round about him his own d, " 510 come To boys and girls when summer d's are new, " 555 where that d I crown'd myself as king, " 592

Day (continued) for the d was as the night to me! The night to me was kinder than the d; The night in pity took away my d, Lover's Tale 610
All d I watch'd the floating isles of shade, " ii 5
All d I sat within the cavern-mouth, " 37
The d waned; Alone I sat with her: " 139
From the outer d, Betwixt the close-set ivies " 171
I CAME one d and sat among the stones " iii 1 what height The d had grown I know not. " 9 had lain three d's without a pulse: " iv 34 till the great d Peal'd on us with that music " 64 that d a boy was born, Heir to his face and land, " 128 for wasn't he coming that d? First Quarrel 47
For the down's are as bright as d, Rizpah 4 you were only made for the d. " 19 past away with five ships of war that d, The Revenge 13 drew away From the Spanish fleet that d, " 47 fought such a fight for a d and a night " 83
And a d less or more At sea or ashore, " 86 tho' I loiter'd there The full d after, Sisters (E. and E.) 98 lake and mountain conquers all the d. " 100 my crowning hour, my d of d's. " 124
Then came the d when I, Flattering myself " 139
Not I that d of Edith's love or mine— " 142
Edith would be bridesmaid on the d. But on that d, not being all at ease, " 208 Thro' dreams by night and trances of the d, " 274 but the good Lord Jesus has had his d.' In the Child. Hosp. 22 Say that His d is done! " 71 for fifteen d's or for twenty at most. Def. of Lucknow 9 it chanced on a d Soon as the blast " 31 we were every d fewer and fewer. " 49 to be a soldier all d and be sentinel " 74 Ever the d with its traitorous death " 79
Then d and night, d and night, " 92
'Hold it for fifteen d's!' " 105 might be kindlier: happily come the d! Sir J. Oldcastle 23 so spurn'd, so baited two whole d's— " 163 more than once in d's Of doubt and cloud Columbus 155
To whom I send my prayer by night and d— " 233 slain my father the d before I was born. V. of Maeldune 8
And we stay'd three d's, and we gorged " 67 till the labourless d dipt under the West; " 86 thunder of God peal'd over us all the d, " 113
I shall join you in a d. To W. H. Brookfield 14 arm'd by d and night Against the Turk; Montenegro 3
All d the men contend in grievous war Achilles over the T. 9
I, wearing but the garland of a d, To Dante 6
When, in our younger London d's, To E. Fitzgerald 54
A clearer d Than our poor twilight Tiresias 205
All d long far-off in the cloud of the city, The Wreck 29 the sun of the soul made d in the dark " 55
That d my nurse had brought me the child. " 59 Ten long sweet summer d's upon deck, " 64 the sons of a winterless d. " 74 Ten long d's of summer and sin—if it must be so— But d's of a larger light than I ever again shall know—D's that will glimmer, I fear, " 77 little one found me at sea on a d, " 86 the storm and the d's went by, but I knew no more— " 111
'Ten long sweet summer d's' of fever, " 147
And gone—that d of the storm— " 148
Three d's since, three more dark d's Despair 6 to the glare of a drearier d; " 28
What rulers but the D's and Hours Ancient Sage 95
The d's and hours are ever glancing by, " 99
But with the Nameless is nor D nor Hour; " 102
For man has overlived his d " 150
If utter darkness closed the d, " 199 sight and night to lose themselves in d. " 203
When only D should reign.' " 244
D and Night are children of the Sun, " 245
No night no d!—I touch thy world again— " 249
And send the d into the darken'd heart; " 261 dawn of more than mortal d Strike on the Mount of Vision! " 284

Day (continued) morning brings the d I hate and fear; The Flight 2 the morn is calm, and like another d; „ 10 on that summer d When I had fall'n „ 21 love that keeps his heart alive beats on it night and d— „ 35 an' yer eyes as bright as the d! Tomorrow 32 paärints had inter'd glory, an' both in wan d, „ 53 sleeps the gleam of dying d. Locksley H., Sixty 42 watching till the d begun— „ 91 force to guide us thro' the d's I shall not see? „ 158
On this d and at this hour, „ 175 planets whirling round them, flash a million miles a d. „ 204
I shelter'd in this archway from a d of driving showers— „ 259 my Leonard, use and not abuse your d, „ 265 stood like a rock In the wave of a stormy d; Heavy Brigade 57
I that loved thee since my d began, To Virgil 38
The light of d's when life begun, The d's that seem to-day, Pref. Poem Broth. S. 23 now thy long d's work hath ceased, Epit. on Stratford 2 maintain The d against the moment, and the year Against the d; To Duke of Argyll 6 live With stronger life from d to d; Hands all round 6
Two Suns of Love make d of human life, Prin. Beatrice 1 light and genial warmth of double d. „ 22 Men that in a narrower d— Open I. and C. Exhib. 25 lavish all the golden d To make them wealthier Poets and their B. 3
Your viceregal d's Have added fulness To Marq. of Dufferin 10
My memories of his briefer d Will mix „ 51 that the d, When here thy hands let fall Demeter and P. 8
And robed thee in his d from head to feet— „ 21
a worm which writhes all d, Vastness 17 Voices of the d Are heard across the Voices of the dark. The Ring 39 when you came of age Or on the d you married. Both the d's Now close in one. „ 78 made The rosy twilight of a perfect d. „ 187 on her birthday, and that d His death-day, „ 212 one d came And saw you, shook her head, „ 312
I came, I went, was happier d by d; „ 348 on that d Two lovers parted by no scurrilous tale— „ 426
In summer if I reach my d— To Ulysses 9
When frost is keen and d's are brief— „ 19 years ago, In rick-fire d's, When Dives loathed the times, To Mary Boyle 28 O'er his uncertain shadow droops the d. Prog. of Spring 8
While the long d of knowledge grows and warms, „ 101
Thy scope of operation, d by d, „ 111 stumbled back again Into the common d, Romney's R. 33
To you my d's have been a life-long lie, „ 41
To flame along another dreary d. „ 58
And on this white midwinter d— To Master of B. 9 d long labour'd, hewing the pines, Death of Œnone 62 vanish'd like a ghost Before the d, „ 68 more than he that sang the Works and D's, To Virgil 6 d by d, thro' many a blood-red eve, St. Telemachus 3 off the rosy cheek of waking D. Akbar's Dream 202 one d He had left his dagger behind him. Bandit's Death 11 alone in the dell at the close of the d. „ 19 and the d I was born. Charity 24
she sat d and night by my bed, „ 33
Dawn not D! (repeat) The Dawn 11, 16 Storm in the South that darkens the d! Riflemen, form! 2
if Thou willest, let my d be brief, So Thou wilt strike Thy glory thro' the d. Doubt and Prayer 13 Must my d be dark by reason, God and the Univ. 2 after his brief range of blameless d's, D. of the Duke of C. 9 Daylight Ind to Ind, but in fair d woke, Buonaparte 4
Flood with full d glebe and town? Two Voices 87
Seems to the quiet d of your minds Lover's Tale i 296 Long as the d Lasted, Batt. of Brunanburh 38 d made itself Ruddy thro' both the roofs of sight, Tiresias 2 whence an affluent fountain pour'd From darkness into d, Ancient Sage 8 vapour in d Over the mountain Floats, Kapiolani 16
Daylong you caught His weary d chirping, The Brook 53
Dayshine Naked in open d?' 'Nay,' she cried, Gareth and L. 1092
Dazed the sudden light D me half-blind: Princess v 12
And d all eyes, till Arthur by main might, Com. of Arthur 109
Dazed (continued) Some flush'd, and others d, Com. of Arthur 265 nor lights nor feast D or amazed, Lover's Tale iv 311 d and dumb With passing thro' at once Demeter and P. 6 end myself too with the dagger—so deafen'd and d— Bandit's Death 37 Dazing from the lava-lake D the starlight, Kapiolani 15
Dazzle not shown To d all that see them? The Ring 144
Dazzled both his eyes were d, as he stood, M. d'Arthur 59
The rhymes are d from their place Day-Dm., Pro. 19 boyish dream involved and d down Princess iv 450
Be d by the wildfire Love to sloughs „ v 441
In either hand be bore What d all, Gareth and L. 387
And d by the livid-flickering fork, Merlin and V. 941
So that his eyes were d looking at it. Pelleas and E. 36
Was d by the sudden light, „ 105 both his eyes were d as he stood, Pass. of Arthur 227 Dazzling The sun came d thro' the leaves, L. of Shalott iii 3 Dead (adj.) (See also Deäd, Half-dead) All cold, and d, and corpse-like grown? Supp. Confessions 17
I would that I were d!' (repeat) Mariana 12, 24, 36, 48, 60, 72
Oh God, that I were d!' Mariana 84
Nor canst thou show the dead are d. Two Voices 267 like a shadow, and the winds are d. Œnone 28
He look'd so grand when he was d. The Sisters 32
Since I beheld young Laurence d. L. C. V. de Vere 28
Roman soldier found Me lying d, D. of F. Women 162
And the old year is d. „ 248
But he'll be d before. D. of the O. Year 32
I see the true old times are d, M. d'Arthur 229 who was d, Who married, who was like to be, Audley Court 29
I hope my end draws nigh: half d I am, St. S. Stylites 37 this wonder, d, become Mere highway dust? Love and Duty 10
Better thou wert d before me, Locksley Hall 56
Can I think of her as d, and love her „ 73
And half the crew are sick or d, The Voyage 92
Come not, when I am d, Come not, when, etc. 1
She talk'd as if her love were d, The Letters 27 tender grace of a day that is d Break, break, etc. 15
Still downward thinking 'd or d to me!' Enoch Arden 689
If you could tell her you had seen him d, „ 808
Not to reveal it, till you see me d.' 'D,' „ 839
But if my children care to see me d, „ 888
Were d to him already; bent as he was Aylmer's Field 445
D for two years before his death was he; „ 837
We must forgive the dead.' 'Dead! who is d?' Sea Dreams 270
He suddenly dropt d of heart-disease.' 'D? he? of heart-disease? what heart had he To die of? d!' „ 274 crush her pretty maiden fancies d Princess i 88
Peace be with her. She is d. „ iv 136
And strikes him d for thine and thee. „ 584 cold reverence worse than were she d. „ v 92
I would the old God of war himself were d, „ 145 Home they brought her warrior d: „ vi 1
she said, 'he lives: he is not d: „ 122
he is d, Or all as d: „ 169
Till the Sun drop, d, from the signs.' „ vii 245 lift thine eyes; my doubts are d, „ 348 if to-night our greatness were struck d, Third of Feb. 17 was d before he was born, (repeat) Grandmother 59, 68 not always certain if they be alive or d. „ 84
And when I am there and d and gone, Window. No Answer 11
Where lies the master newly d; In Mem. xx 4
But, he was d, and there he sits, „ xxxii 3
'But brooding on the dear one d, In Mem. xxxvii 17
Nor can I dream of thee as d: „ lxviii 4 Regret is d, but love is more „ Con. 17 and found The shining daffodil d, Maud I iii 14
Had I lain for a century d; „ xxii 72
Strike d the whole weak race of venomous worms, „ II i 46
Who knows if he be d? „ ii 71
She is but d, and the time is at hand „ iii 8
There is some one dying or d, „ iv 48
D, long d, Long d! „ v 1
And wept, and wish'd that I were d; Com. of Arthur 345
Thrall'd in his castle, and hath starved him d; Gareth and L. 358
Emrys would have scourged thee d, „ 375

Dead (adj.) (continued) Fell, as if d; but quickly rose and drew, Gareth and L. 967 and all wing'd nothings peck him d! Marr. of Geraint 275 be he d I know not, but he past to the wild land. ,, 442 once without remorse to strike her d, Geraint and E. 109 and so left him stunn'd or d, ,, 464
'What, is he d?' 'No, no, not d!' ,, 541 sure am I, quite sure, he is not d.' ,, 545
if he be not d, Why wail ye for him thus? ,, 546
And be he d, I count you for a fool; Your wailing will not quicken him: d or not, ,, 548 yet lay still, and feign'd himself as d, ,, 588 were I d who is it would weep for me? ,, 618
Take warning: yonder man is surely d; ,, 672
Except he surely knew my lord was d,' ,, 721 died Earl Doorm by him be counted d. ,, 730 D, whom we buried; more than one of us Balin and Balan 122 yonder lies one d within the wood. Not d; ,, 468 like brainless bulls, D for one heifer!' ,, 579
Coming and going, and he lay as d Merlin and V. 213
Coming and going, and she lay as d, ,, 644
And in the hollow oak he lay as d, ,, 969
I fear me, that will strike my blossom d. Lancelot and E. 971
Give me good fortune, I will strike him d, ,, 1071
she did not seem as d, But fast asleep, ,, 1160 broken shed, And in it a d babe; Holy Grail 399 dry old trunks about us, d, Yea, rotten ,, 495
And one had wedded her, and he was d, ,, 586
'Lo! Pelleas is d—he told us— Pelleas and E. 377
'D, is it so?' she ask'd. 'Ay, ay,' said he, ,, 384
I to your d man have given my troth, ,, 389 one Murmuring, 'All courtesy is d,' Last Tournament 211
The leaf is d, the yearning past away: ,, 277
Is all the laughter gone d out of thee?— ,, 300
High on a grim d tree before the tower, ,, 430
Heard in d night along that table-shore, ,, 463
'my man Hath left me or is d;' ,, 495 child of one I honour'd, happy, d before thy shame? Guinevere 423 strike him d, and meet myself Death, ,, 575 strikes them d is as my death to me. Pass. of Arthur 74
That quick or d thou holdest me for King. ,, 161
I see the true old times are d, ,, 397
Hope was not wholly d, But breathing hard Lover's Tale i 584
I had lain as d, Mute, blind and motionless ,, 606
D, for henceforth there was no life for me! ,, 608 but mine was wholly d, ,, 724
Some one had told me she was d, ,, ii 70 low knell tolling his lady d— D— ,, iv 33
All that look'd on her had pronounced her d. ,, 35 but after my man was d; First Quarrel 6 an' I wish I was d— ,, 52 hear that cry of my boy that was d, Rizpah 45 bullet struck him that was dressing it suddenly d, The Revenge 67 nay, murder'd, doubtless d. Sir J. Oldcastle 60
Some d of hunger, some beneath the scourge, Columbus 177 he had stricken my father d— V. of Maeldune 1 men drop d in the valleys ,, 31
D of some inward agony—is it so? To W. H. Brookfield 10 the winds were d for heat; Tiresias 34 and dash'd herself D in her rage: ,, 153
D to the death beside me, The Wreck 113
I would thank him, the other is d, Despair 70
From the d fossil skull that is left in the rocks of an earth that is d? ,, 86
Would fain that he were d; Ancient Sage 126 Found, fear'd me d, and groan'd, The Flight 23 an icy corpse d of some foul disease: ,, 54 he comes, and finds me d. ,, 72
'Ud 'a shot his own sowl d for a kiss Tomorrow 40 her wits wor d, an' her hair was as white ,, 60 an' dhropt down d an the dead. ,, 80
D the warrior, d his glory, d the cause Locksley H., Sixty 30
Lies my Amy d in child-birth, d the mother, d the child. D—and sixty years ago, and d her aged husband now— ,, 36

Dead (adj.) (continued) earth be d as yon d world the moon? D the new astronomy calls her. . . . Locksley H., Sixty 174
D, but now her living glory lights the hall, ,, 181
D! 'Is it he then brought so low?' Dead Prophet 1
D! And the Muses cried with a stormy cry ,, 5
D, who had served his time, ,, 9 somewhere d far in the waste Soudan, Epit. on Gordon 2
Tho' d in its Trinacrian Enna, To Prof. Jebb 11
The dead are not d but alive. Vastness 36
she my Miriam d within the year. The Ring 286
D! I took And chafed the freezing hand. ,, 451
D!—and maybe stung With some remorse, ,, 454
—but d so long, gone up so far, ,, 462
In fright, and fallen d. ,, 471
'He is fled—I wish him d— Forlorn 1
He is fled, or he is d, ,, 9 and when The Priest pronounced you d, Happy 50 fire from Heaven had dash'd him d, ,, 83
As d from all the human race as if beneath the mould; If you be d, then I am d, ,, 95
D with the dead? To Mary Boyle 14 mountain rolls into the plain, Fell headlong d; Death of Œnone 52 then a shower of stones that stoned him d, St. Telemachus 68 rabble in half-amaze Stared at him d, ,, 72 band will be scatter'd now their gallant captain is d, Bandit's Death 41 birthday came of a boy born happily d. Charity 34 when all but the winds were d, The Dreamer 1

Dead (s) (See also Living-dead). Ev'n in the charnels of the d, Two Voices 215
Nor canst thou show the d are dead. ,, 267
'We find no motion in the d.' ,, 279
And of the rising from the d, Palace of Art 206
Once heard at d of night to greet On a Mourner 32
As we bear blossom of the d; Love thou thy land 94
And grassy barrows of the happier d. Tithonus 71
He gazes on the silent d: Day-Dm., Arrival 13
'O love, thy kiss would wake the d!' ,, Depart. 20 was deadly wounded Falling on the d. The Captain 64
And the d begin to dance. Vision of Sin 166
Yes, as the d we weep for testify— Aylmer's Field 747
We must forgive the d.' 'D! who is dead?' Sea Dreams 270 shine among the d Hereafter; tales! Lucretius 129
Sat watching like a watcher by the d. Princess v 62
And watches in the d, the dark, ,, vii 103
Thy living voice to me was as the voice of the d, V. of Cauteretz 8 voice of the d was a living voice to me. ,, 10
And scratch the very d for spite: Lit. Squabbles 8
That name the under-lying d, In Mem. ii 2
And hear the ritual of the d. ,, xviii 12
But Sorrow—fixt upon the d, ,, xxxix 8
How fares it with the happy d? ,, xliv 1
Do we indeed desire the d Should still be near ,, li 1
The d shall look me thro' and thro'. ,, li 12
Eternal greetings to the d; ,, lvii 14
So hold I commerce with the d; ,, lxxxv 93
Or so methinks the d would say; ,, 94
That could the d, whose dying eyes ,, xc 5 hold An hour's communion with the d. ,, xciv 4
The noble letters of the d: ,, xcv 24
And woodlands holy to the d; ,, xcix 8
I dream'd a vision of the d, ,, ciii 3
But trust that those we call the d ,, cxviii 5
Should pile her barricades with d. ,, cxvii 8
Her feet, my darling, on the d; ,, Con. 50
I hear the d at midday moan, Maud I vi 70
For I thought the d had peace, ,, II v 15 which makes us loud in the world of the d ,, 25
For it is but a world of the d; ,, 40 comes from another stiller world of the d, ,, 70
the living quiet as the d, Com. of Arthur 123
I cannot brook to gaze upon the d.' Balin and Balan 586
Among the d and sown upon the wind— Merlin and V. 45
And by the cold Hic Jacets of the d!' ,, 753 and the d, Oar'd by the dumb, Lancelot and E. 1153

Dead (s) (continued) If one may judge the living by the d, Lancelot and E. 1368
the d Went wandering o'er Moriah— Holy Grail 49 Moans of the dying, and voices of the d. Pass. of Arthur 117 beats upon the faces of the d, My d, „ 141
Behold, I seem but King among the d.' „ 146 and so the d have kings, „ 148
'He passes to be King among the d, „ 449
She is his no more: The d returns to me, and I go down To kiss the d.' Lover's Tale iv 49 that great love they both had borne the d, „ 181 drew back with her d and her shame. The Revenge 60 they stared at the d that had been so valiant „ 105 mother broke her promise to the d, Sisters (E. and E.) 252 one of those who would break their jests on the d, In the Child. Hosp. 8 Voice of the d whom we loved, Def. of Lucknow 11 women in travail among the dying and d, „ 88
God's Own voice to justify the d— Columbus 203
And we left the d to the birds V. of Maeldune 36 hours Now silent, and so many d, Tiresias 211 lay like the d by the d on the cabin floor, The Wreck 112
And wish the d, as happier than ourselves Ancient Sage 205 an' dhropt down dead an the d. Tomorrow 80 single sordid attic holds the living and the d. Locksley H., Sixty 222 all my steps are on the d. „ 252 stood stark by the d; Dead Prophet 19
She gabbled, as she groped in the d, „ 73
Persephone! Queen of the d no more— Demeter and P. 18 as having risen from out the d, „ 144
the d are not dead but alive Vastness 36 Priest, who join'd you to the d, Happy 93 Dead with the d? Mary Boyle 14 would sound so mean That all the d, Romney's R. 132 Thin as the batlike shrillings of the D Death of Œnone 21
Silent Voices of the d, Silent Voices 4

Deäd hallus coom'd to 's chooch afoor moy Sally wur d, N. Farmer, O.S. 17 toäner 'ed shot 'um as d as a naäil. „ 35 an' she weänt 'a nowt when 'e's d, „ N.S. 25
But 'e tued an' moil'd 'issén d, „ 52 booöks wur gone an' 'is boy wur d, Village Wife 87 an' one o' ye d ye knaws! Spinster's S's. 62 Dick, when 'e cooms to be d, Owd Roä 11 an' I taäked 'im at fust fur d; „ 100

Dead-blue And a lack-lustre d-b eye, A Character 17

Deaden and learns to d Love of self, Ode on Well. 204

Deaden'd landskip darken'd, The melody d, Merlin and the G. 32

Dead-heavy down d-h sank her curls, Princess vi 147

Dead Innocence call'd The Tournament of the D I, Last Tournament 136

Dead March the D M wails in the people's ears: Ode on Well. 267

Dead-pale D-p between the houses high, L. of Shalott iv 40

Deaf (See also Deäf) 'Much less this dreamer, d and blind, Two Voices 175 parch'd and wither'd, d and blind, Fatima 6 my end draws nigh: half d I am, St. S. Stylites 37 she was d To blessing or to cursing Geraint and E. 578 mark'd not this, but blind and d Balin and Balan 318
For wert thou born or blind or d, Ancient Sage 175 no man halt, or d or blind; Locksley H., Sixty 163
And d to the melody, Merlin and the G. 27 all but d thro' age and weariness, St. Telemachus 41
Be not d to the sound that warns, Riflemen form! 8

Deäf an' maäkin' ma d wi' their shouts, Spinster's S's. 88

Deafen'd d with the stammering cracks and claps Merlin and V. 942 end myself too with the dagger—so d and dazed— Bandit's Death 37

Deafer I will be d than the blue-eyed cat, Holy Grail 865
'D,' said the blameless King, „ 869

Deal You know so ill to d with time, L. C. V. de Vere 63
Nor d in watch-words overmuch: Love thou thy land 28
Ere days, that d in ana, swarm'd Will Water. 199
Her answer was 'Leave me to d with that.' Princess iii 149 nor d's in that Which men delight in, „ 215 d's with the other distance and the hues „ iv 86 for Cyril, howe'er He d in frolic, „ 250 learn With whom they d, „ 513
Shall we d with it as an infant? Boädicea 33

Deal (continued) d's comfortable words To hearts wounded Lover's Tale i 717

Deal-box An' I hit on an old d-b that was push'd First Quarrel 48

Deal'd sa I hallus d wi' the Hall, Village Wife 115

Dealing (part.) 'For memory d but with time, Two Voices 376
Nor d goodly counsel from a height Aylmer's Field 172

Dealing (s) And full of d's with the world? Miller's D. 8
Thy elect have no d's with either heresy or orthodoxy; Akbar's D., Inscrip. 7

Dealt Oh! deathful stabs were d apace, Oriana 50
My nerves have d with stiffer. Will Water. 78 hoard of tales that d with knights, Princess, Pro. 29
For Wisdom d with mortal powers, In Mem. xxxvi 5 this d him at Caerlyle; That at Caerleon; Lancelot and E. 22 knight of Arthur's noblest d in scorn; Guinevere 40
Our mutual mother d to both of us: Lover's Tale i 246

Dean (forest) Before him came a forester of D, Marr. of Geraint 148
Across the forest call'd of D, to find Pelleas and E. 21

Dean (dignitary) prudes for proctors, dowagers for d's, Princess, Pro. 141 they vext the souls of d's; „ 162

Dear And she is grown so d, so d, Miller's D. 170
D is the memory of our wedded lives, Lotos-Eaters, C.S. 69
d the last embraces of our wives „ 70
As thou are lief and d, and do the thing M. d'Arthur 80
I hold thee d For this good pint of port. Will Water. 211
I am not all as wrong As a bitter jest is d. Vision of Sin 198
To wed the man so d to all of them Enoch Arden 484
The discords d to the musician. Sea Dreams 258 declared that ancient ties Would still be d Princess ii 265
'D as remember'd kisses after death, „ iv 54
there's no rose that's half so d to them „ v 159
D to the man that is d to God; To F. D. Maurice 36
For those are few we hold as d; „ 46
Yet both are near, and both are d, The Victim 59
D, near and true—no truer Time A Dedication 1 follow them down to the window-pane of my d, Window. On the Hill 17 frost is here, And fuel is d, „ Winter 2 D as the mother to the son, In Mem. ix 19
(And d to me as sacred wine To dying lips „ xxxvii 19
Shall count new things as d as old: „ xl 28
Knowing the primrose yet is d, „ lxxxv 118
And this hath made them trebly d.' „ cii 16
That if I be d to some one else, Maud I xv 3
But If I be d to some one else, „ 5
I should be to myself more d. „ 6
If I be d If I be d to some one else „ 9
With d Love's tie, makes Love himself more d.' „ xviii 61
These to His Memory—since he held them d, Ded. of Idylls 1 d to Science, d to Art, D to thy land and ours, „ 40
d to Arthur was that hall of ours, Holy Grail 222
As thou are lief and d, and do the thing Pass. of Arthur 248 an' soa purr awaäy, my d, Spinster's S's. 57
D! d! d! I mun part them Tommies— „ 92

Dearer a little d than his horse. Locksley Hall 50
All he shows her makes him d L. of Burleigh 33 the light D for night, as d thou for faults Princess vii 347 tho' he make you evermore D and nearer, A Dedication 3 the fuel is all the d, Window. Winter 15
Our wood, that is d than all; Maud I xxii 38 therefore d; or if not so new, Yet therefore tenfold d Marr. of Geraint 809 reverence, D to true young hearts Lancelot and E. 419 by white bonds and warm, D than freedom. Pelleas and E. 354
I held you at that moment even d than before; Happy 90 fame with me To make it d. Romney's R. 56

Dearest 'Never, d, never: here I brave the worst:' Edwin Morris 117
Were it our nearest, Were it our d, The Victim 14
Take you his d, Give us a life.' „ 27
Is he your d? Or I, the wife?' „ 51
And which the d I cannot tell!' „ 60
'We have his d, His only son!' „ 63 shrieking 'I am his d, I—I am his d!' „ 71
Which was his nearest? Who was his d? „ 77
The beauty that is d to his heart— Lover's Tale iv 249
To show you what is d to my heart, „ 252

Dearest (continued) Of all things upon earth the d to me.' Lover's Tale iv 319 which of all things is the d to me, „ 348
What sound was d in his native dells? Far-far-away 4
Dearness with a d not his due. Locksley Hall 91
A distant d in the hill, In Mem. lxiv 19
Death Oh! vanity! D waits at the door. All Things will Die 17
Hark! d is calling While I speak to ye, „ 28
Patient of ill, and d, and scorn, Supp. Confessions 4
To hold a common scorn of d! „ 34
He hath no care of life or d; „ 48 stooping low Unto the d, not sunk! „ 98
Shall we not look into the laws Of life and d, „ 172
O weary life! O weary d! „ 188
A gentler d shall Falsehood die, Clear-headed friend 16 Life, anguish, d, immortal love, Arabian Nights 73 when he taketh repose An hour before d; A Spirit haunts 15
He saw thro' life and d, The Poet 5
In your eye there is d, Poet's Mind 16
D, walking all alone beneath a yew, Love and Death 5
'You must begone,' said D, „ 7
Life eminent creates the shade of d; „ 13
I drink the cup of a costly d, Eleänore 138
With secret d for ever, in the pits Wan Sculptor 13
And range of evil between d and birth, If I were loved 3 wait for d—mute—careless of all ills, „ 10
'Thou hadst not between d and birth Two Voices 169
Know I not D? the outward signs? „ 270
Has ever truly long'd for d. „ 396
Oh life, not d, for which we pant; „ 398
That I should die an early d: Miller's D. 90
O d, d, d, thou ever-floating cloud, Œnone 238
Walking the cold and starless road of D „ 259
And d and life she hated equally, Palace of Art 265
And sweeter far is d than life to me May Queen, Con. 8
D is the end of life; Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 41
Give us long rest or d, dark d, or dreamful ease. „ 53
There is confusion worse than d, „ 83
The downward slope to d. D. of F. Women 16 bright d quiver'd at the victim's throat; „ 115
I was ripe for d. „ 208 who knew that Love can vanquish D, „ 269
Once thro' mine own doors D did pass; To J. S. 19
D is blown in every wind;' „ 46
fluting a wild carol ere her d, M. d'Arthur 267
But Dora lived unmarried till her d. Dora 172 suit had wither'd, nipt to d by him Edwin Morris 101 did not all thy martyrs die one d? St. S. Stylites 50 and whole years long, a life of d. „ 54 hope ere d Spreads more and more and more, „ 156
Like D betwixt thy dear embrace and mine, Love and Duty 48
Like bitter accusation ev'n to d, „ 81 every hour Must sweat her sixty minutes to the d, Golden Year 69
D closes all: but something ere the end, Ulysses 51
Till mellow D, like some late guest, Will Water. 239
No carved cross-bones, the types of D, „ 245
Pale again as d did prove: L. of Burleigh 66 gray and gap-tooth'd man as lean as d, Vision of Sin 60
Let us hob-and-nob with D. „ 74
'D is king, and Vivat Rex! „ 179
Hob-and-nob with brother D! „ 194
In those two d's he read God's warning Enoch Arden 571
His baby's d, her growing poverty, „ 705 than he saw D dawning on him, „ 832 peace which each had prick'd to d. Aylmer's Field 52 no force, Persuasion, no, nor d could alter her: „ 418 cordon close and closer toward the d, „ 500 a letter edged with d Beside him, „ 595 Averill went and gazed upon his d. „ 599 for the second d Scarce touch'd her „ 604 hapless loves And double d were widely murmur'd, „ 617 wounded to the d that cannot die; „ 662 from the people's eyes Ere the great d, „ 773 devising their own daughter's d! „ 783
Stumbling across the market to his d, „ 820
Dead for two years before his d was he; „ 837

Death (continued) dark retinue reverencing d At golden thresholds; Aylmer's Field 842 Bound on a matter he of life and d: Sea Dreams 151 gout and stone, that break Body toward d, Lucretius 154 nor shunn'd a soldier's d, Princess, Pro. 38
I would make it d For any male thing „ 151
As blank as d in marble; „ i 177
LET NO MAN ENTER IN ON PAIN OF D? „ ii 195
I give thee to d My brother! „ 307
To give three gallant gentlemen to d.' „ 335
I spoke of war to come and many d's, „ iii 150 you will shock him ev'n to d, „ 212 act Of immolation, any phase of d, „ 285
Sun Grew broader toward his d and fell, „ 364
'Dear as remember'd kisses after d, „ iv 54
O D in Life, the days that are no more.' „ 58
Melissa clamour'd 'Flee the d;' „ 166
On all sides, clamouring etiquette to d, „ v 17 those that mourn half-shrouded over d „ 74 record of her wrongs, And crush'd to d: „ 144 dash'd with d He reddens what he kisses: „ 164 and had not shunn'd the d, „ 178 sware to combat for my claim till d. „ 360 trust that there is no one hurt to d, „ vi 242 think that you might mix his draught with d, „ 277 well-nigh close to d For weakness: „ vii 119 Leapt fiery Passion from the brinks of d; „ 156 nor cares to walk With D and Morning „ 204
Or pines in sad experience worse than d, „ 315
All in the valley of D Rode the six hundred. Light Brigade 3
Into the valley of D Rode the six hundred. (repeat) „ 7, 16
Into the jaws of D, „ 24 Came thro' the jaws of D, „ 46 first time, too, that ever I thought of d. Grandmother 61
'd is sure To those that stay and those that roam, Sailor Boy 13
My father raves of d and wreck, „ 19
Far worse than any d to me.' „ 24
The wages of sin is d: Wages 6
Thou madest D; and lo, thy foot In Mem., Pro. 7
To dance with d, to beat the ground, „ i 12
O Priestess in the vaults of D, „ iii 2
No hint of d in all his frame, „ xiv 18
Cold in that atmosphere of D, „ xx 14
If D were seen At first as D, „ xxxv 18
To that vague fear implied in d; „ xli 14
If Sleep and D be truly one, „ xliii 1
(If D so taste Lethean springs), „ xliv 10
Beyond the second birth of D. „ xlv 16
There must be wisdom with great D: „ li 11
I bring to life, I bring to d: „ lvi 6
Sleep, D's twin-brother, times my breath; Sleep, D's twin-brother, knows not D, „ lxviii 2 Sleep, kinsman thou to d and trance „ lxxi 1
I curse not nature, no, nor d; „ lxxiii 7 knowing D has made His darkness beautiful „ lxxiv 11
That holy D ere Arthur died „ lxxx 2
But D returns an answer sweet: „ lxxxi 9
I wage not any feud with D „ lxxxii 1
Nor blame I D, because he bare „ 9
For this alone on D I wreak „ 13 till Doubt and D, Ill brethren, „ lxxxvi 11 sire would make Confusion worse than d, „ xc 19 shocks of Chance—The blows of D. „ xcv 43 Mixt their dim lights, like life and d, „ 63 gleams On Lethe in the eyes of D. „ xcviii 8
And unto myriads more, of d. „ xcix 16
As one would sing the d of war, „ ciii 33
Or dive below the wells of D? „ cviii 8 on the depths of d there swims The reflex „ 11
She cannot fight the fear of d. „ cxiv 10
Like Paul with beasts, I fought with D; „ cxx 4
I slip the thoughts of life and d; „ cxxii 16
Unpalsied when he met with D, „ cxxviii 2 whatever is ask'd her, answers 'D.' Maud I i 4
To the d, for their native land. „ v 11

Death (continued) Singing of D, and of Honour that cannot die, Maud I v 16 thought like a fool of the sleep of d. „ xiv 38 for sullen-seeming D may give More life „ I xviii 46
Spice his fair banquet with the dust of d? „ 56
The dusky strand of D inwoven here „ 60
And given false d her hand, „ 68 mine by a right, from birth till d. „ xix 42 Far into the North, and battle, and seas of d. „ III vi 37 chance what will, I trust thee to the d.' Com. of Arthur 134 born the son of Gorloïs, after d, „ 240 thro' the strait and dreadful pass of d, „ 395 chance what will, I love thee to the d!' „ 468
'King and my lord, I love thee to the d!' „ 470
And Modred's blank as d; and Arthur cried Gareth and L. 417 names himself the Night and oftener D „ 638 Despite of Day and Night and D and Hell.' „ 887 white breast-bone, and barren ribs of D, „ 1382 doom'd to be the bride of Night and D; „ 1396 D's dark war-horse bounded forward with him. „ 1401 saw That D was cast to ground, and slowly rose. „ 1403
revel and song, made merry over D, „ 1423 maybe pierced to d before mine eyes, Marr. of Geraint 104 doubtless he would put me soon to d, „ 463
Long for my life, or hunger for my d, Geraint and E. 81
Leave me to-night: I am weary to the d.' „ 358
So pains him that he sickens nigh to d; „ 499 were himself nigh wounded to the d.' „ 919 he crown'd A happy life with a fair d, „ 968
His passion half had gauntleted to d, Balin and Balan 220
Balin's horse Was wearied to the d, „ 561
To save thy life, have brought thee to thy d. „ 600 bore me there, for born from d was I Merlin and V. 44 an enemy that has left D in the living waters, „ 148
D in all life and lying in all love, „ 194
Fame that follows d is nothing to us; „ 464
Flash'd the bare-grinning skeleton of d! „ 847 little daughter fled From bonds or d, Lancelot and E. 277 Prize me no prizes, for my prize is d! „ 506 crying that his prize is d.' „ 531 had died the d In any knightly fashion „ 870
'Him or d,' she mutter'd, 'd or him,' Again and like a burthen, 'Him or d.' „ 902
Ev'n to the d,' as tho' ye were my blood, „ 960
D, like a friend's voice from a distant field „ 999 call'd her song 'The Song of Love and D,' „ 1005 sweet is d who puts an end to pain: „ 1008
'Love, art thou sweet? then bitter d must be: 'Love, thou art bitter; sweet is d to me. O Love, if d be sweeter, let me die. „ 1010
Sweet d, that seems to make us loveless clay, „ 1014
I needs must follow d, who calls for me; „ 1017
Phantom of the house That ever shrieks before a d,' „ 1023
I shall guard it even in d. „ 1115 her d Was rather in the fantasy than the blood. „ 1131 bruise and blow, With d's of others, „ 1166 therefore my true love has been my d. „ 1277 for this most gentle maiden's d „ 1291 as would have help'd her from her d.' „ 1311 after heaven, on our dull side of d, „ 1382
And I was thirsty even unto d; Holy Grail 377 storm Round us and d; „ 492 rotten with a hundred years of d, „ 496
Your sleep is d,' and drew the sword, Pelleas and E. 447
But here will I disedge it by thy d,' „ 578 this honour after d, Following thy will! Last Tournament 34 heart in one full shock With Tristram ev'n to d: „ 181
And stings itself to everlasting d, „ 452 hates thee, as I him—ev'n to the d. „ 518 and I will love thee to the d, „ 720
To help it from the d that cannot die, Guinevere 66 she thought 'He spies a field of d; „ 134 many a mystic lay of life and d „ 281
Fear not: thou shalt be guarded till my d. „ 448
The doom of treason and the flaming d, „ 538
Death (continued) strike him dead, and meet myself D, Guinevere 576
My God, thou hast forgotten me in my d: Pass. of Arthur 27 Light was Gawain in life, and light in d Is Gawain, „ 56 strikes them dead is as my d to me. „ 74 or thro' d Or deathlike swoon, „ 119 fluting a wild carol ere her d, „ 435 govern a whole life from birth to d, Lover's Tale i 76
Time and Grief did beckon unto D, And D drew nigh „ 110 wakeful portress, and didst parle with D,— „ 113
So D gave back, and would no further come. „ 115 and his spirit From bitterness of d. „ 143
Is to me daily life and daily d: „ 169
I died then, I had not known the d; „ 496 from whose left hand floweth The Shadow of D, „ 499
Which seeming for the moment due to d, „ 508
But breathing hard at the approach of D, „ 585
Smit with exceeding sorrow unto D. „ 601 from a dismal dream of my own d, „ 748 may d Awake them with heaven's music „ 760
So Love, arraign'd to judgment and to d, „ 785 vestibules To caves and shows of D: „ ii 126
A beauty which is d; „ 190 down-hung The jaws of D: „ 205 till helpless d And silence made him bold— „ iv 72
He reverenced his dear lady even in d; „ 74
'not even d Can chill you all at once:' „ 76
He falling sick, and seeming close on d, „ 258
For some new d than for a life renew'd; „ 374 which might Be d to one: Sisters (E. and E.) 35
And all her sweet self-sacrifice and d. „ 255
D from their rifle-bullets, and d from their cannon-balls, D in our innermost chamber, and d at our slight barricade, D while we stood with the musket, and d while we stoopt to the spade, D to the dying, and wounds to the wounded, Def. of Lucknow 14
D—for their spies were among us, „ 19
D at the glimpse of a finger „ 23
D from the heights of the mosque and the palace, and d in the ground! „ 24
Ever the d with its traitorous d „ 79
Lord of life Be by me in my d. Sir J. Oldcastle 174
I woke, and thought—d—I shall die— Columbus 87
That I am loyal to him till the d, „ 227
it was all of it as quiet as d, V. of Maeldune 20
I bad them remember my father's d, „ 70
From d to d thro' life and life, De Prof., Two G. 52
In seas of D and sunless gulfs of Doubt. Pref. Son. 19th Cent. 14
Fell the shipcrews Doom'd to the d. Batt. of Brunanburh 23
Drew to this island: Doom'd to the d, „ 51 storm and sin and d to the ancient fold, The Wreck 2
He helpt me with d, and he heal'd me with sorrow „ 58
'as in truest Love no D.' „ 80
'The wages of sin is d,' „ 93 Dead to the d beside me, „ 113
a scrap, clipt out of the 'd's' in a paper, fell. „ 146
Glared on our way toward d, Despair 11
I am frighted at life not d.' „ 14
With songs in praise of d, Ancient Sage 209 on Edwin's ship, with Edwin, ev'n in d, The Flight 46 dhrame of a married man, d alive, is a mortial sin.' Tomorrow 51
I myself so close on d, and d Locksley H., Sixty 4
While she vows 'till d shall part us,' „ 24 that crowning barren D as lord of all, „ 61
Beautiful was d in him, who saw the d, „ 63
D and Silence hold their own. „ 237
That on dumb d had thriven; Dead Prophet 26
She tore the Prophet after d, „ 77 with all its pains, and griefs, and d's, To Prin. Beatrice 2 Gods against the fear Of D and Hell; Demeter and P. 142 thou that hast from men, As Queen of D, „ 143
D for the right cause, d for the wrong cause, Vastness 8
Beyond the common date of d— The Ring 108 theft were d or madness to the thief, „ 204 drew the ring From his dead finger, wore it till her d, „ 218 to laugh at love in d! „ 231

Death (continued) D and marriage, D and marriage! Forlorn 67
To share his living d with him, Happy 8
D will freeze the suppliest limbs— „ 46
Too early blinded by the kiss of d— Romney's R. 103 beyond the doors of d Far-far-away? Far-far-away 11
My life and d are in thy hand. Death of Œnone 40
A silence follow'd as of d, and then A hiss St. Telemachus 65
And then once more a silence as of d. „ 69
Baths, the Forum gabbled of his d, „ 74
But D had ears and eyes; Akbar's Dream 187
I could make Sleep D, if I would— Bandit's Death 32 sod Draw from my d Thy living flower Doubt and Prayer 6 Wait till D has flung them open, Faith 7
Has vanish'd in the shadow cast by D. D. of the Duke of C. 3 face of D is toward the Sun of Life, „ 12 Deathbed Kind? but the d desire Spurn'd Maud I xix 77 as by some one d after wail Of suffering, Pass. of Arthur 118
I hear a d-b Angel whisper 'Hope.' Romney's R. 148
Death-blow d-b struck the dateless doom of kings, Lucretius 236 Death-day her birthday, and that day His d-d, The Ring 213 birthday, d-d, and betrothal ring, „ 276
Your birthday was her d-d. „ 301
Death-drowsing while he spoke Closed his d-d eyes, Balin and Balan 631
Death-dumb in a d-d autumn-dripping gloom, Last Tournament 756
Deathful-grinning d-g mouths of the fortress, Maud III vi 52
Death-hymn wild swan's d-h took the soul Dying Swan 21
Death-in-life Lay lingering out a five-years' d-i-l. Enoch Arden 565 and palsy, d-i-l, And wretched age— Lucretius 154 Deathless (See also Seeming-deathless) That Gods there are, and d. „ 121 magic cirque of memory, Invisible but d, Lover's Tale ii 160
Deathlike Luminous, gemlike, ghostlike, d, Maud I iii 8
Deathly-pale d-p Stood grasping what was nearest, Lancelot and E. 965
Death-pale D-p, for lack of gentle maiden's aid. „ 765
Deathruckle Vows that will last to the last d, Vastness 26
Death-scaffold seem'd to hear Her own d-s raising, Enoch Arden 175
Death's-head not a d-h at the wine.' Princess iv 87
Deathsong Some d for the Ghouls To make Ancient Sage 17
Death-watch dog howl, mother, or the d-w beat, May Queen, Con. 21
O the d beating! Forlorn 24
Death-white beheld The d-w curtain drawn; Maud I xiv 34
Knew that the d-w curtain meant but sleep, „ 37
Debased right arm d The throne of Persia, Alexander 1
Debate beat the floor; Where once we held d, In Mem. lxxxvii 21 Debated while the King d with himself If Arthur Com. of Arthur 238
Debating Leodogran in heart D— „ 141
D his command of silence given, Geraint and E. 366
Debt Love the gift is Love the d. Miller's D. 207 Deep, indeed, Their d of thanks to her Princess ii 141 my d to him, This nightmare weight of gratitude, „ vi 299
We have a voice, with which to pay the d Ode on Well. 156 coom'd to the parish wi' lots o' Varsity d, N. Farmer, N. S. 29
Vext with lawyers and harass'd with d: Maud I xix 22
I feel I shall owe you a d, „ 87
That I owe this d to you „ 90
the whole dear d of all you are. Geraint and E. 319 Fur I finds es I be that i' d, Village Wife 65 easy es leäves their d's to be paäid. „ 94
This father pays his d with me, „ The Flight 20 how dear a d We owed you, and are owing yet To Marq. of Dufferin 18 that ample woodland whisper'd 'd,' The brook that feeds this lakelet murmur'd 'd,' The Ring 170
Debtor d's for our lives to you, Princess ii 355
And the man said 'Am I your d?' By an Evolution. 2
Decad Thro' sunny d's new and strange, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 22
Averill was a d and a half His elder, Aylmer's Field 82
Old scandals buried now seven d's deep „ 442
Decay (s) Upon the general d of faith The Epic 18
And on one side a castle in d, Marr. of Geraint 245 worshipt all too well this creature of d, Happy 45
Decay (verb) The woods d, the woods d and fall, Tithonus 1
Decay'd and learn If his old prowess were in aught d; Lancelot and E. 584 and the Grail Past, and the beam d, Holy Grail 122 Decaying Stench of old offal d, Def. of Lucknow 82
Decease from the Queen's d she brought her up. Princess iii 86

Decease (continued) And chains regret to his d, In Mem. xxix 3
Deceased Nor will be when our summers have d. Maud I xviii 14
Deceit weave me a Snare Of some coquettish d, „ vi 26
I may be beguiled By some coquettish d, „ 90
For then, perhaps, as a child of d, „ xiii 30 Deceive. See Desave
Deceived I never will be twice d. The Letters 30
Meet is it the good King be not d. Balin and Balan 533
One had d her an' left her First Quarrel 25
Is it I who have d thee or the world? Columbus 151
December The gloom of ten D's. Will Water. 104
Their meetings made D June In Mem. xcvii 11
Decent d not to fail In offices of tenderness, Ulysses 40 Decide 'D not ere you pause. Princess iii 156 at once D's it, 'sdeath! against my father's will.' „ v 298
'D it here: why not? „ 310
Decided beardless apple-arbiter D fairest. Lucretius 92
Decision The intuitive d of a bright Isabel 13
Kept watch, waiting d, made reply. Œnone 143
Since, what d? if we fail, we fail, Princess v 322
Deck (s) d's were dense with stately forms M. d'Arthur 196
d's were shatter'd, Bullets fell like rain; The Captain 45
Over mast and d were scatter'd Blood and brains „ 47
Spars were splinter'd; d's were broken: „ 49
On the d's as they were lying, „ 53 and while he stood on d Waving, Enoch Arden 243 light Shall glimmer on the dewy d's. In Mem. ix 12
The man we loved was there on d, „ ciii 41
I stood on a giant d and mix'd Maud III vi 34
Bright with a shining people on the d's, Com. of Arthur 376 Loyal, the dumb old servitor, on d, Lancelot and E. 1144 on the black d's laid her in her bed, „ 1147 all the d's were dense with stately forms, Pass. of Arthur 364
With her hundred fighters on d, The Revenge 34 soldiers look'd down from their d's „ 37 wound to be drest he had left the d, „ 66 he rose upon their d's, and he cried: „ 100
he fell upon their d's, and he died. „ 104
Ten long sweet summer days upon d, The Wreck 64 every soul from the d's of The Falcon „ 109 that I Stumbled on d, half mad. „ 118
I crouch'd upon d— „ 120 who saw the death, but kept the d, Locksley H., Sixty 63 Deck (verb) To d thy cradle, Eleänore. Eleänore 21 flowers or leaves To d the banquet. In Mem. cvii 6 wherewithal d the boar's head? Gareth and L. 1073
d it like the Queen's For richness, Lancelot and E. 1118 add my diamonds to her pearls; D her with these; „ 1225
D your houses, illuminate All your towns On Jub. Q. Victoria 18
Deck'd—Deckt deck'd her out For worship without end; Princess vii 168
A life that all the Muses deck'd In Mem. lxxxv 45 and deckt in slowly-waning hues. Gareth and L. 1195 Array'd and deck'd her, as the loveliest, Marr. of Geraint 17 for he had decked them out As for a solemn sacrifice Lover's Tale iv 300
The city deck'd herself To meet me, Columbus 9
Declare Such as no language may d.' Two Voices 384
D when last Olivia came Talking Oak 99
Had braced my purpose to d myself: Sisters (E. and E.) 143
Declared d that ancient ties Would still Princess ii 264
Decline (s) Looks thro' in his sad d, Adeline 13 Decline (verb) sap dries up: the plant d's. Two Voices 268 to d On a range of lower feelings Locksley Hall 43
Whatever way my days d, In Mem. lxxxv 41
Darken'd watching a mother d Maud I xix 8
Declined once more like some sick man d, Palace of Art 155
And thou, as one that once d, In Mem. lxii 5
Decrease That now dilate, and now d, „ xxviii 10
Decreased From heat to heat the day d, Mariana in the S. 78
Decree 'By shaping some august d, To the Queen 33
To mould a mighty state's d's, In Mem. lxiv 11 Decreed d that thou should'st dwell Demeter and P. 120 and d That Rome no more should wallow St. Telemachus 77
I d That even the dog was clean, Akbar's Dream 52
De-crescent Between the in-crescent and d-c moon, Gareth and L. 529
Dedicate I d, I d, I consecrate with tears— Ded. of Idylls 3

Dedicate (continued) Shut in from Time, and d to thee: Lover's Tale i 438
Dee Bala lake Fills all the sacred D. Geraint and E. 930
Deed Fruitful of further thought and d, Two Voices 144 Blowing a noise of tongues and d's, „ 206 a life of shocks, Dangers, and d's, Œnone 164
'I take possession of man's mind and d. Palace of Art 209 our great d's, as half-forgotten things. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 78
Would serve his kind in d and word, Love thou thy land 86 Delight our souls with talk of knightly d's, M. d'Arthur 19
the Powers, who wait On noble d's, Godiva 72
'They perish'd in their daring d's.' Day-Dm., Arrival 14
I am yours in word and in d. Lady Clare 74
Divorce the Feeling from her mate the D. The Brook 95
Nor d's of gift, but gifts of grace Sea Dreams 192
'His d's yet live, the worst is yet to come. „ 314 and your great d's For issue, Princess iii 242 Howe'er you babble, great d's cannot die; „ 254 on the highest Foam of men's d's— „ v 320 Bright let it be with its blazon'd d's, Ode on Well. 56 thine the d's to be celebrated, Boädicea 41
In loveliness of perfect d's, In Mem. xxxvi 11
Her secret meaning in her d's, „ lv 10
What fame is left for human d's „ lxviii 11
On songs, and d's, and lives, „ lxxvii 3
O true in word, and tried in d, „ lxxxv 5
Perplext in faith, but pure in d's, „ xcvi 9 Flow thro' our d's and make them pure, „ cxxxi 4 some good knight had done one noble d, Gareth and L. 411
And the d's sake my knighthood do the d, „ 572
My d's will speak: it is but for a day.' „ 577 for the d's sake have I done the d, „ 832
'Say thou thy say, and I will do my d. „ 901 said your say; Mine answer was my d. „ 1175 far-sounded among men For noble d's? Marr. of Geraint 428
So grateful is the noise of noble d's „ 437
Because I knew my d's were known, Geraint and E. 858 doubtless, all unearn'd by noble d's. Balin and Balan 471 love of God and men And noble d's, Merlin and V. 413
And each incited each to noble d's. „ 414 the great d's Of Lancelot, and his prowess Lancelot and E. 81 do and almost overdo the d's Of Lancelot; „ 469 some brave d seem'd to be done in vain, Holy Grail 274
This chance of noble d's will come and go „ 318 every evil d I ever did, Awoke and cried, „ 373 honour and all noble d's Flash'd, Pelleas and E. 278 flower Waits to be solid fruit of golden d's, Last Tournament 100 uprear'd By noble d's at one with noble vows, „ 123 Did mightier d's than elsewise he had done, „ 680 here and there a d Of prowess done Guinevere 458
And worship her by years of noble d's, „ 476 miss to hear high talk of noble d's „ 499 she, for her good d's and her pure life, „ 693 and in the mist Was many a noble d, Pass. of Arthur 105 Delight our souls with talk of knightly d's, „ 187 breathless body of her good d's past. Lover's Tale i 217 Love and Longing dress thy d's in light, Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 9 this ballad of the d's Of England, „ 20 Virtue must shape itself in d, Tiresias 86 light upon the ways of men As one great d. „ 162 crown with song The warrior's noble d— Epilogue 37
For so the d endures; „ 39
And d and song alike are swept Away, „ 67 nation's heart, Is in itself a d.' „ 82
His dream became a d that woke the world, St. Telemachus 70 prayers, That have no successor in d, Akbar's Dream 10
By d's a light to men? „ 111
Deem who d him not, Or will not d him, Gareth and L. 120
And d's it carrion of some woodland thing, „ 748
But d not I accept thee aught the more, „ 839 who d this maid Might wear as fair a jewel Lancelot and E. 239
d this prize of ours is rashly given: „ 541 damsel, for I d you know full well „ 689
I d As of the visions that he told— Lover's Tale iv 22
If I should d it over nice— Tiresias 191
And d me grateful, and farewell! The Wanderer 16

Deem'd she d no mist of earth could dull Ode to Memory 38 well had d he felt the tale Less than the teller: Enoch Arden 711 Things in an Aylmer d impossible, Aylmer's Field 305 the peace, that I d no peace, is over Maud III vi 50 Smile at him, as he d, presumptuously: Balin and Balan 222 wherein she d she look'd her best, Lancelot and E. 907 they d her death Was rather in the fantasy „ 1131 wellnigh d His wish by hers was echo'd; Pelleas and E. 120
I loved you and I d you beautiful, „ 297
I d him fool? yea so? „ 309
She d I wore a brother's mind: Lover's Tale i 740
Deeming Vivien, d Merlin overborne By instance, Merlin and V. 800
D our courtesy is the truest law, Lancelot and E. 712
Deem'st D thou that I accept thee Gareth and L. 766 Deep (adj. and adv.) (See also Ankle-deep, Breast-deep, Elbow-deep, Fathom-deep, Knee-deep, Love-deep, Mellow-deep, Mid-thigh-deep, Waist-deep) Tho' d not fathomless, Ode to Memory 34 grow so full and d In thy large eyes Eleänore 85
So full, so d, so slow, „ 95
King Arthur: then, because his wound was d, M. d'Arthur 5 rain, That makes thee broad and d! Talking Oak 280
And d into the dying day Day-Dm., Depart. 7
One sabbath d and wide— St. Agnes' Eve 34
D as Hell I count his error. The Captain 3
King Arthur. Then, because his wound was d, Pass. of Arthur 174
Love lieth d: Love dwells not in lip-depths. Lover's Tale i 466
I can't dig d, I am old— Rizpah 56 look you here—the shadows are too d, Sisters (E. and E.) 103
I heard that voice,—as mellow and d As a psalm The Wreck 52
Six foot d of burial mould Will dull Romney's R. 125 thou knowest how d a well of love Akbar's Dream 170 Deep (s) (See also Forest-deeps) BELOW the thunders of the upper d; The Kraken 1
Until the latter fire shall heat the d; „ 13 drove The fragrant, glistening d's, Arabian Nights 14 Round thee blow, self-pleached d, A Dirge 29
From his coiled sleeps in the central d's The Mermaid 24
And drives them to the d.' Palace of Art 204
The abysmal d's of Personality, „ 223 roaring d's and fiery sands, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 115
Nine years she wrought it, sitting in the d's M. d'Arthur 105
He heard the d behind him, „ 184
the d Moans round with many voices. Ulysses 55
Where either haven open'd on the d's, Enoch Arden 671
Trembled in perilous places o'er a d: Sea Dreams 11
I from out the boundless outer d „ 88
I thought the motion of the boundless d „ 91 motion of the great d bore me on, „ 111
To the waste d's together. „ 238 great black cloud Drag inward from the d's, Princess vii 37
From barren d's to conquer all with love; „ 164
Glimmer away to the lonely d, To F. D. Maurice 28
But they—they feel the desire of the d— Voice and the P. 19
The d has power on the height, And the height has power on the d; „ 21
A d below the d, „ 33
Which heaves but with the heaving d. In Mem. xi 20
That stir the spirit's inner d's, „ xlii 10
A higher height, a deeper d. „ lxiii 12 and we to draw From d to d, „ ciii 39 cloud That landlike slept along the d. „ 56
There rolls the d where grew the tree. „ cxxiii 1
That tumbled in the Godless d; „ cxxiv 12
To seek thee on the mystic d's, „ cxxv 14
Powers of the height, Powers of the d, Maud II ii 82 by the side of the Black and the Baltic d, „ III vi 51 high upon the dreary d's It seem'd in heaven, Com. of Arthur 373 gathering half the d And full of voices, „ 380
From the great d to the great d he goes.' „ 411 in the d's whereof a mere, Gareth and L. 798 by night to let the boundless d Down Merlin and V. 113 boat Drave with a sudden wind across the d's, „ 201
On some wild down above the windy d, „ 658 fell the floods of heaven drowning the d. Holy Grail 533

Deep (s) (continued) Seven days I drove along the dreary d, Holy Grail 808
From the great d to the great d he goes.' Last Tournament 133
wash'd up from out the d? „ 685
Nine years she wrought it, sitting in the d's Pass. of Arthur 273
He heard the d behind him, and a cry „ 352
From the great d to the great d he goes.' „ 445
Down that long water opening on the d „ 466 sank his body with honour down into the d, The Revenge 109
Out of the d, my child, out of the d, (repeat) De Prof., Two G. 1, 5, 26, 29.
To that last d where we and thou are still. De Prof., Two G. 25
From that great d, before our world begins, „ 27
Out of the d, Spirit, out of the d, „ 32 rolls the heavens, and lifts, and lays the d, Tiresias 22 word of the Poet by whom the d's of the world are stirr'd, The Wreck 23 the crew should cast me into the d, „ 94 between me and the d and my doom, Despair 5 suffers on land or in air or the d, „ 45 Slight ripple on the boundless d Ancient Sage 189 that one ripple on the boundless d Feels that the d is boundless, „ 191
One with the boundless motion of the d. „ 194
Noises of a current narrowing, not the music of a d? Locksley H., Sixty 154 Light airs from where the d, Early Spring 21
she peers along the tremulous d, Demeter and P. 14 drown'd in the d's of a meaningless Past? Vastness 34 far As the gray d, a landscape The Ring 150 hoary d's that belt the changeful West, Prog. of Spring 98
Not the Great Voice not the true D. Akbar's Dream 59
D under d for ever goes, Mechanophilus 35 wholly vanish in your d's and heights? God and the Univ. 1 which drew from out the boundless d Crossing the Bar 7
Deep-asleep d-a he seem'd, yet all awake, Lotos-Eaters 35 Deep-blue Floods all the d-b gloom D. of F. Women 186
Deep-chested D-c music, and to this result. The Epic 51
Deep-domed as the d-d empyrëan Rings Milton 7 Deepen d's on and up! the gates Roll back, St Agnes' Eve 29 same old rut would d year by year; Aylmer's Field 34
Ay me, the sorrow d's down, In Mem. xlix 14 the gloom Of twilight d's round it, Balin and Balan 233 Deepen'd (See also Ever-deepen'd) The battle d in its place, Oriana 51 and in him gloom on gloom D: Balin and Balan 287 Deepening (See also Down-deepening) d thro' the silent spheres Heaven over Heaven Mariana in the S. 91
D the courts of twilight broke them up Princess, Con. 113
D thy voice with the d of the night, V. of Cauteretz 2 Deeper bury me D, ever so little d. Maud II v 104 plunges thro' the wound again, And pricks it d: Pelleas and E. 531
D than any yearnings after thee Last Tournament 586
Tho' one is somewhat d than the other, Sisters (E. and E.) 25 Deep-hued With many a d-h bell-like flower Eleänore 37 garden rose D-h and many-folded! Balin and Balan 270 Deep-inrunning sand and cliff and d-i cave, Sea Dreams 17
Deeply-wounded Or mythic Uther's d-w son Palace of Art 105 Deep-meadow'd it lies D-m, happy, fair with orchard-lawns M. d'Arthur 262 it lies D-m, happy, fair with orchard-lawns Pass. of Arthur 430 Deep-seated D-s in our mystic frame, In Mem. xxxvi 2
Deep-set the d-s windows, stain'd and traced, Palace of Art 49
Deep-tranced they dwelt D-t on hers, Balin and Balan 278
Deep-udder'd dewy-fresh, browsed by d-u kine, Gardener's D. 46
Deep-wooded on the d-w mountain-side, The Wreck 72
Deer To chase the d at five; Talking Oak 52
Rode thro' the coverts of the d, Sir L. and Q. G. 21
To show Sir Arthur's d. The Brook 133
Like flies that haunt a wound, or d, Aylmer's Field 571 Betwixt the monstrous horns of elk and d, Princess, Pro. 23 and shook the branches of the d Con. 98
And cattle died, and d in wood, The Victim 18 follow the d By these tall firs Gareth and L. 90 Follow the d? follow the Christ, the King, „ 117

Deer (continued) There tript a hundred tiny silver d, Last Tournament 171
But at the slot or fewmets of a d, „ 371
The d, the dews, the fern, the founts, „ 727
Defacement royal crown, Stampt all into d, Balin and Balan 541
Defacing Defaming and d, till she left Merlin and V. 804 Defamed D by every charlatan, In Mem. cxi 23 one that hath d The cognizance she gave me: Balin and Balan 484 hast thou so d Thy brotherhood Pelleas and E. 321 Defaming D and defacing, till she left Merlin and V. 804 Default own baseness in him by d Of will and nature, Pelleas and E. 81 Defeat Whether ye wish me victory or d, Geraint and E. 80
I must not dwell on that d of fame. Guinevere 628 trumpets of victory, groans of d; Vastness 8 Defect each fulfils D in each, and always thought in thought, Princess vii 304
D's of doubt, and taints of blood; In Mem. liv 4 an hour's d of the rose, Maud I ii 8 have in it an absoluter trust To make up that d: Lancelot and E. 1193 Scorn was allow'd as part of his d, Guinevere 43
A beauty with d—till That which knows, Ancient Sage 86 Defence war would arise in d of the right, Maud III vi 19 and my squire Hath in him small d; Balin and Balan 477 on all the d's our myriad enemy fell. Def. of Lucknow 35
Clean from our lines of d ten or twelve „ 62
Defend thou might'st d The thesis which thy words Two Voices 337 and three knights D the passings, Gareth and L. 614
And there d his marches; Marr. of Geraint 41 and there d Your marches, Geraint and E. 889
And would d his judgment well, Tiresias 190
Defended (See also Half-defended) works that d the hold we held with our lives— Def. of Lucknow 7
Deferentially Sir Aylmer (d With nearing chair Aylmer's Field 266 Defiance With one smile of still d Sold him The Captain 59 and flung d down Gagelike to man, Princess v 177
With message and d, went and came; „ 370
Defiant Sullen, d, pitying, wroth, Aylmer's Field 492 Deficiency Who'll weep for thy d? Two Voices 39
Defied chafing at his own great self d, Aylmer's Field 537
Defileth he d heavenly things With earthly uses'— Balin and Balan 421 Define Hold thou the good: d it well: In Mem. liii 13
Defined His isolation grows d. xlv 12
Deform'd Vext with unworthy madness, and d. „ Aylmer's Field 335
His face d by lurid blotch and blain— Death of Œnone 72
Defying We drink d trouble, Will Water. 94
Was love's dumb cry d change In Mem. xcv 27
Degrade And throned races may d; „ cxxviii 7
Degree and by d's May into uncongenial spirits Mine be the strength 10
But by d's to fullness wrought, You ask me, why, 14
We all are changed by still d's, Love thou thy land 43 and thro' soft d's Subdue them to the useful Ulysses 37
What for order or d? Vision of Sin 86
More than is of man's d Must be with us, Ode on Well. 242 by slow d's the sullen bell Toll'd Lover's Tale iii 13
Deign'd Arthur d not use of word or sword, Last Tournament 458
Deity lays that will outlast thy D? 'D? nay, Lucretius 72
D false in human-amorous tears; „ 90
Such is Rome, and this her d: Boädicea 20
Nor take thy dial for thy d, Ancient Sage 109
Delay (s) Raw Haste, half-sister to D. Love thou thy land 96
And dull the voyage was with long d's, Enoch Arden 655 winning easy grace, No doubt, for slight d, Princess iv 331
'Ah, the long d.' Window. When 10 Delay (verb) now d not: take Excalibur, And fling him M. d'Arthur 36 tender ash d's To clothe herself, Princess iv 106 Delaying long, d no more. In Mem. lxxviii 4 but d's his purport till thou send Gareth and L. 618
D not thou for ought, but let them sit, Balin and Balan 18
'D no longer, speak your wish, Lancelot and E. 924 now d not: take Excalibur, And fling him Pass. of Arthur 204
While you still d to take Your leave of Town, To Mary Boyle 1 Delay'd —d at first Thro' helping back Gareth and L. 1212 till d By their mountain-like San Philip The Revenge 39
Delayest D the sorrow in my blood, In Mem. lxxxii 14
Delaying D as the tender ash delays To clothe herself, Princess iv 106
A sweet new-year d long; In Mem. lxxxiii 2

Delaying (continued) D long, delay no more. In Mem. lxxxiii 4
O thou, new-year, d long, „ 13
Delayingly And yet she held him on d Enoch Arden 468
Delegate she send her d to thrall These fighting hands Pelleas and E. 336
Delicacy But could not out of bashful d; Marr. of Geraint 66
Delicate (See also Fairily-delicate) Fair speech was his, and d of phrase. Lover's Tale iv 273
Delicate-handed dilettante, D-h priest intone; Maud I viii 11
Delicately Most d hour by hour He canvass'd A Character 19
And Enid took a little d, Geraint and E. 212
Delicious made the air Of Life d, Gardener's D. 70
Were not his words d, Edwin Morris 71
Delicto what's the Latin word ?—D: Walk. to the Mail 35 Delight (s) triple-mailèd trust, and clear D, Supp. Confessions 67
So took echo with d, (repeat) The Owl ii 4 d, Life, anguish, death, immortal love, Arabian Nights 72 and feedeth The senses with a still d Margaret 17 Whose free d, from any height of rapid flight, Rosalind 3 seeming-bitter From excess of swift d. „ 32
And that d of frolic flight, „ 47
Falling into a still d, Eleänore 106
I die with my d, before I hear what I would hear „ 140
'Some vague emotion of d Two Voices 361
My heart, pierced thro' with fierce d, Fatima 34
'I marvel if my still d Palace of Art 190 great d and shuddering took hold of all my mind, May Queen, Con. 35
When she made pause I knew not for d; D. of F. Women 169
The sole d is, sitting still, The Blackbird 10
The common mouth, So gross to express d, Gardener's D. 56 drunk d of battle with my peers, Ulysses 16
To shape the song for your d Day-Dm., Ep. 6 and all The chambers emptied of d: In Mem. viii 8
And was the day of my d As pure „ xxiv 1
With shower'd largess of d In dance „ xxix 7
And what d's can equal those „ xlii 9
Thy converse drew us with d, „ cx 1 when we meet, D a hundredfold accrue, „ cxvii 8
Maud the d of the village, Maud I i 70 and seems But an ashen-gray d. „ vi 22 echo of something Read with a boy's d, „ vii 10 and my D Had a sudden desire, „ xiv 19 darkness must have spread With such d as theirs „ xviii 26
My bride to be, my evermore d, „ 73
Breaking up my dream of d. „ xix 2
I sorrow after The d of early skies; „ II iv 25
The d of happy laughter, the d of low replies. „ 29 a dream, yet it yielded a dear d „ III vi 15
Guinevere, and in her his one d. Com. of Arthur 4
He, reddening in extremity of d, Geraint and E. 219
Inflate themselves with some insane d, Merlin and V. 834 Sprang to her face and fill'd her with d; Lancelot and E. 377 shrilling, 'Hollow, hollow all d! Pass. of Arthur 33
And hollow, hollow, hollow all d.' „ 37
She took the body of my past d, Lover's Tale i 681 without hope, without any d In anything Despair 7 Delight (verb) in her web she still d's To weave L. of Shalott ii 28
D our souls with talk of knightly deeds, M. d'Arthur 19 how the sun d's To glance and shift about Lucretius 188 nor deals in that Which men d in, Princess iii 216
D myself with gossip and old wives, Holy Grail 553
D our souls with talk of knightly deeds, Pass. of Arthur 187 and d thyself To make it wholly thine Lover's Tale i 13 never colt would more d To roll himself Romney's R. 13 Delighted D with the freshness and the sound. Edwin Morris 99
I am all as well d, Maud I xx 40
Delighteth nightingale d to prolong Her low preamble Palace of Art 173
Delirium I would catch Her hand in wild d, Princess vii 93
Delius the Sun, Apollo, D, or of older use Lucretius 125
Deliver D not the tasks of might To weakness, Love thou thy land 13
D me the blessed sacrament; St. S. Stylites 218 Thy tribute wave d: A Farewell 2
Ignorance D's brawling judgments, Merlin and V. 665 Rise and take This diamond, and d it, Lancelot and E. 546
Deliver'd D at a secret postern-gate Com. of Arthur 213
Deliverer and call'd them dear d's, Princess vi 92
Delivering D, that to me, by common voice Œnone 84
D seal'd dispatches which the Head Princess iv 379
D, that his lord, the vassal king, Gareth and L. 391
So she, d it to Arthur, said, Last Tournament 30
Dell Out of the live-green heart of the d's Sea-Fairies 12
We would call aloud in the dreamy d's, The Merman 25 diamond-ledges that jut from the d's; The Mermaid 40
The furzy prickle fire the d's, Two Voices 71 all night long, in falling thro' the d, D. of F. Women 183 the splinter'd crags that wall the d „ 187
The little d's of cowslip, fairy palms, Aylmer's Field 91
How richly down the rocky d The Daisy 9
And snowy d's in a golden air. „ 68 moved in the hollows under the d's, V. of Maeldune 107
What sound was dearest in his native d's? Far-far-away 4 were alone in the d at the close of the day. Bandit's Death 19 rang out all down thro' the d, „ 36
Deluge some new d from a thousand hills If I were loved 12
Pour with such sudden d's of light Lover's Tale i 315 or a d of cataract skies, Def. of Lucknow 81
In the common d drowning old political common-sense! Locksley H., Sixty 250
Delver careful robins eye the d's toil, Marr. of Geraint 774 careful robins eye the d's toil; Geraint and E. 431 Demand (s) To make d of modern rhyme To the Queen 11 obedience make d Of whom ye gave me to, Gareth and L. 558 Demand (verb) if a king d An act unprofitable, M. d'Arthur 95
The sense of human will d's In Mem. lxxxv 39
D not thou a marriage lay; Con. 2
„
thy love to me, Thy mother,—I d.' Gareth and L. 147 sent Her maiden to d it of the dwarf; Marr. of Geraint 193 Sent her own maiden to d the name, „ 411
Garlon, mine heir, Of him d it,' Balin and Balan 118
if a king d An act unprofitable, Pass. of Arthur 263 Demanded she d who we were, And why we came? Princess iii 135
And then, d if her mother knew, „ iv 233
Was this d—if he yearn'd To hear In Mem. xxxi 3 when the Queen d as by chance Merlin and V. 128
And when the King d how she knew, Lancelot and E. 575 Demanding And then to me d why? The Epic 29
D, so to bring relief In Mem. lxxxv 6
Demigod Elysian lawns, Where paced the D's of old, Princess iii 343
Democrat what care I, Aristocrat, d, Maud I x 65
Demon Pallas from the brain Of D's? In Mem. cxiv 13 some d in the woods Was once a man, Balin and Balan 124 who will hunt for me This d of the woods?' „ 137
Whereout the D issued up from Hell. „ 317
Celtic Demos rose a D, Locksley H., Sixty 90
A d vext me, Merlin and the G. 29 and drove the d from Hawa-i-ee. Kapiolani 33
Demon-god is the d-g Wroth at his fall?' St. Telemachus 19
Demonstration rounded under female hands With flawless d: Princess ii 373
Demos Celtic D rose a Demon, Locksley H., Sixty 90
D end in working its own doom. „ 114
Demur He yielded, wroth and red, with fierce d: Princess v 358
Demure The little maiden walk'd d, Two Voices 419
Den We heard the lion roaring from his d; D. of F. Women 222
'Trooping from their mouldy d's Vision of Sin 171 and the children, housed In her foul d, Com. of Arthur 29 climb'd from the d's in the levels below, The Dawn 17
Denial Or by d flush her babbling wells Princess v 334
Who will not hear d, vain and rude Lover's Tale i 628 Denied He oft d his heart his dearest wish, Enoch Arden 336
'Come with us Father Philip' he d; „ 368 at first Was silent; closer prest, d it not, Princess iv 232 she affirm'd not, or d: „ 234
'ye never yet D my fancies— Lancelot and E. 1112
d to him, Who finds the Saviour Sir J. Oldcastle 114
Denouncing like a Ghost's D judgment, Guinevere 421 Dense the decks were d with stately forms M. d'Arthur 196 folds as d as those Which hid the Holiest Aylmer's Field 771 race thro' many a mile Of d and open, Balin and Balan 424
But that these eyes of men are d and dim, Pass. of Arthur 19 all the decks were d with stately forms, „ 364

Deny What! d it now? Nay, draw, St. S. Stylites 206 and cry For that which all d them— Will Water. 46
And would if ask'd d it. Enoch Arden 44
To hold your own, d not hers to her Princess vi 178 father, tender and true, D me not,' Lancelot and E. 1111 you will not d my sultry throat Romney's R. 22
Denying D not these weather-beaten limbs St. S. Stylites 19
Denyingly How hard you look and how d! Merlin and V. 338 Depart He craved a fair permission to d, Marr. of Geraint 40 friend, too old to be so young, d, Balin and Balan 17 and still d From death to death De Prof., Two G. 51 Departed a silent cousin stole Upon us and d: Edwin Morris 116
She watch'd it, and d weeping for him; Enoch Arden 246
James d vext with him and her.' The Brook 110 then d, hot in haste to join Their luckier mates, Geraint and E. 574
So these d. Early, one fair dawn, Balin and Balan 20
And thence d every one his way. Holy Grail 360
Departest then before thine answer given D, Tithonus 45
Departing With frequent smile and nod d Marr. of Geraint 515
Deplore Where shall we lay the man whom we d? Ode on Well. 8
Such was he whom we d. " 40
Still mine, that cannot but d, In Mem. lxxxv 109
Depress'd With lips d as he were meek, A Character 25
Depth (See also Love-depths) The springs of life, the d's of awe, Two Voices 140
Tears from the d of some divine despair Princess iv 40 on the d's of death there swims The reflex In Mem. cviii 11
You cannot find their d; for they go back, Lover's Tale i 80 tho' every turn and d Between is clearer " 148 dash'd himself Into the dizzy d below. " 381 dwelling on the light and d of thine, " 492
There on the d of an unfathom'd woe " 746
Derive D's it not from what we have In Mem. lv 3
Derk (dark) thowt it wur Charlie's ghoäst i' the d, Village Wife 82
Derken'd (darkened) —they niver d my door. " 60
Desave (deceive) an' she didn't intind to d, Tomorrow 59
Descend d, and proffer these The brethren Princess vi 70
D below the golden hills In Mem. lxxxiv 28
D, and touch, and enter; " xciii 13
Why then my scorn might well d On you " cxxviii 21
Would the happy spirit d, Maud II iv 81 fire of God D's upon thee in the battle-field: Com. of Arthur 129 nay, the King's—D into the city:' Gareth and L. 540
The Holy Grail, d upon the shrine: Holy Grail 465 Descendant On him their last d, Aylmer's Field 834 Descended (See also Heaven-descended) tree by tree, The country-side d; Amphion 52
Then all d to the port, Enoch Arden 446
D to the court that lay three parts Princess iii 20
As we d following Hope, In Mem. xxii 11 his dream was changed, the haze D, Com. of Arthur 442
The Sun of May d on their King, " 462 the stream D, and the Sun was wash'd away. Gareth and L. 1047
robed them in her ancient suit again, And so d. Marr. of Geraint 771 finds himself d from the Saint Arimathæan Joseph; Balin and Balan 101
D, and disjointed it at a blow: " 296
He rose, d, met The scorner in the castle court, " 386 setting, when Even d, the very sunset V. of Maeldune 66 and whereout The cloud d. Ancient Sage 14 beheld The Life that had d re-arise, Demeter and P. 30 Descending angels rising and d met Palace of Art 143
d they were ware That all the decks M. d'Arthur 195
Once she lean'd on me, D; Princess iv 27
D, burst the great bronze valves, " vi 75 the day, D, struck athwart the hall, " 364 Phantom sound of blows d, Boädicea 25
D thro' the dismal night— Com. of Arthur 371
D in the glory of the seas— " 400
And then d met them at the gates, Marr. of Geraint 833
d they were ware That all the decks Pass. of Arthur 363 D from the point and standing both, Lover's Tale i 411 some, d from the sacred peak Of hoar Pref. Son. 19th Cent. 9
Self-darken'd in the sky, d slow! Prog. of Spring 28 Descent Smile at the claims of long d. L. C. V. de Vere 52
Descent (continued) She might by a true d be untrue; Maud I xiii 31
Fierce in the strength of far d, Lover's Tale i 382 farm can teach us there is something in d. Locksley H., Sixty 26
Descried wall Of purple cliffs, aloof d: Ode to Memory 54
Descry I could d The stern black-bearded kings D. of F. Women 110
Desenzano Row us out from D, Frater Ave, etc. 1 Desert (merit) Royal grace To one of less d allows, To the Queen 6 bowing at their own d's: The Brook 128
And partly conscious of my own d's, Princess iv 305
Desert (waste) why dare Paths in the d? Supp. Confessions 79
Of that long d to the south. Fatima 14
Which makes a d in the mind, In Mem. lxvi 6 every blazing d till'd, Locksley H., Sixty 168 science making toward Thy Perfectness Are blinding d sand; Akbar's Dream 30 the Star that lights a d pathway, Locksley H., Sixty 275 Deserve d That we this night should pluck Princess iv 413 what might that man not d of me, " v 104 Deserved Since we d the name of friends, In Mem. lxv 9
Design wherein were wrought Two grand d's; Princess vii 122 the vast d's Of his labour'd rampart-lines, Ode on Well. 104 giant aisles, Rich in model and d; Ode Inter. Exhib. 13
A miracle of d! Maud II ii 8 learnt and warn'd me of their fierce d Lancelot and E. 274 found The new d wherein they lost themselves, " 441 broke The vast d and purpose of the King. Guinevere 670 Design'd was there Not less than truth d. Palace of Art 92
Not less than life, d. " 128 Desire (s) oh, haste, Visit my low d! Ode to Memory 4 flow'd upon the soul in many dreams Of high d. The Poet 32
'Which did accomplish their d, Two Voices 217
To yield consent to my d: Miller's D. 138
The skies stoop down in their d; Fatima 32 my d is but to pass to Him that died for me. May Queen, Con. 20 things have ceased to be, with my d of life. 48 Strength came to me that equall'd my d. D. of F. Women 230 vague d's, like fitful blasts of balm Gardener's D. 68 to say That my d, like all strongest hopes, " 237 this gray spirit yearning in d To follow Ulysses 30
The bird that pipes his lone d You might have won 31 thro' the smoke The blight of low d's— Aylmer's Field 673 thro' their own d accomplish'd, " 776
That lent my knee d to kneel, Princess iii 193 fail so far In high d, they know not, " 280
And every hoof a knell to my d's, " iv 174
Melt into stars for the land's d! W. to Alexandra 21 welcome her, welcome the land's d, " 25
But they—they feel the d of the deep— Voice and the P. 19 sparrow and throstle, and have your d! Window, Ay 14
That thou should'st fail from thy d, In Mem. iv 6
That not a moth with vain d Is shrivell'd " liv 10
The centre of a world's d; " lvi 16
If any vague d should rise, " lxxx 1
I seem to meet their least d, " lxxxiv 17 born of love, the vague d That spurs " cx 19 Submitting all things to d. " cxiv 8 might ensue D of nearness doubly sweet; " cxvii 6 Dear friend, far off, my lost d, " cxxix 1 and my Delight Had a sudden d, Maud I xiv 20
A d that awoke in the heart of the child, " xix 48 but the deathbed d Spurn'd by this heir " 77 the heart of a people beat with one d; " III vi 49 d To close with her lord's pleasure; Geraint and E. 213 monk and nun, ye scorn the world's d, Balin and Balan 445 low d Not to feel lowest makes them level all; Merlin and V. 827 Suddenly flash'd on her a wild d, Lancelot and E. 357 but you work against your own d; " 1096 her hand is hot With ill d's, Last Tournament 415 when old and gray, And past d!' " 628 love me ev'n when old, Gray-hair'd, and past d, " 653 Ay, ay, O ay—a star was my d, " 733 words And courtliness, and the d of fame, Guinevere 482 or d that her lost child Should earn Sisters (E. and E.) 250
O therefore that the unfulfill'd d, Tiresias 79 sank with the body at times in the sloughs of a low d, By an Evolutionist 18

Desire (s) (continued) Till, led by dream and vague d, To Master of B. 17 creeds be lower than the heart's d! Faith 5 and woke D in me to infuse my tale of love Princess v 240 save my soul, that is all your d: Rizpah 77
d to keep So skilled a nurse about you always— The Ring 373 Desire (verb) If I were loved, as I d to be, If I were loved 1
Her open eyes d the truth. Of old sat Freedom 17
Why should a man d in any way To vary Tithonus 28
And I d to rest. Come not, when, etc. 10 not of those that men d, Sleek Odalisques, Princess ii 76
d you more Than growing boys their manhood; " iv 456
She d's no isles of the blest, " Wages 8
Do we indeed d the dead In Mem. li 1 not to d or admire, if a man could learn Maud I iv 41 Rich in the grace all women d, " x 13 save yourself d it, We will not touch Marr. of Geraint 310
Yet, seeing you d your child to live, Lancelot and E. 1095 now his chair d's him here in vain, Holy Grail 901 howsoever much they may d Silence, Guinevere 206
Who could d more beauty at a feast?' Lover's Tale iv 240 more than one Here sitting who d's it. " 242
Wan, but as pretty as heart can d, In the Child. Hosp. 40 Desired You are not one to be d. L. C. V. de Vere 8 long d A certain miracle of symmetry, Gardener's D. 10 they hated, Had what they d: The Captain 38 broke the bond which they d to break, Aylmer's Field 778 —and many men D her; one, good lack, no man d. Gareth and L. 106 needs Must wed that other, whom no man d, " 109
d his name, and sent Her maiden to demand it Marr. of Geraint 192
But now d the humbling of their best, Geraint and E. 637 Desiring D what is mingled with past years, D. of F. Women 282
D to be join'd with Guinevere; Com. of Arthur 77
Wasted and pined, d him in vain. Pelleas and E. 496
And I, d that diviner day, To Victor Hugo 12 Desk worn-out clerk Brow-beats his d below. To J. M. K. 12
'Oh! who would cast and balance at a d, Audley Court 44
Erect behind a d of satin-wood, Princess ii 105
To cramp the student at his d, In Mem. cxxviii 18
Deskwork a dozen years Of dust and d: Sea Dreams 78
Desolate O spirit and heart made d! Supp. Confessions 189
Your house is left unto you d!' (repeat) Aylmer's Field 629, 797
'My house is left unto me d.' " 721
'Our house is left unto us d'? " 737 became Imbecile; his one word was 'd;' " 836
D? yes! D as that sailor, The Ring 306
Desolation Against the d's of the world. Aylmer's Field 634
No d but by sword and fire? " 748 and her d came Upon her, and she wept Geraint and E. 518 wind of the Night shrilling out D and wrong The Dreamer 15 Despair Plagued her with sore d. Palace of Art 224
And nothing saw, for her d, " 266 must mix with action, lest I wither by d. Locksley Hall 98 Whisper'd 'Listen to my d: Edward Gray 22 shake The midriff of d with laughter, Princess i 201
Or baser courses, children of d.' " iii 213 Tears from the depth of some divine d " iv 40 hold That it becomes no man to nurse d, " 464
A day of onsets of d! Ode on Well. 124
If any calm, a calm d: In Mem. xi 16
Can calm d and wild unrest Be tenants " xvi 2 D of Hope, and earth of thee. " lxxxiv 16 and ever wann'd with d, Maud I i 10 was but a dream, yet it lighten'd my d " III vi 18
He half d's; so Gareth seem'd to strike Gareth and L. 1133
Gray-hair'd, and past desire, and in d.' Last Tournament 653
Despair'd approach To save the life d of, Enoch Arden 831 Despise my flesh, which I d and hate, St. S. Stylites 58 whom the strong sons of the world d; The Brook 3
But that his pride too much d's me: And I myself sometimes d myself; Marr. of Geraint 464 Despised See Half-despised
Despite D of Day and Night and Death and Hell.' Gareth and L. 887 till he felt, d his mail, Strangled, " 1151 Lancelot who hath come D the wound Lancelot and E. 566 many a year have done d and wrong To one " 1209 Despite (continued) d All fast and penance. Holy Grail 630 the Gods, d of human prayer, Are slower to forgive Tiresias 9
D of every Faith and Creed, To Mary Boyle 51
Despondence Listless in all d,—read; Aylmer's Field 534
Despot (See also Dandy-despot) the fire Where smoulder their dead d's; Princess v 380
Nothing of the lawless, of the D, On Jub. Q. Victoria 12
How can a d feel with the Free? Riflemen form! 11
Destined opposite Of all my heart had d Guinevere 492 Destiny No one can be more wise than d. D. of F. Women 94 hung their heavy hands, The weight of d: Princess iv 554 Destitute All the lowly, the d, On Jub. Q. Victoria 31
Destroyed void, Dark, formless, utterly d. Supp. Confessions 122
And this d him; for the wicked broth Lucretius 19
That not one life shall be d, In Mem. liv 6
Destructive was as a boy D, Walk. to the Mail 82
Detaching d, fold by fold, From those still heights Vision of Sin 51
Detail Another kind of beauty in d Princess iv 448 Detention for the rest, Our own d, why, " v 215 Determined Thus Enoch in his heart d all: Enoch Arden 148
Detestable She might not rank with those d Princess v 457
Dethronement And crownings and d's: To the Queen ii 45
Develop'd (See also Slow-developed) Beyond all grades d? Gardener's D. 241 Development present The world with some d. Two Voices 75
And new d's, whatever spark Be struck Prog. of Spring 94
Device our d; wrought to the life; Princess iii 303
Were Arthur's wars in weird d's done, Gareth and L. 225 by some d Full cowardly, or by mere unhappiness, " 767
Or some d, hast foully overthrown), " 998
D and sorcery and unhappiness— " 1235
All the d's blazon'd on the shield Lancelot and E. 9 Blank, or at least with some d not mine.' " 194 thread And crimson in the belt a strange d; Holy Grail 154
Among the strange d's of our kings; " 730
Restrain'd him with all manner of d, Pelleas and E. 204 Devil (See also Divil, Wood-devil) What D had the heart to scathe Flowers Supp. Confessions 83
That pride, the sin of d's, " 109
A glorious D, large in heart and brain, To ——, With Pal. of Art 5
And oft some brainless d enters in, Palace of Art 203
Quoth she, 'The D take the goose, The Goose 55
Vex'd with a morbid d in his blood Walk. to the Mail 19 let him go; his d goes with him, " 27 scarce meet For troops of d's, St. S. Stylites 4
D's pluck'd my sleeve, " 171 Comfort? comfort scorn'd of d's! Locksley Hall 75 glaring, by his own stale d spurr'd, Aylmer's Field 290 True D's with no ear, they howl in tune With nothing but the D!' Sea Dreams 260
if there be A d in man, there is an angel too, " 278
A d rises in my heart, Sailor Boy 23 and the D may pipe to his own. Maud I i 76 thou could'st lay the D of these woods Balin and Balan 298
Balin cried 'Him, or the viler d who plays his part, To lay that d would lay the D in me.' 'Nay,' said the churl, 'our d is a truth, " 300
Or d or man Guard thou thine head.' " 552
Know well that Envy calls you D's son: Merlin and V. 467
And then did Envy call me D's son: " 497 and stirs the pulse With d's leaps, Guinevere 522 dogs of Seville, the children of the d, The Revenge 30
I never turn'd my back upon Don or d yet.' " 31
Was he d or man? He was d for aught they knew, " 108
Are we d's? are we men? Locksley H., Sixty 99
Dance in a fountain of flame with her d's, Kapiolani 10 only the D can tell what he means. Riflemen form! 25 Devil-born You tell me, doubt is D-b. In Mem. xcvi 4
Devil's-dances bagpipes, revelling, d-d. Sir J. Oldcastle 149 Devised Besought Lavaine to write as she d Lancelot and E. 1103
Then he wrote The letter she d; " 1109 her lips, Who had d the letter, moved again. " 1288 Devising And moist and dry, d long, Love thou thy land 38
d their own daughter's death! Aylmer's Field 783 urged All the d's of their chivalry Gareth and L. 1349

Devising (continued) But bode his hour, d wretchedness. Last Tournament 386
Devoir Now weary of my service and d, Lancelot and E. 118
Devolved D his rounded periods. A Character 18
Devon A tributary prince of D, Marr. of Geraint 2
I am Geraint Of D— " 410
'was it for him she wept In D?' Geraint and E. 398
Men of Bideford in D, The Revenge 17
Devotion gaze upon him With such a fixt d, Merlin and V. 183
Devour wolf would steal The children and d, Com. of Arthur 27
Devour'd bank that is daily d by the tide— Def. of Lucknow 39
Dew (See also Balm-dew, Night-dew) Winds creep; d's fall chilly: Leonine Eleg. 7 to brush the d From thine own lily, Supp. Confessions 84
Her tears fell with the d's at even; Her tears fell ere the d's were dried, Mariana 13
And d is cold upon the ground, The Owl I 2 woodbine and eglatere Drip sweeter d's A Dirge 24 violet woos To his heart the silver d's? Adeline 32
But ever trembling thro' the d Margaret 52
Some red heath-flower in the d, Rosalind 41
Thro' crofts and pastures wet with d Two Voices 14
And d's, that would have fall'n in tears, Miller's D. 151 as sunlight drinketh d. Fatima 21 slowly dropping fragrant d. Œnone 106 quick-falling d Of fruitful kisses, " 204 fresh-wash'd in coolest d The maiden splendours D. of F. Women 54 dark wood-walks drench'd in d, " 75
And tho' mine own eyes fill with d, To J. S. 37
A thought would fill my eyes with happy d; Gardener's D. 197 my thighs are rotted with the d; St. S. Stylites 41
I am wet With drenching d's, " 115
And flung him in the d. Talking Oak 232 and there rain'd a ghastly d Locksley Hall 123 Dash'd together in blinding d: Vision of Sin 42 till the gracious d's Began to glisten Princess ii 316 blossom-fragrant slipt the heavy d's " v 243 the d Dwelt in her eyes, " vii 135
And on these d's that drench the furze, In Mem. xi 6
When all our path was fresh with d, " lxviii 6 Deep tulips dash'd with fiery d, " lxxxiii 11
The sweep of scythe in morning d, " lxxxix 18
And back we come at fall of d. " Con. 100 still The d of their great labour, Marr. of Geraint 568 than the sward with drops of d, Geraint and E. 690
The deer, the d's, the fern, the founts, Last Tournament 727
The d of tears is an unwholesome d, Lover's Tale i 765 fresh as a codlin wesh'd i' the d. North. Cobbler 110 my eyes are dim with d, The Flight 97 and fills The flower with d; Early Spring 46 scatters on her throat the sparks of d, Prog. of Spring 58 drank the d's and drizzle of the North, " 81 Dew'd and, d with showery drops, Lotos-Eaters 17
Dewdrop when two d's on the petal shake Princess vii 68
And every d-d paints a bow, In Mem. cxxii 18 glanced with d or with gem Like sparkles Gareth and L. 929
Dew-fed and in the moon Nightly d-f; Lotos-Eaters, C.S. 30
Dew-impearled d-i winds of dawn have kiss'd, Ode to Memory 14
Dewless bearded grass Is dry and d, Miller's D. 246
Dew-lit And those d-l eyes of thine, Adeline 47
Dewy-dark lawn was d-d, And d-d aloft Œnone 48
Dewy-fresh The fields between Are d-f, Gardener's D. 46
Dewy-glooming November dawns and d-g downs, Enoch Arden 610
Dewy-tassell'd In the green gleam of d-t trees: Princess i 94
Thro' all the d-t wood, In Mem. lxxvi 6
Dewy-warm eyelids, growing d-w With kisses Tithonus 58
Dexter Eagle rising or, the Sun In d chief; Merlin and V. 476
Dhrame (dream) like a bit of yisther-day in a d— Tomorrow 8
An' to d of a married man, death alive, " 51
Dhrink (drink) give me a thrifle to d yer health " 98
Dhrinkin' (drinking) an' I been D yer health " 12
Dhrop (drop) been takin' a d o' the crathur' " 11
Wid a diamond d in her eye, " 28
Dhropt (dropt) an' d down dead an the dead. " 80
Dhrownded (drowned) foun' D in black bog-wather " 62

Diadem Crown'd so long with a d On Jub. Q. Victoria 7
Diagonal I moved as in a strange d, Princess, Con. 27
Dial this high d, which my sorrow crowns— St. S. Stylites 95
Nor take thy d for thy deity, Ancient Sage 109
Diamond Then fillip'd at the d in her ear; Godiva 25
With bracelets of the d bright: Day-Dm., Sleep B. 14 rode to tilt For the great d in the d jousts, Lancelot and E. 31 since a d was the prize. " 33 king, had on a crown Of d's, one in front, " 46 Lancelot won the d of the year, " 68
Now for the central d and the last And largest, " 73 my love is more Than many d's' " 88 yearn'd to make complete The tale of d's " 91 joust as one unknown At Camelot for the d, " 191 maiden dreamt That some one put this d in her hand, " 212
And you shall win this d,—as I hear It is a fair large d,— " 227
'A fair large d,' added plain Sir Torre, " 230 Blazed the last d of the nameless king. " 444
'Advance and take thy prize The d;' but he answer'd, D me No d's! " 504 Rise and take This d, and deliver it, " 546 he took, And gave, the d: " 551 Rode with his d, wearied of the quest, " 616 leave My quest with you; the d also: here! " 691 whether he love or not, A d is a d. " 695 kiss'd the hand to which he gave, The d, " 703
I gave the d: she will render it; " 713 with mine own hand give his d to him, " 760
'Ay, ay, the d: wit ye well, my child, " 771
'Your prize the d sent you by the King:' " 821 the tale Of King and Prince, the d sent, " 824
And laid the d in his open hand. " 827
The nine-years-fought-for d's: " 1167
What are these? D's for me! " 1212 pray you, add my d's to her pearls; " 1224 once fair Was richer than these d's— " 1229 flash'd, as it were, D's to meet them, " 1237
Those d's that I rescued from the tarn, Last Tournament 37
'Io t'amo'—and these d's— The Ring 70 or to find My Mother's d's hidden " 142
Diamond-drift showering wide Sleet of d-d Vision of Sin 22
Diamond-ledge d-l's that jut from the dells; The Mermaid 40
Diamond-plot d-p's Of dark and bright. Arabian Nights 85
Dian set a wrathful D's moon on flame, Princess vi 368
Diana Like those who cried D great: Lit. Squabbles 16
Diaper'd Engarlanded and d With inwrought flowers, Arabian Nights 148
Dice vows his child . . . . to one cast of the d. The Flight 26
Dick if thou marries a bad un, I'll leäve the land to D— N. Farmer, N. S. 58
D, when 'e cooms to be deäd, Owd Roä 11
'Ya mun saäve little D, an' be sharp about it " 81 and soa little D, good-night. " 118
Dicky Bedtime, D! but waäit till tha 'eärs " 18
But D, the Ghoäst moästlins " 38
An' I'd cleär forgot, little D, " 64
Dictator The mulberry-faced D's orgies Lucretius 54
Dido wars, and filial faith, and D's pyre; To Virgil 4 Die (See also Doy) The breezes pause and d, Claribel 2 aweary of beating? And nature d? Never, oh! never, nothing will d; Nothing will Die 7 Nothing will d. Nothing will d; " 13
Nothing was born; Nothing will d; " 37
Yet all things must d. All Things will Die 8
For all things must d. (repeat) " 13, 49
All things must d. " 14
And the old earth must d. " 41
Men say that Thou Didst d for me, for such as me, Supp. Confessions 3 draws His forehead earthward, and he d's. " 168
he shall rise and on the surface d. The Kraken 15
A gentler death shall Falsehood d, Clear-headed friend 16
I dare not d and come to thee, Oriana 96
D in their hearts for the love of me. The Mermaid 30
I d with my delight, Eleänore 140
No tears of love, but tears that Love can d. Wan Sculptor 8
Live forgotten and d forlorn.' (repeat) Mariana in the S. 60, 72

Die (continued) I wept, 'Tho' I should d, I know Two Voices 58
Than once from dread of pain to d. " 105
To flatter me that I may d? " 204
Not simple as a thing that d's. " 288
My own sweet Alice, we must d. Miller's D. 18
That we may d the self-same day. " 24
I watch'd the little circles d; " 74
I should d an early death: " 90
I will possess him or will d. Fatima 39 Grow, live, d looking on his face, D, dying clasp'd in his embrace. " 41 mother Ida, harken ere I d. (repeat) Œnone 24, 35, 46, 53, 64, 77, 91, 103, 120, 134, 151, 173, 183, 195
And I shall be alone until I d. " 194 mother, hear me yet before I d. (repeat) " 207, 220, 230, 245, 256 shadow all my soul, that I may d. " 242 Weigh heavy on my eyelids: let me d. " 244
I will not d alone, (repeat) " 246, 257
'I have found A new land, but I d.' Palace of Art 284
And save me lest I d?' " 288
I long to see a flower so before the day I d. May Queen, N. Y.'s. E. 16
To d before the snowdrop came, " Con. 4 up to Heaven and d among the stars. " 40 Waiting to see me d. D. of F. Women 112 leapt into my arms, Contented there to d! " 152 a thousand times I would be born and d. " 204
How beautiful a thing it was to d For God " 231 Old year, you must not d; D. of the O. Year 6
Old year, you shall not die. (repeat) " 9, 24
I've half a mind to d with you, Old year, if you must d. " 26
To see him d, across the waste His son and heir " 30 Shake hands, before you d. " 42 Speak out before you d. " 45
I will see before I d The palms and temples You ask me, why 27
Nor shall see, here or elsewhere, till I d, M. d'Arthur 154
I fear My wound hath taken cold, and I shall d.' " 166
I fear it is too late, and I shall d.' " 180
'Arthur is come again: he cannot d.' " Ep. 24 see My grandchild on my knees before I d: Dora 13 did not all thy martyrs d one death? St. S. Stylites 50
I d here To-day, and whole years long, " 53 strive and wrestle with thee till I d: " 119
I prophesy that I shall d to-night, " 220
Of all the western stars, until I d. Ulysses 61 after many a summer d's the swan. Tithonus 4 happy men that have the power to d, " 70
'But I would d,' said she. Godiva 23
When will the hundred summers d, Day-Dm., Sleep P. 49
The thick-set hazel d's; Will. Water 234 the lady replied, 'Tho' I should d to-night.' Lady Clare 48
Every moment d's a man, (repeat) Vision of Sin 97, 121
Yet we will not d forlorn.' " 206
For now the Poet cannot d, You might have won 13
And d's unheard within his tree, " 32
But let me hold my purpose till I d. Enoch Arden 875 not to d a listener, I arose, The Brook 163
And left the living scandal that shall d— Aylmer's Field 444 wounded to the death that cannot d; " 662 what heart had he To d of? dead!' Sea Dreams 276 the soul flies out and d's in the air.' Lucretius 274 gossip and spite And slander, d. Princess ii 93
'Let me d too,' said Cyril, " 210 speak, and let the topic d.' " iii 205 we like them well: But children d; and let me tell you, girl, Howe'er you babble, great deeds cannot d; " 253
O love, they d in yon rich sky, " iv 13
To follow up the worthiest till he d: " 466 protomartyr of our cause, D: " 506 wakes A lisping of the innumerous leaf and d's, " v 14
And either she will d from want of care, " 85 the question settled d.' " 317
'She must weep or she will d.' " vi 4
Let our girls flit, Till the storm d! " 338
O my friend, I will not have thee d! " vii 8

Die (continued) often she believed that I should d: Princess vii 100 Sweet dream, be perfect. I shall d to-night. " 149
Stoop down and seem to kiss me ere I d.' " 150
Their's but to do and d: Light Brigade 15 fairer she, but ah how soon to d! Requiescat 5
Echo on echo D's to the moon. Minnie and Winnie 12
Give her the wages of going on, and not to d. Wages 10
I may d but the grass will grow, Window, No Answer 4
He thinks he was not made to d; In Mem., Pro. 11 all the magic light D's off at once " viii 6 Or dying, there at least may d. " 24 impart The life that almost d's in me; That d's not, but endures with pain, " xviii 16 Before their time? they too will d. " xxix 16 do not d Nor lose their mortal sympathy, " xxx 22 Which telling what it is to d " xxxi 7 use A little patience ere I d; " xxxiv 12 Man d's: nor is there hope in dust:' " xxxv 4 Half-dead to know that I shall d.' " 16
The purple from the distance d's, " xxxviii 3
And weave their petty cells and d. " l 12
Yet in these ears, till hearing d's, " lvii 9
His other passion wholly d's, " lxii 10
His inner day can never d, " lxvi 15
From off my bed the moonlight d's; " lxvii 10 O last regret, regret can d! " lxxviii 17 demands By which we dare to live or d. " lxxv 40
Their every parting was to d. " xcvii 12
I think once more he seems to d. " c 20
Ring out, wild bells, and let him d. " cvi 4
And let the ape and tiger d. " cxviii 28
And ready, thou, to d with him, " cxxi 2
Dear heavenly friend that canst not d, " cxxix 7
I shall not lose thee tho' I d. " cxxx 16
Cheat and be cheated, and d: Maud I i 32 and dash myself down and d " 54 Singing of Death, and of Honour that cannot d, " v 16
I must tell her, or d. " xvi 34
And do accept my madness, and would d " xviii 44
Would d; for sullen-seeming Death may give " 46
Not d; but live a life of truest breath, " 53
Yet so did I let my freshness d. " xix 11
To faint in his light, and to d. " xxii 12 ring in my heart and my ears, till I d, till I d. " II i 35
And comfort her tho' I d. " ii 83
When thou shalt more than d. " iii 9 Crack them now for yourself, and howl, and d. " v 56
And the shining daffodil d's, " III vi 6
That old hysterical mock-disease should d.' " 33
For here between the man and beast we d.' Com. of Arthur 45 there between the man and beast they d. " 79
An old man's wit may wander ere he d. " 405 he will not d, But pass again to come, " 421 live the strength and d the lust! " 492
'Strike for the King and d! " 494 lived and died for men, the man shall d.' Gareth and L. 383
He passes and is heal'd and cannot d'— " 503
I finish this fair quest, Or d therefore.' " 775
'Then shall he d.' " 978 marvel d's, and leaves me fool'd and trick'd, " 1251 two things shalt thou do, or thou shalt d.' Marr. of Geraint 586 cast it on the mixen that it d.' " 672 Far liefer by his dear hand had I d, Geraint and E. 68
if he d, why earth has earth enough To hide him. " 554
I will not look at wine until I d.' " 667 Henceforward I will rather d than doubt. " 738 will henceforward rather d than doubt.' " 745 here d—D: let the wolves' black maws Balin and Balan 486
I too could d, as now I live, for thee.' " 583 and we d Together by one doom:' " 629
'I dread me, if I draw it, you will d.' Lancelot and E. 513
But he, 'I d already with it: draw— " 514 in daily doubt Whether to live or d, " 521 added wound to wound, And ridd'n away to d?' " 568
'Being so very wilful you must d.' " 783

Die (continued) He will not love me: how then? must I d? Lancelot and E. 893 half the night repeating, 'Must I d?' " 899
I must d for want of one bold word.' " 927
I love you: let me d.' " 930
O Love, if death be sweeter, let me d. " 1012
Call and I follow, I follow! let me d.' " 1018 she shrilling, 'Let me d!' " 1026
I should but d the sooner; " 1098 and let me shrive me clean, and d.' " 1100 lay the letter in my hand A little ere I d, " 1114 some do hold our Arthur cannot d, " 1258
Not knowing he should d a holy man. " 1429
In moments when he feels he cannot d, Holy Grail 916
I d thro' mine unhappiness.' Pelleas and E. 332
One rose, my rose; a rose that will not d,— " 408
He d's who loves it,—if the worm be there.' " 409 but here, Here let me rest and d,' " 515 help it from the death that cannot d, Guinevere 66
I, whose vast pity almost makes me d " 534
I waged His wars, and now I pass and d. Pass. of Arthur 12
God my Christ—I pass but shall not d.' " 28
Nor shall see, here or elsewhere, till I d, " 322
I fear My wound hath taken cold, and I shall d.' " 334
I fear it is too late, and I shall d.' " 348
Where all of high and holy d's away. To the Queen ii 66
To d in gazing on that perfectness Lover's Tale i 88
And cannot d, and am, in having been— " 121
I died then, I had not seem'd to d, " 494
Love would d when Hope was gone, " 818
I seem'd to faint and fall, To fall and d away. " ii 97
What did he then? not d: he is here and hale— " iv 40
And leave him in the public way to d. " 261 if I d o' my lying in! First Quarrel 70
I kiss'd my boy in the prison, before he went out to d. Rizpah 23
'My lass, when I cooms to d, North. Cobbler 103
For to fight is but to d! The Revenge 27
We d—does it matter when? " 88
With a joyful spirit I Sir Richard Grenville d!' " 103
I am sure that some of our children would d In the Child. Hosp. 11 every man d at his post!' (repeat) Def. of Lucknow 10, 13, 52 Kill or be kill'd, live or d, " 41
I am not like to d for lack of bread. Sir J. Oldcastle 205
I woke, and thought—death—I shall d— Columbus 87 would rush on a thousand lances and d— V. of Maeldune 24 Nobly to do, nobly to d. Tiresias 123
The child that I felt I could d for— The Wreck 36
I would fling myself over and d! " 118 no souls—and to d with the brute— Despair 36
we were used to believe everlasting would d: " 54
If every man d for ever, " 82
With him, where summer never d's, with Love, The Flight 44
I will wander till I d about the barren moors. " 56 war will d out late then. Locksley H., Sixty 173 gallant three hundred whose glory will never d— Heavy Brigade 10 for evermore. Let the people d.' Dead Prophet 4 Catullus, whose dead songster never d's; Poets and their B. 8 Thine is it that our drama did not d, To W. C. Macready 9 why The sons before the fathers d, To Marq. of Dufferin 47
And all the Shadow d into the Light, Demeter and P. 138
Do not d with a lie in your mouth, Forlorn 57
No—you will not d before, " 61 Tell him all before you d, Lest you d for ever . . . " 75 would he live and d alone? Happy 5 d with him side by side? " 8
I will live and d with you. " 108
They lose themselves and d On that new life Prog. of Spring 35 king who loved me, And cannot d; Merlin and the G. 80
And can no longer, But d rejoicing, " 112
To win her back before I d— Romney's R. 118 Go back to thine adulteress and d!' Death of Œnone 48 his dying words, Which would not d, St. Telemachus 76 Form, be ready to do or d! Rifleмen form! 22 beggar began to cry 'Food, food or I d'! Voice spake, etc. 6 Died D round the bulbul as he sung; Arabian Nights 70

Died (continued) Singing in her song she d, L. of Shalott iv 35
D the sound of royal cheer; " 48
'His face, that two hours since hath d; Two Voices 242
She d: she went to burning flame: The Sisters 7 desire is but to pass to Him that d for me. May Queen, Con. 20
The dim red morn had d, D. of F. Women 61
Many drew swords and d. " 95
Myself for such a face had boldly d,' " 98 Contented there to d! 'And there he d: " 152
'I d a Queen. The Roman soldier found Me " 161 her that d To save her father's vow; " 195
To whom the Egyptian; 'O, you tamely d! " 258
And when the zoning eve has d On a Mourner 21
And on the mere the wailing d away. M. d'Arthur 272
Danced into light, and d into the shade; Gardener's D. 203
Had once hard words, and parted, and he d Dora 18 and in harvest time he d. " 55 when William d, he d at peace With all men; " 144 like endless welcome, lived and d. Love and Duty 68
The twilight d into the dark. Day-Dm., Depart. 24 Or stow'd, when classic Canning d, Will Water. 101 old Earl's daughter d at my breast; Lady Clare 25
Then before her time she d. L. of Burleigh 88
Then the music touch'd the gates and d: Vision of Sin 23
When the years have d away.' Poet's Song 16
And that mysterious instinct wholly d. Enoch Arden 526 Surely the man had d of solitude. " 621 tell her that I d Blessing her, praying for her, " 878 And tell my son that I d blessing him. " 885 he d at Florence, quite worn out, The Brook 35 knolls That dimpling d into each other, Aylmer's Field 149 scandals that have lived and d, " 443
Remembering her dear Lord who d for all, Sea Dreams 47
(I thought I could have d to save it) " 134 a low musical note Swell'd up and d; " 211 the first embrace had d Between them, Lucretius 3 laid about them at their wills and d; Princess, Pro. 31 teaching him that d Of hemlock; our device; " iii 302 her heart Would rock the snowy cradle till I d. " iv 104 Better have d and spilt our bones in the flood— " 532
My dream had never d or lived again. " vi 17
Ida has a heart'—just ere she d— " 235 and d Of fright in far apartments. " 370
And he d, and I could not weep— Grandmother 72
God's will that I, too, then could have d: " 73 an' 'e d a good 'un, 'e did. N. Farmer, N. S. 52
So thick they d the people cried, The Victim 5
And cattle d, and deer in wood, " 18
That holy Death ere Arthur d In Mem. lxxx 2
And He that d in Holy Land " lxxxiv 42
'The dawn, the dawn,' and d away; " xcv 61
So many a summer since she d, Maud I vi 66 Whose old grandfather has lately d, " x 5 past in bridal white, And d to live, " xviii 66
Aurelius lived and fought and d, And after him King Uther fought and d, Com. of Arthur 13 King Uther d himself, Moaning and wailing " 206 the savage yells Of Uther's peerage d, " 257 D but of late, and sent his cry to me, " 361 served about the King, Uther, before he d; " 366 some she cleaved to, but they d of her. Gareth and L. 113 King Who lived and d for men, " 383 but, overtaken, d the death Themselves Geraint and E. 177
So d Earl Doorm by him he counted dead, " 730 and the spiteful whisper d: " 958 when he d, his soul Became a Fiend, Balin and Balan 128
The whole day d, but, dying, gleam'd " 314
'I hold them happy, so they d for love: " 581
I that fain had d To save thy life, " 599
My father d in battle against the King, Merlin and V. 42
My father d in battle for thy King, " 72
One child they had: it lived with her: she d: " 716 while his anger slowly d Within him, " 891 better have d Thrice than have ask'd it once— " 918 the living smile D from his lips, Lancelot and E. 324

Died (continued) d the death In any knightly fashion Lancelot and E. 870
Then take the little bed on which I d " 1117
And closed the hand upon it, and she d. " 1135
I dreamt the damsel would have d, " 1305 this she would not, and she d.' " 1325
From Camelot, there, and not long after, d. Holy Grail 7 ere the summer when he d, " 16
The rosy quiverings d into the night. " 123
And all talk d, as in a grove all song Pelleas and E. 607
'My churl, for whom Christ d, Last Tournament 62 and he d, Kill'd in a tilt, Guinevere 320 till in time their Abbess d. " 692
My dead, as tho' they had not d for me?— Pass. of Arthur 142
And on the mere the wailing d away. " 440
Trust me, long ago I should have d, Lover's Tale i 87
I had d, But from my farthest lapse, " 89
Before he saw my day my father d, " 191
Had I d then, I had not seem'd to die, " 494
Had I d then, I had not known the death; " 496
So d that hour, and fell into the abysm " 796
So that hour d Like odouf rapt " 800
Had d almost to serve them any way, " iv 124
His master would not wait until he d, " 259
An' I almost d o' your going away, First Quarrel 54
And he fell upon their decks, and he d. The Revenge 104
She d and she was buried ere we knew. Sisters (E. and E.) 241 my darter es d o' the fever at fall: Village Wife 10
But arter she d we was all es one, " 55 each of them liefer had d than have done V. of Maeldune 6 and the harvest d from the field, " 30 twelve of their noblest d Among their spears Achilles over the T. 32 prayer for a soul that d in his sin, The Wreck 10
But it d, and I thought of the child " 84 perhaps, perhaps, if we d, if we d; Despair 56 dead the cause in which he d. Locksley H., Sixty 30 Rain-rotten d the wheat, Demeter and P. 112
d in the doing it, flesh without mind; Vastness 27 till Self d out in the love of his kind; " 28 she did not grow, she d. Romney's R. 105 happy had I d within thine arms, Death of Œnone 31
In the great name of Him who d for men, St. Telemachus 63
An' it beäts ma to knaw wot she d on, Church-warden, etc. 6
he was crush'd in a moment and d, Charity 21
She d of a fever caught when a nurse " 41 Diest if thou d, The King is King, Com. of Arthur 494 two things shalt thou do, or else thou d. Marr. of Geraint 580 Diet D and seedling, jesses, leash and lure. Merlin and V. 125
As if they knew your d spares To E. Fitzgerald 10 Differ Or do my peptics d? Will Water. 80 men at most d as Heaven and earth, Merlin and V. 814 Difference When thy peculiar d Is cancell'd Two Voices 41 Might I not tell Of d, reconcilement, Gardener's D. 257 girl and boy, Sir, know their d's!' Aylmer's Field 274 when some heat of d sparkled out, " 705
That have as many d's as we. Princess v 181
To cleave the rift of d deeper yet; " 301
Not like to like, but like in d. " vii 278
Ay me, the d I discern! In Mem. xl 21
Hearing he had a d with their priests, Holy Grail 674
Difficulty in days of d And pressure, had she sold Enoch Arden 254
With d in mild obedience Driving them on: Geraint and E. 104
Diffuse D thyself at will thro' all my blood, Prog. of Spring 24
Diffused Thy God is far d in noble groves Aylmer's Field 653
D the shock thro' all my life, In Mem. lxxxv 55
D and molten into flaky cloud. Lover's Tale i 641
Diffusing A central warmth d bliss In Mem. lxxxiv 6
Dig builds the house, or d's the grave, " xxxvi 14
d, pick, open, find and read the charm: Merlin and V. 660
I can't d deep, I am old— Rizpah 56
Digg'd An' 'e d up a loomp i' the land Village Wife 48
Diggin' last month they wor d the bog, Tomorrow 61
Digging See Diggin', Half-digging
Dignity maiden dignities of Hope and Love— Lover's Tale i 580
Dilate in a day, A joyous to d, as toward the light. Aylmer's Field 77
That now d, and now decrease, In Mem. xxviii 10

Dilating wind of prophecy D on the future; Princess ii 172
Dilation her eye with slow d roll'd Dry flame, " vi 189
Dilettante snowy-banded, d, Delicate-handed Maud I viii 10
Dim (adj.) eyes are d with glorious tears, Two Voices 151
About him broods the twilight d: " 263
My heart is breaking, and my eyes are d, Œnone 32 eyes grown d with gazing on the pilot-stars. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 87
Till all the paths were d, Talking Oak 298
He saw not far: his eyes were d: The Voyage 75
Perhaps her eye was d, hand tremulous; Enoch Arden 242
We sung, tho' every eye was d, In Mem. xxx 14
Is d, or will be d, with weeds: " lxxiii 10
I remain'd, whose hopes were d, " lxxxv 29
Thou watches't all things ever d And dimmer, " cxxi 3 Myself would work eye d, Marr. of Geraint 628 the hall was d with steam of flesh: Geraint and E. 603 and d thro' leaves Blinkt the white morn, Balin and Balan 384
So strange, and rich, and d; Holy Grail 342 these eyes of men are dense and d, Pass. of Arthur 19 and mine Were d with floating tears, Lover's Tale i 442 Dim (verb) work in hues to d The Titianic Flora. Gardener's D. 170 Dim-gray Now and then in the d-g dawn; Maud I xiv 32
Diminutive In babyisms, and dear d's, Aylmer's Field 539
Dim-lit while he past the d-l woods, Guinevere 251 Dimm'd broad valley d in the gloaming: Leonine Eleg. 1 thro' the cloud that d her broke Princess vi 281 trust in things above Be d of sorrow, In Mem. lxxxv 10 and the sorrow d her sight, Lancelot and E. 889
Thy glorious eyes were d with pain Freedom 10
Dimmer all things ever dim And d, In Mem. cxxi 4
Dimness o'er it crost the d of a cloud Floating, Pelleas and E. 37
Dimple Till the lightning laughters d Lilian 16
Or d in the dark of rushy coves, Ode to Memory 60
That d's your transparent cheek, Margaret 15
Dimpled laughter d in his swarthy cheek; Edwin Morris 61
Dimpling knolls That d died into each other, Aylmer's Field 149
Upon the dappled d's of the wave, Lover's Tale i 44 Dim Saesneg with his hard 'D S' passes, Sir J. Oldcastle 21
Dim-yellow With her fair head in the d-y light, Marr. of Geraint 600
Din From the groves within The wild-bird's d. Poet's Mind 21
The dust and d and steam of town: In Mem. lxxxix 8
But when the heart is full of d, " xciv 13 for me that sicken at your lawless d, Locksley H., Sixty 149 Dine You'll have no scandal while you d, To F. D. Maurice 17 shall we fast, or d? Geraint and E. 490 an' we be a-goin to d, North. Cobbler 111 Dinner (See also After-dinner) with the steam Of thirty thousand d's. Will Water. 224
hark the bell For d, let us go!' Princess i 433
A grand political d To half the squirelings Maud I xx 25
A grand political d To the men of many acres, " 31
A d and then a dance For the maids " 34
Man with his brotherless d The Dawn 3
Dinnerless when I left your mowers d. Geraint and E. 234
The lusty mowers labouring d, " 251
Dint Sharp-smitten with the d of armed heels— M. d'Arthur 190 every d a sword had beaten in it, Lancelot and E. 19
Sharp-smitten with the d of armed heels— Pass. of Arthur 358
Dinted and crush'd, and d into the ground: Maud I i 7 his strong hands gript And d the gilt dragons Last Tournament 182 Diotima beneath an emerald plane Sits D, Princess iii 302
Dip (s) the last d of the vanishing sail Enoch Arden 245
The d of certain strata to the North. Princess iii 170
Dip (verb) the prime swallow d's his wing, Edwin Morris 145 and d's Her laurel in the wine, Will Water. 17
D forward under starry light, Move eastward 10 d Their wings in tears, and skim away. In Mem. xlviii 15 D down upon the northern shore, " lxxxiii 1 and d's and springs For ever; Gareth and L. 1146 these low bushes d their twigs in foam, Prog. of Spring 51
Dippest And d toward the dreamless head, In Mem. xxxix 5 Dipping d his head low beneath the verge, Lover's Tale i 509 ships from out the West go d thro' the foam, The Flight 91
Dipt (See also Half-dipt) the sky D down to sea and sands. Palace of Art 32

Dipt (continued) But ere he d the surface, rose an arm M. d'Arthur 143
d, And mix'd with shadows of the common ground! Gardener's D. 134 one green sparkle ever and anon D by itself, Audley Court 89
d and rose, And turn'd to look at her. Talking Oak 131
When I d into the future (repeat) Locksley Hall 15, 119 with her d Against the rush of the air Aylmer's Field 85
d in all That treats of whatsoever is, Princess ii 379 and d Beneath the satin dome and enter'd in, " iv 30 a dearer being, all d In Angel instincts, " vii 320
I sleep till dusk is d in gray: In Mem. lxvii 12
And d in baths of hissing tears, " cxviii 23
Beneath a low door d, and made his feet Balin and Balan 403
Sparkle, until they d below the downs. Lancelot and E. 396
But ere he d the surface, rose an arm Pass. of Arthur 311 till the labourless day d under the West; V. of Maeldune 86 son, who d In some forgotten book of mine To E. Fitzgerald 46 dark hull d under the smiling main, The Wreck 127 never yet hath d into the abysm, Ancient Sage 39
we d down under the bridge Bandit's Death 22 Broke the Taboo, D to the crater, Kapiolani 31 Dirce who found Beside the springs of D, Tiresias 14 and the springs Of D laving yonder battle-plain, " 139 Direct Now over and now under, now d, Lucretius 62
Dirt these, tho' fed with careful d, Amphion 89 Disappear earth yawns: the mortal d's; Ode on Well. 269 and as the phantom d's, Locksley H., Sixty 253
Disappear'd the whole fair city had d. Gareth and L. 196
And up the rocky pathway d, Geraint and E. 243 cup Was caught away to Heaven, and d.' Holy Grail 58 as he spoke Fell into dust, and d, " 436
Became a shadow, sank and d, Death of Œnone 50
Disarm'd The proud was half d of pride, In Mem. cx 6
Who let him into lodging and d. Lancelot and E. 171
Thither I made, and there was I d. Holy Grail 575
Disarray Drove it in wild d, Heavy Brigade 60
Disarray'd found, Half d as to her rest, Marr. of Geraint 516
Disaster all d unto thine and thee! Gareth and L. 1101
Disband bidding him D himself, and scatter Geraint and E. 798
Discaged Until she let me fly d to sweep Gareth and L. 20 Discern d The roofs Of Sumner-place! (repeat) Talking Oak 31, 95, 151 till thy bough d The front of Sumner-place. " 247 Till a gateway she d's With armorial bearings L. of Burleigh 42
Ay me, the difference I d! In Mem. xl 21
I wake, and I d the truth; " lxviii 14
Discerned into my inmost ring A pleasure I d, Talking Oak 174
Discerning d to fulfil This labour, Ulysses 35
Disciple and yet Was no d, richly garb'd, Ancient Sage 4
Disclaim'd each D all knowledge of us: Princess iv 229
Disclosed D a fruit of pure Hesperian gold, Œnone 66 Discomfort this d he hath done the house.' Lancelot and E. 1072 blew my merry maidens all about With all d; Holy Grail 749 Disconsolate On the nigh-naked tree the robin piped D, Enoch Arden 677
Discontent lent The pulse of hope to d. Two Voices 450
She look'd with d. Talking Oak 116 muttering d Cursed me and my flower. The Flower 7 Discord soul Of D race the rising wind; Love thou thy land 68 too like The d's dear to the musician. Sea Dreams 258
A monster then, a dream, A d. In Mem. lvi 22
Discordance no d in the roll And march D. of the Duke of C. 14
Discouraged I grew d, Sir; but since I knew Princess iii 153 Discourse In such d we gain'd the garden rails, " Con. 80
Discourtesy 'Meseems, that here is much d, Gareth and L. 853
I pray you, use some rough d Lancelot and E. 973
This was the one d that he used. " 988 some d Against my nature: " 1302
Discover'd All precious things, d late, Day-Dm., Arrival 1
Discoverer The first d starves—his followers, Columbus 166
Discovery For the d And newness of thine art Ode to Memory 87
Discredit heaven, how much I shall d him! Marr. of Geraint 621 Far liefer than so much d him.' " 629
Discuss We might d the Northern sin To F. D. Maurice 29
Discuss'd d the farm, The fourfield system, Audley Court 33
D his tutor, rough to common men, Princess, Pro. 114
D a doubt and tost it to and fro: " ii 445
D the books to love or hate, In Mem. lxxxix 34

Discussing D how their courtship grew, In Mem., Con. 97
Discussion That from D's lip may fall With Love thou thy land 33 Disdain (See also Half-disdain) And my d is my reply. L. C. V. de Vere 22 with some d Answer'd the Princess, Princess iv 61
With some surprise and thrice as much d Turn'd, Marr. of Geraint 557 not with half d Hid under grace, Lancelot and E. 263
Sir Lancelot leant, in half d At love, " 1238
Disdain'd if the Queen d to grant it! Balin and Balan 191 Tolerant of what he half d, and she, Perceiving that she was but half d, Merlin and V. 178 Disease (See also Heart-disease, Mock-disease) But sickening of a vague d, L. C. V. de Vere 62 wretched age—and worst d of all, Lucretius 155
Ring out old shapes of foul d; In Mem. cvi 25
A d, a hard mechanic ghost That never came Maud II ii 34
She like a new d, unknown to men, Guinevere 518 and the loathsome smells of d In the Child. Hosp. 25
I'd sooner fold an icy corpse dead of some foul d: The Flight 54
Some thro' age and slow d's, Locksley H., Sixty 46
All d's quench'd by Science, " 163 mar the beauty of your bride with your d. Happy 24 Diseased (See also Half-diseased) But ours he swore were all d. The Voyage 76
The land is sick, the people d, The Victim 45
You thought my heart too far d; In Mem. lxvi 1
Disedge served a little to d The sharpness Geraint and E. 189
But here will I d it by thy death.' Pelleas and E. 578
Disembark'd touching Breton sands, they d. Merlin and V. 202
Disengage I strove to d myself, but fail'd, Lover's Tale i 692
Disentwined My coronal slowly d itself " 361 Disfame See Half-disfame.
Disgraäced (disgraced) I'd feäl mysen cleän d. North. Cobbler 102 black Sal, es 'ed been d? Spinster's S's. 25 Disgrace Alone might hint of my d; Two Voices 360 lying, hidden from the heart's d, Locksley Hall 57 why, the greater their d! Aylmer's Field 384 Heap'd on her terms of d, Maud II i 14 an' often at home in d, First Quarrel 15
If you should only compass her d, The Fleet 17
Disgraced (See also Disgraäced) Memmian naphtha-pits, d For ever— Alexander 1 d, Dishonour'd all for trial of true love— Pelleas and E. 474 Disguise common light of smiles at our d Princess v 276
Disguised thou shalt go d to Arthur's hall, Gareth and L. 152
For hence will I, d, and hire myself " 169
Thou art so well d, I knew thee not. Sir J. Oldcastle 197
Dish harpies miring every d, Lucretius 159
And those that hand the d across the bar. Gareth and L. 155 Think ye this fellow will poison the King's d? " 471 thrust the d before her, crying, 'Eat.' Geraint and E. 655
Dishallow 'Ye, that so d the holy sleep, Pelleas and E. 446
Dishelm'd she saw me lying stark, D and mute, Princess vi 101
Dishonour Doing d to my clay.' Two Voices 102 Becomes d to her race— " 255
So loathed the bright d of his love, Com. of Arthur 195
His honour rooted in d stood, Lancelot and E. 876 knights At that d done the gilded spur, Last Tournament 435
I was close on that hour of d, Charity 28
Dishonourable 'Ungenerous, d, base, Aylmer's Field 292
Dishonour'd D all for trial of true love— Pelleas and E. 477
Dishorsed each, d and drawing, lash'd at each Marr. of Geraint 563
D himself, and rose again, and fled Balin and Balan 330 Dish-washer D-w and broach-turner, loon!— Gareth and L. 770
Disjoint Nor wielded axe d, Talking Oak 262
Disjointed Descended, and d it at a blow: Balin and Balan 296 Disk studded wide With d's and tiars, Arabian Nights 64
Ray round with flames her d of seed, In Mem. ci 6 flight of shadowy fighters crost The d, St. Telemachus 24 Dislink'd D with shrieks and laughter: Princess, Pro. 70
But she d herself at once and rose, Merlin and V. 909
Dislodging heroes tall D pinnacle and parapet D. of F. Women 26
Dismay were the words Mutter'd in our d; Heavy Brigade 47
Dismay'd Was there a man d? Light Brigade 10 we turn'd to each other, whispering, all d, Heavy Brigade 44
Dismember May never saw d thee, Talking Oak 261

Dismiss D me, and I prophesy your plan, Princess iv 354
Your oath is broken: we d you: „ 360
Dismissal She spoke, and bowing waved D: „ ii 100
Dismiss'd d in shame to live No wiser than their mothers, „ iv 513
Dismount d and loose their casques Balin and Balan 573
Dismounting d like a man That skins the wild beast Geraint and E. 92
Geraint, d, pick'd the lance That pleased him „ 179
d on the sward They let the horses graze, „ 210 at his side all pale D, loosed the fastenings „ 511
Disobey deep harm to d, Seeing obedience is the bond of rule. M. d'Arthur 93
I needs must d him for his good; Geraint and E. 135
Then not to d her lord's behest, „ 450
Deep harm to d, Seeing obedience is the bond of rule. Pass. of Arthur 261 Disorderly D the women. Alone I stood Princess iv 170 from the high door streaming, brake D, Lancelot and E. 1348 Disparagement with some prelude of d, Read, The Epic 49
Flush'd slightly at the slight d Lancelot and E. 234
With silent smiles of slow d; Guinevere 14
Dispassionate Quiet, d, and cold, A Character 28
Dispatch Delivering sealed d'es which the Head Princess iv 379
Dispell'd I loved, and love d the fear Miller's D. 89
Dispense D with careful hands: Mechanophilus 34
Dispenser drowsy hours, d's of all good, Gardener's D. 185
Dispensing D harvest, sowing the To-be, Princess vii 289
Dispersed made a plunge To the bottom, and d, Enoch Arden 380
D his resolution like a cloud. Lancelot and E. 884 Displaced If this false traitor have d his lord, Guinevere 216 Display to d A tunic white as May! Prog. of Spring 64
Display'd D a splendid silk of foreign loom, Geraint and E. 687 Dispraise In praise and in d the same, Ode on Well. 73 hissing d Because their natures are little, Maud I iv 52
Dispread See Wide-dispread
Disprinced one rag, d from head to heel. Princess v 30
Disproof as he was To make d of scorn, Aylmer's Field 446
Disproven nothing worthy proving can be proven, Nor yet d: Ancient Sage 67 Dispute (s) breed D betwixt myself and mine: Princess i 157 for she took no part In our d: „ Con. 30
Or deep d, and graceful jest; In Mem. lxxxiv 24 Dispute (verb) D the claims, arrange the chances; To F. D. Maurice 31
Disquiet But long d merged in rest. Two Voices 249
Disrelish Why should I so d that short word? Romney's R. 11
Disrobed If gazing on divinity d Œnone 157
D the glimmering statue of Sir Ralph Princess, Con. 117
Disrooted (See also Half-disrooted) Whate'er I was D, what I am is grafted here. „ ii 220
Disruption sought To make d in the Table Round Guinevere 17
Dissecting wayward modern mind D passion. Edwin Morris 88
Dissembling Fright and foul d, Forlorn 32
Dissipated shrink For fear our solid aim be d, Princess iii 266
Dissoluble Gods Being atomic not be d, Lucretius 115
Dissolution clench their nerves to rush Upon their d, Love and Duty 78
Dissolve d the previous seal on a bond, Maud I xix 45 Dissolved D the riddle of the earth. Two Voices 170 d the mystery Of folded sleep. D. of F. Women 262 now the whole ROUND TABLE is d M. d'Arthur 234 thereat the crowd Muttering, d: Princess iv 523 now the whole Round Table is d Pass. of Arthur 402 Dissolving See Half-dissolving
Dissolvingly to all my frame, D and slowly: Eleänore 132
Distance mountain Which stands in the d yonder: Poet's Mind 30
Some blue peaks in the d rose, Dying Swan 11 such a d from his youth in grief, Gardener's D. 54 in the d overlooks the sandy tracts, Locksley Hall 5
And a song from out the d „ 84
Not in vain the d beacons. „ 181 and shows At d like a little wood; Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 42
A trumpet in the d pealing news Of better, Princess iv 81 deals with the other d and the hues Of promise; „ 86 but Blanche At d follow'd: „ vi 83 a day Rose from the d on her memory, „ 112 and broken system made No purple in the d, „ 196
And see the sails at d rise, In Mem. xii 11
Distance (continued) The purple from the d dies, In Mem. xxxviii 3
O, from the d of the abyss „ xciii 11
The d takes a lovelier hue, „ cxv 6
That out of d might ensue „ cxvii 5 or like a clamour of the rocks At d, Marr. of Geraint 250 drumming thunder of the huger fall At d, Geraint and E. 174 warmth of Arthur's hall Shadow'd an angry d: Balin and Balan 237 sound As from a d beyond d grew Holy Grail 112 and set me far In the gray d, Last Tournament 640
Heaven Will blow the tempest in the d back To the Queen II 47
And heralded the d of this time! Lover's Tale i 562 that same nearness Were father to this d, „ ii 29 in the d, From out the yellow woods upon the hill „ 79
And voices in the d calling to me „ 118 and murmur down Truth in the d— Columbus 120
Are there thunders moaning in the d? On Jub. Q. Victoria 66
Thro' the gates that bar the d comes a gleam Faith 6 Distant in her throat Her voice seem'd d, To J. S. 55 cry came to her from the field, More and more d. Dora 105 Distill'd D from some worm-canker'd homily; To J. M. K. 6 hoard of happiness d Some drops of solace; Lover's Tale i 714
Distilling D odours on me as they went Gardener's D. 187 Distinct D with vivid stars inlaid, Arabian Nights 90
D in individualities, Princess vii 291
Distress flow Of subtle-paced counsel in d Isabel 21
Small thought was there of life's d; Ode to Memory 37
And utterly consumed with sharp d, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 13 then d'es came on him; Dora 49
Who show'd a token of d? In Mem. lxxviii 13
No limit to his d; Maud II v 31
Distribute Walk your dim cloister, and d dole Guinevere 683
Distrust See Self-distrust
Disturb 'Woman, d me not now at the last, Enoch Arden 874 Disturb'd D me with the doubt 'if this were she,' Princess iv 217 one glittering foot d The lucid well; Tiresias 41
Disyoke D their necks from custom, Princess ii 143 Ditch cannot see for slime, Slime of the d: Holy Grail 772 from the d where they shelter we drive them Def. of Lucknow 59 Dive they shall d, and they shall run, Locksley Hall 169
Or d below the wells of Death? In Mem. cviii 8 or d's In yonder greening gleam, „ cxv 13 made him quickly d Beneath the boughs, Balin and Balan 422 wilt d Into the Temple-cave of thine own self, Ancient Sage 31
Dived I D in a hoard of tales that dealt with knights, Princess, Pro. 29
Diver See Marsh-diver
Diverse woman is not undevelopt man, But d: „ vii 276
Dives When D loathed the times, To Mary Boyle 29
Divide God d the night with flying flame, D. of F. Women 225 these two parties still d the world— Walk. to the Mail 77 shell D's threefold to show the fruit (repeat) The Brook 73, 208 Eternal form shall still d The eternal soul In Mem. xlvii 6 D us not, be with me now, „ cxxii 10 shriek of a mother d the shuddering night. Maud I i 16
She seem'd to d in a dream „ III vi 10
Could scarce d it from her foolish dream: Marr. of Geraint 686 Divided d quite The kingdom of her thought. Palace of Art 227
D in a graceful quiet—paused, Gardener's D. 156 a walk Of shingle, and a walk d it: Enoch Arden 737 nor was his love the less Because it was d, Lover's Tale i 229
d as I am From either by the stillness Sisters (E. and E.) 281
The barrier that d beast from man St. Telemachus 60
Dividend chances of d, consol, and share— The Wreck 30 Dividing d the swift mind, In act to throw; M. d'Arthur 60 the crowd d clove An advent to the throne: Princess iv 283
d the swift mind, In act to throw; Pass. of Arthur 228 Divil (devil) blessed feälds wi' the d's oän teäm. N. Farmer, O. S. 62 an' 'e's the D's oän sen.' North. Cobbler 76 the D's in 'im,' said I. „ 104
'The D take all the black lan', Tomorrow 64
Divine (adj.) (See also Half-divine) Scarce of earth nor all d, Adeline 3
You are not less d, Margaret 46
Apart the Chamian Oracle d Alexander 10
I think, That my youth was half d. Vision of Sin 78
Left by the Teacher, whom he held d. Lucretius 13
Love by right d is deathless king, W. to Marie Alex. 29

Divine (adj.) (continued) Thou seemest human and d, In Mem., Pro. 13
To count their memories half d; xc 12 Known and unknown; human, d; „ cxxix 5 not learnable, d, Beyond my reach. Balin and Balan 175 see the highest Human Nature is d. Locksley H., Sixty 276 creature which in Eden was d, Happy 33
she the faultless, the d; Locksley H., Sixty 5
Divine (verb) A deeper tale my heart d's. Two Voices 269
Nor the meaning can d, L. of Burleigh 54
She is not of us, as I d; Maud II v 69
Divinely D thro' all hindrance finds the man Lancelot and E. 333
Some warning—sent d—as it seem'd Lover's Tale iv 21
Divinity the dull Saw no d in grass, A Character 8
If gazing on d disrobed Thy mortal eyes Œnone 157 lift the woman's fall'n d Upon an even pedestal Princess iii 223 Division in d of the records of the mind? Locksley Hall 69
'betwixt these two D smoulders hidden; Princess iii 79
Are they not sign and symbol of thy d from Him? High. Pantheism 6
Made strange d of its suffering With her, Lover's Tale ii 128 Divorce D the Feeling from her mate the Deed. The Brook 95 d thee not From earthly love and life— Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 3 Divorced I prophesy your plan, D from my experience, Princess iv 355 can I breathe d from the Past? Despair 113
Do 'Ye d it to me, when ye d it to these'? In the Child. Hosp. 26
Doat sisters That d upon each other, To ——. With Pal. of Art 11
A heart that d's on truer charms. L. C. V. de Vere 14 if the blossom can d on the blight, The Wreck 19 eye, that only d's On outward beauty, The Ring 163 and d's On this of yours.' „ 358
Dock'd For which his gains were d, Sea Dreams 7 Doctor lilted out By violet-hooded D's, Princess ii 376 then the D's! O to hear The D's! „ 421
'Here's a leg for a babe of a week!' says d; Grandmother 11 whoy, D's abeän an' agoän; N. Farmer, O. S. 2
D's, they knaws nowt, „ 5
D's a 'toättler, lass, „ 66
I weänt breäk rules fur D, „ 67
D, if you can wait, I'll tell you the tale First Quarrel 9
An' D 'e calls o' Sunday North. Cobbler 87
Our d had call'd in another, In the Child. Hosp. 1
—so quiet, our d said 'Poor little dear, „ 41
I walk'd with our kindly old d „ 43
And the d came at his hour, „ 68
Doctrine if we held the d sound In Mem. liii 9
Dodge to d and palter with a public crime? Third of Feb. 24
Dodged He d me with a long and loose account. Sea Dreams 149
Doe Lord Ronald brought a lily-white d Lady Clare 3
The lily-white d Lord Ronald had brought „ 61
And follow'd up by a hundred airy d's, Princess vi 87
Doff'd Until the grave churchwarden d, The Goose 19 cast his lance aside, And d his helm: Geraint and E. 596 Dog (See also Shepherd-dog) I did not hear the d howl, May Queen, Con. 21 mother,
Not less, tho' d's of Faction bay, Love thou thy land 85
At first like dove and dove were cat and d. Walk. to the Mail 58
Something better than his d, Locksley Hall 50
Like a d, he hunts in dreams, „ 79
he strode About the hall, among his d's, Godiva 17
He parted, with great strides among his d's. „ 31
And barking d's, and crowing cocks; Day-Dm., Revival 4
He praised his ploughs, his cows, his hogs, his d's; The Brook 125
My men shall lash you from them like a d; Aylmer's Field 325 the d With inward yelp and restless forefoot Lucretius 44
he had breathed the Proctor's d's; Princess, Pro. 113 swine were sows, and all the d's'— „ i 193 wild d, and wolf and boar and bear Came Com. of Arthur 23
'D, thou liest. I spring from loftier lineage Gareth and L. 960 one of my co-mates Own'd a rough d, „ 1011 a d, am I, To worry, and not to flee— „ 1014 advanced, Each growling like a d, Geraint and E. 559
Vivien, tho' ye beat me like your d, Balin and Balan 582
I better prize The living d than the dead lion: „ 585
There like a d before his master's door! Pelleas and E. 263
Trembled and quiver'd, as the d, „ 284 these Inquisition d's and the devildoms of Spain.' The Revenge 12

Dog (continued) Let us bang these d's of Seville, The Revenge 30 shook 'em off as a d that shakes his ears 54
And mangle the living d that had loved him In the Child. Hosp. 9 and the d couldn't bark. V. of Maeldune 18 they kep the cat an' the d, Tomorrow 71
sweär 'cep' it wur at a d coomin' in, Spinster's S's. 60
Eighty winters leave the d too lame Locksley H., Sixty 226
Fur the d's stoän-deäf, an' e's blind, Owd Roä 2
Roä was the d as knaw'd when an' wheere „ 8
An' the d's was a-yowlin' all round, „ 107
I decreed That even the d was clean, Akbar's Dream 53
He was loved at least by his d: Bandit's Death 35
Dogg'd and d us, and drew me to land? Despair 2
Dogwhip-weals From ear to ear with d-w, Last Tournament 58 Doing See here, my d: Edwin Morris 5 their own d; this is none of mine; St. S. Stylites 123
With all its d's had and had not been, Princess iv 566
No, no, you are d me wrong! First Quarrel 4 died in the d it, flesh without mind; Vastness 27
Dole (mourning) that day there was d in Astolat. Lancelot and E. 1136 Dole (gift) distribute d To poor sick people, Guinevere 683 hath not our great Queen My d of beauty trebled?' Last Tournament 558 Dole (verb) I mete and d Unequal laws Ulysses 3 Domain See World-domain.
Dome (s) (See also Mid-dome) stay'd beneath the d Arabian Nights 41
Of hollow boughs.
stream'd Upon the mooned d's aloof „ 127
Arno, and the d Of Brunelleschi; The Brook 189 and dipt Beneath the satin d Princess iv 31 roll'd Thro' the d of the golden cross; Ode on Well. 61
Save that the d was purple, Gareth and L. 912 fallen every purple Cæsar's d— To Virgil 30 this bare d had not begun to gleam To Mary Boyle 41 roll her North below thy deepening d, Prog. of Spring 49 and men, below the d of azure Kneel Akbar's D., Hymn 7 Dome (verb) d's the red-plow'd hills With loving blue; Early Spring 3 Domed See Deep-domed.
Domestic Many a gallant gay d Bows L. of Burleigh 47
Domine 'Libera me, D!' you sang the Psalm, Happy 49
'Libera nos, D'—you knew not one was there 53
Dominion D in the head and breast.' Two Voices 21
Think I may hold d sweet, Maud I xvi 12
Thro' all the vast d which a sword, Akbar's Dream 14
Don I never turn'd my back upon D or devil yet.' The Revenge 31
Done See Ill-done
Donjon The ruinous d as a knoll of moss, Balin and Balan 334
And if thou keep me in thy d here, Pelleas and E. 242
Donn'd Then as he d the helm, Gareth and L. 690
Donovan's back wid the best he could give at ould D's wake— Tomorrow 42 Doom (s) chord which Hampden smote Will vibrate England and Amer. 20 to the d.
Hard is my d and thine: Love and Duty 54 thunder Roaring out their d; The Captain 42 you have miss'd the irreverent d You might have won 9 in their eyes and faces read his d; Enoch Arden 73 his lonely d Came suddenly to an end. „ 626 like the blast of d, Would shatter all „ 769 the voice that calls D upon kings, Aylmer's Field 742 Announced the coming d, Sea Dreams 22
Boanerges with his threats of d, „ 251 death-blow struck the dateless d of kings, Lucretius 236
But lies and dreads his d. Princess vii 154
Bellowing victory, bellowing d: Ode on Well. 66 thou fulfillest thy d Making him High. Pantheism 9 Fall, and follow their d. Voice and the P. 20
On souls, the lesser lords of d. In Mem. cxii 8
And batter'd with the shocks of d „ cxviii 24
While I rose up against my d, „ cxxii 2
I was cursing them and my d, Maud I xix 51
I embrace the purpose of God, and the d assign'd. „ III vi 59 and striking found his d. Com. of Arthur 325 Arthur said, 'Behold thy d is mine. „ 467 the King Throned, and delivering d— Gareth and L. 321 own false d, That shadow of mistrust Geraint and E. 247
My madness all thy life has been thy d, Balin and Balan 619

Doom (s) (continued) Dark my d was here, and dark It will be Balin and Balan 623 born together, and we die Together by one d:' " 630
A d that ever poised itself to fall, Merlin and V. 191 loved him, with that love which was her d. Lancelot and E. 260 Galahad, when he heard of Merlin's d, Cried, Holy Grail 177 draw me into sanctuary, And bide my d.' Guinevere 122 Pray for him that he scape the d of fire, And weep for her who drew him to his d.' " 347 that I march to meet my d. " 450
The d of treason and the flaming death, " 538 that my d is, I love thee still. " 559
I know not what mysterious d. " 576 became as mist Before her, moving ghostlike to his d. " 605 Ill d is mine To war against my people Pass. of Arthur 70
'My house hath been my d. " 154
On that sharp ridge of utmost d ride Lover's Tale i 805 whose issue was their d, Tiresias 65 echo shall not tongue thy glorious d, " 136 uncall'd, between me and the deep and my d, Despair 5 Demos end in working its own d. Locksley H., Sixty 114 for man can half-control his d " 277 at the doubtful d of human kind; " To Virgil 24 the dead, who wait the d of Hell Romney's R. 132 Doom (verb) King will d me when I speak.' Gareth and L. 324 Doom'd D them to the lash. The Captain 12 kings of old had d thee to the flames, Gareth and L. 374
d to be the bride of Night and Death; " 1396
Who rose and d me to the fire. Sir J. Oldcastle 172
And d to burn alive. " 183
Fell the shipcrews D to the death. Batt. of Brunanburh 23
Drew to this island: D to the death. " 51
Doomsday as grand as d and as grave: Princess i 187
To and thro' the D fire, Helen's Tower 10
Doon (Bonny) See Bonny Doon.
Door (See also Chamber-door, Chapel-door, Chaumber door, Dovecote-doors, Shrine-doors, Tavern-door) Oh! vanity! Death waits at the d. All Things will Die 17
The d's upon their hinges creak'd; Mariana 62
Old faces glimmer'd thro' the d's, " 66
The costly d's flung open wide, Arabian Nights 17 Right to the carven cedarn d's, " 115 poplars four That stand beside my father's d, Ode to Memory 57 Leaving d and windows wide: Deserted House 3
And no murmur at the d, " 7
Close the d, the shutters close, " 9
An image seem'd to pass the d, (repeat) Mariana in the S. 65, 74
The very air about the d Made misty Miller's D. 103
As near this d you sat apart, " 158
The guilt of blood is at your d: L. C. V. de Vere 43 carried out from the threshold of the d; May Queen, N. Y's. E. 42 thro' the d Hearing the holy organ D. of F. Women 190 standeth there alone, And waiteth at the d. D. of the O. Year 51 a new face at the d, my friend, A new face at the d. " 53 thro' mine own d's Death did pass; To J. S. 19
There strode a stranger to the d, (repeat) The Goose 3, 39
d's that bar The secret bridal chambers of the heart, Gardener's D. 248
And never more darken my d's again.' Dora 32
The d was off the latch: they peep'd, " 130 whined in lobbies, tapt at d's, Walk. to the Mail 37
I say, that time is at the d's St. S. Stylites 192
This same grand year is ever at the d's.' Golden Year 74
Every d is barr'd with gold, Locksley Hall 100 all Should keep within, d shut, Godiva 41
And feet that ran, and d's that clapt, Day-Dm., Revival 3
He lifts me to the golden d's; St. Agnes' Eve 25
The stalls are void, the d's are wide, Sir Galahad 31
One fix'd for ever at the d, Will Water. 143 gay domestic Bows before him at the d. L. of Burleigh 48 Paused for a moment at an inner d, Enoch Arden 278 there At Annie's d he paused and gave his hand, " 447 when they follow'd us from Philip's d, The Brook 167
A lily-avenue climbing to the d's; Aylmer's Field 162 Withdrawing by the counter d " 282

Door (continued) should I find you by my d's again, Aylmer's Field 324 till he heard the ponderous d Close, " 337 month by month the noise about their d's, " 488 oaken finials till he touch'd the d; " 823 jam the d's, and bear The keepers down, Lucretius 169 stood that same fair creature at the d. Princess ii 329 call'd For Psyche's child to cast it from the d's; " iv 238 came a little stir About the d's, " 374
I will go and sit beside the d's, " v 96
He batter'd at the d's; none came: " 337 one glance he caught Thro' open d's of Ida " 343
'Fling our d's wide! all, all, " vi 334 bare Straight to the d's: to them the d's " 349 long-laid galleries past a hundred d's " 375 roll the torrent out of dusky d's: " vii 208
Thy name was blest within the narrow d; W. to Marie Alex. 38
Often they come to the d Grandmother 82
D's, where my heart was used to beat In Mem. vii 3
I creep At earliest morning to the d. " 8 as if a d Were shut between me and the sound: " xxviii 7 Shall enter in at lowly d's. " xxxvi 8
They chatter'd trifles at the d: " lxix 4 crowds that stream from yawning d's, " lxx 9 Another name was on the d: " lxxxvii 17
From out the d's where I was bred, " ciii 2
D's, where my heart was used to beat " cxix 1
Thou listenest to the closing d, " cxxi 7
And touch with shade the bridal d's, " Con. 117 Look, a horse at the d, Maud I xii 29 even then I heard her close the d, " xviii 11 Did he stand at the diamond d " II ii 16
Modred laid his ear beside the d's, Com. of Arthur 323 shone the fields of May thro' open d, " 460 Ate with young lads his portion by the d, Gareth and L. 480 saw without the d King Arthur's gift, " 676 so Sir Kay beside the d Mutter'd in scorn " 705 broken into Thro' open d's and hospitality; Marr. of Geraint 456 Glanced at the d's or gambol'd down " 665 d, Push'd from without, drave backward Geraint and E. 272 thought she heard the wild Earl at the d, " 381
A walk of roses ran from d to d; Balin and Balan 242
And all in shadow from the counter d " 246 Beneath a low d dipt, and made his feet " 403 found a d, And darkling felt the sculptured ornament Merlin and V. 733 and entering barr'd her d, Lancelot and E. 15 guide me to that palace, to the d's.' " 1129
There two stood arm'd, and kept the d; " 1247 rose And pointed to the damsel, and the d's. " 1263 lords and dames And people, from the high d streaming, " 1347 behold a woman at a d Spinning; Holy Grail 391 against the chapel d Laid lance, and enter'd, " 459 Pass not from d to d and out again, " 714 at the last I reach'd a d, " 837 in my madness I essay'd the d; " 841 the high d's Were softly sunder'd, Pelleas and E. 3 Unbind him now, And thrust him out of d's; " 257
There like a dog before his master's d! " 263 but thrust him bounden out of d. " 314 straight on thro' open d Rode Gawain, " 382 Pelleas, leaping up, Ran thro' the d's " 539 Sprang from the d into the dark. " 603
And while they stood within the d's, Last Tournament 113 machicolated tower That stood with open d's, " 425 but sprang Thro' open d's, " 473 Flush'd, started, met him at the d's, " 512
Like to some doubtful noise of creaking d's, Guinevere 72
There rode an armed warrior to the d's. " 409
Thro' the long gallery from the outer d's Rang " 413 waiting by the d's the warhorse neigh'd " 530 lo, he sat on horseback at the d! " 589 open'd on the pines with d's of glass, Lover's Tale i 41 Death drew nigh and beat the d's of Life; " 111 had Heaven from all her d's, " 604
To stand a shadow by their shining d's, " 731

Door (continued) bad his menials bear him from the d, Lover's Tale iv 260
There were our horses ready at the d's— 385
They had fasten'd the d of his cell. " Rizpah 42 to keep the wolf fro' the d, North. Cobbler 29 our Sally as kep the wolf fro' the d, 59
THEY have left the d's ajar; " Sisters (E. and E) 1 and a noise of welcome at the d's— " 149 found her beating the hard Protestant d's. " 240 they niver derken'd my d. Village Wife 60 when I saw him come in at the d, In the Child. Hosp. 2 Boardings and rafters and d's— Def. of Lucknow 67 what a d for scoundrel scum I open'd Columbus 170
The d's of Night may be the gates of Light; Ancient Sage 174 let them spurn me from the d's, The Flight 55
A d was open'd in the house— " 69 but she put thim all to the d. Tomorrow 44 sound ran Thro' palace and cottage d, Dead Prophet 38 Opens a d in Heaven; Early Spring 7 cuckoo of a joyless June Is calling out of d's: Pref. Poem Broth. S. 4 Door-handles turn'd when none was at the d, And bolted d's that open'd of themselves: The Ring 412
The d is open. He! is he standing at the d, Happy 11 some fair dawn beyond the d's of death Far-far-away 11
—a widow came to my d: Charity 26
Door'd See Open-door'd
Door-handle D-h's turn'd when none was at the door, The Ring 412 Doorm D, whom his shaking vassals call'd the Bull, Geraint and E. 439
we may meet the horsemen of Earl D, " 492
One took him for a victim of Earl D, " 524 Another, flying from the wrath of D " 530 at the point of noon the huge Earl D, " 536 said Earl D: 'Well, if he be not dead, " 546 And bore him to the naked hall of D, " 570 return'd The huge Earl D with plunder to the hall. " 592 Earl D Struck with a knife's haft hard " 599
But when Earl D had eaten all he would, " 609
So died Earl D by him he counted dead. " 730
I took you for a bandit knight of D; " 786
I come the mouthpiece of our King to D " 796
'and lo, the powers of D Are scatter'd,' " 801 Door-poorch (door-porch) my oän d-p wi' the woodbine Spinster's S's. 105 to pictur the d-p theere, Owd Roä 24
Doorwaäy (doorway) An' then as I stood i' the d, " 42
Doorway (See also Doorwaäy, Palace-doorway) Dawn'd sometime thro' the d? Aylmer's Field 685 God shut the d's of his head. In Mem. xliv 4 out by this main d past the King. Gareth and L. 671
Doost (dust) Loovs 'im, an' roobs 'im, an' d's 'im, North. Cobbler 98
Dora at the farm abode William and D. Dora 2
Now D felt her uncle's will in all, " 5 Thought not of D. " 8
Now therefore look to D; " 15 for his sake I bred His daughter D: " 20
'I cannot marry D; by my life, I will not marry D.' " 23 his ways were harsh; But D bore them meekly. " 36
And D promised, being meek. " 46
D stored what little she could save, " 52
Then D went to Mary. " 56 and thought Hard things of D. D came and said: " 58 D took the child, and went her way " 71 none of all his men Dare tell him D waited with the child; " 76
D would have risen and gone to him, " 77
D cast her eyes upon the ground, " 89
'did I not Forbid you, D?' D said again: " 92
The wreath of flowers fell At D's feet. " 103
Then D went to Mary's house, " 110
Mary saw the boy Was not with D. " 112 D said, 'My uncle took the boy; " 114 now I come For D: take her back; " 143 take D back And let all this be as it was " 154 and D hid her face By Mary. " 156
But D lived unmarried till her death. " 172
Dorhawk-whirr and d-w Awoke me not, Lover's Tale ii 116
Dormouse blue wood-louse, and the plump d, Window, Winter 9
Dorset-Dorsetshire There was a farmer in Dorset of Harry's kin, First Quarrel 17
So Harry was bound to the Dorsetshire farm " 19
Dose fumes Of that dark opiate d you gave me,— Romney's R. 31
Dot hull Look'd one black d against the verge M. d'Arthur 271 hull Look'd one black d against the verge Pass. of Arthur 439
The fires that arch this dusky d— Epilogue 52
Dotage Cries of unprogressive d Locksley H., Sixty 153 Dotard call him d in your rage " 9 ere the d fell asleep? " 153
Dote d and pore on yonder cloud In Mem. xv 16
Double (adv.) And then we drank it d; Will Water. 96
Double (verb) wind And d in and out the boles, Princess iv 262
Double-charge Now d-c it with grape! Def. of Lucknow 68 Doubled d his own warmth against her lips, Gardener's D. 138 old man Was wroth, and d up his hands, Dora 25 but when his date D her own, Aylmer's Field 81
Double-dragon'd fill'd his d-d chair. Last Tournament 144
Doubling d all his master's vice of pride, Marr. of Geraint 195 Doubt (s) a special care Of God, to fortify from d, Supp. Confessions 64 Moved from beneath with d and fear. " 138
If so be that from d at length, " 143
Roof'd the world with d and fear, Eleänore 99 carve out Free space for every human d, Two Voices 137
These things are wrapt in d and dread, " 266
There must be answer to his d. " 309
'The d would rest, I dare not solve. " 313
The d my mother would not see; Miller's D. 154
In d and great perplexity, Palace of Art 278 but empty breath And rumours of a d? M. d'Arthur 100
(For all my mind is clouded with a d) 258
lying thus inactive, d and gloom. " Enoch Arden 113 Such d's and fears were common to her state, " 521
One spiritual d she did not soothe? Aylmer's Field 704
Discuss'd a d and tost it to and fro: Princess ii 445 Disturb'd me with the d 'if this were she,' " iv 217 came On a sudden the weird seizure and the d: " 560 for spite of d's And sudden ghostly shadowings " 571 Deeper than those weird d's could reach me, " vii 51
I have heard Of your strange d's: " 336 my d's are dead, My haunting sense of hollow shows: " 348
In d if you be of our Barons' breed— Third of Feb. 32
A spectral d which makes me cold, In Mem. xli 19
O turn thee round, resolve the d; " xlv 14 such as closed Grave d's and answers " xlviii 3
What slender shade of d may flit, " 7 Defects of d, and taints of blood; " liv 4
Nor can my dream resolve the d: " lxviii 12
D and Death, Ill brethren, let the fancy fly " lxxxvi 11
And d beside the portal waits, " xciv 14 bold to dwell On d's that drive the coward back, " xcv 30 trance Was cancell'd, stricken thro' with d. " 44
You tell me, d is Devil-born. " xcvi 4
There lives more faith in honest d, " 11
He fought his d's and gather'd strength, " 13
To seize and throw the d's of man; " cix 6
Our dearest faith; our ghastliest d; " cxxiv 2
No, like a child in d and fear: " 17
Mix not memory with d, Maud II iv 57
A d that ever smoulder'd in the hearts Com. of Arthur 64 in daily d Whether to live or die, Lancelot and E. 520 Lost in a d, Pelleas wandering Waited, Pelleas and E. 392
This tender rhyme, and evermore the d, " 410 fault and d—no word of that fond tale— Last Tournament 578 but empty breath And rumours of a d? Pass. of Arthur 268
(For all my mind is clouded with a d)— " 426
'But solve me first a d. Lover's Tale iv 254
Naw d: But I liked a bigger feller to fight North. Cobbler 99 fluttering in a d Between the two— Sisters (E. and E.) 33 raise the full High-tide of d " 178 in days Of d and cloud and storm, Columbus 156
And D is the lord of this dunghill Despair 90 Cleave ever to the sunnier side of d, Ancient Sage 68 and yet no shade of d, But utter clearness, " 235 lost in the gloom of d's that darken the schools; Vastness 11

Doubt (s) (continued) after hours of search and d and threats, The Ring 278 Still—at times A d, a fear,— Akbar's Dream 169 darken'd with d's of a Faith that saves, The Dreamer 11 Doubt (verb) It is man's privilege to d, Supp. Confessions 142
I fear All may not d, „ 178 evidence, By which he d's against the sense? Two Voices 285
I d not thro' the ages Locksley Hall 137
'True,' she said, 'We d not that. Princess, Pro. 169
'D my word again!' he said. „ 176
Until we d not that for one so true Ode on Well. 255
D not ye the Gods have answer'd, Boädicea 22
For can I d, who knew thee keen In Mem. cxiii 5
I d not what thou wouldst have been: „ cxiii 8
Who d's thee victor? Gareth and L. 1296
I do not d To find, at some place Marr. of Geraint 218
Henceforward I will rather die than d. Geraint and E. 738
And will henceforward rather die than d. „ 745 nor did he d her more, But rested in her fealty, „ 966
I d not that however changed, Lancelot and E. 1218
To d her fairness were to want an eye, To d her pureness were to want a heart— „ 1376 heard a voice, 'D not, go forward; if thou d, the beasts Will tear thee piecemeal.' Holy Grail 824 enow To make one d if ever the great Queen Last Tournament 564 never d each other more. Happy 92
I with this dagger of his—do you d me? Bandit's Death 42 an' I d's they poison'd the cow. Church-warden, etc. 16
D no longer that the Highest is the wisest Faith 1 Doubted D, and drowsed, nodded and slept, Com. of Arthur 427 and d him No more than he, himself; Gareth and L. 125
I d whether daughter's tenderness, Marr. of Geraint 797 Doubtful I answer'd nothing, d in myself Princess iii 272 the old man, Tho' d, felt the flattery, Merlin and V. 184 some were d how the law would hold, Lover's Tale iv 270 Doubting thought To sift his d's to the last, Com. of Arthur 311
Doubtless 'D—ay, but ever since In all the world The Ring 363 Dove (See also Ringdove, Wood-dove) Let Thy d Shadow me over, Supp. Confessions 180
And oft I heard the tender d Miller's D. 41
Came voices of the well-contented d's. Gardener's D. 89
Like d's about a dovecote, wheeling round „ 224 they that loved At first like d and d Walk. to the Mail 58 iris changes on the burnish'd d; Locksley Hall 19
I would not one of thine own d's, Lucretius 68 morning d's That sun their milky bosoms Princess ii 102
The d may murmur of the d, „ iii 105
A troop of snowy d's athwart the dusk, „ iv 168
The moan of d's in immemorial elms, „ vii 221
O merry the linnet and d, Window, Ay 13
O somewhere, meek, unconscious d, In Mem. vi 25 as a d when up she springs To bear „ xii 1 then flew in a d And brought a summons „ ciii 15
She is coming, my d, my dear; Maud I xxii 61
My own d with the tender eye? „ II iv 46
And while your d's about you flit, To E. Fitzgerald 7 round her forehead wheels the woodland d, Prog. of Spring 57
Dovecote Like doves about a d, wheeling round Gardener's D. 224
Dovecote-doors some one batters at the d-d, Princess iv 169
Dowager prudes for proctors, d's for deans, „ Pro. 141
Do-well D-w will follow thought, Ancient Sage 273
Dower lent you, love, your mortal d Of pensive thought Margaret 5
Dower'd D with the hate of hate, The Poet 3
Dowerless but both Were d, and myself, The Ring 167 Down (hill) here are the blissful d's and dales, Sea-Fairies 22
the yellow d Border'd with palm, Lotos-Eaters 21
Round and round the spicy d's „ C. S. 104
She went by dale, and she went by d, Lady Clare 59 behind it a gray d With Danish barrows; Enoch Arden 6
Green in a cuplike hollow of the d. „ 9
But in the leafy lanes behind the d, „ 97 early roses from his wall, Or conies from the d, „ 340 after scaling half the weary d, „ 372
November dawns and dewy-glooming d's, „ 610
Close to the ridge of a noble d. To F. D. Maurice 16
And on the d's a rising fire: In Mem., Con. 108 Down (hill) (continued) And rise, O moon, from yonder d, In Mem., Con. 109 Till over d and over dale „ 110 face of night is fair on the dewy d's, Maud III vi 5 some wild d above the windy deep, Merlin and V. 658
And there among the solitary d's, Lancelot and E. 163
O'er these waste d's whereon I lost myself, „ 225 Sparkle, until they dipt below the d's. „ 396
the long backs of the bushless d's, (repeat) „ 400, 789
For the d's are as bright as day, Rizpah 4 and the storm rushing over the d, „ 6 when the storm on the d's began, „ 71 lived With Muriel's mother on the d, The Ring 148
Among the quarried d's of Wight, To Ulysses 32
THERE on the top of the d, June Bracken, etc. 1 Down (feathery substance) silk-soft folds, upon yielding d, Eleänore 28 rosy thigh Half-buried in the Eagle's d, Palace of Art 122 wild hawk stood with the d on his beak, Poet's Song 11 in broider'd d we sank Our elbows: Princess iv 32
When in the d I sink my head, In Mem. lxviii 1
Art yet half-yolk, not even come to d— Balin and Balan 569
Down-carolling D-c to the crisped sea, The Winds, etc. 6
Downcast her eyes were d, not to be seen) Maud I ii 5
Down-deepening D-d from swoon to swoon, Fatima 27
Down-droop'd-Down-dropt EYES not down-dropt nor over-bright, Isabel 1 Down-droop'd, in many a floating fold, Arabian Nights 147
Wit h down-dropt eyes I sat alone: Œnone 56
Downfall 'tween the spring and d of the light, St. S. Stylites 110
Down-glancing a spear D-g lamed the charger Lancelot and E. 488 Down-lapsing fancies, by d-l thought Stream'd onward, D. of F. Women 49 Down-streaming the dread sweep of the d-s seas: Enoch Arden 55
Down-way Pleasure who flaunts on her wide d-w Vastness 16
Dowry Large dowries doth the raptured eye Ode to Memory 72 Doy (die) But sin' I mun d I mun d, N. Farmer, O. S. 64 an' if I mun d I mun d. „ 68
Doze Fell in a d; and half-awake I heard The Epic 13 half in d I seem'd To float about Princess i 246 Did I hear it half in a d Long since, Maud I vii 1
In a wakeful d I sorrow For the hand, „ II iv 26
Dozed Miriam watch'd and d at intervals, Enoch Arden 909
As the pimpernel d on the lea; Maud I xxii 48
Then d awhile herself, but overtoil'd Geraint and E. 376
I d; I woke. An open landaulet Whirl'd Sisters (E. and E.) 85
Dozing Lay, d in the vale of Avalon, Palace of Art 107
Draäin (drain) Miss Annie she said it wur d's, Village Wife 11
Draff chaff and d, much better burnt.' The Epic 40
Drag will have weight to d thee down. Locksley Hall 48
And that d's down his life: Sea Dreams 177 poor Psyche whom she d's in tow.' Princess iii 103 Should d you down, and some great Nemesis „ vi 174 and d's me down From my fixt height „ 307 a great black cloud D inward from the deeps, „ vii 37
That seem to keep her up but d her down— „ 270
And onward d's a labouring breast, In Mem. xv 18
To d me down to seventy-nine. To Ulysses 8 wife and children d an Artist down! Romney's R. 38
if the rebel subject seek to d me from the throne, By an Evolution. 15
Dragg'd we d her to the college tower Walk. to the Mail 89
What Roman would be d in triumph thus? Lucretius 234
I d my brains for such a song, Princess iv 154 a madden'd beach d down by the wave, Maud I iii 12
D him, and struck, but from the castle Balin and Balan 399 so by force they d him to the King. Merlin and V. 640
He d his eyebrow bushes down, „ 807
d me up there to his cave in the mountain, Bandit's Death 11 and the weight that d at my hand; „ 39
Dragging Grimy nakedness d his trucks Maud I x 7 a dream Of d down his enemy made them move. Lancelot and E. 814 Reversion ever d Evolution in the mud. Locksley H., Sixty 200
Draggle An' Sally wur sloomy an' d North. Cobbler 41
Draggled Tho' somewhat d at the skirt. Last Tournament 219 Dragon The golden gorge of d's spouted forth Palace of Art 23
A gilded d, also, for the babes. Enoch Arden 540
To catch a d in a cherry net, Princess v 169
D's of the prime, That tare each other In Mem. lvi 22

Dragon (continued) the shape thereof A d wing'd, Com. of Arthur 375
The shining d and the naked child " 399
Thro' twenty folds of twisted d, Gareth and L. 510
Since to his crown the golden d clung, And down his robe the d writhed in gold, Lancelot and E. 434 behind him crept Two d's gilded, " 437 saw The golden d sparkling over all: Holy Grail 263 weigh'd the necks Of d's clinging " 347 On wyvern, lion, d, griffin, swan, " 350 dinted the gilt d's right and left, Last Tournament 182
his foot was on a stool Shaped as a d; " 672
The D of the great Pendragonship, (repeat) Guinevere 398, 598 for crest the golden d clung Of Britain; " 594 made West East, and sail'd the D's mouth, Columbus 25
the multitudinous beast, The d, Tiresias 16
D's cave, Half hid, they tell me, " 143 rolling of d's By marble of water, Merlin and the G. 44 Dragon (inn sign) At the D on the heath! Vision of Sin 72
Dragon-boughts d-b and elvish emblemings Gareth and L. 233
Dragon'd See Double-Dragon'd Dragon-fly 'To-day I saw the d-f Two Voices 8 glancing like a d-f In summer suit Marr. of Geraint 172
d Shot by me like a flash of purple fire. Lover's Tale ii 16
Drain (s) (See also Drain) Flaying the roofs and sucking up the d's, Princess v 525 my blood Crept like marsh d's Lover's Tale ii 53
Send the d into the fountain, Locksley H., Sixty 144
Drain (verb) a lip to d thy trouble dry. Locksley Hall 88
d's The chalice of the grapes of God; In Mem. x 15
Drainage with the d of your sewer; Locksley H., Sixty 143
Drain'd (See also Half-drain'd) Ida stood nor spoke, d of her force Princess vi 266 love for him have d My capabilities of love; In Mem. lxxxv 11 scheme that had left us flaccid and d. Maud I i 20 blood Of their strong bodies, flowing, d their force. Marr. of Geraint 569 the hurt that d her dear lord's life. Geraint and E. 516
D of her force, again she sat, Last Tournament 540 raised the school, and d the fen. Locksley H., Sixty 268
Drake So witty that ye play'd at ducks and d's Last Tournament 344
Drama Victor in D, Victor in Romance, To Victor Hugo 1
Thine is it that our d did not die, To W. C. Macready 9
In some fifth Act what this wild D means. The Play 4 Drank 'We d the Libyan Sun to sleep, D. of F. Women 145
The butler d, the steward scrawl'd, Day-Dm., Revival 10
And then we d it double; Will Water. 96 and d The magic cup that fill'd itself Aylmer's Field 142 d and past it; till at length the two, " 408
D the large air, and saw, Sea Dreams 34
Sat at his table: d his costly wines; " 74
d the gale That blown about the foliage Princess iii 120 and d himself into his grave. Grandmother 6
And d, and loyally d to him. The Daisy 24
There they d in cups of emerald, Boädicea 61
Nor ever d the inviolate spring In Mem. xc 2
Sir Gareth d and ate, Gareth and L. 1280
Earl Limours D till he jested with all ease, Geraint and E. 290 they d and some one sang, Balin and Balan 85 then you d And knew no more, Merlin and V. 276 cup itself, from which our Lord D at the last sad supper Holy Grail 47
But even while I d the brook, " 387 drink, Sir Fool,' and thereupon I d, Last Tournament 297
In that close kiss, and d her whisper'd tales. Lover's Tale i 817
And parted lips which d her breath, " ii 204 Well then—our solemn feast—we ate and d, " iv 221 show'd he d beyond his use; " 228
d the dews and drizzle of the North, Prog. of Spring 81 Draped sweet sculpture d from head to foot, Princess v 57 grayly d With streaming grass, appear'd, Balin and Balan 332
Drapery At her left, a child, In shining draperies. Princess ii 109 Draught Brimm'd with delirious d's of warmest life. Eleänore 139
Some d of Lethe might await Two Voices 350 gather'd green From d's of balmy air. Sir L. and Q. G. 9 mix the foaming d Of fever, Princess ii 251 think that you might mix his d with death, " vi 277

Draught (continued) A shot, ere half thy d be done, In Mem. vi 11 the cup was gold, the d was mud.' Last Tournament 298 keeps A d of that sweet fountain Lover's Tale i 141 Love pledge Hatred in her bitter d's, " 776 deny my sultry throat One d of icy water. Romney's R. 23
Drave I d Among the thickest and bore down a Prince, Princess v 517
Then he d The heathen; Com. of Arthur 58
Who d the heathen hence by sorcery Gareth and L. 204
He d his enemy backward down the bridge, " 969
D the long spear a cubit thro' his breast Geraint and E. 86 door, Push'd from without, d backward " 273 the boat D with a sudden wind across the deeps, Merlin and V. 201 d his kith and kin, And all the Table Round Lancelot and E. 498
d her ere her time across the fields " 890
'He took them and he d them to his tower— Last Tournament 68
Red Knight Brake in upon me and d them to his tower; " 72 Draw D down into his vexed pools Supp. Confessions 133 something in the darkness d's His forehead " 167 the mountain d's it from Heaven above, Poet's Mind 32
And d itself to what it was before; Eleänore 94
D's different threads, and late and soon Two Voices 179 plunging seas d backward from the land Palace of Art 251
To her full height her stately stature d's; D. of F. Women 102
Watch what main-currents d the years: Love thou thy land 21
'My end d's nigh; 'tis time that I were gone. M. d'Arthur 163 and d's The greater to the lesser, Gardener's D. 9 end d's nigh; I hope my end d's nigh: St. S. Stylites 36 deny it now? Nay, d, d, d nigh. " 207
And d's the veil from hidden worth. Day-Dm., Arrival 4 D me, thy bride, a glittering star, St Agnes' Eve 23 what d's me down Into the common day? Will Water. 153
Some that she but held off to d him on; Enoch Arden 476
And d them all along, and flow The Brook 63 hunters round a hunted creature d The cordon Aylmer's Field 499 yet he d's Nearer and nearer, Lucretius 194 what mother's blood You d from, fight; Princess v 405 Ask me no more: the moon may d the sea; " vii 1 and d The sting from pain; " 63
D toward the long frost and longest night, A Dedication 11
So d him home to those that mourn In Mem. ix 5
And scarce endure to d the breath, " xx 15
The time d's near the birth of Christ: " xxviii 1
D forth the cheerful day from night: " xxx 30
Like birds the charming serpent d's, " xxxiv 14 D down Ænian hills, and sow The dust " xxxv 11 d The deepest measure from the chords: " xlviii 11
And tease her till the day d's by: " lx 14 virtue such as d's A faithful answer " lxxxv 13 and we to d From deep to deep, " ciii 38
The time d's near the birth of Christ; " civ 1
To d, to sheathe a useless sword, " cxxviii 13
But they must go, the time d's on, " Con. 89
A soul shall d from out the vast " 123 dark undercurrent woe That seems to d— Maud I xviii 84 To turn the broach, d water, Gareth and L. 486 and ever fail'd to d The quiet night into her blood. Marr. of Geraint 531 as the worm d's in the wither'd leaf Geraint and E. 633 long have watch'd how Lancelot d's Balin and Balan 375 Gasping to Sir Lavaine, 'D the lance-head:' Lancelot and E. 511
'I dread me, if I d it, you will die.' " 513
'I die already with it: d—D,'— " 514
For I will d me into sanctuary, Guinevere 121
'My end d's nigh; 'tis time that I were gone. Pass. of Arthur 331 sail Will d me to the rising of the sun, Lover's Tale i 27 Whereof to all that d the wholesome air, " 500 mitre-sanction'd harlot d's his clerks Sir J. Oldcastle 106
In his own well, d solace as he may. Tiresias 89 but seem to d From yon dark cave, Ancient Sage 9 from her household orbit d's the child To Prin. Beatrice 7 serpent-wanded power D downward into Hades Demeter and P. 26 would fail, to d The crowd from wallowing Akbar's Dream 140 nor the sod D from my death Thy living flower Doubt and Prayer 6 Draw'd coostom ageän d in like a wind North. Cobbler 93

Drawing D into his narrow earthen urn, Ode to Memory 61
d nigh Half-whisper'd in his ear, Œnone 185 bright river d slowly His waters Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 92
And o'er him, d it, the winter moon, M. d'Arthur 53
Then spoke King Arthur, d thicker breath; " 148
And newer knowledge, d nigh, Day-Dm., Sleep P. 51 slowly d near, A vapour heavy, hueless, Vision of Sin 52
For now the day was d on, In Mem. lxxxiv 10 each, dishorsed and d, lash'd at each So often Marr. of Geraint 563
And d down the dim disastrous brow Balin and Balan 597
And d somewhat backward she replied, Last Tournament 523
And d foul ensample from fair names, Guinevere 490 o'er him, d it, the winter moon, Pass. of Arthur 221
Then spoke King Arthur, d thicker breath: " 316
d down from both The light and genial warmth To Prin. Beatrice 21 the star of eve was d light From the dead sun, Death of Œnone 64 Drawn Thence thro' the garden I was d— Arabian Nights 100 all which thou hast d of fairest Or boldest since, Ode to Memory 89
All day and all night it is ever d Poet's Mind 28
D from each other mellow-deep; Eleänore 67 creeps from pine to pine, And loiters, slowly d. Œnone 5 dew, D from the spirit thro' the brain, To J. S. 38 the dusky highway near and nearer d, Locksley Hall 113
But all my heart is d above, Sir Galahad 17 robe Of twilight slowly downward d, The Voyage 22 till d thro' either chasm, Enoch Arden 670
With reasons d from age and state, Princess v 357 all their foreheads d in Roman scowls, " vii 129 sweet little body that never had d a breath. Grandmother 62
And then I know the mist is d In Mem. lxvii 13
It might have d from after-heat.' " lxxxi 12
O bliss, when all in circle d " lxxxix 21
The silvery haze of summer d; " xcv 4
The boat is d upon the shore; " cxi 6
I beheld The death-white curtain d; Maud I xiv 34
Gareth overthrew him, lighted, drew, There met him d, Gareth and L. 1122 souls the old serpent long had d Down, Geraint and E. 632 coverlid was cloth of gold D to her waist, Lancelot and E. 1158 what evil beast Hath d his claws athwart thy face? Last Tournament 63 Irish eyes Had d him home—what marvel? " 405
Had d herself from many thousand years, Lover's Tale i 550
As if 'twere d asunder by the rack. " ii 57 the portrait of his friend D by an artist, Sisters (E. and E.) 135 living water, d By this good Wiclif mountain Sir J. Oldcastle 131 Sphinx, with wings d back, Folded her lion paws, Tiresias 148 magnet of Art to the which my nature was d, The Wreck 22 still d downward for an hour, The Ring 477 Dread (s) once from d of pain to die. Two Voices 105
'These things are wrapt in doubt and d, " 266 Deep d and loathing of her solitude Palace of Art 229 and half in d To hear my father's clamour Princess i 104 Sick, am I sick of a jealous d? Maud I x 1
And dream of her beauty with tender d, " xvi 14
But save for d of thee had beaten me, Last Tournament 525
Dread (verb) might I d that you, With only Fame Princess iii 241
I d His wildness, and the chances of the dark.' " iv 243
But lies and d's his doom. " vii 154
No inner vileness that we d? In Mem. li 4 but, so thou d to swear, Gareth and L. 272
I rather d the loss of use than fame; Merlin and V. 519
'I d me, if I draw it, you will die.' Lancelot and E. 513
if she knows And d's it we are fall'n.— To the Queen ii 33
I almost d to find her, dumb!' Lover's Tale iv 339
Dreaded he, she d most, bare down upon him. Geraint and E. 156
Dreadful D! has it come to this, Forlorn 43
Dreading d worse than shame Her warrior Tristram, Last Tournament 384
Dream (s) (See also Dhrame, Half-dream) sweet d's softer than unbroken rest Ode to Memory 29
Heaven flow'd upon the soul in many d's The Poet 31 a name to shake All evil d's of power— " 47
To lapse far back in some confused d Sonnet To —— 3
Dreaming, she knew it was a d: Mariana in the S. 49 said the voice, 'thy d was good, Two Voices 157

Dream (s) (continued) And did not dream it was a d; Two Voices 213 men Forget the d that happens then, " 353 Like glimpses of forgotten d's— " 381
'I talk,' said he, 'Not with thy d's. " 386
Before I dream'd that pleasant d— Miller's D. 46 Breathing like one that hath a weary d. Lotos-Eaters 6 my voice was thick with sighs As in a d. D. of F. Women 110 captain of my d's Ruled in the eastern sky. " 263 Into that wondrous track of d's again! But no two d's are like. " 279
Make bright our days and light our d's, Of old sat Freedom 22
Black-stoled, black-hooded, like a d— M. d'Arthur 197 on to dawn, when d's Begin to feel the truth " Ep. 18 sweeter than the d Dream'd by a happy man, Gardener's D. 71
The pilot of the darkness and the d Audley Court 72 should one give to light on such a d?' Edwin Morris 58
Should it cross thy d's, Love and Duty 92
A white-hair'd shadow roaming like a d Tithonus 8
Like a dog, he hunts in d's, Locksley Hall 79
Fool, again the d, the fancy! " 173
Whose odours haunt my d's; Sir Galahad 68
But, as in d's, I could not. Vision of Sin 57
Uncertain as a vision or a d, Enoch Arden 356
Who feels a glimmering strangeness in his d. The Brook 216 teeth that ground As in a dreadful d, Aylmer's Field 329
After an angry d this kindlier glow Faded " 411 oft from out a despot d The father panting woke, " 527
Had you ill d's?' Sea Dreams 85
'That was then your d,' she said, " 105
Now I see My d was Life; " 137 you made and broke your d: A trifle makes a d, a trifle breaks.' " 143
I ask'd the woman in my d. " 147
But will you hear my d, " 203 and she grieved In her strange d, " 230 d awed me:—well—but what are d's? " 247 Went both to make your d: " 254 what d's, ye holy Gods, what d's! For thrice I waken'd after d's. Lucretius 33
We do but recollect the d's that come Just ere the waking: " 35 that was mine, my d, I knew it— " 43
I thought my d would show to me, " 51
Seven and yet one, like shadows in a d.— Princess, Pro. 229 truly, waking d's were, more or less, " i 12
And feel myself the shadow of a d. " 18 and read My sickness down to happy d's? " ii 253 Intent on her, who rapt in glorious d's, " 442
I myself the shadow of a d, " iii 188
We had our d's: perhaps he mixt with them: " 220
I found My boyish d involved and dazzled " iv 450
To dream myself the shadow of a d: " v 481 it seem'd a d, I dream'd Of fighting. " 492 and in my d I glanced aside, and saw " 507 let me make my d All that I would. " 519 and d and truth Flow'd from me; " 541
My d had never died or lived again. " vi 17 lonely listenings to my mutter'd d, " vii 110
'If you be, what I think you, some sweet d, " 145 only, if a d, Sweet d, be perfect. " 148
'A d That once was mine! " 309 Princess with as wise a d As some of theirs— " Con. 69 wildest d's Are but the needful preludes " 73 all men else their nobler d's forget, Ode on Well. 152 Let us dream our d to-day. Ode Inter. Exhib. 31 come to the door in a pleasant kind of a d. Grandmother 82
Her quiet d of life this hour may cease. Requiescat 6
D's are true while they last, and do we not live in d's? High. Pantheism 4
So bring him: we have idle d's: In Mem. x 9
I do not suffer in a d; " xiii 14
What vaster d can hit the mood Of Love " xlvii 11
So runs my d: but what am I? " liv 17
That Nature lends such evil d's? " lv 6
A monster then, a d, A discord. " lvi 21

Dream (s) (continued) Yet feels, as in a pensive d, In Mem. lxiv 17
Nor can my d resolve the doubt: „ lxviii 12
Or threaded some Socratic d; „ lxxxix 36
And dream my d, and hold it true; „ cxxiii 10
Behold, I dream a d of good, „ cxxix 11
What is she now? My d's are bad. Maud I i 73
Kept itself warm in the heart of my d's, „ vi 18
Even in d's to the chink of his pence, „ x 43
Breaking up my d of delight. „ xix 2
My d? do I dream of bliss? „ 3
Half in d's I sorrow after The delight „ II iv 24
And I wake, my d is fled; „ 51 divide in a d from a band of the blest, Maud III vi 10 it was but a d, yet it yielded a dear delight To have look'd, tho' but in a d, upon eyes so fair, „ 15 but a d, yet it lighten'd my despair „ 18
Vext with waste d's? Com. of Arthur 85
Till with a wink his d was changed, „ 441
O star, my morning d hath proven true, Gareth and L. 1000
And heated the strong warrior in his d's; Marr. of Geraint 72 lay late into the morn, Lost in sweet d's, „ 158
All overshadow'd by the foolish d, „ 675
Could scarce divide it from her foolish d; „ 686
And ears to hear you even in his d's.' Geraint and E. 429
D's ruling when wit sleeps! Balin and Balan 143
Let be: ye stand, fair lord, as in a d.' „ 258
Lancelot with his hand among the flowers 'Yea— for a d. „ 260 poisoning all his rest, Stung him in d's. „ 384
And now full loth am I to break thy d, „ 500
As one that labours with an evil d, Merlin and V. 101 ride, and dream The mortal d that never yet was mine— „ 117
He walk'd with d's and darkness, „ 190
Ev'n in the jumbled rubbish of a d, „ 347 tiny-trumpeting gnat can break our d Lancelot and E. 137
I behold him in my d's Gaunt „ 763 a d Of dragging down his enemy made them move. „ 813 plagued with d's of something sweet Holy Grail 625 in a d I seem'd to climb For ever: „ 836 damsel,' answer'd he, 'I woke from d's; Pelleas and E. 104 so lay, Till shaken by a d, „ 517
Or art thou mazed with d's? „ 525
The sudden trumpet sounded as in a d Last Tournament 151
Tristram waking, the red d Fled with a shout, „ 487
And out beyond into the d to come.' „ 721
if she slept, she dream'd An awful d; Guinevere 76 down the long wind the d Shrill'd; Pass. of Arthur 40
Arthur woke and call'd 'Who spake? A d. „ 46
And care not thou for d's from him, „ 58
Black-stoled, black-hooded, like a d— „ 365 they fall asleep Into delicious d's, Lover's Tale i 162
As from a dismal d of my own death, „ 748
One golden d of love, from which may death „ 760
Were wrought into the tissue of my d: „ ii 113
Like sounds without the twilight realm of d's, „ 120 thought His d's had come again. „ iv 78
Thro' d's by night and trances of the day, Sisters (E. and E.) 274 broken besides with d's of the dreadful knife In the Child. Hosp. 65
Not yet—not all—last night a d— Columbus 66
The Lord had sent this bright, strange d to me „ 91 wrought To mould the d; To E. Fitzgerald 30
Beyond all d's of Godlike womanhood, Tiresias 54
And mixt the d of classic times „ 194
And all the phantoms of the d, „ 195
With a dim d, now and then, The Wreck 114 quiet at length out of pleasant d's, Despair 66 words are like the babblings in a d Of nightmare, when the babblings break the d. Ancient Sage 106 brainless will May jar thy golden d Freedom 16
d's that scarce will let me be, To Marq. of Dufferin 41 Led upward by the God of ghosts and d's, Demeter and P. 5 he, the God of d's, who heard my cry, „ 91 saw the world fly by me like a d, The Ring 180
Or is it some half memory of a d? „ 422

Dream (s) (continued) O foolish d's, that you, that I, Happy 89 you were then a lover's fairy d, To Mary Boyle 43 Till, led by d and vague desire, To Master of B. 17 thro' her d A ghostly murmur floated, Death of Œnone 78 and the d Wail'd in her, „ 81
His d became a deed that woke the world, St. Telemachus 70 shadow of a d—an idle one It may be. Akbar's Dream 5
I pray'd against the d. „ 7
I vow'd Whate'er my d's, I still would do the right „ 13
And yet so wild and wayward that my d— „ 172
Desolation and wrong Thro' a d of the dark? The Dreamer 16 Brings the D's about my bed, Silent Voices 2 d of a shadow, go—God bless you. To W. H. Brookfield 13

Dream (verb) As a young lamb, who cannot d, Supp. Confessions 170
And did not d it was a dream; Two Voices 213 sweet it was to d of Fatherland, Lotos-Eaters 39
To d and d, like yonder amber light, „ C. S. 57
More things are wrought by prayer Than this world d's of. M. d'Arthur 248
Ellen Aubrey, sleep, and d of me: Audley Court 62
And sleeping, haply d her arm is mine. „ 64
Ellen Aubrey, love, and d of me.' „ 73 borne as much as this—Or else I d— St. S. Stylites 93
She sleeps, nor d's, but ever dwells Day-Dm., Sleep B. 23
D's over lake and lawn, and isles Vision of Sin 11 to d That love could bind them closer Aylmer's Field 40
Indeed, We d not of him: Princess ii 59
'Dare we d of that,' I ask'd, „ iii 297
We shudder but to d our maids should ape „ 309
To d myself the shadow of a dream: „ v 481
To d thy cause embraced in mine, „ vi 200
Let us d our dream to-day. Ode Open. Exhib. 31
Perchance, to d you still beside me, The Daisy 107
D in the sliding tides. Requiescat 4
That made me d I rank'd with him. In Mem. xlii 4 Nor can I d of thee as dead: „ lxviii 4 rather d that there, A treble darkness, „ xcviii 12
Nor d of human love and truth, „ cxviii 3
And d my dream, and hold it true; „ cxxiii 10
Behold, I d a dream of good, „ cxxix 11
Did I d it an hour ago, Maud I vii 3
And d of her beauty with tender dread, „ xvi 14
My dream? do I d of bliss? „ xix 3
And d he dropt from heaven: Com. of Arthur 183 what d ye when they utter forth May-music Gareth and L. 1079
d's Of goodly supper in the distant pool, „ 1186
To d she could be guilty of foul act, Marr. of Geraint 120
I full oft shall d I see my princess „ 751
d That any of these would wrong thee, Balin and Balan 143 Or d—of thee they dream'd not— Merlin and V. 115 ride, and d The mortal dream that never yet „ 116 Ride, ride and d until ye wake— „ 118
'Man d's of Fame while woman wakes to love.' „ 460
because ye d they babble of you.' „ 690
I cannot bear to d you so forsworn: Pelleas and E. 300
Too wholly true to d you untruth in thee, Guinevere 541
Let no man d but that I love thee still. „ 560
Let no one d but that he loves me „ 674
More things are wrought by prayer Than this world d's of. Pass. of Arthur 416
Or if thou d aught farther, d but how Lover's Tale i 769
And in my vision bidding me d on, „ ii 119
But who could d that we, who bore the Cross Columbus 191
Indian warriors d of ampler hunting grounds Locksley H., Sixty 69 but d not that the hour will last. „ 106
Could we d of wars and carnage, „ 189
He d's of that long walk To Mary Boyle 55

Dreäm'd Till I d 'at Squire walkt in, Owd Roä 55

Dream'd-Dreamt (See also Dreäm'd) In midst of knowledge, dream'd not yet. Two Voices 90
Before I dream'd that pleasant dream— Miller's D. 46 sweeter than the dream Dream'd by a happy man, Gardener's D. 72
I too dream'd, until at last Day-Dm., Pro. 9
'I dream'd Of such a tide swelling Sea Dreams 86
I dream'd that still The motion of the great deep „ 110

Dream'd-Dreamt (continued) told it, having dream'd Of that same coast. Sea Dreams 206 Sphere-music such as that you dream'd about, „ 256 it seem'd a dream, I dream'd Of fighting. Princess v 492
I dream'd there would be Spring no more, In Mem. lxix 1
I dream'd a vision of the dead, „ ciii 3
And her smile were all that I dream'd, Maud I vi 37 her smile had all that I dream'd, „ 93
They never dream'd the passes would be past,' Gareth and L. 1413
They never dream'd the passes could be past.' „ 1420 dreamt herself was such a faded form Marr. of Geraint 654
Or dream—of thee they dream'd not— Merlin and V. 115
I dreamt Of some vast charm concluded „ 511 the maiden dreamt That some one put this diamond Lancelot and E. 211
He had not dream'd she was so beautiful. „ 353
Who dream'd my knight the greatest knight „ 667
'And if I dream'd,' said Gawain, „ 668
this night I dream'd That I was all alone „ 1045
I dreamt the damsel would have died, „ 1305 for he dream'd His lady loved him, Pelleas and E. 152
I dream'd the bearing of our knights Last Tournament 120 laid His brows upon the drifted leaf and dream'd. „ 406
He dream'd; but Arthur with a hundred spears „ 420 if she slept, she dream'd An awful dream; Guinevere 75 such a feast As never man had dream'd; „ 264 and as yet no sin was dream'd,) „ 388
Had I not dream'd I loved her yestermorn? Sisters (E. and E.) 169
I dream'd last night of that clear summer noon, Romney's R. 74 sphere-music as the Greek Had hardly dream'd of. Akbar's Dream 45 and yester afternoon I dream'd,— „ 170
I dream'd That stone by stone I rear'd „ 176 he dream'd that a Voice of the Earth went The Dreamer 3 Dreamer 'Much less this d, deaf and blind, Two Voices 175 fools they,—we forward: d's both: Golden Year 67 visions in the Northern d's heavens, Aylmer's Field 161 white-headed d stoopt and kiss'd her Locksley H., Sixty 38 heard an answer 'Wake Thou deedless d, St. Telemachus 21
Dreaming A glorious child, d alone, Eleänore 27
In d of my lady's eyes. Kate 28
D, she knew it was a dream: Mariana in the S. 49
While, d on your damask cheek, Day-Dm., Pro. 3
To see you d—and, behind, „ 7
wrathful, petulant, D some rival, Lucretius 15
'What are they d of? Who can tell?' Minnie and Winnie 15
For pastime, d of the sky; In Mem. lxvi 14
Or how should England d of his sons Ded. of Idylls 31 nodded and slept, and saw, D, Com. of Arthur 428 glance of Gareth d on his liege. Gareth and L. 1316 and d of her love For Lancelot, Marr. of Geraint 158 he pray'd for both he slept D of both: Lover's Tale i 228
D together (d of each other They should have added), „ 262
What is this you're d? Forlorn 14
Dreamlike D, should on the sudden vanish, Holy Grail 260 Dream-world thou be wise in this d-w of ours, Ancient Sage 108
Dreamt See Dream'd
Dreary She only said, 'My life is d, (repeat) Mariana 9, 45, 69
She only said, 'The night is d, (repeat) „ 21, 57
She only said, 'The day is d, „ 33
Then, said she, 'I am very d, „ 81
Dregs D of life, and lees of man: Vision of Sin 205
Drench stoop'd To d his dark locks Princess iv 187
And on these dews that d the furze, In Mem. xi 6
Thro' clouds that d the morning star, „ lxxii 22
Drench'd long, rank, dark wood-walks d in dew, D. of F. Women 75
For I was d with ooze, and torn with briers, Princess v 28
So d it is with tempest, to the sun, „ vii 142
I find myself d with the rain. Rizpah 8
D with the hellish oorali— In the Child. Hosp. 10 Dress (s) (See also Hunting-dress) This d and that by turns you tried, Miller's D. 147
'Bring the d and put it on her, L. of Burleigh 95
drest In the d that she was wed in, „ 99
'What do you here? and in this d? Princess ii 189 you look well too in your woman's d: „ iv 529
Nay, the plainness of her d's? Maud I xx 14

Dress (s) (continued) all her d Wept from her sides Gareth and L. 216 put on thy worst and meanest d Marr. of Geraint 130
he came on her Drest in that d, (repeat) „ 141, 843
And all her foolish fears about the d, (repeat) „ 142, 844
(His d a suit of fray'd magnificence, „ 296
At this she cast her eyes upon her d, „ 609
The d that now she look'd on to the d „ 613
Enid fell in longing for a d „ 630
Put on your worst and meanest d,' „ 848 your wretched d, A wretched insult on you, Geraint and E. 327 there were books and d's—left to me, The Ring 113
D's and laces and jewels and never a ring Charity 6
Dress (verb) d the victim to the offering up. Princess iv 130 to flaunt, to d, to dance, to thrum, „ 519
d her beautifully and keep her true'— Geraint and E. 40
Love and Longing d thy deeds in light, Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 9 Pretty anew when ya d's 'em oop, Spinster's S's. 85
She comes to d me in my bridal veil. The Ring 98
Dressed See Drest
Dressing (See also A-dressin') D their hair with the white sea-flower; The Merman 13 flout and scorn By d it in rags? Geraint and E. 676 bullet struck him that was d it suddenly dead, The Revenge 67
I am d the grave of a woman with flowers. Charity 2
I am d her grave with flowers. „ 44
Drest-Dressed to dance and sing, be gaily drest, The form, the form 3
Why come you drest like a village maid, Lady Clare 67
'If I come drest like a village maid, „ 69 her body, drest In the dress that she was wed in, L. of Burleigh 98 each by other drest with care Descended Princess iii 19
'What, if you drest it up poetically!' Con. 6
Are but dainties drest again: Window, No Answer 26
he came on her Drest in that dress, (repeat) Marr. of Geraint 141, 843
A tribe of women, dress'd in many hues, Geraint and E. 598
With a grisly wound to be drest The Revenge 66
Drew She d her casement-curtain by, Mariana 19
Thro' rosy taper fingers d Her streaming curls Mariana in the S. 15 rising, from her bosom d Old letters, „ 61 once he d With one long kiss my whole soul Fatima 19
With rosy slender fingers backward d Œnone 176
As half-asleep his breath he d, The Sisters 28 as morn from Memnon, d Rivers of melodies. Palace of Art 171 Many d swords and died. D. of F. Women 95 they d into two burning rings All beams of Love, „ 174
D forth the poison with her balmy breath, „ 271
There d he forth the brand Excalibur, M. d'Arthur 52 and d him under in the mere. (repeat) „ 146, 161
O'er both his shoulders d the languid hands, „ 174
Came, d your pencil from you, Gardener's D. 26 as one large cloud D downward: „ 79 wave of such a breast As never pencil d. „ 140 Light pretexts d me; „ 192 and d My little oakling from the cup, Talking Oak 230
As homeward by the church I d. The Letters 44 as their faces d together, groan'd, Enoch Arden 74 thro' all his blood D in the dewy meadowy „ 660 talking from the point, he d him in, The Brook 154
What amulet d her down to that old oak, Aylmer's Field 507 the great ridge d, Lessening to the lessening music, Sea Dreams 220
One rear'd a font of stone And d, Princess, Pro. 60 the days d nigh that I should wed, „ i 41
I d near; I gazed. „ iii 182
the flood d; yet I caught her; „ iv 182
One reaching forward d My burthen from mine arms; „ 191 roll'd on the earth and rose again and d: „ v 497
D from my neck the painting and the tress, „ vi 110
he d Her robe to meet his lips, „ 155
Whence d you this steel temper? „ 232
D the great night into themselves, „ vii 49 voice from which their omens all men d, Ode on Well. 36 Round affrighted Lisbon d The treble works, „ 103
And up the snowy Splugen d, The Daisy 86
Thy converse d us with delight, In Mem. cx 1
D in the expression of an eye, „ cxi 19
The shadow of His loss d like eclipse, Ded. of Idylls 14

Drew (continued) D all their petty princedoms under him, Com. of Arthur 18 those great lords D back in wrath, " 514 King D in the petty princedoms under him, " 517
To whom Sir Gareth d (And there were none Gareth and L. 743 Fell, as if dead; but quickly rose and d, " 967
d him home; but he that fought no more, " 1049 lighted, d, There met him drawn, " 1121 softly d Behind the twain, and when he saw the star " 1217 d himself Bright from his old dark life, Marr. of Geraint 594
d from those dead wolves Their three gay suits Geraint and E. 180 Sweet lady, never since I first d breath " 619 these her emblems d mine eyes— Balin and Balan 265
Balin d the shield from off his neck, " 429
D the vague glance of Vivien, " 464 and d down from out his night-black hair " 511 d The vast and shaggy mantle of his beard Merlin and V. 255 magnet-like she d The rustiest iron " 573
d back, and let her eyes Speak for her, " 615 D the vast eyelid of an inky cloud, " 634 when the time d nigh Spake (for she had been sick) Lancelot and E. 77
she d Nearer and stood. " 349 draw—Draw,'—and Lavaine d, " 515
D near, and sigh'd in passing, 'Lancelot, " 1350
D me, with power upon me, till I grew Holy Grail 486
The heads of all her people d to me, " 601
There d my sword. " 820 slowly Pelleas d To that dim day, Pelleas and E. 29 find a nest and feels a snake, he d: " 437 and d the sword, and thought, 'What! " 447 and either knight D back a space, " 573 D from before Sir Tristram to the bounds, Last Tournament 185 and when she d No answer, by and by Guinevere 161 weep for her who d him to his doom.' " 348 kings who d The knighthood-errant of this realm " 460 d Down with his blood, till all his heart Pass. of Arthur 96
There d he forth the brand Excalibur, " 220
and d him under in the mere. (repeat) " 314, 329
O'er both his shoulders d the languid hands, " 342
Death d nigh and beat the doors of Life; Lover's Tale i 111 ever d from thence The stream of life, " 238 and Love d in her breath In that close kiss, " 816 upon the sands Insensibly I d her name, " ii 7 fed we from one fountain? d one sun? " 24 from his brow d back His hand to push me " 92
She d it long ago Forthgazing on the waste " 176
Four galleons d away From the Spanish fleet The Revenge 46
d back with her dead and her shame. " 60 one quick peal Of laughter d me thro' Sisters (E. and E.) 116
But I d them the one from the other; V. of Maeldune 35 every one d His sword on his fellow to slay him, " 67
D to this shore lit by the suns De Prof., Two G. 38
D to this island: Doom'd to the death. Batt. of Brunanburh 50
Omar d Full-handed plaudits from our best To E. Fitzgerald 37 as we d to the land; The Wreck 136 and dogg'd us, and d me to land? Despair 2 horsemen, d to the valley—and stay'd; Heavy Brigade 3 d The foe from the saddle and threw " 53
d perchance a happier lot Than ours, Epilogue 50 out of his body she d The red 'Blood-eagle' Dead Prophet 70
And d him over sea to you— To Marq. of Dufferin 22 D from thyself the likeness of thyself Demeter and P. 92
d down before his time Sickening, " 114
d the ring From his dead finger, The Ring 217
Unclosed the hand, and from it d the ring, " 269
D to the valley Named of the shadow, Merlin and the G. 86 that which d from out the boundless deep Crossing the Bar 7
Dried Her tears fell ere the dews were d; Mariana 14
'He d his wings: like gauze they grew; Two Voices 13 all his juice is d, and all his joints Audley Court 46 comforted my heart, And d my tears, Com. of Arthur 350 Drier but felt his eyes Harder and d Pelleas and E. 507 Drift (See also Diamond-drift) city lies, Beneath its d of smoke; Talking Oak 6
Thro' scudding d's the rainy Hyades Ulysses 10

Drift (continued) Together, in the d's that pass To darken In Mem. cvii 13
For the d of the Maker is dark, Maud I iv 43
Wrapt in d's of lurid smoke " II iv 66
In d's of smoke before a rolling wind, Com. of Arthur 434 and sank Down on a d of foliage Last Tournament 388 with his d Of flickering spectres, Demeter and P. 26 a downy d against the brakes, Prog. of Spring 27
Drifted These d, stranding on an isle Enoch Arden 552
Drifting d up the stream In fancy, Sea Dreams 108
Drill d the raw world for the march of mind, Ode on Well. 168 Drink (s) sometimes Sucking the damps for d, St. S. Stylites 77 this, at times, she mingled with his d, Lucretius 18 Yea ev'n of wretched meat and d, Maud I xv 8 hire thyself to serve for meats and d's Gareth and L. 153 grant me to serve For meat and d " 445 Kay, The master of the meats and d's " 451 mellow master of the meats and d's! " 560 And mighty thro' thy meats and d's am I, (repeat) " 650, 862 with meats and d's And forage for the horse, " 1276 pinch a murderous dust into her d, Merlin and V. 610 and then I taäkes to the d. North. Cobbler 16 she druv me to d the moor, " 30
All along o' the d, fur I loov'd her " 60
'Pilgrimages?' 'D, bagpipes, Sir J. Oldcastle 149
Drink (verb) (See also Dhrink) I d the cup of a costly death, Eleänore 138
I will d Life to the lees: Ulysses 6
We d defying trouble, Will Water. 94
'I am old, but let me d; Vision of Sin 75
'D, and let the parties rave; " 123
'D to lofty hopes that cool— " 147
D we, last, the public fool, " 149
'D to Fortune, d to Chance, " 191
D to heavy Ignorance! " 193
D deep, until the habits of the slave, Princess ii 91
To d the cooler air, and mark In Mem. lxxxix 15
Will d to him, whate'er he be, " cvii 23
'D, then,' he answer'd. 'Here!' Geraint and E. 658
D therefore and the wine will change your will.' " 663
I will not d Till my dear lord arise and bid me do it, And d with me; " 664 Not eat nor d? And wherefore wail for one, " 674 you never open'd lip, Except indeed to d: Merlin and V. 272 Forgot to d to Lancelot and the Queen, Lancelot and E. 737
'D, d, Sir Fool,' and thereupon I drank, Last Tournament 297 Nor d: and when thou passest any wood " 534
'Summat to d—sa' 'ot?' North. Cobbler 5
He that thirsteth, come and d! Sir J. Oldcastle 134
Then d to England, every guest; Hands all Round 2
To this great cause of Freedom d, my friends, (repeat) " 11, 35
To this great name of England d, " 23 men may taste Swine-flesh, d wine; Akbar's Dream 54
Drinketh as sunlight d dew. Fatima 21
Drinkin' thaw theer's naw d i' Hell; North. Cobbler 58
Drinking (See also Dhrinkin', Drinkin') As d health to bride and groom In Mem., Con. 83
Men were d together, D and talking of me; Maud I vii 5 Drinking-song why should Love, like men in d-s's, " xviii 55
Drip woodbine and eglatere D sweeter dews A Dirge 24
When the rotten woodland d's, Vision of Sin 81 red-ribb'd ledges d with a silent horror of blood, Maud I i 3
I feeäld it d o' my neck. Owd Roä 42
Dripping (See also Autumn-dripping) D with Sabæan spice On thy pillow, Adeline 53
Dript belike the lance hath d upon it— Last Tournament 200
Drive (s) What d's about the fresh Cascinè, The Daisy 43
Drive (verb) and seest me d Thro' utter dark Supp. Confessions 94
And d's them to the deep.' Palace of Art 204
Nature's evil star D men in manhood, Love thou thy land 74
And shoals of pucker'd faces d; In Mem. lxx 10
On doubts that d the coward back, " xcv 30
Is enough to d one mad. Maud II v 20 sword, Whereby to d the heathen out: Com. of Arthur 287 To d the heathen from your Roman wall, " 512 and d them all apart. Gareth and L. 515

Drive (verb) (continued) 'D them on Before you;' (repeat) Geraint and E. 99, 184
d The Heathen, who, some say, shall rule the land Lancelot and E. 64
'Out! And d him from the walls.' Pelleas and E. 220
And d him from my walls.' " 229 from the ditch where they shelter we d them Def. of Lucknow 59 and d Innocent cattle under thatch, Locksley H., Sixty 95
Then you that d, and know your Craft, Politics 5
Or you may d in vain, " 8
To d A people from their ancient fold Akbar's Dream 60

Driv'n-Driven (See also O'er-driven, Wind-driven) morning driv'n her plow of pearl Far furrowing Love and Duty 99
the herd was driven, Fire glimpsed; Com. of Arthur 432
'O King, for thou hast driven the foe without, Gareth and L. 593 driven by evil tongues From all his fellows, Balin and Balan 125
Their plumes driv'n backward by the wind Lancelot and E. 480 Thy holy nun and thou have driven men mad, Holy Grail 862 camel, driven Far from the diamond fountain Lover's Tale i 136 driven My current to the fountain whence it sprang,— " 502 the wild brier had driven Its knotted thorns " 619 driven by one angel face, And all the Furies. Sisters (E. and E.) 158
I am driven by storm and sin and death The Wreck 2
she had never driven me wild. Locksley H., Sixty 20 the foe was driven, And Wolseley overthrew Pro. to Gen. Hamley 29 shrillings of the Dead When driven to Hades, Death of Œnone 22

Driveth Let us alone. Time d onward fast, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 43

Driving The sunlight d down the lea, Rosalind 13 blood by Sylla shed Came d rainlike Lucretius 48 D, hurrying, marrying, burying, Maud II v 12 difficulty in mild obedience D them on: Geraint and E. 105

Drizzle Thicker the d grew, deeper the gloom; Enoch Arden 679
(A bill of sale gleam'd thro' the d) " 688 drank the dews and d of the North, Prog. of Spring 81

Drone See Pulpit-drone

Droned d her lurdane knights Slumbering, Pelleas and E. 430

Droonk (drunk) hallus as d as a king, North. Cobbler 27
D wi' the Quoloty's wine, an' d wi' the farmer's ale, Village Wife 77

Droop Fair-fronted Truth shall d not now Clear-headed friend 12
I cannot veil, or d my sight, Eleänore 87
D's both his wings, regarding thee, " 119
D's blinded with his shining eye: Fatima 38
The purple flower d's: Œnone 29
D's the heavy-blossom'd bower, Locksley Hall 163
Here d's the banner on the tower, Day-Dm., Sleep P. 13 mantles from the golden pegs D sleepily: " 20 Where on the double rosebud d's " L'Envoi 47 his own head Began to d, to fall; Aylmer's Field 835 d's the milkwhite peacock like a ghost, Princess vii 180 left hand D from his mighty shoulder Merlin and V. 243 and seeing Pelleas d, Said Guinevere, Pelleas and E. 178 O'er his uncertain shadow d's the day. Prog. of Spring 8

Droop'd-Droopt a leopard-skin Droop'd from his shoulder, Œnone 59
From one hand droop'd a crocus: Palace of Art 119
So she droop'd and droop'd before him, L. of Burleigh 85 thinking that her clear germander eye Droopt Sea Dreams 5 then day droopt; the chapel bells Call'd Princess ii 470
The lilylike Melissa droop'd her brows; " iv 161 above her droop'd a lamp, And made " 272
And how my life had droop'd of late, In Mem. xiv 14
His age hath slowly droopt, and now lies Gareth and L. 79 he let them glance At Enid, where she droopt: Geraint and E. 247 plume droopt and mantle clung, Last Tournament 213

Drooping (See also A-drooping, Half-drooping, Low-drooping) found A damsel d in a corner of it. Geraint and E. 611 answer'd in low voice, her meek head yet D, " 641
D and beaten by the breeze, Lover's Tale i 700

Droopt See Droop'd.

Drop (s) (See also Dhrop) There will not be a d of rain May Queen 35 and, dew'd with showery d's, Lotos-Eaters 17 greaves and cuisses dash'd with d's Of onset; M. d'Arthur 215
That was the last d in the cup of gall. Walk. to the Mail 69
Thro' glittering d's on her sad friend. Princess vi 283
And balmy d's in summer dark In Mem. xvii 15
As d by d the water falls In vaults and catacombs, " lviii 3 than the sward with d's of dew, Geraint and E. 690

Drop (s) (continued) Thicker than d's from thunder, Holy Grail 348 greaves and cuisses dash'd with d's Of onset; Pass. of Arthur 383 Like water, d by d, upon my ear Fell; Lover's Tale i 576 few d's of that distressful rain Fell on my face, " 698 hoard of happiness distill'd Some d's of solace; " 715
I weänt shed a d on 'is blood, North. Cobbler 114 wi' hoffens a d in 'is eye. Village Wife 34 Taäste another d o' the wine— " 120 ye shant hev a d fro' the paäil. Spinster's S.'s 65
Like d's of blood in a dark-gray sea, Heavy Brigade 43
The falling d will make his name Epilogue 60 you spill The d's upon my forehead. Romney's R. 24

Drop (verb) that grace Would d from his o'er-brimming love, Supp. Confessions 113 o'er black brows d's down (repeat) Madeline 34, 46
D's in a silent autumn night. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 34
Till all my limbs d piecemeal from the stone, St. S. Stylites 44
All starry culmination d Balm-dews Talking Oak 267 a larger egg Than modern poultry d, Will Water. 122
To d thy foolish tears upon my grave, Come not, when, etc. 2
And d's at Glory's temple-gates, You might have won 34
And the lark d down at his feet. Poet's Song 8
Till the Sun d, dead, from the signs.' Princess vii 245 d me a flower, D me a flower. Window, At the W. 6 D me a flower, a flower, to kiss, " 11
D's in his vast and wandering grave. In Mem. vi 16
To d head-foremost in the jaws " xxxiv 15
'The cheeks d in; the body bows Man dies: " xxxv 3 D's flat, and after the great waters break Last Tournament 464 would d from the chords or the keys, The Wreck 27 till I feäld mysen ready to d. Owd Roä 84 gold from each laburnum chain D to the grass. To Mary Boyle 11

Dropp'd-Dropt (See also Dhropt, Down-drooped, Down-dropt, Half-dropt, Low-dropt) before my eyelids dropt their shade, D. of F. Women 1 a tear Dropt on the letters as I wrote. To J. S. 56
She dropt the goose, and caught the pelf, The Goose 13
And dropt the branch she held, and turning Gardener's D. 157 tho' my teeth, which now are dropt away, St. S. Stylites 30
'Her eyelids dropp'd their silken eaves. Talking Oak 209 Dropt dews upon her golden head, " 227 shrivell'd into darkness in his head, And dropt before him. Godiva 71
Down they dropt—no word was spoken— The Captain 51
Nor anchor dropt at eve or morn; The Voyage 82
Dropt her head in the maiden's hand, Lady Clare 63
He suddenly dropt dead of heart-disease.' Sea Dreams 274
And dropt a fairy parachute and past: Princess, Pro. 76
Like threaded spiders, one by one, we dropt, " i 108
We dropt with evening on a rustic town " 170
Two plummets dropt for one to sound the abyss " ii 176 Dropt thro' the ambrosial gloom to where below " iv 24
I clamber'd o'er at top with pain, Dropt on the sward, " 209
And down the streaming crystal dropt; " vii 165 Nor find him dropt upon the firths of ice, " 206 a flower, a flower, Dropt, a flower. Window, At the W. 14
And dropt the dust on tearless eyes; In Mem. lxxx 4
Dropt off gorged from a scheme that had left Maud I i 20
And dream he dropt from heaven: Com. of Arthur 183 then the two Dropt to the cove, " 378
A cloak that dropt from collar-bone to heel, Gareth and L. 682
'And thence I dropt into a lowly vale, Holy Grail 440 Dropt down from heaven? Last Tournament 685 with his head below the surface dropt Lover's Tale i 636
And the men dropt dead in the valleys V. of Maeldune 31 it open'd and dropt at the side of each man, " 85 that dropt to the brink of his bay, The Wreck 73
She dropt the gracious mask of motherhood, The Ring 384

Dropping (See also Slow-dropping) Some d low their crimson bells Arabian Nights 62 lean'd Upon him, slowly d fragrant dew. Œnone 106
d bitter tears against his brow M. d'Arthur 211
d down with costly bales; Locksley Hall 122
D the too rough H in Hell and Heaven, Sea Dreams 196 a breadth Of Autumn, d fruits of power; Princess vi 55
d bitter tears against a brow Pass. of Arthur 379

Dropping-wells Laburnums, d-w of fire. In Mem. lxxviii 12
Dropt See Dropp'd
Dropwise gather'd trickling d from the cleft, Merlin and V. 274
Dross scurf of salt, and scum of d, Vision of Sin 211
Drought On stony d and steaming salt; Mariana in the S. 40
Drouth (See also Drowth) I look'd athwart the burning d Fatima 13
My one Oasis in the dust and d Of city life! Edwin Morris 3 in the dust and d of London life She moves " 143 Drove (s) I watch the darkening d's of swine Palace of Art 199
Not one of all the d should touch me: swine!' Merlin and V. 699 Drove (verb) (See also Druv) foliage, d The fragrant, glistening deeps. Arabian Nights 13
His own thought d him, like a goad. M. d'Arthur 185
d his heel into the smoulder'd log, " Ep. 14 fear of change at home, that d him hence. Walk. to the Mail 68
Across the boundless east we d, The Voyage 38
But whence were those that d the sail " 86
Storm, such as d her under moonless heavens Enoch Arden 547
The horse he d, the boat he sold, " 609 thought Haunted and harass'd him, and d him forth, " 720
d The footstool from before him, and arose; Aylmer's Field 326 D in upon the student once or twice, " 462 and round me d In narrowing circles Lucretius 56
With that he d the knife into his side: " 275 tale of her That d her foes with slaughter Princess, Pro. 123
On glassy water d his cheek in lines; " i 116 Right on this we d and caught, " iv 188
And d us, last, to quite a solemn close— " Con. 17
We broke them on the land, we d them on the seas. Third of Feb. 30 and goodly sheep In haste they d, Spec. of Iliad 5 gold of the ruin'd woodlands d thro' the air. Maud I i 12 and she d them thro' the waste. Geraint and E. 100 and she d them thro' the wood. " 185
He d the dust against her veilless eyes: " 529
D his mail'd heel athwart the royal crown, Balin and Balan 540 Whom Pellam d away with holy heat. " 611
And d him into wastes and solitudes Lancelot and E. 252 Tell me, what d thee from the Table Round, Holy Grail 28
D me from all vainglories, rivalries, " 32 heapt in mounds and ridges all the sea D like a cataract, " 799 Seven days I d along the dreary deep, And with me d the moon and all the stars; " 808
His own thought d him like a goad. Pass. of Arthur 353
I flung him the letter that d me wild, First Quarrel 57 and d them, and smote them, and slew, Def. of Lucknow 71
D me and my good brothers home Columbus 134
D thro' the midst of the foe, Heavy Brigade 30
D it in wild disarray, " 60
D from out the mother's nest Open. I. and C. Exhib. 27
I d the blade that had slain my husband Bandit's Death 34 and d the demon from Hawa-i-ee. Kapiolani 33
Drown her sacred blood doth d The fields, Poland 4 Whose muffled motions blindly d In Mem. xlix 15 d His heart in the gross mud-honey Maud I xvi 4 they should burst and d with deluging storms " II i 42 Might d all life in the eye,— " ii 61
A stone about his neck to d him in it. Gareth and L. 812 and then like vermin here D him, 823 melody That d's the nearer echoes. " Lover's Tale i 533
Nor d thyself with flies Ancient Sage 268
Drowndid (drowned) Wheer the poor wench d hersen, Spinster's S's. 25 Drown'd (See also Dhrownded, Drowndid) I d the whoopings of the owl St. S. Stylites 33 part were d within the whirling brook: Princess, Pro. 47 the glens are d in azure gloom " iv 525 tall columns d In silken fluctuation " vi 354
Love clasp Grief lest both be d, In Mem. i 9
Was d in passing thro' the ford, " vi 39
And d in yonder living blue " cxv 7 in which all spleenful folly was d, Maud I iii 2 Would she had d me in it, Lancelot and E. 1412 rest of her D in the gloom and horror Lover's Tale iv 62 such a vehemence that it d The feebler motion " 82
d in the deeps of a meaningless Past? Vastness 34
Drowning I brim with sorrow d song, In Mem. xix 12 Drowning (continued) fell the floods of heaven d the deep. Holy Grail 533 and the transient trouble of d— Despair 67
d old political common-sense! Locksley H., Sixty 250
Thousands of voices d his own Vastness 6
Drowse Let not your prudence, dearest, d, Princess ii 339 heel against the pavement echoing, burst Their d; Geraint and E. 272 Drowsed Doubted, and d, nodded and slept, Com. of Arthur 427 ravine Which d in gloom, seld-darken'd Death of Œnone 76
Drowsing See Death-drowsing
Drowth (See also Drouth) Thro' the heat, the d, the dust, Sisters (E. and E.) 6
Drug (s) 'What d can make A wither'd palsy Two Voices 56
Drug (verb) D thy memories, lest thou learn it, Locksley Hall 77
D down the blindfold sense of wrong In Mem. lxxi 7
Druid Each was like a D rock; Princess iv 280 grove and altar of the D and Druidess, Boädicea 2
Druidess grove and altar of the Druid and D, " 2
Drum (See also War-drum) The murmurs of the d and fife Talking Oak 215 Thy voice is heard thro' rolling d's Princess iv 577 they clash'd their arms; the d Beat; " v 250
Now, to the roll of muffled d's, Ode on Well. 87
Bugles and d's in the darkness, Def. of Lucknow 76
Drunk (See also Droonk, Sow-droonk) And d delight of battle with my peers, Ulysses 16
Ah, sweeter to be d with loss, In Mem. i 11
D even when he woo'd; Marr. of Geraint 442
Till, d with its own wine, and overfull Lover's Tale i 271
Were d into the inmost blue, " 309
D in the largeness of the utterance Of Love; " 472 for my brain was d with the water, Despair 65 Drunkard Shaking a little like a d's hand, Enoch Arden 465
The d's football, laughing-stocks of Time, Princess iv 517 let the d, as he stretch'd from horse Last Tournament 459
Drunken (See also Love-drunken) Before I well have d, scarce can eat: Geraint and E. 662
Druv (drove) she d me to drink the moor, North. Cobbler 30
But the heät d hout i' my heyes Owd Roä 84
Dry (adj.) (See also Dusty-dry) Earth is d to the centre, Nothing will Die 20 the bearded grass Is d and dewless. Miller's D. 246 the silver tongue, Cold February loved, is d: The Blackbird 14 youth Keep d their light from tears; Of old sat Freedom 20
And moist and d, devising long, Love thou thy land 38 passion sweeping thro' me left me d, Locksley Hall 131
Full cold my greeting was and d; The Letters 13
Whose pious talk, when most his heart was d, Sea Dreams 186
I found, tho' crush'd to hard and d, The Daisy 97
Be near me when my faith is d, In Mem. i 9
But with long use her tears are d. " lxxviii 20
For underfoot the herb was d; " xcv 2 cells and chambers; all were fair and d; Lancelot and E. 407 and moist or d, Full-arm'd upon his charger Pelleas and E. 215
I never said 'on wi' the d,' First Quarrel 77 but thaw tha was iver sa d, North. Cobbler 9
And each was as d as a cricket, V. of Maeldune 50
Dry (verb) 'The sap dries up: the plant declines. Two Voices 268 if thou be'st Love, d up these tears Lover's Tale i 780
Dryad-like D-l, shall wear Alternate leaf Talking Oak 286
Dry-tongued the d-t laurels' pattering talk Maud I xviii 8
Dubb'd Said Arthur, when he d him knight; Holy Grail 137
Dubric To whom arrived, by D the high saint, Com. of Arthur 453 holy D spread his hands and spake, " 471
D said; but when they left the shrine " 476
For by the hands of D, the high saint, Marr. of Geraint 838 oft I talk'd with D, the high saint, Geraint and E. 865
Duck grew So witty that ye play'd at d's and drakes Last Tournament 344
Duct 'Before the little d's began Two Voices 325
Due (adj.) feud, with question unto whom 'twere d: Œnone 82
Up in one night and d to sudden sun: Princess iv 312 and d To languid limbs and sickness; " vi 376 one so saved was d All to the saver— Lover's Tale iv 279 Due (s) little d's of wheat, and wine and oil; Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 122 clothes the father with a dearness not his d. Locksley Hall 91
So many years from his d.' Lady Clare 32

Due (s) (continued) what every woman counts her d, Love, Princess iii 244 but as frankly theirs As d's of Nature. " v 204 Who give the Fiend himself his d, To F. D. Maurice 6 they miss their yearly d Before their time? In Mem. xxix 15
And render human love his d's; " xxxvii 16 Which else were fruitless of their d, " xlv 14 lazy lover Who but claims her as his d? Maud I xx 11 and let the dark face have his d! Def. of Lucknow 69
Tho' a prophet should have his d, Dead Prophet 50
Dug (See also New-dug) falling prone he d His fingers into the wet earth, Enoch Arden 779
But iron d from central gloom, In Mem. cxviii 21
Duglas loud battles by the shore Of D; Lancelot and E. 290
Duke Bury the Great D With an empire's lamentation, Let us bury the Great D Ode on Well. 1
Truth-lover was our English D; " 189
King, d, earl, Count, baron— Lancelot and E. 464
Dull (adj.) the d Saw no divinity in grass, A Character 7
You never would hear it; your ears are so d; Poet's Mind 35
How d it is to pause, to make an end, Ulysses 22
And d the voyage was with long delays, Enoch Arden 655
d and self-involved, Tall and erect, Aylmer's Field 118 Dull (verb) d Those spirit-thrilling eyes Ode to Memory 38
'Weep, weeping d's the inward pain.' To J. S. 40
burial mould Will d their comments! Romney's R. 126
Dull'd And d the murmur on thy lip, In Mem. xxii 16
Duller something d than at first, Will Water. 157 Dumb (See also Death-dumb) And the far-off stream is d, The Owl i 3 in a little while our lips are d. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 44
The streets are d with snow. Sir Galahad 52
Winds are loud and you are d, Window, No Answer 19 ran Thro' lands where not a leaf was d; In Mem. xxiii 10 lo, thy deepest lays are d " lxxvi 7
D is that tower which spake so loud, " Con. 106
Then I cannot be wholly d; Maud II v 100 and the dead, Oar'd by the d, went upward Lancelot and E. 1154 one hath sung and all the d will sing. Holy Grail 301 and cast her eyes down, and was d. Lover's Tale iv 329
I almost dread to find her, d!' " 339
'She is but d, because in her you see " 341
'Now all be d, and promise all of you " 351
D on the winter heath he lay. Dead Prophet 13 dazed and d With passing thro' Demeter and P. 6
Dumb'd the wholesome music of the wood Was d Balin and Balan 437
O they to be d by the charm!— V. of Maeldune 25
Dune (See also Sea-dune) long low d, and lazy-plunging sea. Last Tournament 484 glory lights the hall, the d, the grass! Locksley H., Sixty 181
Dung round and round In d and nettles! Pelleas and E. 471
Dungeon histories Of battle, bold adventure, d, Aylmer's Field 98
In damp and dismal d's underground, Lover's Tale ii 149 airs of heaven After a d's closeness. Sisters (E. and E.) 198 rib-grated d of the holy human ghost, Happy 31
Dunghill Upon an ampler d trod, Will Water. 125
And Doubt is the lord of this d Despair 90
Duomo Of tower or d, sunny-sweet, The Daisy 46
Dupe Christ the bait to trap his d Sea Dreams 191
Dusk (s) Beam'd thro' the thicken'd cedar in the d. Gardener's D. 166
A troop of snowy doves athwart the d, Princess iv 168
And in the d of thee, the clock Beats out In Mem. ii 7
I sleep till d is dipt in gray: " lxvii 12 this flat lawn with d and bright; " lxxxix 2 shapes That haunt the d, with ermine capes " xcv 11 now the doubtful d reveal'd The knolls " 49
So till the d that follow'd evensong Gareth and L. 793 Till the points of the foam in the d came Despair 50 or seated in the d Of even, Demeter and P. 125 Dusk (verb) Little breezes d and shiver L. of Shalott i 11
Dusky-rafter'd The d-r many-cobweb'd hall, Marr. of Geraint 362 Dust (See also Blossom-dust, Doost, Lotos-dust, Touch-wood-dust) tho' the faults were thick as d In vacant chambers, To the Queen 18 right ear, that is fill'd with d, Hears little Two Voices 116 soil'd with noble d, he hears His country's war-song " 152
A d of systems and of creeds. " 207
Dust (continued) Two handfuls of white d, shut in an urn of brass! Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 68
I knew your brother: his mute d I honour To J. S. 29 Lie still, dry d, secure of change. " 76
parch'd with d; Or, clotted into points M. d'Arthur 218
The pillar'd d of sounding sycamores, Audley Court 16
My one Oasis in the d and drouth Of city life! Edwin Morris 3
For in the d and drouth of London Life " 143 you may carve a shrine about my d, St. S. Stylites 195 With anthers and with d: Talking Oak 184 dead, become Mere highway d? Love and Duty 11
And vex the unhappy d thou wouldst not save. Come not, when, etc. 4
Is a clot of warmer d, Vision of Sin 113
Are but d that rises up, (repeat) " 133, 169
D are our frames; and, gilded d, Aylmer's Field 1 scrapings from a dozen years Of d and deskwork: Sea Dreams 78
Have fretted all to d and bitterness.' Princess vi 264
Till public wrong be crumbled into d, Ode on Well. 167 Ashes to ashes, d to d; " 270 if the wages of Virtue be d, Wages 6
Thou wilt not leave us in the d: In Mem., Pro. 9
The d of him I shall not see " xvii 19
Ye never knew the sacred d: " xxi 22
And d and ashes all that is; " xxxiv 4 Man dies: nor is there hope in d:' " xxxv 4 sow The d of continents to be; " 12 And Time, a maniac scattering d, " l 7 grope, And gather d and chaff, " lv 18 Be blown about the desert d, " lvi 19 we talk'd Of men and minds, the d of change, " lxxi 10
To stir a little d of praise. " lxxv 12
And dropt the d on tearless eyes; " lxxx 4
The d and din and steam of town: " lxxxix 8
Our father's d is left alone " cv 5
The life re-orient out of d, " cxvi 6
That we may lift from out of d A voice " cxxxi 5 who knows? we are ashes and d. Maud I i 32
Spice his fair banquet with the d of death? " xviii 56
My d would hear her and beat, " xxii 71
That sting each other here in the d; " II i 47
And my heart is a handful of d, " v 3 he will lift us from the d. Com. of Arthur 491 who swept the d of ruin'd Rome Gareth and L. 135 turning round she saw D, and the points of lances Geraint and E. 449 held Her finger up, and pointed to the d. " 453
He drove the d against her veilless eyes: " 529
Or pinch a murderous d into her drink, Merlin and V. 610 in the d of half-forgotten kings, Lancelot and E. 1338 Fell into d, and I was left alone, (repeat) Holy Grail 389, 400, 419
she, too, Fell into d and nothing, " 397 Fell into d, and disappear'd, " 436
And touch it, it will crumble into d.' " 439 whirl the d of harlots round and round Pelleas and E. 470
he knew the Prince tho' marr'd with d, Guinevere 36
I saw One lying in the d at Almesbury, Pass. of Arthur 77 parch'd with d; Or, clotted into points " 386 heart of Hope Fell into d, and crumbled Lover's Tale i 95 Down in the dreadful d that once was man, D, " iv 67
Raving of dead men's d and beating hearts. " 140
D to d—low down—let us hide! Rizpah 37
Thro' the heat, the drowth, the d, the glare, Sisters (E. and E.) 6
The guess of a worm in the d Despair 30
And changed her into d. Ancient Sage 162
Her d is greening in your leaf, " 165 and burns the feet would trample it to d. The Flight 68 and they crumble into d. Locksley H., Sixty 72
Only 'd to d' for me that sicken " 149 D in wholesome old-world d " 150 she swept The d of earth from her knee. Dead Prophet 32 may roll with the d of a vanish'd race. Vastness 2 Stampt into d—tremulous, all awry, Romney's R. 113
The d send up a steam of human blood, St. Telemachus 53 d of the rose-petal belongs to the heart Akbar's D., Inscrip. 9
Dusty-dry all but yester-eve was d-d. Lucretius 32
Dusty-white The river-bed was d-w; Mariana in the S. 54

Dutch sometimes a D love For tulips; Gardener's D. 192
Duty for a man may fail in d twice, M. d'Arthur 129
I must be taught my d, and by you! Dora 97 and D loved of Love— Love and Duty 46 centred in the sphere Of common duties, Ulysses 40
Go to him: it is thy d: kiss him: Locksley Hall 52
To all duties of her rank: L. of Burleigh 72
Like one who does his d by his own, Enoch Arden 333
Swerve from her d to herself and us— Aylmer's Field 304
As having fail'd in d to him, Lucretius 278
Thy d? What is d? Fare thee well!' ,, 281
O hard, when love and d clash! Princess ii 293
My brother! it was d spoke, not I. ,, 308 she replied, her d was to speak, And d d, clear of consequences. ,, iii 151 day fled on thro' all Its range of duties ,, 177 they That love their voices more than d, ,, iv 512
Some sense of d, something of a faith, ,, Con. 54
Till one that sought but D's iron crown Ode on Well. 122 path of d was the way to glory: (repeat) ,, 202, 210 find the toppling crags of D scaled ,, 215
The path of d be the way to glory: ,, 224
I done moy d boy 'um, (repeat) N. Farmer, O. S. 12, 24
I done moy d by Squoire an' I done moy d ,, 56
As it were a d done to the tomb, Maud I xix 49
I charge thee, on thy d as a wife, Geraint and E. 16
It was my d to have loved the highest: Guinevere 657 for a man may fail in d twice, Pass. of Arthur 297
I have only done my d as a man is bound to do: The Revenge 102 Dwarf (s) D's of the gynæceum, fail so far Princess iii 279 after seen The d's of presage: ,, iv 447 there rode Full slowly by a knight, lady, and d; Whereof the d lagg'd latest, Marr. of Geraint 187 sent Her maiden to demand it of the d; ,, 193 my faith, thou shalt not,' cried the d; ,, 198
Made sharply to the d, and ask'd it of him,' ,, 204
His d, a vicious under-shapen thing, ,, 412 thou thyself, with damsel and with d, ,, 581 Selfish, strange! What d's are men! Sisters (E. and E.) 199 for all but a d was he, The Wreck 42
Dwarf (verb) d's the petty love of one to one. Merlin and V. 492
Dwarf'd rise or sink Together, d or godlike, Princess vii 260
How d a growth of cold and night, In Mem. lxi 7 their ever-rising life has d Or lost The Ring 463 Dwarf-elm like an old d-e That turns its back Pelleas and E. 543
Dwarf-like among the rest A d-l Cato cower'd. Princess vii 126 Dwell Where she would ever wish to d, Supp. Confessions 54
Life and Thought Here no longer d; Deserted House 18
His light upon the letter d's, Miller's D. 189
May those kind eyes for ever d! ,, 220
Wherein at ease for aye to d. Palace of Art 2
My Gods, with whom I d! ,, 196 others in Elysian valleys d, Lotos-Eaters C. S. 124
'It comforts me in this one thought to d, D. of F. Women 233 thou may'st warble, eat and d. The Blackbird 4
And d's in heaven half the night. To J. S. 52 would d One earnest, earnest moment Love and Duty 36
To d in presence of immortal youth, Tithonus 21
d's A perfect form in perfect rest. Day-Dm., Sleep B., 23
Where the wealthy nobles d.' L. of Burleigh 24
D with these, and lose Convention, Princess ii 85 pretty home, the home where mother d's? City Child 2 there—there—they d no more. Boädicea 63
But more of reverence in us d; In Mem., Pro. 26
the vigour, bold to d On doubts that drive ,, xcv 29
And d's not in the light alone, ,, xcvi 20
She d's on him with faithful eyes, ,, xcvii 35
But in my spirit will I d, ,, cxviii 9
So dark a mind within me d's, Maud I xv 1 wastes where footless fancies d ,, xviii 69 for she d's Down in a deep; calm, Com. of Arthur 291
I d Savage among the savage woods, Balin and Balan 485
'She d's among the woods' he said ,, 614 and in me there d's No greatness, Lancelot and E. 449
As when we d upon a word we know, ,, 1027
Dwell (continued) Why did the King d on my name to me? Lancelot and E. 1402
I must not d on that defeat of fame. Guinevere 628
d with you; Wear black and white, ,, 676
Love d's not in lip-depths. Lover's Tale i 466 Shakespeare's bland and universal eye D's pleased, To W. C. Macready 14 thou should'st d For nine white moons Demeter and P. 120 thou shalt d the whole bright year with me, ,, 139 noble Ulric d's forlorn, Happy 10
Dweller some dark d by the coco-palm Prog. of Spring 68
Dwelleth The clear-voiced mavis d, Claribel 16 Dwelling D amid these yellowing bowers: A spirit haunts 2 d on his boundless love, Marr. of Geraint 63
Her fancy d in this dusky hall: ,, 802
thus he spake, his eye, d on mine, Holy Grail 485 their eyes are dim With d on the light Lover's Tale i 492 Unto the d she must sway. Ode to Memory 79
Philip's d fronted on the street, Enoch Arden 731
How mend the d's, of the poor; To F. D. Maurice 38
With one great d in the middle of it; Holy Grail 574
This is a charmed d which I hold;' Lover's Tale i 114 the sweet d of her eyes Upon me Sisters (E. and E.) 165 who sack'd My d, seized upon my papers, Columbus 130 and the d broke into flame; V. of Maeldune 32 Old Empires, d's of the kings of men; Prog. of Spring 99 climb to the d of Peelè the Goddess! Kapiolani 22 Dwelling-place So unproportion'd to the d-p,) Lover's Tale i 187 Dwelt The fable of the city where we d. Gardener's D. 6
But the full day d on her brows, ,, 136 keep me from that Eden where she d. ,, 191
May not be d on by the common day. ,, 271
And d a moment on his kindly face, Enoch Arden 326
Ev'n as she d upon his latest words, ,, 454
Her hand d lingeringly on the latch, ,, 519
D with eternal summer, ill-content. ,, 562 best and brightest, when they d on hers, Aylmer's Field 69
But when I d upon your old affiance, Princess iii 139
There d an iron nature in the grain: ,, vi 50 mournful twilight mellowing, d Full on the child; ,, 191
A doubtful smile d like a clouded moon ,, 270
the dew D in her eyes, ,, vii 136
There they d and there they rioted; Boädicea 63
I past To see the rooms in which he d. In Mem. lxxxvii 16
These two—they d with eye on eye, ,, xcvii 9
Methought I d within a hall, ,, ciii 5
From which he sallies, and wherein he d. Balin and Balan 132 they d Deep-tranced on hers, ,, 277
'Brother, I d a day in Pellam's hall: ,, 605 Lifted her eyes, and they d languidly On Lancelot, Lancelot and E. 84 and d among the woods By the great river ,, 277
His own far blood, which d at Camelot; ,, 803
Yet larger thro' his leanness, d upon her, ,, 835
So d the father on her face, ,, 1030 happy as when we d among the woods, ,, 1036
I saw That man had once d there; Holy Grail 430 shot A rose-red sparkle to the city, and there D, ,, 531
D with them, till in time their Abbess died. Guinevere 692 to those With whom he d, new faces, Pass. of Arthur 5 fragments of forgotten peoples d, ,, 84
Who hath but d beneath one roof with me. ,, 156
And heaven pass too, d on my heaven, Lover's Tale i 72 the sudden wail his lady made D in his fancy: ,, iv 150
he d and whence he roll'd himself Tiresias 145 while we d Together in this valley— Death of Œnone 29
Love and Justice came and d therein; (repeat) Akbar's Dream 181, 194
Dwindle Thou shalt wax and he shall d, Boädicea 40 Science grows and Beauty d's— Locksley H., Sixty 246 Dwindled d down to some odd games In some odd nooks The Epic 8
Dwindling See Daily-Dwindling
Dyed walls of my cell were d With rosy colours leaping Holy Grail 119 splash'd and d The strong White Horse ,, 311 Dyeing blood spirted upon the scarf, D it; Marr. of Geraint 209
Dyflen Shaping their way toward D again, Batt. of Brunanburh 98

Dying (See also Slowly-dying) I would be d evermore,
So d ever, Eleänore 143
Then d of a mortal stroke, Two Voices 154
Die, d clasp'd in his embrace. Fatima 42
They say he's d all for love, May Queen 21
When Ellen Adair was d for me. Edward Gray 16 as they lay d, Did they smile on him. The Captain 55 foretold, D, that none of all our blood Princess i 8
He, d lately, left her, as I hear, " 78 Blow, bugle; answer, echoes, d, d, d. (repeat) " iv 6, 12
And answer, echoes, answer, d, d, d. " 18
Or d, there at least may die. In Mem. viii 24
The year is d in the night; cvi 3
" I felt she was slowly d Vext with lawyers Maud I xix 21
D abroad and it seems apart " 29
When he lay d there, " II ii 67
There is some one d or dead, iv 48
d, gleam'd on rocks Roof-pendent, sharp; Balin and Balan 314 laughter d down as the great knight Approach'd Lancelot and E. 179 methought I spied A d fire of madness Holy Grail 768
'And oft in d cried upon your name.' Pelleas and E. 385
Moans of the d, and voices of the dead. Pass. of Arthur 117
d thus, Crown'd with her highest act Lover's Tale i 215
And the lion there lay d, The Revenge 96
D so English thou wouldst have her flag Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 16 Death to the d, and wounds to the wounded, Def. of Lucknow 17 women in travail among the d and dead, " 88 glory and shame d out for ever Despair 75 and d while they shout her name. Locksley H., Sixty 128 D, 'Unspeakable' he wrote 'Their kindness,' To Marq. of Dufferin 35 but then A kinsman, d, summon'd me to Rome— The Ring 178
And d rose, and rear'd her arms, " 222
I sat beside her d, and she gaspt: " 287
You that know you're d . . . Forlorn 58
I am Merlin, And I am d, Merlin and the G. 8 worn-out Reason d in her house May leave the windows Romney's R. 145
I am d now Pierced by a poison'd dart. Death of Œnone 33
D in childbirth of dead sons. Akbar's Dream 12
Dyke Adown the crystal d's at Camelot Geraint and E. 470
Ah little rat that borest in the d Merlin and V. 112
From wall to d he stept, he stood, Achilles over the T. 15
Thrice from the d he sent his mighty shout, " 30
Dynamite if d and revolver leave you courage Locksley H., Sixty 107

E

Each E month is various to present the world Two Voices 74
E morn my sleep was broken thro' Miller's D. 39
And steal you from e other! Aylmer's Field 707 Who hate e other for a song, Lit. Squabbles 5 scarce could hear e other speak for noise Of clocks and chimes, Princess i 215 with e light air On our mail'd heads: " v 244 while e ear was prick'd to attend A tempest, " vi 280 and e base, To left and right, " 353
Christmas bells from hill to hill Answer e other in the mist. In Mem. xxviii 4
E voice four changes on the wind, " 9 and prey By e cold hearth, " xcviii 18
That will not yield e other way. " cii 20 and join'd E office of the social hour " cxi 14 Where e man walks with his head in a cloud of poisonous flies. Maud I iv 54 hiss'd e at other's ear What shall not be recorded— Geraint and E. 634 With e chest lock'd and padlock'd thirty-fold, Merlin and V. 655 the knights, Glorying in e new glory, Last Tournament 336
Do e low office of your holy house; Guinevere 682
How like e other was the birth of e! Lover's Tale i 197
E way from verge to verge a Holy Land, " 337
No sisters ever prized e other more. Sisters (E. and E.) 43 Sway'd by e Love, and swaying to e Love, Prin. Beatrice 19 birds that circle round the tower Are cheeping to e other The Ring 86

'Eäd (head) bummin' awaäy loike a buzzard-clock ower my 'e, N. Farmer, O. S. 18 Breäk me a bit o' the esh for his 'e " N. S. 41 cleän as a flower fro' 'e to feeät: North. Cobbler 44
'When theer's naw 'e to a 'Ouse Village Wife 17 but 'e niver not lift oop 'is 'e: " 88 fever 'ed baäked Jinny's 'e as bald as one o' them beggs, " 102 wi' a bran-new 'e o' the Queeän, Spinster's S's. 76 an' the mark o' 'is 'e o' the chairs! " 100 an' the Freeä Traäde runn'd 'i my 'e, Owd Roä 54 an' clemm'd owd Roä by the 'e, " 99 Eager and arose E to bring them down, Enoch Arden 872 e eyes, that still Took joyful note of all things joyful, Aylmer's Field 66
But Edith's e fancy hurried with him " 208 rising race were half as e for the light. Locksley H., Sixty 228 they lifted up Their e faces, wondering at the strength, Merlin and V. 133
But e to follow, I saw, Merlin and the G. 101
Eager-hearted E-h as a boy when first he leaves his father's field, Locksley Hall 112
Eagerness in his heat and e Trembled and quiver'd, Pelleas and E. 283
Eagle (See also Blood-eagle, Heagle) Half-buried in the E's down, Palace of Art 122 Shall e's not be e's? wrens be wrens? Golden Year 37 wonder of the e were the less, But he not less the e. " 39
Unclasp'd the wedded e's of her belt, Godiva 43
An e clang an e to the sphere. Princess iii 106
a poising e, burns Above the unrisen morrow:' " iv 82
A train of dames: by axe and e sat, " vii 128
Lean-headed E's yelp alone, " 211
Till o'er the hills her e's flew Ode on Well. 112
Again their ravening e rose In anger, " 119
Must their ever-ravening e's beak and talon Boädicea 11
Tho' the Roman e shadow thee, " 39
Or e's wing, or insect's eye; In Mem. cxxiv 6
Roman legions here again, And Cæsar's e: Com. of Arthur 35
For this an E, a royal E, Gareth and L. 44 an E rising or, the Sun In dexter chief; Merlin and V. 475 and started thro' mid air Bearing an e's nest: Last Tournament 15 Follow'd a rush of e's wings, " 417
They rose to where their sovran e sails, Montenegro 1 Left for the white-tail'd e to tear it, Batt. of Brunanburh 107 rose as it were on the wings of an e The Wreck 69
That young e of the West To forage for herself Open. I. and C. Exhib. 28
Eagle-borne 'Peace to thine e-b Dead nestling, Last Tournament 33
Eagle-circle sweep In ever-highering e-c's Gareth and L. 21
Eagle-like e-l Stoop at thy will on Lancelot Balin and Balan 535
Eagle-owl Round as the red eye of an E-o, Gareth and L. 799
Eagle-peak I stared from every e-p, Demeter and P. 68
Eaglet Foster'd the callow e— Œnone 212
Ear (organ of hearing) (See also Captain's-ear, Ear-stunning) Pour round mine e's the livelong bleat Ode to Memory 65
You never would hear it; your e's are so dull; Poet's Mind 35 at first to the e The warble was low, Dying Swan 23
With dinning sound my e's are rife, Eleänore 135
The right e, that is fill'd with dust, Two Voices 116
His country's war-song thrill his e's: " 153
A second voice was at mine e, " 427 the jewel That trembles in her e: Miller's D. 172 drawing nigh Half-whisper'd in his e, Œnone 186 a sound Rings ever in her e's of armed men. " 265
Or hollowing one hand against his e, Palace of Art 109
Like Herod, when the shout was in his e's, " 219 music in his e's his beating heart did make. Lotos-Eaters 36 a clear under-tone Thrill'd thro' mine e's D. of F. Women 82 horse That hears the corn-bin open, prick'd my e's; The Epic 45 murmuring at his e 'Quick, Quick! M. d'Arthur 179 Rings in mine e's. The steer forgot to graze, Gardener's D. 85 my e's could hear Her lightest breath; Edwin Morris 64 pits of fire, that still Sing in mine e's. St. S. Stylites 185
(And hear me with thine e's,) Talking Oak 82

Ear (organ of hearing) (continued) If the sense is hard To alien e's, Love and Duty 52 song from out the distance in the ringing of thine e's; Locksley Hall 84
Then fillip'd at the diamond in her e; Godiva 25
And whisper'd voices at his e. Day-Dm., Arrival 24
In her e he whispers gaily, L. of Burleigh 1 Worried his passive e with petty wrongs Enoch Arden 352 a whisper on her e, She knew not what; „ 515 likewise, in the ringing of his e's, „ 613
Twinkled the innumerable e and tail. The Brook 134
Call'd all her vital spirits into each e Aylmer's Field 201
And foam'd away his heart at Averill's e: „ 342
His message ringing in thine e's, „ 666 won mysterious way Thro' the seal'd e „ 696
True Devils with no e, they howl in tune Sea Dreams 260
Or lend an e to Plato where he says, Lucretius 147 twinn'd as horse's e and eye. Princess i 57 my very e's were hot To hear them: „ 134 no livelier than the dame That whisper'd 'Asses' e's,' „ ii 113
To dying e's, when unto dying eyes „ iv 51
we should cram our e's with wool And so pace by: „ 65 at mine e Bubbled the nightingale and heeded not, „ 265
Each hissing in his neighbour's e; „ v 15 infuse my tale of love In the old king's e's, „ 241 while each e was prick'd to attend A tempest, „ vi 280
the Dead March wails in the people's e's: Ode on Well. 267
And the e of man cannot hear, High. Pantheism 17
But I should turn mine e's and hear In Mem. xxxv 8
Not all ungrateful to thine e. „ xxviii 12
Yet in these e's, till hearing dies, „ lvii 9
Till on mine e this message falls, „ lxxv 18
A willing e We lent him. „ lxxvii 30 heart and e were fed To hear him, „ lxxix 22 words of life Breath'd in her e. „ Con. 53 centre-bits Grind on the wakeful e Maud I i 42 (Look at it) pricking a cockney e. „ x 22
Whose e is cramm'd with his cotton, „ 42
With the evil tongue and the evil e, „ 51 hope to win her With his chirrup at her e. „ xx 30
It will ring in my heart and my e's, till I die. „ II i 35
An old song vexes my e; „ ii 47
Modred laid his e beside the doors, Com. of Arthur 323 weary her e's with one continuous prayer, Gareth and L. 19 and the sound was good to Gareth's e. „ 312 felt his young heart hammering in his e's, „ 322
He sow'd a slander in the common e, Marr. of Geraint 450 she could speak whom his own e had heard Geraint and E. 113 prick'd their light e's, and felt Her low firm voice „ 193
And e's to hear you even in his dreams.' „ 429 a heavily-galloping hoof Smote on her e, „ 448 hiss'd each at other's e What shall not be recorded— „ 634 tho' mine own e's heard you yestermorn— „ 740 in the King's own e Speak what has chanced; „ 808
Then hand at e, and hearkening from what side Balin and Balan 415
Woods have tongues, As walls have e's: „ 531
And sowing one ill hint from e to e, Merlin and V. 143
That glorious roundel echoing in our e's, „ 426
All e's were prick'd at once, Lancelot and E. 724
Her father's latest word humm'd in her e, „ 780 till the e Wearies to hear it, „ 897 the world, the world, All e and eye; „ 941 a stupid heart To interpret e and eye, „ 942
And took both e and eye; Holy Grail 383 by mine eyes and by mine e's I swear, „ 864
From e to e with dogwhip-weals, Last Tournament 58
'A sound is in his e's'? „ 116 trumpet sounded as in a dream To e's but half-awaked. „ 152 one of thy long asses' e's, „ 273
Modred still in green, all e and eye, Guinevere 24
To vex an e too sad to listen to me, „ 315 and past his e Went shrilling, 'Hollow, Pass. of Arthur 32 murmuring at his e, 'Quick, Quick! „ 347
I come, great Mistress of the e and eye: Lover's Tale i 22 drop by drop, upon my e Fell; „ 576

Ear (organ of hearing) (continued) And thro' the hasty notice of the e Lover's Tale i 615 address'd More to the inward than the outward e, „ 721 marriage-bells, echoing in e and heart— „ iv 3
A crueller reason than a crazy e, „ 32
Flying by each fine e, an Eastern gauze „ 291
we shook 'em off as a dog that shakes his e's The Revenge 54
But Charlie 'e sets back 'is e's, Village Wife 67 pibroch of Europe is ringing again in our e's! Def. of Lucknow 97
Lyre Is ever sounding in heroic e's Heroic hymns, Tiresias 181
Nor lend an e to random cries, Politics 7 at his e he heard a whisper 'Rome' St. Telemachus 26
But Death had e's and eyes; Akbar's Dream 187
The toll of funeral in an Angel e D. of the Duke of C. 10
Ear (as of corn) Bows all its e's before the roaring East; Princess i 237
And pluck'd the ripen'd e's, „ ii 2
For now is love mature in e.' In Mem. lxxxi 4 some scatter'd e's, Some e's for Christ Sir J. Oldcastle 12 'Ear (hear) Dosn't thou 'e my 'erse's legs, N. Farmer, N. S. 1 that's what I 'e's 'em saäy. „ 2 woä then woä—let ma 'e mysén speäk. „ 8 that's what I 'e's 'im saäy— „ 59
But I 'e's es 'e'd gie fur a howry owd book Village Wife 45
An' I liked to 'e it I did, Spinster's S's 18 ye knawed it wur pleasant to 'e, „ 21 so es all that I 'e's be true; „ 56 wait till tha 'e's it be strikin' the hour. Owd Roä 18 thaw I didn't haäfe think as 'e'd 'e, „ 91 an' I 'e's 'em yit; „ 106
An' Parson 'e 'e's on it all, Church-warden, etc. 37
'Eärd (heard) An 'e 'um a bummin' awaäy N. Farmer, O. S. 18
Theer wur a boggle in it, I often 'e 'um mysen; Moäst like a butter-bump, fur I 'e 'um about an' about, „ 30 we 'e 'im a-mountin' oop 'igher an' 'igher, North. Cobbler 47
An' nawbody 'e on 'er sin, Village Wife 98
Ye niver 'e Steevie sweär Spinster's S's. 60
I 'e 'er a maäkin' 'er moän, „ 115
we couldn't ha' 'e tha call, Owd Roä 49 tummled up stairs, fur I 'e 'im, „ 63 as soon as 'e 'e 'is naäme, „ 93
An' I 'e the bricks an' the baulks „ 109
Earl (See also Yerl) O the E was fair to see! (repeat) The Sisters 6, 12, 18, 24, 30, 36
The daughter of a hundred E's, L. C. V. de Vere 7 that grim E, who ruled In Coventry: Godiva 12 eagles of her belt, The grim E's gift; „ 44
'The old E's daughter died at my breast; Lady Clare 25
Wherein were bandit e's, and caitiff knights, Marr. of Geraint 35
There musing sat the hoary-headed E, „ 295
Then sigh'd and smiled the hoary-headed E, „ 307
But none spake word except the hoary E: „ 369 while the Prince and E Yet spoke together, „ 384
Then suddenly address the hoary E: 'Fair Host and E, I pray your courtesy; „ 402
So spake the kindly-hearted E, „ 514
'E, entreat her by my love, „ 760 fetch Fresh victual for these mowers of our E; Geraint and E. 225
And into no E's palace will I go. „ 235
And feast with these in honour of their E; „ 287
'E, if you love me as in former years, „ 355
bow'd the all-amorous E, „ 360 thought she heard the wild E at the door, „ 381
To the waste earldom of another e, „ 438
Fled all the boon companions of the E, „ 477
Rode on a mission to the bandit E; „ 527
And their own E, and their own souls, „ 577
the huge E cried out upon her talk, „ 651
Then strode the brute E up and down his hall, „ 712
I knew this E, when I myself Was half a bandit „ 794
the huge E lay slain within his hall. „ 806
King, duke, e, Count, baron— Lancelot and E. 464
Athelstan King, Lord among E's, Batt. of Brunanburh 2
Seven strong E's of the army of Anlaf „ 53
E's that were lured by the Hunger „ 123

Earldom From mine own e foully ousted me; Marr. of Geraint 459
Thou shalt give back their e to thy kin. „ 585
'This noble prince who won our e back, „ 619
Because we have our e back again. „ 701
To the waste e of another earl, Geraint and E. 438 ye shall share my e with me, girl, „ 626
Earlier (See also Season-earlier) I will turn that e page. Locksley Hall 107
Break, happy land, into e flowers! W. to Alexandra 10
But that was in her e maidenhood, Holy Grail 73 Earliest Because they are the e of the year). Ode to Memory 27
The e pipe of half-awaken'd birds Princess iv 50 like a guilty thing I creep At e morning to the door. In Mem. vii 8
With one that was his e mate; „ lxiv 24
The roofs, that heard our e cry, „ cii 3 she placed where morning's e ray Might strike it, Lancelot and E. 5
So what was e mine in e life, Lover's Tale i 247 nor tell Of this our e, our closest-drawn, „ 278 with e violets And lavish carol of clear-throated larks „ 282 first gray streak of e summer-dawn, Ancient Sage 220
A soul that, watch'd from e youth, To Marq. of Dufferin 25
Early (See also Rathe) gaze On the prime labour of thine e days: Ode to Memory 94
Make thy grass hoar with e rime. Two Voices 66 love dispell'd the fear That I should die an e death: Miller's D. 90
His e rage Had force to make me rhyme in youth, „ 192
Whole weeks and months, and e and late, The Sisters 10
In the e e morning the summer sun 'ill shine, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 22
And once I ask'd him of his e life, Edwin Morris 23 leave me here a little, while as yet 'tis e morn: Locksley Hall 1 Faint as a figure seen in e dawn Enoch Arden 357 mate had seen at e dawn Across a break „ 631 a rough piece Of e rigid colour, Aylmer's Field 281
Some pleasure from thine e years. In Mem. iv 10
e light Shall glimmer on the dewy decks. „ ix 11
Her e Heaven, her happy views; „ xxxiii 6 to him she sings Of e faith and plighted vows; „ xcvii 30
A light-blue lane of e dawn, And think of e days and thee, „ cxix 7
Half in dreams I sorrow after The delight of e skies; Maud II iv 25
Enid, my e and my only love, Geraint and E. 307 soul twines and mingles with the growths Of vigorous e days, Lover's Tale i 133
I was then in e boyhood, Edith but a child of six— Locksley H., Sixty 258
When over the valley, In e summers, Merlin and the G. 18
Early-silvering Thus over Enoch's e-s head Enoch Arden 622 Earn (See also Addle) E well the thrifty months, Love thou thy land 95 lease Of life, shalt e no more; Will Water. 244 metaphysics! read and e our prize, Princess iii 300 popular name such manhood e's, Merlin and V. 787 child Should e from both the praise of heroism, Sisters (E. and E.) 251 Earn'd Thus e a scanty living for himself: Enoch Arden 818
Has e himself the name of sparrow-hawk. Marr. of Geraint 492
'Have I not e my cake in baking of it? Gareth and L. 575 Earnest (adj.) (See also Too-earnest) all, they said, as e as the close? Princess, Con. 21 her full and e eye Over her snow-cold breast Œnone 141 dwell One e, e moment upon mine, Love and Duty 37 Earnest (seriousness) words were half in e, half in jest,) Gardener's D. 23 take it—e wed with sport, Day-Dm., Ep. 11 jest and e working side by side, Princess iv 563
By these in e those in mockery call'd Last Tournament 135
Earnest (pledge) e of the things that they shall do: Locksley Hall 118
Are e that he loves her yet, In Mem. xcvii 15 blood Hath e in it of far springs to be. Merlin and V. 557 Earning save all e's to the uttermost Enoch Arden 86
Ear-stunning e-s hail of Arès crash Along the sounding walls.' Tiresias 96
Earth O you that hold A nobler office upon e Than arms, To the Queen 2
E is dry to the centre, Nothing will Die 20
The old e Had a birth, All Things will Die 37
And the old e must die. „ 41 in her first sleep e breathes stilly: Leonine Eleg. 7
And Thou and peace to e were born. Supp. Confessions 26 whene'er E goes to e, with grief, „ 38

Earth (continued) Hating to wander out on e, Supp. Confessions 57
To the e—until the ice would melt 81
Breathed low around the rolling e The Winds, etc. 3 star The black e with brilliance rare. Ode to Memory 20 sure she deem'd no mist of e could dull „ 38
Over the dark dewy e forlorn, „ 69
Over its grave i' the e so chilly; (repeat) A spirit haunts 10, 22
And said the e was beautiful. A Character 12 spirit of man, Making e wonder, The Poet 52
It would shrink to the e if you came in. Poet's Mind 37
The house was builded of the e, Deserted House 15
Adeline, Scarce of e nor all divine, Adeline 3
The choicest wealth of all the e, Eleanore 19
But breathe it into e and close it up Wan Sculptor 12
What is there in the great sphere of the e, If I were loved 2 true, To what is loveliest upon e.' Mariana in the S. 64 Dissolved the riddle of the e. Two Voices 170
To that last nothing under e!' „ 333
Have I not found a happy e? Miller's D. 25
Hear me, O E, hear me, O Hills, Œnone 36
O happy e, how canst thou bear my weight? „ 237
There are enough unhappy on this e, „ 239
All e and air seem only burning fire.' „ 268 common clay ta'en from the common e To ——, With Pal. of Art 17 Lord of the visible e, Palace of Art 179 oft the riddle of the painful e Flash'd thro' her „ 213 mouldering with the dull e's mouldering sod, „ 261 Was never born into the e. To J. S. 32 note, Should thus be lost for ever from the e, M. d'Arthur 90 round e is every way Bound by gold chains „ 254
Felt e as air beneath me, Gardener's D. 212 Unfit for e, unfit for heaven, St. S. Stylites 3 Heaven, and E, and Time are choked. „ 104 men on e House in the shade of comfortable roofs, „ 106
The fat e feed thy branchy root, Talking Oak 273 dark E follows wheel'd in her ellipse; Golden Year 24 strength which in old days Moved e and heaven; Ulysses 67
In days far-off, on that dark e, Tithonus 48
I e in e forget these empty courts, „ 75
And the kindly e shall slumber, Locksley Hall 130 perish one by one, Than that e should stand at gaze „ 180 one low churl, compact of thankless e, Godiva 66
For we are Ancients of the e, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 19
This e is rich in man and maid; Will Water. 65
This whole wise e of light and shade Comes out „ 67
Like all good things on e! „ 202
That are the flower of the e?' Lady Clare 68
Bore to e her body, drest In the dress L. of Burleigh 98 Move eastward, happy e, and leave Move Eastward 1
'Cold altar, Heaven and e shall meet The Letters 7
No public life was his on e, You might have won 23
he dug His fingers into the wet e, Enoch Arden 780 this, a milky-way on e, Like visions Aylmer's Field 160 one kiss Was Leolin's one strong rival upon e; „ 557 Never since our bad e became one sea, „ 635
e Lightens from her own central Hell— „ 760
All over earthy, like a piece of e, Sea Dreams 99 blood by Sylla shed Came driving rainlike down again on e, Lucretius 48 never yet on e Could dead flesh creep, „ 130 two sphere lamps blazon'd like Heaven and E Princess i 223 close upon the Sun, Than our man's e; „ ii 37 broad and bounteous E Should bear a double growth „ 179
there is nothing upon e More miserable „ iii 259 Leapt from the dewy shoulders of the E, „ v 43 sweet influences Of e and heaven? „ 192
fixt As are the roots of e and base of all; „ 446 Part roll'd on the e and rose again „ 497 twists the grain with such a roar that E Reels, „ 528 she set the child on the e; „ vi 120 lies the E all Danaë to the stars, „ vii 182 black e yawns: the mortal disappears; Ode on Well. 269 wide hall with e's invention stored, Ode Inter. Exhib. 2
And gathering all the fruits of e „ 41
The gloom that saddens Heaven and E, The Daisy 102
I cast to e a seed. The Flower 2

Earth (continued) To a sweet little Eden on e that I know, The Islet 14
E, these solid stars, this weight of body High. Pantheism 5
You have bitten into the heart of the e, Window, Winter 18
Be merry on e as you never were merry before, „ Ay 2
Light, so low upon e, „ Marr. Morn. 1
Where he in English e is laid, In Mem. xviii 2
This e had been the Paradise It never look'd „ xxiv 6
A rainy cloud possess'd the e, „ xxx 3
Else e is darkness at the core, „ xxxiv 3
The baby new to e and sky, „ xlv 1
The silent snow possess'd the e, „ lxxviii 3
No lower life that e's embrace May breed „ lxxxii 3
he bare The use of virtue out of e: „ 10
To wander on a darken'd e, „ lxxxv 31
To myriads on the genial e, „ xcix 14
A lever to uplift the e And roll it „ cxiii 15
As dying Nature's e and lime; „ cxviii 4
They say, The solid e whereon we tread „ 8
O e, what changes hast thou seen! „ cxviii 2
yet I keep Within his court on e, „ cxxvi 7
The brute e lightens to the sky, „ cxxvii 15 under whose command Is E and E's, „ Con. 131
eft was of old the Lord and Master of E, Maud I iv 31 Put down the passions that make e Hell! „ x 46
This lump of e has left his estate „ xvi 1
Has our whole e gone nearer to the glow „ xviii 78
Were it e in an earthy bed; „ xxii 70 dawn of Eden bright over e and sky, „ II i 8 kisses sweeter sweeter Than anything on e. „ iv 10
she was fairest of all flesh on e, Com. of Arthur 3
Reddening the sun with smoke and e with blood, „ 37
O e that soundest hollow under me, „ 84 the bounds of heaven and e were lost— „ 372 and the solid e became As nothing, „ 442
And loveliest of all women upon e. Marr. of Geraint 21 better were I laid in the dark e, „ 97
I will track this vermin to their e's: „ 217
'I have track'd him to his e.' „ 253
if he die, why e has e enough To hide him. Geraint and E. 554 draws in the wither'd leaf And makes it e, „ 634
Sir Lancelot with his eyes on e, Balin and Balan 253 Leapt in a semicircle, and lit on e; „ 414 beat the cross to e, and break the King „ 458
Tore from the branch, and cast on e, „ 539
O Merlin, may this e, if ever I, Merlin and V. 345
May this hard e cleave to the Nadir hell „ 349 men at most differ as Heaven and e, „ 814 spikes and splinters of the wood The dark e „ 938 who loves me must have a touch of e; Lancelot and E. 133 Might wear as fair a jewel as is on e, „ 240 hard e shake, and a low thunder of arms. „ 460
He bore a knight of old repute to the e, „ 492
An armlet for the roundest arm on e, „ 1183 for all her shining hair Was smear'd with e, Holy Grail 210 heaven appear'd so blue, nor e so green, „ 365
Which never eyes on e again shall see. „ 532
Cared not for her, nor anything upon e.' „ 612
But live like an old badger in his e, With e about him everywhere, „ 629
And felt the boat shock e, „ 812
Until this e he walks on seems not e, „ 912
At random looking over the brown e Pelleas and E. 32
One rose, a rose that gladden'd e and sky, „ 402
the one true knight on e, And only lover; „ 494 Clung to the dead e, and the land was still. Guinevere 8 seem'd the heavens upbreaking thro' the e, „ 391 note, Should thus be lost for ever from the e, Pass. of Arthur 258 round e is every way Bound by gold chains „ 422 will not pass, till e And heaven pass too, Lover's Tale i 71
My inward sap, the hold I have on e, „ 166 pillars which from e uphold Our childhood, „ 220 High over all the azure-circled e, „ 390 and the e They fell on became hallow'd evermore. „ 439 Scarce housed within the circle of this E, „ 479
Sooner E Might go round Heaven, „ 481

Earth (continued) all the separate Edens of this e, Lover's Tale 551 had the e beneath me yawning cloven „ 602 all from these to where she touch'd on e, „ iv 167 loved His master more than all on e beside. „ 257
Of all things upon e the dearest to me.' „ 319
Crazy with laughter and babble and e's new wine, To A. Tennyson 2
Turning my way, the loveliest face on e. Sisters (E. and E.) 87 sent Our Edith thro' the glories of the e, „ 225 gleam from our poor e May touch thee, Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 18 Twice do we hurl them to e from the ladders Def. of Lucknow 58 chains For him who gave a new heaven, a new e, Columbus 20 suck in with his milk hereafter—e A sphere. „ 38 a tent Spread over e, and so this e was flat: „ 48 half-assured this e might be a sphere. „ 60 Spain once the most chivalric race on e, Spain then the mightiest, wealthiest realm on e, „ 204 boasted he sprang from the oldest race upon e. V. of Maeldune 4 her dark orb Touch'd with e's light— De Prof., Two G. 10
Glode over e till the glorious creature Batt. of Brunanburh 29
One night when e was winter-black, To E. Fitzgerald 21
Two voices heard on e no more; „ 41 clearer day Than our poor twilight dawn on e— Tiresias 206
My close of e's experience May prove as peaceful „ 216 without any delight In anything here upon e? Despair 8 no soul on the e below, „ 19 own selves on an e that bore not a flower; „ 44
We never had found Him on e, this e is a fatherless Hell— „ 57 left in the rocks of an e that is dead? „ 86
And e as fair in hue! Ancient Sage 24 blue of sky and sea, the green of e, „ 41
'And since—from when this e began— „ 53
stir the sleeping e, and wake The bloom „ 93
Who clings to e, and once would dare Hell-heat „ 115
In vain you tell me 'E is fair' „ 169
And we, the poor e's dying race, „ 178 e's dark forehead flings athwart the heavens „ 200
The lark has past from e to Heaven The Flight 62 gone as all on e will go. Locksley H., Sixty 46
E at last a warless world, „ 165 for is not E as yet so young?— „ 166
Can it, till this outworn e be dead „ 174 smiling downward at this earthlier e of ours, „ 183
Is there evil but on e? „ 197
Many an Æon moulded e before her highest man, was born, Many an Æon too may pass when e is manless and forlorn, E so huge, and yet so bounded— „ 205
e will be Something other than the widest „ 231
E may reach her earthly-worst, „ 233
E would never touch her worst, „ 270
Ill To waste this e began— Epilogue 23
And so does E; for Homer's fame, „ 58
E passes, all is lost In what they prophesy, „ 64 unlaborious e and oarless sea; To Virgil 20
They call'd her 'Reverence' here upon e, Dead Prophet 27
she swept The dust of e from her knee. „ 32 angel eyes In e's recurring Paradise. Helen's Tower 12
This e has never borne a nobler man. Epit. On Gordon 4 His isle, the mightiest Ocean-power on e, The Fleet 6 cry that rang thro' Hades, E, and Heaven! Demeter and P. 33 one black blur of e Left by that closing chasm, „ 37 glancing from his height On e a fruitless fallow, „ 118 in the harvest hymns of E The worship „ 148 as this poor e's pale history runs,— Vastness 3 and all these old revolutions of e; „ 29
Stranger than e has ever seen; The Ring 38
An ever lessening e—and she perhaps, „ 46
Gleam'd for a moment in her own on e. „ 297 lost the moment of their past on e, „ 464 that poor link With e is broken, „ 476
E and Hell will brand your name, Forlorn 51
Would E tho' hid in cloud not be follow'd Happy 97 name that e will not forget Till e To Ulysses 27
She comes, and E is glad To roll her North Prog. of Spring 48 lured me from the household fire on e. Romney's R. 40

Earth (continued) throbs Thro' e, and all her graves, Romney's R. 128 Sounding for ever and ever thro' E Parnassus 7 e's green stole into heaven's own hue, Far-far-away 2 all the bounds of e, Far-far-away? " 14 Act first, this E, a stage so gloom'd The Play 1
In silence wept upon the flowerless e. Death of Œnone 9 'Is e On fire to the West? St. Telemachus 18
Yea, Alla here on e, who caught and held Akbar's Dream 84 mists of e Fade in the noon of heaven, " 96 Let the Sun, Who heats our e to yield us grain " 105 draw The crowd from wallowing in the mire of e, " 141
'The meek shall inherit the e' The Dreamer 2 dream'd that a Voice of the E went wailingly past " 3 Moaning your losses, O E, " 17
The Reign of the Meek upon e, " 25
Minds on this round e of ours Poets and Critics 3
For if this e be ruled by Perfect Love, D. of the Duke of C. 8
His shadow darkens e: " 13
Earth-angel O Heaven's own white E-a, Merlin and V. 81
Earth-baldness e-b clothes itself afresh, Demeter and P. 49
Earthen Drawing into his narrow e urn, Ode to Memory 61
Earth-Goddess I, E-G, cursed the Gods of Heaven. Demeter and P. 102
I, E-G, am but ill-content With them, " 128 Earthlier myself Am lonelier, darker, e for my loss Aylmer's Field 750 your modern amourist is of easier, e make. Locksley H., Sixty 18 smiling downward at this e earth of ours, " " 183 Earthly Or love that never found his e close, Love and Duty 1
As this pale taper's e spark, St. Agnes' Eve 15
So in mine e house I am, " 19
May not that e chastisement suffice? Aylmer's Field 784
Lay your e fancies down, Ode on Well. 279
For I am but an e Muse, In Mem. xxxvii 13
May some dim touch of e things Surprise thee " xliv 11 the song of woe Is after all an e song: " lvii 2
The head hath miss'd an e wreath: " lxxiii 6
Till slowly worn her e robe, " lxxxiv 33
For she is e of the mind, " cxiv 21 he defileth heavenly things With e uses'— Balin and Balan 422 was it e passion crost?' Holy Grail 29
e beats that spring and sparkle out " " 33 how should E measure mete The Heavenly-unmeasured Lover's Tale i 473 divorce thee not From e love and life— Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 4 happier voyage now Toward no e pole. Sir J. Franklin 4 Trusting no longer that e flower would be heavenly fruit— Despair 35 filial eyes Have seen the loneliness of e thrones, Prin. Beatrice 14
Miriam, breaks her latest e link With me to-day. The Ring 47
Earthly-best or if she gain her e-b, Locksley H., Sixty 233
Earthly-heavenliest Most loveliest, e-h harmony? Lover's Tale i 279
Earthly-wise blessed Lord, I speak too e, Holy Grail 627
Earthly-worst Earth may reach her e-w, Locksley H., Sixty 233 Earth-Mother child Of thee, the great E-M, Demeter and P. 97 reap with me, E-m, in the harvest hymns " 148
Earth-narrow whether this e-n life Be yet but yolk, Ancient Sage 129 Earthquake (See also World's-earthquake) Blight and famine, plague and e, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 115 flood, fire, e, thunder, wrought Such waste Aylmer's Field 639 wholly out of sight, and sink Past e— Lucretius 153 Shatter'd into one e in one day " 251 like a bell Toll'd by an e in a trembling tower, Princess vi 332 crack of e shivering to your base Split you, Pelleas and E. 465
An e, my loud heart-beats, Lover's Tale ii 193 a wave like the wave that is raised by an e grew, The Revenge 115 another wild e out-tore Clean from our lines Def. of Lucknow 61 an e always moved in the hollows under the dells, V. of Maeldune 107 Shrine-shattering e, fire, flood, thunderbolt, Tiresias 61
Gone like fires and floods and e's Locksley H., Sixty 40
Thunder, or the rending e, or the famine, Faith 4
Earthquake-cloven yawning of an e-c chasm. Lover's Tale i 377
Earth-shock'd Above some fair metropolis, e-s,— " ii 62 Earth-sweeping upbare A broad e-s pall of whitest lawn " 78
Earthy Were it earth in an e bed; Maud I xxii 70
All over e, like a piece of earth, Sea Dreams 99
Earwig See Battle-Twig

Ease Two lives bound fast in one with golden e; Circumstance 5
'Why, if man rot in dreamless e, Two Voices 280
Alice, you were ill at e; Miller's D. 146 Wherein at e for aye to dwell, Palace of Art 2 long rest or death, dark death, or dreamful e. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 53
You ask me, why, tho' ill at e, You ask me, why 1 control Our being, lest we rust in e. Love thou thy land 42
Seeing with how great e Nature can smile, Lucretius 174
With garrulous e and oily courtesies Princess i 164
We break our laws with e, " vi 323 but your Highness breaks with e The law " 325
I would set their pains at e. In Mem. lxiii 8 wrought All kind of service with a noble e Gareth and L. 489 Drank till he jested with all e, Geraint and E. 290
She lied with e; but horror-stricken he, Balin and Balan 525
he let his wisdom go For e of heart, Merlin and V. 893 Them surely I can silence with all e. Lancelot and E. 109 they lost themselves, Yet with all e, " 442
And found no e in turning or in rest; " 901
Who read but on my breviary with e, Holy Grail 545 ruffians at their e Among their harlot-brides, Last Tournament 427
But on that day, not being all at e, Sister's (E. and E.) 209
And yet my heart is ill at e, The Flight 97
Eased And e her heart of madness . . . Forlorn 82
Easeful wilt thou leave Thine e biding here, Gareth and L. 128 Easier With fuller profits lead an e life, Enoch Arden 145
But evermore it seem'd an e thing Geraint and E. 108 your modern amourist is of e, earthlier make. Locksley H., Sixty 18 East Till that o'ergrown Barbarian in the E Poland 7
And slowly rounded to the e Mariana in the S. 79 light increased With freshness in the dawning e. Two Voices 405 Four courts I made, E, West and South and North, Palace of Art 21
Smote by the fresh beam of the springing e; M. d'Arthur 214 dark E, Unseen, is brightening to his bridal morn. Gardener's D. 72 went To greet their fairer sisters of the E. " 188
The ever-silent spaces of the E, Tithonus 9
Yet hold me not for ever in thine E: " 64
Across the boundless e we drove, The Voyage 38
The blaze upon the waters to the e; Enoch Arden 594
I to the E And he for Italy— The Brook 1 darken'd in the west, And rosed in the e: Sea Dreams 40
King of the E altho' he seem, Lucretius 133
Bows all its ears before the roaring E; Princess i 237 Nor stunted squaws of West or E; " ii 78 touch'd Above the darkness from their native E. " iii 22
'Alas your Highness breathes full E,' " 231 beam Of the E, that play'd upon them, " v 259 a feast Of wonder, out of West and E, Ode Inter. Exhib. 21
The bitter e, the misty summer And gray metropolis The Daisy 103 voices go To North, South, E, and West; Voice and the P. 14 Far in the E Boädicéa, standing loftily charioted, Boädicea 3 Flown to the e or the west, Window, Gone 7
O Father, touch the e, and light In Mem. xxx 31 heaved a windless flame Up the deep E, " lxxii 14
E and West, without a breath, " xcv 62
What lightens in the lucid e " cv 24 Fiercely flies The blast of North and E, " cvii 7 Blush from West to E, Blush from E to West, Till the West is E, Maud I xvii 21 breeze that streams to thy delicious E, " xviii 16 there be dawn in West and eve in E? Gareth and L. 712 pale and bloodless e began To quicken Marr. of Geraint 534
There lived a king in the most Eastern E, Merlin and V. 555 in her chamber up a tower to the e Lancelot and E. 3 star Led on the gray-hair'd wisdom of the e; Holy Grail 453
'One night my pathway swerving e, " 634
Let the fierce e scream thro' your eyelet-holes, Pelleas and E. 469 water Moab saw Come round by the E, Last Tournament 483 Smote by the fresh beam of the springing e; Pass. of Arthur 382 deeds Of England, and her banner in the E? Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 21 Or Amurath of the E? Sir J. Oldcastle 97 made West E, and sail'd the Dragon's mouth, Columbus 25 our most ancient E Moriah with Jerusalem; " 80
Up from the E hither Saxon and Angle Batt. of Brunanburh 117
Who wert the voice of England in the E. Epit. on Stratford 4

East (continued) clash The golden keys of E and West. To Marq. of Dufferin 4 she lent The sceptres of her West, her E, " 6 Easterday For it was past the time of E. Gareth and L. 186 Eastern Below the city's e towers: Fatima 9 captain of my dreams Ruled in the e sky. D. of F. Women 264 Far up the porch there grew an E rose, Gardener's D. 123
Beyond the fair green field and e sea. Love and Duty 101
'There lived a king in the most E East, Merlin and V. 555 an E gauze With seeds of gold— Lover's Tale iv 291 Who reads your golden E lay, To E. Fitzgerald 32
e flowers large, Some dropping low Arabian Nights 61
But she was sharper than an e wind, Audley Court 53
The foaming grape of e France. In Mem., Con. 80 climb'd That e tower, and entering barr'd her door, Lancelot and E. 15 at the e end, Wealthy with wandering lines Holy Grail 251 Eastward Past e from the falling sun. Balin and Balan 320 singing in the topmost tower To the e: Holy Grail 835 East-wind In the stormy e-w straining, L. of Shalott iv 1 Easy (See also Easy) For it's e to find a rhyme. (repeat) Window, Ay 6, 12 sleepless nights Of my long life have made it e to me. Merlin and V. 680
He will answer to the purpose, e things to understand— Locksley Hall 55
Fast flow'd the current of her e tears, Enoch Arden 865
Were no false passport to that e realm, Aylmer's Field 183
I said no, Yet being an e man, gave it: Princess i 149 winning e grace, No doubt, for slight delay, " iv 330
If e patrons of their kin Have left the last free race Third of Feb. 39 doubted whether daughter's tenderness, Or e nature, Marr. of Geraint 798 down the highway moving on With e laughter Tiresias 200 Flowing with e greatness and touching The Wreck 50
Easy an' a says it e an' freeä N. Farmer, O. S. 25
Lets them inzide 'eaven e es leäves their debts to be paäid. Village Wife 94 but they wasn't that e to pleäse, " 117 Eat The creaking cords which wound and e Supp. Confessions 36 princes over-bold Have e our substance, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 76 thou may'st warble, e and dwell. The Blackbird 4 we sat and e And talk'd old matters over; Audley Court 28 e wholesome food, And wear warm clothes, St. S. Stylites 108
I will not e my heart alone, In Mem. cviii 3
'A thousand pips e up your sparrow-hawk! Marr. of Geraint 274
I will enter, I will e With all the passion " 305 those That e in Arthur's hall at Camelot. " 432
'Friend, let her e; the damsel is so faint.' Geraint and E. 206
My lord, e also, tho' the fare is coarse, " 208
And rising on the sudden he said, 'E! " 614 it makes me mad to see you weep. E! " 617 E and be glad, for I account you mine.' " 647 thrust the dish before her, crying, 'E.' " 655
'No, no,' said Enid, vext, 'I will not e " 656 man upon the bier arise, And e with me.' " 658 Before I well have drunken, scarce can e: " 662
Not e nor drink? And wherefore wail for one, " 674
E's scarce enow to keep his pulse abeat; Balin and Balan 105
And one said 'E in peace! a liar is he, " 607
Who meant to e her up in that wild wood Merlin and V. 260
e's And uses, careless of the rest; " 462
After the king, who e in Arthur's halls. Lancelot and E. 184
I knew For one of those who e in Arthur's hall; Holy Grail 24 but e not thou with Mark, Last Tournament 532 Is it worth his while to e, Voice spake, etc. 7
'Eät (heat) What's the 'e of this 'illside to the 'e North. Cobbler 6 Eaten (See also Temple-eaten, Worm-eaten) after all had e, then Geraint, Marr. of Geraint 397
'Boy,' said he, 'I have e all, Geraint and E. 217 when Earl Doorm had e all he would, " 609
And myself, I had e but sparely, V. of Maeldune 69
Eater See Lotos-Eaters
Eating E the Lotos day by day, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 60 Until the ulcer, e thro' my skin, St. S. Stylites 67 and e not, Except the spare chance-gift " 77 Eating (continued) And e hoary grain and pulse the steeds, Spec. of Iliad. 21
And a morbid e lichen fixt On a heart Maud I vi 77 the village boys Who love to vex him e, Geraint and E. 561
'tis e dry To dance without a catch, Last Tournament 249
Eavedrops Then I rise, the e fall, Maud II iv 62
'Eaven (heaven) Lets them inte" 'e eäsy es leäves Village Wife 94
Eaves (See also Bower-eaves, Mountain-eaves) Her eyelids dropp'd their silken e. Talking Oak 209
One, almost to the martin-haunted e Aylmer's Field 163 Fly to her, and fall upon her gilded e, Princess iv 94 closing e of wearied eyes I sleep till dusk In Mem. lxvii 11
Who murmurest in the foliaged e " xcix 9 Makes daggers at the sharpen'd e, " cvii 8
With hands for e, uplooking and almost Waiting Lover's Tale i 311
And murmur at the low-dropt e of sleep, " ii 122 now from all the dripping e The spear of ice Prog. of Spring 5
Ebb (s) We left the dying e that faintly lipp'd Audley Court 12
Have e and flow conditioning their march, Golden Year 30 float or fall in endless e and flow; W. to Marie Alex. 27
I could rest, a rock in e's and flows, Marr. of Geraint 812 from my farthest lapse, my latest e, Lover's Tale i 90
Sway'd by vaster e's and flows Locksley H., Sixty 194
Ebb (verb) brood, And e into a former life, Sonnet To —— 2
According to my humour e and flow. D. of F. Women 134
When the tide e's in sunshine, Princess vi 162
Ebb'd sat round the wassail-bowl, Then half-way e: The Epic 6 (possibly He flow'd and e uncertain, Aylmer's Field 218
'O mine have e away for evermore, Merlin and V. 439
Ebbing felt them slowly e, name and fame.' " 437
Ebony brow of pearl Tress'd with redolent e, Arabian Nights 138 cups of emerald, there at tables of e lay, Boädicea 61
Echo (s) So took e with delight, (repeat) The Owl ii 4
Lull'd e's of laborious day Come to you, Margaret 29
An e from a measured strain, Miller's D. 66
To hear the dewy e's calling From cave to cave Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 94
Were faint Homeric e's, nothing-worth, The Epic 39 the great e flap And buffet round the hills, Golden Year 76 Like hints and e's of the world Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 7 Like e's from beyond a hollow, Aylmer's Field 298 crashing with long e's thro' the land, " 338
E answer'd in her sleep From hollow fields: Princess, Pro. 66
An e like a ghostly woodpecker, " 217
Blow, bugle, blow, set the wild e's flying, (repeat) " iv 5, 17
Blow, bugle; answer, e's, dying, dying, dying. (repeat) " 6, 12
Our e's roll from soul to soul, " 15
And answer, e's, answer, dying, dying, " 18
A step Of lightest e, " 215 barrier like a wild horn in a land Of e's, " v 487
And now and then an e started up, " vi 369
The proof and e of all human fame, Ode on Well. 145
E on e Dies to the moon. Minnie and Winnie 11
A hollow e of my own— In Mem. iii 11
Like e's in sepulchral halls, " lviii 2
As e's out of weaker times, " Con. 22
E there, whatever is ask'd her, Maud I i 4 an e of something Read with a boy's delight, " vii 9 a million horrible bellowing e's broke " II i 24
And the woodland e rings; " iv 38 great Queen, In words whose e lasts, Marr. of Geraint 782 old e's hidden in the wall Rang out Pelleas and E. 366
Like the last e born of a great cry, Pass. of Arthur 459
And mellow'd e's of the outer world— Lover's Tale i 208 melody That drowns the nearer e's. " 533 e's of the hollow-banked brooks Are fashion'd " 566
If so be that the e of that name Ringing " 644
Whose e shall not tongue thy glorious doom, Tiresias 136
A dying e from a falling wall; Ancient Sage 263
Silent e's! You, my Leonard, Locksley H., Sixty 265
Echo (verb) Hear a song that e's clearly, L. of Shallot i 30
The haunts of memory e not. Two Voices 369
With sounds that e still. D. of F. Women 8
'Hear how the bushes e! Gardener's D. 98
Then made his pleasure e, hand to hand, Aylmer's Field 257
E round his bones for evermore. Ode on Well. 12

Echo (verb) (continued) The last wheel e's away. Maud I xxii 26 the great wave that e's round the world; Marr. of Geraint 420 rummage buried in the walls Might e, Balin and Balan 417
Echo'd (adj.) hear her e song Throb thro' the ribbed stone; Palace of Art 175
Echo'd (verb) further inland, voices e—'Come M. d'Arthur, Ep. 27
For while our cloisters e frosty feet, Princess, Pro. 183
And e by old folk beside their fires Com. of Arthur 417 second e him, 'Lord, we have heard from our wise man Gareth and L. 200
E the walls; a light twinkled; ,, 1370 and the forest e 'fool.' Merlin and V. 974
And changed itself and e in her heart, Lancelot and E. 782 he wellnigh deem'd His wish by hers was e; Pelleas and E. 121
That timorously and faintly e mine, Sisters (E. and E.) 164 that underground thunderclap e away, Def. of Lucknow 32 a song Which often e in me, Romney's R. 85
All her harmonies e away?— To Master of B. 12 would not die, but e on to reach Honorius, St. Telemachus 76 Echoing (See also Ever-echoing) the e dance Of reboant whirlwinds, Supp. Confessions 96 with e feet he threaded The secretest walks The Poet 9
And the wave-worn horns of the e bank, Dying Swan 39 was thrown From his loud fount upon the e lea:— Mine be the strength 4 shiver of dancing leaves is thrown About its e chambers wide, Maud I vi 74
E all night to that sonorous flow Palace of Art 27 Illyrian woodlands, e falls Of water, To E. L. 1
e me you cry 'Our house is left unto us desolate'? Aylmer's Field 736
And heel against the pavement e, Geraint and E. 271
That glorious roundel e in our ears, Merlin and V. 426 the father answer'd, e 'highest?' Lancelot and E. 1078
e yell with yell, they fired the tower, Last Tournament 478
Or ghostly footfall e on the stair. Guinevere 507
Echo-like Then e-l our voices rang; In Mem. xxx 13
Eclipse Gaiety without e Wearieth me, Lilian 20
As when the sun, a crescent of e, Vision of Sin 10
The shadow of His loss drew like e, Ded. of Idylls 14
Ecliptic Sear'd by the close e, Aylmer's Field 193
Ecstasy So tranced, so rapt in ecstasies, Eleänore 78 the boy Was half beyond himself for e. Gareth and L. 524
To holy virgins in their ecstasies, Holy Grail 867
Eddied e into suns, that wheeling cast Princess ii 118
Eddy (s) vexed eddies of its wayward brother: Isabel 33
There the river e whirls, L. of Shalott ii 15
In crystal eddies glance and poise, Miller's D. 52
I cannot keep My heart an e Princess vi 322
The fancy's tenderest e wreathe, In Mem. xlix 6
No doubt vast eddies in the flood ,, cxxviii 5
Charm'd amid eddies of melodious airs, Lover's Tale i 450
Eddy (verb) those that e round and round? In Mem. liii 12
Eddying (part) (See also Multitudinous-eddying) Were flooded over with e song. Dying Swan 42
I bubble into e bays, The Brook 41 cold streamlet curl'd Thro' all his e coves; In Mem. lxxix 10 Eddying (s) The e of her garments caught from thee Ode to Memory 31
Eden Saw distant gates of E gleam, Two Voices 212
Could keep me from that E where she dwelt. Gardener's D. 191
Summer isles of E lying in dark-purple spheres Locksley Hall 164
And every bird of E burst In carol, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 43
Set in this E of all plenteousness, Enoch Arden 561
Then comes the statelier E back to men: Princess vii 293 a sweet little E on earth that I know, The Islet 14
The brooks of E mazily murmuring, Milton 10 Rings E thro' the budded quicks, In Mem. lxxxviii 2
the moon Of E on its bridal bower: ,, Con. 28
O dawn of E bright over earth and sky, Maud II i 8
Like that which kept the heart of E green Geraint and E. 770
And all the separate E's of this earth, Lover's Tale i 551 diseaseful creature which in E was divine, Happy 33
Eden-isle Your Oriental E-i's, To Ulysses 38 Edge (See also Casement-edge, Sword-edge) the fading e's of box beneath, A spirit haunts 19 bright and sharp As e's of scymetar. Kate 12

Edge (continued) Stream'd onward, lost their e's, D. of F. Women 50 three times slipping from the outer e, The Epic 11 where the prone e of the wood began (repeat) Enoch Arden 67, 373 here and there on lattice e's lay Princess ii 29
That axelike e unturnable, our Head, ,, 203 grass There growing longest by the meadow's e, Geraint and E. 257
The memory's vision hath a keener e. Lover's Tale i 36 sweeping down Took the e's of the pall, ,, iii 35 Edged (See also Shrill-edged, Thorough-edged) scorn, E with sharp laughter, Clear-headed friend 2
Found a dead man, a letter e with death Beside him, Aylmer's Field 595 Edge-tools ill jesting with e-t! Princess ii 201
Edict waiting still The e of the will Lover's Tale ii 161
Edith (See also Edith Montfort) his E, whom he loved As heiress Aylmer's Field 23 often, in his walks with E, claim A distant kinship ,, 61 shook the heart of E hearing him. ,, 63
E, whose pensive beauty, perfect else, ,, 70 and roll'd His hoop to pleasure E, ,, 85 make-believes For E and himself: ,, 96 the labourers' homes, A frequent haunt of E, ,, 148
Each, its own charm; and E's everywhere; and E ever visitant with him, He but less loved than E, of her poor: ,, 165
But E's eager fancy hurried with him ,, 208 oriental gifts on everyone And most on E: ,, 215 E whom his pleasure was to please, ,, 232 was E that same night; Pale as the Jephtha's daughter, ,, 279 its worth Was being E's. ,, 379 would go, Labour for his own E, and return ,, 420 remembering His former talks with E, ,, 457 the keen shriek 'Yes love, yes E, yes,' ,, 582 dagger which himself Gave E, redden'd with no bandit's blood: 'From E' was engraven on the blade. ,, 597 many too had known E among the hamlets round, ,, 615
Now follows E echoing Evelyn. Sisters (E. and E.) 15 one is somewhat graver than the other—E than Evelyn. ,, 27 but the paler and the graver, E. ,, 38 once my prattling E ask'd him 'why?' ,, 58 memorial Of E—no, the other,—both ,, 108
E—all One bloom of youth, healthy, ,, 119 haze to magnify The charm of E— ,, 130 believing I loved E, made E love me. ,, 138
Not I that day of E's love or mine— ,, 142
E wrote: 'My mother bids me ask' ,, 180 simple mother work'd upon By E pray'd me not to whisper of it. And E would be bridesmaid on the day. ,, 207 when we parted, E spoke no word, ,, 215
Our E thro' the glories of the earth, ,, 225 she That loved me—our true E— ,, 235 daily want Of E in the house, the garden, ,, 246
E had welcomed my brief wooing of her, ,, 254 scarce as great as E's power of love, ,, 261 bore a child whom reverently we call'd E; ,, 269
But you love E; and her own true eyes ,, 284
I think I likewise love your E most. ,, 293
E, yet so lowly-sweet, Locksley H., Sixty 49
Near us E's holy shadow, ,, 54
E but a child of six— ,, 258
Peept the winsome face of E ,, 260
Ralph would fight in E's sight, For Ralph was E's lover, The Tourney 1
E bow'd her stately head, ,, 13
Edith Montfort (See also Edith) E M bow'd her head, ,, 15 Educated Sir Robert with his watery smile And e whisker. Edwin Morris 129
Have all his pretty young ones e, Enoch Arden 146
Edmund 'O babbling brook,' says E in his rhyme, The Brook 21
the week Before I parted with poor E; ,, 78
My dearest brother, E, sleeps, ,, 187

Edmund Atheling (See also Atheling) He with his brother, E A, Batt. of Brunanburh 6
Edward (the Elder, King of the English, 901-925) Sons of E with hammer'd brands. " 14 they play'd with The children of E. " 92
Edward (III., King of England) Gray with distance E's fifty summers, On Jub. Q. Victoria 40
Edward (Christian name) Then, and here in E's time, Locksley H., Sixty 83
Edward Bull With Edwin Morris and with E B Edwin Morris 14
Then said the fat-faced curate E B, (repeat) " 42, 90
Edward Gray 'And are you married yet, E G?' Edward Gray 4 love no more Can touch the heart of E G. " 8
'To trouble the heart of E G' " 20
And here the heart of E G!' " 28
And there the heart of E G!' " 36
Edward Head Sir E H's: But he's abroad: Walk. to the Mail 15
Edwin (See also Edwin Morris) 'Friend E, do not think yourself alone Edwin Morris 77
And I and E laugh'd; " 93
So left the place, left E, " 137 crystal into which I braided E's hair! The Flight 34 follow E to those isles, those islands of the Blest! " 42 O would I were in E's arms— " 45
—on E's ship, with E, ev'n in death, " 46
My E loved to call us then " 80 flowers of the secret woods, when E found us there, " 82 sail at last which brings our E home. " 92
Edwin Morris (See also Edwin) With E M and with Edward Bull Edwin Morris 14
But E M, he that knew the names, " 16
Edyrn answer, groaning, 'E, son of Nudd! Marr. of Geraint 576
'Then, E, son of Nudd,' replied Geraint, " 579 E answer'd, 'These things will I do, " 587 night of fire, when E sack'd their house, " 634 rose a cry That E's men were on them, " 639 E's men had caught them in their flight, " 642
Beholding it was E son of Nudd, Geraint and E. 781
E moving frankly forward spake: " 784
Till E crying, 'If ye will not go To Arthur, " 814
And one from E. Every now and then, When E rein'd his charger at her side, " 819 went apart with E, whom he held In converse " 881 E and with others: have ye look'd At E? " 896
E has done it, weeding all his heart " 906
This work of E wrought upon himself " 912
Eerie My people too were scared with e sounds, The Ring 408
Eery elfin prancer springs By night to e warblings, Sir L. and Q. G. 34 Effect (s) And thine e so lives in me, In Mem. lxv 10
Thro' manifold e of simple powers— Prog. of Spring 86 Effect (verb) tho' she herself e But little: Princess iii 264 Effeminacy Rolling on their purple couches in their tender e. Boädicea 62 all his force Is melted into mere e? Marr. of Geraint 107
Effeminate 'E as I am, I will not fight my way Geraint and E. 20
Effie Little E shall go with me tomorrow May Queen 25
Don't let E come to see me May Queen, N. Y's. E. 43
And E on the other side, " Con. 24
I thought of you and E dear; " 29
But, E, you must comfort her " 44 there to wait a little while till you and E come— " 58
Effluence perennial e's, Whereof to all that draw Lover's Tale i 499 Effort I made one barren e to break it at the last. Happy 72
Eft A monstrous e was of old the Lord Maud I iv 31
A bedmate of the snail and e and snake, Holy Grail 570
Egalities That cursed France with her e! Aylmer's Field 265
Egbert doing nothing Since E—why, " 384 Egg (See also Hegg) The goose let fall a golden e The Goose 11 we stole his fruit, His hens, his e's; Walk. to the Mail 85 Roof-haunting martins warm their e's: Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 17
The Cock was of a larger e Will Water. 121 evil fancies clung Like serpent e's Enoch Arden 480 Sleeps in the plain e's of the nightingale. Aylmer's Field 103 lay their e's, and sting and sing In Mem. l 11
'twere but of the goose and golden e's.' Gareth and L. 40 Egg (continued) good mother, but this e of mine Was finer gold Gareth and L. 42 even in their hens and in their e's— Holy Grail 560
Nor bruised the wildbird's e. Lover's Tale ii 21
She hears the lark within the songless e, Ancient Sage 76
Egg-shell Nor cared a broken e-s for her lord. Geraint and E. 364 Eglantine Vine, vine and e, (repeat) Window, At the W. 1, 8 presently received in a sweet grave Of e's, Lover's Tale i 529 Beneath the bower of wreathed e's: " ii 43
Eglatere woodbine and e Drip sweeter dews A Dirge 23 Egypt (See also Agypt) O my life In E! D. of F. Women 147 the time When we made bricks in E. Princess iv 128 fierce Soldan of E, would break down Columbus 98 torpid mummy wheat Of E bore a grain as sweet To Prof. Jebb 6 Egyptian To whom the E: 'O, you tamely died! D. of F. Women 258
Egypt-plague our arms fail'd—this E-p of men! Princess v 427 Eight (adj.) (See also Height) Was proxy-wedded with a bootless calf At e years old; " i 35 close behind her stood E daughters of the plough, " iv 278 Then those e mighty daughters of the plough " 550 those e daughters of the plough Came sallying thro' " v 339
And e years past, e jousts had been, Lancelot and E. 67
E that were left to make a purer world— Aylmer's Field 638
The child was only e summers old, The Victim 33
Eight (s) cutting e's that day upon the pond, The Epic 10
Eighteen Pass me then A term of e years. Lover's Tale i 287
E long years of waste, seven in your Spain, Columbus 36
Eighty Whose e winters freeze with one rebuke Ode on Well. 186
Timur built his ghastly tower of e thousand human skulls, Locksley H., Sixty 82
E winters leave the dog too lame to follow " 226 Forward far and far from here is all the hope of e years. " 254 starved the wild beast that was linkt with thee e years back By an Evolution. 11 e thousand Christian faces watch Man murder man. St. Telemachus 55 Eighty-thousand Should e-t college-councils To F. D. Maurice 7 Eight-year-old See Height-year-old
Either e hand, Or voice, or else a motion of the mere. M. d'Arthur 76
On e side All round about the fragrant marge Arabian Nights 58
And e twilight and the day between; Edwin Morris 37 Powers of the House On e side the hearth, Aylmer's Field 288 with his hopes in e grave. " 624 familiar with her, Easily gather'd e guilt. Princess iv 236 seeing e sex alone Is half itself, " vii 301
For groves of pine on e hand, To F. D. Maurice 21
And drops of water fell from e hand; Gareth and L. 220
In e hand he bore What dazzled all, " 386
And each at either dash from e end— " 535 she lifted e arm, 'Fie on thee, King! " 657 and e spear Bent but not brake, and e knight at once, " 963 at e end whereof There swung an apple Marr. of Geraint 169 Whom first she kiss'd on e cheek, and then On e " 517 Made her cheek burn and e eyelid fall. " 775 day by day she past In e twilight ghost-like Lancelot and E. 849 at the base we found On e hand, Holy Grail 498 yell'd the youth, and e knight Drew back a space, Pelleas and E. 572 Wheel'd round on e heel, Dagonet replied, Last Tournament 244
At once from e side, with trumpet-blast, Com. of Arthur 102
e hand, Or voice, or else a motion of the mere. Pass. of Arthur 244
As tho' there beat a heart in e eye; Lover's Tale i 34
Love wraps his wings on e side the heart, " 467
My father with a child on e knee, A hand upon the head of e child, Sisters (E. and E.) 54
He joins us once again, to his e office true: Happy 106
Thy elect have no dealings with e heresy or orthodoxy; Akbar's D., Inscrip. 7
With all the Hells a-glare in e eye, Akbar's Dream 115
And each at e dash from either end— Gareth and L. 535
Elaborately Who read me rhymes e good, Edwin Morris 20 Elaine E the fair, E the loveable, E, the lily maid Lancelot and E. 1 behind them stept the lily maid E, " 177 E, and heard her name so tost about, " 233
lily maid E, Won by the mellow voice " 242

Elaine (continued) Who parted with his own to fair E: Lancelot and E. 381 stay'd; and cast his eyes on fair E: " 640
'So be it,' cried E, And lifted her fair face " 681
'Torre and E! why here? " 796
Then rose E and glided thro' the fields, " 843 call her friend and sister, sweet E, " 865
I had been wedded earlier, sweet E: " 935 on her face, and thought 'Is this E?' " 1031 Elbow In every e and turn, Ode to Memory 62 deep in broider'd down we sank Our e's: Princess iv 33
Elbow-chair She shifted in her e-c, The Goose 27
Elbow-deep Or e-d in sawdust, slept, Will Water. 99
Elbowed See Half-elbowed
Elburz E and all the Caucasus have heard; W. to Marie Alex. 13
Elder (s) led The holy E's with the gift of myrrh. M. d'Arthur 233 Thine e's and thy betters. Will Water. 192 with jubilant cries Broke from their e's, Enoch Arden 378 passion of youth Toward greatness in its e, Lancelot and E. 283 led The holy E's with the gift of myrrh Pass. of Arthur 400 Elder (adj.) The Tory member's e son, Princess, Con. 50
Elderly I knew them all as babies, and now they're e men. Grandmother 88
Elder-thicket saw The white-flower'd e-t from the field Godiva 63
Elder-tree See Boor-tree
Eldest-born Whatever e-b of rank or wealth Aylmer's Field 484
And Willy, my e-b, is gone, you say, Grandmother 1, 87
Willy, my beauty, my e-b, the flower of the flock; " 9
Willy, my e-b, at nigh threescore and ten; " 87 Willy has gone, my beauty, my e-b, my flower; " 101 her e-b, her glory, her boast, Despair 73
Eleanor Those dragon eyes of anger'd E D. of F. Women 255
Eleänore To deck thy cradle, E. Eleänore 21
Crimsons over an inland mere, E! " 43
Of thy swan-like stateliness, E? " 48
Of thy floating gracefulness, E? " 51
Every lineament divine, E. " 54
Who may express thee, E? " 68
I stand before thee, E; " 69 Serene, imperial E! (repeat) " 81, 121
In thy large eyes, imperial E. " 97
So dying ever, E. " 144
Elect (chosen) Thy e have no dealings with either heresy or orthodoxy; Akbar's D., Inscrip. 7
Elected by common voice E umpire, Œnone 85
Election E, E and Reprobation— Rizpah 73
Electric e shock Dislink'd with shrieks and laughter: Princess, Pro. 69
E, chemic laws, and all the rest, " ii 384 came As comes a pillar of e cloud, " v 524 this e force, that keeps A thousand pulses dancing, In Mem. cxxv 15 with some e thrill A cold air pass'd between us, The Ring 379 Elegant See Illigant
Elegy elegies And quoted odes, Princess ii 376 Element The e's were kindlier mix'd.' Two Voices 228 may soul to soul Strike thro' a finer e Aylmer's Field 579
And in their own clear e, they moved. Princess vii 28
Large e's in order brought, In Mem. cxii 13
One God, one law, one e, " Con. 142
I saw The holy e's alone; Holy Grail 463
I am not made of so slight e's. Guinevere 510
The cloud-pavilion'd e, the wood, Lover's Tale ii 108
Elemental And learnt their e secrets, Merlin and V. 632
Eleusis Who laid thee at E, dazed and dumb Demeter and P. 6
Eleventh when the e moon After their marriage lit the lover's Bay, Lover's Tale iv 27
Elf the little elves of chasm and cleft Made Guinevere 248 Elves, and the harmless glamour of the field; Pass. of Arthur 52 and glancing at E of the woodland, Merlin and the G. 38
Elf-god 'I saw the little e-g eyeless once Merlin and V. 249 Elfin rich With jewels, e Urim, on the hilt, Com. of Arthur 298 whose e prancer springs By night Sir L. and Q. G. 33 Elfland The horns of E faintly blowing! Princess iv 10 Elizabeth (Queen) The spacious times of great E D. of F. Women 7 in arts of government E and others; Princess ii 162
Elizabeth (Aunt) there is Aunt E And sister Lilia " Pro. 51
And here we lit on Aunt E " 96
Elk the monstrous horns of e and deer, Princess, Pro. 23
Ellen (See also Ellen Adair, Ellen Aubrey) Sleep, E, folded in thy sister's arm, Audley Court 63
'Sleep, E, folded in Emilia's arm; " 65
By E's grave, on the windy hill. Edward Gray 12
'You said that you hated me, E, First Quarrel 79
Ellen Adair (See also Ellen) 'E A she loved me well, Edward Gray 9
When E A was dying for me. " 16 Speak a little, E A!' " 24
'Here lies the body of E A; " 27 Till E A come back to me. " 32
There lies the body of E A! " 35
Ellen Aubrey (See also Ellen) E A, sleep, and dream of me: Audley Court 62
Sleep, E A, love, and dream of me.' " 73
Elle vous suit sent a note, the seal an E v s, Edwin Morris 105
Ellipse Earth follows wheel'd in her e; Golden Year 24
Elm (See also Dwarf-elm, Witch-elm) The seven e's, the poplars four Ode to Memory 56
The mellow ouzel fluted in the e; Gardener's D. 94 fruits and cream Served in the weeping e; " 195
Old e's came breaking from the vine, Amphion 45 Aroused the black republic on his e's, Aylmer's Field 529 always friends, none closer, e and vine: Princess ii 337 varies from the lily as far As oak from e: " v 183
The moan of doves in immemorial e's, " vii 221 approaching rookery swerve From the e's, " Con. 97 Rock'd the full-foliaged e's, In Mem. xcv 58 swaying upon a restless e Drew the vague glance Balin and Balan 463 in Julian's land They never nail a dumb head up in e), Lover's Tale iv 37 in yon arching avenue of old e's, The Ring 172
Of leafless e, or naked lime, To Ulysses 16 few lanes of e And whispering oak. To Mary Boyle 67 Elm-tree rook 'ill caw from the windy tall e-t, May Queen, N.Y's. E. 17 topmost e-t gather'd green From draughts Sir L. and Q. G. 8 e's ruddy-hearted blossom-flake Is fluttering To Mary Boyle 3 Elm-tree-boles Enormous e-t-b did stoop and lean D. of F. Women 57 Eloquence A full-cell'd honeycomb of e Edwin Morris 26 and golden e And amorous adulation, Lancelot and E. 649 his e caught like a flame From zone to zone Dead Prophet 34 Eloquent The form, the form alone is e! The form, the form 1 her e eyes, (As I have seen them many a hundred times) Lover's Tale ii 144
'Elp (help) es I oäps es thou'll 'e me a bit, Village Wife 65
Elsewise Did mightier deeds than e he had done, Last Tournament 680
Elsinore when E Heard the war moan Buonaparte 9
Elusion E, and occasion, and evasion'? Gareth and L. 288
Elvish dragon-boughts and e emblemings Began to move, " 233 Elysian others in E valleys dwell, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 124 fields Are lovely, lovelier not the E lawns, Princess iii 342
Elysium dimly-glimmering lawns Of that E, Demeter and P. 151 Emancipation on whom The secular e turns Princess ii 289
Embalm e In dying songs a dead regret, In Mem., Con. 13 Embark 'I will e and I will lose myself, Holy Grail 805 may there be no sadness of farewell, When I e; Crossing the Bar 12 Embassage till their e return'd. Balin and Balan 93
Embassy Such touches are but embassies of love, Gardener's D. 18
Embathing E all with wild and woeful hues, Lover's Tale ii 64
Embattail To e and to wall about thy cause To J. M. K. 8
Embattled when we saw the e squares, Princess v 246
Till this e wall of unbelief My prison, Doubt and Prayer 11
Embellish overflowing revenue Wherewith to e state, Œnone 113 Emblem Graven with e's of the time, Arabian Nights 108
Like e's of infinity, Ode to Memory 103
Caryatids, lifted up A weight of e, Princess iv 202 rich in e and the work Of ancient kings Gareth and L. 304 Half-tarnish'd and half-bright, his e, shone. " 1118 these her e's drew mine eyes—away: Balin and Balan 265 Emblematic Amazon As e of a nobler age; Princess ii 127
Embleming and elvish e's Began to move, Gareth and L. 233 Embodied When truth e in a tale In Mem. xxxvi 7
Emboss'd bronze valves, e with Tomyris Princess v 365
Embower However deep you might e the nest, " Pro. 147
Embowering See Oriel-embowering

Embrace (s) face He kiss'd, taking his last e, Two Voices 254
Die, dying clasp'd in his e. Fatima 42
And dear the last e's of our wives Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 70 came Like Death betwixt thy dear e and mine, Love and Duty 48 and silent in a last e. Locksley Hall 58 such have slipt Away from my e's, Will Water. 182 Twisted hard in fierce e's, Vision of Sin 40 the first e had died Between them, Lucretius 3
As parting with a long e She enters In Mem. xl 11
No lower life that earth's e May breed „ lxxxii 3
That yet remembers his e, „ lxxxv 111
A little while from his e, „ cxvii 3
We stood tranced in long e's Maud I i 8 Belted his body with her white e, Last Tournament 513 that hast never known the e of love, Tiresias 164
She clung to me with such a hard e, The Ring 435 gone! and gone in that e! 443 body which had lain Of old in her e, Death of Œnone 94 Embrace (verb) my heart Went forth to e him coming Œnone 63
Who will e me in the world-to-be: Enoch Arden 893
E our aims; work out your freedom. Princess ii 89
'e me, come, Quick while I melt; „ vi 285
we e you yet once more With all forgiveness, „ 294
By faith, and faith alone, e, In Mem., Pro. 3
E her as my natural good; „ iii 14
I e the purpose of God, Maud III vi 59 truth in simple nakedness, Saw them e: Balin and Balan 519
Open'd his arms to e me as he came, Holy Grail 417
Embraced (See also Half-embraced) I could not be e. Talking Oak 140
Adam first E his Eve in happy hour, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 42
To dream thy cause e in mine, Princess vi 200
E her with all welcome as a friend, Marr. of Geraint 834 the great Queen once more e her friend, Geraint and E. 947
E me, and so kiss'd me the first time, Holy Grail 596
we kiss'd, we e, she and I, Despair 53 Embracing (See also Imbrashin') E cloud, Ixion-like; Two Voices 195 and while we stood like fools E, Edwin Morris 119 E Balin, 'Good my brother, hear! Balin and Balan 139 when he saw the Queen, e ask'd, Lancelot and E. 570
Embrasure rafters and doors—an e! Def. of Lucknow 67
Emerald (adj.) lights, rose, amber, e, blue, Flush'd Palace of Art 169 beneath an e plane Sits Diotima, Princess iii 301 rocket molten into flakes Of crimson or in e rain. In Mem. xcviii 32
Emerald (s) And bickers into red and e, Princess v 263
There they drank in cups of e, Boädicea 61
A million e's break from the ruby-budded lime Maud I iv 1
A livelier e twinkles in the grass, „ xviii 51 our Lady's Head, Carved of one e Lancelot and E. 295
Burnt as a living fire of e's, Pelleas and E. 35
Chalcedony, e, sardonyx, sardius, Columbus 84
Emerald-colour'd To watch the e-c water falling Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 96 Emerged E, I came upon the great Pavilion Arabian Nights 113 glooms of my dark will, Moonlight e, Lover's Tale i 745 Emigrate See Hammergrate
Emilia 'Sleep, Ellen, folded in E's arm; E, Audley Court 65
Eminent Life e creates the shade of death; Love and Death 13
Emissary Came at the moment Leolin's e, Aylmer's Field 518 Emma Moreland Sweet E M of yonder town Met me Edward Gray 1
Sweet E M spoke to me: „ 5
'Sweet E M, love no more Can touch the heart „ 7
Emmie Nay you remember our E; In the Child. Hosp. 33
E had heard him. Softly she call'd from her cot „ 46 for E, you see, It's all in the picture there: „ 49
'Yes, and I will,' said E, „ 53
'E, you put out your arms, „ 56
but E, you tell it him plain, „ 57
And fears for our delicate E „ 66 and E had past away. „ 72
Emotion 'Some vague e of delight Two Voices 361 Hide me from my deep e, Locksley Hall 108 play The Spartan Mother with e, Princess ii 283
Empanoplied E and plumed We enter'd in, „ v 483
Emperor E, Ottoman, which shall win: To F. D. Maurice 32
Emperor-idiot hive of Roman liars worship an e-i. Boädicea 19
Emperor-moth But move as rich as E-m's, Princess, Pro. 144

Empire (See also Ocean-empire) the care That yokes with e, To the Queen 10 like a household god Promising e; On a Mourner 31 ere he found E for life? Gardener's D. 20 hated by the wise, to law System and e? Love and Duty 8
'Three ladies of the Northern e Princess i 238
Persian, Grecian, Roman lines Of e, „ ii 131
Bury the Great Duke With an e's lamentation, Ode on Well. 2 Fair e's branching, both, in lusty life!— W. to Marie Alex. 21
See, e upon e smiles to-day, „ 33
Is this the tone of e? To the Queen ii 18
And all the maiden e of her mind, Lover's Tale i 589 Gave glory and more e to the kings Columbus 22 who long To keep our English E whole! Hands all Round 14
And all her glorious e, round and round. „ 24
Fifty years of ever-widening E! On Jub. Q. Victoria 54
All new-old revolutions of E— Vastness 30 Old E's, dwellings of the kings of men; Prog. of Spring 99 a world-wide E mourns with you, D. of the Duke of C. 5 Employ Come, when no graver cares e, To F. D. Maurice 1 extremes e Thy spirits in the darkening leaf, In Mem. lxxxviii 5 Employ'd So gentle, so e, should close in love, Princess vii 67
Empress Queen, and E of India, On Jub. Q. Victoria 6
Emprise The garland of new-wreathed e: Kate 24 Emptied e of all joy, Leaving the dance and song, D. of F. Women 215 affluent Fortune e all her horn. Ode on Well. 197 and all The chambers e of delight: In Mem. viii 8 Emptier For I am e than a friar's brains; Sir J. Oldcastle 7
Emptiness 'From e and the waste wide Two Voices 119
The sins of e, gossip and spite And slander, Princess ii 92
Empty An e river-bed before, Mariana in the S. 6
Pour'd back into my e soul and frame D. of F. Women 78
Two years his chair is seen E before us. To J. S. 23 but e breath And rumours of a doubt? M. d'Arthur 99 summer pilot of an e heart Unto the shores of nothing! Gardener's D. 16
I earth in earth forget these e courts, Tithonus 75
I sit, my e glass reversed, Will Water. 159
Lest of the fulness of my life I leave an e flask: „ 164
It is but yonder e glass That makes me „ 207
E scarecrows, I and you! Vision of Sin 94
Hollow hearts and e heads! „ 174
Than if my brainpan were an e hull, Princess ii 398 e masks, And I myself the shadow of a dream, „ iii 187 her e glove upon the tomb Lay by her „ iv 596 nevermore endue To sit with e hands at home. Sailor Boy 16
A hollow form with e hands.' In Mem. iii 12 and feels Her place is e, fall like these; „ xiii 4 Living alone in an e house, Maud I vi 6
To tickle the maggot born in an e head, „ II v 3
And when he found all e, was amazed; Geraint and E. 21
As all but e heart and weariness „ 652
And show'd an e tent allotted her, „ 885
Her own poor work, her e labour, left. Lancelot and E. 991 Hurl'd back again so often in e foam, Last Tournament 93 but e breath And rumours of a doubt? Pass. of Arthur 267
I, groaning, from me flung Her e phantom: Lover's Tale ii 206
E you see just now! In the Child. Hosp. 29
Empurpled His golden feet on those e stairs Lucretius 135 high Above the e champaign, drank the gale Princess iii 120
Empyreal and whirl'd About e heights of thought, In Mem. xcv 38
Empyrëan deep-domed e Rings to the roar Milton 7
Emrys (King of Britain) Aurelius E would have scourged thee dead, Gareth and L. 375
Enamell'd Whom glittering in e arms the maid Lancelot and E. 619
Enamour'd by them went The e air sighing, Princess vi 79
Encarnalize with shameful jest, E their spirits: „ iii 315
Enchair'd sitting in my place E to-morrow, Last Tournament 104
Enchanted Branches they bore of that e stem, Lotos-Eaters 28
Is that e moan only the swell Of the long waves Maud I xviii 62
e towers of Carbonek, A castle like a rock Holy Grail 813 as thou sayest, it is e, son, Gareth and L. 263
'He is e, cannot speak—and she, Lancelot and E. 1254 Enchanter Here is a city of E's, built Gareth and L. 199 charm Upon the great E of the Time, Merlin and V. 216
Enchantment wilt thou become A thrall to his e's, Gareth and L. 269

Enchantment (continued) Begotten by e—chatterers they, Holy Grail 145 all his guests Once more as by e; Lover's Tale iv 360 Enchantress A great e you may be; L. C. V. de Vere 30
Encircle E's all the heart, and feedeth Margaret 16 Enclosing hollow shades e hearts of flame, Palace of Art 241 every marge e in the midst A square of text Merlin and V. 670 Encompass love of all Thy sons e Thee, Ded. of Idylls 52
Encompass'd sleep E by his faithful guard, In Mem. cxxvi 8
Encounter A little in the late e strain'd, Geraint and E. 158 End (s) (See also Gable-ends, Hend) 'And cruel love, whose e is scorn, Is this the e to be left alone, Mariana in the S. 70 apprehend A labour working to an e. Two Voices 297
'The e and the beginning vex His reason: „ 298
'I see the e, and know the good.' „ 432
'Which in all action is the e of all; Œnone 122 Death is the e of life; ah, why Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 41 wood is all thine own, Until the e of time.' D. of F. Women 84 Sleep till the e, true soul and sweet. To J. S. 73
Love, that endures not sordid e's, Love thou thy land 6
'My e draws nigh; 'tis time that I were gone. M. d'Arthur 163
Here, then, my words have e. Gardener's D. 250 my e draws nigh; I hope my e draws nigh: St. S. Stylites 36
The watcher on the column till the e; „ 163
The e! the e! Surely the e! „ 201
The set gray life, and apathetic e. Love and Duty 18
And that which shapes it to some perfect e. „ 26
Spun round in station, but the e had come. „ 76
How dull it is to pause, to make an e, Ulysses 22 something ere the e, Some work of noble note, „ 51
if I Should hook it to some useful e. Day-Dm., Moral 16 Enough if at the e of all A little garden blossom. Amphion 103
For them I battle till the e, Sir Galahad 15
A life that moves to gracious e's You might have won 6 Down at the far e of an avenue, Enoch Arden 358 his lonely doom Came suddenly to an e, „ 627 rioted his life out, and made an e. Aylmer's Field 391 thro' every labyrinth till he saw An e, „ 480 nor wanted at his e The dark retinue „ 841 Crown'd with a flower or two, and there an e— Lucretius 229 noise with bees and breeze from e to e. Princess, Pro. 88 from e to e With beauties every shade „ ii 436
if our e were less achievable By slow approaches, „ iii 283
I fight with iron laws, in the e Found golden: „ iv 75
But great is song Used to great e's: „ 138 some grand fight to kill and make an e: „ 591 you failing, I abide What e soever: „ v 406 at the further e Was Ida by the throne, „ vi 356
For worship without e; nor e of mine, „ vii 169
Yoked in all exercise of noble e, „ 361
Gone, till the e of the year, Window. Gone 2
Over the world to the e of it Window, Marr. Morn. 23
O what to her shall be the e? In Mem. vi 41
'Is this the e? Is this the e?' „ xii 16
And move thee on to noble e's. „ lxv 12
Are sharpen'd to a needle's e; „ lxxvi 4
What e is here to my complaint? „ lxxxi 6
Now looking to some settled e, „ lxxxv 97
I climb the hill: from e to e „ c 1 breathers of an ampler day For ever nobler e's. „ cxviii 7
Is toil coöperant to an e. „ cxxviii 24 Calming itself to the long-wish'd-for e, Maud I xviii 5 never an e to the stream of passing feet, „ II v 11
And each at either dash from either e— Gareth and L. 535
At one e one, that gave upon a range „ 666 at either e whereof There swung an apple Marr. of Geraint 169
O to what e, except a jealous one, Merlin and V. 538 and to this e Had made the pretext Lancelot and E. 581 sweet is death who puts an e to pain: „ 1008
An e to this! A strange one! „ 1222 one there is, and at the eastern e, Holy Grail 251
When the hermit made an e, „ 457 run itself All out like a long life to a sour e— Last Tournament 288 mystic babble about his e Amazed me; „ 670 whitens ere his hour Woos his own e; „ 698
Serving his traitorous e Guinevere 19

End (s) (continued) 'The e is come, And I am shamed for ever;' Guinevere 110
'My e draws nigh; 'tis time that I were gone. Pass. of Arthur 331 Was this the e? Why grew we then together Lover's Tale ii 22 in the e, Opening on darkness, „ 124
Then at the far e of the vault he saw „ iv 56
And stranger yet, at one e of the hall „ 213
And when the feast was near an e, „ 229 an' I work an' I wait to the e. First Quarrel 7
It was full of old odds an e's, „ 49
they watch'd what the e would be. The Revenge 73
What e but darkness could ensue Sisters (E. and E.) 175
if life's best e Be to end well! Tiresias 130
A less diffuse and opulent e, „ 189 of a Hell without help, without e. Despair 26 at last the e is sure, The Flight 103 globe from e to e Might sow and reap in peace, Epilogue 12
An' sattle their e's upo stools Owd Roä 24 when he heard what an e was mine? Charity 17
And loves the world from e to e, The Wanderer 7 End (verb) That to begin implies to e; Two Voices 339 tho' they could not e me, left me maim'd Tithonus 20
Whether I mean this day to e myself, Lucretius 146
Not manlike e myself?—our privilege— „ 232 how the strange betrothment was to e: Princess v 474
There will I hide thee, till my life shall e, Guinevere 114
if life's best end Be to e well! Tiresias 131 who can tell how all will e? Locksley H., Sixty 103 Demos e in working its own doom. „ 114
e but in being our own corpse-coffins at last, Vastness 33
I felt I could e myself with the dagger— Bandit's Death 37
all's well that e's well, (repeat) The Dreamer 19, 23, 27, 31
The gleam of household sunshine e's, The Wanderer 1
End See also Far-end
Endear the falling out That all the more e's, Princess ii 7
Ended (See also Never-ended) Here e Hall, and our last light, M. d'Arthur, Ep. 1
Thus far he flow'd, and e; Golden Year 52
When, ere his song was e, Amphion 50
Till this was e, and his careful hand,— Enoch Arden 176
E he had not, but she brook'd no more: Aylmer's Field 798 but when the wordy storm Had e, Sea Dreams 32
She e here, and beckon'd us: Princess ii 182
She e with such passion that the tear, „ iv 59
For when the jousts were e yesterday, Marr. of Geraint 692
But e with apology so sweet, Geraint and E. 394
Half-wroth he had not e, Balin and Balan 427
She e, and the cry of a great jousts Last Tournament 51
But when the twangling e, skipt again; „ 255
He e: Arthur knew the voice; „ 455 mountains e in a coast Of ever-shifting sand, Pass. of Arthur 85 ever that evening e a great gale blew, The Revenge 114
Have e mortal foes; Ancient Sage 158 Ending She, e, waved her hands: Princess iv 522 the mocker e here Turn'd to the right, Gareth and L. 294
And e in a ruin—nothing left, Merlin and V. 883
e, he moved toward her, and she said, Last Tournament 704 Endless 'Let me not cast in e shade Two Voices 5 memory of the wither'd leaf In e time is scarce more brief „ 113 river winding slow By herds upon an e plain, Palace of Art. 74 down in hell Suffer e anguish, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 124
Farewell, like e welcome, lived and died. Love and Duty 68
And float or fall, in e ebb and flow; W. to Marie Alex. 27
Paid with a voice flying by to be lost on an e sea— Wages 2
And we shall sit at e feast, In Mem. xlvii 9
What fame is left for human deeds In e age? „ lxxiii 12 Slain by himself, shall enter e night. Gareth and L. 642 glory and shame dying out for ever in e time, Despair 75 poet whom his Age would quote As heir of e fame— Ancient Sage 147 border-races, holding, each its own By e war: „ 252
Endow E you with broad land and territory Lancelot and E. 957
Endurance until e grow Sinew'd with action, Œnone 164
Endure A courage to e and to obey; Isabel 25
All force in bonds that might e, Palace of Art 154

Endure (continued) Love, that e's not sordid ends, Love thou thy land 6
But while the races of mankind e, Ode on Well. 219
I will nevermore e To sit with empty hands Sailor Boy 15
Would she have heart to e for the life of the worm Wages 7
That dies not, but e's with pain, In Mem. xviii 17
And scarce e to draw the breath, " xx 15
Whose loves in higher love e; " xxxii 14
O living will that shalt e " cxxxi 1
Let the sweet heavens e, Maud I xi 8
As long as my life e's I feel I shall owe you " xix 86 Break not, O woman's-heart, but still e; Break not, for thou art Royal, but e, Ded. of Idylls 44
E's not that her guest should serve Marr. of Geraint 379
But can e it all most patiently.' " 473 canst e To mouth so huge a foulness— Balin and Balan 378 thought to do while he might yet e, Lancelot and E. 495 strength of the race to command, to obey, to e, Def. of Lucknow 47
E! thou hast done so well for men, Columbus 152 every heart that loves with truth is equal to e. The Flight 104
For so the deed e's; Epilogue 39
But while my life's late eve e's, To Marq. of Dufferin 49 vanish and give place to the beauty that e's, The beauty that e's on the Spiritual height, Happy 36 caught one gleam of the beauty which e's— " 60 Endured Have all in all e as much, St. S. Stylites 130
Nor yet e to meet her opening eyes, Princess iv 195 they knew her; they e, Long-closeted with her " 321 ye surely have e Strange chances here alone;' Geraint and E. 809 Nor yet e in presence of His eyes Lover's Tale i 423 while I mused nor yet e to take So rich a prize, " iii 49 Enduring (See also All-enduring, Long-enduring) 'Yet hadst thou, thro' e pain, Two Voices 166
Sow the seed, and reap the harvest with e toil, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 121 'Enemies (anemones) Down i' the woild 'e N. Farmer, O. S. 34 Enemy (See also Hennemy) 'Our enemies have fall'n, but this shall grow Princess vi 53
'Our enemies have fall'n, have fall'n: (repeat) Princess vi 33, 38, 43, 48 moan of an e massacred, Boädicea 25 tho' the gathering e narrow thee, " 39 pulses at the clamouring of her e fainted " 82
I trust if an e's fleet came yonder Maud I i 49
'A boon, Sir King! Thine e, King, am I. Gareth and L. 351
He drave his e backward down the bridge, " 969 being but knave, I throw thine enemies.' " 1023 To dash against mine e and to win. " 1355 arms, arms, arms to fight my e? Marr. of Geraint 282 down his e roll'd, And there lay still; Geraint and E. 160 an e that has left Death in the living waters, Merlin and V. 147 roll'd his e down, And saved him: Lancelot and E. 26 the knights Are half of them our enemies, " 99 a dream Of dragging down his e made them move. " 814 and said, 'Mine enemies Pursue me, Guinevere 139 Ev'n in the presence of an e's fleet, " 279 on all the defences our myriad e fell. Def. of Lucknow 35 in a moment two mines by the e sprung " 54
Fonseca my main e at their court, Columbus 126
For there was not an e near, V. of Maeldune 93 so often in Strife with their enemies Batt. of Brunanburh 18
Love your e, bless your haters, Locksley H., Sixty 85
'Kill your e, for you hate him,' still, 'your e " 94
Energy spurr'd at heart with fieriest e To J. M. K. 7
By its own e fulfill'd itself, Gardener's D. 238 suit The full-grown energies of heaven. In Mem. xl 20 come and go, With agonies, with energies, " cxiii 18
To those still-working energies I spy Mechanophilus 19
Enfold So dear a life your arms e The Daisy 93 that large grief which these e In Mem. v 11 mother's shame will e her and darken The Wreck 100 Enfolded Two mutually e; Love, the third, Gardener's D. 215
And in her veil e, manchet bread. Marr. of Geraint 389
Enfolding E that dark body which had lain Death of Œnone 93
Enforced E she was to wed him in her tears, Com. of Arthur 204
Engarlanded E and diaper'd With inwrought flowers, Arabian Nights 148 Engine Which only to one e bound Falls off, Two Voices 347 Enginery Loom and wheel and e, Ode Inter. Exhib. 15
Engirt E with many a florid maiden-cheek, Princess iii 350 England And more than E honours that, Talking Oak 295 show you slips of all that grows From E to Van Diemen. Amphion 84 dewy meadowy morning-breath Of E, Enoch Arden 661 thanks to the Giver, E, for thy son. Ode on Well. 45
For this is E's greatest son, " 95
And E pouring on her foes. " 117 keep our noble E whole, " 161 Truth-teller was our E's Alfred named; " 188
E's honest censure went too far; Third of Feb. 2
What E was, shall her true sons forget? " 44 some love E and her honour yet. " 46
Harold's E fell to Norman swords; W. to Marie Alex. 22
It told of E then to me, The Daisy 89 harsher sound ever heard, ye Muses, in E? Trans. of Homer 3 God-gifted organ-voice of E, Milton 3 freedom in her regal seat Of E; In Mem. cix 15 Or how should E dreaming of his sons Ded. of Idylls 31 boundless homes For ever-broadening E, To the Queen ii 30 Thou—E's England-loving daughter—thou Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 15 this ballad of the deeds Of E, " 21 Banner of E, not for a season, Def. of Lucknow 1 upon the topmost roof our banner of E blew.
(repeat) Def. of Lucknow 6, 30, 45, 60, 94
the old banner of E blew. " 106 appeal Once more to France or E; Columbus 58
Who dost not love our E— To Victor Hugo 9
E, France, all man to be Will make one people " 10
To younger E in the boy my son. " 14
E may go down in babble at last. Locksley H., Sixty 8
Yet know you, as your E knows Pro. to Gen. Hamley 23
Who wert the voice of E in the East. Epit. on Stratford 4
Then drink to E, every guest; Hands all Round 2
New E of the Southern Pole! " 16 the great name of E, round and round. (repeat) " 12, 36
To E under Indian skies, " 17
To this great name of E drink, " 23 if you shall fail to understand What E is, The Fleet 2
Should this old E fall Which Nelson left " 4
The fleet of E is her all-in-all; " 13 that which gilds the glebe of E, To Prof. Jebb. 7 a valorous weapon in olden E! Kapiolani 4 England-loving England's E-l daughter—thou Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 15 English (See also Half-English) first reveal'd themselves to E air, Eleänore 2 one, an E home—gray twilight pour'd Palace of Art 85
E natures, freemen, friends, Love thou thy land 7
Who sprang from E blood! England and Amer. 10 Gallant sons of E freemen, The Captain 7 if you knew her in her E days, The Brook 224 sweet as E air could make her, she: Princess, Pro. 155
Nor ever lost an E gun; Ode on Well. 97 Truth-lover was our E Duke; " 189 since E Harold gave its throne a wife, W. to Marie Alex. 24 we may stand Where he in E earth is laid, In Mem. xviii 2 feet like sunny gems on an E green, Maud I v 14
I see her there, Bright E lily, " xix 55
Sir Richard cried in his E pride, The Revenge 82 dared her with one little ship and his E few; " 107 Dying so E thou wouldst have her flag Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 16 we were E in heart and in limb, Def. of Lucknow 46
When he coin'd into E gold some treasure The Wreck 67 no version done In E more divinely well; To E. Fitzgerald 34 an age of noblest E names, Locksley H., Sixty 83 who long To keep our E Empire whole! Hands all Round 14 Or marvel how in E air My yucca, To Ulysses 20
All flaming, made an E homestead Hell— To Mary Boyle 37
Englishman A great broad-shoulder'd genial E, Princess, Con. 85
The last great E is low. Ode on Well. 18
'We be all good English men. The Revenge 29 held his own Like an E there and then; Heavy Brigade 19
Engrail'd over hills with peaky tops e, Palace of Art 113 Engrain'd walk with vary-colour'd shells Wander'd e. Arabian Nights 58
Engrave I bad the man e 'From Walter' on the ring, The Ring 235
Engraven 'From Edith' was e on the blade. Aylmer's Field 598

Engraven (continued) Some younger hand must have e the ring— The Ring 238
Enid Had married E, Yniol's only child, Marr. of Geraint 4
E, but to please her husband's eye, " 11
E loved the Queen, and with true heart " 19 Allowing it, the Prince and E rode, " 43 Told E, and they sadden'd her the more: " 64
E woke, and sat beside the couch, " 79
'If E errs, let E learn her fault.' " 132
The voice of E, Yniol's daughter, rang " 327 the sweet voice of E moved Geraint; " 334 song that E sang was one Of Fortune and her wheel, and E sang: " 345 Moved the fair E, all in faded silk, " 366
'E, the good knight's horse stands in the court; " 370 the Prince, as E past him, fain To follow, " 375 E took his charger to the stall; " 382
E brought sweet cakes to make them cheer, " 388 rest On E at her lowly handmaid-work, " 400 Raised my own town against me in the night Before my E's birthday, " 458 looking round he saw not E there, " 506 red and pale Across the face of E hearing her; " 524 my pride Is broken down, for E sees my fall!' " 590 E, for she lay With her fair head in the dim-yellow light, " 599
And E fell in longing for a dress " 630
And E started waking, with her heart " 674
E look'd, but all confused at first, " 685 E listen'd brightening as she lay; " 733 call'd For E, and when Yniol made report Of that good mother making E gay " 756 E, all abash'd she knew not why, " 765 make your E burst Sunlike from cloud— " 788 how can E find A nobler friend? " 792
But E ever kept the faded silk, " 841
No, not a word!' and E was aghast; Geraint and E. 18
So the last sight that E had of home " 24
E leading down the tracks Thro' which he bad " 28
E was aware of three tall knights On horseback, " 56
E ponder'd in her heart, and said: (repeat) " 64, 130
E waited pale and sorrowful, " 83
E, keeping watch, behold In the first shallow shade " 118
E stood aside to wait the event, " 153
Geraint Had ruth again on E looking pale: " 203
And E took a little delicately, " 212 he let them glance At E, where she droopt: " 247 Found E with the corner of his eye, " 281
'E, the pilot star of my lone life, E, my early and my only love, E, the loss of whom hath turn'd me wild— " 306
E, you and he, I see with joy, " 320
E fear'd his eyes, Moist as they were, " 350
How E never loved a man but him, " 363
But E left alone with Prince Geraint, " 365
He fell asleep, and E had no heart To wake him, " 369 then to E, 'Forward! and to-day I charge you, E, " 413 E answer'd, 'Yea, my lord, I know Your wish, " 418 Went E with her sullen follower on. " 440
And E heard the clashing of his fall, " 509
So for long hours sat E by her lord, " 580
Till E shrank far back into herself, " 607
'No, no' said E, vext, 'I will not eat " 656
But E answer'd, harder to be moved " 694
E said: 'In this poor gown my dear lord " 697
E, in her utter helplessness, " 719
'E, I have used you worse than that dead man; " 735
And E could not say one tender word, " 746
'Then, E, shall you ride Behind me.' 'Yea,' said E, 'let us go.' " 750
'The voice of E,' said the knight; " 780 fear not, E, I should fall upon him, " 787
But E in their going had two fears, " 817 E easily believed, Like simple noble natures, " 874 past to E's tent: and thither came The King's own leech " 922
Enid (continued) And E tended on him there: Geraint and E. 924
E, whom her ladies loved to call E the Fair, a grateful people named E the Good; and in their halls arose The cry of children, E's and Geraint's " 962 sat betwixt her best E, and lissome Vivien, Guinevere 28 Enjoy all the saints E themselves in heaven, St. S. Stylites 106
Enjoy'd all times I have e Greatly, have suffer'd greatly, Ulysses 7
Enjoying E each the other's good: In Mem. xlvii 10
Enjoyment There methinks would be e more Locksley Hall 165
Enlighten Strengthen me, e me! (repeat) Ode to Memory 5, 43, 122 Enna moved Like Proserpine in E, gathering flowers: Edwin Morris 112 in this pleasant vale we stand again, The field of E, Demeter and P. 35
Tho' dead in its Trinacrian E, To Prof. Jebb 11
Enoch (See also Arden, Enoch Arden) E was host one day, Philip the next, Enoch Arden 25
E would hold possession for a week: " 27
if they quarrell'd, E stronger-made Was Master: " 30 Shriek out 'I hate you, E,' " 33
E spoke his love, But Philip loved in silence; " 40
But she loved E; tho' she knew it not, " 43
E set A purpose evermore before his eyes, " 44 Than E. Likewise had he served a year " 52
E and Annie, sitting hand-in-hand, " 69
While E was abroad on wrathful seas, " 91
E's white horse, and E's ocean spoil " 93 Friday fare was E's ministering. " 100 thither used E at times to go by land or sea; " 104 the master of that ship E had served in, " 120 Would E have the place? And E all at once assented to it, " 125
Then E lay long-pondering on his plans; " 133
Thus E in his heart determined all: " 148 Whom E took, and handled all his limbs, " 153 first since E's golden ring had girt Her finger, " 157
For E parted with his old sea-friend, " 168
So all day long till E's last at home, " 172
E faced this morning of farewell Brightly " 182
E as a brave God-fearing man Bow'd himself " 185
O E, you are wise; And yet for all your wisdom " 210
'Well then,' said E, 'I shall look on yours. " 213 E rose, Cast his strong arms about his drooping wife, " 227 when the day, that E mention'd, came, " 239 still foreboding 'what would E say? " 253 (Since E left he had not look'd upon her), " 273 speak to you of what he wish'd, E, your husband: " 292
For, if you will, when E comes again " 309
But E lives; that is borne in on me. " 319 Philip gain'd As E lost: for E seem'd " 355 so ten years Since E left his hearth and native land, Fled forward, and no news of E came. " 360 can you be ever loved As E was? " 427
'I am content,' he answer'd, 'to be loved A little after E.' " 429
If E comes—but E will not come— " 431
Pray'd for a sign 'my E is he gone?' " 491 E sitting on a height, Under a palm tree, " 500 where was E? prosperously sail'd The ship " 527 E traded for himself, and bought Quaint monsters " 538 the loss of all But E and two others. " 550
And E's comrade, careless of himself, " 568
Thus over E's early-silvering head " 622
There E spoke no word to any one, " 667
There E rested silent many days. " 699
E was so brown, so bow'd, So broken— " 703
'E, poor man, was cast away and lost' " 713
E yearn'd to see her face again; " 717 E shunn'd the middle walk and stole Up by the wall, " 738 griefs Like his have worse or better, E saw. " 741 E set himself, Scorning an alms, " 811 round again to meet the day When E had return'd, " 823
And E bore his weakness cheerfully. " 827
E thinking 'after I am gone, " 834
'Swear' added E sternly 'on the book.' " 842
Then E rolling his gray eyes upon her, " 844 E said again, 'My God has bow'd me down " 855 for E hung A moment on her words, " 872 While E slumber'd motionless and pale, " 908

Enoch Arden (See also Arden, Enoch) E A, a rough sailor's lad Enoch Arden 14
Did you know E A of this town?' " 845 Proclaiming E A and his woes; " 868 Enormous e polypi Winnow with giant arms The Kraken 9
Stretch'd wide and wild the waste e marsh, Ode to Memory 101
E elm-tree-boles did stoop and lean D. of F. Women 57 Enrich E the markets of the golden year. Golden Year 46 thoughts e the blood of the world.' Princess ii 181
To e the threshold of the night In Mem. xxix 6
Enring'd E a billowing fountain in the midst; Princess ii 28
Enroll Your Highness would e them with your own, " i 239
In many a figured leaf e's In Mem. xliii 11
Enroll'd good livers, them we e Among us, Gareth and L. 424
Ensample drawing foul e from fair names, Guinevere 490
Ensepulchre let the wolves' black maws e Balin and Balan 487
Enshrouded cold worm Fretteth thine e form.— A Dirge 10
Ensign drowsy folds of our great e shake Princess v 8
Enskied seem'd at first 'a thing e' To E. Fitzgerald 16 Ensue that which might e With this old soul Two Voices 392 out of distance might e Desire of nearness In Mem. cxvii 5 Ensued. then e A Martin's summer of his faded love, Aylmer's Field 559 Entail See Tail
Entangle To e me when we met, Maud I vi 28
Entangled The girl might be e ere she knew. Aylmer's Field 272
Entanglest All my bounding heart e Madeline 40
Enter But e not the toil of life. Margaret 24 oft some brainless devil e's in, Palace of Art 203
He breaks the hedge: he e's there: Day-Dm., Arrival 18 lingeringly on the latch, Fearing to e: Enoch Arden 520
LET NO MAN E IN ON PAIN OF DEATH? Princess ii 195
'Our laws are broken: let him e too.' " vi 317 friend or foe, Shall e, if he will. " 337 in a tale Shall e in at lowly doors. In Mem. xxxvi 8
She e's other realms of love; " xl 12 Descend, and touch, and e; " xciii 13
'E likewise ye And go with us:' " ciii 51
And e in at breast and brow, " cxxii 11
She e's, glowing like the moon Con. 27
Slain by himself, shall e endless night. Gareth and L. 642
Then Yniol, 'E therefore and partake Marr. of Geraint 300
I will e, I will eat With all the passion " 305 Said Yniol; 'e quickly.' " 360 nor lets Or dame or damsel e at his gates Balin and Balan 107
There will I e in among them all, Lancelot and E. 1052 Late, late, so late! but we can e still. Guinevere 169 too late! ye cannot e now. (repeat) Guinevere 170, 173, 176, 179
And e it, and make it beautiful? Pass. of Arthur 17 but e also here, Diffuse thyself at will Prog. of Spring 23
Enter'd (See also Newly-enter'd) another night in night I e, Arabian Nights 38
Each e like a welcome guest. Two Voices 411 blew Beyond us, as we e in the cool. Gardener's D. 114 struck it thrice, and, no one opening, E; Enoch Arden 280
What ail'd her then, that ere she e, " 518 e one Of those dark caves that run beneath the cliffs. Sea Dreams 89
e an old hostel, call'd mine host To council, Princess i 173 hastily subscribed, We e on the boards: " ii 74 as we e in, There sat along the forms, " 101
With me, Sir, e in the bigger boy, " 404
I knock'd and, bidden, e; " iii 130 dipt Beneath the satin dome and e in, " iv 31
we e in, and there Among piled arms " v 54 Empanoplied and plumed We e in, " 484
'Enter likewise ye And go with us:' they e in. In Mem. ciii 52 Left her and fled, and Uther e in, Com. of Arthur 201 when I e told me that himself And Merlin " 364 then e with his twain Camelot, Gareth and L. 302
And e, and were lost behind the walls. Marr. of Geraint 252
E, the wild lord of the place, Limours. Geraint and E. 277
Thereafter, when Sir Balin e hall, Balin and Balan 80
Laid lance, and e, and we knelt in prayer. Holy Grail 460
The younger sister, Evelyn, e— Sisters (E. and E.) 152
Muriel e with it, 'See!— The Ring 279
Has e on the larger woman-world " 486
Entering (See also Half-entering) e fill'd the house with sudden light. Aylmer's Field 682 for on e He had cast the curtains of their seat aside— " 802
You likewise will do well, Ladies, in e here, Princess ii 62
E, the sudden light Dazed me half-blind: " v 11
E then, Right o'er a mount of newly-fallen stones, Marr. of Geraint 360 and e barr'd her door, Stript off the case, Lancelot and E. 15
e, loosed and let him go.' Holy Grail 698
Sir Bors, on e, push'd Athwart the throng to Lancelot, " 752
E all the avenues of sense Past thro' into his citadel, Lover's Tale i 630 and e the dim vault, And, making there a sudden light, " iv 52
Enterprise Far-famed for well-won e, Kate 22
Here on the threshold of our e. Gareth and L. 298
Entertain'd talk and minstrel melody e. Lancelot and E. 267
Entertainment the slender e of a house Once rich, Marr. of Geraint 301
Enthroned or the e Persephonè in Hades, Princess iv 438
Entranced E with that place and time, Arabian Nights 97
Entreat 'Earl, e her by my love, Marr. of Geraint 760
Entreaty manifold entreaties, many a tear, Enoch Arden 160
Entry Above an e: riding in, we call'd; Princess i 225
A column'd e shone and marble stairs, " v 364 in the Vestal e shriek'd The virgin marble " vi 350 two great entries open'd from the hall, Gareth and L. 665 by this e fled The damsel in her wrath, " 674 a lion on each side That kept the e, Holy Grail 818 Strewn in the e of the moaning cave; Lover's Tale iii 2
Entry-gates Stood from his walls and wing d his e g Aylmer's Field 18
Entwine Round my true heart thine arms e Miller's D. 216
E the cold baptismal font, In Mem. xxix 10
Envied I e your sweet slumber, The Flight 9
Envious See Half-envious
Envy (s) far aloof From e, hate and pity, Lucretius 77
No lewdness, narrowing e, monkey-spite, " 211 Know well that E calls you Devil's son, Merlin and V. 467 then did E call me Devil's son: " 497
E wears the mask of Love, Locksley H., Sixty 109
Envy (verb) Her countrywomen! she did not e Princess iii 41
I e not in any moods The captive void In Mem. xxvii 1
I e not the beast that takes His license 5
Envying Leolin, I almost sin in e you: Aylmer's Field 360
And e all that meet him there. In Mem. lx 8
Enwind Danube rolling fair E her isles, In Mem. xcviii 10
Enwomb O day which did e that happy hour, Lover's Tale i 485
Enwound the circle of his arms E us both; Gardener's D 217
E him fold by fold, and made him gray Guinevere 603
Epic (adj.) Princess, six feet high, Grand, e, Princess, Pro. 225 Epic (s) 'he burnt His e, his King Arthur, The Epic 28
With scraps of thundrous E lilted out Princess ii 375
Epicurean (adj.) majesties Of settled, sweet, E life. Lucretius 218
Epicurean (s) like a stoic, or like A wiser e, Maud I iv 21
Epitaph (See also Hepitaph) cut this e above my bones; Princess ii 207 Epithet And pelted with outrageous e's, Aylmer's Field 286 and your fine e Is accurate too, Merlin and V. 532 Epoch A juster e has begun. Epilogue 6 Equal (adj.) Gliding with e crowns two serpents led Alexander 6 who wrought Two spirits to one e mind— Miller's D. 236 Let us swear an oath, and keep it with an e mind, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 108 we are; One e temper of heroic hearts, Ulysses 68 crime of sense became The crime of malice, and is e blame.' Vision of Sin 216 Maintaining that with e husbandry Princess i 130 Toward that great year of e mights and rights, " iv 74
I saw That e baseness lived in sleeker times " v 385 scorn'd to help their e rights Against the sons of men, " vii 233 the track Whereon with e feet we fared; In Mem. xxv 2
But lives to wed an e mind; " lxii 8
First love, first friendship, e powers, " lxxxv 107
Faith and unfaith can ne'er be e powers: Merlin and V. 388
To leave an e baseness; " 830
As Love and I do number e years, Lover's Tale i 195
A planet e to the sun Which cast it, To E. Fitzgerald 35
The girls of e age, but one was fair, The Ring 160 every heart that loves with truth is e to endure. The Flight 104 your passionate shriek for the rights of an e humanity, Beautiful City 2
For all they rule—by e law for all? Akbar's Dream 110

Equal (s) The woman were an e to the man. Princess i 131 and this proud watchword rest Of e; „ vii 301 in true marriage lies Nor e, nor unequal: „ 303
'Ye are e's, equal-born.' Locksley H., Sixty 110
Each religion says, 'Thou art one, without e.' Akbar's D., Inscrip. 3
Equal (verb) what delights can e those In Mem. xlii 9
Equal-blowing Beneath a broad and e-b wind, Gardener's D. 77
Equal-born 'Ye are equals, e-b' E-b? Locksley H., Sixty 110
Equall'd Strength came to me that e my desire. D. of F. Women 230
Equal-poised O friendship, e-p control, In Mem. lxxxv 33
Equatorial Not such as here—an e one, Lover's Tale iv 190
Equinox feel in head or chest Our changeful e'es, Will Water. 238
Erased See Sand-erased
Erect Tall and e, but bending from his height Aylmer's Field 119 anger-charm'd from sorrow, soldierlike, E: „ 729
Tall and e, but in the middle aisle Reel'd, „ 818
Strode from the porch, tall, and e again. „ 825
E behind a desk of satin-wood, Princess ii 105
Lady Blanche e Stood up and spake, „ iv 290
E and silent, striking with her glance „ vi 152
Erin With Anguisant of E, Morganore, Com. of Arthur 115
Ermine with e capes And woolly-breasts and beaded eyes; In Mem. xcv 11
Erne (Miriam) See Miriam, Miriam Erne
Erne (Muriel) See Muriel, Muriel Erne
Eros a bevy of E'es, apple-cheek'd, The Islet 11
Err forms that e from honest Nature's rule! Locksley Hall 61
O my princess! true she e's, Princess iii 107
she that has a son And sees him e: „ 261
For nothing is that e's from law. In Mem. lxxiii 8
'If Enid e's, let Enid learn her fault.' Marr. of Geraint 132 Errant (See also Damsel-errant, Knighthood-errant) and e knights And ladies came, Marr. of Geraint 545
To lead an e passion home again. Lucretius 17
Prince had brought his e eyes Home from the rock, Geraint and E. 245
Errantry See Knight-errantry
Err'd Aim'd at the helm, his lance e; Geraint and E. 157
if ancient prophecies Have e not, Guinevere 450
Errest 'Nay—but thou e, Lancelot: Holy Grail 881
Erring an e pearl Lost in her bosom: Princess iv 60
Error intellect to part E from crime; Isabel 15
Shall E in the round of time Still father Truth? Love and Duty 4 Deep as Hell I count his e. The Captain 3
Dismal e! fearful slaughter! „ 65
Child, if it were thine e or thy crime Come not, when, etc. 7 some gross e lies In this report, Princess i 69 so she wears her e like a crown „ iii 111
The damsel's headlong e thro' the wood— Gareth and L. 1215
When he flouted a statesman's e, The Wreck 68
Life with its anguish, and horrors, and e's— Despair 48
'Erse (horse) Dosn't thou 'ear my 'e's legs, N. Farmer, N. S. 1
Fur he ca'd 'is 'e Billy-rough-un, Village Wife 84
Esau a heart as rough as E's hand, Godiva 28
Escape (s) and tumbles and childish e's, Maud I i 69
From which was no e for evermore; Merlin and V. 210
From which is no e for evermore.' „ 544 Escape (verb) who scarce would e with her life; In the Child. Hosp. 66 if they be bold enough, who shall e? Def. of Lucknow 40
if I do not e you at last. Despair 114
And who shall e if they close? Heavy Brigade 16 can e From the lower world within him, Making of Man 1 Escaped (See also 'Scaped) when the second Christmas came, e His keepers, Aylmer's Field 838
From which I e heart-free, Maud I ii 11
Escaping Like the caged bird e suddenly, Enoch Arden 269 Esh (ash) Breäk me a bit o' the e for his 'eäd, N. Farmer, N. S. 41
Eshcol vines with grapes Of E hugeness; To E. Fitzgerald 28
Espalier e's and the standards all Are thine; The Blackbird 5
Espied stood, Until the King e him, Holy Grail 755
Essay must thou dearly love thy first e, Ode to Memory 83
Essay'd e, by tenderest-touching terms, Merlin and V. 898
Then in my madness I e the door; Holy Grail 841
Essayist Authors—e, atheist, novelist, Locksley H., Sixty 139 Essence I floated free, As naked e, Two Voices 374
O sacred e, other form, In Mem. lxxxv 35
Essence (continued) his e's turn'd the live air sick, Maud I xiii 11
In thine own e, and delight thyself Lover's Tale i 13
Estate (condition) Whose life in low e began In Mem. lxiv 3
Day, when my crown'd e begun To pine „ lxxii 5
Beholding one so bright in dark e, Marr. of Geraint 786 Estate (lands) (See also 'Staäte) now lord of the broad e and the Hall, Maud I i 19
This lump of earth has left his e „ xvi 1 an orphan with half a shire of e,— Charity 13
Estate (verb) E them with large land and territory Lancelot and E. 1322 Esteem talk kindlier: we e you for it— Princess v 212
Esteem'd we trust that you e us not Too harsh „ iii 198
Esther those of old That lighted on Queen E, Marr. of Geraint 731 Estuary colony smoulder'd on the refluent e; Boädicea 28
Ethereal over those e eyes The bar of Michael Angelo. In Mem. lxxxvii 39 Eternal (adj.) Lay there exiled from e God, Palace of Art 263 every hour is saved From that e silence, Ulysses 27
Pure lilies of e peace, Sir Galahad 67
Or that e want of pence, Will Water. 43 Dwelt with e summer, ill-content. Enoch Arden 562 center'd in e calm. Lucretius 79
E honour to his name. (repeat) Ode on Well. 150, 231
Nor palter'd with E God for power; „ 180 shall bloom The e landscape of the past; In Mem. xlvi 8
E form shall still divide The e soul from all beside; „ xlvii 6 on the low dark verge of life The twilight of e day. „ l 16
E greetings to the dead; „ lvii 14
E process moving on, „ lxxxii 5
Which masters Time indeed, and is E, „ lxxxv 66
To bare the e Heavens again, „ cxxii 4
Lo! I forgive thee, as E God Forgives: Guinevere 544 quiet fields of e sleep! V. of Maeldune 80 bawl'd the dark side of your faith and a God of e rage, Despair 39 pity for our own selves till we long'd for e sleep. „ 46 march of that E Harmony Whereto the worlds beat time, D. of the Duke of C. 15
Eternal (s) Shiah and Sunnee, Symbol the E! Akbar's Dream 108 Eternity All things will change Thro' e. Nothing will Die 16 even and morn Ever will be Thro' e. „ 35 even and morn Ye will never see Thro' e. All Things will Die 46
So in the light of great e Love and Death 12
He names the name E. Two Voices 291
But dreadful time, dreadful e, Palace of Art 267
The sabbaths of E, St Agnes' Eve 33
Music's golden sea Setting toward e, Ode on Well. 253
O skill'd to sing of Time or E, Milton 2 girth of Time Inswathe the fullness of E, Lover's Tale i 483
You that shape for E, On Jub. Q. Victoria 43
Seem'd nobler than their hard Eternities. Demeter and P. 107
Etiquette clamouring e to death, Princess v 17
Ettarre for the lady was E, And she was a great lady Pelleas and E. 97
Linger'd E: and seeing Pelleas droop, „ 178 from the tower above him cried E, „ 231
Then when he came before E, „ 237
Bound on her brow, were Gawain and E. „ 435
Eunuch-hearted art thou not that e-h King Last Tournament 445 whine And snivel, being e-h too, „ 450
Europa sweet E's mantle blew unclasp'd, Palace of Art 117 Europe Better fifty years of E than a cycle of Cathay. Locksley Hall 184 guard the eye, the soul Of E, Ode on Well. 161
Once the weight and fate of E hung. „ 240
Tho' all the storm of E on us break; Third of Feb. 14
But the one voice in E: we must speak; „ 16 avenging rod Shall lash all E into blood; To F. D. Maurice 34 Surely the pibroch of E is ringing Def. of Lucknow 97 gain'd a freedom known to E, known to all; Locksley H., Sixty 129 European never floats an E flag, Locksley Hall 161 the centre and crater of E confusion, Beautiful City 1 Europe-shadowing wheel'd on E's wings, Ode on Well. 120
Eustace I and E from the city went Gardener's D. 2
My E might have sat for Hercules; „ 7
E painted her, And said to me, „ 20
E turn'd, and smiling said to me, „ 97
'E,' I said, 'this wonder keeps the house.' „ 119
With solemn gibe did E banter me. „ 168

Eustace (continued) till Autumn brought an hour For E, Gardener's D. 208 Evangel Heaven-sweet E, ever-living word, Sir J. Oldcastle 28
Evangelist something seal'd The lips of that E. In Mem. xxxi 16
Evasion Elusion, and occasion, and e'? Gareth and L. 288
Eve (See also Christmas Eäve, Christmas-eve, Yester-eve)
At e the beetle boometh Claribel 9
At e a dry cicala sung, Mariana in the S. 85
And when the zoning e has died On a Mourner 21
Nor anchor dropt at e or morn ; The Voyage 82
From fringes of the faded e, Move eastward 3
Except when for a breathing-while at e, Aylmer's Field 449
As thro' the land at e we went, Princess ii 1 at e and dawn With Ida, Ida, Ida, rang the woods ; „ iv 432 sitting at home in my father's farm at e : Grandmother 90
Will there be dawn in West and e in East ? Gareth and L. 712
No later than last e to Prince Geraint— Marr. of Geraint 603
Her seer, her bard, her silver star of e, Merlin and V. 954 Heard on the winding waters, e and morn Lancelot and E. 1408 days Of dewy dawning and the amber e's Lover's Tale i 52 while my life's late e endures, To Marg. of Dufferin 49 star of e was drawing light From the dead sun, Death of Œnone 64 day by day, thro' many a blood-red e, St. Telemachus 3
E after e that haggard anchorite Would haunt „ 12
Eve (proper name) since the time when Adam first Embraced his E Day-Dm., L'Envoi 42
Shadowing the snow-limb'd E Maud I xviii 28
Evelyn E begins it ' O diviner Air.' Sisters (E. and E.) 4
Now follows Edith echoing E. „ 15 graver than the other—Edith than E. „ 27
E is gayer, wittier, prettier, „ 36
The younger sister, E, enter'd— „ 152 told your wayside story to my mother And E. „ 190
For E knew not of my former suit, „ 205 round my E clung In utter silence for so long, „ 216 bright quick smile of E, that had sunn'd „ 243 this I named from her own self, E : „ 271 traitors to her ; our quick E— „ 285
Even (adj.) Upon an e pedestal with man.' Princess iii 224
And climb'd upon a fair and e ridge, Marr. of Geraint 239
Even (s) (See also Yester-even) For e and morn Ever will be Thro' eternity. Nothing will Die 33
For e and morn Ye will never see Thro' eternity. All Things will Die 44
Thou comest morning or e ; she cometh not morning or e. Leonine Eleg. 15
Her tears fell with the dews at e ; Mariana 13
And the crag that fronts the E, Eleänore 40 Whisper in odorous heights of e. Milton 16 gave a shield whereon the Star of E Gareth and L. 1117 setting, when E descended, the very sunset V. of Maeldune 66 Light the fading gleam of E ? Locksley H., Sixty 229 or seated in the dusk Of e, Demeter and P. 126 Evenfall. thro' the laurels At the quiet e, Maud II iv 78
Evening (adj.) (See also Evening-Star) And with the e cloud, Ode to Memory 22
To the shepherd who watcheth the e star. Dying Swan 35
You are the e star, Margaret 27
Floating thro' an e atmosphere, Eleänore 100 Eyed like the e star, with playful tail Œnone 200 same strength which threw the Morning Star Can throw the E,' Gareth and L. 1109
We should see the Globe we groan in, fairest of their e stars. Locksley H., Sixty 188
The mellow lin-lan-lone of e bells Far-far-away 5
Sunset and e star, Crossing the Bar 1
Twilight and e bell, „ 9
Evening (s) in stillest e's With what voice Adeline 30
Many an e by the waters did we watch Locksley Hall 37
It chanced one e Annie's children long'd Enoch Arden 362
At e when the dull November day „ 721
We dropt with e on a rustic town Princess i 170
With brow to brow like night and e mixt „ vi 131 it was e : silent light Slept on the painted walls, „ vii 120 all of an e late I climb'd to the top Grandmother 37 Never morning wore To e, In Mem. vi 8 air, That rollest from the gorgeous gloom Of e „ lxxxvi 3
It leads me forth at e, Maud II iv 17 knight, That named himself the Star of E, Gareth and L. 1090 Evening (s) (continued) mixt Her fancies with the sallow-rifted glooms Of e, Lancelot and E. 1003 or ever that e ended a great gale blew, The Revenge 114 gloom of the e, Life at a close ; Vastness 15
Evening-lighted From the e-l wood, Margaret 10 Evening-Star call themsleves the Day, Morning-Star, and Noon-Sun, and E-S, Gareth and L. 634 Evenness I lost myself and fell from e, Sir J. Oldcastle 164
Even-sloping Near him a mound of e-s side, Pelleas and E. 25 Evensong I know At matins and at e, Supp. Confessions 99 till the dusk that follow'd e Gareth and L. 793 Event such refraction of e's As often rises In Mem. xcii 15
And one far-off divine e, „ Con. 143
Enid stood aside to wait the e, Geraint and E. 153 thou remaining here wilt learn the e ; Guinevere 577 Move with me to the e. Lover's Tale i 298 there, my latest vision—then the e ! „ iii 59
He flies the e : he leaves the e to me : „ iv 1 the e Glanced back upon them in his after life, „ 23
Eventide Either at morn or e. Mariana 16
For at e, listening earnestly, A spirit haunts 4
Then, on a golden autumn e, Enoch Arden 61
Everard (See also Everard Hall, Hall) clapt his hand On E's shoulder, and, 'I hold by him.' And I,' quoth E, The Epic 22
For I remember'd E's college fame „ 46 Everard Hall (See also Everard, Hall) parson Holmes, the poet E H, „ 4
Ever-breaking heard an e-b shore That tumbled In Mem. cxxiv 11
Ever-brightening Fifty years of e-b Science ! On Jub. Q. Victoria 53 Ever-broadening Fifty years of e-b Commerce ! „ 52 ocean-empire with her boundless homes For e-b
England, To the Queen ii 30 Ever-changing a power to make This e-c world of circumstance, To Duke of Argyll 10 the never-changing One And e-c Many, Akbar's Dream 148 thee the changeless in thine e-c skies. Akbar's D., Hymn 4 Ever-climbing but that e-c wave, Hurl'd back again Last Tournament 92
Ever-deepen'd By the long torrent's e-d roar, Death of Œnone 85
Ever-echoing And e-e avenues of song. Ode on Well. 79
Ever-fancied Before an e-f arrow, made Geraint and E. 531
Ever-fleeting And rippled like an e-f wave, Gareth and L. 215
Ever-floating death, death, thou e-f cloud, Œnone 238 Evergreen (adj.) that e laurel is blasted by more than lightning ! Parnassus 12
Evergreen (s) And in it throve an ancient e, Enoch Arden 735
O hollies and ivies and e's, Spiteful Letter 23
With but a drying e for crest, Gareth and L. 1116
Ever-growing Almost blind With e-g cataract, Sisters (E. and E.) 192
How long thine e-g mind Hath still'd Freedom 33
Ever-heightening And every phase of e-h life, De Prof., Two G. 7
Ever-highering In e-h eagle-circles up To the great Sun Gareth and L. 21 Everlasting The marvel of the e will, The Poet 7 she took the tax away And built herself an e name. Godiva 79 Nor sound of human sorrow mounts to mar Their sacred e calm ! Lucretius 110
Lamp of the Lord God Lord e, Batt. of Brunanburh 28
Knowing the Love we were used to believe e would die : Despair 54
Infinite cruelty rather than make e Hell, „ 96
In the name Of the e God, I will live and die with you. Happy 108 Ever-living Heaven-sweet Evangel, e-l word, Sir J. Oldcastle 28
Ever-loyal Their e-l iron leader's fame, Ode on Well. 229
Ever-moaning An e-m battle in the mist, Merlin and V. 192
Evermore My bride to be, my e delight, Maud I xviii 73
Ever-murder'd e-m France, By shores that darken Aylmer's Field 766
Ever-ravening e-r eagle's beak and talon Boädicea 11 Ever-rising A hundred e-r mountain lines, Ancient Sage 282 now their e-r life has dwarf'd The Ring 463 Ever-scattering wearing but a holly-spray for crest,
With e-s berries, Last Tournament 173 Ever-shifting e-s currents of the blood D. of F. Women 133 long mountains ended in a coast Of e-s sand, Pass of Arthur 86 Ever-showering And rode beneath an e-s leaf, Last Tournament 492 Ever-silent The e-s spaces of the East, Tithonus 9 passive sailor wrecks at last In e-s seas; Ancient Sage 137 Ever-tremulous falling showers, And e-t aspen-trees, Lancelot and E. 524

Ever-vanishing Motherless evermore of an e-v race, Despair 84
Ever-veering her e-v fancy turn'd To Pelleas, Pelleas and E. 493 Ever-widening Fifty years of e-w Empire ! On Jub. Q. Victoria 54
Every (See also Ivery, Ivry) E heart this May morning in joyance is beating All Things will Die 6
' if e star in heaven Can make it fair : Sea Dreams 83 and e bird that sings : " 102 on the tables e clime and age Jumbled together Princess, Pro. 16 Brought from under e star, Blown from under e main, Ode Inter. Exhib. 25
We sung, tho' e eye was dim, In Mem. xxx 14
From e house the neighbours met, " xxxi 9
Their e parting was to die. " xcvii 12
Defamed by e charlatan, " cxi 23
Now burgeons e maze of quick " cxv 2
For e grain of sand that runs, And e span of shade that steals, And e kiss of toothed wheels, " cxvii 9
And e dew-drop paints a bow, " cxxii 18
And e thought breaks out a rose. " 20
The joy to e wandering breeze ; " Con. 62
And catch at e mountain head, " Con. 114
And e eye but mine will glance At Maud Maud I xx 36
And mightier of his hands with e blow, Com. of Arthur 110
And under e shield a knight was named : Gareth and L. 409
And overthrowing e knight who comes. Balin and Balan 13
A home of bats, in e tower an owl. " 336
But e page having an ample marge, And e marge enclosing in the midst Merlin and V. 669
And e square of text an awful charm, " 673
And e margin scribbled, crost, and cramm'd " 677
And e voice is nothing. Lancelot and E. 108 and e day she tended him, And likewise many a night : " 850
But e knight beheld his fellow's face Holy Grail 191 e bridge as quickly as he crost Sprang into fire " 505 for e knight Believed himself a greater Last Tournament 676
And e follower eyed him as a God ; " 678 earth is e way Bound by gold chains Pass. of Arthur 422 Waverings of e vane with e wind, To the Queen ii 50
Here was a boy in the ward, e bone seem'd out of its place— In the Child. Hosp. 13
' Never surrender, I charge you, but e man die at his post ! ' Def. of Lucknow 10
' E man die at his post ! ' " 13 as ocean on e side Plunges and heaves at a bank " 38
For e other cause is less than mine. Sir J. Oldcastle 188
But in e berry and fruit was the poisonous pleasure V. of Maeldune 62 in this pavement but shall ring thy name To e hoof that clangs it, Teresias 138 tho' e pulse would freeze, The Flight 53
Made e moment of her after life A virgin victim The Ring 220
O GOD in e temple I see people that see thee, and in e language I hear spoken, Akbar's D., Inscrip. 1 in due time e Mussulmân, Brahmin, and Buddhist, Akbar's Dream 24
E moment dies a man, E moment one is born. (repeat) Vision of Sin 97, 121
And e height comes out, Spec. of Iliad 13
Evidence That heat of inward e, Two Voices 284 Evil (adj.) a name to shake All e dreams of power— The Poet 47
if Nature's e star Drive men in manhood, Love thou thy land 73
For that the e ones come here, and say, St. S. Stylites 98 one, in whom all e fancies clung Enoch Arden 479 Thought on all her e tyrannies, Boädicea 80
That Nature lends such e dreams ? In. Mem. lv 6
And grapples with his e star ; " lxiv 8
With the e tongue and the e ear, Maud I x 51
And I make myself such e cheer, " xv 2 Struck for himself an e stroke ; " II i 21
' as a false knight Or e king before my lance Gareth and L. 6
A name of e savour in the land, " 385 who driven by e tongues From all his fellows, Balin and Balan 125 King, who sought to win my love Thro' e ways : " 475 his e spirit upon him leapt, He ground his teeth " 537
As one that labours with an e dream, Merlin and V. 101
Then every e word I had spoken once, And every e thought I had thought of old, And every e deed I ever did, Holy Grail 371
Evil (adj.) (continued) I rode, Shattering all e customs everywhere Holy Grail 477
A great black swamp and of an e smell, " 499 her anger, leaving Pelleas, burn'd Full on her knights in many an e name Pelleas and E. 290
I cannot brook to see your beauty marr'd Thro' e spite : " 299
' I am wrath and shame and hate and e fame, " 568
What e beast Hath drawn his claws athwart thy face ? Last Tournament 62
Among their harlot-brides, an e song. " 428 some e chance Will make the smouldering scandal Guinevere 90 he foresaw This e work of Lancelot and the Queen ? ' " 307 Like to the wild youth of an e prince, Lover's Tale i 354
we came in an e time to the Isle of the Double Towers, V. of Maeldune 105
Nor care—for Hunger hath the E eye— Ancient Sage 264
An e thought may soil thy children's blood ; " 275
Evil (s) range of e between death and birth, If I were loved 3
What pleasure can we have To war with e ? Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 49
This e came on William at the first. Dora 61
And all good things from e, Love and Duty 59 (Sure that all e would come out of it) Enoch Arden 162 let us too, let all e, sleep. Sea Dreams 309
Out of e e flourishes, Boädicea 83
E haunts The birth, the bridal ; In Mem. xcviii 13
That whatsoever e happen to me, Marr. of Geraint 471
I heard He had spoken e of me ; Balin and Balan 58
Bound are they To speak no e. " 146
What e have ye wrought ? Merlin and V. 67 Nay—we believe all e of thy Mark— " 93 times Grew to such e that the holy cup Holy Grail 57 for they do not flow From e done ; Guinevere 189 angers of the Gods for e done Tiresias 62
Is there e but on earth ? Locksley H., Sixty 197 fashion'd and worship a Spirit of E, Kapiolani 1
Evil-hearted Beautiful Paris, e-h Paris, Œnone 50
Evil-starr'd fell my father e-s ;— Locksley Hall 155
Evolution sounding watchward ' E ' here. Locksley H., Sixty 198
E ever climbing after some ideal good, " 199 Reversion ever dragging E in the mud. " 200
Æonian E, swift or slow, The Ring 44
Re-vólution has proven but E Beautiful City 3
Ewe (See also Yow, Yowe) snowy shoulders, thick as herded e's, Princess iv 479 Example To make me an e to mankind, St. S. Stylites 188 let them take E, pattern : " 224
But, your e pilot, told her all. Princess iii 137
Let his great e stand Colossal, Ode on Well. 220 Unused e from the grave Reach out dead hands In Mem. lxxx 15
' And is the fair e follow'd, Sir, Merlin and V. 19 their e's reach a hand For thro' all years, Tiresias 126 Excalibur Thou therefore take my brand E, M. d'Arthur 27 take E, And fling him far into the middle mere : " 36
Then drew he forth the brand E, " 52
it seem'd Better to leave E conceal'd " 62
Saying, ' King Arthur's sword, E, " 103
And hid E the second time, " 111
But, if thou spare to fling E, " 131
So flash'd and fell the brand E : " 142
' There likewise I beheld E Before him Com. of Arthur 295
Whereof they forged the brand E, Gareth and L. 67
Where Arthur finds the brand E. Holy Grail 253
The brand E will be cast away. " 257 his long lance Broken, and his E a straw.' Last Tournament 88 Striking the last stroke with E, Pass. of Arthur 168
Thou therefore take my brand E, " 195 take E, And fling him far into the middle mere : " 204
Then drew he forth the brand E, " 220
it seem'd Better to leave E conceal'd " 230 Saying, ' King Arthur's sword, E, " 271
And hid E the second time, " 279
But, if thou spare to fling E, " 299
So flash'd and fell the brand E : " 310
Exceed one whose rank e's her own. In Mem. lx 4 in his behalf Shall I e the Persian, Lover's Tale iv 347

Exceeding With slow, faint steps, and much e pain, St. S. Stylites 183
That each had suffer'd some e wrong. Geraint and E. 36
With more e passion than of old: Geraint and E. 335 but there I found Only one man of e age. Holy Grail 431
Smit with e sorrow unto Death. Lover's Tale i 601 Excellence Even his own abiding e— „ 504
Methought all e that ever was Had drawn herself „ 549
Excess From e of swift delight. Rosalind 32
At which, like one that sees his own e, Aylmer's Field 400 Exchange brooking not E or currency: Lover's Tale i 448 Excitement Yearning for the large e Locksley Hall 111
Exclaim'd e Averring it was clear against all rules Princess i 177
Excommunicated were e there, Columbus 192 Excuse With many a scarce-believable e, Enoch Arden 469 for my e What looks so little graceful: Princess iii 52
Made such e's as he might, Guinevere 38
Execration with a sudden e drove The footstool Aylmer's Field 326
Exempt she herself was not e— Locksley Hall 95
Exercise Charier of sleep, and wine, and e, Aylmer's Field 448
Which men delight in, martial e? Princess iii 216
Yoked in all e of noble end, „ vii 361
The sad mechanic e, Like dull narcotics, In Mem. v 7
Exile (See also Self-exile) a three-years' e from thine eyes. Balin and Balan 59
Exiled Lay there e from eternal God, Palace of Art 263
Existence deep heart of e beat for ever Locksley Hall 140
Exit found Only the landward e of the cave, Sea Dreams 96
Expand Heaven over Heaven e's. Mechanophilus 36
Expanse And down the river's dim e L. of Shalott iv 10
On a day when they were going O'er the lone e, The Captain 26
Expect king e's—was there no precontract? Princess iii 207
Expectant E of that news which never came, Enoch Arden 258
Brook'd not the e terror of her heart, „ 493
Thou doest e nature wrong; In Mem. lxxxiii 3 Expectation eyes Of shining e fixt on mine. Princess iv 153 her father's chimney glows In e of a guest; In Mem. vi 30 Expecting E when a fountain should arise: Vision of Sin 8
E still his advent home; In Mem. vi 21 Experience tho' all e past became Consolidate Two Voices 365 full-grown will, Circled thro' all e's, Œnone 166 remark was worth The e of the wise. Edwin Morris 66
Yet all e is an arch wherethro' Gleams Ulysses 19 he bears a laden breast, Full of sad e, Locksley Hall 144 is what Our own e preaches. Will Water. 176 and strange e's Unmeet for ladies. Princess iv 158
I prophesy your plan, Divorced from my e, „ 355 pines in sad e worse than death, „ vii 315
A lord of large e, In Mem. xlii 7
E, in her kind Hath foul'd me— Last Tournament 317
My close of earth's e May prove as peaceful Tiresias 216 tell them 'old e is a fool,' Locksley H., Sixty 131 Experienced See Much-experienced
Experiment In setting round thy first e Ode to Memory 81
And, yonder, shrieks and strange e's Princess, Pro. 235 but a most burlesque barbarous e. Trans. of Homer 2
Barbarous e, barbarous hexameters. „ 6
Expert howsoe'er e In fitting aptest words In Mem. lxxv 5
Expiation anger of the Gods for evil done And e lack'd— Tiresias 63
Explain She answer'd, 'ever longing to e, The Brook 107
Explain'd The shame that cannot be e for shame. Merlin and V. 698
Expound not of those that can e themselves. „ 318
Expounder Take Vivien for e; „ 319
Express How may full-sail'd verse e, Eleänore 44
Who may e thee, Eleänore? „ 68
The common mouth, So gross to e delight, Gardener's D. 56 e All-comprehensive tenderness, In Mem. lxxxv 46 may not kings E him also by their warmth Akbar's Dream 109
Express'd-Exprest no other thing express'd But long disquiet Two Voices 248
In yearnings that can never be exprest By signs D. of F. Women 283 Thro' light reproaches, half exprest In Mem. lxxxv 15 a robe Of samite without price, that more exprest Than hid her, Merlin and V. 222 Expression But beyond e fair Adeline 5 Drew in the e of an eye, In Mem. cxi 19

Exprest See Express'd
Expunge tarn by tarn E the world: Princess vii 41 Exquisite E Margaret, who can tell Margaret 36 kisses press'd on lips Less e than thine.' Gardener's D. 152
For in all that e isle, my dear, The Islet 26
Maud with her e face, Maud I v 12
Extending innocently e her white arms, Lancelot and E. 932 Extreme (adj.) Winning its way with e gentleness Isabel 23 Extreme (s) The falsehood of e's! Of old sat Freedom 24 such e's, I told her, well might harm The woman's cause. Princess iii 144 storming in e's, Stood for her cause, „ v 176 fierce e's employ Thy spirits in the darkening leaf, In Mem. lxxxviii 5
And save it even in e's, Guinevere 67 Extremest In this e misery Of ignorance, Supp. Confessions 8 whom to have suffering view'd had been E pain; Lover's Tale ii 130 Extremity He, reddening in e of delight, Geraint and E. 219 Exult Fade wholly, while the soul e's, In Mem. lxviii 14 while my hand e's Within the bloodless heart Prog. of Spring 83 Eye (s) (See also Hawk-eye, Hey, Lynx-eyes, Prophet-eye) stream be aweary of flowing Under my e? Nothing will Die 2 river chimes in its flowing Under my e; All Things will Die 2 knows Nothing beyond his mother's e's. Supp. Confessions 44 beheld Thy mild deep e's upraised, „ 74
Floats from his sick and filmed e's, „ 166
Glancing with black-beaded e's, Lilian 15
E's not down-dropt nor over-bright, Isabel 1
Light-glooming over e's divine, Madeline 16 Serene with argent-lidded e's Amorous, Arabian Nights 135 his deep e laughter-stirr'd With merriment „ 150
Those spirit-thrilling e's so keen Ode to Memory 39
Thou of the many tongues, the myriad e's! „ 47
Unto mine inner e, Divinest Memory! „ 49
Large dowries doth the raptured e „ 72 all creation pierce Beyond the bottom of his e. A Character 6
And a lack-lustre dead-blue e, „ 17
Blew his own praises in his e's, „ 22 rites and forms before his burning e's The Poet 39 circles of the globes Of her keen e's „ 44
In your e there is death, Poet's Mind 16 listen, listen, your e's shall glisten (repeat) Sea-Fairies 35, 37 all about him roll'd his lustrous e's; Love and Death 3 tears of blood arise Up from my heart unto my e's, Oriana 78 his large calm e's for the love of me. The Mermaid 27
Thy rose-lips and full blue e's Adeline 7
And those dew-lit e's of thine, „ 47
What lit your e's with tearful power, Margaret 3 your e's Touch'd with a somewhat darker hue, „ 49 and let your blue e's dawn Upon me „ 67
My frolic falcon, with bright e's, Rosalind 2
Thro' lips and e's in subtle rays. „ 24
But we must hood your random e's, „ 37
Thy dark e's open'd not, Eleänore 1 languors of thy love-deep e's Float on to me. „ 76 grow so full and deep In thy large e's, „ 86 Thought seems to come and go In thy large e's, „ 97 bright black e's, her bright black hair, Kate 2
In dreaming of my lady's e's. „ 28
As when with downcast e we muse and brood, Sonnet to —— 1 Returning with hot cheek and kindled e's. Alexander 14 win all e's with all accomplishment: The form, the form 4
Below us, as far on as e could see. If I were loved 14
Thine e's so wept that they could hardly see; The Bridesmaid 2
And her e's were darken'd wholly, L. of Shalott iv 31
Her melancholy e's divine, Mariana in the S. 19
To look into her e's and say, „ 75
'Whose e's are dim with glorious tears, Two Voices 151
'He owns the fatal gift of e's, „ 286 forget The busy wrinkles round his e's? Miller's D. 4
I see his gray e's twinkle yet At his own jest—gray e's lit up With summer lightnings „ 11
But ere I saw your e's, my love, „ 43
And there a vision caught my e; „ 76 when I raised my e's, above They met with two so full and bright—Such e's! „ 85

Eye (s) (continued) E's with idle tears are wet. Miller's D. 211
Look thro' mine e's with thine. „ 215
May those kind e's for ever dwell! They have not shed a many tears, Dear e's, „ 220
Droops blinded with his shining e: Fatima 38
My e's are full of tears, my heart of love, My heart is breaking, and my e's are dim, Œnone 31
With down-dropt e's I sat alone: „ 56
The while, above, her full and earnest e „ 141
Thy mortal e's are frail to judge of fair, „ 158
She with a subtle smile in her mild e's, „ 184
And I beheld great Here's angry e's, „ 190 to vex me with his father's e's! „ 255 gaze upon My palace with unblinded e's, Palace of Art 42 hand and e's That said, We wait for thee. „ 103
Flush'd in her temples and her e's, „ 170 all things fair to sate my various e's! „ 193
Oh your sweet e's, your low replies: L. C. V. de Vere 29
The languid light of your proud e's „ 59
There's many a black e, they say, May Queen 5
Than tir'd eyelids upon tir'd e's; Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 6
With half-shut e's ever to seem Falling „ 55 e's grown dim with gazing on the pilot-stars. „ 87 Charged both mine e's with tears. D. of F. Women 13
The star-like sorrows of immortal e's, „ 91 stern black-bearded kings with wolfish e's, „ 111 with swarthy cheeks and bold black e's, „ 127 nor tame and tutor with mine e „ 138
Those dragon e's of anger'd Eleanor „ 255
But tho' his e's are waxing dim, D. of the O. Year 21
Close up his e's: tie up his chin: „ 48
And tho' mine own e's fill with dew, To J. S. 37 Memory standing near Cast down her e's, „ 54
Her open e's desire the truth. Of old sat Freedom 17 broke From either side, nor veil his e's: Love thou thy land 90 both his e's were dazzled, as he stood, M. d'Arthur 59 might have pleased the e's of many men. „ 91
Laid widow'd of the power in his e „ 122
Valuing the giddy pleasure of the e's. „ 128
'Now see I by thine e's that this is done. „ 149
looking wistfully with wide blue e's As in a picture, „ 169 charged Before the e's of ladies and of kings. „ 225 shall I hide my forehead and my e's? „ 228 made those e's Darker than darkest pansies, Gardener's D. 26
Her violet e's, and all her Hebe bloom, „ 137
A thought would fill my e's with happy dew; „ 197 following her dark e's Felt earth as air „ 211 while I mused came Memory with sad e's, „ 243 this whole hour your e's have been intent „ 269
Make thine heart ready with thine e's: „ 273
And I will set him in my uncle's e Dora 67
To make him pleasing in her uncle's e. „ 84
Dora cast her e's upon the ground, „ 89 like a pear In growing, modest e's, Walk. to the Mail 54 his nice e's Should see the raw mechanic's „ 74 film made thick These heavy, horny e's. St. S. Stylites 201 with what delighted e's I turn to yonder oak. Talking Oak 7
I breathed upon her e's „ 210
sunbeam slip, To light her shaded e; „ 218 Streaming e's and breaking hearts? Love and Duty 2 staring e glazed o'er with sapless days, „ 16
When e's, love-languid thro' half tears „ 36
Gave utterance by the yearning of an e, „ 62
With quiet e's unfaithful to the truth, „ 94 Shines in those tremulous e's Tithonus 26 sweet e's brighten slowly close to mine, „ 38 with what other e's I used to watch— „ 51
I dipt into the future far as human e could see; (repeat) Locksley Hall 15, 119
And her e's on all my motions „ 22 dawning in the dark of hazel e's— „ 28
What is this? his e's are heavy: „ 51 an e shall vex thee, looking ancient kindness „ 85 and left me with the jaundiced e; E, to which all order festers, „ 132

Eye (s) (continued) No e look down, she passing; Godiva 40 heads upon the spout Had cunning e's to see: „ 57 but his e's, before they had their will, „ 69
Nor look with that too-earnest e— Day-Dm., Pro. 18
A fairy Prince, with joyful e's, „ Arrival 7
How dark those hidden e's must be!' „ 32
'O e's long laid in happy sleep!' „ Depart. 17
So much your e's my fancy take— „ L'Envoi 26
That I might kiss those e's awake! „ 28
What e's, like thine, have waken'd hopes, „ 45 this heart and e's, Are touch'd, Sir Galahad 71 crow shall tread The corners of thine e's: Will Water. 236
She look'd into Lord Ronald's e's, Lady Clare 79 gladness lighten'd In the e's of each. The Captain 32
He saw not far: his e's were dim: The Voyage 75
One praised her ancles, one her e's, Beggar Maid 11
To glass herself in dewy e's That watch me Move eastward 7
I saw with half-unconscious e She wore the colours The Letters 15
Where sat a company with heated e's, Vision of Sin 7
Hair, and e's, and limbs, and faces, „ 39
Glimmer in thy rheumy e's. „ 154
I cannot praise the fire In your e— „ 184 then would Philip, his blue e's All flooded Enoch Arden 31
Enoch set A purpose evermore before his e's, „ 45
His large gray e's and weather-beaten face „ 70
And in their e's and faces read his doom; „ 73
She could not fix the glass to suit her e; Perhaps her e was dim, hand tremulous; „ 241 rose, and fixt her swimming e's upon him, „ 325 his e's Full of that lifelong hunger, „ 463
His e's upon the stones, he reach'd „ 684
Enoch rolling his gray e's upon her, „ 844
That once again he roll'd his e's upon her „ 904
Her e's a bashful azure, and her hair The Brook 71
Katie snatch'd her e's at once from mine, „ 101 sweet content Re-risen in Katie's e's, „ 169
he stared On e's a bashful azure, „ 206 Whose e's from under a pyramidal head Aylmer's Field 20 eager e's, that still Took joyful note „ 66 the cross-lightnings of four chance-met e's „ 129 Till Leolin ever watchful of her e, „ 210 conscious of the rageful e That watch'd him, „ 336
With a weird bright e, sweating and trembling, „ 585 her fresh and innocent e's Had such a star of morning „ 691 hid the Holiest from the people's e's „ 772
Then their e's vext her; „ 802
And those fixt e's of painted ancestors „ 832 thinking that her clear germander e Droopt Sea Dreams 4 night-light flickering in my e's Awoke me.' „ 103 then my e's Pursued him down the street, „ 164 all his conscience and one e askew'—(repeat) „ 180, 184
Made wet the crafty crowsfoot round his e; „ 187 Grave, florid, stern, as far as e could see, „ 219 show'd their e's Glaring, and passionate looks, „ 235
I fixt My wistful e's on two fair images, „ 240
'Dead! who is dead?' 'The man your e pursued. „ 272
And here he glances on an e new-born, Lucretius 137 her arm lifted, e's on fire— Princess, Pro. 41 turns Up thro' gilt wires a crafty loving e, „ 172 twinn'd as horse's ear and e. „ i 57 raised the blinding bandage from his e's: „ 244 such e's were in her head, „ ii 37 all her thoughts as fair within her e's, „ 326 Abase those e's that ever loved to meet „ 427 wander from his wits Pierced thro' with e's, „ 441 glowing round her dewy e's The circled Iris „ iii 26 her lynx e To fix and make me hotter, „ 46 settled in her e's The green malignant light „ 131 Up went the hush'd amaze of hand and e. „ 138
we had limed ourselves With open e's, „ 143 as she smote me with the light of e's „ 192
She spake With kindled e's: „ 334 Rise in the heart, and gather to the e's, „ iv 41 unto dying e's The casement slowly grows „ 51 Stared with great e's, and laugh'd with alien lips, „ 119

Eye (s) (continued) She wept her true e's blind for such a one, Princess iv 134 with e's Of shining expectation fixt on mine. „ 152
Not yet endured to meet her opening e's, „ 195 an e like mine, A lidless watcher of the public weal, „ 324 Fear Stared in her e's, and chalk'd her face, „ 377 gems and gemlike e's, And gold and golden heads; „ 480 the crimson-rolling e Glares ruin, „ 494
slink From ferule and the trespass-chiding e, „ v 38 Alive with fluttering scarfs and ladies' e's, „ 509 loved me closer than his own right e, „ 531 old lion, glaring with his whelpless e, „ vi 99 grief and mother's hunger in her e, „ 146 her e with slow dilation roll'd Dry flame, „ 189 meet it, with an e that swum in thanks; „ 210
So she, and turn'd askance a wintry e: „ 330
The common men with rolling e's; „ 360
I love not hollow cheek or faded e: „ vii 7
Nor knew what e was on me, „ 53
the dew Dwelt in her e's, „ 136
I on her Fixt my faint e's, and utter'd „ 144 with shut e's I lay Listening; then look'd. „ 223 and mild the luminous e's, „ 226 yearlong poring on thy pictured e's, „ 340 lift thine e's; my doubts are dead, „ 348 guard the e, the soul Of Europe, Ode on Well. 160 he turn'd, and I saw his e's all wet, Grandmother 49
thank God that I keep my e's. „ 106 and the e of man cannot see; High. Pantheism 17
A jewel, a jewel dear to a lover's e! Window, On the Hill 3 fine little feet—Dewy blue e. „ Letter 4 Tell my wish to her dewy blue e: „ „ 14 lighten into my e's and my heart, „ Marr. Morn. 15 cross All night below the darken'd e's; In Mem. iv 14
But since it pleased a vanish'd e, „ viii 21
Mine e's have leisure for their tears; „ xiii 16
Paradise It never look'd to human e's „ xxiv 7
if that e which watches guilt And goodness, „ xxvi 5
Oh, if indeed that e foresee Or see „ 9
We sung, tho' every e was dim, „ xxx 14
Her e's are homes of silent prayer, „ xxxii 1 those wild e's that watch the wave „ xxxvi 15
Make April of her tender e's; „ xl 8
See with clear e some hidden shame „ li 7
With larger other e's than ours, „ 15
Such splendid purpose in his e's, „ lvi 10
That ever look'd with human e's. „ lvii 12
And if thou cast thine e's below, „ lxi 5
Tho' if an e that's downward cast „ lxii 1
Or in the light of deeper e's „ 11
And closing eaves of wearied e's „ lxvii 11
I find a trouble in thine e, „ lxviii 10 him, who turns a musing e On songs, „ lxxvii 2
And dropt the dust on tearless e's; „ lxxx 4
And over those ethereal e's „ lxxxvii 39
He brought an e for all he saw; „ lxxxix 9 dying e's Were closed with wail, „ xc 5
And woolly breasts and beaded e's; „ xcv 12 whose light-blue e's Are tender over drowning flies, „ xcvi 2
These two—they dwelt with e on e, „ xcvii 9
She dwells on him with faithful e's, „ xcvii 35 gleams On Lethe in the e's of Death. „ xcviii 8
But each has pleased a kindred e, „ c 17
The critic clearness of an e, „ cix 3 and thee mine e's Have look'd on: „ 21
Drew in the expression of an e, „ cxi 19
I, who gaze with temperate e's „ cxii 2
I seem to cast a careless e On souls, „ 7
And bright the friendship of thine e; „ cxix 10
Or eagle's wing, or insect's e; „ cxxiv 6
She did but look thro' dimmer e's; „ cxxv 6
Sweet human hand and lips and e; „ cxxix 6
On me she bends her blissful e's „ Con. 29
By village e's as yet unborn; „ 59
e to e, shall look On knowledge; „ 129

Eye (s) (continued) (for her e's were downcast, not to be seen) Maud I ii 5
An e well-practised in nature, „ iv 38 her e seem'd full Of a kind intent to me, „ vi 40
And a moist mirage in desert e's, „ 53 once, but once, she lifted her e's, „ viii 5
Let not my tongue be a thrall to my e, „ xvi 32
Innumerable, pitiless, passionless e's, „ xviii 38 often I caught her with e's all wet, „ xix 23 every e but mine will glance At Maud „ xx 36
In violets blue as your e's, „ xxii 42
Was it he lay there with a fading e? „ II i 29
But only moves with the moving e, „ ii 37
it well Might drown all life in the e,— „ 61
I sorrow For the hand, the lips, the e's, „ iv 27
My own dove with the tender e? „ 46 look'd, tho' but in a dream, upon e's so fair, „ III vi 16
O passionate heart and morbid e, „ 32
Felt the light of her e's into his life Com. of Arthur 56
And dazed all e's, till Arthur by main might, „ 109
From e to e thro' all their Order flash „ 270
Bewildering heart and e— „ 300
Fixing full e's of question on her face, „ 312 dark my mother was in e's and hair, And dark in hair and e's am I; „ 327 the Queen replied with drooping e's, „ 469
Gareth answer'd her with kindling e's, (repeat) Gareth and L. 41, 62
Nor fronted man or woman, e to e— „ 112
The mother's e Full of the wistful fear „ 172
Gareth likewise on them fixt his e's „ 236 shyly glanced E's of pure women, „ 314 the listening e's Of those tall knights, „ 327
the field was pleasant in our e's, „ 337
The field was pleasant in my husband's e.' „ 342 Return, and meet, and hold him from our e's, „ 429
the King's calm e Fell on, and check'd, „ 547
A head with kindling e's above the throng, „ 646
Round as the red e of an Eagle-owl, „ 799
Gareth's e's had flying blots Before them „ 1031
And Enid, but to please her husband's e, Marr. of Geraint 11 this she gather'd from the people's e's: „ 61 darken'd from the high light in his e's, „ 100 maybe pierced to death before mine e's, „ 104 with fixt e following the three. „ 237
Let his e rove in following, „ 399
To whom Geraint with e's all bright replied, „ 494
Nor did she lift an e nor speak a word, „ 528
At this she cast her e's upon her dress, „ 609
Myself would work e dim, and finger lame, „ 628
Help'd by the mother's careful hand and e, „ 738 the Prince had brought his errant e's Geraint and E. 245 Found Enid with the corner of his e, „ 281
Crost and came near, lifted adoring e's, „ 304 would not make them laughable in all e's, „ 326
Made his e moist; but Enid fear'd his e's, „ 350
With e's to find you out however far, „ 428 his e darken'd and his helmet wagg'd; „ 505 let her true hand falter, nor blue e Moisten, „ 512 drove the dust against her veilless e's: „ 529
Bound on a foray, rolling e's of prey, „ 538
Half-bold, half-frighted, with dilated e's, „ 597
He roll'd his e's about the hall, „ 610 o'er her meek blue e's, came a happy mist „ 769
Yet not so misty were her meek blue e's „ 772 with your meek e's, The truest e's „ 841 with your own true e's Beheld the man „ 846 having look'd too much thro' alien e's, „ 892
King went forth and cast his e's On each „ 932
Sent me a three-years' exile from thine e's. Balin and Balan 59
Sir Lancelot with his e's on earth, „ 253
Lo! these her emblems drew mine e's— „ 265
Then Lancelot lifted his large e's; „ 277 hast thou e's, or if, are these So far besotted „ 358
Then fiercely to Sir Garlon 'E's have I That saw „ 372
E's too that long have watch'd how Lancelot „ 375
The longest lance his e's had ever seen, „ 411

Eye (s) (continued) he lifted faint e's; he felt One near him; Balin and Balan 594 Closed his death-drowsing e's, and slept = 631 stood with folded hands and downward e's Of glancing corner, Merlin and V. 69 her slow sweet e's Fear-tremulous, „ 85
With reverent e's mock-loyal, „ 157 neither e's nor tongue—O stupid child! „ 251 sweetly gleam'd her e's behind her tears „ 402 isle-nurtured e's Waged such unwilling tho' successful war „ 570 lady never made unwilling war With those fine e's: „ 604
Not one to flirt a venom at her e's, „ 609 let her e's Speak for her, glowing on him, „ 615
So lean his e's were monstrous; „ 624 often o'er the sun's bright e Drew the vast eyelid „ 633 densest condensation, hard To mind and e; „ 679
A snowy penthouse for his hollow e's, „ 808
Without the will to lift their e's, „ 836
His e was calm, and suddenly she took To bitter weeping „ 854
He raised his e's and saw The tree that shone „ 938
Her e's and neck glittering went and came: „ 960
Queen Lifted her e's, and they dwelt Lancelot and E. 84 gleam'd a vague suspicion in his e's: „ 127
she, who held her e's upon the ground, „ 232 Lifted her e's, and read his lineaments. „ 244
And noblest, when she lifted up her e's. „ 256
she lifted up her e's And loved him, „ 259 let his e's Run thro' the peopled gallery „ 429
stay'd; and cast his e's on fair Elaine: „ 640
O damsel, in the light of your blue e's; „ 660 he roll'd his e's Yet blank from sleep, „ 819
His e's glisten'd: she fancied 'Is it for me?' „ 822 his large black e's, Yet larger thro' his leanness, „ 834
'Nay, the world, the world, All ear and e, with such a stupid heart To interpret ear and e, „ 941 Speaking a still good-morrow with her e's. „ 1033 old servitor, on deck, Winking his e's, „ 1145 saw with a sidelong e The shadow of some piece „ 1173 Close underneath his e's, and right across „ 1240 and e's that ask'd 'What is it?' „ 1249 men Shape to their fancy's e from broken rocks „ 1252
From the half-face to the full e, „ 1262 raised his head, their e's met and hers fell, „ 1312
He answer'd with his e's upon the ground, „ 1352
Seeing the homeless trouble in thine e's, „ 1365
To doubt her fairness were to want an e, „ 1376 lifted up his e's And saw the barge that brought „ 1390
I trust We are green in Heaven's e's; Holy Grail 38 her e's Beyond my knowing of them, beautiful, „ 102
His e's became so like her own, „ 141 sent the deathless passion in her e's Thro' him, „ 163 lifting up mine e's, I found myself Alone, „ 375
And took both ear and e; „ 383
And kind the woman's e's and innocent, „ 393
'While thus he spake, his e, dwelling on mine, „ 485
On either hand, as far as e could see, „ 498
Which never e's on earth again shall see. „ 532 like bright e's of familiar friends, „ 688 his e's, An out-door sign of all the warmth „ 703
'A welfare in thine e reproves Our fear „ 726
I saw it;' and the tears were in his e's. „ 759
A dying fire of madness in his e's— „ 768 angels, awful shapes, and wings and e's. „ 848 by mine e's and by mine ears I swear, „ 864 light that strikes his e is not light, „ 913
So that his e's were dazzled looking at it. Pelleas and E. 36 and his e's closed. And since he loved all maidens, „ 39
For large her violet e's look'd, „ 71 for those large e's, the haunts of scorn, „ 75 while they rode, the meaning in his e's, „ 109 green wood-ways, and e's among the leaves; „ 139 in mid-banquet measuring with his e's „ 150 tower fill'd with e's Up to the summit, „ 166 glory fired her face; her e Sparkled, „ 172 but felt his e's Harder and drier „ 506

Eye (s) (continued) hard his e's; harder his heart Seem'd; Pelcas and E. 512 Rolling his e's, a moment stood, then spake: „ 581
Pelleas lifted up an e so fierce She quail'd; „ 601 nose Bridge-broken, one e out, and one hand off, Last Tournament 59
He look'd but once, and vail'd his e's „ 150
Come—let us gladden their sad e's, „ 222
Made dull his inner, keen his outer e „ 366
The black-blue Irish hair and Irish e's „ 404 steel-blue e's, The golden beard that clothed „ 667
Lay couchant with his e's upon the throne, Guinevere 11
Modred still in green, all ear and e, „ 24
Heart-hiding smile, and gray persistent e: „ 64
Hands in hands, and e to e. „ 100
Makes wicked lightnings of her e's, „ 520 her hand Grasp'd, made her vail her e's: „ 663 richer in His e's Who ransom'd us, „ 684 these e's of men are dense and dim, Pass. of Arthur 19 both his e's were dazzled as he stood, „ 227
might have pleased the e's of many men. „ 259
Laid widow'd of the power in his e „ 290
Valuing the giddy pleasure of the e's. „ 296
'Now see I by thine e's that this is done. „ 317
looking wistfully with wide blue e's As in a picture. „ 337
charged Before the e's of ladies and of kings. „ 393
shall I hide my forehead and my e's? „ 396
Straining his e's beneath an arch of hand, „ 464
I come, great Mistress of the ear and e: Lover's Tale i 22 tho' there beat a heart in either e; „ 34
Leapt like a passing thought across her e's; „ 70
Oh, such dark e's! a single glance of them „ 75 a common light of e's Was on us as we lay: „ 236 Shading his e's till all the fiery cloud, „ 306 down to sea, and far as e could ken, „ 336 light methought broke from her dark, dark e's, „ 368 endured in presence of His e's To indue his lustre; „ 423 our e's met: hers were bright, „ 441 gaze upon thee till their e's are dim „ 491 still I kept my e's upon the sky. „ 572
Of e's too weak to look upon the light; „ 614
Leaning its roses on my faded e's. „ 621
And what it has for e's as close to mine „ 651 how her choice did leap forth from his e's! „ 657 e's—I saw the moonlight glitter on their tears— „ 696
And could I look upon her tearful e's? „ 735
Fixing my e's on those three cypress-cones „ ii 38
Flash'd thro' my e's into my innermost brain, „ 95
Like morning from her e's—her eloquent e's, „ 144
All unawares before his half-shut e's, „ 153 so those fair e's Shone on my darkness, „ 157 and the e Was riveted and charm-bound, „ 187 over my dim e's, And parted lips which drank her breath, „ 203
—her e's And cheeks as bright as when she climb'd „ iii 46 she rais'd an e that ask'd 'Where?' „ iv 94 dark e's of hers—Oh! such dark e's! and not her e's alone, „ 165
Wonder'd at some strange light in Julian's e's „ 205
Have jested also, but for Julian's e's, „ 223 breast Hard-heaving, and her e's upon her feet, „ 308
Dazed or amazed, nor e's of men; „ 311
She shook, and cast her e's down, „ 329 and begun to darken my e's. Rizpah 16 sun as danced in 'er pratty blue e; North. Cobbler 50 sweet e's frown: the lips Seem but a gash. Sisters (E. and E.) 106 the sweet dwelling of her e's Upon me „ 165 her own true e's Are traitors to her; „ 284 wi' hoffens a drop in 'is e. Village Wife 34
Sa I han't clapt e's on 'im yit, „ 123 and the smile, and the comforting e— In the Child. Hosp. 12 and his e's were sweet, V. of Maeldune 117
YOU that were e's and light to the King To Prin. F. of H. 1 and woke, These e's, now dull, but then so keen Tiresias 4
And from her virgin breast, and virgin e's „ 46
Menœceus, thou hast e's, and I can hear „ 90
These eyeless e's, that cannot see thine own, „ 108 these e's will find The men I knew, „ 175

Eye (s) continued) in the dark of his wonderful e's. The Wreck 55 sad e's fixt on the lost sea-home, „ 126
When the rolling e's of the lighthouse Despair 9 leave him, blind of heart and e's, Ancient Sage 113 Nor care—for Hunger hath the Evil e— „ 264 in the sidelong e's a gleam of all things ill— The Flight 31 my e's are dim with dew, „ 97
Wid a diamond dhrop in her e, Tomorrow 28 an' yer e's as bright as the day ! „ 32
An' ye'll niver set e's an the face „ 50
the dhry e thin but was wet for the frinds „ 83 E's that lured a doting boyhood Locksley H., Sixty 10 kiss'd the miniature with those sweet e's. „ 12 sphere of all the boundless Heavens within the human e, „ 210 Aged e's may take the growing glimmer „ 230 in the wars your own Crimean e's had seen; Pro. to Gen. Hamley 12 Those e's the blue to-day, Epilogue 9 be found of angel e's In earth's recurring Paradise. Helen's Tower 11 Thy glorious e's were dimm'd with pain Freedom 10 brightens thro' the Mother's tender e's, Prin. Beatrice 4 True daughter, whose all-faithful, filial e's „ 13 make them wealthier in his readers' e's; Poets and their B. 4 Shakespeare's bland and universal e Dwells To W. C. Macready 13 Thine e's Again were human-godlike, Demeter and P. 18 e's Awed even me at first, thy mother—e's That oft had seen the serpent-wanded power „ 23 who was he with such love-drunken e's The Ring 21 landscape which your e's Have many a time „ 150 surface e, that only doats On outward beauty, „ 163 a ribald twinkle in his bleak e's— „ 199 Beyond our burial and our buried e's, „ 296 closed her e's, which would not close, „ 299 the glazed e Glared at me as in horror. „ 450 floated in with sad reproachful e's, „ 469
I lifted up my e's, he was coming down the fell— Happy 82 Whose e's have known this globe of ours, To Ulysses 2
Watching her large light e's Prog. of Spring 19
These will thine e's not brook in forest-paths, „ 31
Her light makes rainbows in my closing e's, „ 46 gray Magician With e's of wonder, Merlin and the G. 6
Her sad e's plead for my own fame Romney's R. 55 mine from your pretty blue e's to your feet, „ 96
I blind your pretty blue e's with a kiss ! „ 101
One kiss'd his hand, another closed his e's, Death of Œnone 58 lure those e's that only yearn'd to see, St. Telemachus 36 had left His aged e's, he raised them, „ 51 are faint And pale in Alla's e's, Akbar's Dream 11 all the Hells a-glare in either e, „ 115
But Death had ears and e's; „ 187 gladdening human hearts and e's. „ Hymn 2
Haven't you e's ? I am dressing the grave Charity 2
And the hard blue e's have it still, „ 10
Eye (verb) careful robins e the delver's toil, Marr. of Geraint 774 careful robin's e the delver's toil; Geraint and E. 431 Eyeball warm blood mixing; The e's fixing. All Things will Die 34
Eyebrow He dragg'd his e bushes down, Merlin and V. 807
Still makes a hoary e for the gleam The Brook 80
Eyed (adj.) (See also Blue-eyed, Cock-eyed, Dark-eyed, False-eyed, Falcon-eyed, Gold-eyed, Gray-eyed, Mild-eyed, Still-eyed, White-eyed, Wild-eyed) a wild and wanton pard, E like the evening star, Œnone 200
Eyed (verb) And every follower e him as a God; Last Tournament 678 Eyelash The lifting of whose e is my lord, Princess v 140 golden beam of an e dead on the cheek, Maud I iii 3 morn Has lifted the dark e of the Night Akbar's Dream 201
Eyeless 'I saw the little elf-god e once Merlin and V. 249
These e eyes, that cannot see thine own,— Tiresias 108
Eyelet-holes fierce east scream thro' your e-h, Pelleas and E. 469
Eyelid (See also Sister-eyelids) Ray-fringed e's of the morn Roof not a glance Clear-headed friend 6
Pacing with downward e's pure. Two Voices 420
Her e quiver'd as she spake. Miller's D. 144
Weigh heavy on my e's: let me die. Œnone 244
I kiss'd his e's into rest: The Sisters 19
Than tir'd e's upon tir'd eyes; Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 6

Eyelid (continued) With half-dropt e still, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 90
I READ, before my e's dropt their shade, D. of F. Women 1
I closed mine e's, lest the gems Should blind M. d'Arthur 152
'Her e's dropp'd their silken eaves. Talking Oak 209 forehead, e's, growing dewy-warm With kisses Tithonus 58
A little flutter'd, with her e's down, The Brook 89
And here upon a yellow e fall'n Lucretius 141 Beat balm upon our e's. Princess iii 123 on my heavy e's My anguish hangs Maud II iv 73
Made her cheek burn and either e fall, Marr. of Geraint 775
Made her cheek burn and either e fall. Geraint and E. 434
Made answer, either e wet with tears: Merlin and V. 379
Drew the vast e of an inky cloud, 634 saw The slow tear creep from her closed e „ 906
I closed mine e's, lest the gems Should blind Pass. of Arthur 320
Falling, unseal'd our e's, and we woke Lover's Tale i 265
My heart paused—my raised e's would not fall, „ 571 felt the blast Beat on my heated e's: „ iii 28
Had caught her hand, her e's fell— Sisters (E. and E.) 148 Vailing a sudden e with his hard Sir J. Oldcastle 20
Eye-reach Eagle, laid Almost beyond e-r, Gareth and L. 45
Eyesight Not with blinded e poring Locksley Hall 172
Eye-witness would'st against thine own e-w fain Merlin and V. 793
Eyry lured that falcon from his e on the fell, Happy 59

F

Faäce (face) fun 'um theer a-laäid of 'is f N. Farmer, O. S. 33 an' scratted my f like a cat, North. Cobbler 22
An' the babby's f wurn't wesh'd „ 42
I'll looök my hennemy straït i' the f, „ 74
Tommy's f be as fresh as a codlin „ 110 call'd me afoor my awn foälks to my f Village Wife 105 wi' a niced red f, an' es cleän Es a shillin' Spinster's S's. 75 a-callin ma 'hugly' mayhap to my f, „ 91
I seed at 'is f wur as red as the Yule-block Owd Roä 56 an' ya thraw'd the fish i' 'is f, Church-warden, etc. 30 Faäir (fair) like a bull gotten loose at a f, North. Cobbler 33
Faäithful (faithful) 'F an' True'—(repeat) Owd Roä 15
'A f an' loovin' wife !' Spinster's S's. 72
Fable (s) we grew The f of the city where we dwelt. Gardener's D. 6
Read my little f: The Flower 17
Like a shipwreck'd man on a coast Of ancient f and fear— Maud II ii 32
Old milky f's of the wolf and sheep, Pelleas and E. 196 Rare in F or History, On Jub. Q. Victoria 5 my soul uncertain, or a f, By an Evolution. 5
Fable (verb) aught they f of the quiet Gods. Lucretius 55 Fabled why we came ? I f nothing fair, Princess iii 136
Fabler Balin answer'd him 'Old f, Balin and Balan 307 Fabric F rough, or fairy-fine, Ode Inter. Exhib. 18 Face (See also Faäce, Fine-face, Half-face) Old f's glimmer'd thro' the doors, Mariana 66
Sweet f's, rounded arms, and bosoms Sea-Fairies 3
I was down upon my f, Oriana 53
O pale, pale f so sweet and meek, „ 66
Breathing Light against thy f, Adeline 56 and slowly grow To a full f, Eleänore 92
While I muse upon thy f; „ 129
So, friend, when first I look'd upon your f, Sonnet To —— 9
He said, 'She has a lovely f; L. of Shalott iv 52
glow'd The clear perfection of her f. Mariana in the S. 32
God's glory smote him on the f.' Two Voices 225
'His f, that two hours since hath died; „ 242 little daughter, whose sweet f He kiss'd, „ 253 Whose wrinkles gather'd on his f, „ 329
And turning look'd upon your f, Miller's D. 157 Grow, live, die looking on his f, Fatima 41 tell her to her f how much I hate Her presence, Œnone 228
O happy Heaven, how canst thou see my f ? „ 236
She was the fairest in the f: The Sisters 2
Two godlike f's gazed below; Palace of Art 162

Face (continued) O silent f's of the Great and Wise, Palace of Art 195
I shall look upon your f; May Queen, N. Y's. E. 38 round about the keel with f's pale, Dark f's pale against that rosy flame, Lotos-Eaters 25 With those old f's of our infancy „ C. S. 66 turning on my f The star-like sorrows D. of F. Women 90
Myself for such a f had boldly died,' „ 98
My father held his hand upon his f; „ 107
Here her f Glow'd, as I look'd at her. „ 239
His f is growing sharp and thin. D. of the O. Year 46 a new f at the door, my friend, A new f at the door. „ 53 Imitates God, and turns her f To every land On a Mourner 2 reveal'd The fullness of her f— Of old sat Freedom 12 Lift up thy rocky f, England and Amer. 12 all his f was white And colourless, M. d'Arthur 212
Among new men, strange f's, other minds.' „ 238
If thou should'st never see my f again, „ 246
Then he turn'd His f and pass'd— Dora 151 and Dora hid her f By Mary. „ 156 came again together on the king With heated f's; Audley Court 37 hid his f From all men, Walk. to the Mail 20
A pretty f is well, and this is well, Edwin Morris 45 saw Their f's grow between me and my book; St. S. Stylites 176
I know thy glittering f. „ 205 before my f I see the moulder'd Abbey-walls, Talking Oak 2 seen some score of those Fresh f's, „ 50
Turn your f, Nor look with that too-earnest eye— Day-Dm., Pro. 17 Grave f's gather'd in a ring. „ Sleep. P. 38
And yawn'd, and rubb'd his f, and spoke, „ Revival 19
'There I put my f in the grass— Edward Gray 21
the dusty crypt Of darken'd forms and f's. Will Water. 184 Were their f's grim. The Captain 54 colour flushes Her sweet f from brow to chin: L. of Burleigh 62
Her f was evermore unseen, The Voyage 61
So sweet a f, such angel grace, Beggar Maid 13
Panted hand-in-hand with f's pale, Vision of Sin 19
Hair, and eyes, and limbs, and f's, „ 39
Every f, however full, Padded round „ 176
His large gray eyes and weather-beaten f Enoch Arden 70
And in their eyes and f's read his doom; Then, as their f's drew together, groan'd, „ 73 his f, Rough-redden'd with a thousand winter gales, „ 94
I shall look upon your f no more.' „ 212
Spy out my f, and laugh at all your fears.' „ 216
Cared not to look on any human f, „ 282
'I cannot look you in the f I seem so foolish „ 315
And dwelt a moment on his kindly f, „ 326 but her f had fall'n upon her hands; „ 391 stood once more before her f, Claiming her promise. „ 457
Philip's rosy f contracting grew Careworn and wan; „ 486
He could not see, the kindly human f, „ 581
Enoch yearn'd to see her f again; 'If I might look on her sweet f again „ 717 my dead f would vex her after-life. „ 891
With half a score of swarthy f's came. Aylmer's Field 191 a hoary f Meet for the reverence of the hearth, „ 332 her sweet f and faith Held him from that: „ 392
mixt Upon their f's, as they kiss'd each other „ 430
f to f With twenty months of silence, „ 566 careless of the household f's near, „ 575
His f magnetic to the hand from which „ 626 the wife, who watch'd his f, Paled „ 731 he veil'd His f with the other, „ 809 pendent hands, and narrow meagre f „ 813
The rabbit fondles his own harmless f, „ 851 sitting all alone, his f Would darken, Sea Dreams 12 altho' his fire is on my f Blinding, Lucretius 144 sown With happy f's and with holiday. Princess, Pro. 56 (A little sense of wrong had touch'd her f „ 219 prince I was, blue-eyed, and fair in f, „ i 1
I saw my father's f Grow long and troubled „ 58 keep your hoods about the f; „ ii 358
Push'd her flat hand against his f „ 366
She sent for Blanche to accuse her f to f; „ iv 239
And falling on my f was caught and known. „ 270

Face (continued) Half-drooping from her, turn'd her f, Princess, iv. 368
Stared in her eyes, and chalk'd her f, „ 377
I know Your f's there in the crowd— „ 510
Bent their broad f's toward us and address'd „ 551 so from her f They push'd us, down the steps, „ 554 Thy f across his fancy comes, „ 579
And every f she look'd on justify it) „ v 134 therefore I set my f Against all men, „ 388 Took the face-cloth from the f; „ vi 11
The haggard father's f and reverend beard „ 103 then once more she look'd at my pale f: „ 115
And turn'd each f her way: „ 144 when she learnt his f, Remembering his ill-omen'd song, „ 158 thro' the parted silks the tender f Peep'd, „ vii 60 at which her f A little flush'd, „ 80 Hortensia pleading: angry was her f. „ 132 all for languor and self-pity ran Mine down my f, „ 140
Pale was the perfect f; „ 224
His dear little f was troubled, Grandmother 65
Before the stony f of Time, Lit. Squabbles 3
His f was ruddy, his hair was gold, The Victim 35
Till the f of Bel be brighten'd, Boädicea 16 they hide their f's, miserable in ignominy! „ 51 are you flying over her sweet little f? Window, On the Hill 13
Ay or no, if ask'd to her f? „ Letter 9
Whom we, that have not seen thy f, In Mem., Pro. 2
Roves from the living brother's f, „ xxxii 7
And tears are on the mother's f, „ xl 10
I strive to paint The f I know; „ lxx 3
And shoals of pucker'd f's drive; „ 10
Looks thy fair f and makes it still. „ 16
As sometimes in a dead man's f, „ lxxiv 1
And in a moment set thy f „ lxxvi 2
For changes wrought on form and f; „ lxxxii 2
I see their unborn f's shine „ lxxxiv 19 saw The God within him light his f, „ lxxxvii 36 swims The reflex of a human f. „ cviii 12
And find his comfort in thy f; „ cix 20
Not all regret: the f will shine Upon me, „ cxvi 9
Many a merry f Salutes them— „ Con. 66
And hearts are warm'd and f's bloom, „ 82 make my heart as a millstone, set my f as a flint, Maud I i 31
But a cold and clear-cut f, „ ii 3
Cold and clear-cut f, why come you so cruelly meek, „ iii 1
Passionless, pale, cold f, star-sweet „ 4 pride flash'd over her beautiful f. „ iv 16
Maud with her exquisite f, „ v 12
A f of tenderness might be feign'd, „ vi 52
A bought commission, a waxen f, „ x 30
His f, as I grant, in spite of spite, „ xiii 8
Last year, I caught a glimpse of his f, „ 27
And he struck me, madman, over the f, „ II i 18
And the f's that one meets, „ iv 93 the f of night is fair on the dewy downs, „ III vi 5
One among many, tho' his f was bare. Com. of Arthur 54 find nor f nor bearing, limbs nor voice, „ 71
And ere it left their f's, „ 272 gazing on him, tall, with bright Sweet f's, „ 279 her f Wellnigh was hidden in the minster „ 288
And sad was Arthur's f Taking it, „ 305
Fixing full eyes of question on her f, „ 312
Southward they set their f's, Gareth and L. 182 on thro' silent f's rode Down the slope city, „ 734 not once dare to look him in the f.' „ 782
And cipher f of rounded foolishness, „ 1039
Slab after slab, their f's forward all, „ 1206
'Follow the f's, and we find it. „ 1210 nor rough f, or voice, Brute bulk of limb, „ 1329
'God wot, I never look'd upon the f, „ 1333 Issued the bright f of a blooming boy „ 1408 the sweet f of her Whom he loves most, Marr. of Geraint 122 knight Had vizor up, and show'd a youthful f, „ 189 Guinevere, not mindful of his f „ 191 kept her off and gazed upon her f, „ 519
Across the f of Enid hearing her; „ 524

Face (continued) all his f Glow'd like the heart of a great fire Marr. of Geraint 558
Dared not to glance at her good mother's f, " 766
But rested with her sweet f satisfied; " 776 to her own bright f Accuse her Geraint and E. 110 Greeted Geraint full f, but stealthily, " 279
'Your sweet f's make good fellows fools " 399 Ye mar a comely f with idiot tears. Yet, since the f is comely—some of you, " 550 felt the warm tears falling on his f; " 586 he turn'd his f And kiss'd her climbing, " 760 Fearing the mild f of the blameless King, " 812
His very f with change of heart is changed. " 899 Came with slow steps, the morning on her f; Balin and Balan 245 all the light upon her silver f Flow'd " 263 leaves Laid their green f's flat against the panes, " 344
He dash'd the pummel at the foremost f, " 402 Stumbled headlong, and cast him f to ground. " 426 Balin first woke, and seeing that true f, " 590 and they lifted up Their eager f's, Merlin and V. 133
she lifted up A f of sad appeal, " 234
I find Your f is practised when I spell the lines, " 367
So tender was her voice, so fair her f, " 401 look upon his f!—but if he sinn'd, " 761 harlots paint their talk as well as f " 821 heaving shoulder, and the f Hand-hidden, " 896 with what f, after my pretext made, Lancelot and E. 141 Had marr'd his f, and mark'd it ere his time. " 247 all night long his f before her lived, As when a painter, poring on a f, " 331 and so paints him that his f, " 334 so the f before her lived, Dark-splendid, " 337 Rapt on his f as if it were a God's. " 356 blood Sprang to her f and fill'd her with delight; " 377 Her bright hair blown about the serious f " 392 with smiling f arose, With smiling f " 552 sharply turn'd about to hide her f, " 608
Where could be found f daintier? " 641
And lifted her fair f and moved away: " 682
Some read the King's f, some the Queen's, " 727
Sat on his knee, stroked his gray f " 749 Came on her brother with a happy f " 791
Her f was near, and as we kiss the child That does the task assign'd, he kiss'd her f. " 828
In the heart's colours on her simple f; " 837 Full often the bright image of one f, " 882 like a ghost she lifted up her f, " 918
'Not to be with you, not to see your f— " 946 the blood-red light of dawn Flared on her f, " 1026
So dwelt the father on her f, and thought " 1030
She with a f, bright as for sin forgiven, " 1102 Winking his eyes, and twisted all his f. " 1145 her f, and that clear-featured f Was lovely, " 1159 but that oarsman's haggard f, As hard and still as is the f that men Shape to their fancy's eye " 1250 looking often from his f who read " 1285
By God for thee alone, and from her f, " 1367 every knight beheld his fellow's f Holy Grail 191 bright f's, ours, Full of the vision, " 266 his f Darken'd, as I have seen it more than once, " 272
I saw the fiery f as of a child That smote itself " 466
And knowing every honest f of theirs " 550
And one hath had the vision f to f, " 900 have the Heavens but given thee a fair f, Pelleas and E. 101 his f Shone like the countenance of a priest " 143 gilded parapets were crown'd With f's, " 166 the heat Of pride and glory fired her f; " 172 O damsel, wearing this unsunny f " 180 those three knights all set their f's home, " 187 Content am I so that I see thy f " 243
Thus to be bounden, so to see her f, " 326
Let me be bounden, I shall see her f; " 331 beast Hath drawn his claws athwart thy f? Last Tournament 63
Modred, a narrow f: " 166
Before him fled the f of Queen Isolt " 363

Face (continued) Anon the f, as, when a gust hath blown, Last Tournament 368
That sent the f of all the marsh aloft " 439 the f Wellnigh was helmet-hidden, " 455 trampled out his f from being known, " 470 Men, women, on their sodden f's, " 474 mist, like a face-cloth to the f, Clung Guinevere 7 Modred's narrow foxy f, " 63 grim f's came and went Before her, " 70 Till ev'n the clear f of the guileless King, " 85 Fired all the pale f of the Queen, " 357 grovell'd with her f against the floor: " 415
She made her f a darkness from the King: " 417
I might see his f, and not be seen.' " 588 so she did not see the f, Which then was as an angel's, " 595 those With whom he dwelt, new f's, other minds. Pass. of Arthur 5 some beheld the f's of old ghosts Look in " 103
the wan wave Brake in among dead f's, " 130
And beats upon the f's of the dead, " 141 for all his f was white And colourless, " 380 new men, strange f's, other minds.' " 406
If thou should'st never see my f again, " 414 dwelt on my heaven, a f Most starry-fair, Lover's Tale i 72 placid f And breathless body of her good deeds " 216 slept In the same cradle always, f to f. " 259 in the shuddering moonlight brought its f " 650 drops of that distressful rain Fell on my f, " 699 when their f's are forgot in the land— " 759 the f, The very f and form of Lionel " ii 93 those that held the bier before my f, " iii 16
His lady with the moonlight on her f; " iv 57
Heir of his f and land, to Lionel. " 129
Sent such a flame into his f, " 177
I, by Lionel sitting, saw his f Fire, " 322 lifted up a f All over glowing with the sun " 380
I had but to look in his f. First Quarrel 16
But I turn'd my f from him, an' he turn'd his f an' he went. " 84 praised him to his f with their courtly The Revenge 99 Turning my way, the loveliest f on earth. The f of one there sitting opposite, Sisters (E. and E.) 87 and for a f Gone in a moment—strange. " 93
Sun himself has limn'd the f for me. " 101
So that bright f was flash'd thro' sense and soul " 109 the f again, My Rosalind in this Arden— " 118
There was the f, and altogether she. " 153 driven by one angel f, And all the Furies. " 158 but his voice and his f were not kind, In the Child. Hosp. 15 and let the dark f have his due! Thanks to the kindly dark f's who fought with us, Def. of Lucknow 69 white f's of Havelock's good fusileers, " 101
I saw your f that morning in the crowd. Columbus 7 thought to turn my f from Spain, " 57 f and form are hers and mine in one, De Prof., Two G. 13 flash The f's of the Gods— Tiresias 173 a ghastlier f than ever has haunted a grave The Wreck 8
I will hide my f, I will tell you all. " 12
The small sweet f was flush'd, " 60
Then his pale f twitch'd; 'O Stephen, " 101 the f I had known, O Mother, was not the f " 116 and away from your faith and your f! Despair 110 waken every morning to that f I loathe to see: The Flight 8 an the f of the thraithur agin in life! Tomorrow 50 pelt your offal at her f. Locksley H., Sixty 134
Peept the winsome f of Edith " 260 Fled wavering o'er thy f, and chased away Demeter and P. 15 sighs after many a vanish'd f, Vastness 1 the f Of Miriam grew upon me, The Ring 184 as a man Who sees his f in water, " 370 a sudden f Look'd in upon me like a gleam " 419
And the f, The hand,—my Mother. " 424
Among them Muriel lying on her f— " 448
I will front him f to f. Happy 19
For Age will chink the f, " 46
A beauty came upon your f, " 51

Face (continued) and with Grief Sit f to f, To Mary Boyle 46
On human f's, And all around me, Merlin and the G. 20
And rough-ruddy f's Of lowly labour, „ 59
Less profile! turn to me—three-quarter f. Romney's R. 98
'My Rose' set all your f aglow. Roses on the T. 3 ghastlier than the Gorgon head, a f,—His f deform'd by lurid blotch and blain— Death of Œnone 71 saw The ring of f's redden'd by the flames „ 92 set his f By waste and field and town St. Telemachus 29
Christian f's watch Man murder man. „ 55 Glanced from our Presence on the f of one, Akbar's Dream 113 ray red as blood Glanced on the strangled f— Bandit's Death 32
So I turn'd my f to the wall, Charity 27 with a sudden glow On her patient f „ 36
she is f to f with her Lord, „ 42
The f of Death is toward the Sun of Life, D. of the Duke of C. 12
I hope to see my Pilot f to f Crossing the Bar 15 Face-cloth Took the f-c from the face; Princess vi 11 mist, like a f-c to the face, Clung Guinevere 7
Faced (See also Babe-faced, Broad-faced, Clear-faced, Fat-faced, Free-faced, Full-faced, Moon-faced, Mulberry-faced, Plain-faced, Red-faced, Smooth-faced, White-faced) Enoch f this morning of farewell Brightly Enoch Arden 182
He f the spectres of the mind In Mem. xcvi 15
Face-flatterer F-f and backbiter are the same. Merlin and V. 824 Facet The f's of the glorious mountain flash The Islet 22 glance and sparkle like a gem Of fifty f's; Geraint and E. 295 Fact that plain f, as taught by these, Two Voices 281
Wherever Thought hath wedded F. Love thou thy land 52
Taught them with f's. Princess, Pro. 59
A f within the coming year; In Mem. xcii 10 and, laughing sober f to scorn, Locksley H., Sixty 109
Faction Where f seldom gathers head, You ask me, why 13
Not less, tho' dogs of F bay, Love thou thy land 85
Not swaying to this f or to that; Ded. of Idylls 21 and counter-yells of feud And f, To Duke of Argyll 9 Faculty all my faculties are lamed. Lucretius 123
Fade It will change, but it will not f Nothing will Die 31
Fix'd—then as slowly f again, Eleänore 93
Ripens and f's, and falls, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 37
Ay, ay, the blossom f's, Walk. to the Mail 57 whose margin f's For ever and for ever Ulysses 20 since the nobler pleasure seems to f, Lucretius 230
When can their glory f? Light Brigade 50 flower of poesy Which little cared for f's not yet. In Mem. viii 20
Before the spirits f away, „ xlvii 14
Be near me when I f away, „ l 13
F wholly, while the soul exults, „ lxxiii 14
And year by year our memory f's „ ci 23
Now f's the last long streak of snow, „ cxv 1
Let it flame or f, and the war roll down Maud III vi 54
'Sweet love, that seems not made to f Lancelot and E. 1013
Cast at thy feet one flower that f's away. To Dante 7 Shall f with him into the unknown, Tiresias 215 and wake The bloom that f's away? Ancient Sage 94
The phantom walls of this illusion f, „ 181 blackthorn-blossom f's and falls and leaves The Flight 15 we watch'd the sun f from us thro' the West, „ 41 glimpse and f Thro' some slight spell, Early Spring 31 Fair things are slow to f away, To Prof. Jebb. 1
Moon, you f at times From the night. The Ring 9 mists of earth F in the noon of heaven, Akbar's Dream 97 but, while the races flower and f, Making of Man 5 Faded (adj.) f places, By squares of tropic summer Amphion 86
From fringes of the f eve, Move eastward 3
His wife a f beauty of the Baths, Aylmer's Field 27 then ensued A Martin's summer of his f love, „ 560
Autumn's mock sunshine of the f woods „ 610
Lady Blanche alone Of f form and haughtiest lineaments, Princess ii 448
f woman-slough To sheathing splendours „ v 40
I love not hollow cheek or f eye: „ vii 7
This f leaf, our names are as brief; Spiteful Letter 13 thro' the f leaf The chestnut pattering to the ground: In Mem. xi 3
I did but speak Of my mother's f cheek Maud I xix 19

Faded (adj.) (continued) Then she bethought her of a f silk, A f mantle and a f veil, Marr. of Geraint 134
That lightly breaks a f flower-sheath, Moved the fair Enid, all in f silk, „ 365
All staring at her in her f silk: „ 617 to her own f self And the gay court, „ 652 dreamt herself was such a f form „ 654 charge the gardeners now To pick the f creature from the pool, „ 671
I myself unwillingly have worn My f suit, „ 706
That she ride with me in her f silk.' „ 762
But Enid ever kept the f silk, „ 841
And tearing off her veil of f silk Geraint and E. 514
From Camelot in among the f fields To furthest towers; Last Tournament 53 as one Who sits and gazes on a f fire, „ 157
The f rhymes and scraps of ancient crones, Lover's Tale i 289
Leaning its roses on my f eyes. „ 621
Fainting flowers, f bowers, Sisters (E. and E.) 11
On icy fallow And f forest, Merlin and the G. 85 Faded (verb) the heart Faints, f by its heat. D. of F. Women 288 by Nature's law, Have f long ago; Talking Oak 74 this kindlier glow F with morning, Aylmer's Field 412 it f, and seems But an ashen-gray delight. Maud I vi 21
f from the presence into years Of exile— Balin and Balan 156 then the music f, and the Grail Past, Holy Grail 121 And the Quest f in my heart. „ 600 till they f like my love. Lover's Tale ii 10 but the promise had f away; Despair 27 Fifty times the rose has flower'd and f, On Jub. Q. Victoria 1 form of Muriel f, and the face Of Miriam The Ring 184 Fading (See also Slowly-fading) breath Of the f edges of box beneath, A spirit haunts 19
The f politics of mortal Rome, Princess ii 286
And f legend of the past; In Mem. lxii 4
I care not in these f days To raise a cry „ lxxv 9
Was it he lay there with a f eye? Maud II i 29
Flatter'd the fancy of my f brain; Lover's Tale ii 107
Of her I loved, adorn'd with f flowers. „ iii 40
Closer on the Sun, perhaps a world of never f flowers. Locksley H., Sixty 184
Light the f gleam of Even? „ 229
F slowly from his side: L. of Burleigh 86
Growing and f and growing (repeat) Maud I iii 7, 9
Green Sussex f into blue With one gray glimpse Pro. to Gen. Hamley 7
Faggot we will make it f's for the hearth, Princess vi 45 Fail I shall not f to find her now. Two Voices 191 till thy hand F from the sceptre-staff. Œnone 126
So wrought, they will not f. Palace of Art 148
Lest she should f and perish utterly, „ 221 for a man may f in duty twice, M. d'Arthur 129
You scarce can f to match his masterpiece.' Gardener's D. 31
You cannot f but work in hues to dim „ 170
Who may be made a saint, if I f here? St. S. Stylites 48
Thy leaf shall never f, nor yet Talking Oak 259 decent not to f In offices of tenderness, Ulysses 40
'The many f: the one succeeds.' Day-Dm., Arrival 16
Her heart within her did not f: Lady Clare 78
Rose again from where it seem'd to f, Vision of Sin 24 it f's at last And perishes as I must; Lucretius 264
Who f to find thee, being as thou art „ 268
Ere half be done perchance your life may f; Princess iii 236
f so far In high desire, they know not, „ 279
if we f, we f, And if we win, we f: „ v 322
What end soever: f you will not. „ 406
She mental breadth, nor f in childward care, „ vii 283
Forgive them where they f in truth, In Mem., Pro. 43
I seem to f from out my blood „ ii 15
That thou should'st f from thy desire, „ iv 6
Swell out and f, as if a door „ xxviii 7
Thou f not in a world of sin, „ xxxiii 15
Where truth in closest words shall f, „ xxxvi 6
Lest life should f in looking back. „ xlvi 4
No life may f beyond the grave, „ lv 2
I shall pass; my work will f. „ lvii 8

Fail (continued) Could make thee somewhat blench or f, In Mem. lxii 2
Thy spirit should f from off the globe; „ lxxxiv 36 that keeps A thousand pulses dancing, f. „ cxxv 16 shall I shriek if a Hungary f? Maud I iv 46 solid ground Not f beneath my feet „ xi 2 fill up the gap where force might f Gareth and L. 1352 Like him who tries the bridge he fears may f, Geraint and E. 303 they f to see This fair wife-worship Balin and Balan 359 fine plots may f, Tho' harlots paint Merlin and V. 820 if ye f, Give ye the slave mine order Pelleas and E. 269 spouting from a cliff F's in mid air, Guinevere 609 for a man may f in duty twice, Pass. of Arthur 297 That saved her many times, not f— To the Queen ii 62 scales Their headlong passes, but his footstep f's, Montenegro 5 Pray God our greatness may not f Hands all Round 31 if you shall f to understand What England is, The Fleet 1 should those f, that hold the helm, Prog. of Spring 100
if I f To conjure and concentrate Romney's R. 6
When fine Philosophies would f, Akbar's Dream 140
And let not Reason f me, Doubt and Prayer 5 Fail'd sweet incense rose and never f, Palace of Art 45 her heart f her; and the reapers reap'd, Dora 78
She f and sadden'd knowing it; Enoch Arden 257 all her force F her; and sighing, „ 375 thought and nature f a little, „ 792
As having f in duty to him, Lucretius 278 the year in which our olives f. Princess i 125 none to trust Since our arms f— „ v 427 Old studies f: seldom she spoke: „ vii 31
she had f In sweet humility; had f in all; „ 228 for a vast speculation had f, Maud I i 9 either f to make the kingdom one. Com. of Arthur 15 ever f to draw The quiet night into her blood, Marr. of Geraint 531
f of late To send his tribute; Balin and Balan 3
But on all those who tried and f, Merlin and V. 590 many tried and f, because the charm „ 595
I well believe she tempted them and f, „ 819
f to find him, tho' I rode all round Lancelot and E. 709 yet thee She f to bind, tho' being, „ 1385
This Holy Thing, f from my side, nor come Cover'd, Holy Grail 470
'Hath Gawain f in any quest of thine? „ 859
the great heart of knighthood in thee f Pelleas and E. 596
They f to trace him thro' the flesh and blood Last Tournament 686 the purport of my throne hath f, Pass. of Arthur 160 strove to disengage myself, but f, Being so feeble: Lover's Tale i 692
But ever I f to please him, The Wreck 28
Amy loved me, Amy f me, Locksley H., Sixty 19
Britain f; and never more, Open I. and C. Exhib. 22
I f To send my life thro' olive-yard Demeter and P. 109
All her splendour f To lure those eyes St. Telemachus 35 wild horse, anger, plunged To fling me, and f. Akbar's Dream 119 Failing (part.) The strong limbs f; All Things will Die 32
F to give the bitter of the sweet, D. of F. Women 286 utterance f her, She whirl'd them on to me, Princess iv 395
you f, I abide What end soever: „ v 405
When the mind is f! Forlorn 36
Failing (s) that unnoticed f in herself, Geraint and E. 47
Fain how f was I To dream thy cause embraced Princess vi 199
'Sir,—and, good faith, I f had added—Knight, Gareth and L. 1162
'F would I still be loyal to the Queen.' Balin and Balan 254 and f, For hate and loathing, would have past „ 387
I f would know what manner of men they be.' „ 574
Balin, Balin, I that f had died To save thy life, „ 599 f Have all men true and leal, Merlin and V. 793
Lionel, who f had risen, but fell again, Lover's Tale iv 361
Would f that he were dead; Ancient Sage 126 one of those I f would meet again, Pro. to Gen. Hamley 22
Faint (adj.) Bramble roses, f and pale, A Dirge 30
Wherefore those f smiles of thine, Adeline 21
Wherefore that f smile of thine, „ 38
Thou f smiler, Adeline? „ 48
And f, rainy lights are seen, Margaret 60 by the meadow-trenches blow the f sweet cuckoo-flowers; May Queen 30 these twelve books of mine Were f Homeric echoes, The Epic 39

Faint (adj.) (continued) To whom replied King Arthur, f and pale: M. d'Arthur 72 with slow steps, With slow, f steps, St. S. Stylites 183 F shadows, vapours lightly curl'd, F murmurs from the meadows come, Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 5 sketches rude and f. Aylmer's Field 100
I on her Fixt my f eyes, Princess vii 144
F heart never won— Window, Answer 9
The f horizons, all the bounds of earth, Far-far-away 14
F she grew, and ever fainter, L. of Burleigh 81
The voice grew f: there came a further change: Vision of Sin 207
F as a figure seen in early dawn Enoch Arden 357 the hues are f And mix with hollow masks In Mem. lxx 3
This haunting whisper makes me f, „ lxxxi 7 let her eat; the damsel is so f.' Geraint and E. 206 chafing his f hands, and calling to him; „ 585 seem'd to change, and grow F and far-off. Balin and Balan 218
F in the low dark hall of banquet: „ 343 dying brother cast himself Dying; and he lifted f eyes; „ 594
I was f to swooning, and you lay Foot-gilt Merlin and V. 281 all too f and sick am I For anger: Lancelot and E. 1086 To whom replied King Arthur, f and pale: Pass. of Arthur 240 there came, but f As from beyond the limit of the world, „ 457 the heart—it beat: F—but it beat: Lover's Tale iv 81 faint-stomach'd! f as I am, Sir J. Oldcastle 192 F as a climate-changing bird that flies Demeter and P. 1 are f And pale in Alla's eyes, Akbar's Dream 10 Faint (verb) I f, I fall. Men say that thou Supp. Confessions 2
I f in this obscurity, (repeat) Ode to Memory 6, 44, 123
My very heart f's and my whole soul grieves A spirit haunts 16 flowers would f at your cruel cheer. Poet's Mind 15
'Cry, f not: either Truth is born Two Voices 181
'Cry, f not, climb: the summits slope „ 184
F's like a dazzled morning moon. Fatima 28 and the heart F's, faded by its heat. D. of F. Women 288
They f on hill or field or river: Princess iv 14
Beginning to f in the light that she loves Maud I xxii 9
To f in the light of the sun she loves, To f in his light, and to die. „ 11 my whole soul languishes And f's, Lover's Tale i 268 at his feet I seem'd to f and fall, „ ii 96
Faint-blue A f-b ridge upon the right, Mariana in the S. 5 Fainted at the clamouring of her enemy f Boädicea 82 sick with love, F at intervals, Lover's Tale i 546
Fainter Wears all day a f tone. The Owl ii 7
She replies, in accents f, L. of Burleigh 5
Faint she grew and ever f, „ 81
F by day, but always in the night Blood-red, Holy Grail 472
f onward, like wild birds that change Pass. of Arthur 38
Our voices were thinner and f V. of Maeldune 22 slower and f, Old and weary, Merlin and the G. 99
Is it turning a f red? The Dawn 22
Faintest f sunlights flee About his shadowy sides: The Kraken 4
The smallest rock far on the f hill, Com. of Arthur 99
Has push'd toward our f sun To Ulysses 23
Faint-heart'd F-h? tut!—faint-stomach'd! Sir J. Oldcastle 192
Fainting F flowers, faded bowers, Sisters (E. and E.) 11
Faintlier Then laugh'd again, but f, Guinevere 58 savour of thy kitchen came upon me A little f: Gareth and L. 994 Faintly Tho' f, merrily—far and far away— Enoch Arden 614
F smiling Adeline, Adeline 2
Faintly-flush'd How f-f, how phantom-fair, The Daisy 65
Faintly-shadow'd as he traced a f-s track, Lancelot and E. 165
Faintly-venom'd smiles, and f-v points Of slander, Merlin and V. 172
Faint-stomach'd 'f-s! faint as I am, Sir J. Oldcastle 192 Fair (adj., s., adv.) (See also Full-fair, Phantom-fair, Silver-fair, Starry-fair) But beyond expression f Adeline 5 gleaming rind ingrav'n, 'For the most f,' Œnone 73
Thy mortal eyes are frail to judge of f, „ 158
Fairest—why fairest wife? am I not f? „ 196
Methinks I must be f, for yesterday, „ 198 uninvited came Into the f Peleïan banquet-hall, „ 225
O the Earl was f to see! (repeat) The Sisters 6, 12, 18, 24, 30, 36 divinely tall, And most divinely f. D. of F. Women 88

Fair (adj., s., adv.) (continued) in f field Myself for such a face had boldly died D. of F. Women 97
" No f Hebrew boy Shall smile away my maiden blame " 213
I am that Rosamond, whom men call f, " 251
'Come again, and thrice as f;' M. d'Arthur, Ep. 26 maid or spouse, As f as my Olivia, Talking Oak 35
f young beech That here beside me stands, " 141 oak on lea Shall grow so f as this.' " 244
What moral is in being f. Day-Dm., Moral 4
'What wonder, if he thinks me f?' " Ep. 4
Sees whatever f and splendid L. of Burleigh 27
She was more f than words can say: Beggar Maid 2 Tomohrit, Athos, all things f, To E. L. 5 frequent interchange of foul and f, Enoch Arden 533
'Too happy, fresh, and f, Too fresh and f The Brook 217 a couple, f As ever painter painted, Aylmer's Field 105 Sear'd by the close ecliptic, was not f; " 193
Should as by miracle, grow straight and f— " 676 F as the Angel that said 'Hail!' " 681 a fearful night!' 'Not fearful; f,' Said the good wife,
'if every star in heaven Can make it f: Sea Dreams 82 one that arm'd Her own f head, Princess, Pro. 33 then the maiden Aunt Took this f day for text, " 108
A prince I was, blue-eyed, and f in face, " i 1
'My sister.' 'Comely, too, by all that's f, " ii 114 and pass With all f theories made to gild " 233 all her thoughts as f within her eyes, " 326
So stood that same f creature at the door. " 329 beauties every shade of brown and f " 437
And why we came? I fabled nothing f, " iii 136
The head and heart of all our f she-world, " 163
'or with f philosophies That lift the fancy; " 340 elaborately wrought With f Corinna's triumph; " 349
'F daughter, when we sent the Prince your way " iv 398
From all high places, lived in all f lights, " 430
All her f length upon the ground she lay: " v 59
Upon the skirt and fringe of our f land, " 219
'O f and strong and terrible! " vi 163
So their f college turn'd to hospital; " vii 17 till she not f began To gather light " 23
And found f peace once more among the sick. " 44 those f charities Join'd at her side; " 65 Stays all the f young planet in her hands— " 264
The sea-kings' daughter as happy as f, W. to Alexandra 26
Not once or twice in our f island-story, Ode on Well. 209
That one f planet can produce, Ode Inter. Exhib. 24 let the f white-wing'd peacemaker fly To happy havens " 34
F empires branching, both, in lusty life!— W. to Marie Alex. 21
Lariano crept To that f port below the castle The Daisy 79
The fields are f beside them, Voice and the P. 17
F is her cottage in its place, Requiescat 1
Thy creature, whom I found so f. In Mem., Pro. 38
And glad to find thyself so f, " vi 27
F ship, that from the Italian shore " ix 1
Who broke our f companionship, " xxii 13
And all we met was f and good, " xxiii 17
If all was good and f we met, " xxiv 5
Man, her last work, who seem'd so f, " lvi 9 Looks thy f face and makes it still. " lxx 16
With promise of a morn as f; " lxxxiv 29 great Intelligences f That range above " lxxxv 21
When one would aim an arrow f, " lxxxvii 25
My Arthur found your shadows f, " lxxxix 6 Imaginations calm and f, " xciv 10
And those f hills I sail'd below, " xcviii 2
Let her great Danube rolling f Enwind her isles, " 9 Unloved, the sun-flower, shining f, " ci 5 trust In that which made the world so f. " cxvi 8
And in the setting thou art f. " cxxx 4 she grows For ever, and as f as good. " Con. 36
she promised then to be f. Maud I i 68 Man in his pride, and Beauty f in her flower; " iv 25
I had fancied it would be f. " vi 6
And f without, faithful within, " xiii 37

Fair (adj., s., adv.) (continued) garden of roses And lilies f on a lawn; Maud I xiv 2
Upon a pastoral slope as f, " xviii 19
And you f stars that crown a happy day " 30
Spice his f banquet with the dust of death? " 56
When the face of night is f on the dewy downs, " III vi 5
To have look'd, tho' but in a dream, upon eyes so f, " 16
Had one f daughter, and none other child; Com. of Arthur 2
One falling upon each of three f queens, " 276 but this King is f Beyond the race of Britons " 330
And hated this f world and all therein, " 344
The f beginners of a nobler time, " 457
And we that fight for our f father Christ, " 510
One was f, strong, arm'd— Gareth and L. 104
the whole f city had disappear'd " 196 Broad brows and f, a fluent hair and fine, High nose, a nostril large and fine, and hands Large, f and fine!— " 464
f and fine, forsooth! " 474
I leave not till I finish this f quest, " 774 find My fortunes all as f as hers who lay " 903 Bare-footed and bare-headed three f girls " 926
F words were best for him who fights for thee; " 946
'F damsel, you should worship me the more, " 1022
And seeing now thy words are f, methinks " 1181
'My f child, What madness made thee challenge the chief knight Of Arthur's hall?' 'F Sir, they bad me do it. " 1415
He craved a f permission to depart, Marr. of Geraint 40
'Farewell, f Prince,' answer'd the stately Queen. " 224
And climb'd upon a f and even ridge, " 239
'Whither, f son?' to whom Geraint replied, " 298 Moved the f Enid, all in faded silk, " 366
'F Host and Earl, I pray your courtesy; " 403 Nor can see elsewhere, anything so f. " 499
'Advance and take, as fairest of the f, " 553
With her f head in the dim-yellow light, " 600
For tho' ye won the prize of fairest f, And tho' I heard him call you fairest f, " 719 however f, She is not fairer in new clothes " 721
She never yet had seen her half so f; " 741
I vow'd that could I gain her, our f Queen, " 787
When your f child shall wear your costly gift " 819 not to goodly hill or yellow sea Look'd the f Queen, " 831
But hire us some f chamber for the night, Geraint and E. 238
Femininely f and dissolutely pale. " 275
'F and dear cousin, you that most had cause " 824
Did her mock-honour as the fairest f, " 833
Before the Queen's f name was breathed upon, " 951 her ladies loved to call Enid the F, " 963 till he crown'd A happy life with a f death, " 968 Early, one f dawn, The light-wing'd spirit Balin and Balan 20
'F Sirs,' said Arthur, 'wherefore sit ye here?' " 31
And brought report of azure lands and f, " 168 ye stand, f lord, as in a dream.' " 258 we have ridd'n before among the flowers In those f days— " 273
This f wife-worship cloaks a secret shame? " 360 this f lord The flower of all their vestal knighthood, " 507
'And is the f example follow'd, Sir, Merlin and V. 19
He hath given us a f falcon which he train'd; " 96
Had met her, Vivien, being greeted f, " 155 tender was her voice, so f her face, " 401
Is like the f pearl-necklace of the Queen, " 451
And found a f young squire who sat alone, " 472
Was this f charm invented by yourself? " 540
I mean, as noble, as their Queen was f? " 608 kinsman left him watcher o'er his wife And two f babes, " 707
What say ye then to f Sir Percivale " 747 Sees what his f bride is and does, " 782 Elaine the f, Elaine the loveable, Lancelot and E. 1 you cannot move To these f jousts?' " 80 Why go ye not to these f jousts? " 98 as I hear It is a f large diamond,— " 228
'A f large diamond,' added plain Sir Torre, " 230
'If what is f be but for what is f, " 237

Fair (adj., s., adv.) (continued) who deem this maid Might wear as f a jewel Lancelot and E. 240
'Save your great self, f lord;' " 320
'F lord, whose name I know not— " 360
'F lady, since I never yet have worn " 363 Who parted with his own to f Elaine: " 381 cells and chambers: all were f and dry; " 407 Gawain, surnamed The Courteous, f and strong, " 555
And stay'd; and cast his eyes on f Elaine: " 640
And lifted her f face and moved away: " 682
'Nay, for near you, f lord, I am at rest.' " 833 a faith once f Was richer than these diamonds— " 1228
F lord, as would have help'd her from her death.' " 1311 Delicately pure and marvellously f, " 1369
'F she was, my King, Pure, " 1374 Farewell too—now at last—Farewell, f lily. " 1397 kiss'd me saying, 'Thou art f, my child, " 1409 and f the house whereby she sat, Holy Grail 392 disarm'd By maidens each as f as any flower: " 576 till one f morn, I walking to and fro beside a stream " 591
For f thou art and pure as Guinevere, Pelleas and E. 44 have the Heavens but given thee a f face, " 101
'Ay,' thought Gawain, 'and you be f enow: " 388
A rose, one rose, and this was wondrous f, " 401
Let be thy f Queen's fantasy. Last Tournament 197
Be happy in thy f Queen as I in mine.' " 204
'F damsels, each to him who worships each " 207
In that f Order of my Table Round, Guinevere 463
And be the f beginning of a time. " 466
And drawing foul ensample from f names, " 490
And so thou lean on our f father Christ, " 562
What might I not have made of thy f world, " 655
Or else as if the world were wholly f, Pass. of Arthur 18
f with orchard-lawns And bowery hollows " 430 Sounds, as if some f city were one voice " 460
Ye cannot shape Fancy so f as is this memory. Lover's Tale i 548
F speech was his and delicate of phrase, " 719
Above some f metropolis, earth-shock'd,— " ii 62 Oftentimes The vision has f prelude, " 124 so those f eyes Shone on my darkness, " 157 rare or f Was brought before the guest: " iv 203
F speech was his, and delicate of phrase. " 273
Making fresh and f All the bowers and the flowers, Sisters (E. and E.) 9
the great things of Nature and the f, " 222 what is f without Is often as foul within.' Dead Prophet 67 all that is filthy with all that is f? Vastness 32
one was f, And one was dark, The Ring 160
Who would be A mermaid f, The Mermaid 2
I would be a mermaid f; " 9
From Ind to Ind, but in f daylight woke, Buonaparte 4
Not these alone, but every landscape f, Palace of Art 89
In some f space of sloping greens Lay, " 106 but every legend f Which the supreme Caucasian mind " 126 Above, the f hall-ceiling stately-set " 141
'O all things f to sate my various eyes! " 193 none so f as little Alice in all the land they say, May Queen 7
With that f child betwixt them born. On a Mourner 25
That her f form may stand and shine, Of old sat Freedom 21 happy, f with orchard-lawns And bowery hollows M. d'Arthur 262
by those f fingers cull'd, Gardener's D. 150 Pontius and Iscariot by my side Show'd like f seraphs. St. S. Stylites 169
Beyond the f green field and eastern sea. Love and Duty 101
the f new forms, That float about the threshold Golden Year 15
The maid-of-honour blooming f; Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 28
He trusts to light on something f; Arrival 20
So keep I f thro' faith and prayer A virgin heart Sir Galahad 23
With f horizons bound: Will Water. 66
Nor for my lands so broad and f; Lady Clare 10
Lord of Burleigh, f and free, L. of Burleigh 58
Three f children first she bore him, " 87
For one f Vision ever fled Down the waste waters The Voyage 57
Like Virtue firm, like Knowledge f, " 68
Will bring f weather yet to all of us. Enoch Arden 191

Fair (adj., s., adv.) (continued) Thro' many a f sea-circle, day by day, Enoch Arden 542
'Then I fixt My wistful eyes on two f images, Sea Dreams 240
The marvel of that f new nature— Columbus 79
It was all of it f as life, it was all of it quiet as death, V. of Maeldune 20
F Florence honouring thy nativity, To Dante 3
And earth as f in hue! Ancient Sage 24
'Earth is f' When all is dark as night.' " 169
And show us that the world is wholly f. " 182
O Thou so f in summers gone, Freedom 1
So f in southern sunshine bathed, " 5
Our own f isle, the lord of every sea— The Fleet 7 as honouring your f fame Of Statesman, To Marq. of Dufferin 14 Hail the f Ceremonial Of this year On Jub. Q. Victoria 23
F things are slow to fade away, To Prof. Jebb 1
I loved you first when young and f, Happy 29
F Spring slides hither o'er the Southern sea, Prog. of Spring 2 a breath From some f dawn beyond the doors of death Far-far-away 11
f mothers they Dying in childbirth of dead sons. Akbar's Dream 11
From each f plant the blossom choicest-grown " 22 palm Call to the cypress 'I alone am f'? " 38 F garments, plain or rich, and fitting close " 131 loosen, stone from stone, All my f work; " 189 Fair (s) (See also Faäir) the f Was holden at the town; Talking Oak 101
Fairer guerdon could not alter me To f. Œnone 154
Emilia, f than all else but thou, For thou art f than all else that is. Audley Court 66
F his talk, a tongue that ruled the hour, Aylmer's Field 194
F than Rachel by the palmy well, F than Ruth among the fields of corn, " 679
And f she, but ah how soon to die! Requiescat 5
Stiller, not f than mine. Maud II v 71
F than aught in the world beside, " 73
She is not f in new clothes than old. Marr. of Geraint 722
O as much f—as a faith once fair Lancelot and E. 1228
To greet their f sisters of the East. Gardener's D. 188
Where f fruit of Love may rest Some happy future day. Talking Oak 251 there's the f chance: Princess v 460
F thy fate than mine, if life's best end Tiresias 130
She that finds a winter sunset f than a morn of Spring Locksley H., Sixty 22
Fairest That all which thou hast drawn of f Ode to Memory 89 (Tho' all her f forms are types of thee, Isabel 39 claiming each This meed of f. Œnone 87
So shalt thou find me f. " 155
I promise thee The f and most loving wife in Greece,' " 187
F—why f wife? am I not fair? " 196
She was the f in the face: The Sisters 2 rose the tallest of them all And f, M. d'Arthur 208 beardless apple-arbiter Decided f. Lucretius 92 her that is the f under heaven, Com. of Arthur 86
The prize of beauty for the f there, Marr. of Geraint 485
'Advance and take, as f of the fair, " 553
For tho' ye won the prize of f fair, And tho' I heard him call you f fair, " 719
f and the best Of ladies living gave me Balin and Balan 339
I, and all, As f, best and purest, " 350
'F I grant her: I have seen; " 356 rose the tallest of them all And f, Pass. of Arthur 376
f of their evening stars. Locksley H., Sixty 188
f flesh at last is filth on which the worm will feast; Happy 30
Fairest-spoken That art the f-s tree Talking Oak 263
Fair-fronted F-f Truth shall droop not now Clear-headed friend 12
Fair-hair'd a loftier Annie Lee, F-h and tall, Enoch Arden 749
F-h and redder than a windy morn; Princess, Con. 91 came a f-h youth, that in his hand Bare Geraint and E. 201 when the f-h youth came by him, said, " 205 Fair-hands Sir Fine-face, Sir F-h? Gareth and L. 475
Fairily Made so f well With delicate spire Maud II ii 5
Fairily-delicate F-d palaces shine The Islet 18
Fair-maid many welcomes, February f-m, (repeat) The Snowdrop 2, 10
Fairness To doubt her f were to want an eye, Lancelot and E. 1376

Fairplay ask'd but space and f for her scheme; Princess v 282
Fair-spoken stranger that hath been To thee f-s?' Gareth and L. 284 Fairy (adj.) Airy, f Lilian, Flitting, f Lilian, Lilian 1
Like a rose-leaf I will crush thee, F Lilian. „ 30
A f shield your Genius made Margaret 41
With whitest honey in f gardens cull'd— Eleänore 26
And woke her with a lay from f land. Caress'd or chidden 8
'Tis the f Lady of Shalott.' L. of Shalott i 35 heavens between their f fleeces pale Gardener's D. 261
With the f tales of science, Locksley Hall 12
And bring the fated f Prince. Day-Dm., Sleep P. 56
A f Prince, with joyful eyes, „ Arrival 7
As wild as aught of f lore; „ L'Envoi 12
From havens hid in f bowers, The Voyage 54 many a f foreland set With willow-weed The Brook 45
Show'd her the f footings on the grass, The little dells of cowslip, f palms, The petty marestail forest, f pines, Aylmer's Field 90
What look'd a flight of f arrows aim'd „ 94
And dropt a f parachute and past: Princess, Pro. 76 golden foot or a f horn Thro' his dim water-world? Maud II ii 19
Here is a city of Enchanters, built By f Kings.' Gareth and L. 200 whether this be built By magic, and by f Kings and Queens; „ 248 a F King And F Queens have built the city, „ 258
Shrunk like a f changeling lay the mage; Com. of Arthur 363
Until they vanish'd by the f well That laughs at iron— Merlin and V. 428 sharp breaths of anger puff'd Her f nostril out; „ 849 Look how she sleeps—the F Queen, so fair! Lancelot and E. 1255 we chanted the songs of the Bards and the glories of f kings; V. of Maeldune 90
The f fancies range, Early Spring 39 but now Your f Prince has found you, The Ring 69
And you were then a lover's f dream, To Mary Boyle 43
Fairy (s) The oriental f brought, Eleänore 14
'For as to fairies, that will flit Talking Oak 89 dancing of Fairies In desolate hollows, Merlin and the G. 41
Fairy-circle flickering f-c wheel'd and broke Guinevere 257
Fairy-fine Fabric rough, or f-f, Ode Inter. Exhib. 18
Fairyland (See also Fairy) But only changeling out of F, Gareth and L. 203
if the King be King at all, or come From F; „ 247
Or come to take the King to F? Lancelot and E. 1257
Fairy-tale (See also Fairy) told her f-t's, Show'd her the fairy Aylmer's Field 89 Faith (See also Catholic Faith) left to me, but Thou, And f in Thee? Supp. Confessions 19
How sweet to have a common f! „ 33 that knew The beauty and repose of f, „ 75 Great in f, and strong Against the grief „ 91
And simple f than Norman blood. L. C. V. de Vere 56
F from tracts no feet have trod, On a Mourner 29 settled down Upon the general decay of f The Epic 18 run My f beyond my practice into his: Edwin Morris 54
we closed, we kiss'd, swore f, „ 114 with a larger f appeal'd Than Papist unto Saint. Talking Oak 15 Wait: my f is large in Time, Love and Duty 25
So keep I fair thro' f and prayer Sir Galahad 23
I will know If there be any f in man.' 'Nay now, what f?' said Alice the nurse, Lady Clare 44
His resolve Upbore him, and firm f, Enoch Arden 800 her sweet face and f Held him from that: Aylmer's Field 392 Have f, have f! We live by f,' said he; Sea Dreams 157 why kept ye not your f? Princess v 77 their sinless f, A maiden moon that sparkles „ 185
f in womankind Beats with his blood, „ vii 328
Some sense of duty, something of a f, „ Con. 54
The sport half-science, fill me with a f, „ 76 honouring your sweet f in him, A Dedication 5
By f, and f alone, embrace, In Mem., Pro. 3
We have but f: we cannot know; „ 21
Whose f has centre everywhere, „ xxxiii 3
Her f thro' form is pure as thine, „ 9
This f has many a purer priest, „ xxxvii 3 Faith (continued) Is f as vague as all unsweet: In. Mem. xlvii 5
Be near me when my f is dry, „ l 9
Shall love be blamed for want of f? „ li 10
I stretch lame hands of f, and grope, „ lv 17
May breed with him, can fright my f. „ lxxxii 4
The f, the vigour, bold to dwell „ xcv 29
Perplext in f, but pure in deeds, „ xcvi 9
There lives more f in honest doubt, „ 11
To find a stronger f his own; „ 17 to him she sings Of early f and plighted vows; „ xcvii 30
Her f is fixt and cannot move, „ 33
What profit lies in barren f, „ cviii 5
What is she, cut from love and f, „ cxiv 11
Our dearest f; our ghastliest doubt; „ cxxiv 2
If e'er when f had fall'n asleep, „ cxxiv 9
all is well, tho' f and form Be sunder'd „ cxxvii 1
Is comrade of the lesser f „ cxxviii 3
With f that comes of self-control, „ cxxxi 9 have f in a tradesman's ware or his word? Maud I i 26 and f in their great King, Gareth and L. 330 good f, I fain had added—Knight, „ 1162
'Nay, by my f, thou shalt not,' cried Marr. of Geraint 198
a rock in ebbs and flows, Fixt on her f. „ 813 Brought the great f to Britain over seas; Balin and Balan 103
F and unfaith can ne'er be equal powers: Unfaith in aught is want of f in all. Merlin and V. 388 break f with one I may not name? Lancelot and E. 685
And f unfaithful kept him falsely true. „ 877
f once fair Was richer than these diamonds— „ 1228 heal'd at once, By f, of all his ills. Holy Grail 56 a maid, Who kept our holy f among her kin „ 697 those who love them, trials of our f. Pelleas and E. 210 all these pains are trials of my f, „ 246
'F of my body,' he said, 'and art thou not— „ 318
f have these in whom they sware to love? Last Tournament 188 here the f That made us rulers? To the Queen ii 18 fierce or careless looseners of the f, 52 Confined on points of f, Lover's Tale ii 150
'I have fought for Queen and F The Revenge 101
In matters of the f, alas the while! Sir J. Oldcastle 76
Lest the false f make merry over them! „ 82
'O soul of little f, slow to believe! Columbus 147 the sacred peak Of hoar high-templed F, Pref. Poem 19th Cent. 10 to the F that saves, The Wreck 3
Where you bawl'd the dark side of your f Despair 39 away from your f and your face! „ 110 cling to F beyond the forms of F! Ancient Sage 69 Bring the old dark ages back without the f, Locksley H., Sixty 137 wars and filial f, and Dido's pyre; To Virgil 4
F at her zenith, or all but lost Vastness 11
Despite of every F and Creed, To Mary Boyle 51
Whose F and Works were bells of full accord, In Mem. G. W. Ward 2
With a f as clear as the heights June Bracken, etc. 7
And mood of f may hold its own, Akbar's Dream 56
A people from their ancient fold of F, „ 61
I cull from every f and race the best „ 68 shook Those pillars of a moulder'd f, „ 81 and to spread the Divine F „ 159 darken'd with doubts of a F that saves, The Dreamer 11 Faithful (See also Faäithful) Lean'd on him, f, gentle, good, Two Voices 416
And shaping f record of the glance Gardener's D. 177
'O just and f knight of God! Sir Galahad 79
I, falling on his f heart, In Mem. xviii 14
Thrice blest whose lives are f prayers, „ xxxii 13
A f answer from the breast, „ lxxxv 14
She dwells on him with f eyes, „ xcvii 35 sleep Encompass'd by his f guard, „ cxxvi 8
And fair without, f within, Maud I xiii 37
She is not f to me, and I see her Weeping Marr of Geraint 117
Hath push'd aside his f wife, Balin and Balan 106
He had a f servant, one who loved His master Lover's Tale iv 256 in her you see That f servant whom we spoke about, „ 342
Thanks to the kindly dark faces who fought with us, f and few, Def. of Lucknow 70

Faithful (continued) Burnt too, my f preacher, Beverley! — Sir J. Oldcastle 80
My noble friend, my f counsellor, — Akbar's Dream 18
True we have got—such a f ally — Riflemen form! 24
Faithfulness loving, utter f in love, — Gareth and L. 554
Faithless Lest I be found as f in the quest — Lancelot and E. 761
Whate'er the f people say. — In Mem. xcvii 16
The f coldness of the times; — " cvi 18
Falcon (adj.) bold and free As you, my f Rosalind. — Rosalind 18
Falcon (s) My frolic f, with bright eyes, — " 2
My bright-eyed, wild-eyed f, — " 6
If all the world were f's, what of that? — Golden Year 38
Forgetful of the f and the hunt, — Marr. of Geraint 51 given us a fair f which he train'd; — Merlin and V. 96 unhooded casting off The goodly f free; — " 131
No surer than our f yesterday, — Lancelot and E. 656 beauty lured that f from his eyry on the fell, — Happy 59
Falcon (name of ship) every soul from the decks of The F but one; — The Wreck 109
Falcon-eyed quick brunette, well-moulded, f-e, — Princess ii 106 Fall (s) (See also Foot-fall, Tourney-fall) many a f Of diamond rillets musical, — Arabian Nights 47 comes the check, the change, the f, — Two Voices 163 Came in a sun-lit f of rain. — Sir L. and Q. G. 4 Illyrian woodlands, echoing f's Of water, — To E. L. 1 like the flakes In a f of snow, — Lucretius 167 and the river made a f Out yonder: — Princess iii 172 blossom'd branch Rapt to the horrible f: — " iv 180
They mark'd it with the red cross to the f, — " vi 41
That huddling slant in furrow-cloven f's — " vii 207 as the rapid of life Shoots to the f— — A Dedication 4
These leaves that redden to the f; — In Mem. xi 14
And back we come at f of dew. — " Con. 100
Here at the head of a tinkling f, — Maud I xxi 6
My pride is broken: men have seen my f.' — Marr. of Geraint 578 my pride Is broken down, for Enid sees my f!' — " 590
The drumming thunder of the huger f — Geraint and E. 173
Enid heard the clashing of his f, — " 509 never woman yet, since man's first f, — Lancelot and E. 859 hear the manner of thy fight and f; — Pelleas and E. 347 bide, unfrowardly, A f from him?' — " 598 laugh'd Lightly, to think of Modred's dusty f, — Guinevere 55 a f fro' a kiss to a kick like Saätan as fell — North. Cobbler 57 we may happen a f o' snaw— — Village Wife 21 kindly curves, with gentlest f, — De. Prof., Two G. 23 Following a torrent till its myriad f's — Tiresias 37 and mine was the deeper f; — The Wreck 11
An' the f of yer foot in the dance — Tomorrow 36
A f of water lull'd the noon asleep. — Romney's R. 83 is the Demon-god Wroth at his f?' — St. Telemachus 20 he, That other, prophet of their f, — Akbar's Dream 82 Fall (autumn) an' I mean'd to 'a stubb'd it at f, — N. Farmer, O. S. 41 we talkt o' my darter es died o' the fever at f: — Village Wife 10
'ud coom at the f o' the year, — Owd Roä 23
An' pigs didn't sell at f, — Church-warden, etc. 5
Fall (verb) (See also Fall out) Letting the rose-leaves f: — Claribel 3 Down by the poplar tall rivulets babble and f. — Leonine Eleg. 4
Winds creep; dews f chilly; — " 7
I faint, I f, Men say that Thou Didst die — Supp. Confessions 2 on his light there f's A shadow; — " 163 Place it, where sweetest sunlight f's — Ode to Memory 85
It would f to the ground if you came in. — Poet's Mind 23
And shall f again to ground. — Deserted House 16
The shadow passeth when the tree shall f, — Love and Death 14 my ringlets would f Low adown, — The Mermaid 14
Then did my response clearer f: — Two Voices 34 when a billow, blown against, F's back, — " 317 Which only to one engine bound F's off, — " 348
Until they f in trance again. — " 354
And all day long to f and rise — Miller's D. 182
You seem'd to hear them climb and f — Palace of Art 70 to hear the dully sound Of human footsteps f. — " 276
Along the cliff to f and pause and f did seem. — Lotos-Eaters 9
There is sweet music here that softer f's — " C. S. 1 turning yellow F's, and floats adown the air. — " 31 Ripens and fades, and f's, and hath no toil, — " 37

Fall (verb) (continued) In silence: ripen, f and cease: — Lotos-Eaters 52 thunder-drops f on a sleeping sea: — D. of F. Women 122
f down and glance From tone to tone, — " 166 F into shadow, soonest lost: — To J. S. 11 that on which it throve F's off, — " 16
That from Discussion's lip may f With Life, — Love thou thy land 33
The goose let f a golden egg — The Goose 11
Where f's not hail, or rain, or any snow, — M. d'Arthur 260
'F down, O Simeon: thou hast suffer'd long — St. S. Stylites 99 and oft I f, Maybe for months, — " 102
Once more the gate behind me f's; — Talking Oak 1
And when my marriage morn may f, — " 285 not leap forth and f about thy neck, — Love and Duty 41
The woods decay, the woods decay and f, — Tithonus 1 and the shadows rise and f. — Locksley Hall 80 now for me the roof-tree f. — " 190
Let it f on Locksley Hall, — " 193
I'll take the showers as they f, — Amphion 101
Perfume and flowers f in showers, — Sir Galahad 11
On whom their favours f! — " 14
Swells up, and shakes and f's. — " 76
F from his Ocean-lane of fire, — The Voyage 19
And like a thunderbolt he f's. — The Eagle 6
A footstep seem'd to f beside her path, — Enoch Arden 514
F back upon a name! rest, rot in that! — Aylmer's Field 385 heads of chiefs and princes f so fast, — " 763 as f's A creeper when the prop is broken, — " 809 and seem'd Always about to f, — " 822 his own head Began to droop, to f; — " 835
'Set them up! they shall not f!' — Sea Dreams 227 ever f's the least white star of snow, — Lucretius 107
She heard him raging, heard him f; — " 276 come to fight with shadows and to f. — Princess i 10 but prepare: I speak; it f's.' — " ii 224 the gracious dews Began to glisten and to f: — " 317
The splendour f's on castle walls — " iv 1
Fly to her, and f upon her gilded eaves, — " 94 Bred will in me to overcome it or f. — " v 351 one should fight with shadows and should f; — " 476 Yea, let her see me f! — " 517 tho' he trip and f He shall not blind his soul — " vii 330 Mourning when their leaders f, — Ode on Well. 5 float or f, in endless ebb and flow; — W. to Marie Alex. 27
I roar and rave for I f. — Voice and the P. 12
F, and follow their doom. — " 20
Bloodily, bloodily f the battle-axe, — Boädicea 56
she felt the heart within her f — " 81
I f unawares before the people, — Hendecasyllabics 7
Her place is empty, f like these; — In Mem xiii 4
When fill'd with tears that cannot f, — " xix 11
My deeper anguish also f's, — " 15
If such a dreamy touch should f, — " xlv 13 should f Remerging in the general Soul, — " xlvii 3
Be near us when we climb or f: — " li 13
I can but trust that good shall f — " liv 14
As drop by drop the water f's — " lviii 3
When on my bed the moonlight f's, — " lxvii 1
Till on mine ear this message f's, — " lxxxv 18
And lightly does the whisper f; — " 89
And strangely f's our Christmas-eve. — " cv 4
A shade f's on us like the dark From little cloudlets — " Con. 93
And breaking let the splendour f — " 119 Shall I weep if a Poland f? — Maud I iv 46 and f before Her feet on the meadow grass, — " v 25
For I heard your rivulet f — " xxii 36 the heavens f in a gentle rain, — " II i 41 a dewy splendour f's On the little flower — " iv 32
Then I rise, the eavedrops f, — " 62 and watch'd the great sea f, Wave after wave, — Com. of Arthur 378
f battleaxe upon helm, F battleaxe, — " 486
See that he f not on thee suddenly, — Gareth and L. 921
'Lo,' said Gareth, 'the foe f's!' — " 1317
And if I f her name will yet remain — Marr. of Geraint 500
While slowly falling as a scale that f's, — " 525
Made her cheek burn and either eyelid f, — " 775
Before he turn to f seaward again, — Geraint and E. 117

Fall (verb) (continued) Wait here, and when he passes f upon him.' Geraint and E. 129
And they will f upon him unawares. " 134 they will f upon you while ye pass.' " 145
And if I f, cleave to the better man.' " 152
Made her cheek burn and either eyelid f. " 434
a dreadful loss F's in a far land and he knows it not, " 497 and made as if to f upon him. " 776 fear not, Enid, I should f upon him, " 787 see He do not f behind me: Balin and Balan 135 Deep-tranced on hers, and could not f: " 278
A doom that ever poised itself to f, Merlin and V. 191
Had I for three days seen, ready to f. " 296 Set up the charge ye know, to stand or f!' " 703 the victim's flowers before he f.' Lancelot and E. 910 women watch Who wins, who f's; Holy Grail 35 all the light that f's upon the board " 249 King himself had fears that it would f, " 341
F on him all at once, And if ye slay him Pelleas and E. 268
'Would rather you had let them f,' Last Tournament 39 cold F's on the mountain in midsummer snows, " 228
F, as the crest of some slow-arching wave, " 462
Where f's not hail, or rain, or any snow, Pass. of Arthur 428 as anger f's aside And withers on the breast Lover's Tale i 9 Or as men know not when they f asleep " 161
It f on its own thorns—if this be true— " 273 my raised eyelids would not f, " i 571 First f's asleep in swoon, wherefrom awaked, " 791 faint and f, To f and die away. " ii 96 nay—what was there left to f? Rizpah 9 F's? what f's? who knows? As the tree f's so must it lie. " 12 the thunderbolt will f Long and loud, The Revenge 44
F into the hands of God, not into the hands of Spain!' " 90
Better to f by the hands that they love, than to f Def. of Lucknow 53
Mark him—he f's! then another, " 65
I knew we should f on each other, V. of Maeldune 104
Have heard this footstep f, Tiresias 27
Thy Thebes shall f and perish, " 116
I felt one warm tear f upon it. " 167
My Shelley would f from my hands The Wreck 25
She tastes the fruit before the blossom f's, Ancient Sage 75
The blackthorn-blossom fades and f's The Flight 15 thro' the tongueasters we may f. Locksley H., Sixty 130 Kingdoms and Republics f, " 159
Jacob's ladder f's On greening grass, Early Spring 9 Should this old England f The Fleet 4 and at dawn F's on the threshold Demeter and P. 3 thy hands let f the gather'd flower, " 9 flowers that brighten as thy footstep f's, " 36 felt a gentle hand F on my forehead, The Ring 419 my strongest wish F's flat before your least unwillingness. Romney's R. 72 Thou, thou—I saw thee f before me, Akbar's Dream 185 the chuch weänt happen a f. Church-warden, etc. 10 your shadow f's on the grave. Charity 20
My prison, not my fortress, f away! Doubt and Prayer 12
The bridal garland f's upon the bier, D. of the Duke of C. 1

Fallen (See also Chap-fallen, Half-fallen, New-fallen, Newly-fallen) legend of a f race Alone might hint Two Voices 359 mournful light That broods above the f sun, To J. S. 51 To trample round my f head, Come not, when 3
Philip glancing up Beheld the dead flame of the f day Enoch Arden 441
The two remaining found a f stem; " 567
To lift the woman's f divinity Princess iii 223
So those two foes above my f life, " vi 130
O f nobility, that, overawed, Third of Feb. 35
In those f leaves which kept their green, In Mem. xcv 23 saw the chargers of the two that fell Start from their f lords, Geraint and E. 482 Arising wearily at a f oak, Balin and Balan 425
Then leapt her palfrey o'er the f oak, " 587
And in the darkness o'er her f head, Guinevere 583
Or ev'n a f feather, vanish'd again. Last Tournament 372
My f forehead in their to and fro, Lover's Tale i 701

Fallen (continued) Were she . . . a f state? The Fleet 10
I saw the tiger in the ruin'd fane Spring from his f God, Demeter and P. 80 stem, which else had f quite With cluster'd flower-bells Isabel 35
F silver-chiming, seem'd to shake Arabian Nights 51 dews, that would have f in tears, Miller's D. 151
She ceased in tears, f from hope and trust: D. of F. Women 257
Had f in Lyonnesse about their Lord, M. d'Arthur 4 half has f and made a bridge; Walk. to the Mail 32
f into the dusty crypt Of darken'd forms Will. Water 183
The rain had f, the Poet arose, Poet's Song 1 but her face had f upon her hands; Enoch Arden 391 on her the thunders of the house Had f first Aylmer's Field 279
How low his brother's mood had f, " 404
'Let them lie, for they have f.' Sea Dreams 228
And here upon a yellow eyelid f Lucretius 141
When f in darker ways.' Princess v 68
'Our enemies have f, have f: (repeat) Princess vi 33, 38, 43, 48 would have strown it, and are f themselves. Princess vi 42
Our enemies have f, but this shall grow " 53
O f at length that tower of strength Ode on Well. 38 when she turn'd, the curse Had f, In Mem. vi 38
What words are these have f from me? " xvi 1
And towers f as soon as built— " xxvi 8
Had f into her father's grave, " lxxxix 48
There has f a splendid tear From the passion-flower Maud I xxii 59
Then cried the f, 'Take not my life: Gareth and L. 973
I have not f so low as some would wish. Marr. of Geraint 129
So that I be not f in fight. Farewell.' " 223 And here had f a great part of a tower, " 317 now they saw their bulwark f, stood; Geraint and E. 168 creatures gently born But into bad hands f, " 192 catch a loathly plume f from the wing Merlin and V. 727
Lay like a rainbow f upon the grass, Lancelot and E. 431
Where these had f, slowly past the barge " 1241 apples by the brook F, and on the lawns. Holy Grail 385
Lancelot, with his heel upon the f, Pelleas and E. 580
A manner somewhat f from reverence— Last Tournament 119
And shouted and leapt down upon the f; " 469 Ye twain had f out about the bride Of one— " 545 wonders, what has f upon the realm? Guinevere 275 turn'd, and reel'd, and would have f, " 304 Tumbling the hollow helmets of the f, Pass. of Arthur 132 for on my heart hath f Confusion, " 143 Had f in Lyonnesse about their lord, " 173
if she knows And dreads it we are f.— To the Queen ii 33
And f away from judgment. Lover's Tale i 103 pillars which from earth uphold Our childhood, one had f away, " 221 that shock of gloom had f Unfelt, " 505 and the rain Had f upon me, and the gilded snake " 623
I had f Prone by the dashing runnel on the grass. " ii 100 Anything f again? nay— Rizpah 9 and his friends that had F in conflict, Batt. of Brunanburh 71
When I had f from off the crag The Flight 22 but now to silent ashes f away. Locksley H., Sixty 41
f every purple Cæsar's dome— To Virgil 30 Fifty times the golden harvest f, On Jub. Q. Victoria 2 torn the ring In fright, and f dead. The Ring 471
All his leaves F at length, The Oak 12

Falling (See also Fast-falling, Half-falling, Quick-falling, Slow-falling) The jaw is f, The red cheek paling, All Things will Die 30
Long alleys f down to twilight grots, Ode to Memory 107
F into a still delight, And luxury Eleänore 106
The leaves upon her f light— L. of Shalott iv 21
Lo, f from my constant mind, Fatima 5
The long brook f thro' the clov'n ravine Œnone 8 watch the emerald-colour'd water f Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 96 Sound all night long, in f thro' the dell, D. of F. Women 183 content to perish, f on the foeman's ground, Locksley Hall 103 himself was deadly wounded F on the dead. The Captain 64
Rising, f, like a wave, Vision of Sin 125
Like moonlight on a f shower? Margaret 4
Just ere the f axe did part The burning brain " 38

Falling (continued) sometimes in the f day An image seem'd to pass the door, Mariana in the S. 73
f prone he dug His fingers into the wet earth, Enoch Arden 779
We turn'd our foreheads from the f sun, The Brook 165
F had let appear the brand of John— Aylmer's Field 509
And, f on them like a thunderbolt, Princess, Pro. 43 like silver hammers f On silver anvils, " i 216 slanted forward, f in a land Of promise; " ii 139
And f on my face was caught and known. " iv 270
Or, f, protomartyr of our cause, Die: " 505
I watch the twilight f brown All round To F. D. Maurice 14
Or kill'd in f from his horse. In Mem. vi 40
I, f on his faithful heart, " xviii 14
I wander, often f lame, " xxiii 6 f with my weight of cares Upon the great world's altar-stairs " lv 14
And, f, idly broke the peace Of hearts " lviii 5
When twilight was f, Maud, Maud, Maud I xii 2
One f upon each of three fair queens, Com. of Arthur 276
Till f into Lot's forgetfulness I know not thee, Gareth and L. 96
While slowly f as a scale that falls, Marr. of Geraint 525
And felt the warm tears f on his face; Geraint and E. 586 in the f afternoon return'd The huge Earl Doorm " 591
As children learn, be thou Wiser for f! Balin and Balan 76 Past eastward from the f sun. " 320 and reel'd Almost to f from his horse; Pelleas and E. 24 darkness f, sought A priory not far off, " 213 those who f down Look'd up for heaven Pass. of Arthur 111 Grew drearier toward twilight f, " 123
To stay his feet from f, and his spirit Lover's Tale i 142 upon the dewy pane F, unseal'd our eyelids, " 265 streak'd or starr'd at intervals With f brook " 405 F in whispers on the sense, " 720 taken Some years before, and f hid the frame. " iv 217
He f sick, and seeming close on death, " 258
F about their shrines before their Gods, Tiresias 105 roll Rising and f—for, Mother, The Wreck 54 moon was f greenish thro' a rosy glow, Locksley H., Sixty 178 and from each The light leaf f fast, Pro. to Gen. Hamley 2 Ilion f, Rome arising. To Virgil 3
A noise of f weights that never fell, The Ring 410 slant His bolt from f on your head— Happy 81
Or cataract music Of f torrents, Merlin and the G. 47 poplars made a noise of f showers. Lancelot and E. 411
A dying echo from a f wall; Ancient Sage 263
f drop will make his name As mortal as my own. Epilogue 60 Falling out And blessings on the f o Princess ii 6
Fall out When we f o with those we love " 8 Fallow (adj.) the tufted plover pipe along the f lea, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 18
And in the f leisure of my life Audley Court 77
A thousand hearts lie f in these halls, Princess ii 400
Saving his life on the f flood. Batt. of Brunanburh 61
Fallow (s) By many a field and f, The Brook 44
On earth a fruitless f, Demeter and P. 118
On icy f And faded forest, Merlin and the G. 84
False (adj.) The f, f arrow went aside, Oriana 39
there seem'd A touch of something f, Edwin Morris 74
Were no f passport to that easy realm, Aylmer's Field 183
Cooling her f cheek with a featherfan, " 289
So f, he partly took himself for true; Sea Dreams 185 o'er her wounded hunter wept Her Deity f in humanamorous tears; Lucretius 90
The raillery, or grotesque, or f sublime— Princess iv 588 vainlier than a hen To her f daughters in the pool; " v 329
As true to thee as f, f, f to me! " vi 204
Ah f but dear, Dear traitor, too much loved, " 292 Ring out f pride in place and blood, In Mem. cvi 21 silent thing that had made f haste to the grave— Maud I i 58 love has closed her sight And given f death " xviii 68
'as a f knight Or evil king before my lance Gareth and L. 5 Or whether some f sense in her own self Marr. of Geraint 800 whom his own ear had heard Call herself f: Geraint and E. 114 like that f pair who turn'd Flying, " 176 False (adj.) (continued) Led from the territory of f Limours Geraint and E. 437 as f and foul As the poach'd filth that floods Merlin and V. 797 (For in a wink the f love turns to hate) " 852
Then her f voice made way, broken with sobs: " 857
'Alas that ever a knight should be so f.' Pelleas and E. 450 crying 'F! and I held thee pure as Guinevere.' " 522
'Am I but f as Guinevere is pure? " 524
'Is the Queen f?' and Percivale was mute. " 532 shouting, 'F, And f with Gawain! " 545
'Thou art f as Hell: slay me: " 576 when the land Was freed, and the Queen f, Last Tournament 339
'Ah then, f hunter and f harper, " 567
If this f traitor have displaced his lord, Guinevere 216 raill'd at those Who call'd him the f son of Gorloïs: " 288 lets the wife Whom he knows f, abide and rule the house: " 515
To whom my f voluptuous pride, " 641
Lest the f faith make merry over them! Sir J. Oldcastle 82 compass, like an old friend f at last In our most need, Columbus 70 when creed and race Shall bear f witness, Akbar's Dream 98 False (s) Hears little of the f or just.' Two Voices 117
what, I would not aught of f— Princess v 402
And flashes into f and true, In Mem. xvi 19
Ring out the f, ring in the true. " cvi 8
By taking true for f, or f for true; Geraint and E. 4
And sunder f from true, Mechanophilus 2
False-eyed F-e Hesper, unkind, Leonine Eleg. 16
Falsehood F shall bare her plaited brow; Clear-headed friend 11
A gentler death shall F die, " 16
To war with f to the knife, Two Voices 131
The f of extremes! Of old sat Freedom 24
Your f and yourself are hateful to us: Princess iv 545 selfsame aspect of the stars, (Oh f of all starcraft!) Lover's Tale i 200 Falsely 'F, f have ye done, O mother,' Lady Clare 29 you might play me f, having power, Merlin and V. 515 looking at her, Full courtly, yet not f, Lancelot and E. 236 Falser F than all fancy fathoms, f than Locksley Hall 41 all Her f self slipt from her like a robe, Princess vii 161
Falter Whose spirits f in the mist, You ask me, why 3
He to lips, that fondly f, L. of Burleigh 9 wirer of their innocent hare F before he took it. Aylmer's Field 491 make Our progress f to the woman's goal.' Princess vi 127
I f where I firmly trod, In Mem. lv 13
When the happy Yes F's from her lips, Maud I xvii 10
Nor let her true hand f, nor blue eye Moisten, Geraint and E. 512 the fire within him would not f; Parnassus 19 Falter'd I f from my quest and vow? Holy Grail 568 even in the middle of his song He f, Guinevere 303
Faltereth My tremulous tongue f, Eleänore 136 Faltering Made me most happy, f 'I am thine.' Gardener's D. 235 low voice, F, would break its syllables, Love and Duty 39 her voice F and fluttering in her throat, Princess ii 187 Went f sideways downward to her belt, Merlin and V. 850
f hopes of relief, Def. of Lucknow 90
Falteringly Philip standing up said f 'Annie, Enoch Arden 284 Fame threaded The secretest walks of f: The Poet 10 with a worm I balk'd his f. D. of F. Women 155
I remember'd Everard's college f The Epic 46 now much honour and much f were lost.' M. d'Arthur 109 among us lived Her f from lip to lip. Gardener's D. 51 Whereof my f is loud amongst mankind, St. S. Stylites 81
'Name and f! to fly sublime Thro' the courts, Vision of Sin 103
May beat a pathway out to wealth and f. Aylmer's Field 439 my grief to find her less than f, Princess i 73
With only F for spouse and your great deeds " iii 242 nor would we work for f; " " 261 chattels, mincers of each other's f, " iv 515 Preserve a broad approach of f, Ode on Well. 78
The proof and echo of all human f, " 145
Their ever-loyal iron leader's f, " 229
The f is quench'd that I foresaw, In Mem. lxxiii 5
What f is left for human deeds " 11
O hollow wraith of dying f, " 13
So here shall silence guard thy f; " lxxv 17
To breathe my loss is more than f, " lxxvii 15 his honest f should at least by me be maintained: Maud I i 18

Fame (continued) And one—they call'd her F; and one,— Gareth and L. 113
And lost to life and use and name and f. (repeat) Merlin and V. 214, 970 such fire for f, Such trumpet-blowings in it, „ 417
My use and name and f. „ 304
Upon my life and use and name and f, „ 374
And into such a song, such fire for f, „ 417 felt them slowly ebbing, name and f,' „ 437 touching f, howe'er ye scorn my song, „ 444
For f, could f be mine, that f were thine, „ 447
'Man dreams of F while woman wakes to love.' „ 460
F, The F that follows death is nothing „ 463 what is F in life but half-disfame, „ 465 the scroll 'I follow f.' „ 476
this for motto, 'Rather use than f.' „ 480
F with men, Being but ampler means to serve „ 488
Use gave me F at first, and F again „ 493
Right well know I that F is half-disfame, „ 504
That other f, To one at least, who hath not children, „ 505 concluded in that star To make f nothing. „ 513
I rather dread the loss of use than f; „ 519
Born to the glory of thy name and f, Lancelot and E. 1372
May not your crescent fear for name and f „ 1400
'I am wrath and shame and hate and evil f, Pelleas and E. 568 courtliness, and the desire of f, Guinevere 482
I must not dwell on that defeat of f. „ 628 now much honour and much f were lost.' Pass. of Arthur 277
all the clearness of his f hath gone Lover's Tale i 789
As heir of endless f— Ancient Sage 147 patriot—soldier take His meed of f in verse; Epilogue 33
And so does Earth; for Homer's f, „ 58
Her ancient f of Free— The Fleet 9 honouring your fair f Of Statesman, To Marq. of Dufferin 14
F blowing out from her golden trumpet Vastness 21
'Take comfort you have won the Painter's f,' Romney's R. 43
What f? I am not Raphaël, „ 46
Wrong there! The painter's f? „ 48
Her sad eyes plead for my own f with me „ 55 thy f Is blown thro' all the Troad, Death of Œnone 36 Famed See Far-famed, First-famed Fame-lit Bard whose f-l laurels glance To Victor Hugo 4 Familiar And pace the sacred old f fields, Enoch Arden 625 like bright eyes of f friends, Holy Grail 688 till the things f to her youth Had made a silent answer: Lover's Tale iv 95 Surely his King and most f friend Lancelot and E. 592 whence the Royal mind, f with her, Princess iv 235 bones were blest Among f names to rest In Mem. xviii 7 grow F to the stranger's child; „ ci 20
F up from cradle-time, so wan, Balin and Balan 591
Familiarity Such dear familiarities of dawn? Aylmer's Field 131 Family the f tree Sprang from the midriff of a prostrate king— „ 15
A fiery f passion for the name Of Lancelot, Lancelot and E. 477 Famine Blight and f, plague and earthquake, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 115
A f after laid them low, The Victim 2
'Help us from f And plague and strife! „ 9
And blight and f on all the lea: „ 46 shipwrecks, f's, fevers, fights, Mutinies, Columbus 225 when I spake of f, plague, Shrine-shattering earthquake, Tiresias 60 to stay, Not spread the plague, the f; Demeter and P. 134 earthquake, or the f, or the pest! Faith 4
Famishing f populace, wharves forlorn; Vastness 14 Famous Plenty corrupts the melody That made thee f once, Blackbird 16 fellowship of f knights Whereof this world holds record. M. d'Arthur 15 Thy f brother-oak. Talking Oak 296
That many a f man and woman, Princess iv 445 Thine island loves thee well, thou f man, Ode on Well. 85 rather proven in his Paynim wars Than f jousts; Balin and Balan 39 the most f man of all those times, Merlin and V. 166 lance had beaten down the knights, So many and f names; Holy Grail 364
I will make thee with my spear and sword As f— Pelleas and E. 46
Famous (continued) fellowship of f knights Whereof this world holds record. Pass. of Arthur 183
And mingled with the f kings of old, Tiresias 171 Fan (s) To spread into the perfect f, Sir L. and Q. G. 17 toys in lava, f's Of sandal, amber, Princess, Pro. 18 Fan (verb) A soft air f's the cloud apart; Tithonus 32
f my brows and blow The fever from my cheek, In Mem. lxxxvi 8 Fancied (See also Ever-fancied) I had f it would be fair. Maud I vi 6
she f 'Is it for me?' Lancelot and E. 822
I f that my friend For this brief idyll Tiresias 187
In impotence of f power. A Character 24
Beneath all f hopes and fears Ay me, In Mem. xlix 13
And then was painting on it f arms, Merlin and V. 474
Fancy (s) And a f as summer-new As the green June Bracken, etc. 8
Would that my gloomed f were As thine, Supp. Confessions 68
With youthful f re-inspired, Ode to Memory 114
F came and at her pillow sat, Caress'd or chidden 5
F watches in the wilderness, Poor F sadder than a single star, „ 12
My f made me for a moment blest The form, the form 6 my life with f play'd Before I dream'd Miller's D. 45
I thought that it was f, and I listen'd May Queen, Con. 33 those sharp fancies, by down-lapsing thought D. of F. Women 49
And if I said that F, led by Love, Gardener's D. 59
In the Spring a young man's f lightly turns Locksley Hall 20
Falser than all f fathoms, „ 41
Soothe him with thy finer fancies, „ 54
I have but an angry f: „ 102
Fool, again the dream, the f! „ 173
founts of inspiration well thro' all my f yet. „ 188
Across my f, brooding warm, Day-Dm., Pro. 10
So much your eyes my f take— „ L'Envoi 26
My f, ranging thro' and thro', „ 34
But whither would my f go? Will Water. 145
she gleam'd Like F made of golden air, The Voyage 66 Set thy hoary fancies free; Vision of Sin 156 evil fancies clung Like serpent eggs together, Enoch Arden 479
His f fled before the lazy wind Returning, „ 657
Prattling the primrose fancies of the boy, The Brook 19
But Edith's eager f hurried with him Aylmer's Field 208 many a summer still Clung to their fancies) Sea Dreams 36 drifting up the stream In f, till I slept again, „ 109 maiden fancies; loved to live alone Princess i 49 crush her pretty maiden fancies dead „ 88
What were those fancies? „ 95 fair philosophies That lift the f; „ iii 341 sweet as those by hopeless f feign'd „ iv 55 thine are fancies hatch'd In silken-folded „ 66
Which melted Florian's f as she hung, „ 370
Thy face across his f comes, „ 579 understanding all the foolish work Of F, „ vi 117 fancies like the vermin in a nut Have fretted „ 263
Lay your earthly fancies down, Ode on Well. 279
My f fled to the South again. The Daisy 108 flatters thus Our home-bred fancies: In Mem. x 11
My fancies time to rise on wing, „ xiii 17
And but for fancies, which aver „ xv 9 delirious man Whose f fuses old and new, „ xvi 18
And F light from F caught, „ xviii 14
I vex my heart with fancies dim: „ xlii 1
The f's tenderest eddy wreathe, „ xlix 6
And dare we to this f give, „ liii 5
I lull a f trouble-tost „ lxv 2
You wonder when my fancies play „ lxvi 2
Take wings of f, and ascend, „ lxxvi 1
Then f shapes, as f can, The grief my loss „ lxxx 5 backward f, wherefore wake The old bitterness again, „ lxxxiv 46 Ill brethren, let the f fly. „ lxxxvi 12
Or villain f fleeting by, „ cxi 18
And all the breeze of F blows, „ cxxii 17
It circles round, and f plays, „ Con. 81
The f flatter'd my mind, Maud I xiv 23 dreamful wastes where footless fancies dwell „ xviii 69 these be for the snare (So runs thy f) Gareth and L. 1082
Then let her f flit across the past, Marr. of Geraint 645

Fancy (s) (continued) Her f dwelling in this dusky hall; Marr. of Geraint 802
And sweet self-pity, or the f of it, Geraint and E. 349 fabler, these be fancies of the churl, Balin and Balan 307 mood as that, which lately gloom'd Your f Merlin and V. 326
So fixt her f on him: let them be. „ 777 what was once to me Mere matter of the f, „ 924
To snare her royal f with a boon Lancelot and E. 71
Rapt in this f of his Table Round, „ 129
Full often lost in f, lost his way; „ 164 that ghostly grace Beam'd on his f, „ 886
Her fancies with the sallow-rifted glooms „ 1002
'ye never yet Denied my fancies— „ 1112
Not for me! For her! for your new f. „ 1216 men Shape to their f's eye from broken rocks „ 1252 Give me three days to melt her f, Pelleas and E. 356 her ever-veering f turn'd To Pelleas, „ 493 Appearing, sent his f back to where Last Tournament 380 push me even In f from thy side, „ 639 Made all our tastes and fancies like, Lover's Tale i 242 graceful thought of hers Grav'n on my f! „ 358
Ye cannot shape F so fair as in this memory. „ 548 thronging fancies come To boys and girls „ 554
Ringing within the f had updrawn A fashion „ 645
Flatter'd the f of my fading brain; „ ii 107
The f stirr'd him so He rose and went, „ iv 51
the sudden wail his lady made Dwelt in his f: „ 150
And idle fancies flutter me, The Flight 74
Set the maiden fancies wallowing Locksley H., Sixty 145
All the chosen coin of f flashing out To Virgil 7
The fairy fancies range, Early Spring 39 till I believing that the girl's Lean f, The Ring 336
For one monotonous f madden'd her, „ 404
But chaining f now at home To Ulysses 31

Fancy (verb) I f her sweetness only due To the sweeter blood Maud I xiii 33
What thing soever ye may hear, or see, Or f Geraint and E. 416 Hope! O yes, I hope, or f that, Romney's R. 158

Fancy-borne Or f-b perhaps upon the rise Lucretius 10

Fancy-fed And pining life be f-f. In Mem. lxxxv 96

Fancy-flies we that love the mud, Rising to no f-f. Vision of Sin 102

Fancying f that her glory would be great Merlin and V. 217

Fane translucent f Of her still spirit; Isabel 4 hopes and hates, his homes and f's, Lucretius 255 wise humility As befits a solemn f: Ode on Well. 250
Who built him f's of fruitless prayer, In Mem. lvi 12
And heard once more in college f's „ lxxxvii 5
I saw the tiger in the ruin'd f Demeter and P. 79 an old f No longer sacred to the Sun, St. Telemachus 6 anchorite Would haunt the desolated f, „ 12 stone by stone, I rear'd a sacred f, Akbar's Dream 177

Fang the f's Shall move the stony bases Princess vi 57

Fann'd sudden flame, By veering passion f, Madeline 29
Thy bounteous forehead was not f Eleänore 9
A summer f with spice. Palace of Art 116 Low breezes f the belfry bars, The Letters 43 river-breeze, Which f the gardens of that rival rose Alymer's Field 455
The woods with living airs How softly f, Early Spring 20

Fantastic overhead F gables, crowding, stared: Godiva 61
That lute and flute f tenderness, Princess iv 129 long f night With all its doings „ 565 round of green, this orb of flame, F beauty; In Mem. xxxiv 6 spreading made F plume or sable pine; The Voyage 44

Fantastical So f is the dainty metre. Hendecasyllabics 14
Albeit I know my knights f, Lancelot and E. 594

Fantasy Her gay-furr'd cats a painted f, Princess iii 186
Proud in their f call themselves the Day, Gareth and L. 633
Or whether it be the maiden's f, „ 874
A border f of branch and flower, Lancelot and E. 11
And saved him: so she lived in f. „ 27
There kept it, and so lived in f. „ 398 death Was rather in the f than the blood. „ 1132
Let be thy fair Queen's f. Last Tournament 197
Or prophets of them in his f, Lover's Tale iv 12

Far Thoro' the black-stemm'd pines only the f river shines. Leonine Eleg. 2

Far (continued) Sadly the f kine loweth: Leonine Eleg. 9 overtakes F thought with music that it makes: Two Voices 438 Going before to some f shrine, On a Mourner 17
I cannot sink So f—f down, My life is full 9
And fixt upon the f sea-line; The Voyage 62 Down at the f end of an avenue, Enoch Arden 358 phrases of the hearth, And f allusion, Princess ii 316
O sweet and f from cliff and scar „ iv 9 and died Of fright in f apartments. „ vi 371
Thro' the long gorge to the f light Ode on Well. 213
'F and f away,' said the dainty little maiden, (repeat) City Child 3, 8
He seems so near and yet so f, In Mem. xcvii 23 Falls in a f land and he knows it not, Geraint and E. 497 my blood Hath earnest in it of f springs Merlin and V. 557
His own f blood, which dwelt at Camelot; Lancelot and E. 803 flame At sunrise till the people in f fields, Holy Grail 243 loyal to their crown Are loyal to their own f sons, To the Queen ii 28
Fierce in the strength of f descent, Lover's Tale i 382
Then at the f end of the vault he saw His lady „ iv 56
On one f height in one far-shining fire, Tiresias 185
Some f blue fell, Early Spring 34
Watch'd my f meadow zoned with airy morn; Prog. of Spring 69
Desolate sweetness—f and f away— Ancient Sage 226

Far-blazing F-b from the rear of Philip's house, Enoch Arden 727

Far-brought love f-b From out the storied Past, Love thou thy land 1

Farce 'Ah fool, and made myself a Queen of f! Princess vii 243
For by and by she sicken'd of the f, The Ring 383

Fare (s) Friday f was Enoch's ministering. Enoch Arden 100
With store of rich apparel, sumptuous f, Marr. of Geraint 709
My lord, eat also, tho' the f is coarse, Geraint and E. 208
And serve thee costlier than with mowers' f.'
Then said Geraint, 'I wish no better f: „ 231
That Lenten f makes Lenten thought, To E. Fitzgerald 31

Fare (verb) So f's it since the years began, Will Water. 169
F's richly, in fine linen, not a hair Aylmer's Field 659
Thy duty? What is duty? F thee well!' Lucretius 281
O heart, how f's it with thee now, In Mem. iv 5
How f's it with the happy dead? „ xliv 1 bring us where he is, and how he f's, Lancelot and E. 547
F you well A thousand times!— „ 695
How f's my lord Sir Lancelot?' „ 795

Fared so f she gazing there; Princess vii 41
Whereon with equal feet we f; In Mem. xxv 2
So f it with Geraint, who thought and said, Marr. of Geraint 343
So f it with Geraint, (repeat) Geraint and E. 8, 500
Then f it with Sir Pelleas as with one Pelleas and E. 528

Far-end When Molly cooms in fro' the f-e close Spinster's S's. 2

Farewell Ye merry souls, f. All Things will Die 36
But now f. I am going a long way With these thou seëst— M. d'Arthur 256 might I tell of meetings, of f's— Gardener's D. 251 F, like endless welcome, lived and died. Love and Duty 68 a long f to Locksley Hall! Locksley Hall 189 Enoch faced this morning of f Brightly Enoch Arden 182 she said: 'f, Sir—and to you. Princess ii 235
he reach'd White hands of f to my sire, „ v 233
The wrath I nursed against the world: f.' „ 437 Pledge of a love not to be mine, f; „ vi 197 few words and pithy, such as closed Welcome, f, „ Con. 95 landing-place, to clasp and say 'F! In Mem. xlvii 16
In those sad words I took f: „ lviii 1
I cannot think the thing f. „ cxxiii 12
F, we kiss, and they are gone. „ Con. 92 own heart's heart, my ownest own, f; Maud I xviii 74
Thy shield is mine—f; Gareth and L. 988
So that I be not fall'n in fight. F.' 'F, fair Prince,' answer'd the stately Queen. Marr. of Geraint 223 narrow court and lubber King, f! Merlin and V. 119
F; think gently of me, for I fear My fate or folly, „ 926
She needs must bid f to sweet Lavaine. Lancelot and E. 341
A thousand times!—a thousand times f! „ 696
Nor bad f, but sadly rode away. „ 987
Gawain, who bad a thousand f's to me, „ 1056
'Sister, f for ever,' and again 'F, „ 1151

Farewell (continued) Come, for you left me taking no f, Hither, to take my last f of you. Lancelot and E. 1274
I left her and I bad her no f; " 1304
F too—now at last—F, fair lily. " 1396
Than to be loved again of you—f; Pelleas and E. 302
It was their last hour, A madness of f's. Guinevere 103 Nay, friend, for we have taken our f's. " 117 see thee no more—F!' " 580
F? I should have answer'd his f. " 615
F! there is an isle of rest for thee. Pass. of Arthur 35
But now f. I am going a long way With these thou seëst— " 424
And bad them to a banquet of f's. Lover's Tale iv 186
We bad them no f, but mounting these He past " 386
She remembers you. F. Sisters (E. and E.) 190 thinks She sees you when she hears. Again f.' " 193
'Pray come and see my mother, and f.' " 196 for ever and ever, for ever and ever f,' Despair 58 a whisper—some divine f— Ancient Sage 225 Strike on the Mount of Vision! So, f. " 286
F, Macready, since to-night we part; To W. C. Macready 1
F, Macready, since this night we part; " 5
F, Macready; moral, grave, sublime; " 12
Not there to bid my boy f, To Marq. of Dufferin 42
if so, Bid him f for me, Romney's R. 147
F, whose living like I shall not find, In Mem. W. G. Ward 1
F!—You will not speak, my friends, The Wanderer 3 deem me grateful, and f! " 16
And may there be no sadness of f, Crossing the Bar 11
Far-famed F-f for well-won enterprise, Kate 22
Far-fleeted F-f by the purple island-sides, Princess vii 166
Far-folded F-f mists, and gleaming halls of morn. Tithonus 10
Far-heard F-h beneath the moon. D. of F. Women 184
Farm (See also Crown-farm) red cock crows from the f upon the hill, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 23
With farmer Allan at the f abode Dora 1 and set out, and reach'd the f. " 129 discuss'd the f, The four-field system, Audley Court 33
Till last by Philip's f I flow The Brook 31
Philip's f where brook and river meet. " 38 and call'd old Philip out To show the f: " 121 how he sent the bailiff to the f To learn " 141
He found the bailiff riding by the f, " 153
ask'd her 'Are you from the f?' " 209
We bought the f we tenanted before. " 222 closed her access to the wealthier f's, Aylmer's Field 503 princely halls, and f's, and flowing lawns, " 654 the broad woodland parcell'd into f's; " 847 Willy had not been down to the f Grandmother 33
there past by the gate of the f, Willy,— " 41 sitting at home in my father's f at eve: " 90 Feyther run oop to the f, N. Farmer, N. S. 54
And crowded f's and lessening towers, In Mem. xi 11
To leave the pleasant fields and f's; " cii 22 had need Of a good stout lad at his f; First Quarrel 18 Harry was bound to the Dorsetshire f " 19 that workt with him up at the f, " 24
they does it at Willis's f, Village Wife 119
An' 'cos o' thy f by the beck, Spinster's S's. 73
Ev'n the homely f can teach us Locksley H., Sixty 26
Fur the gell o' the f 'at slep wi' tha Owd Roä 51
Moother 'ed beän a-naggin' about the gell o' the f, " 69 mine the hall, the f, the field; The Ring 169 on waste and wood, On f and field: Prog. of Spring 23
How be the f gittin on? noäways. Church-warden, etc. 3 war dashing down upon cities and blazing f's, The Dawn 8 Farmer With f Allan at the farm abode Dora 1 Far off the f came into the field And spied her not; " 74 when the f pass'd into the field He spied her, " 85
Francis Hale, The f's son, who lived across the bay, Audley Court 75
The f vext packs up his beds and chairs, Walk. to the Mail 39 robb'd the f of his bowl of cream: Princess v 223
There was a f in Dorset of Harry's kin, First Quarrel 17
'The f dared me to do it,' he said; Rizpah 26
Howiver was British f's to stan' ageän Owd Roä 46
Farmin' An' thy f' es cleän es thysen,' Spinster's S's. 77
Farmstead he, by f, thorpe and spire, Will Water. 137
Far-off And the f-o stream is dumb, The Owl i 3
F-o the torrent call'd me from the cleft: Œnone 54
I dimly see My f-o doubtful purpose, " 251
In those f-o seven happy years were born; Enoch Arden 686 her f-o cousin and betrothed, The Brook 75 sorcerer, whom a f-o grandsire burnt Princess i 6 to catch The f-o interest of tears? In Mem. i 8
The brook alone f-o was heard, " xcv 7
And one f-o divine event, " Con. 143 the f-o sail is blown by the breeze Maud I iv 4 some f-o touch Of greatness to know Lancelot and E. 450
The storm, you hear F-o, is Muriel— The Ring 139
Only to hear and see the f-o sparkling brine, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 98
In days f-o, on that dark earth, be true? Tithonus 48 deep Down upon f-o cities while they dance— Merlin and V. 114 from him flits to warn A f-o friendship Demeter and P. 90
For have the f-o hymns of May, To Master of B. 10
Farran'd (fashioned) See Owd-farran'd Far-renowned f-r brides of ancient song D. of F. Women 17
Far-rolling Seem'd those f-r, westward-smiling seas, Last Tournament 587 Far-seen Amid thy melancholy mates f-s, Lover's Tale i 489
Far-shadowing half in light, and half F-s Princess, Con. 42
Far-shining On one far height in one f-s fire. Tiresias 185
'One height and one f-s fire' " 186
Far-sighted F-s summoner of War and Waste Ded. of Idylls 37
Far-sounded Geraint, a name f-s among men Marr. of Geraint 427
Farther With f lookings on. Miller's D. 231
Farthest But from my f lapse, my latest ebb, Lover's Tale i 90 Far-welter'd (overthrown) Woorse nor a f-w yowe: N. Farmer, N. S. 32
Fashion (s) After the f of the time, Arabian Nights 119
Looks freshest in the f of the day: The Epic 32
I know your sex, From the f of your bones. Vision of Sin 182
In sailor f roughly sermonizing Enoch Arden 204
Fire-hollowing this in Indian f, " 569
No more in soldier f will he greet Ode on Well. 21 veil His want in forms for f's sake, In Mem. cxi 6
What the f of the men?' 'They be of foolish f, O Sir King, The f of that old knight-errantry Gareth and L. 627 and sumptuously According to his f, Geraint and E. 285
In any knightly f for her sake. Lancelot and E. 871 Knowest thou not the f of our speech? Pelleas and E. 100 had updrawn A f and a phantasm of the form Lover's Tale i 645
In some such f as a man may be Sisters (E. and E.) 133
Fashion (verb) skill To strive, to f, to fulfil— In Mem. cxiii 7 Fashion'd (See also Altar-fashion'd, Cleaner-fashion'd, Noblier-fashion'd, Owd-farran'd) holy hand hath f on the rock Gareth and L. 1197
f for it A case of silk, and braided Lancelot and E. 7
F by Merlin ere he past away, Holy Grail 168 brooks Are f by the channel which they keep), Lover's Tale i 567 a people have f and worship a Spirit Kapiolani 1
F after certain laws; Poets and Critics 5
Fast (adj.) my friend was he, Once my f friend: Sir J. Oldcastle 62
By changes all too fierce and f Freedom 22
Fast (s) all the passion of a twelve hours' f.' Marr. of Geraint 306 heard mass, broke f, and rode away: Lancelot and E. 415 life of prayer, Praise, f and alms; Holy Grail 5
She gave herself, to f, and alms. " 77 about him everywhere, despite All f and penance. " 631
Fast with your f's, not feasting Guinevere 678 Penance?' 'F, Hairshirt and scourge— Sir J. Oldcastle 141 Fast (adv.) Two lives bound f in one Circumstance 5
And I believe, if you were f my wife, Enoch Arden 414
We must bind And keep you f, my Rosalind, F, f, my wild-eyed Rosalind, Rosalind 43
We'll bind you f in silken cords, " 49
'Lead, and I follow,' and f away she fled. (repeat) Gareth and L. 760, 990 Fast (verb) If it may be, f Whole Lents, St. S. Stylites 181 bear his armour? shall we f, or dine? Geraint and E. 490 brother, f thou too and pray, And tell thy brother knights to f and pray, Holy Grail 125

Fast (verb) (continued) F with your fasts, not feasting with your feasts; Guinevere 678
Fasted she pray'd and f all the more. Holy Grail 82
she pray'd and f, till the sun Shone, „ 98 and myself f and pray'd Always, „ 130
F and pray'd even to the uttermost, „ 132
F and pray'd, Telemachus the Saint. St. Telemachus 11
Fasten'd if she be f to this fool lord, Maud I xvi 24
They had f the door of his cell. Rizpah 42 they f me down on my bed. „ 46
Fastening loosed the f's of his arms, Geraint and E. 511
Fast-falling follow the deer By these tall firs and our f-f burns; Gareth and L. 91
Fasting come To me by prayer and f?' Holy Grail 96
Fast-rooted F-r in the fruitful soil. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 38
Fat (adj.) 'Old Summers, when the monk was f, Talking Oak 41
All over with the f affectionate smile Sea Dreams 155
A lord of f prize-oxen and of sheep, Princess, Con. 86 grew f On Lusitanian summers. Will Water. 7
Fat (s) Padded round with flesh and f, Vision of Sin 177 Fat (verb) The poor man's money gone to f the friar. Sir J. Oldcastle 150 Fatal 'He owns the f gift of eyes, Two Voices 286
The f byword of all years to come, Godiva 67
So sweet a voice and vague, f to men, Princess iv 64
Thy spirit ere our f loss Did ever rise In Mem. xli 1
That in Vienna's f walls God's finger touch'd him, „ lxxxv 19
When now we rode upon this f quest Geraint and E. 703 which lived True life, live on—and if the f kiss, Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 2 eyes of the lighthouse there on the f neck Despair 9
And in the f sequence of this world Ancient Sage 274 but hold the Present f daughter of the Past, Locksley H., Sixty 105
But ere he left your f shore, To Marq. of Dufferin 33
'Ever since You sent the f ring'— The Ring 362
The f ring lay near her; „ 450
Fatalist we were nursed in the drear night-fold of your f creed, Despair 21
Fate hers by right of full-accomplish'd F; Palace of Art 207 heroic hearts, Made weak by time and f, Ulysses 69
For love in sequel works with f, Day-Dm., Arrival 3
The sphere thy f allots: Will Water. 218
we three Sat muffled like the F's; Princess ii 467
Ask me no more: thy f and mine are seal'd: „ vii 11
Once the weight and f of Europe hung. Ode on Well. 240
The limit of his narrower f, In Mem. lxiv 21
As link'd with thine in love and f, „ lxxxix 38
Of her whose gentle will has changed my f, Maud I xviii 23
She is coming, my life, my f; „ xxii 62
For man is man and master of his f. Marr. of Geraint 355
Ay—so that f and craft and folly close, Merlin and V. 57 grant me some slight power upon your f, „ 333
My f or folly, passing gayer youth „ 927 omens may foreshadow f to man And woman, Tiresias 7 no power on F, Theirs, or mine own! „ 63
Fairer thy f than mine, „ 130
But if sin be sin, not inherited f, The Wreck 85
I bide no more, I meet my f, The Flight 95
And in her fleet her F. The Fleet 15
For he—your India was his F, To Marq. of Dufferin 21
There is a F beyond us.' Nothing knew. Demeter and P. 87
What meant they by their 'F beyond the F's' „ 130 a jubilant challenge to Time and to F; Vastness 21 Man is but the slave of F. Death of Œnone 44 and a curse, when I learn'd my f. Charity 14 Fated (See also Ill-fated) And bring the f fairy Prince. Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 56 may The f channel where thy motion lives De. Prof., Two G. 19 Fat-faced said the f-f curate Edward Bull, (repeat) Edwin Morris 42, 90
Father (s) (See also Feyther, God-father) poplars four That stand beside my f's door, Ode to Memory 57
'Where wert thou when thy f play'd Two Voices 319 to vex me with his f's eyes! Œnone 255
And there the Ionian f of the rest; Palace of Art 137
My f held his hand upon his face; D. of F. Women 107 her that died To save her f's vow; „ 196

Father (s) (continued) 'My God, my land, my f—these did move D. of F. Women 209
I subdued me to my f's will; „ 234 clasp'd in her last trance Her murder'd f's head, „ 267 in my time a f's word was law, Dora 27 he left his f's house, And hired himself „ 37 pass'd his f's gate, Heart-broken, and his f help'd „ 50
'O F!—if you let me call you so— „ 140
he was wrong to cross his f thus: „ 148
he will learn to slight His f's memory; „ 154
A flask of cider from his f's vats, Audley Court 27
Her f left his good arm-chair, Talking Oak 103
Puppet to a f's threat, Locksley Hall 42
O, the child too clothes the f „ 91 a boy when first he leaves his f's field, „ 112 fell my f evil-starr'd;— „ 155
'O seek my f's court with me, Day-Dm., Depart. 27
My f left a park to me, Amphion 1
Against her f's and mother's will: Edward Gray 10
And they leave her f's roof. L. of Burleigh 12
As looks a f on the things Of his dead son, The Letters 23 Philip stay'd (His f lying sick and Enoch Arden 65 call'd him F Philip, Philip gain'd As Enoch lost; „ 354 they begg'd For F Philip (as they call'd him) „ 365
'Come with us F Philip' he denied; „ 368
I fain would prove A f to your children: I do think They love me as a f: „ 411 o'er her second f stoopt a girl, „ 747 Hers, yet not his, upon the f's knee, „ 760
Uphold me, F, in my loneliness A little longer! „ 784 Never: no f's kiss for me— „ 790 let them come, I am their f; „ 890
But evermore her f came across The Brook 108
'O would I take her f for one hour, „ 114
He lean'd not on his f's but himself. Aylmer's Field 56
The man was his, had been his f's, friend: „ 344 from out a despot dream The f panting woke, „ 528 the f suddenly cried, 'A wreck, Sea Dreams 58 my good f thought a king a king; Princess i 25
My f sent ambassadors with furs And jewels, „ 42 gentleman of broken means (His f's fault) „ 54
I saw my f's face Grow long and troubled „ 58
At last I spoke, 'My f, let me go. „ 68
To hear my f's clamour at our backs „ 105 which I have Hard by your f's frontier: „ 148
In masque or pageant at my f's court. „ 198
Yet hangs his portrait in my f's hall „ ii 239
F will come to thee soon; (repeat) „ iii 10, 12
F will come to his babe in the nest, „ 13
I never knew my f, but she says (God help her) „ 82 fell Into his f's hands, who has this night, „ iv 402
The second was my f's running thus: „ 406
Behold your f's letter.' „ 468
since our f—Wasps in our good hive, „ 535
'then we fell Into your f's hand, „ v 51 roughly spake My f, 'Tut, you know them „ 151
Your captive, yet my f wills not war: „ 277
'sdeath! against my f's will.' „ 298
Back rode we to my f's camp, and found „ 331
My f heard and ran In on the lists, „ vi 26
The haggard f's face and reverend beard „ 103
My f stoop'd, re-father'd o'er my wounds. „ 129
Not one word; No! tho' your f sues: „ 240
Help, f, brother, help; speak to the king: „ 305
the king her f charm'd Her wounded soul „ 345
Nor did her f cease to press my claim, „ vii 87
And sidelong glances at my f's grief, „ 107
O silent f of our Kings to be Ode Inter. Exhib. 7 her f was not the man to save, Grandmother 5
I remember a quarrel I had with your f, „ 21
Harry went at sixty, your f at sixty-five: „ 86 sitting at home in my f's farm at eve: „ 90
My f raves of death and wreck, Sailor Boy 19
O f, wheresoe'er thou be, In Mem. vi 9 her f's chimney glows In expectation „ 29

Father (s) (continued) O F, touch the east, and light In Mem. xxx 31
And doubtful joys the f move, „ xl 9
How many a f have I seen, „ liii 1 star Had fall'n into her f's grave, „ lxxxix 48 f's bend Above more graves, „ xcviii 15
Our f's dust is left alone And silent „ cv 5
But crying, knows his f near; „ cxxiv 20
O f! O God! was it well?— Maud I i 6 raging alone as my f raged in his mood? „ 53 sweet purse-mouth when my f dangled the grapes, „ 71
When have I bow'd to her f, „ iv 13
Your f has wealth well-gotten, „ 18
Your f is ever in London, „ 59
Why sits he here in his f's chair? „ xiii 23
Not touch on her f's sin: „ xix 17
That Maud's dark f and mine Had bound „ 37
Mine, mine—our f's have sworn. „ 43
Thou noble F of her Kings to be, Ded. of Idylls 34
'Her f said That there between the man Com. of Arthur 78
we that fight for our fair f Christ, „ 510 thy f Lot beside the hearth Lies like a log, Gareth and L. 74 Thy f, Uther, reft From my dead lord „ 334 who from the wrongs his f did Would shape „ 347
Affirming that his f left him gold, Marr. of Geraint 451
I thought, but that your f came between, Geraint and E. 314
And loved me serving in my f's hall: „ 699
I should have slain your f, seized yourself. „ 838
My f hath begotten me in his wrath. Balin and Balan 283
My f died in battle against the King, Merlin and V. 42
My f died in battle for thy King, „ 72
Leaving her household and good f, Lancelot and E. 14
Here laugh'd the f saying 'Fie,' „ 200
Nay, f, nay good f, shame me not „ 207
But, f, give me leave, an if he will, „ 219
Crept to her f, while he mused alone, „ 748
'F, you call me wilful, and the fault Is yours „ 750
Sweet f, will you let me lose my wits?' „ 752
Sweet f, I behold him in my dreams „ 763
My f, to be sweet and serviceable „ 767
Then her f nodding said, 'Ay, ay, „ 770
Her f's latest word humm'd in her ear, „ 780 brother's love, And your good f's kindness.' „ 945 her f: 'Ay, a flash, I fear me, „ 970
Then came her f, saying in low tones, „ 994 call'd The f, and all three in hurry „ 1024
So dwelt the f on her face, and thought „ 1030
'Peace,' said her f, 'O my child, „ 1062
'Highest?' the f answer'd, echoing 'highest?' „ 1078
'Sweet f, all too faint and sick am I „ 1086 so let me pass, My f, howsoe'er I seem to you, „ 1092 wherefore cease, Sweet f, and bid call „ 1099 sweet f, tender and true, Deny me not,' „ 1110
She ceased: her f promised; „ 1130
Her f laid the letter in her hand, „ 1134 in testimony, Her brethren, and her f, „ 1300
'O F!' ask'd the maiden, Holy Grail 95
A slender page about her f's hall, „ 581
Fought in her f's battles? wounded Last Tournament 592
So said my f, and himself was knight Guinevere 234
So said my f—yea, and furthermore, „ 250
Not even thy wise f with his signs „ 274 one, a bard; of whom my f said, „ 277
So said my f—and that night the bard „ 285 and the tales Which my good f told me, check me too
Nor let me shame my f's memory, „ 317
And so thou lean on our fair f Christ, „ 562
Before he saw my day my f died, Lover's Tale i 191
She was motherless And I without a f. „ 219 what use To know her f left us just before „ 293 that same nearness Were f to this distance, „ ii 29
His other f you! Kiss him, „ iv 174 he sent, an' the f agreed; First Quarrel 18
You count the f of your fortune, Sisters (E. and E.) 28
My f with a child on either knee, „ 54
he had stricken my f dead— V. of Maeldune 1

Father (s) (continued) slain my f the day before I was born. V. of Maeldune 8
I bad them remember my f's death, „ 70
His f's have slain thy f's in war or in single strife,
Thy f's have slain his f's, each taken a life for a life, Thy f had slain his f, „ 121
The man that had slain my f. „ 128 trembling f's call'd The God's own son Tiresias 16 my F's belong'd to the church of old, The Wreck 1 the heart of the f will care for his own.' „ 98
'The heart of the f will spurn her,' „ 99
one son had forged on his f and fled, Despair 69
Some say, the Light was f of the Night, And some, the Night was f of the Light, Ancient Sage 247
This f pays his debt with me, The Flight 20
What f, this or mine, was he, „ 21
I loved him then; he was my f then. No f now, the tyrant vassal of a tyrant vice! „ 24
My f's madness makes me mad— „ 59
And tho' these f's will not hear, „ 67 who? who? my f sleeps! „ 69 she knew this f well; „ 87
f, mother,—be content, Locksley H., Sixty 25 Gone our sailor son thy f, „ 55 constancy Which has made your f's great Open I. and C. Exhib. 15 Shall we sin our f's sin, „ 24
why The sons before the f's die, To Marq. of Dufferin 47
No! f, Spain, but Hubert brings me home The Ring 59
F's fault Visited on the children! „ 175 you, poor desolate F, and poor me, „ 303
'F and Mother will watch you grow'—(repeat) Romney's R. 104, 106 and the murderous f at rest, . . . Bandit's Death 33
As we surpass our f's skill, Mechanophilus 21
My F, and my Brother, and my God! Doubt and Prayer 8

Father (verb) in the round of time Still f Truth? Love and Duty 5

Father'd See Re-father'd

Father-fool Thwarted by one of these old f-f's, Aylmer's Field 390

Father-grape f-g grew fat On Lusitanian summers. Will Water. 7

Fatherhood twelve sweet moons confused his f.' Merlin and V. 712

Fatherland sweet it was to dream of F, Lotos-Eaters 39

Fatherless this earth is a f Hell— Despair 57

Fatherlike Appraised his weight and fondled f, Enoch Arden 154

Fathom For thou canst not f it. Poet's Mind 4
Falser than all fancy f's, Locksley Hall 41
Philip did not f Annie's mind: Enoch Arden 344
'Tis hard for thee to f this; In Mem. lxxxv 90
dangled a hundred f of grapes, V. of Maeldune 56

Fathom-deep Should gulf him f-d in brine; In Mem. x 18

Fathom'd Which none have f. Lover's Tale i 518

Fathomless half-attain'd futurity, Tho' deep not f, Ode to Memory 34

Fatling reach its f innocent arms And lazy lingering fingers. Princess vi 138

Fatten many streams to f lower lands, Golden Year 34

Fatter he was f than his cure. Edwin Morris 15
No, there is f game on the moor; Maud I i 74

Fault tho' the f's were thick as dust To the Queen 18
'Proclaim the f's he would not show: You might have won 17
Nor mine the f, if losing both of these Aylmer's Field 719 gentleman of broken means (His father's f) Princess i 54
'My f' she wept 'my f! and yet not mine; „ iii 30
The child is hers—for every little f, „ v 87 her one f The tenderness, not yours, „ vi 185 as dearer thou for f's Lived over: „ vii 347
Not ours the f if we have feeble hosts— Third of Feb. 38
Or seeming-genial venial f, Will 13 let it be granted her: where is the f? Maud I ii 4 blind To the f's of his heart and mind, „ xix 68
'THE f was mine, the f was mine'— „ II i 1
'The f was mine,' he whisper'd, 'fly!' „ 30 a little f Whereof I was not guilty; Com. of Arthur 341 wayside ambushings—No f of thine: Gareth and L. 433
'If Enid errs, let Enid learn her f.' Marr. of Geraint 132 creatures voiceless thro' the f of birth, Geraint and E. 266 and for her f she wept Of petulancy; Merlin and V. 952
He is all f who hath no f at all: Lancelot and E. 132
you call me wilful, and the f Is yours „ 750

Fault (continued) Seeing it is no more Sir Lancelot's f — Lancelot and E. 1075 f and doubt—no word of that fond tale— — Last Tournament 578 change your name: no f of mine! — Sisters (E. and E.) 69
I care not for a name—no f of mine. — " 77 beauties of the work appear The darkest f's: — " 106 by the f o' that ere maäle— — Village Wife 17 wroth at things of old—No f of mine. — Sir J. Oldcastle 22
Blasphemy? whose is the f? — Despair 107 Father's f Visited on the children! — The Ring 175 be the f's your Poet makes Or many or few, — To Mary Boyle 61 the f is less In me than Art. — Romney's R. 8
You make our f's too gross, — To one who ran down Eng. 1 an' not the f's o' the Squire. — Church-warden, etc. 46
Some too high—no f of thine— — Poets and Critics 12
Faultful her great heart thro' all the f Past — Princess vii 248
Faultless Henceforth be truer to your f lord? — Lancelot and E. 119
'Arthur, my lord, Arthur, the f King, — " 121 Faultily f, icily regular, — Maud I ii 6
she the f, the divine; — Locksley H., Sixty 5
Faun mountain quickens into Nymph and F; — Lucretius 187
Arise and fly The reeling F, — In Mem. cxviii 26
Faunus in the garden snared Picus and F, — Lucretius 182
Favour (See also Court-favour) On whom their f's fall! — Sir Galahad 14
I came to ask a f of you.' — Enoch Arden 285
'F from one so sad and so forlorn — " 287
This is the f that I came to ask.' — " 313
Else I withdraw f and countenance From you — Aylmer's Field 307
Arranged the f, and assumed the Prince. — Princess iv 602
Who have won her f! — Maud I xii 18
I bound to thee for any f ask'd!' — Gareth and L. 977
To seek a second f at his hands. — Marr. of Geraint 626 love or fear, or seeking f of us, — " 700
That he should wear her f at the tilt. — Lancelot and E. 358 will you wear My f at this tourney?' — " 362 worn F of any lady in the lists. (repeat) — " 364, 474 find thy f changed and love thee not'— — Last Tournament 500
Black with bridal f's mixt! — Forlorn 69
Might I crave One f? — Romney's R. 70 Favourable a f speed Ruffle thy mirror'd mast, — In Mem. ix 6
Favour'd (See also White-favour'd) These f lips of mine; — Will Water. 20 Favourite I know the song, Their f— — Sisters (E. and E.) 3
Favouritism 'So puddled as it is with f.' — Princess iii 146
Fawn (s) your arrow-wounded f Came flying — " ii 270
That was f's blood, not brother's, — " 275
Ah Maud, you milkwhite f, — Maud I iv 57 shadow of a bird Flying, and then a f; — Pelleas and E. 39
Fawn (verb) And f at a victor's feet. — Maud I vi 30
Fawn'd dog that had loved him and f at his knee— — In the Child. Hosp. 9
Fawning Crouch'd f in the weed. — Œnone 201
Feäl (feel) I'd f mysen cleän disgraäced. — North. Cobbler 102 Feäld (field) Huzzin' an' maäzin' the blessed f's — N. Farmer, O. S. 62 nor a mortal beäst o' the f. — North. Cobbler 38
Feäld (felt) till I f mysen ready to drop. — Ovd Roä 84
Fealty rendering true answer, as beseem'd Thy f, — M. d'Arthur 75
In token of true heart and f. — Gareth and L. 399 doubt her more, But rested in her f, — Geraint and E. 967 Friends, thro' your manhood and your f,— — Last Tournament 97
Forgetful of their troth and f, — Guinevere 442 and saps The f of our friends, — " 521 rendering true answer, as beseem'd Thy f, — Pass. of Arthur 243 and give His f to the halcyon hour! — The Wanderer 12 Fear (s) Earth goes to earth, with grief, not f, — Supp. Confessions 38 Moved from beneath with doubt and f. — " 138
Whispering to each other half in f, — Sea-Fairies 5
What hope or f or joy is thine? — Adeline 23
Roof'd the world with doubt and f, — Eleänore 99
And they cross'd themselves for f, — L. of Shallott iv 49
'Think you this mould of hopes and f's — Two Voices 28 heaping on the f of ill The f of men, — " 107 sitting, burnish'd without f The brand, — " 128 love dispell'd the f That I should die — Miller's D. 89
I loved you better for your f's, — " 149
Acting the law we live by without f; — Œnone 148
I shut my sight for f: — " 188

Fear (s) (continued) Remaining utterly confused with f's, — Palace of Art 269
I would not brook my f Of the other: — D. of F. Women 154
f of change at home, that drove him hence. — Walk. to the Mail 68 the low wind hardly breathed for f. — Godiva 55 Boring a little auger-hole in f, — " 58 to me is given Such hope, I know not f; — Sir Galahad 62
Nor yet the f of little books — Will Water. 195
Hush'd all the groves from f of wrong: — Sir L. and Q. G. 13
All his Annie's f's, Save, as his Annie's, — Enoch Arden 184
Spy out my face, and laugh at all your f's.' — " 216
Such doubts and f's were common to her state, — " 521
Has she no f that her first husband lives?' — " 806
'Ay, ay, poor soul' said Miriam, 'f enow! — " 807 hollow as the hopes and f's of men? — Lucretius 180 for f This whole foundation ruin, — Princess ii 340 nor shrink For f our solid aim be dissipated — " iii 266 F Stared in her eyes, and chalk'd her face, — " iv 376 yet I blame you not so much for f; — " 506
Six thousand years of f have made you that — " 507
Fatherly f's—you used us courteously— — " v 216
Bow-back'd with f: — " vi 359
Shall f's and jealous hatreds flame again? — W. to Marie Alex. 41
The King was shaken with holy f; — The Victim 57 it darkens and brightens and darkens like my f, — Window, On the Hill 19 but for f it is not so, The wild unrest — In Mem. xv 14
All subtle thought, all curious f's, — " xxxii 9 yields To that vague f implied in death; — " xli 14 Beneath all fancied hopes and f's — " xlix 13
I wrong the grave with f's untrue: — " li 9
For f divine Philosophy Should push beyond her mark, — " liii 14 and is Eternal, separate from f's: — " lxxxv 66
The feeble soul, a haunt of f's, — " cx 3
She cannot fight the f of death. — " cxiv 10
And heated hot with burning f's, — " cxviii 22
No, like a child in doubt and f: — " cxxiv 17
Be sunder'd in the night of f; — " cxxvii 2 Wild Hours that fly with Hope and F, — " cxxviii 9
I fled from the place and the pit and the f? — Maud I i 64
The bitter springs of anger and f; — " x 49 she lay Sick once, with a f of worse, — " xix 73
a coast Of ancient fable and f— — " II ii 32 Sick of a nameless f, Back to the dark sea-line — " 44 cells of madness, haunts of horror and f, — " III vi 2 mother's eye Full of the wistful f — Gareth and L. 173
Yet pressing on, tho' all in f — " 325 Thou shakest in thy f: there yet is time: — " 940 the new knight Had f he might be shamed; — " 1044 after all their foolish f's And horrors — " 1424 all her foolish f's about the dress, (repeat) — Marr. of Geraint 142, 844
Rapt in the f and in the wonder of it; — " 529
For love or f, or seeking favour of us, — " 700
The long way smoke beneath him in his f; — Geraint and E. 532
Enid in their going had two f's, — " 817
Truly save for f's, My f's for thee, — Balin and Balan 146
As Love, if Love be perfect, casts out f, So Hate, if Hate be perfect, casts out f. — Merlin and V. 40
She shook from f, and for her fault she wept — " 952
First as in f, step after step, she stole — Lancelot and E. 342
Then came on him a sort of sacred f, — " 354
For f our people call you lily maid — " 386
So fine a f in our large Lancelot — " 595 all three in hurry and f Ran to her, — " 1024
May not your crescent f for name and fame Speak, — " 1400
The King himself had f's that it would fall, — Holy Grail 341
Our f of some disastrous chance for thee — " 727 whence the f lest this my realm, uprear'd, — Last Tournament 122 but how ye greet me—f And fault and doubt— — " 577 or a vague spiritual f— — Guinevere 71 all his heart was cold With formless f; — Pass. of Arthur 98 their f's Are morning shadows huger than the shapes — To the Queen ii 62 over the deep graves of Hope and F, — Lover's Tale ii 58
Had I not known where Love, at first a f, — Sisters (E. and E.) 170

Fear (s) (continued) And f's for our delicate Emmie — In the Child. Hosp. 66 Cloud-weaver of phantasmal hopes and f's, — To Victor Hugo 2 fail Thro' craven f's of being great. — Hands all Round 32
Had never swerved for craft or f, — To Marq. of Dufferin 27 as Gods against the f Of Death and Hell; — Demeter and P. 141 that worship which is F, Henceforth, — „ 143 and paced his land In f of worse, — To Mary Boyle 30 May your f's be vain! — To one who ran down Eng. 2
Still—at times A doubt, a f,— — Akbar's Dream 169
'Twere joy, not f, claspt hand-in-hand with thee, — If I were loved 9
Fear (verb) I f All may not doubt, — Supp. Confessions 177
I f to slide from bad to worse. — Two Voices 231
What is it that I may not f?' — „ 240
That I should f,—if I were loved — If I were loved 4
I f My wound hath taken cold, — M. d'Arthur 165
I f it is too late, and I shall die.' — „ 180
I f That we shall miss the mail: — Walk. to the Mail 111
'F not thou to loose thy tongue; — Vision of Sin 155
f no more for me; or if you f Cast all your cares — Enoch Arden 221
I f, If there were many Lilias in the brood, — Princess, Pro. 145
Let them not f: some said their heads were loss: — „ ii 147
I f My conscience will not count me fleckless; — „ 293
But, dearest Lady, pray you f me not, — „ 333
'Ah, f me not' Replied Melissa; — „ 342
'What f ye, brawlers? am not I your Head? — „ iv 498 what is it ye f? Peace! — „ 500
'We f, indeed, you spent a stormy time — „ v 121
f we not To break them more in their behoof, — „ vi 60
Sighing she spoke 'I f They will not.' — „ vii 297
Approach and f not; breathe upon my brows; — „ 353
Shall we f him? our own we never fear'd. — Third of Feb. 25
I f you'll listen to tales, be jealous — Grandmother 54
'F not, isle of blowing woodland, — Boädicea 38
We mock thee when we do not f: — In Mem., Pro. 30
She f's not, or with thee beside — „ Con. 43
And me behind her, will not f. — „ 44
I f, the new strong wine of love, — Maud I vi 82 some one else may have much to f; — „ xv 4
I should grow light-headed, I f, — „ 100
Should I f to greet my friend — „ II iv 85
I almost f they are not roses, but blood; — „ v 78
F not to give this King thine only child, — Com. of Arthur 413
I f that I am no true wife.' — Marr. of Geraint 108
Like him who tries the bridge he f's may fail, — Geraint and E. 303
Yet f me not: I call mine own self wild, — „ 311 he f's To lose his bone, and lays his foot — „ 561
f not, Enid, I should fall upon him, — „ 787 men may f Fresh fire and ruin. — „ 822 you that most had cause To f me, f no longer, — „ 825
f not, cousin; I am changed indeed.' — „ 873
O Vivien, save ye f The monkish manhood, — Merlin and V. 34
Vivien answer'd, smiling scornfully, 'Why f? — „ 38
I savour of thy—virtues? f them? no. — „ 39 loathe, f—but honour me the more.' — „ 122 make me f still more you are not mine, — „ 327 Wherefore, if I f, Giving you power upon me — „ 513 for I f My fate or folly, — „ 926 a flash, I f me, that will strike my blossom dead, — Lancelot and E. 971 as a coward slinks from what he f's To cope with, — Pelleas and E. 438
'F God: honour the King— — Last Tournament 302
Because he hates thee even more than f's; — „ 533
F not: thou shalt be guarded till my death. — Guinevere 448
I f My wound hath taken cold, — Pass. of Arthur 333
I f it is too late, and I shall die.' — „ 348
tho' sometimes I f You may be flickering, — Sisters (E. and E.) 32 she'll never live thro' it, I f.' — In the Child. Hosp. 42 Priests Who f the king's hard common-sense — Sir J. Oldcastle 66
And a man men f is a man to be loved — The Wreck 18 Days that will glimmer, I f, — „ 79
'Do you f?' and there came thro' the roar of the breaker a whisper, a breath, 'F? am I not with you? — Despair 13 morning brings the day I hate and f; — The Flight 2 lurks, listens, f's his victim may have fled— — „ 71

Fear (verb) (continued) and what is it that you f? — Happy 1 an' thou'll git along, niver f, — Church-warden, etc. 7
F not thou the hidden purpose of that Power — God and the Univ. 5
Fear'd f To send abroad a shrill and terrible cry, — Enoch Arden 767
I f Lest the gay navy there should splinter — Sea Dreams 130
I f To meet a cold 'We thank you, — Princess iv 327 but f To incense the Head once more; — „ vii 76
she f that I should lose my mind, — „ 99
Shall we fear him? our own we never f. — Third of Feb. 25
I say, we never f! — „ 29
There sat the Shadow f of man; — In Mem. xxii 12
And that she f she was not a true wife. — Marr. of Geraint 114
she f In every wavering brake an ambuscade. — Geraint and E. 50
Enid f his eyes, Moist as they were, — „ 350
I ever f ye were not wholly mine; — Merlin and V. 315 ridd'n away to die?' So f the King, — Lancelot and E. 568 cope and crown Of all I hoped and f?— — Lover's Tale ii 27 he was f to look at me now. — First Quarrel 38
they f that we still could sting, — The Revenge 72
I f The very fountains of her life were chill'd; — Sisters (E. and E.) 265
I be f fur to tell tha 'ow much— — Village Wife 47
f myself turning crazed, — Despair 78
Found, f me dead, and groan'd, — The Flight 23
They was all on 'em f o' the Ghoäst — Owd Roä 37
She f I had forgotten her, — The Ring 102 Fearful (See also Too-fearful) Too f that you should not please. — Miller's D. 148
Half f that, with self at strife, — Will Water. 161
If you be f, then must we be bold. — Third of Feb. 19 Dismal error! f slaughter! — The Captain 65 the sea roars Ruin: a f night!' 'Not f; — Sea Dreams 81
'The simple, f child Meant nothing, — Guinevere 369
Fearing (See also God-fearing) hid my feelings, f they should do me wrong; — Locksley Hall 29
F the lazy gossip of the port, — Enoch Arden 335
Then f night and chill for Annie, — „ 443 dwelt lingeringly on the latch, F to enter: — „ 520
And f waved my arm to warn them off; — Sea Dreams 132 fling whate'er we felt, not f, into words. — Third of Feb. 6
F to lose, and all for a dead man, — Geraint and E. 564
Then, f for his hurt and loss of blood, — „ 777
F the mild face of the blameless King, — „ 812
But Vivien, f heaven had heard her oath, — Merlin and V. 940
f rust or soilure fashion'd for it — Lancelot and E. 7 Still hoping, f 'is it yet too late?' — Guinevere 691
f not to plunge Thy torch of life — Tiresias 158
Fear-tremulous her slow sweet eyes F-t, — Merlin and V. 86 Feast (s) Rise from the f of sorrow, lady, — Margaret 62 scare church-harpies from the master's f; — To J. M. K. 3
I made a f; I bad him come; — The Sisters 13 while Audley f Humm'd like a hive — Audley Court 4
No larger f than under plane or pine — Lucretius 213 near his tomb a f Shone, silver-set; — Princess, Pro. 105
Nymph, or Goddess, at high tide of f, — „ i 197
Blanch'd in our annals, and perpetual f, — „ vi 63 a f Of wonder, out of West and East, — Ode Inter. Exhib. 20
And we shall sit at endless f, — In Mem. xlvii 9
Be neither song, nor game, nor f; — „ cv 21
The reeling Faun, the sensual f; — „ cxviii 26
Who stay to share the morning f, — „ Con. 75
Again the f, the speech, the glee, — „ 101 the King Made f for, saying, as they sat at meat, — Com. of Arthur 247 that day a f had been Held in high hall, — Gareth and L. 847 suit of fray'd magnificence, Once fit for f's of ceremony) — Marr. of Geraint 297 eyes, Moist as they were, wine-heated from the f; — Geraint and E. 351 Till when at f Sir Garlon likewise ask'd — Balin and Balan 347 our knights at f Have pledged us in this union, — Lancelot and E. 114
So dame and damsel glitter'd at the f — Last Tournament 225 such a f As never man had dream'd; — Guinevere 263
Fast with your fasts, not feasting with your f's; — „ 678
And Julian made a solemn f: — Lover's Tale iv 187 such a f, ill-suited as it seem'd To such a time, — „ 207 such a f So rich, so strange, — „ 210 our solemn f—we ate and drank, — „ 221

Feast (s) (continued) And when the f was near an end, he said: Lover's Tale iv 229
Who could desire more beauty at a f?' „ 240 him nor lights nor f Dazed or amazed, „ 310
I would not mingle with their f's; Demeter and P. 103 mouthing a bloodless name at her cannibal f, The Dawn 12 Feast (verb) f with these in honour of their Earl; Geraint and E. 287 a man Will honour those who f with him, Lover's Tale iv 232 fairest flesh at last is filth on which the worm will f; Happy 30 Feasted three days he f us, And on the fourth Princess i 118 he the wisest man F the woman wisest then, „ ii 351 having there so oft with all his knights F, Holy Grail 224
Feastful Singing and murmuring in her f mirth, Palace of Art 177
Feasting Fast with your fasts, not f with your feasts; Guinevere 678
Feat often heard me praise Your f's of arms, Marr. of Geraint 435 Feather (s) (See also Helmet-feather) All grass of silky f grow— Talking Oak 269
I did but shear a f, and dream and truth Princess v 541
We'll be birds of a f, Window, Spring 14 ask me whether The habit, hat, and f, Maud I xx 18 Or ev'n a fall'n f, vanish'd again. Last Tournament 372 ready for their bridal-time By change of f: Sisters (E. and E.) 72 Feather (verb) all about the large lime f's low, Gardener's D. 47 wood began To f toward the hollow, (repeat) Enoch Arden 68, 374
Feather'd See Coppice-feather'd
Featherfan Cooling her false cheek with a f, Aylmer's Field 289
Feathering the ripple f from her bows: Enoch Arden 544
Feature chisell'd f's clear and sleek. A Character 30
Conjectures of the f's of her child Œnone 252
Reading her perfect f's in the gloom, Gardener's D. 175
I cannot see the f's right, In Mem. lxx 1 that small charm of f mine, pursued— Merlin and V. 76
Featured (See also Clear-featured) The mother f in the son; Open I. and C. Exhib. 12
February (adj.) Many many welcomes F fair-maid, (repeat) The Snowdrop 2, 10
February (s) silver tongue, Cold F loved, is dry; The Blackbird 14 Fed (See also Dew-fed, Fancy-fed, Fountain-fed, Full-fed) f With the clear-pointed flame of chastity, Isabel 1
f the time With odour Arabian Nights 64
F thee, a child, lying alone, Eleänore 25 these, tho' f with careful dirt, Amphion 89
By dancing rivulets f his flocks To E. L. 22
They f her theories, in and out of place Princess i 129
I f you with the milk of every Muse; „ iv 295 breast that f or arm that dandled you, „ vi 181 heart and ear were f To hear him, In Mem. lxxxix 22 distant hills From hidden summits f with rills „ ciii 7
You have but f on the roses Maud I iv 60
f With honey'd rain and delicate air, „ xviii 20
Memory f the soul of Love with tears. Lover's Tale i 822
Why f we from one fountain? „ ii 24
f and cherish'd him, and saved his life. „ iv 264 island-myriads f from alien lands— The Fleet 12
She watch'd me, she nursed me, she f me, Charity 33
Federation the F of the world. Locksley Hall 128
The F's and the Powers; Day-Dm., L'Envoi 16
Fee To hold the costliest love in f. In Mem. lxxix 4
Mammonite mother kills her babe for a burial f, Maud I i 45 Feäd (feed) theer warn't not f for a cow; N. Farmer, O. S. 37 an' now theer's lots o' f, „ 39
Feäl (feel) 'F thou this! thou can't graw North. Cobbler 86
Feäld (felt) I f it drip o' my neck. Owd Roä 42 till 'e f 'e could howd 'is oän, Church-warden, etc. 19
Feät (feet) cleän as a flower fro' 'eäd to f: North. Cobbler 44
Wi' Roäver athurt my f, Owd Roä 30
British farmers to stan' ageän o' their f. „ 46
Feeble Now am I f grown; St. S. Stylites 36
And laid the f infant in his arms; Enoch Arden 152 his knees Were f, so that falling prone „ 779 frail at first And f, all unconscious of itself, Princess vii 117 disengage myself, but fail'd, Being so f: Lover's Tale i 693 wild hearts and f wings That every sophister can lime. Love thou thy land 11
Not ours the fault if we have f hosts— Third of Feb. 38

Feeble (continued) The f soul, a haunt of fears, In Mem. cx 3 f vassals of wine and anger and lust, Maud II i 43 thro' the f twilight of this world Groping, Geraint and E. 5 and Pellam's f cry, 'Stay, stay him!' Balin and Balan 420 Feebler Is f than his knees; Ancient Sage 135
Then comes the f heiress of your plan, Princess iii 237 it drown'd The f motion underneath his hand. Lover's Tale iv 83 Feed (See also Feeäd) For the Ox F's in the herb, Supp. Confessions 151
Thy kingly intellect shall f, Clear-headed friend 20
Upon himself himself did f: A Character 27
Some honey-converse f's thy mind, Adeline 40 little ducts began To f thy bones with lime, Two Voices 326
Nor f with crude imaginings The herd, Love thou thy land 10
The fat earth f thy branchy root, Talking Oak 273
That hoard, and sleep, and f, Ulysses 5
That early woke to f her little ones, Princess vii 252
The full new life that f's thy breath In Mem. lxxxvi 10
That f the mothers of the flock; „ c 16
a rose-carnation f With summer spice „ ci 7
Nor f with sighs a passing wind: „ cviii 4 goodly cheer To f the sudden guest, Geraint and E. 284 call'd for flesh and wine to f his spears. „ 601 Feeding like horses when you hear them f; „ 606 and f's their downward flow. Lover's Tale i 784
f the rebels of the crown, Columbus 131
F the budding rose of boyhood Locksley H., Sixty 143 brook that f's this lakelet murmur'd 'debt,' The Ring 171
we will f her with our mountain air, „ 319
Feedeth f The senses with a still delight Margaret 16 Feeding water-pipes beneath, F the flower; D. of F. Women 207
And f high, and living soft, The Goose 17
F like horses when you hear them feed; Geraint and E. 606 Feel (See also Feäl, Feeäl) and I f as thou hast felt? Supp. Confessions 82
I f the tears of blood arise Oriana 77
f their immortality Die in their hearts The Mermaid 29
For Kate no common love will f; Kate 14
To f, altho' no tongue can prove, Two Voices 445
Joying to f herself alive, Palace of Art 178 Put forth and f a gladder clime.' On a Mourner 15
Like one that f's a nightmare on his bed M. d'Arthur 177
Begin to f the truth and stir of day, „ Ep. 19 make a man f strong in speaking truth; Love and Duty 70
I f about my feet The berried briony Talking Oak 147 my heart so slow To f it! Love and Duty 35 unto him who works, and f's he works. Golden Year 73 guinea helps the hurt that Honour f's, Locksley Hall 105 Make me f the wild pulsation „ 109 the master-chord Of all I felt and f. Will Water. 28
Live long, nor f in head or chest „ 237
Their voices make me f so solitary.' Enoch Arden 397 f's a glimmering strangeness in his dream. The Brook 216
Were living nerves to f the rent; Aylmer's Field 536
And f myself the shadow of a dream. Princess i 18
f, at least, that silence here were sin, Third of Feb. 37 which has power to f 'I am I'? High. Pantheism 8
But they—they f the desire of the deep— Voice and the P. 19
As one who f's the immeasurable world, A Dedication 7
To put in words the grief I f; In Mem. v 2 and f's Her place is empty, „ xiii 3
I should not f it to be strange. „ xiv 20 reaches forth her arms To f from world to world, „ xxi 19
I f it, when I sorrow most; „ xxvii 14 and call To what I f is Lord of all, „ lv 19
Yet f's, as in a pensive dream, „ lxiv 17
I felt and f, tho' left alone, „ lxxxv 42
Canst thou f for me Some painless sympathy „ 87
My Ghost may f that thine is near. „ xciii 16
She darkly f's him great and wise, „ xcvii 34
To f once more, in placid awe, „ cxxii 5
I f There is a lower and a higher; „ cxxix 3
To f thee some diffusive power, „ cxxx 7
I f with thee the drowsy spell. Maud I xviii 72
I f I shall owe you a debt, „ xix 87
I f so free and so clear By the loss „ 98

Feel (continued) loved with that full love I f for thee, Gareth and L. 84
the plant that f's itself Root-bitten " 453 in your frosty cells ye f the fire! Balin and Balan 446
Caress her: let her f herself forgiven Who f's no heart to ask another boon. Merlin and V. 381 Might f some sudden turn of anger born " 531 low desire Not to f lowest makes them level all; " 828
In moments when he f's he cannot die, Holy Grail 916 find a nest and f's a snake, he drew: Pelleas and E. 437
For f this arm of mine— Last Tournament 690
'lo mine helpmate, one to f My purpose Guinevere 485 find or f a way Thro' this blind haze, Pass. of Arthur 75 Like one that f's a nightmare on his bed " 345
I f thy breath; I come, great Mistress Lover's Tale i 21 flaw In his throne's title make him f so frail, Sir J. Oldcastle 73
We f we are nothing— De Prof., Human C. 6
We f we are something— " 7
What did I f that night? Despair 3
She f's the Sun is hid but for a night, Ancient Sage 73 we f Within ourselves is highest, " 87 Scarce f's the senses break away To mix " 152 F's that the deep is boundless, " 192 to f his breath Upon my cheek— The Flight 45 these would f and follow Truth Locksley H., Sixty 119
I f the deathless heart of motherhood Demeter and P. 41
Who f no touch of my temptation, Romney's R. 121
Polytheism and Islám f after thee. Akbar's D., Inscrip. 2
Feel'd (felt) till ageän I f mysen free. North. Cobbler 80
I f thy arm es I stood wur a-creëapin Spinster's S's. 26
Feeling f all along the garden-wall, Enoch Arden 773
She laid A f finger on my brows, Princess vi 121
And often f of the helpless hands, " vii 111
When flower is f after flower; In Mem. xxxix 7
The blind wave f round his long sea-hall Merlin and V. 232
I, f that you felt me worthy trust, " 334 sideways downward to her belt, And f; " 851
Feeling (s) (See also Fellow-feeling) embassies of love, To tamper with the f's, Gardener's D. 19 Saying 'I have hid my f's, Locksley Hall 29 to decline On a range of lower f's " 44
'They were dangerous guides the f's— " 95
Divorce the F from her mate the Deed. The Brook 95
Who speak their f as it is, In Mem. xx 5
We ceased: a gentler f crept Upon us: " xxx 17
Feign things that being caught f death, Princess v 108
Feign'd sweet as those by hopeless fancy f " iv 55
A face of tenderness might be f, Maud I vi 52 yet lay still, and f himself as dead, Geraint and E. 588 and f a sleep until he slept. Lancelot and E. 842
Feigning f pique at what she call'd The raillery, Princess iv 587 Fell (adj.) Outram and Havelock breaking their way through the f mutineers? Def. of Lucknow 96 the bees is as f as owt. N. Farmer, N. S. 40 Fell (hair) Half-suffocated in the hoary f Merlin and V. 840 Fell (mountain) ye meanwhile far over moor and f Maud I xviii 76 gleam from yonder vale, Some far blue f, Early Spring 34 lured that falcon from his eyry on the f, Happy 59
he was coming down the f— " 82
Fell (verb) (See also Fell out) rusted nails f from the knots Mariana 3
Her tears f with the dews at even; " 13
Her tears f ere the dews were dried; " 14
The shadow of the poplar f Upon her bed, " 55 springing forth anew Where'er they f, The Poet 22 the babble of the stream F, Mariana in the S. 52
I kiss'd away before they f. Miller's D. 152
They were together, and she f; The Sisters 4 folds, that floating as they f Lit up a torrent-bow. Palace of Art 35 on the fourth she f, Like Herod, " 218 and loathing of her solitude F on her, " 230 because the kiss he gave me, ere I f, D. of F. Women 235
F in a doze; and half-awake I heard The Epic 13
So flash'd and f the brand Excalibur: M. d'Arthur 142 and threaten'd darkness, flared and f: " Ep. 2 the sun f, and all the land was dark. (repeat) Dora 79, 109
The wreath of flowers f At Dora's feet. " 102

Fell (verb) (continued) in wild Mahratta-battle f my father Locksley Hall 155 Bullets f like rain; The Captain 46
The silver lily heaved and f; To E. L. 19 by mischance he slipt and f: Enoch Arden 106 on him f, Altho' a grave and staid God-fearing man, " 111 these things f on her Sharp as reproach. " 487 f Sun-stricken, and that other lived alone. " 569 and so f back and spoke no more. " 914
Tho' Leolin flamed and f again, Aylmer's Field 409
f The woman shrieking at his feet, " 810 and f In vast sea-cataracts— Sea Dreams 53
The statues, king or saint, or founder f; " 224
f on him, Clasp'd, kiss'd him, wail'd: Lucretius 279
he bestrode my Grandsire, when he f, Princess ii 242 Grew broader toward his death and f, " iii 364 Stirring a sudden transport rose and f. " iv 29 the tear, She sang of, shook and f, " 60 wing'd Her transit to the throne, whereby she f " 378 but f Into his father's hands, " 401 call'd Across the tumult and the tumult f. " 497
'then we f Into your father's hand, " v 50 darkness closed me; and I f. " 542
From the high tree the blossom wavering f, " vi 80
But sadness on the soul of Ida f, " vii 29 Star after star, arose and f; " 50 back I f, and from mine arms she rose " 159
She moved, and at her feet the volume f. " 254
While horse and hero f, Light Brigade 44
Yet Harold's England f to Norman swords; W. to Marie Alex. 22
The torrent vineyard streaming f The Daisy 10
A PLAGUE upon the people f, The Victim 1 down their statue of Victory f. Boädicea 30
F the colony, city, and citadel, " 86
Thro' four sweet years arose and f, In Mem. xxii 3
And sadly f our Christmas-eve. " xxx 4
In vaults and catacombs, they f; " lviii 4
And calmly f our Christmas-eve: " lxxviii 4
And f in silence on his neck: " ciii 44 rock that f with him when he f. Maud I i 8 a silence f with the waking bird, " xxii 17
The white lake-blossom f into the lake " 47 mood is changed, for it f at a time of year " III vi 4 sword rose, the hind f, the herd was driven, Com. of Arthur 432
A slender-shafted Pine Lost footing, f, Gareth and L. 4
And drops of water f from either hand; " 220 the King's calm eye F on, and check'd, " 548 they shock'd, and Kay F shoulder-slipt, " 759 F, as if dead; but quickly rose and drew, " 967 Went sliding down so easily, and f, " 1224 there f A horror on him, lest his gentle wife, Marr. of Geraint 28
He spoke and f to work again. " 292
f at last In the great battle fighting " 595 it f Like flaws in summer laying lusty corn: " 763 jangling, the casque F, and he started Geraint and E. 389 saw the chargers of the two that f " 481 Prince, without a word, from his horse f. " 508 a fair death, and f Against the heathen " 968
His arm half rose to strike again, but f: Balin and Balan 223 Garlon, reeling slowly backward, f, " 397 and either f, and swoon'd away. " 563
Then f on Merlin a great melancholy; Merlin and V. 189 they f and made the glen abhorr'd: Lancelot and E. 42
slipt and f into some pool or stream, " 214 Treroit, Where many a heathen f; " 302 when he f From talk of war to traits of pleasantry— " 320
'Of all this will I nothing;' and so f, " 967 back the maiden f, Then gave a languid hand " 1031 raised his head, their eyes met and hers f, " 1312 showers of flowers F as we past; Holy Grail 349 F into dust, and I was left alone, (repeat) Holy Grail 389, 400, 419
she too, F into dust and nothing, Holy Grail 397
The plowman left his plowing, and f down Before it; " 404 milkmaid left her milking, and f down Before it, " 406 as he spoke F into dust, and disappear'd, " 436
Then f the floods of heaven drowning the deep. " 533

Fell (verb) (continued) Heavy as it was, a great stone slipt and f, Holy Grail 680 stones Raw, that they f from, brought us to the hall. „ 720 wind f, and on the seventh night I heard „ 810 sword was dash'd from out my hand, and f. „ 826 star Reel'd in the smoke, brake into flame, and f. Pelleas and E. 519
Then f thick rain, plume droopt Last Tournament 213 thus he f Head-heavy; then the knights, „ 467
Her light feet f on our rough Lyonnesse, „ 554 hurl'd him headlong, and he f Stunn'd, Guinevere 108
He falter'd, and his hand f from the harp, „ 303 prone from off her seat she f, „ 414 and ev'n on Arthur f Confusion, Pass. of Arthur 98 some whisper of the seething seas, A dead hush f; „ 122 and all but slain himself, he f. „ 169
So flash'd and f the brand Excalibur: „ 310 silver-smiling Venus ere she f Would often loiter Lover's Tale i 61 heart of Hope F into dust, and crumbled „ 95
My coronal slowly disentwined itself And f between us both; „ 362
f about My footsteps on the mountains. „ 371 and the earth They f on became hallow'd „ 440 water, drop by drop, upon my ear F; „ 577
Even the feet of her I loved, I f, „ 600 wealth Flash'd from me a moment and I f Beggar'd for ever— „ 669 few drops of that distressful rain F on my face, „ 699 and f into the abysm Of forms outworn, „ 796 till they f Half-digging their own graves) „ ii 46 and f Slanting upon that picture, „ 174
the surge f From thunder into whispers; „ iii 30
Lionel, who fain had risen, but f again, „ iv 361
Saätan as f Down out o' heaven North. Cobbler 57
And he f upon their decks, and he died. The Revenge 104 sea plunged and f on the shot-shatter'd navy „ 117
Had caught her hand, her eyelids f— Sisters (E. and E.) 148
The mother f about the daughter's neck, „ 154
But Billy f bakkuds o' Charlie, Village Wife 85 there f, Striking the hospital wall, Def. of Lucknow 17 on all the defences our myriad enemy f. „ 35
I lost myself and f from evenness, Sir J. Oldcastle 164
The crowd's roar f as at the 'Peace, be still!' Columbus 13 trees grew downwards, rain f upward, „ 50
The hurricane of the latitude on him f, „ 138
They almost f on each other; V. of Maeldune 26 steer f down at the plow and the harvest died „ 30 and his white beard f to his feet, „ 118
F the shipcrews Doom'd to the death. Batt. of Brunanburh 22
Then f from that half-spiritual height Chill'd, To E. Fitzgerald 19
His formal kiss f chill as a flake of snow The Wreck 32 then f fluttering down at my feet; „ 82
And I f—and the storm and the days went „ 111 a scrap, clipt out of the 'deaths' in a paper, f. „ 146
the tundher, an' rain that f, Tomorrow 23
F like a cannonshot, Heavy Brigade 26
When That within the coffin f, F— To Marq. of Dufferin 43 leaf f, and the sun, Pale at my grief, Demeter and P. 113 causer of that scandal, fought and f; The Ring 215
And then the tear f, the voice broke. „ 367 hands F from each other, and were join'd again. „ 381
A noise of falling weights that never f, „ 410 fell'd the foes before you as the woodman f's the wood, Happy 42
F on the shadow, No longer a shadow, Merlin and the G. 92 mountain rolls into the plain, F headlong dead; Death of Œnone 52

Fell'd slew the beast, and f The forest, Com. of Arthur 59
And f him, and set foot upon his breast, Marr. of Geraint 574 hand Which f the foes before you Happy 42

Feller (fellow) I knaw'd a Quaäker f as often 'as N. Farmer, N. S. 19
I liked a bigger f to fight wi' North. Cobbler 100
I calls 'em arter the f's Spinster's S's 4
The f's as maäkes them picturs, Owd Roä 23
An' all along o' the f (Sir Robert Peel) as turn'd „ 48

Fell out We f o, my wife and I, O we f o I know not why, Princess ii 3

Fellow (adj.) Or brag to his f rakes of his conquest Charity 18

Fellow (adj.) (continued) Let be thy wail and help thy f men, Ancient Sage 258

Fellow (s) (See also Feller, Tavern-fellow) if his f spake, His voice was thin, Lotos-Eaters 33
And lowing to his f's. Gardener's D. 88
he, Poor f, could he help it? The Brook 158
That great pock-pitten f had been caught? Aylmer's Field 256 wise To let that handsome f Averill walk „ 269
'This f would make weakness weak, In Mem. xxi 7
This f hath broken from some Abbey, Gareth and L. 456 Think ye this f will poison the King's dish? „ 471 a hart Taller than all his f's, milky-white, Marr. of Geraint 150
And heard one crying to his f, 'Look, Geraint and E. 59
'Your sweet faces make good f's fools „ 399
From all his f's, lived alone, Balin and Balan 126
This f hath wrought some foulness with his Queen: „ 565 would ye look On this proud f again, Lancelot and E. 1065 all was done He flung it among his f's— Rizpah 32
But I gather'd my f's together, V. of Maeldune 2 drew His sword on his f to slay him, „ 68

Fellow-citizen Welcome f-c's, Hollow hearts Vision of Sin 173

Fellow-feeling a very miracle Of f-f and communion. Lover's Tale i 251

Fellow-monk one, a f-m among the rest, Holy Grail 8

Fellowship goodliest f of famous knights M. d'Arthur 15
O Sorrow, cruel f, In Mem. iii 1
Mere f of sluggish moods, „ xxxv 21
To give him the grasp of f; Maud I xiii 16
'God bless the King, and all his f!' Gareth and L. 698
'What doest thou, scullion, in my f? „ 765 so rich a f Would make me wholly blest: Balin and Balan 147 your f O'er these waste downs whereon I lost myself, Lancelot and E. 224
My brethren have been all my f; „ 672
The goodliest f of famous knights Pass. of Arthur 183
They grew aweary of her f: Lover's Tale i 109

Fellow-victim 'Curse him!' curse your f-v? Locksley H., Sixty 9

Fellow-worker In which I might your f-w be, Princess iv 308

Felo-de-se coroner doubtless will find it a f-d-s, Despair 115

Felon (adj.) F talk! Let be! no more!' Balin and Balan 380
'Stay, f knight, I avenge me for my friend.' Gareth and L. 1220

Felon (s) that tall f there Whom thou by sorcery Gareth and L. 996
Else yon black f had not let me pass, „ 1293

Felt (See also Feäld, Feeäld, Feel'd) and I feel as thou hast f? Supp. Confessions 82
She f he was and was not there. Mariana in the S. 50
'To search thro' all I f or saw, Two Voices 139 something f, like something here; „ 382
I pray'd for both, and so I f resign'd, May Queen, Con. 31
She f her heart grow prouder: The Goose 22
F earth as air beneath me, till I reach'd Gardener's D. 212
Dora f her uncle's will in all, Dora 5
I f a pang within As when I see the woodman lift Talking Oak 234 f my blood Glow with the glow Tithonus 55 pulsation that I f before the strife, Locksley Hall 109
And round her waist she f it fold, Day-Dm., Depart. 2
I never f the kiss of love, Sir Galahad 19 touch upon the master-chord Of all I f and feel. Will Water. 28
We f the good ship shake and reel, The Voyage 15
I read and f that I was there: To E. L. 8 life's ascending sun Was f by either, Enoch Arden 39 well had deem'd he f the tale Less „ 711 when he f the silence of his house About him, Aylmer's Field 830 escaped His keepers, and the silence which he f, „ 839
I f My heart beat thick with passion Princess iii 189
f the blind wildbeast of force, „ v 266 you have known the pangs we f, „ 374 tender orphan hands F at my heart, „ 436
I f my veins Stretch with fierce heat; „ 537
I f Thy helpless warmth about my barren breast „ vi 201
f it sound and whole from head to foot, „ 211 and perhaps they f their power, „ Con. 13 fling whate'er we f, not fearing, into words. Third of Feb. 6
she f the heart within her fall and flutter Boädicea 81
I f it, when I sorrow'd most, In Mem. lxxv 2
I f and feel, tho' left alone, „ 42

Felt (continued) transfer The whole I f for him to you. In Mem. lxxv 104 and f The same, but not the same; „ lxxvii 13
I f the thews of Anakim, „ ciii 31
A love of freedom rarely f, „ cix 13
And f thy triumph was as mine; „ cx 14
Stood up and answer'd, 'I have f.' „ cxiv 16
Because he f so fix'd in truth: „ cxv 8
Nor have I f so much of bliss „ Con. 5
f himself in his force to be Nature's crowning race. Maud I iv 33
F a horror over me creep, „ xiv 35
I f she was slowly dying Vext with lawyers „ xix 21
Strange, that I f so gay, „ xx 1
I cleaved to a cause that I f to be pure „ III vi 31
I have f with my native land, „ 58
His love, unseen but f, o'ershadow Thee, Ded. of Idylls 51
F the light of her eyes into his life Com. of Arthur 56 but f him more, Of closest kin to me: Gareth and L. 126
f his young heart hammering in his ears, „ 322
he f, despite his mail, Strangled, „ 1151
I f Thy manhood thro' that wearied lance „ 1265
Lancelot thro' his warm blood f Ice strike, „ 1398
F ye were somewhat, yea, and by your state Marr. of Geraint 430
He f, were she the prize of bodily force, „ 541
I f That I could rest, a rock in ebbs and flows, „ 811
f that tempest brooding round his heart, Geraint and E. 11
f Her low firm voice and tender government. „ 193
f the warm tears falling on his face; „ 586
She f so blunt and stupid at the heart: „ 747
And f him hers again: she did not weep, „ 768
f His work was neither great nor wonderful, „ 920 and he f his being move In music with his order, Balin and Balan 211
He f the hollow-beaten mosses thud „ 321 when their foreheads f the cooling air, „ 589 he lifted faint eyes; he f One near him; „ 594 old man, Tho' doubtful, f the flattery, Merlin and V. 184
I, feeling that you f me worthy trust, „ 334
I f as tho' you knew this cursed charm, „ 435 that I lay And f them slowing ebbing, „ 437 darkling f the sculptured ornament „ 734 Thro' her own side she f the sharp lance go; Lancelot and E. 624
f the knot Climb in her throat, „ 740
And f the boat shock earth, Holy Grail 812 f the sun Beat like a strong knight on his helm, Pelleas and E. 22
she, that f the cold touch on her throat, „ 488 but f his eyes Harder and drier than a fountain bed „ 506 and f the goodly hounds Yelp at his heart, Last Tournament 503
My soul, I f my hatred for my Mark Quicken „ 519
f the King's breath wander o'er her neck, Guinevere 582
f the blast Beat on my heated eyelids: Lover's Tale iii 27
Thrice in a second, f him tremble too, „ iv 324
I f that my heart was hard, First Quarrel 76
An' I f I had been to blame; „ 90
I f I could do it no more. In the Child. Hosp. 60
I f one warm tear fall upon it. Tiresias 167
The child that I f I could die for— The Wreck 36 till I f myself ready to weep „ 51
With the first great love I had f „ 76
Does it matter so much what I f? Despair 4 but f thro' what we feel Ancient Sage 87
F within us as ourselves, the Powers of Good, Locksley H., Sixty 273
I f On a sudden I know not what, The Ring 31 and f An icy breath play on me, „ 130 and f a gentle hand Fall on my forehead, „ 418
I f for what I could not find, the key, „ 440
And sanguine Lazarus f a vacant hand To Mary Boyle 31
I f I could end myself too with the dagger— Bandit's Death 37

Female The stately flower of f fortitude, Isabel 11
A random string Your finer f sense offends. Day-Dm., L'Envoi 2
We sent mine host to purchase f gear; Princess i 199
All beauty compass'd in a f form, „ ii 34
The circle rounded under f hands „ 372 tender ministries Of f hands and hospitality.' „ vi 73 and served With f hands and hospitality.' „ 96 and the swarm Of f whisperers: „ 356 swarms of men Darkening her f field: „ vii 34

Female (continued) manhood fused with f grace
In such a sort, In Mem. cix 17
Which types all Nature's male and f plan, On one who affec. E. M. 3 then a loftier form Than f, Princess iv 216

Fen From the dark f the oxen's low Came Mariana 28
Fly o'er waste f's and windy fields. Sir Galahad 60 raised the school, and drain'd the f. Locksley H., Sixty 268 somewheers i' the Wowd or the F, Church-warden, etc. 47

Fence three horses that have broken f, Princess ii 386
Robins—a niver mended a f: N. Farmer, O. S. 50
Breäk me a bit o' the esh for his 'eäd, lad, out o' the f! „ N. S. 41
An' the f's all on 'em bolster'd oop Owd Roä 32

Fenced (fought) voice with which I f A little ceased, Two Voices 317

Fenced (hedged) I f it round with gallant institutes, Princess v 392

Ferdinand F Hath signed it and our Holy Catholic queen Columbus 29
I pray you tell King F who plays with me, „ 223

Fere And raceth freely with his f, Supp. Confessions 158

Fern (See also Ice-ferns, Lady-fern, Tree-fern) learned names of agaric, moss and f, Edwin Morris 17
Hail, hidden to the knees in f, Talking Oak 29
Oh, hide thy knotted knees in f, „ 93
O muffle round thy knees with f, „ 149
O flourish, hidden deep in f, „ 201
Step deeper yet in herb and f, „ 245
Among the palms and f's and precipices; Enoch Arden 593
And sparkle out among the f, The Brook 25
In copse and f Twinkled the innumerable „ 133
From slope to slope thro' distant f's, Princess, Con. 99 stood a shatter'd archway plumed with f; Marr. of Geraint 316 all round was open space, And f and heath: Pelleas and E. 29
f without Burnt as a living fire of emeralds, „ 34
The deer, the dews, the f, the founts, Last Tournament 727 sparkle of a cloth On f and foxglove. Sisters (E. and E.) 118

Ferreted I have f out their burrowings, Merlin and V. 55

Ferule As boys that slink From f Princess v 38

Fervent With such a f flame of human love, Holy Grail 74

Fescue Sweeping the frothfly from the f Aylmer's Field 530

Festal With music and sweet showers Of f flowers, Ode to Memory 78
On the hall-hearths the f fires, Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 14
With f cheer, With books and music, In Mem. cvii 21 on a f day When Guinevere was crossing Merlin and V. 64
'If I be loved, these are my f robes, Lancelot and E. 909 make her f hour Dark with the blood of man St. Telemachus 79

Fester Eye, to which all order f's, Locksley Hall 133

Festival Two strangers meeting at a f; Circumstance 3 illuminate All your towns for a f, On Jub. Q. Victoria 19

Festoon in many a wild f Ran riot, Œnone 100

Festooning Their humid arms f tree to tree, D. of F. Women 70

Fetch Go f your Alice here,' she said: Miller's D. 143
And down I went to f my bride: „ 145
Go f a pint of port: Will Water. 4
Eh, let me f 'em, Arden,' Enoch Arden 871 the colt would f its price; The Brook 149 with furs And jewels, gifts, to f her: Princess i 43
f the wine, Arrange the board and brim the glass; In Mem. cvii 15
f Fresh victual for these mowers of our Earl; Geraint and E. 224
I will f you forage from all fields, „ 628
Lancelot went ambassador, at first, To f her, Merlin and V. 775
Well, I will wear it: f it out to me: Lancelot and E. 371
Fur 'e'd f an' carry like owt, Owd Roä 6

Fetch'd-Fetcht fetch'd His richest beeswing from a binn Aylmer's Field 404 booöks fetch'd nigh to nowt at the saäle, Village Wife 73
I fetcht 'im a kick an' 'e went. Owd Roä 62

Fettle I could f and clump owd booöts North. Cobbler 13

Feud Rose f, with question unto whom 'twere due: Love thou thy land 77
New and Old, disastrous f, Sea Dreams 49 how they mar this little by their f's. Princess iii 77
'How grew this f betwixt the right and left.' „ Con. 23
Then rose a little f betwixt the two, In Mem. Ixxxii 1
I wage not any f with Death „ cvi 11
Ring out the f of rich and poor, Maud I xix 31
And ever mourning over the f, Guinevere 18 splinter it into f's Serving his traitorous end;

Feud (continued) counter-yells of f And faction, To Duke of Argyll 8
Before the f of Gods had marr'd our peace, Death of Œnone 32
Feudal above their heads I saw The f warrior lady-clad; Princess, Pro. 119
A f knight in silken masquerade, „ 234
And tuft with grass a f tower; In Mem. cxxviii 20
Fever till at last a f seized On William, Dora 54
In hungers and in thirsts, f's and cold, St. S. Stylites 12 some low f ranging round to spy The weakness Aylmer's Field 569 mix the foaming draught Of f, Princess ii 252 fan my brows and blow The f from my cheek, In Mem. lxxxvi 9
There f seized upon him: Lover's Tale iv 132 there from f and my care of him Sprang up „ 143
we talkt o' my darter es died o' the f at fall: Village Wife 10
f 'ed baäked Jinny's 'eäd as bald as one o' them heggs, „ 102 Cholera, scurvy, and f, Def. of Lucknow 84 f's, fights, Mutinies, treacheries— Columbus 225 summer days' of f, and want of care! The Wreck 147 fire of f creeps across the rotted floor, Locksley H., Sixty 223 born of f, or the fumes Of that dark opiate dose Romney's R. 30
She died of a f caught when a nurse Charity 41
Fever'd so hot, So f! never colt would more delight Romney's R. 13
Upon my f brows that shook and throbb'd Lover's Tale iii 7 Feverous (See also Brain-feverous) A tongue-tied Poet in the f days, Golden Year 10 who slept After a night of f wakefulness, Enoch Arden 231 or laid his f pillow smooth! Aylmer's Field 701 Fever-worn When, pale as yet, and f-w, To the Queen ii 4
Few (adj.) Sharp and f, but seeming-bitter Rosalind 31
'I found him when my years were f; Two Voices 271
Who spoke f words and pithy, Princess, Con. 94
For those are f we hold as dear; To F. D. Maurice 46
While another is cheating the sick of a f last gasps, Maud I i 43
f, F, but all brave, all of one mind with him; Com. of Arthur 254 so f words, and seem'd So justified Geraint and E. 395
That has but one plain passage of f notes, Lancelot and E. 895
Thanks to the kindly dark faces who fought with us, faithful and f, Def. of Lucknow 70 these f lanes of elm And whispering oak. To Mary Boyle 67 some f drops of that distressful rain Fell on my face, Lover's Tale i 698 Few (s) Clash'd with his fiery f and won; Ode on Well. 100 that honest f, Who give the Fiend To F. D. Maurice 5
F at first will place thee well; Poets and Critics 10 Fewer we were every day f and f. Def. of Lucknow 49 albeit their glorious names Were f, Princess ii 156
Fewmet But at the slot or f's of a deer, Last Tournament 371 Feyther (father) Them or thir f's, tha sees, N. Farmer, N. S. 49
F 'ad ammost nowt; „ 51
F run oop to the farm, „ 54
Coom! coom! f,' 'e says, Village Wife 69
Sa f an' son was buried togither, „ 90
F 'ud saäy I wur ugly es sin, Spinster's S's. 15
Fur if iver thy f 'ed riled me Church-Warden, etc. 41
Fiat This f somewhat soothed himself Aylmer's Field 26
Fibre Thy f's net the dreamless head, In Mem. ii 3 Fibred See Hairy-fibred
Fibrous pale and f as a wither'd leaf, Lover's Tale i 422
Fickle 'You're too slight and f,' I said, Edward Gray 19 bright and fierce and f is the South, Princess iv 97
Whatever f tongues may say. In Mem. xxvi 4
'Rapt from the f and the frail „ xxx 25 so f are men—the best! The Ring 392
Fictive Who dabbling in the fount of f tears, The Brook 93
Fiddle And ta'en my f to the gate, (repeat) Amphion 11, 15
Twang out, my f! shake the twigs! „ 61 wa 'greed as well as a f i' tune: North. Cobbler 12
Fiddled And f in the timber! Amphion 16
Fie she lifted either arm, 'F on thee, King! Gareth and L. 658
Field (adj.) (See also Field-flower) like the arrow-seeds of the f flower, The Poet 19
Field (s) (See also Autumn-fields, Battle-field, Feäld, Field-of-battle, Four-field, Harvest-field, War-field, Winter-field) the high f on the bushless Pike, Ode to Memory 96
Whither away from the high green f, Sea-Fairies 8
f and wood Grow green beneath the showery gray, My life is full 16 her sacred blood doth drown The f's, Poland 5

Field (s) (continued) Long f's of barley and of rye, L. of Shalott i 2
And thro' the f the road runs by „ 4
That sparkled on the yellow f, „ iii 8
The willowy hills and f's among, „ iv 25 thy father play'd In his free f, Two Voices 320
And forth into the f's I went, „ 448 see me more in the long gray f's at night; May Queen, N. Y's. E. 26 in the f's all round I hear the bleating of the lamb. „ Con. 2
He shines upon a hundred f's, „ 50
Weary the wandering f's of barren foam. Lotos-Eaters 42 in fair f Myself for such a face had boldly died,' D. of F. Women 97
Then stept she down thro' town and f Of old sat Freedom 9
And bore him to a chapel nigh the f, M. d'Arthur 8
The f's between Are dewy-fresh, Gardener's D. 45 Leaning his horns into the neighbour f, „ 87 hired himself to work within the f's; Dora 38 Far off the farmer came into the f „ 74 when the farmer pass'd into the f „ 85
the boy's cry came to her from the f, „ 104
And scarce can recognise the f's I know; St. S. Stylites 40
To yonder oak within the f I spoke Talking Oak 13
Beyond the fair green f and eastern sea. Love and Duty 101 Man comes and tills the f and lies beneath, Tithonus 3 the steam Floats up from those dim f's „ 69 a boy when first he leaves his father's f, Locksley Hall 112 white-flower'd elder-thicket from the f Godiva 63
Fly o'er waste fens and windy f's. Sir Galahad 60
The houseless ocean's heaving f, The Voyage 30
And pace the sacred old familiar f's, Enoch Arden 625
I fret By many a f and fallow, The Brook 44 all about the f's you caught His weary daylong chirping, „ 52 Sunning himself in a waste f alone— Aylmer's Field 9 became in other f's A mockery to the yeomen „ 496
Fairer than Ruth among the f's of corn, „ 680
That all neglected places of the f „ 693 Follows the mouse, and all is open f. „ 853 woman heard his foot Return from pacings in the f, Lucretius 6 makes Thy glory fly along the Italian f, „ 71 answer'd in her sleep From hollow f's: Princess, Pro. 67 when a f of corn Bows all its ears „ i 236
First in the f: some ages had been lost; „ ii 153 for indeed these f's Are lovely, „ iii 341
They faint on hill or f or river: „ iv 14 waive your claim: If not, the foughten f, „ v 297 ran the f Flat to the garden-wall: „ 361
Man for the f and woman for the hearth: „ 447
Thro' open f into the lists they wound Timorously; „ vi 84 swarms of men Darkening her female f: „ vii 34 after that dark night among the f's „ 73
'The f's are fair beside them, Voice and the P. 17
The f, the chamber and the street, In Mem. viii 11 beast that takes His license in the f of time, „ xxvii 6
And loiter'd in the master's f, „ xxxvii 23
My paths are in the f's I know, „ xl 31
The howlings from forgotten f's; „ xli 16
And those five years its richest f. „ xlvi 12
A bounded f, nor stretching far; „ 14
And hill and wood and f did print „ lxxix 7 trees Laid their dark arms about the f. (repeat) „ xcv 16, 52 set To leave the pleasant f's and farms; „ cii 22
Its lips in the f above are dabbled Maud I i 2
Go not, happy day, From the shining f's, „ xvii 2
Came night and day, and rooted in the f's, Com. of Arthur 24
Sware on the f of death a deathless love. „ 132 from the foughten f he sent Ulfius, „ 135
F after f, up to a height, the peak Haze-hidden, „ 429 Far shone the f's of May thro' open door, „ 460 mount That rose between the forest and the f. Gareth and L. 191 gate shone Only, that open'd on the f below: „ 195 abide Without, among the cattle of the f. „ 274
Uther, reft From my dead lord a f with violence: „ 335
Yet, for the f was pleasant in our eyes, „ 337 reft us of it Perforce, and left us neither gold nor f.' „ 339
'Whether would ye? gold or f?' „ 340

Field (s) (continued) The f was pleasant in my husband's eye.' And Arthur, 'Have thy pleasant f again, Gareth and L. 342 shone far-off as shines A f of charlock " 388 paused without, beside The f of tourney, " 664
But by the f of tourney lingering yet " 736 Silent the silent f They traversed. " 1313 pitch'd Beside the Castle Perilous on flat f, " 1363 what knight soever be in f Lays claim Marr. of Geraint 486 Geraint Beheld her first in f, awaiting him, " 540
For these are his, and all the f is his, Geraint and E. 226
I will fetch you forage from all f's, " 628
Are scatter'd,' and he pointed to the f, " 802
One from the bandit scatter'd in the f, " 818
My mother on his corpse in open f; (repeat) Merlin and V. 43, 73 in the f were Lancelot's kith and kin, Lancelot and E. 466 spoke, and vanish'd suddenly from the f " 508
So that he went sore wounded from the f: " 600 crown'd with gold, Ramp in the f, " 664
For pleasure all about a f of flowers: " 793
Then rose Elaine and glided thro' the f's, " 843 past Down thro' the dim rich city to the f's, " 847
And drave her ere her time across the f's " 890 Death, like a friend's voice from a distant f " 999 Past like a shadow thro' the f, " 1140 flame At sunrise till the people in far f's, Holy Grail 243 in one full f Of gracious pastime, " 323 where it smote the plowshare in the f, " 403
But found a silk pavilion in a f, " 745
And whipt me into the waste f's far away; " 788
I stinted stroke in foughten f? " 860
Who may not wander from the allotted f " 908 and the sweet smell of the f's Past, Pelleas and E. 5 the flat f by the shore of Usk Holden: " 164 all day long Sir Pelleas kept the f With honour: " 168 And he was left alone in open f. " 208 flung His rider, who call'd out from the dark f, " 575 Caught his unbroken limbs from the dark f, " 585 in among the faded f's To furthest towers; Last Tournament 53
Enchair'd tomorrow, arbitrate the f; " 104
With all the kindlier colours of the f.' " 224
'Free love—free f—we love (repeat) " 275, 281 Showing a shower of blood in a f noir, " 433
she thought 'He spies a f of death; Guinevere 134
I mark'd Him in the flowering of His f's, Pass. of Arthur 10 and the harmless glamour of the f; " 52 the pale King glanced across the f Of battle: " 126
Had held the f of battle was the King: " 138
And bore him to a chapel nigh the f. " 176
For I heard it abroad in the f's First Quarrel 32 Hard was the frost in the f, " 39 what joy can be got from a cowslip out of the f; In the Child. Hosp. 36 breezes of May blowing over an English f, Def. of Lucknow 83 ears for Christ in this wild f of Wales— Sir J. Oldcastle 13 a crowd Throng'd the waste f about the city gates: " 40 and the harvest died from the f, V. of Maeldune 30 Silent palaces, quiet f's of eternal sleep! " 80
By quiet f's, a slowly-dying power, De Prof., Two G. 24 the f with blood of the fighters Flow'd, Batt. of Brunanburh 24 hear the voices from the f. Locksley H., Sixty 116 cow shall butt the 'Lion passant' from his f. " 248 out of the f, And over the brow and away. Heavy Brigade 63 a careless people flock'd from the f's Dead Prophet 7 Produce of your f and flood, Open. I. and C. Exhib. 5 in this pleasant vale we stand again, The f of Enna, Demeter and P. 35 Blessing his f, or seated in the dusk Of even, " 125 glide Along the silent f of Asphodel. " 153 mine the hall, the farm, the f; The Ring 169
She comes on waste and wood, On farm and f: Prog. of Spring 23 and I gaze at a f in the Past, By an Evolution. 17
WHAT sight so lured him thro' the f's Far-far-away 1 waste and f and town of alien tongue, St. Telemachus 30
I reap No revenue from the f of unbelief. Akbar's Dream 67
And laughs upon thy f as well as mine, " 106
Nor in the f without were seen or heard " 195
And plow the Present like a f, Mechanophilus 31

Field-flower (See also Field (adj.)) would they grew Like f-f's everywhere! Princess iii 252
Field-of-battle Arthur reach'd a f-o-b Com. of Arthur 96 Fiend Who give the F himself his due, To F. D. Maurice 6 the f best knows whether woman or man Maud I i 75 when he died, his soul Became a F, Balin and Balan 129 hold them outer f's, Who leap at thee to tear thee; " 141 but in him His mood was often like a f, Lancelot and E. 251 drawn his claws athwart thy face? or f? Last Tournament 63
In fuming sulphur blue and green, a f— " 617 like so many f's in their hell— Def. of Lucknow 33
we have sent them very f's from Hell; Columbus 184
The F would yell, the grave would yawn, The Flight 51
the night, While the F is prowling. Forlorn 66
Fierce Kate loves well the bold and f; Kate 29
My heart, pierced thro' with f delight, Fatima 34
Twisted hard in f embraces, Vision of Sin 40
f old man Follow'd, and under his own lintel Aylmer's Field 330
Methought I never saw so f a fork— Lucretius 28
I urged the f inscription on the gate, Princess iii 141
That bright and f and fickle is the South, " iv 97 a tide of f Invective seem'd to wait " 471
He yielded, wroth and red, with f demur: " v 358
I felt my veins Stretch with f heat; " 538 half the wolf's-milk curdled in their veins, The f triumvirs; " vii 131
He heard a f mermaiden cry, Sailor Boy 6
Mad and maddening all that heard her in her f volubility, Boädicea 4 Yell'd and shriek'd between her daughters in her f volubility. " 72
f extremes employ Thy spirits in the darkening leaf, In Mem. lxxviii 5
Till I with as f an anger spoke, Maud II i 17
In that f light which beats upon a throne, Ded. of Idylls 27
Her own brood lost or dead, lent her f teat Com. of Arthur 28
the lords Of that f day were as the lords of this, " 216
When I was kitchen-knave among the rest F was the hearth, Gareth and L. 1010 flash'd the f shield, All sun; " 1030
When I that knew him f and turbulent Refused her Marr. of Geraint 447
Thy too f manhood would not let thee lie. Balin and Balan 74
In those f wars, struck hard— " 177
Nor ever touch'd f wine, nor tasted flesh, Merlin and V. 627
'He learnt and warn'd me of their f design Lancelot and E. 274
So f a gale made havoc here of late Holy Grail 729
Let the f east scream thro' your eyelet-holes, Pelleas and E. 469
But Pelleas lifted up an eye so f She quail'd; " 601 wrath which forced my thoughts on that f law, Guinevere 537
And f or careless looseners of the faith, To the Queen ii 52
Hued with the scarlet of a f sunrise, Lover's Tale i 353
F in the strength of far descent, " 382 Plunged in the last f charge at Waterloo, Sisters (E. and E.) 64
he, the f Soldan of Egypt, Columbus 97
HAD the f ashes of some fiery peak Been hurl'd St. Telemachus 1 Blown by the f beleaguerers of a town, Achilles over the T. 20 because the f beast found A wiser than herself, Tiresias 151
By changes all too f and fast Freedom 22
Fierceness With such a f that I swoon'd Holy Grail 845
Fierier F and stormier from restraining, Balin and Balan 229
Fieriest But spurr'd at heart with f energy To J. M. K. 7 Fiery for f thoughts Do shape themselves within me, Œnone 246 roaring deeps and f sands, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 115
To make my blood run quicker, Used all her f will, Will Water. 111 cloud Cuts off the f highway of the sun, Enoch Arden 130 chance-met eyes Flash into f life from nothing, Aylmer's Field 130
Or down the f gulf as talk of it, Princess iii 287
And as the f Sirius alters hue, " v 262 shower the f grain Of freedom broadcast " 421
And into f splinters leapt the lance, " 494 Leapt f Passion from the brinks of death; " vii 156
Clash'd with his f few and won; Ode on Well. 100
Not sting the f Frenchman into war. Third of Feb. 4 Deep tulips dash'd with f dew, In Mem. lxxviii 11 here and there A f finger on the leaves; " xcix 12 which outran The hearer in its f course; " cix 8

Fiery (continued) all at f speed the two Shock'd on the central bridge, Gareth and L. 962
Sir Balin with a f 'Ha! Balin and Balan 393
But follow Vivien thro' the f flood! „ 454
A f family passion for the name Of Lancelot, Lancelot and E. 477
All in a f dawning wild with wind „ 1020
I saw the f face as of a child Holy Grail 466
For every f prophet in old times, „ 876
Shading his eyes till all the f cloud, Lover's Tale i 306
Like to a low-hung and a f sky „ ii 61
Brother-in-law—the f nearness of it— Sisters (E. and E.) 173
A f scroll written over with lamentation and woe. Despair 20
To vex the noon with f gems, Ancient Sage 265 and Suns along their f way, Locksley H., Sixty 203
While squirrels from our f beech Were bearing off the mast, Pro. to Gen. Hamley 3
Three that were next in their f course, Heavy Brigade 21 lighted from below By the red race of f Phlegethon; Demeter and P. 28
'A f phœnix rising from the smoke, The Ring 339
And you spurr'd your f horse, Happy 76 would wallow in f riot and revel On Kilauëā, Kapiolani 8 Quail not at the f mountain, Faith 3 and your f clash of meteorites? God and the Univ. 3 Fiery-hot f-h to burst All barriers In Mem. cxiv 13
Fiery-new yet unkept, Had relish f-n, Will Water. 98
Fiery-short f-s was Cyril's counter-scoff, Princess v 307
Fife The murmurs of the drum and f Talking Oak 215 merrily-blowing shrill'd the martial f; Princess v 251
March with banner and bugle and f Maud I v 10
Fifteen I ha' work'd for him f years, First Quarrel 7 and for f days or for twenty at most. Def. of Lucknow 9
'Hold it for f days!' „ 105 and his winters were f score, V. of Maeldune 116 beän chuch-warden mysen i' the parish fur f year. Church-warden, etc. 8 mountain-like San Philip that, of f hundred tons, The Revenge 40
Fifth To slant the f autumnal slope, In Mem. xxii 10
Your f September birthday. The Ring 423
Our Playwright may show In some f Act. The Play 4
Fifty Better f years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay. Locksley Hall 184
Seam'd with the shallow cares of f years: Aylmer's Field 814
Her that talk'd down the f wisest men; Princess v 294 finding that of f seeds She often brings In Mem. lv 11 these have clothed their branchy bowers With f Mays, „ lxxvi 14
And f knights rode with them, Marr. of Geraint 44
Was wont to glance and sparkle like a gem Of f facets; Geraint and E. 295
f knights rode with them to the shores Of Severn, „ 954
I have not broken bread for f hours. Sir J. Oldcastle 199
F times the rose has flower'd and faded, F times the golden harvest fallen, On Jub. Q. Victoria 1
Henry's f years are all in shadow, Gray with distance Edward's f summers, „ 39
F years of ever-broadening Commerce! F years of ever-brightening Science! F years of ever-widening Empire! „ 52
Rose, on this terrace f years ago, Roses on the T. 1
That blush of f years ago, my dear, „ 5 on our terrace here Glows in the blue of f miles away. „ 8
Ah, what shall I be at f Maud I vi 31
Fifty-fold 'My lord, you overpay me f-f.' Geraint and E. 220
Fifty-three We are six ships of the line; can we fight with f-t?' The Revenge 7
Fig F's out of thistles, silk from bristles, Last Tournament 356 the f ran up from the beach and rioted over the land, V. of Maeldune 58
Are f's of thistles? or grapes of thorns? Rifleman form! 10
Fight (s) Ere I rode into the f, Oriana 21
Laid by the tumult of the f. Margaret 26 pierce The blackest files of clanging f, Kate 26
Clanging f's, and flaming towns, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 116
He got it; for their captain after f, Aylmer's Field 226
Sun-shaded in the heat of dusty f's Princess ii 241
some grand f to kill and make and end: „ iv 591
And what she did to Cyrus after f, „ v 366

Fight (s) (continued) something real, A gallant f, a noble princess— Princess, Con. 19
He that gain'd a hundred f's, Ode on Well. 96
For each had warded either in the f, Com. of Arthur 131
So that I be not fall'n in f. Marr. of Geraint 223
My lord is weary with the f before, Geraint and E. 133 pleased To find him yet unwounded after f, „ 371
I, myself, when flush'd with f, „ 660 free to stretch his limbs in lawful f, „ 754 having been With Arthur in the f Lancelot and E. 287 hear the manner of thy f and fall; Pelleas and E. 347
Nor ever yet had Arthur fought a f Like this Pass. of Arthur 93 chance and craft and strength in single f's, „ 106
But never a moment ceased the f The Revenge 57 fought such a f for a day and a night „ 83 fevers, f's, Mutinies, treacheries— Columbus 225 Each was as brave in the f V. of Maeldune 5 red with blood the Crescent reels from f Montenegro 6 some in f against the foe, Locksley H., Sixty 45 the charge, and the might of the f! Heavy Brigade 13
Who were held for a while from the f, „ 36 for he fought Thy f for Thee, Happy 15 Struck by a poison'd arrow in the f, Death of Œnone 26
The gladiators moving toward their f, St. Telemachus 54
Ralph went down like a fire to the f The Tourney 3 Fight (verb) She saw me f, she heard me call, Oriana 32 who would f and march and countermarch, Audley Court 40 brother, where two f The strongest wins, Aylmer's Field 364 one Should come to f with shadows and to fall. Princess i 10
Nor would I f with iron laws, „ iv 75
I prove Your knight, and f your battle, „ 595
'F' she said, 'And make us all we would be, „ 598 make yourself a man to f with men. „ v 35
I was pledged To f in tourney for my bride, „ 353 what mother's blood You draw from, f; „ 405
F and f well strike and strike home. „ 409 one should f with shadows and should fall; „ 476
she sees me f, Yea, let her see me fall! „ 516
I would sooner f thrice o'er than see it.' „ vi 226 king is scared, the soldier will not f, „ Con. 60 a lie which is part a truth is a harder matter to f. Grandmother 32 Glory of Virtue, to f, to struggle, Wages 3
She cannot f the fear of death. In Mem. cxiv 10 teach true life to f with mortal wrongs. Maud I xviii 54
It is better to f for the good than to rail „ III vi 57
we that f for our fair father Christ, Com. of Arthur 510 Hereafter I will f.' Gareth and L. 447 the cur Pluckt from the cur he f's with, „ 702
F, an thou canst: I have missed the only way.' „ 792
To f the brotherhood of Day and Night— „ 857
Far liefer had I f a score of times „ 944
Fair words were best for him who f's for thee; „ 946
Such f not I, but answer scorn with scorn. „ 953 nor meet To f for gentle damsel, „ 1177 thou goest, he will f thee first; „ 1295 yield him this again: 'tis he must f: „ 1321
Said Gareth laughing, 'An he f for this, „ 1345 will I f him, and will break his pride, Marr. of Geraint 221 arms, arms to f my enemy? „ 282
And f and break his pride, and have it of him. „ 416 this nephew, f In next day's tourney „ 475 thou, that hast no lady, canst not f.' „ 493
I will not f my way with gilded arms, Geraint and E. 21 he will f for me, And win the circlet: Pelleas and E. 118 look at mine! but wilt thou f for me, „ 127
'F therefore,' yell'd the youth, „ 572
The king who f's his people f's himself. Pass. of Arthur 72
I liked a bigger feller to f wi' North. Cobbler 100 can we f with fifty-three? The Revenge 7 fly them for a moment to f with them again. „ 9 only a hundred seamen to work the ship and to f, „ 22
'Shall we f or shall we fly? „ 25
For to f is but to die! „ 27 many were shatter'd, and so could f us no more— „ 61
he said 'F on! f on! (repeat) „ 63, 69

Fight (verb) (continued) We shall live to f again and to strike another blow.' The Revenge 95
We can f! But to be soldier all day Def. of Lucknow 73 shall we f her? shall we yield? Locksley H., Sixty 115 he needs must f To make true peace his own, Epilogue 26
'e'd f wi' a will when 'e fowt; Owd Roä 7
Ralph would f in Edith's sight, The Tourney 1
Fighter rustiest iron of old f's' hearts; Merlin and V. 574
With her hundred f's on deck, The Revenge 34 the field with blood of the f's Flow'd, Batt. of Brunanburh 24 a flight of shadowy f's crost The disk, St. Telemachus 23 Fighting 'No f shadows here! Princess iii 125
Yet it seem'd a dream, I dream'd Of f. " v 493 ere his cause Be cool'd by f, Gareth and L. 703
In the great battle f for the King. Marr. of Geraint 596
In battle, f for the blameless King. Geraint and E. 970
All f for a woman on the sea. Merlin and V. 562 send her delegate to thrall These f hands of mine— Pelleas and E. 337
Figtree wild f split Their monstrous idols, Princess iv 79
Figure Faint as a f seen in early dawn Enoch Arden 357
Some f like a wizard pentagram The Brook 103
Tall as a f lengthen'd on the sand Princess vi 161 for so long a space Stared at the f's, Gareth and L. 232 comb wherein Were slabs of rock with f's, " 1194 beneath five f's, armed men, " 1205 carven with strange f's; and in out The f's, Holy Grail 169
So the sweet f folded round with night Lover's Tale iv 219
Figured bears a skeleton f on his arms, Gareth and L. 640
In many a f leaf enrolls The total world In Mem. xliii 11
Figure-head full-busted f-h Stared o'er the ripple Enoch Arden 543
Filament Seems but a cobweb f to link Lover's Tale i 376
Had seem'd a gossamer f up in air, " 413
File The blackest f's of clanging fight, Kate 26 in the foremost f's of time— Locksley Hall 178
Filed grated down and f away with thought, Merlin and V. 623
Filial wars, and f faith, and Dido's pyre; To Virgil 4 f eyes Have seen the loneliness of earthly thrones, Prin. Beatrice 13 Fill (verb) or f's The horned valleys all about, Supp. Confessions 151 f the sea-halls with a voice of power; The Merman 10
Yet f my glass: give me one kiss: Miller's D. 17 bursts that f The spacious times of great Elizabeth D. of F. Women 6
And tho' mine own eyes f with dew, To J. S. 37
F's out the homely quickset-screens, On a Mourner 6
Should f and choke with golden sand— You ask me, why 24
A thought would f my eyes with happy dew; Gardener's D. 197 those tremulous eyes that f with tears To hear me? Tithonus 26 Saw the heavens f with commerce, Locksley Hall 121 Heard the heavens f with shouting, " 123
'F the cup, and f the can: (repeat) Vision of Sin 95, 119, 203
'F the can, and f the cup: (repeat) " 131, 167
Musing on him that used to f it for her, Enoch Arden 208 from all the provinces, And f the hive.' Princess ii 98 sport half-science, f me with a faith, " Con. 76
There twice a day the Severn f's; In Mem. xix 5 prosperous labour f's The lips of men " lxxxiv 25 so f up the gap where force might fail Gareth and L. 1352 Bala lake F's all the sacred Dee. Geraint and E. 930 in this heathen war the fire of God F's him: Lancelot and E. 316 King Arthur made new knights to f the gap Pelleas and E. 1 and f's The flower with dew; Early Spring 45 felt a vacant hand F with his purse. To Mary Boyle 32
F out the spaces by the barren tiles. Prog. of Spring 43
The kingcup f's her footprint, 59
f the hollows between wave and wave; Akbar's Dream 161
Fill (s) weep my f once more, and cry myself to rest! The Flight 6
Fill'd the ground Shall be f with life anew. Nothing will Die 29
The right ear, that is f with dust, Two Voices 116
The woods were f so full with song, " 455
And f the breast with purer breath. Miller's D. 92 and f with light The interval of sound. D. of F. Women 171
And f the house with clamour. The Goose 36
F I was with folly and spite, Edward Gray 15
They are f with idle spleen; Vision of Sin 124 and f the shores With clamour. Enoch Arden 635 when their casks were f they took aboard: " 646 Fill'd (continued) drank The magic cup that f itself anew. Aylmer's Field 143 entering f the house with sudden light. " 682
F thro' and thro' with Love, a happy sleep. Princess vii 172
When f with tears that cannot fall, In Mem. xix 11
The streets were f with joyful sound, " xxxi 10
f a horn with wine and held it to her,) Geraint and E. 659
F all the genial courses of his blood " 927 Sprang to her face and f her with delight; Lancelot and E. 377 great tower f with eyes Up to the summit, Pelleas and E. 166 Till the sweet heavens have f it " 510 Ascending, f his double-dragon'd chair. Last Tournament 144 and the ways Were f with rapine, Guinevere 458 larks F all the March of life!— Lover's Tale i 284 openings in the mountains f With the blue valley " 330
F all with pure clear fire, " ii 146
Fillest thou, that f all the room Of all my love, In Mem. cxii 5 Filling F with light And vagrant melodies The Poet 16
Fillip'd f at the diamond in her ear; Godiva 25
Film with a grosser f made thick These heavy, horny eyes. St. S. Stylites 200
Filmed Floats from his sick and f eyes, Supp. Confessions 166
Filmy wheel'd or lit the f shapes That haunt the dusk, In Mem. xcv 10
Filter'd The f tribute of the rough woodland, Ode to Memory 63
Filth shown the truth betimes, That old true f, Merlin and V. 47 poach'd f that floods the middle street, " 798 insult, f, and monstrous blasphemies, Pass. of Arthur 114 fairest flesh at last is f on which the worm will feast; Happy 30 women shrieking 'Atheist' flung F from the roof, Akbar's Dream 92 Filthy In f sloughs they roll a prurient skin, Palace of Art 201
He believed This f marriage-hindering Mammon Aylmer's Field 374 monster lays His vast and f hands upon my will, Lucretius 220 Till the f by-lane rings to the yell of the trampled wife, Maud I i 38 to outlearn the f friar. Sir J. Oldcastle 118 all that is f with all that is fair? Vastness 32
Fin winks the gold f in the porphyry font: Princess vii 178
There is not left the twinkle of a f Geraint and E. 474
Finance poring over his Tables of Trade and F; The Wreck 26
Final we trust that somehow good Will be the f goal of ill, In Mem. liv 2 trusted God was love indeed And love Creation's f law— " lvi 14 Find She cannot f a fitting mate. Kate 31 for a moment blest To f my heart so near The form, the form 7
Could f no statelier than his peers Two Voices 29 And seem to f, but still to seek. " 96 but to seem to f Asks what thou lackest, " 97 Named man, may hope some truth to f, " 176
I shall not fail to f her now. " 191 seeking to undo One riddle, and to f the true, " 233 Wilt thou f passion, pain or pride? " 243
'We f no motion in the dead.' " 279
In Nature can he nowhere f. " 293 Could his dark wisdom f it out, " 308
'As here we f in trances, men Forget the dream " 352
With blessings which no words can f. " Miller's D. 238
So shalt thou f me fairest. Œnone 155
Some meeker pupil you must f, L. C. V. de Vere 18 f my garden-tools upon the granary floor: May Queen, N. Y's. E. 45 it can't be long before I f release; " Con. 11
But they smile, they f a music centred Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 117
To strive, to seek, to f, and not to yield. Ulysses 70 till he f The quiet chamber far apart. Day-Dm., Arrival 27
And if you f no moral there, " Moral 2
In bud, or blade, or bloom, may f, " 10 f's a closer truth than this All-graceful head, " L'Envoi 37
And, if you f a meaning there, " Ep. 2 on lonely mountain-meres I f a magic bark; " Sir Galahad 38 Until I f the holy Grail. " 84
f the precious morning hours were lost. Enoch Arden 302 Suddenly set it wide to f a sign, " 496 you f That you meant nothing— Aylmer's Field 312 should I f you by my doors again, " 324
And being used to f her pastor texts, " 606
To f a deeper in the narrow gloom " 840 and f A sort of absolution in the sound Sea Dreams 60
I should f he meant me well; " 153

Find (continued) to f Their wildest wailings never out of tune Sea Dreams 230 beastlike as I f myself, Not manlike end myself?— Lucretius 231
Who fail to f thee, being as thou art ,, 268
Whate'er my grief to f her less than fame, Princess i 73
But chafing me on fire to f my bride) ,, 166
As yet we f in barbarous isles, ,, ii 122
'But you will f it otherwise' she said. ,, 200
Less welcome f among us, if you came ,, 354
I f you here but in the second place, ,, iii 157
we should f the land Worth seeing; ,, 171
I go to mine own land For ever: f some other: ,, vi 217 come thou down And f him; ,, vii 200 f him dropt upon the firths of ice, ,, 206 dance thee down To f him in the valley; ,, 210
He shall f the stubborn thistle bursting Ode on Well. 206
Shall f the toppling crags of Duty scaled ,, 215
I f myself often laughing at things Grandmother 92
For it's easy to f a rhyme. (repeat) Window, Ay 6, 12 and there I f him worthier to be loved. In Mem., Pro. 40
And f in loss a gain to match? ,, i 6
And glad to f thyself so fair, ,, vi 27
So f I every pleasant spot In which we two ,, viii 9 may f A flower beat with rain and wind, ,, 14
Treasuring the look it cannot f, ,, xviii 19
'to f Another service such as this.' ,, xx 7
Then might I f, ere yet the morn Breaks ,, xxvi 13
And f's 'I am not what I see, ,, xlv 7
She f's the baseness of her lot, ,, lx 6 fancies play To f me gay among the gay, ,, lxvi 3
I f a trouble in thine eye, ,, lxviii 10
A man upon a stall may f, ,, lxxvii 9
I f An image comforting the mind, ,, lxxxv 50
They would but f in child and wife ,, xc 7
I f not yet one lonely thought ,, 23
To f a stronger faith his own; ,, xcvi 17
He f's on misty mountain-ground ,, xcvii 2
I f no place that does not breathe ,, c 3
What f I in the highest place, ,, cviii 9
And f his comfort in thy face; ,, cix 20
God grant I may f it at last! Maud I ii 1
A glory I shall not f. ,, v 22
If I f the world so bitter When I am but twenty-five? ,, vi 33
blush'd To f they were met by my own; ,, viii 7
And so that he f what he went to seek, ,, xvi 3
I f whenever she touch'd on me ,, xix 59
But come to her waking, f her asleep, ,, II ii 81
To f the arms of my true love Round me ,, iv 3 we look at him, And f nor face nor bearing, Com. of Arthur 71 all in fear to f Sir Gawain or Sir Modred, Gareth and L. 325 thou wilt f My fortunes all as fair ,, 902
'Follow the faces, and we f it. ,, 1210 and all as glad to f thee whole, ,, 1239
Seek, till we f.' ,, 1279
'Full merry am I to f my goodly knave ,, 1291
To f, at some place I shall come at, Marr. of Geraint 219
I rode, and thought to f Arms in your town, ,, 417 how can Enid f A nobler friend? ,, 792 pleased To f him yet unwounded after fight, Geraint and E. 371
With eyes to f you out however far, ,, 428
And f that it had been the wolf's indeed: ,, 864 sit, Until they f a lustier than themselves.' Balin and Balan 19
And f's himself descended from the Saint ,, 101 glad, Knightlike, to f his charger yet unlamed, ,, 428
And none could f that man for evermore, Merlin and V. 211 for still I f Your face is practised ,, 366 hide it, hide it; I shall f it out; ,, 528
To f a wizard who might teach the King ,, 583 but did they f A wizard? Tell me, was he like to thee? ,, 612
To dig, pick, open, f and read the charm: ,, 660
And in the comment did I f the charm. ,, 683 that if they f Some stain or blemish ,, 831 vile term of yours, I f with grief! ,, 922 listen to me, If I must f your wit: Lancelot and E. 148 Find (continued) thro' all hindrance f's the man Behind it, Lancelot and E. 333
O Gawain, and ride forth and f the knight. ,, 537 cease not from your quest until ye f.' ,, 548 he bore the prize and could not f The victor, ,, 629
fail'd to f him, tho' I rode all round ,, 709
'and f out our dear Lavaine.' ,, 754
I needs must hence And f that other, ,, 759
Until I f the palace of the King. ,, 1051
Where Arthur f's the brand Excalibur. Holy Grail 253
if I f the Holy Grail itself And touch it, ,, 438 Only I f not there this Holy Grail, ,, 542 the pity To f thine own first love once more— ,, 620 to f Caerleon and the King, Pelleas and E. 21 a merry one To f his mettle, good: ,, 199
f a nest and feels a snake, he drew: ,, 437
I have flung thee pearls and f thee swine.' Last Tournament 310
He f thy favour changed and love thee not'— ,, 500
O let us in, that we may f the light! Guinevere 175
And weighing f them less; ,, 192 and could he f A woman in her womanhood ,, 298
sigh'd to f Her journey done, ,, 404
But in His ways with men I f Him not. Pass. of Arthur 11 and f or feel a way Thro' this blind haze, ,, 75
You cannot f their depth; for they go back, Lover's Tale i 80
I almost dread to f her, dumb!' ,, iv 339
'You promised to f me work near you, First Quarrel 52 and I shall not f him in Hell. Rizpah 74
You will not f me here. Sisters (E. and E.) 187
Fur I f's es I be that i' debt, Village Wife 65
Ya wouldn't f Charlie's likes— ,, 75
I f that it always can please Our children, In the Child. Hosp. 51 should f What rotten piles uphold their mason-work, Sir J. Oldcastle 66 denied to him, Who f's the Saviour ,, 115 and f Nearer and ever nearer Him, De Prof., Two G. 52 these eyes will f The men I knew, Tiresias 175
With easy laughter f the gate Is bolted, ,, 200
Ah God, should we f Him, perhaps, Despair 56 coroner doubtless will f it a felo-de-se, ,, 115
She f's the fountain where they wail'd 'Mirage'! Ancient Sage 77
he comes, and f's me dead. The Flight 72
She that f's a winter sunset fairer than Locksley H., Sixty 22
I found, and more than once, and still could f, ,, 121 shall we f a changeless May? ,, 156
Would she f her human offspring this ideal man at rest? ,, 234
Till you f the deathless Angel seated in the vacant tomb. ,, 278
May we f, as ages run, Open. I. and C. Exhib. 11 in amaze To f her sick one whole; Demeter and P. 58 Howiver was I fur to f my rent Owd Roä 47 to f My Mother's diamonds hidden from her there, The Ring 141 who should say—'that those who lose can f.' ,, 282 groping for it, could not f One likeness, ,, 336
In your sweet babe she f's but you— ,, 365
I felt for what I could not f, the key, ,, 440 Might f a flickering glimmer of relief To Mary Boyle 47 groans to see it, f's no comfort there. Romney's R. 45 f the white heather wherever you go, ,, 108 to f Me or my coffin? ,, 143
Farewell, whose living like I shall not f, In Mem. W. G. Ward 1
F her warrior Stark and dark To Master of B. 19
But f their limits by that larger light, Akbar's Dream 99
I will f the Priest and confess. Bandit's Death 18
I f her with the eye. Mechanophilus 12
O well for him that f's a friend, The Wanderer 5
Findable Not f here—content, and not content, Sisters (E. and E.) 132
Finding f neither light nor murmur there Enoch Arden 687
And f that of fifty seeds In Mem. lv 11 f there unconsciously Some image of himself— Ded. of Idylls 2
Fine (See also Fairy-fine) What is f within thee growing coarse Locksley Hall 46
F of the f, and shy of the shy? F little hands, f little feet— Window, Letter 2

Fine (continued) Cuck-oo!' was ever a May so f? Window, Ay 10 hair Is golden like thy Mother's, not so f.' The Ring 104 From head to ancle f, Talking Oak 224 in f linen, not a hair Ruffled upon the scarfskin, Aylmer's Field 659
In that f air I tremble, all the past Princess vii 354
This f old world of ours is but a child ,, Con. 77
Broad brows and fair, a fluent hair and f, High nose, a nostril large and f, and hands Large, fair and f!— Gareth and L. 464 fair and f, forsooth! Sir Fine-face, Sir Fair-hands? but see thou to it That thine own fineness, Lancelot, some f day ,, 474 Such f reserve and noble reticence, Geraint and E. 860 and your f epithet Is accurate too, Merlin and V. 532 lady never made unwilling war With those f eyes: ,, 604 for f plots may fail, ,, 820
Told him that her f care had saved his life. Lancelot and E. 863
But there the f Gawain will wonder at me, ,, 1054
Then came the f Gawain and wonder'd at her, ,, 1267
And win me this f circlet, Pelleas, Pelleas and E. 128 a wire as musically as thou Some such f song— Last Tournament 324
I thought I could not breathe in that f air Guinevere 645
Flying by each f ear, an Eastern gauze Lover's Tale iv 291
F an' meller 'e mun be by this, North. Cobbler 101
I warrant ye soom f daäy— Spinster's S's. 63
An' my oän f Jackman i' purple ,, 106
'This model husband, this f Artist'! Romney's R. 124
When f Philosophies would fail, Akbar's Dream 140
Fine-face Sir F-f, Sir Fair-hands? Gareth and L. 475
Fineness some pretext of f in the meal Enoch Arden 341
For often f compensated size; Princess ii 149
That thine own f, Lancelot, Gareth and L. 476 force might fail With skill and f. ,, 1352 Finer Soothe him with thy f fancies, Locksley Hall 54
A random string Your f female sense offends. Day-Dm., L'Envoi 2 may soul to soul Strike thro' a f element of her own? Aylmer's Field 579
And like a f light in light. In Mem. xci 16
Who wants the f politic sense To mask, Maud I vi 47 this egg of mine Was f gold than any goose can lay; Gareth and L. 43
I, the f brute rejoicing in my hounds, By an Evolution. 7 tho' somewhat f than their own, ,, 13
Finest because he was The f on the tree. Talking Oak 238
Are touch'd, are turn'd to f air. Sir Galahad 72
Of f Gothic lighter than a fire, Princess, Pro. 92
Finger (adj.) seem'd All-perfect, finish'd to the f nail. Edwin Morris 22 Finger (s) lets his rosy f's play About his mother's neck, Supp. Confessions 42 weary with a f's touch Those writhed limbs Clear-headed friend 22 dare to kiss Thy taper f's amorously, Madeline 44
Kate snaps her f's at my vows; Kate 19
Thro' rosy taper f's drew Her streaming curls Mariana in the S. 15
Three f's round the old silver cup— Miller's D. 10
With rosy slender f's backward drew Œnone 176
And on thy heart a f lays, On a Mourner 11
One rose, but one, by those fair f's cull'd, Gardener's D. 150
And with a flying f swept my lips, ,, 246
To save her little f from a scratch Edwin Morris 63
Baby f's, waxen touches, Locksley Hall 90
'You would not let your little f ache Godiva 22
f's steal And touch upon the master-chord Will Water. 26
Enoch's golden ring had girt Her f, Enoch Arden 158
Suddenly put her f on the text, ,, 497
he dug His f's into the wet earth, ,, 780
My lady with her f's interlock'd, Aylmer's Field 199
(I kept the book and had my f in it) Princess, Pro. 53
And takes a lady's f with all care, ,, 173 now a pointed f, told them all; ,, v 270 she laid A feeling f on my brows, ,, vi 121 innocent arms And lazy lingering f's. ,, 139
With trembling f's did we weave The holly In Mem. xxx 1
God's f touch'd him, and he slept. ,, lxxxv 20
A fiery f on the leaves; ,, xcix 12
With petulant thumb and f, shrilling, Gareth and L. 750

Finger (s) (continued) Myself would work eye dim, and f lame, Marr. of Geraint 628
He sits unarm'd; I hold a f up; Geraint and E. 337 moving back she held Her f up, ,, 453 clench'd her f's till they bit the palm, Lancelot and E. 611
In colour like the f's of a hand Before a burning taper, Holy Grail 693 one with shatter'd f's dangling lame, Last Tournament 60 had let one f lightly touch The warm white apple ,, 716 Touch'd by the adulterous f of a time To the Queen ii 43 placed My ring upon the f of my bride. Sisters (E. and E.) 214 Death at the glimpse of a f Def. of Lucknow 23 nor voice Nor f raised against him— Sir J. Oldcastle 45 drew the ring From his dead f, The Ring 218
His f's were so stiffen'd by the frost ,, 239 mark ran All round one f pointed straight, ,, 453 worn the ring—Then torn it from her f, ,, 456
Finger-ache Who never knewest f-a, Gareth and L. 87
Fingering f at the hair about his lip, Princess v 303
F at his sword-handle until he stood Pelleas and E. 442 Finger-nail (See also Finger (adj.)
crush'd with a tap Of my f-n on the sand, Maud II ii 22 Fingers an' toäs (a disease in turnips) tonups was haäfe on 'em f a t, Church-warden, etc. 4
Finger-tips she sway'd The rein with dainty f-t, Sir L. and Q. G. 41
Finials grasping the pews And oaken f Aylmer's Field 823 Finish I leave not till I f this fair quest, Gareth and L. 774
'Ay, wilt thou f it? Sweet lord, ,, 776
Finished when four years were wholly f, Palace of Art 289
Of such a f chasten'd purity. Isabel 41 seem'd All-perfect, f to the finger-nail. Edwin Morris 22
'It is f. Man is made.' Making of Man 8
Finite-infinite wrought Not Matter, nor the f-i, De Prof., Two G. 54
Sun, sun, and sun, thro' f-i space In f-i Time— ,, 45
Finn and chanted the triumph of F, V. of Maeldune 48
And we sang of the triumphs of F, ,, 88
Go back to the Isle of F ,, 124
I landed again, with a tithe of my men, on the Isle of F. ,, 130 Fir tall f's and our fast-falling burns; Gareth and L. 91 glories of the moon Below black f's, Lover's Tale ii 111 Fire (s) (See also Afire, Altar-fire, Hell-fire, Idol-fires, Rick-fire) a bolt of f Would rive the slumbrous summer noon Supp. Confessions 10 the storm Of running f's and fluid range ,, 147
Until the latter f shall heat the deep; The Kraken 13
Thou who stealest f, From the fountains Ode to Memory 1
Tho' one did fling the f. The Poet 30 Losing his f and active might Eleänore 104 a languid f creeps Thro' my veins ,, 130 with sudden f's Flamed over: Buonaparte 11
Like Stephen, an unquenched f. Two Voices 219
O Love, O f! once he drew With one long kiss Fatima 19 from beyond the noon a f Is pour'd upon the hills, ,, 30 at their feet the crocus brake like f, Œnone 96 for she says A f dances before her, ,, 264
All earth and air seem only burning f.' ,, 268
Burnt like a fringe of f. Palace of Art 48 slow-flaming crimson f's From shadow'd grots ,, 50
And highest, snow and f. ,, 84
She howl'd aloud, 'I am on f within. ,, 285 wild marsh-marigold shines like f May Queen 31 blasts That run before the fluttering tongues of f; D. of F. Women 30 their f's Love tipt his keenest darts; ,, 173
The glass blew in, the f blew out, The Goose 49 hung From Allan's watch, and sparkled by the f. Dora 136 Or burn'd in f, or boil'd in oil, St. S. Stylites 52
Sit with their wives by f's, ,, 108
Have scrambled past those pits of f, ,, 184 beat the twilight into flakes of f. Tithonus 42 and winks behind a slowly-dying f. Locksley Hall 136 with rain or hail, or f or snow; ,, 193
On the hall-hearths the festal f's, Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 14
The f shot up, the martin flew, Revival 11
But in my words were seeds of f. The Letters 28
Fall from his Ocean-lane of f, The Voyage 19

Fire (s) (continued) With wakes of f we tore the dark; The Voyage 52
'No, I cannot praise the f In your eye— Vision of Sin 183
All-kindled by a still and sacred f, Enoch Arden 71
Keep a clean hearth and a clear f for me, " 192
And flung her down upon a couch of f, Aylmer's Field 574 flood, f, earthquake, thunder, wrought " 639 as not passing thro' the f Bodies, but souls— " 671
No desolation but by sword and f? " 748 a f, The f that left a roofless Ilion, Lucretius 64 altho' his f is on my face Blinding, " 144 her arm lifted, eyes on f— Princess, Pro. 41 Of finest Gothic lighter than a f, " 92 made to kill Time by the f in winter.' " 205
But chafing me on f to find my bride) " i 166 Burnt like the mystic f on a mast-head, " iv 274 bloom As of some f against a stormy cloud, " 384
The next, like f he meets the foe, " 583 red-faced war has rods of steel and f; " v 118 living hearts that crack within the f " 379 the f's of Hell Mix with his hearth: " 454 out of stricken helmets sprang the f. " 495 Break from a darken'd future, crown'd with f, " vi 175 Flash, ye cities, in rivers of f! W. to Alexander 19 the tongue is a f as you know, my dear, the tongue is a f. Grandmother 28 moon like a rick on f was rising over the dale, " 39
The giant windows' blazon'd f's, The Daisy 58
Then thorpe and byre arose in f, The Victim 3
At his highest with sunrise f; Voice and the P. 30 Thunder, a flying f in heaven, Boädicea 24
many a f before them blazed: Spec. of Iliad 10 many a f between the ships and stream " 17 Sat fifty in the blaze of burning f; " 20
And f's burn clear, And frost is here Window, Winter 4
The f's are all the clearer, " 16 king of the wrens with a crown of f. " Ay 16
A looming bastion fringed with f. In Mem. xv 20
Is shrivell'd in a fruitless f, " liv 11 Laburnums, dropping-wells of f. " lxxxiii 12 shine Beside the never-lighted f. " lxxxiv 20
But on her forehead sits a f: " cxiv 5
And compass'd by the f's of Hell; " cxxvii 17
And on the downs a rising f: " Con. 108
f of a foolish pride flash'd over Maud I iv 16 Cold f's, yet with power to burn and brand " xviii 39 f's of Hell brake out of thy rising sun, The f's of Hell and of Hate; " II i 9 blood-red blossom of war with a heart of f. " III vi 53
f of God Descends upon thee in the battle-field: Com. of Arthur 128 And all at once all round him rose in f, " 389 the child and he were clothed in f. " 390 echo'd by old folk beside their f's For comfort " 417 the herd was driven, F glimpsed; " 433 a city all on f With sun and cloth of gold, " 479
I will walk thro' f, Mother, to gain it— Gareth and L. 133
'Will ye walk thro' f? Who walks thro' f will hardly heed the smoke. " 142
f, That lookt half-dead, brake bright, " 684
For an your f be low ye kindle mine! " 711
But up like f he started: " 1123 forage for the horse, and flint for f. " 1277 Glow'd like the heart of a great f at Yule, Marr. of Geraint 559 night of f, when Edyrn sack'd their house, " 634 loosed in words of sudden f the wrath Geraint and E. 106
In a hollow land, From which old f's have broken, men may fear Fresh f and ruin. " 822 f of Heaven has kill'd the barren cold, Balin and Balan 440
f of heaven is not the flame of Hell. (repeat) " 443, 447, 451, 455 Yet in your frosty cells ye feel the f! " 446
'The f of Heaven is on the dusty ways. " 448
'The f of Heaven is lord of all things good, And starve not thou this f within thy blood, " 452
'This f of heaven, This old sun-worship, " 456 into such a song, such f for fame, Merlin and V. 417

Fire (s) (continued) Rage like a f among the noblest names, Merlin and V. 802
Her godlike head crown'd with spiritual f, " 837 in this heathen war the f of God Fills him: Lancelot and E. 315 shot red f and shadows thro' the cave, " 414
So ran the tale like f about the court, " 734 F in dry stubble a nine-days' wonder flared: " 735 wrapt In unremorseful folds of rolling f. Holy Grail 261 while ye follow wandering f's Lost in the quagmire! " 319 most of us would follow wandering f's, (repeat) " 369, 599 years of death, Sprang into f: " 497 Sprang into f and vanish'd, " 506
Must be content to sit by little f's. " 614
A mocking f: 'what other f than he, " 670 methought I spied A dying f of madness " 768 most of them would follow wandering f's, " 891
Burnt as a living f of emeralds, Pelleas and E. 35
A vision hovering on a sea of f, " 52 a sacrifice Kindled by f from heaven; " 146 thro' his heart The f of honour and all noble deeds Flash'd, " 278 maiden snow mingled with sparks of f. Last Tournament 149
Who sits and gazes on a faded f, " 157 Arthur's vows on the great lake of f. " 345 one was water and one star was f, " 736
Pray for him that he scape the doom of f, Guinevere 347
The children born of thee are sword and f, " 425 making all the night a steam of f. " 599 land of old unheaven from the abyss By f, Pass. of Arthur 83 and blew Fresh f into the sun, Lover's Tale i 319 Thy f's from heaven had touch'd it, " 439 dragonfly Shot by me like a flash of purple f. " ii 17 Fill'd all with pure clear f, " 146 Had suck'd the f of some forgotten sun, " iv 194 and all f again Thrice in a second, " 323 if my boy be gone to the f? Rizpah 78 an' I seëad 'im a-gittin' o' f; North. Cobbler 26 an' 'e shined like a sparkle o' f. " 48 leaves i' the middle to kindle the f; Village Wife 72
F from ten thousand at once of the rebels Def. of Lucknow 22
Sharp is the f of assault, " 57 thou bringest Not peace, a sword, a f. Sir J. Oldcastle 36 and life Pass in the f of Babylon! " 124
Who rose and doom'd me to the f. " 172
How now, my soul, we do not heed the f? " 191
For I must live to testify by f.' " 206
Thro' the f of the tulip and poppy, V. of Maeldune 43
And we came to the Isle of F: " 71
For the peak sent up one league of f " 72
There were some leap'd into the f; " 76 Dashing the f's and the shadows of dawn " 99 with set of sun Their f's flame thickly, Achilles over the T. 11
To see the dread, unweariable f " 27
Shrine-shattering earthquake, f, flood, thunderbolt, Tiresias 61
On one far height in one far-shining f. " 185
'One height and one far-shining f.' " 186 Flashing with f's as of God, Despair 16 and a smoke who was once a pillar of f, " 29
Love is f, and burns the feet The Flight 68 cut his bit o' turf for the f? Tomorrow 65
Gone the f's of youth, the follies, Locksley H., Sixty 39
Gone like f's and floods and earthquakes " 40 F's that shook me once, but now to silent ashes " 41
f of fever creeps across the rotted floor, " 223
The f's that arch this dusky dot— Epilogue 52
Ilion's lofty temples robed in f, To Virgil 2
One shriek'd 'The f's of Hell!' Dead Prophet 80
To and thro' the Doomsday f, Helen's Tower 10 all the hateful f's Of torment, Demeter and P. 151
'e coom'd thruf the f wi' my bairn i' 'is mouth Owd Roä 92 the f was a-raägin' an' raävin' " 110 Fur we moänt 'ev naw moor f's— " 118 vows that are snapt in a moment of f; Vastness 26
f from Heaven had dash'd him dead, Happy 83 blasted to the deathless f of Hell. " 84 lured me from the household f on earth. Romney's R. 40

Fire (s) (continued) The coals of f you heap upon my head — Romney's R. 141
If the lips were touch'd with f — Parnassus 17 the f within him would not falter; — „ 19 Stark and dark in his funeral f. — To Master of B. 20
mixt herself with him and past in f. — Death of Œnone 106
'Is earth On f to the West? — St. Telemachus 19 were seen or heard F's of Súttee, — Akbar's Dream 196 passing souls thro' f to the f, — The Dawn 4 Ralph went down like a f to the fight — The Tourney 3 in the glare of deathless f! — Faith 8
f—thro' one that will not shame — Gareth and L. 1310

Fire (verb) The furzy prickle f the dells, — Two Voices 71
And f's your narrow casement glass, — Miller's D. 243
I, by Lionel sitting, saw his face F, — Lover's Tale iv 323
Now let it speak, and you f, — Def. of Lucknow 29
It is charged and we f, and they run. — „ 68

Fire-balloon a f-b Rose gem-like up — Princess, Pro. 74

Firebrand this f—gentleness To such as her! — „ v 167

Fire-crown'd The f-c king of the wrens, — Window, Ay. 8

Fired Not a gun was f. — The Captain 40 man with knobs and wires and vials f A cannon; — Princess, Pro. 65
Now f an angry Pallas on the helm, — „ vi 367
He rose at dawn and, f with hope, — Sailor Boy 1 he saw F from the west, far on a hill, — Lancelot and E. 168 the heat Of pride and glory f her face; — Pelleas and E. 172 that Gawain f The hall of Merlin, — „ 517 echoing yell with yell, they f the tower, — Last Tournament 478
F all the pale face of the Queen, — Guinevere 357

Fire-fly Glitter like a swarm of fire-flies — Locksley Hall 10
The f-f wakens: waken thou with me. — Princess vii 179

Firefly-like glitter f-l in copse And linden alley: — „ i 208

Fire-hollowing F-h this in Indian fashion, fell — Enoch Arden 569

Fireside her old f Be cheer'd with tidings of the bride, — In Mem. xl 22 at your own f, With the evil tongue — Maud I x 50

Firewood heap'd Their f, and the winds — Spec. of Iliad 7

Firm (adj. and adv.) Not swift nor slow to change, but f: — Love thou thy land 31
With measured footfall f and mild, — Two Voices 413
Thereon I built it f. — Palace of Art 9
Like Virtue f, like Knowledge fair, — Voyage 68
His resolve Upbore him, and f faith, — Enoch Arden 800
f upon his feet, And like an oaken stock — Golden Year 61
Not one stroke f. — Romney's R. 115
he stood f; and so the matter hung; (repeat) — The Brook 144, 148
Her f will, her fix'd purpose. — The Ring 293
f Tho' compass'd by two armies — Princess v 344
Some civic manhood f against the crowd— — „ Con. 57 keep the soldier f, the statesman pure: — Ode on Well. 222 Met his full frown timidly f, and said; — Geraint and E. 71 felt Her low f voice and tender government. — „ 194

Firm (s) Head of all the golden-shafted f, — Princess ii 405

Firmament Shoot your stars to the f, — On Jub. Q. Victoria 17

Firm-based stand F-b with all her Gods. — Tiresias 142

Firmer Stept forward on a f leg, — Will Water. 123
And slowly forms the f mind, — In Mem. xviii 18 mine is the f seat, — Lancelot and E. 446

Firmly Will f hold the rein, — Politics 6

Firmness and said to him With timid f, — Geraint and E. 140

Firry heard the tender dove In f woodlands making moan; — Miller's D. 42

First (adj.) (See also Fust) in her f sleep earth breathes stilly: — Leonine Eleg. 7
When the f matin-song hath waken'd loud — Ode to Memory 68
In setting round thy f experiment — „ 81
Needs must thou dearly love thy f essay, — „ 83
The f house by the water-side, — L. of Shalott iv 34
From that f nothing ere his birth — Two Voices 332
For is not our f year forgot? — „ 368 foundation-stones were laid Since my f memory?' — Palace of Art 236 Dan Chaucer, the f warbler, whose sweet breath — D. of F. Women 5
Love at f sight, first-born, and heir to all, — Gardener's D. 189 beheld her ere she knew my heart, My f, last love; — „ 277 once I ask'd him of his early life, And his f passion; — Edwin Morris 24 when the f low matin-chirp hath grown Full quire, — Love and Duty 98 Or this f snowdrop of the year — St. Agnes' Eve 11
'Tell me tales of thy f love— — Vision of Sin 163
In him woke, With his f babe's f cry, — Enoch Arden 85

First (adj.) (continued) Has she no fear that her f husband lives?' — Enoch Arden 806 Leolin's f nurse was, five years after, hers: — Aylmer's Field 79 and the f embrace has died Between them, — Lucretius 3
Was it the f beam of my latest day? — „ 59
Huge Ammonites, and the f bones of Time; — Princess, Pro. 15 took advantage of his strength to be F in the field: — „ ii 153
'Fresh as the f beam glittering on a sail, — „ iv 44
Deep as f love, and wild with all regret; — „ 57 lines of green that streak the white Of the f snowdrop's inner leaves; — „ v 197
From our f Charles by force we wrung our claims. — Third of Feb. 26
That was the f time, too, — Grandmother 61
Since our f Sun arose and set. — In Mem. xxiv 8
Where thy f form was made a man; — „ lxi 10
F love, f friendship, equal powers, — „ lxxv 107
Seal'd her mine from her f sweet breath. — Maud I xix 41
But those f days had golden hours for me, — Com. of Arthur 357 let my name Be hidd'n, and give me the f quest, — Gareth and L. 545
'I have given him the f quest: — „ 582
In the f shallow shade of a deep wood, — Geraint and E. 119
O'er the four rivers the f roses blew, — „ 764 who held and lost with Lot In that f war, — Balin and Balan 2 which ruin'd man Thro' woman the f hour: — Merlin and V. 363 Hurt in his f tilt was my son, Sir Torre. — Lancelot and E. 196 never woman yet, since man's f fall, — „ 859
This is not love: but love's f flash in youth, — „ 949
Embraced me, and so kiss'd me the f time, — Holy Grail 596
O the pity To find thine own f love once more— — „ 620
But I and the f daisy on his grave — Lover's Tale i 193 should this f master claim His service, — iv 265
As I of mine, and my f passion. — Sisters (E. and E.) 67
Love at f sight May seem— — „ 91 at f glimpse and for a face Gone in a moment— — „ 93
I sail'd On my f voyage, harass'd by the frights Of my f crew, — Columbus 67 scouted by court and king—The f discoverer starves— — „ 166
Who fain had pledged her jewels on my f voyage, — „ 229
With the f great love I had felt for the f and greatest of men; — The Wreck 76
The f gray streak of earliest summer-dawn, — Ancient Sage 220
Leave the Master in the f dark hour of his last sleep alone. — Locksley H., Sixty 238
Bound by the golden cord of their f love— — The Ring 429

First (s) And these had been together from the f; — Aylmer's Field 713

First-born love thou bearest The f-b of thy genius. — Ode to Memory 92 Love at first sight, f-b, and heir to all, — Gardener's D. 189 meal she makes On the f-b of her sons. — Vision of Sin 146

First-famed of the two f-f for courtesy— — Guinevere 323

First-fruits The f-f of the stranger: — Princess ii 44

Firstling And bring the f to the flock; — In Mem. ii 6
Ever as of old time, Solitary f, — The Snowdrop 4

Firth find him dropt upon the f's of ice, — Princess vii 206
By f and loch thy silver sister grow, — Sir J. Oldcastle 58

Fish F are we that love the mud, — Vision of Sin 101 beast or bird or f, or opulent flower: — Lucretius 249 the bird, the f, the shell, the flower, — Princess ii 383 bird in air, and f'es turn'd And whiten'd — The Victim 19 o'er her breast floated the sacred f; — Gareth and L. 223
'If we have f at all Let them be gold; — Marr. of Geraint 669 vanish'd panic-stricken, like a shoal Of darting f, — Geraint and E. 469 an' ya thraw'd the f i' 'is faäce, — Church-warden, etc. 30

Fish'd An' 'e niver not f 'is awn ponds, — Village Wife 43

Fisherman O well for the f's boy, — Break, break, etc. 5
A luckier or a bolder f, — Enoch Arden 49

Fishing-nets coils of cordage, swarthy f-n, — „ 17 and wrought To make the boatmen f-n, — „ 815

Fist tiny f Had graspt a daisy from your Mother's grave— — The Ring 322

Fit (adj.) I scarce am f for your great plans: — Princess vi 218 Becoming as is meet and f A link — In Mem. xl 14 asking, one Not f to cope your quest. — Gareth and L. 1174 ye that scarce are f to touch, — Pelleas and E. 292
O happy he, and f to live, — The Wanderer 9

Fit (s) Gleam'd to the flying moon by f's. — Miller's D. 116 in a f of frolic mirth She strove to span my waist: — Talking Oak 137

Fit (s) (continued) Or breaking into song by f's, In Mem. xxiii 2 only breathe Short f's of prayer, Geraint and E. 155 Began to break her sports with graver f's, Merlin and V. 180 the riotous f's Of wine and harlotry— Sir J. Oldcastle 100 Fit (verb) f us like a nature second-hand; Walk. to the Mail 65 f their little streetward sitting-room Enoch Arden 170 sad and slow, As f's an universal woe, Ode on Well. 14 harden'd skins That f him like his own; Gareth and L. 1094 better f's Our mended fortunes and a Prince's bride: Marr. of Geraint 717 Fitful like f blasts of balm To one that travels quickly, Gardener's D. 68
Fitly yield your flower of life To one more f yours, Lancelot and E. 953
Fitted Power f to the season; wisdom-bred Œnone 123
Gown'd in pure white, that f to the shape— Gardener's D. 126
So now 'tis f on and grows to me, St. S. Stylites 209 old and formal, f to thy petty part, Locksley Hall 93
As his unlikeness f mine. In Mem. lxxix 20
No stone is f in yon marble girth Tiresias 135
Who f stone to stone again, Akbar's Dream 193
Fitter a villain f to stick swine Than ride abroad Gareth and L. 865
I am f for my bed, or for my grave, The Ring 433 Fitting expert In f aptest words to things, In Mem. lxxv 6 and f close Or flying looselier, Akbar's Dream 131
Whence shall she take a f mate? Kate 13
She cannot find a f mate. ,, 31
Fitz Old F, who from your suburb grange, To E. Fitzgerald 1 which you will take My F, and welcome, ,, 51
Five Alone and warming his f wits, (repeat) The Owl i 6, 13
Young Nature thro' f cycles ran, Two Voices 17
Lord of the senses f; Palace of Art 180
You know there has not been for these f years Dora 65 and here it comes With f at top: Walk. to the Mail 113 Leolin's first nurse was, f years after, hers: Aylmer's Field 79 son A Walter too,—with others of our set, F others: Princess, Pro. 9
And those f years its richest field. In Mem. xlvi 12 beneath f figures, armed men, Gareth and L. 1205
'Take F horses and their armours;' Geraint and E. 409 and hath overborne F knights at once, Holy Grail 303
f summers back, And left me; Guinevere 321
So Lord Howard past away with f ships of war The Revenge 13 swarm Of Turkish Islam for f hundred years, Montenegro 11
F young kings put asleep by the sword-stroke, Batt. of Brunanburh 52
Five-acre While Harry is in the f-a Grandmother 80
Five-beaded The tender pink f-b baby-soles, Aylmer's Field 186
Five-fold f-f thy term Of years, I lay; Tiresias 33
Five-words-long quoted odes, and jewels f-w-l Princess ii 377 Fix Holding the bush, to f it back, she stood, Gardener's D. 127
'Twere all as one to f our hopes on Heaven Golden Year 57
She could not f the glass to suit her eye; Enoch Arden 241 and her lynx eye To f and make me hotter, Princess iii 47 Sun sets, moon sets, Love, f a day. Window, When 4 wait a little, You shall f a day.' ,, 12
Nor cares to f itself to form, In Mem. xxviii 4
And f my thoughts on all the glow ,, lxxiv 3
Who shall f Her pillars? ,, cxiv 3
Fixed-Fixt there like a sun remain Fix'd— Eleänore 93
'Not that the grounds of hope were fix'd, Two Voices 227
Be fix'd and froz'n to permanence: ,, 237
And, last, you fix'd a vacant stare, L. C. V. de Vere 47
Counting the dewy pebbles, fix'd in thought; M. d'Arthur 84
The blush is fix'd upon her cheek. Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 32
One fix'd for ever at the door, Will Water. 143
And fix't upon the far sea-line; The Voyage 62
Were fixed shadows of thy fixed mood, Isabel 9
orb of moving Circumstance Roll'd round by one fix'd law. Palace of Art 256 True love turn'd round on fixed poles, Love thou thy land 5 my fresh but fixt resolve To pass away Holy Grail 737 either fixt his heart On that one girl; Enoch Arden 39 where he fixt his heart he set his hand ,, 294 and fixt her swimming eyes upon him, ,, 325 fixt the Sabbath. Darkly that day rose: Aylmer's Field 609
And those fixt eyes of painted ancestors ,, 832
I fixt My wistful eyes on two fair images, Sea Dreams 239

Fixed-Fixt (continued) eyes Of shining expectation fixt on mine. Princess iv 153 Fixt like a beacon-tower above the waves ,, 493 this is fixt As are the roots of earth ,, v 445 Fix'd in yourself, never in your own arms ,, vi 177 drags me down From my fixt height to mob me ,, 308
I on her Fixt my faint eyes, and utter'd whisperingly: ,, vii 144
she fixt A showery glance upon her aunt, ,, Con. 32
Fixt by their cars, waited the golden dawn. Spec. of Iliad 22
But Sorrow—fixt upon the dead, In Mem. xxxix 8
Her faith is fixt and cannot move, ,, xcvii 33
Because he felt so fix'd in truth: ,, cxxv 8
And a morbid eating lichen fixt On a heart Maud I vi 77
Gareth likewise on them fixt his eyes Gareth and L. 236 with fixt eye following the three. Marr. of Geraint 237
Two forks are fixt into the meadow ground, ,, 482 there they fixt the forks into the ground, ,, 548 a rock in ebbs and flows, Fixt on her faith. ,, 813 humbly hopeful, rose Fixt on her hearer's, Merlin and V. 87 or all-silent gaze upon him With such a fixt devotion, ,, 183 but that other clung to him, Fixt in her will, ,, 188
So fixt her fancy on him: let them be. ,, 777 ye fixt Your limit, oft returning with the tide. Lancelot and E. 1040 Counting the dewy pebbles, fix'd in thought; Pass. of Arthur 252 and virgin eyes Remaining fixt on mine, Tiresias 47
With sad eyes fixt on the lost sea-home, The Wreck 126
'That should be fix'd,' she said; The Ring 316
But after ten slow weeks her fix'd intent, ,, 345
Her firm will, her fix'd purpose. ,, 293
Fixing warm blood mixing; The eyeballs f. All Things will Die 34
F full eyes of question on her face, Com. of Arthur 312
F my eyes on those three cypress-cones Lover's Tale ii 38
Fixt See Fixed
Flaäme (flame) 'at summun seed i' the f, Owd Roä 94
Flaccid a scheme that had left us f and drain'd. Maud I i 20
Flag never floats an European f, Locksley Hall 161
F's, flutter out upon turrets and towers! W. to Alexander 15 their sails and their masts and their f's, The Revenge 116 thou would'st have her f Borne on thy coffin— Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 16
But one—he was waving a f— The Wreck 119 wherever her f fly, Glorying between sea and sky, Open I. and C. Exhib. 17
One life, one f, one fleet, one Throne!' ,, 39
Flag-flower tall f-f's when they sprung Miller's D. 53
Flagrante Caught in f—what's the Latin word?— Walk. to the Mail 34
Flagship stately Spanish men to their f bore him The Revenge 97
Flail From Arac's arm, as from a giant's f, Princess v 500
A thresher with his f had scatter'd them. Gareth and L. 842
Flake (See also Blossom-flake, Foam-flakes) sea-wind sang Shrill, chill, with f's of foam. M. d'Arthur 49 beat the twilight into f's of fire. Tithonus 42 here and there a foamy f Upon me, The Brook 59 thicker, like the f's In a fall of snow, Lucretius 166
Before me shower'd the rose in f's; Princess iv 264
This f of rainbow flying on the highest ,, v 319 rocket molten into f's Of crimson In Mem. xcviii 31 sea-wind sang Shrill, chill, with f's of foam. Pass. of Arthur 217 gladly see I thro' the wavering f's Prog. of Spring 29
Flaky Diffused and molten into f cloud. Lover's Tale i 641
Flame (s) (See also Altar-flame, Flaäme, Martyr-flames, Sun-flame, Under-flame) With the clear-pointed f of chastity, Isabel 2
A subtle, sudden f, By veering passion fann'd, Madeline 28 alight As with the quintessence of f, Arabian Nights 123 arrows of his thoughts were headed And wing'd with f, The Poet 12 in her raiment's hem was traced in f Wisdom, ,, 45
Burn'd like one burning f together, L. of Shalott iii 22
A thousand little shafts of f Fatima 17
She died: she went to burning f: The Sisters 7 thro' the topmost Oriels' coloured f Palace of Art 161 hollow shades enclosing hearts of f, ,, 241 Dark faces pale against that rosy f, Lotos-Eaters 26
'Saw God divide the night with flying f, D. of F. Women 225
Beheld the dead f of the fallen day Enoch Arden 441

Flame (s) (continued) His hair as it were crackling into f's, Aylmer's Field 586 and girt With song and f and fragrance, Lucretius 134 on a tripod in the midst A fragrant f rose, Princess iv 34 her eye with slow dilation roll'd Dry f, „ vi 190
Now set a wrathful Dian's moon on f, „ 368
F's, on the windy headland flare! W. to Alexandra 16
Or down in a furrow scathed with f: The Victim 22
Pierces the keen seraphic f In Mem. xxx 27
This round of green, this orb of f, „ xxxiv 5
And Life, a Fury slinging f. „ l 8
As slowly steals a silver f „ lxvii 6
Who might'st have heaved a windless f „ lxxii 13
Ray round with f's her disk of seed, „ ci 6
Ready to burst in a colour'd f; Maud I vi 19 and all the wave was in a f: And down the wave and in the f was borne A naked babe, Com. of Arthur 382 kings of old had doom'd thee to the f's, Gareth and L. 374
I spring Like f from ashes.' „ 546 sparkle in the blood Break into furious f; Geraint and E. 828 seems a f That rages in the woodland far below, Balin and Balan 233 fire of Heaven is not the f of Hell. (repeat) „ 443, 447, 451, 455 Touch flax with f—a glance will serve— Merlin and V. 111 darken down To rise hereafter in a stiller f Lancelot and E. 1319 such a fervent f of human love, Holy Grail 74 Against the f about a sacrifice Kindled Pelleas and E. 145 star Reel'd in the smoke, brake into f, and fell. „ 519 all their dewy hair blown back like f: Guinevere 284 in the dark of mine Is traced with f. Lover's Tale i 298 his high hills, with f Milder and purer. „ 322 his own Sent such a f into his face, „ iv 177 with her battle-thunder and f; The Revenge 59 Dooms our unlicensed preacher to the f, Sir J. Oldcastle 105 and the dwelling broke into f; V. of Maeldune 32 from it lighted an all-shining f. Achilles over the T. 6
The flight of birds, the f of sacrifice, Tiresias 6 flung the conquer'd Christian into f's. Locksley H., Sixty 84 eloquence caught like a f From zone to zone Dead Prophet 34
The f of life went wavering down; To Marq. of Dufferin 32 saw The ring of faces redden'd by the f's Death of Œnone 92 in the f that measures Time! Akbar's D., Hymn 8 Dance in a fountain of f with her devils, Kapiolani 10
Than a rotten fleet and a city in f's! Riflemen form! 18

Flame (verb) barking cur Made her cheek f: Godiva 58 wild peasant rights himself, the rick F's, Princess iv 386 when the long-illumined cities f, Ode on Well. 228 Shall fears and jealous hatreds f again? W. to Marie Alex. 41
For him did his high sun f, Maud I iv 32
f's The blood-red blossom of war „ III vi 52
Let it f or fade, and the war roll down „ 54
f At sunrise till the people in far fields, Holy Grail 242
He saw them—headland after headland f Guinevere 243 with set of sun Their fires f thickly, Achilles over the T. 11 sun has risen To f along another dreary day. Romney's R. 58

Flame-banner great f-b borne by Teneriffe, Columbus 69

Flame-billow Into the f-b dash'd the berries, Kapiolani 33

Flame-colour smote F-c, vert and azure, Com. of Arthur 274

Flamed with sudden fires F over: Buonaparte 12
And f upon the brazen greaves L. of Shalott iii 4
By peaks that f, or, all in shade, The Voyage 41
F in his cheek; and eager eyes, Aylmer's Field 66
Tho' Leolin f and fell again, „ 409 scarlet of berries that f upon bine and vine, V. of Maeldune 61 or f at a public wrong. The Wreck 68 and f On one huge slope beyond, St. Telemachus 7

Flamest Once again thou f heavenward, Akbar's D., Hymn 1

Flaming (See also Slow-flaming) f downward over all From heat to heat Mariana in the S. 77 Clanging fights, and f towns, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 116 doom of treason and the f death, Guinevere 538 that red night When thirty ricks, All f, To Mary Boyle 37

Flank (adj.) better aimed are your f fusillades— Def. of Lucknow 57

Flank (s) arisen since With cities on their f's— Merlin and V. 676

Flap and the great echo f And buffet Golden Year 76

Flap (continued) dimpled flounce of the sea-furbelow f, Sea Dreams 266 a boat Tacks, and the slacken'd sail f's, Princess ii 186

Flapp'd-Flapt They flapp'd my light out as I read: St. S. Stylites 175 conquering battle or flapt to the battle-cry! Def. of Lucknow 2

Flare Flames, on the windy headland f! W. to Alexandra 16
F from Tel-el-Kebir Thro' darkness, Pro. to Gen. Hamley 28

Flar'd threaten'd darkness, f and fell: M. d'Arthur, Ep. 2 a great mist-blotted light F on him, Enoch Arden 681 Fire in dry stubble a nine-days' wonder f: Lancelot and E. 735 blood-red light of dawn F on her face, „ 1026

Flaring (See also Sudden-flaring) A million tapers f bright From twisted silvers Arabian Nights 124 Sees in heaven the light of London f Locksley Hall 114
I saw the f atom-streams And torrents Lucretius 38
Thro' blasted valley and f forest Kapiolani 12

Flash (s) The lightning f atween the rains, Rosalind 12
A living f of light he flew.' Two Voices 15 ran by him without speaking, like a f of light. May Queen 18 a shape, a shade, A f of light. St. S. Stylites 203
The f's come and go; St. Agnes' Eve 26
The lightning f of insect and of bird, Enoch Arden 575
A f of semi-jealousy clear'd it to her. Aylmer's Field 189 and once the f of a thunderbolt— Lucretius 27
I learnt more from her in a f, Princess ii 397
These f's on the surface are not he. „ iv 253
And like a f the weird affection came: „ v 477
Down in the South is a f and a groan: Window, Gone 8
You send a f to the sun. Window, Marr. Morn. 2
A little f, a mystic hint; In Mem. xliv 8
As in the former f of joy, „ cxxii 15 at the f and motion of the man They vanish'd Geraint and E. 467
I saw the f of him but yestereven. Balin and Balan 303
And chased the f's of his golden horns Merlin and V. 427 send One f, that, missing all things else, „ 932 free f's from a height Above her, Lancelot and E. 647 but love's first f in youth, Most common: „ 949
'Ay, a f, I fear me, that will strike „ 970
I told her that her love Was but the f of youth, „ 1318
F upon f they lighten thro' me— Lover's Tale i 51
Shot by me like a f of purple fire. „ ii 17
The light was but a f, and went again. „ iv 55

Flash (verb) And f's off a thousand ways, Rosalind 23 of tentimes they f and glitter Like sunshine „ 28
F in the pools of whirling Simois. Œnone 206
f the lightnings, weigh the Sun. Locksley Hall 186
This proverb f's thro' his head, Day-Dm., Arrival 15
F into fiery life from nothing, Aylmer's Field 130 naked marriages F from the bridge, „ 766
F, ye cities, in rivers of fire! W. to Alexandra 19
The facets of the glorious mountain f The Islet 22 in the vale You f and lighten afar, Window, Marr. Morn. 10
F, I am coming, I come, „ 31
F for a million miles. „ 24
And f's into false and true, In Mem. xvi 19
And f at once, my friend, to thee. „ xli 12
Will f along the chords and go. „ lxxxviii 12
f A momentary likeness of the King: Com. of Arthur 270
F brand and lance, fall battleaxe upon helm, „ 486
Fall battleaxe, and f brand! (repeat) „ 487, 490, 502
A light of armour by him f, and pass Balin and Balan 326
Re-makes itself, and f's down the vale— Guinevere 610 if what we call The spirit f Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 5
I saw The glory of the Lord f up, Columbus 82 about their ocean-islets f The faces of the Gods— Tiresias 172
f a million miles a day. Locksley H., Sixty 204 shine the level lands, And f the floods; Early Spring 16 Shall f thro' one another in a moment Happy 40

Flash'd He f into the crystal mirror, L. of Shalott iii 34
The distant battle f and rung. Two Voices 126
F thro' her as she sat alone, Palace of Art 214
So f and fell the brand Excalibur: M. d'Arthur 142
He f his random speeches, Will Water. 198
That autumn into autumn f again, Enoch Arden 456 jests, that f about the pleader's room, Aylmer's Field 440
They f a saucy message to and fro Princess, Pro. 78

Flash'd (continued) A thought f thro' me which I clothed in act, Princess i 195 young captains f their glittering teeth, " v 20
Heaven f a sudden jubilant ray, Ode on Well. 129
F all their sabres bare, F as they turn'd Light Brigade 27
The living soul was f on mine, In Mem. xcv 36 pride f over her beautiful face. Maud I iv 16 Something f in the sun, " ix 10
Barons of his realm F forth and into war: Com. of Arthur 66
At times the summit of the high city f; Gareth and L. 192 and f as those Dull-coated things, " 685
So Gareth ere he parted f in arms. " 689 madden'd her, and away she f again " 784 f the fierce shield, All sun; " 1030 Whereat Geraint f into sudden spleen: Marr. of Geraint 273 out he f, And into such a song, Merlin and V. 416
F the bare-grinning skeleton of death! " 847
Suddenly f on her a wild desire, Lancelot and E. 357
Then f into wild tears, and rose again, " 613 and down they f, and smote the stream. " 1235 f, as it were, Diamonds to meet them, " 1236 Then f a yellow gleam across the world, Holy Grail 402
a stream That f across her orchard underneath " 593
The fire of honour and all noble deeds F, Pelleas and E. 279
For so the words were f into his heart " 503
Then f a levin-brand; and near me stood, Last Tournament 616
So f and fell the brand Excalibur: Pass. of Arthur 310
A mystic light f ev'n from her white robe Lover's Tale i 370 all my wealth F from me in a moment " 669 face and form of Lionel F thro' my eyes " ii 95 jewels Of many generations of his house Sparkled and f, " iv 300 one lightning-fork F out the lake; Sisters (E. and E.) 97 bright face was f thro' sense and soul " 109
And all the heavens f in frost; To E. Fitzgerald 22 upon me f The power of prophesying— Tiresias 56 and f into the Red Sea, To Marq. of Dufferin 44 and f into a frolic of song And welcome; Demeter and P. 12
F on the Tournament, Flicker'd and bicker'd Merlin and the G. 69
Flashest All along the valley, stream that f white, V. of Cauteretz 1 Flashing She, f forth a haughty smile, began D. of F. Women 129
f round and round, and whirl'd in an arch, M. d'Arthur 138
The cataract f from the bridge, In Mem. lxxi 15
Came quickly f thro' the shallow ford Marr. of Geraint 167
Was all the marble threshold f, Geraint and E. 25 on the splendour came, f me blind; Holy Grail 413
f round and round, and whirl'd in an arch, Pass. of Arthur 306 the whole isle-side f down from the peak V. of Maeldune 45
F with fires as of God, Despair 16
Rode f blow upon blow, Heavy Brigade 32 coin of fancy f out from many a golden phrase; To Virgil 8
Flask (See also Wine-flask) A f of cider from his father's vats, Audley Court 27
Here sits the Butler with a f Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 25
I leave an empty f: Will Water. 164 Flat (adj. and adv.) and so this earth was f: Columbus 48 dying ebb that faintly lipp'd The f red granite; Audley Court 13 sin, that crush'd My spirit f before thee. St. S. Stylites 26 child Push'd her f hand against his face Princess ii 366 on this side the palace ran the field F " v 362
Of this f lawn with dusk and bright; In Mem. lxxxix 2 pitch'd Beside the Castle Perilous on f field, Gareth and L. 1363 up the vale of Usk, By the f meadow, Marr. of Geraint 832 Take my salute,' unknightly with f hand, Geraint and E. 717
Arthur had the jousts Down in the f field Pelleas and E. 164
From f confusion and brute violences, Last Tournament 124 in dead night along that table-shore, Drops f, " 464
A f malarian world of reed and rush! Lover's Tale iv 142
Strow yonder mountain f, Mechanophilus 6 leaves Laid their green faces f Balin and Balan 344
To lay the sudden heads of violence f, Holy Grail 310 teeth of Hell flay bare and gnash thee f!— Last Tournament 444 and my strongest wish Falls f Romney's R. 72
Flat (a level) And glanced athwart the glooming f's. Mariana 20
By sands and steaming f's, and floods The Voyage 45 here upon the f All that long morn Princess v 367
Flat (a level) (continued) all about The same gray f's again, In Mem. lxxxvii 13 Wide f's, where nothing but coarse grasses grew; Holy Grail 794 if yonder hill be level with the f. Locksley H., Sixty 111 Flat (note in music) run thro' every change of sharp and f; Caress'd or chidden 4
Flatten'd Mangled, and f, and crush'd, Maud I i 7
Flatter (See also Face-flatter) They would sue me, and woo me, and f me, The Mermaid 43
To f me that I may die? Two Voices 204
F myself that always everywhere I know Princess ii 412
This look of quiet f's thus Our home-bred fancies: In Mem. x 10 at times Would f his own wish in age for love, Merlin and V. 185
Softly laugh'd Isolt; 'F me not, Last Tournament 557
F me rather, seeing me so weak, " 642
O you that can f your victims, Charity 29
Flatter'd Teach your f kings that only those Locksley H., Sixty 132 thought of power F his spirit; Œnone 137
Be f to the height. Palace of Art 192 snares them by the score F and fluster'd, Princess v 164
The fancy f my mind, Maud I xiv 23 therefore f him, Being so gracious, Pelleas and E. 119
F the fancy of my fading brain; Lover's Tale ii 107 Flattering But f the golden prime Arabian Nights 76
f thy childish thought The oriental fairy brought, Eleänore 13
A splendid presence f the poor roofs Aylmer's Field 175
I, that f my true passion, saw The knights, Merlin and V. 874
Half-envious of the f hand, Lancelot and E. 349
F myself that all my doubts were fools Sisters (E. and E.) 140 Flattery the wit, The f and the strife, D. of F. Women 148
Nor speak I now from foolish f; Marr. of Geraint 433 the old man, Tho' doubtful, felt the f, Merlin and V. 184
F gilding the rift in a throne; Vastness 20
O the f and the craft Which were my undoing . . . Forlorn 3
Flaunt Was this a time for these to f their pride? Aylmer's Field 770 and f With prudes for proctors, Princess, Pro. 140 to f, to dress, to dance, to thrum, " iv 519 Pleasure who f's on her wide downway Vastness 16
Flaunted took the ring, and f it Before that other The Ring 243
Flaunting Thou comest not with shows of f vines Ode to Memory 48
Flaw Like f's in summer laying lusty corn: Marr. of Geraint 764 heirless f In his throne's title make him feel so frail, Sir. J. Oldcastle 72
Flawless circle rounded under female hands With f demonstration: Princess ii 373
Flax Touch f with flame—a glance will serve Merlin and V. 111
Flaxen With thy floating f hair; Adeline 6
From the f curl to the gray lock Princess iv 426
Ere childhood's f ringlet turn'd To black and brown In Mem. lxxix 15 on one arm The f ringlets of our infancies Lover's Tale i 234 Flay teeth of Hell f bare and gnash thee Last Tournament 444
f Captives whom they caught in battle— Locksley H., Sixty 79
Flayflint There lived a f near; we stole Walk. to the Mail 84
Flaying F the roofs and sucking up the drains, Princess v 525
Flea text no larger than the limbs of f's; Merlin and V. 672
Fleck slid, a sunny f, From head to ancle Talking Oak 223
That life is dash'd with f's of sin. In Mem. liii 14
Fleckless My conscience will not count me f; Princess ii 294 Fled f Beyond the Memmian naphtha-pits, Alexander 3
Her household f the danger, The Goose 54
Her voice f always thro' the summer land; Edwin Morris 67
I read, and f by night, and flying turn'd: " 134
Then f she to her inmost bower, Godiva 42
'O happy sleep, that lightly f!' Day-Dm., Depart. 18
Thought her proud, and f over the sea; Edward Gray 14
For one fair Vision ever f Down the waste waters The Voyage 57
As fast she f thro' sun and shade, Sir L. and Q. G. 37
F forward, and no news of Enoch came. Enoch Arden 361
His fancy f before the lazy wind Returning, " 657
For maidens, on the spur she f; Princess i 151 when he fell, And all else f? " ii 243
They f, who might have shamed us: " 299
As flies the shadow of a bird, she f. " iii 96 the day f on thro' all Its range of duties " 176 and f, as flies A troop of snowy doves " iv 167 Amazed he f away Thro' the dark land, " v 48

Fled (continued) And shuddering f from room to room, Princess vi 370
My fancy f to the South again. The Daisy 108
Less yearning for the friendship f, In Mem. cxvi 15
Were it not wise I f from the place Maud I i 64
Whether I need have f? „ II ii 72
And I wake, my dream is f; „ iv 51
Left her and f, and Uther enter'd in, Com. of Arthur 201
F down the lane of access to the King, Gareth and L. 661 by this entry f The damsel in her wrath, „ 674
'Lead, and I follow,' and fast away she f. (repeat) „ 760, 990 but three F thro' the pines; „ 814 a Shape that f With broken wings, „ 1207 they f With little save the jewels they had on, Marr. of Geraint 639 F all the boon companions of the Earl, Geraint and E. 477 and f Yelling as from a spectre, „ 732 women staring and aghast, While some yet f; „ 805 Dishorsed himself, and rose again, and f Far, Balin and Balan 330
f from Arthur's court To break the mood. Merlin and V. 297
F like a glittering rivulet to the tarn: Lancelot and E. 52
But I, my sons, and little daughter f „ 276
F ever thro' the woodwork, till they found The new design „ 440
But on that day when Lancelot f the lists, „ 525
Galahad f along them bridge by bridge, Holy Grail 504
Burnt me within, so that I rose and f, „ 608 Ran thro' the doors and vaulted on his horse And f: Pelleas and E. 540 left him bruised And batter'd, and f on, „ 547
Before him f the face of Queen Isolt Last Tournament 363
Tristram waking, the red dream F with a shout, „ 488
Queen Guinevere had f the court, Guinevere 1 hither had she f, her cause of flight Sir Modred; „ 9
F all night long by glimmering waste „ 128
Moan as she f, or thought she heard „ 130
Queen had added 'Get thee hence,' F frighted. „ 367 he that f no further fly the King; Pass. of Arthur 89 like wild Bacchanals F onward to the steeple Lover's Tale iii 26
f Wind-footed to the steeple in the woods, „ 55 in the thick of question and reply I f the house, Sisters (E. and E.) 158 she rose and f Beneath a pitiless rush „ 236 Few were his following, F to his warship: Batt. of Brunanburh 59 and turn'd in her haste and f. The Wreck 62 one son had forged on his father and f, Despair 69 and its last brother-worm will have f „ 85 listens, fears his victim may have f— The Flight 71 crying after voices that have f! Locksley H., Sixty 251
F wavering o'er thy face, and chased away Demeter and P. 15 and turn'd, And f by many a waste, „ 74
Muriel f. Poor Muriel! Ay, poor Muriel The Ring 271 up the tower—an icy air F by me— „ 446
'He is f—I wish him dead— Forlorn 1
He is f, or he is dead, „ 9 have you lost him, is he f? Happy 2
I f. I was all but crazed With the grief Bandit's Death 38
Fledged curved branches, f with clearest green, D. of F. Women 59
F as it were with Mercury's ankle-wing, Lucretius 201 lightlier move The minutes f with music:' Princess iv 37 pines that f The hills that watch'd thee, Lover's Tale i 11 Flee faintest sunlights f About his shadowy sides: The Kraken 4 with increasing might doth forward f By town, Mine be the strength 5 if I f to these Can I go from Him? Enoch Arden 224
Melissa clamour'd 'F the death;' Princess iv 166
What time mine own might also f, In Mem. lxxxiv 37
I f from the cruel madness of love, Maud I iv 55
F down the valley before he get to horse. Gareth and L. 941 a dog am I, To worry, and not to f— „ 1015
'I will f hence and give myself to God'— Last Tournament 624
I would f from the storm within, The Wreck 9
Fleece heavens between their fairy f's pale Gardener's D. 261 many-wintered f of throat and chin. Merlin and V. 841 Burst from a swimming f of winter gray, Demeter and P. 20
Fleece (an inn) 'The Bull, the F are cramm'd, Audley Court 1
Fleeced See Thick-fleeced
Fleecy Moving thro' a f night. Margaret 21
Fleet (adj.) f I was of foot: Before me shower'd Princess iv 263

Fleet (s) all the f Had rest by stony hills On a Mourner 34 a f of glass, That seem'd a f of jewels Sea Dreams 122
An idle signal, for the brittle f „ 133 my poor venture but a f of glass „ 138
Breaking their mailed f's and armed towers, Ode Inter. Exhib. 39
Welcome her, thunders of fort and of f! W. to Alexandra 6
I trust if an enemy's f came yonder Maud I i 49
Ev'n in the presence of an enemy's f, Guinevere 279
For half of their f to the right The Revenge 35
the Spanish f with broken sides lay round „ 71
The f of England is her all-in-all; Her f is in your hands, And in her f her Fate. The Fleet 13 you, that have the ordering of her f, „ 16
One life, one flag, one f, one Throne!' Open I. and C. Exhib. 39 valour in battle, glorious annals of army and f, Vastness 7
Than a rotten f and a city in flames! Riflemen form! 18
Fleet (verb) The cloud f's, The heart beats, Nothing will Die 11
The clouds will cease to f; All Things will Die 11
And the light and shadow f; Maud II iv 36
And the shadow flits and f's „ 90
Before them f's the shower, Early Spring 13
Fleeted (See also Far-fleeted) As fast we f to the South: The Voyage 4
Those that of late had f far and fast Pref. Son. 19th Cent. 1
F his vessel to sea with the king in it, Batt. of Brunanburh 60
Fleeter know Whether smile or frown be f? Madeline 12
Fleeting (See also Ever-fleeting) When will the clouds be aweary of f? Nothing will Die 5
Sow'd all their mystic gulfs with f stars; Gardener's D. 262
One after another the white clouds are f; All Things will Die 5
'Or that this anguish f hence, Two Voices 235
And f thro' the boundless universe, Lucretius 161
Or villain fancy f by, Drew in the expression In Mem. cxi 18 in the night, When the ghosts are f. Forlorn 18
F betwixt her column'd palace-walls, St. Telemachus 37 Flesh (See also Swine-flesh) my f, which I despise and hate, St. S. Stylites 58
Mortify Your f, like me, with scourges „ 180
But far too spare of f.' Talking Oak 92
Padded round with f and fat, Vision of Sin 177
But they that cast her spirit into f, Aylmer's Field 481 Thou wilt not gash thy f for him; „ 658 and swept away The men of f and blood, Sea Dreams 237 never yet on earth Could dead f creep, Lucretius 131
Oh, sacred be the f and blood In Mem. xxxiii 11
All knowledge that the sons of f „ lxxxv 27
O heart of stone, are you f, Maud I vi 79
And she was fairest of all f on earth, Com. of Arthur 3
Some hold that he hath swallow'd infant f, Gareth and L. 1342 Go to the town and buy us f Marr. of Geraint 372 means of goodly welcome, f and wine. „ 387 boil'd the f, and spread the board, „ 391 call'd for f and wine to feed his spears. Geraint and E. 601 all the hall was dim with steam of f: „ 603
If arm of f could lay him.' Balin and Balan 299 shield of Balan prick'd The hauberk to the f; „ 560 World-war of dying f against the life, Merlin and V. 193
Nor ever touch'd fierce wine, nor tasted f, „ 627 how pale! what are they? f and blood? Lancelot and E. 1256
The beauty of her f abash'd the boy, Pelleas and E. 78
the world Is f and shadow—I have had my day. Last Tournament 316
They fail'd to trace him thro' the f and blood „ 686
Which f and blood perforce would violate: „ 689
I cannot take thy hand; that too is f, Guinevere 553 in the f thou hast sinn'd; and mine own f, „ 554
My love thro' f hath wrought into my life „ 558
F of my f was gone, but bone of my bone was left— Rizpah 51 a cross of f and blood And holier. Sir J. Oldcastle 137
'He veil'd Himself in f, and now He veils His f in bread, „ 156 Chill'd, till I tasted f again To E. Fitzgerald 20 keep their haithen kings in the f for the Jidgemint day, Tomorrow 70 died in the doing it, f without mind; Vastness 27
He that has nail'd all f to the Cross, „ 28
Hast spared the f of thousands, Happy 17 fairest f at last is filth on which the worm „ 30
This wall of solid f that comes between „ 35

Flesh (continued) If man and wife be but one f, Happy 94
Flesh'd See Foul-flesh'd
Fleshless crown'd with f laughter— Gareth and L. 1383 like a barren ghost From out the f world of spirits, The Ring 228 Fleshly this f sign That thou art thou— De Prof., Two G. 40
Fleurs-de-lys sink Thy f-d-l in slime again, Sir J. Oldcastle 99
Flew Out f the web and floated wide; L. of Shalott iii 42
That loosely f to left and right— " iv 20
A living flash of light he f.' Two Voices 15
The goose f this way and f that, The Goose 35
The fire shot up, the martin f, Day-Dm., Revival 11
F over roof and casement: Will Water. 134
'Chase,' he said: the ship f forward, The Captain 33
the rim Changed every moment as we f. The Voyage 28 till they f, Hair, and eyes, and limbs, Vision of Sin 38 a country dance, and f thro' light And shadow, Princess, Pro. 84
f kite, and raced the purple fly, " ii 248
Till o'er the hills her eagles f Ode on Well. 112
The gust that round the garden f, In Mem. lxxxix 19 then f in a dove And brought a summons " ciii 15 and the blade f Splintering in six, Balin and Balan 395 all that walk'd, or crept, or perch'd, or f. Last Tournament 367 its shadow f Before it, till it touch'd her, Guinevere 79
And the daws f out of the Towers V. of Maeldune 109
Flexile So youthful and so f then, Amphion 59
Flicker The shadows f to and fro: D. of the O. Year 39
Where the dying night-lamp f's, Locksley Hall 80 wisp that f's where no foot can tread.' Princess iv 358
To f with his double tongue. In Mem. cx 8 seem to f past thro' sun and shade, Ancient Sage 100 Nor f down to brainless pantomime, To W. C. Macready 10
Flicker'd high masts f as they lay afloat; D. of F. Women 113
F like doubtful smiles about her lips, Lover's Tale i 68 in the heaven above it there f a songless lark, V. of Maeldune 17
Lightnings f along the heath; Dead Prophet 79
F and bicker'd From helmet to helmet, Merlin and the G. 70
Flickering (See also Livid-flickering) night-light f in my eyes Awoke me.' Sea Dreams 103 and f in a grimly light Dance on the mere. Gareth and L. 826 lark Shot up and shrill'd in f gyres, Princess vii 46
f fairy-circle wheel'd and broke Guinevere 257
Draw downward into Hades with his drift Of f spectres, Demeter and P. 27
Prince Who scarce had pluck'd his f life To the Queen ii 5 Might find a f glimmer of relief In change of place. To Mary Boyle 47 sometimes I fear You may be f, Sisters (E. and E.) 33 Flight (flying) (See also Swallow-flight) And of so fierce a f, From Calpe unto Caucasus The Poet 14 Love wept and spread his sheeny vans for f; Love and Death 8 free delight, from any height of rapid f, Rosalind 3
And that delight of frolic f, " 47
Rapt after heaven's starry f, Two Voices 68 summits slope Beyond the furthest f's of hope, " 185
she led, In hope to gain upon her f. The Voyage 60
What look'd a f of fairy arrows aim'd Aylmer's Field 94
F's, terrors, sudden rescues, " 99
Your f from out your bookless wilds Princess ii 56
Edyrn's men had caught them in their f, Marr. of Geraint 642 she fled, her cause of f Sir Modred; Guinevere 9 prone f By thousands down the crags Montenegro 7 f of birds, the flame of sacrifice, Tiresias 6 cheeping to each other of their f To summer lands! The Ring 86
And over the f of the Ages! Parnassus 3 once a f of shadowy fighters crost The disk, St. Telemachus 23 Flight (of stairs) Broad-based f's of marble stairs Arabian Nights 117
And up a f of stairs into the hall. Princess ii 31
Fling (s) Give me my f, and let me say my say.' Aylmer's Field 399
Fling (verb) to f The winged shafts of truth, The Poet 25
Tho' one did f the fire. " 30
f on each side my low-flowing locks, The Mermaid 32 take Excalibur, And f him far into the middle mere: M. d'Arthur 37
But, if thou spare to f Excalibur, " 131 good luck Shall f her old shoe after. Will Water. 216
And f the diamond necklace by.' Lady Clare 40
'Can I not f this horror off me again, Lucretius 173 Fling (verb) (continued) will she f herself, Shameless upon me? Lucretius 202
f The tricks, which make us toys of men, Princess ii 62 all prophetic pity, f Their pretty maids " v 381
'F our doors wide! all, all, not one, " vi 334
And f it like a viper off, and shriek " vii 94
f whate'er we felt, not fearing, into words. Third of Feb. 6 Never a man could f him: Grandmother 10
f This bitter seed among mankind; In Mem. xc 3 sadness f's Her shadow on the blaze of kings: " xcviii 18
Did he f himself down? who knows? Maud I i 9
I swear thou canst not f the fourth.' Gareth and L. 1327
And f me deep in that forgotten mere, Lancelot and E. 1426 an ye f those rubies round my neck In lieu of hers, Last Tournament 312 take Excalibur, And f him far into the middle mere: Pass. of Arthur 205
But, if thou spare to f Excalibur, " 299
That f's a mist behind it in the sun— Lover's Tale iv 294 and f Thy royalty back into the riotous fits Sir J. Oldcastle 99
I would f myself over and die! The Wreck 118 earth's dark forehead f's athwart the heavens Ancient Sage 200
And f free alms into the beggar's bowl, " 260
What? f them to you?—well— Happy 103
Mussulman Who f's his bowstrung Harem Romney's R. 135 horse, anger, plunged To f me, and fail'd. Akbar's Dream 119 Flinging F the gloom of yesternight On the white day; Ode to Memory 9 f round her neck, Claspt it, and cried Last Tournament 749 like the wave f forward again, Def. of Lucknow 43
Was f fruit to lions; Tiresias 67
Flint shake The sparkling f's beneath the prow. Arabian Nights 52 clattering f's batter'd with clanging hoofs; D. of F. Women 21 Is there no stoning save with f and rock? Aylmer's Field 746 own one port of sense not f to prayer, Princess vi 182 out upon you, f! You love nor her, " 259 heart as a millstone, set my face as a f, Maud I i 31
But then what a f is he! " xix 57 forage for the horse, and f for fire. Gareth and L. 1277 Flippant The f put himself to school In Mem. cx 10
Flirt Not one to f a venom at her eyes, Merlin and V. 609
Flit will f To make the greensward fresh, Talking Oak 89
Let our girls f, Till the storm die! Princess vi 337 Look, look, how he f's, Window, Ay 7 f like the king of the wrens with a crown of fire. " 16
Or like to noiseless phantoms f: In Mem. xx 16
What slender shade of doubt may f, " xlviii 7
F's by the sea-blue bird of March; " xci 4
A shadow f's before me, Maud II iv 11 shadow f's and fleets And will not let me be; " 90
Then let her fancy f across the past, Marr. of Geraint 645
And while your doves about you f, To E. Fitzgerald 7 from him f's to warn A far-off friendship Demeter and P. 89 round her brows a woodland culver f's, Prog. of Spring 18
Flitted F across into the night, Miller's D. 127
The little innocent soul f away. Enoch Arden 270 unawares they f off, Busying themselves about Aylmer's Field 202 left me in shadow here! Gone—f away! Window, Gone 4 f I know not where! " 7 Foälks' coostom f awaäy like a kite North. Cobbler 28 music Of falling torrents, F The Gleam. Merlin and the G. 48
Flittermouse-shriek fainter than any f-s; V. of Maeldune 22
Flitteth The shallop f silken-sail'd L. of Shalott i 22
Flitting (part.) 'What! You're f!' 'Yes, we're f,' says he, 'you f with us too— Walk. to the Mail 43
F, fairy Lilian, " 45
And airy forms of f change. Lilian 2 till all my f chance Were caught within the record Madeline 7
Flitting (s) After the f of the bats, Princess v 142
Plagued with a f to and fro, Mariana 17
Float F's from his sick and filmed eyes, Maud II ii 33
F by you on the verge of night. Supp. Confessions 166 languors of thy love-deep eyes F on to me. Margaret 31 as the warm gulf-stream of Florida F's Eleänore 77
Floated her hair or seem'd to f in rest. Mine be the strength 13 Falls, and f's adown the air. Œnone 19
Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 31

Float (continued) forms, That f about the threshold of an age, Golden Year 16 steam F's up from those dim fields about the homes Tithonus 69 never f's an European flag, Locksley Hall 161
f thro' Heaven, and cannot light? Day-Dm., Ep. 8
I f till all is dark. Sir Galahad 40
I seem'd To f about a glimmering night, Princess i 247 bottom agates seem to wave and f „ ii 327 the streams that f us each and all „ iv 70
And f or fall, in endless ebb and flow; W. to Marie Alex. 27 airy-light To f above the ways of men, To E. Fitzgerald 18
She f's across the hamlet. Prog. of Spring 40
May f awhile beneath the sun, Romney's R. 50 vapour in daylight Over the mountain F's, Kapolani 18 boats of Dahomey that f upon human blood! The Dawn 5

Floated Adown it f a dying swan, Dying Swan 6
Out flew the web and f wide; L. of Shalott iii 42
She f down to Camelot: „ iv 23
A gleaming shape she f by, „ 39
if first I f free, As naked essence, Two Voices 373
F her hair or seem'd to float in rest. Œnone 19
F the glowing sunlights, as she moved. „ 182 she f to us and said: 'You have done well Princess iv 526 lordly creature f on To where her wounded brethren lay; „ vi 89
And o'er her breast f the sacred fish; Gareth and L. 223
She might have risen and f when I saw her. Holy Grail 100
White as white clouds, f from sky to sky. Lover's Tale i 5
Waver'd and f—which was less than Hope, „ 452
And f on and parted round her neck, „ 704 about my brow Her warm breast f in the utterance „ ii 141
f in—While all the guests in mute amazement „ iv 304
F in conquering battle or flapt to the battle-cry! Def. of Lucknow 2
Had f in with sad reproachful eyes, The Ring 469 Moving to melody, F The Gleam. Merlin and the G. 23 and thro' her dream A ghostly murmur f, Death of Œnone 79

Floating (See also Ever-floating) And f about the under-sky, Dying Swan 25
F thro' an evening atmosphere, Eleänore 100 misty folds, that f as they fell Lit up Palace of Art 35
With thy f flaxen hair; Adeline 6
Down-droop'd, in many a f fold, Arabian Nights 147 Stays on her f locks the lovely freight Ode to Memory 16 thro' the wreaths of f dark upcurl'd, The Poet 35 land Of lavish lights, and f shades: Eleänore 12 luxuriant symmetry Of thy f gracefulness, „ 50
Made misty with the f meal. Miller's D. 104
Buoy'd upon f tackle and broken spars, Enoch Arden 551 Came f on for many a month and year, Vision of Sin 54 o'er it crost the dimness of a cloud F, Pelleas and E. 38 and mine Were dim with f tears, Lover's Tale i 442
All day I watch'd the f isles of shade, „ ii 5 in their f folds They past and were no more: „ 99

Flock And in the f's The lamb rejoiceth Supp. Confessions 156
By dancing rivulets fed his f's To E. L. 22 when he came again, his f believed— Aylmer's Field 600 half amazed half frighted all his f: „ 631 my eldest-born, the flower of the f; Grandmother 9
And bring the firstling to the f; In Mem. ii 6 meadowy curves, That feed the mothers of the f; „ c 16
The f's are whiter down the vale, „ cxv 10

Flock'd thither f at noon His tenants, Princess, Pro. 3 a careless people f from the fields Dead Prophet 7

Flood (s) (See also Fountain-flood) From the westward-winding f, Margaret 9 island queen who sways the f's and lands Buonaparte 3
They past into the level f, Miller's D. 75 dragons spouted forth A f of fountain-foam. Palace of Art 24 and takes the f With swarthy webs. M. d'Arthur 268
By sands and steaming flats, and f's The Voyage 45 his passions all in f And masters of his motion, Aylmer's Field 339 Bore down in f, and dash'd his angry heart „ 633
f, fire, earthquake, thunder, wrought Such waste „ 639
the f drew; yet I caught her; Princess iv 182 Better have died and spilt our bones in the f— „ 532 fling Their pretty maids in the running f, „ 382

Flood (s) (continued) And whiten'd all the rolling f; The Victim 20 lead Thro' prosperous f's his holy urn. In Mem. ix 8 Summer on the steaming f's, „ lxxxv 69 shadowing down the horned f In ripples, „ lxxxvi 7 lay At anchor in the f below; „ ciii 20
And roll'd the f's in grander space, „ 26
And molten up, and roar in f; „ cxxvii 13
No doubt vast eddies in the f Of onward time „ cxxviii 5 have isled together, knave, In time of f. Gareth and L. 894 follow Vivien thro' the fiery f! Balin and Balan 454 when ye used to take me with the f Lancelot and E. 1037 far up the shining f Until we found the palace „ 1043
I was all alone upon the f, „ 1046
Beyond the poplar and far up the f, „ 1050
Oar'd by the dumb, went upward with the f— „ 1154
Then fell the f's of heaven drowning the deep. Holy Grail 533 and takes the f With swarthy webs. Pass. of Arthur 436 booming indistinct Of the confused f's, Lover's Tale i 638 Saving his life on the fallow f. Batt. of Brunanburh 61
Shrine-shattering earthquake, fire, f, thunderbolt, Tiresias 61 Gone like fires and f's and earthquakes Locksley H., Sixty 40 shine the level lands, And flash the f's; Early Spring 16 Produce of your field and f, Open. I. and C. Exhib. 5
From under rose a muffled moan of f's; Prog. of Spring 70
The f may bear me far, Crossing the Bar 14

Flood (verb) F with full daylight glebe and town? Two Voices 87
F's all the deep-blue gloom with beams D. of F. Women 186
Ready to burst and f the world with foam: Princess iv 474
And f a fresher throat with song. In Mem. lxxxiii 16
f the haunts of hern and crake; „ ci 14 poach'd filth that f's the middle street, Merlin and V. 798 f's with redundant life Her narrow portals. Lover's Tale i 84

Flooded Were f over with eddying song. Dying Swan 42 risen before his time And f at our nod. D. of F. Women 144 eyes All f with the helpless wrath of tears, Enoch Arden 32 Over all the woodland's f bowers, Sisters (E. and E.) 20 the lake beyond his limit, And all was f; The Daisy 72

Flooding f, leaves Low banks of yellow sand; Lover's Tale i 534
On hill, or plain, at sea, or f ford. Holy Grail 728

Floor Old footsteps trod the upper f's, Mariana 67
Flung inward over spangled f's, Arabian Nights 116
The meal-sacks on the whiten'd f, Miller's D. 101 find my garden-tools upon the granary f: May Queen, N. Y's. E. 45 rolling waves Of sound on roof and f Within, D. of F. Women 192 There's a new foot on the f, my friend, D. of the O. Year 52
As head and heels upon the f They flounder'd The Goose 37
All heaven bursts her starry f's, St. Agnes' Eve 27 thou shalt cease To pace the gritted f, Will Water. 242 shape it plank and beam for roof and f, Princess vi 46 Throbb'd thunder thro' the palace f's, „ vii 104 crash'd the glass and beat the f; In Mem. lxxxvii 20
Witch-elms that counterchange the f „ lxxxix 1
But let no footstep beat the f, „ cv 17 russet-bearded head roll'd on the f. Geraint and E. 729 others from the f, Tusklike, arising, Balin and Balan 315 Crush'd the wild passion out against the f Lancelot and E. 742 once she slipt like water to the f. „ 830 grovell'd with her face against the f: Guinevere 415 Parted a little ere they met the f, Lover's Tale iv 215 like the dead by the dead on the cabin f, The Wreck 112 as we was a-cleänin' the f, Spinster's S's. 49 fire of fever creeps across the rotted f, Locksley H., Sixty 223 wi' my hairm hingin' down to the f, Owd Roä 65
Found in a chink of that old moulder'd f!' The Ring 280
The sacred relics tost about the f— „ 447

Flop hoickt my feet wi' a f fro' the claäy. Spinster's S's. 30

Flora (Christian name) work in hues to dim The Titianic F. Gardener's D. 171
O, Lady F, let me speak: Day-Dm., Pro. 1
So, Lady F, take my lay, „ Moral 1
So, Lady F, take my lay, „ Ep. 1

Florence (town) 'Poor lad, he died at F, The Brook 35
At F too what golden hours, The Daisy 41
Abroad, at F, at Rome, Maud I xix 58
Fair F honouring thy nativity, Thy F now the crown of Italy, To Dante 3

Flores At F in the Azores Sir Richard Grenville lay, The Revenge 1
And he sailed away from F ,, 23
Florian I stood With Cyril and with F, Princess i 52
F said: I have a sister at the foreign court, ,, 74
I stole from court With Cyril and with F, ,, 103
F, but no livelier than the dame ,, ii 112
'The fifth in line from that old F, ,, 238
The loyal warmth of F is not cold, ,, 244
'Are you that Psyche,' F added; ,, 246
'Are you that Psyche,' F ask'd, ,, 269 so pacing till she paused By F; ,, 303
I am sad and glad To see you, F. ,, 307
'Ungracious!' answer'd F; 'have you learnt ,, 392
What think you of it, F? ,, 408
'Tell us,' F ask'd, 'How grew this feud ,, iii 76
Then murmur'd F gazing after her, ,, 97
Cyril kept With Psyche, with Melissa F, ,, 355
F nodded at him, I frowning; ,, iv 159 Alone I stood With F, cursing Cyril, ,, 171 the doubt 'if this were she,' But it was F. ,, 218 prayer, Which melted F's fancy as she hung, ,, 370
Then F knelt, and 'Come' he whisper'd to her, ,, v 63
F, he That loved me closer than his own right eye, ,, 530
'Your brother, Lady,—F,—ask for him ,, vi 313
But Psyche tended F: ,, vii 55
Florid f, stern, as far as eye could see, Sea Dreams 219
Engirt with many a f maiden-cheek, Princess iii 350
Florida as the warm gulf-stream of F Floats Mine be the strength 12
Flounce dimpled f of the sea-furbelow flap, Sea Dreams 266
Flounder began to move, And f into hornpipes. Amphion 24
Should I f awhile without a tumble Hendecasyllabics 9
Floundered They f all together, The Goose 38
Floundering The weary steed of Pelleas f Pelleas and E. 574
Part stumbled mixt with f horses. Princess v 498
Flour f From his tall mill that whistled Enoch Arden 342 Flourish (s) In the mid might and f of his May, Lancelot and E. 554 Flourish (verb) O f high, with leafy towers, Talking Oak 197
O f, hidden deep in fern, ,, 201 f'es Green in a cuplike hollow of the down. Enoch Arden 8 life in him Could scarce be said to f, The Brook 12
Out of evil evil f'es, Boädicea 83
She said, 'The evil f in the world.' Lover's Tale i 348
Flourish'd F a little garden square and wall'd: Enoch Arden 734
They f then or then; but life in him The Brook 11
From all a closer interest f up, Princess vii 113 poplar and cypress unshaken by storm f up beyond sight, V. of Maeldune 15
You should be jubilant that you f here Poets and their B. 12 Flourishing cave Of touchwood, with a single f spray. Aylmer's Field 512 thence they wasted all the f territory, Boädicea 54
Flout put your beauty to this f and scorn Geraint and E. 675
And all to f me, when they bring me in, Pelleas and E. 330
Flouted When he f a statesman's error, The Wreck 68 Flow (s) Low-tinkled with a bell-like f The winds, etc. 7 silver f Of subtle-paced counsel in distress, Isabel 20 Down from the central fountain's f Arabian Nights 50 sonorous f Of spouted fountain-floods. Palace of Art 27 that f Of music left the lips of her that died D. of F. Women 194 Have ebb and f conditioning their march, Golden Year 30 float or fall, in endless ebb and f; W. to Marie Alex. 27 a rock in ebbs and f's, Fixt on her faith. Marr. of Geraint 812 clearer in my life than all Its present f. Lover's Tale i 150
With its true-touch'd pulses in the f ,, 205 source Of these sad tears, and feeds their downward f. ,, 784
Sway'd by vaster ebbs and f's Locksley H., Sixty 194 Flow (verb) The stream f's, The wind blows, Nothing will Die 9
The stream will cease to f; All Things will Die 9 till his own blood f's About his hoof. Supp. Confessions 155
All night the silence seems to f Oriana 86
Motions f To one another, Eleänore 61
May into uncongenial spirits f; Mine be the strength 11
But now thy beauty f's away. Mariana in the S. 67
There's somewhat f's to us in life, Miller's D. 21
They saw the gleaming river seaward f Lotos-Eaters 14
According to my humour ebb and f. D. of F. Women 134 Flow (verb) (continued) I had not dared to f In these words toward you, To J. S. 6 thro' such tears As f but once a life. Love and Duty 64
F down, cold rivulet, to the sea, A Farewell 1
F, softly f, by lawn and lea, ,, 5
Till last by Philip's farm I f ,, The Brook 31 and f To join the brimming river, (repeat) ,, 63, 182 your great name f on with broadening time Princess iii 164 let the turbid streams of rumour f Ode on Well. 181
All along the valley, where thy waters f, V. of Cauteretz 3
The tide f's down, the wave again Is vocal In Mem. xix 13
The double tides of chariots f ,, xcviii 23
The hills are shadows, and they f ,, cxxiii 5
F thro' our deeds and make them pure, ,, cxxxi 4
And all we f from, soul in soul. ,, 12
they do not f From evil done; Guinevere 188
F back again unto my slender spring Lover's Tale i 147
Flow'd tide of time f back with me, Arabian Nights 3
Heaven f upon the soul in many dreams The Poet 31
Rare sunrise f. ,, 36
F forth on a carol free and bold; Dying Swan 30
From underneath his helmet f L. of Shalott, iii 30 o'er him f a golden cloud, and lean'd Upon him, Œnone 105
Thus far he f, and ended; Golden Year 52
Fast f the current of her easy tears, Enoch Arden 865 (possibly He f and ebb'd uncertain, Aylmer's Field 218
The mother f in shallower acrimonies: ,, 563 but when the preacher's cadence f ,, 729 and dream and truth F from me; Princess v 542 Bloodily f the Tamesa rolling phantom bodies Boädicea 27 ladies came, and by and by the town F in, Marr. of Geraint 547 light upon her silver face F from the spiritual lily Balin and Balan 264 in that hour A hope f round me, Lover's Tale i 449 that life I heeded not F from me, ,, 597 Loosed from their simple thrall they had f abroad, ,, 703 past and f away To those unreal billows: ,, ii 195 the grape from whence it f Was blackening Sisters (E. and E.) 61 the field with blood of the fighters F, Batt. of Brunanburh 25 Flower (s) (See also Cuckoo-flower, Field-flower, Flag-flower, Hearth-flower, Heather-flower, Honey-suckle-flower, Marish-flowers, Passion-flower, Poison-flowers, Orange-flower, Sea-flower, Spring-flowers, Wild-flower, Wildweed-flower) the heart to scathe F's thou hadst rear'd— Supp. Confessions 84
The stately f of female fortitude, Isabel 11
In order, eastern f's large, Arabian Nights 61
Engarlanded and diaper'd With inwrought f's, ,, 149 (Those peerless f's which in the rudest wind Ode to Memory 24 and sweet showers Of festal f's, ,, 78 the heavy stalks Of the mouldering f's: A spirit haunts 8 like the arrow-seeds of the field f, The Poet 19 mother plant in semblance, grew A f all gold, ,, 24 water will I pour Into every spicy f Poet's Mind 13
The f's would faint at your cruel cheer. ,, 15
With many a deep-hued bell-like f Eleänore 37
Overlook a space of f's, L. of Shalott i 16
About the opening of the f, Two Voices 161
You scarce could see the grass for f's. ,, 453 and you were gay With bridal f's— Miller's D. 165
I roll'd among the tender f's: Fatima 11 meadow-ledges midway down Hang rich in f's, Œnone 7 purple f droops: the golden bee Is lily-cradled: ,, 29
With bunch and berry and f thro' and thro'. ,, 102
A simple maiden in her f Is worth L. C. V. de Vere 15
But I must gather knots of f's, May Queen 11
Last May we made a crown of f's: May Queen, N. Y's. E. 9
There's not a f on all the hills: ,, 13
I long to see a f so before the day I die. ,, 16
When the f's come again, mother, ,, 25 the land about, and all the f's that blow, ,, Con. 7 Wild f's in the valley for other hands ,, 52 enchanted stem, Laden with f and fruit, Lotos-Eaters 29 in the stream the long-leaved f's weep, ,, C. S. 10
The f ripens in its place, ,, 36
I knew the f's, I knew the leaves, D. of F. Women 73

Flower (s) (continued) Feeding the f; but ere my f to fruit Changed, D. of F. Women 207 shadow of the f's Stole all the golden gloss, Gardener's D. 129
Each garlanded with her peculiar f " 201
And made a little wreath of all the f's Dora 82
The wreath of f's fell At Dora's feet. " 102 honeycomb of eloquence Stored from all f's? Edwin Morris 27
The f of each, those moments when we met, " 69
Like Proserpine in Enna, gathering f's: " 112 bring me offerings of fruit and f's: St. S. Stylites 128
The f, she touch'd on, dipt and rose, Talking Oak 131
The drooping f of knowledge changed to fruit Love and Duty 24 Live happy; tend thy f's; " 87 we reap The f and quintessence of change. Day-Dm., L'Envoi 24 bird of Eden burst In carol, every bud to f, " 44
Perfume and f's fall in showers, Sir Galahad 11
That are the f of the earth?' Lady Clare 68
With naked limbs and f's and fruit, The Voyage 55
But we nor paused for fruit nor f's. " 56
What! the f of life is past: Vision of Sin 69
robed your cottage-walls with f's Aylmer's Field 698 Makes his heart voice amid the blaze of f's: Lucretius 101
Crown'd with a f or two, and there an end— " 229
Or beast or bird or fish, or opulent f: " 249
F's of all heavens, and lovelier than their names, Princess, Pro. 12 Laid it on f's, and watch'd it lying bathed " i 93 and with great urns of f's. " ii 26 the bird, the fish, the shell, the f, " 383 long hall glitter'd like a bed of f's. " 439 Fluctuated, as f's in storm, some red, " iv 482 Remembering her mother: O my f! " v 89 the household f Torn from the lintel— " 128 squadrons of the Prince, trampling the f's " 247
I take her for the f of womankind, " 287
Their feet in f's, her loveliest: " vi 78
With books, with f's, with Angel offices, " vii 26
And like a f that cannot all unfold, " 141 and crown'd with all her f's. Ode Inter. Exhib. 42 Break, happy land, into earlier f's! W. to Alexandra 10
Has given our Prince his own imperial F, W. to Marie Alex. 4 welcome Russian f, a people's pride, To Britain when her f's begin to blow! " 6
my eldest-born, the f of the flock; Grandmother 9 Shadow and shine is life, little Annie, f and thorn. " 60 my beauty, my eldest-born, my f; " 101
—wot's a beauty?—the f as blaws. N. Farmer, N. S. 15 Up there came a f, The people said, The Flower 3 muttering discontent Cursed me and my f. " 8 the people cried, 'Splendid is the f.' " 16
Most can raise the f's now, " 19
F in the crannied wall, Flow. in cran. wall 1
Little f—but if I could understand " 4 fruit Which in our winter woodland looks a f. A Dedication 13
All of f's, and drop me a f, Drop me a f. Window, At the W. 6
Cannot a f, a f, be mine? " 9 Drop me a f, a f, to kiss, " 11 her bower All of f's, a f, a f, Dropt, a f. " 13
The seasons bring the f again, In Mem. ii 5 may find A f beat with rain and wind, " viii 15
And this poor f of poesy " 19
From f to f, from snow to snow: " xxii 4
When f is feeling after f; " xxxix 7 traces of the past Be all the colour of the f: " xliii 8
The path we came by, thorn and f, " xlvi 2
The perfect f of human time; " lxi 4
Made cypress of her orange f, " lxxxiv 15
And brushing ankle-deep in f's, " lxxxix 49
Day, when I lost the f of men; " xcix 4
The time admits not f's or leaves " cvii 5 the f And native growth of noble mind; " cxi 15
But tho' I seem in star and f To feel thee " cxxx 6
But where is she, the bridal f, " Con. 25 weight Of learning lightly like a f. " 40 That pelt us in the porch with f's. " 68 is but seed Of what in them is f and fruit; " 136

Flower (s) (continued) Man in his pride, and Beauty fair in her f; Maud I iv 25
To the f's, and be their sun. " xxii 58
For a shell, or a f, little things " II ii 64 splendour falls On the little f that clings " iv 33
It is only f's, they had no fruits, " v 77
Wearing the white f of a blameless life, Ded. of Idylls 25
Lancelot past away among the f's, Com. of Arthur 450 and return'd Among the f's, in May, " 452 the live green had kindled into f's, Gareth and L. 185 nose Tip-tilted like the petal of a f; " 591
As if the f, That blows a globe of after arrowlets, " 1028
'O dewy f's that open to the sun, O dewy f's that close when day is done, " 1066
'What knowest thou of f's, except, belike, " 1069
Who lent me thee, the f of kitchendom, A foolish love for f's? " 1071 F's? nay, the boar hath rosemaries and bay. " 1074 Miss the full f of this accomplishment.' " 1297 will hide with mantling f's As if for pity?' " 1392 Fresh as a f new-born, and crying, " 1409 like a crag was gay with wilding f's: Marr. of Geraint 319 Whom Gwydion made by glamour out of f's, " 743 Betwixt the cressy islets white in f; Geraint and E. 475 wealth Of leaf, and gayest garlandage of f's, Balin and Balan 83 Lancelot with his hand among the f's " 259
Prince, we have ridd'n before among the f's " 272
The f of all their vestal knighthood, knelt " 508
They might have cropt the myriad f of May, " 577
As once—of old—among the f's—they rode. Merlin and V. 136
And noble deeds, the f of all the world. " 413
'to pluck the f in season,' So says the song, " 722
A border fantasy of branch and f, Lancelot and E. 11
Lancelot, the f of bravery, Guinevere, The pearl " 113
The f of all the west and all the world, " 249
So saying, from the carven f above, " 549
if I bide, lo! this wild f for me!' " 644
For pleasure all about a field of f's: " 793 the victim's f's before he fall.' " 910 Hereafter, when you yield your f of life " 952 showers of f's Fell as we past; Holy Grail 348 disarm'd By maidens each as fair as any f: " 576 the wholesome f And poisonous grew together, " 775 see thou, that it may bear its f. " 887 your f Waits to be solid fruit of golden deeds, Last Tournament 99 purple slopes of mountain f's Pass under white, till the warm hour returns With veer of wind, and all are f's again; " 229
Is all as cool and white as any f.' " 416
Come dashing down on a tall wayside f, Guinevere 253
A glorious company, the f of men, " 464
To which my spirit leaneth all her f's, Lover's Tale i 104 broad and open f tell What sort of bud it was, " 151
Can ye take off the sweetness from the f, " 171
And then point out the f or the star? " 175 mine made garlands of the selfsame f, " 343 let grow The f's that run poison in their veins. " 347 poppy-stem, whose f, Hued with the scarlet of a fierce sunrise, " 352 no leaf, no f, no fruit for me. " 725 Laden with thistledown and seeds of f's, " ii 13 her I loved, adorn'd with fading f's. " iii 40 the f of a year and a half is thine, To A. Tennyson 3
'Our Nelly's the f of 'em all.' First Quarrel 28
cleän as a f fro' 'eäd to feeät: North. Cobbler 44
All the bowers and the f's, Fainting f's, faded bowers, Sisters (E. and E.) 10 Over all the meadows drowning f's, " 21 you used to send her the f's; In the Child. Hosp. 33
F's to these 'spirits in prison' " 37
And she lay with a f in one hand " 39
And we came to the Isle of F's: V. of Maeldune 37 we tore up the f's by the million " 53 one carved all over with f's, " 106 there were more for the carven f's, " 112

Flower (s) (continued) Cast at thy feet one f that fades away. To Dante 7 one snowy knee was prest Against the margin f's; Tiresias 43
And him the last; and laying f's, " 212 speaking aloud To women, the f of the time, The Wreck 49
Who had borne my f on her hireling heart; " 143
Trusting no longer that earthly f Despair 35 on an earth that bore not a f; " 44
And wind the front of youth with f's, Ancient Sage 97 songs in praise of death, and crown'd with f's! " 209 a f Had murmurs 'Lost and gone and lost and gone!' " 223
'His two wild woodland f's.' Wild f's blowing side by side The Flight 80 Wild f's of the secret woods, " 82
May all the f's o' Jerousilim blossom Tomorrow 89
An' the lark fly out o' the f's " 91 carpet es fresh es a midder o' f's i' Maäy— Spinster's S's. 45 used to call the very f's Sisters, Locksley H., Sixty 101 perhaps a world of never fading f's. " 184 face of Edith like a f among the f's. " 260 Or Love with wreaths of f's. Epilogue 17
the laughing shepherd bound with f's; To Virgil 16 and fills The f with dew; Early Spring 46 where the purple f's grow, Frater Ave, etc. 4 here thy hands let fall the gather'd f, Demeter and P. 9 now once more ablaze With f's that brighten " 36
All f's—but for one black blur of earth " 37
My quick tears kill'd the f, " 108 Caught by the f that closes on the fly, The Ring 344 lonely maiden-Princess, crown'd with f's, " 485 Her tribes of men, and trees, and f's, To Ulysses 3 the bloodless heart of lowly f's Prog. of Spring 84
No louder than a bee among the f's, Romney's R. 82 the rose Cry to the lotus 'No f thou'? Akbar's Dream 37 Warble bird, and open f, and, men, " Hymn 7
I am dressing the grave of a woman with f's. Charity 2
I am dressing her grave with f's. " 44
Vary like the leaves and f's, Poets and Critics 4
Draw from my death Thy living f and grass, Doubt and Prayer 6

Flower (verb) white as privet when it f's. Walk. to the Mail 56 but as poets' seasons when they f, Golden Year 28 his followers, all F into fortune— Columbus 167
So blighted here, would f into full health The Ring 317 while the races f and fade, Making of Man 5

Flowerage Busying themselves about the f Aylmer's Field 203

Flower-bells cluster'd f-b and ambrosial orbs Isabel 36

Flower'd (See also Freshly-flowered, White-flower'd) a dress All branch'd and f with gold, Marr. of Geraint 631 answers to his mother's calls From the f furrow. Supp. Confessions 160 FIFTY times the rose has f and faded, On Jub. Q. Victoria 1
A rhyme that f betwixt the whitening sloe To Mary Boyle 25 Flowering (part. and adj.) A spacious garden full of f weeds, To—— With Pal. of Art 4 there grew an Eastern rose, That, f high, Gardener's D. 124 burgeons every maze of quick About the f squares, In Mem. cxv 3

The snowdrop only, f thro' the year, Last Tournament 220
f grove Of grasses Lancelot pluck'd him Guinevere 33
And we hated the F Isle, V. of Maeldune 52 charm of all the Muses often F in a lonely word; To Virgil 12

Flowering (s) I mark'd Him in the f of his fields, Pass. of Arthur 10

Flowerless In silence wept upon the f earth. Death of Œnone 9

Flower-plot WITH blackest moss the f-p's Mariana 1

Flower-sheath lightly breaks a faded f-s, Marr of Geraint 365

Flowery rivulet in the f dale 'll merrily glance and play. May Queen 39
I turning saw, throned on a f rise, D. of F. Women 125
All the land in f squares, Gardener's D. 76 lead my Memmius in a train Of f clauses Lucretius 120 came On f levels underneath the crag, Princess iii 336
Thy partner in the f walk Of letters, In Mem. lxxxiv 22
Witness their f welcome. Balin and Balan 145 course of life that seem'd so f to me Merlin and V. 880

Floweth From thy rose-red lips MY name F; Eleänore 134 from whose left hand f The Shadow of Death, Lover's Tale i 498

Flowing (See also Forward-flowing, Full-flowing, Low-flowing) stream be aweary of f Under my eye? Nothing will Die 1 the blue river chimes in its f All Things will Die 1
A clear stream f with a muddy one, Isabel 30
f rapidly between Their interspaces, Arabian Nights 83 F beneath her rose-hued zone; " 140 lordly music f from The illimitable years. Ode to Memory 41
F like a crystal river; Poet's Mind 6
Winds were blowing, waters f, Oriana 14
My tears, no tears of love, are f Wan Sculptor 7 island in the river F down to Camelot L. of Shalott i 14 her canvas f, Rose a ship of France. The Captain 27 hung to hear The rapt oration f free In Mem. lxxxvii 32 the blood Of their strong bodies, f, Marr. of Geraint 569
F with easy greatness and touching The Wreck 50
A land of promise f with the milk And honey Lover's Tale i 334
Were stoled from head to foot in f black; " ii 85
And holding them back by their f locks The Merman 14
But pledge me in the f grape. My life is full 15
And o'er them many a f range Day-Dm., Depart. 21
The truth, that flies the f can, Will Water. 171 princely halls, and farms, and f lawns, Aylmer's Field 654
Dragon's cave Half hid, they tell me, now in f vines— Tiresias 144

Flown as tho' it were The hour just f, Gardener's D. 83
He rode a horse with wings, that would have f, Vision of Sin 3
Had tost his ball and f his kite, Aylmer's Field 84 tell her, Swallow, that thy brood is f: Princess iv 108
F to the east or the west, Window, Gone 7 love is more Than in the summers that are f, In Mem., Con. 18
For the black bat, night, has f, Maud I xxii 2 as the cageling newly f returns, Merlin and V. 901 life had f, we sware but by the shell— Last Tournament 270
she that clasp'd my neck had f; Locksley H., Sixty 15

Floy (fly) a knaws naw moor nor a f; N. Farmer, O. S. 67

Fluctuate And f all the still perfume, In Mem. xcv 56

Fluctuated F, as flowers in storm, some red, Princess iv 482
" vi 355

Fluctuation tall columns drown'd In silken f world-wide f sway'd In vassal tides In Mem. cxii 15

Flue sent a blast of sparkles up the f: M. d'Arthur, Ep. 15

Fluent In tracts of f heat began, In Mem. cxviii 9
Broad brows and fair, a f hair and fine, Gareth and L. 464

Fluid and f range Of lawless airs, Supp. Confessions 147
'This world was once a f haze of light, Princess ii 116

Fluke Anchors of rusty f, and boats updrawn; Enoch Arden 18

Flung (See also Broad-flung) The costly doors f open wide, Arabian Nights 17
F inward over spangled floors, " 116
F leagues of roaring foam into the gorge If I were loved 13
Backward the lattice-blind she f, Mariana in the S. 87
Then with both hands I f him, M. d'Arthur 157
And f him in the dew. Talking Oak 232
F the torrent rainbow round: Vision of Sin 32
And f her down upon a couch of fire, Aylmer's Field 574
His body half f forward in pursuit, " 587
F ball, flew kite, and raced the purple fly, Princess ii 248
She took it and she f it. 'Fight' she said, " iv 598 and f defiance down Gagelike to man, " v 177
She f it from her, thinking: " Con. 32
We f the burthen of the second James. Third of Feb. 28 and f A ballad to the brightening moon: In Mem. lxxxix 27 and f The lilies to and fro, and said " xcv 59
I ran And f myself down on a bank of heath, Com. of Arthur 343 here is glory enow In having f the three: Gareth and L. 1326
To which he f a wrathful answer back: Geraint and E. 146
f herself Down on the great King's couch, Lancelot and E. 609
Unclasping f the casement back, " 981
F them, and down they flash'd, " 1235
A stone is f into some sleeping tarn, Pelleas and E. 93
nipt the hand, and f it from her; " 133
And f them o'er the walls; " 316 steed of Pelleas floundering f His rider, " 574
I have f thee pearls and find thee swine.' Last Tournament 310
Then with both hands I f him, Pass. of Arthur 325 would have f himself From cloud to cloud, Lover's Tale i 301
I f myself upon him In tears and cries: " ii 89

Flung (continued) I, groaning, from me f Her empty phantom: Lover's Tale ii 205
This question, so f down before the guests, " iv 268
I f him the letter that drove me wild, First Quarrel 57 when all was done He f it among his fellows— Rizpah 32 the Priest's pearl, f down to swine— Sir J. Oldcastle 116 and f them in bight and bay, V. of Maeldune 53 Pallas f Her fringed ægis, Achilles over the T. 3
I am f from the rushing tide of the world The Wreck 6
I caught the wreath that was f. " 40
Till you f us back on ourselves, Despair 40
Christian conquerors took and f Locksley H., Sixty 84 from their hands F thro' the woods, Early Spring 18
f herself Against my heart, The Ring 397 and f the mould upon your feet, Happy 50
f himself between The gladiatorial swords, St. Telemachus 61 women shrieking 'Atheist' f Filth from the roof, Akbar's Dream 91
I f myself down at her feet, Charity 38
Clomb the mountain, and f the berries, Kapiolani 6
Wait till Death has f them open, Faith 7

Flur F, for whose love the Roman Cæsar Marr. of Geraint 745

Flurried the little fowl were f at it, Gareth and L. 69

Flush (s) f of anger'd shame O'erflows thy calmer glances, Madeline 32 for when the morning f Of passion Lucretius 2
As light a f As hardly tints the blossom Balin and Balan 266
For here a sudden f of wrathful heat Guinevere 356 opposite The f and dawn of youth, Lover's Tale i 189
Her husband in the f of youth and dawn, Death of Œnone 17

Flush (verb) strikes along the brain, And f'es all the cheek. D. of F. Women 44 colour f'es Her sweet face from brow to chin: L. of Burleigh 61
After his books, to f his blood with air, Aylmer's Field 459
Or by denial f her babbling wells Princess v 334 madness f'es up in the ruffian's head, Maud I i 37 and made him f, and bow Lowly, Gareth and L. 548

Flush'd (See also Faintly-flushed, New-flush'd, Sun-flush'd) F all the leaves with rich gold-green, Arabian Nights 82
F like the coming of the day; Miller's D. 132
f Ganymede, his rosy thigh Half-buried Palace of Art 121 F in her temples and her eyes, 170
'Then f her cheek with rosy light, " Talking Oak 165 Psyche f and wann'd and shook; Princess iv 160
When first she came, all f you said to me " vi 250 her face A little f, and she past on; " vii 81
Where oleanders f the bed Of silent torrents, The Daisy 33
The Peak is high and f At his highest Voice and the P. 29
Some f, and others dazed, Com. of Arthur 265 when f with fight, or hot, God's curse, Geraint and E. 660 that other f, And hung his head, " 810
Upright and f before him: Merlin and V. 912
F slightly at the slight disparagement Lancelot and E. 234 beyond them f The long low dune, Last Tournament 483
F, started, met him at the doors, 512
The small sweet face was f, " The Wreck 60 and f as red As poppies when she crown'd it. The Tourney 16

Flushing rosy red f in the northern night. Locksley Hall 26 let my query pass Unclaim'd, in f silence, The Brook 105
f the guiltless air, Spout from the maiden fountain Lucretius 239

Fluster'd him that f his poor parish wits Aylmer's Field 521 snares them by the score Flatter'd and f, Princess v 164
But once in life was f with new wine, Merlin and V. 756 so f with anger were they, They almost fell V. of Maeldune 25

Flute (s) Blow, f, and stir the stiff-set sprigs, Amphion 63 thicket rang To many a f of Arcady. In Mem. xxiii 24 Nor harp be touch'd, nor f be blown; " cv 22 the roses heard The f, violin, bassoon; Maud I xxii 14
To the sound of dancing music and f's: " II v 76

Flute (verb) lute and f fantastic tenderness, Princess iv 129

Fluted The mellow ouzel f in the elm; Gardener's D. 94
From f vase, and brazen urn In order, Arabian Nights 60
And f to the morning sea. To E. L. 24

Flute-notes thy f-n are changed to coarse, The Blackbird 18

Fluting swan That, f a wild carol ere her death, M. d'Arthur 267 swan That, f a wild carol ere her death, Pass. of Arthur 435

Flutter His spirit f's like a lark, Day-Dm., Arrival 29

Flutter (continued) Wings f, voices hover clear: Sir Galahad 78
Flags, f out upon turrets and towers! W. to Alexandra 15 heart within her fall and f tremulously, Boädicea 81
There f's up a happy thought, In Mem. lxv 7
The tender blossom f down, " ci 2 idle fancies f me, I know not where to turn; The Flight 74

Flutter'd F about my senses and my soul; Gardener's D. 67
A second f round her lip Like a golden butterfly; Talking Oak 219 melody F headlong from the sky. Vision of Sin 45
A little f, with her eyelids down, The Brook 89
there f in, Half-bold, half-frighted, Geraint and E. 596
And f adoration, and at last With dark sweet hints Merlin and V. 158
The footstep f me at first: Last Tournament 515
And a pinnace, like a f bird, The Revenge 2

Fluttering (part.) voice Faltering and f in her throat, Princess ii 187 Alive with f scarfs and ladies' eyes, " v 509 above, Crimson, a slender banneret f. Gareth and L. 913
f in a doubt Between the two— Sisters (E. and E.) 33
F the hawks of this crown-lusting line— Sir J. Oldcastle 57 and then fell f down at my feet; The Wreck 82 elmtree's ruddy-hearted blossom-flake Is f down. To Mary Boyle 4 blasts That run before the f tongues of fire; D. of F. Women 30
And on the board the f urn: In Mem. xcv 8
With half a night's appliances, recall'd Her f life: Lover's Tale iv 94

Fluttering (s) I watch'd the little f's, Miller's D. 153

Fly (s) (See also Dragon-fly, Fancy-flies, Fire-fly, Floy, Gad-fly) The blue f sung in the pane; Mariana 63
Kate saith 'the men are gilded flies.' Kate 18
The swallow stopt as he hunted the f, Poet's Song 9
Like flies that haunt a wound, Aylmer's Field 571 flew kite, and raced the purple f, Princess ii 248
In lieu of many mortal flies, " iii 268 endure for the life of the worm and the f? Wages 7 bees are still'd, and the flies are kill'd, Window, Winter 10
And men the flies of latter spring, In Mem. l 10 eyes Are tender over drowning flies, " xxvi 3 his head in a cloud of poisonous flies. Maud I iv 54
And call'd herself a gilded summer f Merlin and V. 258 since you name yourself the summer f, " 369 gape for flies—we know not whence they come; Holy Grail 147 and infinite torment of flies, Def. of Lucknow 82 men Walk'd like the f on ceilings? Columbus 51 for you know The flies at home, " 119
Nor drown thyself with flies in honied wine; Ancient Sage 268
Miriam sketch'd and Muriel threw the f; The Ring 159
She threw the f for me; " 355 black f upon the pane May seem the black ox To one who ran down Eng. 3

Fly (verb) Then away she flies. Lilian 18 whither away, whither away? f no more. Sea-Fairies 7 rainbow forms and flies on the land " 25 mariner, mariner, f no more. " 42
Whither f ye, what game spy ye, Rosalind 8
'Here sits he shaping wings to f: Two Voices 289 let her herald, Reverence, f Before her Love thou thy land 18
To ingroove itself with that which flies, " 46
Sun flies forward to his brother Sun; Golden Year 23
'F, happy happy sails, and bear the Press; F happy with the mission of the Cross; " 42
And order'd words asunder f. Day-Dm., Pro. 20
The colour flies into his cheeks: " Arrival 19 splinter'd spear-shafts crack and f, Sir Galahad 7
F o'er waste fens and windy fields. " 60
And f, like a bird, from tree to tree; Edward Gray 30
The truth, that flies the flowing can, Will Water. 171
We follow that which flies before: The Voyage 94 to f sublime Thro' the courts, the camps, Vision of Sin 103
A crippled lad, and coming turn'd to f, Aylmer's Field 519
Let me f, says little birdie, Sea Dreams 295 rests a little longer, Then she flies away. " 300
Let me rise and f away. " 304
Baby too shall f away. " 308
F on to clash together again, Lucretius 41
Thy glory f along the Italian field, " 71 do they f Now thinner, and now thicker, " 165 the soul flies out and dies in the air.' " 274

Fly (verb) (continued) baby loves F twanging headless arrows at the hearts, Princess ii 402
f,' she cried, 'O f, while yet you may! " iii 28
But you may yet be saved, and therefore f: " 64
As flies the shadow of a bird, she fled. " 96
F to her, and fall upon her gilded eaves, " iv 94
F to her, and pipe and woo her, " 115 and fled, as flies A troop of snowy doves " 167
I grant in her some sense of shame, she flies; " 349
She flies too high, she flies too high! " v 281
I say she flies too high, 'sdeath! " 286 peacemaker f To happy havens under all the sky, Ode Inter. Exhib. 34
The lights and shadows f! Window, On the Hill 1
F; F to the light in the valley below— " Letter 12
As flies the lighter thro' the gross. In Mem. xli 4
Ill brethren, let the fancy f " lxxxvi 12 Fiercely flies The blast of North and East, " cvii 6 and f The happy birds, that change their sky " cxv 14 Arise and f The reeling Faun, " cxviii 25 Wild Hours that f with Hope and Fear, " cxxviii 9
'The fault was mine,' he whisper'd, 'f!' Maud II i 30
I saw the dreary phantom arise and f " III vi 36
Until she let me f discaged to sweep Gareth and L. 20
A jewell'd harness, ere they pass and f. " 688
But after sod and shingle ceased to f " 761
'I f no more: I allow thee for an hour. " 892 Larded thy last, except thou turn and f. " 1084 all about it flies a honeysuckle. " 1278 and wildly f, Mixt with the flyers. Geraint and E. 482
'F, they will return And slay you; f, your charger is without, " 748
Behold, I f from shame, A lustful King, Balin and Balan 473
I f to thee. Save, save me thou— Merlin and V. 77
When did not rumours f? Lancelot and E. 1194
if he f us, Small matter! let him.' Pelleas and E. 199
And f to my strong castle overseas: Guinevere 113 yet rise now, and let us f, " 120 Stands in a wind, ready to break and f, " 365
And he that fled no further f the King; Pass. of Arthur 89 stream Flies with a shatter'd foam Lover's Tale i 383
He flies the event: he leaves the event " iv 1
I must f, but follow quick. The Revenge 6
You f them for a moment to fight with them again. " 9
'Shall we fight or shall we f? " 25 and aloft the glare Flies streaming, Achilles over the T. 12 shell must break before the bird can f. Ancient Sage 154 and now I f from Hell, And you with me; The Flight 88
An' the lark f out o' the flowers Tomorrow 91 stormy moment f and mingle with the Past. Locksley H., Sixty 279 And wherever her flag f, Open I. and C. Exhib. 17 bird that flies All night across the darkness, Demeter and P. 1
F—care not. Birds and brides must leave the nest. The Ring 89
And saw the world f by me like a dream, " 180
And flies above the leper's hut, Happy 4
Now past her feet the swallow circling flies, Prog. of Spring 44
Flies back in fragrant breezes to display " 64
Flyer arms stretch'd as to grasp a f: Aylmer's Field 588 and all f's from the hand Of Justice, Marr. of Geraint 36 and wildly fly, Mixt with the f's. Geraint and E. 483 brands That hack'd among the f's, Com. of Arthur 121 Fiercely we hack'd at the f's before us. Batt. of Brunanburh 42
Flyin' Molly Magee kem f acrass me, Tomorrow 21
Flying (See also A-Flyin', Flyin') fled by night, and f turn'd: Edwin Morris 134 Dreary gleams about the moorland f Locksley Hall 4 in the f of a wheel Cry down the past, Godiva 6 Or f shone, the silver boss Of her own halo's dusky shield; The Voyage 31 following up And f the white breaker, Enoch Arden 21 And caught the blossom of the f terms, Princess, Pro. 164
we dropt, And f reach'd the frontier: " i 109 your arrow-wounded fawn Came f " ii 271 and loose A f charm of blushes o'er this cheek, " 430 he could not see The bird of passage f south " iii 210 Blow, bugle, blow, set the wild echoes f, (repeat) " iv 5, 17

Flying (continued) 'O Swallow, Swallow, f, f South, Princess iv 93
'O Swallow, f from the golden woods, " 114
A woman-post in f raiment. " 376
f on the highest Foam of men's deeds— " v 319 shot A f splendour out of brass and steel, " vi 365 f struck With showers of random sweet " vii 85 or call'd On f Time from all their silver tongues— " 105 Paid with a voice f by to be lost Wages 2 are you f over her sweet little face? Window, On the Hill 13 and birds' song F here and there, " Spring 2 f gold of the ruin'd woodlands drove thro' the air. " Maud I i 12 F along the land and the main— " II ii 38 they swerved and brake F, Com. of Arthur 120 follow'd by his f hair Ran like a colt, " 321 servingman F from out of the black wood, Gareth and L. 802
Gareth's eyes had f blots Before them " 1031
Comes f over many a windy wave To Britain, Marr. of Geraint 337
And white sails f on the yellow sea; " 829
F, but, overtaken, died the death Themselves Geraint and E. 177 Another, f from the wrath of Doorm " 530
f back and crying out, 'O Merlin, Merlin and V. 943
I hear of rumours f thro' your court. Lancelot and E. 1190 and once the shadow of a bird F, Pelleas and E. 39
A blot in heaven, the Raven, f high, Guinevere 133 wheel'd and broke F, and link'd again, and wheel'd and broke F, " 258
Quiver'd a f glory on her hair, Lover's Tale i 69
F by each fine ear, an Eastern gauze " iv 291 pinnace, like a flutter'd bird, came f from far away: The Revenge 2
F at top of the roofs in the ghastly siege Def. of Lucknow 4
F and foil'd at the last by the handful " 44
Wiclif-preacher whom I crost In f hither? Sir J. Oldcastle 39 Trade f over a thousand seas with her spice Vastness 13 with her f robe and her poison'd rose; " 16 and brighter The Gleam f onward, Merlin and the G. 96 and fitting close Or f looselier, Akbar's Dream 132
Gleam'd to the f moon by fits. Miller's D. 116
Sole as a f star shot thro' the sky Palace of Art 123
'Saw God divide the night with f flame, D. of F. Women 225
To follow f steps of Truth Across the brazen bridge of war— Love thou thy land 75
Would play with f forms and images, Gardener's D. 60
And with a f finger swept my lips, " 246
Thunder, a f fire in heaven, Boädicea 24
Loosely robed in f raiment, " 37
Is matter for a f smile. In Mem. lxii 12
And sow the sky with f boughs, " lxxii 24
The f cloud, the frosty light: " cvi 2 like a f star Led on the gray-hair'd wisdom Holy Grail 452 Foälk (folk) F's coostom flitted awaäy North. Cobbler 28 an' f stood a-gawmin' in, " 81 call'd me afoor my awn f's to my faäce Village Wife 105 that the f be sa scared at, Spinster's S's. 24
Fur to goä that night to 'er f by cause Owd Roä 52
Foam (s) (See also Fountain-foam, Ocean-foam, Sea-foam) the green brink and the running f, Sea-Fairies 2 Flung leagues of roaring f into the gorge If I were loved 13 brightens When the wind blows the f, Œnone 62
Aphroditè beautiful, Fresh as the f, " 175
Rolling a slumbrous sheet of f below. Lotos-Eaters 13
Weary the wandering fields of barren f. " 42
I would the white cold heavy-plunging f, D. of F. Women 118 sea-wind sang Shrill, chill, with flakes of f. M. d'Arthur 49 in the chasm are f and yellow sands; Enoch Arden 2
And scaled in sheets of wasteful f, Sea Dreams 53 burst and flood the world with f: Princess iv 474 flying on the highest F of men's deeds— " v 320 sang from the three-decker out of the f, Maud I i 50 Hurl'd back again so often in empty f, Last Tournament 93
As tremulously as f upon the beach Guinevere 364 sea-wind sang Shrill, chill, with flakes of f. Pass. of Arthur 217 Flies with a shatter'd f along the chasm. Lover's Tale i 383 the points of the f in the dusk came playing Despair 50 ships from out the West go dipping thro' the f, The Flight 91
On broader zones beyond the f, To Ulysses 30

Foam (s) (continued) And these low bushes dip their twigs in f, Prog. of Spring 51
Too full for sound and f, Crossing the Bar 6
Foam (verb) Should all our churchmen f in spite To F. D. Maurice 9 forward-creeping tides Began to f, In Mem. ciii 38
Foam-bow his cheek brighten'd as the f-b brightens Œnone 61
Foam-churning These wet black passes and f-c chasms— Sir J. Oldcastle 9
Foam'd f away his heart at Averill's ear: Aylmer's Field 342
Their surging charges f themselves away; Ode on Well. 126 raved And thus f over at a rival name: Balin and Balan 567 Foam-flakes Crisp f-f scud along the level sand, D. of F. Women 39
Foam-fountains monster spouted his f-f in the sea. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 107
Foaming horse across the f's of the ford, Gareth and L. 1040
To smoothe my pillow, mix the f draught Of fever, Princess ii 251
The f grape of eastern France. In Mem., Con. 80
Foamy here and there a f flake Upon me, The Brook 59
Foe tho' his f's speak ill of him, He was a friend to me. D. of the O. Year 22
The land, where girt with friends or f's You ask me, why 7
Must ever shock, like armed f's, Love thou thy land 78 went she Norward, Till she near'd the f. The Captain 36 divine to warn them of their f's: Sea Dreams 69
Had beat her f's with slaughter Princess, Pro. 34 drove her f's with slaughter from her walls, " 123
The next, like fire he meets the f, " iv 583
The general f. More soluble is this knot, " v 135 Truest friend and noblest f; " vi 7 those two f's above my fallen life, " 130 friend or f, Shall enter, if he will. " 336
His f's were thine; he kept us free; Ode on Well. 91
And England pouring on her f's. " 117
Who never spoke against a f; " 185
For on them brake the sudden f; The Victim 4 Friend, to be struck by the public f, Maud II v 89 bright With pitch'd pavilions of his f, Com. of Arthur 97 thou hast driven the f without, See to the f within! Gareth and L. 593 thou hast wreak'd his justice on his f's, " 1268
'Lo,' said Gareth, 'the f falls!' " 1317 second was your f, the sparrow-hawk, Marr. of Geraint 444 what they long for, good in friend or f, Geraint and E. 876
Pellam, once A Christless f of thine Balin and Balan 97
He makes no friend who never made a f. Lancelot and E. 1089
I hold that man the worst of public f's Guinevere 512 friend and f were shadows in the mist, Pass. of Arthur 100 Revenge ran on sheer into the heart of the f, The Revenge 33 and they yielded to the f. " 96 the f sprung his mine many times, Def. of Lucknow 31 and the f may outlive us at last— " 52
Friend?—f perhaps—a tussle for it then! Sir J. Oldcastle 196 Far off from out an island girt by f's, Achilles over the T. 8 and a boundless panic shook the f. " 18 where'er they ran, Have ended mortal f's; Ancient Sage 158 some in fight against the f, Locksley H., Sixty 45 the f was driven, And Wolseley overthrew Arâbi, Pro. to Gen. Hamley 29 Drove thro' the midst of the f, Heavy Brigade 30 drew The f from the saddle and threw " 54 Warrior of God, man's friend, and tyrant's f, Epit. on Gordon 1 hand Which fell'd the f's before you Happy 42
Foeman forth there stept a f tall, Oriana 33
What time the f's line is broke, Two Voices 155 to perish, falling on the f's ground, Locksley Hall 103
But they heard the f's thunder The Captain 41 still the f spoil'd and burn'd, The Victim 17 body enow to hold his foemen down?' Com. of Arthur 253 and by this will beat his foemen down.' " 309 foemen scared, like that false pair who turn'd Geraint and E. 176
f surged, and waver'd, and reel'd Up the hill, Heavy Brigade 62
Fog the white f vanish'd like a ghost Death of Œnone 67
Foil'd Flying and f at the last by the handful Def. of Lucknow 44
Fold (thing folded) Down-droop'd, in many a floating f, Arabian Nights 147
In silk-soft f's, upon yielding down, Eleänore 28
Look up, the f is on her brow. Two Voices 192
Winds all the vale in rosy f's, Miller's D. 242
In misty f's, that floating as they fell Palace of Art 35

Fold (thing folded) (continued) detaching, f by f, From those still heights, Vision of Sin 51
f's as dense as those Which hid the Holiest Aylmer's Field 771
The drowsy f's of our great ensign shake Princess v 8
With f to f, of mountain or of cape; " vii 3
Dark in its funeral f. Ode on Well. 57
And wrapt thee formless in the f, In Mem. xxii 15
In f upon f of hueless cloud, Maud I vi 3 Thro' twenty f's of twisted dragon, Gareth and L. 510 sprigs of summer laid between the f's, Marr. of Geraint 138 Thro' knots and loops and f's innumerable Lancelot and E. 439 wrapt In unremorseful f's of rolling fire. Holy Grail 261 a streetway hung with f's of pure White samite, Last Tournament 140
Enwound him f by f, and made him gray And grayer, Guinevere 603
I wish that somewhere in the ruin'd f's, Œnone 221
Thro' all its f's the multitudinous beast, Tiresias 15 close-lapt in silken f's, Lover's Tale i 153
There is no shade or f of mystery " 182
I thought it was an adder's f, " 691 Hung round with ragged rims and burning f's,— " ii 63 in their floating f's They past and were no more: " 99 Fold (as for sheep) (See also Night-fold) 'Bring this lamb back into Thy f, Supp. Confessions 105 the thick-fleeced sheep from wattled f's, Ode to Memory 66 very whitest lamb in all my f Loves you: Aylmer's Field 361 who are these? a wolf within the f! Princess ii 190 Far off from men I built a f for them: " v 390
No gray old grange, or lonely f, In Mem. c 5 some black wether of St. Satan's f. Merlin and V. 750 brand us, after, of whose f we be: " 764 if the tigers leap into the f unawares— Def. of Lucknow 51 driven by storm and sin and death to the ancient f, The Wreck 2 ranged from the narrow warmth of your f, Despair 38
A people from their ancient f of Faith, Akbar's Dream 61 Fold (verb) F thy palms across thy breast, F thine arms, turn to thy rest. A Dirge 2 the green that f's thy grave. (repeat) A Dirge 6, 13, 20, 27, 34, 41, 48
'High up the vapours f and swim: Two Voices 262
f our wings, And cease from wanderings, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 19 sure this orbit of the memory f's Gardener's D. 74 about my feet The berried briony f.' Talking Oak 148 round her waist she felt it f, Day-Dm., Depart. 2
Now f's the lily all her sweetness up, Princess vii 186
So f thyself, my dearest, thou, " 188 or f Thy presence in the silk of sumptuous Ancient Sage 265
ah, f me to your breast! The Flight 5
I'd sooner f an icy corpse dead of some foul disease: " 54
Fold See also Five-fold, Hundred-fold, Fifty-fold, Ten-hundred-fold, Thousand-fold
Folded (See also Far-folded, Heavy-folded, Many-folded, Silken-folded) Thought f over thought, smiling asleep, Eleänore 84
'His palms are f on his breast: Two Voices 247
Sleep, Ellen, f in thy sister's arm, Audley Court 63
'Sleep, Ellen, f in Emilia's arm; " 65
To spirits f in the womb. Day-Dm., Sleep P. 8
Bow'd on her palms and f up from wrong, Princess iv 288
She heard, she moved, She moan'd, a f voice; " v 72
And every spirit's f bloom In Mem. xliii 2
Is pealing, f in the mist. " civ 4
And yearn'd to burst the f gloom, " cxxii 3
Not to be f more in these dear arms, Marr. of Geraint 99
Wherein she kept them f reverently With sprigs of summer " 137 letter she devised; which being writ And f, Lancelot and E. 1110 Hath f in the passes of the world.' Pass. of Arthur 78 on the horizon of the mind Lies f, Lover's Tale i 50 the sweet figure f round with night " iv 219
F her lion paws, and look'd to Thebes. Tiresias 149 Russian crowd F its wings from the left Heavy Brigade 39 and I was f in thine arms. Demeter and P. 22 here, my child, tho' f in thine arms, " 40
The f leaf is woo'd from out the bud Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 26 dissolved the mystery Of f sleep. D. of F. Women 263
O'er the mute city stole with f wings, Gardener's D. 186

Folded (continued) Holding the f annals of my youth; Gardener's D. 244
With f feet, in stoles of white, Sir Galahad 43
Mute with f arms they waited— The Captain 39 stood with f hands and downward eyes Merlin and V. 69
Folding black f's, that which housed therein. Gareth and L. 1380
F each other, breathing on each other, Lover's Tale i 261
F his hands, deals comfortable words ,, 717 Foliage rustling thro' The low and bloomed f, Arabian Nights 13 gale That blown about the f underneath, Princess iii 121 all thy breadth and height Of f, In Mem. lxxxix 4 sank Down on a drift of f random-blown; Last Tournament 389 moisture and all smells of bud And f Lover's Tale iii 6
Foliaged (See also Full-foliaged) Who murmurest in the f eaves In Mem. xcix 9
Folk (See also Foälk) f that knew not their own minds, Enoch Arden 478
And echo'd by old f beside their fires Com. of Arthur 417 mingle with our f; And knowing every honest face Holy Grail 549 slay the f, and spoil the land.' Guinevere 137
He that was reft of his F and his friends Batt. of Brunanburh 70
Foller (follow) tha'll f 'im slick into Hell.' North. Cobbler 66
Foller'd (followed) fur the 'turney's letters they f sa fast; Village Wife 62
Follow (See also Foller) lightning to the thunder Which f's it, The Poet 51 because right is right, to f right Œnone 149
To f flying steps of Truth Love thou thy land 75
What good should f this, if this were done? M. d'Arthur 92 dark Earth f's wheel'd in her ellipse; Golden Year 24
f knowledge like a sinking star, Ulysses 31
The vine stream'd out to f, Amphion 46
May my soul f soon! St. Agnes' Eve 4
I f till I make thee mine.' The Voyage 64
We f that which flies before: ,, 94
f Such dear familiarities of dawn? Aylmer's Field 130
One who cried, 'Leave all and f me.' ,, 664 the thin weasel there F's the mouse, ,, 853 which all our greatest fain Would f, Lucretius 79 not be dissoluble, Not f the great law? ,, 116
A satyr, a satyr, see, F's; ,, 193
The rest would f, each in turn; Princess, Pro. 201
'Then f me, the Prince,' I answer'd, ,, 227 Voice Went with it, 'F, f, thou shalt win.' ,, i 100 falling in a land Of promise; fruit would f. ,, ii 140
If more and acted on, what f's? ,, 229
Whence f's many a vacant pang; ,, 403 bird of passage flying south but long'd To f: ,, iii 211
'O Swallow, Swallow, if I could f, ,, iv 99
And tell her, tell her, that I f thee.' ,, 116
I cannot cease to f you, ,, 455
To f up the worthiest till he die: ,, 466
F us: who knows? we four may build some plan ,, v 230
And on the 'F, f, thou shalt win: ,, 472
But f; let the torrent dance thee down ,, vii 209 farewell, and welcome for the year To f: ,, Con. 96
Fall, and f their doom. Voice and the P. 20
F, f the chase! Window, On the Hill 11
F them down the slope! And I f them down to the window-pane ,, 16
Nor f, tho' I walk in haste, In Mem. xxii 18
'The King will f Christ, and we the King Com. of Arthur 599
f the deer By these tall firs and our fast-falling burns; Gareth and L. 90
F the deer? f the Christ, the King, Live pure, speak true, right wrong, f the King— ,, 117
Thou get to horse and f him far away. ,, 584 f's, being named, His owner, ,, 703 Lead, and I f.' (repeat) Gareth and L. 746, 760, 807, 891, 990, 1053, 1155
'F, I lead!' so down among the pines He plunged; Gareth and L. 808
'Full pardon, but I f up the quest, ,, 886
'F the faces, and we find it. ,, 1210 the Prince, as Enid past him, fain To f, Marr. of Geraint 376 the knight besought him, 'F me, Geraint and E. 807 'Enough,' he said, 'I f,' and they went. ,, 816 and crying 'Sirs, Rise, f! Balin and Balan 48

Follow (continued) But f Vivien thro' the fiery flood! Balin and Balan 454
Help, for he f's! take me to thyself! Merlin and V. 82
The Fame that f's death is nothing to us; ,, 464
the scroll 'I f fame.' ,, 476
I charge you, f me not.' Lancelot and E. 507 serve you, and to f you thro' the world.' ,, 939
'I fain would f love, if that could be; I needs must f death, who calls for me; Call and I f, I f! let me die.' ,, 1016
Then might she f me thro' the world, ,, 1316
I sware a vow to f it till I saw.' Holy Grail 282
Galahad, and O Galahad, f me.' 292
But ye, that f but the leader's bell' ,, 298 while ye f wandering fires Lost in the quagmire! ,, 319 most of us would f wandering fires, (repeat) ,, 369, 599 and vanish'd, tho' I yearn'd To f; ,, 507 most of them would f wandering fires, ,, 891 the gloom, That f's on the turning of the world, Pelleas and E. 549 after wail Of suffering, silence f's, Pass. of Arthur 119
What good should f this, if this were done? ,, 260
I could not rise Albeit I strove to f. Lover's Tale ii 98
I must fly, but f quick. The Revenge 6
Now f's Edith echoing Evelyn. Sisters (E. and E.) 15 crying out: 'F me, f me!'— Def. of Lucknow 64
Do-well will f thought, Ancient Sage 273 f Edwin to those isles, those islands of the Blest! The Flight 42 these would feel and f Truth if only you and you, Locksley H., Sixty 119 leave the dog too lame to f with the cry, ,, 226 know them, f him who led the way, ,, 266
F you the Star that lights a desert pathway, ,, 275
F Light, and do the Right— ,, 277
'F,' and up the hill, up the hill, Heavy Brigade 11 bound to f, wherever she go Stark-naked, Dead Prophet 45
O f, leaping blood, Early Spring 25 poor Muriel when you hear What f's! The Ring 274
I am Merlin Who f The Gleam. Merlin and the G. 10
The Master whisper'd 'F the Gleam.' ,, 34
But eager to f, I saw, ,, 101
After it, f it, F the Gleam. ,, 130
I whirl, and f the Sun.' The Dreamer 14
Whirl, and f the Sun! (repeat) The Dreamer 20, 24, 28, 32
But what may f who can tell? The Wanderer 14
Follow'd (See also Foller'd) For surer sign had f, either hand, M. d'Arthur 76
Then f counsel, comfort, and the words Love and Duty 69
The happy princess f him. Day-Dm., Depart. 8
Thro' all the world she f him. ,, 32
And f with acclaims, Will Water. 138
And f her all the way. Lady Clare 64 still we f where she led, (repeat) The Voyage 59, 90
Then f calms, and then winds variable, Enoch Arden 545 when they f us from Philip's door, The Brook 167 Where Aylmer f Aylmer at the Hall Aylmer's Field 36 the fierce old man F, and under his own lintel stood ,, 331 Seconded, for my lady f suit, ,, 558
f out Tall and erect, but in the middle aisle Reel'd, ,, 817
I f: and at top She pointed seaward: Sea Dreams 121
I began, And the rest f: Princess, Pro. 244
We f up the river as we rode, ,, i 206
f then A classic lecture, rich in sentiment, ,, ii 373 resolder'd peace, whereon F his tale. ,, v 48
but Blanche At distance f: so they came: ,, vi 83
And f up by a hundred airy does, ,, 87
Passionate tears F: the king replied not: ,, 312
F up in valley and glen With blare of bugle, Ode on Well. 114
F by the brave of other lands, ,, 194 the day that f the day she was wed, The Islet 4
And silence f, and we wept. In Mem. xxx 20
In vassal tides that f thought. ,, cxii 16
f by his flying hair Ran like a colt, Com. of Arthur 321 thereafter f calm, Free sky and stars: ,, 391
But in the weeks that f, the good Queen, Gareth and L. 526
The two that out of north had f him: ,, 679 till the dusk that f evensong Rode on the two, ,, 793

Follow'd (continued) He f nearer: ruth began to work Geraint and E. 101
He f nearer still; the pain she had ,, 186
And overthrew the next that f him, ,, 465
His lusty spearmen f him with noise: ,, 593 ye be sent for by the King,' They f; Balin and Balan 49
F the Queen; Sir Balin heard her ,, 250 and f this, But all so blind in rage ,, 327
'And is the fair example f, Sir, Merlin and V. 19
Vivien f, but he mark'd her not. ,, 199
And then she f Merlin all the way, ,, 203
Dear feet, that I have f thro' the world, ,, 227
You f me unask'd; ,, 298
the stammering cracks and claps That f, ,, 943
F, and in among bright faces, ours, Holy Grail 266 and she F Him down, and like a flying star ,, 452 Told him he f—almost Arthur's words— ,, 669 knights all set their faces home, Sir Pelleas f. Pelleas and E. 188
And f to the city. ,, 586
Arthur rose and Lancelot f him, Last Tournament 112
F a rush of eagle's wings, ,, 417
For surer sign had f, either hand, Pass. of Arthur 244 in weeping and in praise Of her, we f: Lover's Tale ii 88 it seem'd By that which f— ,, iv 22
F us too that night, and dogg'd us, Despair 2
From wasteful living, f— Ancient Sage 5
Good, for Good is Good, he f, Locksley H, Sixty 60 up the hill, F the Heavy Brigade. Heavy Brigade 12
All in a moment f with force ,, 20
f up by her vassal legion of fools; Vastness 12 hid in cloud not be f by the Moon? Happy 97
Thro' which I f line by line Your leading hand, To Ulysses 45
A silence f as of death, St. Telemachus 65 those that f, loosen, stone from stone, Akbar's Dream 188

Follower tho' thou numberest with the f's Aylmer's Field 663
And at her head a f of the camp, Princess v 60 my f's ring him round: He sits unarm'd; Geraint and E. 336
With all his rout of random f's, ,, 382 Went Enid with her sullen f on. ,, 440 prick'd In combat with the f of Limours, ,, 501 one true knight—Sole f of the vows'— Last Tournament 303
And every f eyed him as a God; ,, 678 his f's, all Flower into fortune— Columbus 166
O f of the Vision, still In motion to the distant gleam, Freedom 13

Following f her dark eyes Felt earth as air Gardener's D. 211 or f up And flying the white breaker, Enoch Arden 20
f our own shadows thrice as long The Brook 166
f thro' the porch that sang All round with laurel, Princess ii 22 Went forth in long retinue f up The river ,, iii 195 ever f those two crowned twins, ,, v 420
He, that ever f her commands, Ode on Well. 211
As we descended f Hope, In Mem. xxii 11
Tho' f with an upward mind The wonders ,, xli 21
And Gareth f was again beknaved, Gareth and L. 786 with fixt eye f the three. Marr. of Geraint 237
A youth, that f with a costrel bore ,, 386
Let his eye rove in f, or rest On Enid ,, 399 (His gentle charger f him unled) Geraint and E. 571 and Vivien f him, Turn'd to her: Merlin and V. 32
And when I look'd, and saw you f still, ,, 299 gloom'd Your fancy when ye saw me f you, ,, 326
f you to this wild wood, Because I saw you sad, ,, 440 and this honour after death, F thy will! Last Tournament 35
f these my mightiest knights, Guinevere 489
Few were his f, Fled to his warship: Batt. of Brunanburh 58
F a torrent till its myriad falls Tiresias 37 and, f out A league of labyrinthine darkness, Demeter and P. 81
So, f her old pastime of the brook, The Ring 354
How loyal in the f of thy Lord! In Mem. W. G. Ward 6 f lighted on him there, And shouted, Death of Œnone 55
f, as in trance, the silent cry. ,, 86
F a hundred sunsets, and the sphere St. Telemachus 31
And f thy true counsel, by thine aid, Akbar's Dream 154

Folly 'Ah, f!' in mimic cadence answer'd James—
'Ah, f! for it lies so far away, Golden Year 53
Fill'd I was with f and spite, Edward Gray 15

Folly (continued) And others' follies teach us not, Will Water. 173
f taking wings Slipt o'er those lazy limits Aylmer's Field 494 brace Of twins may weed her of her f. Princess v 464
How I hate the spites and the follies! Spiteful Letter 24 Deep f! yet that this could be— In Mem. xli 9 slumber in which all spleenful f was drown'd, Maud I iii 2 heart of the poet is whirl'd into f and vice. ,, iv 39 perplext her With his worldly talk and f: ,, xx 7 thy much f hath sent thee here His kitchen-knave: Gareth and L. 919 for I fear My fate or f, Merlin and V. 927
I came All in my f to the naked shore, Holy Grail 793 dead babe and the follies of the King; Last Tournament 163
But then what f had sent him overseas ,, 394
Gone the fires of youth, the follies, Locksley H., Sixty 39

Fond But O too f, when have I answer'd Princess vii 4 no word of that f tale— Last Tournament 578

Fonder man of science himself is f of glory, Maud I iv 37

Fondle rabbit f's his own harmless face, Aylmer's Field 851

Fondled Appraised his weight and f fatherlike, Enoch Arden 154
Too ragged to be f on her lap, Aylmer's Field 686
And all this morning when I f you: Merlin and V. 286
we f it, Stephen and I, But it died, The Wreck 83

Fondling f all her hand in his he said, Marr. of Geraint 509
Tristram, f her light hands, replied, Last Tournament 601

Fonseca F my main enemy at their court, Columbus 126

Font One rear'd a f of stone And drew, Princess, Pro. 59
Nor winks the gold fin in the porphyry f: ,, vii 178
Entwine the cold baptismal f, In Mem. xxix 10

Food eat wholesome f, And wear warm clothes, St. S. Stylites 108 wine and f were brought, and Earl Limours Geraint and E. 289 a beggar began to cry 'F, f or I die'! Voice spake, etc. 6

Fool (adj.) What, if she be fasten'd to this f lord, Maud I xvi 24
'Beat little heart' on this f brain of mine. Romney's R. 155

Fool (s) (See also Father-fool) an absent f, I cast me down, Miller's D. 62
we should mimic this raw f the world, Walk. to the Mail 106 while we stood like f's Embracing, Edwin Morris 118 push'd the happy season back,—The more f's they,— Golden Year 67 gilds the straiten'd forehead of the f! Locksley Hall 62
F, again the dream, the fancy! ,, 173
'A ship of f's,' he shriek'd in spite, 'A ship of f's,' he sneer'd and wept. The Voyage 77
Bandied by the hands of f's. Vision of Sin 106
Drink we, last, the public f, ,, 149
April hopes, the f's of chance; ,, 164 f's, With such a vantage-ground for nobleness! Aylmer's Field 386 Went further, f! and trusted him with all, Sea Dreams 76
Christ the bait to trap his dupe and f; ,, 191 (God help her) she was wedded to a f; Princess iii 83 slaves at home and f's abroad.' ,, iv 521
'Ah f, and made myself a Queen of farce! ,, vii 243
Ah, there's no f like the old one— Grandmother 44 but I beänt a f: N. Farmer, O. S. 3
'F,' he answer'd, 'death is sure To those that stay Sailor Boy 13 Ah God! the petty f's of rhyme Lit. Squabbles 1 no God at all, says the f; High. Pantheism 15
We are f's and slight; In Mem., Pro. 29
'Thou shalt not be the f of loss.' ,, iv 16
O to us, The f's of habit, ,, x 12
The f that wears a crown of thorns: ,, lxix 12
They call'd me f, they call'd me child: ,, 13 and the brazen f Was soften'd, ,, cx 11 who but a f would have faith in a tradesman's ware Maud I i 26 angry pride Is cap and bells for a f. ,, vi 62
F that I am to be vext with his pride! ,, xiii 5 thought like a f of the sleep of death. ,, xiv 38 Struck me before the languid f, ,, II i 19 betraying His party-secret, f, to the press; ,, v 35 and Evening-Star, Being strong f's; Gareth and L. 635 all these four be f's, but mighty men, ,, 643 Back wilt thou, f? For hard by here is one ,, 895
The second brother in their f's parable— ,, 1004 this strong f whom thou, Sir Knave, ,, 1058
There stands the third f of their allegory.' ,, 1085 yon four f's have suck'd their allegory ,, 1199

Fool (s) (continued) Knight, knave, prince and f, Gareth and L. 1255
'F, for thou hast, men say, the strength of ten, " 1387 sweet faces make good fellows f's Geraint and E. 399 which a wanton f, Or hasty judger " 432
And be he dead, I count you for a f; " 548
F's prate, and perish traitors. Balin and Balan 530 to her Squire mutter'd the damsel 'F's! " 564 were he not crown'd King, coward, and f.' Merlin and V. 789 shrieking out 'O f!' the harlot leapt Adown the forest, and the thicket closed Behind her, and the forest echo'd 'f.' " 972
She mutter'd, 'I have lighted on a f, Pelleas and E. 113
'Thou f,' she said, 'I never heard his voice " 255
F to the midmost marrow of his bones, " 258
I deem'd him f? yea, so? " 309
Pelleas whom she call'd her f? " 474
F, beast—he, she, or I? myself most f; " 475 the King Hath made us f's and liars. " 479
Dagonet, the f, whom Gawain in his mood Last Tournament 1 Tristram, saying, 'Why skip ye so, Sir F?' (repeat) " 9, 243 being f, and seeing too much wit Makes the world rotten, " 246
'Ay, f,' said Tristram, 'but 'tis eating dry " 249 ask'd, 'Why skipt ye not, Sir F?' " 256 what music have I broken, f?' " 261
Sir f,' said Tristram, 'I would break thy head. F, I came late, the heathen wars were o'er, " 268
I am but a f to reason with a f— " 271
'Drink, drink, Sir F,' and thereupon I drank, " 297 marking how the knighthood mock thee, f— " 301 but when the King Had made thee f, " 306 frighted all free f from out thy heart: Which left thee less than f, " 307 thank the Lord I am King Arthur's f. " 320
Some such fine song—but never a king's f.' " 324 goats, asses, geese The wiser f's, " 326 Tristram, 'Ay, Sir F, for when our King Was victor " 334
'Nay, f,' said Tristram, 'not in open day.' " 347
'Lo, f,' he said, 'ye talk F's treason: is the King thy brother f?' " 351
Ay, ay, my brother f, the king of f's! " 354
Long live the king of f's! " 358 Sent up an answer, sobbing, 'I am thy f, " 761 all my doubts were f's Born of the f Sisters (E. and E.) 140 stake and the cross-road, f, if you will, Despair 116
But man to-day is fancy's f Ancient Sage 27
I beänt sich a f as ye thinks; Spinster's M's. 18 ye mun be f's to be hallus a-shawin' your claws, " 61 tell them 'old experience is a f,' Locksley H., Sixty 131 Nor is he the wisest man who never proved himself a f. " 244 for War's own sake Is f, or crazed, or worse; Epilogue 31 follow'd up by her vassal legion of f's; Vastness 12
'This model husband, this fine Artist'! F, Romney's R. 124 Fool (verb) my own weakness f's My judgment Supp. Confessions 136
To f the crowd with glorious lies, In Mem. cxxviii 14 being fool'd Of others, is to f one's self. Gareth and L. 1275 Fool'd Ah! let me not be f, sweet saints: St. S. Stylites 212
And were half f to let you tend our son, Princess vi 274 dies, and leaves me f and trick'd, Gareth and L. 1251 for worse than being f Of others, is to fool one's self. " 1274
What shock has f her since, To the Queen ii 22
Fooleries 'Are these your pretty tricks and f, Merlin and V. 265 Fool-fury The red f-f of the Seine In Mem. cxxvii 7
Foolish but sing the f song I gave you, Miller's D. 161
And let the f yeoman go. L. C. V. de Vere 72 Aid all this f people; St. S. Stylites 223
They to whom my f passion were a target for their scorn: Locksley Hall 146
To drop thy f tears upon my grave, Come not, when 2
I seem so f and so broken down. Enoch Arden 316
Till understanding all the f work Of Fancy, Princess vi 116
But help thy f ones to bear; In Mem. Pro. 31 Whose youth was full of f noise, " liii 3
The f neighbours come and go, " lx 13
That f sleep transfers to thee. " lxviii 16
But the fire of a f pride flash'd over Maud I iv 16

Foolish (continued) 'They be of f fashion, O Sir King, Gareth and L. 628
'ye are overfine To mar stout knaves with f courtesies:' " 733
A f love for flowers? " 1072 who lets His heart be stirr'd with any f heat " 1178
As being after all their f fears " 1424
And all her f fears about the dress, Marr. of Geraint 142
Nor speak I now from f flattery; " 433 whether very wise Or very f; " 470 with her heart All overshadow'd by the f dream, " 675 Could scarce divide it from her f dream: " 686
And all her f fears about the dress, " 844
Brother, I need not tell thee f words,— Holy Grail 855
'Will the child kill me with her f prate?' Guinevere 225
I myself have often babbled doubtless of a f past; Locksley H., Sixty 7
O f dreams, that you, that I, Happy 89
Foolishness cipher face of rounded f, Gareth and L. 1039
Fool-like Nay, for he spake too f-l: mystery! " 472
Foorty (forty) An' I've 'ed my quart ivry market-noight for f year. N. Farmer, O. S. 8 Foot (See also Crow-foot, Feeät, Light-foot) O! hither lead thy feet! Ode to Memory 64 with echoing feet he threaded The secretest walks The Poet 9 curl round my silver feet silently, The Mermaid 50
if you kiss'd her feet a thousand years, The form, the form 13
With one black shadow at its feet, Mariana in the S. 1
Thy feet, millenniums hence, be set Two Voices 89 Touch'd by his feet the daisy slept. " 276 at their feet the crocus brake like fire, Œnone 96 from the violets her light f Shone rosy-white, " 179
And laid him at his mother's feet. The Sisters 35 when you pass, With your feet above my head May Queen, N. Y's. E. 32
There's a new f on the floor, my friend, D. of the O. Year 52 Sleep full of rest from head to feet; To J. S. 75
Comes Faith from tracts no feet have trod, On a Mourner 29
The thunders breaking at her feet: Of old sat Freedom 2 he based His feet on juts of slippery crag M. d'Arthur 189
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God. " 255
So light of f, so light of spirit— Gardener's D. 14 a f, that might have danced The greensward " 133
The wreath of flowers fell At Dora's feet. Dora 103 a hand, a f Lessening in perfect cadence, Walk. to the Mail 54
But put your best f forward, " 111
Or when I feel about my feet Talking Oak 147
And at my feet she lay. " 208 drop Balm-dews to bathe thy feet! " 268 full Of force and choler, and firm upon his feet, Golden Year 61 and cold my wrinkled feet Tithonus 67
His beard a f before him, and his hair A yard behind. Godiva 18 till noon no f should pace the street, " 39 Year after year unto her f, Day-Dm., Sleep B. 1 feet that ran, and doors that clapt, " Revival 3
And sixty feet the fountain leapt. " 8
Each pluck'd his one f from the grave, Amphion 43
With folded feet, in stoles of white, Sir Galahad 43
A clog of lead was round my feet, The Letters 5 break, At the f of thy crags, O Sea! Break, break, etc. 14
And the lark drop down at his feet. Poet's Song 8
And stared, with his f on the prey, " 12 sketching with her slender pointed f The Brook 102 Tumbled the tawny rascal at his feet, Aylmer's Field 230 therefore with His light about thy feet, " 665 fell The woman shrieking at his feet, " 811 she with her strong feet up the steep hill Sea Dreams 120 woman heard his f Return from pacings Lucretius 5 golden feet on those empurpled stairs " 135
She tapt her tiny silken-sandal'd f: Princess, Pro. 150 our cloisters echo'd frosty feet, " 183 make her some great Princess, six feet high, " 224 he started on his feet, Tore the king's letter, " i 60 tips of her long hands, And to her feet. " ii 41 Woman, if I might sit beside your feet, " 258 her f on one Of those tame leopards. " iii 180
Many a light f shone like a jewel set " 358
But when we planted level feet, " iv 30

Foot (continued) push'd alone on f (For since her horse was lost Princess iv 196 fleet I was of f: Before we shower'd the rose " 263 a vine, That clasp't the feet of a Mnemosyne, " 269 their mask was patent, and my f Was to you: " 326 wisp that flickers where no f can tread.' " 358 lost lamb at her feet Sent out a bitter bleating " 391 and dash'd Unopen'd at her feet: " 471 some sweet sculpture draped from head to f, " v 57 lay my little blossom at my feet, " 100 those that iron-cramp'd their women's feet; " 376
We plant a solid f into the Time, " 415 they came, Their feet in flowers, her loveliest: " vi 78 Steps with a tender f, light as on air, " 88 See, your f is on our necks, We vanquish'd, " 166 felt it sound and whole from head to f, " 211 on her f she hung A moment, and she heard, " vii 79
She moved, and at her feet the volume fell. " 254
And the feet of those he fought for, Ode on Well. 11 myriad horns of plenty at our feet. Ode Inter. Exhib. 6 Scatter the blossom under her feet. W. to Alexandra 9
Thro' cypress avenues, at our feet. The Daisy 48 and nearer than hands and feet. High. Pantheism 12 Fine little hands, fine little feet— Window, Letter 3 f Is on the skull which thou hast made. In Mem., Pro. 7
The Shadow cloak'd from head to f, " xxiii 4 Whereon with equal feet we fared; " xxv 2
She bows, she bathes the Saviour's feet " xxxii 11
On thy Parnassus set thy feet, " xxxvii 6
That nothing walks with aimless feet; " liv 5 Whose feet are guided thro' the land, " lxvi 9 Thy feet have stray'd in after hours " cii 14 my feet are set To leave the pleasant fields " 21
Her feet, my darling, on the dead; " Con. 50 feet like sunny gems on an English green, Maud I v 14 fall before Her feet on the meadow grass, " 26
And fawn at a victor's feet. " vi 30 solid ground Not fail beneath my feet " xi 2
For her feet have touch'd the meadows " xii 23 Gorgonised me from head to f " xiii 21 the delicate Arab arch of her feet " xvi 15 her light f along the garden walk, " xviii 9
He sets the jewel-print of your feet In violets " xxii 41
Would start and tremble under her feet, " 73
A shadow there at my feet, " II i 39 Lying close to my f, Frail, but a work divine, " ii 3
A golden f or a fairy horn " 19 the rivulet at her feet Ripples on " iv 41 never an end to the stream of passing feet, " v 11 mock their foster-mother on four feet, Com. of Arthur 31 in the flame was borne A naked babe, and rode to Merlin's feet, " 384 their feet were planted on the plain Gareth and L. 187
I leap from Satan's f to Peter's knee— " 538 loosed his bonds and on free feet Set him, " 817 their feet In dewy grasses glisten'd; " 927
The gay pavilion and the naked feet, " 937 do him further wrong Than set him on his feet, " 955 often they break covert at our feet.' Marr. of Geraint 183 Worn by the feet that now were silent, " 321 fell'd him, and set f upon his breast, " 574 rose Limours, and looking at his feet, Geraint and E. 302 lays his f upon it, Gnawing and growling: " 562 on his f She set her own and climb'd; " 759 set his f upon me, and give me life. " 850 Hath hardly scaled with help a hundred feet Balin and Balan 170 made his feet Wings thro' a glimmering gallery, " 403
At Merlin's feet the wily Vivien lay. Merlin and V. 5 all the heathen lay at Arthur's feet, " 144 kiss'd his feet, As if in deepest reverence " 219
Dear feet, that I have follow'd thro' the world, " 227 Behind his ankle twined her hollow feet Together, " 240 Vivien bathed your feet before her own? " 284 Scared by the noise upstarted at our feet, " 422
The feet unmortised from their ankle-bones " 552

Foot (continued) judge all nature from her feet of clay, Merlin and V. 835 the green path that show'd the rarer f, Lancelot and E. 162 her shape From forehead down to f, perfect— " 642 again From f to forehead exquisitely turn'd: " 741 with her feet unseen Crush'd the wild passion " 1172 he wellnigh kiss'd her feet For loyal awe, " 1341 let the shield of Lancelot at her feet Be carven, Holy Grail 151 made a silken mat-work for her feet; " 534 how my feet recrost the deathful ridge " 915
—yea, his very hand and f— Pelleas and E. 184
—" 431
one whose f is bitten by an ant, Last Tournament 117
there three squires across their feet: " 285
The f that loiters, bidden go,— " 311 Dagonet with one f poised in his hand, " 329 little Dagonet mincing with his feet, " 510 Dagonet, turning on the ball of his f, " 554 when she heard the feet of Tristram grind " 671
Her light feet fell on our rough Lyonnesse, " 758 his f was on a stool Shaped as a dragon; " 760 about his feet A voice clung sobbing till he question'd it, Guinevere 81 voice about his feet Sent up an answer, " 178 broadening from her feet, And blackening, " 242 let us in, tho' late, to kiss his feet! " 412 with a wild sea-light about his feet, He saw them— " 418 when armed feet Thro' the long gallery " 528 in the darkness heard his armed feet Pause by her; " 536 and laid her hands about his feet. " 581
My pride in happier summers, at my feet. Pass. of Arthur 357
And while she grovell'd at his feet, " 423 based His feet on juts of slippery crag Lover's Tale i 142
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God. " 395
To stay his feet from falling, " 599 she saw Beneath her feet the region far away, " ii 85 at her feet, Ev'n the feet of her I loved, " 96 at his feet I seem'd to faint and fall, " iv 308 Were stoled from head to f in flowing black; Ded. Poem Prin. Alice 20 at his feet I seem'd to faint and fall, Def. of Lucknow 21
Hard-heaving, and her eyes upon her feet, V. of Maeldune 49
I lay At thy pale feet this ballad " 118 and bullets would rain at our feet— To Dante 7 was pollen'd from head to feet To E. Fitzgerald 9 and his white beard fell to his feet, Tiresias 41
Cast at thy feet one flower that fades away. The Wreck 12
Or on your head their rosy feet, " 82 one glittering f disturb'd The lucid well; " 138
I will sit at your feet, I will hide my face, Despair 50 then fell fluttering down at my feet; The Flight 68 blanch into spray At the feet of the cliff; " 70 foam in the dusk came playing about our feet. Tomorrow 36
And Love is fire, and burns the feet " 38
A stealthy f upon the stair! Spinster's S's. 28 fall of yer f in the dance was as light as snow " 30 an' laid himself undher yer feet, Locksley H., Sixty 28
I plumpt f fust i' the pond; " 50 tha' hoickt my feet wi' a flop fro' the claäy. Locksley H. 136 forefather, with his feet upon the hound. " 219 and woman to her tender feet, Dead Prophet 55 Set the feet above the brain and swear the brain is in the feet. The Fleet 18 wild mob's million feet Will kick you Demeter and P. 21 Progress halts on palsied feet, " 48
We needs must scan him from head to feet The Ring 328 robed thee in his day from head to feet— Happy 50
For, see, thy f has touch'd it; Prog. of Spring 44 see beneath our feet The mist of autumn Romney's R. 75 and flung the mould upon your feet, " 96 past her feet the swallow circling flies, Prog. of Spring 44
f to f With your own shadow in the placid lake, Romney's R. 75 mine from your pretty blue eyes to your feet, " 96 Six f deep of burial mould Will dull their comments! " 125 vines Which on the touch of heavenly feet Death of Œnone 5
The mango spurn the melon at his f? Akbar's Dream 39
I flung myself down at her feet, Charity 38

Football drunkard's f, laughing-stocks of Time, Princess iv 517

Footcloth and tumbled on the purple f, " 286

Footed See Bare-footed, Cat-footed, Four-footed, Lighter-footed, Little-footed, Wind-footed

Foot-fall With measured f firm and mild, Two Voices 413 list a f-f, ere he saw The wood-nymph, Palace of Art 110 her palfrey's f shot Light horrors Godiva 58
Or ghostly f echoing on the stair. Guinevere 507

Foot-gilt lay F-g with all the blossom-dust Merlin and V. 282

Footing Show'd her the fairy f's on the grass, Aylmer's Field 90
A slender-shafted Pine Lost f, fell, Gareth and L. 4 hath o'erstept The slippery f of his narrow wit, Lover's Tale i 102

Footless where f fancies dwell Among the fragments Maud I xviii 69

Foot-lights By the low f-l of the world— The Wreck 40

Footprint left The little f daily wash'd away. Enoch Arden 22
May only make that f upon sand Princess iii 239 watch The sandy f harden into stone.' ,, 271
The kingcup fills her f, Prog. of Spring 59

Foot-sore Reel'd as a f ox in crowded ways Aylmer's Field 819
F-s, way-worn, at length he touch'd his goal, St. Telemachus 34

Footstep Old f's trod the upper floors, Mariana 67 night come from the inmost hills, Like f's upon wool. Œnone 250 hear the dully sound Of human f's fall. Palace of Art 276 his f's smite the threshold stairs Of life— St. S. Stylites 191
More close and close his f's wind: Day-Dm., Arrival 25
While he treads with f firmer, L. of Burleigh 51
A f seem'd to fall beside her path, Enoch Arden 514
I prest my f's into his, Lucretius 118
He seems as one whose f's halt, Will 15
The f's of his life in mine; In Mem. lxxxv 44
But at his f leaps no more, ,, 112
But let no f beat the floor, ,, cv 17 guide Her f's, moving side by side ,, cxiv 19
The f flutter'd me at first: Last Tournament 515 clomb The last hard f of that iron crag; Pass. of Arthur 447 and fell about My f's on the mountains. Lover's Tale i 372 scales Their headlong passes, but his f fails, Montenegro 5
Have heard this f fall, Tiresias 27 flowers that brighten as thy f falls, Demeter and P. 36
A f, a low throbbing in the walls, The Ring 409

Footstool drove The f from before him, and arose; Aylmer's Field 327

Forage f for the horse, and flint for fire. Gareth and L. 1277
I will fetch you f from all fields, Geraint and E. 628
To f for herself alone; Open I. and C. Exhib. 29

Forager they found—his f's for charms— Merlin and V. 619

Foray Bound on a f, rolling eyes of prey, Geraint and E. 538
Such as they brought upon their f's out ,, 567

Forbad F her first the house of Averill, Aylmer's Field 502

Forbear 'F,' the Princess cried; 'F, Sir' I; Princess iv 162 caught His purple scarf, and held, and said, 'F! Marr. of Geraint 377
'F: there is a worthier,' ,, 556
That I f you thus: cross me no more. Geraint and E. 678
'Nay,' said Pelleas, 'but f. Pelleas and E. 280 call'd 'F In the great name of Him who died for men, St. Telemachus 62

Forbearance Arguing boundless f: Aylmer's Field 317

Forbid 'did I not F you, Dora?' Dora 92
Chid her, and f her to speak To me, Maud I xix 63
And batten on her poisons? Love f! Lover's Tale i 777

Forbore Bore and f, and did not tire, Two Voices 218
But awed and promise-bounden she f, Enoch Arden 869 Geraint, from utter courtesy, f. Marr. of Geraint 381 hurl his cup Straight at the speaker, but f: Merlin and V. 31 the meek maid Sweetly f him ever, Lancelot and E. 856 looking at the villainy done, F, Pelleas and E. 283
F his own advantage, (repeat) Guinevere 331, 333

Force (s) Had f to make me rhyme in youth, Miller's D. 193
All f in bonds that might endure, Palace of Art 154
I broke a close with f and arms: Edwin Morris 131 you know him,—old, but full Of f and choler, Golden Year 61 his passion shall have spent its novel f, Locksley Hall 49 Titanic f's taking birth In divers seasons, Day-Dm., L'Envoi 17
I spoke with heart, and heat and f, The Letters 37 toward the hollow, all her f Fail'd her; Enoch Arden 374
she promised that no f, Persuasion, no, Aylmer's Field 417 Is duer unto freedom, f and growth Of spirit Princess iv 141 felt the blind wildbeast of f, ,, v 266

Force (s) (continued) Ida stood nor spoke, drain'd of her f Princess vi 266
Some patient f to change them when we will, ,, Con. 56 can bereave him Of the f he made his own Ode on Well. 273
From our first Charles by f we wrung our claims. Third of Feb. 26
Who makes by f his merit known In Mem. lxiv 9
Of f that would have forged a name. ,, lxxiii 16
I know thee of what f thou art ,, lxxix 3
Seraphic intellect and f To seize and throw ,, cix 5 with f and skill To strive, to fashion, ,, cxiii 6 Should licensed boldness gather f, ,, 13 this electric f, that keeps A thousand pulses dancing, ,, cxxv 15 in his f to be Nature's crowning race. Maud I iv 33 but of f to withstand, Year upon year, ,, II ii 24
That save he won the first by f, Gareth and L. 107 his great self, Hath f to quell me.' ,, 1183 so fill up the gap where f might fail ,, 1352 Reproach you, saying all your f is gone? Marr. of Geraint 88
all his f Is melted into mere effeminacy? ,, 106
He felt, were she the prize of bodily f, ,, 541 blood Of their strong bodies, flowing, drain'd their f. But either's f was match'd till Yniol's cry, ,, 569 could I someway prove such f in her ,, 805 elemental secrets, powers And f's; Merlin and V. 633
so by f they dragg'd him to the King. ,, 640
I do not mean the f alone, Lancelot and E. 471 for what f is yours to go So far, ,, 1063
Drain'd of her f, again she sat, Last Tournament 540
But had not f to shape it as he would, Pass. of Arthur 15
F is from the heights. Ancient Sage 14
f to guide us thro' the days I shall not see? Locksley H., Sixty 158 Howe'er blind f and brainless will May jar Freedom 15 my brothers, work, and wield The f's of to-day, Mechanophilus 30

Force (verb) cruel glee F's on the freer hour. Vision of Sin 130 this wild king to f her to his wish, Princess, Pro. 37

Forced I f a way Thro' solid opposition ,, iii 125
f Sweet love on pranks of saucy boyhood: ,, vii 343 brute world howling f them into bonds, Merlin and V. 744 wrath which f my thoughts on that fierce law, Guinevere 537
the jailer f me away. (repeat) Rizpah 41, 44 fur theere we was f to 'ide, Spinster's S's. 39

Forcing f far apart Those blind beginnings Lucretius 245

Ford By bridge and f, by park and pale, Sir Galahad 82 her future Lord Was drown'd in passing thro' the f, In Mem. vi 39 bridge, f, beset By bandits, Gareth and L. 594 hard by here is one that guards a f— ,, 1003
Push'd horse across the foamings of the f, ,, 1040
Gareth laid his lance athwart the f; ,, 1048
There lies a ridge of slate across the f; ,, 1056
And victor of the bridges and the f, ,, 1232 quickly flashing thro' the shallow f Marr. of Geraint 167 hill, or plain, at sea, or flooding f. Holy Grail 728

Forded Took horse, and f Usk, and gain'd the wood; Marr. of Geraint 161

Fore when Dan didn't come to the f, Tomorrow 43

Forebode His heart f's a mystery: Two Voices 290

Foreboding f 'what would Enoch say?' Enoch Arden 253

Forecast But who shall so f the years In Mem. i 5

Foredoom'd Made us, foreknew us, f us, Despair 97

Foredooming F all his trouble was in vain, Gareth and L. 1127

Forefather His own f's' arms and armour hung. Princess, Pro. 24 thy great F's of the thornless garden, Maud I xviii 27 Lies the warrior, my f, with his feet upon the hound. Locksley H., Sixty 28 that same path our true f's trod; Doubt and Prayer 4

Forefinger on the stretch'd f of all Time Sparkle Princess ii 378

Forefoot With inward yelp and restless f plies Lucretius 45

Forego which f The darkness of that battle To the Queen ii 64

Foregoing F all her sweetness, like a weed. Holy Grail 623

Foregone 'But could I, as in times f, Talking Oak 189 have quite f All matters of this world: Balin and Balan 116

Foreground a f black with stones and slags, Palace of Art 81

Forehead (adj.) and his f veins Bloated, and branch'd; Balin and Balan 391

Forehead (s) draws His f earthward, and he dies. Supp. Confessions 168

Forehead (s) (continued) Thy bounteous f was not fann'd With breezes Eleänore 9 about His dusty f drily curl'd, Miller's D. 6 And, with dim fretted f's all, Palace of Art 242 curls—That made his f like a rising sun M. d'Arthur 217 Where shall I hide my f and my eyes? " 228 and opposed Free hearts, free f's— Ulysses 49
f, eyelids, growing dewy-warm With kisses Tithonus 58
On her pallid cheek and f came a colour Locksley Hall 25
gilds the straiten'd f of the fool! " 62
I, to herd with narrow f's, " 175
Annie from her baby's f clipt A tiny curl, Enoch Arden 235 at last he said, Lifting his honest f, " 388
We turn'd our f's from the falling sun, The Brook 165
With that she kiss'd His f, Princess ii 312 and o'er her f past A shadow, " vi 106 With all their f's drawn in Roman scowls, " vii 129 and her f sank upon her hands, " 247
But on her f sits a fire: In Mem. xxiv 5
But on the damsel's f shame, Gareth and L. 656
Had bared her f to the blistering sun, Geraint and E. 515 when their f's felt the cooling air, Balin and Balan 589 her shape From f down to foot, perfect—again From foot to f exquisitely turn'd: Lancelot and E. 642 Clean from her f all that wealth of hair Holy Grail 150 their f's grimed with smoke, and sear'd, " 265 Met f's all along the street of those Who watch'd us pass; " 344
This air that smites his f is not air " 914
Glanced from the rosy f of the dawn. Pelleas and E. 502
Pure on the virgin f of the dawn!' " 505 curls—That made his f like a rising sun Pass. of Arthur 385
Where shall I hide my f and my eyes? " 396 with my work thus Crown'd her clear f. Lover's Tale i 345 holdeth his undimmed f far Into a clearer zenith, " 513 brush'd My fallen f in their to and fro, " 701 Brow-high, did strike my f as I past; " ii 19
Bullets would sing by our f's, Def. of Lucknow 21 earth's dark f flings athwart the heavens Ancient Sage 200 f vapour-swathed In meadows ever green; Freedom 7 felt a gentle hand Fall on my f, The Ring 419 round her f wheels the woodland dove, Prog. of Spring 57
And last on the f Of Arthur the blameless Merlin and the G. 72 you spill The drops upon my f. Romney's R. 24

Foreign and he died In f lands; Dora 19
And I will tell him tales of f parts, Enoch Arden 198
'I have a sister at the f court, Princess i 75
And travell'd men from f lands; In Mem. x 6 often abroad in the fragrant gloom Of f churches— Maud I xix 54 Display'd a splendid silk of f loom, Geraint and E. 687 some other question'd if she came From f lands, Lover's Tale iv 331 they praised him to his face with their courtly f grace; Revenge 99 Urge him to f war. Sir J. Oldcastle 68

Foreigner (See also Furriner) A f, and I your country-woman, Princess iv 317

Foreknew Made us, f us, foredoom'd us, Despair 97

Foreland many a fairy f set With willow-weed The Brook 45

Forelock Are taken by the f. Let it be. Golden Year 19

Foremost (See also Head-foremost) f in thy various gallery Place it, Ode to Memory 84
And being ever f in the chase, Geraint and E. 959
I the heir of all the ages, in the f files of time— Locksley Hall 178 which, on the f rocks Touching, Sea Dreams 51
F captain of his time, Ode on Well. 31
He dash'd the pummel at the f face, Balan and Balan 402

Foreran So much the boy f; Aylmer's Field 80

Forerun F thy peers, thy time, and let Thy feet, Two Voices 88 in the cold wind that f's the morn Guinevere 132

Foresaw (See also Half-foresaw) The fame is quench'd that I f, In Mem. lxxiii 5 what doubt that he f This evil work Guinevere 306
And each f the dolorous day to be: Pelleas and E. 606

Foresee Oh, if indeed that eye f In Mem. xxvi 9 could none of them f, Not even thy wise father Guinevere 273

Foreseeing Howbeit ourself, f casualty, Princess iii 317

Foreshadow Who dares f for an only son A lovelier life, Ded. of Idylls 29
What omens may f fate to man And woman, Tiresias 7

Foreshadowing His heart f all calamity, Enoch Arden 683
Immersed in rich f's of the world, Princess vii 312

Foreshorten'd lie F in the tract of time? In Mem. lxxvii 4

Foresight Whose f preaches peace, Love and Duty 34
Take wings of f; lighten thro' The secular abyss In Mem. lxxvi 5

Forest (adj.) And armour'd all in f green, Last Tournament 170 his good warhorse left to graze Among the f greens, " 491
He burst his lance against a f bough, Balin and Balan 329
hurl'd it from him Among the f weeds, " 542

Forest (s) (See also Mid-forest, New Forest) so deadly still As that wide f. D. of F. Women 69
Between dark stems the f glows, Sir Galahad 27
The petty marestail f, fairy pines, Aylmer's Field 92
Better to clear prime f's, heave and thump Princess iii 127
While I roved about the f, Boädicea 35
The f crack'd, the waters curl'd, In Mem. xv 5 and pitch'd His tents beside the f. Com. of Arthur 58 slew the beast, and fell'd The f, " 60 mount That rose between the f and the field. Gareth and L. 191
A mile beneath the f, challenging And over-throwing Balin and Balan 12 the harlot leapt Adown the f, and the thicket closed Behind her, and the f echo'd 'fool.' Merlin and V. 973 the gloomy skirts Of Celidon the f; Lancelot and E. 292 Across the f call'd of Dean, to find Caerleon Pelleas and E. 21 Alone, and in the heart of the great f. Lover's Tale ii 3 moanings in the f, the loud brook, " 114
On icy fallow And faded f, Merlin and the G. 85
Thro' blasted valley and flaring f Kapiolani 12

Forest-deeps And far, in f-d unseen, Sir L. and Q. G. 7

Forester How once the wandering f at dawn, Gareth and L. 498
Down on a rout of craven f's. " 841
Before him came a f of Dean, Marr. of Geraint 148

Forest-path thine eyes not brook in f-p's, Prog. of Spring 31

Forest-shadow and through the f-s borne Lover's Tale ii 72

Forethought So dark a f roll'd about his brain, Merlin and V. 230

Foretold f, Dying, that none of all our blood Princess i 7
He too f the perfect rose. In Mem., Con. 34
Has come to pass as f; Maud II v 44

Forfeits game of f done—the girls all kiss'd The Epic 2 magic music, f, all the rest. Princess, Pro. 195

Forgave there the Queen f him easily. Marr. of Geraint 592
And he f me, and I could not speak. Guinevere 614

Forge yes!—but a company f's the wine. Maud I i 36
f a life-long trouble for ourselves, Geraint and E. 3

Forged 'Who f that other influence, Two Voices 283
f a thousand theories of the rocks, Edwin Morris 18 he f, But that was later, boyish histories Aylmer's Field 96
Nor deeds of gift, but gifts of grace he f, Sea Dreams 192 and so We f a sevenfold story. Princess, Pro. 202 thou hast f at last A night-long Present In Mem. lxxi 2 results Of force that would have f a name. " lxxiii 16 Whereof they f the brand Excalibur, Gareth and L. 67 one son had f on his father and fled, Despair 69

Forget rose In love with thee f's to close His curtains, Adeline 42 men F the dream that happens then, Two Voices 353
'I might f my weaker lot; " 367 who that knew him could f The busy wrinkles Miller's D. 3
Can he pass, and we f? " 204
What is love? for we f: " 213
I shall not f you, mother, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 31
And God f the stranger!' The Goose 56
Authority f's a dying king, M. d'Arthur 121
I earth in earth f these empty courts, Tithonus 75
Perplext her, made her half f herself, Aylmer's Field 303 Swear by St something—I f her name— Princess v 293 all men else their nobler dreams f, Ode on Well. 152
What England was, shall her true sons f? Third of Feb. 44 ten years back, or more, if I don't f: Grandmother 75
Could we f the widow'd hour In Mem. xl 1
But he f's the days before " xlv 3
Nor can it suit me to f The mighty hopes " lxxxv 59
The days she never can f " xcvii 14

Forget (continued) I should f That I owe this debt to you Maud I xix 89 shall I say?—If ever I should f, " 93 the lone hern f's his melancholy, Gareth and L. 1185 f My heats and violences? live afresh? Balin and Balan 189 ye f Obedience is the courtesy due to kings.' Lancelot and E. 717 Authority f's a dying king, Pass. of Arthur 289 Men will f what we suffer and not what we do. Def. of Lucknow 73 and f The darkness of the pall.' Ancient Sage 197
As we f our wail at being born. The Ring 465
A name that earth will not f To Ulysses 27
but thou forgive, F it. Death of Œnone 44
Forgetful F how my rich promion makes Thy glory fly Lucretius 70
F of Maud and me, Maud I xxi 4
F of his promise to the King, Marr. of Geraint 50
F of the falcon and the hunt, " 51
F of the tilt and tournament, F of his glory and his name, F of his princedom and its cares. " 52
'The sound of that f shore In Mem. xxxv 14
dreaming of her love For Lancelot, and f of the hunt; Marr. of Geraint 159 F of their troth and fealty, Guinevere 442
f of the man, Whose crime had half unpeopled Ilion, Death of Œnone 60
Forgetfulness falling into Lot's f I know not thee, Gareth and L. 96
And this f was hateful to her. Marr. of Geraint 55
Forget-me-not I found the blue F-m-n. Miller's D. 202
f-m-n's That grow for happy lovers. The Brook 172
Forgetteth The place he knew f him.' Two Voices 264
Forgetting F how to render beautiful Her countenance Lover's Tale i 96
O the night, Where there's no f. Forlorn 78
Forgive Us, O Just and Good, F, Poland 12
I have been wild and wayward, but you'll f me now; You'll kiss me, my own mother, and f me ere I go; May Queen N. Y's. E. 33
May God f me!—I have been to blame. Dora 161
And easily f's it as his own, Aylmer's Field 401
'Love, f him:' but he did not speak; Sea Dreams 45
'F! How many will say, 'f,' " 60 neither God nor man can well f, " 63
Before you prove him, rogue, and proved, f. " 171
We must f the dead.' " 270
f him, dear, And I shall sleep the sounder!' " 311
I do f him!' 'Thanks, my love,' " 316
F me, I waste my heart in sighs: Princess vii 358
F what seem'd my sin in me; In Mem., Pro. 33
F my grief for one removed, " 37
F these wild and wandering cries, " 41
F them where they fail in truth, " 43 hearts that know not how to f: Maud II i 44
Or to say 'F the wrong,' " iv 86
F me; mine was jealousy in love.' Lancelot and E. 1351
I f thee, as Eternal God F's: Guinevere 544
Kiss him, and then F him, Lover's Tale iv 175
Are slower to f than human kings. Tiresias 10
All his virtues—I f them— Locksley H., Sixty 44
For you f me, you are sure of that— Romney's R. 160 but thou f, Forget it. Death of Œnone 43
Forgiven not easily f Are those, who setting Gardener's D. 247
Say one soft word and let me part f.' Princess vi 219
Caress her! let her feel herself f Merlin and V. 381
She with a face, bright as for sin f, Lancelot and E. 1102 pass on, my Queen, f.' " 1353 blessed be the King, who hath f My wickedness Guinevere 634
'Yea, little maid, for am I not f?' " 665
And has he not f me yet, Happy 6 trust myself f by the God to whom I kneel. " 86 Reflected, sends a light on the f. Romney's R. 161 Forgiveness I seem no more: I want f too: Princess vi 290 we embrace you yet once more With all f, " 295 thro' this ring Had sent his cry for her f, The Ring 233 Could kneel for your f. Romney's R. 26
Human f touches heaven, and thence— " 159
Forgiving I had set my heart on your f him Sea Dreams 269 Forgot For is not our first year f? Two Voices 368 having seen, f? The common mouth, Gardener's D. 55

Forgot (continued) The steer f to graze, Gardener's D. 85
Philip sitting at her side f Her presence, Enoch Arden 384 might be May or April, he f, The Brook 151
Sir Aylmer half f his lazy smile Aylmer's Field 197
And I f the clouded Forth, The Daisy 101
F his weakness in thy sight. In Mem. ex 4
Nor yet f her practice in her fright, Merlin and V. 947
F to drink to Lancelot and the Queen, Lancelot and E. 737
And the sick man f her simple blush, " 864 so f herself A moment, and her cares; Last Tournament 25 when their faces are f in the land— Lover's Tale i 759 that I might ha' f him somehow— First Quarrel 37
The warrior hath f his arms, Ancient Sage 138
But I cleän f tha, my lad, Owd Roä 53
An' I'd cleär f, little Dicky, " 64
Forgotten (See also Half-forgotten, Long-forgotten)
To live f, and love forlorn.' (repeat) Mariana in the S. 24, 84, 96
I sleep f, I wake forlorn.' " 36 Walks f, and is forlorn.' " 48 Live f and die forlorn.' (repeat) " 60, 72 not to be f—not at once—Not all f. Love and Duty 91
I meant? I have f what I meant: Lucretius 122
F, rusting on his iron hills, Princess v 146
And doing battle with f ghosts, " 480
'I had f all in my strong joy To see thee— Last Tournament 582
My God, thou hast f me in my death: Pass. of Arthur 27
Where fragments of f peoples dwelt, " 84
ARE you sleeping? have you f? The Flight 1
Ev'n her grandsire's fifty half f. On Jub. Q. Victoria 41
She fear'd I had f her, and I ask'd About my Mother, The Ring 102
I had f it was your birthday, child— " 378
f mine own rhyme By mine own self, As I shall be f by old Time, To Mary Boyle 21
Like glimpses of f dreams— Two Voices 381 wasting his f heart, Aylmer's Field 689
The howlings from f fields; In Mem. xli 16
And fling me deep in that f mere, Lancelot and E. 1426
Had suck'd the fire of some f sun, Lover's Tale iv 194 who dipt In some f book of mine To E. Fitzgerald 47 Fork (See also Lightning-fork) Who, God-like, grasps the triple f's, Of old sat Freedom 15
Ruin'd trunks on wither'd f's, Vision of Sin 93
I never saw so fierce a f— Lucretius 28
A double hill ran up his furrowy f's Princess iii 174
Two f's are fixt into the meadow ground, Marr. of Geraint 482 there they fixt the f's into the ground, " 543
To me this narrow grizzled f of thine Merlin and V. 59
And dazzled by the livid-flickering f, " 941
Forked things that are f, and horned, and soft, The Mermaid 53
f Of the near storm, and aiming at his head, Aylmer's Field 726
Forlorn In sleep she seem'd to walk f, Mariana 30
To live forgotten, and love f.' (repeat) Mariana in the S. 24, 84, 96
I sleep forgotten, I wake f.' " 36 Walks forgotten, and is f. " 48
Live forgotten and die f.' (repeat) " 60, 72
I am too f, Too shaken: Supp. Confessions 135
Over the dark dewy earth f, Ode to Memory 69 in a lonely grove He set up his f pipes, Amphion 22
I ceased, and sat as one f. Two Voices 400
Mournful Œnone, wandering f Of Paris, Œnone 16
Yet we will not die f.' Vision of Sin 206
'Favour from one so sad and so f Enoch Arden 287
A tonsured head in middle age f, The Brook 200
The little village looks f; In Mem. lx 9
I walk as ere I walk'd f, " lxviii 5 purple-frosty bank Of vapour, leaving night f. " cvii 4 Who am no more so all f, Maud I xviii 32 speak of the mother she loved As one scarce less f, " xix 28
The tiny cell is f, " II ii 13 thus in grief to wander forth f; The Flight 85 may pass when earth is manless and f, Locksley H., Sixty 206 tho', in this lean age f, Epilogue 71
And fled by many a waste, f of man, Demeter and P. 74
Where noble Ulric dwells f, Happy 10
To wait on one so broken, so f? Romney's R. 17

Form (s) This excellence and solid f Of constant beauty. Supp. Confessions 149 (Tho' all her fairest f's are types of thee, Isabel 39
And airy f's of flitting change. Madeline 7 converse with all f's Of the many-sided mind, Ode to Memory 115
And other than his f of creed, A Character 29 rites and f's before his burning eyes Melted The Poet 39
Fretteth thine enshrouded f. A Dirge 10
THE f, the f alone is eloquent! The form, the form 1
'Is this the f,' she made her moan, Mariana in the S. 33
The reflex of a beauteous f, Miller's D. 77 o'er her rounded f Between the shadows Œnone 180
I sit as God holding no f of creed, Palace of Art 211 f's that pass'd at windows and on roofs D. of F. Women 23
That her fair f may stand and shine, Of old sat Freedom 21
Matures the individual f. Love thou thy land 40
Phantoms of other f's of rule, 59 all the decks were dense with stately f's „ M. d'Arthur 196 play with flying f's and images, Gardener's D. 60 fair new f's, That float about the threshold Golden Year 15 Cursed be the sickly f's that err Locksley Hall 61
And loosely settled into f. Day-Dm., Pro. 12
On either side her tranced f Forth streaming „ Sleep B. 5 ever dwells A perfect f in perfect rest. „ 24
But blessed f's in whistling storms Sir Galahad 59 dusty crypt Of darken'd f's and faces. Will Water. 184
And slowly quickening into lower f's; Vision of Sin 210
All beauty compass'd in a female f, Princess ii 34 since to look on noble f's Makes noble „ 86
There sat along the f's, like morning doves „ 102
Of faded f and haughtiest lineaments, „ 448
then a loftier f Than female, „ iv 215
I saw the f's: I knew not where I was: „ vii 133
Will clear away the parasitic f's „ 269
And other f's of life than ours, Ode on Well. 264
A hollow f with empty hands.' In Mem. iii 12
A late-lost f that sleep reveals, „ xiii 2
But knows no more of transient f „ xvi 7
Nor cares to fix itself to f, „ xxiii 4
Her faith thro' f is pure as thine, „ 9
Eternal f shall still divide The eternal soul „ xlvii 6
Where thy first f was made a man; „ lxi 10 print The same sweet f's in either mind. „ lxxix 8
For changes wrought on f and face; „ lxxxii 2
O sacred essence, other f, „ lxxxv 35
And seem to lift the f, and glow „ lxxxvii 37
'And merge,' he said, 'in f and gloss „ lxxxix 41 wear the f by which I know Thy spirit „ xci 5 Come, beauteous in thine after f, „ 15 frame In matter-moulded f's of speech, „ xcv 46
For who would keep an ancient f „ cv 19
And ancient f's of party strife; „ cvi 14
he veil His want in f's for fashion's sake, „ cxi 6
And grew to seeming-random f's, „ cxviii 10 flow From f to f, and nothing stands; „ cxxiii 6 tho' faith and f Be sunder'd in the night „ cxxvii 1 these damp walls, and taken but the f. Gareth and L. 1200
Conjecture of the plumage and the f; Marr. of Geraint 333
And dreamt herself was such a faded f „ 654 all her f shone forth with sudden light Holy Grail 450
O imperial-moulded f, Guinevere 548 all the decks were dense with stately f's, Pass. of Arthur 364 a phantasm of the f It should attach to? Lover's Tale i 646 Mantling her f halfway. „ 705 fell into the abysm Of f's outworn, „ 797 very face and f of Lionel Flash'd thro' my eyes „ ii 94 f's which ever stood Within the magic cirque „ 158
pencil's naked f's Colour and life: „ 180 Grew after marriage to full height and f? Sisters (E. and E.) 171 face and f are hers and mine in one, De Prof., Two G. 13
I clung to the sinking f, The Wreck 105 and itself For ever changing f, Ancient Sage 193
And blurr'd in colour and f, Dead Prophet 22
The f of Muriel faded, and the face Of Miriam The Ring 184 concentrate into f And colour all you are, Romney's R. 7

Form (s) (continued) crown'd f's high over the sacred fountain? Parnassus 1 all else F, Ritual, varying with the tribes of men, Akbar's Dream 124 thou knowest I hold that f's Are needful: „ 126
And what are f's? Fair garments, „ 130
F's! The Spiritual in Nature's market-place— „ 134
Who shaped the f's, obey them, „ 143
And is a living f? Mechanophilus 16
Form (verb) the rainbow f's and flies on the land Sea-Fairies 25 slowly f's the firmer mind, In Mem. xviii 18 Storm, Storm, Riflemen f! (repeat) Riflemen form! 5, 19
Riflemen, Riflemen, Riflemen, f! (repeat) „ 7, 14, 21, 28
F, F, Riflemen F! (repeat) „ 12, 26
F, be ready to do or die! F in Freedom's name and the Queen's! „ 22
Formal O the f mocking bow, The Flight 29
His f kiss fell chill as a flake of snow The Wreck 32
O, I see thee old and f, Locksley Hall 93
Formalism they blurt Their furious f's, Akbar's Dream 57 Former And ebb into a f life, Sonnet, To —— 2 remembering His f talks with Edith, Aylmer's Field 457 became Her f beauty treble; Princess vii 25 Makes f gladness loom so great? In Mem. xxiv 10
As in the f flash of joy, „ cxxii 15
In f days you saw me favourably. Geraint and E. 315
'Earl, if you love me as in f years, „ 355 that I began To glance behind me at my f life, „ 863
Because his f madness, Holy Grail 649
For Evelyn knew not of my f suit, Sisters (E. and E.) 205 Forming The lucid outline f round thee; Tithonus 53
Be yet but yolk, and f in the shell? Ancient Sage 130
Formless I am void, Dark, f, utterly destroyed. Supp. Confessions 122
A vapour heavy, hueless, f, cold, Vision of Sin 53
And wrapt thee f in the fold, In Mem. xxii 15 till all his heart was cold With f fear; Pass. of Arthur 98
Forrards (forwards) if tha' wants to git f a bit, Church-warden, etc. 49
Forsake Ah yet, tho' all the world f, Will Water. 49 what a heart was mine to f her The Wreck 95 leech f the dying bed for terror Happy 98 Forsaken O my f heart, with thee And this poor flower In Mem. viii 18
We saw far off an old f house, The Ring 155
Forsaking See! our friends are all f All Things will Die 18
Forsworn I cannot bear to dream you so f: Pelleas and E. 300
I swore to the great King, and am f. Last Tournament 661
I swear and swear f To love him most, The Flight 49
Fort (See also Hill-fort) Welcome her, thunders of f and of fleet! W. to Alexandra 6
Built that new f to overawe my friends, Marr. of Geraint 460
Forth And I forgot the clouded F, The Daisy 101
Forthgazing F on the waste and open sea, Lover's Tale ii 177
Fortitude stately flower of female f, Isabel 11
Fortress The f, and the mountain ridge, In Mem. lxxi 14
The f crashes from on high, „ cxxvii 14
deathful-grinning mouths of the f, Maud III vi 52
White from the mason's hand, a f rose; Marr. of Geraint 244
And onward to the f rode the three, „ 251
Ride into that new f by your town, „ 407 be thy heart a f to maintain The day To Duke of Argyll 5
My prison, not my f, fall away! Doubt and Prayer 12
Fortunate You, the Mighty, the F, On Jub. Q. Victoria 55
Fortune I rode sublime On F's neck: D. of F. Women 142
Tho' f clip my wings, I will not cramp my heart, Will Water. 50
I am but as my f's are: Lady Clare 70
'Drink to F, drink to Chance, Vision of Sin 191 mark me! for your f's are to make. Aylmer's Field 300
Name, f too: the world should ring of him „ 395
Thro' which a few, by wit or f led, „ 438 besides Their slender household f's Sea Dreams 9 ally Your f's, justlier balanced, Princess ii 66 affluent F emptied all her horn. Ode on Well. 197 Becomes on F's crowning slope, In Mem. lxiv 14
My f's all as fair as hers who lay Gareth and L. 903 loved her in a state Of broken f's, Marr. of Geraint 13 song that Enid sang was one Of F and her wheel, „ 346
'Turn, F, turn thy wheel and lower the proud; „ 347

Fortune (continued) 'Turn, F, turn thy wheel with smile or frown; Marr. of Geraint 350 since our f slipt from sun to shade, " 714 that better fits Our mended f's " 718
Give me good f, I will strike him dead, Lancelot and E. 1071
You count the father of your f, Sisters (E. and E.) 28 his followers, all Flower into f— Columbus 167

Forty (See also Foorty) That numbers f cubits from the soil. St. S. Stylites 91
And f blest one bless him, Aylmer's Field 372 for f years A hermit, who had pray'd, Lancelot and E. 402
Divil a Danny was there, yer Honour, for f year, Tomorrow 30
Gone with whom for f years my life in golden sequence ran, Locksley H., Sixty 47

Forum Titanic shapes, they cramm'd The f. Princess vii 125
Now thy F roars no longer, To Virgil 29
The Baths, the F gabbled of his death, St. Telemachus 74

Forward (See also Forrards) with increasing might doth f flee Mine be the strength 5
F, f let us range, Locksley Hall 181
'F, the Light Brigade! (repeat) Light Brigade 5, 9
She sets her f countenance In Mem. cxiv 6
To right? to left? straight f? Pelleas and E. 67
Then bounded f to the castle-walls, " 363
Gone the cry of 'F, F,' Locksley H., Sixty 73
'F' rang the voices then, " 77 Let us hush the cry of 'F' " 78
f—naked—let them stare. " 142
F, f, ay and backward, " 146
F, backward, backward, f, " 193
Nay, your pardon, cry your 'f,' " 225
F then, but still remember how the course of Time will swerve, " 235
F far and far from here is all the hope of eighty years. " 254
F, till you see the highest Human Nature is divine. " 276 F, let the stormy moment fly and mingle with the Past. " 279 moving quickly f till the heat Smote on her brow, Death of Œnone 97
F to the starry track Glimmering up Silent Voices 8

Forward-creeping f-c tides Began to foam, In Mem. ciii 37

Forward-flowing The f-f tide of time; Arabian Nights 4

Fossil lark and leveret lay, Like f's of the rock, Audley Court 25

Foster guard and f her for evermore. Guinevere 592

Foster'd F the callow eaglet— Œnone 212
Which once she f up with care; In Mem. viii 16 because that f at thy court I savour of thy—virtues? Merlin and V. 38 that was Arthur; and they f him Guinevere 295
Old poets f under friendlier skies, Poets and their B. 1

Foster-mother mock their f-m on four feet, Com. of Arthur 31

Foster-sister She was my f-s: Lover's Tale i 233

Fought (See also Fowt) And in thy spirit with thee f— England and Amer. 9
Annie f against his will: Enoch Arden 158
His comrades having f their last below, Aylmer's Field 227
F with what seem'd my own uncharity; Sea Dreams 73 with the Palmyrene That f Aurelian, Princess ii 84
And nursed by those for whom you f, " vi 95
I and mine have f Your battle: " 224
And the feet of those he f for, Ode on Well. 11 those great men who f, and kept it ours. " 158 Than when he f at Waterloo, " 257 have we f for Freedom from our prime, Third of Feb. 23
Were those your sires who f at Lewes? " 33
They that had f so well Came thro' the jaws Light Brigade 45 may be met and f with outright, Grandmother 31 for the babe had f for his life. " 64
He f his doubts and gather'd strength, In Mem. xcvi 13
Like Paul with beasts, I f with Death; " cxx 4
Aurelius lived and f and died, And after him King Uther f and died, Com. of Arthur 13
F, and in twelve great battles overcame " 518
He f against him in the Barons' war, Gareth and L. 77
Lot and many another rose and f Against thee, " 354 but he that f no more, As being all bone-batter'd " 1049 thy foul sayings f for me: " 1180 twice they f, and twice they breathed, Marr. of Geraint 567

Fought (continued) f Hard with himself, and seem'd at length in peace, Balin and Balan 238
f in her name, Sware by her— Merlin and V. 13 two brothers, one a king, had met And f Lancelot and E. 40
if I went and if I f and won it " 216
'you have f. O tell us—for we live apart— " 283 it seem'd half-miracle To those he f with,— " 498 name Of greatest knight? I f for it, " 1414
'Have ye f?' She ask'd of Lancelot. Pelleas and E. 592 whatever knight of thine I f And tumbled. Last Tournament 453
F in her father's battles? wounded there? " 592 Isolt?—I f his battles, for Isolt! " 604 brake the petty kings, and f with Rome, Pass. of Arthur 68 Nor ever yet had Arthur f a fight Like this " 93 fell Confusion, since he saw not whom he f. " 99 shiver'd brands that once had f with Rome, " 133
He f the boys that were rude, First Quarrel 14 and they f us hand to hand, The Revenge 52
And we had not f them in vain, " 74
'We have f such a fight for a day and a night As may never be f again! " 83
'I have f for Queen and Faith " 101
Each of us f as if hope for the garrison Def. of Lucknow 48
Thanks to the kindly dark faces who f with us, faithful and few, F with the bravest among us, " 70 and f till I sunder'd the fray, V. of Maeldune 69
F for their lives in the narrow gap Heavy Brigade 23
Britain f her sons of yore— Open I. and C. Exhib. 21
He wildly f a rival suitor, him The causer of that scandal, f and fell; The Ring 214 for he f Thy fight for Thee, Happy 15

Foughten the lords Have f like wild beasts Com. of Arthur 226 had I f—well—In those fierce wars, Balin and Balan 176 the f field, what else, at once Decides it, Princess v 297
Then quickly from the f field he sent Com. of Arthur 135
When have I stinted stroke in f field? Holy Grail 860

Foul (adj.) keep where you are: you are f with sin; Poet's Mind 36
Kill the f thief, and wreak me for my son.' Gareth and L. 363
But if their talk were f, " 504
But truly f are better, " 947 thy f sayings fought for me: " 1180
F are their lives; f are their lips; Balin and Balan 616
Of that f bird of rapine whose whole prey Merlin and V. 728 as false and f As the poach'd filth " 797 what is fair without Is often as f within.' Dead Prophet 68
You say your body is so f— Happy 25
Your body is not f to me, and body is f at best. " 28
F! f! the word was yours not mine, " 41
'I So f a traitor to myself and her, Aylmer's Field 319 nature crost Was mother of the f adulteries " 376 Ring out old shapes of f disease; In Mem. cvi 25 housed In her f den, there at their meat would growl, Com. of Arthur 30
As one that let f wrong stagnate and be, Geraint and E. 891
And drawing f ensample from fair names, Guinevere 490 sucking The f steam of the grave to thicken by it, Lover's Tale i 649
I'd sooner fold an icy corpse dead of some f disease: The Flight 54
Fright and f dissembling, Forlorn 32 strip your own f passions bare; Locksley H., Sixty 141

Foul (s) frequent interchange of f and fair, Enoch Arden 533

Foul'd Experience, in her kind Hath f me— Last Tournament 318

Foulest Or the f sewer of the town— Dead Prophet 48

Foul-flesh'd as one That smells a f-f agaric in the holt, Gareth and L. 747

Foully phantom husks of something f done, Lucretius 160

Foulness canst endure To mouth so huge a f— Balin and Balan 379
This fellow hath wrought some f " 565
And of the horrid f that he wrought, Merlin and V. 748
To all the f that they work. " 785

Foun' for Danny was not to be f, Tomorrow 28 they f Dhrownded in black bog-wather " 61 they laid this body they f an the grass " 73

Found (find) (See also Foun', Fun) compare All creeds till we have f the one, Supp. Confessions 176 Down she came and f a boat L. of Shalott iv 6
'I f him when my years were few; Two Voices 271

Found (find) (continued) 'It may be that no life is f, Two Voices 346
Have I not f a happy earth? Miller's D. 25
I f the blue Forget-me-not. " 202
The comfort, I have f in thee: " 234
'I have f A new land, but I die.' Palace of Art 283
The Roman soldier f Me lying dead, D. of F. Women 161
I woke, and f him settled down The Epic 17 would have spoken, but he f not words, M. d'Arthur 172 reach'd The wicket-gate, and f her standing there. Gardener's D. 213
I f it in a volume, all of songs, Audley Court 57
They f you out? James. Not they. Walk. to the Mail 101 Bear witness, if I could have f a way St. S. Stylites 55
I f him garrulously given, Talking Oak 23
And f, and kiss'd the name she f, " 159
'She had not f me so remiss; " 193
Or love that never f his earthly close, Love and Duty 1
Sin itself be f The cloudy porch oft opening " 8
And f him in Llanberis: Golden Year 5 and f him, where he strode About the hall, Godiva 16
there she f her palfrey trapt In purple " 51
I f My spirits in the golden age. To E. L. 11
Blanch'd with his mill, they f; Enoch Arden 367
The two remaining f a fallen stem; " 567
Lest he should swoon and tumble and be f, " 774
He f the bailiff riding by the farm, The Brook 153
f the sun of sweet content Re-risen " 168
F lying with his urns and ornaments, Aylmer's Field 4 Slipt into ashes, and was f no more. " 6 written as she f Or made occasion, " 477 F for himself a bitter treasure-trove; " 515
f the girl And flung her down upon a couch " 573 F a dead man, a letter edged with death " 595 in moving on I f Only the landward exit Sea Dreams 95 I f a hard friend in his loose accounts, " 162
f (for it was close beside) " 288 Lucilia, wedded to Lucretius, f Her master cold; Lucretius 1 and f a witch Who brew'd the philtre " 15
F a still place, and pluck'd her likeness Princess i 92 in the imperial palace f the king. " 113
f her there At point to move, " iii 130
I have not f among them all One anatomic. " 306
I fight with iron laws, in the end F golden: " iv 76 Nor f my friends; but push'd alone on foot " 196
f at length The garden portals. " 199
f that you had gone, Ridd'n to the hills, " 342 but in you I f My boyish dream involved " 449 F the gray kings at parle: " v 114
f He thrice had sent a herald to the gates, " 331
f fair peace once more among the sick. " vii 44 she f a small Sweet Idyl, and once more, " 190
I f, tho' crush'd to hard and dry, The Daisy 97
They f the mother sitting still; The Victim 31 peak, the star Pass, and are f no more. Voice and the P. 28
Thy creature, whom I f so fair. In Mem., Pro. 38
And f thee lying in the port; " xiv 4
But f him all in all the same, " 19
I f a wood with thorny boughs: " lxix 6
I f an angel of the night; " 14
My Arthur f your shadows fair, " lxxxix 6
I f Him not in world or sun, " cxxiv 5 in the ghastly pit long since a body was f, Maud I i 5 as I f when her carriage past, " ii 3 and f The shining daffodil dead, " iii 13
What, has he f my jewel out? " x 23 my life has f What some have f so sweet; " xi 3 in this stormy gulf have f a pearl " xviii 42
This garden-rose that I f, " xxi 3 and striking f his doom. Com. of Arthur 325
He f me first when yet a little maid: " 339
F her son's will unwaveringly one, Gareth and L. 141 kings we f, ye know we stay'd their hands " 421
On Caer-Eryri's highest f the King, A naked babe, " 500 he sought The King alone, and f, and told him " 540 he f the grass within his hands " 1225 when they sought and f, Sir Gareth drank and ate, " 1279

Found (find) (continued) had f and loved her in a state
Of broken fortunes, Marr. of Geraint 12 being f, Then will I fight him, " 220
F every hostel full, " 255
He f an ancient dame in dim brocade; " 363
f Half disarray'd as to her rest, the girl; " 515
She f no rest, and ever fail'd to draw " 531
The Prince had f her in her ancient home; " 644
He f the sack and plunder of our house " 694
f And took it, and array'd herself therein. " 848
And when he f all empty, was amazed; Geraint and E. 216
F Enid with the corner of his eye, " 281 issuing arm'd he f the host and cried, " 407 f his own dear bride propping his head, " 584
f A damsel drooping in a corner of it. " 610
'In this poor gown my dear lord f me first, " 698 moving out they f the stately horse, " 752
I f, Instead of scornful pity or pure scorn, " 858
He look'd and f them wanting; " 935
The Lost one F was greeted as in Heaven Balin and Balan 81 they brought report 'we hardly f, " 94 in those deep woods we f A knight " 120 f the greetings both of knight and King " 342
f His charger, mounted on him and away. " 417 they f the world, Staring wild-wide; " 595
f a little boat, and stept into it; Merlin and V. 198 my Master, have ye f your voice? " 269
f a fair young squire who sat alone, " 472 being f take heed of Vivien. " 529 they f—his foragers for charms— " 619 and on returning f Not two but three? " 708
He brought, not f it therefore: " 719 f a door, And darkling felt the sculptured ornament " 733 had she f a dagger there (For in a wink the false love turns to hate) She would have stabb'd him; but she f it not: " 851 should have f in him a greater heart. " 873 f a glen, gray boulder and black tarn. Lancelot and E. 36
And issuing f the Lord of Astolat " 173
f it true, and answer'd, 'True, my child. " 370 Until they f the clear-faced King, " 432 till they f The new design wherein they lost " 440
Where could be f face daintier? " 641
Lest I be f as faithless in the quest " 761
And f no ease in turning or in rest; " 901
He f her in among the garden yews, " 923
Until we f the palace of the King. " 1044
Stood, till I f a voice and sware a vow. Holy Grail 194 Until I f and saw it, as the nun My sister saw it; " 198 lifting up mine eyes, I f myself Alone, " 375
I rode on and f a mighty hill, " 421
but f at top No man, nor any voice, " 427
I f Only one man of an exceeding age. " 430 where the vale Was lowest, f a chapel, " 442 at the base we f On either hand, " 497 f a people there among their crags, " 662
f ye all your knights return'd, " 708
But f a silk pavilion in a field, " 745
Other than when I f her in the woods; Pelleas and E. 328 went on, and f, Here too, all hush'd below " 423
Not lift a hand—not, tho' he f me thus! Last Tournament 528
Would track her guilt until he f, Guinevere 60
They f a naked child upon the sands " 293 and in her anguish f The casement: " 586 warmth and colour which I f In Lancelot, " 647
'I f Him in the shining of the stars, Pass. of Arthur 9 would have spoken, but he f not words; " 340 we f The dead man cast upon the shore? Lover's Tale i 294
I f, they two did love each other, " 728
f—All softly as his mother broke it " iv 30
F, as it seem'd, a skeleton alone, " 139
F that the sudden wail his lady made " 149
f the dying servant, took him home, " 263 over the Solent to see if work could be f; First Quarrel 44 they f I had grown so stupid and still Rizpah 49

Found (find) (continued) to be f Long after, as it seem'd, Sisters (E. and E.) 110 seen And lost and f again, " 147
They f her beating the hard Protestant doors. " 240 gratefullest heart I have f in a child In the Child. Hosp. 32 (Hath he been here—not f me—gone Sir J. Oldcastle 152
He would be f a heretic to Himself, " 182
the harmless people whom we f Columbus 181
You f some merit in my rhymes, To E. Fitzgerald 55 who f Beside the springs of Dircê, smote, Tiresias 13
the fierce beast f A wiser than herself, " 151 little one f me at sea on a day, The Wreck 86
I f myself moaning again 'O child, " 134
We never had f Him on earth, Despair 57
F, fear'd me dead, and groan'd, The Flight 23 when Edwin f us there, " 82 burnt at midnight f at morn, Locksley H., Sixty 97 Shepherds, have I f, and more than once, " 121 poet, surely to be f When Truth is f again. Pref. Poem Broth. S. 15 be f of angel eyes In earth's recurring Paradise. Helen's Tower 11 now Your fairy Prince has f you, The Ring 69
I f these cousins often by the brook, " 158
And f a corpse and silence, " 217
F in a chink of that old moulder'd floor!' " 280 laugh'd a little and f her two— " 337
I f her not in house Or garden— " 444
F yesterday—forgotten mine own rhyme To Mary Boyle 21
Wizard Who f me at sunrise Sleeping, Merlin and the G 12 and the same who first had f Paris, Death of Œnone 53
He had left his dagger behind him. I f it. Bandit's Death 12
She f my letter upon him, Charity 23
I f The tenderest Christ-like creature " 31 Found (establish) All wild to f an University Princess i 150 ere he f Empire for life? Gardener's D. 19
Foundation-stone Whereof the strong f-s's were laid Palace of Art 235
Founded She had f; they must build. Princess ii 145
I Have f my Round Table in the North, Last Tournament 78 some Order, which our King Hath newly f, " 742
Table Round Which good King Arthur f, Guinevere 221
We f many a mighty state; Hands all Round 30 Founder statues, king or saint, or f fell; Sea Dreams 224 on that f of our blood. Locksley H., Sixty 32 Founding About the f of a Table Round, Merlin and V. 411 knight Of the great Table—at the f of it; Guinevere 235
Foundress The f of the Babylonian wall, Princess ii 80
Some say the third—the authentic f you. " iii 158
Fount he was thrown From his loud f Mine be the strength 4 Ancient f's of inspiration well Locksley Hall 188 burst away In search of stream or f, Enoch Arden 635
Who dabbling in the f of fictive tears, The Brook 93
Not past the living f of pity in Heaven. Aylmer's Field 752
There while we stood beside the f, Princess iii 23
The very source and f of Day In Mem. xxiv 3 deer, the dews, the fern, the f's, the lawns; Last Tournament 727 Fountain (adj.) Harder and drier than a f bed In summer: Pelleas and E. 507 Fountain (s) (See also Foam-fountains) Life of the f there, beneath Its salient springs, Supp. Confessions 55 from the central f's flow Fall'n silver-chiming, Arabian Nights 50 stealest fire, From the f's of the past, Ode to Memory 2
In the middle leaps a f Poet's Mind 24
Day and night to the billow the f calls: Sea-Fairies 9
I should look like a f of gold The Mermaid 18
let thy voice Rise like a f for me M. d'Arthur 249
The f to his place returns Day-Dm., Sleep. P. 11
And sixty feet the f leapt. " Revival 8 runs to seed Beside its native f. Amphion 96 Against its f upward runs The current Will Water. 35
Expecting when a f should arise: Vision of Sin 8
Till the f spouted, showering wide " 21
Like f's of sweet water in the sea, Enoch Arden 803
Spout from the maiden f in her heart. Lucretius 240
The f of the moment, playing, now Princess, Pro. 61
the splash and stir Of f's spouted up " i 218 Enring'd a billowing f in the midst; " ii 28
Fountain (s) (continued) Knowledge is now no more a f seal'd: Princess i 90 and race By all the f's: fleet I was of foot: " iv 263
And tears that at their f freeze; In Mem. xx 12
And show'd him in the f fresh " lxxxv 26
From household f's never dry; " cix 2 saw The f where they sat together, Balin and Balan 291 and by f's running wine, Last Tournament 141
'Friend, did ye mark that f yesterday " 286 let thy voice Rise like a f for me Pass. of Arthur 417 springing from her f's in the brain, Lover's Tale i 83 from the diamond f by the palms, " 137
A draught of that sweet f that he loves, " 141 whate'er is f to the one Is f to the other; " 179
My current to the f whence it sprang,— " 503
Why fed we from one f? drew one sun? " ii 24
I fear'd The very f's of her life were chill'd; Sisters (E. and E.) 266 Here is the copse, the f and—a Cross! Sir J. Oldcastle 127 f pour'd From darkness into daylight, Ancient Sage 7
She finds the f where they wail'd 'Mirage'! " 77
Send the drain into the f, Locksley H., Sixty 144 shedding poison in the f's of the Will. " 274
The f pulses high in sunnier jets, Prog. of Spring 54
WHAT be those crown'd forms high over the sacred f? Parnassus 1
What be those two shapes high over the sacred f, " 9
Dance in a f of flame with her devils, Kapiolani 10
Fountain'd See Many-fountain'd
Fountain-fed f-f Ammonian Oasis in the waste. Alexander 7
Fountain-flood sonorous flow Of spouted f-f's. Palace of Art 28
Fountain-foam dragons spouted forth A flood of f-f. " 24
Fountain-head The murmur of the f-h— Two Voices 216
Full-welling f-h's of change, Palace of Art 166
Fountain-jets others tost a ball Above the f-j, Princess ii 461
Fountain-side sit near Camelot at a f-s, Balin and Balan 11
So coming to the f-s beheld Balin and Balan " 23
Fountain-urns Gods at random thrown By f-u; To E. L. 16
Four The seven elms, the poplars f Ode to Memory 56
F gray walls, and f gray towers, L. of Shalott i 15
From those f jets f currents in one swell Palace of Art 33
From f wing'd horses dark against the stars; Princess i 211
Thro' f sweet years arose and fell, In Mem. xxii 3
F voices of f hamlets round, " xxviii 5
Each voice f changes on the wind, " 9
'Where wert thou, brother, these f days?' " xxxi 5
And mock their foster-mother on f feet, Com. of Arthur 31
And all these f be fools, but mighty men, Gareth and L. 643
f strokes they struck With sword " 1042 yon f fools have suck'd their allegory " 1199
O'er the f rivers the first roses blew, Geraint and E. 764 Closed in the f walls of a hollow tower, (repeat) Merlin and V. 209, 543 in the f loud battles by the shore Of Duglas; Lancelot and E. 289 and strange knights From the f winds came in: Pelleas and E. 148
I thought F bells instead of one began to ring, F merry bells, f merry marriage-bells, Lover's Tale iii 20
F galleons drew away From the Spanish fleet The Revenge 46 a single piece Weigh'd nigh f thousand Castillanos Columbus 136
An' noän c' my f sweet-arts 'ud 'a let me 'a hed my oän waäy, Spinster's S's. 101 upo' f short legs ten times fur one upo' two. Owd Roä 16 bird that still is veering there Above his f gold letters) The Ring 333
Four-field The f-f system, and the price of grain; Audley Court 34
Four-footed no slaves of a f-f will? The Dawn 18
Four-handed The f-h mole shall scrape, My life is full 12
Four-hundredth In that f-h summer after Christ, St. Telemachus 4
Four-in-hand as quaint a f-i-h As you shall see— Walk. to the Mail 113
Foursquare build some plan F to opposition.' Princess v 231 stood f to all the winds that blew! Ode on Well. 39
Four-year-old 'That was the f-y-o I sold the Squire.' The Brook 137
Fowl (See also Night-fowl, Ocean-fowl, Water-fowl) To scare the f from fruit: Princess ii 228
I have seen the cuckoo chased by lesser f, Com. of Arthur 167
all the little f were flurried at it, Gareth and L. 69 and horrible f's of the air, Rizpah 39 Fowt (fought) An' once I f wi' the Taäilor— North. Cobbler 21 feller to fight wi' an' f it out. " 100
'e'd fight wi' a will when 'e f; Owd Roä 7

Fox whole hill-side was redder than a f. Walk. to the Mail 3
And lighter-footed than the f. Day-Dm., Arrival 8
Then of the latest f—where started— Aylmer's Field 253
Let the f bark, let the wolf yell. Pelleas and E. 472
An' 'e niver runn'd arter the f, Village Wife 41
Foxglove The f cluster dappled bells.' Two Voices 72
Bring orchis, bring the f spire, In Mem. lxxviii 9 snowlike sparkle of a cloth On fern and f. Sisters (E. and E.) 118
Foxlike Or f in the vine; Princess vii 203
Foxy Modred's narrow f face, Guinevere 63
Fraction Some niggard f of an hour, Aylmer's Field 450
For every splinter'd f of a sect Will clamour Akbar's Dream 33
Fragile pressure thrice as sweet As woodbine's f hold, Talking Oak 146
The f bindweed-bells and briony rings; The Brook 203
Fragment leaning on f twined with vine, Œnone 20
Among the f's tumbled from the glens, „ 222
But f's of her mighty voice Came Of old sat Freedom 7
The silver f's of a broken voice, Gardener's D. 234 cram him with the f's of the grave, Princess iii 311
Among the f's of the golden day. Maud I xviii 70
He heard but f's of her later words, Marr. of Geraint 113
Among the tumbled f's of the hills.' Lancelot and E. 1427
Where f's of forgotten peoples dwelt, Pass. of Arthur 84
And all the f's of the living rock Lover's Tale ii 44
Spurning a shatter'd f of the God, St. Telemachus 16 Fragrance girt With song and flame and f, Lucretius 134
f and the green Of the dead spring: Lover's Tale i 723 Fragrant (See also All-fragrant, Blossom-fragrant) drove The f, glistening deeps, Arabian Nights 14
All round about the f marge „ 59 blinded With many a deep-hued bell-like flower Of f trailers, Eleänore 38 slowly dropping f dew. Œnone 106 mingled with her f toil, Gardener's D. 143
And burn a f lamp before my bones, St. S. Stylites 196
The f tresses are not stirr'd That lie Day-Dm., Sleep B. 19
Yet f in a heart remembering His former talks Aylmer's Field 456 on a tripod in the midst A f flame rose, Princess iv 34 And bats went round in f skies, In Mem. xcv 9 often abroad in the f gloom Of foreign churches— Maud I xix 53 mountain arose like a jewell'd throne thro' the f air, V. of Maeldune 59
Flies back in f breezes to display A tunic Prog. of Spring 64
With many a pendent bell and f star, Death of Œnone 13 Frail (adj.) Thy mortal eyes are f to judge of fair, Œnone 158 nor shrink For fear our solid aim be dissipated By f successors. Princess iii 267
f at first And feeble, all unconscious of itself, „ vii 116
O life as futile, then, as f! In. Mem. lvi 25
F, but a work divine, Maud II ii 4
F, but of force to withstand, „ 24
The f bluebell peereth over Rare broidry A Dirge 37
Your melancholy sweet and f As perfume Margaret 7
Friends, this f bark of ours, when sorely tried, Aylmer's Field 715
F Life was startled from the tender love Lover's Tale i 616
And sympathies, how f, In sound and smell! Early Spring 35
F were the works that defended the hold Def. of Lucknow 7
In his throne's title make him feel so f, Sir J. Oldcastle 73
Frail (s) 'Rapt from the fickle and the f In Mem. xxx 25
Frailer the f caravel, With what was mine, Columbus 140
Frailty Why not yet Anchor thy f there, Supp. Confessions 124
Nor human f do me wrong. In Mem. lii 8
Lured by the crimes and frailties of the court, Guinevere 136
Thy f counts most real, Ancient Sage 51 Frame (s) (See also Broidery-frame) creeps Thro my veins to all my f, Eleänore 131
A healthy f, a quiet mind.' Two Voices 99 Consolidate in mind and f— „ 366 shafts of flame Were shiver'd in my narrow f. Fatima 18
Pour'd back into my empty soul and f D. of F. Women 78
Dust are our f's; and, gilded dust, Aylmer's Field 1
Another and another f of things Lucretius 42
The morals, something of the f, the rock, Princess ii 382 woman wed is not as we, But suffers change of f. „ v 463
A man of well-attemper'd f. Ode on Well. 74
No hint of death in all his f, In Mem. xiv 18
Frame (s) (continued) Deep-seated in our mystic f. In Mem. xxxvi 2
As thro' the f that binds him in His isolation „ xlv 11
Be near me when the sensuous f Is rack'd „ l 5
No—mixt with all this mystic f, „ lxxviii 18 new life that feeds thy breath Throughout my f, „ lxxxvi 11
That in this blindness of the f „ xciii 15
Remade the blood and changed the f, „ Con. 11
I steal, a wasted f, It crosses here, Maud II iv 69 my inmost f Was riven in twain: Lover's Tale i 595 shook me, that my f would shudder, „ ii 56 taken Some years before, and falling hid the f. „ iv 217 Frame (verb) Vague words! but ah, how hard to f In Mem. xcv 45
Framed Neither modell'd, glazed, nor f: Vision of Sin 188 Framework With royal f-w of wrought gold; Ode to Memory 82 yet with such a f scarce could be. Princess, Con. 22
And all the f of the land; In Mem. lxxvii 24 speak His music by the f and the chord; Holy Grail 879 Framing (See also Sea-framing) F the mighty landscape to the west, Lover's Tale i 406
France Joan of Arc, A light of ancient F; D. of F. Women 268
Rose a ship of F. The Captain 28
That cursed F with her egalities! Aylmer's Field 265
Had golden hopes for F and all mankind, „ 464 ever-murder'd F, By shores that darken „ 766
Imagined more than seen, the skirts of F. Princess, Con. 48 Back to F her banded swarms, Back to F with countless blows, Ode on Well. 110
In which we went thro' summer F. In Mem. lxxi 4
The foaming grape of eastern F. Con. 80
Art with poisonous honey stol'n from F, To the Queen ii 56 Fresh from the surgery-schools of F In the Child. Hosp. 3 appeal Once more to F or England; Columbus 58 Stormy voice of F! Who dost not love our England— To Victor Hugo 8
England, F, all man to be Will wake one people „ 10
F had shown a light to all men, Locksley H., Sixty 89
Franchise Her fuller f—what would that be worth— The Fleet 8
Francis (See also Francis Allen) F, laughing, clapt his hand On Everard's shoulder, The Epic 21
'But I,' said F, 'pick'd the eleventh „ 41
F, muttering like a man ill-used, M. d'Arthur, Ep. 12
To F, with a basket on his arm, To F just alighted from the boat, Audley Court 6
'With all my heart,' Said F. „ 9
F laid A damask napkin wrought with horse and hound, „ 20
Francis Allen (See also Francis) At F A's on the Christmas-eve,— The Epic 1
Francis Hale F H, The farmer's son, Audley Court 74
Francis of Assisi Sweet St F o A, would that he Locksley H., Sixty 100
Frank 'You know,' said F, 'he burnt His Epic, The Epic 27
Frankincense sweet! spikenard, and balm, and f. St. S. Stylites 211 Frantic F love and f hate. Vision of Sin 150 For while the f rabble in half-amaze Stared at him dead, St. Telemachus 71
Frater Ave atque Vale 'F A a V'—as we wander'd Frater Ave, etc. 7 Fraud whispers of this monstrous f! Third of Feb. 36
Fraught when f With a passion so intense Maud II ii 58
Fray and fought till I sunder'd the f, V. of Maeldune 69 and threw Underfoot there in the f— Heavy Brigade 55 Fray'd (His dress a suit of f magnificence, Marr. of Geraint 296 Free (adj.) (See also Freeä, Heart-free) With mellow preludes, 'We are f.' The Winds, etc. 4 Atween the blossoms, 'We are f.' 8 so clear and bold and f As you, „ Rosalind 17 to have been Joyful and f from blame. D. of F. Women 80
So let the change which comes be f Love thou thy land 45
I am always bound to you, but you are f.' Enoch Arden 450 clothes they gave him and f passage home; 650
—f of alms her hand— „ Aylmer's Field 697
'King, you are f! We did but keep you surety for our son, Princess v 24 Knowledge in our own land make her f, „ 419 yourself and yours shall have F adit; „ vi 302 dwarf'd or godlike, bond or f: „ vii 260
His foes were thine; he kept us f; Ode on Well. 91

Free (adj.) (continued) all too f For such a wise humility Ode on Well. 248 peace, so it be f from pain, Grandmother 97
Survive in spirits render'd f, In Mem. xxxviii 10
Whose jest among his friends is f, ,, lxvi 10
Ring in the valiant man and f, ,, cvi 29
I feel so f and so clear By the loss Maud I xix 98 unhooded casting off The goodly falcon f; Merlin and V. 131
Flow'd forth a carol f and bold; Dying Swan 30
Whose f delight, from any height of rapid flight, Rosalind 3
Like two streams of incense f Eleanore 58
Mine be the strength of spirit, full and f, Mine be the strength 1
'Where wert thou when thy father play'd In his f field, Two Voices 320 and opposed F hearts, f foreheads— Ulysses 49
Lord of Burleigh, fair and f, L. of Burleigh 58
Set thy hoary fancies f; Vision of Sin 156
That our f press should cease to brawl, Third of Feb. 3
Have left the last f race with naked coasts! ,, 40 presently thereafter follow'd calm, F sky and stars; Com. of Arthur 392 crush'd The Idolaters, and made the people f? Who should be King save him who makes us f?' Gareth and L. 137
'The thrall in person may be f in soul, ,, 165
Till ev'n the lonest hold were all as f ,, 598
Gareth loosed his bonds and on f feet Set him, ,, 817
'I take it as f gift, then,' said the boy. Geraint and E. 222 told F tales, and took the word and play'd upon it, ,, 291
When wine and f companions kindled him, ,, 293
'My f leave,' he said; 'Get her to speak: ,, 300
But f to stretch his limbs in lawful fight, ,, 754
f flashes from a height Above her, Lancelot and E. 647 but f love will not be bound.' 'F love, so bound, were freëst,' said the King. 'Let love be f; f love is for the best: ,, 1379
'F love—f field—we love but while we may: (repeat) Last Tournament 275, 281
It frighted all f fool from out thy heart; ,, 307
King Who fain had clipt f manhood from the world— ,, 446 tide within Red with f chase and heather-scented air, ,, 691
Was not the land as f thro' all her ways Lover's Tale i 662 Bore her free-faced to the f airs of heaven, ,, iv 38
'Take my f gift, my cousin, for your wife; ,, 363
An' coäx'd an' coodled me oop till ageän I feel'd mysen f. North. Cobbler 80
Cold, but as welcome as f airs of heaven Sisters (E. and E.) 197
'What, will she never set her sister f?' ,, 218
And God's f air, and hope of better things. Sir J. Oldcastle 10 gave All but f leave for all to work the mines, Columbus 133 when thou sendest thy f soul thro' heaven, Ancient Sage 47
And fling f alms into the beggar's bowl, ,, 260
Wild flowers blowing side by side in God's f light and air, The Flight 81
But Moother was f of 'er tongue, Owd Roä 73 they know too that whene'er In our f Hall, Akbar's Dream 55
Till every Soul be f; Freedom 20
Her ancient fame of F— The Fleet 9
With earth is broken, and has left her f, The Ring 476 calls to them 'Set yourselves f!' Kapiolani 3 walking and haunting us yet, and be f? The Dawn 23
Free (s) The starry clearness of the f? In Mem. lxxxv 86
How can a despot feel with the F? Riflemen form! 11 Freeä (free) Parson a cooms an' a goäs, an' a says it eäsy an' f N. Farmer, O. S. 25 an' the F Traäde runn'd i' my 'ead, Owd Roä 54 Freed Well hast thou done; for all the stream is f, Gareth and L. 1267 the land Was f, and the Queen false, Last Tournament 339
he f himself From wife and child, Lover's Tale iv 379 and f the people Of Hawa-i-ee! Kapiolani 6 Freedom and make The bounds of I wider yet To the Queen 32
And F rear'd in that august sunrise The Poet 37 pure law, Commeasure perfect f.' Œnone 167
That sober-suited F chose, You ask me, why, etc. 6
F slowly broadens down From precedent to precedent: ,, 11
Freedom (continued) And individual f mute; You ask me, why, etc. 20 Or old sat F on the heights, Of old sat Freedom 1 shout For some blind glimpse of f Love and Duty 6
F, gaily doth she tread; Vision of Sin 136 Embrace our aims: work out your f. Princess ii 89 for song Is duer unto f, ,, iv 141 shower the fiery grain Of f broadcast ,, v 422 bear the yoke, I wish it Gentle as f'— ,, vi 206
And save the one true seed of f sown Ode on Well. 162
That sober f out of which there springs ,, 164
we fought for F from our prime, Third of Feb. 23
A love of f rarely felt, In Mem. cix 13
Of f in her regal seat Of England; ,, 14 white bonds and warm, Dearer than f. Pelleas and E. 354
For f, or the sake of those they loved, Sir J. Oldcastle 186
They kept their faith, their f, Montenegro 2 rough rock-throne Of F! ,, 10
F, free to slay herself, Locksley H., Sixty 128
we gain'd a f known to Europe, ,, 129
To this great cause of F drink, my friends, (repeat) Hands all Round 11, 35
Thraldom who walks with the banner of F, Vastness 10
Form in F's name and the Queen's! Riflemen form! 23
Free-faced Bore her f-f to the free airs Lover's Tale iv 38
Freeing any knight Toward thy sister's f.' Gareth and L. 1018
Freeman It is the land that freemen till, You ask me, why, etc. 5
For English natures, freemen, friends, Love thou thy land 7 Gallant sons of English freemen, The Captain 7 and the Rome of freemen holds her place, To Virgil 34
To mark in many a f's home The slave, Freedom 11
Freër leave thee f, till thou wake refresh'd Love and Duty 97
But smit with f light shall slowly melt Golden Year 33 tyrant's cruel glee Forces on the f hour. Vision of Sin 130 noble thought be f under the sun, Maud III vi 48
Free-spoken or being one Of our f-s Table Pelleas and E. 526
Freest 'Free love, so bound, were f,' Lancelot and E. 1380
Freewill joy I had in my f All cold, Supp. Confessions 16
Freeze eighty winters f with one rebuke Ode on Well. 186 tears that at their fountain f; In Mem. xx 12 tho' every pulse would f, The Flight 53
Death will f the supplest limbs— Happy 46
Freezing here he stays upon a f orb Lucretius 139
The f reason's colder part, In Mem. cxxiv 14
I took And chafed the f hand. The Ring 452
Freight lovely f Of overflowing blooms, Ode to Memory 16
And, thy dark f, a vanish'd life. In Mem. x 8
French We love not this F God, the child of Hell, Third of Feb. 7
F of the F, and Lord of human tears; To Victor Hugo 3
Frenchman Not sting the fiery F into war. Third of Feb. 4
Frenzied See Half-frenzied
Frequence Not in this f can I lend full tongue, Princess iv 442
Staled by f, shrunk by usage Locksley H., Sixty 76 Frequent (adj.) So f on its hinge before. Deserted House 8
I was f with him in my youth, Gareth and L. 124
Where from the f bridge, Ode to Memory 102
And f interchange of foul and fair, Enoch Arden 533
A f haunt of Edith, on low knolls Aylmer's Field 148
she With f smile and nod departing found, Marr. of Geraint 515 Frequent (verb) Sometimes I f the Christian cloister, Akbar's D., Inscrip. 5
Fresh (See also Dewy-fresh, Frish, Sparkling-fresh) Keeps his blue waters f for many a mile. Mine be the strength 8
Aphroditè beautiful, F as the foam, Œnone 175
All the valley, mother, 'ill be f May Queen 37
How f the meadows look Above the river, Walk. to the Mail 1
I have seen some score of those F faces, Talking Oak 50 flit To make the greensward f, ,, 90
Oh, nature first was f to men, Amphion 57 moon Smote by the f beam of the springing east; M. d'Arthur 214
My sweet, wild, f three quarters of a year, Edwin Morris 2
She seems a part of those f days to me; ,, 142 her f and innocent eyes Had such a star Aylmer's Field 691
What drives about the f Cascinè, The Daisy 43 her brother comes, like a blight On my f hope, Maud I xix 103 take my charger, f, Not to be spurr'd, Gareth and L. 1300 and fetch F victual for these mowers of our Earl; Geraint and E. 225

Fresh (continued) men may fear F fire and ruin. Geraint and E. 823 my f but fixt resolve To pass away Holy Grail 737 moon Smote by the f beam of the springing east; Pass. of Arthur 382 evermore F springing from her fountains in the brain, Lover's Tale i 83 and blew F fire into the sun, „ 319 an' es cleän Es a shillin' f fro' the mint Spinster's S's. 76
While yet thy f and virgin soul Freedom 2
There no one came, the turf was f, Prog. of Spring 72 flowers To work old laws of Love to f results, „ 85
That his f life may close as it began, „ 89
How f was every sight and sound The Voyage 5
So f they rose in shadow'd swells The Letters 46
F from the burial of her little one, Enoch Arden 281
'Too happy, f and fair, Too f The Brook 217
Lady Psyche will harangue The f arrivals of the week Princess ii 96
F as the first beam glittering on a sail, „ iv 44
So sad, so f, the days that are no more. „ 48
f young captains flash'd their glittering teeth, „ v 20
When all our path was f with dew, In Mem. lxviii 6
And show'd him in the fountain f „ lxxxv 26
If not so f, with love as true, „ 101 pleased him, f from brawling courts „ lxxxix 11 from the garden and the wild A f association blow, „ ci 18 daily fronted him In some f splendour; Marr. of Geraint 14 my child, how f the colours look, „ 680 this cut is f; That ten years back; Lancelot and E. 21
Tommy's faäce be as f as a codlin North. Cobbler 110
Making f and fair All the bowers and the flowers, Sisters (E. and E.) 9
Freshen They f the silvery-crimson shells, Sea-Fairies 13
They f and sweeten the wards In the Child. Hosp. 38
Fresher And flood a f throat with song. In Mem. lxxxiii 16
Bright Phosphor, f for the night, „ cxxi 9
She from her bier, as into f life, Lover's Tale iii 42
Freshest a truth Looks f in the fashion of the day: The Epic 32
Freshlier And gathering f overhead, In Mem. xcv 57
Freshly-flower'd and lay Upon the f-f slope. Miller's D. 112
Freshmen Everard's college fame When we were F: The Epic 47 Freshness The unsunn'd f of my strength, Supp. Confessions 140 increased With f in the dawning east. Two Voices 405 Delighted with the f and the sound. Edwin Morris 99
Yet so did I let my f die. Maud I xix 11 immortality Of thought, and f ever self-renew'd. Lover's Tale i 106 Fresh-wash'd f-w in coolest dew The maiden splendours D. of F. Women 54
Fresh-water F-w springs come up through bitter brine. If I were loved 8
Fret (s) busy f Of that sharp-headed worm Supp. Confessions 185
Love is hurt with jar and f. Miller's D. 209
(all f's But chafing me on fire to find Princess i 165
Fret (verb) rib and f The broad-imbased beach, Supp. Confessions 127
You should not f for me, mother, May Queen, N. Y's. E. 36 say to Robin a kind word, and tell him not to f; „ Con. 45
The changing market f's or charms Ancient Sage 140
To f the summer jenneting. The Blackbird 12
We f, we fume, would shift our skins, Will Water. 225
With many a curve my banks I f The Brook 43
'So f not, like an idle girl, In Mem. lii 13
Is that a matter to make me f? Maud I xiii 2
'F not yourself, dear brother, Lancelot and E. 1074 Fretful f as the wind Pent in a crevice: Princess iii 80 common sense of most shall hold a f realm in awe, Locksley Hall 129 Fretted (adj.) By Bagdat's shrines of f gold, Arabian Nights 7
And, with dim f foreheads all, Palace of Art 242
Fretted (verb) Have f all to dust and bitterness.' Princess vi 264
Fretteth F thine enshrouded form. A Dirge 10
Fretwork holds a stately f to the Sun, Princess vi 86 Friar For I am emptier than a f's brains; Sir J. Oldcastle 7 at Pardoners, Summoners, F's, absolution-sellers, „ 93 God willing, to outlearn the filthy f. „ 118 poor man's money gone to fat the f. „ 150
F's, bellringers, Parish-clerks— „ 160
Two f's crying that if Spain should oust Columbus 96
Friday Whose F fare was Enoch's ministering. Enoch Arden 100
we sail'd on a F morn— V. of Maeldune 7 Friend (See also Bosom-friend, Frind, Sea-friend) our f's are all forsaking The wine All Things will Die 18

Friend (continued) CLEAR-HEADED f, whose joyful scorn, Clear-headed friend 1
My f, with you to live alone, Ode to Memory 119
So, f, when first I look'd upon your face, Sonnet To —— 9 painting some dead f from memory? Wan Sculptor 4
'He seems to hear a Heavenly F, Two Voices 295 f's to man, Living together under the same roof, To —— With Pal. of Art 11
Prythee, f, Where is Mark Antony? D. of F. Women 139
He gave me a f, and a true true-love, D. of the O. Year 13
He was a f to me. „ 23
The night is starry and cold, my f, And the New-Year blithe and bold, my f, „ 34
Alack! our f is gone. „ 47
There's a new foot on the floor, my f, And a new face at the door, my f, „ 52 he too was a f to me: Both are my f's, To J. S. 61
The land, where girt with f's or foes You ask me, why, etc. 7
English natures, freemen, f's, Love thou thy land 7
Both for themselves and those who call them f? M. d'Arthur 253 who lived across the bay, My f; Audley Court 76
'F Edwin, do not think yourself alone Edwin Morris 77 Sets out, and meets a f who hails Walk. to the Mail 42 my f, the days were brief Whereof the poets talk, Talking Oak 185
Come, my f's, 'Tis not too late to seek Ulysses 56
In Art like Nature, dearest f; Day-Dm., Moral 14
To fall asleep with all one's f's; „ L'Envoi 4
She told me all her f's had said; The Letters 25
Thro' troops of unrecording f's, You might have won 7 naming those, his f's, for whom they were: The Brook 131
'Good,' said his f, 'but watch!' Aylmer's Field 275
The man was his, had been his father's, f: „ 344 his nearer f would say 'Screw not the chord „ 468
F's, I was bid to speak of such a one „ 677
F's, this frail bark of ours, „ 715 their guest, their host, their ancient f, „ 790
'My dearest f, Have faith, have faith! Sea Dreams 156
I found a hard f in his loose accounts, „ 162
he that wrongs his f Wrongs himself „ 172 closed by those who mourn a f in vain, Lucretius 142 and lady f's From neighbour seats: Princess, Pro. 97
They rode; they betted; made a hundred f's, „ 163
Cyril and with Florian, my two f's: „ i 52
Went forth again with both my f's. „ 167 always f's, none closer, elm and vine: „ ii 337
'O f, we trust that you esteem'd us not „ iii 198 brings our f's up from the underworld, „ iv 45
Nor found my f's; but push'd alone on foot „ 196
Then came your new f: you began to change— „ 298
I your old f and tried, she new in all? „ 318
'Her,' she said, 'my f—Parted from her— „ v 75
—and ours shall see us f's. „ 228 Truest f and noblest foe; „ vi 7 a world Of traitorous f and broken system „ 195
'We two were f's: I go to mine own land „ 216 had you got a f of your own age, „ 251 glittering drops on her sad f. „ 283 be f's, like children, being chid! „ 289
Whatever man lies wounded, f or foe, „ 336
O my f, I will not have thee die! „ vii 8 hears his burial talk'd of by his f's, „ 152
'Look there, a garden!' said my college f, „ Con. 49
O f's, our chief state-oracle is mute: Ode on Well. 23 amoighty's a taäkin o' you to 'issén, my f,' (repeat) N. Farmer, O. S. 10, 26 Thunder 'Anathema,' f, at you; To F. D. Maurice 8
One writes, that 'Other f's remain,' In Mem. vi 1
And unto me no second f. „ 44
My f, the brother of my love; „ ix 16 saying; 'Comes he thus, my f? „ xii 13
And flash at once, my f, to thee. „ xli 12
Methinks my f is richly shrined; „ lvii 7
'Does my old f remember me?' „ lxiv 28
Since we deserved the name of f's, „ lxv 9
Whose jest among his f's is free, „ lxvi 10

Friend (continued) Thy blood, my f, and partly mine; In Mem. lxxxiv 9
For other f's that once I met; " lxxxv 58
I crave your pardon, O my f; " 100 held debate, a band Of youthful f's, " lxxxvii 22
f from f Is oftener parted, " xcviii 14
Some gracious memory of my f; " c 4
With thy lost f among the bowers, " cii 15
O, f, who camest to thy goal " cxiv 23
To hear the tidings of my f, " cxvi 3
Dear f, far off, my lost desire, " cxxix 1
Dear heavenly f that canst not die, " 7
Strange f, past, present, and to be; " 9
That f of mine who lives in God, " Con. 140
I have led her home, my love, my only f. Maud I xviii 1
To be f's for her sake, to be reconciled; " xix 50
To be f's, to be reconciled! " 56
To me, her f of the years before; " 64
Should I fear to greet my f " II iv 85
To catch a f of mine one stormy day; " v 85
F, to be struck by the public foe, " 89
'O f, had I been holpen half as well Com. of Arthur 161 an old knight And ancient f of Uther; " 223 the f's Of Arthur, gazing on him, " 277 three Queens, the f's Of Arthur, Gareth and L. 229 a stalwart Baron, Arthur's f. " 818
'F, whether thou be kitchen-knave, or not, " 873 and now thy pardon, f, " 1166 felon, knight, I avenge me for my f.' " 1220
They hate the King, and Lancelot, the King's f, " 1418
'F, he that labours for the sparrow-hawk Marr. of Geraint 271
'O f, I seek a harbourage for the night.' " 299
'Thanks, venerable f,' replied Geraint; " 303 he suspends his converse with a f, " 340 Built that new fort to overawe my f's, " 460 how can Enid find A nobler f? " 793 Embraced her with all welcome as a f, " 834
'F, let her eat; the damsel is so faint.' Geraint and E. 206
Call in what men soever were his f's, " 286
'All of one mind and all right-honest f's! " 484 what they long for, good in f or foe, " 876 the great Queen once more embraced her f, " 947
'Old f, too old to be so young, depart, Balin and Balan 17
Poor wretch—no f!— Merlin and V. 75
Sir Lancelot, f Traitor or true? " 769
I know the Table Round, my f's of old; " 816 were I glad of you as guide and f: Lancelot and E. 226
'This shield, my f, where is it?' " 345
Surely his king and most familiar f " 592 Marr'd her f's aim with pale tranquillity. " 733 call her f and sister, sweet Elaine, " 865 Death, like a f's voice from a distant field " 999
He makes no f who never made a foe. " 1089
To this I call my f's in testimony, " 1299 to warm My cold heart with a f: Holy Grail 619
And these, like bright eyes of familiar f's, " 688
'Thou, too, my Lancelot,' ask'd the King, 'my f, " 764 King, my f, if f of thine I be, " 769
But as for thine, my good f Percivale, " 861
But hold me for your f: Come, ye know nothing: Pelleas and E. 340
F's, thro' your manhood and your fealty,— Last Tournament 97
'F, did ye mark that fountain yesterday " 286
(what marvel—she could see)—Thine, f; " 548
Nay, f, for we have taken our farewells. Guinevere 117
The most disloyal f in all the world.' " 340 and saps The fealty of our f's, " 521 the warhorse neigh'd As at a f's voice, " 531 all whereon I lean'd in wife and f Pass. of Arthur 24
For f and foe were shadows in the mist, And f slew
f not knowing whom he slew; " 100 Both for themselves and those who call them f? " 421 f's Of Arthur, who should help him at his need?' " 455 f's—your love Is but a burthen: To the Queen ii 16 Permit me, f, I prythee, To pass my hand Lover's Tale i 30
And, like all other f's i' the world, " 108
Ye ask me, f's When I began to love. " 144

Friend (continued) Life (like a wanton too-officious f, Lover's Tale i 627
f, the neighbour, Lionel, the beloved, " 653 Oh f, thoughts deep and heavy as these " 688 looking round upon his tearful f's, " 792
And then to f's—they were not many— " iv 184
'There is a custom in the Orient, f's— " 230 his f Replied, in half a whisper, " 335 sight of this So frighted our good f, " 383 an' you are my only f. First Quarrel 8 my best And oldest f, your uncle, wishes it, Sisters (E. and E.) 47
the portrait of his f Drawn by an artist, " 134 an' 'e smiled, fur 'e hedn't naw f, Village Wife 89
My f should meet me somewhere hereabout Sir J. Oldcastle 1 hang'd, poor f's, as rebels And burn'd alive " 47 my f was he, Once my fast f: " 61 led my f Back to the pure and universal church, " 70 Burnt—good Sir Roger Acton, my dear f! " 79
My f should meet me here—Here is the copse, " 126
(My good f By this time should be with me.) " 138
I would not spurn Good counsel of good f's, " 146
(My f is long in coming.) " 148
F?—foe perhaps—a tussle for it then! Nay, but my f. " 196
My f's await me yonder? " 202
The compass, like an old f false at last Columbus 70
Than any f of ours at Court? " 198 reft of his Folk and his f's Batt. of Brunanburh 70 Old f's outvaluing all the rest, To E. Fitzgerald 40
But we old f's are still alive, " 42
I fancied that my f For this brief idyll Tiresias 187 away from the Christ, our human brother and f, Despair 25
'Yet wine and laughter f's! Ancient Sage 195 would I were there, the f, the bride, the wife, The Flight 43
With breaking hearts, without a f, " 100 and take their wisdom for your f. Locksley H., Sixty 104
You wrong me, passionate little f. Epilogue 10
I count them all My f's and brother souls, " 19
His f's had stript him bare, Dead Prophet 14
Warrior of God, man's f, and tyrant's foe, Epit. on Gordon 1
To this great cause of Freedom drink, my f's, (repeat) Hands all Round 11, 35
To this great name of England drink, my f's, " 23 came, my f, To prize your various book, To Ulysses 46
You came not, f; To Mary Boyle 17 golden youth bewail the f, the wife, " 53
I once had f's—and many—none like you. Romney's R. 156
But, f, man-woman is not woman-man. On one who effec. E. M. 4 hardly a daisy as yet, little f, The Throstle 11
My f, the most unworldly of mankind, In Mem. W. G. Ward 3
My noble f, my faithful counsellor, Akbar's Dream 18 bravest soul for counsellor and f. " 69 my f, thou knowest I hold that forms Are needful: " 126
Fur Quoloty's hall my f's, Church-warden, etc. 39
You were his f—you—you— Charity 11
You will not speak, my f's, The Wanderer 3
O well for him that finds a f, " 5
Or makes a f where'er he come, " 6
Friendlier Old poets foster'd under f skies, Poets and their B. 1
Friendly (See also Frindly) The f mist of morn
Clung to the lake. Edwin Morris 107
Friendly-warm Only such cups as left us f-w, Lucretius 215
Friendship a f so complete Portion'd in halves Gardener's D. 4
My college f's glimmer. Will Water. 40
'F!—to be two in one— Vision of Sin 107
O f, equal-poised control, In Mem. lxxxv 33 such A f as had master'd Time; " 64 seek A f for the years to come. " 80
First love, first f, equal powers, " 107 Less yearning for the f fled, " cxvi 15
And bright the f of thine eye; " cxix 10
So vanish f's only made in wine. Geraint and E. 479 it was a bond and seal Of f, Lover's Tale ii 182 Sprang up a f that may help us yet. " iv 144 Gone into darkness, that full light Of f! Tiresias 203 flits to warn A far-off f that he comes Demeter and P. 90 Frieze boss'd with lengths Of classic f, Princess ii 25

Fright (s) and died Of f in far apartments. Princess vi 371 dead weight trail'd, by a whisper'd f, Maud I i 14
F's to my heart; but stay: Gareth and L. 90 call'd him dear protector in her f, Nor yet forgot her practice in her f, Merlin and V. 946 and the bitter frost and the f? Rizpah 18 till 'e'd gotten a f at last, Village Wife 61 harass'd by the f's Of my first crew, Columbus 67
she had torn the ring In f, The Ring 471
F and foul dissembling, Forlorn 32
Frighted (verb) breed with him, can f my faith. In Mem. lxxxii 4
Frighted (See also Half-frighted) Queen had added
Get thee hence,' Fled f. Guinevere 367
My f Wiclif-preacher whom I crost In flying hither? Sir J. Oldcastle 38 half amazed half f all his flock: Aylmer's Field 631
f all free fool from out thy heart; Last Tournament 307 the sight of this So f our good friend, Lover's Tale iv 383
I am f at life not death.' Despair 14
Frighten'd See Half-frighten'd
Frightful the bells Lapsed into f stillness; Lover's Tale iii 30
Frill door Of his house in a rainbow f? Maud II ii 17
Frind (friend) But shure we wor betther f's Tomorrow 41
An' her nabours an' f's 'ud consowl „ 47 dhry eye thin but was wet for the f's „ 83
Frindly an' she gev him a f nod, „ 58
Fringe (See also Under-fringe) Burnt like a f of fire. Palace of Art 48 Torn from the f of spray. D. of F. Women 40 beard Was tagg'd with icy f's in the moon, St. S. Stylites 32
From f's of the faded eve, Move eastward 3
Upon the skirt and f of our fair land, Princess v 219 daisy close Her crimson f's to the shower; In Mem. lxii 12 f Of that great breaker, sweeping up the strand. Com. of Arthur 386 from the f of coppice round them burst Balin and Balan 46 and the narrow f Of curving beach— Lover's Tale i 38
we kiss'd the f of his beard. V. of Maeldune 125
Fringed (adj. and part.) (See also Gold-fringed, Ray-fringed, Sun-fringed) hollows of the f hills In summer heats, Supp. Confessions 153
A looming hastion f with fire. In Mem. xv 20
Pallas flung Her f ægis, Achilles over the T. 4 Fringed (verb) the knightly growth that f his lips. M. d'Arthur 220 the knightly growth that f his lips. Pass. of Arthur 388
Frish (fresh) But a f gineration had riz, Tomorrow 75
Frith o'er the f's that branch and spread In Mem., Con. 115 Frock Or the f and gipsy bonnet Maud I xx 19
Frog When did a f coarser croak Trans. of Homer 4 Frolic (adj.) My f falcon, with bright eyes, Rosalind 2 in a fit of f mirth She strove to span my waist: Talking Oak 137 with a f welcome took The thunder and the sunshine, Ulysses 47 Frolic (s) Cyril, howe'er He deal in f, Princess iv 250 fury of peoples, and Christless f of kings, The Dawn 7 Frolic (verb) come hither and f and play; Sea-Fairies 18
Front (adj.) all at once The f rank made a sudden halt; Lover's Tale iii 29 Front (s) (See also Minster-front, Palace-front) More black than ashbuds in the f of March.' Gardener's D. 28 but in f The gorges, opening wide apart, Œnone 11
In f they bound the sheaves. Palace of Art 78 discern The f of Sumner-place. Talking Oak 248 Past thro' the solitary room in f, Enoch Arden 277
A f of timber-crost antiquity, „ 692
But huge cathedral f's of every age, Sea Dreams 218 some inscription ran along the f, Princess i 212 terrace ranged along the Northern f, „ iii 118 riders f to f, until they closed In conflict „ v 490
Cannon in f of them Volley'd and thunder'd; Light Brigade 20
Betwixt the black f's long-withdrawn In Mem. cxix 6
For f to f in an hour we stood, Maud II i 23 whereof along the f, Some blazon'd, Gareth and L. 405 thicker down the f With jewels Geraint and E. 689 Kiss'd the white star upon his noble f, „ 757 in f of which Six stately virgins, all in white, Lover's Tale ii 76 in f of that ravine Which drowsed in gloom, Death of Œnone 75 Front (verb) And the crag that f's the Even, Eleänore 40
And eastward f's the statue, Holy Grail 241
Henceforward rarely could she f in hall, Guinevere 62 Front (verb) (continued) Shape your heart to f the hour, Locksley H., Sixty 106
I will f him face to face. Happy 19
Me they f With sullen brows. Akbar's Dream 51 Fronted (See also Fair-fronted) Philip's dwelling f on the street, Enoch Arden 731 when first I f him, Said, 'Trust him not;' Sea Dreams 70 daily f him In some fresh splendour; Marr. of Geraint 13
We f there the learning of all Spain, Columbus 41
Frontier And flying reach'd the f: Princess i 109
Hard by your father's f: „ 148
Fronting like a star F the dawn he moved; Œnone 58
Frontless Suddenly bawls this f kitchen-knave, Gareth and L. 860
Frost There is f in your breath Poet's Mind 17 the f is on the pane: May Queen, N. Y's. E. 13 sparkled keen with f against the hilt: M. d'Arthur 55
Rain, wind, f, heat, hail, St. S. Stylites 16
With drenching dews, or stiff with crackling f. „ 115 one wide chasm of time and f they gave Princess, Pro. 93
Draw toward the long f and longest night, A Dedication 11
The f is here, And fuel is dear, Window, Winter 1
And f is here And has bitten the heel „ 5
Bite, f, bite! (repeat) „ 7, 13
That grief hath shaken into f! In Mem. iv 12
The streets were black with smoke and f, „ lxix 3
The yule-log sparkled keen with f, „ lxxviii 5
'My sudden f was sudden gain, „ lxxxi 10
New leaf, new life—the days of f are o'er: Last Tournament 278 sparkled keen with f against the hilt: Pass. of Arthur 223 Hard was the f in the field, First Quarrel 39 and the bitter f and the fright? Rizpah 18 all the heavens flash'd in f; To E. Fitzgerald 22 leaf rejoice in the f that sears it at night; The Wreck 20
'No f there,' so he said, „ 80
Sun-flame or sunless f, Epilogue 66
His fingers were so stiffen'd by the f The Ring 239
When f is keen and days are brief— To Ulysses 19
Frost-bead f-b melts upon her golden hair; Prog. of Spring 10
Frost-like And tipt with f-l spires. Palace of Art 52
Frosty (See also Purple-frosty) Make thou my spirit pure and clear As are the f skies, St. Agnes' Eve 10
For while our cloisters echo'd f feet, Princess, Pro. 183
That glitter burnish'd by the f dark; „ v 261
Made the noise of f woodlands, Boädicea 75
The flying cloud, the f light: In Mem. cvi 2
Yet in your f cells ye feel the fire! Balin and Balan 446
Thaw once of a f night I slither'd North. Cobbler 19
Froth Upon the topmost f of thought. In Mem. liii 4 Froth'd He f his bumpers to the brim; D. of the O. Year 19 is your spleen f out, or have ye more? Merlin and V. 767
Frothfly Sweeping the f from the fescue Aylmer's Field 530 Frown (s) who may know Whether smile or f be fleeter? Whether smile or f be sweeter, Madeline 12
F's perfect-sweet along the brow „ 15
Thy smile and f are not aloof From one another, „ 19 black brows drops down A sudden-curved f. (repeat) „ 35, 47 other f's than those That knit themselves Aylmer's Field 723
He had darken'd into a f, Maud I xix 62
Fortune, turn thy wheel with smile or f; Marr. of Geraint 350
Met his full f timidly firm, and said; Geraint and E. 71
Frown (verb) F and we smile, the lords of our own hands; Marr. of Geraint 354 sweet eyes f: the lips Seem but a gash. Sisters (E. and E.) 106 Frown'd The seldom-frowning King f, Lancelot and E. 715 and you took them tho' you f; You f and yet you kiss'd them. Happy 74
Frowning (See also Seldom-frowning) Smiling, f, evermore, (repeat) Madeline 8, 25
Florian nodded at him, I f; Princess iv 160
Vivien, f in true anger, said: Merlin and V. 691
Vivien answer'd f wrathfully: „ 704
Vivien answer'd f yet in wrath: „ 768
With smiling face and f heart, Lancelot and E. 553
Froze with surprise F my swift speech: D. of F. Women 90
To me you f: this was my meed for all. Princess iv 302

Froze (continued) how it f you from your bride, Happy 71
Frozen Till her blood was f slowly, L. of Shalott iv 30 Hollow smile and f sneer Come not here. Poet's Mind 10
Be fix'd and f to permanence: Two Voices 237
My f heart began to beat, " 422
Caught in the f palms of Spring. The Blackbird 24 Larger than human on the f hills. M. d'Arthur 183
That longs to burst a f bud In Mem. lxxxiii 15
Larger than human on the f hills. Pass. of Arthur 351
These be no rubies, this is f blood, Last Tournament 413 and stood Stiff as a viper f; Merlin and V. 845 the placid lip F by sweet sleep, Pelleas and E. 433 like a creature f to the heart Death of Œnone 73
Frugal f, savage, arm'd by day and night Montenegro 3
Fruit (See also First-fruits) shoots Of orient green giving safe pledge of f's, Ode to Memory 18
Disclosed a f of pure Hesperian gold, Œnone 66
Behold this f, whose gleaming rind ingrav'n " 72 Paris held the costly f Out at arm's-length, " 135 cast the golden f upon the board, " 226 enchanted stem, Laden with flower and f, Lotos-Eaters 29 ere my flower to f Changed, I was ripe for death. D. of F. Women 207 f's and cream Served in the weeping elm; Gardener's D. 194 we stole his f, His hens, his eggs; Walk. to the Mail 84 bring me offerings of f and flowers: St. S. Stylites 128
This f of thine by Love is blest, Talking Oak 249
Where fairer f of Love may rest " 251 flower of knowledge changed to f Of wisdom. Love and Duty 24 and f's, and spices, clear of toll, Golden Year 45 cherish that which bears but bitter f? Locksley Hall 65
With naked limbs and flowers and f, But we nor paused for f nor flowers. The Voyage 55
Gifts by the children, garden-herbs and f, Enoch Arden 338
Divides threefold to show the f within. (repeat) The Brook 73, 208
The red f of an old idolatry— Aylmer's Field 762 babies roll'd about Like tumbled f Princess, Pro. 83 falling in a land Of promise; f would follow. " ii 140
To scare the fowl from f: " 228 F, blossom, viand, amber wine, " iv 35 breadth Of Autumn, dropping f's " vi 55
And gathering all the f's of earth Ode Inter. Exhib. 41
Wearing his wisdom lightly, like the f A Dedication 12
A life that bears immortal f In Mem. xl 18
I'll rather take what f may be " cviii 13
Of what in them is flower and f; " Con. 136
It is only flowers, they had no f's, Maud II v 77 little pitted speck in garner'd f, Merlin and V. 394 sure I think this f is hung too high Lancelot and E. 774 your flower Waits to be solid f Last Tournament 100 the red f Grown on a magic oak-tree " 744 manners are not idle, but the f Of loyal nature, Guinevere 335 said the maid, 'be manners such fair f? " 337 no leaf, no flower, no f for me. Lover's Tale i 725 promise of blossom, but never a f! V. of Maeldune 51
And we came to the Isle of F's: " 55 in every berry and f was the poisonous pleasure " 62 giddy besides with the f's we had gorged, " 75
Was flinging f to lions; Tiresias 67 earthly flower would be heavenly f— Despair 35
She tastes the f before the blossom falls, Ancient Sage 75
The kernel of the shrivell'd f " 121 climbing toward her with the golden f, Death of Œnone 15
'Mine is the one f Alla made for man.' Akbar's Dream 40 heats our earth to yield us grain and f, " 105 Fruitage f golden-rinded On golden salvers, Eleänore 33
Soft f, mighty nuts, and nourishing roots; Enoch Arden 555
Fruit-bunches rich f-b leaning on each other— Isabel 37
Fruited See Heavy-fruited
Fruitful like the arrow-seeds of the field flower, The f wit Cleaving, The Poet 20
F of further thought and deed, Two Voices 144 close to thine in that quick-falling dew Of f kisses, Œnone 205 Fast-rooted in the f soil. Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 38
I keep smooth plats of f ground, The Blackbird 3
When the centuries behind me like a f land reposed; Locksley Hall 13 Fruitful (continued) With f cloud and living smoke, In Mem. xxxix 3
The f hours of still increase; " xlvi 10
To f strifes and rivalries of peace— Ded. of Idylls 38
Fruitless Which else were f of their due, In Mem. xlv 14
Is shrivell'd in a f fire, " liv 11
Who built him fanes of f prayer, " lvi 12
'Wherefore grieve Thy brethren with a f tear? " lviii 10 glancing from his height On earth a f fallow, Demeter and P. 118 Gods Avenge on stony hearts a f prayer For pity. Death of Œnone 41
Frustration out of long f of her care, Princess vii 101
Fuel Secret wrath like smother'd f Burnt The Captain 15
The frost is here, and f is dear, Window, Winter 2
The f is all the dearer, " 15
Fuel-smother'd And from it like a f-s fire, Gareth and L. 684 Fulfil F's him with beatitude. Supp. Confessions 62 God f's himself in many ways, M. d'Arthur 241 discerning to f This labour, Ulysses 35
I would but ask you to f yourself: Princess vii 146 each f's Defect in each, " 303
To strive, to fashion, to f— In Mem. cxiii 7
F the boundless purpose of their King!' Com. of Arthur 475
God f's himself in many ways, Pass. of Arthur 409
Fulfil'd By its own energy f itself, Gardener's D. 238
For daily hope f, to rise again Edwin Morris 38
My father 'that our compact be f: Princess v 115
King was all f with gratefulness, Last Tournament 593 delightedly f All lovingkindnesses, Lover's Tale i 224 Fulfillest thou f thy doom Making him broken gleams, High. Pantheism 9 Fulfilling See Still-fulfilling Fulfilment to rise again Revolving toward f, Edwin Morris 39
Full so f and deep In thy large eyes, Eleänore 85 and slowly grow To a f face, " 92
So f, so deep, so slow, " 95
Since in his absence f of light and joy, Lover's Tale i 425 that strove to rise From my f heart. " 712
It was f of old odds an' ends, First Quarrel 49 and the f moon stares at the snow. Rizpah 4
'F of compassion and mercy—(repeat) Rizpah 62, 63
My brain is f of the crash of wrecks, The Wreck 4
I fun thy pockets as f o' my pippins Church-warden, etc. 34
Too f for sound and foam, Crossing the Bar 6
And yet, tho' its voice be so clear and f, Poet's Mind 34
The warble was low, and f and clear; Dying Swan 24
Thy rose-lips and f blue eyes Adeline 7
My life is f of weary days, My life is full 1
Mine be the strength of spirit, f and free, Mine be the strength 1
But my f heart, that work'd below, Two Voices 44
Flood with f daylight glebe and town? " 87
They met with two so f and bright— Miller's D. 86
While those f chestnuts whisper by. " 168
My eyes are f of tears, my heart of love, Œnone 31 her f and earnest eye Over her snow-cold breast " 141
Her slow f words sank thro' the silence drear, D. of F. Women 121
He was f of joke and jest, D. of the O. Year 28 on one Lay a great water, and the moon was f. M. d'Arthur 12
But the f day dwelt on her brows, and sunn'd Gardener's D. 136
You know there has not been for these five years So f a harvest: Dora 66 that when his heart is glad Of the f harvest, " 69
To some f music rose and sank the sun, And some f music seem'd to move and change Edwin Morris 34
Sneeze out a f God-bless-you right and left? " 80
On the coals I lay, A vessel f of sin: St. S. Stylites 170
The f south-breeze around thee blow Taking Oak 271 when the first low matin-chirp hath grown F quire, Love and Duty 99 amid Her f black ringlets downward roll'd, Day-Dm., Sleep. B. 12 barren commonplaces break In f and kindly blossom. Will Water. 24
F cold my greeting was and dry; The Letters 13 and made himself F sailor; Enoch Arden 54
Out of f heart and boundless gratitude " 346 his f tide of youth Broke with a phosphorescence Aylmer's Field 115 with all my heart, With my f heart: Princess i 127 and watch A f sea glazed with muffled moonlight, " 248 that f voice which circles round the grave, " ii 45
'Alas your Highness breathes f East,' " iii 231

Full (continued) Not in this frequence can I lend f tongue, Princess iv 442 and meek Seem'd the f lips, „ vii 226
The two-cell'd heart beating, with one f stroke, „ 307
Not perfect, nay, but f of tender wants, „ 319
Uplift a thousand voices f and sweet, Ode Inter. Exhib. 1 Spread thy f wings, and waft him o'er. In Mem. ix 4 sigh The f new life that feeds thy breath „ lxxxvi 10
But when the heart is f of din, „ xciv 13
And if the song were f of care, „ cxxv 9 underlip, you may call it a little too ripe, too f, Maud I ii 9 love of a peace that was f of wrongs and shames, „ III vi 40 Fixing f eyes of question on her face, Com. of Arthur 312 gathering half the deep And f of voices, „ 381 Albeit neither loved with that f love Gareth and L. 83 your f leave to go. „ 134
When waken'd by the wind which with f voice „ 176
This railer, that hath mock'd thee in f hall— „ 369
The wood is nigh as f of thieves as leaves: „ 789
'F pardon, but I follow up the quest, „ 886 the stream, F, narrow; „ 908 knave that doth thee service as f knight „ 1016 so will my knight-knave Miss the f flower „ 1297
Met his f frown timidly firm, and said; Geraint and E. 71
The whole wood-world is one f peal of praise. Balin and Balan 450 for this f love of mine Without the f heart Merlin and V. 533 that f heart of yours Whereof ye prattle, „ 548
He is so f of lustihood, he will ride, Lancelot and E. 203 then turn'd the tongueless man From the half-face to the f eye, „ 1262 with f affection said, 'Lancelot, my Lancelot, „ 1355 let us meet The morrow morn once more in one f field Holy Grail 323
That kept the entry, and the moon was f. „ 818
My tower is f of harlots, like his court, Last Tournament 81 free chase and heather-scented air, Pulsing f man; „ 692
So then, when both were brought to f accord, „ 722 crying with f voice 'Traitor, come out, Guinevere 105 land was f of signs And wonders „ 232 for all the land was f of life. „ 259 on one Lay a great water, and the moon was f. Pass. of Arthur 180 when the f city peal'd Thee and thy Prince! To the Queen ii 26 and tho' I loiter'd there The f day after, Sisters (E. and E.) 98 Grew after marriage to f height and form? „ 171
Love and Honour join'd to raise the f High-tide „ 177 Back to that passionate answer of f heart „ 259 golden guess Is morning-star to the f round of truth. Columbus 44 then full-current thro' f man: De Prof., Two G. 22 Yield thee f thanks for thy f courtesy To Victor Hugo 13
I can hear Too plainly what f tides of onset Tiresias 91 that f light Of friendship! „ 202
One f voice of allegiance, On Jub. Q. Victoria 22 would flower into f health Among our heath The Ring 317
Not less would yield f thanks to you To Ulysses 33
Whose Faith and Work were bells of f accord, In Mem., W. G. Ward 2
And borne along by that f stream of men, St. Telemachus 43
Full-accomplished hers by right of f-a Fate; Palace of Art 207
Full-arm'd F-a upon his charger all day Pelleas and E. 216
Full-blown sail'd, F-b, before us into rooms Princess i 229
Full-brain All the f-b, half-brain races, Locksley H., Sixty 161 Full-breasted f-b swan That, fluting a wild carol M. d'Arthur 266
f-b swan That, fluting a wild carol Pass. of Arthur 434
Full-busted f-b figure-head Stared o'er the ripple Enoch Arden 543
Full-cell'd A f-e honeycomb of eloquence Edwin Morris 26
Full-current then f-c thro' full man: De Prof., Two G. 22
Fuller More life, and f, that I want.' Two Voices 399
In the Spring a f crimson comes upon the robin's breast; Locksley Hall 17
A f light illumined all, Day-Dm., Revival 5 with f sound In curves the yellowing river ran, Sir L. and Q. G. 14
With f profits lead an easier life, Enoch Arden 145 and mould The woman to the f day.' Princess iii 332
So now thy f life is in the west, W. to Marie Alex. 36
But ring the f minstrel in. In Mem. cvi 20
For f gain of after bliss; „ cxvii 4
Till all my blood, a f wave, „ cxxii 12 they met In twos and threes, or f companies, Marr. of Geraint 57

Fuller (continued) Her f franchise—what would that be worth— The Fleet 8
Larger and f, like the human mind! Prog. of Spring 112
When I gits the plaäte f o' Soondays Church-warden, etc. 40
Fullest his children, ever at its best And f; Lancelot and E. 337
'Taliessin is our f throat of song, Holy Grail 300
Full-faced all the f-f presence of the Gods Œnone 80
F-f above the valley stood the moon; Lotos-Eaters 7 glowing f-f welcome, she Began to address us, Princess ii 183 Full-fair All in a f-f manor and a rich, Gareth and L. 846 Full-fed a f-f river winding slow By herds Palace of Art 73 one warm gust, f-f with perfume, Gardener's D. 113
What dare the f-f liars say of me? Merlin and V. 692 Full-flowing f-f harmony Of thy swan-like stateliness, Eleänore 46
f-f river of speech Came down upon my heart. Œnone 68
Full-foliaged Rock'd the f-f elms, and swung In Mem. xcv 58
Full-grown f-g will, Circled thro' all experiences, Œnone 165 suit The f-g energies of heaven. In Mem. xl 20 Full-handed your Omar drew F-h plaudits from our best To E. Fitzgerald 38
F-h thunders often have confessed Thy power, To W. C. Macready 2 Full-juiced The f-j apple, waxing over-mellow, Lotos-Eaters, C. S. 33
Full-limb'd those whom God had made f-l and tall, Guinevere 42
Full-maned the f-m horses whirl'd The chariots backward, Achilles over the T. 24 Fullness (See also Fulness) But by degrees to f wrought, You ask me, why, etc. 14 part by part to men reveal'd The f of her face— Of old sat Freedom 12 Full-orb'd to this present My f-o love has waned not. Lover's Tale i 734
Full-sail'd How may f-s verse express, Eleänore 44 and seest me drive Thro' utter dark a f-s skiff, Supp. Confessions 95
Full-summ'd side by side, f-s in all their powers, Princess vii 288
Full-summer thro' the field, that shone F-s, Lancelot and E. 1141
Full-tided at Caerleon the f-t Usk, Geraint and E. 116
Full-toned swells High over the f-t sea: Sea-Fairies 15
The nightingale, f-t in middle May, Balin and Balan 213
Full-tuned break its syllables, to keep My own f-t,— Love and Duty 40
Full-welling F-w fountain-heads of change, Palace of Art 166
Fulminated f Against the scarlet woman Sea Dreams 22
Fulmined She f out her scorn of laws Salique Princess ii 133 Fulness (See also After-fulness) Have added f to the phrase To Marq. of Dufferin 11
throng'd my pulses with the f of the Spring. Locksley Hall 36
The f of the pensive mind; Day-Dm., L'Envoi 48
Lest of the f of my life I leave Will Water. 163
the note Had reach'd a thunderous f, Sea Dreams 214
And weep the f from the mind: In Mem. xx 6
Fulsome And f Pleasure clog him, and drown His heart Maud I xvi 4
Affronted with his f innocence? Pelleas and E. 266
Fulvia You should have clung to F's waist, D. of F. Women 259
Fume (s) (See also Incense-fume) For mockery is the f of little hearts. Guinevere 633 or the f's Of that dark opiate dose you gave me, Romney's R. 30
Fume (verb) We fret, we f, would shift our skins, Will Water. 225
Fuming and near me stood, In f sulphur blue and green, Last Tournament 617 Fun (found) f 'um theer a-laäid on 'is faäce N. Farmer, O. S. 33
Fur I f', when 'er back wur turn'd, North. Cobbler 31
Ull be f' upo' four short legs Owd Roä 16
Then I waäked an' I f it was Roäver „ 60
Till I f that it warn't not the gaäinist waäy Church-warden, etc. 12
I f thy pockets as full o' my pippins „ 34
Function plies His f of the woodland: Lucretius 46
Funeral (adj.) Dark as a f scarf from stem to stern, M. d'Arthur 194
In sound of f or of marriage bells; Gardener's D. 36
Dark in its f fold. Ode on Well. 57
Dark as a f scarf from stem to stern, Pass. of Arthur 362 tolling of his f bell Broke on my Pagan Paradise, Tiresias 192
F hearses rolling! Forlorn 68
They bore the Cross before you to the chant of f hymns. Happy 48
And built their shepherd-prince a f pile; Death of Œnone 63 crying 'Husband!' she leapt upon the f pile, „ 105
Find her warrior Stark and dark in his f fire. To Master of B. 20 Funeral (s) A f, with plumes and lights And music, L. of Shalott ii 31 the little port Had seldom seen a costlier f. Enoch Arden 917 Mother weeps At that white f of the single life, Prin. Beatrice 9

Funeral (s) (continued) toll of f in an Angel ear Sounds happier D. of the Duke of C. 10
Funereal at one end of the hall Two great f curtains, Lover's Tale iv 214
And lay on that f boat, To Marq. of Dufferin 34
Fur My father sent ambassadors with f's Princess i 42
Furbelow See Sea-furbelow
Furious nature's prideful sparkle in the blood Break into f flame; Geraint and E. 828
As after f battle turfs the slain On some wild down Merlin and V. 657 they blurt Their f formalisms, Akbar's Dream 57
Furiously f Down thro' the bright lawns Aylmer's Field 340
Furl come hither and f your sails, Sea-Fairies 16
Mariner, mariner, f your sails, „ 21
Furl'd battle-flags were f In the Parliament Locksley Hall 127
And never sail of ours was f, The Voyage 81
Furlough To yield us farther f;' Princess iii 74 Furnace all the f of the light Struck up Mariana in the S. 55 a heat, As from a seventimes-heated f, Holy Grail 843
Furnished bravely f all abroad to fling The Poet 25
Furnitur O' f 'ere i' the 'ouse, North. Cobbler 36
Furr'd (See also Gay-furr'd) Tho' smock'd, or f and purpled, Princess iv 247
Furriner (foreigner) gawin' to let in f's' wheät, Owd Roä 45 Furrow to his mother's calls From the flower'd f. Supp. Confessions 160 sitting well in order smite The sounding f's; Ulysses 59 in the f broke the ploughman's head, Princess v 221 reddening in the f's of his chin, „ vi 228 meteor on, and leaves A shining f, „ vii 185 down in a f scathed with flame: The Victim 22
Or in the f musing stands; In Mem. lxiv 27 leaving share in f come to see The glories Gareth and L. 243 Furrow-cloven huddling slant in f-c falls Princess vii 207
Furrowing f into light the mounded rack, Love and Duty 100
Came f all the orient into gold. Princess iii 18
F a giant oak, and javelining With darted spikes Merlin and V. 936
Furrowy A double hill ran up his f forks Princess iii 174
Further We brook no f insult but are gone.' „ vi 342 at the f end Was Ida by the throne, „ 356
Not ever to be question'd any more Save on the f side; Com. of Arthur 397 and on the f side Arose a silk pavilion, Gareth and L. 909
For this were shame to do him f wrong „ 954
Furthest summits slope Beyond the f flights of hope, Two Voices 185
From Camelot in among the faded fields To f towers; Last Tournament 54
Fury (rage) (See also Fool-fury) struck such warbling f thro' the words; Princess iv 586
Had often wrought some f on myself, Balin and Balan 62
'How then? who then? a f seized them Lancelot and E. 476
furies, curses, passionate tears, Locksley H., Sixty 39 narrower The cage, the more their f. Akbar's Dream 51 rememberest what a f shook Those pillars „ 80 Godless f of peoples, and Christless frolic of kings, The Dawn 7 Fury (a deity) Like to Furies, like to Graces, Vision of Sin 41 numbs the F's ringlet-snake, and plucks Lucretius 262
And Life, a F slinging flame. In Mem. l 8
The household F sprinkled with blood Maud I xix 32 one angel face, And all the Furies. Sisters (E. and E.) 159
Furze (See also Fuzz) on these dews that drench the f, In Mem. xi 6
Furze-cramm'd F-c, and bracken-rooft, Last Tournament 377
Furzy The f prickle fire the dells, Two Voices 71
Fuse Whose fancy f's old and new, In Mem. xvi 18
They f themselves to little spicy baths, Prog. of Spring 33 power to f My myriads into union under one; Akbar's Dream 156 Fused manhood f with female grace In Mem. cix 17
f together in the tyrannous light— Lover's Tale ii 67
Fusileer faces of Havelocks good f's, Def. of Lucknow 101
Fusillade better aimed are your flank f's— „ 57
Hark cannonade, f! „ 95
Fusing f all The skirts of self again, In Mem. xlvii 2
Of Knowledge f class with class, Freedom 17
Fust (first) then I minded the f kiss I gied 'er by Thursby thurn; North. Cobbler 45
Futile O life as f, then, as frail! In Mem. lvi 25

Future (adj.) transfused Thro' f time by power of thought. Love thou thy land 4
I think that we Shall never more, at any f time, M. d'Arthur 18 fruit of Love may rest Some happy f day. Talking Oak 252
Some f time, if so indeed you will, Princess ii 64
Perchance upon the f man: „ Con. 109 her f Lord Was drown'd in passing thro' the ford, In Mem. vi 38
And leaps into the f chance, „ cxiv 7
I think that we Shall never more, at any f time, Pass. of Arthur 186
Future (s) When I dipt into the f, Locksley Hall 15
For I dipt into the f, „ 119 this he kept Thro' all his f; Enoch Arden 237 a wind of prophecy Dilating on the f; Princess ii 172 Nemesis Break from a darken'd f, „ vi 175 prescient of whate'er The F had in store: Lover's Tale ii 133
And past and f mix'd in Heaven The Ring 186 and thence maintain Our darker f. To one ran down Eng. 2
Far as the F vaults her skies, Mechanophilus 17
Futurity the cope Of the half-attain'd f, Ode to Memory 33 Fuzz (furze) Nowt at all but bracken an' f, N. Farmer, O. S. 38

G

Gaäinist (nearest) I fun' that it warn't not the g waäy to the narra Gaäte, Church-warden, etc. 12
Gaäinsaäy (gainsay) I weänt g it, my lad, North. Cobbler 17
Gaäpin' (gaping) tha be new to the plaäce—thou'rt g— Spinster's S's. 3 Gaäte (gate) why didn't tha hesp the g? Village Wife 124 an looök thruf Maddison's g! Spinster's S's. 6
I fun that it warn't not the gaäinist waäy to the narra G. Church-warden, etc. 12
Gabble Nothing but idiot g! Maud II v 41
Gabbled She g, as she groped in the dead, Dead Prophet 73
The Baths, the Forum g of his death, St. Telemachus 74 Gable and half A score of g's. Walk. to the Mail 14 overhead Fantastic g's, crowding, Godiva 61 Gable-ends burn'd On the blossom'd g-e Maud I vi 9
Gable-wall held the pear to the g-w. Mariana 4
Gabriel Whose Titan angels, G, Abdiel, Milton 5
Gad-fly sung to, when, this g-f brush'd aside, Princess v 414
Gadding Said the good nuns would check her g tongue Guinevere 313
Gaffer Ran G, stumbled Gammer. The Goose 34
Gag the wholesome boon of gyve and g.' Gareth and L. 370
Gagelike flung defiance down G to man, Princess v 178
Gaiety G without eclipse Wearieth me, Lilian 20
Gain (s) I can but count thee perfect g, Palace of Art 198
But gentle words are always g: Love thou thy land 23 foreheads, vacant of our glorious g's, Locksley Hall 175 his g's were dock'd, however small: Small were his g's, and hard his work; Sea Dreams 7
His g is loss; for he that wrongs his friend „ 172
Who, never naming God except for g, „ 188
Ours the pain, be his the g! Ode on Well. 241
And find in loss a g to match? In Mem. i 6
Or but subserves another's g. „ liv 12
But turns his burthen into g. „ lxxx 12
'My sudden frost was sudden g, „ lxxxi 10
For fuller g of after bliss: „ cxvii 4
And lust of g, in the spirit of Cain, Maud I i 23 all for g Of glory, and hath added wound Lancelot and E. 566 allow my pretext, as for g Of purer glory.' „ 586 that make our griefs our g's. Sisters (E. and E.) 231
The g of such large life as match'd Ancient Sage 237
Gain (verb) And g her for my bride. Talking Oak 284
In hope to g upon her flight. The Voyage 60 man may g Letting his own life go. Lucretius 112 help my prince to g His rightful bride, Princess iii 160
And play the slave to g the tyranny. „ iv 132
He g in sweetness and in moral height, „ vii 281
How g in life, as life advances, To F. D. Maurice 39
g The praise that comes to constancy.' In Mem. xxi 11
I will walk thro' fire, Mother, to g it— Gareth and L. 134
And glory gain'd, and evermore to g. „ 332

Gain (verb) (continued) I vow'd that could I g her, our fair Queen, Marr. of Geraint 787
she set herself to g Him, the most famous man Merlin and V. 165 Woo her and g her then: no wavering, boy! Sisters (E. and E.) 39 or if she g her earthly-best, Locksley H., Sixty 233 Ere she g her Heavenly-best. „ 271 in the North to g Her capital city, The Ring 481 corpse of every man that g's a name; Romney's R. 123
As Wisdom hopes to g,' Politics 4
Gain'd 'Thou hast not g a real height, Two Voices 91 but even then she g Her bower; Godiva 76
And g a laurel for your brow You might have won 3
G for her own a scanty sustenance, Enoch Arden 259
Philip g As Enoch lost; „ 354 seaward-bound for health they g a coast, Sea Dreams 16
We g the mother-city thick with towers, Princess i 112 further on we g A little street half garden „ 213 and g The terrace ranged along the Northern front, „ iii 117 thus much, nor more I g.' „ 167 grasping down the boughs I g the shore. „ iv 189
We cross'd the street and g a petty mound „ 557
And on they moved and g the hall, „ vi 352
In such discourse we g the garden rails, „ Con. 80
He that g a hundred fights, Ode on Well. 96
A wretched vote may be g. Maud I vi 56
And glory g, and evermore to gain. Gareth and L. 332 Took horse, and forded Usk, and g the wood; Marr. of Geraint 161 fatal quest Of honour, where no honour can be g: Geraint and E. 704 leaving Arthur's court he g the beach; Merlin and V. 197 when they g the cell wherein he slept, Lancelot and E. 811 Storm at the top, and when we g it, Holy Grail 491 she g her castle, upsprang the bridge, Pelleas and E. 206 but turning, past and g Tintagil, Last Tournament 504
G in the service of His Highness, Columbus 236
Step by step we g a freedom Locksley H., Sixty 129
But when she g the broader vale, Death of Œnone 91
G their huge Colosseum. St. Telemachus 45 Gaining Yet oceans daily g on the land, Golden Year 29 worship woman as true wife beyond All hopes of g, Merlin and V. 24
G a lifelong Glory in battle, Batt. of Brunanburh 7 a glory slowly g on the shade, Making of Man 6 Gainsay See Gāinsāāy
Galahad (a Knight of the Round Table) Not even Lancelot brave, nor G clean. Merlin and V. 805
Sir Percivale And pure Sir G to uplift the maid; Lancelot and E. 1265 ever moved Among us in white armour, G. Holy Grail 135 made a knight Till G; and this G, when he heard „ 139
G, when he heard of Merlin's doom, „ 177
G would sit down in Merlin's chair. „ 181 and G sware the vow, And good Sir Bors, „ 199
G on the sudden, and in a voice Shrilling „ 288
G, and O G, follow me.' 'Ah, G, G,' „ 292
What are ye? G's?—no, nor Percivales' (For thus it pleased the King to range me close After Sir G); „ 306
And I myself and G, for a strength Was in us „ 333 Shouting, 'Sir G and Sir Percivale!' „ 337 not lost thyself to save thyself As G.' „ 457
In silver armour suddenly G shone Before us, „ 458
I, G, saw the Grail, The Holy Grail, „ 464
G fled along them bridge by bridge, „ 504
O brother, saving this Sir G, „ 561 after I was join'd with G Cared not for her, „ 611
Galaxy Hung in the golden G. L. of Shalott iii 12
Gale And merrily, merrily carol the g's, Sea-Fairies 23
Sweet g's, as from deep gardens, blow Fatima 24 strong g's Hold swollen clouds from raining, D. of F. Women 10 last night's g had caught, And blown across Gardener's D. 124 Caught the shrill salt, and sheer'd the g. The Voyage 12
And to and thro' the counter g? „ 66
Storm'd in orbs of song, a growing g; Vision of Sin 25 Rough-redden'd with a thousand winter g's, Enoch Arden 95 drank the g That blown about the foliage Princess iii 120
Who changest not in any g, In Mem. ii 10
Caught and cuff'd by the g: Maud I vi 5
So fierce a g made havoc here of late Holy Grail 729
Gale (continued) this g Tore my pavilion from the tenting-pin, Holy Grail 746 ever that evening ended a great g blew, The Revenge 114 Galilæe often mutter low 'Vicisti G'; louder again Spurning a shatter'd fragment of the God, 'Vicisti G!' St. Telemachus 15
Galilee still'd the rolling wave of G! Aylmer's Field 709
Galingale meadow, set with slender g; Lotos-Eaters 23
Gall (bitterness) changed a wholesome heart to g. L. C. V. de Vere 44
That was the last drop in the cup of g. Walk. to the Mail 69
Unto me my maudlin g And my mockeries Vision of Sin 201
Gall (oak-gall) insects prick Each leaf into a g) Talking Oak 70
Gall (verb) Began to g the knighthood, asking Las Tournament 683 Gallant My woman-soldier, g Kate, Kate 15 the seamen Made a g crew, G sons of English freemen, The Captain 6
Many a g gay domestic Bows before him L. of Burleigh 47
So sang the g glorious chronicle; Princess, Pro. 49
To give three g gentlemen to death.' „ ii 335
He seems a gracious and a g Prince, „ v 213
I fenced it round with g institutes, „ 392
A g fight, a noble princess— „ Con. 19
Who pledgest now thy g son; In Mem. vi 10
A passionate ballad g and gay, Maud I v 4
The charge of the g three hundred, Heavy Brigade 1
he waved his blade To the g three hundred „ 10 up the hill, Gallopt the g three hundred, „ 25
'Lost are the g three hundred of Scarlett's Brigade!' „ 45
O great and g Scott, Bandit's Death 1
'G Sir Ralph,' said the king. The Tourney 6
Galleon Four g's drew away From the Spanish fleet The Revenge 46 their high-built g's came, „ 58
Galleried a minster there, A g palace, The Ring 246
Gallery foremost in thy various g Place it, Ode to Memory 84
By garden-wall and g, L. of Shalott iv 38
And round the roofs a gilded g Palace of Art 29
The light aërial g, golden-rail'd, „ 47 long-laid galleries past a hundred doors Princess vi 375 golden hours, In those long galleries, The Daisy 42 made his feet Wings thro' a glimmering g, Balin and Balan 404 let his eyes Run thro' the peopled g Lancelot and E. 430
Rich galleries, lady-laden, weigh'd the necks Holy Grail 346
He glanced and saw the stately galleries, Last Tournament 145
Tristram round the g made his horse Caracole; „ 205 armed feet Thro' the long g from the outer doors Guinevere 413
Gallop The trumpet, the g, the charge, Heavy Brigade 13
Gallopaded willows two and two By rivers g. Amphion 40
Gallop'd-Gallopt and so gallop'd up the knoll. Marr. of Geraint 168 as he gallop'd up To join them, „ 171
Gallopt the gallant three hundred, Heavy Brigade 25 our men gallopt up with a cheer and a shout, „ 61
Galloping (See also Heavily-galloping) g hoofs bare on the ridge of spears Princess v 489
Gallopt See Gallop'd
Gama His name was G; crack'd and small his voice, „ i 114
Then G turn'd to me: 'We fear, indeed, „ v 120 you spake but sense Said G. „ 207
This G swamp'd in lazy tolerance. „ 443 can this be he From G's dwarfish loins? „ 506
And moved beyond his custom, G said: „ vi 229
Gambol mother he had never known, In g's; Aylmer's Field 691
For these your dainty g's: wherefore ask; Merlin and V. 309
Nor ever let you g in her sight, The Ring 387
Gamboll'd-Gambol'd when she gamboll'd on the greens Talking Oak 77
We gambol'd, making vain pretence Of gladness, In Mem. xxx 6
Glanced at the doors or gambol'd down the walks; Marr. of Geraint 665
And a hundred gamboll'd and pranced on the wrecks V. of Maeldune 102
Gambolling Down shower the g waterfalls Sea-Fairies 10
Game (thing hunted) Stoops at all g that wing the skies, Rosalind 4 Whither fly ye, what g spy ye, „ 8 touch'd upon the g, how scarce it was Audley Court 32
Man is the hunter; woman is his g: Princess v 154
He bore but little g in hand; The Victim 42
No, there is fatter g on the moor; Maud I i 74
Royaller g is mine. Merlin and V. 108

Game (pastime) The g of forfeits done— The Epic 2 dwindled down to some odd g's In some odd nooks " 8
She remember'd that: A pleasant g, Princess, Pro. 194
Quoit, tennis, ball—no g's? " iii 215
At civil revel and pomp and g, (repeat) Ode on Well. 147, 227
In dance and song and g and jest? In Mem. xxix 8
Again our ancient g's had place, " lxxviii 10
Poor rivals in a losing g, " cii 19
Be neither song, nor g, nor feast; " cv 21 moved by an unseen hand at a g That pushes Maud I iv 26
And play the g of the despot kings, " x 39
once again the sickening g; Locksley H., Sixty 127 God must mingle with the g: " 271
Romans brawling of their monstrous g's; St. Telemachus 40
Gamesome 'Then ran she, g as the colt, Talking Oak 121
Gammer Ran Gaffer, stumbled G. The Goose 34
Gamut their shrieks Ran highest up the g, Sea Dreams 233
Ganymede flush'd G, his rosy thigh Half-buried Palace of Art 121
I think he came like G, Will Water. 119
'They mounted, G's, To tumble, Vulcans, Princess iii 71 Gap from the g's and chasms of ruin left Sea Dreams 225 fill up the g where force might fail Gareth and L. 1352 thro' the g Glimmer'd the streaming scud: Holy Grail 681 thro' the g The seven clear stars of Arthur's Table Round— " 683 new knights to fill the g Left by the Holy Quest; Pelleas and E. 1
In this g between the sandhills, Locksley H., Sixty 176 Fought for their lives in the narrow g they had made— Heavy Brigade 23
Gape A gulf that ever shuts and g's, In Mem. lxx 6 too high For any mouth to g for save a queen's— Lancelot and E. 775
g for flies—we know not whence they come; Holy Grail 147 Gaped Lavaine g upon him As on a thing miraculous, Lancelot and E. 452 tier over tier, Were added mouths that g, " 1249 Gaping (See also Gaäpin') The passive oxen g. Amphion 72 fool, Who was g and grinning by: Maud II i 20 Gap-mouth'd All in a g-m circle his good mates Gareth and L. 511
Gapp'd their masses are g with our grape— Def. of Lucknow 42
Gap-tooth'd A gray and g-t man as lean as death, Vision of Sin 60
Garbaging and Gave to the g war-hawk to gorge it, Batt. of Brunanburh 109
Garb'd richly g, but worn From wasteful living, Ancient Sage 4
Garda Lake Gazing at the Lydian laughter of the G L below Frater Ave, etc. 3 Garden (adj.) By g porches on the brim, Arabian Nights 16 whose root Creeps to the g water-pipes beneath, D. of F. Women 206 black-hearts ripen dark, All thine, against the g wall. Blackbird 8
There sat we down upon a g mound, Gardener's D. 214 fountain to his place returns Deep in the g lake withdrawn. Day-Dm., Sleep P. 12
Some figure like a wizard pentagram On g gravel, The Brook 104 all within The sward was trim as any g lawn: Princess, Pro. 95 found at length The g portals. " iv 200
To take their leave, about the g rails, " Con. 38
In such discourse we gain'd the g rails. " 80 all by myself in my own dark g ground, Maud I iii 10
Seem'd her light foot along the g walk, " xviii 9
And long by the g lake I stood, " xxii 35
'this g rose Deep-hued and many-folded! Balin and Balan 269
And oft they met among the g yews, Lancelot and E. 645 one morn it chanced He found her in among the g yews, " 923 Garden (s) (See also Hall-garden, Olive-gardens, Rose-garden) High-wall'd g's green and old; Arabian Nights 8
Thence thro' the g I was drawn— " 100
When rooted in the g of the mind, Ode to Memory 26 a g bower'd close With plaited alleys " 105
the world Like one great g show'd, The Poet 34
In the heart of the g the merry bird chants. Poet's Mind 22 whitest honey in fairy g's cull'd— Eleänore 26
Sweet gales, as from deep g's, blow Fatima 24
A spacious g full of flowering weeds, To —— With Pal. of Art 4 Walking about the g's and the halls Of Camelot, M. d'Arthur 20 blooms the g that I love. Gardener's D. 34 between it and the g lies A League of grass, " 39

Garden (s) (continued) The g stretches southward. Gardener's D. 115
One after one, thro' that still g pass'd; " 201
And cross'd the g to the gardener's lodge, Audley Court 17
A breeze thro' all the g swept, Day-Dm., Revival 6
A g too with scarce a tree, Amphion 3 at the end of all A little g blossom. " 104
Parks and order'd g's great, L. of Burleigh 30 Flourished a little g square and wall'd: Enoch Arden 734 arranged Her g, sow'd her name and kept it green Aylmer's Field 88
Which fann'd the g's of that rival rose " 455 Kept to the g now, and grove of pines, " 550 that in the g snared Picus and Faunus, Lucretius 181
A little street half g and half house; Princess i 214 grace Concluded, and we sought the g's: " ii 453 Above the g's glowing blossom-belts, " v 363
'Look there, a g!' said my college friend, " Con. 49
All round a careless-order'd g To F. D. Maurice 15
'All among the g's, auriculas, anemones, City Child 4
So that still g of the souls In Mem. xliii 10
The gust that round the g flew, " lxxxix 19 Till from the g and the wild " ci 17 like the sultan of old in a g of spice. Maud I iv 42 Maud has a g of roses And lilies " xiv 1 great Forefathers of the thornless g, " xviii 27 Come into the g, Maud, (repeat) " xxii 1, 3 Queen rose of the rosebud g of girls, " 53
g by the turrets Of the old manorial hall. " II iv 79
But I know where a g grows, " v 72
And wallow'd in the g's of the King. Com. of Arthur 25
But this was in the g of a king: Marr. of Geraint 656
Sir Balin sat Close-bower'd in that g Balin and Balan 241 a slope of g, all Of roses white and red, Pelleas and E. 421 Walking about the g's and the halls Of Camelot, Pass. of Arthur 188 as tho' A man in some still g should infuse Lover's Tale i 269 the daily want Of Edith in the house, the g, Sisters (E. and E.) 246 Down we look'd: what a g! V. of Maeldune 78
Wi' my oän little g outside, Spinster's S's. 104
Every grim ravine a g, Locksley H., Sixty 168
I found her not in house Or g— The Ring 445 from every vale and plain And g pass, To Mary Boyle 10 Across my g! and the thicket stirs, Prog. of Spring 53 under the Crosses The dead man's g, Merlin and the G. 106 like a lonely man In the king's g, Akbar's Dream 21
I cotch'd tha wonst i' my g, Church-warden, etc. 33
Garden (verb) I shall never g more: May Queen, N. Y's. E. 46
Garden-bower Black the g-b's and grots Arabian Nights 78
To and fro they went Thro' my g-b, The Flower 6
Gardener The g Adam and his wife L. C. V. de Vere 51
I and Eustace from the city went To see the G's Daughter; Gardener's D. 3
'Go and see The G's daughter: " 30 not heard Of Rose, the G's daughter? " 52
And cross'd the garden to the g's lodge, Audley Court 17 charge the g's now To pick the faded creature Marr. of Geraint 670
And made a G putting in a graff, Merlin and V. 479 g's hand Picks from the colewort a green caterpillar, Guinevere 31
Garden-gate And push'd at Philip's g-g. The Brook 83
And stood by her g-g; Maud I xiv 6 looks Upon Maud's own g-g: " 16
Garden-glass The g-g'es glanced, and momently Gardener's D. 117 Garden-herbs Gifts by the children, g-h and fruit, Enoch Arden 338
Gardening Botanic Treatises, And Works on G Amphion 78
Garden-isles meadowy holms And alders, g-i; Edwin Morris 96
Garden-lawn By grove and g-l, and rushing brook, Holy Grail 230
Garden-rose outredden All voluptuous g-r's. Ode on Well. 208
This g-r that I found, Maud I xxi 3
Garden-square And in the sultry g-s's, The Blackbird 17
Garden-squirt Half-conscious of the g-s, Amphion 91 Garden-tools find my g-t upon the granary floor: May Queen, N. Y's. E. 45 Garden-tree Beneath your sheltering g-t, To E. Fitzgerald 6
Garden-walks As down the g-w I move, In Mem. cii 6
Garden-wall By g-w and gallery, L. of Shalott iv 38
And feeling all along the g-w, Enoch Arden 773 this side the palace ran the field Flat to the g-w: Princess v 362

Garden-wall (continued) Climb'd to the high top of the g-w Guinevere 25 Gareth (a knight of the Round Table) G, in a showerful spring Stared at the spate. Gareth and L. 2
'How he went down,' said G, 'as a false knight ,, 5
And G went, and hovering round her chair ,, 33
G answer'd her with kindling eyes, (repeat) ,, 41, 62
G, 'An ye hold me yet for child, ,, 99
G answer'd quickly, 'Not an hour, ,, 132
G cried, 'A hard one, or a hundred, ,, 149
G was too princely-proud To pass thereby; ,, 161
Silent awhile was G, then replied, ,, 164
G awhile linger'd. ,, 172
Then those who went with G were amazed, ,, 197
G answer'd them With laughter, ,, 208 those with G for so long a space Stared at the figures, ,, 231 they call'd To G, 'Lord, the gateway is alive.' And G likewise on them fixt his eyes So long, ,, 235
Then G, 'We be tillers of the soil, ,, 242
G spake Anger'd, 'Old Master, ,, 279 Whom G looking after said, 'My men, ,, 296 and the sound was good to G's ear. ,, 312
Then into hall G ascending heard A voice, ,, 317
G saw The shield of Gawain blazon'd rich and bright, ,, 415
G leaning both hands heavily Down on the shoulders ,, 439
So G all for glory underwent The sooty yoke ,, 478
G bow'd himself With all obedience to the King, ,, 487
G was glad. (repeat) ,, 497, 504
G telling some prodigious tale Of knights, ,, 508
This, G hearing from a squire of Lot ,, 531
Shame never made girl redder than G joy. ,, 536
G, lightly springing from his knees, ,, 556
G ask'd, 'Have I not earn'd my cake in baking of it? ,, 574 with a kindly hand on G's arm Smiled the great King, ,, 578
Arthur mindful of Sir G ask'd, ,, 624
Sir G call'd from where he rose, ,, 645 on to this Sir G strode, and saw without the door ,, 676
Sir G loosed A cloak that dropt from collar-bone ,, 681
So G ere he parted flash'd in arms. ,, 689 thro' lanes of shouting G rode Down the slope street, ,, 699
So G past with joy; but as the cur Pluckt ,, 701
Mutter'd in scorn of G whom he used To harry ,, 706
To whom Sir G drew (And there were none ,, 743
G to him, 'Master no more! too well I know thee, ,, 755
G cried again, 'Lead, and I follow,' ,, 759
'Damsel,' Sir G answer'd gently, ,, 772
I shall assay,' said G with a smile. That madden'd her, ,, 783
And G following was again beknaved. ,, 786
G, 'Bound am I to right the wrong'd, ,, 804
'Lead, and I follow,' G cried again, ,, 807
G loosed the stone From off his neck, ,, 814
G loosed his bonds and on free feet Set him, ,, 817
G sharply spake, 'None! ,, 831 and the Baron set G beside her, ,, 852 seating G at another board, Sat down beside him, ,, 871
G said, 'Full pardon, but I follow up the quest, ,, 885
Sir G spake, 'Lead, and I follow.' ,, 890
To whom Sir G answer'd courteously, ,, 900
G silent gazed upon the knight, ,, 933
Said G, 'Damsel, whether knave or knight, ,, 943
G lash'd so fiercely with his brand ,, 968
Till G's shield was cloven: ,, 971
G, 'So this damsel ask it of me Good— ,, 974
G there unlaced His helmet as to slay him, ,, 978
Sir G answer'd, laughingly, 'Parables? ,, 1007
G's eyes had flying blots Before them ,, 1031
Whom G met midstream: ,, 1041
Then G laid his lance athwart the ford; ,, 1048 and G sent him to the King. ,, 1051
G, 'Wherefore waits the madman there ,, 1091
Said G, 'Old, and over-bold in brag! ,, 1107
And G overthrew him, lighted, drew, ,, 1121
G brought him grovelling on his knees, ,, 1124
Till G panted hard, and his great heart, ,, 1126
so G seem'd to strike Vainly, ,, 1133

Gareth (continued) And G hearing ever stronglier smote, Gareth and L. 1141
Sir G's brand Clash'd his, and brake it utterly ,, 1147
G lookt and read—In letters like to those ,, 1201 star Gleam, on Sir G's turning to him, ,, 1219
G crying prick'd against the cry; ,, 1221
Lancelot answer'd, 'Prince, O G— ,, 1237
Then G, 'Thou—Lancelot!—thine the hand That threw me? ,, 1241
'Blessed be thou, Sir G! knight art thou ,, 1258 turning to Lynette he told The tale of G, ,, 1273
Sir G drank and ate, and all his life Past into sleep; ,, 1280
Let G, an he will, Change his for mine, ,, 1299
G, wakening, fiercely clutch'd the shield; ,, 1304 allured The glance of G dreaming on his liege. ,, 1316
'Lo,' said G, 'the foe falls!' ,, 1317
Said G laughing, 'An he fight for this, ,, 1345
Then G, 'Here he rules. I know but one— ,, 1354 which Sir G grapst, And so, before the two could hinder him, ,, 1367
But G spake and all indignantly, ,, 1386
Sir G's head prickled beneath his helm; ,, 1397 with one stroke Sir G split the skull. ,, 1404
Answer'd Sir G graciously to one Not many a moon his younger, ,, 1414
So large mirth lived and G won the quest. ,, 1426 tale in older times Says that Sir G wedded Lyonors, ,, 1428 Tristram, and Geraint And G, a good knight, Lancelot and E. 557
Gargarus topmost G Stands up and takes the morning: Œnone 10
Garland The g of new-wreathed emprise: Kate 24
Do make a g for the heart: Miller's D. 198 knots of flowers, and buds and g's gay, May Queen 11 spears That soon should wear the g; Aylmer's Field 112 made g's of the selfsame flower, Lover's Tale i 343
a light Burst from the g I had wov'n, ,, 366
Wreathed round the bier with g's: ,, ii 79
Great g's swung and blossom'd; ,, iv 191
I, wearing but the g of a day, To Dante 6
The bridal g falls upon the bier, D. of the Duke of C. 1
Garlandage leaf, and gayest g of flowers, Balin and Balan 83
Garlanded Each g with her peculiar flower Gardener's D. 202
Garlanding g the gnarled boughs With bunch Œnone 101
Garlon (a Knight of the Round Table) G, mine heir, Of him demand it,' which this G gave With much ado, Balin and Balan 117 more than one of us Cried out on G, ,, 123
Sir G too Hath learn'd black magic, ,, 304
Till when at feast Sir G likewise ask'd ,, 347
Made G, hissing; then he sourly smiled. ,, 355
Then fiercely to Sir G, 'Eyes have I That saw to-day ,, 372
The scorn of G, poisoning all his rest, ,, 383
Sir G utter'd mocking-wise; ,, 389
Then G, reeling slowly backward, fell, ,, 397
This G mock'd me, but I heeded not. ,, 606
And sought for G at the castle-gates, ,, 610
Garment eddying of her g's caught from thee Ode to Memory 31
The woman's g hid the woman's heart.' Princess v 305
Fair g's, plain or rich, Akbar's Dream 131
Garner The wrath that g's in my heart; In Mem. lxxxii 14
And g all you may! Mechanophilus 32
Garner'd (adj.) time is scarce more brief Than of the g Autumn-sheaf. Two Voices 114
Or little pitted speck in g fruit, Merlin and V. 394 and bless Their g Autumn also, Demeter and P. 147
Garner'd (verb) long ago they had glean'd and g Lover's Tale i 128
Garnet Each like a g or a turkis in it; Marr. of Geraint 661
Garnet-headed hear the g-h yaffingale Mock them: Last Tournament 700
Garnish flowers, except, belike, To g meats with? Gareth and L. 1070
Garrick G and statelier Kemble, To W. C. Macready 7
Garrison as if hope for the g hung but on him; Def. of Lucknow 48 on a sudden the g utter a jubilant shout, ,, 98
Garrulity Shame on her own g garrulously, Guinevere 312
Garrulous Miriam Lane was good and g, Enoch Arden 700
G under a roof of pine: To F. D. Maurice 20
With g ease and oily courtesies Princess i 164

Garrulous (continued) Mother's g wail For ever woke the unhappy Past again, Sisters (E. and E.) 262
G old crone. The Ring 120
Innocent maidens, G children, Merlin and the G. 56
Garrulously To whom the little novice g, Guinevere 231
To whom the novice g again, " 276
Shame on her own garrulity g, " 312
Garth past into the little g beyond. Enoch Arden 329
Than in a clapper clapping in a g, Princess ii 227
I climb'd to the top of the g, Grandmother 38
Gash 'G thyself, priest, and honour thy brute Baäl, Aylmer's Field 644 Thou wilt not g thy flesh for him; " 658 eyes frown: the lips Seem but a g. Sisters (E. and E.) 107 Gas-light The g-l wavers dimmer; Will Water. 38
Gasp cheating the sick of a few last g's, Maud I i 43
Balan told him brokenly, and in g's, Balin and Balan 603
Gasp'd-Gaspt yet gasp'd, 'Whence and what art thou?' Holy Grail 434
I sat beside her dying, and she gaspt: The Ring 287
Gasping G to Sir Lavaine, 'Draw the lancehead:' Lancelot and E. 511 he G, 'Of Arthur's hall am I, Pelleas and E. 514 Gaspt See Gasp'd
Gat Hunger of glory g Hold of the land. Batt. of Brunanburh 124 Gate (See also Bailey-gate, Castle-gate, City-gate, Entry-gates, Gaäte, Garden-gate, Palace-gate, Postern-gate, Temple-gates, Watergate, Wicket-gate) Thro' the open g's of the city afar, Dying Swan 34 look in at the g With his large calm eyes The Mermaid 26 her Satrap bled At Issus by the Syrian g's, Alexander 3 Saw distant g's of Eden gleam, Two Voices 212
The lion on your old stone g's L. C. V. de Vere 23 Are there no beggars at your g, " 67 went along From Mizpeh's tower'd g D. of F. Women 199 he pass'd his father's g, Heart-broken, Dora 50
we reach'd The griffin-guarded g's, Audley Court 15 Battering the g's of heaven with storms St. S. Stylites 7
Once more the g's behind me falls; Talking Oak 1
Her mother trundled to the g " 111
Every g is throng'd with suitors, Locksley Hall 101
And ta'en my fiddle to the g, (repeat) Amphion 11, 15 the g's Roll back, and far within St. Agnes' Eve 29
And beneath the g she turns; L. of Burleigh 44 the music touch'd the g's and died; Vision of Sin 23 cold vapour touch'd the palace g, " 58
A light wind blew from the g's of the sun, Poet's Song 3 one small g that open'd on the waste, Enoch Arden 733 Crept to the g, and open'd it, " 775
The g, Half-parted from a weak and scolding hinge, The Brook 83
Stands at thy g for thee to grovel to— Aylmer's Field 652
But nevermore did either pass the g " 826 sallying thro' the g, Had beat her foes Princess, Pro. 33 Brake with a blast of trumpets from the g, " 42 saw you not the inscription on the g, " ii 194 bury me beside the g, " 206
I urged the fierce inscription on the g, " iii 141 paint the g's of Hell with Paradise, " iv 131 Spread out at top, and grimly spiked the g's. " 206 Here, push them out at g's.' " 548 with grim laughter thrust us out at g's. " 556
He thrice had sent a herald to the g's, " v 332 Came sallying thro' the g's, and caught his hair, " 340 so thro' those dark g's across the wild " vii 362 the g's were closed At sunset, " Con. 36 and stood by the road at the g. Grandmother 38
there past by the g of the farm, Willy,— " 41
Burst the g's, and burn the palaces, Boädicea 64
In circle round the blessed g, In Mem. lxxxv 23
They can but listen at the g's, " xciv 15 my pulses closed their g's with a shock Maud I i 15 g's of Heaven are closed, and she is gone. " xviii 12
I am here at the g alone; " xxii 4
From the passion-flower at the g. " 60
When her brother ran in his rage to the g, " II i 12 and watch'd him from the g's: Com. of Arthur 449 at times the great g shone Only, Gareth and L. 194
So push'd them all unwilling toward the g. " 212

Gate (continued) And there was no g like it under heaven. Gareth and L. 213 Back from the g started the three, " 239 past The weird white g, and paused without, " 663 Down the slope street, and past without the g. " 700 Down the slope city, and out beyond the g. " 735 then descending met them at the g's, Marr. of Geraint 833 lets Or dame or damsel enter at his g's Balin and Balan 107
Their heads should moulder on the city g's. Merlin and V. 594
Then made a sudden step to the g, Lancelot and E. 391 and under the strange-statued g, " 800 past beneath the weirdly-sculptured g's " 844 to the G of the three Queens we came, Holy Grail 358 whence I came, the g of Arthur's wars.' " 539 and thrust him from the g. Pelleas and E. 260 Open g's, And I will make you merry.' " 373 and bound his horse Hard by the g's. " 414 open were the g's, And no watch kept; " 414 from the city g's Issued Sir Lancelot " 556 and sharply turn'd North by the g. Last Tournament 128
The golden g's would open at a word. Sisters (E. and E.) 145 Throng'd the waste field about the city g's: Sir J. Oldcastle 40 —and those twelve g's, Pearl— Columbus 86 tides of onset sap Our seven high g's, Tiresias 92
the song-built towers and g's Reel, " 98 find the g Is bolted, and the master gone. " 200 doors of Night may be the g's of Light; Ancient Sage 174 Till Holy St Pether gets up wid his kays an' opens the g! Tomorrow 93 here the lion-guarded g. Locksley H., Sixty 213
The sun hung over the g's of Night, Dead Prophet 23
dear Mary, you and I To that dim g. To Mary Boyle 60 from o'er the g's of Birth, Far—far—away 13 Thro' the g's that bar the distance Faith 6 nor the silent Opener of the G.' God and the Univ. 6 Gateway (adj.) Who 'lights and rings the g bell, In Mem. viii 3 carrion crows Hung like a cloud above the g towers. Merlin and V. 599
Thither he made, and blew the g horn. Lancelot and E. 169
Just above the g tower, Locksley H., Sixty 179
Gateway (s) Or in the g's of the morn. Two Voices 183 unto island at the g's of the day. Locksley Hall 158 until she reach'd The g; Godiva 51 Till a g she discerns With armorial bearings L. of Burleigh 42 from the castle g by the chasm Descending Com. of Arthur 369 they call'd To Gareth, 'Lord, the g is alive.' Gareth and L. 235 Pass not beneath this g, but abide Without, " 273
Right in the g of the bandit hold, Geraint and E. 774
Paused by the g, standing near the shield Lancelot and E. 394
And by the g stirr'd a crowd; Holy Grail 424
the spiritual city and all her spires And g's " 527 Gather Her words did g thunder as they ran, The Poet 49
I must g knots of flowers, May Queen 11
To g and tell o'er Each little sound D. of F. Women 276
Where faction seldom g's head, You ask me, why, etc. 13
Rise in the heart, and g to the eyes, Princess iv 41 till she not fair began To g light, " vii 24
But as he grows he g's much, In Mem. xlv 5
And g dust and chaff, and call " lv 18 Shall g in the cycled times. " lxxxv 28 rooks, That g in the waning woods, " 72 Unloved, that beech will g brown, " ci 3 Should licensed boldness g force, " cxiii 13
'I sit and g honey; yet, methinks, Merlin and V. 601
'One rose, a rose to g by and by, One rose, a rose, to g and to wear, Pelleas and E. 405
Sigh'd, and began to g heart again, Guinevere 368
The mist of autumn g from your lake, The Ring 329
g the roses wherever they blow, Romney's R. 107 handle or g the berries of Peele! Kapiolani 20 Gather'd (See also Self-gather'd) From beneath her g wimple Lilian 14
'Rapt from the fickle and the frail With g power, In Mem. xxx 26
When here thy hands let fall the g flower, Demeter and P. 9
Whose wrinkles g on his face, Two Voices 329
A cloud that g shape: Œnone 42
When I am g to the glorious saints. St. S. Stylites 197
Have suck'd and g into one The life Talking Oak 191

Gather'd (continued) Grave faces g in a ring,] Day-Dm., Sleep P. 38
Till they be g up; Will Water. 170 topmost elm-tree g green From draughts Sir L. and Q. G. 8 there again When burr and bine were g; Aylmer's Field 113
G the blossom that rebloom'd, „ 142 Easily g either guilt. Princess iv 236 rose A hubbub in the court of half the maids G together: „ 477
the heavy dews G by night and peace, „ v 244
But such as g colour day by day. „ vii 118
Abide: thy wealth is g in, In Mem. lii 15
He fought his doubts and g strength, „ xcvi 13
The maidens g strength and grace „ ciii 27
He has g the bones for his o'ergrown whelp Mayd II v 55 this she g from the people's eyes: Marr. of Geraint 61
g trickling dropwise from the cleft, Merlin and V. 274
I stoop'd, I g the wild herbs, Lover's Tale i 342
I have g my baby together— Rizpah 20
But I g my fellows together, V. of Maeldune 2
I would that I were g to my rest, Tiresias 170
Thousands of horsemen had g there Heavy Brigade 14
The vast sun-clusters' g blaze, Epilogue 54
Gathering (adj. and part.) the mighty moon was g light Love and Death 1
Proserpine in Enna, g flowers: Edwin Morris 112
G up from all the lower ground; Vision of Sin 15
And g all the fruits of earth Ode Inter. Exhib. 41
And g freshlier overhead, In Mem. xcv 57
G woodland lilies, Myriads blow together. Maud I xii 7
By shores that darken with the g wolf, Aylmer's Field 767
So much the g darkness charm'd: Princess, Con. 107 tho' the g enemy narrow thee, Boädicea 39
g half the deep And full of voices, Com. of Arthur 380 Vivien, g somewhat of his mood, Merlin and V. 842 but g at the base Re-makes itself, and flashes Guinevere 609
And g ruthless gold— Columbus 135
g here and there From each fair plant Akbar's Dream 21 Gathering (s) A g of the Tory, Maud I xx 33
Gaud those gilt g's men-children swarm to see. To W. C. Macready 11
Gaudy Showing a g summer-morn, Palace of Art 62
Gaudy-day Amends hereafter by some g-d, Marr. of Geraint 818
Gaunt Lancelot? goodly—ay, but g: Merlin and V. 103
G as it were the skeleton of himself, (repeat) Lancelot and E. 764, 816
(The g old Baron with his beetle brow Princess ii 240 Gauntlet maiden fancies dead In iron g's: „ i 89 added fullness to the phrase Of 'G in the velvet glove.' To Marq. of Dufferin 12 Gauntleted my hand Was g, half slew him; Balin and Balan 57
His passion half had g to death, „ 220
Gauntness Courteous—amends for g— Merlin and V. 104
Gauze 'He dried his wings: like g they grew; Two Voices 13
Purple g's, golden hazes, liquid mazes, Vision of Sin 31 Half-lapt in glowing g and golden brede, Princess vi 134 an Eastern g With seeds of gold— Lover's Tale iv 291 Gave (See also Gied, Giv) God g her peace; her land reposed; To the Queen 26
And g you on your natal day. Margaret 42
Our thought g answer each to each, Sonnet To —— 10
'She g him mind, the lordliest Proportion, Two Voices 19 sing the foolish song I g you, Alice, Miller's D. 162 thought of that sharp look, mother, I g him yesterday, May Queen 15 flower and fruit, whereof they g To each, Lotos-Eaters 29 my bliss of life, that Nature g, D. of F. Women 210 because the kiss he g me, ere I fell, „ 235
He g me a friend, and a true true-love, D. of the O. Year 13
'Hast thou perform'd my mission which I g? M. d'Arthur 67
This, yielding, g into a grassy walk Gardener's D. 111
Kissing the rose she g me o'er and o'er, „ 176
G utterance by the yearning of an eye, Love and Duty 62
The trance g way To those caresses, „ 65
And g my letters back to me. And g the trinkets and the rings, The Letters 20
He g the people of his best: His worst he kept, his best he g. You might have won 25 from her baby's forehead clipt A tiny curl, and g it: Enoch Arden 236 less Than what she g in buying what she sold: „ 256
At Annie's door he paused and g his hand, „ 447

Gave (continued) clothes they g him and free passage Enoch Arden 650
Pitying the lonely man, and g him it: „ 664
the woman g A half-incredulous, half-hysterical cry. „ 852
This hair is his: she cut it off and g it, „ 894
He g them line: (repeat) The Brook 145, 150 scared with threats of jail and halter g Aylmer's Field 520 the dagger which himself G Edith, „ 597
g the verse 'Behold, Your house is left unto you desolate!' „ 628
G his broad lawns until the set of sun Princess, Pro. 2 they g The park, the crowd, the house; „ 93
I said no, Yet being an easy man, g it: „ i 149
we g a costly bribe To guerdon silence, „ 203 rooms which g Upon a pillar'd porch, „ 229
I g the letter to be sent with dawn; „ 245
a glance I g, No more; „ iv 180
On one knee Kneeling, I g it, „ 470
Who g me back my child?' „ v 105
Let so much out as g us leave to go. „ 235 for everything G way before him: „ 530
Was it for this we g our palace up, „ vi 244
Refuse her proffer, lastly g his hand. „ 347 to them the doors g way Groaning, „ 349 pray'd the men, the women: I g assent: „ Con. 7 English Harold g its throne a wife, W. to Marie Alex. 24 and he g the ringers a crown. Grandmother 58
I pluck'd a daisy, I g it you. The Daisy 88
Hexameters no worse than daring Germany g us, Trans. of Homer 5
The Danube to the Severn g In Mem. xix 1
And g all ripeness to the grain, „ lxxxi 11
Received and g him welcome there; „ lxxxv 24
With him to whom her hand I g. „ Con. 70
He fiercely g me the lie, Maud II i 16
By the home that g me birth, „ iv 7
Merlin took the child, And g him to Sir Anton, Com. of Arthur 222
She g the King his huge cross-hilted sword, „ 286
Arthur g him back his territory, Gareth and L. 78
Of whom ye g me to, the Seneschal, „ 559 that g upon a range Of level pavement „ 666 blue arms, and g a shield Blue also, „ 931 and thee the King G me to guard, „ 1014
g a shield whereon the Star of Even „ 1117 good king g order to let blow His horns Marr. of Geraint 152
g command that all which once was ours „ 696 he but g a wrathful groan, Saying, Geraint and E. 398 cousin, slay not him who g you life.' „ 783
I rode all-shamed, hating the life He g me, „ 853 which this Garlon g With much ado, Balin and Balan 118 best Of ladies living g me this to bear.' „ 340 one that hath defamed The cognizance she g me: „ 485 knew no more, nor g me one poor word; Merlin and V. 277
Use g me Fame at first, and Fame again Increasing g me use. „ 493
His brother's; which he g to Lancelot, Lancelot and E. 380
Sir Lancelot g A marvellous great shriek „ 515 he took, And g, the diamond: „ 551
he g, And slightly kiss'd the hand to which he g, „ 701
I g the diamond: she will render it; „ 713
Stript off the case, and g the naked shield; „ 979
Then g a languid hand to each, and lay, „ 1032
I g No cause, not willingly, for such a love: „ 1297
G him an isle of marsh whereon to build; Holy Grail 62 to prayer and praise She g herself, „ 77
And g herself and all her wealth to me. „ 597 in my madness I essay'd the door; It g; „ 842
Then g it to his Queen to rear: Last Tournament 22
Tristram won, and Lancelot g, the gems, „ 190 and Innocence the King G for a prize— „ 295 this I g thee, look, Is all as cool and white „ 415
he g them charge about the Queen, Guinevere 591
'Hast thou perform'd my mission which I g? Pass. of Arthur 235
So Death g back, and would no further come. Lover's Tale i 115
He that g Her life, to me delightedly fulfill'd „ 223
Then playfully she g herself the lie— „ 349
'Kiss him,' she said. 'You g me life again. „ iv 172

Gave (continued) (Meaning the print that you g us, In the Child. Hosp. 51 chains For him who g a new heaven, Columbus 20 G glory and more empire to the kings " 22
g All but free leave for all to work " 132
G to the garbaging war-hawk to gorge it, Batt. of Brunanburh 109 sweet mother land which g them birth Tiresias 122
He that they g me to, mother, The Wreck 13
I refused the hand he g. Locksley H., Sixty 256 and g Thy breast to ailing infants Demeter and P. 55
g it me, who pass'd it down her own, The Ring 270 pardon, O my love, if I ever g you pain. Happy 68 fumes Of that dark opiate dose you g me, Romney's R. 31
I sent him back what he g,— Charity 19

Gaw (go) 'I mun g up ageän fur Roä.' 'G up ageän fur the varmint?' Owd Roä 97

Gawain (a knight of the Round Table) G and young Modred, her two sons, Com. of Arthur 244
G went, and breaking into song Sprang out, " 320
